GOMPERS, MITCHELL AND MORRISON CANNOT BE PUT IN JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

ORDERS SUIT DISMISSED

Supreme Court Finds Lower Tribunals Were in Error.

Leaves Way Open to Buck's Company for Civil Action.

Famous Contempt Case Decision Is Against Criminal Proceedings.

Washington, May 15.—Setting aside the sentences of imprisonment imposed by the supreme court of the District of Columbia for alleged disobedience to a boycott injunction, the supreme court of the United States today held that Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor, had been erroneously sentenced to jail on a charge of contempt of a local court.

The court unanimously held that the only sentences that could be imposed upon the labor leaders were fines. In so holding, the supreme court of the United States found that the court of appeals of the District of Columbia and the supreme court of the District erred in treating the contempt proceedings as a criminal cause and not a civil one. The effect of holding the proceedings as a civil one was to make jail sentences impossible. Hence the jail sentences had to be set aside.

Is Ordered Dismissed.

To correct the error the case was sent back to the local court with direction that it be dismissed. At the same time the court expressly made it possible for civil proceedings to be instituted against the Buck's Sove & Range Co., at whose instance the original contempt case was brought.

Probably Ends Case.

The court was led to hold that the contempt proceedings in this case must be civil in nature because criminal punishment is exercised by courts to force persons to do acts commanded. In the present case, the court took the view that the labor men were being sent to jail, not to make them do something the court ordered, but because of "something they had done."

Inasmuch as all the differences between the labor men and the Buck's Stove & Range company have been

HOFFSTOT FACES BRIBERY CHARGE.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—Frank N. Hoffstot of New York, the millionaire banker and car manufacturer, was placed on trial in criminal court today on a charge of bribery, growing out of the councilmanic graft investigation. He was tried on a charge of conspiracy last week and the jury disagreed.

USUAL STANDARD OIL DIVIDEND.

New York, May 15:—The Standard Oil company today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $9 per share due at this time of year. The declaration calls for a disbursement of $9,000,000 among the company's stockholders.

REPRESENT THE NATIONS

Delegates From Thirty-Four Countries Gather at Washington.

Washington, May 15.—"The fourth congress of revision" of the Conference of the International Union for the Protection of Industrial Property, opened here today with representatives of thirty-four nations attending and Charlemagne Tower, former ambassador to Germany, presiding as permanent president.

This conference, which is expected to last for six weeks, is not merely a gathering for the discussion of problems concerning patented and trade marked articles of commerce. The delegates have plenary powers from their respective governments, authorizing them to negotiate and sign treaties. The countries represented were given two years' notice of the meeting and many important propositions have been prepared for submission.

Treaties Are Expected.

The attention of the entire industrial world will be directed toward

PLAN INSURANCE FOR EMPLOYES

National Association of Manufacturers Opens Sessions.

New York, May 15.—Industrial insurance is the principal matter before the National Association of Manufacturers, which met here today for its sixteenth annual convention. A committee which has been investigating European systems of relief will report, and the organization will decide the question of putting some system in active operation in this country.

The committee expects to offer a plan whereby industrial accidents may be reduced to a minimum and a maximum relief given to injured and incapacitated employes for the money expended for this purpose. There will be an exhibition of photographs and drawings of safety appliances now in use, of which each of the 3,000 members of the association will be given copies.

The convention will close Wednesday night with a banquet.

BRITONS CHEER FOR THE KAISER

German Emperor Is Given Warm Greeting in London.

London, May 15.—Emperor William, Express Auguste Victoria and Princess Victoria Louise, who arrived at Sheerness last night on the imperial yacht, Hohenzollern, entered London today and were welcomed with an enthusiasm which fully demonstrated the emperor's personal popularity with Englishmen. The German royal guests are here for a week's visit to King George and Queen Mary and primarily to be present at the unveiling of the national memorial to Queen Victoria, the emperor's grandmother.

The king and queen and other members of the British royal family met the visitors at the Victoria station and all were driven in state to Buckingham palace.

Enormous crowds thronged the route from the railway station up Grosvenor place and Constitution hill to the palace, and cheers greeted the party throughout the drive.

Before leaving Sheerness this morning Emperor William received a welcome from the aeronautic branches of the British navy, two aeroplanes piloted by lieutenants flying over the Hohenzollern.

SPEAKERS FOR DULUTH CONVENTION

Partial Program for Meeting of Northern Minnesota Development Association.

Wide Range of Subjects of Interest to Be Discussed.

Visitors Will Tell What Michigan and Wisconsin Are Doing.

W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, has prepared a partial program for the convention here June 1 and 2. Negotiations are in progress for obtaining other speakers and the program will be the best the association has had at one of its meetings.

The partial list of subjects and speakers follow:

"State Development," Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, bishop of Duluth; State Senator S. D. Works, Mankato.

"Federal Lands in Minnesota," George Welch, state immigration commissioner.

"Department of Public Domain," Thomas Kneeland, Minneapolis, representative in state legislature.

"Conserving Soil Fertility," Prof. A. R. Whitson, University of Wisconsin.

"Forestry," State Forester William T. Cox.

"Commission Plan for State Government," Ferman A. Wilson, editor Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

"Newspaper Boosting," Harold Knutson, president Northern Minnesota Editorial association.

"The National Corn Show, Minneapolis, 1912," speaker not named.

"The Northwest Land Show, St. Paul, December, 1911," speaker not named.

"What Other States Are Doing," W. H. Mylrea, Wausau, representing Wisconsin Advancement association; H. W. Reade, Escanaba, representing Northern Michigan Development association; J. J. Gibson, Traverse City, representing Western Michigan Development bureau.

Counties Are Interested.

Mr. Mackenzie has been through the

UNVEIL THE KEY MEMORIAL FONT

Baltimore People Honor Author of Star Spangled Banner.

Baltimore, Md., May 15.—With appropriate ceremonies, the Francis Scott Key memorial statue, erected at the intersection of Lanvale street and Eutaw place, will be unveiled late this afternoon. Mrs. William Gilmore, a granddaughter of the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," will draw the cord releasing the drapery, and W. Stuart Symington will deliver the dedicatory address. Mayor Mahool will accept the memorial for the city.

The memorial takes the form of a fountain, the widest portion of the basin being about thirty-eight feet. The memorial is the gift of the late Charles L. Marburg of this city, through a provision in his will.

CARPENTERS GO ON STRIKE AT AUBURN.

Auburn, N. Y., May 15.—The refusal of the contracting carpenters of Auburn to grant an increase of 5 cents an hour and a Saturday half holiday, beginning today, caused all journeymen carpenters, to the number of 350, to go on strike.

UNCLE SAM SELLS MUCH INDIAN LAND.

Wewoka, Okla., May 15.—An auction sale by the government of 8,000 tracts of unallotted land in the Seminole, Creek and Cherokee nations began here today. Not more than 160 acres were sold to one person. Much of the land was appraised at less than its cash value. A condition of the sale was that the land must bring at least its appraised value.

B. & O. Train Derailed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 15.—Through passenger train No. 5 from New York to Chicago, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was derailed near Niles Junction, Ohio, about midnight. Three persons were slightly injured.

WORKING ON WOOL BILL

House Democrats Expect to Have Caucus Within Week.

North Dakota Opponents of Reciprocity Heard By Senators.

Washington, May 15.—Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives today began drafting the revised tariff schedule on wool, which will be submitted to the Democratic caucus for ratification. That the wool bill would be ready for the caucus probably within a week was the opinion of Democratic leaders.

Advocates of free raw wool were not as confident today as they heretofore had expressed themselves, that the revised schedule would place the raw material on the free list. Extraordinary pressure has been brought to bear by conservative leaders to secure unanimous approval of a compromise bill, and these leaders insist that such a bill would meet with caucus approval. Such a bill might provide a tariff of about 5 or 6 cents a pound on raw wool, with provision of 1 cent reduction each year until the raw product eventually would go

BIG MILK EXHIBIT IN QUAKER CITY

Data on Infant Mortality Furnished at the Meeting.

Philadelphia, May 15.—One of the most comprehensive milk exhibits ever held in this city will be opened here next Saturday.

The committee in charge has data showing that not less than one-third of the 250,000 babies under 1 year old, who die each year in the United States, are victims of infected milk and ignorant feeding. The exhibit will seek to demonstrate that clean milk is one of the best and cheapest of all foods; that dirty milk at any price costs too much; and that every dairyman, transportation company, milk dealer, health official, housewife and taxpayer has definite responsibility for protecting milk from contamination.

BODY NOT THAT OF DOROTHY ARNOLD.

New York, May 15.—"It is simply another disappointment. The body is not that of Dorothy Arnold."

This was the declaration today of John Arnold, brother of the missing New York girl, after a night spent in examination of clothing and jewelry of a young woman whose body was found in East river late yesterday.

The clothing was fine and there were several pieces of valuable jewelry. The body had been in the water four months or more and was in such condition that identification was difficult. Miss Arnold disappeared on Dec. 12.

MENELIK'S GRANDSON PROCLAIMED EMPEROR

LIDJ JEASSU.

Addis Abeba, Abyssinia, May 15.—Prince Lidj Jeassu, grandson of Emperor Menelik, was proclaimed emperor of Abyssinia yesterday. The coronation ceremonies will take place later.

Prince Lidj was proclaimed heir to the Abyssinia throne on May 18, 1909, when he was 13 years old. Two days before, he had been married to Princess Romana Onok, the 7-year-old granddaughter of the late Emperor John and a niece of Empress Taitu. At the same time Ras Tessama, who had taken over the affairs of the empire because of the incapacity of Emperor Menelik, was appointed guardian of the heir-apparent. The regent died on April 13 last. Menelik was born in 1844 and has long been in ill health.

MRS. TAFT IS MUCH BETTER

President Is Assured She Can Return Home Thursday.

First Lady of the Land Suffering From Nervous Trouble.

New York, May 15.—Mrs. Taft, whose sudden illness interrupted the president's plans and brought him hurriedly to her bedside yesterday from Harrisburg, Pa., was better this morning.

Dr. Evans, who spent most of yesterday at the home of Henry W. Taft, the president's brother, where Mrs. Taft was ill, left the house last night and today he said that the patient was doing well and showing encouraging improvement.

Mrs. Taft first complained of feeling ill Saturday night, while attending the dinner given her by the Academy of Political Science, at which the president spoke. Sunday morning it was considered inadvisable for her to leave the house. The president went to Harrisburg alone and returned immediately after he had addressed the convention of railroad train men. The first information regarding Mrs. Taft's illness was received by the president just before he left for Harrisburg yesterday.

Recurrence of Nervous Trouble.

Mrs. Taft's illness was said to be a recurrence of the nervous trouble from

MINNESOTA RATE CASE IS DOCKETED

Washington, May 15.—The contest between Minnesota and the railroads over the 2-cent passenger law and maximum freight laws of Minnesota, was transferred today to the supreme court of the United States. An appeal from the federal court decision, holding the laws void because confiscatory, was docketed and an early hearing was asked by both sides.

BUSY WEEK IN THE OHIO PROBE

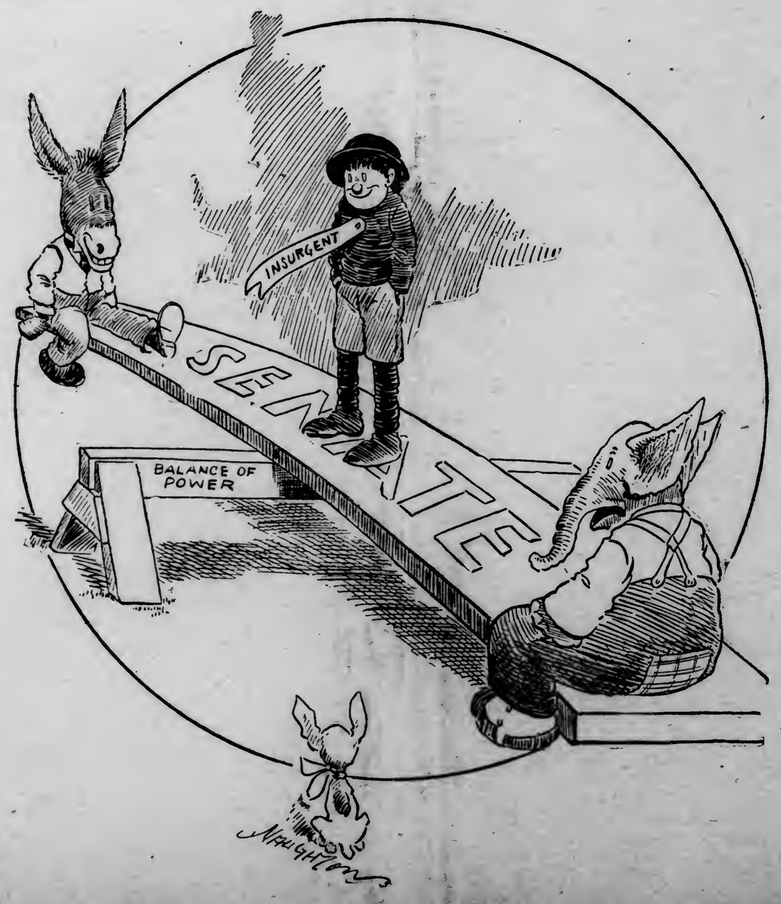
Grand Jury Probably Will Be in a Long Session.

Columbus, Ohio, May 15.—Prospects of a full week's session of the grand jury were bright, according to attaches of the prosecuting attorneys office, today when the jury reconvened for a continuation of the probe into the legislative "graft" scandal. A number of witnesses were summoned to appear today.

Everything is in the air regarding the probe into bribery charges by the senate committee of ten. Attorney General Hogan insists that there is no provision for the payment of witnesses, and therefore their attendance and testimony cannot be forced.

It was also said that only in case a resolution was offered to expel a senator from the senate for alleged bribery could such a committee act, and then the inquiry would be limited to ascertaining the truth or falsity of that specific charge.

SEE-SAW.



PEACE AGAIN IN PROSPECT

Diaz Said to Look Favorably on the New Proposition.

Insurrectos Demand Equal Share in Government Affairs.

City of Mexico, May 15.—Peace again looms big on the horizon of Mexico's internal affairs today and led Foreign Minister De La Barra, as he started for the national palace at an early hour to remark:

"We believe that we are making great progress toward peace."

The minister appeared to be happy, notwithstanding that the peace as outlined in the proposal from the revolutionary camp may mean his elimination from the government.

Beyond the hopeful expression of De La Barra, the government officials, as on yesterday, maintained an impressive secrecy as to what is going on behind the doors of President Diaz' cabinet room.

Reform Bill Introduced.

Another reform proposed in the president's message to congress on April 1, which indicates promise of importance through its ultimate effect on the country, has been given definite form by the introduction in the chamber of deputies of a bill providing for a division of the public domain and of large private estates and the distribution of the land in small tracts among

MARSHALL COUNTY MAN FILES FIRST

On Red Lake Indian Reservation Land at Opening at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Red Lake Indian reservation land opening at the United States land office here at 9 o'clock this morning over 100 men and four women were in line. The line was formed a week ago and was thoroughly organized, two special policemen keeping order.

The first man to file was James H. Ruby of Marie, Marshall county, and the second was John A. Rothsten of Plummer.

The first two women were Alma M. Dahl of Netuna, Minn., and Grace Pinkerton of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. There was little trouble, though some difficulty was caused by jamming to the door. About half of the filers are from outside states.

ATTEMPT WRECK NEAR BELTRAMI

Great Northern Train Runs Into Ties Piled on Track.

Crookston, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bold attempt to wreck Great Northern passenger train No. 6 last evening, just south of Bemidji, came near being successful. Two piles of ties were placed across the track, and the first one was hit so hard that it took half an hour to loosen the ties that were wedged under the pilot. The second pile was but a short distance further on, and the engineer brought the train to a standstill in time.

Supt. Allen of the Northern division was on the train en route to St. Paul. He alighted and lay on the prairie a good share of the night watching for the culprits. They did not show up, but it is believed an arrest will be made before night.

POSTAL BANKS ARE GROWING

Eveleth Is to Have One of the Next Such Offices.

Washington, May 15.—Material growth in the popularity of the postal savings bank system is indicated by a statement issued today by Postmaster General Hitchcock concerning the operations of the forty-eight initial depositories which began business Jan. 3 last. During April 2,618 separate deposits were received, aggregating $82,646, an average of $31.57. In January, 3,830 separate deposits were made, aggregating $61,805 or an average of only $16.14.

Depositors, on July 1, may convert their deposits into United States bonds, bearing 2½ per cent interest. The bonds have been prepared in denominations of $20, $100 and $500. The bonds will be issued to every depositor who may apply for them on the proper form before June 15.

The bonds will be issued only to depositors, but may be sold or assigned at any time. They are exempt from all taxation.

Eveleth is Designated.

Postmaster General Hitchcock announces the designation of forty-seven additional postal savings banks, making a total of 176 postal banks since Jan. 3 last.

The offices now designated will be ready to receive deposits on June 12. The forty-five offices announced a week ago have reported that they will be in readiness for operation June 1. The new list includes:

MANY BOATS HELD IN PORT

Ore Carriers Will Not Be Put in Commission This Season.

Fifty Vessels Are Held in the Harbor at Milwaukee.

Although the shipping season has been open a month, more than 150 ore carriers are still idle. There is no improvement in the freight outlook and indications are that not many wild carriers will be sent out during the next thirty days.

A number of the vessels not fitted out this season will not be put in commission until next year unless there is a radical change in the freight situation. Plans to work only part of some fleets have taken the shape of a policy.

In spite of the fact that a large number of freighters have not been placed in commission the supply of tonnage is in excess of the demand in all lines, except the cereal trade.

Sales of ore have been light and there is little demand for tonnage in that trade. Shippers that operate fleets are not loading many outside ships and some of the shippers have not done any chartering.

The grain trade is quiet all around and tonnage is offered for Buffalo at 1 cent a bushel. Stocks at Duluth are light and brokers say that there will be little demand for tonnage in that trade until next fall.

There is a pretty good supply of coal at Ohio ports and vessels have been scarce this week. Cargoes are offered pretty freely and a large part of the coal that is being sent forward is carried by boats that are owned by shippers. Coal men are having trouble moving 3,000-ton cargoes, as there are very few vessels of that capacity on the market.

That an unusual number of the large freighters which have been lying in Milwaukee harbor for two or three seasons will lay over andother season seems certain. There are about fifty boats in the various slips and docks, the majority of which are not being fitted out, and seem to show no indication of a prospect of doing so.

Many of the steamboat owners will not operate their boats until June 1 because of the lack of business before that time. Many have taken contracts with the stipulation that no delivery is to be made before June 1. The following boats are in the Milwaukee harbor: Colonial, Lansing, Cumberland, Neosha, C. Tower, Jr., Vermillion, Volunteer, Wallula, R. R. Rhodes, W. S. Mack, H. B. McIntosh, Omaha, B. B. Cowles, H. S. Holden, Livingstone, Maryland, William Nottingham, A. G. Brower, C. K. Kotcher, E. L. Wallace, J. W. Moore, Pueblo, Umbria, B. Whittaker, Gilchrist, Mars, Merida, Neptune, E. W. Ogle, A. G. H. Russell, E. M. Saunders, Venus, Abraham Stearn, B. L. Smith, H. W. Smith, M. C. Smith, Thomas Davidson, John Duncan, Wisconsin, A. C. Minch, Sheldon Parks, C. A. Eddy, H. Stelnbrenner, Joseph Woods, H. W. Oliver, A. H. Hawgood, H. A. Hawgood, W. R. Woodford and barges Chicamauga and Baltic.

WILL USE ONLY PART OF FLEET

Many Owners Plan to Keep Some Boats in Port All Season.

A number of the vessels not fitted out this season will not be put in commission until next year, unless there is a radical change in the freight situation on the lakes. Plans to work only part of some fleets have taken the shape of a policy.

These managers can not see how their smaller boats can break even going light for coal. They have hopes of later being able to keep their larger vessels going. One manager has not made a move toward starting part of his boats, and states he will not do anything along that line this season.

There are about a half a dozen vessels carrying coal one way which will make one more trip, according to their managers. At the end of the next trip, unless the boats can find up cargoes, they will be laid up for the time being.

Cargoes are scarce in all lines of bulk freight except coal. Shippers are now trying to clean up part of the track supply at the lake ports before May 15, on which day car service starts. With a week of grace to get cars on track May 15 out of the way, the demand for coal tonnage will probably be good until May 22.

Some small shippers who undertook to charter vessels outside of the channels through which they have done business other years have been caught. A couple of such firms recently called upon their regular agents to get them capacity for quick loading. They will probably have some coal at lake ports unmoved for a number of days.

VESSEL ACCIDENTS FREQUENT THIS SPRING.

Vessel accidents have been frequent at the start of the season although there has been little damage done with the exception of the sinking of the steamer Fisher by the steamer Clement. Each of the first ten days of May brought an accident of some nature, mostly strandings. The steamer Major, lying at Chicago, caught fire and her cabin was destroyed as the last accident of the ten-days' record.

Work on the wreck of the Fisher to date has consisted in lightering of the cargo of steel rails. These were placed aboard the lighter Wayne as fast as recovered. Work was also begun preparatory to driving the series of piles which will be necessary to lift the vessel upright.

MISUNDERSTOOD SIGNALS CAUSED COLLISION.

That a misunderstanding of signals was the cause of the wreck in which the steamer Clement sank the steamer Fisher in the Detroit river off Grosse Ile with a loss of three lives has been determined by the United States inspectors at Buffalo, according to a report from that city.

The inspectors are still busy taking the testimony of the officers and crew of the steamer Clement and when this is completed a report will be forwarded to Detroit inspectors, who will place the blame for the accident.

The inquiry was conducted behind closed doors and other than the report that the cause of the accident was a misunderstanding of signals no information is as yet forthcoming as to which captain was at fault. It will be several days before the investigation is closed.

The steamer Clement is in drydock at Buffalo as a result of the collision with the Fisher and will have seventeen plates repaired. This work will require about ten days.

PORT-TO-PORT PASSING.

Inquiry Into Wisdom of Enforcing Rule Is Being Conducted.

The collision between the steamers Fisher and Clement, which is said to have been caused by a misunderstanding of passing signals, has caused great interest to be taken in the inquiry being made by the advisory committee of the Great Lakes Protective association into the port-to-port passing rule. The committee decided to make the inquiry before the collision, and the need for it is shown by that disaster.

Masters of all vessels enrolled in the association have been asked to express themselves on the wisdom of enforcing the port-to-port rule. Two questions are asked: "First, providing all boats adopt this rule, is it practicable, in your opinion, always to pass port-to-port in the rivers? If not, please state the points in each river where you do not consider it practicable, and give your reasons.

"Second, do you consider that a more strict enforcement of this rule would add to the safety of navigation in the rivers? If not, why not?"

The question of enforcing the rule in the narrower channels was brought before the advisory committee as another means of preventing accidents and reducing consequential losses of life and property. It is another step toward simplifying navigation. Particular attention is directed to the effect of the enforcement of the rule in the Sault, Detroit and S. Clair rivers.

INCREASE IN ORE ON LAKE ERIE DOCKS.

Statistics gathered by the Marine Review from the various dock managers at Lake Erie ports show that the amount of ore on Lake Erie docks May 1 of the present year was 6,850,285 tons as against 5,406'080 tons in 1910, an increase of 1,406,205 tons. These figures include April receipts at Lake Erie ports.

The total rail shipments from Lake Erie ports to furnaces during the winter season (Dec. 1 to May 1), aggregated 2,576,596 tons, viz.:

On dock May 1, 1911	6,850,285
By rail to furnaces, winter of 1910-11	2,576,596

The following table gives the amount of ore on dock at the close of navigation last year and the opening this year:

Ports.	May 1, 1911.	Dec. 1, 1910.
Toledo	383,761	433,215

LIGHT KEEPER HEATER TRANSFERRED TO DETROIT.

Ontonagon, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ralph Heater, who has been keeper of the 14-mile point lighthouse for the past nine years, has been transferred to the Grass Island light in the Detroit river. The Grass Island light is about eight miles down the river from Detroit. Mr. Heater left Thursday and later will send for his family. Henry Noel, who has been first assistant at the 14-mile point lighthouse, has been promoted to keeper, and Peter Kettrick, second assistant,, has been appointed first assistant.

ZENITH DREDGE COMPANY GETS ONTONAGON CONTRACT

The Zenith Dredge company of Duluth has been awarded the contract for a quantity of dredging to be done in Ontonagon harbor this year. There were four bidders, as follows, the cubic yard bid being given first, and the total bid, based on 46,000 yards, more or less, following: Zenith Dredge company, Duluth, 11.5 cents, or $5,290; Northern Dredge & Dock company, Duluth, 13.9 cents, or $6,394; Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company, Chicago, 16.5 cents, or $7,590; Duluth Marine Contracting company, Duluth, 18 cents, or $8,280. The bids were opened at the office of Maj. F. R. Shunk Saturday.

More Speed and Less Fuel.

An improvement of over 30 per cent in the average speed of a ship is worthy of note, but when accompanied by a fuel reduction of nearly 50 per cent is so strikingly unusual as to merit attention. Reports from Buffalo indicate that the results have been attained with the steamer Tioga, which, with the other ships of the Union Steamboat line, was last winter placed in the hands of Babcock & Penton, engineers and naval architects, Cleveland and New York, to be overhauled and improved.

The Tioga was the first of the fleet to be taken in hand and underwent extensive alterations during the winter, and her performance since going into service has aroused keen interest and widespread comment.

Tho architects decline for the present to give out any details of the changes instituted or to make any comment upon the reports except to say that they do not overstate the facts and that the best results have not yet been reached.

It has been learned, however, that while the old boilers were retained, the installation was entirely rearranged and a positive heated draught system, with certain new features, fitted; the old cylinders, air pumps, condensers and propeller were discarded and new parts designed and fitted besides much other work.

It is state that the actual reduction in fuel is over 130 tons per round trip between Buffalo, Milwaukee and Chicago and the increase in speed nearly three miles per hour. It follows, of course, that a substantital gain is also made in cargo capacity and the increase in speed will, it is claimed, add two full trips per season. The other ships of the fleet will be taken in hand as opportunity offers.

Inspector Here.

Capt. Charles H. Westcott, supervising inspector of steamboats for the Detroit district, visited Inspectors Chalk and Monaghan Saturday. The Duluth district was joined to Capt. Westcott's district this spring, when the inspecting districts were rearranged. Until the visit last week, Capt. Westcott had not been in Duluth since 1870, when he sailed the old sidewheeler Keweenaw into the local harbor.

MORE ORE TO SUPERIOR

Great Northern Road Alone Will Show Increase in Shipments.

Big Slump in Ore Carrying on Other Two Range Roads.

With all the other ore-carrying roads at the Head of the Lakes showing a decrease in their ore receipts, the Great Northern is carrying more ore at the present time that it did at this time last season.

Since the opening of the present season the Great Northern has brought down 471,178 tons to the docks at Allouez bay. This is against 760,471 tons that was brought down since the opening of last season to a similiar date in 1910.

The fact that the tonnage last season shows an increase over the tonnage of the present season to date, is explained by the fact that the ore-carrying started last season at a very much earlier date.

Right at the present time the Great Northern is carrying more ore than it did at this time last season, and the May record for 1911 is expected to show a very substanial increase over the May record of the previous year.

At the Great Northern office at Superior this morning it was stated that the present season will easily run 15 per cent over the season of 1910. That is placing the estimate at a conservative figure, according to the statement secured by The Herald.

To many it will be regarded as a very curious situation that the Great Northern should be carrying more ore than last season, when all of the other roads have shown to date a woeful slump in the tonnage receipts.

The fact is explained very simply. The Great Northern has a contract with the United States Steel company for the carrying of an immense tonnage under the Hill leases. The fact that the poor season for ore tonnage will not in the least effect this contract, is why the Great Northern railroad, will haul more ore than it did last season.

On the other roads the records to date will show a very heavy falling off, not alone attributed to the late opening. Like the Great Northern the other roads at the Head of the Lakes have had a late opening of the season, but unlike the Great Northern these roads are not at the present time doing anything like the business they have in seasons past, and the May statement of ore figures will show a big falling off from the May tonnage figures of former seasons.

REID WILL WORK ON MORELAND

Wrecker Does Not Intend to Abandon Steamer on Keweenaw Point.

The tug James Reid of the Reid Wrecking company left Port Huron Saturday for the steamer Moreland, which is on the reef at the mouth of Eagle river in Lake Superior, and together with the wrecking tug Manistique will continue the work of wrecking the Moreland. The report sent out from Houghton to the effect that work on the Moreland had been abandoned is erroneous. Capt. Reid and his men are just as confident of bringing the wreck of the Moreland into port as they ever were.

On board the tug Reid, which left Saturday, is Louis Meyers, who will do the diving necessary to patch up the holes in the wrecked steamer. The work on the steamer Richardson, which is sunk in Buffalo harbor, will be allowed to rest for a short time. The tug Reid assisted in wrecking the steamer Sharples which was delivered into a New York port. Capt. Crockett and a crew of picked men from this city are on board the Manistique and Capt. John Hayes will be in command of one of the boats. The tug Sarnia City, which is also at the scene of the Moreland, will be taken to Port Huron.

School for Husbands.

Because of the great success of the school of matrimony, inaugurated for girls, in Boston, where girls are taught home science, under proper supervision, a plan is on foot to start a school for boys, under the same plan, in order to prepare them to make worthy husbands for the very worthily endowed young women the school will turn out. Among the things to be taught in both schools will be never to forget the beans, and that golden grain belt beers are aids to digestion and health. ALL KINDS OF INDIGNITIES

Mrs. Anna Anderson Claims Husband Treated Her Brutally.

Charging nearly every indignity to which she could have been subjected, Mrs. Anna Anderson, 37 years old, this morning filed a petition for divorce against her husband, Paul Anderson, 47 years old, with the clerk of the district court.

In her complaint she claims they were married in Duluth during the month of February, 1896. She claims that over-indulgence in intoxicating liquors has caused most of their unhappiness.

She states that she was subjected to nearly every form of cruel and inhuman treatment and gives instances. During the month of June, 1908, she claims that she was chased out of the house and that at the same time her husband threatened to kill her. In December, 1908, he struck her until she was lame and sore, she claims. In July, 1910, while she was ill in bed with a severe case of typhoid fever, she was forced out of bed and threatened with bodly harm, according to the complaint.

She states that for some time past her husband has refused to work and that he has spent his time hanging around saloons. She says also that the $160 which she had saved had been taken by him for drink. She had also been called vile and unrepeatable names and been accused of infidelity, according to her statements.

The case will be heard at the September term of the district court.

STATE TAX ON PREMIUMS FOR INSURANCE UPHELD.

Washington, May 15.—Non-resident insurance companies operating in Louisiana must pay taxes upon premiums due them under open accounts with residents of that state, according to a supreme court decision today. It is said the decision opens the way for other states to levy similar taxes.

We Are Here to Stay

Now that the "Duluth Music Co." has sold out its stock of pianos, and is reported as having retired from this field, and while another firm in its ads say it, also, is going to retire from the retail piano trade in Duluth, those of our many customers who have bought pianos from us must feel a keen sense of pleasure to know that they may complete their contract payments with us at the same old stand.

OSBORN FOR RECIPROCITY

Michigan Governor Sends Message to President Taft.

Says Men of Washington Do Not Represent State Sentiment.

Lansing, Mich., May 15.—Governor Chase S. Osborn today sent a message to President Taft offering his personal services in favor of the proposed Canadian reciprocity agreement and declaring that the Michigan farmers' representatives who have been opposing the treaty at Washington do not represent all of Michigan's farmers by any means, and not not reflect the dominant sentiment of the state.

Governor Osborn stated that he sent the message in his private capacity as a citizen. The governor's home is in the border city of Sault Ste. Marie. Following is the message:

"Hon. William Howard Taft, President of the United States, Washington, D. C. —When will the vote on reciprocity probably be taken in the senate? If I can be of the slightest service in favor of the treaty, I will go to Washington. The state representatives of farmers of Michigan, as alleged, who have been in Washington for giving their views, do not reffect, in my opinion, the dominant sentiment of Michigan and do not represent all of the farmers by any means. I am a full member of the Michigan grange and know something of the farmer sentiment. The Michigan farmers are patriotic and hold national welfare above dollars, as has often been proven. In this instance there is no evidence that there are dollars at stake and the national welfare is unquestionably involved."

Opposes Free Cattle.

Washington, May 15.—When the hearing before the senate finance committee on the Canadian reciprocity bill was resumed today, H. Cowan, representing the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas and the National Livestock association, was heard. He entered upon a discussion of the free list bill and predicted ruin for the cattle raising industry of the country if the duty on meats was removed. Argentina is capturing the American beef trade, he said, and Canada, too, could compete with the United States for that trade.

DOESN'T RECALL SUICIDE ATTEMPT

John Korpi Tries to End His Life While Crazed By Drink.

John Korpi, who was arrested Saturday afternoon while he was trying to end his life in the lake near the foot of Lake avenue, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly when arraigned in police court this morning. He got $5 and costs or seven days in the county jail.

Korpi stated after he was sober enough to talk that he didn't remember of having been near the lake. When the police pulled him out of the water they hurried him to headquarters, putting him in solitary confisement in one of the cells. He appeared none the worse for his experience. Several men on the shore tried to get him to grab a rope which they threw out to him, but he persisted in knocking it away. The indications are that he was crazed with liquor and didn't know what he was doing.

EXHIBIT WORK FOR THE CITIES

Delegates to Third National Conference Meet in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 15.—The third national conference on city planning was formally opened in the city hall this afternoon with delegates from many American and European cities. The great feature of the conference is the magnificent exhibit of city planning, the first of its kind ever held under municipal patronage in America. The exhibition consists of models, perspectives, photographs, plans, maps, etc., illustrating the growth of city planning in America and Europe. The marveious growth of the boulevard system of Paris, the beautiful cities of England, the great docks in Liverpool and Antwerp, Rotterdam and Bremen are shown. In the exhibit are also the drawings for the replanning of Chicago, the drawings of the development of Washington, drawings for the improvement of New York city, Boston, Rochester, Columbus, Cleveland, St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Portland, Or., Denver, Des Moines and many other cities.

The plans for beautifying Philadelphia on which experts have been working for more than two years occupy a prominent place in the exhibit which takes up two great floors of city hall and will be open to the public for one month.

PHYSICIAN PAYS FINE FOR SPEEDING AUTO.

Dr. J. W. Ekblad, arrested on a charge of having exceeded the speed limit in his automobile a week ago, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty in police court and paid a fine of $20 and costs. His attorney stated to the court that he was hurrying to answer an urgent call to an East end home, and that it is likely that he may have exceeded the limit fixed by the ordinance while traveling along Jefferson street. The court considered the fact as as extenuating circumstance and imposed a comparatively light fine. The case of E. M. Gaylord, arrested on the same charge, is set for trial next Thursday.

May Sale of Undermuslins

It is quite certain that there will be no departure from the slender, graceful, youthful figures of the American Woman this Summer.

To maintain the lines of this slender figure and to prevent "bunchiness," many of the underclothes in this "May White sale" have been especially designed, cut and fashioned—

"Quality" is the keynote of the sale first and last, and applies to very garment. There is not a garment from the simple fifty-cent corset cover to the most exquisite hand-embroidered night gown that does not bear out that statement.

As to the prices of these beautiful garments, they are not less than last year's, but we have been able to give greater value for the same money. Last year we had a hand-embroidered night gown with low neck, short sleeves, for two dollars and a half, and this year we have the same gown, decidedly newer in detail, at a dollar and a half.

WHAT SHE SAID.

Chicago News: Chester, sitting at the switchboard, drew toward him a box cover containing a miscellaneous collection of pins, paper fastners, rubber bands and pens. He selected a rubber band and deftly snapped it at the left ear of David, who sat with his head bent over the letter book he was indexing.

"Aw, cut it out!" protested David, scowling and rubbing the injured member.

"Didn't hurt you, did it?" asked Chester with a grin. "Say, Dave, 'member that postal you sent me when you were over in Michigan. That one where you and a bunch o' other guys was sittin' in a ottomobile?"

"Uh-huh. What of it?" Dave spoke with some languor, for he was feeling the reaction from a too strenuous vacation.

"I showed it to a girl up in our block," replied Chester, "and she says: 'Who is that good-lookin' feller that's grabbin' onto the steerin' wheel?' she says.

"Aw, fudge," exclaimed David. He seized his pen and applied himself to his indexing, his nose almost touching the page of the letter book.

"On the level, that's just what she said. I says to her, 'That's the kid that sent the card,' I says. 'He's my assistant.'"

"'He's some classy lookin',' she says. 'To look at um you'd think he was the guy that owned the machine,' she says."

"Aw, go chase yourself," muttered David, flipping over the leaves of the letter book.

"She did, honest," declared Chester. "She's a dandy girl, too."

"Must be kinder foolish in her head," commented David.

"All right, I'll tell her you said she was foolish," remarked Chester. "I'm goin' over there tonight. She's goin' to have the hull crowd over to listen to her uncle's graphophone. He's got a swell one."

"Tell nothin'," exclaimed David. "Don't you go and tell her anythin' I said. I don't care what you tell her," he added with some inconsequence.

"Neddn't get so sore about it," said Chester, turning to thrust a plug into a hole in the switchboard. "Hello," he drawled. "Oh, hello, there," in a tone of suddenly awakened interest. "Huh," Sure I know who you are. Say, Kit, I just been telling Dave what you said about him, and he says—"

"Here," interrupted David. "You shut up!"

"He says you're——"

David sprank up and put his hand over the mouthpleee. "Aw, chop it now, kid," he cried, angrily.

"I ain't goin' to tell her," chuckled Chester. He pushed away the interposed hand. "Say, Kit he won't let me tell you what he said. He's afraid ter. Huh? All right, I'll tell him. Huh? Well, I'll try to make him. He's got an awful grouch against girls, though. Huh? All right. See you this eve. Good-bye."

He turned again to the irate David. "Say, Dave," he said, "she wants I should bring you over to her house this evening with the rest of the bunch. I told her you was awful grouchy, though."

"Yes, I heard you," growled David. "You got a right to keep your mouth shut about me. I bet I won't go after what you said."

"Aw, come on, Dave," urged Chester. I was just joshin'. We'll have a dandy time. Come on, now."

"You'll frame up some kind of a fake story about me if I don't go," said David, with an effort at gloomy resignation. "What time'll you call fer me?"

TO BAR SPIES FROM BIG GUNS.

New York Post: It is not known that the spies of foreign nations which may have designs against this country have been making use of the trolley cars of the Richmond Light & Power company to study the defenses at Fort Wadsworth and make note of the positions occupied by the big disappearing guns. There is an inference in a petition filed with the public service commission, however, that the cars might be used for such purposes. It may be said positivcly the Federal government wishes the company to remove its trolley tracks from the military reservation.

The cars run only a few feet from the disappearing guns, which are in full view of all passengers. The railway company has asked the commission to permit it to remove its tracks to a private right-of-way along Wadsworth avenue. The railway men have been informed the commission has no jurisdiction over the shifting of the tracks to a private right-of-way. It and the city officials have jurisdiction, however, when it comes to a question of the tracks crossing Tompkins and Florida avenues.

In most of the military reservations which make up the defenses of New York city visitors are not permitted to go within sight of the big rifles. The Fort Wadsworth guns have been on public view so long, however, that Staten Islanders almost have ceased looking at them. In making application for the relocation of the tracks, the railway company said the government has planned extensive improvements at Fort Wadsworth, and that the tracks on the reservation must be removed. No positive assertion was made that the government feared spies, but that is an inference drawn.

A KENTUCKIAN'S MULE.

Shepherdsville News: Few of our people know that Tom Martin, our genial tonsorial artist ever dealt in mules, but such is the case. Some years ago he purchased a mule from William Simmons for $25 and agreed to give him 250 shaves for the sad voiced quadruped.

After he had cut Mr. Simmon's whiskers for a year or so he put the mule on pasture on the Simmons farm and finally let Mr. Simmons have the mule back in payment of the pasturage bill. Tom said it felt nice to own a mule, but the animal was a little too expensive.

BOY IS SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

Fond du Lac Youth Unable to Raise Money to Pay Fine.

Unable to pay a fine of $50 and costs after having entered a plea of guilty in municipal court Saturday to taking fish unlawfully from the St. Louis river, although given until today to raise the money, a commitment was made out this morning sending G. Nelson of Fond du Lac, less than 18 years old, to the county jail for thirty days.

He is a son of John Nelson, who resides at Fond du Lac. When he was brought before the court Saturday it was reported that the father and his son had recently sent to the Booth company a large shipment of pike which had been caught on set lines or in nets. The arrest was made by Game Warden T. J. Storey of Duluth and Warden Craig of Superior, who have been cleaning the river and bay of nets and set lines.

The boy came into court this morning and said that he was unable to raise the money.

GOPHER IS MUCH FASTER BOAT

New Engines Cut Down Time From Soo By Eight Hours.

With her new engines working smoothly, the Gopher arrived in port this morning. At the time of her arrival in the local port she had been but thirty-two hours out of Sault Ste. Marie.

Commander Guy A. Eaton and Lieut. Commander Howard were the only officers of the naval militia to make the trip. Mr. Eaton reports that the ship is better than ever and that the new machinery is a great improvement over the old. Last year the Gopher was over forty hours in making Duluth from the Soo and on the trial trip up, just completed, she made it in thirty-two.

The Gopher left Toledo Thursday afternoon. The trip up was uneventful. No rough weather was encountered and the boat which is practically new, acted perfectly, it is claimed.

FARMERS ORGANIZE.

St. Joseph's Colony Wants Membership in Produce Market Association

Thirty-two members of St. Joseph's colony, a settlement of German people at Elmer station on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, about three miles from Meadowlands, have made application for membership in the Producers' Co-operative Market association.

St. Joseph's is one of the most prosperous farming communities in St. Louis county. The colonists are all experienced farmers and are demonstrating the productiveness of St. Louis county soil. They are producing considerable farm produce for market and are anxious to get into the association as the best means of reaching their market.

SHOT BEAR IN BACK YARD

Midway Farmer Stumbles Over Animal on His Doorstep.

Bruin Weighed 175 Pounds and Had Beautiful Hide.

Standing in the kitchen doorway of his home at Midway, W. M. Raatikain, a farmer, shot a large black bear shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

The animal was the first one which has been seen in the neighborhood for several months and never before has Bruin been so bold as to come into a farmer's back yard.

When Raatikain stepped out of the kitchen Saturday evening after supper to go to the barn, he nearly stumbled over Bruin before he saw him. He hurried back to the house, got his gun and fired four shots into the animal's body.

Bruin was eating from a pile of refuse which had been dumped in the back yard and not until after a bullet had been sent into his body did he attempt to get away. Three more shots in quick succession felled the animal.

The bear tipped the scales at 175 pounds and its hide, Raatikain says, is an exceptionally beautiful one. Raatikain came to West Duluth yesterday with the news of his adventure. He is well known among the merchants in West Duluth.

CRUSHED ROCK IS A NUISANCE

Property Owners Petition Council Against Traction Company's Stockpile.

West Duluth people residing near the head of Fifty-seventh avenue west have again started the agitation to have the street car company discontinue the handling of crushed rock in that vicinity. The company has quantities of crushed rock stored there to be used in making fills and other improvements on the lines.

A. N. Cornelius is today circulating a petition among the residents of the Eighth ward. The petition will be presented to the council by Alderman Barnes. It is as follows:

"We, the undersigned, citizens of the Eighth ward, residing near the end of the street car line at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Medina street, do hereby respectfully petition and represent to your honorable body that the handling of crushed rock at that point on the street is a public nuisance on account of the dust, and we respectfully petition that the company be compelled to handle this rock at some other point. We would also call your attention to previous petitions filed in the past with your honorable body. Also we feel that this handling of rock under the present conditions is a distinct damage to our property interests.

Signed, A. N. Cornelius, George Gemache, Andrew Ness and others."

WILL CELEBRATE THE FOURTH

West Duluth Business Men Plan "Safe and Sane" Demonstration.

The West Duluth Fourth of July association will be permanently organized tomorrow afternoon at a meeting to be held at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. New officers will be elected and plans made for a local celebration of the Glorious Fourth.

In the absence of patriotic demonstrations in the city proper, it is probable that the affair at West Duluth will be a representative one. The committee has as yet formed no definite plans for the celebration, except that it will be conducted along "safe and sane" lines.

It is probable that committees will be appointed at the meeting Tuesday, for the purpose of soliciting funds from the business men to meet the expenses to the affair.

MUST FIGHT FOR A DEPOT

Soo Road Will Not Carry Out Wisconsin Central Franchise.

It was brought out at the public hearing, before a council committee at the West Duluth fire hall Saturday, that the Soo road evidently does not intend to live up to the franchise acquired by the Wisconsin Central road, now a part of the Soo system, as far as the building of a station at West Duluth is concerned.

This will mean that legal steps will be taken to enforce the terms of the franchise, according to Alderman L. A. Barnes.

H. B. Fryberger, attorney for the Soo, told the council committee that he did not think that the provision would "hold water" and intimated that the company would not install a depot unless it would be a paying proposition.

Alderman Barnes, W. B. Getchell, J. J. Frey, Louis Ramstad, P. H. Martin, F. W. Jolitz, P. H. Martin and City Attorney Fesler gave talks in which they pointed out that West Duluth needed a depot and that the intention of the city in granting the franchise was that that section would be given a station.

City Attorney Fesler gave a talk on what he believed to be a correct interpretation of the franchise in this regard.

COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS SEWER

Proctor Village Fathers Will Take Up Pressing Problem.

The new sewerage system will be discussed at the meeting of the Proctor village council this evening.

As outlined by the engineers, the proposed sewer system will icost $80,000, but it is believed that this figure can be cut down. The entire improvement cannot be done in one year as the village is only allowed to bond itself for $30,000.

The new sewer will serve practically the entire village and about 300 people residing in Duluth who live on the edge of the town. It is proposed to have the sewer drain into two large septic and filtering tanks on the east and west sides of the village.

HIS INJURES PROVE FATAL

Peter Larson Dies After Being Struck By Switch Engine.

Peter Larson, aged 44, who was struck by an engine in the Duluth, Missabe & Northern yards at Hibbing last week and brought to St. Luke's hospital in this city, May 10, died yesterday morning at that institution.

His body was removed to the Filiatrault undertaking rooms at West Duluth and this afternoon was forwarded to his home at Hopkins, Minn. Undertaker W. Strobeck of Hopkins was in charge of the body.

Larson was employed at Hibbing as a section man in the yards. While at work, he was accidentally struck by a switch engine. One foot was cut off, both legs were broken, his head cut and bruised and he also sustained internal injuries.

Larson was a single man and has relatives in Hopkins, where the funeral will be held tomorrow. Larson has resided in Minnesota for fifteen years.

Should Not Intervene.
Robert Mitchell of Cananea, Mex., a mining man, George Montgomery of Los Angeles and Charles J. Drennan of Dayton, Ohio, came to Duluth last night from the Southwest. Mr. Mitchell said he hoped that the United States would not intervene in the Mexican imbroglio.

Attends Conference.
Rev. George Gebauer, minister of the First Unitarian society, left Sunday evening for Indianapolis, Ind., to attend the conference of the Western Unitarion society. Next Sunday Mr. Gebauer will preach at Kalamazoo, Mich., and the local pulpit will be occupied that day by a missionary of the Unitarian church.

Found To Be Sane.
After being examined as to his sanity Saturday afternoon in probate court, by a board of examining physicians, Walter Nassensky, a settler, who lives on a farm near the city, was allowed his freedom. He seemed to be rational.

Petition in Bankruptcy.
James J. Laundergan, who has been in the draying business under the name of the Twin Ports Transfer company, has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in United States court. His liabilities are placed at $4,850.13, of which $3,514.13 is in unsecured claims, $1,236 in secured claims and $60 in wages due. His assets are fixed at $2,895.15, of which $75 is claimed exempt.

May Be Deported.
Miss Anna Terlep, 43 years old, is held at the county jail by the immigration authorities, and a warrant has been asked for her deportation. It is said she was confined in an insane hospital in Austria and is now demented. She came to this country in March and was taken into custody at Eveleth.

Car Manufacturer Here.
E. W. Summers, a Pittsburg car manufacturer, is at the Spalding today. Mr. Summers makes an annual trip to the Head of the Lakes to look over the needs of the railroads here. He is here to confer with the officials of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range railroads.

Given Chance to Move.
Christina Nelson of Fond du Lac, who was arrested last week on a charge of obstructing the street, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned in police court this morning. It is claimed that her home is occupying part of a street and that she has persistently refused to move it, although another lot has been offered her. The case was continued until June 1, to give her an opportunity to move her property.

Case of Smallpox.
J. Kennedy, a Dakota railroad man, was sent to the detention hospital Saturday afternoon by health department officials, suffering from smallpox. This is the first case of this disease which has been reported in the city limits for many weeks. The man had contracted the disease before he came to Duluth, as far as can be learned no other persons were dangerously exposed, although he had been here for two or three days before he was located by the health department authorities.

HEARING ON CAR SERVICE

Council Committee Hears Complaints of Duluth Strap-Hangers.

The council committee on railroads, telegraphs and telephones is holding a hearing in the council chambers at the city hall this afternoon to listen to complaint of insufficient street car service. This is in accordance with a resolution passed by the council a week ago today.

It is claimed that in the morning and evening hours the cars are packed to the doors and that it is almost impossible for any one to get a seat who boards the car in the central part of the city. A delegation from the hillside was present to urge the completion this season of the proposed extension in the Second ward. They claim that this will greatly relieve the congestion, at least along the East Fourth street lines.

Trainmen Discuss Reports.
Harrisburg, Pa., May 15.—The convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen resumed consideration of reports of the five vice presidents at the opening of the sessions of the second week today. These reports will have the right of way over other business.

MAJ. JOHNSON TO TEACH MILITIA

Former St. Peter Man to Instruct Minnesota National Guard.

St. Paul, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—In accordance with an act of congress, approved March 3, 1911, providing additional officers for court purposes, Maj. Arthur Johnson of the Nineteenth United States infantry has been selected as instructor of the organized militia of the state of Minnesota. Maj. Johnson is now in the Philippines, but has been cabled to report at once to the commanding officer, department of California, for assignment. Either two or four years will be spent by him with the Minnesota National Guard.

Maj. Johnson formerly lived at St. Peter, Minn. He is a graduate of the army school of the line, class of 1908, and of the army war college at Washington, class of 1909.

EBERHART IN DENVER.

Governor Will Return Home Day Behind His Schedule.

St. Paul, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart is a day behind in his schedule and will not be home until Wednesday evening. He wired his private secretary to that effect. The governor spent Saturday visiting the Utah industrial school at Ogden. He was in Salt Lake City yesterday and expects to be in Denver today. The train he plans to take home is scheduled to arrive in St. Paul at 7:55 o'clock in the evening.

SCRATCH ON HAND CAUSES FATAL INFECTION.

Roderick McIntosh, 42 years of age, a member of the Owls and Eagles, died yesterday at St. Luke's hospital of blood poisoning. The infection is said to have started from a slight scratch on the little finger of his left hand, but how he obtained the scratch is not known. He was taken to the hospital but a week ago.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Flood & Horgan, where it is being held pending funeral arrangements. A brother residing at Detroit was notified of McIntosh's death and is on his way to this city to complete the arrangements. The funeral will likely be under the auspices of the fraternal orders of which he was a member.

OBITUARY

Dr. William Robert Anthony Wilson, the author, died at his home in Pittsfield, Mass., May 14, aged 41 years. Dr. Wilson was a native of Washington, Ill., and began the practice of medicine at Peoria, Ill., but went to Pittsfield in 1906. He was the author of several works of fiction. He married Miss Jamy Barnes of Louisville, Ky., who survives him. The interment will be at Shelbyville, Ky.

Patrick H. Sherman, a plainsman and Indian fighter who served with Sheridan, Sully, Custer and Miles, died in Topeka, Kan., May 15. He served as a government brigade wagonmaster and conducted government wagon trains across the plains from 1861 to 1865 and had many encounters with Indians. He had lived in Topeka since 1870.

PRINCETON ODD FELLOWS HAVE INCORPORATED LODGE.

St. Paul, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Odd Fellows' Mutual Improvement association of Princeton showing $15,000 as the capital stock. The incorporators are J. C. Herdlocka, M. L. Wheeler, Isaiah Mudgett, Frank Goulding, Robert H. King, J. A. Leathers and G. A. Eaton.

The Clover Telephone company of Bagley has incorporated for $25,000. The incorporators are C. R. Bailey, Oscar Barness and M. J. Kolb.

An amendment has been filed to the articles of incorporation of the Case Corset company providing for a change of headquarters from Albert Lea to Minneapolis.

ECONOMY.

Chicago News: "We'll simply have to cut down expenses," remarked Quilligan, laying aside the newspaper. "I've just been reading an able editorial that fillls me with uneasiness. The prediction is made that a panic will be humping around in this country before the extra session of congress adjourns. The editor states that the Democrats intend to monkey with the tariff, which will scare capital, and we'll see mills and factories closing down, and the tin dinner pail will go to the dump. When the mills and factories close down, then we have hard times with the bark on, and people who have no money salted away will be up against it. So you see that it's a duty to cut out extravagance and buy a little tin savings bank and get down to brass tacks."

"I'm glad to hear you talking that way," said Mrs. Quilligan. "I've said a thousand times that we should be saving money on the salary you get. But your personal expenses are so high—"

"My personal expenses! Oh of course, I'm the one who wastes all the money. I work like a blamed hack horse and give most of my money to your for household expenses, and you waste it in riotous living and then talk about my personal expenses! I'm always pinching and saving till I'm ashamed to look other men in the eyes. It's got to be a joke with the fellows in the office that my wife gives me a nickel every morning for spending money, and yet you talk about my personal expenses! Do you want me to walk five miles every night and morning to save car fare?"

"No, my dear, you know I don't and I think it a pity that I can't say a word but you get excited. You spend money every day that you don't think of. Last evening you went around to the barber shop and spent 40 cents for a shave and a haircut, and that 40 cents would have bought Willie a new hat. I could have bought a great deal of stuff at the grocery with that money. And it was money wasted, for I gave you a safety razor at Christmas, and I can cut your hair for nothing as well as any barber can do it."

"Now you think you're talking sense, don't you? You meant well enough when you gave me that safety razor, but you might as well have given me a trowel or a handsaw if you wanted me to shave myself. I tried it once and ruined my whiskers. The blades for that contrivance are made of tin, and they curl up when you go to use thm. You bought me that razor because you found it on the 9 cent counter of a notion store.

"You talk about cutting my hair for nothing? I let you cut my hair one time just after we were married, and people who saw me then haven't quit guying me. I looked as though I had escaped from a sideshow, and people used to ask me what had become of the Circassian beauty and the wild man from Borneo and the rest of the freaks. I think I see myself chasing around town with my head looking as though somebody had gone over it with a sausage grinder."

"You're too sensitive about what other people say. We can never save any money unless you make up your mind to pay no attention to criticism. You spend 5 cents every day to have your shoes blacked, and you could do that yourself as well as not."

"Of course I could, and if you'll get me a needle and thread I can make my own shirts. Get me a pair of cheap John knitting needles, dad bust it, and I'll spend my spare time knitting socks for myself. Dig up an old loom and a few sacks of wool and I'll make all the clothing for the family. A woman is about as practical as a pelican. When the matter of economizing comes up she indorses it in the strongest way, but she wants her husband to do all the work. Suppose you try to economize a few lines yourself! I see you wearing a new black dress—"

"That's my old green one that I dyed and made over. If you spent as little for clothes as I do we wouldn't need to fear a panic. The money you spend for cigars alone—"

But Quilligan thereupon beat a masterly retreat.

AN UPLIFT SCHEME.

Atchison, Kan., Globe: One of the chief duties in life is to remember all things which the mere mortal mind forgets. Consequently, if you ever wish to know anything, go into silence, summon forth the subconscious ego, and make a conscious call. There being mighty few things which a wideawake, subconscious ego wouldn't have picked up in the course of its existence, or some previous one, a person with a well-trained subliminal self has an encyclopedic knowledge within, all for the asking.

While a small boy in his waking moments is blissfully unconscious of his subliminal self, the right-thinking mamma always should bear it in mind. When his natural mind is asleep the subconscious begins to sit up and take notice. Then is the chance for the mamma. She should approach the crib wherein the young hopeful is slumbering, and give him auto-suggestions of the good, the true and the beautiful.

In this state she may impress upon him ideas which naturally would be distasteful in waking moments—such precepts, for example, as that which tells him to turn the other cheek to the smiter. Thus the small boy goes on care free, unaware that his subliminal self is being put in the path of right thinking.

Mother may have devoted much time in the past to yanking the children out of bed. Under this Uplift Scheme she will sit beside them and whisper ennobling sentiments to their subconscious selves. It will take time, of course, but what has time to do with it? Auto-suggestions of the good, the beautiful and the true are more important than the fact that the breakfast now grows cold, and the fire is going out under the wash boiler.

COLLECTION OF 63,000 CIGAR BANDS

London Chronicle: The hobbies of the rich collectors are sometimes as silly as those of the street boy. A French banker who died recently left a collection of 63,000 cigar bands each differing in some particular from the others.

These had cost him fifty years of smoking and had been arranged systematically in a number of specially constructed cabinets. None of his children shared his taste, so it was decided to sell the bands. When put up to auction the collection which had entailed the expenditure of so much time and money realized twenty francs.

RURAL CARRIER'S MANY MILES.

Lincoln correspondence Topeka Capital: Henry Cromwell, for more than six years a rural mail carrier of this city, has just replaced his old mail wagon with a new one. The old wagon probably holds the record in Kansas for service.

Mr. Cromwell makes thirty miles a day and has made 300 trips each year, giving the old vehicle a record of more than 60,000 miles in the six years and ten months it was in service, a distance more than twice around the globe. The wheels and tires on the wagon when it was thrown away were the same as purchased with the wagon when it was new.

ONLY THREE OF SIX PIONEERS LEFT FOR ANNVIERSARY OF LANDING

For the first time in forty-one years there will be no reunion today of the surviving members of a band of six pioneers, who came to Duluth on the same boat in the spring of 1870.

The boat, Keweenaw, a sidewheeler, landed at an old dock at the foot of Garfield avenue, May 15, forty-one years ago, and in celebration of this event, the pioneers met annually.

William McEwen, father of W. E. McEwen, former state labor commissioner; Thomas Sandeland and Robert Carr are the surviving pioneers. Jacob Zimmerman died April 7 and the other two, James Dingwall and Thomas Bowers, have passed away.

Mr. McEwen and Mr. Sandeland reside in Duluth and Mr. Carr is an engineer for the Northern Pacific between Brainerd and St. Paul. For "old times' sake" Mr. Sandeland and Mr. McEwen will spend the day together. Mr. Carr cannot be here.

Mr. McEwen and Mr. Zimmerman were fast friends and at the last reunion a year ago, they promised each other that in the case of the death of one, that on each recurring anniversary the other would plant flowers on his grave. In respect to the memory of his old time friend, Mr. McEwen this morning visited Forest Hill cemetery for this purpose.

Mr. McEwen was for many years a member of the Duluth police force, but has retired from the service. He lives at Duluth Heights.

which she suffered two years ago, but in a less severe form. It was expected that she would be able to return to Washington in two or three days.

It was announced at Henry W. Taft's house this morning that because of Mrs. Taft's marked improvement no official statement would be made regarding her condition.

Mrs. Taft is quite cheerful and desired to return to Washington with her husband. She was persuaded, however, that it would be better if she remained here two or three days. Miss Helen Taft, her daughter, will remain with her.

President Leaves New York.

President Taft left for Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad at 10:08 o'clock this morning. Dr. Evans, the Taft physician, told him just before he left the house of his brother, Henry W. Taft, that Mrs. Taft's condition had shown such improvement that it would be safe for her to follow him Thursday morning.

The president had spent the night with his wife, who was taken ill here Saturday night at his brother's home. He left the house just before 10 o'clock in an automobile and drove directly to the railway station. A crowd of 100 or more that had gathered outside started to cheer when the president appeared, but quickly hushed the demonstration at the remembrance that he was leaving a sick wife.

Met Stimson and Hitchcock.

During the morning the president talked briefly with two callers, Henry L. Stimson and Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock. Mr. Stimson came to ask for more time before he qualified as secretary of war. He was to have gone to Washington to take the oath of office today or tomorrow; but he told the president it would take several days to settle his private affairs here, and it was arranged finally that he should be sworn in next Monday.

Mr. Hitchcock spent but five minutes with the president. The former will go back to Washington tomorrow morning.

this gathering. The conference is expected to negotiate many treaties affecting various industrial problems. It is known that there will be seven propositions in the form of proposed treaties, submitted by six countries, as soon as the congress is organized. The nature of these propositions will be kept secret until made public by the delegates of the various countries.

Great Britain has given notice of two proposed treaties, while one each will be submitted by France, Germany, The Netherlands, Sweden and Switzerland. It is likely also that the International bureau at Berne, which is maintained as a sort of bureau of information by the nations signatory to the Treaty of Paris and subsequent treaties, may advance several questions for discussion.

Proceedings in French.

The program today included the presentation of the credentials of delegates and other routine matters incident to organization. All of the proceedings of the conference are conducted in French and are secret.

Speeches of welcome will be delivered tomorrow by Secretary of State Knox and Secretary of the Interior Fisher.

Delegates to the meeting have full plenary powers, including authority to draft and sign treaties and agreements in the names of the countries they represent. In nearly every instance the chairman of a delegation is the highest diplomatic officer of his country, now in the United States.

While this meeting is called the "fourth one of revision," it is in reality the sixth meeting. The International union was organized in Paris in 1883. The second conference was in Rome in 1885, the third in Madrid in 1891, the fourth in Brussels in 1897 and the fifth at the same place in 1900. The delegates to the 1897 congress were not empowered to sign the treaties enacted, and therefore the second Brussels conference was necessary.

Eighteen Signers to Treaty.

There are eighteen nations in addition to the United States now adherent to the Treaty of Paris and subsequent conventions. All of them early signified their intention to send delegates. They are Belgium, Denmark, Great Britain, Japan, Norway, The Netherlands, Switzerland, France, (Tunis, although under France, sends a separate delegation), Portugal, Italy, Sweden, Dominican Republic, Germany, Austria Hungary, Mexico and Spain.

The following nations, which were non-adherents to any of the previous conventions, accepted the invitation to attend this conference: The Dominion of Canada, Chile, Costa Rica, Greece, Haiti, Panama, Paraguay, Persia, Russia, Siam, Salvador, Uruguay, Colombia, Ecuador, Honduras, Liberia and Peru. These nations are expected to become a part of the International union at the Washington congress. Until they do they have no right to vote upon any of the propositions, but may discuss them at will.

on the free list, and a cut of 40 to 50 per cent in manufactured woolen goods.

The house is not in session today.

More About Reciprocity.

The senate finance committee resumed the hearing on the Canadian reciprocity bill, and later when the senate met, it was to continue the deadlocked effort to elect a successor to Senator Frye as president pro tempore.

At the hearing last Saturday the committee was given the information that Duluth, S. Paul and Minneapolis were inclined to oppose the agreement because they feared that its ratification would result disastrously to those cities and would make Winnipeg the great metropolis of the Northwest. R. T. Kingman of Pittsboro, N. D., who was introduced as "a small farmer," made the statement.

A delegation of North Dakota farmers was the most conspicuous and insistent opponent in the all-day hearing on the Canadian reciprocity bill. In addition, representatives of the plate glass factories and the lumber manufacturers of the country criticized the bill.

J. M. Devine, for North Dakota, summarized the effects that his delegation considered would come from the enactment of the reciprocity bill. He said that it would seriously injure 30,000,000 persons in the country without a corresponding benefit to the United States.

"You may reduce the selling price of our wheat 10 cents a bushel," said Mr. Devine, "but the man who buys his bread will not get it a cent cheaper. The difference will be swallowed up long before it gets to the consumer. Who needs the 10 cents, the farmer or the middleman? You may reduce the price of our cattle, but the laboring men who buys steak will not get it for a cent less."

Treadwell E. Twitchell, a 6,000-acre farmer, for the "big farmers," and R. T. Kingman of a 600-acre farm, for the "small farmers," L. S. Larimore, Former Lieutenant Governor Lewis of North Dakota and John R. Mauff of the North American Society of Equity in North Dakota, a farmers' organization, all made protests against the bill.

During the hearing Senator Stone suggested to Mr. Devine the possibility of the annexation of Canada.

A fellow senator added to Mr. Stone's suggestion:

"——and take Mexico."

Senator Stone, who created a sensation in the senate during the week by advocating United States troops to stop the fighting in Mexico, chuckled and dropped the subject.

Larimer Opposes Free Lumber.

The North Dakota delegation was headed by Former Lieutenant Governor R. S. Lewis. The first speaker was N. G. Larimer, who said that free lumber would be no compensation to the farmer for losing the tariff on his products because "he does not use 500 feet of lumber a year." Nor would he be sufficiently compensated "by buying cheaper a little machinery once in ten years," he added.

R. T. Kingman spoke as a "small farmer." He said there had been such a change of sentiment in the Northwest in the last two months that he doubted if the Chamber of Commerce of Minneapolis would send a delegation here to favor the bill.

Senator La Follette interrupted to say that three men who had come to the hearing to ask for the passage of the bill, had changed their minds and refrained from appearing before the committee.

Bechelder Makes Protest.

Concord, N. H., May 15.—In a telegram addressed to Senator Gallinger, Former Governor Nahum J. Bachelder, master of the National Grange, patrons of husbandry, protests against remarks of Senator W. J. Stone of Missouri, and suggests that the relations of the American Newspaper Publishers' association with the reciprocity agreement be investigated.

Senator Stone's remarks referred to a report that attorneys of the grange were sending out matter in opposition to reciprocity under the frank of Senator Gallinger. In his telegram Mr. Bachelder says:

"As master and chairman of the legislative committee of the National Grange, I wish to protest against the reflection on this organizaion and on the farmers of the country generally, made by Senator Stone on the floor of the senate and before the senate committee, which we believe was instigated by representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers' association. All the work performed by Allen and Graham has been done under the direction of our legislative and executive committee and copies of all literature and letters sent out will be furnished the committee. We are not willing that Allen and Graham shall appear before the committee for the purpose of having garbled reports sent out to newspapers, intended to show that the farmers are not opposed to Canadian reciprocity, unless arrangements are made for a general investigation at the same time of the relations of the American Newspaper Publishers' association with the reciprocity movement.

"The National Grange assumes all responsibility for work conducted in opposition to the reciprocity bill."

adjusted, including the "boycott" case out of which the contempt proceedings arose, today's decision is probably the last to be heard of this famous action.

STORY OF THE CASE.

The charges of contempt against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison arose out of a bitter labor war between organized labor and the Buck's Stove & Range company of St. Louis, Mo.

The St. Louis concern had come into the supreme court of the District of Columbia to prevent, by injunction, the American Federation of Labor and its officials from boycotting its own products or the business of those who dealt with it. The questions involved and the parties concerned attracted widespread attention.

The company claimed that the Federation was trying to unionize the company's shops. The labor leaders urged that the company was "unfair" to labor. The head of the company was J. W. Van Cleave, president of the National Manufacturers' association, which had often come into conflict with the federation. He was charged with having been opposed to organized labor, and with having sought to put his nickel-plate workers on a ten-hour instead of a nine-hour basis.

Injunction Was Issued.

Justice Gould of the district supreme court issued the injunction prayed for by the company. An appeal was taken to the court of appeals of the district of Columbia, but before that court could pass upon the validity of the injunction, the Buck's Stove & Range company again came into the district supreme court, this time with charges of contempt against President Gompers, Vice President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison. These men were accused of having violated the injunction decree.

Justice Wright found them guilty and sentenced President Gompers to one year in jail; Vice President Mitchell to nine months, and Secretary Morrison to six months. An appeal was taken from this sentence, first to the court of appeals, which affirmed it, and finally to the supreme court of the United States.

Alleged Violations.

The alleged violations consisted of utterances and acts in furtherance of the boycott. It was charged that Mr. Gompers had rushed out the January number of the American Federationist, the official organ of the American Federation of Labor, so as to evade the decree, which went into effect the day after most of the magazines were out of his hands. This magazine contained the name of the company on the "We-Don't Patronize" "unfair" list. It was also alleged that a number of copies of this magazine were sent out after the decree became effective.

In defense, testimony was presented to show that only thirty odd copies were mailed to libraries and other similiar institutions. The complainant claimed that about 100 were sent out.

It was further charged that in the succeeding number of the Federationist, Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison joined in an appeal to organized labor for funds to carry the injunction case to the higher court. It was contended that this appeal was used as a vehicle to continue the boycott.

Editorial was Cited.

The charges stated that the appeal referred to an editorial in the same number of the magazine as setting forth the attitude of those making the appeal. This editorial was attributed to Mr. Gompers.

"Individuals as members of organized labor," this publication said, "will still exercise the right to buy or not to buy the Buck's stoves and ranges. It is an exemplification of the saying that 'you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink.'"

Another charge was that in the March Federationist Mr. Gompers published an editorial in which it was said:

"It should be borne in mind that there is no law, aye, not even a court decision, compelling union men or their friends of labor to buy a Buck's stove or range. No, not even to buy a Loewe hat."

In a public address in New York in April, 1908, Mr. Gompers said, it was charged: "Of course, in the case of the Buck's Stove & Range company, if I tell you that the Buck's Stove & Range company was still unfair, when I get back to Washington tomorrow, or some place where they say people play checkers with their noses—well, as I say, I am not prepared to tell you that these things are unfair. But there is no law, no court decision that compels you to buy them, nor does any law compel you to buy anything without the union label."

From another address by Mr. Gompers in Chicago, in May, 1908, was taken language alleged to have been in violation of the injunction.

Mitchell and Morrison.

In addition to the "urgent appeal," in which Mr. Mitchell joined, he was accused of having acted in contempt by presiding over the United States Mine Workers' convention when it adopted a resolution to fine any member who bought a Buck's stove.

In addition to the "urgent appeal" charge against Mr. Morrison, he was also accused of having mailed out the magazines objected to.

Distinguished counsel appeared on both sides, when the case was argued before the supreme court. Prominent among these were Judge Alton B. Parker, former presidential candidate, who had been retained to defend the labor leaders. His principal argument was that the injunction was an improper interference with the constitutional right of free speech and a free press. He further contended that the injunction decree was void, at least, in parts, and that his clients could not be held under the statutes for violating a void decree.

western part of the state for the past ten days and he reports tha the interest in the Duluth meeting is greater that was shown previous to any other meeting of the association. It is expected that all thirty-four counties will be represented here and there will be hundreds of visitors from the southern part of the state and from Wisconsin and Michigan.

Local preparations for the meeting are going on. Accommodations will be provided for everybody. Duluth will have a "glad hand" for every visitor. Although the business meetings will take up the greater part of the two days, entertainment will be furnished for the leisure hours. The visitors will be given an opportunity to see Duluth and the country round. Duluth. Trips will be made to some of the farms in this section of the state in order to show visitors that Duluth's interest in Northern Minnesota is not purely business interest. Duluth and St. Louis county have agricultural interests in common with the other counties of Northern Minnesota and the visitors will be given concrete evidence of the fact.

The coming meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be the greatest gathering ever held in Northern Minnesota. Everybody interested is working to bring about that result. The press of the northern part of the state has taken hold with a will to arouse interest in the meeting and circulars with the "Boost for Minnesota" slogan prominently displayed are being sent to every part of the state. The members of the association are anxious to have visitors come from Southern Minnesota to see that the Northern Minnesota Development association means business in its efforts to develop the northern part of the state, not only for the greater wealth and industry in Northern Minnesota, but for the greater prosperity of Minnesota as a whole.

the people. The bill was drawn in the department of fomento and was referred to a committee of that department and of the finance branch of the government.

End Seems Near.

El Paso, Tex., May 15.—The end of the revolution in Mexico seems near. Judge Carbajal, federal peace commissioner, this morning received telegraphic instructions from City of Mexico to proceed with peace negotiations along the lines proposed by Rafael Hernandez yesterday.

The telegram to Judge Carbajal is believed to be signed by President Diaz himself, and it is rumored contains a formal acceptance by the president of the propositions suggested.

Without doubt formal peace negotiations will be immediately resumed.

Inclined to Accept.

Juarez, Mex., May 15.—Indirect assurances that the federal government is inclined to accept the propositions submitted unofficially within the last two days by the insurrectos for the establishment of peace, were received here today by Rafael Hernandez, one of the go-betweens in the negotiations.

The government is believed to be ready to reorganize the cabinet and give the insurrectos four members out of eight and to allow the revolutionists to name outright fourteen governors among twenty-seven states, and by mutual agreement select the remaining thirteen governors.

More definite advices giving the attitude of the government are expected before the day is over. Optimism of the probable success of the peace parleys now taking place by telegraph with the City of Mexico prevailed today.

Battle Not Expected.

"It is not believed that Col. Rabago, who was last night reported to be marching on Juarez, will provoke any engagement at this time, though the insurrectos are taking no chances and are preparing to meet him. Some reports have it that Rabago, Villa and Terrazas are not far from Chihuahua and a week's march from here awaiting orders. The belief exists that the federal government will not in that case send him marching orders in view of the probable success of the present negotiations. Peace negotiations, unofficial but auspicious, were resumed yesterday between the federal government and the insurrectos. Rafael Hernandez, who was the original go-between when efforts were first made to bring the warring factions together a few months ago, has stepped to the front and transmitted certain propositions which are looked upon favorably by both sides.

Nature of Propositions.

The propositions are somewhat different from those hitherto considered, though similar in intent. The question of President Diaz, vaguely handled in the manifesto, it is now felt, was amplified and explained sufficiently by Minister Limantour in an Associated Press dispatch two days ago, and the insurrecto leaders are satisfied.

What they really want, and have been wanting for some time, is a guarantee that the reforms they desire will be put into operation and that they will be able to participate in the administration of the republic. To satisfy both the conditions the proposition now being considered includes immediate reorganization of the body and the introduction into the new cabinet of four members, one-half its membership, from the revolutionist party.

President Diaz could remain in power until complete tranquility is restored. The revolutionsist have no objection to that. They themselves, have nothing personal they say, against the aged executive and are willing that he retire decorously so as to permit of a new administration and a complete change of policy in the republic.

Has Boer Adviser.

Provisional President Madero talked for a long time with his military adviser, Gen. Villjoen, a Boer who has joined his staff, concerning a plan for mobilizing his troops in Chihuahua, but the rebel chief admitted that he had in mind also the possibility of peace.

In event of peace, the efforts of the provisional government to rehabilitate the state governments in Chihuahua and Sonora will not be in vain, as these are two of the fourteen states where the rebels will be allowed to name governors, and it is believed, secretaries of state also. The provisional government has ordered the reconstruction of the railroad and telegraph lines. In the customs house here the employes of the federal government have been retained. Already about $7,000 has been received for customs.

Notification by Provisional Prsident Madro of Senor Equival Obregon that his presence in this city no longer was desired by the revolutionists, is the culmination of what is believed to have been a general plot to influence the military chiefs of Madero to desert his standard.

Overtures were said to have been made to Gen. Pasqual Orozco to furnish him with any money he might need for himself or his soldiers, but by whom these overtures were made, Gen. Orozco would not say. Senor Obregon emphatically denied any connection with the story.

Senor Obregon has been one of the go-betweens in the peace negotiations and was mentioned in the credentials sent Judge Carbjal, the federal envoy, by Minister Limantour as having disinterestedly offered his services with Senor Braniff in the cause of peace. He was a candidate for president of Mexico in the last election on the anti-re-electionist ticket against Madero, but the supporters of that party since then had largely merged with the Madero faction.

Rebel Troops Marching.

Naco, Sonora, Mex., May 15.—Gen. Lomeli, provisional governor of Sonora, is sending rebel troops from Agua Prieta westward and southward as fast as they can be armed and equipped. One force will arrive here today to take possession of and garrison the town. A small garrison will remain at Cananea and the other insurrectos in this district will proceed to Nogales and Hermosillo to reinforce Cabral preparatory to attacks on those cities.

Cattle for the States.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., May 15.—A roundup of 60,000 cattle on ranches in the vicinity of Cananea, Nogales and Naco has been ordered for shipment into the United States. The cattle probably will be bonded through the Nogales port on a special concession from the treasury department. It is understood that fear of the imposition of a heavy tax by the rebels is back of the proposed exportation.

Cananea Government Reorganized.

Cananea, Sonora, Mex., May 15.—The revolutionary leaders at a meeting presided over by Judge Carbajal, selected the provisional officers of Cananea. The new officials were sworn in, pledging themselves to make effective the constitution of the republic, to assist in reforming the laws of the state of Sonora; and to uphold the no-re-election and eleven other demands of the revolutionary party. In the afternoon they were introduced to the people in the plaza, were received by a great popular demonstration and immediately afterwards took charge of municipal affairs.

After a thorough examination failed to unearth any military mines, the rebels occupied the city hall and barracks. Federal sympathizers were taken into custody, the crowds in the streets cheering each arrest. Business houses are opening but many of the people are too busy celebrating for ordinary vocations.

A train load of material and 100 men have been sent by the Greene-Cananea Copper company, to repair burned railroad bridges. Railroad telegraph wires are again working between Cananea and Nogales, and train service is expected to resume Monday.

The saloons have not been permitted to reopen, and good order prevails.

WOMAN WANTED IN TWO CITIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Creech Is Arrested at Duluth Hotel.

Elizabeth Creech, 38 years of age, was arrested at the Spalding hotel Saturday evening by Detectives Terry and Toewe for the Chicago authorities, where it is claimed she is wanted on a larceny charge.

It is also claimed that she is wanted in Indianapolis on a similar charge. She has been employed at the Spalding [illegible]. It is alleged that she left Chicago without paying for $100 worth of goods ordered from the store of Marshall Field & Co., and that she took a quantity of jewelry and leather goods from a house in Indianapolis, where she was employed.

Mrs. Creech said that she formerly lived in New York, where her husband was a stock broker. After his death she asserted that she lost her fortune in unfortunate stock speculations and had to go to work for a living.

An officer is on his way from Chicago to take her back.

Marinette Woman Dies.

Marinette, Wis., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Chris. Johsnon, wife of Assemblyman Johnson, died in childbirth at the family home today.

WOMAN'S REALM.

The Duluth Choral club concert tomorrow evening at the Lyceum theater, will be the evhief event of the week both musically and socially. The advance sale has been very satisfactory and society is planning to turn out in force.

The first half of the program will consist of varied numbers. It will open with the "Bridal Chorus" from "Rose Maiden," which will be sung by the Duluth Choral club. "O Peaceful Night" and "O Hush Thee, My Baby," will also be sung by the club. Miss Bradshaw will sing "In Arcady" and Miss Williams will be heard in a group of three songs.

The principal feature of the concert is the second half, when "The Erl King's Daughter," a delightful opera will be sung by the club conducted by Alfred Wiley, with the solo parts taken by Miss Clara Williams, soprano, Miss Mary Syer Bradshaw, mezzo and George Suffel, baritone.

Y. W. C. A. CONTEST.

Campaign for Members Will Be Conducted.

A membership contest is to be launched this evening at the Young Women's Christian association at the "Department supper," which they will serve there at 7 o'clock. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs which has been given at the association this year. The five departments of gymnasium, Bible, educational, extension and dormitory will have different tables and each department is working for a good representation. In the contest there will be five captains, with a team as representatives of each of these departments, and at the close of the race the winning team will be entertained in some way.

There will be no other supper served at the Y. W. C. A. this evening except the 7 o'clock supper.

Tomorrow afternoon a mass meeting, open to all women interested, will be held at the association building at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Trimble, city secretary for the North Central territory, will speak and some of the subjects of general interest, which were discussed at the recent biennial convention, will be presented.

Children's Party.

Mrs. Walter C. Poehler entertained at a children's party Saturday afternoon at her home, 2501 East Fifth street, for her little daughter, Miss Elizabeth, in celebration of her 6th birthday anniversary. The decorations were all in pink, carnations of that color being used. The guests were:

Misses—
Beatty Bohannon, Eleanor Coulter, Faith Douglas, Frances Haley,

THE EVENING STORY

THE LADY WITH THE LAMP

By David Lyall.

Hugh Clinton was courageous man, who in his time had faced and overcome difficulties that would have daunted the majority. But the day when the whole story of his business transactions in the last ten years was told in full in the town house of Kenton, in front of his fellow townsmen, and a considerable section of those who had suffered through his fall, he tasted the dregs of humiliation and shame.

He was not spared, but he bore himself with a certain jauntiness which enraged and aggravated those who witnessed it, and estranged from him the small modicum of sympathy which kindly men feel for a brother in distress. No one believed that it had been assumed to hide a suffering acute enough to partly expiate his crime.

The fierce examination over, Clinton, pale lipped and with contracted eyes, the scathing words of his judges scarifying his soul, stepped down from the box, and went with a deep breath into the outer air. It was about 3 o'clock on a biting February afternoon, and he had had no lunch. But he had no desire for food, nor yet any desire to return to his home.

He stood a moment undecided under the wide portico of the town house. The street was very quiet just then, and he saw a woman's figure approaching him, some distance away. He stepped out to meet her, not of his own free will, because she was one of those who had suffered variously through him, but something compelled him.

Clinton had wrought Evelyn Kister, once his sweetheart; she had quickly become too insignificant for his scheme of things, and had been left out of it. Yet, today, in comparison with the hard faces of the men in the courthouse, hers shone like the face of an angel.

"I've been waiting for you," she said quite simply. "I was in for a while, but I could not bear it. It was horrible. Come home and have a cup of tea with me. I know just how long you have been in there, and that you have not had any lunch."

"I don't deserve it, Eve, but I'll come," he answered. She stole a glance at him as they walked in complete silence up the quiet street, from which they turned presently into a narrow thoroughfare, tree lined and leading to the river.

"You were inside, you said. I did not see you, and I'm glad. I don't ask what you though of it, because I know. What is to be the end of it? To me, at this moment, there seems only one way out."

"I saw that passing through your mind while Luddington was asking you questions. I though him needlessly cruel. All the facts were quite obvious; there was not the smallest necessity to pillory you as he did. I shall tell him so. I am dining at his house tonight."

"But it was all deserved, Eve," he said heavily. "By God it was, every word of it. I've been a scoundrel, if I'm taken on the counts they named. But I did not start with scoundrelism, and I wonder just how many of these men, placed as I have been, would have come out with clean hands."

"That need not concern us," she said quite gently. "One thing seemed clear to me as I listened, one thing, only. It seemed to stand out."

"What was that?" he asked with an eagerness he could not hide.

"Why this," she said cheerfully. "That what you have done in the past you can do again, with a difference. You are not an old man. You'll begin again tomorrow and build up. Then you will pay everything back, and the day will come when you will stand up in Kenton a free man again."

"Eve, you put heart into a man. If there were more like you, there would be better men. If—if—"

Her hand touched his coat cleeve with a deprecating touch.

"Oh! there are heaps of women like me, and far better ones. It is only now and then in the world we get our chance. I'm so glad mine has come to me."

"If my wife took it like that, everything would be possible," he said thickly. "It was all done for; she was in the background, pulling the ropes. You know that, Eve, though I could not tell them. When you come to inquire into the folly and the sin of men, you will generally find that there is somebody in the background pulling the ropes."

"Hush!" she said gently. "It is men that should be strong. It is what we women need in them—strength to take away the false hands from the ropes. But you are too hard on Mrs. Clinton."

"I'm not; this morning, when she knew what I was coming to, not a word of sympathy or help. A set, hard face, a cutting word or two, and a groan over the downfall of everything. She knows we shall have to leave our home, and that the future is dark and uncertain."

"Yes," said Eve, steadily, "she knows all that."

"She would never understand your point of view. She does not care for the wrong done to others."

"Hush! I will not listen. It is not true. I have seen her today, and I know."

"You have seen her today!" he said stupidly. Where?"

"At Bedford, I went out by the 11 o'clock train. I pictured her there alone, and tried to realize what she would be passing through; so I went."

"And you saw her? That was a Christian act, Eve. How did she receive you?"

"I'll tell you when we get inside," she said with a small, quiet, cheerful smile. "Here we are. Tea will be quite ready, and 'something to it' as we used to say in the old days."

She led him, still smiling, to the little dining room. Then she shut the door, and stood against it, and looked at him with an odd, clear light in her eyes.

"Hugh, Dorothy is here. I brought her back with me. She's all broken up, and nobody but you can help her. She thinks you are heaping all the blame on her, and she is blaming herself. The thing I told you about in the street has to begin here today. You have to build again on your dear wife's sad heart. The first thing you have to do is to restore its confidence, to take the love that is there, and make it the lever of your life."

He looked at her stupidly, unrealizing the full significance of her words.

"Dorothy is here—in this house, Eve, and you are telling me to go to her?"

"Yes," she said, a little hurriedly, for the strain was very great.

"But how is it?" he said, as he gripped the edge of the table. "How is it that such things are possible to you? Good you have always been, but this transcends."

"Oh! it is so easy when you know all about the things that matter," she said in her bright, brave voice.

"You don't know all at once. You have to learn the love of God; that gives the peace the world can't take away. When you have learned that, then all things come into line, and everything is plain and easy sailing, just as we used to find it in the old cobble on the Dart in the days that we have never forgotten."

"The love of God—the peace which passeth understanding," he repeated in the wondering tones of a man who sees the light shine in fiercely upon some familiar place, revealing unexampled and undreamed of beauties.

His face worked, his hands gripped yet more nervously the edge of the table in his vain effort to steady himself.

"You know God, Eve, Can He forgive such sin as mine? Is it possible that some day, even yet, I might get into line with His scheme of things?"

The tears rained down her cheeks.

"You are getting into line now, Hugh, when you are asking the question. Now, go to Dorothy, and seek Him together on your knees."

She pushed him through the door, closed it after him, and knelt down herself with her forehead on the table his hands had touched.

Outside in the busy streets when the court had emptied itself, Hugh Clinton's name was on every lip, and all the accents were those of blame. Little did they dream that in a small, plain house, within a stone's throw of the universal condemnation, his soul had found sanctuary—that where the voice of men were futile the voice of God had spoken with no uncertain sound.

He spared Hugh Clinton, and gave him the chance to atone, and the day came when he stood a free man again among his fellow townsmen, having won back their affection and respect.

But none knew who had been the instrument of Him who, while He walked with men, quenched not the smoking flax nor broke the bruised reed.

Birthday Months

By LURA STANLEY.

May.

Persons who belong to May are usually powerful, both mentally and spiritually, and frequently become great leaders. They are frequently apt writers of books and essays, ready and brilliant speakers and seem to be possessed of extraordinary power to rouse and sway their followers. These people make loyal friends, as long as they are permitted to have their own way; but when they become enemies they are the most bitter and relentless of all.

June.

People born during the month of June are inclined to be dissatisfied and nervous, always wishing they had done the thing they did not do. These people are filled with unrest, and long to be away or to do something, though they seldom know what. They are often great travelers, and nearly always gather wealth before their thirty-fifth year. They are not apt to marry young, but when they do, can be ideally happy if they do not get into the fault-finding and scolding habit.

July.

Persons born during the month of July have a superior intelligence and great ability for planning and working out big enterprises. They are dominant in home and family life, and very ardent at heart, although frequently considered as cold by those who do not know them. Both men and women of this month are fond of travel, and will take long voyages, frequently late in life.

August.

Persons born in August are kind hearted, generous and magnetic. They are strong in their love for their own people, and will listen to no evil stories about them. Women of this month are very fond of their children, and will not yield to any dictation in regard to their management. They are apt to blunder in their first marriage, but usually do not hesitate to get a divorce and make the experiment again, after which they are mostly happy.

Latest Suggestions in China and Napery

WELL appointed table no longer means necessarily an expensively appointed one. There was a time when it was very difficult to obtain satisfying designs and colorings in the cheaper grades of china, but every season now brings forth many desirable reproductions, in porcelains and American makes of the patterns and colors of the finest French chinas.

Perhaps when you visit the china shop to buy your first set of dishes or to replace those whose ranks have been thinned by long service, you set your heart on a Haviland pattern that has a rich edge of gold and a tiny border of clovers in dull green with a touch of magenta, but the price is quite beyond what you can afford to pay. The "something just as good" which is offered you, in the Syracuse or other American makes, at about half the price, proves so nearly "just as good" that you have a hard time telling the difference. The French china has a certain brilliant transparency not found in others, but its patterns and colors and shapes are most successfully copied.

The decorations tend more and more to the utmost simplicity. Fluted edges and helter-skelter, scattered posies have given way to plain edges and conventionalized band patterns, both in the imported and domestic makes. Nothing is in better taste than a clear, white French china with just a tiny thread of gold to emphasize its graceful shapes. The use of the monogram on these finest grades of china—a revival of a custom of our great-grandparents—is gaining favor rapidly.

In the English porcelain the Indian tree pattern is most effective, but it is wise to consider if one will be able to use it exclusively, because it is a pattern of so much color and character that odd pieces do not look well with it. A new decoration is being shown which is in reality the revival of the old Davenport pattern that was popular over a hundred years ago. It was then considered the acme of elegance in china, and it is said that the original copper plates which were unearthed last year in an English factory are being used.

Something of a novelty are the dainty toast and tea sets in Japanese china. The cup sets securely in the little hollow of a small oblong platter, of artistic modeling, and the color effects are very delicate, with a lavish use of gold. These are especially convenient and attractive in the sick room.

New Things in Napery.

For the breakfast table the cloth which has a bit of color is widely used. One pattern has tiny squares of yellow, blue, red or green mixed with white which are carried to within sixteen inches of the edge. The border is pure white.

Open work Madeira embroidery on fine, plain linen is in great demand for luncheon sets. The centerpiece may be either circular or square and is sometimes almost covered with embroidery and finished with a scalloped edge. The napkins, too, have the finely scalloped edge, and the only other embroidery is in the small design surrounding the monogram in one corner.

A new design in lace dinner cloths shows the lace strips put on in umbrella fashion, radiating from the solid center. Other elaborate cloths of finest French linen are often edged with lace, and have insets of Cluny and filet laces.

TRYING TO SAVE ROAD

Commercial Club Committee Considering Plans to Finance Logging Line.

Company May Be Organized in Duluth to Buy the Property.

A determined effort is being made by Duluth men to save the Minnesota & North Wisconsin railroad, which is threatened with extinction by the application of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company for permission from the state railroad and warehouse commission to tear up the tracks and abandon the road.

The executive committee of the Commercial club has taken the lead in the effort to save the road. At Saturday's meeting of the committee, Chairman W. A. McGonagle was authorized to appoint a special committee to investigate the matter and report a tentative plan for the organization of a company to take over the road.

It is realized that the people interested should do something more than protest at the hearing on the lumber company's application, which will be held here May 26. The lumber company is not a railroad company; the railroad has never been used for general traffic, being only a logging road and, even though there is traffic in sight for the road and to tear it up would be a serious handicap to the development of the country through which it runs, to ask the denial of the lumber company's petition without offering any alternative would not carry as much weight as would be desired.

The financing of a deal to take over the road is believed to be a comparatively simple proposition. The road can be bought for practically the price of the rails for scrap iron, it is said. It runs through a farming country that is now prosperous and would be much more prosperous if an outlet for farm produce were provided. The road connects with six railroads and it is believed that connecting arrangements could readily be made.

The people who have looked into the proposition say that the road should appeal to investors. For the present it is believed that enough Duluth men could be interested to furnish capital for taking over the road from the lumber company. The territory through which the road runs now has a population of about 2,000 and it would be much greater if the road had done a general carrying business in the past. If a company can be organized and the road operated as a common carrier, it is believed one of the greatest agricultural sections in the northern part of the state will be developed along the line within a comparatively few years.

INSPECT TWO IRON RANGES

Vice President Kerr and Party Return From Mines.

David G. Kerr, vice president of the United States Steel corporation in charge of mining and transportation, returned yesterday from an inspection tour of the Mesaba and the Vermilion ranges and left almost immediately for the old iron ranges in Michigan. He was accompanied by W. J. Olcott, president; J. H. McLean, general manager, and Pentecost Mitchell, vice president of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

With Mr. McLean on his inspection trip of the Mesaba and Vermilion properties were the officials named and the following: W. A. McGonagle, president and H. L. Dresser, chief engineer of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern; F. E. House, president of the Duluth & Iron Range; George L. Reis, vice president of the Minnesota Steel company; J. H. Hearding, assistant general manager and J. Uno Sebenius, general mining engineer of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

These officials did not make the trip to the Michigan ranges.

The tour of the Minnesota ranges was one of the regular inspection trips of Vice President Kerr, and he had no statement to give out on his return.

Claims P. McDonnell's Chauffeur Was Speeding on London Road.

Complaint of excessive speeding in the East end was made against Contractor P. McDonnell Saturday afternoon by Howard T. Abbott, president of the Duluth Automobile club.

Mr. Abbott told Assistant City Attorney Walter F. Dacey that Mr. McDonnell shot by at a speed which he estimated at forty-five miles an hour. Mr. McDonnell was not driving the car personally, but his chauffeur was at the wheel. Attorney Dacey stated this morning that a warrant would be sworn out for the arrest of the chauffeur, but up to noon he had not been brought in.

SWITCHMEN HAVE FIGHT ON HAND

Hawley's Opponents Will Try to Defeat Him at St. Paul.

St. Paul Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The opening session of the fifth biennial convention of the Switchmen's Union of North America was held in the old capitol building here today. President Frank T. Hawley presided over the meeting, which was behind closed doors.

One of the features of this convention will be the election of a president, and a fight is being made by the faction opposed to the re-election of Mr. Hawley. This fight is the result of the failure of Mr. Hawley to win the big strike of 1909.

At the same time and place the women's auxiliary is also holding its biennial meeting.

POOR LO'S MIND IS STILL UNTUTORED.

Washington, May 15.—Three centuries of civilization have not brought the full-blood Indian to the point where his rights are equal to those of the white man. Musical Play to Raise Funds to Pay Shriners' Expenses.

A. F. M. Custance promises some lively entertainment at the Lyceum theater, June 1, when he will put on "The Annual Aad Fest," a musical play with musical comedy, burlesque and vaudeville features. The money to be realized from the sale of tickets will be used to pay the expenses of the patrol to the Shrine convention, which will be held in July at Rochester, N. Y.

Rehearsals for the entertainment are going on at the present time. Mr. Custance is well known for his ability in putting on amateur production. He promises that "The Annual Aad Fest" will contain nothing but new features.

The first part of the entertainment will be furnished by the "Shrine Girls," the high school girls who often appear at Shrines' entertainments. What the girls are going to do is to be kept secret and the surprise will be sprung on the night of the show.

The rest of the show will consist of musical specialties, a burlesque on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by the Masonic quartete, and a number of additional feature stunts, the whole to end with a spectcular drill by the members of the patrol, under the command of Col. Resche.

OLD BOYS IN GRAY HOLDING REUNION.

Little Rock, Ark., May 15.—Thousands of Confederate veterans of the war between the state, with throngs of Sons of Veterans, are pouring into town today for the twenty-first annual reunion of Southern soldiers. From today's indications there will be at least 10,000 veterans here, with thousands more sons and their guests.

SUPERIOR

COMMERCIAL CLUB PAPER.

First Edition of "Publicity Items" Will Boost Superior and Vicinity.

The Superior Commercial club will issue the first edition of its new publication, "Publicity Items," next week, according to A. J. Wentzel, chairman of the committee. "What the Commercial club has done and what the club plans to do for Superior and surrounding community," will be the theme of the writers. Several prominent members of the club will contribute.

SOUTH SHORE LIMITED DERAILED; NO ONE HURT.

No passengers were hurt and small damage was done in the wreck of the Marquette Limited, No. 7, on the South Shore line, which is due in Superior at 10 a. m. The wreck occurred yesterday morning at 4:23 o'clock, two miles east of South Range, at the Eighteenth street crossing. Ties over the culvert at this crossing gave way and all of the cars except the smoker left the track. The passengers were brought to Superior in the smoker later in the day.

OMAHA ENGINEER TAKES LAST TRIP ON SPECIAL.

A special train this morning carried the body of James O'Brien, an engineer for the Omaha road, who died recently at St. Francis hospital, from Itasca to the East end. The train left Itasca at 8:15. The funeral took place from the St. Francis Xavier Catholic church and burial was at Nemadji cemetery. The funeral was in charge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers and the Catholic Order of Foresters.

SPANISH WAR VETERAN PRESENTED WITH MEDAL.

Louis J. Pope of Superior has been presented with a handsome bronze medal, as a member of the volunteer army in the war with Spain, who served beyond his time of enlistement to help suppress the Philippine insurrection. He was a member of the Thirteenth Minnesota Volunteer infantry, Company H. The medal was presented in accordance with an act of congress. Its number is 4,750, and it came from the war department.

First Ore at Dock.

The first ore to be received at the new Soo ore dock on St. Louis bay was transferred today from the Stinson avenue yards to the dock. The ore has been stored in the yards for some time, awaiting the completion of the line to the dock. About 200 cars of ore have been sidetracked, another train having arrived yesterday from the Cuyuna range. It is expected that by the time that the first boat comes to the dock that there will be enough ore to supply several boats.

Verdict for $800.

An award of $800 was made Stanislaus Wnek in a sealed verdict returned Friday by a jury in superior court. The verdict was opened this morning. Wnek was suing the Superior Shipbuilding company for personal injuries.

IMMIGRANT'S PLANS DEFEATED BY DEATH.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—After having both his legs cut off by a moving coke car, Jams Stanilaw died instantly this mornig in the Canadian Soo. Stanilaw was standing on the top of a pile of coke when he missed his footing and fell. Two cars passed over his legs. He arrived from Russia a month ago and was preparing a home for his wife and family, who were to sail from Russia at the end of this week.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Whether or not the purchase of the Brooks-Scanlon road by Duluth capital would be a profitable enterprise for the investors is a plain business proposition to be determined, like all business propositions, by calm calculation and cool judgment.

That it would be an immensely profitable enterprise for the community there can be no possibility of doubt; and that brings into the question an element of public spirit which certainly should cause those to whom it is presented to give it the benefit of any doubt that may exist.

Furthermore, it can hardly prove a profitable enterprise to the community without proving at least a reasonably profitable investment for those who put their money into it.

The price seems reasonable, and if it is not, no doubt the owners of the road are in a situation that will lead them to make it reasonable.

The executive committee of the Commercial club is wise in taking prompt action on this important matter. It is to be hoped that a plan will be worked out that will make it possible for local capital to take over this road and make it the medium of providing Duluth with food supplies while encouraging the agricultural development of near-by soil—a pair of functions which, after all, are first essentials in the making of the Greater Duluth which every loyal Duluthian believes in and for which every loyal Duluthian is working.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Citizens' Staff, which was organized a few years ago to encourage the better observance of Memorial day and to take from the shoulders of the veterans the burden of labor and expense connected with the day's observance, deserves the fullest possible public support. It ought to have a large membership, and its members ought to work actively to make Memorial day what it should be. Half a century after the war is none too soon to make arrangements for a proper celebration of Decoration day.

The executive committee of the Citizens' Staff is planning a campaign for this year's observance, and everybody who can ought to help. Memorial day is something more than a day for rest and sports. It is a day for remembering the great service the veterans did in welding the nation into a compact and effective whole, and it is a day for honoring the veterans, the living no less than the dead.

They are poorly honored when the work of observing Memorial day is left entirely to them, and when the day itself is given over to more or less seemly sports. It is a fine thing to witness the success of the Citizen's Staff movement, and it will be a fine thing to contribute to its further success.

MORE TESTIMONY.

Eau Claire, Wis., has had a year of the commission form of government, and the other day a reporter for the Eau Claire Leader drifted into the city clerk's office while that official was getting up a report of the city's business for the year. Here is the way the Leader starts the article which resulted:

"Eau Claire's commission form of government is making good. It has made good."

The report on which the city clerk was engaged, the Leader goes on to testify, "will be one of the most satisfactory reports ever made by a local city official." "The present city council on April 18 had been in office just one year," says the Leader; "a year, mind you, of experiment, of learning how, of ferreting out and planning for a year of downright hard labor in which every man of the administration has given the best there was in him. And the results are so gratifying that it would well repay each and every taxpayer to call personally at the city building and learn what has been accomplished."

Knowing, of course, that not many taxpayers would do that,—though it would be a mighty good thing in every city if more taxpayers did it,—the Leader proceeds to tell something of what the commission plan has done for Eau Claire.

In the first place, every city fund showed a larger balance at the end of the year under the commission plan than it did at the beginning. At the end of the last year under the old government the city had $20,194 available, and this year it has $74,934; an increase of nearly $55,000. This means, says the Leader, "that for once in many, many years the city will not be obliged to make temporary loans of anywhere from $20,000 to $40,000, pending the collections on the tax roll." Better still, it means, according to a city official who is quoted, a lower tax rate for the coming year. "And at the same time," says this official, "there will be enough taxes to have the same condition obtain for the following year."

The commission form took force with a deficit of $11,670.25 in the general fund. At the close of the year there was a surplus in that fund of $35,468.22.

In the last year of the old form of government Eau Claire spent $494,631.58, while in the first year of the new form it spent $443,426.76, a saving of $51,204.82. And reports seem to agree that the city got more results from the smaller sum than it did from the larger. That bit of magic is a sample of what the commission plan can do for a city.

It costs Eau Claire less to run its city business under the commission plan than it did under the old system, and it gets better results. Deficits have been turned into comfortable balances. Though for many years it has been necessary to borrow money to keep the city going while new taxes are being collected, this year that will not be necesasry. A lower tax rate is in sight.

And the example of Eau Claire is but one of many. Instances where the commission plan has worked marked improvement in city government are to be had in plenty. Has anybody furnished you with an instance where it has made matters worse than before?

THOSE SCARED FARMERS.

There seems to be some doubt just how much the sentiment against the Canadian reciprocity treaty said to exist in the agricultural communities actually is real, and how much of its apparent strength is due to the efforts of the subsidized bureaus which have been engaged for years in encouraging every proposal to increase the tariff tax, and in opposing bitterly every proposal to reduce it in any respect.

Unquestionably a large number of farmers have been led to believe that the effect of the treaty would be harmful to them. Though it naturally irritates the farmer opponents of the treaty to have it suggested that they are being hoodwinked into making themselves useful to special interests which prey upon them no less than upon the dwellers in cities, there can be little doubt that such is the fact.

Nor should the farmer be surprised by the charge. It is nothing new. Neither the charge nor the fact is new. The organizations back of the high protective tariff, through its agents, political and otherwise, have been successful for a generation in fooling the farmer into supporting a protective system that gave him little or no direct benefit, and that did him as much harm as it did anybody. He was "protected" on the commodities he produced, and he was content to pay tribute on everything he consumed. This without realizing that though the "protection" on the goods he bought was very real, the "protection" on the things he sold was never real, but only a seeming.

A tariff on commodities of which this country is a large exporter—commodities which this country sells, not buys—is, of course, an absurdity, without any effect except that for which it was intended—to keep the farmer in line for a protective system which was and is a mere government license to special interests, authorizing them to pillage the American consumers, the farmers along with the rest.

How the American farmer is going to be injured by a removal of tariff restrictions between this country and Canada when he is already selling far more to the Canadians than the Canadians are buying from us, is something that nobody has yet explained. If with the tariff fence up the American farmer has been successful in selling Canada much more than Canada sells this country, with the tariff fence down he is going to sell still more and thus enlarge his market and increase his profit.

Mr. Shackleford of Missouri, a member of the house ways and means committee, has prepared some interesting figures which elucidate this point. They show that while this country during the last five years sold horses worth $14,172,475 to Canada, that country sold us horses to the value of only $2,549,211, a balance in our favor of $11,622,874; that while this country was selling Canada cattle to the value of $1,578,179, it was buying Canadian cattle worth $1,962,562, a balance in our favor of $384,383; that while we were buying meat and dairy products worth $904,191 from Canada, we were selling Canada similar products worth $17,011,017, a balance in our favor of $16,106,826; that while Canada was selling us breadstuffs worth $6,679,884, Canada was buying from us breadstuffs worth $31,596,556, a balance in our favor of $24,916,672.

Of these four principal agricultural products this country sold to Canada to the value of $64,358,227 and bought from Canada to the value of $11,327,082; a balance in our favor of $53,031,145.

In the face of such figures, achieved with the tariff fence up, it is absurd to be afraid of what would happen with the tariff fence down. The whole country, the farmers included, ought to be reaching with eagerness for that tariff fence, to tear it down that trade may flow back and forth without interference or interruption.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK GROWTH.

The postoffice department, in a statement issued today, reports "material growth in the popularity of the postal savings bank system." The postal savings bank system has been popular for a generation. What the department means is that there has been a substantial growth in the patronage of the postal banks, and that was to be expected.

In the period covered by the report there were forty-eight postal depositories, though a number have been established since, one for Eveleth, this county, having been announced within a day or two. During April there were 2,618 separate deposits in these banks, averaging $31.57 apiece, and an average of more than fifty-five deposits to each bank. When it is remembered that all of these banks are in the smaller communities, it will be realized that this is a very satisfactory showing indeed. It will be much more satisfactory when the department begins establishing postal depositories in the larger cities, especially those in which there is a large proportion of foreign-born persons who have learned the value of postal savings banks in their native lands.

July 1 depositors will be permitted to convert their deposits into United States bonds bearing 2½ per cent interest. These bonds will be issued in denominations of $20, $100 and $500, will be exempt from taxation, can be sold at any time, and will carry 25 per cent more interest than the deposits.

GETTING READY.

The sudden and unexplained retirement of Secretary of War Dickinson from the Taft cabinet, coupled with the appointment to his place of Henry L. Stimson, the Colonel's unsuccessful candidate for governor of New York, and with the appointment of a retainer of the Republican old guard in New York to a very profitable government job, in the absence of further elucidation looks remarkably like the beginning of the 1912 presidential campaign.

Secretary Dickinson is a Democrat. His appointment looked like an effort on the part of President Taft to pick out a cabinet on its merits without undue regard for partisanship. His sudden release to make it possible for the president to make overtures to the Roosevelt following by appointing Stimson to the cabinet doesn't look a bit like nonpartisanship. It looks, indeed, very much like getting ready for a presidential campaign by knitting up the breaches in the Republican ranks, especially when the appointment is associated with the appointment of a friend of the old guard in New York to a very fat position as assistant treasurer of the United States at New York.

Very evidently, presidential politics is getting rapidly ripe.

UNION MAN AIMS A WALLOP AT THE HERALD.

Ends Life Rather Than Join a Union.

Philadelphia, May 12.—Driven to distraction over the efforts of fellow workmen to force him into joining a union, Ernest Hebleb, 23 years old, an employe of the Baldwin Locomotive works, shot and killed himself today. The young man's reason for his act was given in a letter addressed to his wife, in substance as follows:

"I cannot longer endure the efforts of my fellow workmen to force me into joining the union. I do not believe in unionism and they are making life so miserable that I cannot bear it any longer."

To the Editor of The Herald:

The above slam appearing in the most conspicuous place on the front page of The Herald was a hard jar for the belief I hold that The Herald is fair to the organized workers. Your stand in a great many instances, especially on the McNamara kidnaping case, is to be commended; but this article, appearing in this manner, conveying the impression to the uninformed that a man had better be dead than join a union, is a tainted evidence of hypocrisy.

The American daily press makes it a special point to feature and give prominence to all news that is bad, sordid and sensational, catering to that taste of the public that causes a crowd to satisfy its disgusting curiosity by scrambling for a place to view a torn, mangled victim of an accident; reaching that state of swinish intellect that finds delight in the retailing of a putrid thought, while all that's good and bright and cheerful must take its place and space, wherever time, chance and luck decide.

The action of this workman indicates a sad case of arrested mental development. In his selfish, little mind he took no thought of wife and home and fellowman. He failed to realize that all the good conditions, shorter hours and living wages that he enjoyed, were the result of the efforts of his organized fellow workers. All the advantage in hours, wages and surroundings that come to the non-union craftsman, are his, not because of his skill and knowledge; not because of a transcendent and scintillating ability, but because there are good, live unions on the job. If there were no unions in existence, these same "good men" could make as much or more in the unskilled lines, as they could by working at their trade.

One instance will illustrate. This particular organization has established an eight-hour day for its 55,000 members, also for 25,000 non-union men, who have made no sacrifice for this benefit that they enjoy, whose employers are compelled to fight the union by giving their employes the same conditions that union men establish.

The men who mortgage their pay envelopes for the purpose of securing decent conditions under which to perform the work they have to do, the men who sacrifice their time and ability, the men who work by day to procure necessities for their families and profits for their employers, then work by night to secure what is right and good, for their fellow-man, are the ones the non-unionist should thank.

There are men in the labor movement who are the equal if not the peers of the best business men of Duluth—men who in intellect and thought tower high above the best and brightest brains of which this city boasts; men who think and toil and work to mitigate and overcome the faults and weaknesses of unionism. To these men and their work should honor and prominence be given, and not to this poor, feeble-minded, cowardly craven, who seeks in eternal death a quiet refuge from the problems, thought and turmoil of this mighty purpose that gives to those who toil, a just reward for their honest labor.

WILLIAM E. TOWNE.
Duluth, May 14.

Spoilsmen's Scheme to "Get the Goods."

Albert Lea Standard: The peculiar course of Governor Eberhart and certain Twin City papers make it evident that a political scheme is on foot to incite prejudice against the state board of control in the matter of the charges against Supt. Whittier of the Red Wing training school, thereby hoping to concoct an excuse for the removal from office of the Democratic members, appointees of Governor Johnson, for Supt. Whittier's alleged malfeasance, thus obtaining for the Eberhart spoilsmen the entire domination of the great public institutions of which they have the management. The members of the board are acknowledged to be pre-eminently upright, able and watchful guardians of the interests of the state and their administration of the affairs of the various state institutions has been of notable efficiency and high character, politics being strictly barred. Furthermore, the legislature thoroughly investigated Supt. Whittier's administration of the Red Wing school, and thus the duty and responsibility was assumed by that body to take such action as was necessary. This, it is supposed, was done and the matter was practically settled by the highest authority. The board of control, in effect, was upheld and it was entrusted with continued discretion to make any changes or reforms in the school that might be deemed advisable.

But the political marplots are not satisfied—they want the "goods." They repudiate the investigation and conclusions of the legislature and propose to force another investigation for the palpable purpose of ousting Supt. Whittier, culpable or not, and in that connection to implicate the board of control and frame a cause for the removal of Governor Johnson's appointees.

It is an iniquitous and shameless conspiracy and if the honest and fair-minded country press of the state are wise to it, it will be exposed and denounced as it deserves and the sinister attempt to reverse and subvert the wise and beneficent policy of Governor Johnson of excluding politics from the management of our great charitable and other state institutions will likely be defeated and the state will escape an indignity and scandal that it would require years to obliterate.

What Spoiled the Coffee.

Success Magazine: A family living in East Orange has a model servant who has proved herself the best cook they ever had, but she has insisted upon making up all her dishes strictly according to her own recipes.

"Margaret," said the mistress one day, "the coffee you are giving us is very good. What kind is it?"

"It s no kind at all, mum," was the reply. "It's a mixture."

"Well, won't you tell me how you mix it?"

"Sure, mum. I make it one-quarter Mocha, one-quarter Java and one-quarter Rio."

"Yes, but that is only three-quarters What do you put in for the other quarter?"

"Why, I put in no other quarter at all, mum. That's where so many people spoil their coffee, mum, by puttin' in a fourth quarter, mum."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Unkind.

Austin Transcript: If some one would only sack Frank Eddy, J. Adam Bede, Bob Dunn, Tawney and a few other discarded politicians and extinguish them there would be good riddance to a lot of political rubbish.

Any Local Application?

Cambridge North Star: Governor Woodrow Wilson succeeded in transforming the reactionary state of New Jersey into an enlightened and progressive commonwealth, much to the surprise of all the onlookers. He simply insisted upon the legislature getting busy and keeping busy. Other governors with political ambitions might well profit by his example.

An Echo of Three-Cent Fares.

Anoka Union: The next legislature will certainly do something to the railroads.

We Guess the Latter.

Winona Independent: Wisconsin legislators are showing the same sort of indifference toward ratifying the income tax amendment that the Minnesota legislature did. And both of these states are supposed to be peopled by progressives. Either that supposition is wrong or the legislators are not representative. Which is it?

Back to the People!

Fairmont Sentinel: The initiative and referendum would be a long step in the direction of a cleaner political life, as it would enable the common people to exercise their theoretically acknowledged but corporation denied sovereignty.

When Garfield Erred.

Long Prairie Argus: Thirty-five years ago James A. Garfield said the American people were coming to look with more favor on the principles of Hamilton and those of Jefferson were going out of vogue. It begins to look now as though Jefferson was far in the lead.

A Word in Defense.

Rush City Post: The legislature just closed is coming in for a good many slams on the part of our editorial brethren but after the matter is all summed up it will undoubtedly be found that the usual amount of effective work has been accomplished that is always ground out at every session.

Putting It Very Mildly.

Foley Independent: Had the legislature of a trust controlled state of the Atlantic seaboard failed to ratify the proposed constitutional amendment to the federal Constitution providing for an income tax we would not have been surprised but when a legislature sitting in the state of Minnesota failed to its duty on that great question we know not what to think. To say the least, it looks bad.

They'd Do Better.

Madison Western Guard: The legislators who blame their wives for their vote against woman suffrage should let their wives go to the legislature next time. The women could not do any worse.

An Interesting Colloquy.

Sioux City Tribune: One finds interesting matter even in the Congressional Record? We commend this fact to the young lady who, being offered for mental recreation the book containing the tenets of some church replied: "No, thank you. My father has the Congressional Record." Ollie James was defending the "farmers' free list" when Mr. Warburton, who now represents a Washington district, but who originated up in Cherokee, "butted in." This colloquy followed:

Mr. Warburton—Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield now?

Mr. James—I yield to the gentleman.

Mr. Warburton. I will say to the gentleman that I expect to vote for this free list bill. (Applause on Democratic side.) I am not inimical to the bill, but there is one thing that I hope to see the gentleman himself or some gentleman on that side add to the bill, and that is free rice.

Mr. James—Mr. Chairman, let me say to the gentleman that all of the articles which we intend to place upon the free list are not included in this bill. There will be others. The gentlemen can not go any further upon free articles than I can.

Mr. Warburton — How about free sugar?

Mr. James—So far as I am concerned, I am in favor of free sugar.

Mr. Warburton—Free rice and free sugar?

Mr. James—I am in favor of free rice and free sugar, and if the time comes when we can get an income tax on the fortunes of the rich to produce revenue enough to run the government, I am willing and will be happy to give it to the people free sugar. (Applause on the Democratic side.)

Mr. Warburton—Well, I have introduced a bill placing sugar on the free list and rice on the free list. Will the gentleman vote for it at this session?

Mr. James—If the gentleman can point out to me how we can secure enough revenue to run the government of the people without creating a deficit which will wreck it, I will gladly vote for it.

Mr. Warburton—I would suggest a few othes things, for instance, diamonds, to raise them from 10 per cent—

Mr. James—I am with the gentleman. I am delighted to see the gentleman come to our side. The gentleman is an insurgent, is he not?

Mr. Warburton—Yes. (Applause and laughter.)

Mr. Warburton—I would like to suggest to the gentleman that I want to go right down the line on that proposition at this session.

Mr. James—Oh, the gentleman ought to come into the Democratic party; he ought to tear off his mask and bare his face full and fair to the breeze. (Laughter and applause.)

"Uncle Joe" Is Horrified.

New York World: "Uncle Joe" Cannon has given away the whole secret of the reciprocity agreement with Canada. If it had not been that the newspapers wanted free print paper, Mr. Taft would never have undertaken to bring about new trade arrangements. It was done solely to gratify the press. Having surrendered to the newspapers, of course Mr. Taft looks to them for their support and good-will. This is their inside history of the affair, and "Uncle Joe" stakes his soul's salvation on its accuracy.

Any standpatter's conscience tells him that the tariff rates can be honorably revised only when manufacturers, trusts and other special interests beslege the committee rooms of the capitol for an increase in duties. There can be no honest revision downward, and such revision must always be prompted by sinister motives. What really shocks Mr. Cannon's moral sense is that a president of the United States should suggest that any duties should be lowered, regardless of the status of the beneficiaries. When such things are possible the canker of corruption is eating at the heart of American institutions.

Gould Gets "His."

Chicago Tribune: George Gould was making one of his last trips as president of the Missouri Pacific. His private car was laid out on a siding for some reason or other, and he got out to stretch his legs. An old Irishman was tapping the wheels. Gould went up to him.

"Morning. How do you like the wheels?"

"Not worth a darn," said the Irishman.

"Well, how do you like the car?"

"It's good enough for the wheels."

"What do you think of the road?"

"It matches the car."

Gould looked at the old chap for a minute.

"Maybe you don't know who I am."

"Yes, I do," replied the Irishman. "You're George Gould, and I knew your father when he was president of the road. And, by gob, he's going to be president of it again."

"Why, my father is dead," said Mr. Gould.

"I know that," replied the Irishman, "and the road is going to hell!"

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Toledo Blade: First Undertaker—How is business in your city?

Second Undertaker—Well, the death rate isn't near up to where it ought to be.

Judge's Library: Son—Father, what's a bachelor?

Father—A bachelor is a man who could never influence the right girl to encourage him to marry her.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "I'm surprised to see an advanced woman wearing a hobble skirt."

"It may be a good thing. It will give the rest of us a chance to catch up."

Punch: "O J'aime les Militaires!" (Child with nurse at window watching soldiers march past)—"Mother, do look. Here are all nurse's cousins coming down the street!"

Washington Star: "Had to let my stenographer go," remarked Mr. Cumrox.

"Inefficient?"

"No. Too accurate. She put the grammar into my letters exactly as I dictated it."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The Author—Would you advise me to get out a small edition?

The Publisher—Yes, the smaller the better. The more scarce a book is at the end of four or five centuries the more money you realize from it.

Toledo Blade: Doctor—Take this medicine after each meal.

Patient—But my meals comes unregular.

Doctor—Well, take it before each meal.

Catholic Times and Standard: Miss Woodby—So Mr. Smart said he considered me very witty, eh?

Miss Know—Not exactly. He said he had to laugh every time he saw you.

Washington Star: "I note that you employ a great many quotations from the poets in your speeches."

"Yes," replied the orator. "Just now in my district it is desirable to say as little as possible for which you can be held personally responsible."

Washington Herald: "I once proposed to a girl in a conservatory."

"With what result?"

"A lot of expensive plants were nipped by frost."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Sensible shoes are almost as obnoxious to a girl as sensible talk.

There's always something to waste money on, if it's only a private garden.

The reason a woman can deprive herself of so much for the family is a man won't.

A man can be lucky in love without knowing it by not getting the girl he is trying to.

The more a man thinks he knows about household affairs the better for him if he leaves them all to his wife.

The Word.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.—St. John i, 1.

It breathed in the primal chaos, it shone in the first great sun
It pulsed in the glowing ether or ever a world was done—
And though all the empty eons when never a star had place
It swept in eternal grandeur across all the fields of space.

The hour that the first sky gloried with silver and crimson bars.
It rose in the marvel-chorus—the song of the morning stars;
Tremendous and deep and mighty, the
Word was the soul of things
Ere brother made war on brother or folk knew of slaves and kings.

For far in the outer splendor, where systems are dimmed to haze
And orbs that we never can dream of go spinning their nights and days,
The Word is the law forever, and was ere the birth of time;
It lived in the light eternal through centuries all sublime.

And we with our books and letters, and we with our codes and creeds,
We dim it in clumsy language, we hush it with barren deeds;
Full fat with the pride of being we read with our narrowed eyes
The Truth as we fain would spell it—
we puny ones, overwise.

And how may we read or hear it?—
we quibblers of things and deeds.
And how may we sense its forming forever to fit our needs?
We babble of plan and purpose, we question of What and Why,
Nor read in the apple blossom, nor see in the star-strewn sky!

Keep Money at Home.

Emporia Gazette: Every man who has a dollar to invest can make 6 per cent on it in this community. If he desires an absolutely gilt edged bond he can make 5; or he can put it in municipal bonds and make 4½. That is a fair return. But some people are not satisfied with a fair return. So they go off chasing rainbows. They buy stock in the Rathole Mining company; they invest in alligator pastures; they put their money into cement stock; they purchase blue sky and superheated atmosphere from the ends of the earth, and get large chunks or unsalable experience that hangs like lead upon them.

Enough money has gone out of Emporia for fool investments to make this town the handsomest in the world, and this county a garden spot. Yet no dollar invested in a reputable concern in this town ever failed to return and bring its interest. There is just as much folly in buying mail order investments as there is in buying mail order groceries, dry goods and hardware. Money kept at home brings home value received. Money invested in "blue sky and the hills that are green afar off, bring trouble with 10 per cent interest.

THE RAILROADS AND THE STATE

Fergus Falls Free Press: Owing to the rulings of Judge Sanborn of the United States circuit court, the 2-cent fare and reduced freight rates ordered by the Minnesota railway commission in 1907 have been set aside, and it is announced that the roads will restore the old 3-cent fare and the old freight rates July 1, 1911. The state has appealed to the United States supreme court, but the roads refuse to await the decision of that court before raising the rates. Their attorneys say they must restore the old rates or be in contempt of the United States circuit court. What cool impudence!

If the United States supreme court sustains the rulings of Judge Sanborn, then the states have been stripped of all the rate making power, and the state railway and warehouse commission can do nothing but hear complaints and settle petty disputes between certain communities and the roads. Only one club is left in the hands of the people of a state, and that is to raise the tax on the gross earnings of the roads. The present tax is 4 per cent and was only 3 prior to J. F. Jacobson's heroic fight. L. C. Spooner introduced a bill in the last legislature increasing the tax to 5 per cent, but it was overwhelmingly defeated, on the grounds that the legislature feared that if the roads would merely shift the burden to the backs of the people by raising the freight rates.

Perhaps this was sound reasoning, but now the roads are going to raise the rates anyway. Had the legislators known what they now know, would the vote on the Spooner bill have been the same? Not in a thousand years.

We believe it is now time for Governor Eberhart to show that he can be bold and energetic as well as judicious and wise. Let him call the legislature together in a special session and have it out with the railroads at once. Let the lawmakers proclaim to the roads that unless they show more decency they will pass a bill increasing the gross earnings tax from 4 to 5, or even 6 per cent.

It cannot be said that there is no occasion for a special session. There is plenty to do. There is the reapportioning of the congressional districts to provide for a tenth congressman allotted to Minnesota by congress; there is legislative reapportionment, and there are other things which the legislature owes the state, such as the initiative and referendum and a state wide primary law.

ADDRESSES ON POULTRY

Prof. N. E. Chapman Will Hold Series of Meetings in Duluth.

Lecture at Y. M. C. A. Saturday Night Will Be Illustrated.

Prof. N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry division of the extension department of the state agricultural school, will be in Duluth the latter part of this week for a series of meetings at which he will spread the poultry-raising propaganda of the school. Prof. Chapman is in touch with several branches of the work in and around Duluth and he will take the opportunity on his visit this week to get in considerable work in furtherance of the different propositions in which he is interested.

Prof. Chapman will arrive in Duluth Thursday. That evening at 8 o'clock, he will meet the members of the Duluth Poultry association at J. W. Nelson's store, 5 East Superior street. He will confer with them on the subject of poultry raising and egg and poultry marketing in this section of the state and will give such information as members of the poultry association may desire.

Friday afternoon, Prof. Chapman will be at Two Harbors, where he will meet the poultry class he organized on a visit there in March.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock, Prof. Chapman will meet with the commission men of Duluth at the Commercial club. Prof. Chapman has started out to obtain better shipping and marketing methods in the egg and poultry producing business of the state and he is obtaining the co-operation of buyers, receivers, commissionmen and railroads in the work. He believes that careful handling will eliminate much of the waste in egg shipments and he expects to put in the next two and one-half months traveling over the state instructing shippers in the proper methods of candling eggs and making shipments.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. central building, Prof. Chapman will address the boys and girls who are entered for the children's poultry contest in Duluth. He will speak on the care of chicks, including housing, feeding and other subjects that will be of interest to the young contestants. He is greatly interested in the poultry contest and expects to come to Duluth from time to time during the season to assist the young people in giving proper care to their charges.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A., Prof Chapman will close his series of meetings with a talk to the mebers of the poultry class he organized here, and to the general public. The talk will be illustrated with stereopticon slides and will be of interest to everyone interested in the subject of poultry. "The Suburban Home and Poultry," will be the subject of the lecture and the speaker will show how poultry raising fits in with the homecroft plan of reducing the cost of living.

The meeting Saturday night is primarily for the poultry class. Problems which have come up since the school of instruction was held will be discussed and disposed of and experiences will be exchanged by members of the class.

CLEVER SINGER ORPHEUM HIT

Gene Greene Is Feature of Exceptionally Strong Vaudeville Bill.

There is a young man at the Orpheum this week who by all odds is the cleverest entertainer that theater has seen in many moons. His name is Gene Greene, and if all the audiences this week insist upon his singing as often as the audience last evening did, he will be a very hoarse young man before the week is out.

He can sing "Yiddish" songs, "coon" songs, Italian songs, "rube" songs and, in addition, has some novelties of a late New York brew up his sleeve that are the best of the lot.

Young Mr. Green works all the time he is on the stage. He puts more energy into singing a popular song than the average acrobat puts into his act. He has a powerful voice under good control, a very mobile face, some nobby clothes, an excellent accompanist and sleek blonde hair. On the whole young Mr. Greene was a very popular performer with the Sunday night audience, and he probably will be with the audiences all the week. He knows just what a vaudeville audience likes and gives it to them in a little better style than any singer on the circuit this year has succeeded in doing. In fact, Mr. Greene was "the candy kid with the sticky vest," to use the expression heard coming out of the theater last evening.

While Mr. Greene was unquestionably the hit of the bill, he wasn't the whole show, by any means. There is a young woman in "The Photo Shop," which is the musical comedy feature act this week who is a second Marie Cahill. She does not resemble Miss Cahill in appearance, but her methods are Marie's. She knows how to sing a "coon" song as few outside Miss Cahill do. Her name is Mamie Fleming, and she is too good to be buried in a musical comedy act, good as "The Photo Shop" is. The audience could have stood half a dozen songs instead of one from Miss Fleming. Her partner in the fun-making is Charles J. Stine, a comedian of expansive vest and smile, who smears an atmosphere of good nature over the act. "The Photo Shop" is a pretty good type of musical comedy. The music is good, the costumes first class, as much as there is of them; there is a good setting, the chorus is above the average and then there are Miss Fleming and Mr. Stine. It was a real hit.

"Broadway Love" is a good little comedy sketch presented by two very attractive young women, Rowena Stewart and Gladys Murray. There are some good lines in the sketch which compel many a laugh, and the audience thoroughly enjoyed it last evening. It tells an incident in the lives of two chorus girls in New York.

Another meritorious act was that presented by The Rexos. The Rexos are two roller skaters, a man and a woman. The man is a wonder on the rollers, being also a contortionist, and his feat of skating through a tunnel sixteen inches high is one of the features of the entire show.

John Birch has a comedy novelty, presenting a melodrama by himself. He uses a number of hats, changing them to impersonate the various characters in his little play. It is original and entertaining.

The Black Brothers give a first-class mandolin act, introducing also some neat and difficult dancing steps, and Mlle. Emerie, a gymnast and contortionist, opens the bill with a good, average act of this type. The show as a whole is well above the Orpheum standard. In fact it is one of the strongest bills the theater has yet presented.

NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE EMPRESS

First Class Bill Pleases Three Very Large Sunday Audiences.

What are "eccentric musical jokes?" That is what "The Vindobonas" call themselves on the program at the Empress theater. It is partially explained by another line which reads, "mingling mad melody and harmonious humor."

The act, which opens the show at the Empress theater this week is a musical turn by two people. They use all kinds of queer instruments which appear to be home-made. The turn is unique and yesterday's three large audiences seemed to enjoy it immensely.

Following the opener, come the Du Pars boys, who dance. They uncork some new steps, present some of the older ones in a new dress, and end up with such a profusion of both the old and the new, that they appeal strongly to those who like good dancing.

In a one-act playlet called "Superstition," Charles W. Bowser and company furnish about twenty minutes of real entertainment. The cast includes three people, a politician, an astrologer and a newspaper reporter. It deals with the crisis in the life of a politician. The newspaper man thinks that the politician should be shown up. He later changes his mind when he begins to fall in love. The sketch is well written and well presented by Mr. Bowser and his company.

Josephine Sabel sings. She was very popular with yesterday's audiences and they gave her the honor of the longest and loudest applause. This young woman has a beautiful voice and she sings the sort of music that she knows the vaudeville audience enjoy.

Miss Sabel was without question the big hit of the bill, and the bill was up to the high standard set by the Sullivan & Considine shows for the last month or two. The reception given her yesterday has seldom been equalled at the Empress, and the clever young woman was forced to make two curtain speeches before the audience would let her go.

Fred Ferrell and Albert Ferrell ride bicycles. Some of their tricks are old but most of them are new. The old ones are covered up and but little time is spent on them. The act is different from most acts of the kind. The wheelers furnish comedy with their more serious work.

The moving pictures are as usual both interesting and entertaining. There will be three performances daily, one each afternoon and two each evening during the remainder of the week.

Barnum the Hypnotist.

Considerable interest is already manifested in the engagement of Barnum, the hypnotist, who appears at the Lyceum for an eight-day engagement starting Wednesday.

Dr. Barnum is claimed to be not only the greatest demonstrator of hypnotism on the American stage, but is recognized as an authority on practical psychology and psychoterapy, having had considerable experience in sanitariums with the treatment of mental and nervous disorders. He is also thoroughly acquainted with the methods of suggestion as used by Dr. Worcester in the Emmanuel movement. An effort is being made to induce Dr. Barnum to give a few free lectures along scientific lines while in the city, as suggestion and psychology are considered of pronounced practical use to the laity and business men as well as to the clergy and medical profession.

Although Dr. Barnum's performances are constructed of an abundance of good clean comedy, he introduces scientific tests each night that are new and interesting. As his performances are changed nightly, he is expected to attract large crowds to the Lyceum.

"Madame Sherry."

No musical comedy presented in New York in years has received such unbounded praise from press and public as has come the way of Madame Sherry. The New York World had this to say: "It is easily the brightest and most diverting musical production New York has seen in many a long day, or is likely to see in as many more. At last a musical show that's novel." The New York Sun added these few lines: "The audience applauded every musical number and laughed at everything the comedians labeled as a merry jest." "Madame Sherry" will be seen here at the Lyceum May 25, 26 and 27.

Farmer Hurt in Runaway.

Stanley, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Both upper and the lower jaw were broken when Andrew Peterson, a farmer, was run over by a wagon hauled by a pair of runaway horses. Peterson had lost control of the animals when he was pitched forward out of the wagon and directly under the wheels, two of which passed over his face, breaking the jaw bones. His chest was also crushed, his body generally was horribly bruised, but he may recover. Peterson is in the Northwestern hospital at Minot.

WEST END

WANT STREET IMPROVED

Agitation For Paving of West Third Street Will Be Renewed.

West end business men will again push the agitation for the improvement of West Third street from Twentieth to Thirty-ninth avenues west. It is important that it be paved, they say, as it is the principal thoroughfare between West Duluth and the city proper.

The street is not wide enough to suit many of the West end business men and it is proposed to widen it by doing away with the present gutter. Some time this week it is expected that a delegation of the West End Commercial club members will make a trip of inspection over this part of the street.

Just what kind of pavement would be the most satisfactory, taking the cost into consideration, has not been decided upon. It is believed that the Commercial clubs of West Duluth and the West end will work together on the proposition.

ANNUAL BANQUET IN ST. PETER'S CHURCH.

The Swedish congregation of St. Peter's Episcopal church will hold its annual business meeting and banquet Friday evening at the church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street. Rev. W. E. Harmann, rector, will be toastmaster at the affair. There will be several speakers, but as yet, the program has not been announced.

The annual reunion of the English speaking people of the parish was held a week ago.

Horses Cremated.

A team of horses was burned to death in a fire which consumed a barn at the rear of 1601 West Superior street late Saturday evening. The barn belonged to the Fitger Brewing company, but the horses were the property of Axel Kract, who was in the barn only a short time before the fire. Fire company No. 2 responded to the blaze after neighbors had turned in the alarm.

West End Briefs.

The men of the First Swedish Baptist church will entertain the women at a banquet Tuesday evening at the church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. The question of church finances will be discussed during the evening. A musical program has been prepared.

Mrs. John P. Berg has returned to her home at Bayfield, Wis., after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Anderson of 2408 West Second street.

Mrs. John Hauer of 2620 West Second street will entertain the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church at her home this evening.

Miss Ethel Marsh of 2605 West Helm street left yesterday for a month's visit with friends and relatives at Bayfield, Wis.

The Epworth League of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church will hold a business session tomorrow evening at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wikilius, who have been guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Harmann, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, for a few days, left Saturday for their home at Aitkin, Minn.

Alvin Swenson of West Third street will leave this week for Sweden to spend the summer with friends and relatives.

SUIT AGAINST CITY.

East Grand Forks Attorney Seeks to Collect Fee.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Action brought by Attorney George A. E. Finlayson of this city against the East Grand Forks city council to compel the allowance of a bill for legal services rendered for the city water and light commission, is in the hands of Judge Watts, being submitted Saturday afternoon at Crookston. This case grows out of the lengthy legal squabble that has held the boards in this city between the board of aldermen and the water and light commission, that difference being created by reason of factional lines that were drawn in the original appointments. It is contended by the city that the board had no authority to engage any legal talent except the city attorneys.

THEIR DAY OF FREEDOM

The ninety-seventh anniversary of Norway's independence day, the Norwegian Fourth of July, which falls on May 17, was fittingly commemorated at the armory yesterday afternoon with an elaborate and excellent program of speeches and music. The large hall was filled to the doors and many high tributes were paid to the sterling worth and character of the Norsemen and their descendants.

The entertainment was arranged by the Varde society. With the exception of the addresses of Mayor M. B. Cullum and Superintendent of Schools R. E. Denfeld, the speeches were delivered in the Norwegian tongue. Peer Stromme, who spoke at length in his native language, prefaced his remarks with the statement that he was doing so as a protest to those, who hearing a tongue they couldn't understand, immediately classified speakers as foreigners under the mistaken impression that the knowledge of another language was some sort of a disgrace.

In welcoming the audience Mayor Cullum stated that of all the people who have sought homes in this country, none are more fitted to help in the moulding of a great nation than the Norwegians. He stated that the American nation is composed of men and women from all the countries of the world and that they are evolving the greatest and best nation on the face of the earth. The mayor explained that he was physically unable to speak at length and limited himself to a few minutes. Supt. Denfeld more specifically of the work which is being done in the schools and paid a high compliment to the sons of Norway.

The musical hit of the afternoon was made by Miss Valborg Gunderson. She brought the house down with her rendition on the violin of the solo, "Fantasie on Norwegian Folk Melodies," and in answer to persistent and prolonged applause was obliged to respond with an encore. The songs of Miss Minnie Nelson and Joseph Erickson were also well received, as were the piano duets of Harold Hanson and George Johnson and the selections rendered by Westgaard's orchestra. John Skadberg acted as chairman during the afternoon.

300 MASONS AT JOINT MEETING

Cloquet Delegation Comes to Duluth to Watch Third Degree Work.

More than 300 Masons attended the joint meeting of Palestine and Ionic lodges Saturday evening at the Masonic temple, when the Duluth members of the order were hosts to fifty visiting brethren from Cloquet, who came to the city on a special train.

Work in the third degree was exemplified for the benefit of the visitors. Four candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order. After the ceremonies Walter L. Case of Cloquet made a short speech, in which he took occasion to thank the Duluthians for their hospitality.

The Cloquet delegation was headed by H. M. Dixon, worshipful master of the range town lodge. There was also many visiting Masons from Euclid lodge of West Duluth and from Superior. After the degree work refreshments were served. The Cloquet visitors were taken back on the special train.

NEGRO MURDERER FINALLY KILLED

Battle at Cabin Ends Only When He Is Burned Out By Officers.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—Barricaded in a cabin, Thomas Benson, a negro, who had killed Peter Folls, another black, Sunday fought off three deputy sheriff and a white chauffeur, wounding all four. The fight raged for an hour. One of the officers, under cover of the others' fire, set the cabin ablaze. The barricaded negro was driven out by the flames and was shot to death.

Benson murdered Folls and mortally wounded Isaac Primers, a negro, on a plantation where the three employes quarreled.

Sheriff Hood sent Deputy Sheriffs Rives, Naftel and Ellis to the scene in an automobile. When they arrived, Benson was barricade in his cabin. He refused to surrender, declaring he would die first. The officers opened fire on him and he returned the fire, wounding Naftel. Sheriff Hood was telephoned for, and he went to the cabin with Deputies McCord and Bridges.

The deputies again opened fire and an hour's fight ensued. Ellis and the chaffeur were wounded in this fight. Failing to dislodge Benson by their continuous fire from pistols, the officers set fire to the cabin. When the cabin became filled with smoke, the negro stumbled through the door and was shot. He rose and returned the fire, wounding Deputy Harry McCord, probably fatally, in the abdomen. Taking refuge behind a fence, he fired several other shots at the officers, but finally was killed.

ST. PAUL TO LOSE ARMY OFFICES

Department of the Dakotas Will Be Abolished After July 1.

Washington, May 15.—After July 1 of this year there will be no more Department of the Dakotas, and the departmental headquarters at St. Paul will be closed.

In a new army classification order, which it is estimated will save between $200,000 and $300,000 a year, the Department of the Dakotas and the Department of Colorado are to be absorbed and there will be in continental United States but three military divisions—the Eastern, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York; the central, with headquarters at Chicago, and the Western, with headquarters at San Francisco. The Philippine division will be continued as at present.

The abolition of the Department of the Dakotas will not seriously affect the Twin Cities. Fort Snelling will continue to be, as before, one of the great army posts of the country.

H. S. HANEY IN GREAT FALLS

Says Wife's Rash Act Was Due to Unbalanced Mind.

Herbert S. Haney, whose wife committed suicide at her mother's home at Providence, R. I., last Wednesday, stated that he is certain that his wife's rash act was undoubtedly due to an unbalanced mind caused by ill health.

He said that she had been sick for a long time and that she had been taken home by her mother in February.

Mr. Haney is now located at Great Falls, Mont., where he is employed as a bookkeeper. He and his wife resided in this city several years and were well known here.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

List of Meetings and Speakers Is Now Complete.

Arrangements have been completed for the observance of Memorial day.

Following the usual parade there will be services at the Auditorium, in the cemeteries and on the lake front. The parade in the morning will be composed of National Guard members, naval reserves, Civil war veterans, Spanish war veterans and fraternal and civic organizations. The public meeting will be in the new Auditorium, Third avenue east and First street which will hold 3,000 people.

The address at the Auditorium will be delivered by Dr. E .C. Clemans, brigade chaplain of the Minnesota National Guard. C. O. Applehagen will have charge of the musical program which will include songs that were popular in the Civil War period. Rev. H. J. P. Selinger will give the invocation and the Rev. Arthur H. Wurtele will pronounce the benediction. Miss Effie Brotherton will read "Prince." Other parts of the program have not been arranged. The services will be closed with "Taps" written by A. F. M. Custance which will be sung by Miss Maude Matteson with cornet obligato by Charles Helmer.

Asa Dailey will have charge of the services in the afternoon in the cemeteries when the graves of veterans will be decorated. The ladies of the W. R. C. will serve dinner to veterans in Memorial hall at noon. The services to honor the sailor dead will be held near the canal piers early in the afternoon.

Watson S. Moore and the Rev. M. S. Rice will speak to school children in the afternoon at a place not yet selected. The Third regiment band will play.

LION ATTACKS AND INJURES ITS TRAINER.

New York, May 15.—A young lion lately added to the performing troupe of a Coney Island animal show, last night attacked and seriously injured his trainer, Victor Reviro. The animal was prevented from clawing the man to bits only by the prompt measures of the show helpers. The beast was being returned to his cage after the performance in the presence of 250 invited tourists when he made the attack.

HAS SON ARRESTED AS AUTOMOBILE THIEF.

New York, May 15.—Paul O'Brien, a lawyer and nephew of Former Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, was arraigned in police court charged with the theft of his father's automobile. He was locked up in default of $1,000 bail. John P. O'Brien, the prisoner's father, was in court to press the charge. No sign if recognition passed between father and son.

The elder O'Brien charged that his son procured the automobile from a garage in New York and took it to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Detectives found the young man in Atlantic City and brought him back to New York with a decoy letter. His arrest followed.

LIVES NINE HOURS AFTER SHORT FALL.

Washington, May 15.—Nine hours after he had fallen or jumped from a third story window to a veranda below at the Garfield hospital, Philip Bayard, a prominent resident of Wilmington, Del., and a son of the late Thomas F. Bayard, who was secretary of state and ambassdor to Engalnd, died Sunday. An autopsy revealed that Bayard suffered from pereardita and died from the shock, which broke no bones and which hardly would have resulted seriously to a man in normal health.

Mr. Bayard had been under care of a physician since he came here recently from Baltimore. He was missing after being left alone for a few minutes and later was found in a semi-conscious condition on the veranda. He died without being able to tell what had happened.

WOMAN CHARACTERS HARD TO PORTRAY.

New York, May 15.—"If I could do as I wish I would never attempt to portray another woman character," declared E. Phillips Oppenheim, the English novelist. Oppenheim came to America for a little "local color."

"I never created a feminine character that satisfied me," he continued. "Women are so lawless, or, each one makes her own laws, and it is impossible for a man to know any woman well enough to know what, under all circumstances, she will likely do or say."

BOUGHT PRUNES BY TON AND INSANITY ALLEGED.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 15.—Relatives of Joseph H. Kingham, former assistant postmaster, sentenced to eight years' imprisonment for embezzlement of $23,200 of government funds, retained an attorney to secure a rehearing of the case on the ground that he is insane. Among the grounds on which this rehearing is sought is evidence that Kingham at one time bought a ton of prunes for his family and at another time purchased forty pairs of trousers for himself.

BURIED WITH HIS DOG.

Lafayette the Great Is Interred at Edinburgh.

Edinburgh, May 15.—The funeral of Lafayette the Great, who was burned to death in the fire which destroyed the Empire Palace theater, took place Sunday afternoon. There was a remarkable display of public interest and the funeral procession passed through three miles of crowded streets. Lafayette's enormous automobile, in which rode one of his favorite dogs, followed the hearse. The ashes of Lafayette were placed in the coffin containing the dog "Beauty."

DOZEN HURT IN RIOT OF CLEVELAND POLES.

Cleveland, May 15.—A riot in which two persons were shot and wounded and ten others injured by stone throwing and fist-fighting, resulted late Sunday when a delegation of the congregation of St. Casimir's Polish Roman Catholic church attempted forcibly to remove the pastor, Rev. Ignatius Plewski, because they were dissatisfied with the way he conducted the affairs of the church.

The delegation was met by members loyal to the pastor, and a fight ensued. Police were called and a general fight followed in which revolvers were drawn.

Patrolman Arthur Hopcraft received a severe scalp wound when one bullet went through his helmet. Frank Grabowski was shot twice in the thigh. Others were cut and bruised. Thirty patrolmen last night guarded the block in which the church and the priest's residence are situated.

Three Autoists Killed.

Utica, N. Y., May 15.—An automobile containing five persons was struck by a train near Kast's bridge Sunday. W. H. Van Wie, a civil engineer; Fred Harvey, chauffeur, and Miss Julia Billington of Fultonville, were killed. Mrs. W. H. Van Wie and Mrs. Gertrude Jones were injured and the latter may die.

Triple Drowning in Iowa.

Onawa, Iowa, May 15.—A triple drowning took place in Blue lake here Sunday afternoon when a boat in which six boys were riding, was struck by a huge whitecap, sinking it. The dead:

TOMMY BRISTOW, of Turine.
LLOYD HUFF, of Whiting.
MACK BOYLE, of Whiting.

Not being able to swim, the boys were unable to keep above water and drowned near shore. The other three boys were saved by companions in another boat. All of the boys were about 15 years of age.

Malmed Man Drowns Himself.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 15.—After losing a foot by attempting to board a freight train in the Missouri Pacific yards, a man supposed to be Frank E. Bernthaler of Palestine, Tex., crawled into the Missouri river and drowned himself. Trainmen saw the man crawl and slide thirty feet down the bank of the river as he went to his death, throwing out letters with the name of Bernthaler on them.

Confident of Veto Law.

London, May 15.—Premier Asquith at a private political dinner party recently expressed his absolute conviction that the veto bill would become law without concession or compromise within a short time, probably a few weeks

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, May 15.—The most encouraging developments in the steel trade last week were the placing of larger contracts for rails and structural shapes. New orders for heavy material since May 1, have more than compensated for the falling off in the volume of business in light products, and it is expected that activities of the mills will be increased steadily from the low point touched Monday. Contracts for rails aggregated about 80,000 tons for domestic roads, while contracts now pending aggregate 75,000 tons.

Car and locomotive orders were small, but bids were called on 5,000 additional cars and 150 locomotives. Car shops placed orders for about 20,000 tons of plates and shipyards ordered 7,500 tons. Bridge orders were still light.

Numerous inquiries are coming from manufacturing plants and from the building trade generally all over the country, which bid fair to give the structural mills all the work they can take care of for several months. Fabricated structural contracts last week aggregated nearly 40,000 tons.

The main feature of interest in pig iron was the placing of contracts for 60,000 tons of Alabama foundry grades by pipe works. The total contracts in all districts aggregated about 100,000 tons.

HARRY THAW DECLINES TO HAVE EXAMINATION.

Albany, N. Y., May 15. After examining all but thirty-two of the 793 inmates of the Matteawan state hospital, which has been under a fire of criticism for several months, Dr. Charles MacDonald and Dr. Austin M. Flint, expert allenists, have reported "that in no instance did we find an inmate wrongfully detained or one subjected to inhuman or improper treatment at hands of officers or attendants."

Harry K. Thaw was among the thirty-two inmates who refused to be examined by the allenists.

"It is to be noted, however" says "that in the report of the commissioner, a large number of these thirty-two came before the doctors and disclosed their mental condition in letters and lengthy harangues upon various topics, enabling the doctors to diagnose their cases as well as those formally submitting themselves to examination."

Don't Grow Old Too Fast

"A man is as old as his arteries." Old age is merely a hardening of the arteries—and hardening of the arteries comes from excessive eating of high-protein food such as meat and eggs. Cut down the high-protein diet for awhile and eat Shredded Wheat. It supplies all the body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Of course will not "cure" appendicitis—nor will any other cereal food. The excessive eating of indigestible foods, however, gradually brings on stomach and bowel disorders—and these can be prevented by a daily diet of thoroughly cooked cereals. Shredded Wheat is best for this purpose because it is steam-cooked, shredded and twice baked, retaining the bran coat, which is so valuable in keeping the bowels healthy and active.

Heat the Biscuit in the oven to restore crispness and serve with hot or cold milk and a little cream, adding salt or sugar to suit the taste. It also makes delicious combinations with stewed or preserved fruits. Two Shredded Wheat biscuits with stewed fruit makes a wholesome nourishing meal.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS OLD SORES

If a quantity of normal blood is placed in a vessel and vigorously whipped with a bunch of twigs, a white, sticky substance is found clinging to the twigs and binding them together. This is a natural element of the circulation and is known as plasma, a fibrous constituent—and is the true healing quality of the blood. This plasmic property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation to any wound or open sore or ulcer on the flesh. Continually the blood discharges the impurities into the place and gradually the infection spreads and the sore enlarges. The nutritive corpuscles are also weakened, and the blood has not sufficient nourishing power with which to stimulate the place. External applications cannot cure an old sore, because such treatment does not affect the blood; the most that can be expected from plasters, washes, salves, etc., is a cleansing, soothing effect on the ulcer.

S. S. S. heals old sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes down into the blood, and removes the impurities and morbid matters that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it restores the healing, plasmic qualities and aids in promoting every necessary quality for good health. S. S. S. builds new flesh tissue from the bottom of the ulcer to the outer skin, and makes a permanent cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

I was suffering greatly from a sore on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times deep, shooting pains would pass through it. I consulted physicians, but their treatment did not benefit me very much. I knew that the disease was hereditary in my case, as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters had been similarly affected. After I had finished the first bottle of S.S.S. I felt some better, so continued it until I was cured.
Belton, Mo. MRS. J. CASSELL.

In 1877 I had my leg badly cut on the sharp edge of a barrel. A great sore formed, and for years no one knows what I suffered with the place. I tried, it seemed to me, everything I had ever heard of, but I got no relief. At last I began the use of S. S. S., and continued it until it removed all the poison from my blood and made a complete and permanent cure of the sore.

WINTON MILLS START SAWING

Properties Recently Acquired By the Hines Interests Are Running.

Ely, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being closed down for a year or more because of low water and other reasons the mills of the St. Croix Lumber company at Winton that were acquired several months ago by the Hines' interests along with a vast tract of timber land began operations today.

The Hines people will depend largely on logging railroads to portage their logs from one lake to another. Depending upon sufficient water is regarded as too uncertain at the present time when all lakes and rivers are usually low. The mills will be run at full blast day and night.

There is much talk of putting in a railroad station at Winton for the accommodation of the people there and at "Section 30." So far Ely has been the "dropping off" place.

RECEPTION FOR BISHOP MORRISON

Hibbing Episcopalians Entertain in Honor of Head of Duluth Diocese.

Hibbing, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special confirmation service was held in the Episcopal church by Bishop J. D. Morrison of Duluth, assisted by Rev. Frank Durant, on Sunday morning last at 11 o'clock. Special music was rendered for the occasion and the church was crowded.

A reception to Bishop J. D. Morrison was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kirby, 1011 Fourth avenue, Saturday evening. A large number of representative citizens were present, including most of the congregation of the Episcopal church. Lunch was served. Among those who called were Rev. and Mrs. Frank Durant, Rev. Helmuth, A. P. Silliman, Superintendent and Mrs. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Dr. Read, Mrs. E. J. Sourway, John Murphy, Miss Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Burchart, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schirmer and many others.

CHAMPION DISC THROWER IS VISITING VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minnn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tom George, who has figured prominently in the Olympian games, having won the discus and heavy weight throwing at St. Louis in 1904, is here visiting his brother, A. George. Mr. George is keeping himself in first-class condition and he expects to go to Stockholm, Sweden in 1912 to take part in the games.

Mrs. E. F. Johnson, 315 Locus street, will give a social Wednesday afternoon at her home for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church.

Alderman H. O. Johnson, City Engineer E. F. Johnson and H. L. Bartlett are in Boston inspecting the paving of that city.

The Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic church will entertain at a card social next Thursday evening in the church hall.

Dr. C. V. Walmgren, who has been quite ill, has recovered.

The young people of the Scandinavian Evangelical Mission church are preparing a musical program to be given on Memorial day.

VIRGINIA BALL TEAM IS NOW ASSURED.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for a first-class semi-professional baseball team are well under way. During the week a petition asking for subscription to stock which the association will float has been circulated among the business men and there has been a large number of signatures attached, sufficient, it is said, to warrant organizing a first class team.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO GATHER AT HIBBING.

Hibbing, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The third annual convention of the Eighth District Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Hibbing Friday and Saturday May 19 and 20. A large attendance is expected.

VIRGINIA BANK TO HAVE FINE BUILDING.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The plans for the new American Exchange bank building to be built at the corner of Chestnut street and Cleveland avenue have not been completed, but it is expected that they will be submitted to the bank people within a short time, when the work will be pushed rapidly and the building completed by Sept. 1. The foundation walls have been completed and are of most solid construction. The building will be 25 by 65 feet, two stories with full basement and will be one of the handsomest and most modern banking institutions on the range.

The foundations for the Fitger building adjoining have not been completed. This building will be 50 by 65 feet, two stories, with full basement. The first floors will be occupied by a store and a buffet, while the upper floors will be divided into office and living rooms.

How Is Your Weight?

While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to fell well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists, by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood, by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nuclane tablets, and this is always followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.

UNKNOWN CORPSE IN SILVER LAKE

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of an unknown man was found floating in Silver lake, near the logging dump of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company's mill this morning. The body was taken to the Gillspie morgue, where it was viewed by a number of people, but none of them were able to identify the man. The body was so badly decomposed that burial was made necessary almost immediately. The body was evidently that of a foreigner and it is thought that he was not an employe of the lumber company, as none of its men are missing.

THREE FUNERALS HELD ON SUNDAY

One Adult and Two Children Are Interred in Lake County Metropolis.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—There were three funerals Sunday afternoon in this city. The funeral of Ida Irene Westrom, daughter of John Westrom, residing on Ninth avenue was held from the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. J. D. Nelsenius holding services. Deceased was 13 years, 6 months old and the cause of her death was consumption. Interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

Isaac Ilmari Koski, a Finn, aged 22, who died from typhoid fever, was buried from the Finnish Lutheran church, Rev. J. D. Nelsenius holding services. Interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

Leonard M. Degerstedt, the youngest son of John Degerstedt, residing on East Third avenue, died Saturday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. Deceased was 2 years 6 months old. The cause of his death was cerebral spinal meningitis from which he had suffered from over nine weeks. Funeral was held from the residence, Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. D. Nelsenius conducting the services. Interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

Eveleth, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A deal is about completed whereby A. E. Pfremmer, formerly of the Hibbing Tribune, who recently purchased the Star, will also acquire the Eveleth News from David A. Larin.

David Larin may enter the banking business in his home town, Mayville, N. D., whence he came to the range. He has been in the newspaper business for the past twenty-six years. He will soon resign his position as secretary of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, library board director. He will publish his last issue here of the News, Thursday.

LUMBERJACK TO LOSE ONE FOOT

John Lahti Is Injured Near Aurora and Blood Poisoning Sets In.

Eveleth, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. John E. Wilson, sister-in-law of Alderman Johseph S. Wilson, who was severly burned about the face and hands while cleaning a can with a chemical, which exploded, is getting on nicely, and it is thought will recover.

It will be necessary to amputate one foot, in the case of John Lahti, who is being treated at the Fabiola hospital. While working in the woods near Aurora, about a month ago, he received a slight bruise on his foot, to which he gave little attention, blood poison set in, and it was thought best to amputate the limb.

HIBBING GETTING GOOD.

Stringent Watch Against Blind-Pigging Is Bearing Fruit.

Hibbing, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Everything was very orderly here over Sunday, only three arrests being made up to midnight. The police are keeping a sharp lookout for blindpiggers, and their recent activities in this direction are said to have decreased the number of drunks found on the locations around the mines.

VIRGINIA WOODMEN GIVE EXHIBITION DRILL.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The degree team of the Modern Woodmen of America gave an exhibition drill on Central avenue yesterday afternoon and its maneuvers were witnessed by a large crowd of spectators. The drills were certainly fine and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. The team, under the capatincy of E. Frank Murray, is putting in some hard licks at drilling, preparatory to attending the national encampment of the order, to be held at Buffalo in June, and the Virginia team hopes to come away with some of the gold prizes which will be offered to the best drilled teams at that time.

SOAKING RAINS STILL CONTINUE

Weather Man Looks for More Showers and Northeast Winds.

Although less than a half inch of rain fell in the thirty-six hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning, it came in warm, soaking showers that brought nourishment to the young plants and joy to the big and little farmers around Duluth.

From 7 o'clock Saturday evening to the same hour last evening, the rainfall totaled .33 of an inch. From 7 o'clock last evening to 7 o'clock this morning, there was a rainfall of .08 of an inch. The temperature has continued moderate.

More rain, with brisk northeasterly winds, is predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

When it is dry, it is very, very dry; and when it is wet, it is soaking. That's the way the weather man works hereabouts. The brush fires are all drowned out; the tender vegetation has nourishment enough to hold it for a while; the fishermen haven't the faintest suggestion of a kick to make and yet it rains and rains some more. While nobody wishes to appear unreasonable, it might be properly suggested to the weather man that Duluth has had enough of this rainy, foggy, northeasterly, sloppy weather and would welcome a few rays of sunshine. All of which is respectfully submitted. More rain and cool weather and northeast winds are predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

Cloudy, cold weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:31 and it will set at 7:36 this evening, giving fifteen hours and five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The low pressure over Idaho has moved its center to the state from Utah since 7 a. m. Sunday. During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours this disturbance has caused rain throughout the Rocky mountain region, Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Western Kansas and Eastern Ontario. Temperatures are moderately warm over the winter wheat states and South Dakota and most of Canada and from the Rocky mountains westward to the Pacific coast. Rather unsettled, cool and showery weather may be expected at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 15.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Wisconsin and Iowa—Unsettled, and probably with showers tonight and Tuesday.

Upper Michigan — Showers tonight and Tuesday.

Minnesota and North Dakota—Unsettled weather and probably showers tonight or Tuesday; cooler Tuesday.

South Dakota — Unsettled weather and probably showers tonight or Tuesday; cooler Tuesday and in extreme west portion tonight.

Upper lakes — Variable winds on Michigan and Huron, moderate to brisk east and northeast on Superior; unsettled with showers tonight and Tuesday.

NORTH DAKOTA A. O. U. W. MEET AT MINOT TUESDAY.

Minot, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomorrow the biennial meeting of the grand lodge of the North Dakota Ancient Order of United Workmen meets here. The sessions continue till Thursday evening, with the grand chapter of the sister lodge, the Degree of Honor, also holding sessions. One of the principal matters to be given attention is that of the insurance department.

Minot Knights of Pythias have fixed June 6 as the date on which they will lay the corner stone of their temple, the contract for the construction of which was let to D. A. Dinnie several days ago. A number of prominent members of the order from over the state will be in attendance, arrangements being in the hands of several committees, chairman of which follow: Executive, John L. Fahey; speaker, M. M. Chatfield; refreshments, John Lynch; program, C. B. Bach; music, John G. Bates; reception, C. A. Grow.

FEAR ANOTHER CHINESE RISING

Tens of Thousands of Persons Are Fleeing Into Hongkong.

Hongkong, China, May 15.—There are alarming rumors of a revolutionary uprising at Canton and the surrounding districts, planned for tomorrow. Europeans in Shamien, the foreign district of Canton, are prepared to leave. The restlessness is widespread and tens of thousands of persons are fleeing from the disturbed section to this city.

CLOQUET YOUTHS HONOR MOTHERS

Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. Render Program in Honor of Parents.

Cloquet, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mothers' day was observed Saturday in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. by a reception to the mothers of the boys who are members. A temporary stage was arranged in the main room of the boys' wing of the Y building, and during the early part of the evening a play entitled "Wanted, a Confidential Clerk," was given. The cast of characters included Willie Summerfield as a shipping agent, his office man, George Dresschler, and the several applicants for the position, Henry Kjellin, Frank Redfield, John Campbell and Morton Keller. The play was the first thing of the kind that has been attempted by the boys, and they did remarkably well. A piano duet by Loren and Lyman Sheehan, a recitation by Miss Malone and several selections by the Moody orchestra concluded the program. The mothers were taken through the series of games that the rooms afford for the boys, the mother who proved the best player winning a prize. Ice cream, lemonade and cake were then served. The boys were the hosts, did the serving and certainly proved themselves royal hosts.

A twenty-membership contest has been begun in the effort to secure twenty new members for the department before May 20. Plans for the summer camp are maturing, and many boys will likely go. The Scouts, many of whom are Y boys, have recently planted fifteen trees at various homes of the members.

NEW FORESTER TAKES CHARGE AT CLOQUET.

Cloquet, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. B. Detwiler has arrived here from the state school of forestry and taken the position of forester at the state experimental station. The position was made vacant a few days ago by the resignation of Dillon P. Tierny, who was appointed assistant state forester. Savage & Sanborn of Cloquet have the contract for clearing the fire lines at the forestry tract and for clearing ten acres of land for seed beds and nursery purposes.

CHILD GORED TO DEATH.

Napoleon, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Rath, aged 8 years, of Gackle, this county, was gored to death by a mad bull. The child, together with several companions, had gone into the pasture for the purpose of driving the cattle to the barn, and while so doing the bull became enraged. The boy was injured internally, living twenty-four hours after the accident.

Chicago Fireman Killed.

Chicago, May 15.—While fighting a fire which destroyed the piano cabinet factories of Decker Bros. & Co., and the Edward Mikkelson company, Sunday, John Moran, a fireman, was caught under falling debris and killed. The property loss is $75,000.

UPHOLDS THE WILSON CASE

Supreme Court Rules Against Head of United Wireless.

Says Corporation Must Produce Books for Grand Juries.

Washington, May 15.—The supreme court of the United States today approved the recent sentence of contempt imposed in the New York courts on Christopher C. Wilson, president of the United Wireless Telegraph company, because of refusal to permit the examination of the company's books.

By this decision the Federal government won a far-reaching legal controversy, in that officials of corporations cannot refuse to give up possession of corporation books for examination by grand juries lest they themselves be incriminated thereby.

The sentence of contempt imposed in New York courts on Wilson was based upon his action in defeating the attempt of a grand jury to examine the books of his corporation.

Company Was Subpoenaed.

In 1910, a subpoena, addressed to the United Wireless Telegraph company, not to any individual, as is usually the case, was served on the officials of the company, directing that certain books of the company be produced for examination by the grand jury investigation of "an alleged violation of the statutes of the United States by Chrisopher C. Wilson." It is said that the investigation had to do with alleged violation of the postal laws.

Wilson himself appeared in court to answer to the subpoena, but declined to allow the grand jury to examine the books and refused to turn them over to the directors of the company for production in court. The ground for his refusal was that the books would tend to incriminate him.

Adjudged in Contempt.

He was finally adjudged in contempt of court and placed in the custody of the marshal. Two attempts to procure his release on habeas corpus proceedings resulted in failure. His case was then brought to the supreme court.

Justice Hughes, in announcing the opinion, said that Wilson could not, under those circumstances, assert a personal privilege which the obligation of the corporation to the government required it to perform.

Justice McKenna delivered a dissenting opinion.

The court also approved the contempt sentence imposed on William Dreier of New York, secretary of the Lichtenstein Military company, who had also refused to produce books under circumstances similar to those in the Wilson case.

ALMOST CLOUDBURST.

Northcote, Minn., Has Very Heavy Rainfall on Sunday.

Crookston, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The country from Hallock to the international boundary and from St. Vincent to Warroad received a substantial rain yesterday. At Northcote there was almost a cloudburst. An inch and a half of water fell in a little over two hours. No damage was done there, outside of a delay in seeding for several days.

No rain fell in Polk county.

Clapp Talks in Chicago.

Chicago, May 15.—A demand for the cleaning up of the Illinois legislature was made by State Senator Walter Clyde Jones before a meeting of 700 Republicans, comprising the Progressive Republican league here Saturday night. United States Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota and Charles E. Merriam, recent Republican candidate for mayor of Chicago, also spoke.

Grafton High School Won.

Grafton, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a dual field and track meet Saturday afternoon, the Grafton high school won from the Park River high by a score of 86 to 34. Both teams will enter the interscholastic field meet for the state in Grand Forks the latter part of this week.

NO ENTERPRISE.

As soon as he got seated in the car he opened his newspaper and began to search through the columns in a way that soon attracted attention. He didn't seem to find what he was looking for, however, and a kind-faced man beside him kindly observed:

"Hope you didn't expect to see the death of a friend?"

"Oh, no."

"Maybe it was something connected with the Mexican trouble?"

"No."

"Hasn't been an earthquake anywhere, I hope?"

"I haven't heard of any."

The paper was gone over again inch by inch, but the result was another disappointment.

"Something connected with Easter?" ventured the kind-faced man.

"Yes, it was. The press seems to have lost its enterprise."

"It hasn't skipped the day?"

"No, but it has skipped me. For the last 30 years, at about this date, I have sent in that old joke about the wife's Easter hat bankrupting her husband's business. It has always been published, and I have always been paid 50 cents for it, but this year it has been left out."

"You don't say!"

"It isn't here."

"Then—then you sue 'em for libel—yes, sir, you sue 'em for libel and claim damages in the sum of a hundred thousand dollars!"

JOE KERR.

NOTHING TO GAIN.

"I never was so discontented in my life on Easter."

"Why?"

"I didn't give up anything during Lent."

He Had a Reason.

"Why, Turner, how are you?" saluted the big man as he met the little man in the corridor of the postoffice.

"Fine as silk, Brown," was the reply. "I haven't seen you since—since——"

"Since I was married."

"That's it. Do you know your marriage was a great surprise to us?"

"I've heard so."

"Of course, it's no one's business, but people will talk, you know."

"And I suppose they are wondering why I married an Italian woman?"

"That's it, Turner—that's it."

"Well, you can tell 'em I had a reason. You've noticed the Italian women on the streets, of course?"

"Oh, yes."

"Ever seen one of them with a hat on?"

"Ha! Never."

"Well, that's the reason. Easter Sunday tomorrow, and while you and thousands of other husbands——"

"I see, Turner—I see. By George and by George! Say, if you don't retire from business with a cool million then I'm a goat!"

JOE KERR.

He Told.

"Willie," said the Sunday school teacher, "can you tell me why we have Easter?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, you can go ahead."

"It's that pa may tell ma that if there is any flap-doodle new-hat business around on Easter Sunday we won't have anything to eat but pancakes for a month to come."

"Why, Willie!"

"And that ma may answer back that pa drinks up more beer in a week than would buy her hats for two Easters. Then he gets mad and she gets mad, and he pounds on the table, and she begins to scream and I go over to Sammy Johnson's to poke sticks at his goat, and everything is lovely and the goose hangs high."

JOE KERR.

AN EASTER IDYL.

It's just a simple bonnet,
With a single rose upon it,
And the little face beneath it is quite serene and still.

But it took a week to buy it,
And it takes an hour to don it,
And goodness only knows how long 'twill take to pay the bill.

A BARGAIN.

The Nimrod—Hi Mr Rabbit! I'll make a deal with you. Just sit down an' lay me a few dozen pretty Easter eggs and I'll not shoot at you again, honest!

IT costs a very pretty fee
To clothe the softer gender,
But still we always like to see
Her bloom in Easter splendor.

CHE price may injure in the mart
Our good financial grading,
But, oh, it takes away the smart
When she goes out parading!

OH, lovely, girlie, rigged in style,
With wardrobe quite extensive.
Like every other thing worth while,
Is really quite expensive!

A Sample Case.

HER Easter hat had seven plumes,
A daisy was her jacket;
Her dress it cost two hundred bones,
And stockings silk did match it.

Her shoes they cost her just an "X,"
Her gloves were most expensive;
The collar 'round her throat it was
A beaut and most extensive.

She had to have of bracelets two,
And at her throat a shiner;
A golden purse was in her hand,
And nothing could be finer.

Thus she proceeded off to church
Upon the Easter morning;
Her nose was tilted in the air—
Her eyes the people scorning.

About her hubby—where was he?
Was he beside her tripping?
A high silk hat upon his head,
In patent leathers slipping?

Oh, no, my friend, he wasn't there——
At home he sat in sorrow;
He'd had to pledge his salaree
The money for to borrow.

For ten long years he'll have to pay
To Shylock weekly dollars;
And can't you hear his awful sighs,
His groans and wails and hollers?

—JOE KERR.

WHAT CAUSED IT.

Detective—This is a plain case of suicide.

Coroner—How do you know?

Detective—Why, in his hand we found the bill for his wife's Easter outfit.

DO IT NOW.

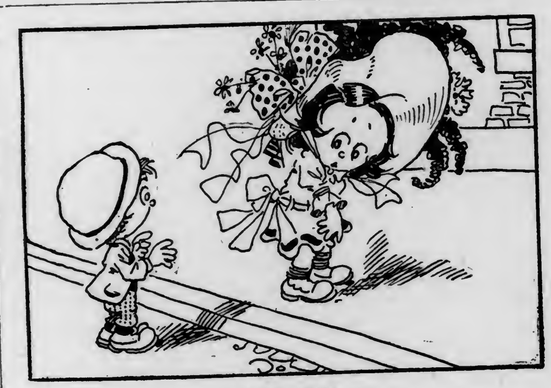
He—What do you think your father would say if I asked him for your hand now?

She—Now's the very best time. He's just paid $86.00 for my Easter hat and he'd let anyone have me that asks.

JUST THAT.

"I wonder why Easter time is peculiarly the time for weddings?"

"I suppose there is something about it which eggs on a man to matrimony."



A CRITICISM.

"What do you think of my Eastern bonnet, Johnnie?"

"Why—er—don't you think it's jest a little too plain and severe for your style of beauty, wot?"

SENDING HOME FOR MONEY.

Bronson—How is your boy getting along at college?

Woodson—He seems to have learned one thing, all right.

Bronson—What is that?

Woodson—That it would be a disgrace for his father to die rich.

THE LITERARY CHAP.

It takes the literary chap

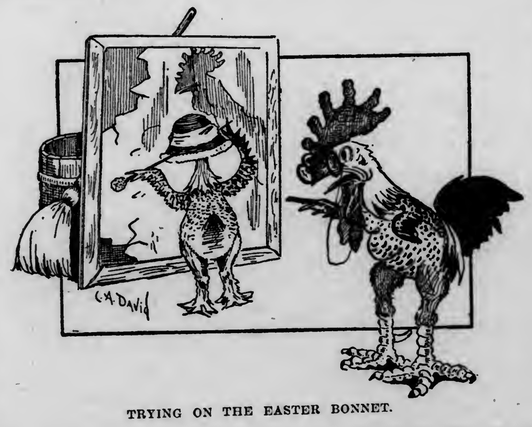
EASTER 1911.



TRYING ON THE EASTER BONNET.

AN INCORRUPTIBLE.

EASTER Sunday was a week away when a man who has an honest, but yet worried look on his face, entered a hat store to ask:

"Excuse me, but isn't the weather bureau around here somewhere?"

"On the tenth floor, sir."

"Thanks. Do you happen to know the man in charge?"

"Very well."

"He doesn't get a very big salary, does he?"

"Not half what he's worth."

"Um. Perhaps he might be tempted with a ten-dollar bill."

"I don't think it."

"We are all on the make, you know."

"But what do you want to tempt him for?"

"I wanted him to predict in his weather reports that it would rain cats and dogs all day next Sunday, and I want to call my wife's special attention to it."

"Ha! Great idea. You will fail, however."

"I might make it fifteen."

"No use. I offered him twenty-five myself and he turned me down."

JOE KERR

Wayside Wisdom.

Envy never recognizes itself.

Most men's first love never lived.

Homely women never believe that a pretty girl can be sensible.

Few men are brave enough to tell their wives the truth all the time.

Some people would willingly be slaves, if their chains were made of gold.

"High finance" is where you put up your money, and somebody else takes it down.

It is a lucky man who doesn't get a chance to say all the mean things he thinks up in his mind.

It makes a man admire a woman's intelligence to see how easily she can tell the front end of her new hat.

• • •

A man never realizes the sting of poverty till he finds that the cigars that are given him are better than those he can afford to buy for himself.

NO WASTE.

"Did you buy your wife her Easter hat?"

"No; she trimmed up the waste basket."

COLLEGE TRACK MEET RESULTS

Minneapolis, Minn., May 15.—Hindered in the dashes by the wind, Minnesota defeated Nebraska Saturday in the annual track meet of the two universities at Northrop field, Vanstrum and Hill of Minnesota taking first and second honors in the 100-yard dash. Only first and second counted points. Results:

100-yard dash—Vanstrum, Minnesota, first; Hill, Minnesota, second. Time, :10 1-5.

120-yard high hurdle—Russell, Nebraska, first; Murdink, Minnesota, second. Time, :18 2-5.

220-yard dash—Ted Anderson, Minnesota, first; Busch, Minnesota, second. Time, 1:59 flat. Ted Anderson of Minnesota has been considered good only in quarter-mile running and in winning the 880-yard dash equalled the record heretofore held by Harris of Minnesota, who established it at 1:59 in 1901.

220-yard dash—Reid, Nebraska, first; Vanstrum, Minnesota, second. Time, :21 4-5.

One mile run—L. R. Anderson, Nebraska, first; Tydemann, Minnesota, second. Time 4:34 flat. This lowers local records of 4:39 4-5 made in 1906 by Bedford of Minnesota.

220-yard hurdle—Powers, Nebraska, first; time :27 flat; Russell, Nebraska, second.

Shot put—Frank, Minnesota, first; 41 feet, 10¼ inches; Collins, Nebraska, second, 38 feet, 4⅞ inches.

Polo vault—Lindstrom, Nebraska, first, 11 feet; Coady, Minnesota, second, 10 feet 10 inches.

Nebraska forged ahead by gaining first and second in the hammer throw; Harmon and Collins of Nebraska tied for first.

Annapolis, Md., May 15.—Local track records were smashed at a great rate Saturday when the University of Pennsylvania field and track team defeated the navy by the score of 64 to 53. Nine academy records were smashed and one equalled out of the twelve events.

Carey, captain of the navy team, equalled his own record of 9 4-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 15.—The University of Michigan defeated Syracuse university in a dual track meet Saturday on Ferry Field with a score of 65 to 40. Hanavan of Michigan ran the mile in 4:23, a record on Ferry Field.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 15.—Cornell ran away from Princeton in the annual dual track and field meet Saturday and swamped the Tigers 79½ to 37½. In the field events, where Princeton was considered strong, Cornell proved a surprise, taking first in both the shot and hammer throw. Two records were broken.

Marshall Field, Chicago, May 15.—Track athletes representing the University of Illinois, triumphed over the University of Chicago Saturday in a dual meet for the sixth time in as many years. Illinois piled up 71½ points, while Chicago scored 54½.

NORTHWESTERN GUN CLUB HOLDS GRAND OPENING

Large Crowd of Members and Their Friends Enjoy Gala Day.

Season's Program Inaugurated With Successful Trap Shooting Events.

Inclement weather conditions could not prevent the grand opening of the Northwestern Gun club for the 1911 season from being the most successful opening ever enjoyed by a gun club in the Northwest. From early in the morning until late in the afternoon hundreds of people rode in carriages and automobiles and walked to the grounds of the club on the Pike Lake road, where ample provision had been made for the entertainment of the club members and their friends.

Not only were the members of the club out in force to help make the 1911 opening a grand success, but their wives and friends joined in the event and made it one that will not be forgotten by the large number of the club's members.

Refreshments were served during the day and every means of entertainment was provided. Improvements have been made in the grounds, so that they are now provided with facilities for the shooters and the wives and women guests of the club members, who are helping to make the Northwestern one of the best gun clubs in the West.

George Kreager, Phil Tastoret, Alex Schebitzki, W. Porter and H. Kalkbrenner were the committee members who looked after the entertainment of the visitors, and credit is due them for the way they conducted the festivities of the day. There was not a hitch in even a small detail, every one present voting it the best day they had spent for years.

One of the special events of the day was the exhibition of shooting by Dom Decendorf of the Dupont Powder company, J. H. Stair of the Peter's Cartridge company, and Glen Taylor of the Remington Arms company.

Out of a possible 175 shots Decendorf made 153, and Stair got 181 out of a possible 200. Taylor made the greatest record of the day, only missing two shots in 150.

In the grand opening club trap shoot of the season fifty-five shooters participated, a total of 4,000 birds being trapped. The sport was witnessed by the largest crowd of spectators that has ever attended a trap shoot in this part of the country, and was greatly enjoyed.

TWO NEW LEAGUES ARE ORGANIZED

Junior Baseball Teams Will Play Under Supervision of Boys' Department.

More than 200 enthusiastic boys gathered at the boys' department Y. M. C. A. Saturday night and organized the "Duluth Boys' Baseball League."

There will be two divisions in the league, the junior league and the senior Eighteen teams made application to enter the league and they were all accepted. There are twelve teams for the junior league and six for the senior.

J. R. Bachelor was elected president; William Elder was elected vice president; and N. D. McLeod, secretary and treasurer. Following the general meeting a session of the board of managers was held at which time a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The board of managers is composed of the managers of the various teams.

The rules in the league are strict. The aim of the league is to put amateur baseball in the city on a sound footing and to eliminate quarrels and bad language on the field. All games will be played under the supervision of the boys' department.

The teams now entered and their managers follow:

Junior Teams.

Longfellow, John Nettleton; Kelley Hardware, Jr., Allan McDonald; Fitzwells, Jr., Arthur Kelley; Y. M. C. A. boys' department, Andy Lee; Eagle, Jr., Joe Oswell; Lester, Jr., Gerard Spencer; Cubs, John Evans; Franklins, George Hestrom; Ely, Henry Pape; Lincoln, Jr., Martin Burg; Aerial, Jr., Henry Tyfer; Standards, Ross Beatty.

Senior League.

Lakeside Lesters, Ward Brown; Irving Crescents, Glen Merritt; Portlands, Clifford Baker; Wanderers, William Elder; Hunter's Park, Cal Hathaway.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR LEAGUE

Standing of the teams:

Clubs.	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Oak Halls	2	2	0	1.000
Scott Hardware	1	1	0	1.000
Woodruffs	1	1	0	1.000
Duluth Heights	2	1	1	.500
Kenny-Anker	2	1	1	.500
New Duluth	1	0	1	.000
Binghams	1	0	1	.000
Jeffersons	2	0	2	.000

But two of the games scheduled in the Duluth-Superior league were played yesterday, rain interfering.

The Oak Halls achieved a one-sided and easy victory over the Kenny & Anker bunch, the score being 15 to 2. The Oak Halls gathered seventeen hits off the losing team's pitchers, and in addition the Kenny & Anker bunch were grossly guilty of twelve errors. Score:

Oak Halls	2	0	1	1	4	1	4	2	x	—15

The Jeffersons were given a one-sided beating by the Duluth Heights aggregation, the score being 11 to 3. The winning teams gathered eighteen hits against the eight of its opponents, and showed all round superiority in every department of the game. Score: R. H. E.

Duluth Heights	0	0	0	0	3	1	7	x		—11

SOUTH AFRICAN SPRINTER DEFEATS AMERICAN.

Melbourne, Australia, May 15.—Jack Donaldson of South Africa yesterday easily defeated C. E. Holway, the American sprinter, in three races, 75, 220 and 100 yards respectively. The 100 yards was done in 9 4-5 seconds, a world's record for a grass track.

MACK HOPES KRAUSE WILL RECOVER FORM

HARRY KRAUSE.

Harry Krause is one of the south paw pitchers on the staff of Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics. Krause was the sensation of the season of 1909, when he won ten games straight for his team. Last year he was ill and showed little. If he can regain his 1909 form, he will be a great help to the Athletics.

WEST DULUTHS ARE DEFEATED

Central High School Swamps Industrials By One Sided Score.

Duluth Central's baseball team had little trouble with the West Duluth Industrial high school team in the contest of Saturday, winning by the generous score of 26 to 11. The hitting of Waldron and Spencer and the all round play of the Central men featured the contest.

FAVORITE BEATEN IN KENTUCKY DERBY.

Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., May 15.—Off in front and never headed, Meridian, the Carman entry won the Kentucky derby Saturday afternoon and broke the Churchill Downs track record, going the mile and a quarter in 2:05 2-5.

Governor Gray, the hot favorite, got away bad and trailed until the last half and then came strong, charcteristic of the gelding. Meridian had too good a lead, however, and won by a length. Round-the-World followed Meridian closely until the last quarter, when she seemed to tire and finished out of the money.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

The Passing of Ed Reulbach —At Last We Are Winning on the Road—Duluth Boy Stroking Wisconsin Crew—The Right Spirit.

(BY BRUCE.)

IF SEVEN clubs of the National league waive on big Ed Ruelbach, one of the greatest pitchers of modern times and a chap who has led the older organization three different times in pitching averages, will pass from the majors.

It may prove interesting at this time, when large Edward is on the griddle and is hesitating on the precipitous brink of near-oblivion, to recount briefly how this flourishing was discovered.

George Huff is the athletic director of the University of Illinois and also the scout for the Chicago Cubs. College men in the West know what a great baseball team the Illini have had ever since the memory of collegian runneth. It is a case of "Let George Do It," for he is the boy who develops and trains this aggregation to that point of excellence where it generally licks the eye teeth out of any other team in the West.

Illinois may not always have the best football team in the West, or even in the state of Illinois; but when it comes to baseball thing, this Huff is there with credentials and thanks from the members of the college faculty.

One spring, some years back, Huff heard of a young pitcher, down in Vermont, or some far away part of the country, who was doing wonderful work. He journeyed thither to have a look at the pitching marvel. When he got there, the place, like the cupboard of Old Mother Hubbard, was bare, and the young pitcher he was after had decamped for other fields of activity.

Always on the job for material for the Cubs, Huff soon after this heard of another young pitcher who was burning up the bushes. This fellow had everything, and the batters were simply walking up to the plate as a matter of form, and then walking back to the bench again. Again large George Huff got on the trail and set out for the lurking place of this second twirler. Imagine how disgusted he was and what naughty things he said when he reached the place where the second twirler had been laboring in the baseball vineyard and discovered that he had also vamoosed.

There was something mysterious about the whole thing. When Huff heard of a third pitcher who was standing batters on their heads, he beat it for that part of the country without even waiting to throw a collar and a tooth brush into his grip. Then he discovered Reulbach working under an assumed name. He also discovered something else; he found that the two other pitchers were in reality big Ed, who was a college man and used the assumed names for self protection. Oh you simon pure amateurs.

Reulbach came to the Cubs and the rest of his history is pretty well known by the baseball public. Lack of control has always been the weakness of the big fellow. He has speed to burn and is the one pitcher, according to Hugh Fullerton, who seems able to throw any old kind of a ball.

If Reulbach passes it will begin to look like the disintegration of the Cub machine. Great he has been in the past, and so have Brown and Overall. Pfeister was also effective, especially so against the New York Giants, and his passing is marking the breaking up of the old machine that was perhaps the greatest collection of men performing brilliantly together, that baseball has ever known.

So Far So Good, Little Agnes.

DURING the past two years patient fans at the Head of the Lakes have been so used to having the stuffin' beaten out of the Sox on the road trips, that the three wins and two defeats to date, are in the nature of selected peaches well prepared with very excellent Jersey cream. We are glad and at the same time hopeful.

We are at the same time remembering that the hardest games on the initial trip are ahead of the team. Red Wing has not been doped as one of the strong teams of the league, and the same can be said of Rochester. Winona is traveling fast at the present time and we have this team to meet before the road trip is ended. La Crosse is not very good and the chances are that this team will not be very strong at any time the present season, unless a different policy from that pursued in the last two years, is adopted.

Should the Sox come home with an even break on the road they will be in a position to make a great stand on the home stand. For the past two years the White Sox have been one of the weakest road teams and the very strongest home players in the league. While it is very, very early to say anything about the team, there are those fans who are noping that the present aggregation will prove better roadsters than the team of last season, or even he team that won the pennant in the first season of the league.

In the few games Kramer has worked the present season he has shown great form. With the kind of heaving that the German is showing he will have little chance to get back into the outfield. That is the position that Mike wants to play, and because of his hitting he would prove as valuable as a competent man in the state legislature. But with the kind of pitching he is showing, it is very probable that the Orator will keep him on the hill.

Miller appears to be doing some hitting on the trip. He is but a youngster and Darby believes he is going to make a swell player of him. In the spring series with the hated enemy across the bay, Miller did not do much, which led some of the fans to believe that the kid was not there with the willow. He got a home run at Red Wing and also starred in the slaughter of the Rochester pitchers.

With Miller hitting and Johnson meeting the pill the way he did in the closing game against Superior, we will have an outfield trio that can do some execution at the bat, something that we have not had in the past.

Even with the pennant winning team of 1909 the outfield was woefully weak when it came to hitting. Last season George Anderson was the only hitter in the garden. If one of the present patchtenders should fail to hit, and an outfielder who cannot hit is not very valuable to his team, Kramer can fill in.

O'Brien looks fairly well fortified and if the Sox continue their winning streak on the road, the fans will gather at the first home game with the opinion that O'Brien has gathered an entirely different team from the one that ran in the cellar all of last season.

Hare Is Stroking Wisconsin.

IT may interest some of the Duluth oarsmen to know that Kenneth Hare, who rowed with the Duluth crew last season, is at the present time stroking the crew of the University of Wisconsin. It was also Hare who conducted the correspondence that led to the final arranging of the race that will be rowed soon between Wisconsin and the eight of the Minnesota Boat club of St. Paul.

Hare's father is making his home in this city now, so that the aburnlocked youth may be considered a local pride. Hare is a mighty fine oarsman and if the seven other men in the Wisconsin boat are like him, it is very probable that the Badgers will make a fine showing at Poughkeepsie.

He Sure Has the Right Spirit.

"ENSIGN" E. R. ANDERSON has a few words of appreciation coming to him. If any chap has done his share toward the success of the crews of the Duluth Boat club of the past, "Andy" is the one. He has been always willing to row when a man was wanted; has been one of the best boosters in the club; and has ever been willing to lend his services when and where they would do the most good.

Forgetting self for the general good of the club, this fellow has shown the kind of spirit that soldiers are supposed to exhibit. The spirit shown by Anderson has been something that other members of the club might ponder over and imitate. A man like Anderson isn't always appreciated, and for that very reason this little tribute of a few words is coming to him.

The present season E. R. is again working away and is rendering valuable service in getting the men out. He is assisting Coach Ten Eyck in rounding the men out every evening and through his own efforts has got several new candidates out for the crews. He has also been out with the green men and has given them some valuable lessons in the first principles of watermanship.

A man who has the spirit to sacrifice his time in helping along a general cause, like Anderson has, and is doing at the present time; deserves appreciation and commendation, for if the hoped for success is achieved the present season, E. R. Anderson will be one of the men who should be credited with a large part, when the proper time comes.

NO-HIT GAME FOR CLOQUET PITCHER.

Cloquet, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cloquet city team defeated the Cloquet Cubs yesterday afternoon in the best played game witnessed here so far this season, the score being 5 to 0, with the city aggregation holding the big end. Bonneville pitched a no-hit game for the winners and received almost errorless support, while the Cubs showed up much stronger than was expected. Hubert of the Cubs was the only man to reach first base. Score: R. H. E.

Batteries—Bonneville and McKenna; Michaelson, Levings, Boyer and Hubert. Umpire—Franklin.

Next Sunday the locals will line up against the Fitwells of Duluth, and enthusiasm over this game is already running high. The two teams are old rivals, and since both are showing up strong this season, a hot game is being looked forward to.

COLLEGE BOAT RACE RESULTS

Springfield, Mass., May 15.—From the dashing start to the paddling finish, there was never a question in Saturday's race of the superiority of the University of Pennsylvania over Yale. The Quaker crew went across the finish line more than six lengths ahead, after leading from start to finish. The time for the two miles: Pennsylvania, 9:29 4-5, and Yale 9:48 4-5, was considered slow. Yale pulled a steady but slow stroke, while Pennsylvania's work was well-nigh perfect.

Pennsylvania caught the pistol with a splash that shot the red and blue shell a quarter length in front. This was increased to half a length in a dozen strokes, and at the half mile there was open water between the boats. Both crews hit up the stroke to nearly forty a minute in the first half, then settled down to a steady thirty-five. At the mile, Pennsylvania was three lengths to the good.

Coming down the home stretch, Williams, the Quaker coxswain, shouted for more speed, but eased off soon, and the shell slipped over the line with the crew barely paddling.

Annapolis, Md., May 15.—Showing form and speed superior to that ever seen before on the Severn river, Columbia's 'varsity eight simply ran away from the Navy crew for two miles here Saturday afternoon.

Rowing easily and at no time as high a stroke as their opponents, Columbia took the lead from the start and was never headed. At the mile mark they were a length and a quarter ahead, and although the midshipmen suprted they could not keep it up and were beaten by three and a half lengths of open water.

The winning time was 11 minutes, 27 seconds.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Red River Valley Counties to Be Well Represented at Duluth

At June Meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development Association.

Bemidji, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Beltrami County Development association has elected the following delegates and alternates to attend the meeting of the association, at Duluth, June 1 and 2: Delegates—F. S. Lycan, Bemidji; C. H. Middleton, Baudette; Charles Hayden, Blackduck; Albert Kleven, and Thomas McCann, Bemidji. Alternates—L. O. Myhre, Liberty township; William Lennon, Kelliher; E. A. Rake, Bemidji township; George Ericson, Spooner; Andrew Larson, Lammers township.

W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the Beltrami County and the Northern Minnesota Development association, has just returned from an extended tour of the Red River Valley counties and is enthusiastic regarding the Duluth convention. He declares the interest in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall Pennington, Red Lake, Mahnomen, Polk, Norman, Becker, Clay and Wilkin counties assure large delegations from that part of the state.

May Form Land Congress.

Mr. Mackenzie states that Governor Eberhart will address the Duluth convention and that 5,000 invitations have been sent out to the land men of the state who are expected to attend and it is probable that they will form a Minnesota Land Men's congress to boost the land show to be held in St. Paul next December with delegates from Oregon, Washington, Montana, North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

"The Duluth meeting," said Mr. Mackenzie, "is going to be the biggest meeting we have ever had. The Duluth business men are certainly going to do their share toward making the meeting a hummer. There seems to be no limit to what they intend to do for the visitors and it will be an excellent opportunity for delegates to visit Duluth and enjoy the beauties of its magnificent harbor."

Acceptances to invitations have been received from many members of the legislature, including not a few senators from the southern districts.

TAKING UP FARMS AMONG BAD LANDS

Famous Region of Western North Dakota, Believed Uninhabitable, Settling Up.

Schafer, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Bad Lands of Western North Dakota made famous by Theodore Roosevelt, the Marquis De-Mores and others, and long believed fit only for grazing horses and cattle are rapidly being settled. The homesteaders are daily encroaching upon the stockmen, driving the cattle and horses from their stronghold, the vast territory along the Little Missouri, and feeling between the ranchmen and the homesteaders is getting rather tense. The stockmen offer rewards for the arrest of anyone caught driving stock from the ranges but nevertheless the practice continues.

It was believed until a year ago that these lands would remain permanently in the possession of the stockmen, but they are being filed upon so rapidly this spring that the big ranchers within the last week have acknowledged defeat and are getting ready to make one more discouraged move with their herds, this time to the portion of the Fort Berthold reservation lying north of the Little Missouri and west of the Big Missouri. Some 315,000 acres of good grazing land are comprised in this part of the reservation which is not to be thown open to settlement along with the rest of the Indian lands next fall.

Make Deal With Indians.

The land was fenced by the Indians several years ago and leased to J. E. Phelan of Dickinson. Mr. Phelan's lease expired last summer and since that time the Indians have been taking cattle and horses to run at the rate of $2 a head for horses and $1.50 for cattle. The Bad Lands ranchers have just completed arrangements with them to use the entire tract this season. The move of the cattlemen from the Little Missouri region to the reservation will be their last pilgrimage in North Dakota.

The Bad Lands, though for the most part not tillable, yet have here and there isolated among the buttes grassy flats and coulees. It is on these areas the homesteader are putting up their hacks, and turning sod. Claims are fenced in and the stockmen will not be able to make use of the thousands of acres of grazing land.

THREE REMEDIES FOR CUT WORMS

State Entomologist Issues Bulletin Relative to Warfare on Pests.

St. Paul, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following bulletin has been issued by State Entomologist F. L. Washburn relative to fighting cut worms:

Much complaint is reaching the office of the state entomologist regarding the injuries from cut worms at this time. Poison bait made as follows has been found to be very effective:

Remedy No. 1—Mix Paris green with dry bran until the compound is quite green in color, add water to make the mass of the consistency of chicken dough. If not real green, add more Paris green. Sweeten this with cheap molasses or cheap syrup or sugar. At sundown or shortly after, put heaping tablespoonfuls of this at intervals through the gardens, where cut worms are most obnoxious. The stuff should not be put too close to a plant, for in event of rain the Paris green would be washed down to the roots of the plant and injure it. A foot away from any plant would be safe.

Remedy No. 2—Place shingles or pieces of boards at intervals on the ground in the garden, where cut worms are causing mischief. These worms work at night and will hide under these places of concealment at the approach of daylight, where they can be found and killed.

Remedy No. 3—Faithful cultivation, killing the worms when found, is helpful. If a plant is cut during the night the worm can almost invariably be found near the surface of the soil an inch or so from the plant.

LAUDS BORDER CAMP.

North Dakota Officer Back From the Southwest Is Interviewed.

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—"I have never seen a nicer camp than the one at San Antonio," said Capt. R. A. Thompson, in discussing the big army gathering in the Lone Star state, from which place he has just returned.

He continued: "The discipline among the soldiers is fine. The fellows were a manly bunch of men and they seemed to be treated fine. In fact, they were as fine a looking bunch of soldiers as I have ever seen and they are getting along splendidly."

Capt. Thomson says that the telegraphic reports of the newspapers have been portraying the true situation of the Mexican trouble and that there is nothing new in this line, except what comes through the press dispatch service. He stated that the people of the South are not a bit more aroused over the Mexican situation and rebellion than the people of the North. The Fargo officer is of the opinion that the government will not mix in the affairs of the Mexicans along the border unless they encroach on the interests of this country.

While at the big army maneuver camp, Capt. Thomson was stationed at the regimental headquarters of the Twenty-second infantry, with the adjutant. He reports a fine trip.

SOO SAWYERS STRIKE.

About 100 Men Idle as Result of Walkout.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The knot sawyers employed in the Kelly & Mayer shingle mill walked out this morning because their demand for a raise of 25 cents a day was refused. About 100 men are idle as a result of the strike.

NORTHWESTERN COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED.

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northwestern Commercial association was organized here at a well attended meeting of owners and representatives of commercial schools of North Dakota and Western Minnesota. Twelve schools or colleges were represented. Fargo had in attendance Prof. H. H. Aaker and Prof. F. L. Watkins.

There was a good deal of discussion over the organization after which the following officers were elected: President, F. L. Watkins, Fargo; vice president, G. F. Packer, Grand Forks; secretary, J. C. Sathre, Crookston; treasurer, J. Hughes, Crookston; executive committee, H. H. Aaker, Fargo; O. A. Naplin, Thief River Falls; S. O. Mithun, Crookston.

The object of the organization is to raise the standard of the different schools in the two states and for mutual protection and benefit and popularize the business in general. The organization is not purely a managers' association, but is open to all teachers in commercial lines.

UPPER PENINSULA BOOSTER BUTTONS.

Menominee, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Booster buttons for the Upper Peninsula is the latest evidence of the enterprise of Manager A. W. Blom. The buttons are blue and gold and read: "Boost the Upper Peninsula of Michigan."

BISMARCK'S FERRY LINE ABOUT READY.

Bismarck, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The towers on either side of the Missouri river which will be used to support the cable for the new ferry across the river, about 300 feet, have been completed, and all that remains now is the stretching of the cable across the stream and into position.

H. C. Rhud & Co. are constructing the ferryboat and have almost completed it. It will be ready for launching in a very short time. This ferry will be large enough when in operation to accommodate three automobiles at one trip, or two two-horse teams and wagons. The ferry will be put in operation as soon as possible, and will prove a great convenience for people who desire to cross the river and who do not care to wait every evening until the switch engine takes the ferry cars over.

PAYNESVILLE SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Paynesville, Minn., May 15.—Fire supposed to have caught from a defective chimney burned the local schoolhouse. The janitor built a fire in the furnace at 5 a. m., and an hour later saw smoke coming from near the belfry. He started to give the alarm by ringing the bell, but the rope had burned off, and there was a little delay in alarming the village and calling out the fire department. The main building was destroyed, but an addition, used by the primary grades, was saved. The piano, six organs and quite a quantity of school books were also saved.

The building was originally frame, and was erected twenty-five years ago, and a few years later was doubled in size and brick veneered. The loss is about $12,000, covered by insurance, $8,000 on building and $3,000 on furniture and fixtures.

The burning of the schoolhouse only gave the children half a day's vacation as the school work was resumed, the village hall and the lecture rooms of the various churches being utilized.

Canadian Soo Ovens Burn.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 15.—In a fire that for a time threatened to sweep over half the city, sixty coke ovens, owned by the Standard Chemical company of Toronto, were entirely destroyed here Saturday night. The blaze started in the coal shed and entailed a loss of $100,000. The plant, one of the largest of its kind in Canada, will be rebuilt at once.

Oshkosh Woman Convicted.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 15.—A jury has found Miss Mary Roberts, member of a prominent Oshkosh family, guilty of burning her home. It was charged she applied the torch in an effort to collect several thousand dollars fire insurance. Judge Coss withheld sentence.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—The remains of A. B. Walker, who died very suddenly in his office on Front street during the past winter, were interred in Riverside cemetery Saturday afternoon in the presence of the immediate family of the deceased. Dean Dowling conducted a short service before the body was consigned to its final resting place.

Dickinson, N. D.—The remains of Albert Bailey, 59, who died in a local hospital Saturday, were taken home to Sentinel Butte, where the family has resided for two years. He was brought here Friday for an appendicitis operation, but doctors saw at once that he was too late in coming. A wife, four sons and a daughter survive. The family came from Black River Falls, Wis., nearly two years ago, since which time they have been farming in Billings county.

Pembina, N. D.—Mr. Wood, near Emerson, who runs an apiary, experienced hard luck with his bees during the winter. For some time the house was quarantined on account of scarlet fever and when the premises were fumigated the 100 bee colonies in the cellar in their quiescant state were thought to be in no danger. When they were liberated this spring sixty hives were found to be dead from the formaldehyde fumes.

Bismarck, N. D.—On Friday, June 2, there will started at Fort Lincoln a school of instruction for the officers of the North Dakota National Guard, which will continue for three days. The various officers from all parts of the state are awaiting the event with a great deal of interest. Preparations are now being made by the officers of the United States infantry who are stationed at the post to have everything in readiness for their coming.

Fargo, N. D.—The police department of the city is going to wage a war against all persons who persist in begging on the streets of the city. During the last few weeks there have been a number of persons arrested on this charge and the officers are going to put a stop to the work.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Moorhead—The special hotel committee of the Commercial club, of which S. G. Comstock is chairman, has just reviewed for the first time the completed plans for the new $100,000 hotel that is to be erected on the old Columbia site between the two depots. The plans call for a building 130 by 100 feet, three stories in height and practically fireproof.

Fergus Falls—The nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Navonen of New York Mills have been ill with diphtheria, and two boys, aged 8 and 4 years, have died from the disease during the past few days.

Stillwater—Charles A. Staples, former mayor of the city and a son of the pioneer lumberman and business man, is to be examined touching his sanity. He had a recent severe illness and his condition was such that an information was made as to his mental condition. Doctors Merrill and Kallnoff were selected by the probate court to assist in the investigation.

Red Lake Falls—Supt. Herman F. Anderson has received a letter from C. G. Schultz, state superintendent, informing him that the Red Lake county summer school for teachers will be a five weeks' school. The date set for the opening is Monday, June 26. J. A. Sederstrom, superintendent of the Sleepy Eye schools, will have charge.

Grand Marais—S. A. Challman, state inspector of graded schools, will give an address before the Cook County Teachers' association Monday evening, May 15. The business session is to be held in the afternoon, and the principal number on the program in the evening, to which the public is cordially invited, will be Mr. Challman's address.

Fosston—Fosston has not celebrated Independence day for two years, and in response to a call for a mass meeting Tuesday evening to consider the question of holding a celebration this year, a liberal and enthusiastic attendance of business men turned out. And they were unanimous in deciding that Fosston should celebrate this year.

Bemidji—W. W. Winter, route agent for the Western Express company, which operates over the Soo lines, has been in Bemidji perfecting arrangements for an uptown office to be opened at Abercrombie's some time this week, after which money orders may be secured at any time during the day or evening.

There is also the possibility of a flour mill locating here.

St. Cloud—A. N. Lahr, a prominent farmer of St. Cloud town, states that half of the oat crop in this vicinity has been killed. It is not his belief, however, that Stearns county is to be confronted by a shortage of oats this fall, as he is of the opinion that part of the injured grain will again spring up.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

DRINK CAUSE OF NEARLY ALL BUSINESS FAILURES

Do not invest money in business with the man who drinks liquor—he is a poor speculation—erratic, unsafe, irresponsible. He means well, but, with an alcoholic poisoned system and a whisky-driven brain, he makes up about 95 per cent of the business failures of the country each year.

Liquor has ruined—mentally, physically and financially—every man who has continued to drink it. Why not stop? Come to the Neal Institute for three days and have all craving and desire for liquor done away with and your nervous system restored. They very best time to come is NOW—not tomorrow.

A PERFECT CURE.

The Neal internal treatment cures the peridical, occasional or moderate drinker, the habitual and excessive drinker, and the nervous man who has to drink to keep from becoming more nervous. It takes away all inclination to drink, all desire and craving to drink, by neutralizing the poison of alcohol in the system and ridding the blood of the poison by a rapid system of elemination, leaving the drinker in the conditon that he was before tasting liquor, so far as the effect of alcohol may be concerned—all appetite for drink gone—and he a new man.

NO HYPODERMIC INJECTIONS.

Refuse to take any treatment for the drink habit where hypodermic injections are given, for they are so liable to result in blood poison from the use of an infected needle, through the carelessness of others.

PLAIN CONTRACT GIVEN.

Each patient is given a plain contract, agreeing to effect a perfect cure in three days, or return the full fee paid at end of third day.

Call, write, phone or wire for copy of contract and free booklet concerning the treatment. Everything strictly confidential.

WHEAT GETS STIFF JOLT

World's Movement Heavier and Rains Fall in the Northwest.

Foreign Demand Falls Off But East Is Buyer—Linseed Off.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 15.—Wheat declined sharply today. May lost 1⅝c and july went backward a similar distance. September lost 2⅛c. Cash wheat was on a parity with July. rye was unchanged and barley sold at 85c. Oats lost ½c. Durum wheat declined 1¼c for July.

Linseed was quiet. October opened for the first time this year and was offered down from $2.10 to $2.00, without sales. September was offered down from $2.16 to $2.10. There was no trading to speak of and the price fluctuations were without market significance. Cables were unchanged from Saturday.

The market opened sharply lower in sympathy with depressed cables and a big increase in the world's shipments of wheat. The shipments amounted to nearly 15,000,000 bu on account of the heavy outgo from Russia which shipped more than 5,000,000 bu. The foreign demand for wheat was less insistent, also, on account of widespread rains in the southeast and southwest of Russia where the crop was reported to be unsatisfactory.

Rains were general throughout the Northwest. Southern Minnesota which was in need of moisture got a small amount and Middle Minnesota received a drenching over Sunday. Western and Southwestern North Dakota where moisture was wanted badly received rain today. Scattered showers fell in North Dakota and Northern South Dakota today. The government predicts further precipitation in the Northwest tonight.

Rains in Western Kansas have improved wheat greatly and the abandoned acreage, reports say, will not be as large as early estimates indicated.

Indications point to the passing of the long interest into the July to a sufficient extent to cause congestion in that delivery. It appears to be the desire of the bulls to help to make a market for their "corpse" by bulling the deferred months. The bulls are banking on prospects for a reduced yield in the world's wheat crops to help them maintain their position. Crop and weather news will be the leading factors in the next six or seven weeks and a nervous market probably will be the result.

Reports concerning the Eastern demand for wheat today were conflicting. In one quarter it was said that the demand for spring wheat was good and that more than 250,000 bu had been sold, probably 300,000 bu. In other quarters it was said that the demand could not be located and the volume of business done was doubted.

B. W. Snow wired from Kingsley, Kas, yesterday—"Plower through deep mud today in Ellis, Rush, Pawnee, Hodgeman and Edwards counties. General and heavy rains past forty-eight hours covering apparently all Western Kansas, furnishing all moisture needed in most districts, enought to carry crop to harvest. Can see no change in Western Kansas the past month. Acreage is reduced and yield will be light, but will aggregate as much as has been counted upon at any time since the season opened. Oats acreage much increased and outlook very flattering."

B. W. Snow wired from Hays, Kan., yesterday: "Motored today 130 miles. Rice and Ellsworth counties, with 225,000 acres; show almost perfect conditions with plenty of moisture and every promise of bumper yields. Russell county has on dividing line between good and poor district. Prospect in Russell and Ellis, with quarter million acres left for harvest, is better than a month ago but is ragged, and will not average above 70 on acreage standing. Trouble all dates back to dry fall and winter and failure to germinate until this spring. Stand is thin, fields weedy and the plant not thrifty. Plenty of sub-soil moisture but surface wetting would help. There is nothing new in this poor belt in west part of state, as it has been fully known since March and discounted in estimates since that date. The fields seen today, while poor, are really promising more wheat than seemed possible a month ago. Light rain Saturday night and showery conditions continue."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "World's shipments of wheat last week 14,832,000 bu; previous week 12,176,000 bu; last year 11,552,000 bu. Corn—Last week 3,365,000 bu; previous week 3,118,000 bu; last year 2,390,000 bu.

"The wheat market opened easy and ¼d lower and following the opening further declined ¾@⅞d, with general heavy realizing. Selling was prompted by the unexpected heavy world's shipments made so by the large Russian and Danubian contribution and the fact that the United Kingdom received a fair percentage. Pressure was further encouraged by private reports of light rains in Russia and cooler and small demand for both cargoes and parcels. At 1:30 p. m. the market was weak and ⅞@1d lower than Saturday. May was unquoted.

"The corn market opened ¼d lower and further declined ⅛d in sympathy with wheat and the larger world's and Danubian shipments. A private Russian cable received here states that light rains have fallen in the Azoff region. The wheater still continues hot in Roumania but the crops, however, are generally satisfactory."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Big World Shipments and Rainfall Depress Wheat Prices.

Chicago, May 15.—Big world's shipments weighed on the wheat market today. Prices were also weakened by rains in the American Northwest. There were reports, too, of showers in the southern part of Russia, where drouth has recently prevailed. A further cause for dismay on the side of the bulls appeared in the form of continued slowness of cash demand. Moreover, dispatches from Kansas indicated that the abandoned acreage of the state may not reach first estimates as bountiful moisture has unexpectedly revived many fields. The opening here was ⅝c to ¾c lower. July started at 88⅞c to 89c, a fall of ¾c to ⅞c, but rallied later to 89⅛c.

After a little additional recovery the market grew depressed on account of the smallness of the decrease in the visible supply. The close, however, was firm with July ⅞@1c net lower at 88⅜@88⅞c.

Fine weather eased corn. So did the cables and the influence of wheat. July opened ¼c to ⅜c down at 52¾c to 52¾c. A rally to 52⅝@½c followed.

An advance resulted from country sales being light but prices again receded in sympathy with wheat. The close was easy. ⅛c net lower at 52⅜c for July.

Local selling carried oats backward with other grains. July started ⅛c to ¼c off at 32½c to 33¾c, and steadied at 33⅝c.

Provisions showed a declining tendency, attributed to a rather liberal hog run West. First sales were unchanged to 5@7½c lower with July deliveries $15 for pork, $8.20 for lard and $8.02½ for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Rain in the Northwest Weakens the Wheat Prices.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 15.—Heavy rains in the Northwest during the past forty-eight hours, which are continuing now, gave the spring wheat sufficient moisture to prevent any damage from drouth for the next two weeks. This had a weakening factor in the market. Trading was of moderate volume. May closed 1⅞c lower than yesterday, July 1¼c lower, September 1⅜@1½c lower and December 1⅜@1½c lower. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 190,000 bu for two days. Minneapolis today received 190 cars of wheat against 329 a year ago; Duluth 40 against 21 and Winnipeg 130 against 132.

May opened 97⅞c, high 97⅞c, low 96⅞c, closed 96⅞c; July opened 98⅜c to 98¾c, high 98⅝@98⅞c, low 97⅝c, closed 91¼@91¼c; December opened 90⅞c, high 90⅞c, low 90⅜c, closed 90¾c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,962 tons. Market quoted strong and steady. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $21.50@22.00.

Flour—Weakness in wheat caused a decline in flour prices. Demand showed no improvement on the decline. Shipments, light; 34,761 bbl. First patents, in wood, f. o. b., Minneapolis, $4.60@4.90; second patents, $4.50@4.80; first clears, $3.20@3.65; second clears, $2.20@2.85.

Flax—Receipts, 11; year ago, 21; shipments, 2. Demand continued strong for both spot and to arrive at the even Duluth July price, closing $2.55.

Barley—Receipts, 58 cars; year ago, 79; shipments, 14. The market was quoted easier again today. Demand was slow and prices were quoted 1 to 2 cents lower than Saturday. Closing range, 60@94c.

Hogs—Receipts, 2,200; market, light; price range, $5.90@6.15; bulk of sales, $5.95@6.10. Sheep—Receipts, 100; light; sheep, $1.00@4.25; lambs, $2.50@5.25.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—Barrett & Zimmerman report: Trade is slow in all classes of horses, and it appears as though the movement was gradually contracting to summer proportions. On account of the inactivity in railroad construction, the call for mules and general-purpose horses is very limited, and dealers anticipate a dull summer season.

Traders Mark Time While Awaiting Decisions By Supreme Court.

Session Closes With Prices Showing Slight Gains for Day.

New York, May 15.—Small gains were made by a majority of the active stocks at the opening of the stock market today. Canadian Pacific led the list with an advance of a point, Northern Pacific gained ⅝ and Union Pacific and Western Maryland ½. Pennsylvania and American Sugar declined fractionally.

Small selling orders were distributed and the important stocks reacted to slightly below Saturday's closing. The tone improved later. Detroit-Edison sold at 115 compared with 107⅞, its previous sale last month. Manhattan declined 1½.

The advance in American stocks in London before the opening here resulted in a corresponding rise on the New York stock exchange, but prices soon fell back and the market became dull. Wall street spent the morning waiting for the convening of the supreme court. Other considerations were subordinated to the possibility that the court would announce its decision in the American Tobacco and Standard Oil cases, but preparations had been made so thoroughly, no nervousness was apparent in the market operations. Pennsylvania continued its recent downward movement, the price falling to 120⅝, a loss of nearly a point. The list otherwise showed a better undertone, and prices generally recovered to their opening high level. Bonds were steady.

The market closed irregular. Traders continued to mark time while awaiting definite news from Washington and little significance attached to the dealings. Philadelphia company improved 2¼. The session ended with the speculative tension unrelieved and with prices showing slight gains on the day.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 15.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 2 points on May and of 5 to 12 points on later positions under scattering liquidation and local selling inspired by weak cables and favorable weather in the South. One of the leading bull brokers was a seller of July during the early trading, but while this tended to create additional sentiment in favor of reaction, following the past several weeks of steady advances, offerings were well enough absorbed by trade interests and remaining shorts to hold the market steady with the active positions showing a rally of 2 or 3 points from the lowest during the middle of the morning.

Futures closed steady; closing bids: May, 15.60; June, 15.63; July, 15.70; August, 15.24; September, 13.68; October, 13.03; November, 12.90; December, 12.97; January, 12.92; March, 12.99. Spot closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 15.80; middling gulf 16.05. Sales, 1,232 bales.

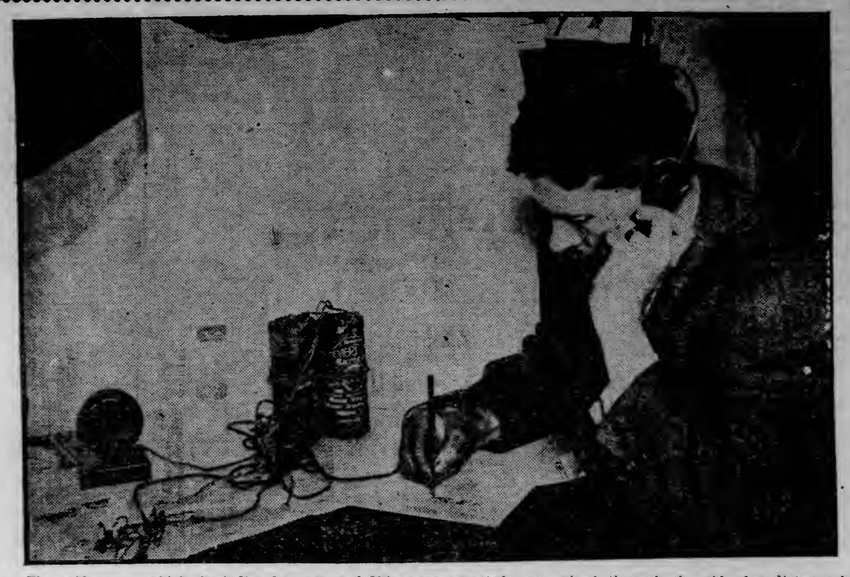
DICTAGRAPH USED BY BURNS' DETECTIVES



The evidence on which the indicted senators of Ohio were arrested was gained through the aid of a dictagraph, which the Burns' detectives had placed under a couch in their room. They had a stenographer in the adjoining room making shorthand notes of the conversation. This picture shows the stenographer and the dictagraph, the dry battery, wires, etc. The apparatus is in the hands of the prosecutor of Columbus for the purpose of evidence.

SITE WILL BE SELECTED

Dr. Vincent and Dean Woods to Make Final Choice.

Heads of University and Agriculture School Are Coming Wednesday.

Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, and Dean A. F. Woods of the agricultural school are expected to be in Duluth Wednesday to look over the sites recommended by Prof. Boss and Prof. Cooper for the Duluth demonstration farm school.

Dr. Vincent and Dean Woods left Minneapolis yesterday to visit the agricultural experimental stations in the northern part of the state. They were to visit Crookston today, the Grand Rapids station tomorrow and Duluth Wednesday.

It is expected that a site for the Duluth school will be selected within the next few weeks. Dean Woods and Dr. Vincent looked over the field last month. Prof. Boss and Prof. Cooper made a closer examination last week, and recommended that one of two sites named be selected. Dr. Vincent and Dean Woods are expected to make a final selection to recommend to the board of regents.

A soil expert was expected in Duluth Saturday to take samples of soil from the sites recommended, but nobody saw anything of him. It is very probable that he will come this week to examine the soil and obtain data to assist Dr. Vincent and Dean Woods in making their selection.

JOHN M. HARRIS IS ON TRIAL

Charged With Getting $1,400 By Fraudulent Horse Deal.

John M. Harris is on trial today before Judge J. D. Ensign of the district court. He is charged with having swindled John Runquist out of about $400 on a horse deal. The case is the first of the May term criminal calendar.

Harris represented to Mr. Runquist, it is claimed, that he was a brother of a man named Harris who is a prosperous contractor of Virginia, Minn. He asked for horses on credit and they were given him. He sold them, it is claimed.

Harris is the man who gave the county authorities such a fight before they could bring him back from the state of Iowa, where he went after the alleged offense in Duluth.

Assistant County Attorney Edward E. Greene appears in the case for the state, and Attorney Edward Kenny is defending.

Judge Martin Hughes came down from the range this morning to hold court here. Judge Dancer is holding court at Virginia. Judge Hughes will be in Duluth about two weeks, it is expected.

TELEPHONES OVERLOOKED

No Means of Communicating With County Building at Virginia.

The fact that in some way the matter of telephones for the district court building at Virginia was overlooked by the county commissioners at their last meeting is causing the county authorities some inconvenience.

In order to get any officer of the court at Virginia, it is necessary to call some individual or a hotel and have a messenger sent to notify the officer. Several witnesses were needed from Virginia this morning, and there was some delay in notifying the court officer at the range town.

The matter of telephones is thought to have been overlooked at the last meeting of the board. They cannot be installed until another meeting of the board, which will be on June 7.

It is also causing the Virginia officers some inconvenience, for each time they wish to call Duluth they have to stop their work ond go out for a telephone. It is expected that the telephone will be installed directly after the next meeting of the board.

TOKIO HONORS THE AMERICANS

Elaborate Functions for Men of the Asiatic Fleet.

Yokohama, Japan, May 15. — The city is bright with the colors of America and Japan in honor of 600 American bluejackets from the Asiatic fleet, who are the guests today of Mayor Arajawa and Yokohama. This afternoon the mayor gave a garden party, which was attended by fifty officers and 500 visiting soldiers.

Tonight the mayor gave a dinner for Admiral Hubard, at which were present officers of both navies, members of the American embassy and 200 native and American residents of the city. Cordial sentiments of mutual regard were exchanged by the speakers.

The functions arranged for the entertainment of the visitors are much more elaborate than any with which the naval representatives of other nations have been honored.

NOT BUYING STEEL.

South Shore Official Denies Reported Laying of New Rails.

Calumet, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—General Manager C. E. Lytle of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, while in Calumet Saturday, said as far as he knows the road is contemplating nothing in the way of improvement for several months. "Under present conditions the road cannot afford any improvements," said Mr. Lytle. "Business is too dull. As it is in the copper trade so it is in the iron trade." The South Shore does a large iron ore traffic, in fact this traffic is one of its big assets."

Mr. Lytle further stated that the reports circulated by Eastern financial and other papers that the South Shore is in the market for 15,000 tons of rails or any other amount of steel is untrue, as far as he can learn. The only reference Mr. Lytle would make to the recently passed 2-cent rate legislation in Michigan in connection with road improvements, was "We are not given encouragement to carry on any improvements or extensions." He laughed at the story that crops up periodically concerning the Soo line or the Canadian Pacific or any other line becoming further interested in his road. It is well known that both the South Shore and the Soo line are already Canadian Pacific subsidiaries, just as the mineral range is a subsidiary of the South Shore, although separately organized.

MONSTER LUTHERAN SERVICE.

Sixteen Thousand People Meet at Walther Anniversary.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—What is declared to have been the largest Lutheran devotional service since the days of Martin Luther, was held in the Coliseum Sunday when 16,000 persons gathered to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Rev. C. F. Walther, who is credited with reviving the Lutheran church in the United States. Four thousand Lutherans, many of them from Chicago and Milwaukee, were unable to get into the building.

The celebration was in connection with the session here of the Missouri synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, comprising 3,000 congregations in the United States with a membership of 900,000.

A chorus of 4,000 voices, including children, and students of Concordia seminary, founded by Dr. Walther in St. Louis, sang. Rev. Bente and Rev. W. T. Dau of Concordia seminary, Dr. H. G. Stub of Minneapolis and Dr. Schaller of Milwaukee addressed the assemblage.

As an outgrowth of the celebration a movement has been started to erect a statue of Walther in St. Louis.

The Missouri synod continues in session this week, taking up problems connected with Lutheran institutions in Fort Wayne, Ind., Milwaukee, San Francisco and New Orleans.

MOTHER'S DAY GENERALLY OBSERVED.

Mother's day was celebrated quite generally yesterday all over the city.

The florists did a rushing business in white carnations. Hundreds of them were sold and worn by Duluthians yesterday.

ALLEGED OPIUM SMUGGLER CAUGHT.

Montreal, May 15.—With the arrest of an express messenger in Plattsburg, N. Y., Sunday, customs officials of the United States and Canada announced that they had run down a gang of opium smugglers who have operated throughout America for months. Evidence has been obtained, they declared, involving twelve persons, ten of whom are Chinese, in the illegal traffic. The drug, they state, has been smuggled into Canada for some time and through Montreal into the United States. The discovery of the traffic followed an investigation of its increasing sale in New York, customs officials say.

MONTANA'S LARGEST COUNTY.

There are twenty-nine counties in Montana, and the state has a sufficient area so that it could contain 212 counties the size of Deer Lodge and 144 the size of Silver Bow. The largest county in the state, Chouteau, is almost equal in area to three of the Eastern states, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Vermont. Rhode Island is the smallest state in the Union, 1,250 square miles, not much larger than Silver Bow county, according to the Butte Miner.

Chouteau is the largest in the Northwest, 16,040 square miles being its area. The next largest county in the Northwest is Unita county in Wyoming, its area being 13,368 square miles. The largest counties in the following Northwestern states are as follows: Idaho, Idaho county, 11,074 square miles; Oregon, Harney county, 9,986 square miles; Washington, Okanogan county, 5,318 square miles.

Montana is the third largest state in the Union, Texas being first in area with 265,780 square miles; California second with 158,360 square miles, and New Mexico fourth with 122,580 square miles.

This is a "new-fashioned town"—and the increasing use of want advertising proves it; for want advertising is the newest-fashioned utility of them all!!

LEGAL NOTICES.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

STATE OF MINNESOTA, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, May 5, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that on June 21, 1911, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor, at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands, and also those state lands which have reverted to the State by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1912, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year, provided the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal if paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at time of sale.

Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the State.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.

D. H., May 8, 15, 22, 29, 1911.

SUMMONS—

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court.

THE PETITION OF Enrico Salfanelli as representative of the above named decedent, together with his final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on his bond,

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday, the 5th day of June, 1911, at 10 o'clock a. m. and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., May 8, 1911.

By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal, Probate Court, St. Louis County, Minn.)

INSURRECTOS YIELD POINT IN DEMANDS ON THE GOVERNMENT

Modify Proposal Regarding Makeup of the New Cabinet.

Diaz Will Resign Within Three Months, Say the Leaders.

Chihuahua Is Expected to Be the Next City Attacked.

City of Mexico, May 16.—Rioting and pillage occurred at Pachuca during the early hours of today, following the surrender of the city to the revolutionists. The rebels became drunk and defied their commanders. The townspeople, in terror, barricaded their homes and remained concealed. The banks were dynamited and looted.

Pachuca is a mining city of 40,000 people, capital of the state of Hidalgo, and sixty miles northeast of Mexico City.

Juarez, Mex., May 16.—Upon whether the Mexican government will grant to the insurrectos permission to name three members of the cabinet and the governors of fourteen of the twenty-seven Mexican states, depends the issue of restoring peace in Mexico.

This proposition, a slight modification of the original demand of the rebels, which called for four portfolios in the cabinet, is the reply which will be made today to the offer of the federal government of one cabinet member and ten governorships as the price of peace.

The answer of the government is expected here tonight.

Judge Carbajal has authority to arrange peace on the latter basis, but in his talk with Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., last night, it was indicated to him that the rebels must have at least three portfolios, and these should be the all-important posts of minister of war, minister of justice and minister of gobernacion, which has jurisdiction over the interior state administrations of Mexico.

Give Government Majority.

The rebels feel that in yielding from

MANY NEW FARMS WILL BE RESULT

Pennington and Red Lake Counties to Profit By Latest Land Opening.

Crookston, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rush at the United States land office here continued this morning and by noon nearly 200 tracts of land, mostly in Pennington county and some in Red Lake county had been filed upon. Out of fifty of the filers who were interviewed, forty-two stated that they intended to develop their farms this summer, some all and some part. The opening means an immense development of Pennington county the present year.

Many will seed flax on land broken up at once and others will prepare for another crop year. All practically are bona fide settlers and are not trying merely to hold the land. There promises to be a large number of contests as many filed on the same piece of land and a great deal of litigation will result. Many of the men in line are remaining over here to start proceedings at once.

SIXTH WRECK FOR ZEPPELIN

Airship Deutschland Is Completely Smashed While Starting.

Eight Passengers and Crew Escape Unhurt From Accident.

Duesseldorf, Rhinish Prussia, May 16.—After a career of six weeks, the Deutschland, last of the models of Count Zeppelin's ill-fated dirigible balloons, stranded today on the roof of its shed, a total wreck.

The finish of the airship was less spectacular than of its predecessors, but more complete. Fortunately the crew and passengers escaped injury.

The accident occurred as the Deutschland was being released for a passenger trip. Eight passengers, four men and four women, had seated themselves comfortably in the cabin, the members of the crew were at their posts and 200 men on the ground hung to the guide ropes as the powerful craft slowly emerged from her berth and, under

SAYS PEOPLE DO NOT FEAR THE TRUSTS NOW

WOODROW WILSON, Governor of New Jersey.

COAST MEN HEAR WILSON

New Jersey Man Talks of Corporations and Corporate Control.

Declares Successful Business and Just Politics Are Not in Enmity.

Berkeley, Cal., May 16.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, delivered the annual address of the Phi Beta Kappa at the University of California this afternoon. He spoke in the Greek theater before a large audience, his address dealing with corporations and their control. He said in part:

"We are no longer afraid of our corporations as we used to be, because we are beginning to understand just what they are. There was a time when our feeling about them was almost one of panic. Now we know that when they become hurtful they can and should be restrained or abolished. The individual cannot compete with them. He must, therefore, be protected against them. They must be made to understand.

Dealing With Men.

"Moreover, it should be recognized as a fundamental principle of our law in dealing with them, that though we call them artificial persons, the only persons we are really going to deal with in imposing the penalties of the law upon them are the persons who constitute their directors and officers. We ought by this time to have seen the futility—I might even say the silliness—of trying to punish illegal action by penalizing corporations as such. Fines punish the stockholder; forfeiture of charter and of the franchise which they are exercising

HOPES TO BRING UP THE OFFICERS

War Department Tells Plans for Coming Reorganization.

Washington, May 16.—In execution of the project for the re-establishment of the great army divisions, the war department is considering the selection of the commanding officers, who are to be major generals wherever possible. The divisional officers will give attention to the purely military business, leaving the department commanders to deal with administrative detail. The object is to develop officers capable of handling great army units.

There is at present but one division, that of the Philippines. Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell presumably will retain that command. The three new divisions will be entirely within the United States.

At New York, a major general will make his headquarters on Governor's Island, commanding the Eastern division, while the Department of the East will be in command of a brigadier at Fort Totten, in New York harbor. The command of the Department of the Gulf will remain at Atlanta.

Commandant at St. Paul.

The headquarters of the Central division will be Chicago, with brigadier-generals or colonels in command of the Departments of the Lakes, the Missouri and Texas, at St. Paul, St. Louis and San Antonio, respectively. The existing Departments of Colorado and Dakota will be merged into these three departments.

The headquarters of the Western division will be San Francisco, the Department of California, making headquarters at the Presidio, and the Department of Columbia at Vancouver barracks, Washington.

The change will go into effect July 1.

"HERETICS" TO FACE CHURCH

Three Cases Will Come Before Presbyterian General Assembly.

Important Questions of Administration Also on Program.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 16.—Prominent among the matters to be taken up by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, which meets for its 123rd annual session here on Thursday, will be the question of alleged heretic utterances by several clergymen; the reduction of representation, both lay and clerical; the grouping of the several boards that carry on the work of the church organization and the question of adopting an intermediate catechism.

One of the other things to be done will be the election of a moderator to succeed Charles Little of Wabash, Ind. Four names have thus far been mentioned for the honor, Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Hinitt, Danville, Ky., Rev. John Dixon, Trenton, N. J., Rev. John F. Carson, Brooklyn, and Rev. Mark A. Matthews, Seattle, Wash.

Three Heresy Cases.

The heresy cases involve Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, president of the Union Theological seminary; Dr. William A. Brown, professor of systematic theology of the same institution, and Rev. Dr. William D. Grant of Northumberland, Pa., a graduate of Union seminary. The case against the two Browns was taken up by the presbytery of Pittsburg, which refused to overture the general assembly to inquire into alleged heretical articles printed in religious publications by them, but two other presbyteries, Iowa and West Jer-

WANT WORCESTER REGIME PROBED

Professional Men Criticize Management of Philippine Affairs.

Washington, May 16.—A petition to congress signed by publishers, clergymen, professors, scientists and others requesting a special inquiry into the manner in which D. C. Worcester has discharged his duties as commissioner of the Philippine islands, was submitted to the house today by Representative Slayden of Texas.

The petition in the form of a resolution and charges that Commissioner Worcester "has become notoriously unpopular among the natives, the final and culminating evidence of which was given by a resolution unanimously adopted by the general assembly of the Philippine islands as the closing act of its last session."

Among the petitioners are E. H. Clement, former editor of the Boston Transcript; John Ritchie, Boston Scientific society; Frederick Starr, University of Chicago; Lucius F. C. Garvin, ex-governor of Rhode Island; Oswald G. Villard, New York, and Rev. A. A. Berle, People's church, Boston.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS AGAINST THE OFFICIALS OF STANDARD OIL MAY BE STARTED, IS REPORT AT WASHINGTON

NO HONEST ENTERPRISE NEED FEAR SHERMAN LAW

That Is Assured By Standard Oil Decision, Say Duluth Attorneys.

Nothing Now to Prevent Return to Normal Business Conditions.

What is the significance of the Standard Oil decision of the supreme court?

What effect will it have upon the business of the country, and upon other large corporations?

The Herald today put these questions to a number of the most prominent attorneys in the city, whose opinions should be of value.

J. L. Washburn made the following statement regarding the effect of the decision, and its meaning:

"I am of the opinion that the decision in the Standard Oil case will clarify the atmosphere. The case appears to have been decided on the record of the company with its competitors. It seems to me, from reading the newspaper reports of the decision, that the court has adopted the principle that neither the size or form of the business association is to control in determining whether the law is being violated, but that each case under the law is to be determined upon the merits as to the methods employed in the conduct of business. That the question to be decided in each case upon that basis is whether there has been undue or unreasonable restraint of trade.

The Rule of Reason.

"With the law thus applied, no corporation has anything to fear by virtue of the magnitude of its business or the form of its organization, if it does not violate this controlling principle. The court has applied the rule of reason rather than a narrow and technical rule.

"As to the Standard Oil company itself, I doubt if the general public, the consumers, have any real grievance. The company has furnished the world and the dark places of the world with a cheap and safe lighting fuel. It has delivered the commodity at the very doors of the consumers and much of its great profit has been made by the elimination of the army of middlemen that fatten upon a succession of added profits between the producer and the consumer.

"The business organization of the Standard Oil company is the most complete and wonderful the world has ever seen. The consumers and stockholders of the company have all profited by this. If the effect of this decision should be to drive the Standard Oil

OVER $100,000 LOSS IN FIRE

Conflagration at Carlisle, Ky., Defies Efforts to Check It.

Carlisle, Ky., May 16.—Fire which started here early today has already caused damage estimated at between $100,000 and $200,000, and is not yet under control. Seven large warehouses have been destroyed and the fire threatens the destruction of other buildings.

Paris has been asked to send engines to assist in fighting the blaze. The buildings already detroyed are the Barnal tobacco warehouse, Hilton & Alles tobacco warehouse, Judy tobacco warehouse, Booth tobacco warehouse, Cow & Weaver tobacco warehouse, Stewart Hay & Grain company's building, and the Blue Grass Produce company's building.

Thousands of pounds of tobacco stored in the tobacco warehouses is a total loss.

STOCKS OPEN WITH A RUSH

Market Is Strong and Gains Mark the Progress of Trading.

American Tobacco Furnishes the Sensation of the Session.

New York, May 16.—The stock market opened up strong today, fulfilling the promises of the earlier transactions on the London stock exchange. On the curb a sale of 100 shares of Standard Oil was reported at 675, a decline of 4¾ points from yesterday's closing price. The general list on the exchange remained firm and followed the London market, where the vanced 2 points on heavy transactions ant.

United States Steel in one block of 15,000 shares sold at 77 to 78, a maximum gain of 2⅛ points. Reading adtone toward the close was almost buoyand Union Pacific was up 1⅜.

Tobacco Gained Most.

The most sensational gain, however, was shown by American Tobacco stock, which opened at 475, a gain of 10 points over the closing yesterday, when a decision in the case against that corporation was expected to accompany the Standard Oil decision.

Much of the trading in the London market was for New York account. A

SAYS IT IS DANGEROUS

Senator La Follette Comments on Decision of the Supreme Court.

Statements Are Made By Kenyon, Kellogg and Wickersham.

Washington, May 16.—Speaking of the Standard Oil decision, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin said:

"I look at it as a dangerous decision; for if it be true, as Justice Harlan indicates, that combinations to be unlawful must be in 'unreasonable' restraint of trade, the court has written into the statute a word congress refused to insert and for which the trusts fought and were defeated."

Senator Kenyon of Iowa said:

"Compulsory jail sentence for violators of the law is the one thing now needed."

Kellogg Is Pleased.

"It is a complete victory for the government," said Frank B. Kellogg, who as special counsel for the government, has assisted in the prosecution of the Standard Oil case.

TAFT AND HIS ADVISERS IN CONFERENCE

Supreme Court Decision Is Discussed By the Cabinet.

"Reasonable Restraint" Clause Opens New Field of Litigation.

Federal Incorporation Act May Be Pressed Before Congress.

Washington, May 16.—Attorney General Wickersham may consider criminal prosecutions of the officials of the Standard Oil company. It was learned today that some of the officials of the government hold that there is opportunity for such a proceeding under the decision given by the supreme court yesterday.

There is no authority for the statement that the department of justice is formulating criminal proceedings, but such action is one of the features of the aftermath of the case which may be considered.

Discussed By Cabinet.

The government's policy in dealing with trusts and combinations of capital, as it must be shaped in the light of the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case, was discussed by President Taft and his cabinet today.

Undoubtedly, the action of the court in recognizing and legalizing "a reasonable restraint" of interstate commerce, opens a new field of litigation in the government's war upon monopolies,

WISCONSIN FOR THE INCOME TAX

Senate Passes Resolution Already Adopted By House.

Madison, Wis., May 16.—The resolution for the federal income tax amendment was concurred in by the senate today. It has already passed the house.

Albany, N. Y., May 16.—Governor Dix today sent a letter to Speaker Frisbie of the assembly, urging the house to take action on the pending income tax amendment to the United States Constitution. The governor believes the income tax pledge of the Rochester platform is binding upon the Democratic party.

The Wagner resolution ratifying the amendment passed the senate April 19, and has since been held up in the assembly judiciary committee.

STATEMENT BY ELLIOTT

General Solicitor of Oil Trust Gives Brief Interview.

Says Plans for Future Have Not Yet Been Formulated.

New York, May 16.—The first word from the Standard Oil company on the decision against it yesterday of the United States supreme court, came today. It makes two points clear:

First, that there will be no contumacy by the company—it purposes to obey the decree; and, second, that it will be some time before any plans of reorganization are given out. The company has insisted throughout that no plans had been formulated in advance of the decree, and the statement made today by Mortimer F. Elliott, general solicitor for the company, takes the same attitude.

Will Carry on Business.

He said:

"Having only before us the press reports of Chief Justice White's oral opinion and the remarks of Justice Harlan, and not having yet seen the opinion of the court in full, it is impossible to make any lengthy statement. The full opinion must be read

MEYERS IN TOILS AGAIN

Son of Iowa Lumberman Again Arrested on Forgery Charge.

Was Out on Parole From Prison Following Former Escapade.

Dwight J. Meyers, son of a wealthy Iowa lumberman, who cut a wide swath in Duluth a year ago when he passed a bunch of forged checks in this city and spent the proceeds on a chorus girl whom he was following, was arrested at Hibbing this morning.

Meyers is wanted here for having passed over $400 in forged checks on local concerns. Among others who were caught by his operations, it is claimed were Bagley & Co., jewelers and the Holland hotel. He tried to pass checks on the Fitwell Clothing company and the McKay hotel. Several other concerns were victimized by him. He also succeeded in passing a check for $15 on the Duluth Y. M. C. A.

The last time Meyers was arrested he was taken back to Minneapolis, where he pleaded guilty to forgery. He was sentenced to Stillwater for two years. Recently he was released on parole, and went to work for the Cloquet Lumber company at Cloquet. But he seemed unable to hew to the straight and narrow path. Several days ago he started to pass worthless paper again, it is charged. Two days ago it was learned that he was in Duluth, and D. H. Knickerbocker, assistant state agent stationed at Stillwater, came here looking for him.

Yesterday it was thought that he was as good as captured, but in some manner he eluded the authorities. The range authorities were notified to be on the lookout for him, and this morning he was apprehended at Hibbing.

Agent Knickerbocker stated this morning that he is grateful for the assistance rendered him by both the Duluth and the Superior police. Both did all in their power to help him round up Meyers, whom he wanted badly. He was accompanied by a representative of the Cloquet Lumber company. They spent most of last night going through hotels and depots in Superior, after they felt certain that he had left this city.

Meyers is a young, good-looking man. He wears good clothes and shows good breeding. The police say that passing checks seems to be a mania with him, and that his mind must be partially unbalanced. When he registered at a local cafe he had even the audacity to sign his own name, although he must have known that the police were looking for him. He got a book of blank checks on the First National Bank of Cloquet by opening a small account there.

CONSISTENT CLOTHES

Consistency in dress is the real secret of satisfaction. All patterns are not suited to all men any more than are all models.

We make it a featuro of this store to provide the consistencies. They will appeal to you strongly—apart even from the intrinsic merit of Oak Hall garments. As a result you won't look as if you had "borrowed" some one's else clothes. They are becoming; the patterns are accurately matched; the style will suit both the pattern and you harmoniously.

That's one of the detail features that "factory" work cannot attain. It takes the Oak Hall system to achieve it—and the price makes no difference—

ATTACKED BY FAMILY

Wife and Son Turned in to Help Wilson Knight.

Charles Carlson Badly Battered When He Appears for Warrant.

Wilson Knight of Twenty-third avenue east and Water street was arrested this morning on a charge of assault, and warrants have been issued for the arrest of his wife and one of his children on the same charge.

The complaint against the Knight family was made by Charles Carlson, who claims that they beat him unmercifully with their fists, sticks and stones. His head was swathed in bandages when he appeared at the police station to swear out the warrants and he had some bad cuts and bruises on his face.

The police state that the Knight family has had trouble in the past, both since they removed to their present address and while they were living in the West end.

It is claimed that Knight had been allowing his live stock to run at large, and that Carlson had sent a request to him to keep them within proper bounds. It seems that Knight met Carlson near their home, being close neighbors, and attacked him. Carlson is said to have thrown Knight to the ground, when the others of his family rallied to his assistance, beating him with sticks and stones. Carlson's head and face shows that he received considerable punishment.

When the police went to the Knight home this morning, Mrs. Knight was not brought to headquarters, as she claimed to be ill and unable to go. The boy for whom a warrant was issued, is said to be under age, and will be turned over to the juvenile court.

WASTE MAY BE CUT DOWN

Poultry Expert Says Carelessness Puts Burden on Everybody.

Will Talk to Duluth Commission Men and Retail Dealers.

The arousing of commission men to the fact that eggs exist before they find their way to the commission house and the bringing of farmers and shippers to a realization of the fact that they owe a duty to receivers and consumers as well as to themselves is the task which Prof. N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry division of the extension department of the state agricultural school, has set out to perform.

By careful calculation, Mr. Chapman has determined that Minnesota wastes from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 annually by careless handling of eggs and poultry. He has set out to prevent that waste by instructing shippers in proper methods of handling and by obtaining the assistance of receivers in impressing on shippers the necessity for greater care in making consignments.

The loss caused by careless handling of poultry products is widely distributed. Much of it falls on the farmer on account of the low price he is paid for his eggs in case lots. Some falls on the shipper, who loses on breakage and eggs candled out. The commission merchant must stand his share of the expense, although he has his loss figured out pretty well on expectations, while the ultimate consumer pays high prices for his eggs and is lucky if he gets good ones then.

Poultry that is not properly fatted for the market puts another loss on everybody concerned. Mr. Chapman believes that much of this loss can be eliminated.

Mr. Chapman will be in Duluth the latter part of this week. Friday evening he will address commission men, retail dealers in eggs and poultry and all others interests in the subject. He is enlisting the support of the city commission men and dealers in the work which he will do among the shippers in the smaller towns of the state and he is anxious to meet all Duluth men interested in the subject in order to explain just what he proposes to do.

For the next two and one-half months, or until the county fairs demand his time for poultry judging and instruction work, Mr. Chapman will travel through the poultry producing districts of the state. He will impress upon shippers the necessity of careful candling in order to bring the percentage of loss on case shipments lower and raise the general price to the farmer. He will instruct farmers in methods of marketing eggs and fatting poultry. He will work to have better poultry and better eggs sent to the market and by raising the standard of the products, eliminating waste and bettering conditons for farmers, shippers, commission men, retailers and consumers.

HERMAN BEIER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

HERMAN BEIER.

Herman Beier, 54 years of age, one of the well known pioneer residents of the city, died early this morning at his home, 1528 East Fourth street. His health had been failing the last two years, and last September he suffered a nervous breakdown which compelled his retirement from active business.

Mr. Beier came to Duluth in 1883, engaging in the carpet and drapery business. In 1894 he entered the employ of W. M. Prindle & Co., in the insurance and rental department, and was with them until ill health compelled him to retire last September.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Frieda and Helen and a brother, Gustave Beier, all of Duluth; two brothers and a sister in Detroit, and a sister in California. Mr. Beier came to Duluth from Detroit.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed, further than it is expected that it will take place Thursday.

POACHERS GAVE GAME WARDEN PICTURES OF THEIR FISH

If you are such a poor sportsman that you will use seines and nets to get fish, also be a big enough goat to get acquainted with every stranger that comes in the neighborhood. And if you have any photographs, not only show them to him, but make him a present of them. They'll come in useful as evidence.

Several days ago Deputy Game Warden G. H. Huseby was sent to a lake not so many miles from here to investigate complaints against a party said to be pulling out boatloads of fish with nets. He stayed in the neighborhood for a while and became acquainted with the men in the party. One of them was a photographer, and had taken some views of the fish which they had caught illegally.

Not satisfied with showing them to the stranger, they made him a present of half a dozen of the photos of their "prowess." Which didn't hurt the feelings of the game warden a bit. He swore out warrants for the arrest of the men, and with the evidence in his possession, in the form of the photographs, he brought them into court. The poachers knew that Huseby had the "goods on them," and wasted no time in pleading guilty, paying heavy fines. Among others he got a picture of one of the poachers with as fine a string of big fish over his shoulder as one could wish to see on catch. The only trouble was that they were not caught legally.

MAY END STATE'S SUIT FOR OUSTER

Minnesota Action Depends on Result of Oil Trust Decision.

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dissolution of the Standard Oil company as ordered by the United States supreme court, may end the suit brought against the company by the attorney general two years ago to oust it from this state for violating the petroleum anti-discrimination law. The case is still pending in the Ramsey county district court, on its merits.

When the suit was instituted the Standard company filed a demurrer to the complaint, alleging that the act prohibiting the selling of petroleum or its products at different prices in different parts of the state was unconstitutional. Judge Bunn, then on the district bench, upheld the contention and the state appealed to the supreme court. Last year the court reversed this finding—holding that the act was legal and the Standard Oil company subject to its provisions. Thus the matter now stands, with the case ready for trial on its merits, as originally introduced.

To Prevent Varying Prices.

The act is intended to prevent oil companies from selling their products in Beltrami county for 11¼ cents a gallon, for instance, in the Twin Cities for 10 cents a gallon; in Winona for 9 cents a gallon, or for 3 cents a gallon where there is competition.

"If the company is dissolved," said Attorney General Simpson this morning, "and another is not organized to take its place, the case will end. If there is merely a reorganization, the case probably will be fought on through the courts."

WOULD AMEND SHERMAN LAW

Several Congressmen Are Said to Be Desirous of Such Action.

"Reasonable Restraint" Clause Causes Divergence of Opinion.

Washington, May 16.—Divergent views were expressed today by members of congress on the supreme court's interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law in the Standard Oil case.

Several Democrats are said to be ready to offer amendments nullifying the court's interpretation of the law as regards "reasonable" restraint," but there is little prospect, say the leaders, of any action being taken at this time.

"A wonderfully wise decision, which will be of great good to the business interests of the country," was the way Senator Clark of Wyoming, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, characterized the decision. "It was, in my opinion, a correct interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust act and will do much to help all business."

Representative Mann, minority leader of the house and former chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, was equally hearty in the indorsement.

Mann Greatly Pleased.

"I am greatly pleased with the decision," he said. "Of course, there has been a question as to whether the use of the word 'unreasonable' was a usurpation of the legislative powers of congress. If the court, however, had merely contented itself with the declaration that the Standard Oil company was a monopoly in restraint of trade, and had made no attempt to make a distinction between a corporation engaged in unreasonable restraint and one engaged in reasonable restraint of trade, no man could tell the effect of such a decision on the corporations of this country. I am satisfied that either chaos would have resulted or congress immediately would have been forced to enact remedial legislation."

Representative Adamson, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, disagreed with Mr. Mann.

Adamson Disagrees.

"The supreme court," said Mr. Adamson, whose views reflect those of other Democrats, "was without constitutional power to write the word 'unreasonable' into the Sherman anti-trust law. The trusts of the country sought vainly to amend the law by inserting that word. Now the supreme court does the very thing congress expressly refused to do."

Illinois Senate Practically Decides Against Such Action.

Resolution Scoring Judge Petit Introduced at Springfield.

Springfield Ills., May 16.—The Illinois senate practically decided today not to appeal from the decision of Judge Adler J. Petit, freeing Edward Tilden, W. C. Cummings and George M. Benedict on writs of habeas corpus.

Senator Charles Hurburgh of Galesburg, leader of the majority faction, introduced a resolution in which was a paragraph advising that no appeal be made, inasmuch as the outcome was doubtful.

Under the rules the resolution lays on the table for a day, but is certain of adoption tomorrow.

The Hurburgh resolution scored Judge Petit, holding that his action constituted an unwarranted and unlawful interference with the rights of the senate in the discharge of its duty.

Arrested at Senate's Instance.

Tilden, Cummings and Benedict were arrested at the instance of the senate for contempt of that body in failing to produce documents and records before the committee in connection with the investigation into the election of Senator William Lorimer. The defendants were freed on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Petit of Chicago.

The resolution in part says:

"The effect of the court's decision practically prevents a full, complete and thorough investigation into a condition of affairs which, if true, constitute one of the gravest offenses that can be committed against free government, and one which takes from the people of a sovereign state the right of choosing their own representatives in the national assembly.

Blames the Judge.

"We believe that the action of Judge Petit constitutes an unwarranted and unlawful interference with the rights and prerogatives of this senate in the discharge of its duty."

INHERITANCE TAX OF $1,200

Estate of Thomas R. Lyon Valued at More Than $100,000.

An inheritance tax of $1,219.86 was paid in at the probate office on the estate of the late Thomas R. Lyon, a wealthy land owner of Chicago, Ill., this morning. Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell represented the estate in the probate court proceedings.

Mr. Lyon died some months ago at his home at Chicago. He owned large tracts of land in St. Louis county. His estate is valued at over $100,000.

The tax paid in this morning is the largest paid at the local probate office in some months.

FOR STRIKING MOTHER.

Henry P. O'Donnell Arrested by Chief Troyer on Railroad Tracks.

Henry P. O'Donnell, residing near Fifteenth avenue east and London road, was arrested by Chief Troyer on the Iron Range tracks as he was trying to run away. A telephone call was received at the police station for an officer, the report being that O'Donnell was beating his mother. Chief Troyer hurried to the scene and saw O'Donnell trying to get away. He rounded him up after a short chase and booked him at headquarters on a charge of assault.

O'Donnell was not arraigned in police court this morning, but he denied at the station that he had struck his mother.

CASHEL, N. D., ELEVATOR DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Monarch Elevator company's elevator at Cashel, Walsh county, was destroyed by fire this morning. About 3,300 bushels of grain were destroyed with a total loss of about $10,000. The intense heat of the fire delayed a passing passenger train about two hours.

PUBLIC HEARING ON LODGING HOUSE ORDINANCE.

Alderman James A. Wharton, chairman of the council committee on ordinances and resolutions, announced at the council meeting last night that his committee would hold a public hearing on the lodging house ordinance at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

The proposed ordinance has had considerable publicity, and it is expected that a large crowd will appear to speak for and against it. Some of those owning lodging houses claim that some of the provisions of the ordinance are too stringent, although the ordinance is so drawn that it will not take effect in lodging houses now running until late next fall.

Later in the same afternoon the committee will also hold a hearing on the amended pool room ordinance, which is drawn to make the local ordinance comply with the state law.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 11 DULUTH, MAY 16, 1911

A knowledge of the prices paid for City Lighting by a considerable number of other leading cities in their respective States is pretty good evidence for any man as to whether the price of $45.00 now offered Duluth by the Duluth-Edison Electric Company is high or low—fair or unfair.

In "Lighting Talk" No. 10 we showed you the yearly price for each arc light now paid by some thirty American cities. Here are the yearly prices for another group of cities. These figures are officially certified. If you doubt their correctness, YOU can get them for yourself by writing to the cities named, just as we did.

*Detroit is lighted by a Municipal Plant; $50.00 per lamp per year is the cost reported to City Council by Superintendent of that plant.

You will note that these cities have NOT been selected at random. We have taken the alphabetical list of leading American cities and shall show you the information obtained from a further group of them in our next "Lighting Talk," in next Thursday's Herald.

This company not only offers to light Duluth at the EXTREMELY LOW price of $45 a year per arc light, but also to give the City FREE lighting worth $1,500 a year. Other cities as a rule get no free lights.

We have had a good many years' experience in this business, and we know that if the City builds a Municipal Lighting Plant, it will cost the taxpayers a great deal more than $45 per arc light per year. Look at Detroit, for example—and Detroit has 4,000 arc lights, as compared with Duluth's 647 lights.

We GUARANTEE a Square Deal to the City and to every customer.

TWO WASHOUTS AND ONE WRECK CAUSED BY STORM

Cloudburst Carries Out Great Northern Culvert Near Dedham.

Last night's terrific storm caused two washouts and one wreck on the railroads entering Duluth.

A rain that started shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued more or less steadily until some time this morning, a wind that attained a velocity of forty miles an hour at times, a temperature that sent the mercury down to 40 deg. at 7 o'clock this morning, and a chilling fog that enveloped Duluth this morning combined to make the last twenty-four hours about as unpleasant from a weather standpoint as anybody could fear at this season of the year.

The total rainfall for the thirty-six hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning was 1.32 inches, but the driving wind that lashed Duluth with the falling water last night made the rainfall seem much heavier. No damage on account of the rain was reported in the city.

The only accident traced to the storm was the derailing of the Great Northern night train to the Twin Cities. The train, which left Duluth at 11:10 last night, ran into a washout about twelve miles from Superior. Nobody was injured. The engine and baggage car left the track. A fire of unknown origin started in a day coach and damaged the smoker and chair car.

The high wind from the northeast made the storm more uncomfortable and less beneficial in Duluth than elsewhere. While the temperature in Duluth this morning was 40 deg., it was 70 deg. in St. Paul and ranged from 50 to 60 deg. in Western Minnesota and North and South Dakota. The rain was general through the growing district and was a great aid to vegetation.

A continuation of the unsettled condition is predicted for tonight and tomorrow. The wind will continue easterly and will be brisk at times. Showers may be expected and cool temperatures will prevail.

Two Washouts.

The Soo and Great Northern are the only two Head of the Lakes roads to report washouts.

The washout on the Soo, which delayed the arrival of the Chicago train until some time past the noon hour, occurred at Way, Minn., and, according to the statement given out at the local Soo office, was not serious in its nature.

The track there was washed out, necessitating the delay of the train until the cavity in the embankment could be filled in.

All along the Soo in the vicinity of Duluth the rainfall is reported exceedingly heavy and local officials of the line unite in saying that any slight damage that may have been caused by the rain will more than be made up for by the good that will be done the farmers along the right-of-way.

The South Shore train was delayed for over an hour and a half today, but, according to the statement of several of the officials of the road, the delay was not due in the least to a washout or any damage to the track, but several unavoidable causes in waiting at connecting points.

The Omaha was on time, though the rain was heavy along some parts of the line. The heaviest rainfall on the Omaha was in the vicinity of Duluth and no serious, or even slight damage, has been reported to the local officials.

All reports that have come in through the different railroad offices are to the effect that the rain is doing the farmers along the various right-of-ways a great deal of good, and is just the thing that the farmers have been looking for.

Great Northern Wreck.

In regard to the Great Northern wreck Supt. Philbin made the following statement:

"In order that you may have the actual facts, I beg to advise that I was a passenger in Train 17, out of Duluth last evening, and was on the ground within a few minutes after the derailment occurred and the facts are as follows:

"The train was No. 17, Engine 929, Engineer Raaflaub, Fireman W. Thede, Conductor Ames, Brakeman C. A. Frost and Flagman Earl Smith. The train consisted of one baggage and express car, one smoker, one first-class coach and three sleepers. An extremely heavy rain storm had prompted the engineer to run slow and carefully, but upon rounding what is known as Balsam curve, twenty-one miles out of Duluth and about three miles south or west of Dedham, engine, baggage car and smoker were derailed by a washed out culvert and soon after the baggage car and smoking car caught fire. The wrecked cars were so derailed as to prevent the coaches being uncoupled and baggage car, smoker and first-class coach were destroyed by fire. The three sleepers in the rear were not derailed or damaged in any way, and the passengers have our thanks for their assistance in separating these sleepers from the burning coaches and saving them, by shoving them back by hand.

"There were about sixty passengers on the train and the shock to those in the train was so slight that some of those in the sleeping cars did not even wake up, but were afterwards called by the porters, fearing that the whole train might burn up, and only one pasenger, so far as we could learn, was injured. He is Mr. W. A. Crippen of Minneapolis, and is now resting under doctor's care at St. Mary's hospital, Superior, and doctor's first report is that injury does not seem at all serious and we hope he will be all right in a day or two.

"A special engine and crew were sent from Superior and brought the three sleeping cars with all the passengers from the wreck, back to Superior, where the sleepers were made into a special train and started for St. Paul, routd via Northern Pacific tracks, Superior to Hinckley and Great Northern tracks, Hinckley to St. Paul, and should reach their destination before noon today.

"The accident was purely the result of a cloudburst. I have been familiar with the district for twelve years and never saw half as much water in it before. The Nett rivers, Balsam creek, Nemadji river and Bluff creek are running with overflowed banks.

"All baggage, mail and express was destroyed by fire, there being no time or possibility of saving it. Baggage and express was light as was also the mail."

SERIOUS RIOT IN GRAND RAPIDS

Four Men Are in Jail and Six Policemen Hurt—Mobs Keep Forming.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 16.—As the result of last night's strike trouble four strikers are locked up in police station, six policemen are nursing minor bruises and the riddled windows of the John Addicomb factory show the effects of the long bombardment with stones. No serious damage was done despite the threatening aspects of the situation.

This morning crowds again gathered around the factory, which, because of the efforts of the management to continue in operation and because of its location in the heart of the Polish residence district, is the scene of the trouble. The police kept the crowds moving.

After a fierce battle with revolvers, clubs, stones and missiles of almost every description, last night, a fire engine company attacked the mob of nearly 2,000 with streams of water and succeeded in quelling the disturbance. Many women were active among the rioters. A force of officers patroled the district all night.

DOCTOR SAYS MRS. TAFT CONTINUES TO IMPROVE.

Business and Politics.

"The responsibility for violating the law, or for neglecting public interests, ought to fall upon them as individuals.

"Let us clearly recognize and everywhere proclaim that successful business and just politics are not antagonistic. The business of society is cooperation, not warfare and antagonism. If everybody will come with clean hands and a pure purpose into the common game of life, there need be no clash or hurtful rivalry. It is only when a part tries to control and dominate the whole that society must rise in its might and restore the proper balance."

statement given out by the attorney have read the opinion, hastily of course, but have seen enough to know that the government was sustained by the court on every point contended for."

Comment by Wickersham.

Commenting upon the Standard Oil decision last night, Attorney General Wickersham said that the court unanimously affirms the decree entered by the circuit court in favor of the government, in every particular save that it gives the defendants six months instead of thirty days in which to comply with the decree.

"Substantially every proposition contended for by the government in this case is affirmed by the supreme court," said the attorney general in a statement issued by the department. "In the reasoning by which the chief justice reaches the conclusion, in which the whole court concurs, he expresses the view that only contracts, combinations, etc., which in any way unreasonably or unduly restrain interstate trade and commerce, which are unreasonably restrictive of competitive conditions, are within the prohibition of the first section of the Sherman act.

Justice Harlan's Position.

"Justice Harlan, on the other hand, dissents from this view and contends that every contract, etc., which does restrain trade and commerce is within the inhibition of the statute, but he concurs with the whole court in the decree of affirmance.

"The chief justice further holds that the second section of the act seeks, if possible, to make the prohibitions of the act all the more complete and perfect by embracing all attempts to reach the ends prohibited by the first section, that is, restraints of trade by any attempt to monopolize, or monopolization thereof, even although the acts by which such results are attempted to be brought about, or are brought about, are not embraced within the general quotations of the first section. He further holds that the criterion by which it is to be determined in all cases whether a contract, combination, etc., is a restraint of trade within the meaning of the law, is the direct or indirect effect of acts involved."

number of local firms sent over orders last night after the supreme court decision was announced, and it is estimated that the amount of business for Americans on the London exchange ranged from 40,000 to 75,000 shares. The European view of the situation seemed hopeful and brokers here reported inquiries for American stocks from Paris, Berlin, Frankfort and Amsterdam.

Biggest Crowd In Weeks.

The crowd of traders on the local stock exchange was the largest in many weeks, and the business contrasted sharply with the caution and apathy which existed during the recent period of waiting for the decision of the court. The sound of the opening gong was followed by a hoarse roar as brokers gathered around the principal trading posts. The offices of the leading commission houses were filled with men, many of whom had not visited the financial district for weeks.

Stocks In London.

London, May 16.—The supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case created surprisingly little interest or flurry in financial circles here, as the result had been anticipated. Dealings in stocks for some time past have been on the bear side and in the hands of continental and Wall Street houses. Brokers, therefore, did not remain in the financial district over night, as in times of crises.

Many brokers, however, came to the city earlier than usual, and trading in American securities began an hour and a half before the stock exchange opened. Initial prices were from a half to a full point below parity, but buying orders from New York soon strengthened values, and with local traders covering, the market ruled firm at 11 o'clock.

Prices Were Up.

At that time it was fairly active and from 1 to 2 points above the lowest and 1 to 1½ over yesterday's New York closing, as follows:

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, 114¼; Canadian Pacific, 241¾; Erie, 33½; Southern Pacific, 118⅜; Union Pacific, 183¾; United States Steel, 78.

American shares opened quiet from ½ to 1 point lower. The decision induced light selling at the start but the execution of buying orders from New York strengthened the market and a general covering movement followed. At noon the tone was firm and values ranged from ¼ to 1⅜ higher than yesterday's New York closing.

American News Good.

After the morning rise the market awaited the receipt of the Wall street opening with great interest. This proved good and it started excited dealings in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. Prices jumped over a point on New York and Continental buying and after a series of sharp fluctuations, the market closed firm and from ½ to 3 points over the final prices of Monday.

UNVEILED IN HONOR OF FAMOUS RULER

QUEEN VICTORIA MEMORIAL
In London.

London, May 16.—The great marble memorial to Victoria, fronted by a statue of the late queen and surmounted by a gilded winged Victory, on the plaza before Buckingham palace, was unveiled today by Victoria's grandson, King George V.

The ceremony was conducted at noon in the presence of Emperor William and other descendants of the queen, numerous members of the British and German royal families, including Empress Auguste Victoria and Princess Louise, members of the cabinet, colonial representatives and many other prominent persons.

The weather was perfect and St. James' park was crowded. The archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of London performed the religious rites, with music by massed choirs from several cathedrals and chapels conducted by Sir Walter Parratt, who was private organist to the late queen.

King George delivered a speech in eulogy of Victoria, describing the monument as "the tribute of races and legions more various in character and circumstances than have ever been combined before in a common purpose."

RUSSIA TO PROBE MURDER.

Crime at Kiev, Laid to Jews, to Be Investigated.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—The central government has despatched M. Zaltseff and M. Fenenko, high officials of the ministry of justice, to Kiev to investigate the mysterious murder of the Christian boy, Yushchinsky, whose death has caused threats to be made of a massacre of Jews in that city.

ENGLISH LUTHERANS MERGED WITH GERMANS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 16.—English Lutheranism lost its identity as a distinct denomination, when the eighty congregations comprising this branch of the Missouri synod became merged with the 3,000 German congregations yesterday. Henceforth the English churches will comprise the first of twenty-four districts of the Lutheran church in the United States.

The consolidation of the branches was attended by a celebration at which addresses were made by the president and others who have held that office at various times in the last twenty-three years.

Surprise was manifested by the delegates whe nthey learned that in the last eight years 14,000 concerts to the church had been obtained in the Argentine Republic, and more than 13,000 in Australia and New Zealand.

FUNDS FOR CARNIVAL

Money Needed to Pay for Expansion of Summer Water Festival.

Public Called Upon to Meet Expense of Extra Attractions.

A. C. Pearson and W. N. Hart, members of the finance committee for Duluth's big water carnival, will start out tomorrow morning to solicit funds to finance the advertising of the summer festival and to meet the cost of obtaining special attractions. The members of the Commercial club and other business men are showing an interest in the possibilities of the carnival and it is believed the committee will have no trouble in raising an amount sufficient for the needs of the carnival.

Although the Duluth Boat club originated the carnival idea and the festival will naturally center around the main house of the boat club on count of its position on the bay and the fact that the carnival is primarily a water fete, the boat club has not the ony interest in the affair. The Commercial club has taken it up as an excellent summer feature to attract visitors to Duluth and the water carnival will be a city affair, with the Boat club and the Commercial club co-operating in the arrangements.

The Boat club has never appealed to the public for funds for its own purposes. It intended to hold the water carnival on its own account, as a setting for the rowing regatta, the Venetian fete and other Boat club affairs. The plan of making the carnival a city affair was taken up by the Commercial club and the Boat club fell in with the idea.

On that account, the carnival will be a bigger affair than was first planned. The expansion requires more money for financing and, while the Boat club will bear its full share of the expense and will finance the regatta and other distinctive Boat club features entirely, the call on the public for a comparatively small subscription is made to finance the expansion.

The carnival is being widely advertised by the railroads, the steamship lines and the Commercial club. Thousands of people in the inland cities will be invited to come to Duluth for at least a week in the summer season to enjoy the cool lake breezes and participate in the water carnival. It is hoped that fully 25,000 people will come to Duluth for the carnival and it is expected also that every one of the 25,000 will be charmed with Duluth's summer weather and opportunities for enjoyment and will become an active booster for Duluth.

The Boat club and the Commercial club plan to make the first water carnival a big affair, but it will be merely a start. The first water carnival will be the seed from which a summer festival of national prominence will be developed.

WEST END NEWS

FIRE DESTROYS HOME FOR SECOND TIME WITHIN YEAR

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD WALLIN.

A story of misfortune, hardships and blighted hopes came to the West end this week in the news of the destruction by fire, for a second time within a year, of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wallin at Jelle, Minn. The Wallins have a homestead just north of the Red Lake Indian reservation.

Forest fires last fall burned the Wallin home to the ground, the loss being total. Wallin rebuilt the cabin, refurnished it the best he could and came to his former home in the West end to secure employment to clear himself from the debt incurred in rebuilding the place. He was several weeks in the city before he secured any work and had been working but a short time, when he received news of the second burning of his place.

Mrs. Wallin braved the solitude of the northern woods and lived alone in the cabin during the absence of her husband. Her nearest neighbors were two miles away. Last week, when the brush fires were raging in Beltrami county north of the Indian reservation, the flames swept clean the little cabin and all of their possessions. The fortitude of Mrs. Wallin in fighting the fire in an attempt to save her home, is told in letters received by Mr. Wallin from neighbors.

Everything except the clothes she wore was lost in the blaze. She was taken in by neighboring settlers and is being looked after by them until Mr. Wallin can arrange to have her come to the West end. Mrs. Wallin is not disheartened and is willing to stick to the homestead. The nearest railroad station and postoffice is Epsley, and lumber for the cabin had to be hauled through the woods ten miles.

Mr. Wallin was one of the charter members of the Adams Athletic association and a former officer of the club. The boys of the association have arranged that their next dancing party will be a benefit affair for the Wallins and are arranging to entertain a large number. The dance will be given Thursday evening at Lincoln Park pavilion.

Mrs. Wallin, when in the West end, was an active worker in the Women's Label league. Mr. Wallin was manager of the Adams Glee club and a prominent member of the Svea Glee club. The Wallins have been married for twelve years and lived at 2407 West Third street.

Norway's Independence day, May 17, will be celebrated generally by Duluth Norwegians and at Lincoln park tomorrow evening, there will be special exercises in commemoration of the event.

There will be special music and speaking. The chairman of the evening will be L. A. Simonson and among the speakers will be Rev. Edward Erickson, Rev. M. S. Rice and Rev. J. H. Stenberg.

The music will be characteristically Norwegian. Every Norseman knows that Norway, like every other nation, has music of its own. The Norwegian music "speaks of high mountain and deep valley, smiling fjords o fviolet hue and tempest tossed oceans and through every song flows the spirit that made the Vikings the old conquerers of land and sea."

The program is as follows:

Selection ..... Flaaten's Orchestra.
Remarks ..... L. A. Simonson, chairman.
Song—(a) "Ja vi elsker"....Nordraak
(b) "Sangerhilsen" ...Edward Grieg
Normanna Male Chorus, G. Flaaten, director.

COLONY OF HOLLANDERS

Settlers Pass Through Duluth En Route to Onamia, Minn.

Come to Minnesota to Engage in Dairying and Truck Farming.

A special train over the Soo line from Chicago, today, brought to the Head of the Lakes seventy-five men and women from Holland, all expert dairy workers. The party is going to Onamia, Minn., where there is already a colony of Dutch people. The members of the party will engage in dairy pursuits on land formerly owned by the Johnson Land company of St. Paul, and which has been turned over for this purpose.

Bishop McGolrick was also instrumental in bringing the Holland people over here, as he has been instrumental in bringing some of the others before them.

The bishop stated today that when the members of the party reached Onamia they would find land prepared and ready for seed. Two acres are cleared in each tract.

Father Vanderbelden, the priest of the little flock, is with them, and will take up the task of caring for the religious welfare of his people at the settling point.

According to the statement of Bishop McGolrick, every member of the party is an expert in the line of dairying, which occupation they will pursue at Onamia.

Warning to Railroad Men.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East street, Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by all druggists.

With songs of this order, appropriate yells and interesting talks, the departmental supper which was served at the Young Women's Christian association last evening was greatly enjoyed by about 150 members.

The supper was served in the big dining room of the association building and was in celebration of the second anniversary of the moving into the new building which fell on May 10. Miss Nettie E. Trimble, city secretary for the North Central territory, of which Duluth is a part, was a guest at the supper and she spoke on "The Membership Privileges."

"In this Young Woman's Christian association," she said, "we are united for a purpose, and that purpose is the promotion of the spiritual, intellectual, social and physical welfare of all young women, and a membership to the association gives not only the material benefits obtained through the building and the classes but also the privilege of working for other girls and their welfare and the pleasure of serving others."

The $1,000 interest on the mortgage on the building will be due June 1 and the supper last evening was made the occasion for the starting of a membership campaign to raise money to pay off this interest. At the time when the new building was planned only one dormitory floor was to be built, but even before the building work was commenced the demand for more rooms than one dormitory floor would furnish was so large that it was considered wise to put on another story and let the proceeds from their rooms help pay for the building of it. So then, a mortgage of $40,000 was put on the building to pay for the extra story.

The members hope to be able to pay off this mortgage in a couple of years so that the interest money can be used for the association work.

The captains of the teams in the contest are: Miss Etta Murphy, gymnasium team; Miss Tessie McDermott, Bible study, and Miss Germond, city team.

Informal talks were given by Dr. Stella Wilkinson, Miss Margaret Hannifin, Miss Anna Foley, Miss Sophia Ceska and Miss Marie Ceska, and a general feeling of good fellowship prevailed.

Miss Trimble said this morning that she had never seen a better spirit in any association than that displayed last evening at the supper by the 150 members present.

CHILDREN'S MATINEE.

Minneapolis Orchestra Will Play for School Pupils.

The children's matinee to be given Friday afternoon, June 2, as the opening concert in the series to be presented by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in the spring festival for Duluth will be a special feature of the festival.

During the four years that the orchestra has visited Duluth the children's matinee had been played to a capacity house. The price of admission is placed so low that probably no child in the city who desires to attend the concert need stay away because of the price of admission. Emil Oberhoffer, director of the orchestra, especially delights in playing a matinee for the Duluth school children, for in former years they have proved a most appreciative lot. This has been due in large part to the preliminary preparation. Many of the musicians of the city have given their services, and at the various schools of the city the program to be played by the orchestra at the children's concert has been played at the piano and informal talks about the music presented. The children became familiar with the music, and the afternoon audience has proved the most appreciative perhaps of the four audiences during the festival.

This year Miss Carlotta Simonds will be chairman of a committee in charge of the arrangements for the children's matinee. She will arrange for the distribution of tickets to the various schools of the city and for the playing of the program to the children preliminary to the concert. Every seat will doubtless be disposed of promptly, for there is no effort needed to secure the audience for the children's matinee. Mr. Oberhoffer has chosen an exquisite programme for this year's matinee. That he appreciates the outlook of childhood is proven by the manner in which he has selected the program for his young admirers, and he has included "The March of the Dwarfs," from the Lyric suite of Greig, which proved a particular favorite with the children last year.

The subscriptions for the entire festival have already reached the sum subscribed last year when the list was closed. The subscription for this year's concerts will close the first of next week. Advance subscribers, in addition to the reduction in the price of tickets, have the privilege of selecting their seats before the sale for the general public. Advance subscriptions may be made for a single seat or for an unlimited number.

The orchestra with the list of assisting soloists is achieving a brilliant series of triumphs on its 1911 tour. The Duluth concerts will be given at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3.

THE EVENING STORY

A WOMAN'S TRAP

By Jos. Reham.

"Good morning!" said the jovial, red faced man pleasantly. "Fine view from here!"

Edgar Coleman started. He felt his own face suddenly flush as he looked into the smiling grey eyes of the man who had spoken. For, after one has been in prison nearly three years, it comes as something in the nature of a respectable human being. And it was only two hours since Bacon had left the cells of Langton prison.

An hour ago he had noticed this red faced, fresh looking man behind him, and once or twice had tried to shake him off. He wanted to be alone. Now, as he stood by a gateway leading to the fields which bounded the road on one side, the stranger had overtaken him, spoken to him, and went on, without waiting for any reply.

"Making for Beeston, I suppose?"

"Yes," Edgar got the word out this time.

"Then, if you don't mind—what'd you say?—we'll go along together."

Edgar nodded, and the two walked on. Coleman, a clean, well built fellow of 30; his companion inclined to stoutness, but ruddy of cheek, healthy and very clearly of jovial disposition. The stranger was not lacking in conversation, and Coleman listened. The name of the red faced man was Weston and he was in business in Beeston. Walking was his great recreation. He would sacrifice his business to it, if necessary.

"Went down early this morning to Langton by train to see a man who wanted to come as assistant," Weston continued. "But he wouldn't do. Pooh! Can't take any one into a business like mine!" He laughed, and turned round on Edgar. "Suppose you don't want a soft job, with fair pay? Guess you've already got something decent?"

"Do you know where I came from this morning?" he asked. It was the longest speech he had made so far. "I came out of prison—came from three years' penal servitude!"

"Whew! Now, I'd never have thought that! D'you know what I took you for? I sized you up almost as soon as I stopped and spoke to you. I put you down as a legal man—a solicitor, you know."

"Ah!" Edgar had become suddenly very calm. He was enjoying this scene, though it made him feel the bitterness still more keenly. "That's what I was before—before the crash came."

"Tell me about it," said Weston. And it seemed the most natural thing in the world now for Coleman, to give this stranger the history of those tragic events three years ago.

They were tragic, though the story was neither uncommon nor remarkable. Simply he was a young solicitor, engaged to be married to a girl who was somewhat above him in social position. Anxious to have sufficient money to keep his wife, when he did marry, in the manner to which she had been accustomed, Coleman had speculated and had lost, and had raised money in a mad moment from his bank on certain shares which he held jointly in trust. He had forged the name of his co-trustee to do this, fully convinced he would be able to replace the money before any inquiries were made.

But discovery of his sins were not long delayed. There came a day when he stood in the dock, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude, and, of course, had been struck off the rolls.

"And the girl—the young lady you were engaged to?" asked Weston, when Coleman paused.

"She—she said she would wait." Coleman was struggling to keep control of himself. "I— But, of course, it was impossible. I hope—hope she's found some man more worthy of her now."

"And you'll not attempt to see her?"

"No, no. I hope and trust she has forgotten me. No; not quite that. But let's turn to something else, or—". And he laughed cynically. "We're coming to the town—Beeston, I suppose. Perhaps you'd prefer to drop me now. Ex-convict 271 isn't quite the company you'll want."

"Pooh!" Weston was as genial as ever. "Perhaps you'll take that job I offered you, eh? Pay isn't wonderful—$25 a week—but I guess you won't mind that for a start?"

Coleman stared at him.

"Do you really mean it? I've told you the truth. I came out of prison this morning."

"Tut! Lots of us make mistakes—only we don't get caught. You've paid the full penalty for yours, haven't you? Well, will you take the job?"

"Yes."

Coleman said nothing more. He scarcely realized that there was so much good in human nature, and he could not express what he felt. He gripped the other's hand, and Weston understood.

That same day Edgar Coleman began his duties as assistant to John Weston, accountant and estate agent, of Beeston.

After a time, in fact, he began to wonder how Weston made an income out of his business. But John Weston was perfectly serious, and sometimes very busy, and Coleman formed the opinion that Weston had private means, and indulged in this business as a hobby.

It would be, perhaps, five weeks after his release from jail, and Edgar was beginning to recover some sense of independence, some faint desire to win a place for himself again in the world, some little feeling that he might yet live down his disgrace, when one day Weston came to him. In his hands he held three or four sheets of foolscap, which he handed to Edgar.

"I want these typewritten," he said, "and we haven't a typewriter. But there's a girl upstairs—Miss Norton, I think her name is—who has just started. Guess she doesn't get much work in this town. You might take these up to her and ask her to do them for me some time—no hurry."

"Right!" said Edgar, and rose. "I didn't know we had a typist here."

"No; she's only just come. Nice girl—come down in the world, I think. We ought to give her what work we can."

Edgar nodded and went out. Had he observed the smile which came over Mr. Weston's face after he had left the room, he might have been suspicious.

But he was ascending the stairs. On the topmost floor there were two small rooms, and at first Edgar Coleman did not see the very small brass plate attached to one of the doors—"Miss Norton, Typewriting."

Just as he did spy it, the click, click of a machine began within. He stepped to the door and tapped. Above the click of the typewriter came a soft voice, somewhat nervously: "Come in!"

Coleman opened the door and walked inside. Opposite him sat the typist, her head bent low over the machine. But her hair, that wondrous golden red—surely, it could not be— Unconsciously, he gasped. The head was raised. Then again Edgar cried, in amazement:

"Julia! You here! What does it mean?"

He was too astounded himself to notice shat she was not wondrously amazed. He mistook her nervousness for astonishment.

"It is!" she cried, and rose to meet him. "Oh, Edgar, I'm so glad to see you!"

Forgetting everything, save that her arms were stretched out toward him, and that her eyes called him, he took her in his arms. Only, a little later, he asked:

"But tell me, Julia, how has it happened? Your money—your father—has he lost—"

"Don't, Edgar!" she begged. "I am trying to forget I ever had money. I want to forget that."

And Coleman, because he was a man, thought he understood. He did not question her again. Later he would do so. But for the present it was sufficient that she still loved him, as she had loved him before those black days came. And now, because she was only a typist, because she was alone, he could offer her something—a home that was tarnished, perhaps, but one that for her sake should be made bright again. Almost unwittingly, it seemed, he told her this, and she acquiesced.

"I promised to wait, Edgar," she said. "But, oh, I didn't think I should have so little to offer you!"

"So little?" he asked. "Why darling, it's wonderful! I am almost glad that this—"

But, seeing the look which came into her eyes, he kept clear of the subject which might bring her pain. When, an hour later, he left her, his heart was filled with a new joy. He would fight, and make his name one that both he and she would not be ashamed to bear! He told Weston, much to the astonishment of the good natured "accountant."

"I'll raise your wages," the red faced one said promptly. "Thirty-five dollars a week; you can manage comfortably on that. Now, if I were you, I'd get married as soon as possible, and take Miss Norton away from this typewriting business. Get a nice little house for her to look after; they're quite cheap round here."

"I will! By George, I will!" Coleman said, still intoxicated with the sudden joy which had come into his life.

"And, look here," Weston went on, "take my advice and don't you mention anything to her about her own trouble. I don't know what it is, of course; but you wait until you're comfortably married, then she'll tell you all about it, I expect. But you just pretend you know everything until then. See what I mean?"

"Yes," Coleman nodded. "Perhaps it will be as well."

Two months later they were quietly married at a small church near Beeston, in the presence of Weston and a friend. It was Weston who gave the bride away, and Weston who gave the only wedding present—a hundred dollars—to be spent on a honeymoon of at least a week's duration. That was Weston's stipulation.

They had been married in the early morning, and late in the afternoon they sat on the cliffs at Westbeach, where their honeymoon was to be spent.

Edgar Coleman had been repeating over and over again the fact that his joy was too great to be expressed. But on the face of Julia there had come a look of fear.

"Edgar," she said at last, and he turned suddenly. The fear had crept into her voice.

"What is it, dearest?" he asked quickly.

She took his hand. "You love me, Edgar? Could you forgive me if—if I had deceived you?" Her voice was very steady, almost emotionless.

"Forgive you?" he repeated. "Of course. But why? What is there to forgive?"

"I-I-I—Oh, Edgar, it's hard to tell you now." And she gasped a little. "But I have deceived you. My father—we have had no trouble at all. I am still as wealthy as I was before—before you went away. No; let me tell you everything!"

For Edgar had risen suddenly, and opened his lips as though to speak.

"Let me tell you everything," she repeated. And he remained motionless.

"It was my plan," Julia said, trying to speak calmly. "I found out the date when you would be free, and I had talked it over with my father long before. You know, Edgar, he liked you—likes you now. And, though at first he wished me to give you up, afterwards he agreed to help me.

"We knew you would never come to us again. So I—we asked father's friend, Mr. Weston, to help. He was to wait for you, follow you, and find you employment. It was he who took the office, and played at being an accountant. Then later, when he thought you were recovering from your—your trouble, he sent word, and I came to act my part. I never really said I was poor, Edgar."

She rose hurriedly, and faced the man, who stood staring blankly at her. "Don't Edgar!" she cried, and held out her arms toward him. "You are not angry, are you? You don't think I trapped you? I wanted to stand by you and help you to fight your way back again. Tell me, Edgar—tell me! You don't hate me because I loved you too much to lose you?" A moment's silence—a moment of agony for the girl who waited—and then Coleman had seized her, and was kissing her madly, passionately.

"Hate you!" he gasped, for a wild torrent of love was surging through his veins. "Julia, I can hardly believe it possible. You did this for me? I'm not worth it Julia. But, please Heaven, I'll fight and try to make my name more worthy of your love."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To make tea which is to taste just right when served, these things are necessary: good tea, boiling water, and a hot teapot.

To clean feathers put them into a paper bag with a cupful of Indian meal, half a cupful of flour, and three teaspoonfuls of borax, then shake.

The white of a raw egg is the most satisfactory of pastes. Papers used for covering down jam will hold securely and be quite airtight if brushed over on the inside with the white of an egg. The white of an egg is also used for mending glass or china ornaments, but, of course, it will not stand water. Still, it is not always necessary that a cement should do this, and the white of an egg has the merit of being quite as imperceptible when dry.

Pickles and vinegar should always be kept in glass jars or bottles. When they are kept in any form of glazed ware the vinegar acts on the glaze and forms poison.

Do not hang white China silk up to dry after washing, but wrap, after wringing it slightly, in a piece of white goods. Iron without drying, and it will not turn yellow.

Tarnished silver is easily cleaned with powdered whiting mixed to a paste with ammonia and water. Rub the paste on with one leather and have another leather to polish it off again.

Inkstains on silver or plated articles may be removed with a paste made of chloride of lime and water. This should be left on for a little while and then washed off in warm water.

Nerves Gone--- Heart Weak

We Americans strain every nerve in our body trying to make a success in life, and do not nourish and feed our nervous system so as to make it equal to the strain; the result is we are broken-down men and women before we are forty years of age. The nerve tissues must be fed and strengthened, the stomach must be assisted in doing the work of digesting the food, the blood must be enriched and circulation quickened, the body and brain must be invigorated, so that we can withstand the strain and retain health, strength and youth.

Here is the experience of Miss Kemp, of Summit, New Jersey, who had a complete nervous breakdown, so that her heart became very weak. Miss Kemp was in a serious condition and was advised to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Not approving of taking whiskey or any alcoholic stimulant, she declined at first, but after reading what it had done for others, she tried it, and as she expressed it to a friend the other day: "I am indeed thankful and glad that I did," as it has restored her health and made her strong so that she can again resume business.

The young lady says that she received good advice from our Medical Department, to which she wrote and stated her case.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

All druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Refuse substitutes and imitations, they are injurious.

OLD TIMER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER

Telling of Wonderful Change That Has Taken Place in Three Short Weeks.

U. S. Ayers of Saginaw, Minn., is probably as well known as any man in that part of the state, being one of the old time farmers. He was the third man to take up a homestead in the county, he has resided in the community for 45 years, is a veteran of the Civil war and a man whose word can be relied upon.

In speaking of what has been done for his health by the wonderful system of medical treatment used by the United Doctors who have their Duluth offices located on the third floor of the Columbia building,

Mr. Ayers writes:

"Saginaw, Minn., April 21, 1911.— My Dear Doctors: I write to tell you of my great improvement since beginning your treatment three weeks ago. As I told you when you examined me, I had suffered greatly the last ten years with kidney and bladder trouble, have taken considerable medicine during this time but have received very little benefit from it. When I commenced your treatment I wasn't able to do scarcely any work, but now I feel much stronger and better in every way and can work for a whole day without much trouble.

"The pain and soreness has all left my kidneys and bladder and I don't have much trouble about urinating any more. If any one had told me I would experience so much relief in so short a time I would not have believed them.

"I want you to publish this letter in the hopes that it will fall into the hands of some of my old comrades who are suffering as I did as it may guide them to the right doctor and a cure. Your truly. U. S. AYERS."

THE DANDRUFF GERM

And the Guinea Pig

When Drs. Lasser and Bishop made a pomade by mixing scales of dandruff and vasaline, which they afterwards rubbed on a guinea pig, they were contributing to science more than they knew. The application of the salve caused the pig to lose its hair and become bald.

This was merely one of the preliminary steps which made possible the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide. After establishing beyond question the existence of the dandruff germ, a remedy was needed to kill this parasite.

There was nothing which would do this until Newbro's Herpicide was placed upon the market. Being the first recognized remedy for dandruff, it has long been called the "original remedy." Herpicide kills the germ, prevents falling hair and stops itching of the scalp. Don't take a substitute; you can always get the genuine article.

Herpicide is for sale at drug stores. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

One dollar size bottles are guaranteed.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

ON THE IRON RANGES

H. J. IRWIN WINS POINT

Two Harbors Alderman Can Vote on Matters Governing His Status.

His Request That His Resignation Be Returned to Him Granted

Two Harbors, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Politics held the center of the board at the meeting of the city council last night when the question of the resignation of Alderman H. J. Irwin, the Socialist member, who is alleged by his fellow Socialists to have broken faith, came up again. Irwin seems to have won, as the question of his resignation that was tabled at the former meeting was taken from the table and his resignation was returned to him. The Socialists urged that his resignation be accepted. This was voted down, 4 to 3, Irwin voting. Mr. Irwin then requested that his resignation be withdrawn and be given to him. Tubman moved that his request be granted. President Esse then asked the city attorney whether Irwin ought to be allowed to vote on such a matter concerning himself. After a lengthy perusal of Roberts' Rules of Order, by which the council is governed, the city attorney stated that until charges were preferred against Irwin and he was placed on trial, he would have the right to vote on all matters. Mr. Irwin's request was then granted and he has his resignation.

One Petition Granted.

The committees on sidewalks, streets and alleys, to which were referred the petitions of the property owners residing on Third avenue, east of Willow street, recommended that the first petition presented be granted and that the second be rejected. The first petition called for the grading and macadamizing of Third avenue form Willow street to Hazel street, a distance of two blocks. The second petition called for the grading and macadamizing and laying of concrete sidewalks, and removal of electric light poles to the alley from Willow street to the lake. This petition was not granted. The council did not take definite action upon the petitions, but referred the first petition to committee on streets and alleys to instruct the property owners to draw up the plans and specifications of said project.

John Eckholm, Gust Nelson, and Ole Wick made applications for the renewal of their saloon licenses for one year. Hearing was set for June 5.

A petition was received from property owners on Eighth and Ninth avenues between Poplar and Maple streets, requesting that the alley there be graded. This was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

No Bids on Scales.

According to notice, last night was the date set for the receiving of bids for a ten-ton city scale, one of the projects advocated by the Socialist administration. No bids were received, however. Alderman Strand moved that the council advertise for a week.

Bids were received for the sale of water and light bonds to the amount of $5,500 to pay the interest on other water and light bonds. Two bids were received—one from F. A. Keene & Co. of Chicago and the other from Robert A. Keene & Co. of St. Paul. The latter bid, being $100 less, besides other considerations, was accepted.

Bids were also received for the purchase of a No. 3 gyratory rock crusher to work in combination with the large crusher which the city now owns. The Austin-Western Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Chicago, offered to sell the city such a crusher F. O. B. Duluth. The Duluth Crushed Stone company offered to sell the city a second hand No. 4 gyratory rock crusher for $750. This offer was not considered, and the first bid was accepted.

A great deal of discussion took place upon the advisability of the purchase of a new air compressor at the pumping station. The present engine was purchased from the Westinghouse company for testing the intake pipe and blowing out the flues, and other small matters. A new air compressor is needed to run the drills for the rock crushing plant, 1,000 feet away. Communication was received from J. A. O'Malley, a representative of the Westinghouse company, stating that it would be advisable to lay a 2½ or 3-inch air pipe in place of the 1½-inch now had or to have a reservoir at the rock crushing plant and of the 1½-inch pipe and also that his company would take the present engine in trade for its full value and put in the desired new engine for $348; $209 being allowed on the old engine. It was decided, however, that the city advertise for bids according to the charter and that bids be received in two weeks.

WILL KEEP MUCH MONEY AT HOME

Eveleth Rejoices Over Announcement of Securing Postal Bank.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The announcement in Monday's Herald that a postal savings bank will be established here by June 12 was received with much elation. The bank was secured through the efforts of the Commercial club, and all concede that it will be a large factor in the town's growth as much money is now being sent to foreign national banks which will remain here.

The examination for carriers and clerks will be held June 3, at the high school, with Assistant Postmaster Fergus R. Ellsworth in charge.

Twelve mail boxes that will be stationed throughout the city, have arrived, and will be installed as soon as the posts are received.

Fourteen days remain for the counting of mail in the local postoffice, as required by the government.

BALLASTING NEW LINE.

Canadian Northern Contractors Are Hustling Work Near Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work is being rushed by the Walsh-Graffan company of Davenport, Iowa, ballasting the Canadian roadbed between Virgina and Duluth. A large crew is camped near St. Louis river, where a townsite is being platted. Two stores, one conducted by an Evelethian, have already been started at that point which will be known as Peary.

Night and day crews are being worked with 100 men in each shift. Work will be rushed throughout the summer. The new line will establish a depot for Evelethians, a mile from town. A bus line will be run to the new depot.

WHY HE CARRIED GUN.

Virginian Was Looking for Vicious Dogs and Gets Off.

Virginia, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Herman, arrested Saturday for carrying concealed weapons, had a hearing before Judge Carey yesterday afternoon and was discharged. Herman stated that he had been carrying a revolver for the purpose only of shooting at a target and for protection against the vicious dogs which inhabit the southern part of the city.

The charge against Henry Evans, arrested for having exceeded the speed limit with his motor cycle, was also dismissed, it being his first offense.

AFTER UNTAGGED DOGS.

Virginia Officials Grabbing Canines That Have No Tags.

Virginia, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—These are sad days for the untagged dogs as Poundmaster Ole Johnson and his assistant, J. C. Bergland, are grabbing all untagged animals and lugging them off to the pound. The owners of dogs are given a chance to fasten a tag on their pets and if they do not the dog is then taken to the city pound and kept for a reasonable length of time, and if not called for it is killed. It is estimated that there are about 4,000 dogs in Virginia.

VIRGINIA BRIEFS.

Virginia, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. H. Rogers, superintendent of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company's plant in this city, was a business visitor in Duluth yesterday.

George Holcomb, local manager for the Mesaba Telephone company, has been granted a thirty days' leave of absence and has gone to Arizona. Mr. Holcomb has been in poor health of late and goes to the Southwest for relief. Leverne Sutton of Grand Rapids is acting as cashier during Mr. Holcomb's absence.

Miss Sadie Murphy, assistant deputy clerk of the district court, was a Sunday visitor in Duluth.

Anton Alboth of Grand Rapids has secured a position in the tailoring establishment of Miles Grignon in the Fay opera house block.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

WIFE CLAIMS HER HUSBAND BEAT HER

Exhibits Hank of Her Hair Her Spouse Pulled Out and Gets Warrant.

Hibbing, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Smilo Mileusnich was arrested last evening, charged with helping in a case of assault on Mrs. Govan Gukich, at the Dale-Uno location. The accused claims she tried to separate the contestants. She says that she runs a boarding house at the location. Mrs. Govan Gukich complained to the police early in the afternoon that her husband had beaten her; that he had torn her hair, and even produced a handful of black curl which she said he had pulled out. According to her story she came to this country a few months ago and found her husband was living with Mrs. Mileusnich. She says that she wanted him to send her back to her friends in Austria, and that when he refused to give her the money to go back that she took in washing and did scrubbing to save the necessary amount.

Husband Wanted Money.

When she had made over $175 she says her husband found it and tried to get it from her, and when she tried to protect herself and keep the money he knocked her down and beat her, and the other woman came in and held her while the man proceeded to administer a beating and then he grabbed her up off the floor by the hair of her head and the handful came out and she fell backwards. Her screams brought help and the man fled. A warrant for his arrest was issued and the police went out to get him. He is a tall powerful man and has been arrested twice recently charged with assault.

PUSHING DEPOT WORK.

Missabe's New Structure in Hibbing to Be Fine Affair.

Hibbing, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work is being pushed on the new depot of the Missabe road here and it is expected to be finished by mid-summer.

The new depot will be absolutely fire-proof throughout, the walls being constructed of reinforced concrete in monolithic form and the roof covered with asbestos shingles. The entire structure will be commodious and well finished and when surrounded with the well laid out grounds promises to be, as the president of the road remarked, "a credit to Hibbing, which is one of our largest customers."

EVELETH PAIR HELD ON BIGAMY CHARGE.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anna Capan and Frank Juricic, who were arrested last week for bigamy, were given a hearing before Special Judge Neil McInnis yesterday and bound over to the grand jury under $500 bonds. They were unable to raise the ball. The grand jury will examine the case.

Charles Terkalarl, who was arrested on a warrant sworn out by the health department for failing to erect a manure box in the rear of his stable, was dismissed on promising to comply with the health ordinance.

Judge Vivian Prince, who is being treated at the home of his daughter at Virginia for diabetes, is reported better and is expected back tomorrow.

EVELETH COUNCIL TO CONSIDER BUYING PUMP.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids will be opened this evening by the council for a 2,500,000-gallon pump for the St. Mary's lake station, while on Friday evening bids will be opened for the city printing and sites for a public library and fire hall.

Charles Smolki, who was awarded the contract for hauling the city garbage, has commenced work cleaning up the city.

Burt E. Springer has resigned his position as patrolman to engage in the automobile business.

TRAIN VICTIM'S BODY SHIPPED TO ONTARIO.

Virginia, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of David Lavigne, who was run over by the cars near Munger last Wednesday, has been shipped to Port Hope, Ont., the home of his parents. Nothing further has been learned of the young man, but it is thought that he was on his way from Chicago to his old home when the accident, which caused his death occurred.

Hibbing Drink Cases.

Hibbing, Minn., May 16.—John Johnson was fined $2 and costs or five days in jail this morning for drunkenness; Gust Nelson drew $5 and costs, and Henry Vickson received a like punishment for the same offense. Julius Covisto, a young Finn, who got drunk on Sunday afternoon, was charged with being drunk and disorderly and got a fine of $15 and costs or nineteen days in the county jail. Philip Smith told a pitiful tale to the court and got let off with a suspended sentence. He was charged with being drunk.

Boys' Cooking Class Success.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first boys' cooking class in the local schools has closed a successful year. Dinners were served the faculty, while the boys also put their culinary knowledge to other practical uses. The new department will be made a permanent feature of the local school system.

Railroad Men Visit Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—General Superintendent Kreitter, Assistant Engineer Hoyte, Supt. Seddon, Trainmaster Gilbertson and Traveling Engineer Burk of the Missabe road, were here yesterday in Mr. Kreitter's private car Olivette. They are making an inspection tour of this section, looking over the new entrance tracks for the main line before the passenger service is put on the new route.

W. C. Barrett and Jim Geary left yesterday for Iron River, Mich., where they will look over some mining property they are interested in.

Two Eveleth Weddings.

Eveleth, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Chad and Frances Zalr, of the Fayal location and John Robich and Annie Gruden of the Adams location were married yesterday morning at the Holy Family church, by Rev. Father Bilban. The last named couple will start housekeeping at Spruce Heights.

The offering at the Lyceum Wednesday promises to be a novelty and one that will attract much attention and draw large crowds.

Barnum, a hypnotist and scientist, will entertain with exhibitions of hypnosis and practical psychology. It is claimed that he has the greatest laughing show on earth, and critics in cities where he has played, say that all records for laughter are broken when Barnum performs. He hypnotizes people from the audience and has them go through all kinds of ludicrous scenes and laughable situations. The comedy produced is clean and in no way offensive. Being one of America's foremost psychologists and the best stage demonstrator of hypnotism, he is in a position to both entertain and instruct. People interested in any phase of psychology will enjoy his lectures and scientific tests and those wishing to laugh will have the opportunity, it is claimed. Barnum changes his performances completely each night.

Mlle. Emerie, who is appearing at the Orpheum this week, has a new recipe for keeping a slender figure.

Mlle. Emerie also has a rather keen sense of humor.

"Annette Kellerman recommends swimming to keep the figure right," said Mlle. Emerie. "Nearly every actress has some certain recipe for a perfect figure, so I will suggest one. If every woman who weighs over 200 pounds will just rig up a trapeze in the attic, and every morning hang from the trapeze by one foot, while she puts the other foot behind her head, she will have a perfect figure. I would recommend the exercise especially for women who have grown stout through luxurious living. I will guarantee that a six months' treatment of this kind will cure the most aggravated case of embonpoint."

The interviewer admitted that Mlle. Emerie might be right. To watch her do the trick in her act looks simple enough, but the person unaccustomed to it might find it fairly good exercise.

The little word, "great," is the word that adequately describes the show at the Empress this week. Although some very good shows have appeared at this popular theater within the past few months, this week's bill ranks well up among the leaders. Miss Josephine Sabel is the big attraction for the week, and in this clever woman the patrons of the Empress have an opportunity of seeing an artist who has been around the world three times and one who has appeared in every city of consequence on the globe. Miss Sabel has proven a big hit since her appearance at the Empress and all of the applause she receives is merited. She possesses the first essential of a successful singer, viz., a voice. In addition, she has a pleasing personality, and a style of her own. The average American wants his amusement handed out with a rush and the ginger Miss Sabel injects into her work partly accounts for her wonderful success. From the time she appears before the footlights until she takes her last bow, there is not a dull moment.

The new photoplay offered this week at the Odeum and Lyric theaters every afternoon and evening, is delighting hundreds of Duluthians who enjoy movin~ pictures.

At the Lyric the program includes "Aida," a dramatic film that is intensely interesting; "A Fascinating Bachelor," a comedy roll that shows many humorous situations: "The Dereliict Reporter," a drama in which a newspaper man has many varied experiences and "The Alamo Rag," an illustrated song by I. S. Mistachkin.

The Odeum program is featuring this week "In the days of 49," a drama; "The Two Heroes," a comedy; "The Fiddler's Requiem," a drama, and an illustrated song by Mlle. Du Franc.

The shows at both theaters are attracting large crowds this week, many people going from one to another to complete an evening's entertainment.

THE LIQUOR HABIT CURE

Prof. J. B. Fisete of Duluth, is in town at 114 Lake street, Chisholm, Minn. He has a well known and reliable cure for the liquor habit and guarantees to cure the worst cases in two weeks. Hundreds who have been cured can testify to this fact. No matter how far gone a man may be or how desperate a case, even when there seems to be no hope for saving the man. I can positively cure him in two weeks and make a new man of him, both mentally and physically. If you have tried other cures and have gone back to the liquor habit again, I will guarantee to cure you in two weeks and turn your taste against intoxicating liquors or refund you your money. Prices reasonable. Here are some testimonials from those who have been benefited; $500 reward will be paid anyone who can prove that they haven't been cured by my wonderful remedy.

J. B. FISETE.

Have taken two weeks of your treatment and can truthfully say that I have lost all desire for intoxicating liquor, further than this I will say that I am in better physical condition than I have ever been for the past twenty years. Your cure is indeed well named, for it surely is (God's True Root) who are unfortunate enough to have contracted the liquor habit will take the cure as I consider a failure an impossibility in your work, I have no objections to your using my name where it will be of benefit to others. Yours very truly,

Joe Cadette, Chisholm, Minn.

Duluth, March 31, 1908.

Have taken two weeks of your treatment and can truthfully say that I have lost all desire for intoxicating liquor. Further than this, I will say that I am in better physical condition than I have ever been for the past fifteen years. Your cure is indeed well named, for it surely is God's True Root.

I hope that all who read this who are unfortunate enough to have contracted the liquor habit will take the cure, as I consider a failure as an impossibility. Yours very truly,

William S. Murphy.

115 East Superior street.

Chisholm, March 8, 1909.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I am cured from the liquor habit by Prof. J. B. Fisete and felt satisfied that it has done for me what I wanted it to do. I hope all who are in need of it will try it. Yours truly,

S. G. Anderson.

Chisholm, Minn.

Duluth, Minn., May 12, 1907.

Three years ago I was in Chisholm, Minn., condemned to die by my doctor. My troubles were too much liquor for too long a time. I am now more than pleased to have a chance to testify that Mr. J. B. Fisete's Cure has fully re-established my health and driven all appetite for liquor from me.

Frank Mason.

1122 Michigan St. Duluth, Minn.

Duluth, Minn., April 3, 1909.

I, who have been in the liquor business for thirty years, and a slave of that terrible liquor habit, have been entirely cured by Mr. Fisete, and I recommend it most highly to anyone affected as I was.

George Marcotte.

Adolph, Minn., St. Louis County.

This is to certify that I, Tom King, of Chisholm, Minn., have taken the Fisete Liquor Cure and I am positive that I am entirely cured of the bad habit, and anyone here who suffers the same as I did, can be cured by taking a treatment of Dr. John Fisete. Yours truly,

Thomas King.

I have taken Mr. Fisete's cure for the liquor habit and am entirely cured. I will advise all that suffer from the habit of drinking to take a cure, and I am sure that I feel like another man now. I can eat and sleep well, for I am not craving for liquor any more. It is a sure cure. Yours respectfully,

A. Anderson, Chisholm.

RAIN

It was suggested to the weather man yesterday that Duluth had enough moisture for the time. Isn't he the wretch? He is if the suggestion had anything to do with what struck Duluth last night. Rain, wind, cold, fog—all together in a bunch.

The rain has let up for a few hours, but today is depressingly damp. More rain, more wind, more cold, more fog are on the cards for tonight and tomorrow. Enough is enough, except when the weather man has anything to do with it.

Rain fell a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:30 and it will set at 7:37, giving fifteen hours and seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The western disturbance caused light to copious showers over Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, Northern California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan during the last twenty-four hours, besides high temperatures over the central valley states and strong easterly winds and fog over Western Lake Superior. Chilly temperatures prevail near Lake Superior and over Nevda and Southern Utah, due principally to the direction and force of the wind in the first case and a marked increase in pressure as regards the latter. At the Head of the Lakes continued cool and showery weather may be expected during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 16.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled, with probably showers tonight or Wednesday; warmer in extreme southeast portion tonight.

Upper Michigan — Showers tonight and Wednesday; rising temperature.

Minnesota and North Dakota—Unsettled and probably showers tonight and Wednesday.

Iowa—Unsettled tonight and Wednesday with probably showers in northeast portion.

South Dakota — Unsettled weather tonght and Wednesday; cooler tonight and in east portion Wednesday.

Montana — Unsettled weather and probably showers tonight or Wednesday.

Upper lakes—Brisk east winds on Superior, moderate east on Huron, moderate south on Michigan; unsettled with showers tonight or Wednesday.

HOWLS OF STREET CAR PATRONS ROBBED OF VIGOR

100 More or L ss Indignant Strap-Hangers Leave Meeting Satisfied.

Manager Promises Sixteen New Cars, New Schedule, and Extensions.

The meeting befort the council committee on railroads, telephones and telegraph, consisting of Aldermen Gibson, Krueger and Bergstrom, called to hear complaints of insufficient street car service, turned out to be somewhat of a "love feast."

No strenuous complaints were registered against the service, which is being rendered by the company. Some requests for changes in routes were made and some minor suggestions as to changes in the schedule to care for special crowds were offered.

Herbert Warren, general manager, admitted that certain cars were overcrowded during the rush hours of the morning, noon and evening, but he explained that the company is now at work on a new schedule which will be out not later than July 1. In addition to that he stated that sixteen new, large, double-truck cars have been ordered and will be placed in service as soon as possible after they arrive, which will be some time next month. He said that he expects that these, with the new schedule, will relieve all congestion now noticeable.

A delegation from the West end, consisting mostly of West Superior street business men, asked that the council direct the company to run its cars, or part of them, from the West Third street line, down Twenty-first avenue west to Superior street. They also suggested that Piedmont avenue be given a ten-minute service with large cars. These suggestions were embodied in a resolution presented to the council last night by the committee before which the hearing was held. The matter was laid over for a week. No other recommendations were made by the committee.

Promises Extension.

Manager Wraren assured the residents of the hillside district that the proposed Second ward extension will be made as soon as the streets and avenues are graded. The extension will run up Fifth avenue east to Fifth street, along Fifth street to Sixth avenue east, up Sixth avenue east to Seventh street, on Seventh avenue east, on Seventh avenue to Ninth street, and thence easterly to Fourteenth avenue east. He explained that the grade is too steep to run straight up Sixth avenue east from Fourth street.

J. L. Washburn asked that the city engineer be directed to establish the grade on Woodland avenue so that the company can grade between its tracks. As the roadway now is, he said, it is difficult for vehicles to cross the tracks. Additional cars for the East Fourth street, Woodland, Lakeside, West Third and West Duluth lines were asked, and the manager said they would be installed as soon as the new cars arrive.

Alderman Barnes, who introduced the resolution calling for the hearing, gave it as his opinion that the company's attitude was too much of the "public-be-damned" style. He asked that several changes be made to give better service to the western part of the city.

Among the others who spoke at the meeting yesterday afternoon were: S. W. Hill, J. J. Moe, George Jensen, Alderman William Bernard, A. A. Fider, Simon Clark and J. L. Cromwell.

A Kidney Cure You Can Bank On

Prove the Treatment Before You Pay For It. Your Druggist Has a Free Sample Package For You.

Kidney diseases justly produce intense fear in the hearts of those afflicted with it, for unless treated promptly by the right method they usually end fatally.

Every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble may thank science for the new treatment, Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills.

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are remarkable. They straighten up lame backs every time and right off. Every man and woman can prove it without cost. No matter how badly or despondent you feel about your case, if you have back pains, bladder pains, Bright's disease, diabetes, or rheumatism in any form, do not worry an instant longer. Go to your druggist and get a package of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills—25 and 50 cents, or direct from Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

If you want to prove first that all these statements are true, tell your druggist to give you a free sample package. Try them and be convinced.

MOONEY WILL CONTEST SET FOR NEXT FALL.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mooney will contest, involving the estate of the late W. J. Mooney of Cavalier county, will come up for trial in the federal court here in November. A bill of relief was filed here yesterday setting forth the claims of Mrs. W. J. Mooney, who directs her action at J. B. Mooney, her stepson. In the bill it is charged that the will that is sought to be established, under which Mrs. Mooney would be made sole heir to all of the estate except the life insurance, was told of by the maker to several friends within a short time of his death on the steamer Republic near New York, after he had left Langdon for New York, and that the will was removed after his death.

New Manistique Building.

Manistique, Mich., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company has comenced the construction of new retort and chemical buildings. The dimensions of the retort building will be 180 by 400 feet and the new chemical building will be 87 by 187 feet. When completed, the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company's plant in Manistique will be one of the finest in the country.

PLAN TRIP TO STEEL PLANT

Next Shop Excursion Will Be to Spirit Lake Work.

Special Train Will Carry "Seeing Duluth" Party to Site.

A shop excursion to the steel plant site is the big attraction the publicity committee of the Commercial club has billed for Friday afternoon of this week. If the weather man recovers from his peeve by Friday and deigns to smile on Duluth once more, it is believed that the biggest crowd that has placed itself under the escort of the publicity committee for a shop excursion will make the trip to the site of the Minnesota Steel company's big industry at Spirit Lake.

The details of the excursion have not yet been worked out. A special train over the Northern Pacific railroad will be provided and the excursionists will probably leave about 1:30, giving time enough to inspect the work and allowing the return to Duluth to be made by dinner time.

The excursion to the steel plant site is believed to be opportune. Most of the work done at the plant thus far has been in the laying of the foundations for the structures and furnaces. Miles of sixty-four-inch water pipe have been laid and the trenches are still open. Thousands of tons of concrete have gone into foundations, on which the superstrustures have not yet been raised. The visible evidences of that work will be covered up in a short time and the shop excursion will give Duluth people an opportunity to inspect work which they will never be able to see again.

Work at the steel plant has been going on steadily. The volume of work done there already cannot be realized by anybody who has not visited the site. Many Duluth people have been anxious to make the visit, but feared that they would not be able to inspect everything intelligently without guidance. The shop excursion Friday will give everybody an opportunity to see all that is to be seen. The officers of the Minnesota Steel company will have men available to explain everything. The foundation of the steel plant is there, and from the foundation the visitors will be able to judge of the ultimate immensity of the plant. It will be one of the greatest educational trips planned by the publicity committee, and the members of the committee are anxious to have every Duluth man who can get away from his business for the afternoon make the trip. It will be beneficial to him and to the city, they say.

BOYS WILL HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

The ninth annual banquet of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the boys' building Friday evening of this week. The banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by a program of speeches.

The annual banquet is one of the big affairs of the year at the boys' department. Hundreds of boys gather around the board to partake of the dinner and listen to the speeches. This year several members of the department are on the program.

E. L. Miller will act as toastmaster and the list of speeches follows:

"Our Country;" "America," "Duluth Boys' Department," Palmer Bevis; "A Boy and the City," Mayor M. B. Cullum; "Boys' Department Spirit," Caldwell Harris; "Things Athletic," Forest Huyck; "Duluth Central High School," Leonard Young; "Camp Miller," Glen Merritt; "An Appreciation," J. R. Batchelor; "The Ladies," Julius Nolte.

MARMATH, N. D., HAS QUITE HEAVY FIRE LOSS.

Marmarth, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seven thousand dollars damage was done in a fire that destroyed three buildings on Main street, the fire gaining its start in the Ugland building through the fact that some clothes had been allowed to hang too close to a stove. J. Vagts, residing in the building, was asleep at the time, and was aroused only in time to make his escape and rescue his 2-year-old daughter. Mrs. Vagts being absent at the time.

The fire was hard fought by the citizens, the wind at the time being such that a good portion of the business district was threatened.

BEAUTY SPECIALISTS PRAISE THIS SHAMPOO

"The best hair specialists no longer recommend soap for shampooing," writes Mae Martyn in the Boston Examiner. "The alkali in soaps has been found to have a ruinous effect on the hair by destroying the luster and color, causing dull, lifeless, streaky hair with bleached, split ends.

"In place of soap and prepared shampoos, experts on hair culture almost invariably recommend a very simple, inexpensive shampoo that is prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. The abundant lather of this shampoo cleanses perfectly, removes all dust and dandruff, rinses easily and makes the hair dry very quickly.

"Canthrox destroys dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and leaves the hair lustrous, soft and very fluffy."

J. W. ALLEN IN COUNTY JAIL

But Veteran Jailer Is Outside Bars Not Behind Them.

J. W. Allen, jailer at the St. Louis county jail for six years under Sheriff W. J. Bates, has been again appointed by Sheriff John Meining and is in charge of the jail. Mr. Allen retired from the sheriff's force when Mr. Meining took office Jan. 1.

Mr. Allen is known as one of the most efficient jailers St. Louis county ever had. Under his management the jail was kept up to a standard of sanitation in keeping with the facilities and the discipline was excellent. Sheriff Meining is anxious to keep the jail up to the market set and he will have the benefit of Mr. Allen's experience in his efforts.

OLD RIVER CAPTAIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Bismarck, N. D., May 16.—Captain C. W. Blount, one of the oldest river captains on the Missouri, attempted to end his life yesterday afternoon by cutting a large gash in his throat with a razor. He had been threatened with acute mania for some time and a watch has been kept but he escaped his guard for a few moments.

Expensive Catarrh Doctoring Sensibly Avoided. Relief Certain and Cheap.

(Dayton, O., Journal.)

Dr. Lewis Baker, an old and experienced practitioner, has this to say about treating catarrh of the head and throat:

"It is both a dangerous and disgusting disease to those of a sensitive nature, but if this simple, ordinary hygienic method is pursued a few weeks, anyone can readily and quickly banish the disease. Obtain of a druggist two ounces of antiseptic vilane powder; use a half-teaspoonful to a pint of warm water, and snuff up into the nostrils a half dozen times, or more, until the passages are entirely cleared of all slimy matter Gargle the throat with it, too. Then make a balm by mixing a teaspoonful of the powder with an ounce of vaseline. Apply the balm to the nostrils twice daily for a few weeks.

"This treatment cleans, clears, soothes and heals the mucous membrane and enables one to breathe freely through the nose."

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both the old and new addresses.

The Duluth Herald accepts advertising contracts with the distinct guarantee that it has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities. Its value as an advertising medium is apparent.

I warn you that our great Republic is in no danger from foreign foes or internal revolution. Its great danger today is from the corruption of the sources of political power. Our wonderful advancement and progress and immense home productions and foreign trade will be a very poor recompense for the loss of political purity and the appearance of money and bribery as determining factors in great political contests. Aroused patriotism can crush resistance to law, but corruption kills honor, virtue and patriotism, saps and undermines the foundations and organizations of society and brings down the structures of states and nations in ruin and dishonor.

—Senator Thomas H. Benton.

AN OUTLAWED TRUST.

Yesterday's momentous decision of the supreme court of the United States makes an outlaw of the oil trust, consisting of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and nineteen subsidiary concerns whose stock it holds. It is declared to be a conspiracy in restraint of trade, and it is given six months in which to dissolve.

That means, of course, to reorganize. It is impossible to dig up out of the grave the dead men and the dead corporations that originally owned the many enterprises which went into the making of the oil trust, and to place in their lifeless hands the control that long ago passed from them. It is impracticable to destroy the present machinery for the production and distribution of petroleum and its products, and it is undesirable to do so anyway. Just what the new form will be it is hard to say at present. Doubtless Standard Oil lawyers know what will be done, but for the public time to digest the decision and to witness trust operations under it is necessary.

By far the most important feature of the decision is the fact that the supreme court has amended the Sherman anti-trust law by interpolating into it the word "undue" as relating to restraint of trade. That the law on the subject needs revision is made clear by what seemed to the court to be the necessity for this amendment. Mere "restraint of trade," to use the language of the statute, is not to be a violation of the law. It must be "undue" restraint of trade. Thus the supreme court did a little lawmaking to mitigate the severity of the statute, because literal enforcement of its provisions would seriously injure, if not destroy, machinery of production that can be turned, under proper regulation, to the service of the people. When an industry is practically socialized by putting it under one compact and economical management, a public service is performed. That the people have not had their share of the benefit of this service is due to their negligence and to the unfaithfulness of their public servants. Hereafter it will be different.

As we take it, the decision makes it clear that mere bigness in a business organization is not an offense against society. It is not bigness that offends, but brutality.

It is not the power of the corporation that renders it subject to the operation of the law, but its misuse of that power.

It is not the form of the trust that is condemned, but its methods.

Though it has been reasonably well behaved in recent years, the Standard Oil company, in whatever form it has existed, has been the big bully among corporations. Its methods in early days were ruthless and brutal. It crushed competition without mercy. It debauched every branch of government within its reach. Its methods were the methods of the thug and the assassin. No corporation ever offended so grievously, nor deserved punishment so richly. Now it is to be punished for these offenses against society; not because it is big and powerful, but because it has been brutal and has abused its power. The court practically holds with Shakespeare that

> It is excellent
> To have a giant's strength; but it is tyrannous
> To use it like a giant.

The status of the trusts has been reviewed by the highest court in the land. We take it that other trusts are to be judged in the light of their methods, and that if their hands are clean they need fear nothing. The decision in the tobacco trust case may throw further light on the subject, but already the atmosphere is cleared. The doubt that existed so long as the decision was withheld is dissolved. Business should know now what it can do and what it cannot do, and may govern itself accordingly.

THE NEWS AND THE NEWSPAPER.

A very earnest and very indignant union man, writing to the Open Court last evening, somewhat sweepingly condemned The Herald for publishing a story about a young man who committed suicide rather than join a union. This publication, says our correspondent, "is a tainted evidence of hypocrisy." We submit that the evidence is, indeed, very much tainted.

This correspondent makes a mistake that a great many other people have made. He assumes that the newspaper is responsible for the news. The Herald does not make news; it prints it. It is its duty to print the news, and if it fails to perform that duty it becomes unfaithful to those who buy it to get the news. The story criticised is no reflection on organized labor. Its utter novelty—its very absurdity, if you please—made it news that should be printed. If unions habitually conducted themselves so that it was a common thing for them to drive non-union men to suicide, the story wouldn't be nearly so vital a bit of news. It is the unusual that is striking, not the commonplace. It is the every day occurrence that brands a union or unionism; not unprecedented happenings like this.

TODAY'S OPPORTUNITY.

The American Lumberman editorially offers some suggestions that are very timely, and that every business man in the United States will do well to heed. It says:

BEGIN TODAY TO FORGET

That the business transactions last month were less than those of the record-breaking month of any previous year;

That pending legislation may possibly have a bearing or influence on your own affairs;

That the business man you talked with during your ride down town exuded pessimism. Possibly he was unconscious of it; probably he did not know any better. And

BEGIN TODAY TO REMEMBER

That national legislation concerns you not one-half so intimately or vitally as does the current demand for your own product;

That good crops are the foundation of good business, but that good crops alone do not make good business;

That never was money so cheap or so much of it available as today;

That credit is being frittered away through inactivity;

That idle men, mills, factories and foundries constitute an extravagance no nation can afford;

That the purchasing power of a nation is gaged by the continuous employment of its capital and labor and the continuous exercise of confidence;

That advancing civilization is manifested by better methods of educating, feeding, clothing, housing and amusing the people;

That these functions can be performed acceptably only through the continuous employment of all the capital, all the mental resources and all the labor of the people;

That he who sets idle machinery in motion and provides for the use of products which are not now in request contributes to present and future progress, and that such contributions, once made, are cumulative in their effects;

That a start made today is preferable to one tomorrow, in that it saves one day's interest on capital, turns loose one day sooner the earnings of workingmen, and helps to inaugurate normal activity, normal happiness and normal progress.

Wise, sound and timely, this advice.

There isn't a single reason, except the intangible reason of a misguided sentiment, why business should not be booming in every line in this country, as it is today in Europe. The crop outlook never was brighter; billions of new wealth are germinating in the soil. The country has passed through four years of scrimping during which there has been an enormous accumulation of capital which eagerly seeks employment. During most of these four years production has been curtailed more than consumption, so that the point where production must be resumed to meet actual needs is at hand. In short, every condition favors an immediate resumption of activity all along the line.

Maybe business has been waiting for the supreme court to decide the status of the trusts. Business ought to know that that is beyond the power of the supreme court, vast though its powers are. The trusts are here, and though a decision may change their form it cannot abolish these great business enterprises, any more than a court decision could have abolished labor saving devices when, once upon a time, labor would have been glad to have that done because it mistakenly feared that labor saving devices meant a lesser employment of labor. Notwithstanding the decision of the court, the oil business will be conducted pretty much under one organization, and pretty much as it is now until regulation takes the place of the misguided effort to revive by statute law a competition that economic law has destroyed beyond the possibility of revival.

A DOUBT TO BE REMOVED.

Discussion of the commission plan of city government for Duluth seems to be held up pending the solution of the doubt about whether it is constitutional.

If matters are left to take their own course, that means a long delay. The legislature proposed a constitutional amendment removing this doubt. That amendment cannot be effective until it is approved by the people. It cannot be voted upon by the people until November, 1912. Since it is difficult to procure the passage of any kind of a constitutional amendment, it may not be adopted by the people even then. There will be no opposition to it, but public indifference may kill it. That would mean a further delay of two, four or six years, depending on how long it takes to arouse enough public interest to get the amendment adopted.

Meanwhile, all that stands between Duluth and the commission form of city government is a doubt.

Very good lawyers think that with the Constitution as stands the commision plan is unconstitutional.

Very good lawyers, on the other hand, think that the commission plan is constitutional even without a constitutional amendment. Meanwhile Mankato has a commission government and is doing just as nicely under it as it possibly could if there were no doubt in legal minds about its constitutionality.

Last winter, when this doubt first got itself expressed, there was talk in Duluth about bringing a friendly suit to carry the point up to the supreme court and get it settled.

Why not start that suit now and get the point settled?

If the supreme court holds that the commission form is not out of harmony with the provisions of the Constitution, that is all there is to it. Duluth can go ahead with its plans.

If the court holds that the commission form is unconstitutional, nothing will be lost, and something will be gained: there will be a good argument to be used in interesting the people in the adoption of the amendment making it constitutional.

If the point is not decided, the campaign for the adoption of the amendment will lack force. A mere doubt is not a strong basis for such a campaign. A certainty is a very good basis for it. It will be much easier to interest the people in the proposed amendment if it is made clear that it is absolutely essential than it will if all there is to it is that some folks seem to think it may be needed.

On the other hand, if it turns out that those who think the commission plan unconstitutional are held by the supreme court to be in error, then nobody need worry about that constitutional amendment. It won't be needed, and Duluth can go right ahead with its campaign for a new charter.

The Constitution, in defining the powers of cities in relation to home rule charters, says: "It shall be a feature of all such charters that there shall be provided, among other things, for a mayor or chief magistrate and a legislative body of either one or two houses." Those who think the commission plan unconstitutional are convinced that that language means that the mayor and council must be separated, while under the commission plan the mayor is a member of the legislative body, and the other members have executive functions. Those who think that language no bar to the commission plan point out that there is a mayor and council in the commission-governed city, and that the Constitution doesn't specifically declare that their functions shall not overlap.

There is every reason why a suit should be started to settle this point. We can think of no reason why such a suit shouldn't be begun at once.

WILLIAM A. JONES OF VIRGINIA

By SAVOYARD.

This man has set himself a task for Hercules. It is his purpose to smite hip and thigh the Martin machine in Virginia, which is all that Quayism was in Pennsylvania, or Gormanism in Maryland, or more, for report saith that it mobilized in one camp the saloon and the temperance lodge, that is, those who drink in one and those who attend the other. It is notorious that at the last primary both classes I have named supported the machine candidate and he was triumphant.

Like all similar machines, the Martin combination is a Pretorian that parcels out among its servitors the spoils of office. Nobody can get a nomination for a state office without its consent, and it rules Virginia with an iron rod in the name and by the authority of the Democratic party, which it has by the throat. This machine held a primary election in the Norfolk congressional district in 1910 at which all the ward heelers of New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburg would stand aghast. That "election" was the issue in Virginia and the issue it will remain until the machine is destroyed.

It is everywhere conceded that Virginia is the most illustrious of the American commonwealths. She contributed to civil liberty the tongue of Henry, the pen of Jefferson, and the sword of Washington. Nay, she illumined the Christian civilization and exalted the human race with the lofty character of Robert E. Lee. The Constitution fell from the plastic hands of her Madison and her Mason, and to the republic she gave Kentucky and the opulent empire called the "Middle West." Leader of the Rebellion of '76, she was the citadel of the Rebellion of '61, and in her generous bosom sleeps more valor than reposes in the soil of all the rest of our hemisphere besides. When the South was at bay against what was practically the world in arms and the Old Dominion was bleeding at every pore, the vulture tore her tortured vitals and the vandal carved from her side what is now West Virginia and made it an annex of Pennsylvania.

And now after so glorious a past seemingly Virginia is powerless in the grasp of as conscienceless and as remorseless a set of political harpies as ever operated a machine in contempt of justice and in defiance of people. What will the harvest be? Time will tell.

Who is this champion that has entered the lists against the Martin machine? It is William A. Jones. Born near where repose the bones of "the world's only Washington," a citizen of that community every day of his life, educated at the institution founded by Thomas Jefferson elected eleven times to congress by that Democratic constituency, William A. Jones is a Virginian of Virginians. It would be impossible for the machine to seduce this man, and they who know him realize that it is unthinkable that he should lend himself to the corruption of the least or the humblest citizen. Preferment the most exalted, honors the most radiant, this man would scorn and put behind him unless they were the free offering of a free people and not the largess apportioned to him by a boss. And be it remembered the American people are face to face with their bosses everywhere, including old Virginia. God bless her!

William A. Jones was born in Richmond county in 1849, and his dwelling is on the same site of the house in which he was born. He was one of the boys of the Virginia Military Institute who stacked their arms in the capitol grounds at Richmond at the surrender of 1865. Then he attended the Coleman school at Fredricksburg, so famous as the preparatory academy for students of the University of Virginia. Later he entered that university, in both the academic and law departments and from the latter he was graduated.

He opened an office at Warsaw and was in the active practice of his profession when chosen member of congress from the First district in 1890 and he has been ten times re-elected, a record equaled by no other Virginian save John Randolph of Roanoke and Thomas Newton of Norfolk. He is the dean of the Democratic side and no man in public life has made a finer character.

Mr. Jones won his spurs the first session in which he sat. It was in the debate of the Sibley claim. Before the war Sibley, a Southerner and a graduate of West Point, invented an army tent, and the government entered into a contract with him for its use. He assigned one-half the contract to a Northern man who collected what was due him on it. Sibley went with his people in the war and after the surrender he was pardoned and later he died.

His heirs presented a claim for the amount due him and the government pleaded the statute of limitations; at least that was the effect of it, but bloody shirters like Burrows and that gang pleaded treason in bar. While Jones was speaking Tom Reed interrupted to ask if the fact that the government was magnamimous enough not to hang Sibley for his treason should not be full satisfaction and discharge of the account, to which Jones retorted that such suggestion would come with better grace from some one who faced Sibley on the field of battle.

There was a heap of pharisaism in the debate of the Sibley claim and perhaps it was the last forensic battle in congress in which the G. O. P. unfurled the bloody shirt. There was a deal of cant and dishonesty in every argument adduced. The excuse for the repudiation was that those to whom the debt was due were children of a pardoned rebel. If that idea prevailed —that nobody should pay a debt if he did not approve the conduct or the descent of the creditor—it would be the easiest matter in the world for all of us to turn rascals and retain our respectability.

Jones' retort on Reed was one of the very few times that the shaft of an adversary pierced the armor of the giant from Maine. He resented it like a pygmy and not like the great man he certainly was, and when he became speaker of the Fifty-fourth congress he removed Jones from the committee of rivers and harbors and assigned him to minor and insignificant places in the organization in which Virginia had little or no interest, such as Indian affairs and public lands. It was designed as a punishment of an enemy to whom he did not speak and over whom he had power. It was unworthy Tom Reed.

Time went on. Jones discharged his committee duties promptly and faithfully as he did all other congressional labors. Reed watched him and came to respect him, possibly to admire him for his resolute and dignified character. There came a vacancy on appropriations and Reed commissioned a member to say that Jones could have the place. Jones sent him word that his public service was known to the speaker, who could do as he saw fit in the matter. That nettled Reed and he gave the place to another. Had Jones indicated the least part of submission then he would be chairman of appropriations now.

When the committee on insular affairs was created the Republicans were resolved that it should be an important body, composed of the very aristocracy of the house. Cannon, Payne, Hitt, Hepburn, Loud, Moody and Tawney were on it—four chairmen of big committees, a future associate justice of the supreme court and a future chairman of appropriations. Jones was made head of the minority, though it contained Carmack of Tennessee and Maddox of Georgia. He has been on the committee from its creation and is now its chairman.

This is the man who has the temerity to offer combat to the Goliath of the machine. Mr. Carter Glass supports him, and as soon as I can gather some additional information I shall have something to say about Mr. Glass and the suppression of the freedom of the press in the state of Thomas Jefferson.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. J. H. Sandberg, the United States government botanist, has been spending a week in the country around Northern Pacific Junction and Two Harbors. During this season he hopes to collect for the government all the varieties of plants in St. Louis county from Duluth to the boundary line. Prof. Alton of the Holmes school will spend the summer around Lake Itasca for Dr. Sandberg. The doctor's work is to gather a specimen of every plant indigenous to St. Louis county and growing at the sources of the Mississippi river. He expects to find between 1,200 and 1,300 varieties.

The grand chapter of the Eastern Star elected officers before adjournment last night. Mrs. Jacoby of Minneapolis was chosen W. G. M. and Mrs. Wing of Minneapolis secretary. N. A. Gearhart of Duluth was chosen A. G. P. and Mrs. Patton of Duluth grand organist. A banquet given by the Zenith lodge, No. 25, O. E. S., of this city, was served to about 200 guests.

Mrs. Bessie Scoville organized a Woman's Christian Temperance union at West Duluth yesterday, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Emma Ellison; recording secretary, Mrs. F. C. Dennett; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Helen Chapin; treasurer, Mrs. M. C. Burnside.

J. B. Holmes, projector of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern road, writes from New York that the capitalists back of the road are agreed to push it this year. Property owners on Minnesota Point are said to have offered all terminal property needed on condition that ore docks be built and other substantial improvements made.

J. H. McFadden of West Duluth left last evening for a visit to his old home in Canada.

F. W. Hoyt, president of the projected Duluth, Red Wing & Southern railroad, is in the city looking around for terminal facilities and preparing plans for the proposed bridge across the St. Louis river from St. Louis to New Duluth.

The county commissioners met yesterday afternoon and opened five bids for the purchase of $30,000 worth of road and bridge bonds, bearing 4½ per cent interest and running twenty years. The bids were all below par and were therefore rejected.

The silver mine of the Howard brothers in Montana is turning out valuable property, $25,000 having recently been offered and declined by the owners.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

ASKS FOR BIAS, NOT FAIRNESS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Such unreasonable defenses of the union cause as that offered by William E. Towne in last evening's edition of The Herald hurts the union cause more than it helps it. Because a piece of news is unfavorable to unionism, must a newspaper, to establish its fairness, suppress that news? Mr. Towne forgets that would be bias, not fairness.

Let us have both sides to everything. I believe in the union cause and would object if anything unfair to it were printed. I believe also that everything favorable to unionism should be printed. But I do not believe that the publication of a news item unfavorable to the unions is an evidence of unfairness.

Let us explain, if we can, but not condemn papers which try to give us both sides of questions. Let us distinguish fairness from bias.

R. E. M.

Duluth, May 16.

Taft at His Finest.

New York Evening Post: President Taft faced the embattled farmers in the White House yesterday man-fashion, and told them some plain truths with refreshing directness. They had come to protest against Canadian reciprocity on the ground that it would compel them to "take less for our wheat." But they are already taking less for their wheat. The price is from 15 to 20 per cent lower than a year ago. The good old protectionist argument would be that this is an anticipatory effect of reciprocity, just as the Wilson bill of 1894 caused the panic of 1893. The farmers did not allege this to the president, but they did tell him that, if the Canadian agreement went through, the farmers would in large numbers desert the Republican party. To this Mr. Taft made the reply that he was sorry to hear it, but that it had nothing to do with the argument of reciprocity, and that any threat affecting his "personal political fortunes" he should entirely disregard. This may not be politics, but it is magnificent. To tell a "vote," farmer or labor, to its face that it can go where it pleases, requirts a degree of courage in a public man which we do not often witness. In President Taft this sort of plain speaking is not uncommon. It seems to go with his judicial habit. He turns away political threateners just as he would make an irrelevant witness in court shut up.

A Working Democrat.

Metropolitan Magazine: On the morning of election a farmer came into Hiram Morse's blacksmith shop to have his horse shod.

"Purty busy this mornin', Bill?" inquired Morse, as he raked the embers together on the forge.

"Yep," answered Bill. "Hain't got hardly time ter go ter th' village an' vote."

"W-a-a-l, I'm purty busy myself," said Morse, casually. "I'll tell yer what we'll do," he added, after a moment's thought. "Long's yer a Republican an' I'm a Democrat, we'll pair off, jest as they do in congress, an' neither on us will vote. What do yer say?"

Bill agreed to the proposition; but after the election it was found that Bill had paired off with every Republican customer who had come to his shop.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Harper's Weekly: "You won't make any mistake in buying this car, Mr. Juggins," said the agent. "It is the best in the market. There isn't any comeback to our output."

"Then I don't want it," retorted Juggins. "There wasn't any comeback to the last car I had, and I had to walk back. Haven't you anything you can show me with a few return attachments?"

Lippincott's: Pettibone—One cannot live on love alone.

Funnibone—I can live on my love.

Pettibone—Why, how is that?

Funnibone—She has $100,000.

M. A. P.: Mrs. Mumps—Your 'usband wears 'is 'air terribly short, Mrs. Gubbins.

Mrs. Gubbins—Yes, the coward!

Cleveland Leader: "He knows all the best people in town."

"Why doesn't he associate with them, then?"

"They know him."

Washington Star: "Why did you jilt that man who wanted to marry you?"

"Because," replied the prima donna, "I couldn't make up my mind whether he was in love with me or merely wanted to hear me sing for nothing."

World of Golf: Beginner — Now, you've seen my style. Do you think you can tell me what sort of a golfer I shall make?

Professional—Yes, sir, if you can stand the shock.

Meggendorfer Blaetter: "What's your husband so ugly about?"

"He's been out of work six weeks."

"I should think that would suit him first rate!"

"That's it! He's just got a job today."

Kansas City Journal: "There is a belief that summer girls are always fickle.

"Yes; I got engaged on that theory, but it looks as if I'm in for a wedding or a breach of promise suit."

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: Flattery is the praise we hear of others.

Merely a coincidence is what the plagarist calls it.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: It isn't a man's love for flowers that makes him throw bouquets at himself.

Many a man's failure is due to the fact that he bit off more than he could chew.

Occasionally the only thing the fool-killer need do is to set the pace that exterminates.

Too Cheap.

York Dispatch: If this poultry fever keeps up throughout the country eggs will soon become so common no one will eat them.

DULUTH, JUNE 1 AND 2.

A Consolation Meeting.

Bear River Journal: The Northern Minnesota Development association will hold a consolation session at Duluth, June 1, to ask themselves "where was I at," since the legislature adjourned. The association should know more about political promises, now.

Another Splendid Gathering.

Crookston Times: The meeting of the association at Duluth, June 1 and 2 will be another splendid gathering and every section of Northern Minnesota should be well represented. The whole tendency is to unite in an effort to secure those things which are for the general good of the entire section.

In these movements it is the live ones who do the work. They give of their time and money to advance such movements. The benefits derived are for all the people, but the work is done and the bills are paid by the few.

And it is left to the croakers to do the fault finding. It is these men who live ones be heard from. The knockers will be ever with us, but they should be ignored as candidates for the school for the feeble minded would be. In a way they are harmless.

Let every community have a delegate at the Duluth meeting. One feature will be a great gathering of the land men of the state, the purpose being to effect an organization among them and do some consistent advertising along some definite plan. This would be a splendid result, and it should be accomplished.

A Shrewd Guess.

Foley Independent: Secretary W. R. Mackenzie is making great preparations for the Duluth meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association which will be held on June 1 and 2. The matter of reapportionment will undoubtedly be taken up and the Independent is very much of the opinion that the comic opera company that held forth in St. Paul the past winter will come in for a severe grilling.

An Educational Meeting.

Brainerd Dispatch: Duluth will entertain the Northern Minnesota Development association on June 1 and 2, which will be the fourth convention of that association which was organized at Bemidji for the purpose of carrying on a campaign of education that the people seeking homes might take advantage of the opportunities offered by Northern Minnesota. Many subjects of interest will be discussed and Duluth will outdo herself in entertaining the delegates who will visit the city. The program is not yet complete, but will be made public soon, and it is said that the business meeting will not be the only interesting feature, as the Duluth Commercial club and the St. Louis County club are arranging side trips on Lake Superior where an opportunity will be offered to inspect the great lake port, and the Jean Duluth, G. G. Hartley Island farms and other places of interest will be visited. The idea is to "Boost for Minnesota," and Duluth believes if the people of this great state become acquainted with what they have at the Head of the Great Lakes it will be an incentive. It will be an educational meeting in more sense than one and the delegate who misses this meeting will regret it.

Do It at Duluth.

Bemidji Pioneer: There is a world of possibilities for Northern Minnesota at the convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association in Duluth on June 1 and 2. Here will be an opportunity to formulate plans for future conquests that will exceed those of the past, and the history of the commonwealth since the first Bemidji convention contains more than one notable triumph for the men who have lead the fight for Northern Minnesota. Reapportionment was lost, that is true, at the recent legislature, but a string of new laws adorn the statute books that are bringing Northern Minnesota into her own; they are transforming stump strewn tracts into flourishing farms, and most of these laws can be traced to that memorable convention held in Brainerd Dec. 1 and 2 of last year. There is every reason to believe that the Duluth gathering will be the biggest and most important from every standpoint of any gathering in the history of the Development association.

That's the Way to Talk.

Littlefork Times: The general public in this section realize that the favorable legislation enacted at St. Paul this spring was directly due to the efforts of the Northern Minnesota Development association, and that many of the laws are framed under the guidance of its members. We have secured good road laws, taxation of state land for school purposes, relief for settlers on state land and many other well known needed reforms that need no recounting. Twenty acres of state land will be cleared here shortly. Duluth citizens have been the main force back of this organization and our citizens who can do so will hall with joy the opportunity to appear in the Zenith City on June 1 and 2, to show that we appreciate their work, and at the same time present facts that will lead to further aid in the future. It's Duluth for us on June 1.

The Gun Behind the Door.

Woodrow Wilson: I haven't the slightest fear of the initiative and referendum disturbing our theory of representative government. I don't worry about theories, anyhow; it is facts that worry me. The fact is, we in New Jersey have at present little more than the theory, while in states where they have tried it, the initiative and referendum has given them back the fact of representative government. It works, you know, without being called on to work at all. Where legislative representatives know that, if they fail really to represent, the people have the power to take legislation back into their own hands, those representatives have an effective motive to represent. The initiative and referendum is like a gun behind the door—for use only in case of emergency, but a mighty good persuader, nevertheless.

Petroleum and the Farmer.

Wall Street Journal: "What is petroleum to me?" asks an Iowa farmer. With this question still troubling his mind he proceeds to oil his automobile with a "Standard Oil" lubricant and to fill the tank with "Standard Oil" gasoline.

He walks to the barn and tells the hired man to rub "Standard Oil" hoof oil on the bay pony, to soften the new horse collar with "Standard Oil" harness oil, and to put "Standard Oil" axle grease on the wagon.

Then he returns to the house, where he finds his wife cleaning a dress with "Standard Oil" benzine and "Standard Oil" parowax. After washing his hands with "Standard Oil" naphtha soap and rubbing a little "Standard Oil" vaseline upon his sore thumb he lights a "Standard Oil" Rayo lamp, filled with "Standard Oil" kerosene, and goes to the cellar for a pot of jam, which is sealed with "Standard Oil" paraffin.

His wife boils some water on a "Standard Oil" cook stove and opens a box of biscuits that have been kept fresh in "Standard Oil" waxed paper. After lunch they ride to town over a road that is dressed with "Standard Oil" road oil to order a five-gallon can of "Standard Oil" form oil for the concrete milkhouse that he is planning to start next week.

"That is what I'd like to know," he says, as he makes a note with a "Standard Oil" carbon pencil. "What is petroleum or Standard Oil to me?"

STANDARD OIL MUST BE DISSOLVED, SAYS COURT

Highest Tribunal in the Land Sustains Earlier Decree.

Rule of Reason Must Be Applied to Law, Says Chief Justice.

Washington, May 16.—Following a summary of the Standard Oil decision:

The supreme court holds:

That the Standard Oil company is a monopoly in restraint of trade.

The parent corporation must be dissolved within six months.

Corporations whose contracts are "not unreasonably restrictive of competition" are not affected.

Other great corporations whose acts may be called into question will be dealth with according to the merits of their particular cases.

The court was unanimous as to the main features of the decision, Justice Harlan dissenting only as to a limitation of the application of the Sherman anti-trust law.

President Taft and cabinet will consider immediately the entire trust situation and the advisability of pressing for a federal incorporation act.

A decision in the tobacco trust case, which was expected simultaneously, was not announced yesterday, and may be handed down on May 29.

Dissent by Harlan.

Justice Harlan dissented, claiming that cases already decided by the court had determined once and for all that the word "undue" or "unreasonable" or similar words, were not in the statute. He declared that the reasoning of the court in arriving at its findings, was in effect legislation which belonged in every instance to congress and not to the courts.

Ever since the decree in this case in the lower court, the United States circuit court for the Eastern district of Missouri, was announced, hope has been expressed by the "business world" that the law would be modified so as not to interfere with what was designated as honest business. That section of the opinion calling for the use of the rule of reason in applying the law is regarded in many quarters as an answer to the prayers of the "business world."

Modification of Decree.

The decree of the lower court was modified so that there need not be "an absolute cessation of interstate commerce in petroleum and its products by such vast agencies as are embraced in the combination, a result which might arise from that portion of the decree which enjoined carrying on of interstate commerce not only by the New Jersey corporation, but by all of the subsidiary companies, until the dissolution of the combination by the transfer of the stocks in accordance with the decree."

The court also extended the time from one to six months in which the dissolution must take place.

The opinion of the court was announced by Justice White. In printed form, it contained more than 20,000 words. For nearly an hour the chief justice discussed the case from the bench, going over most of the points in the printed opinion, but not once referring to it in order to refresh his memory.

Leading Men Present.

Before him sat a distinguished audience of the most famous men of the country. Senators and representatives left their respective chambers to listen to the epoch-making decision. Most eager to hear were Attorney-General Wickersham and Frank B. Kellogg, who had conducted the fight against the Standard Oil company. None of the brilliant array of counsel for the corporation or individual defendants was present in the court during the reading of the opinion.

The opinion of the court was construed to mean that the tobacco case, like every other case in which restraint of trade is alleged, must be subjected to the new test of reasonableness of the restraint, as laid down in the Standard Oil decision.

By far the greatest portion of the opinion of the chief justice was devoted to the justification of the court in requiring that the "rule of reason" be applied to restraints of trade before they were held to be violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. The court found this justification in the common law of the forefathers, and in the general law of the country at the time the Sherman anti-trust law was passed.

In short, the court held that the technical words of the statute were to be given the meaning which those words in the common law had, and in the law of the country at the time of the enactment. This meaning of the words, according to the court, called for the exercise of reason in determining what restraint of trade was probited.

Reviewed the Proceedings.

Chief Justice White in his opinion first reviewed the preliminary proceedings in the case in the circuit court of the United States for the Eastern district of Missouri. He restated the essential points in the bill of the government, asking for the dissolution of the Standard Oil, and the answer questioning the jurisdiction of the court and denying the claims of the government. He dismissed the objection to the jurisdiction in a few words by holding that it was not well founded.

He then came to the arguments as to the law and the facts in the case, saying that out of the "jungle" of law and facts both sides were agreed only in one thing, and that was that the determination of the controversy rested upon the proper construction and application of the first and second sections of the anti-trust acts. The views of the two sides, as to the law, the chief justice said, were wide apart as the poles. The same, he said, was true as to the facts.

Contentions of Parties.

"Thus on the one hand, with relentless pertinacity and minuteness of analysis," said the chief justice, "it is insisted that the facts established that the assailed combination took its birth in a purpose to unlawfully acquire wealth by oppresing the public and destroying the just rights of others, and that its entire career exemplifies an inexorable carrying out of such wrongful intents, since, it is asserted, the pathway of the combination from the beginning of the time of the filing the bill, is marked with constant proofs of wrong inflicted upon the public and is strewn with the wrecks resulting from crushing out, without regard to law, of the individual rights of others. * * * It is asserted that the existence of the principal corporate defendant, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, with its vast accumulation of property, because of its potency for harm and the dangerous example which its continued existence affords, is an open and enduring menace to all freedom of trade and a by-word and reproach to all modern economic methods.

Claim of Defendants.

"On the other hand, in a powerful analysis of the facts, it is insisted that they demonstrate that the origin and development of the vast business which the defendants control was but the result of lawful competitive methods, guided by economic genius of the highest order, sustained by courage, by a keen insight into the commercial situation resulting in the acquisition of great wealth, but at the same time serving to stimulate an increased production, to widely extend the distribution of the products of petroleum at a cost largely below that which otherwise would have prevailed, thus proving to be at one and the same time a benefaction to the general public as well as an enormous advantage to individuals."

In this state of affairs the chief justice seized upon the single point of concord; namely, the application of the two sections of the Sherman act, as the initial basis as an examination of the contention. The rest of his opinion divided itself into a consideration of the meaning of the Sherman anti-trust law in the light of the common law and the law of the United States at the time of its adoption, the contentions of the parties concerning the act and the scope and effect of the decisions of the supreme court, the application of the statute to the facts, and lastly the remedy.

Under the Law.

In striving to get at the meaning of the two sections of the law, he said the whole subject with which the first section dealt was "restraint of trade" and that the attempt to monopolize and monopolization was the subject of the sections. The chief justice said that in getting at the meaning of these words he would be guided by the principle that where words are employed in a statute, which at the time had a well known meaning in common law, or in the law of this country, they were presumed to have been used in this case unless the context compels to the contrary. He summarized his search into the common law and the law of the country at the time the Sherman law was passed, so far as the first section was concerned, as follows:

"A—That the context manifests that the statute was drawn in the light of the existing practical conception of the law of restraint of trade, because it groups as within that class, not only contracts which were in restraint of trade in the subjective sense, but all contracts or acts which theoretically were attempts to monopolize, yet which in practice had come to be considered as in restraint of trade in a broad sense.

Restraint of Trade.

"B—That in view of the many forms of contracts and combinations which were being evolved from existing economic conditions, it was deemed essential by an all-embracing enumeration to make sure that no form of contract or combination by which an undue restraint of interstate or foreign commerce was brought about could have such restraint free from condemnation. The statute under this view evidenced the intention not to restrain the rights to make and enforce contracts, whether resulting from combination or otherwise, which did not unduly restrain the interstate e or foreign commerce, but to protect that commerce from being restrained by methods, whether old or new, which would constitute an interference that is an undue restraint.

"C—And as the contracts or acts embraced in the provision were not clearly defined, since the enumeration addressed itself simply to classes of acts, those classes being broad enough to embrace every conceivable contract or combination which could be made concerning trade or commerce or the subjects of such commerce, and thus cause any act done by any of the enumerated methods anywhere in the whole field of human activity to be illegal if in restraint of trade, it inevitably follows that the provision necessarily called for the exercise of judgment which requires that some standard should be resorted to for the purpose of determining whether the prohibitions contained in the statute had or had not in any given case been violated.

Standard of Reason.

"Thus, not specifying, but indubitably contemplating and requiring a standard, it follows that it was intended that the standard of reason which had been applied as the common law and in the country in dealing with objects of the character embraced by the statute, was intended to be the measure used for the purpose of determining whether in a given case a particular act had or had not brought about the wrong against which the statute provided.

"As to the second section," he said, the investigation of the common law and of law at the time the Sherman act was passed, established that it was infended to supplement the first and to make sure that by no possible guise could the public policy embodied in the first section be frustrated or evaded. Having in the first section forbidden all means of monopolizing trade, that is, unduly restraining it by means of every contract, combination and so forth, the second section, according to the chief justice, "seeks, if possible, to make the prohibition to the act all the more complete and perfect by embracing all attempts to reach the end prohibited by the first section by any attempt to monopolize, or monopolization thereof, even if the acts by which such results are attempted to be brought about, or are brought about, be not embraced within the general enumeration of the first section."

Applying the Statute.

Here the chief justice first spoke of using the "rule of reason" in applying the statute to any given case. He said:

"And, of course, when the second section is thus harmonized with and made, as it was intended to be, the complement of the first, it becomes obvious that the criteria to be resorted to in any given case for the purpose of ascertaining whether violations of the section have been committed, is the rule of reason given by the established law and by the plain duty to enforce the prohibitions of the act, and thus the public policy which its restrictions were obviously enacted to subserve.

"And it is worthy of observation, as we have previously remarked concerning the common law, that although the statute, by the comprehensiveness of the enumeration embodied in both the first and second sections, makes it assiduously certain that its purpose was to prevent undue restraints of every kind or nature, nevertheless, by the omission of any direct prohibition against monopoly in the concrete, it indicates a consciousness that the freedom of the individual right to construct, when not unduly or improperly exercised, was the most efficient means for the prevention of monopoly, since the operation of the centrifugal and centripetal forces resulting from the right to freely construct was the means by which monopoly would be inevitably prevented if no extraneous or sovereign power imposed it, and no right to make unlawful contracts having a monopolistic tendency were permitted.

Freedom to Contract.

"In other words, that freedom to contract was the essence of freedom from undue restraint on the right to contract."

The chief justice next considered the contention of the parties as to the meaning of the statute. He said in substance the propositions of the government were reducible to the claim that the language of the statute embraced "every contract, combination, etc., in restraint of trade," and left no room for the exercise of judgment, but simply imposed the plain duty of applying its prohibitions to every case within its literal language. The error of the government on this point, Chief Justice White said, was in assuming that the decisions of the court had decided in accordance with its contentions.

Speaking of this error of the government, Chief Justice White said:

"This is true because, as the acts which may come under the classes stated in the first section and the restraint of trade to which that second section applies are not specifically enumerated or defined, it is obvious that judgment must in every case be called into play in order to determine whether a particular case is embraced within the statutory classes, and whether, if the act is within such classes, its nature or effect causes it to be a restraint of trade within the intendment of the act.

Right to Combine.

"To hold to the contrary would require the conclusion either that every contract, act or combination of any kind or nature, whether it operated in restraint of trade or not, was within the statute, and thus the statue would be destructive of all right to contract or agree or combine in any respect whatever as to subjects embraced in interstate trade or commerce, or if this conclusion were not reached, then the contention would require it to be held that, as the statute did not define the things to which it related, and excluded resort to the only means by which the acts of which it relates could be ascertained—the light of reason—the enforcement of the statute was impossible because of its uncertainty.

"The merely generic enumeration which the statute makes of the acts to which it refers, and the absence of any definition of restraint of trade as used in the statute, leaves room for only one conclusion, which is that it was expressly designed not only to limit the application of the act by precise definition, but while clearly fixing a standard—that is, by defining the ulterior boundaries which could not be transgressed with impunity—to leave it to be determined by the light of reason, guided by principles of law and the duty to apply and enforce the public policy embodied in the statute in every given case, whether any particular act or contract was within the contemplation of the statute."

Destruction of Competition.

Chief Justice White said the court found no cause to doubt the conclusion of the court below, namely:

"That the acts and dealings established by the proof operated to destroy the 'potentiality of competition' which otherwise would have existed to such an extent as to cause the transfers of stock which were made to the New Jersey corporation, and the control which resulted over the many subsidiary corporations, to be a combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the first section of the act, but also to be an attempt to monopolize, and a monopolization bringing about a perennial violation of the second section."

He based the conclusions of the court that the holdings below were right on two broad reasons. These were stated by the chief justice to be as follows:

"A—Because unification and power to control over petroleum and its products, which was the inevitable result of the combining in the New Jersey corporation, by the increase of its stock, and the transfer to it of the stock of the many other corporations, aggregating so vast a capital, give rise, in and of itself, in the absence of countervailing circumstances, to say the least, to the prima facie presumption of intent and purpose to maintain the dominacy over the oil industry, not as a result of normal methods of industrial development, but by means of combination which were resorted to in order that greater power might be added than would otherwise have arisen had normal methods been followed, the whole with the purpose of excluding others from the trade and thus centralizing in the combination a perpetual control of the movements of petroleum and its products in the channels of interstate commerce.

Presumption Made Conclusive.

"B—Because the prima facie presumption of intent to restrain trade, to monopolize and to bring about monopolization resulting from the act of expanding the stock of the New Jersey corporation and vesting it with such control of the oil industry, is made conclusive: First, by considering the conduct of the persons or corporations who were mainly instrumental in bringing about the extension of power in the New Jersey corporation before the consummation of that result and prior to the formation of the trust agreements of 1879 and 1882; second, by considering the proof as to what was done under those agreements and the acts which immediately preceded the vesting of power in the New Jersey corporation, as well as by weighing the modes in which the power vested in that corporation had been exerted, and the results which have arisen from it."

One Way of Saving a Baby--Free to Try

The mother does not live who would not do all in her power to keep her child healthy, but often she does not know how. So when a doctor of standing points the way all can afford to listen.

It is an accepted fact that nine out of ten of the troubles of infants and children is intestinal. You notice it by the fact that the child is constipated, it belches, is peevish and cries. Don't give a remedy that contains an opiate, because the child will get in the habit of needing it, and don't become alarmed and run at once for a doctor.

Try a scientific laxative first. Give a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that is intended for the use of children. It is mild, gentle and non-griping. The remedy is absolutely pure and is guaranteed in every particular. Mrs. Toomey of Emingsville, Pa., and Mrs. Fred Croms of Alanson, Mich., never gave their children anything else. These are only a few among thousands of women.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any nearby druggist, for they have all sold it for a generation, but if you want to test it on your child first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a free sample bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Judge Tells Why Men Go Bankrupt

"After all, it is not strange," says a judge who presides in many bankruptcy cases, "that the ordinary type of bankrupt exhibits in his face and general condition a woeful lack of strength and mental concentration. I believe the cause of their failure is lack of that vitality and combative nerve-strength so absolutely necessary to keep a man up and doing." Nerves are all that make you, whether you are a man, woman or child. The most powerful nerve vitalizer and blood purifier is without doubt Make-Man Tablets. They are wonder-workers and absolutely safe for thinblooded and nerve-wrecked men, women and children. Trial treatment sent free on request by Make-Man Tablet Co., Dept. 12, Chicago.

VETO BILL READY TO GO TO LORDS

London, May 16.—The fight in the house of commons over the veto bill to curtail the powers of the house of lords ended last night. An amendment to reject the whole bill was defeated 362 to 243, and the measure was carried on its third reading, 362 to 241. Announcement of the figures was received with a tremendous outburst of applause and several of the ministerialists called out to the opposition: "Now toe the line and take it like men." It is expected that the bill will go to the house of lords at an early date.

Debate in the house of lords on the second reading of Lord Lansdowne's bill for the reconstruction of the upper chamber indicated that the leaders' orders will fail to coerce many of the Unionist peers into voting for a measure involving their own political extinction. Baron Willoughby d'Brecke declared that the house, as now constituted, is the best the country could get and, if he were going to perish, he would prefer his quietus at the hands of the electors rather than at the hands of their lordships.

Rosen Not to Be Minister.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—It is officially denied at the foreign office that the oppointment of Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador at Washington, to the head of that ministry in succession to Sergius Sazonoff, who is ill, was contemplated.

Wants Questions Answered.

Washington, May 16.—One phase of the government's prosecution of the alleged "bath tub" trust came before the supreme court of the United States yesterday.

One of the defendants, the Colwell Lead company, asks a review of the decision of Judge Holland in the federal court in Pennsylvania, declining to compel certain witnesses, co-defendants with the Colwell company in the government's prosecution, to answer certain questions the Colwell company propounded for the elaboration of its defense. The request was taken under consideration.

GRAIN CONCERN GETS VERDICT

Railroad Company Must Pay for Shortage in Flax Shipment.

The jury in the case of Turle & Co. against the Minnneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railroad company brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $1,479.14 yesterday afternoon.

The case has been on trial before Judge Cant for several days. The plaintiffs claimed that a car loaded with 66,470 pounds of flaxseed at a point in North Dakota contained only 10,420 pounds when received in Duluth.

Notice of the shortage was given the railroad company when the car was received, but the railroad refused to pay, claiming that there had been no leakage.

The grain company then commenced suit against the railroad for $1,376.44, which was said to be the value of the shortage. This, with the interest, was awarded by the jury after the case had been heard.

Wealthy Jews Leaving.

Kiev, Russia, May 16.—The ability of the authorities to preserve public order last Sunday, the date reported to have been set for a Jewish massacre, has had a reassuring effect upon the Jewish population. Nevertheless the exodus of the more wealthy Jews continues and the panic will not subside completely until the circumstance of the alleged ritualistic murder on Feb. 28 last have been explained and the responsibility for the crime fixed.

FIFTY YEARS SINCE CALL

Memorial Day This Year Will Have Special Significance

Marks Semi-Centennial of Beginning of Great Struggle.

Interest in the approaching Memorial day—May 30—is becoming more and more pronounced and it is only reasonable to expect that the day this year will be more generally observed than ever before.

One of the reasons for this is the fact that 1911 marks the semi-centennial of the beginning of the great struggle—the tremendous conflict. Fifty years ago the Grand Army of the Republic had not been organized. The boys who were to compose it were in the mills and factories and on the farms of the North when Lincoln's first call for volunteers reached them, and answering in the name of the Union, they came forth and waged successfully what has been termed the greatest war in history.

Very few of the Grand Army of the Republic lived to see the first semi-centennial of their heroism, and, of course, none of them will see the second. Already their ranks have been thinned to such an extent that in many quarters they are all but depleted, and each return of Memorial day sees an ever increasing number of graves to decorate and fewer of the grizzled veterans to take part in the annual parade.

July 4 is spoken of as the birthday of the Union, and May 30 has, through hallowed custom, become regarded as the day of its preservation, and for this reason is one of the most sacred days in the American calender.

As in past years, the Citizens' Staff has the matter of Memorial day exercises in hand, and an endeavor is being made to enlist the enthusiasm and aid of every man in Duluth. The parade is going to be the biggest in history. The program at the auditorium, where a great mass meeting has been provided for, promises to be especially interesting and the capacity of that large structure will no doubt be taxed. It is believed that the business houses throughout the city will be closed for the occasion and their appropriate decoration of the city should be assured.

and studied by my associates and myself before it can be intelligently dealt with.

"It may, however, be now said that the Standard Oil company will obey the decree of the court, and that all the companies embraced in the court's decree will carry on their business as usual under the direction of their own officers and through their own corporate organizations."

Attention on Europe.

Wall street had its ear to the European cables this morning, waiting for news of the opening markets across the Atlantic which would test the effect of yesterday's decision of the United States supreme court declaring the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey an illegal monopoly.

The first news was reassuring, although apparently not unexpected. The fact that the London stock market opened but half a point to a point below yesterday's New York closing and quickly strengthened on New York buying orders indicated that the decision had been generally anticipated and showed the quality of the overnight verdict on the court's decision.

What Trust May Do.

Opinion seemed about equally divided as to how the Standard Oil would meet the wishes of the court. In the absence of any official statement two plans were heard of. One was the division of the present organization into several separate companies, each operating in its own territory. Another suggested the disintegration of the subsidiaries of the parent company and the formation of a new corporation which might acquire all the physical property of these subsidiaries and issue new stock. An argument advanced in support of this idea was that such a reorganization would be a single company and not a "combination."

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS AGAINST THE OFFICIALS OF STANDARD OIL MAY BE STARTED

and the future policy of this and other administrations may hang much upon that point.

President Taft has declined to express any opinion until he could go over the court's finding with Attorney General Wickersham.

Rush for Copies.

There was a great rush at the clerk's office of the supreme court today for copies of the famous opinion.

Although the full opinion of the court totaled more than 20,000 words, Chief Justice White, to the surprise of all, announced at least half of it without apparently glancing at the notes which lay before him. Evidently the chief justice had the opinion so well arranged in his mind that he spoke it without help.

In ending a struggle of years on the part of the government to put down a combination which was claimed to be a menace to the industrial and economic advancement of the entire country, the court declared that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary companies were a conspiracy and combination in "unreasonable" restraint of trade under the Sherman law, and ordered the dissolution of the ocmbination within six months.

"Good" and "Bad" Trusts.

At the same time the court did not condemn all great interstate corporations and did not hold that "every" restraint of trade was a violation of law. The decision plainly left the inference that each corporation whose acts may be called into question must be judged upon the merits of its particular case.

In other words, the court seems to have upheld the doctrine that there are "good" and "bad" trusts.

The Standard Oil was a "bad" trust. The fate of the so-called tobacco trust is hanging in the balance. Whether it is a "good" or a "bad" trust probably will be decided on May 29, the last decision day of the present term of court.

There was much discussion here today of Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion. He declared that there ought to be no recognition of the difference between "reasonable restraint" and "unreasonable restraint" by the supreme court, but that congress ought to do it if it were to be done.

Comment by Harlan.

"But the fact remains," declared Justice Harlan, "that until this day congress has been satisfied with the law as written in this respect, and today the law stands that every contract in restraint of trade is illegal."

As one of the direct results of the decision, it is said that the federal incorporation act, prepared by the attorney General Wickersham at the direction of President Taft, may be brought up to the situation created by the court's action and pressed for passage in congress.

company out of existence I should regard it as a calamity. But it will not have that effect. The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, which I understand controls through its stockholdings a large number of corporations whose business is producing, refining or transporting petroleum and selling the refined product, may have to go into liquidation, but the business will proceed through these separate organizations. It is quite possible that the world at large will observe no difference in the net results.

Harsh With Competitors.

"That the Standard Oil company has been harsh in dealing with competitors is doubtless true. There seems to have been abundant evidence that the company tolerated no competitors if it could avoid it, and in this course lurked the evil which brought about the prosecution and the result just reached.

"The case and the decision, however, may serve to establish the fact that no concern can exist in our country that is above the law and that may not effectually be called to account. I am quite strongly of the belief that the decision will bring relief from the long suspense and that managers of large enterprises may from it take courage and business derive an impetus upon the assurance thus given by the now most powerful branch of our government, that the rule of reason will prevail and each company be judged upon the merits of its acts.

"The people are possessed of honesty of purpose, and as a rule, will act reasonably and righteously, unless misled or misinformed. Conscienceless politicians, who have no criterion of conduct except their own personal advancement and advantage, who create prejudice and sow seeds of discord by disseminating misinformation, need some restraining hand quite as much as any great corporation. If the laws are obeyed, the corporate form of doing business is a great boon and an indispensible convenience. If the laws are obeyed by all, the prosperity of any great enterprise is an advantage to all. One class cannot truly or for long profit at the expense of another. It should not be forgotten that that which injures the strong may utterly destroy the weak.

"The country should now be enjoying the highest prosperity. It is only the fear and uncertainty caused by senseless agitation that causes the prevailing stagnation. Firm, forceful, honest control and regulation should not be shunned. Senseless agitation and indiscriminate clamor and insurgency for insurgency's sake, must, if continued, be ruinous to all.

"Such a decision as this, when rightly understood, should have a tendency to point the way to righteous conduct both for the individual and the association of individuals commonly called a corporation."

Mr. Cotton's Statement.

Joseph B. Cotton made the following statement regarding the decision:

"I regard the decision, in its importance and far-reaching effect upon the commercial growth and prosperity of the country, as the greatest made by the United States supreme court since the Dred Scott case. The court has finally and squarely construed the first section of the Sherman act to mean what it has always seemed to me it was intended to mean, and what the language thereof meant, namely, that it is only contracts, combinations, etc., which unreasonably or unduly restrain interstate trade and commerce, or are unreasonably restrictive of competitive conditions, which are within the prohibitions of that section. The contention of the government in the suit was that any restraint of trade, whether reasonable or otherwise, was a violation of the act. Such a construction as this, if it had been followed by the supreme court, could not have failed to upset business to an alarming extent and rendered business conditions in this country chaotic for no telling how long. The court has clearly pointed out a way whereby reasonable combinations upon economic lines, the actual intent and purpose of which is to stimulate and promote business and encourage competition and trade instead of destroying it, can be made. From such extracts of the decision as I have read, I am satisfied that the decree dissolving the Standard Oil company is affirmed on the ground of monopolistic acts and improper methods in the conduct of business.

"It is fortunate and gratifying that the decision on the main question, whereby the Sherman law is limited in its application to acts in undue restraint of trade, has the sanction and approval of eight of the nine judges. I regard the decision as one of the ablest and wisest ever rendered by the supreme court, and one which will have a most wholesome effect; believe that it sensibly and rightly interprets the law, and have no doubt that it will be received with approval by the people when thoroughly understood. No legitimate business enterprise, pursuing honest methods and conducting its business in an honorable way, need any longer consider the Sherman law as a menace, for corporations, regardless of their form of control or size or magnitude of business, which do not unreasonably restrict competition are not affected by the decision. I see no reason now why business conditions should not instantly improve and the country once again start on the upward road to normal and prosperous times."

Mr. Jaques' Statement.

Alfred Jaques made the following statement:

"What about the effects of the Standard Oil decision? No one has had an opportunity to read it, and what one may say will necessarily be incomplete. The most vital part of the decision is the extent to which the antitrust law of the words undue or unreasonable restraint of trade in place of simply restraint of trade. This gives to the court tremendous power and discretion which should be lodged with the legislative branch. But a great people will not long submit to being governed by decrees in equity. Remedies must come from legislation and not from decisions. Everybody is relieved that the decision has been rendered. Waiting for the decision has injured business more than the decision, no matter what it might be, could. I think the general effect of the decision upon business will be good. Business will reorganize in accordance with it, and will become much more active in the near future."

sey adopted such an overture and it will be presented to the general assembly and no doubt referred to the committee on bills and overtures for action.

Grant Once Acquitted.

The heresy case of Dr. Grant was to have been submitted to the Pennsylvania synod, but it was later decided to have the general assembly take it up. Dr. Grant was acquitted by a judical commission of the assembly of charges somewhat similar to those against the Browns, but the prosecution was not satisfied and took steps to carry the case to the higher bodies.

The consolidation of the various boards is expected to take up considerable time of the assembly. It is proposed to group the boards into four classes. The proposition of consolidation has been worked out by the executive commission and some of the changes are so radical that they may meet with strong opposition.

For Smaller Assembly.

Among other matters the executive committee will report to the assembly is that of representation. It has prepared two plans, it being argued that a more compact general assembly can better transact the church business.

The special committee on an intermediary catechism will make its report in the form of a new intermediate catechism.

pressure of over a half million cubic feet of gas, struggled to be free.

Driven Back by Wind.

Just as the airship cleared the shed a violent gust of wind drove her back against the entrance. At the impact several of the balloonettes burst and the released gas destroyed her balance. The army of men at the guide ropes clung on desperately, but were powerless against the wind, and another gust lifted the airship bodily and she dropped upon the roof of the shed, her back broken and her hull dangling over one edge.

In this position the crew and passengers, rudely shaken, but not seriously injured, were left helpless until a fire brigade, hurriedly summoney to the scene, ran their ladders to the top of the balloon shed and pulled the marooned ones out of the wreck.

Built for Passenger Service.

The Deutschland was built to replace in the passenger airship service the earlier craft of the same name which was wrecked in the Teutoburgian forest on June 28 last. The motors and the vertical steering plans of the original Deutschland were saved and utilized in the construction of her successor. The latter made her maiden flight on March 30 last and had since made a number of successful trips. One of the most notable of these was in April, when Count Zeppelin took the dirigible from Friedrichshafen to Stuttgart and, circling over the royal palace, dropped a bouquet with his greetings to King William II of Wuertemburg and Queen Charlotte on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

Zeppelin's Sixth Disaster.

Today's was the sixth serious accident which has befallen the Zeppelin dirigibles. The Zeppelin I, Zeppelin II, Zeppelin III, Zeppelin IV, the Deutschland and the New Deutschland all have come to grief after short, though brilliant lives.

four places to three they are giving the government a majority of five in the cabinet, whereas hitherto they insisted on equal strength there, and, practically, power to deadlock it on important measures.

Especially after the battle of Juarez, the rebels think they are displaying the highest generosity, for they now claim military possession of the states of Chihuahua and Sonora as well as a firm hold on many of the others.

The insurrectos, immediately after peace is declared, will form a political party which probably will be called the "progressive" party. As soon as peace is completely restored and Gen. Diaz follows out his intention of resigning, which insurrecto leaders think will be in three months, the new party will devote itself to preparing for a national campaign. Undoubtedly Francisco I. Madero, Jr., will be the candidate for president, while it is considered likely that Dr. Vasquez Gomez again will run for vice president, as he did in the last election.

Attack Chihuahua Next.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 13, via El Paso, May 16.—News of the fall of Juarez has done much toward uniting all the scattered bands of insurrectos in the states of Sonora, Durango, Zacatecas and Agua Calientos. Envoys from Madero have reached most of the insurrecto leaders in the states, with directions to place themselves under the provisional president's direct command.

The scheme of organization, it was learned by an Associated Press correspondent who visited some of the rebel camps in the Chihuahua zone, extends as far south as Guadalajara.

No doubt exists here that this city is to be the next point of attack by the insurrectos. At Santa Ysabel, thirty miles west, the correspondent found 800 insurrectos who are regarded as the vanguard of the attacking forces.

It is believed they will be joined by 2,000 insurrectos who are reported to be marching north from Torreon and who have already reached Escalon. Reinforcements are also expected from Madero's camp at Juarez.

Troops Leave Nogales.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., May 16.—Commandante Francisco Chiapas with his 300 troops, one machine gun and 100 horses, taking advantage of the open communication to the south, slipped out of Nogales before dawn today on a special train bound for Hermosillo or Guaymas. This reduces the federal garrison in Nogales to less than 400 men, under Gen. Pedro Ojeda.

The federals have strengthened their outposts to the east of Nogales. The nearest rebel force is a band of 200 Papago Indians encamped a little to the south. The whereabouts of Juan Cabral's force from Cananea is unknown.

City Abandoned to Rebels.

Altar, the last city occupied by government troops between this city and Hermosillo has been abandoned to rebels.

When a Southern Pacific train which arrived here late last night from Guaymas reached Hermosillo at noon yesterday, the federal garrison of 400 men stationed there had entrained on cars standing on a sidetrack, awaiting a locomotive to haul them to Guaymas. This confirms the report that the rebels would be allowed to enter into peaceable possession of the capital of Sonora, Guaymas is in hourly expectation of an attack.

Woman Heads Commissary.

Agua Priesta, Mex., May 16.—The rebel garrison here now numbers close to 800 men. The commissary department has been organized, with Mrs. McGregor, the wife of a rebel artillery officer, as chief.

Col. Giron arrived here today with 200 men. It is understood that the rebels plan to assemble their forces here and then, with Giron at their head, to move via Nogales and Guaymas to a point on the coast, whence if peace has not been made, they will be able to entrain for City of Mexico.

Southern Pacific Threatened.

Tucson, Ariz., May 16.—"All shot to pieces," is the phrase which Col. Epes Randolph summarized the condition of the Southern Pacific in Mexico, when he returned to day from a tour of inspection.

Col. Randolph said the rebels had issued an ultimatum to the company that unless it stopped carrying federal soldiers, all its lines would be put out of business, but said it could not be considered because the charter of the road requires the transportation of federal troops.

A detachment of United States cavalry has been ordered to the international border near Zarone, a town captured by the rebels a few weeks ago. Another fight there is probable.

Pachuca Is Captured.

City of Mexico, May 16.—Following one of the most audacious demands made for the surrender of a city since the beginning of the revolution, Pachuca, the capital of the state of Hidalgo, a town 100 miles from here, is in the hands of the rebels. Almost at the same time they took possession of Tulancingo, the second city of the state, and near Pachuca, thus giving them practically complete control of the state.

"Colonel" Castrejon, a rebel leader operating under the direction of Gen. Fleguerca, notified the governor of the state yesterday morning, Pedro Roderiguez, that he would attack the place in the afternoon unless he surrendered his ofnce during the day.

At 7 o'clock he made good his threat. He released the prisoners, burned the jail, the governor's palace and all other government buildings. Neither telephone nor telegraph wires were cut by the rebels, but with the exception of the information imparted by a telephone girl who stuck to her post for some minutes after the attack began, this city up to a late hour was in ignorance of just what had happened in the nearby capital.

According to the girl, the invaders swarmed into the city from the surrounding hills and swooped down on the government soldiers. Not a shot was fired by the rurales and regular troops. The conquest was absolutely pacific, and, according to the telephone girl, no attempt had been made to loot the place.

Four hours later communication with the girl was re-established. The order of the rebels to her not to hold communication with this city was still in effect, but she declared she was determined to tell the people in the capital as much as she could of the night's events. According to her story, the city was brilliantly lighted at that time by the flames from the various government buildings which the insurrectos had blown up with dynamite and fired following their ineffectual search for the governor. The doors of the jail had been opened early in the evening and the prisoners had joined the horde of rebels.

Respected Private Property.

Absolute respect for private and business houses appeared to prevail, and up to that time but two had fallen victims to rebel vengeance. These were the Bank of Hidalgo and the National bank, regarded by them as semi-governmental institutions.

Over the telephone, during the conversation, one could hear the shots fired into the air by the exulting insurrectos, and now and then the dull boom of a dynamite explosion. The girl declared the residents of the city, fearing for their lives, were terror-stricken. Many, including the governor, had fled to the hills, she had been told, but so far as she could learn none had been killed.

Free Rheumatism Cure

A Home Cure Will Be Given FREE By One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bed ridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I will send a free trial of this precious remedy by mail, postpaid to any sufferer who writes for it. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it to me today.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARGO HAS TWO MEETS

Sessions of State Sunday School and State Dental Associations Are On.

Both Conventions Well Attended and Both Have Complete Programs.

Fargo, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo is today entertaining the workers of the North Dakota Sunday School association in annual convention which will continue three days. Several hundred delegates arrived last night and today and it is anticipated there will be about 1,000 here before the meeting is concluded. Many leading national workers are here. The arrival, introduction and assignments of delegates was the work of the forenoon and this afternoon was given over to a special program for elementary work. Tonight there will be a glee club concert, the graduation of the first class of the North Dakota Training school and a feature address by Hugh Cork, general secretary of Chicago.

Dentists Also Meeting.

The North Dakota Dental association also convenes here this morning for a two days' session. It is largely attended and the local members of the profession have arranged a number of forms of entertainment for the visitors during the meeting.

The program this morning included addresses by Dr. James of Winona, Minn.; Dr. Tompkins and Dr. Whitcomb of Grand Forks; Dr. Palmer of Valley City, and Dr. Bricker of Fargo. Dr. Prothero of Chicago will deliver the feature address of the afternoon. Tonight will be devoted to a business session.

WOULD PARDON PAL OF DIETZ

Movement in Sawyer County to Procure Release From Waupun of Weisenbach.

Couderay, Wis., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A movement will be started at once in Sawyer county to circulate petitions asking Governor McGovern to pardon Valentine Weisenbach, who has served over six years of a twelve years' sentence in the state penitentiary at Waupun. Weisenbach was convicted over six years ago, when a joint warrant was issued for the arrest of John F. Dietz and Weisenbach for the shooting of Pat McGinn near Cameron Dam. The sheriff and deputies were on their way to Cameron Dam to arrest Dietz when they were attacked and shot at by the two men before reaching the place. Shooting at the officers, the team ran away, and McGinn, the driver, was shot through the arm, fell out of the rig, and was abused by the two men. This was at the early beginning of the hostilities.

That Weisenbach, simple, good-natured, German homesteader, living near the Dietz place, was persuaded into the shooting affair by Dietz and should be pardoned, is the impression of about everybody in Sawyer county. The whereabouts of Weisenbach's near relatives, if any, are unknown.

Grafton, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Halverson of Fordville and Count Otteson of Adams, who fled Walsh county last fall when warrants were issued for their arrest for violating the prohibition law and returned later, thinking the matter had "blown over," were promptly arrested.

JUDGE COWAN HAS SET ASIDE ORDER

Vacates Order of Judge Buttz Made During Cowan's Absence.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Holding that the owner of the building was innocent as to the purposes certain rooms in the building occupied by the Green drug store had been put to, Judge John F. Cowan entered an order in the district court vacating the order previously issued by Judge Buttz against the place. Judge Buttz, while he was acting as judge of the district court pending the outcome of the impeachment case against Judge Cowan, issued an injunction against a portion of the building, but this is now vacated and the premises restored to the owner.

NORWEGIANS TO HAVE GREAT DAY

Coming of Minister Bryn to Grand Forks to Be Event.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. H. Bryn, minister from Norway, will arrive tomorrow to deliver an address on Norway's natal day and to inspect certain sections of the state to inquire into the welfare of people of Norwegian birth.

The address by Minister Bryn will be delivered during the afternoon. Prof. D. G. Ristad of St. Olaf's college will also deliver an address. The Norwegian minister will speak in his native tongue. Many people of Norwegian birth throughout the northern part of Minnesota, North Dakota and Southern Manitoba will be present.

In the evening the minister will be the guest of honor at a banquet at which there will be 250 guests, the banquet being given under the direction of the Grand Forks Commercial club.

Minister Bryn will leave Grand Forks Thursday morning for a three-day tour of the northeastern section of the state.

SHERIFF USES AUTO; NABS LAWBREAKERS

Arrives Unexpectedly at Napoleon, N. D. Catching Pair of Blind-Piggers.

Napoleon, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.) — If the charges against Wilhelm Koenig and Gottfried Degner of Lehr, made by the sheriff, are proven the two are as crafty a pair of blind-piggers as North Dakota has ever had. They are charged with having operated beer emporiums the last year or two, exercising extreme caution to prevent arrest.

When trains arived they are accused of having closed their places of business temporarily for fear that the sheriff would be aboard, resuming business immediately after the trains left. Their arrest was brought about at the close of a rapid automobile run from this city, the sheriff reaching Lehr a short time after the trains had left town and after the two accused men had opened their shops again.

HOLMAN ENTERTAINS.

Number of Taconite People Visit Neighboring Town.

Taconite, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Y. V. C. A. at Holman gave an entertainment at their rooms at Holman Saturday evening. A number of the young men from Taconite were present. The main hall was crowded at 8 o'clock, where a speech was made by Robert Johnson, president of the village. He spoke of the progress Holman had made in the past five years. This was followed by a short address by Treasurer James Hodgins, who spoke of the financial standing of the town, after which all went to the gymnasium, where the members entertained with Indian club swinging, dumb-bell lifting and trapeze stunts until 10 o'clock. A Dutch lunch was then served to the visitors before going home.

Thomas Downing of Negaunee, Mich., is visiting his son, J. C. Downing, at Taconie, for a short time.

The Taconite junior baseball team will have a dance at the village hall Saturday night.

Mrs. Olles of Nashwauk is in Taconite visiting Mrs. O. C. Anderson.

Robert Loux, president of Taconite took a party of friends out to Prairie river on a fishing trip Sunday morning. They met with good success, catching forty-five pounds in two hours and a half.

A few friends called on Thomas B. Phillips at his rooms Sunday evening, where they had vocal and instrumental music, bridge whist and lunch, until late in the evening.

Miss May Cronin, music teacher at Coleraine, visited Taconite Saturday evening, where she was given a pleasant surprise by some of her friends at the Ingersoll residence. Miss Cronin was presented with a beautiful gold bracelet as a token of friendship. Refreshments were served before the party went home, at midnight.

Louis Chapman of Milwaukee is here to play ball for the season. Mr. Chapman has played with a number of the leading teams in Wisconsin for the past few years.

TOWNER-LINUSVILLE ROAD TO BE BENEFIT.

Towner, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Direct communication with the south end of McHenry county is to be established by a county road, the contract for which was let by the board of commissioners. The road is about eighteen miles long and will be rather difficult to construct, there being a number of big fills that must be made. The road leads from Towner to Linusville, one of the new towns on the Great Northern cut-off, and the tax for it was levied last year.

TACONITE JUNIORS BEAT NASHWAUK NINE.

Taconite, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fast and interesting ball game was played at Nashwauk last Sunday by the Taconite Juniors and Nashwauk city team, the former winning by a score of 10 to 6. The features of the game were the fielding of Owens and Brown, two young boys of Ishpeming, Mich. The battery for Taconite was Reed and Wallce of Calumet, Mich. The battery for Nashwauk was McGuire and Kinsoe of the Chicago Red Socks.

SECOND ARREST FOR SPEEDING MEANS JAIL.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Automobile drivers of Grand Forks who speed hereafter will serve time in the city workhouse as last night the council passed an ordinance providing that in cases of second offenses, the drivers shall be sentenced to the jail without the alternative of a fine. Arrests for speeding have been quite numerous this season but the police anticipate that the new law will have the effect of reducing arrests necessary.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Negaunee—Mayor John W. Elliott met with an unfortunate accident Saturday afternoon. He came over from Ishpeming on a street car and in alighting from the car in front of his hardware store, on East Iron street, he fractured his leg leg above the ankle.

Ishpeming—William P. Belden, the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's general attorney, has been appointed by Governor Osborn one of the members of a commission to investigate the question of employers' liability, in accordance with an act recently passed by the legislature.

Marquette—The May term of Marquette county circuit court opened Monday morning with Judge Flannigan on the bench. The forenoon was taken up with the calling of the calendar and hearing the pleas of those charged with criminal offenses. The jury was ordered to report at 2 o'clock.

Ishpeming—Mrs. Sarah Shand, aged 81, an old resident of Ishpeming, died Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Paynter. She had been a resident of Marquette county for considerably over a quarter of a century, having lived at Clarksburg for a few years before locating in Ishpeming. She is survived by two sons, John Shand of this city and Robert Shand of Ironwood, and one daughter, Mrs. Paynter. Robert Shand arrived in the city yesterday. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Houghton—Articles of association and the constitution and by-laws of the Society St. Jean Baptiste de Lake Linden, Mich., have been filed with County Clerk Kaiser. The society is an old organization of French-Canadian residents of Lake Linden, formed for social and literary purposes, the relief of the sick and the burial of deceased members, but it has not previously been incorporated.

Negaunee—The biennial convention of the grand lodge of the Scandinavian society will meet here Tuesday, June 6, and it is expected that the business of the convention will require four days time, as a number of changes in the by-laws are contemplated, discussion of which will consume considerable time.

Houghton—Herman Mattson, a farmer residing in Elm River township, was brought before Justice O'Sullivan by Game Warden MacDonald, to answer to a charge of starting a forest fire at his farm. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and the costs. Mattson was charged with setting fire to a brush heap on his land, as a part of the process of clearing, and of going away without quenching it.

Calumet—The funeral of Miss Bessie Polkinghorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Polkinghorne of Mohawk, took place Saturday afternoon with services at the M. E. church of Mohawk, Rev. H. Magahy officiating.

Tamarack—At a meeting of the directors of the Tamarack Co-Operative company Abe Roberts of Seattle, Wash., formerly of Lake Linden, was elected store manager to succeed Emil T. Daume, deceased. Mr. Roberts left Lake Linden about six months ago for the West. He managed the Lake Linden Co-Operative store a number of years and was at one time manager of the grocery department of the Tamarack store.

Ironwood—It is expected that a party of twenty or more students from the McGill university, Toronto, Ont., will soon visit the city for the purpose of inspecting the mines. The students are traveling in a private car. Dr. J. B. Porte of the university, is now in the Upper Peninsula making arrangements for the visit.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Baraboo—Plans are being made to raise an amount in this city equal to that offered by a St. Paul syndicate which will build a modern theater here. Baraboo has been without a playhouse since the first structure burned years ago. It is proposed to have the new building open by Oct. 1.

Green Bay—The Green Bay Specialty company has purchased the machinery and stock of the Standard Overall company, and with the equipment of the new machinery the output of gloves and overalls will be increased.

Kenosha—Courtland Atwater Dewey, the last of the long line of pioneer merchants of Kenosha, died at his home in this city Friday evening, aged 80 years. The deceased had been walking about the yard a few minutes before his death. He went into his home and was sitting in a favorite chair reading a newspaper, when his wife saw the paper fall to the floor. A moment later she found that he was dead.

Grand Rapids—Herman Nelson, a night watchman at Hecker's sawmill at Sherry, was found dead at his post. The fact that the mill whistle did not blow as usual at 7 o'clock caused uneasiness among the other employes, who, upon investigation, found the dead body stretched across the door sill of the engine room.

Green Bay—The body of John Verhagen, who had been missing since Tuesday, was found floating in the East river Sunday afternoon. It is supposed he committed suicide.

Neenah—Work will start next week on the addition of the Menasha hotel, which will cost $20,000. Interested parties are looking over sites for a new hotel in this city.

Manitowoc—Plans for the new plant of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing company, a fireproof addition of 300 by 47 feet, have been completed and will be submitted for bids on May 17. The plant, to be completed by Sept. 1, is to be the largest and most modern in the city, and will employ more than 600 hands when in operation.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Hill City—The Hill City band has been organized with fifteen members, and the following officers elected: W. H. Gausewitz, president and assistant leader; Charles F. Kaiser, secretary; C. I. Campbell, treasurer, and R. L. Abrahamson, leader. The band will meet for practice every Wednesday evening.

International Falls — A fire is reported at Grand Falls, which caused a loss of a few hundred dollars' worth of cedar that belonged to R. F. McAfee and a few hundred ties, the property of the M. & I. Railway company.

St. Cloud — The case of the State vs. Frankell & Haskell, the two merchants who were arrested at Sauk Center for breaking the new transient merchant law, has been set for Wednesday. An indictment was brought against the men by the grand jury and was submitted with the jury's report to the court.

Stillwater — Joseph Hagiman died at the poor farm, aged 75 years. He was long a resident of this city and was known as a cook. He at one time conducted a restaurant in Stillwater. He has been at the poor farm off and on since 1890. He has stated that he has a son who is an undertaker in St. Paul and has a daughter who formerly lived in St. Paul.

Brainerd — Norwegians of Brainerd and vicinity are preparing for their annual Independence day celebration Wednesday, May 17. The fair will be held at the Citizens' State bank hall in the evening of that memorable day and will be under the auspices of the Sons of Norway lodge. Rev. M. L. Hostager will deliver the address.

Moorhead — Prof. A. W. Rankin of the state university, for many years state inspector of graded schools, addressed the men's seminar of the Congregational church at noon on Sunday upon the subject: "The Church and its Duties Toward Social and Educational Questions."

Crookston — Through the efforts of Capt. P. J. Elde of Company I, Lieut. W. S. Emery has been secured to deliver the Memorial day address in Crookston. He is a speaker of ability.

Brainerd — The May term of court for Aitkin county opens here Tuesday morning and promises to be longer than usual. There are fifty-one cases on the civil calendar, and there will be some criminal cases to be tried. Judge McClenahan of Brainerd will preside.

St. Hilare — Bernt Walseth, who recently purchased the north half of the northwest quarter of section nine, River Falls, returned here last week with his family. He has purchased a house from R. L. Hauge and will move it onto his place. Mrs. Walseth and little boy have just arrived from Norway, having waited four years for the summons to come.

Deer River — For several weeks chief Cruiser Case and Sam Bates of Duluth have been working for the state, looking over the lands west of Deer River which have been settled upon and are claimed by the state under the swamp land grant. It is the opinion commonly circulated that what are called the original settlers will be allowed to hold their land.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Devils Lake, N. D.—Among the young men and women who will graduate from the University of North Dakota next month are three from Devils Lake. James Brennan will receive his degree from the four years mining engineering course; Miss Jennie Belle Lewis from the Teachers' college and Clyde F. Duffy from the College of Liberal Arts.

Redfield, S. D.—William Issenhuth, state's attorney, was shot and slightly wounded by William Tomsen, a young man who is not considered sane. The shooting took place in Issenhuth's office. Mr. Issenhuth was taken to Aberdeen for treatment of his wound, which is not considered serious.

Manning, N. D.—While plowing south of town last week John Brown found an old check on the First National bank of Dickinson drawn in favor of Funk & Wagnalls Co., a publishing concern, and signed by L. A. Simpson. It bears the date of August 4, 1893, and had never been canceled. The paper is of bluish tint, well preserved and clean. The check has been returned to Senator Simpson.

Dickinson, N. D.—Rev. F. L. Watkins will sever his relations with the M. E. church in Dickinson June 1. Mr. Watkins states he will thereafter superintend the work of the Law Enforcement league in this state, with headquarters at Dickinson, N. D., for the present, and devote his time exclusively to that work.

Fargo, N. D.—The houses on Front street which have been occupied by colored people of bad repute are all to be closed. State's attorney Fowler prepared the necessary injunction papers in the cases and all that is needed is the signature of Judge Pollock and the work of Sheriff Boyle's men to close the houses for one year.

New Salem, N. D.—The New Salem Commercial club elected officers as follows: C. F. Kellogg, president; Emil Drewelow, first vice president; David Dietz, second vice president; Carl Blang, treasurer; F. G. Weinreich, secretary. The club is a live one and a good booster for New Salem and Morton county.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized By Duluth People.

A little backache at first.

Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Duluth citizen.

Edward J. Hoppman, 422 W. First St., Duluth, Minn., says: "I have looked upon Doan's Kidney Pills as a good kidney medicine ever since I first tried them about twelve years ago. An account of my experience was given for publication at that time and in 1904 and 1908, I again indorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. At the present time I take pleasure in repeating my statement. My kidney trouble was evidenced by sharp pains in my back and I was also annoyed by a kidney weakness. In the morning when I got up, I was tired and all run down. Doan's Kidney Pills completely stopped these troubles. Since then, I have used this remedy and it has done good work."

A DISTRESSING CONDITION CURED

This Los Angeles Woman Gives Credit to the Tonic Treatment.

She Used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills When She Needed More Strength and the Pure, Rich Blood Soon Brought Complete Relief.

"I can't begin to tell of the benefit I received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. A. K. Hay, of No. 678 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, Cal. "Four or five years ago at the time of life when I needed rest, I became run down through overwork and worry caring for my husband who had been injured. I became so weak and debilitated that I didn't have strength to do my work. I had no ambition to do anything. Food did not seem to strengthen me. I had distressing pains in the back of the neck and along the spine. I suffered from headaches, was very nervous, couldn't sleep at all, and the least little noise startled me. I was confined to bed for three weeks at a time. I was reduced in weight from 134 to 115 pounds.

"I was under the care of three doctors at different times during my sickness. While taking their medicine I seemed to feel some better but would be as sick as ever when I stopped taking it. The doctors said I would never get well without an operation, but my husband would not consent to it. I had been sick for over a year when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had tried so many medicines and doctors that I didn't have much faith in the pills but decided to give them a trial. It was only a short time before I began to feel stronger. The headaches and nervousness left me and I was benefited in every way. I gave the pills a good trial and was entirely cured. I weigh now more than I have in a long time."

To avoid ill health and suffering at the critical time a woman should make every effort to keep her general health in the best possible condition. If you are approaching the fortieth year or already passing through the change, and your system is not strong enough to bear the strain, you can get no more certain or quick relief than through a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

BILLBOARDS IN THE PARKS

Should Public or Two Individuals Be Considered First?

Lakesiders Ask Help of Entire City in Their Campaign.

To the Editor of The Herald:

We wish to invoke your assistance in our efforts to prevent the erection or maintenance of billboards along the line of our public parks.

The new lessees of Lester park—two individuals—have erected over 200 feet of billboards right at the entrance to Lester park. This is the first effort of "business" to invade our parks, stark naked. Heretofore everything of a money-making nature about our parks either added to the beauty of the park or contributed to the recreation or amusement of the visitors to the park. Or at least the claim was made that it did.

The main argument made publicly at the council meeting last night was that these billboards would make money for two individuals, and compelling them to remove the billboards before the license to run the merry-go-round would be granted, would lose money for two individuals.

This is not merely a Lakeside question. It affects all our parks. It affects all our citizens, as well as these two individuals. Alderman Wharton asked the council last night to consider the interests of the city and of the Lakeside suburb paramount to the interests of these two individuals. Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Gibson and Hogan agreed with him. The park board is opposed to the billboards. The Lakeside club is opposed to them. What do you think about it? What do the various clubs and societies of the city that are in the movement to beautify our city and "uplift" anybody anywhere think about it? We have been ignored for the benefit of two individuals, and are trying to find out whether the public is for the parks or for the two individuals.

BIG SURPLUS IS BURDEN TO CITY

Mayor of Providence, R. I., Urges Reduction of Tax Rate.

Providence, R. I., May 16.—While the state of Rhode Island is facing a possible deficit of more than $700,000, and Governor Pothier is urging upon the general assembly the imperative need of increasing the state's revenue through the immediate passage of the acts in amendment of the present tax laws, even going to the extent of threatening to veto all bills now before the legislature unless the tax acts are adopted, the city of Providence stands in a diametrically opposite position, with the prospect of having so great a burden to the municipality, a condition that has led Mayor Fletcher to take definite steps through the exercise of the veto power to effect a reduction in the tax rate of the city.

The state of affairs confronting the exchequer of the commonwealth has been brought about in part by the lavish scale wherewith appropriations have been made by the present assembly. In a message to that body, the governor sets forth that already bills have been signed making laws that call for appropriations in the aggregate amount of $2,404,986.34, which would leave as a balance in comparisin with the state's estimated revenue only $65,270.40 to take care of appropriations that have already passed both branches and are awaiting the governor's signature, amounting to $247,831.54, giving a present shortage of $182,561.14. Other bills that have been introduced call for expenditures so large as to bring the deficit up to $708,972.43, according to the governor's figures.

As opposed to this situation in state finances, the city's condition stands out in the sharpest contrast. Mayor Fletcher estimates that at the present tax rate, namely, $1.65 on each $100 worth of ratable property, the unappropriated excess revenue would amount to $247,840, an amount, he says, "unprecedented in the history of the city, as such balances have usually ranged from $3,000 to $50,000."

COPPERS ADVANCE; RISE MAINTAINED

Values Firm in Sympathy With General List---Shorts Cover.

Copper stocks enjoyed the boom experienced by the rails and industrials today and closed from one to three points over yesterday. Trading was heavy. Shorts ran to cover and the strength was maintained until the close. The so-called Standard Oil stocks were especially strong, Amalgamated leading in the advance.

Toward the close it was rumored that the progressive senators at Washington had decided to urge an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law reading, "No combination of trade shall be regarded as reasonable within the terms of this act." The report had no effect on stocks as it was believed that such an amendment would have no chance of passage at this session. The humor was current that the American Tobacco decision will not be given until fall and that the company will voluntarily dissolve and the suit will be stricken from the docket.

Locally, the situation was dull. Carman sold at 85c, Keating at $3.06¼ and Summit at 50c and 51c.

Calumet & Arizona sold at $49.50 to $51.50, Giroux at $6 to $6.18¾, Amalgamated at $63.50 to $64.87½, Greene at $6.37½ to $6.50, Butte-Ballaklava at $6.25, North Butte at $28 to $29.50 to $29.25, Superior & Pittsburg at $14.50 and Butte Coalition at $17.50 to $18.37½ to $18.25.

"Officers of both the Shattuck and the Denn Mining companies deny that any merger of the two is in progress. They claim that the buying of Denn, which has sent the stock from about $3.50 to a top of $7, is from the East, and that no transfers are being made that give any line on the probable purchasers. They intimate that it is their opinion that Phelps, Dodge or Calumet & Arizona interests want the Denn."

The foregoing paragraph from the Boston Transcript does not explain, however, the reason for the purchases of Denn by a well known Ashland, Wis., man who is a director in both Shattuck and Denn. The statement that outside interests are trying to buy Denn seems far fetched. That they might want Shattuck is easily probable, but that they would consent to be saddled with Denn, also, seems unlikely. With Shattuck opening up the richest body of ore ever found in the Warren district of Arizona and Denn full of water, the latter stock has walked steadily forward while the former has shown weakness.

Cross-cutting on the north ledge of the Tuolumne is proceeding with very satisfactory results, it is reported, the vein maintaining a width of around twelve feet, and the ore averaging somewhat better than 10 per cent.

Sales of copper are reported at 11.95 cents for electrolytic at New York, a price equivalent to about 12.05 cents, thirty days. These sales, however, were through brokers, and not directly by the large agencies. Two of the latter, it is said, have been offering electrolytics during the past day or two, at 12½ cents, thirty days.

The Old Dominion company in addition to showing the lowest costs in its history is now opened ahead for over three years, it is reported, having three years' ore supply ahead ready for stoping. Besides this, it has a large amount of ore in its upper levels, all of which is available, but its reserves are in its lowest levels. The management plans to sink immediately its main "A" shaft 200 feet deeper, or to a depth of 1800 feet and make connection with the old Kingdon shaft on the 1400-foot level of the old works.

A station is being cut at the 2800-foot level of the North Butte shaft, and drifting will soon start to the ore body lying between the fault planes. These fault planes were encountered by the North Butte after having passed through the Butte lean zone, the body between the planes approximating a distance of 100 feet on the 2200-foot level and 200 feet on the 2300-foot level. If this cross-cut opens up any amount of commercial ore between the faults, it would indicate the existence of a continuous and extensive ore body between the 2200 and 2800-foot levels, and the probability of the ore body becoming more extensive with greater depth.

AMENDS "SEVEN SENATOR" PAPER

New Petition Against Proposal Is Filed By Mr. Fowler.

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The amended petition protesting against the secretary of state publishing and placing on the official ballot the so-called "seven senator bill" passed at the last session of the legislature, has been filed by Representative Fowler of Minneapolis.

The original petition was amended so that it now complains that the passage of such an act would be in violation of the Republican form of government, and hence unconstitutional.

The original complaint said, among other things, that if the bill was submitted to a vote of the people, it would pass. Attorney-General Simpson, in his reply, denied this as a matter of fact, and declared it was not an argument that could be proved—that he would defy any person to prove this statement true between now and election time.

The complaint also protested that should the bill be published and arrangements made for voting on the matter at the next election, an expense of approximately $2,500 would be entailed, and that the complainant, Mr. Fowler, would have to stand much of this expense. It was figured by persons at the capitol that Representative Fowler's share of the $2,500 account would be approximately 2 mills.

STATE PAYS FOR 2,523 WOLVES

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—For bounties on wolves, the state today is sending out warrants amounting to $16,456.50. This represents sums paid for inflicting the death penalty on 1,975 full grown wolves and 548 cubs. For a full grown wolf the state pays a bounty of $7.50, and for cubs, $3.

The records show that Beltrami county produced the greatest number for slaughter. The sum distributed there was $1,924.50. Aitkin county was second with $967.50. St. Louis was third with $945; Polk was fourth with $849; Ottertail fifth with $832.50, and Crow Wing sixth with $795.

SUBMIT BIDS ON BLAST FURNACES

Yesterday bids for the equipment of two 450-ton blast furnaces for the Minnesota Steel company, on its site near Duluth, were submitted to George L. Reis, vice president and general manager of the company. After being tabulated the bids will be forwarded to the head offices of the company for final consideration and action.

The actual construction will be done by the Minnesota Steel company.

The William Pollock company of Youngston, Ohio, the Pennsylvania Engineering company of New Castle, Pa., John Mohr and Son of Chicago, Rogers & Connoly of Pittsburg, and the Variety Iron Works of Cleveland, were among the firms submitting bids.

BIG DEAL IN TIMBER LAND

St. Paul Man Buys 194,000 Acres From Weyerhaeuser Interests.

Price Paid for Land Is Said to Have Been $1,000,000.

One of the most important land deals which has been consummated in Douglas county for years, was negotiated today in St. Paul, when the Weyerhaeuser interests sold to James R. Nowell of St. Paul, 194,000 acres of land in the western part of the county. The consideration is said to be about $1,000,000.

The property which changed hands was known as the Musser-Santry Lumber company lands. The lumber company was a holding corporation, the Weyerhaeuser interests being the real owners. The property is scattered all over the county, but the greater portion of it is in the western end.

Mr. Nowell is a well-known real estate operator in the Northwest, and has extensive holdings in Pine county, Minn., and in other parts of Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin. It is undrstood that he paid $60,000 earnest money on the deal for the lands in Douglas county.

The Douglas county property has considerable timber on it.

BONDSMAN MAKES SECOND CHARGES

Man Who Gave Bail for Hawthorne Constable Turns Accuser.

After having furnished bonds to keep his friend and neighbor from going to jail on a larceny charge, Swan Okerstrom of Hawthorne turned accuser and has brought a second charge against Charles E. Osborne, constable of Hawthorne. He is accused of embezzling $115.

Osborne was arrested a few days ago charged with stealing a carload of potatoes from the St. Croix Valley Produce company. His friend, Okerstrom, put up bonds for him and he was released from custody until the time for the trial.

Osborne returned to Hawthorne and brought a carload of potatoes to Superior to sell. The potatoes, it is claimed, belonged to Osborne and Okerstrom jointly. Osborne sold them, but did not settle, Okerstrom alleges. Okerstrom swore out a warrant charging embezzlement and in default of $300 bail Osborne went to jail.

In municipal court yesterday Fritz Christianson and August Giger, charged with robbing Edward Nelson, were arraigned, but their cases were set over until May 18. Bail was fixed at $30. Giger furnished it, but Christianson was sent to jail to await trial.

Bowlers at Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Superior bowlers will be held this evening at the Hotel Superior. S. R. Brown will be toastmaster and Mayor Crumpton will give an address during the evening. Several of the Duluth bowlers will be in attendance.

May Term Calendar.

Only forty-four cases are noticed for trial on the May calendar in circuit court, which starts Monday, May 22. Of this number but thirteen are criminal actions, this feature of the calendar being very light. Thirty-three of the forty-four cases are jury cases. There are also eight fact cases and three law cases for the court.

Will Attend Convention.

Mrs. George Hall Conklin of Superior will leave tomorrow for Chippewa Falls, Wis., where she will attend the Eleventh district convention of the Federated Women's clubs of Wisconsin. She is a delegate from the Superior Women's club and also a member of the social and industrial committee of the state organization. She will address the convention on "Helpfulness Toward the Youth of Today and of Tomorrow."

INVITE ROOSEVELT.

Hancock Homecoming Celebration Secretary Seeks to Secure Colonel.

Hancock, Mich., May 16.—Secretary C. A. Wright, Jr., of the "home-coming" celebration has forwarded the following invitation to ex-President Theodore Roosevelt:

"The city of Hancock will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, in what seems a fitting and appropriate manner, by a home-coming reunion and semi-centennial exposition, which will try to set forth the progress of the city and of this great copper mining country during the past fifty years.

"At a meeting of the Hancock Commercial club and at a mass meeting of the citizens of Hancock, the secretary was instructed to extend you an invitation to attend this "home-coming" week.

"I therefore, on behalf of the club and the citizens of Hancock, extend you a most cordial invitation to honor us with your presence during the "homecoming" week—July 17 to July 22, inclusive.

"John D. Ryan, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, who was born in this city, is the honorary president of the week, and has signified his intention of being present, as have also Senator Townsend and Congressman Young.

"It would occasion most certainly complete pleasure of the occasion if the people of this city could have the honor of greeting you during "homecoming" week.

STATE LANDS WILL BE SOLD

Auditor Iverson Will Hold Sale at the Courthouse Wednesday.

A sale of state school and other state lands will be held at the courthouse tomorrow, May 17, by State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson.

The lands are scattered all over the county and some of them are said to be among the finest farming lands in the county. The sales are always well attended.

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from the date of sale to June 1, 1912, must be paid at the time of the sale. The balance of the purchase money can be paid at any time, in whole or in part, within forty years of the time o fthe sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase money will be 4 per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1 of each year, provided the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid before the expiration of ten years from the date of the sale, the rate of interest on the unpaid balance of the purchase money will be 5 per cent per annum; interest is payable in advance on June 1 of each year.

Holders of certificates on which the interest payments are in default can have their certificates reinstated on payment, before the sale, of the interest in full to date and the penalties thereon, when the lands covered thereby will be withdrawn from sale.

All mineral rights are reserved by the state.

The appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at time of sale.

Loggers Welcome Rain.

Cloquet, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The heavy rain which began falling here yesterday continued all night, and as yet there is no appearance of clearing. The rain has been hoped for for weeks, as all the log drives would have been hung up in a few days more. Not any rain to speak of had fallen so far this spring, and the rivers which were already at a very low stage, were rapidly going down. Yesterday's downpour will relieve the situation for the loggers and lumber men.

VIRGINIA BALL CLUB INCORPORATES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—Articles of incorporation of the Virginia Baseball association were filed with the secretary of state today. The capital stock is given as $10,000, divided into 1,000 shares. The incorporators are Albert B. Coates, William B. Shaver and Edward Finch.

"The Best in the World"

As the bride led her friends into her cool, spotless kitchen, they broke into a chorus of approval.

"Well, I am proud of it," she said, "and proudest of all of my stove. It's a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove, and I think they are the best in the world. They toast, roast, broil and bake equally well—really to perfection—and the kitchen stays much cooler and cleaner than with any other range. This stove cuts my kitchen work almost in half."

There is no wood or coal to carry for a New Perfection; no ashes to clean up. It is ready for use as soon as lit; out at a touch of the fingers—economical as well as quick and convenient.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

ARE GRANTED A LICENSE

Merry-Go-Round May Be Operated at Lester Park, Under Restrictions.

Residents Object to "Music" and Also to Unsightly Billboards.

The city council granted a license to Condon & Culver to operate a merry-go-round and dancing pavilion at Lester park by a vote of 10 to 5 last night, following vigorous protests of a number of Lakeside residents.

The license is subject to a restriction upon the music, however, which is prohibited all day Sunday and after 9 o'clock in the evening, but nothing was done to prevent the use of the bill boards, which were as severely criticised as the music.

Dr. J. D. Park declared that the grinding out of the same old tunes day and night was almost enough to drive one away from a happy home. He asserted that it is sufficiently unpleasant to have the holiday crowds several times during the summer, and that it was an injustice that the residents be obliged to endure the billboards and the "music" from the merry-go-round. Alex G. McKnight, president of the Lakeside club, asked that the music be eliminated on Sundays and limited as to the hours it should be permitted other nights.

City Attorney Bert Fessler entered a strong protest against allowing the billboards. He took the position that before granting the license the council should have an understanding with Condon & Culver to the effect that the signs be removed. He said that the people of the entire city should take the same stand, as it was as much to their interest to prohibit these billboards as to the Lakesiders, as it would mean the beginning of sets of billboards adjacent to all the parks of the city.

Atorney H. J. McClearn, speaking for the proprietors, stated that there was no legal obstacle to the billboards and that they are not unsightly. He asked that they be allowed to remain where they are at least one year, in order that the owners might get their money out of them. He asserted that Condon & Culver are striving to conduct a first class amusement place in a manner satisfactory to everybody.

Following the granting of the license, a resolution introduced by Alderman Wharton was passed calling for a survey of the streets adjacent to the amusement property. It is claimed that part of the buildings project into the street line.

By a vote of 7 to 8, the council turned down the resolution citing Dunlap & Thatcher to appear next Monday night to show cause why their license should not be revoked. It was alleged that their saloon at 228 was conducted in connection with a disorderly house operated by Minnie Cookman. M. Lynch filed another application for a saloon license at the same location.

M. S. Murray, secretary of the West Duluth Commercial club, sent in a protest, for the club, objecting to the placing of posts by the Canadian Northern, in Fifty-fourth avenue west along the right-of-way.

W. K. Klitin, city sidewalk contractor, sent in a communication stating that his work had been misrepresented at the last meeting and that he is relaying the walks which were not up to specifications. He explained that he is under a five-year guaranty bond to do work which will be satisfactory to the engineer and the property owners.

* * *

A. Gronseth sent in a sarcastic letter protesting against the wheelage tax. It was referred to the city attorney. He claimed that it is an unjust tax and that it is not being impartially enforced.

Ruth Wilson filed notice of a claim of $500 against the city for injuries sustained through the alleged negligence of the city. She is said to have fallen over the edge of a gravel pit at Highland avenue and Locust street, and claims that it was the duty of the city to have the edge properly protected.

The board of public works was directed to take proper steps to change the method of handling crushed rock at the top of Fifty-seventh avenue west. A number of residents sent in a petition against it, claiming that the dust was blowing about in a most disagreeable manner.

A petition was received for a sanitary sewer in Sixty-third, Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth alleys west near Grand avenue, the estimated cost of which is $6,000.

F. A. Sullivan of the library board informed the council that it is estimated that it will cost about $2,000 to double the capacity of the library. Complaint has been made that the available shelving at the library is exhausted.

The city attorney reported that there is no need for additional ordinances prohibiting the sale of intoxicants in pool rooms, as those now on the books are sufficient.

The estimate of $7,709.50 for sidewalks built last year by Contractor Klitin was allowed without objection, and several miles of new cement walk were ordered laid the coming year. The new walks will be built in all parts of the city.

By a vote of 5 to 10 the council refused to vacate an alley in Highland park addition between Woodland avenue and Nineteenth avenue east.

The engineer was directed to prepare an estimate for grading Kent road between Woodland avenue and Nineteenth avenue east to a subgrade thirty feet wide.

Estimates were called for the grading of Sixth avenue east between Fourth and Tenth street, with provisions for storm sewerage.

The board of public works was authorized to advertise for an addition to the city dock at the foot of Twentieth avenue west. The proposed addition will be 20 feet wide and extend 80 feet into the bay from the present terminus.

The board of public works was directed to have the water and light department put West First street between First and Second avenues in the same condition that it was before it was disturbed by that department.

The appointment of E. W. Bohannon, F. W. Sullivan and B. Silberstein to the library board for terms of three years was confirmed.

The city attorney was directed to take any necessary legal steps to secure the erection of a depot by the Soo road west of Forty-eighth avenue west. This was one of the provisions of the franchise of the Wisconsin Central Railroad, which was taken over by the Soo. The erection of the depot will be fought by the Soo.

The council will not change the watering trough on West First street near Second avenue. The committee which investigated the matter stated that it would be impracticable to put it in on an avenue because of the grade, and that it would be equally dangerous anywhere else on First street.

A PRESENT REDEMPTION

Rev. William P. McKenzie Addresses Large Audience at the Lyceum.

Christian Science and Basis of Happiness in This Life.

Despite the inclement weather a large audience assembled at the Lyceum theater last evening to listen to an address by Rev. William P. McKenzie, C. S. B., under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. E. C. Kennedy presided and introduced the lecturer. Mr. McKenzie's subject was "Christian Science; A Present Redemption." He said:

The liberation or redemption of man implies that he is enabled to pass through the door of hope into enjoyment of that which he hoped for. Through enlightened faith the things hoped for become substantial, and the joy that was visioned becomes present experience.

Christian Science Upholds Causation.

Where men have inherited their religious beliefs there is found opinionative, or theoretical Christianity; but the basis of happiness in this life is practical and individually earned Christianity independent of tradition, having for its keynote demonstration and spiritual understanding. Christian Science teaches men through reason and revelation. Reason replaces opinion since it leads back always to cause. Revelation replaces dogma because it always brings "light." When man walks in light understanding the law which governs him and obeying it, he is at peace.

No one should deny that the cures of disease wrought by Jesus exhibited causation and so were scientific. There was power which was sufficient to produce these results of healing. This power existed then at the standpoint of causation. Christian Science declares that all the power which then existed does now exist at the standpoint of causation, and by effects already made manifest, it is proving this.

Causation is itself invisible, but effects show its nature. The healing wrought by Jesus was so kindly, so blessed, that men glorified God the unseen cause. Today men are beholding results which can come only from a source divine and loving, and are becoming acquainted with the true God thereby. The healing of the sick through Christian Science is accomplished by the law and potency understood by Jesus, and it has this test, and sign, that those healed by its ministry find their lives glorified with love for God and the inner gladness is reflected in universal kindness.

How Shall Man Have Access to God?

Christian Science introduces a man into the comradeship of the noble and upright men of all times. It shows him that the saints of God and the heroes of the faith are his own people if he is willing to accept the same law, obey the same power, love the same ideal. So far as the divine nature is concerned we have access always, everywhere, to God. The lost man is the one who has forgotten God, not one whom God has forgotten. We have access to divine law, we "listen to the thoughts of God," only by obedience. Of this obedience and its results there are notable examples. We value the writings of the Old and New Testaments because we have therein the story of men and women who solved lifes' problems aright. They were successful in proportion as they understood God's law, and had faith in its operation.

In the earliest times the promise came to Abraham that he should bring blessings to the nation of mankind. To him Deity was "the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth." Abraham had once "served other Gods," but when he came to understand how man may be taught, guided and helped by the unseen presence, he became "the friend of God," and through his experience blessed all believers with the knowledge that God Almighty is man's friend. "This patriarch illustrated the purpose of love to create trust in good," Mrs. Eddy says. (Science and Health, p. 579.)

If we follow the growing conception of the goodness of God as brought out in the experiences of the patriarchs and in the lives of the prophets, of Elijah and Elisha, of Isaiah and Daniel, we find at last the promised Messiah unfolding the truth regarding the one God through works of healing. Thus we learn to understand the goodness of this one power, ever-enduring, ever-active, ever-available for the need of man.

Discovery of Christian Science.

The initiation of Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science was an experience of healing, the story of which is now familiar to the world.

The discoverer of Christian Science recognized that her experience of healing was due to the fundamental law whereby healing had been done by Jesus and His disciples, and she determined to find out the meaning and application of that law, so that it might be available for others. She sought for the desired explanation in the Scriptures and this was the proper source to turn to. Take the Gospels for example; what do we find recorded there? The Acts of the Apostles were acts of healing. In the records of the law, and in the testimony of the prophets we are told of healing. Were we to abstract healing from our Scriptures their value as revelation of God to man would be diminished inconceivably. It was natural then that one who had an experience of healing should turn to a series of writings which tell about healing in order to find an explanation of that healing. In this respect Mrs. Eddy was equipped as an interpreter better than any commentator who had preceded her. Previous writers on the Bible went to it as to an arsenal to find weapons of defence, and of offence, for the support of their accepted opinions. Hence the hundreds of theories regarding the teaching of the Bible, and the numerous denominations founded in variant opinions. If an understanding of truth is supported by the demonstration which corresponds to the truth, then in all conditions it will prove to be the same truth; whereas unsupported opinions may vary with ever veering beliefs. She started with the demonstration, and discovered the truth which explained the demonstration to be the same truth to which the prophets of old, the disciples of Jesus and the Master Himself bare witness. (Science and Health, 126:22.)

The Founding of Christian Science.

The founding of Christian Science has involved the building up of a vast educational system. A world-wide church through its many branches offers religious teaching at its services. By means of a Bible lesson interpreted into the method for practice of the truth by the Christian Science textbook, consistent instruction is given. Then at the mid-week testimony meeting the results of the teaching in Christianizing human lives become known, as grateful people tell of their redemption from disease and despair. Reaching to the far corners of the earth the postal service carries the periodicals of the movement, so that their teaching and testimony may enlighten all who are looking for consolation and hope and gladness. From the platform, and through the press also, the truth regarding Christian Science is being constantly declared, and it was the leader of the movement who appointed lecturers and publication committees; who also originated and named the various periodicals, and through the church manual provided for the organization and work of the Mother Church with its branch churches and societies. If any would make comparison with her work, Mrs. Eddy may well declare herself to be like Paul, "in labors more abundant," since her work in founding Christian Science is the greatest, measured by service, that has been accomplished in our time.

Healing the Beginning of Redemption.

Healing is the important proof to man that God is love. Said the Psalmist, "I had fainted unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living." This proof appeared occasionally before the advent of the Messiah, but in the life and work of Christ Jesus this proof was established scientifically. He proved by his works what God is, and by visible effects illustrated the action of divine law. Critics and skeptics have denied these works, saying that the story of them grew up as myths, accumulated about the character of the hero. But Christion Science has come to re-establish by proof the truth given by the founder of Christianity; and today there are multitudes of men who have learned to love God because the fact that "He first loved us" has become known to them through healing.

In medical practice healing of the sick may be the end sought. In Christian Science practice is the beginning of work and the end in view in complete redemption of the man. When he learns to overcome evil with good, he opposes good will to malice, kindness to insult, friendship to hatred, and so dwells in peace and happiness. He is a man redeemed from the power of a false theory, and initiated into the joys of the kingdom of heaven. When love depends upon conditions it is merely personal preference, but when it flows from the divine source, outward conditions do not affect its character or continuance. Loving is living, for thus is divine life expressed.

"Then shall the reign of Mind commence on earth,
And starting fresh, as from a second birth,
Man in the sunshine of the world's new spring,
Shall walk transparent like some holy thing."

In the Wake of the Measles.

The little son of Mrs. O. B. Palmer, Little Rock, Ark., had the measles. The result was a severe cough which grew worse and he could not sleep. She says: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured him and he has never been bothered since." Croup, whooping cough, measles cough all yield to Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The genuine is in the yellow package always. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

SOX TAKE LONG END

Darby's Men Win Final of Rochester Series By 5 to 2 Score.

Woodburn and Young Pitch Good Ball and Receive Errorless Support.

Rochester, Minn., May 16.—Duluth took the third game of the present series from the Surgeons by the score of 5 to 2, giving them two out of the three games. Woodburn opposed Cy Young, the fourth, and kept the hits of the locals as widely separated as store milk and cream.

Both teams played errorless ball. Schuman hit one over the fence for a homer with the bases empty, the other Rochester score coming as the result of a base on balls and two singles.

The Sox found Young in the first three innings, the tall boy tightening up after that and pitching great ball.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
Rochester	0	0	1
Duluth	2	8	0

Batteries—Young and Lang; Woodburn and Hardgrove.

BAILLIES HOLDS WAUSAU TO FIVE SMALL HITS.

Winona, Minn., May 16.—Pitching one of the best games he has ever twirled since wearing a Pirate uniform, Frank Baillies yesterday held the Biddy Dolan Wausaulites to five stingy singles and a shutout. Baillies was master of the situation throughout and with men on bases was invincible. Baker also pitched a great game for Wausau. The fast fielding of Winona was a feature of the game.

GIANTS WIN LONG DRAWN OUT BATTLE.

New York, May 16.—New York defeated St. Louis, 10 to 6, in an uninteresting and long-drawn out game. Golden, the St. Louis pitcher, was wild and his passes generally were followed by hits. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	1	1
New York	10	12	1

Batteries—Golden, Zmich and Bresnahan; Drucke and Wilson and Myers. Umpires—Rigler and Finneran.

ATHLETICS OUTHIT WHITE SOX BUT LOSE.

Chicago, May 16.—Philadelphia outhit Chicago but lost the second game of the series yesterday, 6 to 2. Olmstead was given excellent and at times sensational support. Home runs by McIntyre and Murphy, Olmstead's triple which scored two runs, and the fielding of Davis were the features. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	6	8	0
Philadelphia	2	11	2

Batteries—Olmstead and Sullivan; Coombs and Lapp. Umpires—Perrine and Sheridan.

BROWNS WIN ANOTHER GAME FROM NATIONALS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 16.—St. Louis won again yesterday, 8 to 0. Powell held the visitors to three hits. Shotten's fielding was a feature. Score:

TIGERS TAKE GAME FROM BOSTON'S GRASP.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—After Boston took the lead in the tenth, through Gardner's triple and Bush's failure to handle Riggert's grounder, Detroit scored two runs and won. Wood purposely passed Cobb and Crawford, filling the bases. Then Delehanty singled in the winning run. Score:

BILLY SUNDAY HAS TROUBLE AS UMPIRE.

Toledo, Ohio, May 16.—After two got on bases through Toledo outfielders in the seventh, Slapnicka weakened and five consecutive hits enabled Columbus to win the first game of the series, 10 to 8. Billy Sunday, the evangelist, now conducting meetings here, umpired the bases until the ninth, when he went behind the bat. The first two Toledo men walked. There were three balls on the third when Sitton refused to pitch longer with the evangelist arbitrating. Friel appealed to Hayes and after much debating Hayes again went behind the bat. Sunday was appointed official umpire by President Chivington. Score:

Columbus	10	12	1

Batteries — Slapnicka, Robinson and Adams; Llebhardt. Sitton and Bemis. Umpires—Hayes and Sunday.

SAINTS TAKE ANOTHER FROM HATED RIVALS.

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—St. Paul won the fourth straight game of the season from Minneapolis yesterday, 3 to 1. Three singles and Cravath's error gave the locals two in the second. A base on balls, a steal and a single gave them one more in the third. A double steal by Clymer and Smith in the ninth saved Minneapolis from a shutout. Score:

Minneapolis	1	6	3
St. Paul	3	10	3

BLUES CRAWL BACK INTO THIRD PLACE.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 16.—A home run by Love over left field fence in the third, gave Kansas City the second game of the series, 4 to 1. Dougheryt was given poor support and this fact coupled with opportune hitting gave the Blues a chance to crawl back into third place. Score:

Kansas City	4	6	0
Milwaukee	1	4	7

COLONELS BUNCH HITS AND DEFEAT INDIANS.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.—By hitting three of the Indianapolis pitchers hard in the fifth and sixth innings, Louisville won, 8 to 5. Slagle was hit hard but managed to keep his hits scattered in all but two innings, when the locals scored their runs. Both teams put up a ragged fielding game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	8	14	4
Indianapolis	5	8	3

FIELD AND TRACK MEETS THIS WEEK

Grand Forks, N. D., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty North Dakota high schools will be represented in the ninth annual interscholastic field and track meet to be held here Friday and Saturday at the state university. The entries include eighty-four young athletes.

Friday will be devoted to the running of the preliminaries, while Saturday will see the semi-finals and the finals in the several events.

Many Schools Entered.

The schools entered are: Grand Forks, Langdon, Park River, Grafton, Pembina, Oakes, Fargo, Casselton, Jamestown, Velve, Minot, Cavalier, Church Ferry, Hannah, Inkster, Willistion, Bathgate, St. Thomas, Lidgerwood and Dayton.

The half mile relay race is the big event, and seven teams are entered, as follows: Grand Forks—Bacon, G. Hassell, Ferguson, Williams and Armstrong; Grafton—Newgard, Oftedahl, McKay, Rinde, Nollman and Baer; Jamestown—Daily, Hostler, Wilson, Robertson and Danuser; Park Rivers—Herbert, Ralph Thomson, James Thomson and Norton; Oakes—Denning, Wright, Covert and Mitchell; Casselton—Pinkham, Dalrymple, Zimmerman and Nilles.

WITH THE FIGHTERS

BURRELL SMITH.

Burrell Smith is still hankering after that fight with Art Godfrey of Minneapolis, who for the time being is making his home on the other side of the bay. Smith stated today that he was doing light training at the present time with the expectation of geting on sent to make weight for Smith—and Godfrey has been fighting welters right along—there is said to be some money on this side of the bay that the colored boy can win.

Walter Little, the great little fighter of Chicago, has written to the sporting editor of The Herald, asking that he be given a match with Pal Brown. Little is one of the best boys fighting around Chicago, and a meeting between Brown and this husky kid should be one of the best fights that could possibly be arranged.

With two or three fights with boys of Garry's class, Brown will be ready for the first division boys. He is coming fast and has not reached his prime by any means. The same cannot be said for the boys up at the top. Owen Moran has been in the ring for some time, and Ad Wolgast is right in his prime at the present time. With Pal getting better all the time, there are those who look forward to the time that this youngster will be king of the lightweight brigade.

"The Light Conductor" is the ring name of a little fighter at the Head of the Lakes at the present time who is looking for the game of some of the small chaps of these parts. Those who have seen him working out at Prof. Steele's gymnasium, say that he is exceptionally fast and has two good hands. He has been working out with Burrell Smith, and though much smaller than the black welter, shows up well in the workouts.

Young Brennan of Minneapolis has been doing right well at the Head of the Lakes. It is said that he has a very good match in prospect. If this boy will train and take care of himself, he is a very tough customer.

* * *

Jack Parres continues to hang on to the fight game. He is down and out as a fighter and is going in for eats money. Time was once—but then what's the use? At the present time he is acting as a punching bag.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

Baseball for Women as an Aid to Equal Suffrage—The Old Cry of "Robbery"—The Giants and Their Pennant Chances.

(BY BRUCE.)

IN THE PAST the bloomer variety of baseball team has not been uncommon. We have had girls' teams of wide and varied description, and because they haven't been given the right kind of setting, the one word that a gifted press agent would set down at the right time, we have failed to take the dear ladies very seriously on the diamond—that is, the baseball diamond. There is another diamond where the swet things will always be taken seriously, especially when their supreme court decision is deferred.

But encountering our wandering story on the highway of romance, we grab it again and start once more for the point we are aiming at.

Iowa in the past has been prolific in the matter of ladies baseball teams. For some reason they seem to flourish in Iowa, like the corn and the gentle kine. The notice of the latest ladies team that is being organized would not have attracted a great deal of attention, were it not for the little news item that the team would play, or would attempt to play at many of the suffragette meetings around the country, and would nobly endeavor by its progress in the great national game to show the serious sisters of the cause that the field (it doesn't state which field), of women is broad and comprehensive.

The sun field has always been rather narrow, but mayhap it was not of this field that the manager of the team was speaking.

One great humanizing, broadening effect the playing of baseball by a ladies team that has the backing of the sisters of the order of militant suffragettes, will be the instilling in the feminine mind some of the first principles of baseball. It will be a wonderful stimulant during the hot season for conversation between man and friend wife, and would also have the tendency to bring them home to dinner roast at the same time, thereby permitting hubby to eat a hot dinner once in a while during the season that the team is playing on the home lot.

But back to seriousness, to which all of us must turn now and then.

There are many of the species bug in this country. This statement is not one to cause the weary searcher for some new form of insect to prick up his ear in uncanny enjoyment, not at all; the bug meant in the present instance, is the bug baseball, and by competent authority it is learned that there are some 18,000,000 bugs in the country, varying in degree of buglism, naturally, but all of them bugs more or less.

Now if the ladies' baseball team should make a great hit with the suffragettes and the ladies of the order should decide that the fair sex could play baseball even without the aid of Peerless, which some of the best informed say is quite impossible, and should decide that in order for the ladies of the suffragette way of thinking to give their team the proper kind of support, that it would be necessary to learn the rudiments of the game, think of the respect these 18,000,000 bugs would have for the suffragette movement!

Wouldn't it be pleasant to come home and talk to your wife, who had been at the game, and refer to the sporting extra, and to say to her, "Jane, wasn't that a darb of a blow that Dugan hit her on the bean in the seventh?" And to have wifey come right back at you thusly:

"Say Horace, old boy, that smash of Dugan's would make Eddie Hines and Johnny Dietz forget all their troubles. It was one tallapultuza. Dugan had two and three and that bo had to groove it for him. He smashed her on the nose, for fair. Any guy who grooves them for Dugan is a rum, Horace. Please pass the mayonnaise dressing."

You see they become interested in the baseball game and the wonderful ability of Dugan as a fence buster, and Horace spends the evening at home, talking baseball, and can't you almost hear him whisper to himself, saying "what a very clever and bright wife I have. That woman understands baseball almost as well as I do."

Thus at one fell swoop the little baseball team that started out the ordinary way, but which had a clever and designing press agent who grabbed the suffragette germ and germinated it into a national idea, would be bringing the men and women of the nation close together, would prove that women can reason and be reasonable, surely qualifications that the voter should possess, and would also answer the long unanswered question, as to whether it is possible for an umpire to be truly gallant, instead of tough and mean.

There are many possibilities that may grow out of the adoption of the baseball idea by the sisters that are marching, heaving bricks and sperites, and clamoring for votes. By all means, sisters, hug the thing baseball to your repertory and show us that there is a broad ground where the men and women of the nation are to meet as equal-in-the-sun bleachers and on the cushioned 50 centime seats,

The Hero and the Abroad Decision.

THINK over some of the things, or fights, which are things, of the past and try to remember whether you can recall the time when a man was defeated away from home and came drilling home with the admission that he was beaten on the square and given his by a better man.

Johnny Kilbane wanders out to the coast on the Pullman, the way you and I like to wander, and is given the short end of the decision in a 20 round bout with Joe Rivers, the Mexican. He comes back to Cleveland and yells "robbery" so loud that the sleepy policeman pulled the alarm, thinking that some rube from Sandusky was being held up.

Tom Gary fought Pal Brown in these parts not so very long ago. By several agents we have been informed that the husky lad from Chicago was very lucky to get a draw out of the fight. That is the version we have right here at home.

Reading in the Chicago Tribune of the words uttered by little Thomas, if you didn't know something of what really happened, you would naturally think that the draw decision was a robbery, the like of which would make those inspiring deeds of the James boys seem as prosaic and as matter of fact as the modern way of playing teeter-totter with the prices of stocks.

The hero must come home unstained. He always wants, aye, demands another match. The decision was a robbery; even the victor's own friends admitted that the decision was the rawest thing of the age.

It is one of the precedents of the fighting game. The clever manager always avails himself of it. John L. Sullivan kind of broke into this old tradition when he stated that he had been beaten on the square by Jim Corbett. But Jim Corbett swung right around to the old precedent again, by declaring that it was a chance blow that beat him at Carson City and that George Siler gave him all the worst of the going.

Tommy Burns was robbed in Australia by the stopping of the fight. He could have beaten Johnson, whom Tommy says was very tired, when the unfeeling and unthinking police stepped in and put an end to the contest.

James J. Jeffries was drugged at Reno. That is what we are told.

Is it a wonder then that the little fellows yell at the very top of their lungs that they have been robbed? It is part of the game, and when a fighter is found who will come out from behind the bushes and admit that he has been beaten on the square, and that the victor is the better man, you might as well make up your mind that this fellow is without a manager, or has spoken to the reporters while the manager is on the trail of the lonesome bean sandwich and has left him charge unguarded and unrational for the time being.

What Has Little McGraw at Noo York?

THE New York Giants may win a pennant the present season, but if they do there will be a great many fans very much surprised.

It has been the demand of the New York bunch that their team win the flag. In the old days the New York faction about ran the league and it was very hard to win a game from the New York Nationals on their own grounds. But with the winning of the pennant by the Cubs in 1906, New York, with the exceptional fight the Giants made for the flag in 1908, the year they lost by the actual and not by the proverbial eyelash, has been rather outclassed in the pennant fight and has had to be satisfied with a berth in the first division.

This season many looked upon the Giants as the probable pennant winner, figuring that the Cubs and the Pirates were going back and falling to figure on the Phillies. The result of the first clash between the Chicago Cubs and the Giants would indicate that the Giants are not the team that many fans figured them.

It must be taken into consideration that the Cubs are at the present in a crippled condition, with their pitchers going wrong and without the inspiring presence of little Johnny Evers, one of the greatest of all players.

If the Cubs could break even under these circumstances, they should humble the Giants when the team is going right. Many fans say that the Cubs play much better inside ball than the Giants and will continue to outwit the New York team, if not actually outhit it.

At any rate, the Giants are not so formidable at the present time.

LIVELY BALL CAUSES HITS

Managers and Players Believe Cork Center Ball Increases Batting.

Bombardment of the Major League Pitchers Has Reached the Limit.

Chicago, May 16.—Tremendous batting feats and large scores throughout the country have drawn attention to the cork center baseball generally in use by major and minor league clubs this season, and managers and players are inclined to attribute to the greater resiliency of the 1911 brand the fusillade of hits which is marking the season's play. This cannonading reached its climax on Thursday when sixteen clubs of the major leagues scored 126 runs while the eight clubs of the American association scored fifty-six runs, Kansas City leading with a 20 to 2 victory over St. Paul.

While at first, fans were inclined to blame the big figures on the pitchers, especially in the association, it hardly seems probable the sequence of large counts can be explained easily on that ground. Association teams have recorded more batting feats than ever before for so early in the season. Including Thursday's games, big scores follow:

April 25—Minneapolis, 13; Toledo, 1.
April 26—Louisville 12, Kansas City, 6.
April 30—Minneapolis 15; Indianapolis, 6.
May 1—Kansas City, 17; Toledo, 13.
May 9—Toledo, 13; Louisville, 12.
May 10—Louisville, 12; Toledo, 1.
May 11—Milwaukee, 13; Minneapolis, 4.
May 11—Kansas City, 20; St. Paul, 2.

Appended is the record of "big hit" games:

April 20—Toledo (15), off Rieger, Leroy, Cooke.
April 30—Minneapolis (15), off Link, Webb, Cheney, Merz.
April 30—Milwaukee (15), off Higginbotham, Richter.
May 6—Louisville (15), off Waddell.
April 28—Columbus (16), off Owen, Rhoades, Siebert.
May 9—Toledo (16), off Newton, Baker, Richter, Halla.
May 10—Louisville (16), off Durham, Schultz.
May 7—Indianapolis (17), off Brandon, Maddox, Pastorius.
May 11—Milwaukee (20), off Patterson.
May 11—Kansas City (23), off Gehring, Reiger, Leroy.

Against this array of heavy clouting, there have been only ten shutouts, including Thursday's games, with several three-hit games, and two one-hit contests.

Among the pitchers who were touched freely was Louis Durham, now at Toledo, who attained his greatest success at Indianapolis in 1902. Durham's story of that season is interesting. He was with Washington and was bought by Louisville in 1907. The next season he started poorly and the Colonels tried to sell him, and failing in that tried to secure him a position, but none wanted him. Finally Indianapolis was in such a bad way for pitchers that Manager Charley Carr said he simply had to have someone "stand in the middle of the diamond and wear a glove." Durham was in Cincinnati still looking for a regular berth and reported at once.

The big fellow started off the reel by winning a double header and through the season made the players of the Louisville club which had released him almost "throw away their bats." In a close finish Indianapolis beat Louisville for the pennant and Durham probably was the turning point. He was more valuable even than Marquard, the $11,000 beauty now with New York. Durham did not last with the Giants, and now is back in the association.

Joe Cantillon evidently is determined to strengthen his pitching staff, and two of his notable veterans have gone to the discard, Louis Fiene and Nick Altrock, the former to Mobile and the latter unconditionally. Both were former White Sox, and "Handsome Nick" had his greatest year when he helped the Sox beat the Cubs for the world's pennant of 1906. Fiene is a good batter and probably can fill a good first base position when through on the slab.

When Otis Clymer of the Millers failed to secure a safe hit on Thursday, he ended a sequence of twenty-eight games, in all of which he had secured one or more bingles, which, so far as known, is an American association record and one which is likely to stand for some time. Possibly he will blame Umpire Ferguson as putting the "jinx" on him, for on Wednesday he was put out of the game, but not until after he had secured his daily bingle.

SCHWAB IS RELEASED; KOHL PLAYING WELL.

Reports from St. Paul state that Schwab has been released unconditionally by the Saints. Duluth could have had the catcher if the Orator was so disposed, but the catching of Hardgrove has evidently lured the O'Brien man away from any desire to get his former catcher.

Eddie Kohl is playing a great game at third for the Kelleyites, getting his little one and two hits a day and playing a fast fielding game around the third sack. If the actor man continues to play the kind of ball he is putting up at the present time, it is very probable that he will stay in the A. A. company this year.

WITH THE SOX ABROAD

Miller in the games so far on the road has been doing some very good hitting. In the game in which Rochester took the Sox into samp by the score of 7 to 3, Miller got two nice singles. Darby O'Brien did not finish the game at second, Miller going to he infield and taking the Orator's place. He didn't make an error—he didn't have a chance.

So far on the trip little Leber has been playing a clean fielding game at the third corner. He has been hitting pretty regularly, too. In the Rochester series the little fellow did some very good execution with the bat.

Sam Menelce is playing a great game for the Sox at first. The switch that Holstrom into right field, appears to have been a very good one. Holstrom is a very good fielder and hits better when in the outfield, for some reson.

Hardgrove is doing all the catching on the trip. Miller can go behind the bat in an emergency, and should anything happen to Hardgrove it is very probable that the Orotor would send the fielder behind the pad and have Mike Kramer, the trusty German, in the outer works.

In Sunday's game at Rochester Hardgrove was the only man on the team to get into the error column, the receiver being marked with two by the Rochester scorer. Yesterday the Sox played an errorless game. So far the Harps have been playing a very scrumptious lino of baseball on the road.

There is a rumor that Chief Chase the Second will be one of the pitchers to feel the fall of the ax. Despite the swell game he twirled against Superior in the spring series, he hasn't shown anything on the road, and as the staff has to be cut down, the Indian will probably be one to go.

* * *

So far Woodburn has shown great form and Kramer has shown a lot of stuff this spring. Al Cummings has always been the best road pitcher on the roster of the club, and he appears to be there this spring. Worman is going fair and Blancke will return. Some of the twirlers will have to go, and from this end of the line it looks as if Chase will be one of the first.

Young Lady of Soudan, Minn., Gives Praise to Bake Oven.

MISS ST. VINCENT.

Miss St. Vincent, suffering intense pain, due to an aggravated attack of rheumatism; also been in bed for months at a time. "I decided to consult Loughney, the bake oven specialist, 301 Christie building. My visit to the popular specialist resulted in relief to me that was a surprise. Results obtained were almost instant, and today I feel fine. I had been suffering off and on for four years with rheumatism in various forms and tried almost everything in reason that was offered me, spending considerable money, getting no relief, and my conditon kept getting worse. Now, after being relieved of this misery, do you wonder that I am today sounding the praises of the Loughney Bake Oven treatment, and that I am anxious to have my friends and the suffering public know of this miraculous cure for rheumatism and kindred ills? To my way of thinking there is no reason why anyone suffering as I have suffered should remain in such condition, when this wonderful treatment, which is pleasant, soothing, healing and inexpensive, is so near at hand. I will gladly substantiate the above at any time.

ADVANCE IS GENERAL

Stocks Open Sharply Higher on News of Standard Oil Decision.

How Long the Present Bulge Will Last Is Problematical.

As was generally expected the market opened sharply higher today on the heels of stronger foreign markets and values continued to advance during the session. Reports from the East said that the industrials and rails were exceedingly active with coppers trailing along. The most active issues were the Steel common, Reading and Amalgamated, leaders of the three groups. Trading was on a scale that compared favorably with the active days of the market and although there was an immense amount of realizing on the bulge, the market was well sustained and withstood the shock of large offers without apparent difficulty.

The Standard Oil decision is the most important single market factor that has appeared in many months. It would have been welcomed even if every feature had been adversely regarded by financial and business communities. The cloud that hung for many months over the market would have been dispelled regardless of the manner of its lifting. The business world believed that speculation and investment would be revived even if the Sherman anti-trust act received a radical interpretation.

For the last eighteen months trading in stocks had been at the lowest ebb at any time within the last two generations. The depression early in the last decade, the dullness of the middle 90's, the reaction of 1907 or of 1903, the slump caused by free silver, Bryan and 16 to 1, and many other epochs of disturbance and demoralization did not bring business, from a market standpoint, to such a low ebb for such a protracted period.

It is evident, therefore, that the corner must be turned before the market may be said to have been revised. It is interesting to recall the action of the market following events similar to the Standard Oil decision of yesterday. Following the dissolving of the so-called sugar trust, which later retained its form under the corporate name of the American Sugar Refining company, the market advanced sharply and continued to show strength for several days. Then a period of selling began and the market declined to lower levels than before. Following the decision in the Northern Securities case the market displayed great strength and then became subjected to unusual pressure. The decision that dissolved the whisky trust, ostensibly, caused the market to act buoyantly. The advance was followed by a sudden reaction.

The Fourth Decision.

The decision in the Standard Oil case is thus the fourth of its kind. None of the other three can be said to have changed in a single degree the actual relationship existing between the various companies affected by each decision. Undoubtedly today's advance reflected the opinion of professional traders that the Standard Oil company will pursue the even tenor of its way and that it will find a channel in which to steer its affairs so that it will not encounter again the reef of government investigation and prosecution.

The Standard Oil decision is important to the business world and the stock market, not because it was the country's greatest financial group that was concerned, but because the decision affected the status of thousands of smaller corporations patterned after the Standard Oil in organization and conduct of business.

It was assumed that business was held back by the delay of the supreme court of the United States in handing down the decisions in the Standard Oil and the American Tobacco cases. In a large measure this is true. It is rumored that one banking group, alone, has withheld $750,000,000 of new constructive financing for this reason.

Head to Mouth Busts.

That speculators and investors should have become persistent in their refusal to do business except upon the lowest plane of a hand to mouth basis is really a curious phenomenon. It was not so very long ago, not longer than January and February of this year, that a decided upward movement in stocks had set in and almost everybody agreed that the decisions had been fully discounted and that they were not to be feared, anyway.

But in the latter part of February a decline set in and business and financial men hastened to abandoned their sense of smug security. Since then the portentous character of the decisions was increasingly magnified. The market was threatened with many swords of Damocles. Over it hung the supreme court decisions, Interstate commerce decisions, the Minnesota rate decisions, the Oklahoma and Missouri decisions, the Southern Pacific land decision and the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger suit.

One by one these were obviated by the definite action of the courts or commissions of jurisprudence. Only one created anything approaching its expected effect—the Interstate commerce decisions. Stocks then tumbled but since the decision was rendered the railroads have come to the belief that the outcome of the freight rate cases bestowed a real benefit rather than harm. It was another instance when the fear of the thing feared was more terrifying than the thing itself.

It is not amiss to hazard the suggestion that this will be the experience of the business world following the Standard Oil decision. The strength today was due primarily to the satisfaction of business and financial communities over the application of "reason" to the construction of the Sherman anti-trust act. The words, "Reasonable restraint of trade is lawful," probably will bring about a federal incorporation act or an amended anti-Sherman law. Disected, the decision amounts simply to this: First—The supreme court construes the Sherman anti-trust act as being a conduct statute dependent upon wrongful or oppressive conduct. Second—That reasonable restraints of trade are lawful. Third—That the Standard Oil's restraint was unreasonable and its conduct wrongful and oppressive. Fourth—Each subsequent case is more or less dependent upon its own merits and facts.

How long the present bulge will last is problematical. Too severe an advance is not to be desired. Any wild, upward movement of stocks or disproportionate spread of speculation would reflect only the unbounded belief of Wall Street itself, and not a corresponding quickening of general industry and business.

The market now becomes subject more to fundamental conditions than to superficial factors. The American Tobacco case is not regarded as a menace. That stock advanced 20 points in the early hours today reflecting the market's opinion. The basic market factors are crop prospects and trade conditions.

Crop prospects are material for a bullish argument. The value per bushel will be lower than last year, probably. The yields will be greater if the present promise is maintained. On the other hand the copper, iron and steel trades must show a great improvement to be construed as other than bearish factors. The railroads have probably reached an end of drastic retrenchment. When they have readjusted themselves to their new position the iron and steel business will revive. It is the history of the country that until there is a genuine revival in these basic industries general business does not awaken from its lethargy.

DYNAMITE IN STREAMS

Two Men Arrested for Fishing for Trout With Explosive.

Others Are Said to Have Been Guilty of Same Offense.

Poachers about the city do not seem to have been satisfied with stripping the bay and river of fish with nets and set lines, but have gone so far as to devastate the tributary trout streams with dynamite.

This morning Charles Johnson and Berger Johnson, who are not related, were arrested by Game Wardens T. J. Storye and G. H. Huseby on charges of having dynamited trout in the stream known as Rocky Run, a short distance from Proctor. Charles Johnson entered a plea of guilty and was fined $50 and costs or fifty days in the county jail. Berger Johnson was under 17 years of age and was turned over to the juvenile court. Two others are said to have been doing the same thing and warrants have been issued for their arrest.

The complaints against the men were made by Walter Schroeder, son of the chief of police at Proctor, and Edward Simpkins, who were fishing the stream when they came upon the men dynamiting. The Schroeder boy told the game warden that he had told the elder Johnson to quit getting fish in that manner. Whereupon he claims Johnson hit him over the back with a stick and told him to "get out of here or I'll put a hole through you." It is said that the elder Johnson secured the dynamite from his home.

Those who have been about the country considerably state that numerous settlers deplete the streams of fish in this manner, or by using nets with a small mesh for trout. The game wardens are making a complete campaign to put an end to this illegal fishing, and expect to keep busy the year around.

Local fishermen welcomed the news today that the state fish hatcheries are sending out a large amount of fry, including pike, trout, Chinook salmon and land-locked salmon. Fishermen say that in many of the lakes thoughout the upper part of the state land-locked salmon are quite common, and that they are among the gamiest fish they have ever caught. They grow to large sizes and put up a battle that delight the heart of the most enthusiastic disciple of Izaac Walton.

DIRT CARRIER AS AN EXHIBIT

Tram Car Being Used to Settle a Personal Injury Action.

It took six men to unload the tram car from a dray and drag it on the elevator and off to Judge Dibell's courtroom, where it is being used as an exhibit in the case of Carl O. Gustafson, who asks $15,000 damages from Higgins & McDonnell.

It is the largest exhibit that has been used in district court for some time. It is a common dirt carrier such as is used in grading roadbeds. It occupies a prominent place in the courtroom. The jurors in the case are learning more about grading than they ever thought there was to know.

The case has been on trial before Judge Dibell for several days. Gustafson claims that he was in the employ of the company last summer while the contractors were doing some work on the Canadian Northern road.

He claims that the brakes on the car were out of order, and that because of this fact the car got away from him, finally leaving the track. He claims to have been buried beneath it and horribly crushed as the result.

Another personal injury case is going on before Judge Martin Hughes. It is that of Frank Kokal against the Oliver Iron Mining company. He claims that he suffers severe injuries as the result of being caught, through negligence, on the part of the company, between two cars while working at the Fayal mine during the month of June last year. He asks $20,500.

SUIT AGAINST CITY OF DULUTH

Defective Sidewalk Causes John Soderblom to Bring Personal Injury Action.

John Soderblom, as the parent of George Soderblom, a minor, 7 years old, is suing the city of Duluth for injuries alleged to have been sustained by the lad when he stepped into a hole on Ninth avenue east and as the result sustained a badly fractured arm.

The trial began this morning before Judge Cant of the district court. The plaintiff asks $5,260.

It is claimed that the sidewalk was badly out of repair and that this fact was well known to the city. They claim that it was the duty of the city to keep the walk in good repair.

ORDERS STEEL TRUST PROBED

Washington, May 16.—An investigation of the United States Steel corporation was ordered by the house today when it passed the Stanley resolution providing for such an inquiry. The resolution was adopted without opposition, following a short debate. A committee of nine members, to be elected by the house, will be authorized to conduct the investigation.

REOPENS THE LABOR CASE

District Court Institutes Proceedings Against Gompers and Others.

Makes Prompt Use of Power Given By Supreme Court.

Washington, May 16.—The supreme court of the District of Columbia on its own initiative today instituted proceedings for alleged contempt against President Samuel Gompers, Vice President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor.

The sentences of imprisonment imposed on these men by this court were yesterday revoked by the United States supreme court, and the case remanded to the District supreme court.

Mr. Gompers, when told of the action of the district court, said:

"Justice Wright can go just as far as he likes. He will find we are not running away—not even from him."

The United States supreme court, in setting aside the sentences of imprisonment, held that the case on which the lower court had acted constituted a civil contempt against the Bucks Stove & Range company and that the offense was punishable only by a fine, to be recovered by the wronged corporation.

Justice Lamar, in handing down the opinion, called attention to the fact, however, that if the lower court felt aggrieved it could have brought criminal contempt proceedings in the premises and have inflicted a jail sentence.

The opinion, in conclusion, read: "The judgments of the court of appeals and the supreme court of the District of Columbia are revoked and the case remanded with direction that the contempt proceedings instituted by the Buck's Stove & Range company be dismissed, but without prejudice to the power and right of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to punish by a proper proceeding, contempt, if any, committed against it."

The lower court has been quick to take advantage of the opportunity afforded to reopen the case. As the labor dispute which brought the case into court has ended, it was presumed the matter would be allowed to drop.

To Inquire Into Conduct.

Justice Wright of the District supreme court, who imposed the sentences upon Messrs, Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, today in instituting the proceedings anew, appointed Joseph J. Darlington, Daniel Davenport and James H. Beck, counsel for the Buck's Stove & Range company, as a committee to inquire "forthwith" into the question of whether the labor leaders had violated the court's order. The committee was instructed to report to the court whether, in the opinion of the committee, the labor leaders were guilty of contempt in violating the injunction against the publication of a so-called boycott list in the American Federationist, the official organ of the labor federation.

"PADDY" McDONNELL TELLS WHY WARRANT WAS ISSUED

"How about it, Paddy, I see that you have been getting yourself in trouble with the speed limit laws?" was the greeting which P. McDonnell, Duluth's well known contractor, received on every side when he put in an appearance at the city hall this morning.

"What, I exceed the speed limit?" was his invariable reply. "How could you think it of me? That's unkind. Far be it from me to do anything like that."

"Well, how did it happen that a complaint was made against you?" was the rejoinder. "Surely there must have been some reason for it, particularly in your case. Of course I've seen you traveling in that big devil cart of yours, but the buzz wagon was going so slowly that I don't see how you could stand it. I was always under the impression that you wanted the best of everything, whether it was speed or contracts, or what not."

"Oh, I guess there was a complaint made against me all right," said 'Paddy' with a broad grin. "But I guess it must have been something like this." At which juncture he would assume his best oratorical attitude preparatory to elucidating the facts in the case.

"I never travel fast," he went on. "But the fact must be that the other fellow goes so slow that he thinks I am going fast. You know that there is a whole lot of cars in this town that can't make much over six or eight miles an hour, and when I happen to pass them on the road they gain the impression that I am exceeding the speed limit. Anybody can realize that if a car is moving at the rate of six or eight miles an hour, and if another car goes by them at the rate of fifteen or twenty miles an hour, the people in the first car will naturally come to the conclusion that the other fellow is going faster than they are. And naturally they come to the conclusion that the other fellow is exceeding the speed limit.

"Why, coming into the city from the country on a wet day, you can't tell which of those fellows are stuck in the mud and which are really moving, 'they go so slow—not because they want to but because they haven't the machines and can't help themselves. You almost have to use a microscope to know whether the wheels are turning over or not. And it's an even break, because half the time they are stuck, and it's up to me to pull them out, which I've done scores of times.

"Now, don't get the wrong impression. Don't go off with the idea that I am 'peeved,' because I'm not. I'm not 'kicking,' but you asked me how it happened that a complaint was made against me and a warrant sworn out for my chauffeur. I'm only telling you how it happened, and leaving out all the big words. What the outcome will be I cannot tell. I'm not much good at prognosticating destiny, and I never claimed any crown as a prognosticator. That's not my business."

The warrant for the arrest of Mr. McDonnell's chauffeur was sworn out yesterday afternoon, but up to noon today he had not put in an appearance in municipal court.

OLD TIME RIVER DRIVERS WILL SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES

Features are continually coming in for the midsummer water carnival to given July 22 and 23 by the Duluth Boat club.

Within a few days Capt. D. E. Stevens, deputy sheriff and George King, also a deputy sheriff, will make application to put on a log rolling contest.

It is not so much to provide amusement that the men wish to put on a vaudeville stunt as it is to settle a dispute of long standing. Needless to say the dispute is as to which is the better man when it comes to a contest of this nature.

Both men "point with pride" to their records. Each is an old river driver and although neither of them has done any log rolling in a number of years, they both claim that they have lost none of their old time cunning at the game and are "there" in the language of the streets.

This morning the daily dispute was on when Capt. Stevens suggested the match as an offering in the entertainment for the carnival. The offer was immediately snapped up by Mr. King. Each claims that the other is to take a ducking.

Capt. Stevens tells how in the old days there being no boat with which to cross the bay he pushed a log out and rode it across. That story was a little strong for Mr. King when he admits that he never did anything as good as that, but he insists that he knews enough about riding a log to give the captain a bath.

The men will wear regulation calked boots such as are worn by river drivers. They are to get on the same log, and the man this has to swim ashore loses the contest. The stakes are not made public.

It is a safe bet that both men will be out on the river practicing when the water gets a little warmer.

Capt. Stevens is very proud of the fact that for twelve years he earned his living riding logs, and he says it will take more than a novice at the game to make him swim.

INDIAN FIGHTER DIES.

Fred Server, Who Fought With Custer, Buried in Montana.

Crow Agency, Mont., May 16.—Fred E. Server, pioneer Indian fighter, who came to Montana in 1860, died here Saturday night, of heart trouble, following a brief illness.

Server was a member of the forces of Gen. Howard during the campaign of that officer against the Nesperce Indians and prior to that time he had served in other warfares against the red men. He was with Gen. Terry at the time of the Custer massacre and was one of the first men on the field following the slaughter, and assisted in burying the dead.

Server also had the distinction of being a member of the party which was sent to the relief of the expedition led by Lieut. Peary in sarch of the north pole. It is believed that no man in the Northwest has a wider personal acquaintance with officers and men in the regular army, and he was intimately known by Custer, Reno, Terry, Howard and many other generals an officers of the old regime. For many years Server had conducted a hotel at Crow Agency.

He was buried on the Custer battlefield.

HARD BLOW TO JOHN D.

Kerosene District on St. Louis River Is Being Wiped Out.

Festive Incandescent Will Replace the Lamps of the Suburbs.

In addition to the extension of the electric power lines from West Duluth to Smithville and New Duluth, the Duluth Edison Electric company has decided to push the work on to Fond du Lac, supplying the entire up-river district with lightning facilities.

Wires have been strung within a mile of Smithville already and within the next few days Smithville people will be burning electricity instead of kerosene. It will only be a matter of a few days from that time before New Duluthians will have the same service.

The power wires are being carried on the poles of the Duluth Telephone company.

"TROUBLE MEN" ARE KEPT BUSY

Storm Plays Havoc With the Telephone Lines to West Duluth.

The storm last night played havoc with telephone wires between West Duluth and the city and also with the signal systems of the fire and police department in the western end of the city. Today a number of fire boxes in West Duluth are out of order.

Out of fifteen trunk lines operated by one of the local telephone companies between West Duluth and the city, only one was in use most of the day. Much inconvenience was caused on this account and "trouble hunters" employed by the telephone companies put in a busy day fixing the "out of order" lines.

PROCTOR WILL VOTE ON BONDS

Issue Is Necessary to Construct Sewer System for Village.

A special election will be held in the village of Proctor soon to let the voters decide on bonding the village for $25,000 for sewers. This was authorized last evening at the meeting of the village council.

The village attorney was authorized to select a right-of-way for the sewer systems for the village. If necessary, condemnation proceedings will be resorted to in order to procure the property needed.

The date of the election will not be set until after the right-of-way has been secured. One system will serve the eastern portion of Proctor and a portion of the Eighth ward of the city, the other supplying the western and central portions of the village.

The sewer serving the eastern part of the village will cost approximately $33,000, including the cost of a septic tank and a sand filtering bed. In view of the fact that this system will serve about thirty Duluth residents of the Eighth ward, the city council will be asked to pay a part of the cost.

The cost of the other system will be about $37,000, including the cost of the septic tank, which will be about $19,000.

TAKES MOTOR BOAT TO LAKE MINNETONKA.

Edgar Lynch of Minneapolis, a former West Duluthian and well known in the western end of the city, has taken his motor boat from West Duluth to his summer home on Lake Minnetonka, near Minneapolis. The craft is well known on the river. It is a 40-horse power semi-speed half cabin affair. Mr. Lynch left with the boat for the Mill City last evening.

INVESTIGATION OF LOGGING ROAD

Executive Committee Will Decide on Course of Action.

The executive committee of the Commercial club will conduct an investigation into the proposed abandonment of the Minnesota & North Wisconsin railroad, the Brooks-Scanlon line, which the lumber company proposes to abandon on account of having no further need for it as a logging road.

At the meeting of the executive committee today the matter was considered. After the meeting W. A. McGonagle, the chairman of the committee, said that the committee could not commit itself to any course of action in the matter until advised of all the facts. He said that the committee will look into the matter thoroughly and will determine on a course of action, if action by the club is deemed advisable.

CONTRACTOR ARRESTED

Accused of Violating the Provisions of Blasting Ordinance.

W. E. Devaney, contractor, was arrested today on a charge of violating a blasting ordinance. His arrest was the outcome of an accident yesterday, in which Mrs. William Smith was struck by a rock while eating breakfast at the home of her brother-in-law, George Smith, 1824 East Fourth street.

Devaney had a crew of men doing some blasting in connection with excavation work on East Fifth street back of the Smith home. One of the rocks was projected through the window into the kitchen, where Mrs. Smith was eating her breakfast. Mrs. Smith was severely injured.

Mr. Devaney in police court this afternoon pleaded not guilty. His case was adjourned to Tuesday.

RAILROADS DENIES PURCHASE OF NEW RAILS

President Fitch Says South Shore Will Not Be Rebuilt.

W. F. Fitch, president and general manager of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, at the Spalding today set at rest for the time being at least the rumors of the rehabiliation of the South Shore through the purchase of 15,000 tons of steel rails, by the emphatic denial that a single new rail had been purchased by the officials of the road.

"There is nothing to it; forget it as soon as you can," were the words of the president and general manager of the South Shore when asked for a statement in regard to the published statement that has credited the officials of the Canadian Pacific with an intention of making the South Shore a more effective road.

President Fitch was asked where the rumor came from, and promptly replied that he had not the least idea. The reporter informed Mr. Fitch that Duluthians received their information from one of the Chicago papers, and Mr. Fitch volunteered the statement that his information in the matter had come from a Boston paper.

In reply to other questions along this same line, President Fitch replied that there was nothing to it, and that absolutely no foundation exised for the story.

William Conway and Martin Connors were arrested last night on Lake avenue as they were peddling some hams which were later learned to have been stolen. They were arraigned in police court this morning on charges of burglary and asked for examinations, which were set for tomorrow morning. After the men had been locked up on suspicion it was learned that one of the Armour refrigerator cars had been broken open and a quantity of meats stolen.

Here for Funeral.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oppel and family and Mrs. F. H. Bidwell of Virginia are in the city this week. They came down to attend the double funeral of Mr. Oppel's father, C. H. Oppel, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oppel's daughter, Florence, which was held yesterday afternoon.

Out of Town Guests.
A large number of officers from Minneapolis and St. Paul and their wives are planning to come to Duluth for the military ball to be given at the Spalding hotel next Monday evening by the officers of the National Guard of the city of Duluth. Adj.-Gen. Fred B. Wood and Mrs. Wood of St. Paul will be among the number to come up.

Mr. Olson entertained in honor of the children at the parsonage, 2305 West Third street. In addition to the purse he was made the recipient of a handsome silk umbrella. There are sixty-nine members in the class.

Assault Charge.
William Clough was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of having assaulted Alma Setterquist, the daughter of Nels Setterquist. He is said to have "butted" her with his shoulder and arms. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried Thursday morning.

New Steamer Enrolled.
The steel steamer Thomas Walters, 7,518 gross and 5,787 net tons was enrolled here today. The Walters, which is in the harbor on her maiden trip, was launched this year at the Lorain shipyards. The vessel is owned by the Interstate Steamship company, which owned the steamer W. C. Moreland. The Walters is named after Capt. Thomas Walters of Ishpeming, Mich., general manager of the Jones & Laughlin mines in the Lake Superior district.

Report of Receiver.
Cash on hand amounts to $13,779.29 and claims aggregating $51,721.10 have been filed, according to the quarterly report of David Davis, receiver of the Northwestern Steam Boiler Works. Mr. Davis took possession of the business January 18 and conducted it until the assets were sold at auction April 10.

Harris Trial Nearly Finished.
The trial of John M. Harris, charged with swindling John Runquist on a horse deal, was still on before Judge Ensign of the district court this afternoon. The attorneys were making their final arguments to the jury. The case will be finished some time this afternoon.

Widow Returned to Finland.
Houghton, Mich., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Emil Jamsen and family have been sent to their native country, Finland, by Joseph Stahl, superintendent of the poor for this district. Mrs. Jamsen was left a widow some months ago when her husband suicided after an unsuccessful attempt to hold up a collector for a South Range, Mich., meat concern on a road between Houghton and South Range. Lack of work and heavy debts caused Jamsen to attempt the holdup.

RISES ABOVE ALL POLITICS

Decision Will Help End Unthinking Criticism of Courts, Says Adams.

Attorney Frank D. Adams of the United States Steel corporation, this afternoon, in response to a request, prepared a statement as to the effect the Standard Oil decision would have.

The statement, which was secured too late to be included with the other opinions published on another page of The Herald this evening, is as follows:

"Judging from the fragmentary portions of the decision which I have seen, it marks one of those necessary epochs in the law when a rule of conduct is made to properly apply to new conditions of economic and moral growth. If the tobacco decision is favorable to that company, as it may be in view of what is said in the Standard Oil decision, the position of the court will be pretty well established on this great vital question. It only remains for the court or congress to indicate in the whole field of business activity what is the area of reasonable trade, and the court may do this in effect by pointing out the prohibited area in its future decisions.

"There is one consideration even more important than the decision itself and its effect on business, and that it is, that the court has risen far above all the politics in the case and, in a most serious and dignified manner, has had respect not only for the statute law, but for the fundamental principles underlying all law. The decision ought to go a long way toward putting an end to the unthinking criticism of the courts and at the same time give courage to some courts that it is their business to apply the law and have respect for lasting principles rather than merely to reflect popular prejudices."

LAST SALUTE TO VETERANS

Four Members of Grand Army Interred at Forest Hill.

Services were held this afternoon at Forest Hill cemetery over the bodies of George K. Swan, James O. Smith, Alexander Longmuir and John J. Slattery, old soldiers, who had died during the week.

The bodies were taken from the vault and with appropriate ceremonies, they were lowered into their graves. A firing squad from the Sons of Veterans and a bugler from the same organization took part in the ceremonies.

There were a number of friends of the departed ones present.

It is customary to have this ceremony in Duluth each spring over the bodies of those old soldiers who have died during the winter.

Asa Daily, custodian of Memorial hall, had charge of the ceremony.

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCED

New Public Affairs Body Will Have 106 Members.

An Increase of Forty Over the List for Last Year.

The first meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club will be held Thursday evening of this week.

The names of the members of the committee were announced today. The announcement was made some time ago that W. A. McGonagle would again be chairman of the committee, with Julius H. Barnes as vice chairman and E. P. Towne as treasurer.

The new committee numbers 106, an increase of about forty over the last public affairs committee. The great amount of work undertaken by the committee necessitated a distribution over a greater part of the membership of the club and the committee was enlarged to meet the requirements for greater work.

The committees, with their chairmen, will be announced at the first meeting of the new committee Thursday evening.

Following are the members of the committee:

W. A. McGonagle, chairman; J. H. Barnes, vice chairman; E. P. Towne, treasurer; D. Williams, W. E. Richardson, Henry Nolle, P. Noll, George A. French, I. Freimuth, Simon Clark, H. F. Williamson C. H. SWITCHMEN LINE UP FOR BATTLE

Fight Between Hawley and His Opponents Is Looked for.

St. Paul, Minn., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the switchmen's convention meets at the old capitol this afternoon the first gun in the fight against Frank T. Hawley, national president, will be fired by the insurgents. At that hour the convention will resolve into a committee of the whole and the war will begin with the election of the temporary chairman. R. J. Martin of Minneapolis probably will be the leading candidate of the Hawley element for the position and Former Grand Master Potter, it is said, will lead the insurgents.

In spite of the signs of storm in the convention hall, the Hawley men and the publicity committee, appointed yesterday afternoon by President Hawley, will not admit there is a fight.

ROCKEFELLER HAS NOTHING TO ADD.

New York, May 16.—William Rockefeller, one of the vice presidents of the Standard Oil company, said today regarding the decision:

"At this time I cannot say a thing about the decision. The company will make a statement through Mr. Elliott after the decision has been read in every particular. All we can do is to hope that the decision is for the best. After all, the Standard Oil case was only one of the things affecting general business conditions unfavorably."

A conference of directors and officers of the company was held at its offices today, attended by John C. Milburn, special counsel, but no statement further than that made by William Rockefeller was forthcoming. Among those who attended were John D. Archbold, H. C. Folger, Jr., J. A. Moffatt, Walter Jennings, A. C. Bedford, Charles Pratt and E. T. Bedford. John D. Rockefeller did not come down from his country place.

Henry D. Flagler is in the South and Oliver Payne was out of the city.

Bad Fires in Pennsylvania.
Pittsburg, Pa., May 16.—Forest fires continued to burn fiercely in Northwestern Pennsylvania and in portions of Maryland, and West Virginia. At Ridgeway, Pa., despite the fight being made by 4,000 men, the flames are spreading. The outskirts of the town have been threatened today but each time the fire was driven back.

ARMISTICE SOON TO BE DECLARED IN MEXICO.

Juarez, Mex., May 16.—Within twenty-four hours a general armistice throughout Mexico will be declared by the federal government and the revolutionists.

Upper Peninsula Drenched.
Hancock, Mich., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The whole northern peninsula has been heavily drenched in rain since last Wednesday. There have been several heavy showers, each lasting for several hours, and farm lands all through the peninsula show sprouting crops, which are coming up at least a week ahead of the average time.

McCOY WAS SMARTEST FIGHTER OF HIS TIME

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—Fate has finally thrown the hooks into Kid McCoy.

The Kid says himself that all he has in the world is a ten-dollar note. And he's so heavily in debt that he seeks the bankruptcy courts, says the Detroit News.

Few men have bucked fate with the consistency of Kid McCoy. He has with joyous consistency handed Father Time a lemon every time they encountered each other. But now he's down and admits it.

If it hadn't been for the fact that early in life the Kid decided to be a prizefighter he might have been one of our leading financiers. In this complex sporting world few men have ever sprung up the equal of McCoy in getting what he wanted when he wanted it.

The last time Kid came to Detroit he haughtily disclaimed his fighting title of McCoy and called himself Norman Selby, the name his parents handed to him early in life. He was then advertised to take part in the "great-hair-raising-dare-devil-life-and-death" twenty-four hour auto race as staged by the astute Bill Pickens. Norman made one, possibly two trips around the circuit and then announced that "something was the matter." He didn't do any more racing, but the meeting got all the advertising possible through the use of his illustrious name.

His last appearance here in the ring was in 1891, when he "fought" Jack Root. Fight fans here remembered that most wonderful battle distinctly. Those who paid money to see it will remember it even painfully.

Friends and Enemies.

There are many people who like Kid McCoy, and there are many people who don't like him. One section doesn't know him real well; take it either way you want to.

But whether they like or dislike, everybody is willing to admit that Norman has a six-cylinder thinking machine on his shoulders. And it is rare that he opens up his muffler to let the wide, wide world hear the explosions. The Kid was always too fine an artist to ever boast of his deeds. But those who know him can tell stories of him by the hour. The aforementioned Bill Pickens has one he likes to tell.

"We were down at Hot Springs," says Pick. "The Kid wasn't at that time what you'd call rich. Of course, he had a key ring and a necktie and a few little things like that, but money, well, it was hard to make the Kid believe there was such a thing. He had a dull, sneaking suspicion that somebody had taken all the money in the world and hidden it in one of the Ozark mountains.

"Well, we walked into the poolroom that night at the hotel, and a chap we knew insisted that the Kid play pool.

"'I will for a hundred on the side,' says the Kid.

"They went at it without putting up the money, which was lucky for the Kid. One ball at the finish decided the game. The other fellow missed his shot. The Kid tried and made it, difficult as it was. He pocketed the hundred dollars and we went out together.

"'What would you have done if you had missed?' I asked McCoy.

"'I'd a spit in his eye,' said the Kid.

Another time, down in Johnny McGraw's poolroom, on Broadway, the Kid got into a pool game. Three hundred dollars was up on the game, and the Kid found himself up against tough going. His opponent looked over the table and frowned. He couldn't make a shot. He was pondering on what to do when McCoy spoke.

"'I'll give you $10 for your shot,'' he said.

"'You're on,'' said the other. And the Kid shot. He broke the balls all over the table. Then he began to run them off, but the other man stopped him.

"'Here,'' he said. "'You didn't get a ball on that first shot; it's my turn.''

"'No, it isn't,'' said the Kid, 'it's mine; I bought your turn for $10.''

"'And you get three straight turns?'' shrieked his opponent.

"'Sure,'' grinned Kid, continuing to run the rest of the balls off the table.

And it took the rest of the night to make the beaten man see how it was done.

In the fight game the Kid won his reputation as a sharp, quick thinker.

This La Savate game was the rage in Paris when the Kid took a stroll over there. The Frenchmen were betting that no American boxer would go against the kicking-boxing art and beat it. The Kid watched several American ringsters have their heads kicked half off by the nimble-footed Frenchmen and decided to try it.

He got into the ring, shook hands with his opponent and then dropped his hands and stepped away. He looked up at the ceiling and laughed aloud. The Frenchman wondered, and still the Kid laughed and stared. The puzzled idol of Paris looked up to see what McCoy was laughing at. And as he tilted his head, he heard strange music and saw the lights fade.

The Kid had waited until he got that head of his tilted at just the right angle toward the ceiling; then he stepped in and handed him one flush on the jaw.

It was easy money, but after that you couldn't hire a Frenchman to look at a roof.

They say the Kid was out in Denver once, and was very anxious to reach Chicago. He couldn't raise the money, so he got on the train anyway. He waited until an old gentleman next to him went to sleep with his punched ticket in the band of his hat. He took the ticket from its resting place, put in his own, and went his way rejoicing to the next car. The old fellow wasn't bothered, but the conductor kept wondering how in the world nineteen passengers rode on eighteen tickets.

Chicago, May 16.—Pitcher Jack Pfeister, a veteran member of the Chicago National club, was yesterday traded to the Louisville club of the American association for Pitcher Emil Richter, a former Chicago professional player.

PUEBLO FIREMAN BECOMES ACTOR

Chicago, May 16.—The lure of the stage, or rather the call from the stage, is to bring "Fireman Jim" Flynn of Pueblo, Colo., into the limelight. Success, financially at least, bids fair to crown the efforts of the Colorado man, whose greatest achievement was a knockout of Al Kaufmann in ten rounds on Friday a week ago.

From a local pugilist manager who returned yesterday from Kansas City comes considerable news anent ring affairs in the Missouri town, which in the main points to Flynn and Kaufmann. To this manager the fireman-fighter announced his plans for the near future. Flynn still is in Kansas City, but will leave there in a day or two for New York, where he has several offers to appear theatrically. The Italian intends to take advantage of these offers and will accept the best bid. The theatrical men evidently believe Flynn, through his defeat of Kaufmann, is now a drawing card.

So the next pugilistic stage celebrity will be Flynn. The strange turn things have taken for Kaufmann are bound to affect his drawing powers on the stage, and the wisdom of the Californian or the lack of it on the part of the promoters who signed him to a long time contract for a matter of something like $50,000 is plainly shown. There can be no doubt that had the promoters foreseen the disastrous finish of Kaufmann in the Flynn fight, they would have signed no contract for such a long term. So now it is up to them to "stick" whether or not Kaufmann's reputation draws the coin into their coffers.

An interesting thing happened in the dressing room of the defeated fighter after the fight, according to the Chicago manager. After the battle Flynn went to Kaufmann and in a friendly spirit told Al he was sorry both of them could not have won, but that someone had to lose. Then, it is declared something else happened. Mrs. Kaufmann entered into the conversation. The wife of the Californian is said to have upbraided Flynn in fierce fashion for beating her spouse, and in a minute Kaufmann started to hand Flynn a hard "calling down," which nearly started an impromptu battle between the two fighters before they could be separated.

WIFE DESERTER TAKEN EAST FROM MICHIGAN.

Houghton, Mich., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Detective Merkel of Burks county, Pennsylvania, is on his way back to Reading, Pa., with W. N. Gehret, who was arrested recently at Red Jacket by Houghton county authorities on a warrant from Reading, charging Gehret with wife desertion. Gehret, who was known here as Harry Davis, and had charge of the upper peninsula work of the International Correspondence schools, with headquarters at Calumet, has been known under several allases, it is claimed. He waived extradition.

MEMORIAL DAY RACES HAVE BEEN CANCELLED.

Laurium, Mich., May 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Marathon race arranged for Memorial day between the Hancock marathon runner, Jussi Steltz, who made a world's record in England and later lowered it in New York, five years ago, and Young Miller of St. Paul, world's welterweight wrestling champion, has been called off. There has been considerable agitation in the Copper country against the holding of athletic meetings, baseball games, etc., on Memorial day and this was responsible for the action of the promoters in ditching the marathon event.

DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE IN the conditions of a certain mortgage containing a power of sale, executed and delivered by Anna Olson and John R. Olson, her husband, mortgagors, to J. A. Scott and E. F. Alford, mortgagees, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1910, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 3rd day of January, 1911, at 4:30 o'clock P. M., in book 266 of Mortgages, on page 189; said mortgage was given to secure the payment of eleven promissory notes, bearing even date with said mortgage, made by said mortgagors, for the sum of twenty dollars each, due and payable February 1st, March 1st, April 1st, May 1st, June 1st, July 1st, August 1st, September 1st, October 1st, November 1st and December 1st respectively, in the year 1911, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum. Said mortgage contained a provision that if default be made in the payment of said sum of money or interest thereon, or the taxes or any part thereof, at the time and in the manner therein specified, it should be lawful for the mortgagees to declare the entire indebtedness due and payable, and to sell the premises therein described and convey the same to the purchaser in fee simple, agreeably to the statute in such case made and provided. Default has been made in the payment of each and all of said four principal notes for twenty dollars each, which became due on the 1st days of February, March, April and May, 1911, respectively, and the interest thereon. No part of said indebtedness has been paid unto said mortgagees, except the sum of twenty-four and 97-100 dollars paid on said 31st day of December, 1910, upon the said notes so made payable on the first days of November and December, 1911, respectively. There is, at the date of this notice, claimed to be due, and is actually due, the sum of two hundred one and 90-100 dollars. No action at law or otherwise has been commenced for the recovery of the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Notice is hereby given, that said mortgage will be foreclosed at a public sale of the mortgaged premises, which are described as follows, to-wit:
Lot numbered four hundred twenty-nine (429), in block numbered one hundred nineteen (119), Duluth Proper, Second Division, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, to pay said principal indebtedness, interest and the costs of this foreclosure, including twenty-five dollars attorneys' fees, stipulated in said mortgage; said sale will be made in the sheriff's office in the Court House in the city of Duluth, county of St. Louis and state aforesaid, on the 22nd day of June, 1911, at ten o'clock A. M., subject to redemption within one year from that date.
Dated May 8th, 1911.

CASH WHEAT IS IN DEMAND

Market Loses Early Strength But Recovers Toward the Close.

Final Values Unchanged—Crop Prospects Good—More Rain.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 16.—Wheat declined from the early bulge today but recovered when buying increased in volume on the break. The Northwestern markets were the strongest, relatively, the cash situation causing considerable strength. May wheat lost ¼c and July closed unchanged. September gained ¼c. Cash wheat was on a par with July. Rye was unchanged. Oats gained ⅛c. Durum went forward ¼c for July. Barley was not quoted.

Linseed was up. May gained 2½c, July went forward 3c, September lost 2c and October was unchanged. Trading was small. Cash was on parity with May or ½c under July.

On higher cables wheat opened strong and advanced, but the market was unable to hold its strength and values eased off before noon. The buying was fair, but some professionals began to hammer July wheat and the September option displayed weakness on account of continued rains in the Northwest, which in many localities have placed the spring wheat crop out of danger of drouth for the next three or four weeks. The weather is expected to continue showery tonight and tomorrow in the Northwest.

The cash demand from the East seemed strong, but considerable buying was done on spreads and it was difficult to size up the actual business. A report of sales of 300,000 bu probably was a duplication of the report published in this column yesterday. In the leading cash market the milling demand showed a slight improvement. Leading millers were fairly large buyers there.

The visible supply of wheat in the world, decreased 5,848,000 bu. The continental demand was not so insistent although the outlook was regarded as hopeful, messages from Russia insisting that there had not been sufficient moisture and that the crop outlook was not especially promising.

A bearish factor was the report of the grain growers' association of Canada that the wheat acreage in the three prairie provinces was increased by 2,000,000 acres, indicating a crop of 175,000,000 bu based on average yield for the last ten years.

Crop reports from the Southwest were generally favorable. An estimate gave Nebraska 50,000,000 bu compared with 40,000,000 bu last year.

MARKET GOSSIP

B. W. Snow wired from Kinsley, Kan., as follows: Tied up here all day on account of muddy roads in every direction. The Kansas winter wheat situation is now fairly clear. Total acreage seeded last fall 7,000,000 acres of which 1,850,000 are in counties west of Rush, 2,250,000 in fourteen counties north and south lying between Rice on east and Ness on west, 375,000 on four south central counties of Barber, Harper, Sumner and Cowley and 2,525,000 in east half of state. Through failure to germinate the first district lost 650,000 acres, the fourteen central counties 450,000, the four south central counties 250,000 and the east half of the state 150,000, leaving the area for harvest in the state 5,500,000 acres. The present acreage and condition in the western districts should indicate roughly about 10,500,000 bu; in the fourteen central counties about 27,000,000 bu; in the four south central counties 1,500,000 and the balance of the state about 41,000,000 bu or a state promise of about 80,000,000 bu of winter wheat.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: The weakness in American cables yesterday were offset here by shorts covering and values were ¼d to ⅝d higher. This strength was due to continued unfavorable reports from Russia and firmness of Australian offers with cargoes in good request and lightly offered. Following the opening there was speculative support and buying by prominent interests and values further advanced ½d with light offers. There were very small tenders on May and this month led the advance. Buying was also encouraged by the unexpected heavy decrease in the European visible. At 1:30 p. m. the market was very firm and ⅝d to ¾d higher than yesterday. Corn—The opening was unchanged and later July advanced ¼d with undertone steady on a better cargo demand and in sympathy with wheat. The European visible this week, 93,832,000 bu; last week, 97,560,000 bu. Our Russian agent cables that drouth continues in the southeast and damage is feared. The recent rain was light and more is needed.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bulls Look to Russia for News to Suport Wheat.

Chicago, May 16.—Persistently unfavorable crop reports from Russia tended to make the wheat market firm today. Bulls were encouraged further by the fact that the unvisible supply decreased more than was expected. Demand, however, was light, and the advancing movement of prices resulted in part at least from the absence of any unusual pressure to sell. The opening was ⅛@⅜c higher, July started at 89c to 89¼c, a gain of ⅛@⅜c to ⅝@½c, and rose to 89¾@89⅞c.

Bear operators later for a prominent speculator brought about a sharp decline, accelerated by rosy prospects in the Argentine. The close was steady at 88⅝c for July, a net loss of ⅛ to ¼c.

Scattered buying proved sufficient to lift corn. Offerings were light because of the strength of wheat. July opened ¼c to ⅜@⅝c up at 52⅜c to 52¾c, and steadied at the higher level.

Subsequently the market sagged because of a downward turn in wheat. The close was steady with July 52⅜c, exactly the same as last night.

Pessimistic advices regarding plant growth in Iowa and Illinois hoisted oats a little. July started ¼c to ¼c dearer at 33⅝c to 33¾c, and showed no disposition to recede.

Provisions eased off a trifle with hogs. First sales were at last night's level to 2½c below. July delivery going at $15.05 for pork, $8.17½ to $8.20 for lard and $7.97½ for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Strong But Sags on Northwest Reports.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 16. — May wheat closed ⅛c higher than yesterday, July ⅜c higher; September ¼c higher and December ⅜c higher. The opening was very strong on account of strength abroad, but favorable crop reports from Northwest caused the market to sag. Minneapolis was relatively stronger than Chicago. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 150,000 bu for three days.

Minneapolis today received 148 cars of wheat against 112 a year ago; Duluth 55 against 45 and Winnipeg 233 against 214. May opened, 97c; high, 97¼c; low 96¾c; closed, 97c. July opened, 98⅜@98½c; high, 98½c; low, 97½c; closed, 97⅝c. September opened, 91⅝@91¾c; high, 92¼c; low, 91¼@91⅜c; closed, 91⅜@91½c. December opened, 91¼c; high, 91¼c; low, 91¼c; closed, 91¼c.

Cash wheat continued in very strong demand and the market was quoted at about stead. No. 1 northern sold for ½@2½c above July. Closing: No. 1 hard, $1.00⅜; No. 1 northern, 98⅜@99⅝c; to arrive, 98⅝@99⅞c; No. 2 northern, 95⅜@98¾c; to arrive, 95⅜@98¾c; No. 3 wheat, 93⅜@96¾c; No. 3 yellow corn, 52½@53c. No. 3 white oats, 32@32½c. No. 2 rye, $1.00@1.02.

Flour—The market was quoted dull and steady. Demand slow and shipping directions poor. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 45,472 bbl. First patents, $4.60@4.90; second patents, $4.50@4.80; first clears, $3.20@3.65; second clears, $2.20@2.85.

Flax—Receipts, 2 cars; year ago, 2; shipments, 3. Both spot and to arrive flax in fair demand at ½c below the Duluth July. Closing price, $2.57½.

Barley—Receipts, 36 cars; year ago, 17; shipments, 29. Market still easier today. Prices 3@4c lower than yesterday and demand slow at decline. Closing range, 60@90c.

Bull Operators in Control and Spueeze the Shorts Mercilessly.

Standard Oil Decision Regarded Favorably and Prices Take Jump.

New York, May 16.—The supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case caused an awakening of the stock market from its long period of inactivity and prices went upward with a rush at the opening today. Gains ranged from large fractions to nearly 3 points, and the market was very active.

Standard Oil opened on the curb at 675, a loss of 4¾ points, but a few minutes later more than recovered the loss, selling at 680.

On the stock exchange there were wide openings in several of the more active issues. United States Steel opened with sales of 15,000 shares at from 77 to 78 with a maximum gain of 2⅜. Reading sold from 156½ to 157¾, gaining 2 points and Union Pacific advanced the same amount on heavy dealings. Other gains were: Virginia-Carolina Chemical 2¾, International Harvester 2½, General Electric and Consolidated Gas 1⅜, United States Rubber and Lehigh Valley 1½, Southern Pacific 1¼, Atchison 1⅛ and Northern Pacific, Delaware & Hudson and Amalgamated Copper a point.

Some Profit Taking.

Secondary prices were lower, profit taking sales appearing in sufficient volume to set values back sharply. United States Steel reacted a point. The market soon adjusted itself to the lower level, and then began to creep gradually upward, with activity increasing largely on the rise. Buying by the short interest was on an enormous scale, and bull operators took on large lines of stock with renewed confidence.

Prices at 11 o'clock were from a fraction to 1½ above the initial figures, with Union Pacific showing a rise of 3 points. United States Steel was quoted at 78½, Reading 158, and Union Pacific 180¾.

A feature of the trading was the strength shown by many industrials. American Tobacco jumped 15 points on the curb.

The largest gains of many months were made this morning in the stock market, which interpreted the Standard Oil decision as being decidedly favorable from the Wall Street viewpoint. The strength and activity of the market were due also to no small extent to relief which was felt that the decision had been rendered and that the uncertainty which has restricted business for months was out of the way.

Predictions of increased activity in the market after the decision was announced, whatever it might be, were fully borne out, for in the first hour more than 400,000 shares of stock were traded in, three times the amount of business done at yesterday's entire session. Activity decreased for a time in the second hour, but prices were maintained. Later there was another surge upward and large amounts of stock changed hands at still higher levels. One block of 7,500 shares of United States Steel brought 78½.

Commission houses reported a large influx of outside orders and the strength, activity and breadth of the market gave striking testimony to the speculative and investment operations on a large scale. Noon prices were from 2@3 points above yesterday's closing figures for the principal stocks. Bonds also were strong and active.

Bull operators continued in control of the market and squeezed the shorts mercilessly. Considerable additions were made to the forenoon advances in spots and the list showed symptoms of a renewal of extensive pool operations. The usual leaders, United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific touched 78¾, 185⅜ and 181½ respectively.

On the curb both American Tobacco and Standard Oil fluctuated with great violence over a range of from 15 to 20 points.

The advance was checked temporarily in the late afternoon when the volume of profit-taking sales proved too much for the list to absorb without breaking ground. Recessions, however, were only fractional, and the list was rising spiritedly again at 2 o'clock.

The market closed active and strong. Practically the entire list was effected by further profit-taking in the last hour, when prices shaded materially all around. This together with persistent selling of St. Paul and Pennsylvania, neither of which had shared substantially in the earlier rise, was mainly responsible for the setback. Recoveries to the high level were quite general in the final trading.

EARLY VOTE ON BILL FOR RECIPROCITY TO BE SOUGHT BY STONE

Missouri Senator Announces That He Will Make Move Soon.

Controversy Over Cattle Prices Occurs During Hearing.

House Resumes Discussion of Statehood—Committee Studies Wool.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Stone of Missouri announced today to the senate finance committee, at the hearing on the reciprocity and free list bills, that he would soon press for a vote on reciprocity. He said he did not propose to let the hearings drag along indefinitely.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by the committee to fix a time to close the final hearings. Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee, expressed the belief that the reciprocity hearing would end soon.

Controversy over the prices of Canadian cattle arose between members of the committee and a witness at today's hearing. E. C. Lasiter, president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, asserted the cattle raising industry would be destroyed because Canadian prices were lower. This, Senator Stone declared was not the case. He quoted statistics, which Mr. Lasiter questioned. The secretary of agriculture and Prof. Emery of the tariff board will be called to explain the figures and apparent contradictions.

Tilt Over Witnesses.

The committee engaged in a somewhat heated tilt yesterday over the

ALL CAN BID FOR PANAMA BONDS

Fifty Million Dollars Worth to Be Sold at Once.

Washington, May 17.—Seventy-seven mailbags filled with invitations to the public to bid for Uncle Sam's new bonds left Washington today. Every one of the 23,000 national banks, state banks and trust companies of which the treasury has record, will receive one of the official circulars and bidding slips.

The man who wants to lend $100, $500, $1,000 or more to the government at 3 per cent interest can learn all the particulars by dropping around to see his banker.

To make the new $50,000,000 loan as popular as possible, the treasury will accept ordinary checks, payable through clearing house cities, and postal orders in payment. The small bidders will receive first attention, which will make it possible for the individual investors to deal directly with the government instead of with a bond dealer.

Price Not Yet Known.

It probably will be six weeks before the successful bidders are announced. The price they will pay for the new securities is a conjecture, but the estimates put it somewhere between par and 103.

By this new issue of $50,000,000 Uncle Sam will owe his people about $963,000,000, upon which various rates of interest are paid. The money from the new issue will be used to partly reimburse the treasury for money it has advanced to the Panama canal.

The new securities will bear 3 per cent interest, payable quarterly; will be free from all national, state or municipal taxation, and will be in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000. They will be dated June 1, 1911, and will be payable in fifty years.

By provision of law, the new bonds will not be available to national banks as the basis of circulation.

GET GOVERNOR'S STAFF GUESSING

White Earth Indians Send Invitation With Native Words.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Employes in the office of Governor Eberhart are trying to figure out what Indians on the White Earth reservation mean by "Umbah immah." Likewise "Wain-nah-boozah." An invitation has been forwarded the chief executive of the state to sit at the council of the Indians and to talk to them. A personal letter from Thomas H. Beaulieu urges that he accept. The invitation says:

"This letter is to convey to you the cheerful announcement that the oracle, seer and sage of the Chippewas of the White Earth reservation, appreciating the boundless blessings showered upon the people of this fair land through the pleasure of Wain-nah-boo-zah, have spoken the word and the edict is now being heralded by fleet-footed messengers to members of bands interested to the effect that the forty-fourth annual council fire and feast of good cheer of the tribe will convene at White Earth, Minn., on the 14th and 15th of June, A. D. 1911. And it is the earnest desire of the members of the executive council that yourself and friends may be pleased to come and be present with us on this occasion to smoke the pipe of peace and to share in the festivities of the occasion. Umbah immah."

FILE BRIEF FOR PACKERS

Judge Carpenter So Instructs Attorneys in Beef Trust Case.

Lawyers Want Rehearing on Demurrer Since Oil Trust Decision.

Chicago, May 17.—Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States district court, today refused to hear oral argument from attorneys for the indicted Chicago meat packers on their plea for a rehearing on the demurrers Judge Carpenter overruled May 12. He gave them a week to file briefs.

The formal motion filed yesterday was not amplified in any way, in view of Judge Carpenter's ruling, and nothing further in the way of outlining their course will be presented by the packers until the briefs are filed.

Chicago, May 17.—Judge Carpenter, in fixing a time for the filing of briefs, took occasion to indicate his position on the ruling of the United States supreme court—that it in no wise affected the penalty clauses of the Sherman act, but had to do only with what constituted a violation.

Court's Opinion of Decision.

"I disposed of that point in my demurrer," said Judge Carpenter; "that is to say, the supreme court must regard the Sherman act as a penal statute, and if it does, then, by giving relief under the defining sections, four and seven, it necessarily must have

BOMB SCARES NEW YORK HOTEL GUESTS

Explosion Occurs in Heart of the Hostelry District.

New York, May 17.—The heart of the hotel district had another early morning bomb explosion today. The explosion occurred in front of a house in West Forty-fourth street near Broadway, and shattered a few windows without hurting anybody, but it caused such consternation among the sleepers in the big hotels that cluster in this neighborhood that the police reserves had to be called out to quiet the excitement.

FIRE MAKES HALF OF CITY HOMELESS

Kirin, Manchuria, Suffers a $20,000,000 Loss in Conflagration.

Harbin, Manchuria, May 17.—Forty thousand persons at Kirin are homeless as a consequence of the recent conflagration in that city. The money loss is estimated at $20,000,000. Four thousand shops, fifteen banks and 8,387 other buildings were destroyed.

Reports from Pekin told of a destructive fire at Kirin on May 9, but telegraph communication to the remote Manchurian town was interrupted and few details of the fire were known. Kirin has a population of 80,000.

NEW STAFF IS CHOSEN

Governor Names Gustaf Widell of Mankato as Inspector General.

Hibbing, Brainerd and Floodwood Men Among the New Members.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gutaf Widell will be inspector general with the rank of brigadier general, on the military staff of Governor Eberhart, as it has been reorganized. Gen. Widell, who is the governor's business partner, was a general on the staff when Van Sant was governor, but resigned when John A. Johnson was elected. He succeeds Brig.-Gen. E. L. Welch of Minneapolis, who is retained on the staff as an aide.

C. H. Biorn of St. Paul is made judge advocate on the new staff. He succeeds John Dwan, who becomes colonel and aide.

Paul Doty of St. Paul, formerly a colonel, is promoted to be brigadier-general and quartermaster-general, vice M. M. Gasser of Duluth, made colonel and aide.

Handy Succeeds Sebenius.

W. C. Handy, appointed as major some months ago, becomes assistant quartermaster-general, with the rank of major. He succeeds Maj. J. Uno Sebenius of Duluth, who becomes colonel and aide.

Gustaf Carlson is reappointed colonel and aide.

In the list of new appointments appear the names of Howard Weirick of Hibbing, as colonel and aide; W. H. Gemmel of Brainerd, colonel and aide; and M. W. Hilngeley of Floodwood, major and aide. The name of Col. T. F. McGilvray of Duluth is not on the new staff.

MINISTER BRYN AT GRAND FORKS

Norwegian Diplomat Addresses Great Throng at Natal Day Celebration.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minister H. P. Bryn of Norway addressed a large audience of Norwegians in the Auditorium this afternoon at the Norway natal day celebration. G. D. Ristad of St. Olaf college, Minnesota, also spoke.

Norway's minister is the guest of Vice Consul H. Bendke today and tomorrow morning will leave on an automobile tour of southern Grand Forks and northern Traill counties, regions that are heavily populated by Norwegians, his purpose being to gain insight into their home life.

Friday he will go to Devils Lake and to the Indian reservation where one sight that will greet the minister will be a war dance. He will leave Saturday for Duluth and Superior to remain one or two days.

TAFT STARTS THE GOSSIPS

Talk at Jewish Temple Is Taken as Slam at Clubmen.

President Refers to "Small-Headed Men" Who Blackball Others.

Washington, May 17.—Washington was discussing with a good deal of zest today some references made by President Taft in a speech at the Jewish Temple here last night to "small headed men" in prominent clubs who display their "greatness" by blackballing men of importance proposed for membership.

The president's references were taken to apply directly to the recent exclusion from a club in this city of a prominent New York congressman and several newly elected senators. The congressman in question is a particular friend of the president.

Position of the Jews.

In his speech the president said:

"I believe and am proud of the fact that the Jews in America enjoy an equality that they have in only a few other countries in the world. I do not mean to say that there are not radical prejudices here; I don't mean to say that there are no social clubs and other places where the small headed men who occasionally get into a directory, manifest their greatness by using the blackball and shutting out men of importance in the community; but my friends, while it is aggravating and exasperating, still it is not the worst thing that could happen.

What a Man Is.

"I have had it happen to friends of mine—Gentiles who have been kept out of clubs by people who are not worthy to button their shoes, and who have no standing save in clubs. It is aggravating, I agree, but a man is what he is by reason of his respect for himself, and if he knows that someone who affects to snub him and look down upon him is not worthy—if he knows that that person is not his equal, and he cultivates any of the philosophy that he ought to call to his aid—he will have the advantage over his small-brained and narrow-minded critic always.

WANTS NATIONAL AUTO HIGHWAYS

Representative Hobson Introduces Bill in National House.

Washington, May 17.—A bill providing for two national automobile highways was introduced today by Representative Hobson. It authorizes the appointment of two commissions, the members from various states to work out two gigantic improvements, one a highway to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean along the thirty-fifth parallel of north latitude; the other to extend from Canada to Mexico on a line near the twenty-third meridian west from Washington.

These highways, the bill provides, shall be known respectively as the National East-West Automobile highway and the National North-South Automobile highway.

LAST CALL COMES TO E. R. JEFFERSON

Civil War Veteran Dies Suddenly at His Summer Home.

One of Three Duluth Survivors of the First Minnesota.

Lost a Leg at Gettysburg—Was a Duluth Pioneer.

Ernest R. Jefferson, Duluth pioneer and veteran of the First Minnesota, died suddenly last evening about 5:30 at his summer home at Bay lake, near Deerwood, Minn.

Death was unexpected. Mr. Jefferson had been in poor health since an accident last winter when he was thrown from a cutter, but it was not thought that his condition was serious. He went to Bay lake in March, and it was thought that the change to his summer home would benefit him.

The news of his death received in Duluth this morning was a complete surprise and a severe shock to his many friends here.

Mr. Jefferson was one of the three survivors of the First Minnesota. The others are Capt. Thomas H. Pressnell and Franklin W. Paine. Mr. Jefferson lost a leg at Gettysburg.

He leaves besides his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Andrew Warfield of Bemidji, two sons, Robert of Eveleth and John, who is attending college at Valparaiso, Ind.

For many years during the early days Mr. Jefferson was lighthouse-keeper here. He was at one time a member of the city council and he also served on the county board.

He came to Duluth to reside in 1869. He entered the Union ranks when a lad of but 18 years, and was 69 at the time of his death.

The body will be brought to Duluth Friday for burial. The services will

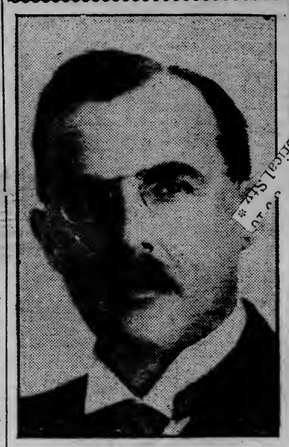
FINAL PEACE TERMS ASKED OF MADERO BY MEXICAN GOVERNMENT

IN THE MIDST OF THE TROUBLE IN MEXICO



LOUIS HOSTETTER,
American Consul at Hermosillo.
Hermosillo is threatened by the Mexican insurrectos. It is one of the most important consular posts in Mexico.

Ratification Will Be Accompanied By General Armistice.

Prospects Are That Peace Will Come Within One Week.

Battle Is Looked for Hourly at Ciudad Porfiio Diaz.

Juarez, Mex., May 17.—In response to a request from the Mexican government, Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and his cabinet gathered at 11 o'clock today to formulate a final peace agreement which is to be submitted by telegraph by Judge Carbajal today to President Diaz and his cabinet.

A change in the procedure of the negotiations has been made, but it will hasten the restoration of peace.

At first it was thought that as soon as an agreement was reached on the principal basis, the naming of three cabinet portfolios and fourteen governorships, an immediate armistice for the entire country would be proclaimed. There is practically a mutual acceptance now of the principal points, but instead of a point by point ratification it has been decided to have the

URGES FREER USE OF CLUB

Third New York Grand Jury Reports on "Wave of Crime."

Commends Mayor for His Work, But Would Add to Police Powers.

New York, May 17.—Differences of opinion between Mayor Gaynor and his critics regarding the prevalence of crime in New York city were diplomatically bridged today in the report presented by the grand jury that has been investigating the so-called "Crime wave."

The jury found that there is "somewhat of an increase" in crime, but it commends the mayor for the stand he has taken and the efforts he has made to prevent brutality and grafting by policemen.

At the same time the jury recommends the modified use of "plain clothes" men who were taken away from the precinct commanders by the mayor, and the "freer use of the club," which was practically forbidden under the mayor's orders.

This is the third grand jury to report on the present crime situation. One of the other two found that a "crime wave" existed, and the other decided that it did not.

OHIO BRIBE CASE WILL BE DELAYED

Representative Nye Wants Time to Prepare His Defense.

Columbus, O., May 17.—The trial of Representative George Nye of Pike county, on the charge of soliciting a bribe, will probably not be reached until late in the week or the first of next week, according to statements at the prosecuting attorney's office today.

The prosecutor is engaged in a murder trial and this will take several days. Mr. Nye's case is scheduled to be called tomorrow and he will plead for delay on the ground that he wants more time to prepare his defense.

GO TO WORK FOR RECIPROCITY

Detroit, Mich., May 17.—A delegation of about twenty Detroit business men, headed by President Milton A. McRae of the Detroit board of commerce, left today for Washington to stimulate sentiment in favor of the pending Canadian reciprocity treaty.

Southern Baptists Meet.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 17.—One thousand delegates to the Southern Baptist convention arrived here this morning, and added to the hundreds who came earlier in the week. The meetings will open at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

SALUTE SHIP SUNK BY CONFEDERATES

Crew of Battleship Idaho Honor Old War Sloop Mississippi.

Angola, La., May 17.—While the ship's band played and her bluejackets stood at "present," the big battleship Idaho's guns woke the echoes here today in a salute over the resting place of the wooden war sloop Mississippi of Admiral Farragut's fleet. The Mississippi was sunk by the Confederate land batteries at Port Hudson on the Mississippi river during the Civil war. The Idaho is cruising up the river as far as Vicksburg.

GEN. GRANT TO HEAD TROOPS

Will Succeed Gen. Carter in Command on Mexican Border.

Washington, May 17.—Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Grant soon will succeed Maj. Gen. Carter as commander of the maneuver division of the army in Texas. Secretary of War Dickinson has selected Gen. Grant for this duty, but as the change will not take place until after Henry L. Stimson becomes secretary of war, the assignment will, of course, be subject to his approval.

The purpose of the war department is to afford an opportunity to command the division to as many general officers of high rank as possible during the maneuvers, which, it is said, now probably will continue until next winter.

Gen. Carter has done splendid work, the department officials declare, in mobilizing the forces and getting them in condition for the actual field work which is now beginning. The change probably will not be made until conditions in Mexico become less acute than at present.

MORE DENIALS IN CAMORRIST CASE

Abbatemaggio Once More Tells Story of Murder at Tavern.

Viterbo, Italy, May 17.—Francesco Desiderio, one of those charged by Gennaro Abbatemaggio with having been at the Alda tavern in Bagnoli when Gennaro Cuoccolo was condemned to death for treachery by a court of the Camorra, faced the informer at the trial of the camorrists today.

The exchanges were similar to those in which the state's witness has engaged with the other prisoners. Abbatemaggio again recited his version of the meeting at the tavern and charged Desiderio with complicity in the crime. The accused denied each assertion in turn and sought to confuse the other by taunting him.

"You did not learn your part well this morning," said the alleged assassin.

Abbatemaggio replied calmly:

"Do not put yourself to unnecessary trouble. It is useless to try to confound me."

Desiderio was frequently prompted by others of the accused, especially Alfano and the priest Vitozzi. The latter, quoting from Alfano's earlier denunciation, repeatedly cried out at Abbatemaggio:

"Assassin! You are the real murderer!"

BIDDING IS SPIRITED

More Than 4,000 Acres Sold at Average Price of $6.

More than 4,000 acres of St. Louis county farming lands were sold this morning at the courthouse by Theadore Nelson, manager of the state land sales department.

The sale in Duluth is considered one of the best that has been held in the state for some time. About 20,000 acres were offered for sale.

The land was sold at auction by Mr. Nelson at the sale which was held in the county board room. The bidding was spirited at times, one piece of land near Hibbing bringing $22.50, the highest price paid for land during the sale. The average price was about $6. No lands were sold under $5. A large part of the lands sold brought between $5 and $11.25.

There seemed to be more interest in the sale than ever before, there being about 200 present during the time the lands were being sold. As fast as they bid on their choice those present left and others kept coming in continually. It is thought that in all about 300 attended the sale.

Mr. Nelson was assisted in the sale of the lands by E. H. Walden, a clerk in the office of the state auditor at St. Paul, and L. A. Marvin, deputy county auditor, and clerks from the county auditor's office, who kept track of the sales.

Mr. Nelson came here from Carlton, where he sold about 1,300 acres of state school and other lands yesterday. From here he goes to Aitkin, where he will hold a sale Friday. There will be sales in Duluth June 19, July 17, Aug. 21, Sept. 18, Oct. 16 and Nov. 20.

The lands sold this morning include some of the best farming lands in the county.

These state sales enable people to get farming land at a fair price and with plenty of time to pay for it. The first payment is small.

To purchase land it was necessary to pay down only 15 per cent of the purchase price. The balance may be paid any time in forty years. The appraised value of the timber must also be paid at the time of the sale.

Mineral rights are reserved by the state.

WILL FIGHT THE APPEAL

County Attorney Opposes New Trial for Convicted Murderer.

Jackson McPherson Still Seeking to Have Case Reopened.

Assistant County Attorney Warren E. Greene will appear before the supreme court of Minnesota at St. Paul, May 29, to argue against the appeal taken to that body in the case of the state against Jackson McPherson, convicted of the murder of Otto Frey, now serving a life sentence at Stillwater.

McPherson was refused a second trial by Judge Ensign of the district court. He was sentenced to Stillwater for life and taken there several months ago by the sheriff. His attorneys have appealed the case.

McPherson killed Frey on board the steamer North Lake, in August, 1909. He was tried and found guilty during the September term of court, 1909. He claimed that he killed Frey in self-defense, but the evidence in the case tended to show that after some trouble with Frey, McPherson deliberately shot him.

The appeal is made on the grounds of prejudice by reason of the strike which the attorneys for the defense claim was on in Duluth at the time of the shooting. It is claimed that the strike on the lakes caused a great amount of feeling and that it was encouraged in the court room by the county attorney, who called McPherson a "scab" and a "tough fireman."

W. E. Whipple in his brief charges the county attorney with misconduct. The case will come up for hearing a week from Monday at St. Paul.

AN UPTOWN SHOW ALSO

Duluth's Midsummer Carnival Will Not Be Confined to Harbor.

Retail Merchants Meet to Discuss Decoration of Business Streets.

A carnival court in Superior and First streets will be one of the features of the water carnival, July 20-22.

A meeting of retailers at the Commercial club this noon caught eagerly at the suggestion of the general carnival committee presented by B. P. Neff, chairman of the general committee, and Alfred Hanchett of the publicity committee.

The guests of the city will not spend all their time on the bay. It is proposed to make the street gay during the evening, bright with lights and color, following some uniform scheme of decoration, and have music and other attractions. If possible the white way is to be extended to Sixth avenue west by that time, so that may the backbone of the scheme of decorations.

There were present at the meeting George A. French, I. Freimuth, Nate Gidding, Simon Clark, F. S. Kelly, J. J. Moe and Cassius Bagley. They heartily agreed to join in the carnival spirit and lend their assistance to the general festivities. A committee of three will consult with various decorators and report a scheme of decorations and when that is adopted it will be presented to all the business houses and their co-operation will be asked.

The carnival committee expects to bring thousands of visitors to the city. The merchants will join in and help keep the crowds entertained every minute.

Mr. Moe urged that the scheme of decorations should be extended to the West end also.

The retail interests plan to take a more active part than heretofore in the activities of the Commercial club and this is the first of a number of things they intend to take up.

The seat sale for the grand stand will be open to the public Monday. Until Saturday the Boat club members will have first chance for the seats, which will be erected on the Boat club property on Park Point.

AUTO OWNER BEING SUED

Victim of Accident Wants $6,100 From Duluth Man.

Louis Lindquist of Minneapolis, as guardian of Paul E. Lindquist, 19 years old, is suing Martin Falk of Duluth for $5,500 and $600 as special damages as the result of an automobile accident, alleged to have taken place on Central avenue, Minneapolis, last summer.

Young Lindquist claims that he was alighting from a street car when he was knocked down and terribly bruised and otherwise injured by Mr. Falk's machine, which he claims was also being driven at an unlawful rate of speed.

The trial of the case is on before Judge Cant of the district court.

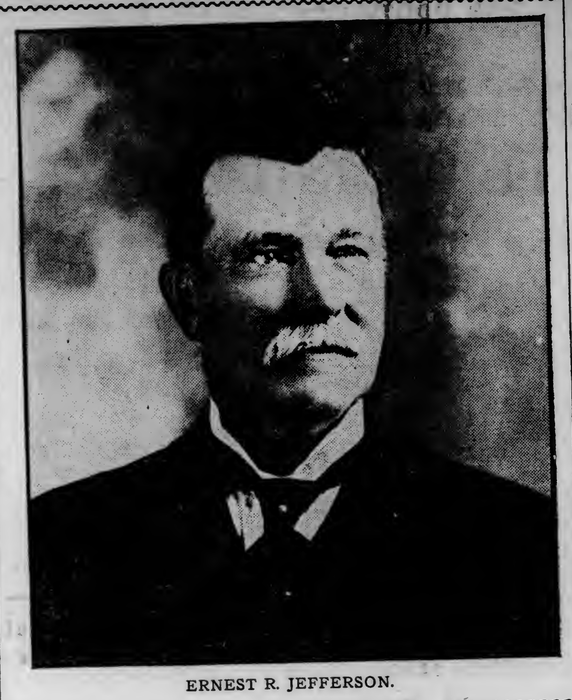
SUDDEN PASSING OF DULUTH PIONEER



ERNEST R. JEFFERSON.

probably be held under the auspices of the local G. A. R. men.

Capt. T. H. Pressnell, United States commissioner, was a member of the famous First Minnesota regiment with Mr. Jefferson. With Franklin W. Paine, they are the sole survivors of the fighting machine which carved a name for itself in the history of the nation. They were expecting to meet at St. Paul next month to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of their enlistment.

Mr. Jefferson was born in Illinois and joined Co. E of the First Minnesota May 23, 1861, staying in the same regiment until he lost his leg in the memorable charge of the First Minnesota at Gettysburg, July 2, 1863. After he had been disabled he was given an honorable discharge. He was 18 years of age when he entered the army, enlisting at the town of St. Anthony, now a part of East Minneapolis.

He came to Duluth in 1869 and since that time has been one of the foremost residents of the city. He was always interested in every movement for the betterment of the city. He originated the idea of spanning the waters between Rice's Point and Minnesota Point with a long bridge, making railroad centers of both of them. He also suggested the plan of using the stub ends of the streets along the water front in the furtherance of the campaign for a municipal dock system. Several variations of the plan have resulted from his suggestions, but as yet nothing definite has been done in this regard.

While a member of the council he engaged in many campaigns for municipal improvements.

MAY SEND DELEGATE TO NATIONAL MEETING.

The Associated Charities may be represented at the National Conference of Charities and Corrction which will be held at Boston, Mass., June 7 to 14 inclusive.

The matter has not been definitely settled as yet but it is thought at this time that a member of the board of directors of the society will be sent to the conference as the representative from the Duluth society.

A report of what is being done by the societies of Minnesota will be read by A. W. Gutridge of St. Paul. In a communication to the local society Mr. Gutridge asks for a report of the work of the society to be read at the conference in connection with the reports of the societies from other parts of the state.

The Minnesota state conference of Charities and Corrections will be held in Duluth in November. Already the Associated Charities is making arrangements for the meetings.

The proceedings of the last meeting, which was held at Crookston, have been published and mailed to a great many in the city. Those who have been missed may have copies by calling at the office of the society at the courthouse.

ILLINOIS SENATE CRITICIZES JUDGE

Adopts Resolution Scoring Petit's Decision in Tilden Case.

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—By a vote of 35 to 11 the senate today adopted the Hurburgh resolution, which calls for the senate's disapproval of Judge Petit's action in the Tilden habeas corpus proceedings. Senator James A. Henson spoke at length in opposition to the resolution. He insisted that Judge Petit was fair in his decision, which freed Tilden, Cummings and Benedict.

"The adoption of this resolution," said Henson, "is the most dangerous proceedure this body can take. It is not fair to Judge Petit to blacken his character as is called for in this resolution."

Senators Hurburgh and Jones urged the adoption of the resolution, both declaring that the senate is within its rights in protesting against any person's action.

"I contend that no judge on earth has the power to interfere with the senate in the discharge of its duty," said Senator Jones.

HOUSEWIVES HOLD THE KEY

Health Department Would Enlist Them in Campaign Against Flies.

Circular Will Be Sent to Every Housekeeper in Duluth.

The health department has started a vigorous campaign against the house fly, which is now coming to be called the "typhoid" fly, because of its disease carrying propensities.

A circular, setting forth at length the dangers of the fly, has been prepared and will be sent to all the housewives in the city, as it is felt that they can do more than any others to stamp it out by insisting upon cleanliness in the home. It is felt that the lessons learned there will be carried by the other members of the family to the offices and shops or wherever they may be employed.

The circular states that from a few hundred to 6,000,000 germs of different kinds have been found in a single fly, and calls attention to the fact that one fly, in a favorable breeding spot of filth, can be the cause of millions of flies in a single season. Several simple, but effective, ways of killing flies are also enumerated.

A set of rules for dealing with the fly nuisance has been taken from an Eastern association and it is suggested that no better work could be done by the women's clubs than to reproduce them on cards and distribute them broadcast.

The rules are condensed into the following form:

"Keep the flies away from the sick, especially those ill with contagious diseases. Kill every fly that strays into the sick room. His body is covered with disease germs.

"Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate on or near your premises.

"All refuse which tends in any way to fermentation, such as bedding straw, paper waste and vegetable matter, should be disposed of or covered with lime or kerosene.

"Screen all food.

"Keep all receptacles for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

"Keep all stable manure in vault or pit screened or sprinkled with lime, oil or other cheap preparation.

"See that your sewage system is in good order; that it does not leak, is up-to-date and not exposed to flies.

"Pour kerosene into the drains.

"Cover food after a meal; burn or bury all table refuse.

"Screen all food exposed for sale.

"Screen all windows and doors, especially the kitchen and dining room.

"Burn pyrethrum powder in the house to kill the flies.

"Don't forget, if you see flies, that their breeding place is in nearby filth. It may be behind the door, under the table or in the cuspidor.

"If there is no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

"If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood, it would be advisable to write at once to the health department."

DEMOCRATS IN TURMOIL

House Committees to Probe Trusts Start the Trouble.

Steel and Sugar Investigators Picked in Way That Displeases.

Washington, May 17.—Charges that Democratic members of the house committee on rules were seeking to usurp functions of a caucus by nominating the members of committees which will investigate the so-called steel and sugar trusts, created the most serious break that has occurred in the Democratic ranks of the house since the opening of congress.

Chairman Henry was denounced by Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee, has having made an "unwarranted assumption of authority" for the rules committee. Other Democrats declared that the action of the rules committee, if ratified by the house, would be a complete abrogation of the principles for which the Democrats had stood; namely, the election of committees by action of the Democratic caucus.

Two Lists of Names.

Two lists of names, one being the proposed steel trust committee and the other the sugar trust committee, were submitted by Mr. Henry in the form of privileged resolutions, which he asked the house to adopt.

Immediately questioned by Democrats who had been consulted as to the authority by which the rules committee offered these names, Mr. Henry said about 150 Democrats had approved the Democratic list and Republican members were named by Minority Leader Mann.

The steel trust investigating committee was approved before the Democrats woke up to the full effect of the situation. The resultant fight fell on the sugar trust committee, and a continuation of the struggle finally was avered by the action of Democratic Leader Underwood in adjourning the house while the resolutions were still pending.

Personnel is Satisfactory.

There was no complaint as to the Democratic personnel of the two proposed committees, the objection being confined to the manner of appointing them. Representative Cooper of Wisconsin said he had heard that a Republican member of the proposed steel trust committee had been a local attorney of the steel trust, but Minority Leader Mann said he knew of no such fact.

The steel trust investigating committee, which was duly elected by the house, follows:

Representatives—Stanley of Kentucky, chairman; Bartlett, Georgia; Beall, Texas; Littleton, New York; McGillicuddy, Maine; Olmstead, Pennsylvania; Young, Michigan; Sterling, Illinois, and Danforth, New York.

The sugar trust investigating committee, as proposed by Chairman Henry, but not acted upon, consists of Representatives Hardwick of Georgia, chairman; Garrett, Tennessee; Sulzer, New York; Jacoway, Arkansas; Baker, California; Malby, New York; Fordney, Michigan; Madison, Kansas, and Hinds, Maine.

Trolley Accident Fatal.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 17.—One is dead and ten injured as the result of the derailment of an interurban car five miles northwest of this city at 9 o'clock last night. The car crashed into a trolley pole. The motorman, E. L. Carruthers, was fatally injured, dying shortly after the accident. All the victims live here.

THURSDAY WILL BE "PEACE DAY"

School Children Will Write Essays on Subject of Universal Peace.

Although one might not know it unless he were told, tomorrow will be Peace Day in Minnesota.

By a recent proclamation, Governor Eberhart set apart the day "in response to the growing interest in universal peace and in conformity with the suggestions of the recently organized peace society in the state of Minnesota," he said.

The proclamation recommends general observance of the day by schools and civic organizations. As far as can be learned, no exercises in observance of the day will be held in Duluth.

The peace movement has found its way to Duluth, however, just as it is finding its way or being carried to other cities throughout the country. Principal Leonard Young of the Central high school said this morning that some of the teachers in the high school have been active in explaining the national peace movement and in having compositions written on the subject of universal peace. No special exercises have been prepared for tomorrow, but the fact that the day is Peace Day will be called to the attention of the students.

Although Peace Day will not be outwardly observed in Duluth, it very probably will be in other parts of the state where the peace movement has been more prominent. At any rate, Governor Eberhart has taken a step toward establishing the day as an annual event and furthering the cause of universal peace.

JURY FINDS HARRIS GUILTY

Is Convicted of Grand Larceny in the First Degree.

A jury in district court found John M. Harris guilty of swindling after the trial of the case which was held before Judge J. D. Ensign. The verdict read "guilty of larceny in the first degree."

Harris obtained nine head of horses from John Runquist by telling him that he was a brother of Z. V. Harris, a well known Virginia contractor. He disposed of the animals and was finally arrested at Sioux City, Iowa. He was not brought back to Minnesota for trial until he had taken every step against extradition.

James McKnight pleaded guilty to forgery before Judge Ensign after the conclusion of the Harris trial and was sentenced to the state reformatory at St. Cloud. James R. Porterfield pleaded guilty to petty larceny. He was given forty days at the county jail.

This morning Frank Gallagher and Bert A. Kenny will go on trial. The men are charged with having tried to hold up and rob Archie McCorrison on the Lake avenue viaduct on March 4. They fired several shots at policemen, also, it is charged.

AITKIN COUNTY MEN PROTESTING

Do Not Want to Pay Assessments for State Ditch 66.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to the Herald.)—Persistent rumors are in circulation at the capitol to the effect that residents of Aitkin county are preparing to protest against payment of the assessment for construction of State Ditch 66, the one that figured so strongly in the investigation of George Ralph, state drainage engineer, during the last session of the legislature. It is contended that Foley & Gleason, contractors, did not construct the ditch according to specifications.

Over the long distance telephone, Louis Hallum of Aitkin, county attorney, said yesterday that there was talk of such action, but that no papers of any sort had been filed.

"Owners of large amounts of land that will be benefited by this ditch are trying to fight the assessment," Engineer Ralph explains. "They thought the state was going to pay for the ditch, but when they found differently, they began figuring on getting the assessments postponed or decreased. The contractor had trouble in the peat bogs, which caved in badly, and he is at work now going over the ditch the second time."

The contention of the property owners is that they should not pay assessments until the ditch is finished according to contract. The original contract called for the completion of the ditch in December, 1909, and the assessments are due June 1.

CARNEGIE LIKES OIL DECISION

Says It Means New Commercial System Will Be Framed.

New York, May 17.—Peace was not the only topic discussed at the annual banquet meeting yesterday of the New York Peace society, for Andrew Carnegie, who presided, introduced Myron T. Herrick of Ohio as a possible future president and praised the supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case, in presenting Mr. Herrick, Mr. Carnegie said:

"I introduce a possible future president of the United States."

Mr. Herrick laughingly disclaimed any presidential aspirations and spoke in favor of world peace and an Anglo-Saxon Japanese alliance.

Of the supreme court's decision, Mr. Carnegie said it was one of the most important events of the time, but it was a good decision and would cause no disturbance of commerce or capital.

"We will," he continued, "establish a new commercial system. We will have a new commercial law. We will have a court of commerce which will be to industry what the supreme court is in general to our nation and laws.

"It must be seen that combinations being allowed, regulation must follow. We have discarded a worn-out system, adopted a new system, adaptable to our times. I am a happy man at the reading of that decision."

TREATY READY TO BE SUBMITTED TO LONDON.

Washington, May 17.—The proposed treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain, upon which rests the hope of the English speaking peoples for a permanent peace between the two great nations and which probably will be a model for peace pacts with these nations, has at last reached the stage where it is to be presented to the British government for its approval.

Ambassador Griscom had a half-hour conference with President Taft during which certain points in the treaty were thoroughly discussed. State department officials have been constantly at work upon the treaty and Secretary Knox yesterday presented a tentative draft to the cabinet. Apparently it was most satisfactory to the president and his official family as a whole.

Secretary Knox, after the cabinet meeting, announced that the tentative draft probably would be submitted at once to Ambassador Bryce for transmission to the British foreign office. When the final draft is accepted by both countries, the completed treaty will be signed and submitted to the United States senate for approval and ratification.

AEROPLANE FLIGHTS

Feature of Commercial Travelers' Meet at Fargo Next Month.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—For a feature of the big meeting of the United Commercial Travelers here next month, the local committee yesterday afternoon signed contracts for aeroplane flights by the Curtiss company.

Curtiss is expected to be present in person.

TAFT SENDS MESSAGE TO UNITED LUTHERANS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 17.—Members of the United Lutheran synod yesterday received a message from President Taft and Charles Nagel, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, through a representative, M. J. S. Wagenhals, who said that the president and Mr. Nagel were interested in the work being done by the church for the relief of the immigrants. Mr. Wagenhals told the delegates that the president would be pleased at any time to receive a committee which might have any suggestions designed to better conditions in the handling of immigrants.

Milwaukee Engineer Killed.

Red Wing, Minn., May 17.—An engine on an east-bound Milwaukee freight train exploded two miles east of Frontenac early yesterday, killing Eugene A. Carroll, engineer, and seriously injuring Hjalmar Anderson, a fireman. Carroll was about 45 and had a family in Minneapolis. The engine and three freight cars were demolished, and the track was so obstructed that trains had to be run over the Burlington road.

Stimson Is Confirmed.

Washington, May 17.—Henry L. Stimson of New York was confirmed by the senate yesterday to be secretary of war to succeed Jacob M. Dickinson. The senate also confirmed Francis W. Bird to be appraiser of merchandise in the district of New York, succeeding George Wanamaker, resigned.

Copper Country Boys' Camp.

Lake Linden, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—An effort is being made to have the annual Y. M. C. A. boys' camp, which is to be held this year at Grand Marais harbor, Keweenaw point, made an Upper Peninsula boys' camp. It is hoped to take at least 100 boys from a dozen or more towns of the peninsula to Grand Marais for two weeks during early August. Here they will be under competent care and will enjoy boating, fishing, swimming and other sports.

MEETINGS AT ARMORY

Northern Minnesota Development Association Will Hold Three Sessions.

Theater Party, Steamer and Auto Rides for the Delegates.

PROGRAM OF CONVENTION.

May 31—8 p. m., theater party at Orpheum.
June 1—9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., meeting at Armory; 2 p. m. to 4 p. m., meeting at Armory; 4:30 p. m., steamer ride around the harbor; 8 p. m., smoker at Commercial club; moonlight steamer ride around the harbor.
June 2—9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., meeting at Armory; 2 p. m., auto ride to St. Louis county farms; steamer ride to Two Harbors.

The big meetings of the Duluth convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held on the morning and afternoon of Thursday, June 1, and the morning of Friday, June 2, at the Armory. The remainder of the time will be given over to the entertainment of the delegates and giving them an opportunity to see the points of commercial and agricultural interest in and around Duluth.

That is the tentative program prepared by Secretary W. R. Mackenzie, who is again in Duluth preparing for the big meeting. It is expected that fully 1,000 people will be anxious to attend the meetings of the association, as a wealth of instruction and thought on state development is offered by the program. The Armory was therefore secured for the meetings in order that there may be room for everybody wishing to attend.

Three speakers have been added to the list already published. W. J. Brown of Warren, chairman of the state reclamation board, will speak on "Drainage Problems." C. G. Hartley of Duluth, owner of the Island farm, one of the finest farms in this section of the state, will give a talk on "The Effect of Agricultural Development on the Cost of Living." L. T. Sterling of Iron Mountain, Mich., a representative of the Upper Michigan Development bureau, will also speak.

Entertainment of Delegates.

The plans for the entertainment of the delegates have been partially worked out. A boat trip around the harbor will be provided for Thursday afternoon and the delegates will be taken to the ore docks, the grain elevators and other points of interest. An automobile trip around the city and to the Jean du Luth farm and other farms is planned for Friday afternoon. If a sufficient number of the delegates can be induced to remain over until Saturday, other side trips will be arranged. The ladies will be invited to attend the different affairs provided for the entertainment of Duluth guests.

The side trips will serve not only to entertain the delegates, but to bring to their attention the fact that Duluth is vitally interested in agricultural development for itself and St. Louis county as well as for the remainder of Northern Minnesota. Duluth is interested in the development of Northern Minnesota for commercial reasons, and would be interested in the development of the agricultural resources for that reason, if no other existed. But St. Louis county also has agricultural problems and is working to solve them. The delegates will be shown that St. Louis county's whole wealth is not in iron mines and that development efforts in this part of the state do not run entirely to mineral resources.

Secretary Mackenzie is receiving many responses from the thousands of letters and circulars sent out through the state. Lists of delegates have been received from many clubs through the northern part of the state and it is practically certain that each of the thirty-four counties in the association will be represented here. In addition, there will be many visitors from Southern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Several members of the state legislature from the southern part of the state have accepted the invitation of Secretary Mackenzie to attend the meeting here and it is believed their attendance will be beneficial to them and to the cause of Northern Minnesota.

BUSY SEASON FOR MILITIA

Citizen Sailors of Minnesota Will Make Many Cruises This Year.

Annual Maneuvers of Great Lakes Fleet at Chicago in August.

With boilers only a year old, new engines of modern type installed and a four-inch gun to be added to the equipment soon, the Gopher, the training ship of the Minnesota Naval Militia is in the harbor ready for use at an earlier date than it has been available for three or four years. The fact will be taken advantage of by the officers of the naval militia and one of the busiest seasons the organization has ever had in Minnesota is in prospect this year.

For several years, the officers of the militia have been anxious to hold week-end cruises for target practice and maneuvering. Each year, the Gopher has been undergoing repairs or alterations and was available just in time for the long cruise, so that little preliminary work could be done. This year the plans of former years will be carried out. One of the criticisms of the naval militia is that it is deficient in gunnery and the officers of the Minnesota militia are anxious to overcome that criticism as it applies to their command. The four-inch gun installed in the armory this year has proved invaluable, and the work will be continued with actual shot instead of the "ping-pong" apparatus on the water.

A cruise will be taken on the Gopher Memorial day, and the officers and men of the militia will be given an opportunity to take the ladies on an all-day trip out into the lake. The Memorial day cruise is always popular and the Gopher is in fine condition for it this year. On the Fourth of July, the two divisions of the Minnesota militia will participate in the big parade at the home-coming celebration in Minneapolis. In August, the annual cruise will be held. This year, the ships of the Great Lakes fleet will go to Chicago, where they will assist in the exercises attendant to the opening of the new naval training station.

The second division of the militia is slightly below the full quota of men and enlistments are being received by Lieut. R. T. Hugo, the commander of the division. The Gopher is too small to take two full divisions on a cruise, but the Second division is not up to the number allowed for it and a number of men will be taken in before the season's activities begin. It is expected that both divisions will have the required number of men within a few weeks and the recruits will have an opportunity to become accustomed to the ship and to their drills before the ship leaves on the annual cruise in August.

HAS SURPLUS OF CHLORIDE

Board of Public Works Has No Place in Which to Store Preparation.

The board of public works is somewhat "up against it" for a place to store the calcium chloride which has been consigned to it, in this city. It was estimated that 400 tons would be needed for the first application in the districts which will not be sprinkled with water. About half the territory has been covered and approximately sixty tons have been used. The other half will likely take about the same amount, which will leave the board with 280 tons of the dust-laying preparation on its hands.

The chloride is now at a local dock. It was at first planned to move it, but it will probably be left at the docks, as it is thought that the storage charges will be less than the cost of moving it. Part of the chloride has been damaged in transit, but this will be charged to the transportation company. It comes in airtight iron cases, and it is claimed that it will spoil if the air gets to it. It is stated that holes have been knocked in a number of the packages.

AUSTRIAN OIL TOWN HAS SERIOUS FLOOD.

Lemburg, Austria, May 17.—A cloudburst at Borislaw, a town of 11,000 inhabitants, important for its petroleum and ozokerit deposits, today flooded the place, inundating the houses and shops and causing great damage at the oil works, where derricks and other equipment were washed away.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE BY STORM

Few Breaks in Storm and Sanitary Sewers Are Reported.

Several breaks have been reported in storm and sanitary sewers about the city as a result of the recent rain storm, but none of them are of a serious nature. There is a break near Twenty-third avenue west and Seventh street, another near Thirteenth avenue east and Fifth street, a third at Twenty-third avenue east and Fifth street and one near Eighth avenue east and First street. They are now being repaired by the board of public works.

But little damage was done to the surfaces of the streets and avenues. Many complaints have been made of the condition of Fourth alley between Lake avenue and Thirteenth avenue east, which was torn up last year for water mains. The alley has not yet been turned over to the city by the contractor, and he will be required to put it in as good condition as it was before he tore it up.

EXCURSION POSTPONED

Trip to the Steel Plant Site Will Be Made Wednesday.

Many Duluth Business Men Will Look Over Construction Work.

The shop excursion to the steel plant site, which was planned by the publicity committee of the Commercial club for Friday afternoon of this week, has been postponed until next Wednesday. The rains have been so heavy during the last week that the members of the committee feared that the ground at the plant would be too wet Friday. Rather than take chances on trailing a party through mud, the committee postponed the trip.

The announcement of the proposed trip to the steel plant site has aroused interest among Duluth business men and the crowd is expected to be larger than any that has taken advantage of the opportunity for seeing Duluth industries provided by the publicity committee. Many Duluthians who have not visited the site of the plant and thus have no conception of the immensity of the work already laid out, will put themselves under the guidance of the Commercial club committee and make the trip next week.

A special train will be run over the Northern Pacific, leaving the Union station about 1:30 Wednesday afternoon. The party will take plenty of time to go over the site of the plant and view the underground and foundation work. The return to Duluth will be made in time for dinner and it will be about as profitable an afternoon as any Duluthian can put in.

THREE MONTHS IN COUNTY JAIL

Henry P. O'Donnell Must Support His Wife or Serve Time.

Henry P. O'Donnell, arrested yesterday morning by Chief Troyer on the charge of having assaulted his mother, was arraigned in police court this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with non-support. He entered a plea of guilty and got three months straight in the county jail unless he can furnish bonds of $200 to support his wife and child.

Assistant City Attorney Walter P. Dacey reported to the court that O'Donnell has threatened to shoot his wife and had frequently intimidated her. She is employed down town, and despite the fact that he is not working himself, it is claimed that he has often demanded that she quit her job. The charge of assaulting his mother was dropped, as she refused to prosecute.

CONWAY HELD TO GRAND JURY

Man Accused of Entering Freight Car and Stealing Hams.

William Conway, arrested on a charge of having entered a refrigerator car of the Armour Packing company several nights ago, and with having stolen a quantity of hams which he tried to peddle, was bound over to the grand jury this morning after a preliminary examination. He admitted entering the car, but claimed that he had gone into it originally to sleep off a jag.

Martin Connors, arrested at the same time, was dismissed, as there was no evidence to show that he had entered the car or stolen the hams. He told the court that he had recently served a term for vagrancy.

SOIL EXPERT IN DULUTH

Scientific Examination of Proposed School Sites in Progress.

President Vincent and Party Pass Through City, But Will Return.

Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota; A. E. Rice, chairman of the board of regents; Dean A. F. Woods of the state agricultural school and Prof. Bull of the agricultural school were in Duluth for a few hours between trains last evening. They came from Grand Rapids early in the evening and left at 11:10 for the Twin Cities.

The original plans provided for the party remaining in Duluth today and looking over the proposed sites for the demonstration farm school. Urgent business required Dr. Vincent's presence in Minneapolis today and the inspection of sites was postponed. It is expected that the party will come to Duluth next week for that purpose.

Prof. Vincent said that no time will be lost in selecting a site and beginning work on the Duluth school. As soon as the best available site can be determined upon, it will be secured.

W. H. Fraser, a soil expert from the agricultural school, has been in Duluth since last Saturday getting samples of soil from the different sites. Although few people knew he was in the city, he has been conducting his investigations and getting valuable data to guide the committee in making its selection. He has been workin quietly and the data he furnishes will be the result of his own activity and his own judgment.

The party which passed through Duluth last night left Minneapolis Sunday and visited the experimental stations at Morris, Crookston and Grand Rapids. President Vincent showed deep interest in the agricultural development of the northern part of the state and was enthusiastic over the opportunities for good work he saw on the trip.

"Agricultural offers one of the greatest fields the university has for educational endeavor and development," said President Vincent. "I am becoming acquainted with the state and as my acquaintance grows, I am impressed with that fact and with the fact that people are eager in their desire for instruction that will aid them in developing the natural resources of the state. I was especially surprised by the number of requests for state aid for high schools having agricultural courses, as provided by the Putnam law of 1909. The common schools, high schools and university can co-operate to a great measure in this work of disseminating knowledge of scientific methods of agriculture and I am pleased to see that a good foundation for future co-operation has been laid."

EARLY VOTE ON BILL FOR RECIPROCITY TO BE SOUGHT BY STONE

subject of Canadian reciprocity witnesses.

Senator Stone of Missouri demanded to know when Allen & Graham, said to be New York attorneys, and representing the National Grange, were to appear in response to his request that they be summoned to tell of their employment by interests opposed to reciprocity. Senator Stone wanted to know if the attorneys had been notified. He was told they had been.

Senator Gallinger at this point in turn demanded that "some of those who have made vigorous efforts to accelerate public opinion in favor of reciprocity," should be asked to appear before this committee.

Senator Williams retorted that under these circumstances President Taft ought to be summoned to testify to what he had done "to accelerate public opinion on the question."

Would Hear Publishers.

Senator Gallinger said he was opposed to summoning attorneys for various organizations, but that if it were to be done, both sides should be heard. He asked therefore, that John Norris and Herman Ridder, representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, be requested to appear before the committee and tell what their organization had done to help the reciprocity sentiment.

Mr. Norris is in Washington and had expected to be heard within a day or two.

House Talks Statehood.

Debate in the house on the statehood joint resolution to admit Arizona and New Mexico continued today with the prospect that discussion probably would not be terminated before tomorrow night.

Before the debate began there was considerable informal discussion on the Democratic side over the action of the rules committee in moving the adoption of the sugar trust resolution of inquiry and nominating the special committee. The house adjourned yesterday while the Democrats were fighting on this question, many demanding a caucus to select the committee. Chairman Henry of the rules committee was ready today to take up the question with possible modifications of the plan of choosing the committee.

"Study Class in Wool" Meets.

Democratic members of the ways and means committee resumed consideration of the wool schedule of the tariff bill. At the meeting Monday one member referred to the deliberations as a "study class in wool." The members were given long lists of figures bearing on importations and revenues derived from wool.

approved sections one, two and three."

"For certain purposes," interjected Attorney John S. Miller, who, with Levy Miller, filed the motion for rehearing on the demurrers.

"There can be no purpose, as I look at it," answered the court, "to section four or seven, unless there can be a 'violation of this act,' to quote from the earlier sections. That is the point I think needs discussion."

How Attorneys Regard It.

Counsel for the packers, however, are prepared to argue in their briefs that, if it be necessary for some court of equity to determine, in each individual case and by the merits and peculiar circumstances surrounding each case, whether the restraint of trade has been unreasonable or not, then the act does not provide the restrainer with any means of knowing, beforehand, whether what he is doing is unreasonable as viewed by the court or not; that, hence, the law is void, penal sections and all, not through a supreme court decision, but as a violation of the fifth and sixth amendments to the Federal Constitution and because it is "uncertain."

The motion was filed by Attorneys Levy Mayer and John S. Miller.

What Is "Reasonable" Restraint.

The whole matter again is hung on the question of what is "reasonable" and what is "unreasonable" restraint of trade. It was the supreme court's dictum that, in effect, the word "unreasonable" must be read into the Sherman anti-trust act, which gave the beef attorneys their excuse to request the opening of the demurrer argument again.

The attorneys included that argument when they presented their demurrers, in what they claim is almost the identical language of the supreme court's Standard Oil decision, but the court held against this reasoning. They now appear to ask the court to admit it erred, in the light of such application to the case as the oil decision may have.

The filed motion gave little indication of the basis of the new move, stating merely that the decision of Judge Carpenter on the demurrers "is inconsistent with and had been overruled by the decision of the supreme court rendered May 15 in the Standard Oil Company versus The United States."

Would Not Discuss It.

Attorney Miller refused to discuss the motion, and Mr. Mayer's comment was:

"The motion on its face shows the position counsel will take on the application for reargument of the demurrers. Whatever legal position counsel will take must be disclosed in court when the arguments are made."

It was learned on positive authority, however, that the word "unreasonable," or to be more exact, the supreme court's phrase, "in the light of reason," would bear the burden of the argument for rehearing.

In the argument before Judge Carpenter, counsel for the packers contended that the restraint of trade called criminal in the Sherman act, means "unreasonable" restraint of interstate trade, and that the word "unreasonable" must be read into the statute, otherwise the act would be confiscatory. Based upon that contention, the packers' counsel argued further that a law which makes it a crime to enter into a contract "in unreasonable" restraint of trade is void for uncertainty; that it violates the fifth and sixth amendments to the federal Constitution.

Call Law Inexplicit.

They hold that the law which creates a crime must be so explicit that all men subject to its penalties may know what acts it is their duty to avoid; that no one can know in advance what is or is not "unreasonable" restraint of trade, and that therefore the penalty provision of the Sherman anti-trust act is void for uncertainty.

Judge Carpenter held that the supreme court had theretofore decided that every contract in restraint of interstate trade was criminal, and that, therefore, the doctrine of Attorneys Mayer and Miller, counsel for the packers, could not be sustained.

It was learned that counsel for the packers are prepared to quote from President Taft's message to congress Jan. 7, 1910, on the ground that it supports their contention that if illegal restraints of trade are only the unreasonable ones, the law thereby circumvents its own purpose.

Will Recognize Peace.

The ratification will be coincident with the announcement of an armistice. The signing in Juarez of the agreement itself in a few days by Judge Carbajal and the representative or representatives whom the insurrectos may name, will end the armistice and a normal condition of peace will be recognized as existent.

The insurrecto chiefs here will telegraph or send couriers to their constituents in various parts of the republic and it is believed that within a week all arms will have been laid down in the republic.

One of the things which may cause some delay in the signing of the peace agreement, but which will not affect the resumption of normal conditions as soon as the armistice is agreed upon, will be the naming of the provisional governors of the fourteen states. The insurrectos already are endeavoring to get in touch with public opinion in the distant states, to select the most capable men for governors.

Diaz Is Slightly Ill.

It is not believed that an answer to the proposals of the insurrectos, which will be completed late this afternoon, will be received before tomorrow, as it is reported here that President Diaz is slightly ill from abscess of the jaw and may not be able to confer with his cabinet advisers until tomorrow morning.

Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and Dr. Vasquez Gomez, his chief peace commissioner, were in conference at 7 o'clock today concerning the signing of a peace agreement.

Besides the portfolios of war, justice and Gobernaccion in the presidential cabinet, it was said today the insurrectos would name governors for the following fourteen states:

Chihuahua, Sonora, Sinaloa, Zacatecas, Coahuila, Yucatan, Tlaxcala, Durango, Hidalgo, Puebla, Guanajuata, Guerrero, Morelos and Jalisco or Tabasco.

Red Cross in Charge.

The Mexican Red and White Cross have taken charge of the hospitals at Juarez and the American Red Cross representatives, who took up the work after Juarez surrendered, withdrew from active participation.

The price of peace paid by the federal government is three cabinet officers and fourteen governorships. The price paid by the Mexican people is at least 1,000 lives, untold suffering of thousands of wounded, the destruction of uncounted millions in property and the probability that starvation for many months will haunt the inhabitants of possibly a fourth of the republic.

The cabinet portfolio, it is said, probably will be filled as follows; Minister of war, Gen. Gonzales Salas; minister of justice, Senor Vasquez Tagle; minister of Gobernaccion, Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez. As far as the governorships are concerned, the insurrectos have practically decided upon the largest of the states as follows: Chihuahua, Abram Gonzales. Sonora, Senor Cayen; Sinaloa, Manuel Bonilla; Yucatan, Jose Pino Suarez; Zacatecas, Guadaloupe Gonzales; Coahuila, Venustia Carranza.

Are Not Insurrectos.

In the selection of Gen. Gonzales Salas for minister of war and of Senor Vasquez Tagle, for minister of justice, the rebels have chosen two men who have not taken active part in the revolution. In fact Gen. Salas is one of the most prominent figures in the Mexican army.

In Dr. Vasquez Gomez, who has been active in the revolution and who is to be minister of Gobernaccion, the revolutionists will have a man who is a personal friend of Senor De La Barra, the minister of foreign relations, and one who is said to be generally acceptable to the government.

The post has no parallel in the American cabinet. The minister of Gobernaccion has gubernatorial jurisdiction over Mexico's three territories of Lower California, Tepic and Quintano Roo and the federal district which contains City of Mexico. The minister of Gobernaccion likewise has great political power in that his office is the connecting link between the governors of the state and the federal government, proposals from the governors being laid before the cabinet by this minister. Dr. Gonzalez probably will occupy the office for only a short time, as the present revolutionist party, which probably will be known hereafter as the progressive party, will nominate him as vice president as a running mate to Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the presidential candidate.

Some Minor Demands.

The minor conditions of the police include the pensioning of soldiers, the payment of indemnities out of the public treasury, and arrangements for the reconstruction of the public utilities.

The question of the resignation of President Diaz has been diplomatically avoided.

The feeling is that Gen. Diaz will give way to Senor De La Barra as provisional president within two or three months, and that a general election will follow within a month or two. The provisional governors will hold office until state elections shall have been arranged.

Limantour Not Sanguine.

City of Mexico, Mex., May 17.—Finance Minister Limantour was not quite so sanguine as his colleagues in the ministry this morning. He said that the government had the greatest desire to conclude a peace agreement, but "among the demands of the rebels are some contrary to the dignity of the government and the president."

Nevertheless Senor Limantour believed that peace would be arranged.

Should the present negotiations fail, it is regarded here as not unlikely that the city will be cut off from the outside world soon. With the occupation of Valles yesterday, the rebels now control the railway in three directions. However, no effort has so far been made to interfere with traffic on these lines.

An interruption of the Tampico line would mean the cutting off of fuel supplies to oil consumers.

Mail advices from Guadalajara relate a battle at Magdalena, state of Jalisco. Three hundred rebels were attacked by 100 rurales and state troops. The revolutionists were routed and, according to reports, their commander and ten men were killed. The government lost five men.

Ready For Attack.

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 17.—Reinforced by 100 federal cavalrymen, who came in during the night, the federal garrison at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, across the river from this place, is today prepared to fight if the two bands of rebels reported within twelve miles of the town, attack them. The predicted rebel attack did not show any sign of materializing last night, but refugees streamed into Eagle Pass until now there are 3,000 of them there.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

WEST END PROGRAM OF CONVENTION

Speakers for Meeting of Augustana Synod Are Announced.

Delegates From Ten Conferences Will Be in Attendance.

Official announcement has been made of the program for the big convention, June 10 to 20, of the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America to be held in this city.

On June 8, the synodical council, consisting of the presidents and one lay delegate from each of the ten conferences into which the synod is divided, will meet at Bethany church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street to prepare the work of the business sessions of the convention.

On Sunday, June 10, the visiting clergymen will fill the pulpits in the local churches as follows:

At the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street, Rev. C. M. Ranseen of Chicago will preach at the morning service and Rev. C. A. Lund of Escanaba, Mich., will occupy the pulpit at the evening service.

At Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, West end, Rev. F. Jacobsen, Ph. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the New York conference and Rev. F. N. Swanberg, president of the Nebraska conference, will be speakers, at the morning and evening services respectively.

At Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Elinor street, Rev. Joseph A. Anderson, A. M., of Boone, Iowa, president of the Iowa conference and Rev. E. P. Olson of Falien, Kan., will preach morning and evening.

At the Swedish-Finnish Lutheran church, Fifty-third avenue west and Wadena street, Rev. P. E. Berg, D. D., will be the speaker at the morning service and Rev. C. E. Frisk of Tacoma, Wash., president of the Columbia conference, will address the congregation at the evening worship.

During the convention morning devotion will be conducted by the following pastors at 8:45 a. m. at Bethany church in the West end where the business sessions will be held: Thursday, June 15, Rev. L. A. Johnston of St. Paul, Minn.; Friday, June 16, Rev. C. F. Johanson, of Boston, Mass.; Saturday, June 17, Rev. P. J. Brodine, D. D., or Orion, Ill.; Monday, June 19, Rev. G. O. Gustafson, of Red Oak, Iowa; Tuesday, June 20, Rev. J. E. Swanborn of Wahoo, Neb.

The Business Sessions.

Regular business sessions of the synod will be held at 9:15 a. m. and at 2 p. m., June 15 to 20, inclusive, except Sunday. The meetings will be held at Bethany church in the West end.

The solemn opening of the convention will take place at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street, Wednesday evening, June 14, at 7:15 o'clock, when Rev. E. Norelius, D. D., of Vasa, Minn., president of the synod, will deliver his annual sermon.

On Thursday evening, June 15, services will be held in the four Swedish Lutheran churches of the city, and the general subject will be "The Church and the Young People." This theme will be analyzed by speakers and will be divided into two sections, "The Duty of the Church to the Young People" and "The Duty of the Young People to The Church."

There will be two speakers at each of the four churches, who will handle this subject, as follows:

At the First church, Rev. Prof. Ernst Pihlblad, president of Bethany college, Lindsborg, Kan., and Rev. Prof. O. J. Johnson, president of Luther college of Wahoo, Neb.

At Bethany church, Rev. C. J. Sodergren of Burlington, Iowa, and Rev. J. P. Borg of Wausa, Neb.

At Elim church, Rev. M. Wahlstrom, Ph. D., of Chicago, and Rev. A. Hult of Omaha, Neb.

At the Swedish-Finnish church, Rev. A. P. Fors, Ph. D., of Chicago, and Rev. Rupert Swenson of Vancouver, B. C.

On Friday evening sacred concerts will be given in the four churches, and on Saturday evening a grand missionary rally will be held in Bethany church, under the auspices of the Women's Home and Missionary society of the synod.

On Sunday evening, June 18, the Lord's supper will be celebrated in each of the churches, when two pastors will preach from each pulpit, as follows:

At First church, Rev. J. E. Morton of Providence, R. I., and Rev. G. Andreen, president of Augustana college of Rock Island, Ill.

At Bethany church, Rev. Alfred Bergin, Ph.D, of Lindsborg, Kan., and Rev. P. G. Thelander of Batavia, Ill.

At Elim church, Rev. A. W. Lindquist of Kansas City, Mo., and Rev. T. S. Johnston of Chicago.

At the Swedish Finnish church, Rev. Erland Anderson of Altoona, Ill., and Rev. Prof. N. Forsander, D.D. of Rock Island, Ill.

Will Ordain Ministers.

On Sunday afternoon at Bethany church about twenty candidates for the ministry will be ordained by the president, Rev. Norelius of Vasa, Minn. The applicants are students from the theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill. It is expected that this service will be one of the features of the convention.

On Sunday evening, memorial services will be held in the four churches in memory of Swedish Lutheran pastors who have died during the past year. Sermon will be delivered by the following pastors:

At First church, Rev. F. N. Anderson of Hantdale, Pa., and Rev. G. A. Elliott of Chicago.

At Bethany church, Rev. J. F. Seedhoff of Rockford, Ill., and Rev. C. E. Wendell of Rockford.

At Elim church, Rev. C. J. E. Haterlm of Cleburn, Kan., and Rev. Luther Malmberg of St. Peter, Minn.

At the Swedish Finnish church, A. P. Martin of Shaton Springs, Kansas, and E. W. Isaacson of Elgin, Texas.

Home and Foreign Missions will be the subject for consideration on Monday evening, June 19, and will be presented from the pulpits of the four local churches by the following speakers:

At First church, Rev. J. A. Brandelle of Chicago, and Rev. L. G. Abrahamson, D. D. of Rock Island, Ill.

At Bethany church, Rev. F. A. Bonander of Elkhart, Ind., and Rev. J. Tileen, D. D. of Berwyn, Ill.

At Elim church, Rev. Gustaf Nelsenius, D. D. of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Rev. H. O. Lindeblad of Moline, Ill.

At the Swedish Finnish church, Rev. J. T. Olander of Muskegon, Mich., and Rev. G. T. Fletwood of Ishpeming, Mich.

A special memorial service will be held Friday morning, June 16, at 11 a. m. at Bethany church to commemorate the birth of Rev. Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg in Germany in 1871. Muhlenberg established the First Lutheran church in America. The memorial address will be delivered by Rev. Adolph Hult of Omaha, Neb.

West End Briefs.

A linen shower was held Monday evening in honor of Miss Louis Brass at the home of Mrs. August Jullees, 2105 West First street. About twenty-five girls were present. Miss Brass received many gifts. She left yesterday for Graham, Wis., where her wedding will take place in a few days.

The Amateur Five Hundred club of the West end will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Swan Anderson, 2220 West Fourth street. The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Page, 1809 West First street. Prizes were won by Mrs. F. B. Thomas and Mrs. J. Madsen. The hostess served refreshments.

The body of Mrs. Emetine Catherine Birtch, 41 years old, wife of J. B. Birtch, who died Monday at her home, 328 Restormel street, was taken to her former home at Granton, Wis., for burial yesterday. The funeral will be held today.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance this evening at the Norwegian Independence day celebration exercises, which will be held at Lincoln Park pavilion. Besides an elaborate musical program, there will be speeches by Rev. J. H. Stenberg, Rev. Edward Erickson, Rev. M. S. Rice and L. A. Simonson, chairman.

Fifty-five men attended the Men's club banquet at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, last evening. Carl Persons gave a talk on "Our Treasury;" Andrew Bergquist on Promissory Notes;" Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor, on "Men and Our Problems," and A. Thoren on "Our New Church Home." A musical program was also given.

The St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the guild rooms of the church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, by Mrs. Gallinetti.

FAIR

Isn't it great to see the sun again? When Old Sol beams down on Duluth after a storm, one can forget the rain and the cold and the wind and the fog. Yes, even the fog that enveloped the city last night and chilled and dampened everything and everybody. The weather man has come out of his grouch and predicts fair and warmer weather for tonight and tomorrow.

The weather was clearing after a storm a year ago today.

The run rose this morning at 4:29 and it will set at 7:39, giving fifteen hours and ten minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The western low pressure has developed considerable intensity and is now centered over Alberta. During the last twenty-four hours this depression has caused light to copious showers over North Pacific districts, Western Canada, Idaho, Western Montana, North Dakota, Eastern Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ontario and New York. Very warm weather prevails generally in districts to the eastward of the Rocky mountains, the principal exception being the very cool temperature at the Head of the Lakes. In St. Louis and Douglas counties the weather will be mostly fair during the ensuing thirty-six hours, while during tonight the temperature will rise somewhat as regards Duluth and Superior."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 17.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Upper Michigan—Showers tonight or Thursday; warmer tonight.

Wisconsin—Generally fair except local thunderstorms tonight and Thursday; no important change in temperature.

Minnesota—Generally fair, except local thunderstorms tonight and Thursday; warmer in northeast portion tonight.

North and South Dakota—Threatening weather and probably local showers tonight or Thursday.

Montana—Local showers tonight and probably Thursday.

Iowa—Generally fair and continued warm tonight and Thursday.

Upper Lakes: Moderate variable winds, mostly south and southeast; unsettled with showers tonight or Thursday.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Barnum, the Hypnotist.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
ODEUM and LYRIC—Photoplay.

Green Room Gossip.

The sale of seats for "Madame Sherry" at the Lyceum theater will begin Monday morning. This international musical comedy success will come here for three nights and Saturday matinee beginning Friday, and from all accounts the playgoers of this city will have a treat in store for them.

"Madame Sherry" is declared on every hand to be one of the biggest musical successes the American stage has known. New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco have gone on record with this verdict, and soon the playgoers of Duluth will have an opportunity to pass judgment on it, to laugh at its unique comedy and to enjoy its fascinating music. The cast of musical comedy celebrities appearing in "Madame Sherry" includes Oscar Figman, Tessa Kosta, Cheridah Simpson, Mary Quilve, Lottie Kendall, William Cameron, Harry Benham, William Cameron, Harold Rehill, Edward Elkas and others, besides a charming chorus and a special orchestra. Requests by mail for reservations of seats must necessarily be accompanied by check or currency to secure the desired reservation, and if return of seats is desired a self-addressed envelope must accompany order. Orders should be made out to treasurer of Lyceum theater.

Miss Mamie Fleming, the clever comedienne with "The Photo Shop," the featured attraction on the Orpheum bill this week, formerly had a repertoire company of her own in the East. The company was known as "The Mamie Fleming Players." It was a traveling organization giving a repertoire of standard plays, and Miss Fleming was featured in it.

Following her engagement with this company, Miss Fleming went into vaudeville, having what is known as a "single" act, singing character songs. She has a style of singing a popular song that is much similar to that adopted by Miss Marie Cahill, and she was a decided success in vaudeville. Her act was seen by Jesse L. Lasky, the producer of big musical acts for vaudeville, and he promptly offered her a three years' contract to head one of his companies. The salary was more attractive than the one she was receiving for her "single" act, and Miss Fleming accepted it. She is now on her second year with Mr. Lasky. The act in which she is now appearing is a new one, and has been out but a few weeks. It is considered the best act that this well-known producer has on the road.

Charles Bowser and company are presenting a comedy sketch at the Empress this week from the pen of Oliver White, the most noted writer of one-act plays of the present day.

The sketch is entitled "Superstition," and deals with present-day politics. The sketch is well written, uses a gorgeous setting and is given a masterful presentation. It would be difficult to improve on Mr. Bowser's portrayal of the character, Big Jim Kingston, the political boss.

The comedy bicycle act of the Ferrell Bros. is different from the average act of this kind and includes some sensational tricks and some good clean comedy. The dancing of the Dancing Du Pars is neat and artistic, while the Vindebonas open the show with a good musical act, which includes some good music and a lot of clever comedy.

The bill as a whole this week is one of the best the Empress has had this year.

The midweek change of programs at the Odeum and Lyric theaters, which takes place today, will bring strong bills of photoplay for the remainder of the week.

"His Mother" is the feature film at the Lyric. "On the First Dark Night" is the new and catchy song that will be sung by Mr. Mistachkin.

At the Odeum, "Country Lovers" will be the feature. This highly interesting film will be followed by others equally as interesting. "Open Your Eyes" will be the illustrated song to be rendered by Mlle. Du Franc.

The past ten years have been the most remarkable in the history of civilization. Experimenters in electricity, wireless telegraphy, surgery and medicine, and in fact every known science, have enlarged the scope and perfections of their different lines; but as a practical benefit to humanity, no branch of science has advanced more than psychotherapy and psychopathology. Hypnosis as an anaesthetic in surgical work, in dentistry, and in the curing of nervous and mental disorders, perversions and habits, is only a branch of the one science, psychology.

Barnum, the hypnotist, is one of the few practical psychologists giving stage exhibitions. He has had hospital and sanitarium experience, and is thoroughly conversant with every phase of practical psychology. He appears at the Lyceum for eight days, starting tonight.

GORDON PLANS SPEECHES.

Lieutenant Governor Will Shy at Politics, However.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lieut.-Governor Gordon is preparing to break the silence he has maintained so closely since the close of the legislature. In a letter to a Twin City friend he says he has been "just sittin' 'round and restin', paying little attention to politics or business," and devoting his time to getting out his newspaper at Browns Valley.

But the lieutenant governor does not propose to let politics take any part in his forthcoming speeches. On Memorial day he will deliver an address at Osakis, in the home county of Senator Gunderson, a possible candidate for congress. He will speak at commencement exercises at Sauk Rapids June 2, at similar exercises in Moorhead June 3, and at Chisholm May 9.

IMPROVES COMPLEXIONS BETTER THAN POWDER

In discussing beauty preparations in the New York Herald, Mae Martyn, authority on such matters, writes as follows: "Face powder is now a back number. Women who desire a beautiful complexion seldom use it. A much better substitute has been found in an inexpensive lotion made by dissolving four ounces of spurmax in one-half pint hot water with two teaspoonfuls glycerine added.

"This wonderful skin whitener and complexion beautifier does not show or rub off like powder and gives a sallow oily or shiny skin a clear, charming, youthful tone. No woman who ever tries this lotion will again use powder. It leaves the skin smooth, velvety and beautiful."

ASKS ABOUT THE MUSTINKA DITCH

Senator Rustad Has Conferences With the Attorney General.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Edward Rustad of Wheaton has been in conference with Attorney General Simpson during the last two days, endeavoring to reach with him an understanding as to the constitutionality of the bill passed by the last session of the legislature appropriating $35,000 for construction of an additional outlet, or the enlargement of the present outlet, of the Mustinka ditch in Traverse county. The question was raised by State Auditor Iverson whether the money spent as proposed would not be for internal improvement—an act prohibited by the Constitution.

Senator Rustad told Mr. Simpson that waters overflowing from the ditch when there is an excess of rain, damage growing crops on 8,000 acres of land, and that as a protection to health of citizens, the state is in duty bound to fix the ditch. It is further contended that there is a technical legal question involved, in that damage to crops resulting from an inadequate state ditch does not make the state liable to property owners.

For several years the people in Traverse county have endeavored to have this ditch fixed. A bill providing an appropriation for it was passed two years ago, but Governor Johnson vetoed it.

"I do not see how they can decide that the enlargement of the ditch can be called an internal improvement," Senator Rustad said. "It does not drain an acre of land, and will not drain it, but will act only as a safeguard in time of flood. The ditch empties into the Mustinka river."

Attorney General Simpson has not yet passed upon the question raised.

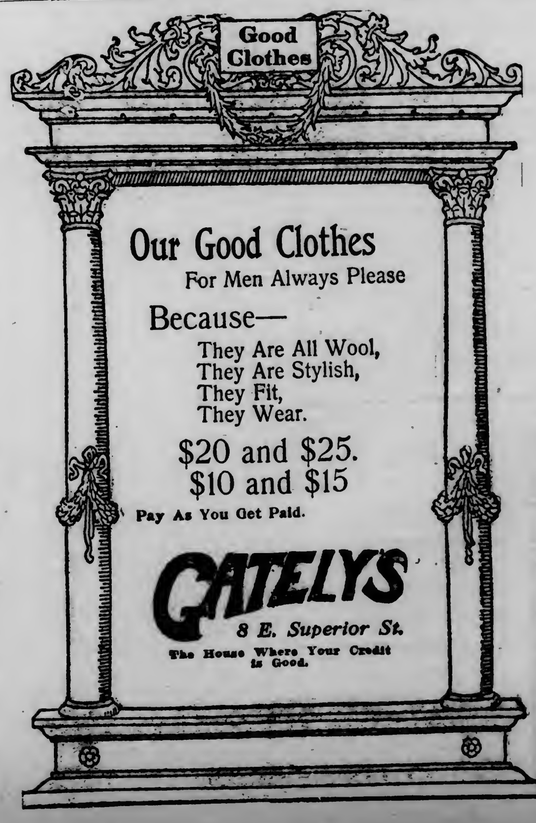
COMPLETE HOUSEFURNISHERS
BAYHA & CO
DULUTH, MINNESOTA



WOMAN'S REALM.

The large attendance at the concert given last evening at the Lyceum theater by the Duluth Choral club at its initial appearance demonstrated that Duluth wants more musical entertainments and the house was well filled with a representative and enthusiastic audience.

The chorus sang in a most finished and pleasing style, showing the result of careful drilling and instruction on the part of their conductor, Alfred Wylie. Their voices blended with an excellent quality of tone and precision. Their unaccompanied part songs were general favorites and they were forced to respond to encores.

George Suffel was in splendid voice last evening and his "Eri Tue" from "Un Ballo Maschera," by Verdi, was sung with fine feeling and rich tones, which won for him an insistent encore.

Miss Clara Williams of Minneapolis sang a group of three songs, "Will o' the Wisp," by Spross; "Where Blooms the Rose," by Johns, and "Sunlight," by Ware. Her voice was a delight to the audience and its clear sweetness reached the hearts of her hearers and she was forced to respond with a pretty little encore.

Miss Mary Syer Bradshaw, with her beautiful rich voice and her perfect enunciation, which is one of her special charms, gave an artistic rendition of "In Arcady," by Woodman, with admirable ease and clearness. She responded to continued applause.

Miss Althilde Nordby filled the difficult place of accompanist with great ability and played her varied accompaniments with ease and a fine display of understanding and technique.

"The Erl King's Daughter," an opera by Niels W. Gade, formed the second part of the program. In this the many chorus parts were sung in a finished manner, showing again the careful training and well rounded work of Mr. Wylie in conducting and instructing the chorus.

Miss Williams sang the part of the Erl King's daughter, Mr. Suffel that of the young Sir Oluf, who rides forth on his wedding evening and is met by the Erl King's daughter, who kisses him, and returns home to die on his wedding morning. Miss Bradshaw sang the part of Sir Oluf's mother. The solo parts were all well interpreted by the soloists.

HUNTER-McALLISTER.

Pretty Wedding Takes Place at Bride's Home.

The home of Mrs. A. M. Hunter, 408 East Fifth street, was the scene last evening of a pretty wedding ceremony when her daughter, Miss Margaret Hunter became the bride of E. H. McAllister. Rev. B. V. Black read the ceremony at 6 o'clock in the presence of a few relatives and immediate friends and a wedding supper was served immediately following the ceremony.

The bride wore a handsome gown of soft white made over silk with a wreath of flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. There was no attendants.

During the evening a reception was held between 8 and 10 o'clock during which time a large number of friends called. Mrs. Hunter was assisted during the evening by Mrs. G. Sangster.

The rooms were effectively decorated with flowers. In the dining room a basket of pink roses, ferns and crocuses was used as a center-piece and bouquets of white roses and crocuses were used about the other rooms.

J. W. Hunter, brother of the bride, and his family, were down from Hibbing for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister will reside at 408 East Fifth street.

Rich, Bohemian in Taste, and a Buddhist in Religion

MRS A. CROCKER-GOURAUD.

This is the beautiful Mrs. Jack Gouraud, photographed while on her way to Paris. Mrs. Gouraud was formerly Amy Crocker. She is a Californian heiress of millions. She is still young, charming and rich. Mrs. Gouraud is well known in all the capitals of the world and especially to the Bohemian set. She has lived in Tokio, in Paris and in London, but her steady home is in New York. She is a patron of Bohemia and quite naturally she has stage ambitions now that she has exhausted what was left of the possibility of amusement. When she returns from Paris, she says, she will be an actress. Meantime she is a Buddhist and keeps a statue of Budda hung with a rope of pearls in her boudoir.

" MERCY."

Subject for W. C. T. U. Meeting Thursday Afternoon.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of West Duluth will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Bethel Rescue home, Corner of Sixth avenue east and Fifth street at 2:30 o'clock. The subject for the afternoon will be "Mercy" with Mrs. C. O. Morris as leader. All friends interested are invited and will be made welcome.

"THE SLEEPING CAR."

Amateur Play for Benefit of Sunday School.

"The Sleeping Car," a play in which some of the best talent in the city will take part, will be presented at Trinity pro-cathedral May 25 for the benefit of Trinity pro-cathedral Sunday school. The people in charge say that while this vehicle is not a new one, it has been entirely overhauled and will be presented in an entirely new manner. Allan P. Allensworth, who has appeared many times in amateur plays here, has the general direction of the play.

The seating capacity of the hall is only about 300 and the committee expects to "sell out" before the night of the play.

Buirge-Stubbs.

The wedding of Miss Anna Buirge and Robert Stubbs took place last evening at the home of the bridegroom's brother, Milton Stubbs, 19 East Third street, Rev. J. W. Loughridge, formerly pastor of the Central Baptist church, read the service at 8:30 o'clock.

Relief Corps.

The members of the Women's Relief corps and their friends will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Roy, 525 Twelfth and a Half avenue east at 2 o'clock A basket lunch will be served and the social half hour will be spent by the ladies in trimming bonnets.

New Secretary Arrives.

Miss Carrie Woodward of South Bend, Ind., arrived yesterday afternoon to fill the position of office secretary of the Young Woman's association, made vacant by the marriage of Miss Margaret Stewart to Cecil Haakins, which occurred in March.

Piano Recital.

A pleasing musical recital was given last evening at the home of Matilda Landfald of Tenth avenue east by a number of her piano pupils. A very pretty program was well played and was closed with a little musical play, "Just for the Fun of It," given by a number of the pupils.

Miss Mabel Fulton assisted with a song and a number of readings.

Birthday Party.

John Brightfelt entertained a number of his friends last evening, at his home, 1865 West Second street, in celebration of his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent informally.

"Butterfly Banquet."

The "Butterfly Banquet," which will be given this evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, promises to be a unique affair, and the ladies of that church are noted for their entertainments.

A turkey supper will be served, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the church, for the benefit of the Sunday school, and it is open to the general public. The decorations have been elaborately planned and the program of toasts will be of interest. E. W. Matter will preside as toastmaster, and the topics for the evening will be responded to as follows: "The Brotherhood." Miss Effie White; "The Other Hood," by Warren E. Greene; and "The Might of Men," by Rev. J. C. Faries of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church.

THE EVENING STORY

"FOR RICHER, FOR POORER"

By Finlay Knight.

"But, Roy, we must do something! Things can't go on like this, you know; surely you can see that. We've only got enough money to keep us for about another four weeks, and then—"

Pretty Agnes Bradley paused, and made a gesture with her hands; a gesture significant of the despair that had come to her heart.

"Do you realize what it means?" she went on, after a moment or two. "Do you realize that unless you manage to get another position, or unless you get some money somehow, we will be worse off, for we have never been used to anything like this, and so we will feel the bitterness of it all the more!"

Slowly her husband raised his head and looked at her with tired, sad eyes. His face was thin, and marked with traces of the illness from which he was only now recovering, and there were lines on the brow and about the mouth corners, for which not illness but crushing anxiety was to blame.

"Yes," he said wearily. "I realize that, dear. I realize it only too well. We have come to a rough bit of the road, and—and we must both be brave and so good to each other that the road won't seem so very rough after all; and that we may be more than ever proud of each other when we come out again into the sunshine."

But Agnes was not in the mood just then to appreciate brave words, nor to call up the courage for which until now she had had but little use. The staggering reverses which she and her young husband had had to bear of late seemed to have crushed her old glad spirits from her, and now she spoke as neither she nor the man had ever dreamed that she would speak. It was not cruelty of heart nor lack of love that was responsible for her words, but just a too great strain upon brain and body, a strain which had fretted her nerves to uselessness, and turned all the gold of the world to dreary gray.

"It does no good to speak like that!" she exclaimed, peevishly. "Sunshine! I do not see sunshine ahead, Roy. I see only grim, black clouds. And when I think of how different everything seemed when we were married, of how rosy the future was—Oh, I"—She put her hands to her face and her shoulders moved shakily—"it is too much to ask anyone to bear!"

Roy rose stiffly, and, going to her, put a kindly hand upon her shoulder.

"Agnes! he cried." Agnes, don't speak like that! It hurts, you know. Oh, I know how horrible it all is, and how you must feel it; you, who until a short time ago had never known what it was to have a care. But we love each other too well to do other than fight bravely side by side now that trouble has come. And if we do that, you will see that the trouble will all be cleared away. Hark! There is the postman! Perhaps there may be a letter from one of the firms I wrote to. Perhaps our troubles may be gone in five minutes, now, dear!"

The double knock of the postman had sounded on the door of the little flat, and some seconds later the maid brought in three letters for Roy. But none of them brought good news. One, indeed, was merely an advertisement of somebody's cheese, and the others were from firms, announcing briefly that they had at present no position which they could offer to Mr. Roy Bradley. Roy handed them over to his wife; and while she read them waited, watching her.

When they had married Agnes was in receipt of an allowance of $500 a year from her father, and Roy had an income which, though small, certainly had been amply sufficient to maintain the little home in comfort. In his spare time, too, he had added to this income by supplying very clever black and white sketches to some of the illustrated papers.

But after a year of unmarred happiness, bad fortune had come to them. First Agnes's father had suffered heavy financial losses, and had been forced to discontinue the allowance which had been such welcome pin money to his daughter and she had felt thewant and felt it sorely. The $500 had been her her own to do with as she liked, and without it she found that the money which could be saved out of the housekeeping was too small to allow of the old luxuries. But more disasters had followed.

Roy had fallen ill, and, though for a time the firm on whose staff he had been, paid his salary, a letter came at last, saying that another man had been installed in his place. Since his recovery Roy had made applications by the score, but without even a glimmer of success, and the despair that had crept snakewise into the home, had sapped the spirit from at least one of the dwellers.

Agnes put the letters down on the table, and looked across at the man whom she had vowed to take "for better, for worse; for richer, for poorer," and at that moment she seemed to forget everything save the misery and fear which gripped at her heart.

"Two more disapointments," she said slowly. "That makes how many, Roy?"

He groaned and clenched his hands about each other.

"Agnes," he begged, "for God's sake, don't speak to me like that! You make me feel—you make me feel as though—"

He broke off there, as though almost ashamed to finish the sentence. His wife waited for a little. Then:

"Yes?" she prompted.

He looked up, his face flushed and twitching.

"You make me feel," he went on huskily, "as though you blamed me. As though you were bitter not only against fate, but against me. I need not tell you how very dear you are to me; how I love you with all the strength of my heart and soul; but when you speak to me like that; when you look at me as you did a moment ago, I feel almost as though it would have been better if I had not married you. Not for my sake, Agnes, but for yours!"

Her hands gripped about each other where they lay on the table, and her eyes shifted from his face to a picture hanging on the wall behind him.

"We risked," she said at last, "we risked too much, Roy. That is what was wrong. We should not have got married when we did. We should have waited until we—until you were more securely settled in some good post."

She said that, and hated herself for saying it; for she knew that it was she who had urged that, if happiness was ever to come to them, then risk must be taken.

Roy rose, and, walking to the fireplace, stood there with his elbow braced against it, and his head leaning on his hand. His face was very pale and drawn now, and he did not wish her to see it.

"I fell ill," he said in a low voice. "That was what did it. I fell ill. You—do not blame me for that, too, Agnes?"

He had not meant to hurt her, but she started almost as though under a blow.

"No," she returned, "I do not blame you because you fell ill, and lost the post. But you should not have married me when you did, we had no right to risk it. And, what are we going to do now? If something does not happen within the next two weeks, then we must go from here. And where will we go?"

Slowly he turned and faced her.

"If nothing turns up within a fortnight," he said, "then I know of only one thing which we can do. We will need to go down into the country and rent some cheap cottage where we will be able to keep ourselves on as little as possible. I can make enough for that by sketching, I think—I hope."

"Hope!" She rose petulently and went to the door. "Hope is all that I am offered, and hope is not much use when there is nothing more. We—we made a mistake, Roy, and—and—oh, I'll go to my room, I think. What are you going to do?"

"I?" His tired eyes opened a little more widely, as though in surprise that she should interest herself in him. "Oh, I am going to send off some more applications. I must do something. I must keep my courage up—and hope!"

When evening had merged into night, Agnes came back to the room, and opening the door quietly, saw her husband. He was seated by the small writing resk, one of his feet twisted about the chair leg, and his head bowed forward on his arms folded before him on the desk. He was sleeping, but by his side were some half-dozen neatly written letters, to show that he had worked ere he slept. A pen was still held loosely in his fingers, weakness and aching weariness had overcome the writer, and for the time being the tired brain was at rest.

For a long time Agnes stood by his side looking at him. Then slowly the lines vanished from her face and a great tenderness came to it. Stealthily she stooped and kissed the hair that had rumpled over the brave brow, and something wet trickled slowly down her cheek.

Then she went to the table, and sitting down, wrote a note hastily, closed it, and addressed it to Roy, set it up against a flower vase. Next she looked up a timetable, and that done, looked once more towards the sleeper, and passed from the room.

• • • • •

Light was coming in grayly through the blind of the sitting room when Roy awakened. When he opened his eyes it was to see Lizzie, the maid, standing by the open door, watching him timorously.

"Why!" he started, "what's all this, Lizzie? Have I been sleeping here all night? But of course I must have been. Let me see! I was writing—oh, yes, I remember now." He remembered. Agnes had left him alone, and had not come back.

"Your mistress?" he questioned the girl. "Have you taken her her cup of tea?"

And then Lizzie told him that his wife was not in the house, that her bed had not been slept in, and that the front door was unchained. For a time he could not believe what he heard; could not grasp the fact that his wife had gone—had left him, indeed. He was dazed, bewildered, horrified! Agnes had gone! Agnes, whom he loved with all the fervor of his being, had stolen away from the house while he slept there at the desk! Had she gone to her people, he wondered, or where?"

He was still twisting his whirling mind to find some explanation other than that which stared him gauntly in the face, when Lizzie brought in a tray with breakfast things upon it, and asked him to eat. He tried to smile at her, but it was not easy. Eat! How could he eat when all his world had been broken to pieces; when the idol that he had enshrined in his heart seemed to have fallen from its pedestal and to lie shattered beyond repair!

There was a letter on the tray, and, picking it up, he opened it idly. Before he read it he guessed, somehow, what its purport would be. He was offered a three years' contract with a firm of good repute, at a handsome salary—and the irony of the situation was complete.

"Agnes!" he muttered, forgetting that the servant was still in the room. "Agnes!"

He heard the girl speaking to him, and raised his head. "Yes?" he said dully.

"It's a letter, sir," she told him, holding out the note that she had found where it had fallen to the floor. "A letter from missus." Feverishly he took it, and tearing it open, read:

"Husband Mine: I have just kissed you, but I'm glad I didn't wake you, for I want you to sleep on. I'm going to catch the last train down to Haddam, for I'm going to take that tiny cottage there, and you and I will go this week. I choose Haddam, for I know I can get at least four little pupils there to teach, and with your sketches too, we will do famously, and be as happy as the day is long. I have not helped you as I should, but I am going to now. I have been horrid, but I meant nothing, dear. I don't care if we never have more than $10 a week all our lives; for, after all, people who have love are so rich that they should not grumble even if they have nothing else. I will be back tomorrow afternoon. Sleep well, dear heart. "AGNES."

Roy held the letter crushed to his breast.

"Ah," he breathed, "I know now what it means to emerge from the darkness into day."

CHEER UP!

It is time the atmosphere of financial hypochondria that has hung over this country like a dull, gray pall for months were dispelled by a spirit of optimism and courage.

And there are plenty of reasons to stimulate this spirit of cheer and enterprise.

The long-awaited decision of the supreme court in the Standard Oil case is out of the way, and it contains nothing to alarm even stockholders in the oil trust, and much to reassure honest business in all its branches, be they great or small.

There is an ocean of accumulated capital ready to be loosed into the channels of trade.

There is an approaching shortage of commodities due to curtailed production, so that speedy resumption of industrial activity will soon be an absolute necessity.

And in the Northwest, at least, the crops, which are the basic essential to good business and prosperity, are in an ideal condition. If wise men had devised climatic conditions especially for the production of rich crops, they would have arranged them about as nature has done it.

Cheer up! Also, get busy!

SURPRISED.

Business, as it is rather poorly impersonated by Wall Street, seems surprised by the moderation of the decision of the supreme court in the oil trust case.

Wall Street seems to have been hugging the fear that that the movement for justice for the people from the big corporations would involve harm to legitimate business.

There is no danger to business as such in any pending movement for industrial liberty, nor has there been. Bad business methods have always been in danger, and always will be.

This country never has given anybody reason to suspect it to be so silly as to cut off its nose to cure a pimple thereon.

DEALING WITH CORPORATIONS.

The decision of the supreme court of the United States in the Standard Oil case again makes clear the necessity of a more or less radical revision of public methods of dealing with offending corporations.

It is a source of some satisfaction to have a brutal corporation punished for its evil-doing, but that's about all. The thing won't stand analysis. Corporations are instruments, not sentient beings. They cannot be brutal. They cannot offend. But corporation managers can be brutal and corporation managers can and do offend. Therefore, corporation managers, and not the corporations, should bear the punishment.

The big business enterprise has come to stay. Its form may change, but its substance must remain. This country could no more revert to the old days of competition between a horde of individuals, partnerships and small corporations in an industry than it could get along without electricity. Competition is pretty dead, and as economic law killed it, statute law is impotent to revive it. Regulation must take its place.

The big corporations, though creatures of the states, are national in their scope. Therefore, control of them must be national to be effective. There is much in the idea of a federal incorporation law, accompanied by rigid provisions for effective regulation, that commends it. It is high time that the plan were being more seriously considered.

We waste time by becoming vexed with the form of an industry. We waste more than time when we seek relief from its oppressions by fining or outlawing a corporation. If it has offended, it is its managers who are guilty, and they should be punished. To fine the corporation is to punish innocent stockholders, or rather still more innocent consumers; for every item of cost in an industry, fines no less than the payrolls, is charged to the consumer.

The important thing is not the form of an industry, but the question whether it is a servant of the public or a master of the public. The object is not to get industry into some particular form, or some coveted lack of form, but to make it give society the best possible service at the lowest possible cost. The Sherman anti-trust law is a mighty poor implement to that end. A much better implement would be a law putting the great industries under rigid regulation that will make them faithful servants of society. A regulated monopoly would be better than a chaos of wasteful competition. Regulation must take the place of blind and futile attempts at restriction and repression.

Woodrow Wilson, with his wonderful faculty of clear and pungent expression, in his talk at San Francisco yesterday thus showed the absurdity of punishing corporations for the offenses of corporation managers: "It should be recognized as a fundamental principle of our law in dealing with the corporations that though we call them artificial persons, the only persons we are really going to deal with in imposing the penalties of the law are the persons who constitute their officers and directors. We ought by this time to have seen the futility—I might even say the silliness—of trying to punish illegal action by penalizing corporations as such. Fines punish the stockholders; forfeiture of charters and of the franchise which they are exercising paralyzes industry and confuses business. Men do not cease to be individuals by becoming the officers of corporations. The responsibility for violating the law or for neglecting public interests ought to fall upon them as individuals."

THE DULUTH WAY.

Plans for the water carnival to be held in Duluth during three days in July are well advanced, as the local columns of The Herald show from day to day, and one thing already is exceedingly clear: that the show is to be a big one, and worth anybody's while to come to see, no matter from what distance.

In the first place, there is Duluth itself. Duluth is good to see and to recreate in, and very likely some of those who come here will realize what everybody living here knows, that Duluth is a mighty good town to live in.

Then there is the Duluth summer climate. Folks are going to come here from roasting cities, and they are going to pass days of pure delight and to sleep tight of nights when the night coolness settles down. They are going to learn that the best place to be in of a summer's day is Duluth.

On top of these things and on top of the scenic hills and water ways and the lake, will be the big show; and as to that a mere glance at the specifications as outlined from day to day in the local columns of The Herald will be enough to prove that it is going to be something that nobody who can get to it should miss.

Duluth is doing this show, and since Duluth is doing it there is but one way possible for it to be done, and that's the Duluth way: right.

Duluth has a good deal at stake in this enterprise. It's the first big summer show it ever pulled off, though it ought to have been having one every summer for lo! these many years. It's going to be a success. It must be a success. The plans for it make that certain, and the audience is assured. Folk are coming here from every direction and from far distances. The show is being advertised from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and not less than 25,000 people will be here to see it.

It's very important that they should come, not only to see how Duluth does a spectacular stunt like this when it starts out to do it, but to learn that for summer outings, as well as for all-the-year-'round business, Duluth is the best place on earth. And they are coming, and they will not be disappointed. It's the Duluth way.

And now for what we have been coming at all the time.

To do this thing the right way—and that's the way it's going to be done—money is necessary. Nobody expected, probably, that it could be done for nothing, and it can't. The request of the committee in charge of the arrangements is very modest indeed, compared with the results that are confidently expected, and there oughtn't to be the slightest difficulty about raising the sum it asks.

And those who give shouldn't look upon it as a donation, but as an investment. Besides the money that those who come to see the show will leave behind them, there is an advertising value in the affair that amounts to a good deal more. The returns—to the community and to the business men who invest in the enterprise—will be vastly greater than the investment.

The amount of money asked for by the committee ought to be forthcoming in a very few days.

THE VALUE OF ADVERSITY.

A couple of Democratic senators—Democrats by name but very hard to distinguish in practice from the most reactionary of Republicans—lately proposed what seemed to them a great stroke of party business. They wanted the farmers' free list bill attached to the bill putting into effect the Canadian reciprocity treaty.

And how ardently they indulged a hope, in which Republican standpatters as ardently joined, that the Democrats of the senate would be foolish enough to adopt the suggestion, thus killing both measures at a blow!

But word comes that the Democrats of the senate have refused to rise to the bait. They are going to let each measure stand or fall on its own merits. Nevertheless, it is stated that some of the "insurgent" Republicans may offer the free list as an amendment to the reciprocity bill, hoping thus to defeat both.

Incidentally, this incident illuminates the hollowness of insurgent pretenses. More important still, it shows the wisdom by which the footsteps of the Democrats in congress are being guided.

Those years in the wilderness of defeat palpably have done the Democrats so much good that it is very clear that nothing but the same remedy will cure what ails the Republican party.

WHAT OF THE CONSUMER?

What is the consumer's gain from the decision of the supreme court outlawing the Standard Oil trust?

At present, it is not much. Oil will not be cheaper. If it were possible to shatter the machinery of the oil trust and restore the conditions of competition which preceded its formation, oil would become dearer.

Only through regulation, under laws wisely conceived and vigorously executed, can the consumer gain. Such regulation must cover the quality of the service and the amount of rates and profits; and when it comes the consumer, in whose interests it will be done, will have his day.

In the meantime, the consumer's hope of gain comes from the ruling of the court that while corporations may grow great and may even absorb practically an entire industry by superior skill, resources and efficiency, they can not grow big by the application of the bludgeon to their competitors. They may broaden their scope as far as they please, but they must do it by ingenuity and ability, not by cunning and stealth. They may grow by the methods of the wise and capable business man, but not by the methods of the highwayman.

And that, in the long run if not immediately, is much to the good for the consumer.

FINE FEATHERS.

It is related that when Lady Decies—who is American-born and a member of the Gould family—was presented at the second court of King George of England, she wore the following brilliant display: "White satin covered net, embroidered with diamonds and pearls with a bordered fringe of crystals. The front of the corsage was incrusted with diamonds. The gown had a wedding dress train bordered with ermine. A diamond tiara and a magnificent diamond necklace completed the costume."

That must have been very beautiful. The show must have been worth going many miles to see. It must have made some of those British "toffs" look like pikers in the society game.

But if there had been added a sign showing what jewelry store was being advertised, it would have been a much more complete exhibit of Americanism—of a certain kind.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

HOME LABOR ALSO.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have heard a good many remarks made pro and con about labor conditions under the present system of government.

In Saturday evening's Herald editorial page I noticed something about patronizing home industry.

Now I believe as a voter of the city of Duluth, that home labor has as much a right as home industry.

I have chased the streets of Duluth since the first of May a year ago, trying to get a permanent position with sufficient remuneration to pay my board and incidentals, and so I could lay up a little for a rainy day.

Sounds like something wrong with me, does it not? But I have always been willing to do my best and all I want is a decent living. I have an excellent character discharge from the Marine corps, being discharged for disability on Feb. 19, 1908.

I have also about two years' nursing experience. I may differ somewhat in opinion with some; but if I am willing to work, I can not see why I am not permitted to earn an honest living as much as anyone else.

I may add that I am not the only working man here who is up against the same proposition.

SOCIALIST.

Duluth, May 15.

DON'T LET THE "OTHER FELLOW" DO IT ALL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Herald is certainly to be commended on the efforts it has made and is making now for "Boosting Duluth."

Now, Mr. Editor, would it be proper to suggest that some of the local merchants who are to profit by the "boosting" could set a good example to friends and patrons if they purchased the clothing, shoes and other furnishings for their families from Duluth stores instead of buying from the mail order houses in other cities.

This reciprocity idea is a mighty good one to work out, but, remember, that it will never be a success if the "other fellow" is to do all the "reciprocating."

Do you think that any Duluth dealer who buys his clothes or shoes in another city, or who permits his family to do so, is entitled to boosting from his home folks? "A BOOSTER."

Duluth, May 17, 1911.

KEEP THE BUSINESS HERE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

There are business men in Duluth who look with horror on program advertising, or any other form of advertising that will result in some benefit to the local job printers, but will spend $20, $30 or $50 a month with outside people for the privilege of displaying cards in the street cars.

Let a local job printer approach one of these business men with an advertising project that means business for the printer and the men he employs and the merchant will become encased in an atmosphere so chilly that it takes the printer half a day to get thawed out. A representative for some concern with fine office buildings, in another city, however, can approach the same merchant and, with a few smooth words and hypnotic argument, induce him to contract for a lot of worthless street car advertising at an exorbitant rate.

If we believe in boosting for Duluth, why not all of us do what we can to keep the money at home instead of sending it to Chicago or some other city to help build skyscrapers?

"JOB PRINTER."

Duluth, Minn., May 17, 1911.

THE PEOPLE MAY BE EMPLOYERS SOME DAY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

When the supreme court of the United States upset President Taft's cherished theories by declaring that there can be immense combinations if they will be good, the supreme court simply threw another straw into the wind to show which way it was blowing.

Nobody can stop the inevitable combination of industry and when the capitalists have finished their organizing the people will hire them to run the combinations they have effected.

W. MARX, JR.

Duluth, May 16.

Co-operation.

Collier's: The president's wisdom in working for reciprocity with Canada—a measure so long desired and so often thwarted—has been equaled by the wisdom of the Democratic house in co-operating with the president. The kind of partisanship which consists in opposing everything the other party does is out of date. There will always be plenty of real issues, growing out of genuine differences of opinion. It is the duty of legislatures and administrations, even when wearing different labels, to work together for objects in which both believe. We regret that some Republican insurgents fall into the natural error of opposing reciprocity. They should look after the farmer's interest, not by injuring others in his behalf, but, after taking this first practical step, by insisting upon the full logical consequences, and in the correction of other schedules greatly reducing the farmer's cost of living. When the administration has begun its tariff reform at the farmer's cost, for the benefit of our manufacturers, it will not have the daring to refuse the reductions which are for the farmer's benefit; and great would be the public outcry if a Republican senate, after passing the reciprocity bill, should kill the bills reducing the cost of manufactured articles. The country would not stand for such a trick upon the farmer. The insurgents make a disastrous error in so far as they give an impression of either insincerity or cowardice in this critical situation. With reciprocity accomplished the opponents of special privilege can face the contest for further revision with a united and intense public in their support.

The Booster.

I'd rather be a booster than a knocker any day,
I'd rather tinge with hope than doubt the words I have to say,
I'd rather miss my guess
On another man's success
Than to view his bitter struggle and to prophesy his fall.
I would rather say "he's coming"
Than "he's going," when I'm summing
Up the labors of my brothers, I would rather boost them all.

I would rather speak the kind things than the mean things any day,
I'd rather swing a baton than a hammer, let me say,
I would rather sing my rhyme
In a sort of two-step time
Than to let it drag in dirges in a gloomy, heavy style.
I would rather say "God bless you!"
And with words of cheer impress you,
Than to preach about your follies all the while.

I would rather be a booster than a knocker any day,
I'd rather praise than criticize in what I have to say;
I'd rather not be wise
At the cost of others' sighs,
I would rather see the good things than the evil that men do;
I would rather far be wrong
When I boost a man along
Than be perfect in my judgment, but make everybody blue!
—Detroit Free Press.

Many Booms.

Chicago News: It will be a great little summer for the trying out of presidential booms.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

That Awful Legislature.

Foley Independent: R. C. Dunn's good roads bill and the Keefe bill providing for the nomination of United States senators by the people are about the only meritorious measures passed by the late legislature. The state of Minnesota would have been hundreds of thousands of dollars ahead had that pestiferous and odoriferous body never been convened. It will forever remain as a blot upon the fair name of Minnesota.

The People Are Responsible.

Representative Rines in Mora Times: The newspapers which are knocking the legislature should not forget that it is the people who elected the members of both the house and senate. There is unquestionably opportunity for improvement in the caliber of men sent to the legislature from many of the districts of the state, but as a general rule the members of a district are fairly represented. If the legislature is not what it should be the fault is not with the legislature, but the people themselves and the newspapers should turn their batteries upon the people and educate them to realize their responsibilities and their duty. The voters are in the habit of electing men to office because they are good fellows and greet them with the glad hand. We do not need glad hand men in the legislature. We want men who are honest and conscientious; men who can be relied upon to truly represent their constituents.

They Are Earning Them.

Anoka Union: Somehow the Democrats seem to be winning laurels, throughout the country.

Unkind.

Bemidji Pioneer: Down at Albert Lea they have unearthed the bones of some prehistoric animal. Perhaps they were those of a man by the name of Dunn who once was speaker of the Minnesota legislature.

That's Fair Enough.

Milaca Times: Some of Knute Nelson's friends are worrying about the Keefe bill which provides for popular election of United States senators, fearing that it may result in the retirement of the senator. Well, if the people no longer want Knute they ought to have an opportunity to retire him.

Keep It Out of Politics.

Fergus Falls Journal: There are rumors in the air to the effect that the continued fight on Mr. Whittier, superintendent of the training school at Red Wing, is the part of a campaign to reorganize the board of control which has charge of all state institutions. The board of control believed that Mr. Whittier ought not be removed, notwithstanding the popular clamor which has been raised against him throughout the state. They are possibly standing against public sentiment in this matter which is always on the sentimental side and without a proper regard for maintaining discipline. In creating the board of control, the strong argument was advanced that it would not be a political body and its patronage and business should not be used for political purposes.

Will Surely Create Feeling.

Madison Western Guard: The railroads have announced that they will return to the old rate of 3 cents per mile after July 1. Merchandise rates will also be restored to the old level. This will make a stronger feeling than ever against the railroads and will have the effect of creating more of a feeling for government ownership.

My Body and I.

I got this body in the Fleshing Shop
When it was small and pudgy-like and red;
No teeth it had nor could it stand erect—
A fuzzy down grew spare upon its head.

At sight of it the neighbors stood and laughed,
And tickled it and jogged it up and down;
Then some one put it in a little cart,
And wheeled it gally through the gaping town.

When it grew bigger and could walk and run,
I wet it in the pond above the hill,
Or took it to a building called a "school."
And there I had to keep very still.

And later, when its muscles stronger grew,
I made it sow and reap to get its grain,
And tanned it in the summer's fiercest suns,
And toughened it with wind and cold and rain.

It served to keep me near my friend, the Earth,
It helped me well to get from place to place,
And then, perhaps, a tiny bit of me
Has sometimes worked out through its hands and face!

How long I've had it! Longer than it seems
Since first they wrapped it in a linen clout,
And now 'tis shriveled, patched and breaking down—
I guess, forsooth, that I have worn it out!

And I? Oh, bless you! I am ever young,
A soul ne'er ages—is not bent nor gray,
And when the body breaks and crumbles down—
The Fleshing Shop is just across the way!
—Richard Wightman in Success Magazine.

The Great Revival of Patriotism.

New York World: "Shall the Democratic party be Aldrichized?"

"Shall the Democratic national convention in 1912 be controlled by an Aldrich Democracy, or shall it represent real Democratic sentiment?"

"Do you believe the Democratic party should be kept from entanglements with special interests?"

Very well, then, listen to William Jennings Bryan, who explains how it can be done—explains it in black-faced type that scatters over most of the first page of the Commoner, explains it in terms so simple that a little child can understand.

Now this is the way to save the Democratic party and prevent the perpetration of whatever outrages are about to be perpetrated:

Mr. Bryan will do his part in the effort to protect the Democratic party from Aldrichism. On the stump and through the Commoner he will insist that the progress made by the party during the past sixteen years shall not be thrown away; that the special interests shall not control the convention; that its platform shall be honest and unequivocal and its candidates devoted to genuine Democratic doctrine.

In order to place his views before a larger number of people, Mr. Bryan has given instructions that his paper, the Commoner, be sent to every new subscriber for a period of two years for the sum of $1—the regular price for one year.

You are invited to join Mr. Bryan in this great fight.

What could be more simple or more certain? But if you cannot stand the Commoner two years for a dollar, send $3 dollars for the Outlook, Theodore Roosevelt contributing editor, and help save the Republican party from sin and shame.

Blessed are the pure in heart—

And the star-spangled banner, oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Occasionally we meet a woman of few words but she is nearly always afflicted with the reiteration habit.

Those who make a specialty of helping themselves get less help from the Lord than those who help others.

Never tell anything to a woman that you would be ashamed to see in print with your name signed to it.

No matter how unbecoming a woman's hat is, her feminine friends invariably tell her that she looks good in it.

If the cheerful idiot who rocks the boat and the girl is drowned she may have escaped a worse fate. Had she lived she might have married him.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1891.

•••Mrs. George Gallinger of Osnabruke, Ont., is visiting her brother, Asa Dailey of Lakeside, whom she has not seen in forty years.

•••The family of W. E. Lucas, a member of the financial firm of Cochran & Walsh, will soon return to Duluth to reside. Mr. Lucas himself will pendulate between Duluth, St. Paul and New York, where the firm's various offices are located.

•••Senator Frank A. Day of Fairmont, Republican editor, aged 39, settled in Minnesota in '74, born in Wisconsin, married." Such was the inscription in the Spalding register this morning. Senator Day was chairman of the senate committee on local legislation last winter and consequently learned a good deal that was not found in his geography. He knows every lake in the state that has its fish protected six days in the week so editors and statesmen can fish on Sunday. He and Tom Bowen are going to borrow one of Representative Kendall's teams and go out hunting for a lake and fishing for a fish tomorrow. Senator Day came over from the Iowa border, ostensibly to pay his taxes, but really to see if a railroad was to be built along Minnesota Point to Wisconsin.

•••The following have been appointed a committee of arrangements for the meeting of the State Sunday School association, which meets here June 23 to 25: Rev. E. M. Noyes, Pilgrim Congregational; N. J. Upham, First Presbyterian; J. H. Harris, First Methodist; R. C. Kinnaird, First Baptist; Mrs. R. P. Boyington, Christian; Rev. G. H. Kemp, Endion Baptist; Rev T. M. •••Blatchford Kavanagh, the famous boy soprano of Grace Episcopal church, Chicago, who is so well known in Duluth, has returned home from a visit to Europe.

•••D. Clint Prescott and family have arrived at West Duluth and will occupy their new home in the Sixth division in about two weeks.

•••Titus Duncan has been elected lieutenant of the Duluth Bicycle club.

•••Harry E. Liddle of Duluth and Miss Lavinia P. Rice of Hastings, Minn., were married on May 14 at the old home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. H. Truax, by Rev. R. M. Donaldson. The bridesmaid was Miss Elberta Truax and M. A. Knapp of the state university was groomsman.

THE NEW DISPENSATION.

New York World: No less impressive than Democratic singleness of purpose at Washington is the fact that every important act of the house of representatives has had the vigorous support of Republicans. In the temper of the people, in the character of congress and in the occasion, everything has been favorable to non-partisan public service.

The president himself has felt the impulse and he is more courageous because of it. Many years have elapsed since a delegation of tax-devourers has been talked to at the White House in the tone held by Mr. Taft toward the handful of political farmers who menaced him for his support of reciprocity. Independence begets independence in the executive as well as in the legislature and nothing but good can come to the country as a result of it.

The new house of representatives contains 226 Democrats, 165 Republicans and 1 Socialist. On the 13th of April the resolution for the election of senators by direct vote passed 296 to 16, the opposition being made up of 15 Republicans and 1 Democrat. On the 14th of April the bill providing for publicity of campaign receipts and expenditures passed 303 to 0. On the 21st of April the Canadian reciprocity agreement was adopted 266 to 89. In the affirmative were 64 Republicans and in the negative 11 Democrats. Now the first of the free-list bills has passed, 236 to 109 with 23 Republicans boldly co-operating with the majority. We shall see the same thing soon in the senate.

Every one of these measures has had popular approval, some of them for years. Directly or indirectly they have been promised in platforms and by the solemn avowals of candidates. But savagely partisan congresses controlled by a system of obstruction devised by plutocracy and privilege have prevented final action. What was impossible last winter is this spring almost a matter of course, largely because of the faithfulness of Democrats but in part because they have freed the Republicans from a tyranny that had become intolerable even to themselves.

It is going to be a difficult thing for the has-beens of the old Cannon-Aldrich combination to make political capital out of reforms that have had popular sanction, that have been supported by both parties in congress and that soon, we believe, will bear the signature of a republican president. Here is a combination that is acceptable. No clique or cabal operating in behalf of private interests can prevail against it.

Pointed Paragraphs.

A Government of Bosses.

Woodrow Wilson: We have been calling our government a republic, and we have been living under the delusion that it is a representative government. That is the theory. But the fact is that we are not living under a representative government; we are living under a government of party bosses who in secret conference and for their private ends determine what we shall and shall not have. The first, the immediate thing that we have got to do, is to restore representative government. We have got to revolutionize our political machinery, first of all. I am a radical, and the first element of my radicalism is, let's get at the root of the whole thing and resume popular government. Let's make possible the access of the people to the execution of their purposes.

Little Surprises.

"John Smith is my real name, your honor; I never use an alias when I'm run in."

"You have taken your time about it, George, dear, I'd have said yes if you had asked me six months ago."

"I missed my train down town this morning, Marla, on account of having stopped to mail that letter you handed me."

"Go ahead with your conversation, barber, I like to hear you talk."

Early Rising.

The ill example of the lark
Is not for human following,
For, when there's less of dawn than dark,
The little brute is halloaing,
The shrill and penetrating sound
Awakening neighbors all around.

How foolish is the early worm,
The earliest in particular!
There's naught in me, I can affirm,
That you would term vermicular;
I do not hurry to my death
To catch the morning's earliest breath.

You doubtless like your limbs and joints,
You'd not have the pains acute in all,
A wish the riser disappoints,
Who's almost prematutinal:
I wot the wise will always choose
Avoidance of the morning dews.

How great a sin is worldliness!
I see each one, have a touch of it,
And for the world, I must confess
We think and see too much of it:
Pray, therefore, have, my brother-men,
Your shaving water brought at ten.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARGO MEETS BRING MANY

Large Attendance Reported at North Dakota Sunday School Meet.

State Dental Association Ending Session With Addresses and Clinical Work.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Morning trains and perfect weather brought a greatly increased attendance today at the sessions of the North Dakota Sunday School association. The forenoon was devoted to song service, Bible study and business end of conducting Sunday school work. This afternoon was devoted to song service, Bible study, the order of service and to a discussion of the advantages of a house to house visitation.

Big Dental Meeting.

The last day's session of the North Dakota Dental association was more largely attended even than yesterday. Today's program was a combination of addresses and clinical work by Mrs. Black of Chicago, Dr. Crum of Fargo, Dr. Moscow and Dr. Courvette of Grand Forks, Dr. Lawrence of Mandan and Dr. Towne of Bismarck. An illustrated lecture by Dr. Black of Chicago is a big feature for this afternoon's session. Four games will be played with Minnesota teams by the Fargo college baseball aggregation which left here this afternoon for Minneapolis. One of the contests will be with Minnesota university and another with St. Thomas.

CONTESTS DRIVE MAN TO SUICIDE

Pennington County Homesteader Driven to Death By Fights Over Claim.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Haunted by the fear that he might lose his homestead through the contests filed against his entry, Ole O. Bjorge, a homesteader living about six miles east o Fisher, hanged himself. His failure to return home aroused the suspicion of his family and search was instituted.

The neighbors found the body suspended by a rope from the roof of an old barn about a mile west of his home. How long life had been extinct no one could tell, but some time Saturday he must have committed suicide.

Deceased some time ago filed on a homestead on which he was living but a number of contests had been entered against it lately and it is thought that the worry for fear that he might lose it caused him to become mentally unbalanced. The remains were interred on Monday. He leaves a wife and a number of children.

DIETZ GOES TO WAUPUN PRISON

Spends Last Hours in Hayward Jail Smoking and Singing Hymns.

Hayward, Wis., May 17.—Sheriff Fred C. Clark took John F. Dietz to Waupun prison yesterday afternoon. The delay was caused by a ring fight here last night between Jack Parish and Art Godfrey, the sheriff not deeming it wise to leave for fear the mill would become brutal and it would be necessary for him to stop it.

Mrs. Dietz and Leslie left Monday for Rice Lake after conferring with Dietz at the jail. Dietz said he had no intention of hiring an attorney, believing himself capable of drawing up an appeal. However, the sudden departure of his wife and son is believed to be a move to secure a lawyer.

Dietz himself is apparently not worrying in the least. He takes a very cheerful view of the situation and believes that even though taken to prison it will be but a matter of a few years before he is pardoned. He has been spending his time in singing hymns and smoking.

GRAND FORKS CONTESTS.

State Declamatory and Debating Battle on This Week.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Superintendents and principals of North Dakota high schools will meet here Friday and Saturday at the annual conference of the high school league. At the same time the state declamation contest, the final in the North Dakota Interscholastic Debating league, together with the interscholastic field meet, will be in progress.

In the high school debating league, the final event will be between the Casselton team composed of Max Taubert, Clay Smith and Clara Murman, and the Minnewaukan team composed of Bert Salisbury, Jessie McGlenn and Avis Christy. The question for debate is the adoption of the initiative and referendum in North Dakota, Casselton upholding the affirmative.

STEEL MEN ON GOGEBIC RANGE

Look Over Various Properties of Steel Corporation Around Ironwood.

Ironwood, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—David G. Kerr of Pittsburg, vice president of the United States Steel corporation visited the Oliver Iron Mining company's properties on Gogebic range Monday. He was accompanied by W. J. Olcott, president; J. H. McLean, general manager, and Pentecost Mitchell, vice president of the Oliver Iron Mining company; also J. H. Hearding, assistant general manager from Duluth, and O. C. Davidson of Iron Mountain, general superintendent. They were taken through the mines of this range by D. E. Sutherland, superintendent and from the mines of this city they were taken by automobiles to the Geneva and Davis and Puritan mines and from there to the Bessemer properties. The party left Ironwood for the Marquette range.

"A" shaft of the Norrie group of mines has closed for two months for repair on shaft. About 200 men are thus thrown out of employment.

NORTH DAKOTA FARMERS GLAD

Could Not Have Improved Crop Conditions If They Had Charge.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota farmers say that if they had the ordering of the rainfall this spring they could scarcely have improved on present conditions. The spring was delayed somewhat but just at the time it was most needed there was a general rain over practically all of the state, which made the soil just right for spring work. Three weeks of ideal weather followed during which most farmers seeded all their oats and grain. In many sections only barley, flax and corn remain to be seeded. Heavy rains have fallen within the last week over every county in the state, ranging from three-quarters of an inch to two and a half inches precipitation. This makes the conditions so ideal the farmers have visions of prosperity.

SONS OF MINERS ARE MAKING GOOD

Two Copper Country Youths Selected for Inter-State Oratorical Contest.

Calumet, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Mehelchich of Calumet, who will represent the entire northern peninsula in the state interscholastic oratorical contests, to be held this month, and Irving Toplon of Lake Linden, who will represent the peninsula in the state declamatory contests, are miners' sons. Mehelchich is the son of Peter Mehelchich, Sr., who worked for many years as a miner in the employ of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. Mr. Mehelchich has a large family and the struggle to properly support it was a trying one until recent years. Now some of the boys are old enough to help provide for the many. All of the children are receiving or have received good common school educations in the public and parochial schools of Calumet, which are peerless in the state. Yung Peter is now in his junior year in the Calumet high school. He is 18 years of age. Several months ago the thought came to him that he could give an oration and he entered the preliminary contests in the local high school, winning first place and also winning the Copper country and later the Upper Peninsula district contests.

Irving Toplon is 16 years of age and is the son of David Toplon of Lake Linden, now the manager of a large mercantile business in Calumet. For many years Mr. Toplon, Sr., was a miner. He determined to give his son the advantages of a good education and the boy has improved his opportunities. In the state declamatory contests he will declaim on "A Plea for Cuba," by Thurston. Mehelchich will give the famous oration on "Gustavus Adolphus."

MANY WILL GRADUATE.

Houghton County High Schools to Turn Out Many Graduates.

Laurium, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high schools of Houghton county will graduate close to 300 students in June, the Calumet high school alone turning out more than 100. There are several high schools in the county, at Calumet, Lake Linden, Houghton, Hancock, Atlantic, the Painesdale, Dollar Bay, Sacred Heart at Laurium, St. Joseph's at Hancock and others. More than half the graduates have already expressed their intentions of continuing their studies and will go to different colleges and schools in the fall. Among those most attended by Houghton county students are the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, the Universities of Michigan, Chicago, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern and Illinois, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr and other Eastern institutions for girls, as well as Milwaukee, Downer and Stouts at Menomonie, Wis.

There are in Houghton county, 27,246 school children and of the total amount of recently appropriated primary school money, $5,395,390, this county will receive $190,722. Calumet township alone will receive $70,070.

INTERURBAN LINE FOR CUYUNA RANGE

Brainerd Commercial Club Has Proposition to Build System Before It.

Brainerd, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—At ameeting of the Commercial club Con O'Brien, a prominent merchant, and one of the largest land owners of Crow Wing county broached the subject of an electric street railway to connect the range towns of the Cuyuna iron range, Crosby, Cuyuna, Deerwood, Ironton, Ironhub and Barrows with Brainerd and the suggestion met with an immediate response.

Mr. O'Brien offered a large donation to further the project.

COURTHOUSE PLANS

Are Being Considered By Pennington County Board of Commissioners

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners of Pennington county are considering bids for the remodeling of the city hall into a courthouse. This hall was presented to the county last fall when the county division fight was on. It will be fitted up so that it will do for county purposes for at least fifteen years, and will thus save the taxpayers a large sum of money for an expensive building.

DIES IN MONTANA.

Former Minnesota Hotel Keeper Called at Great Falls.

Great Falls, Mont., May 17.—An abscess on the brain claimed William H. Hayes, for the past year and a half manager of the New Park hotel here. He was 52 years old and is survived by his wife, his father, mother, a brother and two sisters, all of Two Rivers, Wis. For fifteen years Mr. Hayes was manager of the old Windsor hotel in St. Paul. He afterwards was manager of a hotel at Lake Minnetonka. His body was taken to Two Rivers for burial. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Elks.

TRAVELING MEN JUMP

To Save Lives When Ashley, N. D., Hotel Burns.

Ashley, N. D., May 17.—The Home hotel burned shortly after midnight Tuesday. Frank Swanke and W. C. Duedick, traveling men, jumped from a second-story window. Swanke was uninjured, but Duedick sprained his ankle. Swanke saved his clothes by throwing them out of the window, but Duedick lost his clothes and $75 in money. There was no insurance and very little of the furniture or fixtures were saved.

Southern Minnesota Murder.

Fairmont, Minn., May 17.—Augustus Case of Estherville, Iowa, was murdered in a hobo camp on the bank of a lake near Sherburn, Monday night. He had been choked to death. The victim was 66 years old and is survived by a family. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive of the crime. Sheriff Ward had a dragnet out for the murderers but there is no tangible clue.

Woman Juvenile Court Officer.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Pollock, taking advantage of a new law enacted at the last session of the legislature, has appointed Miss Lillian Topping juvenile court officer for the Third judicial district, composed of Cass, Traill and Steele counties. The officers serve without pay. Miss Topping is superintendent of the Florence Crittenton home and the appointment will be of assistance to her in the regular work.

FEDERAL COURT AT FARGO ON JUNE 6.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be grand jury term of the United States court June 6 and the petit jury is ordered by Judge Amidon for a week later. So far as known there are four big cases to be heard by the inquisitors, but there will be a large number of tresspass and liquor cases.

Fargo Norwegian Celebration.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many leading Norwegians of Fargo went to Grand Forks today to listen to the address by H. Bryn, Norwegian minister to the United States, who spent yesterday in Fargo. But for those who remained at home the Sons of Norway arranged for an address this evening by Prof. J. G. Halland and there will be a musical program in connection.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Moose Lake—Moose Lake will not have a formal Fourth of July celebration this year, but will confine its efforts to the entertainment of the Grand Army men who are to hold an encampment here later in July.

St. Cloud—The Sixth district convention of the Women's clubs opened at 2:30 Monday afternoon at Unity church with the opening address by Mrs. Charlott A. Barto of Sauk Center. Mrs. C. M. Patek, president of the Sixth district, gave an address of welcome.

Stillwater—Burnham K. Watson, for many years a resident of Lakeland, Washington county, died suddenly on Saturday at Prior Lake. The funeral was held at Lakeland May 16 at 3:30 p. m. An only child, Mrs. Albert R. Reed of Milwaukee, survives him.

Crosby—A decrease of 50 cents per 100 pounds on express rates between Crosby and Duluth and the same between Crosby and Chicago went into effect last week. The rate formerly was $1.25 to Duluth and $3.50 to Chicago, the cut reducing them to 75 cents and $3, respectively.

Moorhead—Lieut.-Governor Sam Y. Gordon of Browns Valley will deliver the commencement address for the high school seniors. Mr. Gordon and Supt. Edwards are fast friends. The commencement exercises will be held at the normal auditorium Saturday evening, June 3.

Stillwater—President James P. McGoldrick of the McGoldrick Lumber company of Spokane, formerly of this city and a graduate of the Stillwater high school, class of 1878, has purchased a large Shakespearean residence on Rockwood boulevard, in the exclusive residence section of the Washington city, for which he paid the sum of $25,000.

Moorhead—Robert Carlson, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Orren Carlson of 223 Eighth avenue southwest, fell from a tree and broke his left arm. A physician reduced the fracture and made the little fellow as comfortable as possible.

Minneapolis—A bronze tablet to be placed in Folwell hall at the university by the General Alumni association in appreciation for the services of Dr. W. W. Folwell as first president of the university will be unveiled Wednesday, June 7, with appropriate ceremony.

Warroad—A dredge is at work deepening the entrance to the harbor. The lake is the lowest it has been for years, and large boats have been unable to get in or out. The work will be done in about two weeks, and it is expected there will be no more trouble.

Moorhead—The jury in the case of McCarthy Bros. Company vs. P. C. Helmonk reported a disagreement early Monday. The jury stood 12 to 2 in favor of the plaintiff company. The dispute was over a wheat deal involving 5,000 bushels in which there was a loss of $650, caused by defendant not taking care of margins.

St. Cloud—The pond in the river at Sartell is jammed with logs as a result of the heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday, and trouble is looked for at the pulp mill dam.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bismarck, N. D.—Mrs. Arthur Hildebrandt of this city was taken to St. Alexius hospital Sunday evening, where she underwent an operation. She is getting along as well as may be expected and hopes to be able to return to her home within two or three weeks.

Rhame, N. D.—Heavy rains fell here Sunday night and all day. By actual tests it was found that plowed fields were wet down to a depth of three and a half inches. The entire southwestern part of the state is thoroughly soaked. Farmers and business men are expressing the greatest elation over conditions. It is still raining.

Grand Forks, N. D.—A number of the residents in the neighborhood of St. Michael's church and the Grand Forks Oratorio society auditorium are agitating paving North Fifth avenue up as far as the auditorium and Lone avenue from North Fifth street to North Sixth street. Paving is certainly neededon these streets.

Kulm, N. D.—Mrs. Herman Bergman, 46 years old, died Sunday of ptomaine poisoning caused by drinking the juice of canned apples. Her body was taken to Glencoe, Minn., her former home, for burial. She leaves a husband and three children.

Anderlin, N. D.—The E. Gullickson residence in this city was destroyed by fire, the blaze originating from a kerosene stove. The loss is about $2,000.

Dickinson, N. D.—The treasurer of Stark county has received $10,000 from the Northern Trust Co., of this city, for the amount of the bonds to cover the deficit caused by the forged warrants issued by J. H. White, formerly county auditor of Stark county, who is now serving a term in the state penitentiary at Bismarck.

Fargo, N. D.—Anna Merideth and Mabel Raymond forfeited a bond of $100 Monday when they failed to appear at the police court to answer the charge of, respectively, keeping and being an inmate of a bawdy house. Early Sunday the police made a raid on the house which is occupied by Mrs. Merideth on Eighth street. Mrs Merideth was arrested charged with keeping the house of ill fame and Mabel Raymond was taken into custody on the charge of resorting to rooms for immoral purposes.

Devils Lake, N. D.—William Keogh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keogh of Cleveland township, and Miss Katheryn Branley of Litchfield, Minn., were married Monday morning at the Leitchfield Catholic church after which a breakfast was served and reception was held at the bride's home. The bride is a young lady who for the past year has taught school in Cleveland township.

Glenn Ullin, N. D.—An application has been made by C. E. V. Draper of Mandan for a franchise for the installation of an electric lighting system. Glen Ullin business men are very much in favor of the plan and it is believed that there will be little difficulty reaching a satisfactory decision in the matter.

Mandan, N. D.—Success attained a year ago in the holding of a five-month educational butter test under the direction of Dairy Commissioner R. F. Flint has brought from that department the announcement that the contests would be repeated this year. In 1910 there were fifty North Dakota creameries entered in the event, and this season it is expected that there will be an even greater number.

New Rockford, N. D.—"Gopher Day," so successfully established by Brinsmade, is to be adopted by New Rockford, June 14 being the date that has been fixed. Gopher day will mark the completion of an active war against the gopher with prizes to be awarded to the exhibitors of the largest number of tails.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—Judging from a communication received Monday by Postmaster C. J. Wickstrom of the Calumet postoffice, from James A. Wetmore, acting executive officer in the treasury department, Calumet is likely to get a federal building sooner than expected.

Ononagon—Louis Scharback of Chicago has been here looking up some tax matters and also inquiring about various timber lands, in the vicinity of Ontonagon, which are for sale. He has in view three tracts of timber the combined acreage of which amounted to 7,000 acres.

Hancock—Supt. La Rowe of the Hancock schools is advised that the Hancock school has again been placed on the accredited list of high schools by the University of Michigan for the years 1911-12 and 1913.

Calumet—Bishop Eis of Marquette officiated at the confirmation of large classes of children at the St. Anne's St. Anthony's and Sacred Heart churches Sunday. A large class was confirmed at Mohawk Tuesday.

Houghton—Jeanette, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Croze on Shelden street, died Sunday afternoon of pneumonia. The funeral was held from St. Ignatius church and interment was at Forest Hill cemetery.

Marquette—Nearly twenty sawmill hands arrived here from the south Monday morning and left for Birch, where they will be employed this season.

Calumet—Isaac Saukko, charged with threatening to dynamite his home and kill his family of a wife and two or three children, has been sentenced to sixty days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace R. T. Hicks. Saukko was given the alternative of furnishing a peace bond of $500, though the defendant refused. He was taken to the county jail.

Marquette—By a vote of 6 to 4 the petition of the Marquette aerie of Eagles to hold a street fair on Baraga avenue Fourth of July, was denied by the council Monday evening.

Ishpeming—Ole Beseth, aged 47, who has been in poor health for about a year past, suffering from mineral poisoning, died Sunday night. The deceased spent some five or six months in Chicago under the care of specialists, but they could not determine the exact cause of his illness. The deceased is survived by his widow and ten children, four sons and six daughters, all of who mare living at home. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

Marquette—The primary arrange- for the observance of Memorial Day have been made. The Sunday preceding May 30, the old soldiers will attend the Baptist church. At the exercises to be held in the opera house during the forenoon of Memorial Day, Prof. J. E. Aubrey will deliver the address. An invitation was extended to Governor Osborn to make a Memorial Day address in this city, but he wrote back that he would be unable to come.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Eau Claire—A cow belonging to people residing on Madison street jumped over a fence Monday morning and landed headfirst in a well. About half an hour's work by several men with ropes was required to extract the frightened animal from her perilous position, but this was accomplished without much damage to property or injury to the cow.

Madison—The tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Gideons came to an end Monday night with the installation of officers at the Presbyterian church. The officers are: President, A. H. Van Tassel, Beloit; vice president, R. E. Thomas, Madison; secretary and treasurer, F. G. Hendricks, Fond du Lac.

Madison — The railroad commission ordered the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads to repay to Schmidt & Stork of West Bend the sum of $25.84 as excess charge on a carload of lumber shipped from Stoughton to West Bend. The original charge, against which complaint was made, was $52.70.

Milwaukee—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey will not come to Milwaukee on his present trip through the West. The City club had invited him to be its guest at luncheon May 25. The club received a letter from Governor Wilson's secretary Monday, in which he said that it will not be possible for the governor to stop off in Milwaukee at this time.

Marinette—The I. Stephenson company of this city, which recently purchased the lumber mill at Ford River, Mich., announced on Monday that the mill will be closed and the lumber cut at Wells, Mich. This means the death of Ford River, which had thrived for a quarter of a century as there are no industries there.

Fond du Lac—The Dunham-Day-Extrom company, whose plant is now located at Tomahawk, held its first meeting here on Monday and completed plans to remove its factory to this city. The company manufactures electrical cigar lighters and electrical heating and lighting devices of various kinds.

Marinette—Kazimeros Petronis, aged 50, died Monday morning at Wausaukee from the effects of a gunshot wound received while driving from Wausaukee to his farm near here. The gun, which was lying in the wagon, was accidentally discharged.

Fond du Lac—The farmers of the towns of Ashford and Eden have organized the Town Line Cheese factory and equipped a plant with a daily capacity of 15,000 pounds of milk. The plant was built under the direction of Deputy State Food Inspector Aderhold.

Milwaukee—Lewis J. Duncan, Socialist mayor of Butte, Mont., formerly lived in Milwaukee. He and Mrs. Duncan are well known here, having lived in Milwaukee for a number of years previous to their removal to Butte in 1902. Duncan was elected to the mayoralty by the citizens protest vote, which was a rebuke to the old parties.

RAILROADS

RUGG IS AN OPTIMIST

Burlington Man Sees Bright Future for Western Railroads.

Thinks Country Is Entering on Period of Great Prosperity.

F. B. Rugg, Northwestern passenger agent of the Burlington, with headquarters at St. Paul, is the first railroad man who has come to the Head of the Lakes for some time with a message of good cheer.

With the outlook of the crop season in doubt, other railroad men have had pessimistic views regarding the future. There is none of this pessimistic stuff with Mr. Rugg. He believes the railroads of the West are entering upon a season of prosperity, stating that the increased business for the railroads has already set in.

"The crop outlook is great," said Mr. Rugg. "Barring any damage that may happen to the growing crop, the output of grain will be very much heavier than last season. Reciprocity is coming just as sure as the sun is going to rise. That means more business for the railroads, and bigger business in general, I think.

"There is a very much better feeling in business circles. The pessimism is being cleared up and people are beginning to look on the bright side of things. As far as the railroads are concerned, I believe we will have a fine season, including a very heavy passenger travel and a great increase in the freight receipts.

"The increase of the grain movement will naturally mean an increased tonnage for the Western railroads. Reciprocity should also mean more business for the railroads on this side of the boundary line. Everything that can be figured into the railroad problem, from my way of thinking, points unmistakably to a fine increase of business and a very good season."

Mr. Rugg stated that the passenger receipts of the Burlington, despite the fact that the past month was rated as a very poor one had not shown such a great falling off from the same month in the previous year. This comparison was taken generally over the 10,000-mile stretch of the Burlington territory in the West and should be a very broad gauge of the business being done at the present time by that road.

It is not, however, what the railroads are doing at the present, but what they are going to do in the future, that is the most vital question to both the railroad man and the general public. At the present time the railroad business is undoubtedly quiet, and it is the activity of the future that is attracting the attention of a large number of interested people.

To hear one very well informed railroad man say the optimistic things that have been uttered by Mr. Rugg, is hopeful, to say the least. He has gone carefully over the situation, has become acquainted with the crop conditions, and his opinion on the conditions over the West at the present time, is of value.

People of Duluth in general are interested in the question of reciprocity. It is generally believed here that reciprocity will mean a wonderful increase of business both for the railroads at the Head of the Lakes, and also for the navigation at this port. The very firm opinion of Mr. Rugg on the probability of the passage of the bill, sounds good here, as Duluth will be one of the first cities to gain from the passage of the bill.

WILL USE OIL FUEL ON MOUNTAIN ENGINES.

Whyte, western vice president of the Canadian Pacific railway has announced today that the company has decided in the future to use oil for fuel for the entire distance on all of its mountain locomotives, to secure freedom from forest fires. The chief reason was the removal of danger from conflagrations in the great forests of British Columbia. The losses from fires caused by locomotives throughout the continent has been beyond computation, and the use of oil, it is thought, will reduce the danger to a minimum.

RAPID WORK.

Ore Car Invented By Duluth Man Unloaded in Ten Seconds.

A car containing 97,700 pounds of iron ore was unloaded by one man in ten seconds at the Missabe ore docks yesterday. The car was the first supplied the company by the Automatic Unloading Car company of this city. Five cars have been sold to the Missabe and a like number to the Iron Range.

Victor Rakowsky, the inventor, is president of the company, and G. A. Rakowsky is manager. The car is making an impression in the mining and railroad world and the manufacturers expect the industry to become a large one.

CANADIAN NORTHERN PLANNING NEW TRAIN.

Warroad, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new train will be put on by the Canadian Northern railway by June, or when the next change in running schedules is made. The flyer will then become a fast train and stop only at Sprague, Warroad, Baudette, Rainy River, Fort Frances and Virginia. The train is made necessary to compete with the new Duluth-Thief River Falls extension.

SAYS DENEEN IS "PRECARIOUSLY ACTIVE."

Springfield, Ill., May 17.—"You can inform your friends that there will be nothing doing this session on deep waterways."

With this announcement, Speaker Adkins, on the floor of the Illinois house, today prefaced a speech in which he flayed Governor Deneen for "intimidation" and for "interference" with the legislative program.

That the waterways measure will be sidetracked as a penalty for the governor's alleged "precarious activity" in seeking its passage, the speaker made plain in vigorous language.

DULUTH FILLED WITH OLD AND BATTERED UP PIANOS

Duluth has a startling scarcity of pianos—that is, instruments really worth while. Anyhow, that is what the deputy assessors who are now engaged in making Duluth's annual personal property assessment say.

Nearly every piano inside the corporate limits seems to have been in use for ever so many years. It has degenerated into little better than a rattle-box—so it appears to the deputies.

"Of course, it was good once," said a housewife to one of the men who is now making a house to house canvass with his little book under his arm and a shining star under his coat—the star has to be shown only in case of necessity. "But you see, it isn't valuable now. It's been used an awful lot. It will still make some kind of music, but I am not expert enough to know whether you would call it harmony or not. We are expecting to get a new piano shortly, and I don't think that we ought to be taxed for this one at all."

And so it has gone from one place to another. For divers reasons the pianos are really not what they were once. If they're worth anything at all, the value is placed at not to exceed $100 or $200. That is, by the housewife, but in many instances the deputy has an opinion of his own and has instructions to use it.

CITY BRIEFS

Thwing-Stewart Co. Both 'phones, 114.

Salvation Army Report.
Contributions to the Salvation Army in Duluth in the year ending March 29, amounted to $1,370.65. Salaries to commanding officer and assistants amounted to $817. For rent of hall $574 was expended. Fuel, light water and janitor service cost, $95.39. Stationery, printing, postage and telephone service $142.44. The work for the poor at Christmas cost $676.34. These figures were contained in the annual report presented at the meeting last evening.

Roads in Bad Shape.
David L. Faircild, a Duluth mining man, recently covered the distance between St. Paul and Duluth in an automobile. He states that the rains have put the roads in bad shape.

New Express Office.
W. D. McIntosh of Marquette, route agent of the Western Express company, was in Duluth yesterday. He was accompanied by H. S. Gallup, who will have charge of the Duluth office of the company, to be opened June 1. The Western Express company has formerly had offices with the Adams, but will have an independent office. It operates over the Soo line.

Fined $10 and Costs.
William J. Webb was fined $10 and costs in police court this morning after having been found guilty of assaulting Sidney Johnson, a colored boy, at Duluth Heights. He paid the fine. It seems that there had been some hard feeling between the two for some time past.

Fined For Trespass.
John Gradich pleaded guilty to trespass in police court this morning and paid a fine of $17. He was caught sweeping wheat from a box car in the railroad yards. A. Peterson, arrested on the same charge, got a suspended sentence.

Glad His Wife Is Away.
Gust Moline, when he was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of being drunk, fervently declared, when asked if he was married, that his wife was over in the Old Country, and that he was mighty glad of it. He admitted that he had been under the influence, and got off with the minimum sentence, $3 or three days.

Sent to County Jail.
Anton Lind and Ed Gustafson were sent to the county jail for ten days when they pleaded guilty to trespass in police court this morning. They were found asleep in the hallway of a downtown hotel.

Civil Service Examinations.
Civil service examinations for firemen, policemen and assistants at the library will be held in the council chambers of the city hall, June 1. The last day for filing applications is May 23. Blank applications may be secured from Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service commission, at his office in the health department, in the basement of the city hall.

Measles Prevalent.
Measles are more prevalent in the city at the present time than any other form of sickness, according to reports at the office of the health department. Measles are common to all parts of the city, and as usual most of the patients are children. They are being kept out of school until fully recovered. Thus far no deaths from measles have been reported. Physicians are expected to report all cases of measles which come to their attention to the health department.

Social Dance
Given by Duluth Central lodge, No. 450, M. B. A., tomorrow night, at K. of P. hall, 118 West Superior street. Tickets 50 cents. Good music. Door rights reserved.

Arraigned On Serious Charge.
A. L. Rice, arrested last night on a charge of having enticed Theresa Sauve to Duluth from Michigan for immoral purposes, asked for a preliminary examination when arraigned in police court this morning. His hearing was set for Monday afternoon. The girl claims that he induced her to come here, and he alleges that she followed him here against his wishes.

Nelson Pays Fine.
Charles Nelson, one of the four men who were caught dynamiting for brook trout at Rocky Run, near Proctor, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday and paid a fine of $52.50. Charles Johnson, who was fined the same amount for the same offense, paid his fine. Albin Johnson, another of the party, pleaded not guilty and his trial set for tomorrow afternoon. He was released on $50 bail.

Beier Funeral.
The funeral of Herman Beier, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 1528 East Fourth street. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

McIntosh Funeral.
The funeral of Roderick McIntosh will be held Friday morning from the residence of his brother, J. J. McIntosh, 113 East Second street, at 8:30 o'clock. Services will be held at Sacred Heart cathedral at 9 o'clock and interment will be in Calvary cemetery. Mr. McIntosh was a member of the Eagles and the Owls.

Hillside Club Meeting.
The Central Hillside Improvement club will hold a meeting tonight at the Franklin school. The committee on the improvement of Fifth street will report and a report is also expected from the committee which is arranging for the improvement of Sixth avenue east and Ninth street along the route of the proposed street railway extension.

COPPERS HIGHER; SHORTS IN PANIC

Values Advance as Bulls Continue Activity—Trade Broadens.

The Standard Oil decision helped the commission business in Wall street if it accomplished nothing else. Trading has increased in the last two days so that the market resembles an old-time affair with the bulls running in the shorts from every corner. Just how long this situation is going to last is problematical. The market has absorbed much realizing because of the large short interest that was eager to get under cover. The "dope" sent out today over the wires from the East urged everybody to get in quickly before it was too late. This sort of talk usually presages selling by the big holders who have gone into the market at lower levels.

The coppers were strong but did not display as much strength as the leading rails and industrials. This statement does not apply to North Butte and two or three other Cole-Ryan and Amalgamated stocks in which there apparently was a fair sized and healthy short interest. North Butte opened at $29.62½ and advanced to $31.62½, closing at $31.50. Greene sold from $6.50 to $7.25 to $6.75, Giroux at $6.18¾ to $6.68¾ and then at $6.50. Ojibway sold at $6.50 to $6.75, Superior & Pittsburg at $14.50 to $14.37½, Shattuck at $19 to $20.

Amalgamated sold at $64.75 to $66.37½ to $65.75. Butte Coalition advanced from $18.25 to $19.25. Butte Ballaklava sold at $5.25 and Calumet & Arizona sold at $51.25 to $52.75 to $52.12½.

The Eastern activity has not yet hit this market. Keating sold at $3.06¼, Summit at 52c and Red Warrior at 99c.

A special dispatch at the close to Paine, Webber & Co., from Minmi, said that the Inspiration had bought the twelve claims of the Cordova Copper company for $76,000. H. B. Hovland of this city is not in town but at his office it was said that the deal could not be confirmed. It was thought, however, that no such transaction has taken place.

BITTER OVER RECIPROCITY

Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota Speaks in the Senate.

He Predicts Ruin as a Result of the Agreement's Adoption.

Washington, May 17.—The reciprocity agreement with Canada was characterized as a "cowardly abandonment of a grave duty" in a speech delivered in the senate today by Senator Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota.

Mr. Crawford spoke for several hours in opposition to the agreement. He charged that not only would it fail to promote the general welfare, but that it would do irreparable harm to agriculture. Indeed he declared it to be a discrimination against the farmer in favor of the trusts and of Canada. He found in it especial efforts to favor the newspapers. The president's contention that it would reduce the cost of living he would not accept.

Asserting that the principal beneficiaries under the bill would be the trusts, Senator Crawford mentioned many of them, among them the linseed oil, the brewing, the distilling, the beef and the manufactured food companies.

Rap at Governor Foss.
Mr. Crawford paid his respects to Governor Foss of Massachusetts, declaring that "we have allowed Canada to tickle the adherents of Governor Foss of Massachusetts and the selfish and highly protected manufacturers of New England through this treaty into a cold-blooded betrayal of the American farmer."

He asserted that in effect Mr. Foss was laboring in behalf of the millers' and brewers' trusts of Massachusetts, rather than for a reduction of the cost of living.

Charging one great purpose of the bill to be to put newspaper print paper and wood pulp on the free list, Mr. Crawford asked why this was so. Replying to his own question, he said:

"Simply because the great newspapers and the great magazines of the United States—as a special class—aggressively organized for the purpose, demand it, and propose to get it as a special privilege.

In Role of Prophet.
Mr. Crawford fell into prophesy, saying:

"Instead of leading in the system which is developing an empire in Canada and which enables Germany and France to keep first place in the world of agriculture, commerce and manufactures, the United States will follow England in a policy which in many ways is adapted to the needs of the two small islands known as Great Britain, but which is not adapted to the needs of a nation like ours—the possessor of half a continent with infinite possibilities in the yet undeveloped resources of its soil; the adoption of a policy in which the country is to yield forever the scepter of power and influence of the city; a policy which will soon change the entire character of our institutions and the quality of our citizenship."

UNKNOWN MAN SAVES FOURTEEN FROM FIRE.

New York, May 17.—One hundred milliners employed in an old-fashioned East side factory poured out on the fire escapes and rushed down two flights of burning stairs, when fire broke out today below them, on the first floor. Several fainted and an unknown man braved the flames and carried out fourteen women from the building. There were no serious injuries and the damage was slight.

IN SOLITUDE EVERY ANNIVERSARY OF CRIME.

Belleville, Ill., May 17.—Edward McCurran and Charles Carmin, coal miners of Lebanon, Ill., were each sentenced to imprisonment for life by Judge Hadley today for killing William Campe, a farm hand, in a street fight in Lebanon last Dec. 18.

Judge Hadley sentenced McCurran and Carmin to solitary confinement Dec. 18 of every year they live. He said that he did this that they might spend the anniversary of their crime in meditation.

MANUFACTURERS BLAME THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

New York, May 17.—The public schools were condemned for not including in their curriculum a better system of industrial training, in a report presented to the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers today by the committee on education. H. E. Miles of Racine, Wis., chairman of the committee, advocated industrial or "continued" schools, on the plan of those in France, Germany and Belgium.

For Postmaster at Tyler.
Washington, May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The president today nominated Thomas T. Gronlund for postmaster at Tyler, Minn.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

Last September we opened our store with full intention of filling a long felt want in this city—our aim was to sell high-class wearing apparel for the entire family at lower prices than the Duluth people have been forced to pay heretofore. Our business was a huge success from the standpoint of patronage; people who realized the savings they were able to effect by trading here were our staunch supporters, BUT THE YEAR 1911 brought a money stringency such as Duluth has NEVER KNOWN and we were therefore unable to raise SUFFICIENT CAPITAL to carry on our business on the EXTENSIVE SCALE we established, fearing to become deeply involved and having a higher opinion of our reputation than the mighty dollars.

We have decided to close out our entire stock and pay our creditors 100 cents on the dollar. We were fortunate in disposing of our long lease and our fixtures to I. Miller of New York, who will take possession of our store on Aug. 1st.

STORE IS NOW CLOSED for the purpose of arranging and marking down our entire stock to effect QUICK AND ABSOLUTE DISPOSAL.

DULUTH TAX CASE ENDED

Telephone Suit Dismissed on Motion for the City.

State Gross Earnings Levy Covers Payments By Company.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—On motion of the state in behalf of the City of Duluth, the case wherein the legality of the act empowering the state to collect gross earnings taxes from a telephone company and appropriating all moneys thus received to the state treasury, was dismissed in the supreme court this morning.

The action was brought by Duluth against the Duluth Telephone company, to require it to pay taxes into the city treasury. In reply, the company said it paid a state gross earnings tax and hence was exempt from local taxation. The state lent its name to the case in behalf of the city.

In supreme court today Attorney John G. Williams and Assistant Attorney General W. J. Stevenson filed a motion for dismissal, reciting that "since the perfecting of the appeal, the appellant had decided to abide by the decision and judgment of the lower court."

Accordingly, all moneys received from the Duluth Telephone company on gross earnings will go to the state treasury.

POTASH CONFERENCE AGREES UPON PRICES.

Hamburg, May 17.—The German-American potash conference today reached a full agreement regarding the prices of potash and for an adjustment of a supercontingent tax. The text of the agreement is now being drafted and new contracts will be arranged immediately.

GOOD TRUSTS TRIUMPH BY THE OIL DECISION

Supreme Court by Construing "Unreasonable" Combine Aids Business.

Chicago, Ill., May 17.—John Parr, special Wall street correspondent of the Journal wires: Organized capital has won a great victory. Though the stock market is up 2 to 3 points all around, the extent of the victory has not yet been appreciated. True, the Standard Oil company lost, but that is immaterial. The one thing organized capital has wanted most, and the one thing it despaired of, was to get the word "unreasonable" put into the sherman anti-trust law. The hope of inducing congress to do it was almost nil. But the United States supreme court, eight to one, has construed that word into the law.

At first thought one might think that things are pretty much as they were before, except that the Standard Oil company has been ordered to dissolve, but things are not as they were. The law was that every combination in restraint of interstate trade was illegal. The court holds now that only unreasonable combinations, which unreasonably restrain interstate trade, are illegal. It believes, eight to one, that the law was intended to reach only unreasonable contracts, conspiracies and combinations. It holds that the Sherman anti-trust law, in other words, must be construed as being in agreement with the common law.

Harlan Explains Ruling.
It holds, furthermore, that if the Sherman anti-trust act could not be so construed it might be necessary for the court to call it unconstitutional on the ground that it could not be enforced, and if there is any doubt in the reader's mind as to the meaning of all these things let him read the one dissenting opinion, that of Justice Harlan, and be satisfied. Justice Harlan tells us exactly what the court has done and he disapproves, but that is of no present matter. It would be unreasonable to suppose that because of this decision business will begin at once to boom, but the psychological effect of it is bound to be tremendous, and business is about three-fifths governed by psychology.

There will be more combinations. All that is required is that combinations shall be reasonable and not unreasonably restrain trade and commerce between the states.

There will be a copper combination. One can see how the decision may be abused, but that it will be utilized to the utmost none can doubt.

The reason Steel common advanced so enthusiastically upon it is that the Steel trust is believed to be a good trust. Only the bad trusts need fear.

Operators Buy Heavily.
Today's buying was by no means all for the short account. Operators, speculators who have not been in the market for a long time bought heavily in London before London understood. The great underlying short interest, actual and mental, has not yet been touched.

The Standard Oil people are out of stocks and stocks are suddenly more desirable to other people than they have been for many months. The business of the Standard Oil company will go on as before under other names and in different corporate forms, but conducted by the same owners. Before the opening this morning all selling orders in Standard Oil stock were withdrawn. In two days American Tobacco has advanced 30 points. That shows what even the losers think of the effect of the decision. The Standard Oil company has technically lost, and the American Tobacco people expect the same harmless fate.

RECOVERED HIS FATHER'S ROD.
Grimsby News: Last year a fisherman, tired of unsuccessful dangling of worm, lay back in a boat for a smoke. Suddenly there came a grab, and bang over the boat side flew the rod—a sad occurrence, for like the ax in the classic story it was a borrowed one. The fishing rod disappeared completely, and the angler went back to his father to make the best of the affair that he could.

This year he has had the felicity of restoring the rod to his parent. Fishing in the same loch the other day he caught the same fish. There is no doubt about his identification of it, because it got it out. In its mouth was an ancient hook. Attached to the hook was his last year's tackle, beyond the tackle his old familiar line and when he had pulled the line in up came his father's rod.

Veterans, Militia, School Boys and Fraternal Societies All in Line.

Oldest Veteran Will Lead—Boy Scouts Will Also Take Part.

Grand Marshal of the Day Lieut. Col. F. E. Resche, Third infantry, M. N. G., has already outlined the plan for the monster Memorial day parade, and the details of it are being whipped into shape just as rapidly as possible.

According to the official program, the parade will form on the lower side of First street, at the Armory. It will be headed by an escort of police, immediately followed by the honorary grand marshal of the day. It is interesting to note that this honor is reserved for the oldest G. A. R. veteran in the city, Comrade John G. Rakowski, who is 87 years of age. Veteran Rakowski will ride in an automobile and will be accompanied by a staff composed of the three next oldest Grand Army veterans.

Grand Marshal Resche, riding at the head of the first division, will follow the automobile of the honorary grand marshal, and then will come the state's forces, the Minnesota National Guard, under the immediate command of Maj. H. V. Eva and the Minnesota naval militia, commanded by Commander Guy Eaton. As both the naval militia and the National Guard are well drilled, fine appearing bodies of American citizen soldiers, they will command a great deal of attention.

The second division will be composed of members of the Citizens' Staff, the patriotic members of the community who have banded themselves together for the purpose of assisting in the proper observance of this day and who, from their pockets, meet the expenses of the celebration. The Citizens' Staff will be in charge of Col. H. L. Dresser and his adjutant, Capt. C. B. Dunning, and will be mustered in sections, as follows:

Section 1. Lakeside members in charge of John H. Wharton, aided by A. H. Davenport.

Sec. 2. East end members in charge of A. H. Wurtele, aided by W. Howe, Jr.

Sec. 3.—Central members in charge of H. F. Sleepack, aided by A. B. Siewert.

Sec. 4. West end members in charge of J. J. Moe, aided by M. Stidd.

Sec. 5. West Duluth members in charge of F. W. Joliz, aided by L. A. Barnes.

The speakers and singers of the day will be in the second division, in carriages.

Third Division.

The third division will be composed of the city's fraternal orders and the Boy Scouts. When President Williamson of the Citizens' Staff began his preparations for this year's Memorial day, he was shown the program of about the first Decoration day celebration in Duluth, back in 1872. This program is in possession of Col. Asa Dailey of Gorman Post, who has carefully preserved it all these years, and on this program appears the names of the fraternal orders taking part in the celebration. Mr. Williamson at once became imbued with the idea of inviting the fraternal orders to take part this year, and when he later suggested it to members of his staff and the patriotic orders he found that they all strongly favored extending such an invitation and that it was the desire of all concerned to have every man possible in the parade.

School Boys Next.

The fourth division will be composed of the boys from the high school and the Washington, Jefferson, Endion, Lakeside, Washburn and Lester Park schools.

The fifth division will be made up of the boys of the Franklin, Jackson, Nettleton, Lowell, Emerson, Whittier and Webster schools.

The sixth division will be composed of the boys of the West Duluth Industrial High school, and all the West end and West Duluth schools not already mentioned.

The seventh division will be made up of the parochial schools.

The G. A. R. Veterans.

The eighth division will contain the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic in automobiles, escorted by the G. A. R. drum corps, the two camps of the United Spanish War Veterans and the Sons of Veterans. Naturally the great interest in the parade will center around the automobiles in which the gallant men of '61 will ride. The day, of course, is intended for all soldiers who gave their lives for their country, but it is in a particular sense, a G. A. R. day. It is the special day of the year that custom has set aside for doing them honor, for showing them respect and gratitude for the work they did.

The line of march will be down Second avenue east to Superior street, thence west to Fifth avenue west, thence north to First street, thence east to Third avenue west. At this point the parade will form and be reviewed by the veterans of the Grand Army in automobiles, after which the march will be continued to the Auditorium where the great mass meeting will be held.

OPPOSES LA FOLLETTE BILL.

Manufacturers Hear Report of Committee at New York.

New York, May 17.—The legislative committe of the National Association of Manufacturers reported at yesterday's session of the convention its opposition to Senator LaFollette's bill in relation to the removal of government employes. The committee believes it would be dangerous to permit government employes to take membership in organizations whose obligations might require them to take part in strikes and boycotts against the public interests. It reported that the eight hour day had led to extravagance in government expenses.

The committee on merchant marine favored the passage of a bill providing for postal compensation to establish an American steamship service to the principal countries of South America and to Australia, Japan, China and the Philippines.

Harrison G. Otis Talks.

Gen. Harrison G. Otis, proprietor of the Los Angeles Times, addressed the convention.

"The question," he said, "is whether a small minority shall be permitted to dominate a great majority of labor, which majority does not desire to antagonize employers."

Speaking of the explosion that wrecked his newspaper plant and killed twenty-one persons, Gen. Otis said.

"Had the Los Angeles Times, its workmen and its owners all been destroyed, the world would have little reckoned nor long remembered the event. But the world can never forget the great principle of industrial liberty, which, as sacred as any other form of liberty is menaced throughout the whole land."

THREE MORE IN OHIO GRAFT NET

One Senator and Two Representatives Are Accused of Soliciting Bribes.

Columbus, Ohio., May 17.—Senator Edgar T. Crawford of Carroll county, and Representative A. Clark Lowry of Lawrence county, Republicans, and Representative Owen J. Owens of Stark county, Democrat, were indicted by the grand jury for bribe solicitation.

Crawford is alleged to have asked $200 from W. H. Cook of Springfield, secretary of the Ohio Butchers' & Grocers' association, in connection with trading stamp legislation.

Lowry, against whom an indictment had previously been returned on the evidence of detectives, is now charged with soliciting $1,500 from Opha Moore, secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers' association, for his vote on the nine-hour day for women bill.

Evans is alleged to have solicited a bribe of $650 from John F. Weiss of Canton, secretary of the Stark-Tuscarawas Breweries, for his vote on one of the city local option bills.

The indicted legislators entered their appearance and gave bond of $5,000 each.

Representative Evans is a fellow townsman of Senator Atlee Pomerene, who testified before the grand jury. Pomerene's namp was presented in the legislature as a candidate for the United States senate by Evans.

Following its report, the grand jury was excused from duty until May 23. The trials of the indicted assemblymen will commence Thursday.

Humanity in War.

Emperor Marcus Aurelius was the first warrior to claim that a soldier, as a man had certain rights as his due. He held that capture by the sword, or any other accident of war did not deprive him of these rights, nor in any way shake or diminish them. Now, centuries afterward, more modern statesmen are arguing that every man has the right to his belief in golden grain belt beers, which no circumstance of majority or power can take away from him. Order a case and find the reason. Get supplied by your nearest dealer, or minneapolis brewing company duluth branch.

FLOODWOOD NOW HAS CREAMERY

It Is Co-Operative Concern and Began Business With Good Patronage.

Floodwood, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The newly organized Floodwood Co-operative Creamery association commenced business Monday morning, and although the weather was unfavorable which prevented a number of farmers from bringing in their cream, 1,000 pounds of cream were brought in by a number of patrons, and with the co-operation among the farmers in this vicinity the success of the new enterprise is assured.

The creamery is located on the old school house site, the old school building being remodeled and equipped with the very best of machinery and material at a cost of $3,500. The association was fortunate in securing E. Johnson of Maple Plains, Minn., an efficient buttermaker and under whose supervision the work of remodeling and installing the machinery was successfully completed. The prizes of the contest for a name of the butter which is made by the Foodwood creamery and which closed May 15, were awarded as follows: First prize of $2.50 and name selected being "Golden Rod" by Miss Florence Bailey of Elmer, Minn.; second prize $1.50 being awarded Bertha Am Orde of Floodwood, and Third prize of $1 being awarded Frieda Wilder of Floodwood, these prizes being donated by the First State bank.

APPROVE PEACE PLAN.

Canadians Indorse British-American Arbitration Scheme.

Ottawa, Ont., May 17.—Hearty approval of the British-American peace plan was coupled with criticism of the waterways treaty in the house yesterday. Mr. McGrath of Alberta declared that Canada had much the worst of the bargain.

Opposition Leader Borden said the speech of President Taft for permanent arbitration between Great Britain and the United States will rank as one of the most memorable utterances of our time. Instead of making individual treaties with the United States, Mr. Borden thought Canada should aid in negotiations between the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Pugsley, minister of public works, said the government held similar views of the peace proposals. In a smaller way, he added, the waterways treaty would aid in the removal of friction between the two nations.

The bill was put through its second reading.

THREE MINNESOTA GIRLS TAKE THE VEIL.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 17.—Twenty-two young women took the white veil at Malmschrodt convent here today. Bishop Hobanal of Scranton, presided. Among those who received the veil were:

Catharine Wagner, Waconia, Minn.; Veronica Homan, Le Mars, Iowa; Cima Blankenburg, Milwaukee; Anna Wiltgen, Le Mars, Iowa; Cecelia Gangelhoff, Minneapolis, and Elizabeth Harvey, Waconia, Minn.

GREENE NOMINATED TO SUCCEED W. I. SMITH.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, May 17.—After taking 130 ballots, W. R. Greene of Audubon was last night nominated by the Ninth congressional district convention of Republicans to succeed Former Congressman Walter I. Smith. The convention was deadlocked during the entire afternoon and until late at night, when Judge Greene was selected. The Democrats nominated W. F. Cleveland, who had no opposition.

CLAPP LAUDS OREGON PLAN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Charleston, W. Va., May 17.—Holding up the Oregon plan as a model primary election law for other states, United States Senator Moses F. Clapp of Minnesota last night addressed the West Virginia legislature upon invitation of Governor Glasscock.

Democratic leaders who oppose the primary election law, which was made the subject of the call for the extraordinary session convened yesterday, asserted that the legislature will vote to adjourn probably next Thursday and that the proposed law will be left suspended in mid-air.

FREED OF CHARGE THAT THEY TOLD GIRL TO STEAL.

Chicago, May 17.—Francisco Schielvone and his family were acquitted of the charge of having induced Angelina Schielvone, daughter of a West side Italian banker, to steal nearly $100,000 from her father and to turn it over to them.

The girl, upon the arrest of the family, Francisco Schielvone being her uncle, told a story of having been induced to take the amount alleged to have been stolen in small amounts from time to time. Her story was uncorroborated and the family was acquitted.

Later, in civil actions, a master in chancery held that Francisco's family must return $96,705 to the banker. The objections to this order were sustained by Judge Theodore Brentano and the girl's testimony was declared unconvincing by the court.

HOFFSTOT FOUND NOT GUILTY OF BRIBERY.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 17.—Frank N. Hoffstot, the banker-manufacturer of New York city, was acquitted on the charge of bribery in connection with the bank depository ordinance exposed in the councilmanic graft crusade. A week ago a jury disagreed in a case of conspiracy against Hoffstot. The bribery case went to the jury late yesterday afternoon and the verdict was returned in a little more than an hour.

The case had been on trial for two days, and after the failure of an effort by his attorneys to have the court instruct the jury to return a verdict finding him not guilty, Hoffstot went on the stand in his own behalf. He denied that he had any knowledge of the bribery of councilmen to pass the bank depository ordinance until after the exposure of the councilmanic scandal.

CHAUFFEUR PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Edward F. Appling, chauffeur of P. McDonnell, well-known local contractor, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with exceeding the speed limit on Superior streeet. The warrant was sworn to by Howard T. Abbott, president of the Duluth Automobile club.

The organization has gone on record as favoring enforcement of the laws regulating the speed of automobiles in the city, and has asked its members to aid the authorities in putting an end to scorching on the city streets, particularly in the downtown sections.

It is stated that E. J. Bunker and W. B. Dunlop were with Mr. Abbott at the time of the alleged speeding, and that they will appear as witnesses when the case comes up for trial next Wednesday morning, the chauffeur having entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. McDonnell, who is said to have been in his car at the time, is a member of the Duluth Automobile club.

MONTHLY MEETING OF CREDIT MEN.

A general improvement in trade conditions was reported as the result of the general rainfall over the Northwest at the regular monthly meeting of the Duluth Jobbers' Credit Men's association. Other matters of interest to the jobbing trade were discussed and the outlook was found favorable.

The delegates named to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men were J. O. Lenning, W. B. Cross, F. E. Church and R. W. Higgins. The alternates selected were Colin Thomson, J. Sedgwick, W. L. McKay and W. A. Worley. The national convention will be held at Minneapolis June 13-15.

UNITARIANS MEET IN HOOSIER CAPITAL.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17.—Yesterday's session of the fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Western Unitarian conference, which opened here Monday night, was given over to meetings of the women's auxiliary. The conference represents more than 100 churches in the following states: Nebraska, Kentucky, Ohio, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Morton D. Hull is the presiding officer and Rev. George A. Thayer, pastor of President Taft's home church in Cincinnati, is vice president.

Carlisle Loss $125,000.

Carlisle, Ky., May 17.—Fire of unknown origin caused a loss of more than $125,000 in this city yesterday. It burned about eight hours and was brought under control shortly after noon only with the aid of fire apparatus from Paris and Millersburg, Ky. The flames destroyed four tobacco warehouses, containing 150,000 pounds of tobacco; the Louisville & Nashville railroad freight and passenger depots, and three dwellings. No one was injured.

Hetty Green Hires Office.

New York, May 17.—Mrs. Hetty Green is to have her own office for the first time in her notable career as a financier. She has taken a lease of rooms in a big office building in the Wall street district next to that recently rented by William E. Corey, former president of the United States Steel corporation.

Hundreds to be Arrested.

West Union, Ohio, May 17.—Thirty-six warrants for the arrest of indicted vote-sellers who have failed to come in voluntarily were issued yesterday. Judge Blair estimates that between 400 and 500 more arrests will be made on warrants still to be issued.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT BLOOD HUMORS

ECZEMA ACNE TETTER SALT RHEUM PIMPLES RASHES AND ALL ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN

The intimate relation of the skin to the blood is shown by the fact that impurities or poisons of any character are usually manifested in some form on the outer cuticle. The germs of fever in the blood will cause a flushing and redness of the skin; in like manner the uric acid of Rheumatism will cause inflammation, while malarious poison produces a sallow and chalky hue; and so with other impurities.

The skin is a real barometer to the blood, and the character of impurity infecting the circulation is determined by the effects on the outer tissue. Humors in the blood produce what we term in general, Skin Diseases. These are divided into several classes known as Eczema Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Pimples, Rashes, etc., and each of these troubles indicate the presence of humors or acids in the circulation. The humors and acids by their irritating nature cause the delicate flesh just beneath the outer skin to ulcerate and discharge, and soon the skin is disfigured with eruptions which often are torturing to the sufferer because of soreness or intense itching. External treatment cannot cure an internal trouble, and for this reason salves, washes, lotions, etc., can have no curative effect on skin diseases. Such treatment can perhaps soothe, and make the irritated flesh more comfortable, but the real cause must be removed by purifying the blood before skin trouble can be cured.

I want to tell you of the great good I received from the use of S. S. S. I am now 75 years old and had suffered with Eczema for forty years caused by a humor in my blood, and could find nothing to cure me until I tried S. S. S. I suffered intensely with the itching and burning; pustules would form from which there flowed a sticky fluid; crusts would come on the skin and when scratched off the skin was left as raw as a piece of beef. I suffered agony the long years I was afflicted, but when I used S. S. S. I found a perfect cure. There has never been any return of the trouble.
Stockham, Neb. C. H. EVANS.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by purifying the blood and removing the humors from the circulation. It neutralizes all impure acids, cools the over-heated blood, builds it up to normal strength, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin instead of being irritated by acrid impurities and humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by pure, rich blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

He Is 55 Years Old But Young in Vitality

I can show you how to restore your youth and how to keep it. A "Health Belt" man CANNOT grow old; he must be young forever. Years count for nothing in this life, so long as you have great vitality. Weakness, Nervousness, Unmanliness are conditions to be laughed at by the intelligent user of my great appliance, for it gives, in abundance, all that vim, vigor and nerve force which the weakened system craves. Worn every night and all night for two or three months, it sends a great, warm glowing volume of electricity into your body through the nerve centers at small of back; from the first hour's use you experience a decided benefit; there is a great mysterious force which gets right to work. No conditions imposed except that dissipation must cease. Help Nature that much; the Belt will do the rest. It takes the weakness and kink out of your back; it drives rheumatic pains away from all parts of the body; you will feel and look young and strong again; women and men noticing your physical change will be more attracted toward you on account of your new vitality and life; in two months you can experience the full vigor of perfect manhood. Charles L. Snell of Middleport, N. Y., writes: "Your Health Belt cured me of Nervous Debility, Lost Vigor, Kidney and Bladder troubles after all else failed." This is but one testimonial among thousands which you may see if you care to.

Let Me Send You This Book FREE

It fully describes my Health Belt, and contains much valuable information. One part deals with various ailments common to both men and women, such as rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. The other part is a private treatise for men only. WITH THE FIGHTERS

News has reached here of the matching of Tommy Gary and Danny Goodman, both of whom are possible prospective opponents of Pal Brown, the little Hibbing fighter.

Goodman is at the present writing being considered as an opponent of Brown, and Gary's manager has asked that his boy be given a return battle. For that reason fight fans in this neck of the woods will watch, with considerable interest, the outcome of the meeting, which is carded for Hammond, Ind.

The news dispatches stating that Packy McFarland will meet Knockout Brown, Owen Moran or Ad Wolgast, the opponent to be selected by the club, will be of considerable interest to fight fans throughout the country.

Leaving Knockout Brown out of the argument for the time being, it will generally be admitted that Moran, McFarland and Wolgast are the class of the lightweight division. The winner of a finish fight between the best two of this competing trio would surely be the best boy in the country today. Therefore an elimination meeting will be of very great interest.

It has been stated, in this paper, several times in the past that Jack Parres was through as a boxer and was simply stalling for the price of sinkers. The beating that he received from Art Godfrey the other evening will go further to convince some of the knowing ones that the once terror of the rough and tumble fighters is down and out and has lost even his ability to take punishment, which was the only asset he ever had. When a fighter wont even train and get into condition, it is time that he was out of the ring anyway.

Parres is the first man of Godfrey's weight that the Minneapolis scrapper has met around these parts. As Parres has even passed from the class of the good old trial horses, there yet remains some doubt as to the ability of young Mister Godfrey against some good man of his own weight.

Any doubting Thomas can simply refer back to the artistic lacing that was handed to Godfrey by one Safro of the Minneapolis town.

Since Chuck Larsen has fought in thes parts, and further, since he is at the present time hankering for a return match with Pal Brown, the following item, culled from one of the Chicago papers, may be of interest to some of the fans in this part of the country:

"Packey McFarland yesterday placed his stamp of approval on that fair-haired Swedish battler, Chuck Larsen, after he had seen him work out at O'Connell's, says the Chicago Record-Herald.

"'That boy is a comer and I think that he will figure up around the top in the lightweight class some of these days,' said the master of cleverness from the stockyards. 'He has a lot of things in his favor that other fellows haven't. He is ambitious and hard-working and is as straight and clean as any boxer I ever saw. Of course, it takes more qualities than that to make a fighter, but I think Larsen has them. He is a clever youngster, but, with his cleverness, he retains the ability to take punishment. He has that other essential—the kick—and knows how to use it. One great thing that you can say about Larsen is that he is always in condition and ready to fight any distance any time.'

"McFarland's praise for Larsen was called out when the stockyards boy was hunting for a sparring partner for his afternoon training bout. A bystander suggested Larsen, but Eddie Kane, Chuck's manager, refused to let his boy box Packey, saying that some of these days he expected them to fight.

"As a matter of fact Packey and Chuck did fight once, a number of years ago, on a street corner out around the yards. The kid scrap started over some trivial disagreement, and the lads mixed it with bare fists. Neither had ever been tutored in the fine points of the art of fisticuffs; but were willing just the same. The fight lasted until a copper came along and stopped the fun and it could have been called a nice draw.

"'That was one of the toughest fights I ever had before I knew anything about the game,' said Packey. 'We were both bleeding and bunged up considerably when we were pulled apart, but our enmity didn't last long.'

"Larsen's latest achievement was a victory over Tommy Moore, Tommy Mowatt's fast youngster, in Cedar Rapids. Larsen is booked to meet Micky Sheridan in a 10-round go before the Coliseum A. C., in East Chicago. The fight was billed for May 16, but on account of the Brown-Clabby go at Hammond the same week it will probably be postponed until May 22. The match should bring out a good fight. Sheridan has attracted the attention of experts of the boxing game in his workouts with Joe Choynski, Packey McFarland and others. Sheridan made a dandy showing in his workout with Packey yesterday."

Reports come from Minneapolis that Oscar Gardner, a famous featherweight years ago, and the same man who was robbed out of the chance to lick Terry McGovern is the present manager of Tommy Crawford, who has some hope left of being a hope.

This will be some interesting news to Bill Steele.

McGraw Suspended.

New York, May 17.—President Lynch of the National league today suspended Manager John J. McGraw of the New York National league team for three days, as the result of McGraw's trouble at yesterday's New York-St. Louis game here with Umpire Finneran.

May Fight Labor Day.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 17.—Tom McCarry, manager of the Pacific Athletic club of this city, said today that he was assured that articles would soon be signed between Wolgast and McFarland, and that the fight would take place on Labor day, as scheduled. He said that the managers of both boxers had agreed to the terms.

Will Meet at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., May 17.—Grover Hayes, the Philadelphia lightweight, will meet Freddy Kelly, also of the Quaker City, in a 10-round bout at the New Orleans A. C., May 28.

Frankie Conly and Joe Coster, the featherweights who will meet for a 20-round fight at the West Side A. C. on May 28, have established training quarters here.

Rockford Buys Pitcher.

Rockford, Ill., May 17.—The Rockford club of the Illinois and Wisconsin league, yesterday purchased Cyrill Slapnicka, a pitcher from the Toledo American association club.

MEN WHO BUY FLOWERS.

New York Sun: "I suppose I unconsciously speculate about every order of flowers that goes out of this shop," said the florist as he arranged some American beauties. "There's something so personal, so intimate about flowers. That is, of course, when a man buys them.

"About the funniest customer I have is a man who buys flowers for spite. Yes, sir, for spite. It seems that during a long siege for the hand of the lady who is now his wife he fairly smothered her in flowers. I dreaded the end of the romance, that is to say, their marriage.

"Well, they were married about two years ago and I was a bit surprised that afterward there was no falling off in his floral offerings. As he isn't a rich man by any means, it did seem unusual. One day I ventured to compliment him about it. He looked kind of grim for a minute and then he said:

"'I'm afraid there isn't as much pretty sentiment in it as you imagine. I know my wife would rather have the money for other things. But it's a sore point with me and I'll keep it up if it takes my last dollar.

"'You see I had a rival and he remarked one day that he bet I wouldn't keep up the gifts of flowers after I got Louise. Other friends of mine said the same thing. Well, when they come up to our place any old time they just have to eat their words.'

"What do you think of those white lilacs for this season of the year? Speaking of flowers out of season reminds me of a scrape a young married man got into because he was weak on botany. He came in here wild eyed one afternoon in September and asked for arbutus.

"'That's a spring flower,' I told him, 'and we can't cultivate it. It's produced under freak conditions that can't be imitated.'

"'Good Lord,' says he, 'what am I going to do?'

"'What have you already done?' I asked.

"'Why, I went up in the country to stay a day or so with a friend who has a bungalow. I wanted to stay a day longer than my wife approved, but I thought it would square things if I sent a telegram that I wanted to stay over and pick her some arbutus.

"'It was a sweetly thoughtful idea and she's romantic enough to like that sort of thing. Well, I couldn't find a wild flower but goldenrod and bigeyed Susans. But I thought you'd have 'em,' he added, reproachfully. 'Well, what have you got that will do? Some queer flower that might look as if it grew on a hillside—little, dinky blossoms?'

"I showed him everything we had in the place. Autumn is low market for novelties. He was desperate. Now I get interested in a case like that. It sort of gets my professional pride up. Then I had a happy thought.

"'Is the lady up on botany?' I asked.

"'Doesn't know the wild flowers from the birds,' he said. 'But she knows everything that grows under glass.'

"Well, I had an inspiration. A ship from a German port had just docked and I sent down and bought all the stock they had left of those pretty, little starry flowers called the Kaiser's Favorite. They filled the bill exactly.

"'Now would you believe it,' went on the flower merchant, 'bookkeepers buy more flowers for wedding anniversaries than men in any other following? At least that has been my experience.

"'I suppose it is because they deal so constantly in dates. For instance, as a bookkeeper writes the day of the month in his ledger he suddenly notices something familiar about it. 'June 24,' he repeats. Then it comes home to him that so many years ago today he was married.

"'On the way home he buys two or three dozen carnations to surprise his wife. Carnations are showy and they are inexpensive.

"'Another significance a carnation always has for me is the number of white-haired old dandies who stop in every morning for a pink one for their buttonholes. There's one type of man who is never seen without one. They are usually stout, pink-faced, suave, keep their white mustaches closely trimmed and are very polite to ladies.

"'Here comes a high hat. His order will be either violets or orchids. Probably to show some hostess that 'eaten bread is not soon forgot.'

"'Orchids? Yes, sir. We have some very fine ones today. Three dozen to Mrs. Josiah oJnes. Yes, sir; I'll give it my immediate attention. Thank you.'"

THE STAGE.

Chicago News: "A new honor has been thrust upon me, and I'm going to elevate the stage," said the retired merchant, with pardonable pride. "The Sons of Herminus have decided to give an entertainment to raise funds for new sashes and swords, and I have been chosen as the heavy tragedian in a great heart drama called 'The Bandit Chief.' I am to be the bandit chief, and it surely will be worth 50 cents of any man's money to see me wading to my boot tops in blood. I also utter peals of demoniac laughter at frequent intervals, and these peals alone will be worth the price of admission. I hope you will occupy a front seat and lead the applause when I push a wooden dagger into the vitals of Algernon Quincey de Vere, the villian of the piece, in impotent rage every now and then."

"So they've induced you to appear as the star in an amateur crime of that sort, have they?" asked the hotel keeper. "Well, every man makes a fool of himself in that way at least once in his life, and if you've never done it before it's your turn now. There's a lot of grief in store for you, my friend.

"Every man imagines he's an actor until something happens to take the conceit out of him. I used to go to all the shows that came to town, and I'd sit in the parquet and look wise and shake my head as though I never had seen such doggone acting. Then next day I'd discuss the play and explain where this actor fell down and where that actress made a botch of things, and I seemed to know so much about the business that my opinions had considerable weight with my friends. I was honest in my criticisms, too, for I really thought I could get up before an audience and do a better stunt as Julius Caesar or Hamlet than any of the professionals I saw.

"Well, finally some charity cranks undertook to give an entertainment for the benefit of the deserving poor, and I was asked to take the leading role. The play was founded on the adventures of William Tell, and as soon as the curtain rose on the first act William loomed up in the foreground and struck an attitude, as though he was going to have a cabinet picture taken, and gave a list of the things he was going to do to the tyrants who had their heels on his country's neck.

"We had about a million rehearsals, and I stacked up a mile high at them. All my fellow actors predicted that I was going to score a triumph, and I felt that way about it myself. But when the eventful night came and I stood up before a crowded house, with a lot of red and blue fire playing over me, the stuff was all off. I discovered that it's one thing to do a stunt at a rehearsal and another to play the game before an acre of people.

"I struck the correct attitude all right, and shook my aluminum sword, but I couldn't think of a thing to say. I knew that it was up to me to roast the tyrants, but the exact language has escaped my mind, and I stood there shaking my sword and spluttering and sweating blood, and if a man had come along with a wooden dime he could have bought me.

"Everybody dropped to the fact that I had forgotten my lines, and you never heard so much innocent merriment as there was in that hall. Women just wrung their hands and shrieked, and men climbed on their seats and danced with happiness. Then the sports in the gallery began throwing things at me, and it was a great relief when a couple of friends took me by the ankles and pulled me off the stage.

"For a year afterward people called me Edwin Booth and Sir Henry Irving, and I never walked around a block that I didn't have a scrap. But you go ahead. Every man must collect his own experience."

RING 3,200 YEARS OLD.

London Globe: The Musee Guimet of Paris has just acquired a priceless treasure, provided that it will bear investigation better than did the notorious tiara of the Louvre a few years ago. M. Guimet, whose name the museum bears, is an antiquarian and a voluminous writer on antiquities. He seems quite satisfied that he has added to his collection a ring of the time of Rameses II, who flourished about 1,300 years before our era.

The ring was acquired from a family of Grenoble in whose possession it had been for long years and the former owners produced documents which satisfied M. Guimet as to the authenticity of his acquisition. The ring bears hieroglyphic inscriptions showing it had graced the hand of Nefritarimeri Mout, one of the wives of the once powerful monarch of Egypt.

The ring is of thick gold carrying a cornelian stone rectangular, large and flat. The stone is enclosed in gold and the ring itself is ornamented with a fillet of gold. The stone tells the story in hieroglyphics, said to represent the king and Nefritarimeri. The perfection of the entaillure is considered a proof of the genuineness of the ring, for the modern engraver seldom succeeds with that sureness of cut which is the wonder and admiration of all who are familiar with the engraving of the ancients.

The ring, we are further told, although gracing the hand of a court beauty of Egypt in the depths of past ages, would not be much sought after by a fashionable lady today.

MAY ERECT NEW THEATER

Sullivan & Considine Circuit Wants Larger Theater in Duluth.

H. C. Robertson of Chicago, general manager of the Sullivan and Considine circuit, is in Duluth today the guest of Joseph Mtitland, after attending the opening of the new Empress theater at St. Paul.

This theater is considered one of the finest in America. Mr. Robertson says that business over the entire circuit, as a whole is very good. "The circuit now comprises a chain of theaters, with one or two exceptions, that are modern in every respect. During the past season, the Sullivan and Considine circuit has erected theaters in Kansas City, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Seattle. All of these theaters are modern throughout and have a seating capacity of not less than 1,700 and as high as 2,200. The circuit also has first-class theaters in Los Angeles, Oakland, Stockton, San Diego, Ogden, Sacramento, Portland, Vancouver, Victoria, Tacoma, Spokane, Butte, Denver, St. Louis, Louisville, Winnipeg, Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth. Each of the above theaters have a seating capacity of from 1,500 to 2,00 with the exception of Duluth and Minneapolis. My visit to Duluth is merely to look over the situation and decide whether we shall enlarge the present Empress or erect a new theater. Sullivan and Considine are now giving Duluth as good a class of vaudeville as can be seen any place in the country. The shows are all booked at New York and are comprised of picked acts, which travel intact over the entire circuit.

"What we want is a better theater for Duluth. Duluth is growing rapidly and is bound to become an important factor in the theatrical world."

Mr. Robertson will leave tonight for Chicago.

ANTI-TRUST BILLS OFFERED SENATE

Four Senators Seek to Make Sherman Law More Drastic.

Washington, May 17.—The expected renewal of anti-trust legislation following the Standard Oil decision in the supreme court came today when Senators Jones of Washington, Brown of Nebraska, Culberson of Texas and Reed of Missouri introduced bills to amend the Sherman law.

The bills are designed to offset the interpretation of the law as laid down by Chief Justice White, and to take away from courts the discretion to differentiate between "good" and "bad" trusts.

BOY INJURED BY GOVERNOR'S AUTO

Executive's Father-in-Law Has Accident While Driving Car.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor A. O. Eberhart, who reached St. Paul from the West this morning, was a visitor at the bedside of C. A. Dahlquist, an 18-year-old Minneapolis boy, who was injured yesterday by the governor's automobile, driven by his father-in-law, Fred Kobe.

It is reported that young Dalquist will be about again in a few days. None of the wounds is serious.

There is little liklihood that charges will be placed against Mr. Kobe or other members of the party. Witnesses say the accident was unavoidable.

Governor Eberhart did not go to his office at the capitol this morning. He would not say anything about the Red Wing training school situation.

JUST AS WIDE.

Los Angeles Times: Orville Wright was discussing at Fort Meyer the many flying men that have sprung up since his brother and he showed the world how flight was achieved.

"To fly," said Mr. Wright, "just to fly, that is nothing. The real thing is to fly right.

"These little flyers, skipping and hopping a mile or two, remind one, with their self-important airs, of a railroader of the '60s.

"This railroader called on old Commodore Vanderbilt.

"'Commodore,' he said, heartily, 'I want to exchange courtesies with you. I'm the president of the Miles City & Glendive line, and here's a pass over our road.'

"He laid the pass on the table.

"'I'd like to have,' he said, 'a pass over the Vanderbilt roads in return, commodore.'

"The old railroad king studied his visitor with knit brows.

"'Where is this road of yours?' he asked.

"'Out West,' was the reply.

"'Is it a well-known road?"

"'Oh, a famous road, commodore.'

"'How big is it?'

"'Well, commodore, we are operating on twenty-seven miles this year.'

"'Twenty-seven miles!' cried Commodore Vanderbilt angrily. 'And the Vanderbilt lines are thousands of miles long! And you call that an exchange of courtesies? Here, take your pass, sir. It's no good to me.'

"The Westerner thrust the rejected pass into his pocket and clapped his soft felt hat on his head.

"'Well, so long, commodore,' he blustered defiantly. 'Your road may be a little longer than mine is, but it isn't any wider!'"

RUSKIN'S BAPTISM.

St. Columba's Belgravia Magazine: John Ruskin was baptized in London by a Presbyter'an minister, in the Ruskin museum at Coniston the following certificate is preserved: "Ochiltree Manse, 14th November, 1837. I hereby certify that John Ruskin, born on the 8th February, 1819, was baptized by me on the 20th of February, 1819, at the house of 'is father, John James Ruskin, Esq., 54 Hunter street, London. (Signed) James Boyd, minister of the parish of Ochiltree in the Presbytery and county of Ayr; at the time referred to in the above certificate minister of the Caledonia church, Cross street, Hatton Garden, London."

The Rev. James Boyd, who granted this certificate, became afterward a doctor of divinity. He left Cross street for Auchinleck in 1819. Three years later the famous Edward Irving became his successor in Hatton Garden.

SOX DROP A LONG GAME

Outcasts Take Fourteen-Inning Contest By Close Score of 2 to 1.

Cummings Holds the Germans to Seven Hits But Is Outlucked.

La Crosse, Wis., May 17.—After battling for fourteen innings the Outcasts finally slipped the winning score over the run register, yesterday, winning the most sensational game played to date in the Minny league by the score of 2 to 1

All the luck of the game was with the locals. For five innings neither team scored. In the sixth the Sox shoved one over and in their half the Outcasts duplicated. From that point some great ball was played by both teams, the locals showing the winning count over in the fourteenth inning when Kernan singled, stole and scored on a single.

The first score of the locals came when Wais stole home.

Outhit all the way through, only the most brilliant fielding saved La Crosse from being beaten. The Sox garnered thirteen hits to seven for the Outcasts, and yet lost out.

The contest was the best seen here for several seasons. Score: R. H. E.

"TAN" LANGFORD TRYING THE COME BACK THING.

A Duluth man who has been down at St. Paul and had the opportunity of watching the crews of the Minnesota Boat club in action, states that "Tan" Langford, known at every club of the Northwestern association, is trying to come back and is out for a sent in the senior eight.

Years ago "Tan" was one of the greatest oarsmen of the old association. With Percy Hauxhurst, Dewey, Mahon and some of the other well known oarsmen that have been turned out in St. Paul, Langford made up a great eight and also rowed in one of the famous fours of that time.

Just to show that the come back spirit is not confined to the fighters, and that Jimmy Ten Eyck's dad is not the only one of the oarsmen who can come back, "Tan" is having a fling at the old thing. Here's a lot of luck to "Tan," a true gentleman and one of the finest men who ever helped entertain visiting oarsmen.

ENTRY BLANKS OUT FOR MORRIS MEMORIAL

Entry blanks have been mailed for the Tom Morris memorial trophy event which will be played simultaneously on all the golf links of the Western clubs, June 15. The entry blank of the Northland club is expected today. The conditions are the same as in other years, teams of eight representing any bona fide club of the Western Golf association.

The trophy will become the property of any team capturing it five seasons.

The games are played on the home courses of each club of the association, the trophy going to the club returning the best score against par of its own course.

It is expected that the team of the local club will make a very good showing the present season. The best team that can possibly be selected from the local players will be chosen, with the idea of making the best score that has ever been sent in by the Northland club.

TENNIS DATES SET.

North Dakota Players Will Meet at Grand Forks in July.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tennis players of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Manitoba, Can., will participate in the annual tournament of the North Dakota Tennis association, which has been fixed to open July 10 in Grand Forks. This tourney follows the tourney of the Missouri Slope association and immediately precedes the Northwestern tournament.

Among the prominent players who have already signified their intention of coming from points outside of this state are Reid of Winnipeg, holder of the Red River valley championship, which he won last year, and Branson and Martin of South Dakota. Martin is the South Dakota champion, while Branson was runner-up against Reid in the tournament in Grand Forks last year.

BRAINERD HIGH WILL PLAY LITTLE FALLS.

Brainerd, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Brainerd high school baseball team which defeated the Cloquet high school team by a 7 to 4 score last Saturday, will play the Little Falls high school next Saturday. The Little Falls team recently defeated the South High of Minneapolis. The Brainerd Brewsters were defeated at Little Falls by a score of 17 to 4. A return game will be played here next Sunday.

FIGHT PICTURES SHOW MORRIS A CLUMSY DUB

San Francisco, Cal., May 17.—The motion pictures of the Carl Morris-Mike Schreck contest, which are being flashed on the canvas at a local theater, would indicate that Carl is a "hopeless white hope." The films are not the clearest one might wish for, but they are good enough to give a general idea of the type of the big Morris representants. Carl is just as big as the advance notices about him say he is. The former engineer is as big as all outdoors, but he is not put together in the fashion one would like to see a heavyweight boxer built. Carl has a long reach and is very tall, but he carries too much weight in his legs. The pictures would indicate that at the time of the Morris-Schreck fight Carl was fat and waxy and soft as a silk pin cushion. If there is any one athlete in the world to whom Carl Morris will bear favorable comparison it is Harry McLean, the catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, who was formerly a member of the Portland team of the Coast league.

When Morris and Schreck pose for the ringside photographers there is a most wonderful difference in the size of the gladiators. Morris looks as tall as Schreck looks fat. Carl towers over Schreck like a full-grown man over a 10-year-old boy.

Schreck appeared to be in even worse condition for the Morris bout than he was for his affair with Al Kaufman here. Mike displays a wonderful belt line displacement, and the pictures show him wearing a rubber bandage around his abdomen so that his "tummy" will not roll around the floor while he is boxing.

One interesting thing about the films is that anyone who sees them gets a good idea of the population of Oklahoma, for the announcer introduces nearly the whole population of the state to those present. The announcer appears to be a bird. He doesn't overlook anyone, and among those he introduces is the press agent. Billy McCarney also comes in for an introduction and prosperous days seem to have fallen on William, for he is there with a flock of glad rags that seems to attract and hold the attention of the spectators more closely than either Schreck or Morris. "Kid" Bruno, whoever he may happen to be, is also given a knockdown to the population of Oklahoma, and Jim Barry is on hand to challenge the winner.

Morris' ring action appears to be about as graceful as a young elephants, and though Schreck shows hog fat he moves about in the shadow pictures with more accuracy and sureness of foot than the "w. h."

Morris' ring tactics are a treat. While the fight is on Carl combs his hair with his gloves, and Schreck looks on admiringly. If Carl ever boxes a real fighter they'll have to have a mirror in his corner so that he can make his toilette between rounds.

Schreck lands quite a few punches on Morris during the combat, but Mike always has the appearance of holding back the force of his blows. Morris is not quite as slow as some of the "w. h." boys we have seen, but at that he'll never be arrested for exceeding the speed limit.

After looking at the pictures of the Morris-Schreck bout, one can easily understand why the managers of the Oklahoman refuse to let Carl mix it with men like Jim Barry, Jim Flynn, Al Kaufman and that sort.

OPENING DAY AT EAU CLAIRE

Eau Claire, Wis., May 17.—Tuesday, May 23, will witness the first game of the season of 1911 in Eau Claire and in honor of the home-coming of the 1910 champs it is planned to have some unusually big doings to welcome and greet, in a proper and fitting manner, the manager and members of the Eau Claire baseball team.

A meeting of the officers and directors of the Eau Claire baseball club and several others was held at the Eau Claire club last evening for the purpose of arranging for the opening day in Eau Claire.

It is hoped that enough enthusiasm and support can be aroused so that the opening day ceremonies will eclipse anything heretofore attempted. That is what the club is going to try to do and in this undertaking they will have the hearty co-operation of the citizens and business men of Eau Claire. It is planned to have all the stores and business places closed from 3 to 5 or later in the afternoon so that employers and employes alike can attend the game, which will be called at 3:30 o'clock. The opening series will be between Eau Claire and La Crosse, Winona had a little over 2,000 at the opening game; Eau Claire should turn out at least 3,000 on the opening day, and there is no reason why there should not be more.

The people of Eau Claire have been furnished with a fine article of ball in the past and they are again in line for some good sport in a baseball way; and for these reasons the team is deserving of good support.

It is safe to say that the astute but taciturn Thomas Schoonhoven, manager of the 1910 champs, will have a team which will be in the running all the time. So it is desired that everybody get in and help make the opening day next Tuesday one that will be remembered with pride and enthusiasm and which will go farther than anything else to convince the boys that the people of Eau Claire are with them and appreciate their efforts to put Eau Claire on the baseball map.

IRONWOOD BEATS HURLEY IN VERY CLOSE GAME.

Ironwood, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ironwood baseball team met the Hurley nine on the local grounds Sunday afternoon. The Ironwood battery was Edward Van Wye and Harold Richards; Hurley, Johnson and Bell. A close game was played, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of Ironwood. Hurley got eight hits from Van Wye, while Ironwood got seven hits from Johnson.

The Ironwood team will play Ashland next Sunday.

LAW AGAIN ATTACKS JACK JOHNSON'S ROLL.

New York, May 17.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, took the count again yesterday. As in California, the law was the victor and it landed a knockout punch on his wallet to the tune of $1,100. Gartaino Sclerreno, a sculptor, who made a bust of Johnson, was awarded the verdict.

Johnson, the sculptor testified, posed for him and expressed his pleasure with the bust, but failed to pay for it.

Aquilas Send Challenge.

To the Sporting Editor of The Herald:

We would like to arrange a game with the best amateur team in your city for some Sunday or holiday when your league team is not at home.

Yours truly,

S. H. MARTIN, JR.,
Manager Aquilas Baseball Team.
St. Paul, May 6.

Hall Throws Peterson.

John Hall threw Edward Peterson last night at one of the small local theaters. The match was won in two straight falls. Theodore Allen refereed the match.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

The Career of the Battler—Curley Leaves for England—Two Interesting Series—The Home Coming of the Sox.

(BY BRUCE.)

WHEN one sits down and reads of the life and the many battles of Battling Nelson, the thought comes up and kicks one in the face, so to speak, as to whether the man of his weight ever lived who could have knocked the Battler out in the days of his prime.

He met and defeated the hardest hitters in the ring. Canole, Corbett, Herara and Gans, four of the greatest of the past lightweights, hit the Durable Dane on the point of the jaw, which in most fighters is supposed to be a vulnerable point of attack, like sister's conscience, and he failed to go down and out.

Let us hope that the Dane will have the sense to recognize that the time of every man must come. The life of an athlete is short at the best. No one who has never engaged in the game strenuous can possibly by any stretch of the imagination know how much energy is expended in one round of a real fight.

Is it any wonder, then, that most of the wise fight critics of the country will not concede at the present time that it was the hard knocks of the past and the decline of vitality that defeated Nelson in the battle with Wolgast, and not because Wolgast was a better man than Nelson was the day he faced Gans in the ring at Goldfield?

In this rushing, tempestuous American life of ours we see men hanging on to business almost to the dropping point, hating to give up the struggle. Some of them are dropping in the fierce struggle of competition; and others die in the harness, like the bad men of the disappearing West died with their boots on.

The courageous and active man hates to let go. There is something in him that struggles on. Though the flesh may be weary of the struggle, the old spirit fights on. And here we have the greatest difference between the man who quits when the flesh is fresh because the spirit is weak and lacks courage.

In history we have read of the unconquerable Norsemen, the pioneer history makers of their times. Their courage was great and their spirit has been told in fable and song. Out of ancestors such as these must have sprung the gallant Battling Nelson, a lad whose courage has never been questioned, whose spirit at the present time refuses to be conquered, though his battle-scarred body must be tired of the long and strenuous game of fisticuffs.

Gans has passed to the great beyond; Young Corbett is a fat and shapeless, roly poly person, resembling a barboy much more than a former champion of the world; Terry McGovern is an irresponsible person, dissipated in body and hearing a shattered mind—they have all passed away.

What do we hear of Herera today? James Edward Britt is a memory. Canole, Hanlon and Spider Welsh—they have all passed from the history of the ring, and we are today hearing of the activities of the Battler, even though the most of us believe that the gallant fighter has seen the best fighting days of his career.

Like the memory of John L. Sullivan, long will live the fame and the deeds of the Battler. He was ever on the square and he was in many respects the most unique and picturesque champion we have every had. His vitality will ever be something to wonder over, and his valorous deeds in the ring will cause men to wonder and compare them with the deeds of other champions.

The ring record of the sturdy Dane is something to wonder over, and it is very doubtful if there will be another fighter like Nelson in the long years to come.

Should the Sox Continue to Win.

YES, should they continue to win, their home coming from the first road trip of the season will be very much different than some of the home comings of the past. It is very likely that a goodly delegation will be on hand to witness the first game of the league season on the home grounds.

If the Sox can keep up the gait they are showing at the present time and can take half of the games that remain to be played, they will made a great showing on the trip. At both Rochester and Red Wing the O'Briens took the long end of the series, something that the Sox have failed to do for some time on the road. La Crosse and Winona remain to be played, and if the Sox can take three out of the six games, they will come home with many laurels and all kinds of confidence upon the part of the home fans.

And speaking about home games, for heaven's sake, Jawn, do hurry up those slothful workers on the new ball park. At the rate they are going at the present time the park will be ready for games in June—1912.

Jack Curley Leaving For England.

YESTERDAY Jack Curley sent the writer a letter, written from New York just as he was ready to take the steamer for England, where the big promoter will personally attend to many details of Hackenschmidt's training for the coming match with Gotch. Curley promises to write later of the progress the big Russian is making in his training, which will be done at Shoreham, England, the summer home of the Russian wrestler.

In his letter Curley expresses the utmost confidence in the ability of Hackenschmidt to defeat the American, and adds that he has money to wager on the chances of the foreigner. Jack is a pretty good judge of wrestlers, one of the very best in the country, and yet there are a whole lot of Americans who will pin their faith on the ability of Gotch to win the coming battle with the big invader.

Speaking of the coming match with Gotch, there promises to be a big year in wrestling, if some of the plans of the promoters are carried out. While in Duluth last spring, Emil Klank, the hustling manager of Gotch, informed us of some of the plans he had in view. One was the bringing of Gama, the sensational Indian wrestler, to this country.

Some of the people on the other side of the Atlantic believe this fellow to be one of the greatest mat men in the world. Benjamin, the well-known English sportsman, has stated that some of the greatest wrestlers, if not the very greatest in the world, are to be found in England, and that during the present season some of the lovers of the ancient sport will have the opportunity of seeing some of the great mat performers in action.

Speaking further of the moves in the preparations that both Hackenschmidt and Gotch are making in their training arrangements, it has been state on the authority of a Chicago sporting man that Gotch will have the assistance of Kid Cutler, Henry Ordemann, the redoubtable Farmer Burns and one or two others in his thorough and strenuous training for the struggle with the Russian.

Every season we have believed that Gotch would retire from the mat. It was the match with Hackenschmidt and the large amount of money in sight that has brought Frank out of the shell of retirement. With the earnings he will get out of this match he will be able to add a section or two to his bountiful Iowa acres. There is not a wrestler in the world who can draw the amount of money that Gotch is capable of enticing into the box office, and as witness to this statement we have the large purse that the Iowan is to get for his end of the Hackenschmidt match, in the event that he wins, loses or draws. These champions come high, and it seems that the American people have to have them.

Two Very Interesting Series.

BASEBALL followers the country over are watching with interest the approach of the clash between the Chicago Cubs and the galloping Phillies in the National league, and the approaching series between the Detroit Tigers, who are running strong in the American, and Connie Mack's Athletics.

So far on the first Eastern invasion the Cubs are playing remarkable baseball, all things considered. Johnny Evers is not with the team at the present time, owing to a case of "nerves." It is said that heavy losses in the shoe business, both in Troy and Chicago, coupled with other misfortunes have preyed on the little Trojan to the extent where he has found it quite impossible to play baseball for the time being at least.

Cole had not pitched a game until his win over Brooklyn, and the loss of the King was keenly felt. And yet with Evers out of the game, and none of the Cub pitchers in the best of shape at the present time, the Chance men have gone ahead and made a very good showing in the road games to date.

The Phillies have been literally running away in the older league. Some are of the opinion that the Dooin men are going too fast at the present time, and that there will be less Dooin later in the season. It will be interesting to observe what the Cubs will do to the Phillies, or what the Phillies may do to the Cubs.

In the American league the Tigers have been setting such a pace that many of the critics are already proclaiming the gonfalon for the Jennings men. It is up to the Athletics to take a reef in the sails of the Tigers, and the first meeting of the 1911 season should be productive of some great baseball and some very interesting results.

For some reason or other there seems to be a special delight in the defeat of the Minneapolis team. Just why, no one seems to know. The Millers have been getting theirs with monotonous regularity of late, and the bitterest pill of all, the castor oil in the cream, the fly in the ointment and all that stuff, is the defeats that the lowly Saints have been thrusting down the throats of the chesty Millers.

Those defeats will give a certain chesty individual in Minneapolis something to explain, and as he is a very plausable explainer when cornered, which sometimes happens, the explanation may be interesting.

PLAYERS CAN'T "SASS" THE UMPS

New York, May 17.—The umpires of the National league told their troubles to each other and President Lynch in a conference in headquarters here yesterday. Their one great affliction was "being talked back to" when they made their decisions, and complete reports were made by the officials as to the causes of the recent suspensions of players on the circuit.

"In every one of these cases," stated President Lynch, "I find that the language used by the offenders was outrageous. I want to go on record now that I will not tolerate this kind of talk to the umpire, either during the game or after the game. In my time as an umpire I never stood for such language, and I certainly shall protect every man on the staff to the limit from this kind of abuse. I am determined to stop it, and if suspensions will not stop it, I will add heavy fines."

The umpires were instructed that in cases where it was agreed to call a game at a stated time, the game should not be called right on the minute, but at the finish of whatever inning might be in progress. Punctuality in this regard caused a small riot in an Eastern league game recently because at the moment the game was called Providence was in the midst of a ninth-inning batting rally which might have won the game from Rochester.

BASEBALL WILL OPEN IN SOUTH DAKOTA MONDAY.

Mitchell, S. D., May 17.—Next Monday the baseball season for the South Dakota Baseball association will open in three cities, Aberdeen coming to this city, Huron at Redfield, Watertown at Faulkton. The teams have been recruited in good shape, and the opening of the season will see the teams in good form, as most of the men have been at practice since early in the spring. The following is the schedule as adopted by the committee:

At Mitchell—Aberdeen, May 22, 23, 24; Huron, May 29, 30, 31; July 24, 25. Redfield, June 5, 6, 7; July 10, 11. Watertown, June 12, 13, July 12, 13. Faulkton, June 26, 27, 28; July 14; July 5, 6. Mitchell, June 26, 27, 28; July 26, 27.

At Redfield—Huron, May 22, 23, 24; Watertown, May 29, 30, 31; July 5, 6. Faulkton, June 8, 9, 10; July 26, 27. Mitchell, June 15, 16, 17; July 17, 18. Aberdeen, June 26, 27, 28; July 21, 22.

At Watertown—Mitchell, May 25, 26, 27; July 7, 8. Faulkton, June 1, 2, 3; July 3, 4. Aberdeen, June 8, 9, 10; July 12, 13. Huron, June 15, 16, 17; July 19, 20. Redfield, June 22, 23, 24; June 29, 30.

At Huron—Faulkton, May 25, 26, 27; July 12, 13. Redfield, June 1, 2, 3; July 7, 8. Mitchell, June 8, 9, 10; July 3, 4. Aberdeen, June 22, 23, 24; July 26, 27. Watertown, June 26, 27, 28; July 7, 8.

At Aberdeen—Redfield, May 25, 26, 27; July 3, 4. Watertown, June 5, 6, 7; July 28, 29. Mitchell, June 1, 2, 3; June 29, 30. Huron, June 12, 13, 14; July 21, 2. Faulkton, June 15, 16, 17; July 7, 8.

At Faulkton—Watertown, May 22, 23, 24; July 10, 11. Aberdeen, May 29, 30, 31; July 5, 6. Huron, June 5, 6, 7; June 29, 30. Redfield, June 12, 13, 14; July 24, 25. Mitchell, June 22, 23, 24; July 19, 20.

The schedule calls for the playing of twenty-five games with each team, with the possibility, with a successful season of two months, that it may be continued a month or so later. Three salaried umpires have been secured for the series, and they will have full authority to assess fines and see that they are paid. The rules adopted give the umpires full authority, and the best decorum is assured in the games.

BROOKLYN WILL HAVE TO WAIT

Hibbing Not in Condition at Present to Furnish Addition Hydrants.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. P. Silliman, owner of the Brooklyn townsite, appeared before the water, light, power and building commission at their regular session last evening and requested that the village pay for the hydrants for proper fire protection for that addition.

The position taken by Mr. Silliman was that Brooklyn was entitled to as much protection as any other portion of the village, and the pleas of the village that they could not afford he said he did not consider was an answer to his request. The commission admitted that Brooklyn had its rights, but as Commissioner W. J. West put it, "Mr. Silliman, we haven't got the money."

The matter was laid on the table for the present and it is probable that it will be considered later on.

Mr. Silliman said after the meeting, "Well, we are in the village just the same as any other portion, and we are going to keep at it till we get what we are entitled to."

Brooklyn is at the present time supplied with some fire hydrants but that they were put in and paid for by private parties, and that the village of Hibbing has never made any appropriation to cover the cost of putting them in.

HIBBING PLANS TO OBSERVE DAY

Judge Martin Hughes Will Deliver Address on Memorial Day.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Martin Hughes of the district court, who lives here, has consented to deliver the Memorial day address. As Judge Hughes is an acknowledged orator it is expected that his address will be a notable one.

The address will be delivered in the morning, at the armory, following prayer by Rev. Mr. Helmuth. Then will come class day exercises.

Fine Parade Planned.

The next big event of the day will be the parade. This will be headed by the marshal of the day, J. J. Cox, who will be followed by a platoon of police; then the Hibbing band and members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the city officials. The two latter will ride in carriages. Company M of Hibbing will form the escort and the civic societies of the village will bring up the rear. These last organizations will be proceeded by all the school children of the city when the parade reaches the Washington school, in front of which they will be drawn up.

Rev. Mr. Durant of the Episcopal church will offer prayer and Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be read by Attorney D. T. Collins at the cemetery.

GIRL IS VICTIM OF DIPHTHERIA

Scourge Raging in Township 56-16, Near Eveleth Claims Herma Mekala.

Eveleth, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Thomas J. Ryan, who died Monday afternoon at a local hospital after a three hour illness from the dilation of the heart, was shipped to Hersey, Wis., where the deceased's parents reside. The body was accompanied by a cousin.

The deceased was 32 years of age, single, a resident of Virginia where he was employed as shoveiman by the Butler Brothers company. He formerly worked at Eveleth mines and was a well known range mining man.

The funeral of Nels Nyland, a Forbes homesteader, who died Monday after a year's illness with tuberculosis, was held this afternoon at Virginia, from the Swedish Lutheran church, with the Eagles escorting the body to its final resting place in the Greenwood cemetery, Virginia.

The deceased was about 35 years of age, a Scandinavian, and came to the range about thirteen years ago, locating at Eveleth as a clerk. He resided here for ten years and then settled on his homestead at Forbes, where he is survived by two brothers.

Word has been received here of the death of Herma Mekala, at Township 56-16, where many serious cases of diphtheria were recently discovered by local physicians. She contracted the disease while visiting an aunt on the range, and on her return to the township many of the other settlers caught the disease from her. Dr. Tuohy, county health inspector for the unorganized districts, is in charge of the cases at the township. The child was about 12 years of age and was buried at the township cemetery.

HIBBING PERSONALS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rupert Swinnerton and John McGovern went to Duluth on noon train yesterday to attend land sales in that city.

Carl Thiel returned from Duluth last evening.

Supervisor Connors of Stunts township is in Duluth on business.

BOLD HIBBING BURGLARY; CLOTHING AND SHOES TAKEN.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burglars broke into the Hub Clothing store yesterday morning by means of knocking out some of the siding of a woodshed at the back of the store, and then cutting a hole through the panel of the rear door and pulling the iron bolt back. The man or men got away with a large quantity of clothing and boots and although careful search was made nothing was found on the premises that could give any clue for the police to work on in seeking the perpetrator of the crime.

YEGGS ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE

Attack Strong Box in Missabe Depot at Chisholm But Are Foiled.

Chisholm, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yeggs attempted to crack the safe in the Missabe depot here during the night, but failed to get inside the strong box, although they used some nitro-glycerin. They rifled the ticket office money drawer, getting a small amount.

Entrance to the depot was gained through the men's waiting room by forcing the door. The safe door was blown off its hinges with such force that it was driven through the door leading to the office from the men's waiting room.

The building was wrecked inside, the force of the blast breaking several windows. There is no clew.

EVELETH IS GOING AFTER STRAY COWS

Council Decides That Ordinance Against Wandering Bovines Must Stand.

Eveleth, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following bids were opened last evening by the council for the erection of a foundation and in the installation of a 2,500,000-gallon water pump:

Epping-Carpenter company, Pittsburg, Pa., $15,721, the city to deduct $1,679 if it desires to make the connections itself.

Fred W. Prescott company, Milwaukee, $12,560 for pump, $13,710 for erection of foundation and pump, $2,750 for installation work, $300 for additions.

Norberg Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, Norberg engine, $15,000.

Ladelaw, Dun, Gordon & Co., Milwaukee, $11,400 for pump, $2,750 for installation.

Alderman Springer contended that the cow owners should not be taxed $1 when their bovines are taken by the poundmaster, while Alderman Jesmore argued that the ordinance should be stringently enforced. A. N. Peterson, a property owner, suggested that the cows be herded in a corral, and the owners charged $1 a month. The proper official was instructed to inform the poundmaster to enforce the ordinance.

City Attorney Boyle said a meeting of the range city and village attorneys will be held at Virginia Saturday to consider the proposed interurban franchise. The council as a committee of the whole is conferring today with Attorney Boyle concerning the franchise.

Fight Over Saloon Transfer.

A fight developed over granting a transfer to Martin Shute from Anton Blatz. Two committee reports were received—one that the transfer be granted and the other that it be refused, as it is alleged Mr. Shute is not a citizen, but the transfer was granted on a 4-to-3 vote. Polki & Johnson, Edward Finch and Matt Frimozich were also granted licenses, while the application of Edward Oakman was referred to the police and license committee.

The city clerk reported $12,448.14 in receipts for April and $5,068.66 disbursements. The municipal court clerk's report showed $12 receipts for the weeks ending May 6 and May 13.

The petition of forty Virginia road residents for an extension of the city water mains was referred to the water and light committeee, as was the matter of installing arc lights on the corner of Hayes street and Roosevelt avenue, Garfield streeet and Rocsevelt avenue, A avenue and Garfield street and McKinley avenue and Harrison street.

BIG SAWMILL WILL SOON BE RUNNING

Virginia & Rainy Lake Company Will Soon Have Repairs on Plant Finished.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Repairs on the big mill of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company are progressing nicely and it is expected in two weeks the mill will again start both shifs and run at its full capacity, about 600,000 feet daily. Three train loads of logs are being shipped in here daily and dumped into Silver lake. About 1,200 men are employed in the woods and upon the drive of the company, in getting these logs to the railroad for shipment.

The company has installed an electric motor engine for use in hauling lumber to the planning mill, thus facilitating the work of hauling and also in getting large quantities of the lumber to the planers in much less time than heretofore experienced by them. Tracks have been built to cover all parts of the yard where lumber is piled and the engine can reach most any portion of the big yards.

Plan More Tramways.

The company is planning to build more tramways to the west, in order to have more ground upon which to pile stock. The present yard space is practically taken up with lumber piles and several more miles of tramways are to be built in order to reach the new piling grounds. The company already maintains fifty-two miles of tramways in its yards here.

The planning mill, which has a daily capacity of 750,000 feet, and is the largest in the world, is running steadily and turning out lumber for shipment by the train load.

The little mill is running night and day and is cutting on an average of 200,000 feet. Supt. C. H. Rogers states that when the big mill starts up again both will cut nearly a million feet in a 20-hour shift, which is a greater cut than any other plant in the world.

MINER LOSES LEGS.

Chisholm, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Backing out of the way of one ore train Harry Jasko, a miner employed at the Leonard mine, stepped before another train and had both legs taken off. He has been taken to a Hibbing hospital and is said to have a chance for recovery.

The unfortunate man appears to have been walking along the track at the Leonard pit when he stepped out of the way of an approaching train of dump cars only to get right in front of another train coming in the opposite direction. Still pursued by a cruel fate he was knocked down by this train and thrown right across the tracks in front of the train that he at first tried to avoid, with the result that both legs were completely severed above the ankle.

INJURED FIRST DAY HE WORKED

Switch Tender Rothfus Falls Beneath Car at Two Harbors and Loses Foot.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Godfrey Rothfus, a popular young resident of this city, was injured yesterday, the first day he went to work for the Iron Range road as switchtender at Duluth siding, when he had one foot so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

As Conductor Blood's caboose was being dropped to the caboose track, Rothfus attempted to catch the front end of it, but lost his hold and fell beneath the car, which passed over his foot.

He was immediately taken to the Two Harbors hospital, where his foot was amputated just above the ankle. It is believed that no complications will set in and he will make a swift recovery.

CIVIC LEAGUE NOW PETITIONS

Virginia Organization Would Take Up Fight to Acquire Plant.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The civic league petitioned the city council last night through M. A. Murphy, president and F. C. Whiting, secretary, stating that inasmuch as the committee of thirty had gone out of existence and that it had recommended that the city council take no steps at this time to purchase the plant of the Virginia Electric Power & Water company, that the names as submitted by the league some time ago to act in conjunction with the city council to investigate the feasibility of purchasing the plant or to build another, be accepted by the council.

The council placed the communication on file. The league was granted the use of the council chambers for Saturday night of each week in which to hold meetings.

The petition of the Water company to make connection with Silver lake for the purpose of using its water in case of fire was denied upon recommendation of Aldermen Kimball, E. C. A. Johnson and Osborn, members of the light and water committee. This committee was instructed to investigate the connection between the city system and the system maintained by the Virginia & Rainy Lake company.

The street and alley committee recommended that Virginia avenue be not included in the thoroughfares to be paved as they were of the opinion that a larger water main ought to be laid in that avenue before it is improved. The recommendations were accepted.

City to Build Incinerator.

Mayor Hawkinson stated that he had secured ground from the Oliver Iron Mining company, upon which to erect an incinerating plant, and that the lease of the land would run for fifteen years. The land is located about 200 feet in from the Mountain Iron road, between the Great Northern and Canadian Northern tracks. As a levy of $20,000 has been made for building the plant the city will probably begin its erection at once.

Four applications for the office of meat inspector were presented: W. J Lenertz, John Cooper, Christopher Slade and Fred Engel and were referred to the board of health.

Miss Jessie McNeil, clerk of the municipal court, reported $122.50 in fines collected for the week ending May 13.

TOWER BRIEFS.

Tower, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The pulpit of the St. James Presbyterian church was occupied Sunday evening by Rev. W. T. Hughes of Ely.

LAFE YOUNG SPEAKS.

Former Hawkeye Senator Tells Rochester About Commission Form.

Rochester, Minn., May 17. — Ex-Senator Lafayette Young spoke to a number of business men at the Metropolitan at noon Monday advocating the commission form of government. He said Des Moines had the commission form for more than three years, and that the people were satisfied with it. It has been a great thing for Des Moines, he said.

He advocated direct power and direct responsibility. He said that 90 per cent of municipal duties were executive and not legislative, while the city governments were organized as if 90 per cent of the duties were legislative. He said the city council as a lawmaking body was of no use. The state made the laws. No city council could make amendment to a law made by the state.

He advocated non-partisan city government and regarded ward lines as a nuisance. He said the old city government is as far behind the times as the ox cart is behind the automobile.

FORMERLY IN ASYLUM.

THE NEAL THREE-DAY CURE FOR THE DRINK HABIT

Men are inclined to believe that it shows a sign of weakness on their part to take treatment for liquor drinking. It does not. On the contrary, the taking of treatment shows strength—BRAIN STRENGTH. What is to be thought of one who continues to drink day after day, ruining his nervous system and wrecking his business because he is ashamed to be cured? Without aid the victim of the liquor habit is helpless. Indulgence in drink not only weakens his will power, but creates a craving for drink which nothing but more drink will satisfy. It unfits him for business. The man who is ambitious to get on in the world cannot afford to allow whiskey to have the mastery over him. To the man in danger of becoming the victim of the liquor habit the Neal Cure holds out a helping hand.

THE NEAL TREATMENT FOR THE DRINK HABIT

Is not merely a sobering up process, but a perfectly safe and thorough cure that frees the system of every trace of alcoholic poison and takes away all craving and desire for drink. It makes no difference how confirmed the drinker, how long he has been drinking, or how much he is drinking; neither does it matter how many other treatments have failed, the Neal treament will effect a perfect cure to the entire satisfaction of the patient in just three days or the full fee paid will be returned at end of third day. With the Neal treatment there are no hypodermic injections, no powerful or poisonous drugs, and no bad after-effects. It is safe, harmless, positive. There are no failures.

No other treatment for the drink habit guarantees a perfect cure or refunds the money.

Call, write, 'phone or wire for free booklet giving full information, also a copy of our contract. Everything confidential; bank reference cheerfully furnished.

WHY THE NEAL TREATMENT IS THE BEST

Because it absolutely cures in three days.
Because no hypodermic injections are given.
Because it can be administered at home or at the institute.
Because no dangerous or harmful drugs are used.
Because there are no bad after-effects.
Because there is no danger of blood poison from infected needles.
Because it is administered internally and is a harmless remedy.
Because it entails practically no loss of time from business.
Because it has been thoroughly tested and has never failed.
Because it has cured thousands of drinking men.
Because we give a contract to cure you, or return your money.

BRIDGES ARE COMPLETED

All Wooden Trestles Built Between Duluth and Virginia.

Work on Tunnel at Short Line Park Is Progressing Rapidly.

Except for the steel construction, all of the bridge and trestle work between West Duluth and Virginia on the new line of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific road, of the Canadian Northern system, has been completed. No steel will be placed on the bridges until after some of the tracks have been laid.

Ferrier & Livingston, contractors, yesterday finished work on the last two bridges between West Duluth and Munger, the division point. These bridges are of wooden construction and are located on either side of the big tunnel at Short Line Park.

The only bridge work left to do now is the building of the long trestle through West Duluth from Fifty-ninth avenue west to the bay front. A part of the trestle, about four blocks long, has been built. Long piles have been used as far as Central avenue, and from there on the structure will be built on short piles, using two and three tens to support the trestle.

At Short Line Park the work on the tunnel is progressing rapidly under the supervision of Foley, Welch & Stewart, general contractors for this work. It is expected that the bore will be completed some time in July. The tunnel proper is 538 feet in length, with rock-cut approaches of 500 feet on either side. An electric drill is used in the work, in addition to blasting with dynamite.

DRIVES PARENTS OUT OF HOUSE

William Davidson Said to Have Threatened Father and Mother.

William Davidson, a 19-year-old boy, drove his parents from their home, 212 South Sixty-third avenue west, with a knife last evening and threatened to burn the house, according to the story that his father told to the West Duluth police.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Davidson and his parents claim that he has been a source of much trouble to them for some time past.

Patrolmen Root and Cranston were called to the Davidson home to arrest the boy, but he escaped before they arrived. Today he had not returned home and the police are still looking for him.

Last summer, young Davidson was arrested on a petit larceny charge. The case, however, was not brought to trial and the boy was released.

MRS. DOYLE DIES.

West Duluth Woman Passes Away After Two Weeks' Illness.

Mrs. Margaret Doyle, aged 54, widow of Thomas Doyle, died after a two week's illness at her home, 29 North Fifty-third avenue west, last evening. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock from St. James Catholic church, Fifty-seventh avenue west, to Calvary cemetery. Rev. D. W. Lynch will officiate.

Thomas Doyle, her husband, died two years ago. She is survived by eight children, four sons, M. J. Doyle of Eveleth, Joseph and George of West Duluth and Thomas, a student at Ann Arbor, Mich., and four daughters, Ellen, Julia, Mollie and Margaret, all living at home. She also leaves a brother, Patrick Hughes of Superior, and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Gleason of Ishpeming, Mich., and Mrs. James Murphy of Ironwood, Mich. All of the out-of-town relatives will be here for the funeral.

Mrs. Doyle's former home was in Northern Michigan. She came to West Duluth in 1888. She was a member of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, which will attend her funeral in a body. She also belonged to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

Frank Kokal Fails to Recover From Mining Company.

A jury in the district court brought in a verdict for the defendant in the case of Frank Kokal against the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Kokal sued for $15,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when he was caught between two cars while working at the Fayal mine, near Eveleth, last summer.

The case has been on for several days before Judge Ensign of the district court. The jury was out but a few minutes.

SUPERIOR ORE TRAIN JUMPS TRACK

Engine and Twenty-Seven Cars Pile Up Near Foxboro.

A Mallet engine and twenty-seven ore cars were derailed early this morning in the wreck of an in-bound Great Northern ore train just out of Foxboro, near the state line. The train crew jumped and no one was injured.

The damage to the equipment was considerable, although the cars were not dumped over. The train was on a down grade and it is supposed that the wreck was caused by the failure of the brakes to work.

BOWLERS HOLD BANQUET.

Superior Pin-Spillers Gather at Festive Board—Officers Elected.

Henry Swanson was elected president of the Superior Bowling league at the annual banquet and business meeting held at the Hotel Superior last evening. The other new officers are: E. Berg, vice president; Charles Blaxall, treasurer; Frank Swan, secretary; Wilmar Anderson, assistant secretary; and Charles Wedge, press agent.

There were thirty-five bowlers at the banquet, including visitors from Duluth. S. R. Brown was toastmaster and among the speakers were: Mayor Cullum, Henry Swanson, Charles Blaxall, William Hutchinson, Robert Scott, John Brown, Louis Hwaat, Charles Wedge, Carl Berini of Duluth and others.

During the evening the Floan & Leveroos team was presented with a cup as champions of the city league in the season just closed.

COUNCIL EXTENDS TIME TO BRIDGE CONTRACTOR.

The council last evening extended the time of the contract of the Interstate Dredge & Dock company fifteen days in the completion of the Fourth street bridge over the Nemadji river.

The city fathers also ordered the construction of a large number of cement sidewalks and directed the board of public works to advertise for bids.

The order of Modern Woodmen in a communication to the council withdrew all objections to the showing of Barnum & Bailey's circus in Superior June 30.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL CONDUCT PROGRAM.

The last of a series of entertainments, which have been given by the Knights of Columbus at Sacred Heart auditorium since the first of the year, will be held this evening. Mrs. J. M. Casey will be heard in a piano number. Miss Kate Sarazin of Superior and Frank Kelley of Duluth will give readings.

Dies at Sioux City.

The body of Mrs. Olive Henretty Hearn, who died Monday at Sioux City, Iowa, was yesterday brought to her former home in Superior. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church to Calvary cemetery.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGING AT FEZ

Courier From Tangier Turned Back By Rebel Tribesmen.

Tangier, Morocco, May 17.—A courier who recently left this city for Fez, returned here today and reported he was unable to get within ten miles of the southern capital, having been turned back May 15 by the rebellious tribesmen. A fierce battle, according to the courier, was in progress around Fez. The sultan's troops had left the city and were engaging the rebels. Both sides were fighting desperately. The rebels admitted having suffered heavy losses.

All road communication out of Fez is cut and couriers are menaced with death.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Constance Fauntelroy Runcie of St. Joseph, Mo., author, musical composer, and said to have been the organizer of the first Sunbeam club in America, died in a sanitarium at Winnetka, Ill., May 17. She was 75 years old. Mrs. Runcie, in 1859, organized a woman's club at New Harmony, Ind., nine years before the Sorosis club in New York was organized. She was born in Indianapolis and was the widow of Dr. James Runcie, an Episcopal minister.

Hollins McKim, prominent retired banker and senior member of the recently assigned historic banking firm of McKim & Co., died at his home in Baltimore, Md., May 17. He was 79 years old.

Admiral Rodney MacLnin Lloyd, R. N., (retired), died suddenly at the Royal Naval club at Portsmouth, Eng., May 17, from angina pectoris. He was born in 1841, and after serving in the Baltic, China and Egyptian Sudan, was made an admiral in 1904. As a rear-admiral he commanded the British Mediterranean fleet in the summer of 1899.

SWITCHMEN INQUIRE INTO HAWLEY'S ACTIONS.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Switchmen's union, in national convention at the old capitol, suspended the rules this morning and went into extraordinary session to discuss the strike troubles of a year and a half ago, and to find out whether President Frank T. Hawley was acting within his rights during the inception and continuation of that trouble. Honors between the Hawley men and the so-called insurgents were evenly divided when L. H. Ritter of Cincinnati, Ohio, an avowed Hawley man, was unanimously elected chairman of the extraordinary session.

For more than two hours the switchmen labored in the sweltering heat behind closed doors. When the meeting finally adjourned at noon, the press committee announced that the convention had ordered them to give out nothing.

CROP NEWS IS BULL FACTOR

Canadian Winter Wheat Partial Failure—Dry in Nebraska.

Bulls Favored By Dominion Report—Manitobas Are Exported.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 17.—Wheat went forward again today. Dry weather and hot winds were reported in Nebraska. The Dominion government issued a report saying that the fall wheat crop was almost a failure in many important districts. A moderate business in Manitoba wheat for export was transacted. Stocks at Fort Arthur and Fort William decreased 1,000,000 bu in three days. May wheat gained ¾c and July went forward a similar distance. September advanced 1⅜c. Cash was on a parity with July. Oats gained ½c. Rye lost 3c and durum gained ¼c. Barley was not quoted.

Linseed was about the same. May gaining ½c while the other options were unchanged. Cables were slightly lower.

Cables were lower and wheat opened under yesterday's close. Values quickly firmed, however. Trading was dull and the bearishly inclined people were diffident about entering the market because of its nervous action and the uncertainty regarding the operations of the bull clique.

The Daily Trade Bulletin of Chicago estimated the exportable surplus of wheat in this country at 116,000,000 bushels. This bearish statement did not have much effect on the market which continued to advance until at noon when there was some realizing by scalpers. The market wavered and acted nervously. Values were above yesterday's close.

There was a fair cash demand in the Northwest for the poorer quality of spring wheat. Choice wheat is scarce. The cash demand helped to strengthen the Northwestern markets. Mills generally reported the flour business as poor.

There were scattered showers in the Northwest over night. Rain fell in Western North Dakota and in the prairie provinces of Canada with the exception of Manitoba. A low area is spreading over the Canadian Northwest and showers are predicted for North Dakota and South Dakota tonight and Tuesday. Warmer temperatures are in prospect. There has been enough rain in the spring wheat territory to put a stop to dry weather talk. In fact, it is not improbable that the bulls will now begin to complain of too much moisture.

About the only news that the bulls could rely upon today was dry weather reports from Nebraska. Elsewhere crop reports were favorable, although Central Illinois complained that not enough moisture had fallen.

More moisture has fallen in Russia which served to lower the continental demand for wheat. Australian offers are cheaper and Russia is still shipping liberally, indicating that reserves are large. Crop advices from India, Argentina and the United Kingdom were favorable.

The passing of the holders of cash wheat into the July is tending to make traders cautious about becoming interested in the next delivery. The cash holders are taking delivery of a large amount of old wheat. Sales from the country to arrive at all of the leading primary markets have been fairly liberal. Whether the bulls can market their merchandise at a profit remains to be seen. They seem to be devoting their attention just now to forcing the bears to pay as large a part as possible of the cost of their campaign.

The market is strictly a weather and harvest affair, so far as the future is concerned. Crop reports seem to indicate a favorable promise of both the winter and spring wheat yields, both are subject to uncertain developments, however. This is especially true of the spring wheat which is just starting on its career.

Cash Sales Wednesday.

MARKET GOSSIP

R. W. Snow wired from Kingman, Kan.: "Edwards county, east of the river and the south half of Stafford county, have a wheat prospect that was never better. Plant is strong, thick stooled and earlier fields are headed out with long heads. Harvest will begin by June 20, and there are plenty of fields that will make 30 bu per acre. In northern Pratt and Kingman counties the crop did not start as early and the plant is later, with prospects for just a fair yield. Plenty of rain, and ground is moist enough to carry the crop for a month. Oats in fine shape. Some corn up and planting still under way. Soil in perfect condition.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—There was heavy realizing in wheat at the opening here, with prices ½d to ⅝d lower. Pressure resulted from the weakness in America yesterday, and more favorable American weather and crop conditions in this country reported flattering. Foreign markets easier on rains in Russia. Trading of professional character and moderate volume. May closed 1c higher than yesterday, July ⅞c higher, September ⅞c higher and December ½c higher.

Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 135,000 bu for four days. Minneapolis today received 68 cars of wheat against 112 a year ago; Duluth 38 against 26, and Winnipeg 88 against 110. CHICAGO MARKET.

Rain in Russia Causes Weakening of Wheat Prices.

Chicago, May 17.—Rains in Russia today weakened wheat prices here. Cable advices reported also that cheaper and larger offerings were being made from India. Besides, Argentine weather and crop prospects appeared to be highly favorable, and a fresh estimate put the United States export surplus as high as 116,000,000 bu. Furthermore, there was a forecast of showers tonight in the Dakotas and Minnesota. For a while selling was general. Later, however, offerings dried up and a reaction followed. Opening prices were ⅞c to ¾c lower. July started at 88⅝c to 88¼c, a decline of ⅞c to ½c, but rallied to 88½@88⅝c.

Montreal reports that Canadian wheat had proved a failure in many important districts, was much below the average in others, helped cause a further advance. The close was strong with July at 89½c, a net gain of ⅞c.

Unusual activity was witnessed in oats. Prices rose sharply on account of fears as to the effects of dry weather on the growing grain. Shorts and local speculators were somewhat strenuous buyers. July opened the same as last night to ¾c higher at 33½c to 33¾c, and advanced to 34⅛c.

Freer selling by Nebraska farmers led to a setback. The close was firm, however at 52⅝@52¾c for July, a net gain of ¼@⅜c. May lost its premium.

Corn rallied in sympathy with oats after being depressed by wheat for a time. July started unchanged to ¼c off at 52⅛c to 52⅜c and went to 52⅝c. Moderate trade and a steady tone was the rule in provisions. First sales were 5c down to a like amound up with July delivery $14.90 for pork, $8.05 for lard and $7.87½ for ribs.

FEELING OF CONFIDENCE

New York, May 17.—Stocks retained the gains made yesterday in the early trading today, and although changes were slight there were a number of further advances. Early transactions were on a heavy scale. Louisville & Nashville gained 1¼ and Denver & Rio Grande and Virginia-Carolina Chemical ¾. The usual market leaders opened at about on a level with last night's close with the exception of United States Steel, which showed some heaviness.

The market took realizing sales well, and although the list hesitated for a short interval, the advance was resumed more vigorously than before. About a score of stocks sold from 1@2 points above yesterday's closing, but only a few of the market leaders were included in the movement, notably Atchison and Southern Pacific.

Further extensive gains were made in the stock market this morning, the whole list advancing in response to a persistent demand. The profits resulting from yesterday's rise induced some realizing and bear traders also supplied a considerable amount of stock early in the day. The market absorbed offerings so readily that bear traders were forced to cover hastily, and the upward movement, after being halted temporarily, was resumed with increased vigor.

The feeling of confidence aroused by yesterday's reception of the Standard Oil decision was the chief factor in the continued rise in prices. Another source of strength was the large operations of Western speculative interests, which have purchased stocks heavily of late on account of the condition of the crops which have been benefited by recent rains. Representative stocks went ahead at a more rapid pace in the second hour and gains of a point or more were general in these issues.

The bond market was strong, with a large demand for the Erie and Atchison issues.

The market closed steady. Prices fell back in the final hour under the lead of Union Pacific and Reading, both declining substantially in fractions. This movement was offset in a measure by the increased strength of the Southern railroad group, Atlantic Coast Line, Louisville Nashville and Southern Railway preferred making material gains.

SENSATION IN THE COTTON MARKET

New Orleans Bull Pays $1.10 Over Quoted Price and Calls for More.

New Orleans, La., May 17.—Sensational bids at the market price for 100,000 bales each of May and July cotton and offers of one-eighth over exchange quotations for any or all of the spot cotton in New Orleans startled the cotton market here today. The bids were offered by Frank B. Haynie, the bull leader, and he added to his challenge by declaring the bid for spots over the market price was open all day, and covered anything from low ordinary grade to fair.

The feeling of confidence aroused by yesterday's reception of the Standard Oil decision was the chief factor in the continued rise in prices. Another source of strength was the large operations of Western speculative interests, which have purchased stocks heavily of late on account of the condition of the crops which have been benefited by recent rains. Representative stocks went ahead at a more rapid pace in the second hour and gains of a point or more were general in these issues.

The bond market was strong, with a large demand for the Erie and Atchison issues.

The market closed steady. Prices fell back in the final hour under the lead of Union Pacific and Reading, both declining substantially in fractions. This movement was offset in a measure by the increased strength of the Southern railroad group, Atlantic Coast Line, Louisville Nashville and Southern Railway preferred making material gains.

Futures closed very steady; closing bids: May, 16.85; June, 15.91; July, 15.97; August, 15.49; September, 13.78; October, 13.26; November, 13.13; December and January, 13.15; March, 13.21. Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 16.05; middling gulf, 16.30. No sales.

STATEHOOD BILL IS CENTER OF ACTIVITY BY HOUSE MAJORITY

Leaders Hope to Dispose of the Measure at Once.

Sugar Trust Investigators Picked as Originally Nominated.

Governor Osborn of Michigan Talks About the Reciprocity Bill.

Washington, May 18.—After having settled its party differences yesterday on the question of electing the committee to investigate the American Sugar Refining company and other refiners, the Democratic leaders prepared today to rush discussion to a conclusion giving statehood to Arizona and New Mexico.

The debate was resumed when the house met. If the discussion is prolonged there will be a session tomorrow; the house leaders otherwise will endeavor to adjourn over until next week.

The ways and means committee, anxious to get into uninterrupted sessions on the wool schedule, will meet tomorrow for all day if the house does not convene.

To Probe Sugar Trust.

After a full day's fight over the proposal to elect the sugar trust investigating committee nominated by Chairman Henry of the rules committee, the Democrats late yesterday afternoon elected the committee practically without dissent. It contains the following members:

The union of Democratic forces came after conciliating words had been spoken by many of those who had attacked Mr. Henry and his resolution, and after Democratic Leader Underwood had urged the election of the committee named by Mr. Henry. Mr. Underwood said he considered it

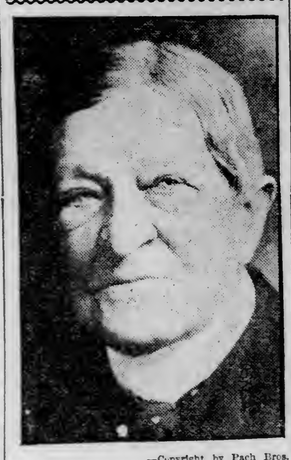
EX-VICE PRESIDENT IS 87 YEARS OLD



—Copyright by Pach Bros.

LEVI P. MORTON.

New York, May 18.—Levi P. Morton, former vice president of the United States and for many years one of the foremost bankers and financiers of the metropolis, received congratulations from a host of friends Tuesday on the occasion of his 87th birthday anniversary. Mr. Morton recently arrived home from abroad, having spent the winter in the South of France. He is seemingly in good health and continues to take an active interest in business affairs.

PRINT PAPER REPORT MADE

American Mills Are Not as Up-to-Date as the Canadian.

Labor Cost in Both Countries Differs Only Very Slightly.

Washington, May 18.—President Taft sent to the senate yesterday the tariff board's full report of its investigation of the pulp and news print paper industry in the United States and Canada.

Summarized briefly, the report says that a ton of news print paper is made in Canada for $5.35 less than it is made in the United States. The average Canadian cost is given at $27.53, and the average cost in the United States at $32.88. The duty upon a ton of news print paper under the present tariff is $3.75.

The document presents extensive tables, comparisons and other tabulating, and is said to be the most complete of its kind ever attempted.

Pulpwood Twice as Expensive.

Several factors entering into the increased cost of manufacture in the United States are taken up exhaustively into the report. The principal increases are said to be due to the fact that a ton of pulpwood costs nearly twice as much in the United States as it does in Canada, and that many of the American mills have much older and much less efficient equipment than the Canadian mills, which is said to be responsible for a large increase in the manufacturing cost.

In the cost of labor employed, the differences in the two countries are shown to be small. The comparative costs follow the total average cost of a ton of ground wood pulp in bulk at a mill in the United States is $14.54; in Canada it is $9.56. The total cost of a

FARGO DRAYMAN TAKES HIS LIFE

Swallows Much Paris Green, Dying Despite Doctor's Efforts.

Fargo, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — Swallowing a large amount of paris green last night, John H. Reddy of this city committed suicide. Physicians worked with him all night, but he died this morning. No cause is assigned.

HENEY TO TALK TO THE GOPHER REPUBLICANS.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Francis J. Heney, the California prosecutor, will be the principal speaker at the banquet of the Republican Progressive league in Minneapolis June 17. Former Senator Albert Beveridge has been invited, but thus far has not responded to the invitation. The banquet will be held at the West hotel.

PETITION FOR WOMAN'S LIFE

Canadian Soo Women Would Save Mrs. Neopolitana From Gallows.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many women are circulating petitions here to prevent the execution of Mrs. Angelino Neopolitani, who was recently sentenced to be hanged Aug. 9 for the murder of her husband, Peter Neopolitana, on April 12.

The movement to secure a commutation of sentence from the governor general has been taken up with a will in Toronto and many other points in Canada, and already a large number of signatures, among which are those of some of the most influential men and women in the dominion, have been secured.

The petitions declare that the jurymen, all Englishmen, were free of sentiment and displayed little mercy in returning a verdict.

FEWER GRASSHOPPERS SINCE THE FREEZE-UP

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grasshoppers in the vicinity of Crookston are not all dead, according to Prof. F. L. Washburn. "The freezing weather a week ago did not entirely exterminate them," he declares, "but it lessens their number to a great extent."

STILLWATER ELECTION JUDGE IS FINED $300.

Stillwater, Minn., May 18.—John C. Welch, a business man, who has been an election judge for many years, pleaded guilty to an indictment alleging that he had counted incorrectly the ballots for several county candidates for office at the primary election last September. Judge P. H. Stolberg of the district court imposed a fine of $300 or four months in jail. Welch paid the money.

AITKIN COUNTY MEN READY TO BRING SUIT.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Citizens of Aitkin county have made definite arrangements to fight the assessment providing money for payment of the construction of State Ditch 66. Papers bearing on the question have been forwarded to a law firm in St. Paul, and instructions issued for proceedings to be started. It is probable that the proceedings will take the form of a damage suit against the contractors and the state.

MAKE SOIL SURVEY ALONG M. & I. ROAD.

Bemidji, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. D. E. Willard, special agriculturalist for the Northern Pacific, formerly of the North Dakota Agriculture of the University of Minnesota; L. J. Bricker, immigration agent of the Northern Pacific and W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota & International railroad have just completed a tour of the Minnesota & International line, after making a complete soil survey and making minute records to be used should the road decide to establish a demonstration farm.

SEES GOOD FOR CHURCH

Dr. Charles Little Preaches on Differences in Pastors' Methods.

Presbyterian Moderator Makes Address at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 18.—The election of a moderator to succeed Rev. Charles Little, D. D., of Wabash, Ind., and the sermon of the latter calling the gathering to order, were the principal events on today's program of the 123rd general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America.

Dr. Little, in the annual sermon of the presiding officer, took for his subject, "The Ministry of Elijah and Elisha—Then and Now," with the text from II Kings 2:12 and II Kings 13:14. After contrasting the characters of the ancient prophets—Elijah as destructive, a separatist and a reformer, and Elisha as constructive, harmonizing and a peace maker—he asked whether there were not today ministers who differed as widely in gifts, knowledge and wisdom and yet were equally honored of God.

Elijahs and Elishas Today.

"The contrast may not be so wide, and the dividing line so sharply defined," said Dr. Little, "but in modified sense, are there not Elijahs and Elishas in the pulpit of today? May not the glory of the Kingdom and its ultimate victory be hastened thereby? In the prophecy of Isaiah, the Almighty declares that spiritual architecture of the church is made complete by the different parts which unite in its construction; 'The glory of Lebanon shall

STATE GETS TAX OF $65,882.50

Minneapolis Hermit's Estate Pays Second Largest Death Duty Thus Far.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—From the estate of Levi M. Stewart, "the hermit," who lived in a cabin on Hennepin avenue in Minneapolis, and whose death occurred May 3, 1910, there was paid into the state treasury today as an inheritance tax $65,882.50. This is the second largest inheritance tax ever paid the state—second only to the Kennedy tax.

The Stewart estate was valued at nearly $2,000,000. The real property was valued at $1,820,121, and the personal property at $38,980.21. There are nineteen heirs.

FERGUS FALLS BOY IS A MIDSHIPMAN NOW.

Washington, May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Steenerson was today advised by the navy department that Conrad Ludwig Leim of Fergus Falls, Minn., has successfully passed his examination for entrance to the naval academy and has been sworn in as a midshipman.

SAY SHERMAN LAW IS DEAD

Men at State Capitol Discuss the Standard Oil Decision.

Attorney General Simpson Says It Means Endless Litigation.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—By reading the word "reasonable" into the Sherman anti-trust law, the supreme court of the United States practically annuls the intent of the act, paves the way for endless litigation and provides a means whereby every case of alleged restraint of trade may be taken into court for a trial on facts.

This is the opinion of Attorney General Simpson. While he was making these assertions, J. A. O. Preus, insurance commissioner, brought out a copy of the Congressional Record for 1909, showing that Senator Knute Nelson was responsible for the defeat of an amendment to the Sherman act which contained the very word "reasonable," now under discussion.

Say It Means Trouble.

Officials at the capitol are practically unanimous in the opinion that the findings of the United States supreme court in the Standard Oil case will bring no end of trouble in the years to come, and that unless an amendatory act is passed by congress specifically prohibiting restraint of trade in any manner—reasonable or unreasonable—the Sherman act is done for, so far as usefulness is concerned.

On March 25, 1908, Senator Foraker introduced an amendment to the Sherman article, which said:

"That nothing in the act to regulate commerce • • • or to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies • • • shall hereafter be construed or held to prohibit any contract, agreement or combination that is not unreasonable restraint of trade or commerce with for-

PREDICTS RISE IN COTTON PRICE

Bull Leader Says There Is Not Enough to Go Around.

New Orleans, La., May 18.—"There is not enough cotton to go around; the price will be higher," declared Frank B. Hayne, the bull leader, early today.

He caused excitement in the New Orleans exchange yesterday by offering to buy 200,000 bales of May and July at the market price, then going one better by offering ⅛ cent higher than the exchange quotations for all the cotton in the city.

"We know how much cotton we will get between now and Sept. 1," he continued. "There is not enough to keep the mills running and some of them must close down. The world needs 27,000,000 bales, and all it will get will be 22,500,000 bales, or 4,500,000 short of the amount required, and what would have been used had the staple been grown. That is the situation. I believe cotton will go higher."

BATTLE FOR TWELVE DAYS

Bloodiest Contest of Mexican War Is Fought at Corsala.

Town Is Desolated in Defense Against Big Insurrecto Force.

Culiacan, State of Sinoloa, via Nogales, Mex., May 18.—News has just reached here of a twelve-day battle which has left the town of Corsala, in the mountains southeast of Culiacan, desolate.

A force of rebels said to have numbered 1,400 assaulted the town, which has a population of 7,000 and was garrisoned by 400 federals. The fighting continued with little intermission during the entire period.

The defenders were given no opportunity to bury their dead and bodies fell from roofs and barricades and lay in the tropical sun, until finally the federal commander marched out under a white flag. He offered to surrender the town if the rebels would agree to let him move out with the honors of war and guarantee not to destroy the government records. These conditions were accepted by the rebels.

Bloodiest of the War.

The reports indicate that this battle was one of the most sanguinary of the war.

Culiacan is in momentary expectation of attack, its only hope being that the news of the armistice will reach the insurrectos and they will abide by it.

This city of 25,000 people has in it 600 Americans, many of them driven in from surrounding ranches. Its garrison numbers 400 only, some of them volunteers; but it is equipped with ten machine guns and is, therefore, able to put up a stout defense. Its seaport, Altate, forty-five miles distant, was

MRS. TAFT GOES TO WASHINGTON

Physician and Nurse Accompany Her From New York.

New York, May 18.—Mrs. William H. Taft, the wife of the president, who was taken ill here last Saturday, left for Washington this morning at 10:08. With her went Dr. Evan H. Evans, a trained nurse and Maj. Archibald Butt, the president's military aide. The party traveled in a private car.

Mrs. Taft leaned on the arm of her brother-in-law, Henry W. Taft, as she left his house for a waiting automobile. At the station Maj. Butt asked newspaper photographers not to attempt to take pictures, as he feared the flashlights might bring on a collapse.

MADERO SURE PEACE WILL FOLLOW DIAZ'S RETIREMENT JUNE 1

WILL ACT AS PRESIDENT OF MEXICAN REPUBLIC

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

F. L. DE LA BARRA,
At Present Minister of Foreign Relations for Mexico.

De La Barra Will Be President Pending the New Election.

Insurrecto Leader Will Work With Him—Talks of His Policies.

New Election Law Drafted at Capital—Terms of the Compact.

Juarez, Mex., May 18.—Francisco I. Madero, Jr., today announced that the news from City of Mexico was so entirely satisfactory to him it might be universally proclaimed that peace throughout Mexico is now an accomplished fact.

Madero will accept the offer to go to the Mexican capital to act as chief adviser to Minister of Foreign Relations De La Barra, who will become president ad interim.

As the date for the withdrawal from office of President Diaz and Vice President Corral has been definitely fixed for June 1, it will not be necessary for the insurrectos to institute provisional governors or provisional members of the cabinet for the intervening twelve days, but the fact that Madero will act with Minister De La Barra in the reorganization of the government will be accepted as sufficient guarantee of the success of the revolution.

Accept Diaz's Announcement.

Diaz's announcement of his intention to resign is accepted with absolute faith by the rebels.

Regarding the future policy of the Madero government toward foreign capital in Mexico, Senor Madero said he and his cabinet would continue to encourage American investments, but a vigorous prohibition would be made against trusts of any kind and against the wholesale granting of concessions. Madero has no doubt that he will be the next regularly elected president of Mexico and that Dr. Vasquez Gomez will be the vice president.

Concerning the reorganization of the Mexican army, Senor Madero declared all convicts, hereafter will be eliminated and the army will be composed entirely of volunteers.

Madero received the full details of

MURDERS TWO ON "L" TRAIN

Negro Wounds Eight Other Men When Told Not to Smoke.

New York Prisoner Admits He Committed Crime Long Ago.

New York, May 18.—John Cain, a big negro who ran amuck with a knife and revolver last night on an upper West side elevated train and killed two men and wounded eight others, has admitted, the police say, that he is the man who killed Richard Ball, a newspaper man, on Broadway eleven years ago. Ball's slayer said that he killed his man for stepping on his toes.

Cain went wild last night when a white passenger on the platform of the elevated train objected to his smoking.

Cain said that he was sentenced to fourteen years at Sing Sing for killing Ball, and released a few weeks ago after serving between nine and ten years, his term being shortened for good behavior.

The two men who died in the hospital late last night, covered with slashes from Cain's knife, were John Hall of Weehawken, N. J., and Saxon Surrell of Manhattan. Chauncey De Graff, a policeman, and August Liebman are in a serious condition and may die.

Cain has a bullet through his lungs, but probably will get well.

CANNOT CONVICT PITTSBURG MEN

State's Attorney Asks That Some Graft Cases Be Nolle Prossed.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 18.—The commonwealth today took steps to abandon some of the councilmanic graft cases. Assistant District Attorney Warren I. Seymout went before Judges R. S. Frazer and John D. Shafer and asked that the indictments against F. N. Hoffstot, the banker and car manufacturer, Dr. F. C. Blessing, president of common council, Ex-Councilman William McAvey and Councilman S. G. Lennox be nolle prossed.

Mr. Seymout stated to the court that the commonwealth's witnesses had failed to give the testimony expected.

In the present series of graft trials there has been only one conviction. The rest have resulted in disagreements or acquittals.

The judges postponed their decision.

NEW RAILROAD BED APPROVED

Minnesota, Dakota & Western Route Is Officially Passed Upon.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Approval of the roadbed of the new Minnesota, Dakota & Western railroad was given by the board of railway and warehouse commissioners yesterday, after a trip of inspection over the line. The road runs from International Falls to Lomen, a distance of twenty-two miles. It is understood the line is to be extended into North Dakota.

HARMON NOT TO BE AT JUBILEE

Democrats at St. Paul, June 1, Will Not Hear Ohio Man.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Judson Harmon of Indiana will not attend the Democratic jubilee in St. Paul June 1. The Ohio legislature will not adjourn until May 31, making it impossible for the chief executive of Indiana to meet the Northwestern Democrats in a celebration of recent victories of state and national proportions. The guests of honor will be William Jennings Bryan, Judge Alton B. Parker, Congressman W. S. Hammond and Judge Wade of Iowa City.

CUMBERLAND MEN OPPOSE UNION

Moderator Fussell Forecasts Action in Sermon at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., May 18.—The eighty-first general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church convened here this morning, with 300 commissioners present. This afternoon a moderator will be elected to succeed Judge J. H. Fussell of Columbia, Tenn. Cofcurrent with the assembly, missionary associations of the church are meeting, with 500 delegates.

Recent decisions of the courts of Indiana, have declared against the Cumberland in suits affecting church property in Southern Indiana. Other suits on different pleas will be brought, and the determination of a legal policy will be one of the acts of the assembly here.

Commissioners will speak strenuously against union of the body with the Presbyterian church. A forecast of this was made in the opening sermon this forenoon by Moderator Fussell.

ASKS ABOUT GERMAN VICTIMS IN MEXICO.

Berlin, May 18.—Germany has followed up her representation to the Mexican government of two weeks ago concerning danger to Germans at Cuernavaca and elsewhere in Mexico with particular representations regarding the wounding of the German, Oeon Katerfeldt, who was reported shot while defending his ranch near Torreon.

WILL VISIT AT SCHOOLS

Old Soldiers Will Address Children on Friday Before Memorial Day.

All Organizations Are Making Plans for Celebration of the Day.

One of the best features of the Memorial day exercises this year in Duluth will be the visiting of the public schools by veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, escorted by the United Spanish War veterans, the Sons of Veterans and members of the Citizen's Staff. This will be on the Friday preceding Memorial day, May 26, and though most of the appointments have been made, there are still a few details to be arranged.

It is, of course, intended that the Memorial days exercises shall be as replete as possible with lessons of patriotism. The Women's clubs and organizations of the community are invited to attend the Memorial day mass meeting to be held at the Auditorium immediately after the parade. Clubs are promised reserved seats if they will communicate their intention of be present to President S. S. Williamson at Citizen's Staff headquarters, 515 Torrey building.

The presence of the fraternal orders in the monster parade and at the mass meeting will also be a very pleasing feature, and the Citizen's staff is very anxious that every organization of the kind should consider itself specially invited, and should make an effort to turn out in a body. The uniformed teams of these organizations should early decide to be in the parade as thir presence is ernestly desired. Uniformed teams always add much to the beauty and impressiveness of occasions of this kind, and in no better way may the fraternal orders show their love for and appreciation of the work of the veterans than by taking an enthusiastic part in the exercises of this day. Those uniformed teams which contemplate marching should communicate with Mr. Williamson so that places in the line may be reserved for them.

Flags at Half Mast.

Adjutant General Fred B. Wood, M. N. G., has issued the following general orders with reference to the observance of Memorial day:

"1. In observance of Memorial day, Tuesday, May 30, the organizations of the Minnesota National Guard, will, when requested, take part in the exercises pertaining to that day which may be held at their home stations.

"II. In accordance with the United States regulations the flag will be hoisted at half staff in the different armories in the state at sunrise, remaining at half staff until noon, when it will be hoisted to the top of the staff, remaining until sunset.

By command of the Governor,
FRED B. WOOD,
Adjutant general."

It is sincerely hoped that all citizens who can do so, will display the flag on this day, and in accord with national regulations. The regular and proper way of doing this is to hoist it to full mast first, then lower it to half and leave it there until noon, then hoist it to "full" and leave it until sunset.

NAVAL MILITIA

Orders have been received to enlist up to full quota, preparatory to annual cruise. Recruits will be received by the Second division, Friday, May 19, at Armory, 8 o'clock.

R. T. HUGO,
Lieut. Commanding Second Division.

JUDGE DANCER TAKES UP CRIMINAL WORK.

Judge Dancer will take up the criminal calendar and hear the cases beginning probably tomorrow. Judge J. D. Ensign, the presiding judge at this term of court, has been hearing the actions up to this time. He will still remain in charge of the calendar, however.

For the past few days all the court rooms on the fourth floor of the courthouse have been busy. It is expected that they will remain so a greater part of the present term as the calendar is unusually heavy.

DUSTLESS CAR TRACKS

City and Traction Company May Reach Sprinkling Agreement.

Company May Use Calcium Chloride in Its Sprinkling Work.

It is rumored about the city hall that the Duluth Street Railway company and the city are getting together on the details of a plan to comply with the city ordinance and the recent supreme court decision requiring the street railway to lay the dust along its right-of-way.

The probability is that the arrangement of the past five years, by which the city sprinkles streets in the sprinkling district and the street railway company pays a proportionate amount of the cost for those streets which its tracks occupy.

Outside the sprinkling districts, such lines as the Lakeside, Woodland and West Duluth routes, will be treated with calcium chloride or oil. No definite arrangements have yet been made, and if the calcium chloride or oil methods are employed, an amendment to the ordinance may be necessary. In any case, it is now probable that the dust nuisance to street railway passengers will soon be a thing of the past in Duluth.

RAILROADS

RAILROAD INCOME SHOWS DECREASE

Digest of Revenues and Expenses for Month of February.

Washington, May 18.—A digest of revenues and expenses of railroads in the United States for February, 1911, and for eight months of the current railroad year has been prepared by the Bureau of Railroad Economics.

For the eight months of the current railroad year closing with February, American railroads as a whole show a decline in net operating revenues of 7.3 per cent and a decline of nearly 9 per cent in operating income. Operating revenues show a very slight increase of 1.8 per cent but this was more than absorbed by the heavy increase in operating expenses, amounting to 6.6 per cent. Freight business, which supplies the bulk of railroad revenue, increased but six-tenths of 1 per cent. Western roads for the same period show an even smaller advance in total operating revenues, amounting to but .6 per cent while their operating expenses advanced 2.7 per cent. Their net operating revenue fell off 3.2 per cent and their operating income 4.1 per cent.

For the two months of the calendar year American railroads make an even less favorable showing, their total operating revenues falling off 1.4 per cent, their operating expenses advancing 2.1 per cent and their operating income decreasing 12.8 per cent. The Western roads for the same period experienced a decrease of 3.3 per cent in total operating revenues and a decrease of 6.2 per cent in operating income. The decline in total operating revenues is traceable in both cases to a falling off in freight business.

For the month of February alone, railroads as a whole show a decline of 3.2 per cent or $29 a mile in total operating revenues and a decrease of 16.6 per cent or $35 a mile of line in operating income after paying expenses and taxes. Total operating expenses advanced .8 per cent. The Western roads experienced a drop of 5.5 per cent or $36 a mile of line in total operating revenues, and a decrease of 13.7 per cent or $22 in operating income. Operating expenses also declined 2.9 per cent, but at the expense of a heavy saving in maintenance of way and structures which decreased 13.9 per cent.

The fact that on American lines as a whole operating expenses were held practically stationary during February, in spite of a continued tendency to advance, shows the extent to which rigid economy of expenditures is being practiced and the advance of but 2 per cent for this entire period in expenditures for maintenance of way and structures is significant. The average net revenue per day per mile for the calendar year, 1910, was $10.93. For the two months of the new calendar year it is but $7.59.

SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR LUMBERMEN HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Superior Retail Lumbermen's association was held last evening at the Commercial club. Forty-five members and their guests gathered around the board and enjoyed a program of informal talks. Among the out-of-town guests were: J. W. Bailey of Alger, Smith & Co. Duluth; J. H. Dougherty of Fulerton-Krueger company, Minneapolis; G. E. Nichols of the Cloquet Lumber company, Cloquet; H. H. Butte of the Iron River Lumber company, Iron River; D. Towle of the Rust-Owen company, Drummond; F. Clark and Peter Peterson of the John Schroeder Lumber company, Ashland; M. Stewart and A. Flourney of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, Virginia, and E. J. Gilloney of Mellen, Wis.

LAUNCHES SINK IN POKEGAMA RIVER.

South Superior motor boat owners, who have their boats moored in the Pokegama river, were yesterday informed that by the sudden rising of the water, five crafts were under water and several were drifting down the river. The launches which sunk plied up on top of each other and were smashed. None of the owners have as yet recovered their boats.

DELINQUENT TAX ROLLS GIVEN TO THE SHERIFF.

County Treasurer Frank Kenyon yesterday turned over to the sheriff's office the delinqeunt personal tax rolls for the past three years. Most of the taxes cannot be collected as the parties owing them have moved from the city. The largest amount is a claim against the Gilchrist Transportation company for a steamer lying in the local harbor. The company is taxed $166.20. The city has taken a judgment for the amount.

New Piano House.

George A. Tupper, who for some years has been connected with the Duluth Music company, will open in the piano business for himself, Saturday, May 20, at 20 East Superior street. Mr. Tupper's ten years' experience in this city has given him an excellent opportunity of finding out the demands and preferences of the public, and he has, fortunately, been able to prepare for them by securing the agency of the world-famed Hallet & Davis pianos. Besides these, Mr. Tupper will also handle several other well-known makes of upright and grand pianos.

COMMITTEE TO ORGANIZE

New Public Affairs Body Will Hold Its First Meeting.

Many Important Questions Left for New Committee to Handle.

The new public affairs committee of the Commercial club will hold its first meeting tonight. Dinner will be served at 6:15 and it will be followed by the business of the meeting.

The principal development expected tonight is the announcement by Chairman W. A. McGonagle of the membership of the sub-committees of the whole committee. The membership of the whole committee has been increased by about forty this year, and it is understood that a number of new sub-committees will be announced. Some of the sub-committees on which the work was unusually heavy last year will have their membership increased, so that there will be a more equitable distribution of the work.

Plans will be made this evening for the activities of the year. The public affairs committee which passed out of existence last month accomplished a great deal, but was not able to complete all the work it undertook. Some of the legacies it left to the 1911 subcommittee are important and the course of action will very likely be discussed this evening.

The plans for dealing with petty offenders against the law and peace of Duluth and St. Louis county will probably again come up for discussion. That is one of the legacies of the old committee and is regarded as an extremely important one. The last public affairs committee went on record in favor of the establishment of a workhouse for vagrants and others who become entangled in the law through the belief that the world owes them a living without any endeavor on their part to collect it, and in favor of a work-farm for drunks and other offenders to whom life in the open air, and wholsome labor, will be more beneficial than confinement in a jail.

Some of the members of the last committee expressed themselves very strongly in favor of the change in penal methods and the new committee is expected to carry on the work.

DULUTH MILITIA COMPANIES WILL HELP MINNEAPOLIS CELEBRATE

The three Duluth companies of the Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, will take part in Minneapolis' big civic celebration July 2, 3 and 4. Every company of the three regiments of the national guard will be in Minneapolis for the three days. Prizes have been offered for competitive drills and the mobilization of the state troops, and the maneuvers which will be made possible by that fact, will be features of the celebration.

The two divisions of the Minnesota naval militia will participate in the big civic and military parade, which will be held on the closing day of the celebration, so that with three companies of citizen soldiers and two companies of citizen sailors, Duluth will be well represented.

The Third Regiment band will accompany the Duluth militia companies. Company F of Eveleth and Company M of Hibbing will also be in attendance.

NEW ATTACK ON LORIMER

Illinois Senate Asks Federal Senate to Reopen the Case.

Expulsion of Pemberton and Broderick Is Proposed.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—The Illinois senate today passed a resolution calling upon the United States senate to reopen the investigation into the election of United States Senator Lorimer. A resolution designed to extend the life of the Helm committee which has been investigating the bribery charge was killed.

Senator Douglas W. Helm, chairman of the senate bribery investigating committee, offered the two resolutions. Immediately following Helm's action, Senator Richard J. Barr of Joilet offered an amendment to the first resolution which stipulates that the election of Lorimer would not have occurred had members of the senate voted in accordance with the result of the primary election in which ex-Senator Albert J. Hopkins received the highest vote of the people.

The amendment is said to be aimed at Senator Walter Clyde Jones and others who failed to stand by Hopkins in the famous senatorial deadlock of 1909, in which Lorimer was elected.

Ruled Out by Oglesby.

When the resolution extending the life of the Helm committee was offered, Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby ruled that it sought to extend the committee's life beyond the sine die adjournment.

The Republican steering committee of the senate held a two-hours' session this morning to consider resolutions for the reopening of the Lorimer investigation by the United States senate and calling for the expulsion of Senators Stanley C. Pemberton and John Broderick.

Senator Broderick, when informed of the proposed resolution for his expulsion, said:

"That resolution would not receive votes in this senate. I believe the Republican steering committee is going away beyond its rights in even considering it, as I have been vindicated by a jury trial and the Helm committee has proved nothing against me. It's a scheme to 'get' Lorimer and make me the goat."

APPROPRIATED ANOTHER'S BED

Gust Ferman Drove Fisherman From His Comfortable Shack.

Gust Ferman, was convicted of assaulting Nels Thorson, a fisherman living near Lakewood Tuesday night. It seems that Gust was hard up for a place to sleep, and deliberately drove the fisherman from a comfortable bed in the shack which he had erected on the lake shore. Besides chasing Thorson outdoors Gust gave the fisherman a severe beating. He got sixty days in the county jail, being unable to pay a fine of $75 and costs.

HIS GOOD NAME WAS NOT DAMAGED

Erick Carlson Fails to Prove Slander Against Duluth Hardware Company.

The jury which has been hearing the case of Erick Carlson against the Duluth Hardware company for an alleged libel against his good name, for which he asked $500, brought in a verdict for the defendant in municipal court this morning.

Erickson alleged that he was falsely accused of stealing some tools from the hardware company's place during the sale which was held shortly after the fire which burned out the block on Superior street between First and Second avenues west the first of the year. The testimony of the defendant was that Carlson had been seen taking two or three articles after he had purchased a number of things, and that after he was charged with the act, he threw them back on the counter. Carlson was represented by Attorney M. E. Louisell and A. E. McManus appeared for the hardware company.

FOR PERMITTING FIRE.

Man Living Near Deerwood Will Be Tried on Saturday.

Deerwood, Minn., May 18.—Special to The Herald.)—William Milberry, the owner of a farm of seventy-two acres, on the north shore of Serpent lake, near Deerwood, was before Justice Coffin yesterday on the charge of allowing a fire on his premises unquenched, and Henry Smith, who was working for him was up on the charge of setting a fire on the land. The alleged offences are said to have occurred on April 27 and the fire fanned by a fierce wind, is said to have spread rapidly, endangering many of the lake cottages and was only extinguished by the efforts of Crosby people, led by M. F. Crosby. The first hearing was before Justice Richard Johnson of Crosby, and on a change of venue, was taken to Deerwood. When County Attorney W. A. Fleming appeared, the defendants asked for a jury trial and the case was continued until Saturday morning.

WILL VISIT AT SCHOOLS

Old Soldiers Will Address Children on Friday Before Memorial Day.

All Organizations Are Making Plans for Celebration of the Day.

One of the best features of the Memorial day exercises this year in Duluth will be the visiting of the public schools by veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, escorted by the United Spanish War veterans, the Sons of Veterans and members of the Citizen's Staff. This will be on the Friday preceding Memorial day, May 26, and though most of the appointments have been made, there are still a few details to be arranged.

It is, of course, intended that the Memorial days exercises shall be as replete as possible with lessons of patriotism. The Women's clubs and organizations of the community are invited to attend the Memorial day mass meeting to be held at the Auditortum immediately after the parade. Clubs are promised reserved seats if they will communicate their intention of be present to President S. S. Williamson at Citizen's Staff headquarters, 515 Torrey building.

The presence of the fraternal orders in the monster parade and at the mass meeting will also be a very pleasing feature, and the Citizen's staff is very anxious that every organization of the kind should consider itself specially invited, and should make an effort to turn out in a body. The uniformed teams of these organizations should early decide to be in the parade as thir presence is ernestly desired. Uniformed teams always add much to the beauty and impressiveness of occasions of this kind, and in no better way may the fraternal orders show their love for and appreciation of the work of the veterans than by taking an enthusiastic part in the exercises of this day. Those uniformed teams which contemplate marching should communicate with Mr. Williamson so that places in the line may be reserved for them.

Flags at Half Mast.

Adjutant General Fred B. Wood, M. N. G., has issued the following general orders with reference to the observance of Memorial day:

"I. In observance of Memorial day, Tuesday, May 30, the organizations of the Minnesota National Guard, will, when requested, take part in the exercises pertaining to that day which may be held at their home stations.

"II. In accordance with the United States regulations the flag will be hoisted at half staff in the different armories in the state at sunrise, remaining at half staff until noon, when it will be hoisted to the top of the staff, remaining until sunset.

By command of the Governor,
FRED B. WOOD,
Adjutant general."

It is sincerely hoped that all citizens who can do so, will display the flag on this day, and in accord with national regulations. The regular and proper way of doing this is to hoist it to full mast first, then lower it to half and leave it there until noon, then hoist it to "full" and leave it until sunset.

NAVAL MILITIA

Orders have been received to enlist up to full quota, preparatory to annual cruise. Recruits will be received by the Second division, Friday, May 19, at Armory, 8 o'clock.

R. T. HUGO,
Lieut. Commanding Second Dividon.

JUDGE DANCER TAKES UP CRIMINAL WORK.

Judge Dancer will take up the criminal calendar and hear the cases beginning probably tomorrow. Judge J. D. Ensign, the presiding judge at this term of court, has been hearing the actions up to this time. He will still remain in charge of the calendar, however.

For the past few days all the court rooms on the fourth floor of the courthouse have been busy. It is expected that they will remain so a greater part of the present term as the calendar is unusually heavy.

WEATHER: Probably local thunder storms tonight; moderate easterly to southerly winds.

YOU ARE NOT HARD FOR US TO FIT!

It's just here that Oak Hall Clothes prove their merit conclusively. We subdivide the size scale into all the variations necessary to fit every man—not just the average—but the individual. Whether you are regular in build, or tall or short, heavy or slender—we've got the exact size—and properly "balanced," as the saying is.

So don't you get the idea YOU cannot enjoy the advantages of ready-for-wear, but it depends upon WHAT Clothes they are.

We are getting compliment upon compliment for our $20 and $25 grade of Suits. Young Men and the men who want to stay young find fashion consistencies which will appeal to them strongly. Anybody can buy fabrics—but they don't make them up to compare with Oak Hall Clothes.

DUSTLESS CAR TRACKS

City and Traction Company May Reach Sprinkling Agreement.

Company May Use Calcium Chloride in Its Sprinkling Work.

It is rumored about the city hall that the Duluth Street Railway company and the city are getting together on the details of a plan to comply with the city ordinance and the recent supreme court decision requiring the street railway to lay the dust along its right-of-way.

The probability is that the arrangement of the past five years, by which the city sprinkles streets in the sprinkling district and the street railway company pays a proportionate amount of the cost for those streets which its tracks occupy.

Outside the sprinkling districts, such lines as the Lakeside, Woodland and West Duluth routes, will be treated with calcium chloride or oil.

No definite arrangements have yet been made, and if the calcium chloride or oil methods are employed, an amendment to the ordinance may be necessary. In any case, it is now probable that the dust nuisance to street railway passengers will soon be a thing of the past in Duluth.

RAILROADS

RAILROAD INCOME SHOWS DECREASE

Digest of Revenues and Expenses for Month of February.

Washington, May 18.—A digest of revenues and expenses of railroads in the United States for February, 1911, and for eight months of the current railroad year has been prepared by the Bureau of Railroad Economics.

For the eight months of the current railroad year closing with February. American railroads as a whole show a decline in net operating revenues of 7.3 per cent and a decline of nearly 9 per cent in operating income. Operating revenues show a very slight increase of 1.8 per cent but this was more than absorbed by the heavy increase in operating expenses, amounting to 6.6 per cent. Freight business, which supplies the bulk of railroad revenue, increased but six-tenths of 1 per cent. Western roads for the same period show an even smaller advance in total operating revenues, amounting to but .5 per cent while their operating expenses advanced 2.7 per cent. Their net operating revenue fell off 2.2 per cent and their operating income 4.1 per cent.

For the two months of the calendar year American railroads make an even less favorable showing, their total operating revenues falling off 1.4 per cent, their operating expenses advancing 2.1 per cent and their operating income decreasing 12.8 per cent. The Western roads for the same period experienced a decrease of 3.3 per cent in total operating revenues and a decrease of 6.2 per cent in operating income. The decline in total operating revenues is traceable in both cases to a falling off in freight business.

For the month of February alone, railroads as a whole show a decline of 3.2 per cent or $29 a mile in total operating revenues and a decrease of 16.6 per cent or $35 a mile of line in operating income after paying expenses and taxes. Total operating expenses advanced 1.8 per cent. The Western roads experienced a drop of 5.5 per cent or $36 a mile of line in total operating revenues, and a decrease of 15.7 per cent or $22 in operating income. Operating expenses also declined 2.9 per cent, but at the expense of a heavy saving in maintenance of way and structures which decreased 13.9 per cent.

The fact that on American lines as a whole operating expenses were held practically stationary during February, in spite of a continued tendency to advance, shows the extent to which rigid economy of expenditures is being practiced and the advance of but 2 per cent for this entire period in expenditures for maintenance of way and structures is significant. The average net revenue per day per mile for the calendar year, 1910, was $10.93. For the two months of the new calendar year it is but $7.59.

SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR LUMBERMEN HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Superior Retail Lumbermen's association was held last evening at the Commercial club. Forty-five members and their guests gathered around the board and enjoyed a program of informal talks. Among the out-of-town guests were: J. W. Bailey of Alger, Smith & Co, Duluth; J. H. Dougherty of Fulerton-Krueger company, Minneapolis; G. E. Nichols of the Cloquet Lumber company, Cloquet; H. H. Butte of the Iron River Lumber company, Iron River; D. Towle of the Rust-Owen company, Drummond; F. Clark and Peter Peterson of the John Schroeder Lumber company, Ashland; M. Stewart and A. Flourney of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, Virginia, and E. J. Gilooney of Mellen, Wis.

LAUNCHES SINK IN POKEGAMA RIVER.

South Superior motor boat owners, who have their boats moored in the Pokegama river, were yesterday informed that by the sudden rising of the water, five crafts were under water and several were drifting down the river. The launches which sunk piled up on top of each other and were smashed. None of the owners have as yet recovered their boats.

DELINQUENT TAX ROLLS GIVEN TO THE SHERIFF.

County Treasurer Frank Kenyon yesterday turned over to the sheriff's office the delinquent personal tax rolls for the past three years. Most of the taxes cannot be collected as the parties owing them have moved from the city. The largest amount is a claim against the Gilchrist Transportation company for a steamer lying in the local harbor. The company is taxed $166.20. The city has taken a judgment for the amount.

New Piano House.

George A. Tupper, who for some years has been connected with the Duluth Music company, will open in the piano business for himself, Saturday, May 20, at 20 East Superior street. Mr. Tupper's ten years' experience in this city has given him an excellent opportunity of finding out the demands and preferences of the public, and he has, fortunately, been able to prepare for them by securing the agency of the world-famed Hallet & Davis pianos. Besides these, Mr. Tupper will also handle several other well-known makes of upright and grand pianos.

WANT NEXT CONVENTION HELD IN DULUTH.

At the meeting of the Postoffice Clerks association, Branch No. 394, held Tuesday evening, it was voted to have the next state convention invited to Duluth.

The convention this year will be held June 2 and 3 in the city of Mankato. E. L. Eskelson and Bert A. Erickson were elected delegates from this city. The Duluth postoffice being the pioneer in the Sunday closing, Mr. Eskelson will read a paper on this subject to the delegates.

"The Fraternity Shop."

"The Fraternity Shop" is the popular named cigar and tobacco store that has just been opened at 309 West Superior street by Harry Baker, a well-known young Duluthian. The shop is handsomely finished in old English effect, and carries a large but select stock of cigars, tobacco and everything else of interest to smokers. A feature of the establishment is the comfortable seats provided for patrons to while away a few minutes in a social smoke. Mr. Baker also conducts his auto livery from his store. DULUTH MILITIA COMPANIES WILL HELP MINNEAPOLIS CELEBRATE

The three Duluth companies of the Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, will take part in Minneapolis' big civic celebration July 2, 3 and 4.

Every company of the three regiments of the national guard will be in Minneapolis for the three days. Prizes have been offered for competitive drills and the mobilization of the state troops, and the maneuvers which will be made possible by that fact, will be features of the celebration.

The two divisions of the Minnesota naval militia will participate in the big civic and military parade, which will be held on the closing day of the celebration, so that with three companies of citizen soldiers and two companies of citizen sailors, Duluth will be well represented.

The Third Regiment band will accompany the Duluth militia companies. Company F of Eveleth and Company M of Hibbing will also be in attendance.

COMMITTEE TO ORGANIZE

New Public Affairs Body Will Hold Its First Meeting.

Many Important Questions Left for New Committee to Handle.

The new public affairs committee of the Commercial club will hold its first meeting tonight. Dinner will be served at 6:15 and it will be followed by the business of the meeting.

The principal development expected tonight is the announcement by Chairman W. A. McDonagle of the membership of the sub-committees of the whole committee. The membership of the whole committee has been increased by about forty this year, and it is understood that a number of new sub-committees will be announced. Some of the sub-committees on which the work was unusually heavy last year will have their membership increased, so that there will be a more equitable distribution of the work.

Plans will be made this evening for the activities of the year. The public affairs committee which passed out of existence last month accomplished a great deal, but was not able to complete all the work it undertook. Some of the legacies it left to the 1911 subcommittee are important and the course of action will very likely be discussed this evening.

The plans for dealing with petty offenders against the law and peace of Duluth and St. Louis county will probably again come up for discussion. That is one of the legacies of the old committee and is regarded as an extremely important one. The last public affairs committee went on record in favor of the establishment of a workhouse for vagrants and others who become entangled in the law through the belief that the world owes them a living without any endeavor on their part to collect it, and in favor of a work-farm for drunks and other offenders to whom life in the open air, and wholsome labor, will be more beneficial than confinement in a jail.

Some of the members of the last committee expressed themselves very strongly in favor of the change in penal methods and the new committee is expected to carry on the work.

NEW ATTACK ON LORIMER

Illinois Senate Asks Federal Senate to Reopen the Case.

Expulsion of Pemberton and Broderick Is Proposed.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—The Illinois senate today passed a resolution calling upon the United States senate to reopen the investigation into the election of United States Senator Lorimer. A resolution designed to extend the life of the Helm committee which has been investigating the bribery charge was killed.

Senator Douglas W. Helm, chairman of the senate bribery investigating committee, offered the two resolutions. Immediately following Helm's action, Senator Richard J. Barr of Joilet offered an amendment to the first resolution which stipulates that the election of Lorimer would not have occurred had members of the senate voted in accordance with the result of the primary election in which ex-Senator Albert J. Hopkins received the highest vote of the people.

The amendment is said to be aimed at Senator Walter Clyde Jones and others who failed to stand by Hopkins in the famous senatorial deadlock of 1909, in which Lorimer was elected.

Ruled Out by Ogiesby.

When the resolution extending the life of the Helm committee was offered, Lieutenant Governor John G. Ogiesby ruled that it sought to extend the committee's life beyond the sine die adjournment.

The Republican steering committee of the senate held a two-hours' session this morning to consider resolutions for the reopening of the Lorimer investigation by the United States senate and calling for the expulsion of Senators Stanley C. Pemberton and John Broderick.

Senator Broderick, when informed of the proposed resolution for his expulsion, said:

"That resolution would not receive votes in this senate. I believe the Republican steering committee is going away beyond its rights in even considering it, as I have been vindicated by a jury trial and the Helm committee has proved nothing against me. It's a scheme to 'get' Lorimer and make me the goat."

APPROPRIATED ANOTHER'S BED

Gust Ferman Drove Fisherman From His Comfortable Shack.

Gust Ferman, was convicted of assaulting Nels Thorson, a fisherman living near Lakewood Tuesday night. It seems that Gust was hard up for a place to sleep, and deliberately drove the fisherman from a comfortable bed in the shack which he had erected on the lake shore. Besides chasing Thorson outdoors Gust gave the fisherman a severe beating. He got sixty days in the county jail, being unable to pay a fine of $75 and costs.

HIS GOOD NAME WAS NOT DAMAGED

Erick Carlson Fails to Prove Slander Against Duluth Hardware Company.

The jury which has been hearing the case of Erick Carlson against the Duluth Hardware company for an alleged libel against his good name, for which he asked $500, brought in a verdict for the defendant in municipal court this morning.

Erickson alleged that he was falsely accused of stealing some tools from the hardware company's place during the sale which was held shortly after the fire which burned out the block on Superior street between First and Second avenues west the first of the year. The testimony of the defendant was that Carlson had been seen taking two or three articles after he had purchased a number of things, and that after he was charged with the act, he threw them back on the counter. Carlson was represented by Attorney M. E. Louisell and A. E. McManus appeared for the hardware company.

FOR PERMITTING FIRE.

Man Living Near Deerwood Will Be Tried on Saturday.

Deerwood, Minn., May 18.—Special to The Herald.)—William Milberry, the owner of a farm of seventy-two acres, on the north shore of Serpent lake, near Deerwood, was before Justice Coffin yesterday on the charge of allowing a fire on his premises unquenched, and Henry Smith, who was working for him was up on the charge of setting a fire on the land. The alleged offences are said to have occurred on April 27 and the fire fanned by a fierce wind, is said to have spread rapidly, endangering many of the lake cottages and was only extinguished by the efforts of Crosby people, led by M. F. Crosby. The first hearing was before Justice Richard Johnson of Crosby, and on a change of venue, was taken to Deerwood. When County Attorney W. A. Fleming appeared the defendants asked for a jury trial and the case was continued until Saturday morning.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 12 DULUTH, MAY 18, 1911

Let us now show you the prices paid today for City Lighting in another group of leading American cities, continuing the alphabetical list of such cities begun in "Lighting Talk No. 10." These are the yearly prices for each arc light in the cities named. The figures are officially certified; but you do not have to take our word for their correctness—anybody who can send letters through the mail can get them.

Duluth----------80,000 $45.00

This is the offer of The Duluth-Edison Electric Company to this City as the basis of a new Street Lighting Contract: Only $45 a year for each arc light. Also we offer to give Duluth FREE lighting worth $1,500 a year, for the improved parks, the City Buildings, and for a proposed electric sign on the Aerial Bridge. Also, to all customers FREE renewals of all carbon and gem filament lamps (up to 32-c. p.)

Other cities as a rule get NO free lighting at all.

Among other important considerations bearing on the supplying of Electric Light in Duluth, it should not be forgotten that the cost of building an Electric Lighting System to serve such a community scattered in several very long but very thinly built-up lines is vastly greater than for all ordinary cities which are closely compacted together; and that it costs vastly more to plant poles in and cut conduits through solid rock than soft earth. YOU know the unusual shape of Duluth, and the hardness of the rock on which it is built.

There's more to tell you—a great deal more. Watch for our next "Lighting Talk," in next Saturday's Herald.

BIG LAKE TROUT SENT TO DULUTH SPORTSMEN

JAKE PATSKOWSKI, FRANK BERRY, LOUIS BIRCH AND ANDE JOHNSON.

A lake trout, 42½ inches long, weighing 34½ pounds, is the splendid fishing trophy that Fred R. Paine, proprietor of Hotel Paine at Grand Marais, Minn., has sent to Duluth to feast local sportsmen of his acquaintance. Mr. Paine caught the big trout while trolling about the reefs off Grand Marais. He used a light steel pole and was four hours in getting his prize to the shore. The trout was brought to Duluth by Louis Birch and Theodore Frerker.

SEVENTY-ONE ARE ENTERED

Committee Makes Selection of Children for Poultry Contest.

Applications Which Did Not Conform to the Terms Eliminated.

The committee in charge of the children's poultry contest has selected seventy-one boys and girls to whom chicks will be furnished for the contest. Although many more applications were received, the committee was forced to cut down the list. Some children who had failed to order the required number of chicks were eliminated. Others had submitted defective applications and they also were eliminated. The committee endeavored to be fair to everybody and every application that conformed in all particulars to the terms of the contest was accepted.

Fifteen chicks of one variety will be furnished to each contestant, the chicks to be paid for at the rate of 10 cents each. The chicks will be furnished by members of the Duluth Poultry association and the proceeds from their sale to the contestants will go into the fund from which the prizes will be drawn. Some of the applicants asked for two varieties of chicks, but only one kind will be furnished in order to retain uniformity in the contest.

Some children who have their own chicks will be entered in the contest. Among those under that head are: George Nelson, Helmer Peterson, Carl Peterson and Thomas Tomlin.

The committee is anxious that every child whose application was accepted be at the Central building of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon to hear Prof. N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry division of the extension department of the state agricultural school. Mr. Chapman will explain the terms of the contest and will give some valuable instruction on caring for chickens. His feeding and housing instructions will be very valuable to the contestants and any child failing to hearing him will start out with a handicap.

The one-day old chicks will be furnished the contestants about June 1. At the end of the season, the results will be judged and the prizes awarded on the scores. Prizes will be given for each variety of chicken and there will also be a sweepstakes prize.

Following are the children whose applications have been accepted by the committee:

TWO COUPLES WEDDED.

Double Wedding Is Celebrated at International Falls.

International Falls, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A ceremony out of the ordinary was celebrated here May 10 in the shape of a double wedding at the Holy Apostolic Catholic church when Rev. Father P. J. Killeen celebrated nuptial high mass at a double wedding. The principals were John Monahan and Miss Mary McMahon, and Jeremiah Monahan and Miss Rose Pelland. The grooms are connected with the Backus-Brooks company in International Falls, and are quite popular young men in the city. Miss McMahon is a cousin of Rev. P. J. Killeen and Miss Pelland is the daughter of Frank Pelland of Littlefork.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of P. J. Toohey, logging superintendent of the International Lumber company and brother-in-law of the Messrs. Monahan.

The young people left on the evening train on their honeymoon trips, which will occupy several weeks. A large attendance was present at the ceremonies.

Too Smart for a Lawyer.

A young student studying under B. Davis Noxon, the eminent lawyer, after a month of study, asked the great lawyer what to read next. "Do you understand Blackstone?" "Yes," was the answer. "Read Kent," was the order. In another month there was a demand for more. "Have you read Blackstone and Kent?" "Yes." "Do you understand them?" "Yes." "Well," said Mr. Nixon, "you had better drink golden grain belt beers, you are too smart for a lawyer. You should be in a better business." SELECT CLASS OFFICERS

To Officiate at North Dakota University Class Day Exercises.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Greenleaf of Grand Forks has been selected as valedictorian of the senior class at the University of North Dakota, Miss Myrtle Burns of Crystal, salutatorian. Miss Alma Tweto of Grand Forks, historian, and Miss Margaret Haskett of Bottineau, poet.

Plans for the senior pilgrimage have also been made, responses to be made for the senior class by President Frank Langer, William Greenleaf, Myrtle Burns, Lilla Harvey, Leslie Sutherland, Axel Oftedahl, Margaret Haskett, Jennie Belle Lewis, Lawrence Fisher, Emma Silngsby, Ernest Nesdahl and Reuben Stee.

FIGHTING THE DANDELION—HOW TO ERADICATE THE YELLOW PERIL

Are you fighting the "yellow peril" of the front lawn—the dandelion?

Eradication of the dandelion is promised through sure and easy methods by Prof. A. D. Wilson of the university farm school, R. W. Fisher, horticulturalist at the agricultural college at Bozeman, Mont., and Prof. L. H. Bolley of the North Dakota agricultural college, following experiments with solutions of sulphate of iron or copper. Sprayed with the right solution the dandelions promptly shrivel up and die.

Directions for killing the dandelions given out by farm school professors, read in part, as follows: "The iron sulphate or copper as it is commonly known, can be purchased for a few cents a pound in quantity, and is used at a rate of one and a half to two pounds to one gallon of water. The solution should be applied soon after the iron sulphate is dissolved, as there is a chemical reaction which takes place soon after it is dissolved, and if left standing too long it lessens its power to kill the dandelions. It should not stand more than three or four hours. The solution is not poisonous to handle, but will discolor iron, stone and clothing, and reasonable care should be taken in applying it about houses where there are iron fences and stone foundations and walks.

"When the spray solution is properly made and applied, the dandelions can be killed without injury to the blue grass or white clover. The solution should be strained through a fine sieve or cloth into the spray can so that material cannot get into the pump to clog it up.

"The solution cannot be successfully applied with a sprinkling can," according to the agricultural school bulletins, "as the large drops will not stay on the leaves. Spraying should be done when the wind is not blowing, and when the sky is partly cloudy."

FRENCH BIRTH RATE LOWEST IN CENTURY.

Paris, May 18.—The Journal Officiel publishes an article by Dr. Jacquez Bertillon, chief statistician of Paris, calling attention to the disastrous results of the birth and death statistics in France in 1910. The complete figures are as follows: Marriages, 309,289; divorces, 13,049; births, 774,358; deaths, 703,770.

The births are the lowest for a century.

Dr. Bertillon concludes by declaring that there is no reason, physiological or economic, which prevents France from increasing as other nations, and no motive for her to resign herself shamefully to suicide.

MINISTER BRYN IS ON INVESTIGATION

Leaves Grand Forks for Auto Tour Among Norwegian Settlers.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minister Bryn of Norway who spoke here yesterday afternoon at the big Norweglan celebration, left here this morning with his party in twelve automobiles to visit Norweglan-American settlers in Grand Forks and neighboring counties to study their conditions. The party was entertained at dinner today by Albert Peterson, a bonanza farmer at Hatton.

In the course of his remarks yesterday afternoon, when he spoke before an immense audience in the city Auditorium, Minister Bryn extended to the Norweglans of America the greetings of their fatherland.

Fatherland Remembers Them.

He declared that the interest of Norway in the welfare of the immigrant did not cease when that immigrant departed from the old soil, but that it continued with him into his new home. Norwey, he said, was proud of what the Norweglans were accomplishing in America, and she is happy in their successes. Characteristics so predominant in the Vikings have been employed to good advantage in this country, he said, and the Norwegian immigrant was everywhere giving a good account of himself.

At a banquet tendered last evening fully 200 Grand Forks citizens participated, the affair being in honor of Minister Bryn. Prof. Vernon P. Squires was the toastmaster of the evening, with Judge Guy C. H. Corliss, Prof. G. D. Ristad of St. Olaf's college, Minnesota, Attorney B. G. Skulason, Mayor M. F. Murphy and Dean A. A. Bruce as the principal speakers.

BLIND-PIGGERS ARE SENTENCED AND FINED.

Grafton, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Keeshaw has sentenced Carl Halvorson and George Gjerswold charged with violating the state prohibtion law to ninety days each in the county jail and fined them $200 each.

Steel Men at Menominee.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 18.—David G. Kerr, vice president of the United States Steel corporation, who, with other officials of the company have for the past few days been making a tour of the iron ranges, spent Tuesday in Ishpeming. Mr. Kerr and the members of his party left that evening for the Menominee range, to look over the corporation's properties.

Cox to Address Editors.

Bemidji, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—William T. Cox, state forester, is coming to Northern Minnesota to tell the public for the first time in his official career how to prevent forest fires. He will also explain the new forestry law. He will speak at Park Rapids on June 9 before the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association.

NEWS OF THE WEST END

NORWAY'S DAY OF FREEDOM CELEBRATED IN DULUTH

Lincoln Park Auditorium Crowded With Norwegian-Americans and Families.

Speeches and Music to Commemorate Their Most Beloved Holiday.

With speech and song, Duluth Norwegians last evening celebrated the ninety-seventh anniversary of the independence of Norway at Lincoln park pavilion. A crowd, which packed the big auditorium to the galleries, listened to a lengthy program, which had been prepared under the auspices of the local Normanna Singing society.

The American and Norwegian national colors were interwoven to carry out the decoration scheme in the auditorium. The evening's entertainment was opened by an orchestra selection by Flaaten's orchestra. The orchestra contrioutedseveral of the Norwegian national airs and at the conclusion of the program, the audience arose and sang "America."

L. A. Simonson was chairman and introduced the speakers and musical entertainers. The Normanna Male chorus of thirty-five voices under the direction of Gustav Flaaten, sang two numbers. Both selections seemed to strike a responsive chord and were enthusiastically received. Charles Helmer followed with a cornet solo. Miss Borghild Dahl contributed to the musical program with a vocal solo and was compelled to respond to many encores. Her accompanist was Miss Mabel Fulton.

The speakers during the evening, were: Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church; Rev J. H. Stenberg, pastor of the First Norwegian Lutheran church, and Rev. M. S. Rice of the First M. E. church.

Speaks in Norwegian.

Rev. Mr. Erickson spoke in Norwegian. He said in part: "We are here tonight in memory of the fathers and mothers, who have fought and suffered to build the land we love, Norway. And in order to put this festival in the right tune, we must acknowledge this fact, that our forefathers fought bravely and vailantly for the realization of national hope and thought.

"Norway is free and independent, because our forefathers had courage and will power. This occasion would not mean to us if we did not know that they who have striven and labored in former days have made the work that has been done since, possible. This great battle of freedom is carried on and on through the ages and is one which continueth forever and is never completed.

"Every new victory opens the door for a new conflict and gives other men an opportunity to carry it forward to a greater victory. It is because we believe that the men who have taken hold of the work of uplifting our beloved native land, are men with noble convictions that we can predict for Norway, a great future.

"If Norway needed strong men in 1814, she needs stronger men today. And tonight, let us ask God's richest blessing upon the king and queen and prince of Norway and upon the men who rule the country today. But let us not forget the men and the event and men, that has called us together tonight.

"We have read and heard the history of our native country over and over again. But still Norwegians never tire of hearing something about the fatherland. It is not at all strange that one loves his own native land, the place of his birth more than any other country.

"The Land of the Midnight Sun is one of the world's most beautiful spots. That, however, is not why we love it. We hold it dear, because it is ours. Our reverence for Norway is as the flame that never goes out.

Strangers Ruled Land.

"Kindred feelings are revived in the history of our forefathers. Norway has had more than one day, which has been of great importance. The year 1814 was important. Look back to the events which led up to it. When Harold Haarfager and his sons died, evil days fell upon the land, the throne passed through a daughter to the Swedish royal house and again through marriage to the Danes. The king did not live in Norway and strangers ruled the land. The Germans did all the trading and the Germans and the Danes were office grabbers.

"Through experience the Norwegians learned that this fusion with Denmark was a mistake. Then came the attempt to gain freedom. Battle followed battle and famine and poverty trailed behind. The national spirit began to manifest itself. It awakened itself in the hearts of the people and in 1814, the national rights including a liberal constitution and a sense of country-wide unity, was won by the Norwegians. In this May, Norway and Denmark, united since 1450, were divided.

"Norwegians have had battles to fight since 1814. But the spirit of independence and nationality is deep seated and has grown stronger as years passed. When in Jun. 1905, Norway was allowed to choose her own king, and no longer was bound to share monarchs with Denmark, as had been done for 600 years, the eyes of the world were turned to the small but powerful people of the northland."

Norwegian-Americans.

Rev. J. H. Sternberg also spoke in the mother tongue. His subject was: "The Aim or Object of the Norwegian in America." He said in part:

"The foreign and the American-born Norwegian will remember his forefathers with love and gratitude, with love for what they are to him and gratitude for what they have done. He will cultivate the spirit of freedom and independence that has been the ruling sentiment of the forefathers ever since the days of Harald Hairfair, more than a thousand years ago. That sentiment was ever strong, even during the 400 years of night that Norway endured previous to 1814. When the Norwegians come to our shores and hear about freedom, it is no new thought. Freedom prevails in Norway as strong as in any country. Therefore are the Norwegians welcome to our land. Governor Dineen of Illinois said no one was more welcome, and Roosevelt said to the Norwegian singers who were here some years ago that the more people from Norway became citizens of our country the better for us.

"It is again the object in view to maintain the language of our forefathers, for if that is lost much else is lost, too, of that which pertains to culture.

"Then, too, the Norwegians will remember the beautiful natural sceneries of Norway, for these have most certainly helped to produce such great poets as Wergeland and Bjornson, such artists as Gude and Thaulow, such musicians as Grieg, Ole Bull and Kjernef.

"Again, it will be the object of the Norwegian in this country to help to promote education. Mr. Bryan has said that he has the highest respect for the educational system of Norway and that she spends more money per capita for education than any other nation. And, finally, the Norwegian will stand for religion. Statesmen, poets and peasants in Norway have spoken in praise of the church. And we believe that we shall be able to assist a little in solving the great problems that confront us where we, with the rest, look to the God of the nations."

One English Address.

Rev. M. S. Rice spoke in English. He commenced his address by testing his audience on Greek and Latin and ended by saying that he believed that they were all Americans. He declared that he had often tried to make Fourth of July speeches, but that it was next to impossible because one had to contend with so many noises. He said that he liked this sort of a celebration because he was sure of getting a hearing.

"Our Country" was the subject taken by the speaker. America should be loved, declared Mr. Rice, because it is big and stands for liberty, freedom and true pursuit of happiness. The great source of national love was the home, he said. "This great standing army business does not warm me up a bit," he declared. "The strength of a nation never was in standing armies or great navies, but reposes in men who love their homes and no power invented by man can whip the nation where the men love and stand for their homes."

In closing Dr. Rice asserted that this nation was truly great, not for its size or its citizens, but for what it stood, which was true brotherhood and freedom of all mankind. He emphasized that Norwegian born Americans assist in keeping this idea clear and to identify themselves at once in the great struggle.

Except for a dance at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Varde club, there were no other demonstrations elsewhere in the city in commemoration of the day.

"Peace Day" Ignored.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the proclamation of Governor Eberhart, issued several weeks ago, this is peace day. So far as is known, however, there is no celebration of it in any part of the state.

KILLED AT CLYDE PLANT

Workman's Life Crushed Out Before Machinery Is Stopped.

Had Just Brought His Wife and Baby to America.

Donzaro Donato, 25 years of age, was almost instantly killed at the Clyde Iron works in the West end this morning.

His coat caught in the cogs of a cleaning machine on which he was working and he was drawn into the machine. His back was broken and he received a heavy blow on the head.

He had prepared a home for his wife at 1707 West Third street, and she arrived from Italy only last week, accompanied by a 10-month-old baby. Donato reached this country over a year ago, having left his wife behind him. He came to Duluth and secured work in a short time with the Clyde Iron works as a laborer, where he has been employed since. The wife and the child are left in poor circumstances.

The machine in which he was caught consists of a long, heavy cylinder in which castings are washed. It is operated by rotating machinery, and it was in this that his coat caught while it was in motion. The engine was shut down as soon as possible, but he was beyond medical aid, dying about ten minutes after he had been extricated. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Olson & Crawford.

Mrs. Olson Dies.

Mrs. Sigret Olson, aged 43, a widow, died yesterday at her home, 111 Vernon street, following a short illness. Her husband died but six weeks ago. She leaves several children. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Clausen-Peterson.

The wedding of Miss Ella P. Clausen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Clausen, 1316 West First street, to Louis Peterson of Superior will take place at Superior, Wednesday evening, May 24. Rev. Edward Strömberg, pastor of the First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will officiate.

West End Shortrails.

The Adams Athletic association will entertain at a dancing party this evening at Lincoln park pavilion, the affair being a benefit ball for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wallin, who lost their home in recent forest fires in Beltrami county. They were formerly of the West end.

Miss Elsie Larson of 106 South Twenty-seventh avenue west visited in Proctor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Maieckl of St. Paul are visiting friends in the West end.

Miss Ellen A. Johnson of West Fifth street returned home yesterday after a visit with relatives in the southern part of the state.

H. C. Anderson of Twenty-fourth avenue west has left on a trip to the western coast.

Andrew V. Peterson returned yesterday from a business trip to the Twin Cities.

The Literary society of the Bryant school will entertain tomorrow evening at the school. A program of music and speeches will be given. One of the features of the evening will be an exhibition of the work done during the past year by the manual training class of the school. The girls of the domestic science department will serve refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. C. Wright entertained a few of their friends last evening at their home, 2715 West Huron street.

THAYER AGAIN HEADS ANACONDA

Price Paid for Clarke Mines Announced as $5,000,000.

Butte, Mont., May 18.—The annual meeting of the Anaconda Copper company was held in Anaconda yesterday and Ben B. Thayer, William Rockefeller, John D. Ryan, H. H. Rogers, F. D. Addicks, Urban H. Broughton and George H. Church were re-elected to the directorate.

The report makes public for the first time the price paid for the Butte mines of Senator Clarke, transfer of which was announced six months ago. The consideration is given as $5,000,000 and the properties were transferred by the Amalgamated Copper company to the Anaconda for 112,000 shares of Anaconda stock.

The reports show a profit of $4,214,023.22 for the six months ending Dec. 31.

RUSSIAN ARMY OFFICERS ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Col. Wonjar Garsky, who has been closely connected with Yalu concessions, and his stepson, formerly a captain in the Russian army, are on trial charged with having forged a will whereby they will become legatees to the vast estate of the half-witted Prince Oginsky, god-son of Emperor Nicholas, and a descendant of the house of Rurik. The case promises sensational developments.

IRONWOOD MINER SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Ironwood, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Rule was hurt yesterday in "G" shaft at the Pabst mine while working in the shaft, a piece of rock falling from the hanging hitting him on the head and shoulders. Rule is a Belgian, 37 years of age and married. He is seriously injured.

Roseau County Ditch Plans.

Roseau, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county board will meet in special session to consider a petition and viewers' report on County Ditch No. 9 on June 1. This system will affect the greater part of Falun, America, Cedar Bend, 162-38 and the Pequois and Salol territory. It comprises one main ditch, seven laterals and three branches.

ERMINE FOR CORONATION

Large Shipment of Valuable Fur Passes Through Duluth.

St. Louis Firm Now Controls Market and Has Made Fortune.

A big shipment of ermine furs passed through Duluth today and went East over the South Shore. The furs came from Canada and will be sent to London, England, where they will be used probably by the royal tailors or the builders of garments for those folk who can afford to wear ermine.

The furs were gathered in Alaska and Northern Canada and collected at Winnipeg and other places. A man who was accompanying the expensive shipment said that an ermine skin is worth about twice its value of a few months ago, when it was selling at $1. London furriers, he said, were expecting to use between 180,000 and 200,000 skins before the coronation.

The shipper of the consignment that went through Duluth today was a St. Louis firm, which is said to have been quietly buying the white skins for about a year. The firm practically controls the ermine market in North America. And by its astuteness it has made a fortune and has separated people who move in English high life from a large wad of money.

Freckle-Face

New Remedy That Removes Freckles or Costs Nothing.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-Face, to try a new remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from Boyce's Drug store, and one night's treatment will show you how easy it is to rid-yourself forever of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask Boyce's Drug store for the double strength othine, as this is the only prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

ISSUES CALL FOR MEMORIAL DAY

John P. White Wants Dead Miners Honored at That Time.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America has issued a proclamation calling on the 300,000 miners of the country to pay special tribute on Memorial day to the memory of dead miners. He asked that the members join with the Grand Army of the Republic in general celebrations and that the graves of persons who met death in mine accidents be decorated.

OFFICERS RESIGN FROM CLUB IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, May 18.—The resignations of two members of the board of governors and the secretary of the Metropolitan club in this city, has been made known following the speech by President Taft in which he denounced "small headed men," who in clubs, attempt to manifest their greatness by blackballing men of prominence for membership. Official and social Washington are stirred to the core.

President Taft, who is a member of the exclusive Metropolitan, was reported several weeks ago to have felt some resentment over the exclusion from the club of several newly elected congressmen and senators proposed for membership by some of the most influential men in the club. Among the men excluded was one of whom the president was said to be particularly fond.

The flurry caused by the club's action at that time had partially died down when President Taft made his address at the Jewish temple. This was followed by the announcement that Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, one of the members of the bureau of insular affairs, an intimate friend of President Taft; Lieut. Charles T. McAuley of the marine corps, formerly a White House aide, and Capt. T. M. Potts of the navy had resigned their official positions in the Metropolitan club.

Greenbush Norwegians Celebrate.

Greenbush, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — The Norwegians celebrated May 17 here by an ice cream social in the Lavoy building and giving a program. The Dewey choir was present and sang, and Rev. I. L. Lassesson of Thief River Falls spoke in the evening.

BEST SHAMPOO FOR HOME USE

"For quick, easy shampooing and restoring the natural gloss to dull, streaky, thin hair," writes Mae Martyn, famed beauty specialist, in the Philadelphia News, "there is nothing to compare with a shampoo made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. It makes a creamy, cleansing lather that removes every bit of dirt, dandruff and excess oil and stops itching. It rinses off easily and the hair dries in just a few minutes.

"This splendid shampoo gives the hair a most pleasing luster and fluffiness and will have the commendation of every woman troubled with scanty, short, brittle or faded hair.

"The alkili in soaps and most ready-prepared shampoos is responsible for many scalp troubles such as dull, streaky, falling hair—oftimes mistakably attributed to wearing false hair."

Mrs. John Underwood.

Mrs. John Underwood, R. F. D. 2, Box 90, Waverly, Ohio, writes:

"Having had catarrh and stomach trouble and having suffered very much, I, after being doctored a long while, as a last resort, took Peruna. The result was wonderful. I would highly recommend it as a good remedy. I still use Peruna and would not be without it. I always have it in the house."

Catarrh of Head and Throat.

Mrs. L. A. Gray, 137 Main St., Menasha, Wis., writes: "I was troubled with catarrh of the head and throat for so many years that I thought there was no cure for it. Mother suggested that I try Peruna. I bought a couple of bottles and decided to see what it would do for me. I am a healthy woman today, thanks to Peruna."

GEN. OTIS GUEST OF HONOR OF THE MANUFACTURERS

Association Asks President Taft to End Labor Boycotts.

Howard Elliott Talks on Railroad Regulation and Management.

New York, May 18.—Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, whose plant was damaged last October by an explosion with a loss of a score of lives, was the guest of honor last night at the sixteenth annual banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers, which marked the close of the annual convention of the manufacturers.

Speeches were made by John Kirby, Jr., president of the association; Gen. Otis, Congressman Frank M. Nye of Minnesota, Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railway, and others.

Ludwig Nissen, the toastmaster, referred to the "dastardly leadership that labor sometimes subjects itself to" and in the next breath he said:

"But our slogan is 'we never quit.'"

Waved Flags for Otis.

Gen. Otis was greeted with the waving of small American silk flags by all the assemblage and the singing of the national anthem.

"May I say at the outset," began Gen. Otis, "in order that my associates and my newspaper may be better understood, that our contest may be better understood, that the contest between us and trade unionism closed years ago with the defeat of the Typographical union, which tried to crush us and our manhood. That body joined with the American Federation of Labor and since then the battle has been directed against us by the larger body.

"Finally came the effort to extinguish us and silence us by the use of dynamite, killing twenty-one faithful employes. But that did not end the battle and the battle is not ended.

"Government Is Menaced."

"The very system of government is menaced by organized labor. I stand with you for our common right for religious, political, personal and industrial liberty. We are for the law of the Constitution and for the laws passed by congress; we are for the law as interpreted by the supreme court, although sometimes its interpretations do not please us. We are not for the law as laid down by trades unions in their lodges. We are not against trade unionism which keeps within the limit of the law.

"Nothing but evil follows the strike, the tie-up, the boycott and all forms of enforced idleness. Private labor pacts and conspiracies are so clearly lawless and anarchistic that people who love liberty ought to rise and end this madness of the hour, this era of violence."

Would End Boycott.

The association adopted a resolution asking President Taft to end the boycott for all time by seeking the punishment or dissolution of organizations enforcing it. The American Federation of Labor was declared to be "presently prosecuting and intending to further prosecute such boycotts." The association also seeks to have the government punish or dissolve organizations which adopt force or intimidation to compel manufacturers to accede to their demands.

The resolution requests the president to investigate alleged grievances through the department of justice. Another resolution condemns the federal eight-hour labor law as "uneconomic, vicious and dangerous."

The association pledged itself to continue to stand by the "open shop." Resolutions urging that workmen be compensated by the state for injuries sustained in accidents, and that an international court of arbitral justice be established, were also adopted, as well as a resolution urging the establishment of an American merchant marine.

John Kirby of Dayton, Ohio, was re-elected president and F. H. Stillman of New York, treasurer.

Speech By Elliott.

President Elliott in his address talked of "The Individual, the Corporation and the Government."

Mr. Elliott said in part:

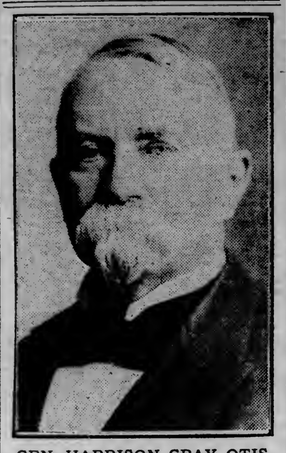
"The welfare of the people of this country, of the manufacturers, and of all business, including the railroad business, are all interdependent, and in the long run there must be proper relations between them and the government and fair and reasonable treatment of and by each to permit that progress in this country which its marvelous resources and intelligent population justify. There are three important differences, however, between the business that most of you represent and the railroad business. The first is that you can, if you want to, close your establishments, reduce your expenses to the necessary caretakers and lose the interest on your investment until such time as your inclinations or the demands for your particular articles make it worth while to operate your plants. The railroad, however, cannot stop; once started, it must go on unless the owners choose to abandon it absolutely, and lose not only all chance of interest on their money, but the entire principal as well.

"The second is that most of you can warehouse your product, hold for rising prices and sell at some future time. The railroad cannot do this.

Control of Prices.

"The third is that you have some control of your prices. In the railroad business an excessive demand not only brings no increase in the unit price, but legislatures and commissions, which have practically taken charge of the management of the railroads (except the responsibility of their finances) more and more take the view that an increasing demand justifies lower prices, thus reversing the old law of supply and demand.

"The so-called 'railroad question' has been magnified and much distorted by politicians and doctrinaires. The people have been led to believe that the railroad business is very different from other forms of business and that it can be successfully conducted under many severe legislative handicaps and according to rigid mathematical formulas. That it has sustained itself to the present time is due to the great growth of the country and to the talent, able and courageous work of men who have devoted their lives to the business. It has achieved moderate success, not because of legislative interference and tinkering, but in spite of them. One of our troubles in this country is the result of the fact that we have wandered away from the common sense view that railroading is business."



GEN. HARRISON GRAY OTIS.

Securities and Values.

Mr. Elliott quoted many statistics to show the growth of the country and the development of the railroads, and insisted that "the real capital in the railroad business is all the property owned and not the cost of the property or the amount of securities issued. In fact the securities issued against American railroads as a whole today, in my judgment, are much less than their fair value as 'going concerns.'"

The speaker quoted the recent decision of Judge Sanborn in the Minnesota rate cases as a conclusive showing of the fair value of the Northern Pacific in comparison with its stock issues, and said:

"This judicial valuation is the best of evidence that there is no water in the securities of this particular company." He continued:

"The railroads ask for nothing more than simple justice based on accurate knowledge of the real facts. Because a very few individuals have by superior brains, industry and even luck, made large fortunes, is it wise to condemn the splendid work of the American business man, destroy it and fly to socialistic evils that lead no one knows where?

Force of Collectivism.

"The great force of collectivism has created manufacturing institutions, railroads, banks, insurance companies, labor unions, the government itself, through the voluntary acts of individual citizens. This force must be used wisely and treated properly. These institutions, upon which modern society so largely rests, cannot be eliminated from our systems of life. The demagogue, the dilettante, and the sentimentalist are abroad in the land, and are trying to interfere with the natural working of these great forces of collectivism. The great mass of the American people are honest and fair, and when they really understand the great questions of the day, they will solve them correctly just as they did the slavery and silver questions. But the individual must exert himself to obtain correct information and to form a sane public opinion. The individual citizen who by his voice and vote makes or permits to be made the drastic laws now applicable to the railroads must remember that the railroads must either earn or borrow the money needed to improve the existing roads and to build new ones, if adequate service is to be given.

"Publicity of corporation affairs and reasonable regulation of the great business institutions of the country are desirable, but attempting to manage in detail such concerns, and continual and foolish interference with the judgment of the men trained in that management, is unwise and un-American. Such policy tends to cripple the splendid initiative that has accompanied so much up to the present time.

Ownership and Regulation.

"Lincoln said the country could not exist 'half slave and half free,' and it is a grave question whether the railroads can continue to meet the demands of the people and be the efficient instruments they should be, if owned by private individuals, but in all important matters of management, except finance, practically directed by governmental authority.

"The American people are strong enough to have any kind of railroad ownership and management that they want, and if they want government ownership they can have it; I submit, however, that the management of business enterprises in this country by the government has not given evidence of thoroughness, efficiency and economy equal to that displayed by private individuals and that it is not to the best interest of this country to have government owned and government managed railroads."

SAYS LORIMER WON BY BRIBES

Illinois Senate Investigating Committee Makes Its Report.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—The report of the Helm senatorial committee appointed for the investigation of the circumstances surrounding the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate was returned to the senate yesterday. The two most vital principles in the report are: A criticism of Judge Petit for his ruling in the habeas corpus case, involving Edward Tilden, Cummings and Mitchell, and this expression:

"Your committee has reached the conclusion that the election of William Lorimer before the last general assembly would not have occurred had it not been for bribery and corruption."

The committee appointed by the senate consisted of Senators Helm, Hay, McKenzie, Ettelson and Burton.

Warning to Railroad Men.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East street, Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." For sale by all druggists.

LUTHERAN SEMINARY TO GO TO CHICAGO.

St. Louis, Mo., May 18.—The Lutheran synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states voted yesterday to move its teachers' seminary from Addisson, Ill., to the environs of Chicago. Two sites have been offered by the Lutheran Educational Society of Chicago, twenty acres at Oak Park and twenty-eight acres at River Forest. A committee will decide on the site, where $200,000 will be expended on new buildings.

The synod also declared that the Concordia Publishing house of St. Louis would take over the business of the Lutheran Book company of Pittsburg, which has made an annual turn over of $250,000. This is due to the consolidation of the German and English branches of the synod.

It was agreed by the convention that the Concordia college at Conover, N. C., would be retained at that place.

MANLEY CASE REVERSED BY APPELLATE COURT.

Austin, Tex., May 18.—The court of criminal appeals has reversed and remanded the case of Sergeant J. D. Manley, the Dallas guardsman sentenced for life imprisonment for killing Louis Richenstein, a spectator at the celebration of President Taft's visit in Dallas two years ago. Manley bayonetted Richenstein as he attempted to pass the guard lines. Manley claimed the killing was an accident. Guardsmen all over the United States have contributed to Manley's defense fund.

Dr. Cook For Yankton Chautauqua.

Yankton, S. D., May 18.—The committee in charge of Yankton's summer Chautauqua has been definitely advised that Dr. Cook, of Arctic notoriety, will be a feature of this summer's Chautauqua course.

Schwab Talks to Russians.

Berlin, May 18.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, conferred yesterday with a group of Russian financiers and also with Swedish iron interests. The nature of the negotiations or the results were not disclosed.

Pope Receives Visitors.

Rome, May 18.—The pope has improved so much physically that yesterday he was able to receive in audience Vincenzo Vannutelli and three bishops, including Right Rev. John P. Carroll, bishop of Helena, Mont.

Rush City Special Election.

Rush City, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special election has been called for May 23 to vote on the proposition of issuing bonds to the state to cover the floating village indebtedness of $12,000.

RAIN

The fog was with us again last night and the air was none too balmy. In fact, the temperature dropped to 40 deg. during the night, and today is chilly, though the sun is shining. Warmer weather is predicted with thunder showers probable for tonight or tomorrow.

A year ago today was cloudy and threatening.

The sun rose this morning at 4:28 and it will set at 7:40, giving fifteen hhours and twelve minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometer continues low throughout the Middle West and Northwest, the center of the disturbance being over Alberta and Saskatchewan. During the last twenty-four hours light to copious rains have resulted in Pacific coast states, the Plateau region, North Dakota, Western Ontario, Northwestern Wisconsin and Michigan. Very warm weather still prevails to the eastward of the Rocky mountains except near the western end of Lake Superior. Conditions favor local thunderstorms in St. Louis and Douglas counties, during the ensuing thirty-s'x hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 18.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Upper Michigan—Showers and thunderstorm tonight or Friday; warmer in extreme east and south portions tonight.

Wisconsin-Iowa — Generally fair weather with continued high temperature tonight and Friday.

Minnesota—Generally fair, except local thunderstorms tonight or Friday; warmer in northeast portion tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair except local thunderstorms tonight or Friday.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Friday.

Montana—Unsettled with local showers tonight or Friday.

Upper Lakes—Brisk south and southwest winds with squalls over Superior, North Michigan and Huron; unsettled with probably showers and thunderstorms tonight and Friday.

the happenings at the City of Mexico with unconcealed pleasure. The dispatches came too late for his perusal last night, but he was up at sunrise today digesting the news.

Madero Tells Policy.

Walking beneath a grove of trees, which fringes a muddy irrigation ditch near the house in which he has established his headquarters, Senor Madero outlined the policy he would pursue when he reaches the City of Mexico.

"Certainly I will go to Mexico to act in harmony with Minister De La Barra." said Madero. "There could not be selected from the government side a man more acceptable to us than Senor De La Barra. The only unfavorable part of the news is the intimation that the government would select Gen. Reyes for minister of war. Reyes will not be acceptable to us, and I don't think he ever will be minister of war.

Will Select Cabinet.

"We realize we have a great task before us. Senor De La Barra and myself will work in perfect accord. Inasmuch as only twelve days will elapse before the Diaz government retires, I think it will not be necessary for us to insist upon the immediate institution into office of our provisional officers. The members of the cabinet and governors who are to act until the election will be selected by Senor De La Barra and myself.

"Lower California probably will be the only part of Mexico which will not be immediately restored to tranquility. The warfare is apart from ours, but we will hope it will soon cease. As for my army, I propose that all the insurrectos shall be allowed to enlist as volunteers. All convicts hereafter will be eliminated. Volunteers will be encouraged to join by offering good pay.

Will Release Prisoners.

"A prompt effect of peace will be the prompt liberation of all political prisoners and prisoners of war. This will, of course, embrace Americans, including those now in the penitentiary at Chihuahua.

"We will continue to be warm friends of the people of the United States and will encourage American investments. It is not true that one of the slogans of the revolution has been to curb the invasion of Americans. I do not hesitate to say, however, that we will oppose trusts and unjust concessions.

"Of Gen. Diaz I have nothing to say. When he was at the height of his power, I openly opposed him. Today, when he is down, I shall think of him but say nothing.

Gomez For Vice President.

"Dr. Gomez undoubtedly will be the next vice president. In addition he will be appointed minister of public instruction. Doubtless, in attempting to introduce in Mexico a thoroughly democratic system, free elections, we will encounter many difficulties, but these will be overcome. Dr. Gomez has studied political systems in many parts of the world, and as minister of public instruction he will be able to introduce some progressive ideas.

"I will send out at once instructions to insurrecto chiefs to cease hostilities, and I am sure within a few days perfect tranquility will have been restored. The surrender of the federal government is so complete that there is no faction which can be dissatisfied."

Election Reforms Planned.

City of Mexico, May 18.—During the recent diplomatic exchanges between the government and the leaders of the revolution which resulted yesterday in the proferred resignations of President Diaz and Vice President Corral, agreement on foreign minister, De La Barra as acting president, and the arrangement of a general armistice as a basis for peace, the government drafted a new election law for submission to the chamber of deputies and under which the election of Diaz's successor will be held.

The measure, so far as is consistent, follows the French law, under which the national executive is elected for seven years by an absolute majority of votes by the senate and chamber of deputies united in a national assembly or congress.

Heretofore the Mexican national government has conducted the elections through the local majors, who presided at the pollings. The mayors passed on the eligibility of voters and counted the ballots. Their powers, linked with their obligations to the national administration, gave rise to charges against the government of fraud.

Voters to Control Franchise.

Under the proposed law the mayors must keep their hands off. Candidates will conduct their own campaigns and their representatives will control the registration lists and count the ballots. The whole design of the bill is to place the franchise completely in the hands of the voters. For the benefit of those who cannot read, the name of each candidate will be printed in an exclusive color on vari-colored ballot sheets. Thus they may scratch off the colors in which the names of opposed candidates appear, leaving only the color and name of the voter's choice.

It is admitted that the first election under the new system will be a crude affair, but it will be, according to popular belief, a step in the right direction. Doubtless there will be some disorders, but the government hopes that these will be local and comparatively easy of suppression.

Terms of the Compromise.

These are the conditions upon which President Diaz will compromise. Virtually they are admitted to be a complete surrender to the revolutionists.

Minister of Foreign Relations De La Barra will become president ad interim.

Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the revolutionary leader, will be called to City of Mexico to act as De La Barra's chief adviser, and with the greatest guarantee possible that every pledge of the government will be carried out. As viewed by the public, it will be virtually a joint presidency, pending the calling of a new presidential election.

The cabinet will be reorganized. The minister of war will be named by De La Barra. The foreign office will be in charge of a sub-secretary named by De La Barra. Other cabinet ministers will be chosen by De La Barra and Madero acting jointly.

A new election will be called within six months. Political amnesty will be recommended to the chamber of deputies.

Is Complete Guaranty.

The resignation of Diaz and the "joint regency" of De La Barra and Madero are said to constitute a guaranty so complete that the original insurrecto demand for fourteen governors no longer needs to be considered.

The cabinet was in almost continuous session for two days, despite the severe illness of President Diaz. The president's entire face is infected with an ulcerated tooth. His upper lip is swollen far beyond its normal size and his face is inflamed.

The public received the announcement of Diaz's intention to resign with profound satisfaction. Since the battle of Juarez, they have realized that the president's renunciation of his high office alone could bring about peace. Business throughout the republic has suffered severely and the people generally were eager for an honorable peace.

Six Months of Fighting.

The armistice signed last night is to be the first general cessation of hostilities since the revolution began last November. It is not to be expected that the armistice will result immediately in a cessation of hostilities. Without doubt the government will place at the disposition of Madero the telegraph and railroad facilities for the transmission of the news that an agreement has been reached and his orders to cease fighting, but when it is remembered that many of the bands now conducting their part in the revolution are many days' march from the nearest telegraph station and railroad, it will be seen that Madero has no easy task in bringing the country to immediate peace.

News of vigorous warfare in Central and Southern Mexico, which Senor Madero considers unnecessary in view of the progress made toward a peaceful settlement of the revolt, induced the rebel chief to act quickly to prevent further loss of life. Both Provisional President Madero and Judge Carbajal express the belief that the five-day armistice will be superseded by the signing of a definite peace agreement calculated to restore Mexico to complete tranquility.

Unless there is some hitch, the signing of a peace agreement should take place on Saturday, May 20, which is just six months since the revolution began.

After two days of fighting, Torreon has fallen into the hands of the rebels, according to a message received here.

Federal Plotter Arrested.

Pachuca, Hidalgo, May 18.—Discovering a plot said to have been made by Col. Adolfo T. Gonzales of the captured federal forces, to re-take the city, Gabriel Hernandez, the rebel leader, placed the officer under arrest, pending court-martial.

Enraged by what they were pleased to style the colonel's treachery, the residents of the city demanded his death. Hernandez personally protected his prisoner from violence, declaring his punishment should be in accordance with the fining of a court-martial.

May Execute Red Lopez.

Agua Prieta, May 18.—Red Lopez, revolutionary leader, has arrived here from El Paso and may be shot by his late associates. The following statement was given out by an aide to Gen. Lomeli:

"Lopez is under arrest and a charge of desertion will be placed against him. An investigation also will be made of his responsibility for drunkenness of many of the soldiers on the day of the battle of Agua Prieta. He will be tried, and if found guilty, he may be shot."

Trouble In the Interior.

Juarez, May 18.—Indications of unrest among the insurrectos who are operating in the interior and intimations that they might begin a campaign apart from Madero, have been brought to insurrecto headquarters. About 3,000 of these insurrectos are located north of Torreon and many of them have surrounded such towns as Parral, Jiminez and Rosario, with a view to attacking and sacking the places. So far as they are concerned, Madero learned, there is no peace and no tangible prospect of any.

The insurrectos south of Juarez deprecate the delays incident to peace negotiations and are not inclined to await much longer to carry on their campaign.

Since the failure of the last peace parley, the insurrectos in the emoter parts of Mexico have been disposed to attach little importance to the overtures from City of Mexico. It was learned from those who came into Madero's headquarters that it would not require much to induce many of the insurrectos to break away from Madero altogether.

Want Army to Vote.

Some of the chiefs took the position that Madero had not the power to give unlimited concessions, and that all the men in arms must be allowed to ratify any peace agreement before it is effective.

Most unsettling of the intimations brought to Madero were telegrams insisting that no peace shall be entered into until President Diaz has actually resigned. There is no doubt that in the interior the insurrectos are flushed with success and are less inclined than ever to put down their arms without almost a complete surrender by the federal government.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for exernal application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree and the box together, to beautify the place of thy sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.' The fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together! May not the ministers of today, by their diversified gifts and methods bring honor to His name and church? May they not be the chariots of Israel and the horsemen? Such an inquiry is pertinent for any age, especially so for the church of today."

Basing the fundamental work of the church on the facts that sin is in the world, that His Kingdom has not yet come, that wickedness prevails in high places and that "vice, intemperances and unbelief lift up their heads loftily and the ark of God trembles," Dr. Little asked: "What is the mission of the pulpit under such conditions? Is it surprising its occupants do not always possess the same ideals? Assuming, if you please, an equal consecration, is it surprising to find they differ in standpoint, in outlook, in temperament and in method?

Burdens of Pastors.

"In many pulpits the spirit of the older prophet of our text reappears. The minister is burdened with economic questions and social reforms. From the pulpit he goes down into the week with the mantle of Elijah and with his spirit pleading for civic righteousness and national reforms.

"The present governor of this state of New Jersey is not a minister, but he occupied the chair at the head of a great university, a position usually occupied by ministers, and his church life and duties brought his mission into close affiliation with that of ministers. He heard (if we may interpret him by his acts) a voice bidding him, as he understood it, take the larger vision and lead the commonwealth to a nobler citizenship, so that there might be presented to the individual fewer temptations [illegible] of life. It is not amiss for this assembly, with this example in mind, devoutly to hope that the number of Christian statesmen may increase, even though at times, even not too often, they are recruited from the ranks of college presidents and the clergy."

Dr. Little urged close adherence to the creed in his discussion of "The Breadth of Christian Doctrine." He said:

"The Presbyterian church has always stood for the sovereignty of God, for the Bible as the only infallible rule of faith and practice, and for the salvation through Jesus Christ who died for our sins and rose again. These truths, and others in harmony therewith, have been the teaching of the church from the days of the apostle down to the present hour."

Church Unity Emphasized.

Church unity of the present day was emphasized, according to Dr. Little, by the numerous interdenominational associations, conventions, councils, brotherhoods, the laymen's missionary movement and the inter-church federation with its thirty-two Christian denominations. He concluded:

"Do we differ in the non-essentials of our Christian journey? If so, let it be so, but in this we must agree, that we are sons of one Father whom we obey, that He has revealed Himself to us through His divine Son, our elder brother, Who loved us and gave Himself for us by His death, Who rose again and is our king. Let us proclaim His Kingship to the world, and salvation in His name alone! Let us live and so proclaim that all may know that God also hath highly exalted Him and given Him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus, every one should bow, of things in heaven and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

VERDICT FOR THE DEFENDANTS

Higgins & McDonnell Not to Blame for Gustafson's Injuries.

The jury in the case of Charles Gustafson against Higgins and McDonnell in which Gustafson sought to get damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained while working for the company, brought in a verdict for the defendants this morning.

Gustafson claimed that while working for the company on the Canadian Northern last summer he was caught beneath a dump car and injured.

The case of Oscar Laajala, as administrator of the estate of Matt Laajala, against the Adriatic Mining company for $5,000 is now going on before Judge Dibell.

Laajala claims that while working in the Adriatic mine, Matt Laajala was caught in a cave-in and killed.

SUIT FILED OVER THE McNAMARA AFFAIR.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—Henry Seyfried, attorney for J. J. McNamara, has filed suit in the district court here to determine if Police Judge Collins had proper jurisdiction in turning over McNamara to the California authorities when McNamara was arrested and carried out of the state. In the suit it is alleged that the extradition proceedings of McNamara were irregular, and the attorney says the action should be set aside.

RAIN

The fog was with us again last night and the air was none too balmy. In fact, the temperature dropped to 40 deg. during the night, and today is chilly, though the sun is shining. Warmer weather is predicted with thunder showers probable for tonight or tomorrow.

A year ago today was cloudy and threatening.

The sun rose this morning at 4:23 and it will set at 7:40, giving fifteen hhours and twelve minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometer continues low throughout the Middle West and Northwest, the center of the disturbance being over Alberta and Saskatchewan. During the last twenty-four hours light to copious rains have resulted in Pacific coast states, the Plateau region, North Dakota, Western Ontario, Northwestern Wisconsin and Michigan. Very warm weather still prevails to the eastward of the Rocky mountains except near the western end of Lake Superior. Conditions favor local thunderstorms in St. Louis and Douglas counties, during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 18.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Upper Michigan—Showers and thunderstorm tonight or Friday; warmer in extreme east and south portions tonight.

Wisconsin-Iowa — Generally fair weather with continued high temperature tonight and Friday.

Minnesota—Generally fair, except local thunderstorms tonight or Friday; warmer in northeast portion tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair except local thunderstorms tonight or Friday.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Friday.

Montana—Unsettled with local showers tonight or Friday.

Upper Lakes—Brisk south and southwest winds with squalls over Superior, North Michigan and Huron; unsettled with probably showers and thunderstorms tonight and Friday.

"Of Gen. Diaz I have nothing to say. When he was at the height of his power, I openly opposed him. Today, when he is down, I shall think of him but say nothing.

Gomez For Vice President.

"Dr. Gomez undoubtedly will be the next vice president. In addition he will be appointed minister of public instruction. Doubtless, in attempting to introduce in Mexico a thoroughly democratic system, free elections, we will encounter many difficulties, but these will be overcome. Dr. Gomez has studied political systems in many parts of the world, and as minister of public instruction he will be able to introduce some progressive ideas.

"I will send out at once instructions to insurrecto chiefs to cease hostilities, and I am sure within a few days perfect tranquility will have been restored. The surrender of the federal government is so complete that there is no faction which can be dissatisfied."

Election Reforms Planned.

City of Mexico, May 18.—During the recent diplomatic exchanges between the government and the leaders of the revolution which resulted yesterday in the proferred resignations of President Diaz and Vice President Corral, agreement on foreign minister, De La Barra as acting president, and the arrangement of a general armistice as a basis for peace, the government drafted a new election law for submission to the chamber of deputies and under which the election of Diaz's successor will be held.

The measure, so far as is consistent, follows the French law, under which the national executive is elected for seven years by an absolute majority of votes by the senate and chamber of deputies united in a national assembly or congress.

Heretofore the Mexican national government has conducted the elections through the local mayors who presided at the pollings. The mayors passed on the eligibility of voters and counted the ballots. Their powers, linked with their obligations to the national administration, gave rise to charges against the government of fraud.

Voters to Control Franchise.

Under the proposed law the mayors must keep their hands off. Candidates will conduct their own campaigns and their representatives will control the registration lists and count the ballots. The whole design of the bill is to place the franchise completely in the hands of the voters. For the benefit of those who cannot read, the name of each candidate will be printed in an exclusive color on vari-colored ballot sheets. Thus they may scratch off the colors in which the names of opposed candidates appear, leaving only the color and name of the voter's choice.

It is admitted that the first election under the new system will be a crude affair, but it will be, according to popular belief, a step in the right direction. Doubtless there will be some disorders, but the government hopes that these will be local and comparatively easy of suppression.

Terms of the Compromise.

These are the conditions upon which President Diaz will compromise. Virtually they are admitted to be a complete surrender to the revolutionists.

Minister of Foreign Relations De La Barra will become president ad interim.

Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the revolutionary leader, will be called to City of Mexico to act as De La Barra's chief adviser, and with the greatest guarantee possible that every pledge of the government will be carried out. As viewed by the public, it will be virtually a joint presidency, pending the calling of a new presidential election.

The cabinet will be reorganized. The minister of war will be named by De La Barra. The foreign office will be in charge of a sub-secretary named by De La Barra. Other cabinet ministers will be chosen by De La Barra and Madero acting jointly.

A new election will be called within six months. Political amnesty will be recommended to the chamber of deputies.

Is Complete Guaranty.

The resignation of Diaz and the "joint regency" of De La Barra and Madero are said to constitute a guaranty so complete that the original insurrecto demand for fourteen governors no longer needs to be considered.

The cabinet was in almost continuous session for two days, despite the severe illness of President Diaz. The president's entire face is infected with an ulcerated tooth. His upper lip is swollen far beyond its normal size and his face is inflamed.

The public received the announcement of Diaz's intention to resign with profound satisfaction. Since the battle of Juarez, they have realized that the president's renunciation of his high office alone could bring about peace. Business throughout the republic has suffered severely and the people generally were eager for an honorable peace.

Six Months of Fighting.

The armistice signed last night is to be the first general cessation of hostilities since the revolution began last November. It is not to be expected that the armistice will result immediately in a cessation of hostilities. Without doubt the government will place at the disposition of Madero the telegraph and railroad facilities for the transmission of the news that an agreement has been reached and his orders to cease fighting, but when it is remembered that many of the bands now conducting their part in the revolution are many days' march from the nearest telegraph station and railroad, it will be seen that Madero has no easy task in bringing the country to immediate peace.

News of vigorous warfare in Central and Southern Mexico, which Senor Madero considers unnecessary in view of the progress made toward a peaceful settlement of the revolt, induced the rebel chief to act quickly to prevent further loss of life. Both Provisional President de la Barra and Madero and Judge Carbajal express the belief that the five-day armistice will be superseded by the signing of a definite peace agreement calculated to restore Mexico to complete tranquility.

Unless there is some hitch, the signing of a peace agreement should take place on Saturday, May 20, which is just six months since the revolution began.

After two days of fighting, Torreon has fallen into the hands of the rebels, according to a message received here.

Federal Plotter Arrested.

Pachuca, Hidalgo, May 18.—Discovering a plot said to have been made by Col. Adolfo T. Gonzales of the captured federal forces, to re-take the city, Gabriel Hernandez, the rebel leader, placed the officer under arrest, pending court-martial.

Enraged by what they were pleased to style the colonel's treachery, the residents of the city demanded his death. Hernandez personally protected his prisoner from violence, declaring his punishment should be in accordance with the fining of a court-martial.

May Execute Red Lopez.

Agua Prieta, May 18.—Red Lopez, revolutionary leader, has arrived here from El Paso and may be shot by his late associates. The following statement was given out by an aide to Gen. Lomeli:

"Lopez is under arrest and a charge of desertion will be placed against him. An investigation also will be made of his responsibility for drunkenness of many of the soldiers on the day of the battle of Agua Prieta. He will be tried, and if found guilty, he may be shot."

Trouble In the Interior.

Juarez, May 18.—Indications of unrest among the insurrectos who are operating in the interior and intimations that they might begin a campaign apart from Madero, have been brought to insurrecto headquarters. About 3,000 of these insurrectos are located north of Torreon and many of them have surrounded such towns as Parral, Jiminez and Rosario, with a view to attacking and sacking the places. So far as they are concerned, Madero has learned, there is no peace and no tangible prospect of any.

The insurrectos south of Juarez deprecate the delays incident to peace negotiations and are not inclined to await much longer to carry on their campaign.

Since the failure of the last peace parley, the insurrectos in the emoter of Mexico have been disposed to attach little importance to the overtures from City of Mexico. It was learned from those who came into Madero's headquarters that it would not require much to induce many of the insurrectos to break away from Madero altogether.

Want Army to Vote.

Some of the chiefs took the position that Madero had not the power to give unlimited concessions, and that all the men in arms must be allowed to ratify any peace agreement before it is effective.

Most unsettling of the intimations brought to Madero were telegrams insisting that no peace shall be entered into until President Diaz has actually resigned. There is no doubt that in the interior the insurrectos are flushed with success and are less inclined than ever to put down their arms without almost a complete surrender by the federal government.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for exernal application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree and the box together, to beautify the place of thy sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.' The fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together! May not the ministers of today, by their diversified gifts and methods bring honor to His name and church? May they not be the chariots of Israel and the horsemen? Such an inquiry is pertinent for any age, especially so for the church of today."

Basing the fundamental work of the church on the facts that sin is in the world, that His Kingdom has not yet come, that wickedness prevails in high places and that "vice, intemperance and unbelief lift up their heads loftily and the ark of God trembles," Dr. Little asked: "What is the mission of the pulpit under such conditions? Is it surprising its occupants do not always possess the same ideals? Assuming, if you please, an equal consecration, is it surprising to find they differ in standpoint, in outlook, in temperament and in method?

Burdens of Pastors.

"In many pulpits the spirit of the older prophet of our text reappears. The minister is burdened with economic questions and social reforms. From the pulpit he goes down into the week with the mantle of Elijah and with his spirit pleading for civic righteousness and national reforms.

"The present governor of this state of New Jersey is not a minister, but he occupied the chair at the head of a great university, a position usually occupied by ministers, and his church life and duties brought his mission into close affiliation with that of ministers. He heard (if we may interpret him by his acts) a voice bidding him, as he understood it, take the larger vision and lead the commonwealth to a nobler citizenship, so that there might be presented to the individual [illegible] of life. It is not amiss for this assembly, with this example in mind, devoutly to hope that the number of Christian statesmen may increase, even though at times, even not too often, they are recruited from the ranks of college presidents and the clergy."

Dr. Little urged close adherence to the creed in his discussion of "The Breadth of Christian Doctrine." He said:

"The Presbyterian church has always stood for the sovereignty of God, for the Bible as the only infallible rule of faith and practice, and for the salvation through Jesus Christ who died for our sins and rose again. These truths, and others in harmony therewith, have been the teaching of the church from the days of the apostle down to the present hour."

Church Unity Emphasized.

Church unity of the present day was emphasized, according to Dr. Little, by the numerous interdenominational associations, conventions, councils, brotherhoods, the laymen's missionary movement and the inter-church federation with its thirty-two Christian denominations. He concluded:

"Do we differ in the non-essentials of our Christian journey? If so, let it be so, but in this we must agree, that we are sons of one Father whom we obey, that He has revealed Himself to us through His divine Son, our elder brother, Who loved us and gave Himself for us by His death, Who rose again and is our king. Let us proclaim His Kingship to the world, and claim His name alone! Let us live and so proclaim that all may know that God also hath highly exalted Him and given Him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus, every one should bow, of things in heaven and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MAY 21. Isaiah v, 1-12: Song of the Vineyard.

CONNECTION.

In our last lesson Isaiah told us of his vision of God and his call to the ministry. In this lesson, we have a part of one of his sermons to the recreant people, delivered near the time of his call. Its first verses are lyrical, very musical. It is poetical all the way through, and gives a typical view of the gifted young preacher.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Song Itself. 1-6.

"Let me sing for my well-beloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My well-beloved had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill; and he digged it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes. And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard. What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? Wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes? And now I will tell you what I will do with my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; I will break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down: and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor hoed; but there shall come up briers and thorns; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it."

1. MUSIC—This song, in the language of Dr. Ross, is "history set to music." Hosea, who was contemporary with Isaiah, had the same general style, picturesque and poetical. The picture of the vine was appropriate to Israel. The mission of the vine is to bear fruit, not to exhibit strength or beauty, save incidentally. The fruit was to be righteousness and brotherliness, for the benefit of a hungry and helpless world. The remnant of the nation represented the vine idea and when Jesus, "the Stem of Jesse's Rod," stood forth, He said "I am the vine." By Him are men to be nurtured. He was the true antitype. Israel was God's vineyard, to delight and repay Him for His creative care and His fatherly favor, by becoming the world's help. It was to be a missionary nation.

Not only is the poetry musical, but the work of the divine husbandman has a symmetry and fitness that give harmony as well as melody to the poet's song. The completeness of the vineyard is seen in these seven particulars—good "fruitful" soil, to begin with: in a commanding position, "on a hill"; soil prepared by digging and pulverizing; cleared of stones; choice vines used in starting the vineyard; a tower from which watchmen may see enemies approaching, man and beast; a press ready for the making of wine. Everything was ideal. See how God had made these the characteristics of Israel.

2. DISCORD—There is a racking cacophony in the music when the author suddenly sings out that the vineyard had produced "wild grapes," which only disappoint and embitter. The owner of such a vineyard is outraged. His work has been thrown away. Worse than that, the vines have denatured themselves, changing their fruit, through some capacity of degeneration, and under some hostile agency into wild grapes. This is what Israel had done. The wild grapes are specified in some verses to come—drunkenness, selfishness, conceit and other wild grapes. We are fond of thinking of America as a rich vineyard, founded and cultivated by a special providence with a special purpose. But are there not wild grapes growing, similar to those that grew in Israel?

3. DEATH—Is there anything to do with a vineyard like that but to give it over to the forces of destruction? Its own nature has been destroyed and it cannot be cured. When the saltness has gone out of the salt, it can never be recovered. So much for the illustration used in the song. It is a good text. Let us see what sort of a sermon he preaches from it.

II.

The Sermon. 7-12.

"For the vineyard of Jehovah of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah His pleasant plants: and He looked for justice, but, behold, oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry. Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell alone in the midst of the land! In Mine ears, saith Jehovah of hosts, of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant. For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah. Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them! And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of Jehovah, neither have they considered the operation of His hands."

1. GREED—That is the first thing he points out, in those who acquire all the lands adjoining and thus have great landed estates, as they came to do in the prosperous days of Uzziah. That getting rich quick was possible only through oppression and injustice. It is bad morals, when a few own most of the land. Chancellor David Lloyd-George is aiming at the abolition, in a just way, of the evils of such things in England. Oppression and the cry of sorrow always follow such a state of things. Their doom is certain and the word has come from God direct, "in Mine ear." Houses shall be desolated, crops fall off to nothing, only nine gallons of corn on ten acres. God may not be paying back in kind, these days, but He is paying back in other ways, in the shriveling and repulsive soul. Retribution cannot fail.

2. DRUNKENNESS — We find it everywhere. If man is God's vineyard today, it is fruitful in wild grapes, and the more of the wild grape of drunkenness, the more of all other kinds are produced. The same results are easily seen in those who follow strong drink today. They put in good time and rise early enough, under the spur of appetite. Time lost, energy misused. They stay at it late and are inflamed into abnormality, sanity lost. They make use of such heavenly agencies as music, as saloons do, to attract victims and render the work of spoliation more comfortable and complete. Natures perverted. The providences that gave them their opportunity they deny or disregard. Thus they shut out God, their fellowmen and their own souls. There are some things that the scientists are agreed on today. One is that the food value of alcoholic liquors is nothing. Another is that its injury to any one who uses it habitually is just as inevitable as warmth from the sun's rays. The finest manual work is closed to the man who drinks or uses tobacco. The respect of those whose respect is most desirable cannot be retained by those who drink. The encouraging of that business by law is one of the wild crops in our American vineyard.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Suppose a man waylaid your son or daughter at the age of 16, on the street, and carried one of them off by insinuating and attractive means and introduced him or her to such attractive forms of vice that he or she wished to go again until the ruin came? Would silent, personal influence be enough, or would you have that man driven out of the town? But that is what the saloon is doing in every city. It resorts to every means to start boys drinking, offering free lunches, brilliant surroundings, festive music. Most of the New York saloons have brothels and send pretty girls out to entice in young men. In London I have seen little children, hardly more than babies, being fed on gin in the saloons. The saloon depreciates all the property in its neighborhood; it is the greatest foe to good government, an enemy to all forms of righteousness.—Traveler.

This song of the vineyard was not sung in vain. The idea of Israel as God's vine was cherished after Isaiah's day among the Remnant who, he prophesied, would always remain to cherish and perpetuate the divine idea in Israel's history. But the songs that were sung among the Remnant in echo of this song were mainly in the minor key,—until from the heart of the Remnant stepped forth the Lord's Messiah, who was to take up Israel's neglected role of God's messenger to the world; and he said "I am the true vine."—Ross.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1.—Why did Israel exist for the other nations?
2.—What are the harms of tobacco?
3.—Is it wrong to run a distillery or brewery, or raise tobacco?
4.—What is England's sin in the opium evil?
5.—What are the evils of large farms?
6.—What forms of retribution are experienced in America?

ARBITRATION PACT FRAMED

Knox Springs Surprise By Submitting It to France Too.

Even "National Honor" Questions Included—Open to All Nations.

Washington, May 18.—The principle of arbitration of practically all disputes between nations, including questions of vital interest and national honor, assumed vitality when Secretary of State Knox yesterday submitted to the British and French ambassadors at Washington the draft of a convention to serve as a basis of negotiations. The fact that this world movement will be inaugurated with France as well as Great Britain came as a surprise, as it was generally understood that only the United States and England were concerned in the initial steps.

When President Taft last December enunciated the doctrine for comprehensive arbitration, he received a quick response from Ambassadors Bryce and Jusserand that Great Britain and France were willing to begin negotiatios with this country for the peaceful settlement of practically all differences that may arise. The president instructed Secretary Knox immediately to crystalize the arbitral proposition which this government would offer to foreign nations.

Questions of Honor, Too.

The secretary has evolved a document which has received the approval of the president and the other members of his cabinet, providing that all differences which are internationally justifiable shall be submitted to arbitration. It expands the scope of the existing arbitration treaties by eliminating the exceptions referring to "questions of vital interest and national honor."

This elimination is the real accomplishment of the proposed treaty. The exceptions mentioned are found in arbitration treaties the world over and have constituted the chief obstacle to the application of the arbitration principles, for it is hard to conceive of a problem which in its essence cannot be regarded as having a controlling bearing upon "national honor" or "vital interest."

Commission of Inquiry.

Recognizing that there may be questions of policy and other matters likely to force nations to the brink of war, but which no people would be willing to arbitrate, the tentative draft of the treaty provides that differences that either party considers within this category shall be referred to a commission of inquiry empowered to make recommendations for their settlement.

In this connection the treaty will take another advanced step by binding the disputants to arbitration in case the commission of inquiry declares that the controversy shall be arbitrated.

Arbitration in all cases will be a last resort. After the two countries have concluded that it is impossible to settle a dispute through diplomatic interchange, the question will be submitted to a commission of inquiry charged with the duty of suggesting a way to avoid arbitration if possible. The United States will not be asked to relinquish its right to pass upon the question of arbitrating each dispute. All agreements to arbitrate will be entered into with "the advice and consent of the senate," as under existing conventions.

Negotiations Are Begun.

The submission of the drafts to Great Britain and France marks the actual beginning of negotiations. The foreign offices of the two countries will now make an exhaustive examination of the American proposition, with a view to suggesting modifications or additions. It is the desire of the administration to complete the negotiations, if possible, in time for submission to the senate before the adjournment of the present session of congress.

The importance of the proposed arbitration treaty has been the subject of discussion in diplomatic circles here since the idea was suggested. Now that this government's proposal has been reduced to concrete form, the state department assumes a receptive role, willing to enter into negotiations on the same basis with all countries signifying a desire to do so.

It has been rumored recently, that Japan was anxious to join in the negotiations, but so far no formal discussion of the subject between the two countries has occurred.

BARRON AGAIN HEADS UNION

Duluth Typographical Local Holds Annual Election of Officers.

S. S. McDonald and Edwin Anderson will represent the Duluth Typographical union, No. 136, at the convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor which will be held in Mankato in June.

The annual election of the union was held yesterday at the Kalamazoo hall. John A. Barron was again elected president.

The other officers elected are: Edwin Anderson, vice president; trustees, S. S. McDonald, Frank E. Towne, Ernest J. Webber, Herbert N. Wilson; recording secretary, Herbert N. Wilson; sergeant at arms, Peter C. Simons; delegate to State Federation of Labor, Edwin Anderson and S. S. McDonald; delegates to Trades Assembly, S. S. McDonald, William E. Towne, John Lindstrom; local auditors, Ben Bredeson, Charles W. Carlson and Maurice Cohen; delegates to International Typographical union convention, Peter C. Simons and Charles E. Alexander; alternates, John A. Barron and Edgar T. Hughes.

PLACE STOCK IN ESCROW

Large Stockholders of Butte-Ballaklava Plan to "Stick."

In order to strengthen their position further, the leading stockholders of the Butte-Ballaklava Copper company have placed their stock in escrow.

The Butte-Ballaklava is in legal difficulties with the Anaconda. In the course of the litigation there will always be a possibility of some development happening to cause liquidation on the part of small stockholders or some of the big ones who might become chilled in their pedal extremities. It is to lessen the danger of such a possibility that most of the leading shareholders are placing their stock in escrow. They believe the move will safeguard the interests both of the large and small stockholders.

There is not likely to be any effort to dissolve the escrow until the legal troubles with the Anaconda have been settled.

SOUTHERN LUMBERMEN CONVICTED OF FRAUD.

New Orleans, La., May 18.—Ferdinand H. Durselin and Carl H. George, former owners of the Yellow Pine Lumber company of New Orleans, were found guilty in the federal court of conspiracy to defraud and using the mails for fraudulent purposes in connection with bills of lading on lumber shipments. It was alleged that the defendants defrauded Laura O. Peterson of Hamburg, Germany, out of approximately $25,000 through shipments of lumber which was a grade inferior to that specified in the bills of lading.

UNITED WIRELESS MAN PLEADS GUILTY.

New York, May 18.—Samuel S. Bogart, vice president of the United Wireless Telegraph company and one of the six officers of the concern indicted for misuse of the mails, has pleaded guilty. The motion for a change of plea was made by his counsel, Former District Attorney Jerome, at the close of the morning session of the trial, and promptly allowed.

Sentence will not be imposed while the other defendants are on trial. They include Col. C. C. Wilson, president of the company, charged with sending out literature representing that the corporation was making money when in reality, the contention is, it was losing.

Foley Kidney Pills are a true medicine. They are healing, strengthening, antiseptic and tonic. They act quickly. For sale by all druggists.

UNITARIANS COMMEND THE TAFT PEACE POLICY.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—A resolution commending President Taft's peace policy was introduced at yesterday's session of the Western Unitarian conference, which includes churches of eleven states. The resolution refers especially to the arbitration treaty suggested by the president. Brief reports by state secretaries of Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and of the Missouri valley, were made.

Do Your Cooking in the Cool

A hot kitchen is little better than a prison in summer. But the range is there, so all the cooking and the washing must be done there, too.

What a relief it would be to move the range where you pleased. You can do this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove—cook your dinner out on the porch, if you like. It is the only range that is really portable—that works equally well in any place. There are no connections to be made, as in a gas range; no wiring, as with an electric stove; no sooty flues and ash-filled grates, as with coal or wood.

The long, enameled chimneys carry the heat directly up to saucepans, oven or boiler; you get full value from your fuel, without waste.

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

BRING THE WOMEN FOLKS, TOO.

Of course, Mr. Northern Minnesota, you are coming to the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association in Duluth June 1 and 2. It is a very important meeting—important to all Northern Minnesota and to every dweller therein. It will be the time and the place for an exchange of ideas and plans looking to better things for Minnesota and for all its people. We say Minnesota, instead of just Northern Minnesota, because it is absolutely impossible to do things that will help Northern Minnesota without helping the whole state; and it is a pleasure to note by the clippings from several Southern Minnesota newspapers elsewhere on this page that the appreciation of that vital fact is spreading.

We take it for granted, Mr. Northern Minnesota, that you are coming to Duluth June 1 and 2.

While you are coming, bring Mrs. Northern Minnesota, too. She will enjoy the trip, and by glancing at the program of entertainment you will see that it has been arranged so that while you will get both pleasure and profit out of the trip, she will get pleasure if not profit.

There will be three big boat excursions, a theater party and an automobile trip, and Mrs. Northern Minnesota is in on every one of them, besides the business meetings if she wishes to attend them.

This is Duluth's first chance to demonstrate how much it appreciates its membership in the Northern Minnesota Development association, and Duluth therefore hopes that everybody will come and see how it entertains its friends, and that Mrs. Everybody will come, too.

The regular program that has been prepared is by all odds the best that the association has yet had. There will be plenty of good speakers, and they will be men who can talk with authority on the subjects assigned to them. The affairs of Northern Minnesota in the light of the recent session of the legislature will be reviewed. There will be an accounting of what has been accomplished and planning for what yet remains to be done. Altogether this ought to be the most important and most successful of the association's meetings, and the attendance should be the largest.

PEACE IN MEXICO.

A general armistice for five days is in effect in Mexico. President Diaz has promised to resign before the first of the month. The revolutionists will help in the formation of the new cabinet, and will name a majority of the state governors. A new election will be held immediately, and an administration more in harmony with the spirit of the times than the reactionary and tyrannous autocracy of Diaz will be elected. Unless the mercurial mixture of Latin in the Mexican blood causes unexpected explosions, the dove of peace may safely return to Mexico without the risk of getting shot for an insurrecto potpie.

The people of this country will be very glad to see the Mexicans stop trying to cut each other's throats.

They will be glad not only for humanity's sake and because war is a nasty and out-of-date nuisance, but because it has been a little distracting to have men trying to murder each other just over the boundary fence.

Peace means that Mexico can go ahead with its ordinary affairs, and that we can too.

It is to be hoped that such political and economic progress toward real liberty as the Mexicans are capable of handling wisely will come out of the insurrection thus happily ended.

RECIPROCITY AND THE FARMER.

Editor Stevens of the able and interesting Warren Register, in a communication which we gladly publish in this issue, gives us a good rigging because of The Herald's attitude on reciprocity.

We have been much entertained by the earnest, vigorous and able scolding which Editor Stevens has handed us, and we are hopeful that it will do us much good. Scoldings, properly administered, are often good both for the scolders and the scolded.

However, with all its heat, this scolding hasn't changed our ideas on reciprocity or the tariff or the farmer's relation to both, in the slightest degree.

Editor Stevens seems to have discovered in something in these columns an intimation that the farmers are not really against the ratification of the reciprocity treaty, and he says that if we will "come down out of our skyscraper and mingle with the farmers" we will find out that we are mistaken. While it is always a pleasure to mingle with the farmers, and we do it every chance we get and are the better for it, it is unnecessary in this case. The Herald believes that a majority of the farmers in Minnesota are probably against reciprocity. It knows that not all of them, by any means, are against it, and that nowhere near all of them have become convinced that they will be hurt by it. However, we have no objection to admitting that in all probability there are more farmers against reciprocity than there are for it.

That, however, does not mean that they are right and that The Herald is wrong in its advocacy of the reciprocity treaty. While a majority of the farmers in the Northwest have for a generation clung to the notion that the protective tariff was a great benefit to them, The Herald has been pretty consistent in its belief that they were mistaken about that.

The trouble about arranging an agreement between Editor Stevens and The Herald on any subject related to the protective tariff is that he, honestly beyond doubt, clings just as tenaciously today as he ever did to the idea that the protective tariff—the higher the better—is an unadulterated good, while The Herald insists on believing that it is nothing but a more or less mitigated evil, and that while good has come from it, much bad has also come, until it is a serious question today whether the bad hasn't outweighed the good.

Editor Stevens wants to know what good the treaty is going to do. It would have helped had he told us what good a tariff wall between Canada and the United States has done or can do. If it does no good, no harm can come from tearing it down.

But what the tariff wall between Canada and the United States does, and all it does, is to restrict trade between the two countries; countries with similar conditions, with wages about on a parity, with needs that can best be supplied by uninterrupted mutual trading.

Trading, between countries, implies mutual profit. Else there would be no trading. There is a profit in buying as well as in selling; often a greater profit in buying than in selling. The vicious old superstitution about the "balance of trade" has made much mischief, because it has hidden the plain economic fact that the largest profit in the transaction may be on the other side from the balance of trade.

There is no need of a protective tariff against the pauper labor of Canada, because there is no pauper labor. The sole argument for protection, that it overcomes the disparity between wages, does not apply to Canada.

And as to agricultural products, protection against Canadian wheat is no more sensible than protection against Oregon wheat, or Montana wheat or Kansas wheat. It is no more sensible and no more needful.

THE RAILROADS AND THE STATE.

In a spirit of folly that amounts to downright stupidity, the railroads of Minnesota—with the exception of the iron range railroads of this county—are proceeding with their plans to restore the 3-cent passenger rate July 1.

Unless we greatly mistake, that will prove to be a very expensive satisfaction to the railroads.

Passenger rates are nowhere near so important to the railroads or the public as freight rates. While only a comparative few buy railroad tickets, and most of these but seldom, everybody pays freight rates every day in the year, buried in the price of the necessities of life.

But when a man buys a railroad ticket the price of it is a very plain concrete thing, and when the ordinary consumer pays railroad freights he doesn't realize that he is doing so.

Therefore an increase in passenger rates has far more power to irritate the people than an increase in freight rates.

Relations between the public and the railroads have been very peaceful during the past four years. The revolt against the railroads in this state culminated in the passage of the 2-cent fare bill and the commodity rate law. Since then these laws have been before the courts, and every attempt to pass railroad legislation of any kind has been shut off for fear of its effect on the pending rate cases. Now the state has lost its case in the Federal court of appeals, and it is likely to lose it in the supreme court, to which it has been appealed.

The railroads do not want to forget that these cases have protected them from every form of legislative interference during two sessions of the legislature. Above all, they should not forget that there is no way by which they can more certainly arouse public hostility to them than by taking advantage of the chance given them by the Sanborn decision to increase the passenger rates.

The Fergus Falls Free Press was quoted on this page the other day to the following effect: "Only one club is left in the hands of the people of the state, and that is to raise the tax on the gross earnings of the roads. We believe it is now time for Governor Eberhart to show that he can be bold and energetic as well as judicious and wise. Let him call the legislature together in a special session and have it out with the railroads at once. Let the lawmakers proclaim to the roads that unless they show more decency they will pass a bill increasing the gross earnings tax from 4 to 5 or even 6 per cent."

The Free Press is a lot keener about a special session of the legislature than we are, but there is much in what it says. Railroad taxes are very low. The railroads pay 4 per cent on their gross earnings, and if you are a farmer or a real estate owner and will figure it out you will find that your taxes amount to 8 to 15 per cent on your gross earnings. Bills increasing the tax have been submitted at each of the last two sessions of the legislature, but they have been defeated by the arguments that the state couldn't reduce freight and passenger rates and increase taxes at the same time.

If, as the Federal courts say, the state cannot reduce railroad rates, there isn't a bit of doubt that they can increase taxes and get some relief that way. There is very little doubt that this should be done, and if the railroads persist in their present course there is no doubt whatever that it will be done, whether at a special session of the legislature or at the next regular session.

THEY SHOULD GET TOGETHER.

Senator Moses E. Clapp has been making speeches in various parts of the country in which he lauded the Oregon plan of direct election of United States senators.

Senator Clapp was lately re-elected a senator in congress from Minnesota by a unanimous vote of the Republican members of the legislature. Presumably, therefore, he typifies accurately the belief and principles of the Republicans in the legislature which did him this honor.

Yet when the Keefe bill, which makes the Oregon plan effective in Minnesota, was before the state senate last winter, the Republican members of that body unanimously sought to defeat it by substituting the silly Murray bill for it. That effort proving a failure, a majority of them worked against the passage of the bill, and it was passed only when a minority of the Republicans broke away from the party organization and combined with the Democrats to put it through.

The attitude of Senator Clapp on this subject is very clear. The fact that his unanimous election should prove him the embodiment of the sentiments of his party in Minnesota also seems clear. In view of these plain facts, the attitude of the Republican senators on the Keefe bill is distinctly confusing.

Senator Clapp and the party which so unanimously re-elected him ought, if it is not asking too much, to get together.

With the Standard Oil case decided and the Mexican war over, what's to prevent this country from going back to work?

That North Dakota gentleman who is opposing reciprocity in Washington on the ground that Duluth and the Twin Cities fear it will make Winnipeg outstrip them is worrying himself unduly. However, that argument is on a par with most of the other arguments against the treaty.

ABOUT FREE WOOL

By SAVOYARD.

There has been a deal of backing and filling over the proposed wool schedule of this Democratic congress. Shall it be such a revision as John G. Carlisle would have made, or shall it be such a reaction as Samuel J. Randall would have given us? Shall the work of the Democratic majority of the Sixty-second congress be Germanized, as was the work of the Democratic majority of the Fifty-third congress? Shall we be overwhelmed in another wave of party perfidy and party dishonor?

If there is anything firmly established as a Democratic policy it is free wool, for schedule K is the citadel of protection and the duty on raw wool the keystone of the tariff arch. As long as we have taxed wool we will have a protective tariff, and the day wool goes on the free list the tariff wall will tremble, and soon thereafter it will fall. Carlise said so and Aldrich says so. Only a few days ago Mr. Aldrich said wool is the crux of the protective policy.

Why have two parties that favor a tax on wool? If both parties are for it, what was all that election row about last year? If the country is for a tax on wool, why did the people turn out the Republicans, who believe in it, and set up the Democrats, all whose leaders of any sort of Democratic character since and including James Guthrie have advocated free wool.

The issue is plain and simple and sharp. The Democratic idea is free wool—and other raw materials he is bound to use—for the woolen manufacturer and then compel him to compete with the foreign manufacturer by placing a duty strictly for revenue on his finished product. In the first place that would give the people cheaper clothing, cheaper blankets, cheaper carpets, which would cheapen the cost of living enormously. Second, it would force the manufacturer to make woolens for the foreign trade, and that would enlarge his plant, give employment to more labor, supply a larger market to the wool grower, and afford investment for more capital.

That is the Democratic idea. The Republican idea is a protective duty on raw wool, dye-stuff, machinery, building materials and everything else the woolen manufacturer has to buy. Then pile up the protection on his finished product so as to give him a complete monopoly of the American market for woolens, such as clothing, hats, carpets, blankets and everything made of wool. "But," says some fellow, "I'll never consent to free wool so long as the manufacturer has protection." No more will I. We propose to give him free raw materials and then take from him every scrap of protection not found in a tariff on finished products so constructed as to invite and stimulate importations of woolen goods. That was the position of Cleveland and Carlisle, of Morrison and Mills, of William L. Wilson and Henry G. Turner, and I'll say this—it has ever been the position of William J. Bryan. In my little way I have discharged as many shafts at "the matchless" as anybody else. I was opposed to him when many of those now abusing him were in his train, shrieking "Nool," and striving to touch the hem of his garment; but I always saw in Bryan a genuine tariff reformer of the Cleveland, not the Gorman, of the Morrison, not the Randall, type.

Strange to say, the manufacturer who buys from abroad 256,606,638 pounds of unmanufactured wool insists on paying tariff duties upon it to the amount of $21,128,728. Why? Because he knows that as long as there is a duty on wool, 90,000,000 Americans, the most prodigal consumers in the world, will be forced to buy nearly everything made of wool from him, and the American people pay five times that $21,000,000 to protect him. That is what is the matter with this wool question. It is what the late Jonathan P. Dolliver said it was, a rascally and wicked conspiracy between the weavers and the shepherds to rob the American people and make living higher in price and greater in hardship.

When we shall succeed in smashing that cruel and remorseless combination of the shepherds and the weavers, the entire rascally tariff will go to pot and not before. And that is what the people ordered congress to do last November, and why all this backing and filling is the mystery of it:

Who but must laugh if such a man there be?
Who would not weep if Atticus were he?

I have been about congress for some thirty years, and it takes a heap to shock me, but I got a jolt the other day. A "Democratic" senator from Ohio said that he was elected by 10,000 majority, but if the Democrats put wool on the free list he would be beaten by 10,000. Serene in his egotistic asshood, this fellow actually believes that it is more important to retain him in congress than for the Democratic party to redeem its solemn pledges of forty years and upwards.

I recollect 1892. A few months after the Democratic Fifty-second congress passed a bill putting wool on the free list Ohio voted for Grover Cleveland for president of the United States, and it was the only time Ohio has gone Democratic a presidential year since 1852. The tariff was paramount in 1892, and the Democratic assault was made on the wool and woolen schedule. It is true that Cleveland got but one electoral vote from Ohio that year, but if every voter had understood the ballot he would have received every one of them.

Now it is common report that the ways and means committee will put a duty on wool in order to carry Ohio. When you eat soup with the devil you must have a long ladle. Why put on Ohio? Put the tariff high enough on steel and the Democrats would carry Pennsylvania. Michigan could be bought with a high duty on lumber. We would get Maine with a big duty on fish. Nay, make the duty out of sight on maple sugar and we might carry Vermont, that it is said will go Democratic when hell goes Methodist.

Just think of it—we can make the thing unanimous! Put the duties high enough, and Aldrich and Cannon, Payne and Dalzell will come into the Democratic party. Why, we can destroy the G. O. P. that way. If we are going to fix a tariff to carry one state, let us fix it to carry all states. If the Democratic party is to turn fat-fryer let it go "a-cattin'" and sweep the whole platter.

And yet there is hope that the Democratic majority of the house will be Democratic after all and pronounce for free wool.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

INTOLERANCE RUN RAMPANT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It is rarely indeed that one finds in an up-to-date "daily" such an example of narrow-minded intolerance as graces the "Open Court" of May 15.

The occurrence which evoked the near Philippic was the appearance in The Herald of an Associated Press dispatch concerning the suicide of a young non-unionist who was apparently impelled to the act by the incessant nagging of union zealots.

While the affair in itself is of no particular consequence and constitutes no argument either for or against unionism, it is interesting in that it has evoked the most ridiculous protest and general exhibition of weak effusiveness the writer has ever encountered.

In a request redeemed at least by its frankness, one William E. Towne, desires that such items should have no place in any future publications, because of its unfavorable reflection upon union labor.

With magnificent presumption he has likewise decided the McNamara case in favor of the defendants, though like William S. Haywood and other union men, he has no means of knowing the real facts until further evidence has been submitted.

He exalts and worships unionism as the panacea for all evils and rants with reproachful invective about morbid crowds of spectators to an accident, having a kindred spirit of degeneracy reflected in the press.

Unionism, like all other man made institutions has points both strong and defective and by absolutely ignoring one while harping upon the other, Mr. Towne betrays the very essence of illogical reasoning.

While it must be acknowledged that unionism has some very beneficial accomplishments to its credit, it may be stated with equal truth that it has been an agency for fomenting strife and bitterness when no discord was necessary.

It prevents union members from an untrammeled disposal of their labor, it expounds the unfair principle of the closed shop, and has on occasion, by dynamite, bricks or firearms, furnished a "depraved and swinish" crowd with spectacles of mangled victims of union wrath.

All things considered, the cause of union labor would be greatly furthered by a strict forbearance from further literary efforts on the part of Mr. Towne.

It might also be borne in mind that some people are not subject to arrested mental development solely for the reason that their mental faculties have not even had an inception.

The union orator has at least gained the sympathetic pity of every one who has even the faintest conception of what it means to be an "unintentional humorist."

A. SKEPTIC.

Chisholm, May 16.

SOME STRONG LANGUAGE FROM A PROTECTIONIST.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have always given The Herald credit for intent to be fair, but its utterances on "reciprocity" have sometimes inclined me to believe that in doing so I was more charitable than just.

Portions of your editorial on the subject in your issue of yesterday are not only unfair, but they are, in addition, unwarranted attacks upon the intelligence and patriotism of our most numerous class of citizens.

If you want to ascertain the sentiment of the farmers toward the Taft-Laurier pact, leave your skyscraper for a few days and take a trip through the agricultural sections of the state, interviewing, not the millers, the bankers, the land speculators and other residents of cities and villages, but the horney-handed follower of the plow. Your eyes would then be opened.

It is all tommyrot about the farmers being hoodwinked by the special interests. The special interests that are backing the "treaty" have tried to hoodwink the farmers, but they refuse to fall for their transparent efforts to fool them.

No less is it pure tommyrot to say that the American farmer has not benefited from the operation of a protective tariff. Every European economist of note and standing—or nearly every one—has admitted the fact, and every intelligent American should know that such is the case.

You talk of "pillage." Isn't that harsh language? Why, then, do you stand up for Governor Foss, an acknowledged, though hypocritical, pillager?" Why don't you advocate sending him to jail, like any other thief—for what is pillaging but theft? Why do you want a gang of robbers and plunderers to erect a mammoth plant in Duluth and make your city the headquarters for its gigantic operations in "pillage"—for that is what (and only what) the United States Steel corporation does, if your characterization of every protected industry be true?

No "subsidized bureaus" are working among Marshall county farmers. The trouble with the special interests, and the reason they have become so peevish of late, is the fact that the farmers of the country refuse to be hoodwinked by them into allowing reciprocity to to go through without protest.

Why do you harp on the assertion that reciprocity will not hurt the farmer? You do not know that it will not hurt him, for no one has endowed you with power to read the future. Why do not you advocates of Taft's brand of reciprocity show some good the people of this section may hope to receive as a result of its adoption? Aside from a few generalities which are all guesswork and prove nothing, none of you, so far as I have seen, has produced a single fact or reasonable argument in favor of reciprocity. Until some one shows the farmer a benefit he may expect to derive from reciprocity, he would be a fool to advocate it, whether or not he believed it would injure him.

Congressman Shackleford of Missouri proves nothing by his figures—for reciprocity. As a matter of fact, so far as those figures have any value at all, they support the contentions of those opposing it. So far as "Shack" himself is concerned, he is but an old grafter himself, being one of the parties to the Democratic steal of Missouri through one of the rottenest gerrymanders ever perpetrated. Like Champ Clark, he favors one Democratic vote being made to go further than two Republican votes, and is opposed to a free ballot and an honest count wherever they would be likely to help the Republican party.

A Message.

Sir blue bird tapped at my window pane,
"Get up!" he called again and again;
"I have come from skies of a dreamy blue,
To bring a message here to you."

And he called and called in the early dawn,
"Get up! Get up! I must hurry on
To herald the message far and wide,
Over the hills and the country wide."

"Listen," he caroled low and sweet;
Don't you hear the tramp of a million feet?
The sound of a bell and a golden drum?
Oh joy! joy! Here they come.

The friends you loved and thought long dead.
"They're coming back to you," he said.
"The roses red and the lilies white
And the violets arrived last night."

And this was the message from far away,
That made me glad the live-long day,
And set my pulses throbbing wild,
And gave me back the heart of a child.

My soul caught up the blue bird's song
And hurried to meet the coming throng,
In the midst of my joy I forgot again
There had ever been such a thing as pain.

DULUTH, JUNE 1 AND 2.

The Bigger the Better.

Thief River Falls Times: First it was Bemidji, then Crookston, later Brainerd and now Duluth. Everybody will watch Duluth on June 1 and 2, when the Northern Minnesota Development association meets there. It will no doubt be an interesting meeting, especially while the acts of the recent legislature in regard to Northern Minnesota are being discussed. The association leaders once said: "No legislation before a just apportionment." There was no apportionment—and very little legislation—so their predictions were not very far off. Duluth's hospitality, which has heretofore stood the test, assures a rousing, largely attended meeting.

A Boost From Southern Minnesota.

Luverne Herald: The Northern Minnesota Development association will hold their fourth annual convention in Duluth June 1 and 2, at which time new and bigger plans will be perfected for carrying on a campaign of education as to the resources and requirements of Northern Minnesota.

The work that is being done by this association merits the hearty indorsement and co-operation of the people of all parts of the state, for it is a work that cannot but redound to the benefit of the whole state, for it is a question of Northern Minnesota is a vital problem, not only to that section but to all sections of the state. There are millions of acres of good tillable land there that should today be the home of prosperous farmers. That it is not divided into such homes is chiefly due to neglect.

Each year there passes through this state thousands upon thousands of settlers who are seeking cheap lands and new homes. The great majority of these homeseekers go into Canada, and North Dakota, not because they find better land there, but because the resources of those sections are boomed and well known. Hundreds of thousands of others in all of the states of the East and the Central West, and likewise in the southern part of our own state, are today looking for new homes where land is cheaper than where they now live.

All that is needed to turn this tide of immigration into our own state, instead of through it, is to advertise Minnesota's possibilities and advantages, and effectually to guard and promote these advantages and possibilities. This is the sole purpose and object of the Northern Minnesota Development association, and in this work the people of the whole state should lend a helping hand, for what is good for a large part of the state is good for a large part of the state cannot but benefit the entire state.

And Another.

St. Peter Free Press: June 1 and 2 will be great days for Northern Minnesota, in fact for the whole state. The Northern Minnesota Development association will meet in Duluth on those dates and there will be some of the best posted men to point out and explain the attractions and advantages of that part of the state for people seeking a desirable location for permanent settlement on good, productive soil.

There is no doubt about the soil and resources of Northern Minnesota. There are many thousands of acres of virgin soil, far superior in many respects to some of the thickly settled land in other states; there is yet plenty of timber for domestic use, cheap fuel, and an abundance of game and fish for the sport of which many people travel hundreds of miles from other states. Besides railroads afford a quick and convenient market for the farmers, low lands are being ditched and a system for building good wagon roads has been adopted that soon will put this section on equal footing, in this respect, with the older part of the state. There is no need for going 500 miles farther north, into Canada, as long as the land and home-seeker has such fine opportunities in Northern Minnesota. If you are in doubt go up to Duluth June 1 and 2 and afterwards take a look at the country and you soon will be convinced.

To City Folk, Too.

Manahsa Journal: It's a good thing that the 3-cent passage rate does not go into effect until after the development meeting at Duluth, June 1 and 2. Three cents a mile looks big to some of us country scribes.

That's the Talk!

Pine River Sentinel: The booster that is overlooking June 1 and 2 at Duluth has lost his biggest lead. All the real ones will be there if accident, sickness or death does not prevent.

They'll Be Here.

Brainerd Dispatch: Duluth will boost for Minnesota on June 1 and every city, village and hamlet in the northern part of the state should have its representatives there to help the good work along.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

M. A. P.: Visitor (who has been going for the last half-hour)—You know, I'm not physically strong, but I've got good staying powers.

Hostess (wearily)—Yes, we noticed that.

Chicago Tribune: Bulwer was writing "A Strange Story." "The strange thing about this story," he said, "is that I've already sold the manuscript for it."

Thus furnishing another proof, as we see, that truth is stronger than fiction.

Buffalo Express: "John, didn't you tell me that all savings banks are run in practically the same way?"

"I believe I did. What's wrong now?"

"Oh, nothing, only if they are all about the same, why did I have to go to a certain one today when I wanted to draw some money?"

Mrs. Bull: Doctor—Well, Mrs. Jones, did you test your husband's temperature, as I told you?

Mrs. Jones—Yes, doctor. I put the barometer on his chest, and it went round to "very dry," so I gave him a pint of beer, and he's been to work this morning.

Success Magazine: Little Johnny stood gazing solemnly on the decrepit form of an old countryman. Noticing the boy's attention, the old man asked: "Well, what is it, son?"

"Say," the inquisitive youngster asked, "did the politicians kiss you when you was a baby?"

Washington Star: "Did you see Casey yesterday?" asked Mr. Dolan.

"I did," replied Mr. Rafferty. "It's him that was walkin' up and down in front of my door manooverin'."

"Manooverin," was it?"

"Yes; shakin' his fist and makin' it clear he felt able to whip somebody, but bein' careful not to mention any names."

Harper's Bazar: Husband—Did the cook you hired show up?

Wife—No. Wasn't it fortunate? Another one rang our bell by mistake looking for Mrs. Gillet next door, and I kept her instead.

Puck: Stranger (at Frozen Dog Tavern)—Queer thing, Wild-eyed Pete shooting himself. Suicide, wasn't it?

Barkeeper—Suicide nuthin'. Wild-eyed Pete caught himself cheatin' in a game of patience, thet's all.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Chicago News: A man will never acknowledge his bad habits, specially when they're politics.

When the devil discovers a temper in a family he hustles away and lets it do the rest.

First a bride goes off to have a good cry by herself to express how happy she is, and afterward how she isn't.

A stout woman's clothes have to get mighty tight for her before she can suspect she isn't growing much thinner.

There seems to be a heap of satisfaction to a man in being a fool when the reason for it is the way he has a lot of money he can spend being it.

WILL CLEAR TEN TRACTS

State Reclamation Board Will Locate Land for Its Experiments.

St. Louis County Site Will Be in the Floodwood District.

The members of the state reclamation board, W. R. Mackenzie of Bemidji, A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids and W. H. Brown of Warren, will leave Duluth June 5 to definitely locate ten tracts of land on which it will conduct its demonstration work under the act of the last legislature creating the board and providing funds for the work.

The general location of the ten tracts was decided upon at a recent meeting of the board at St. Paul. On the trip, which will start June 5, the exact locations will be determined and the board will prepare to get down to the actual work. The St. Louis county tract will be near Floodwood in the western part of the country.

"The work of the reclamation board will really not be experimental, but will be in the nature of a demonstration," said W. R. Mackenzie this morning. "We are sure of our ground and are practically certain of what we can do, but deeds, not words, will convince the state. We are setting out to demonstrate that the clearing of twenty acres on each 80-acre tract owned by the state and to be sold for settlement is a good business proposition. There is no sentiment in this project, except the natural sentiment of every man to see his state developed. We will not appeal to sentiment to extend the reclamation work, but to business sense.

"The state has great tracts of land to sell. While the land is owned by the state, the agricultural resources will not be developed. Development depends on the land getting into the hands of the individual settler. Many people who would like to settle in this district are held back by the ignorance of clearing methods or lack of capital with which to keep going until a sufficient acreage is cleared to yield profitable crops.

"I believe this reclamation work will demonstrate that it is practical for the state to clear twenty acres of each 80-acre tract and to spread the clearing cost over the eighty acres. Then when a settler enters on the land, he will be in a position to start his crops immediately and he may clear the remainder of his land at his leisure, or as the capital becomes available. The cost per acre on the eighty acres would not be much higher and the land would be much more attractive to prospective settlers."

ISHERWOOD BOAT TESTED

W. P. Palmer Carries Greater Ore Cargo Than Olcott.

For the first time since the Isherwood type of vessel was designed, two vessels each of the same dimensions carrying the same kind of cargo but of the different types of construction have been compared as to carrying capacity.

Two ships of the Pittsburg Steamship Co. fleet, the Isherwood boat, the W. P. Palmer and the W. J. Olcott, a boat of transverse construction, were loaded to the same average depth, 18 feet 2 inches, and their carrying capacities determined. The Palmer carried, bill of lading weight, 10,359 tons of iron ore; the Olcott, 10,085 tons. At their destinations the ore was weighed out into cars. The Palmer cargo weighed 10,386 tons, 1,860 pounds; the Olcott cargo, 10,134 tons, 1,740 pounds. According to the bills of lading the Palmer carried 274 tons of ore more than the Olcott, while by weight or unloading she carried 252 tons and 120 pounds more.

In other words, at the prevailing rate on ore from the Head of the Lakes (60 cents a ton), the Palmer earned on a draft of 18 feet 2 inches $151.20 more on the trip than the same size boat of transverse construction. During a season of twenty trips the increased profit of the Palmer over the Olcott would be $3,034.

700 Days for Soo Lock.

Bids for the masonry work on the new lock at the Soo will be opened in the office of the United States engineer on June 29. It is specified that the work must be done in 700 calendar days, as it has been demonstrated that concrete can be successfully laid during the winter months. Should the contractors not desire to do the work in the winter they will be permitted to lay off, but a sufficient number of men must be put on during the warmer months to counteract the layoff. Work will start during August.

STEAMERS LEAVE TRADE.

Stratheona and Donnacona Are Converted Into Package Freighters.

Port Huron, Mich, May 18.—Steamers Strathcona and Donnacona of the Inland line, which have been carrying ore to the Hamilton Steel & Iron Co.'s docks at Point Edward for the last five years, have been converted into package freight steamers for the Inland line.

The Donnacona and Strathcona were taken to Collingwood early last fall and the work was done by the Collingwood Shipbuilding company. The Donnacona and Strathcona were considered too small for ore carriers.

HONOR UNIDENTIFIED DEAD.

Citizens of Two Rivers Erect Memorial to Vernon Victims.

Citizens of Two Rivers, Wis., will unveil a monument with appropriate ceremonies, Memorial day, for seven unidentified dead which were brought ashore and buried there after the wreck of the steamer Vernon, which foundered off Twin River point, the night of October 27, 1887. Of the crew of twenty-five and thirty passengers but one escaped, a sailor who climbed on a life raft that floated from the deck as the vessel went down. After drifting about nearly two days he was picked up by a steamer and landed at Sturgeon bay.

Eighteen bodies that were picked up after the tragedy and taken to Two Rivers, were identified. Seven others which were not claimed were placed in one grave. The memorial tablet was purchased by funds raised by subscription. On it will be an inscription narrating details of the tragedy.

WILL CLOSE AMERICAN CANAL TO TEST DAM.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The American canal will be closed tomorrow after 8 o'clock for the purpose of making an official test of the movable dam on Bridge island. The dam has been swung and the machinery partially tested, but the test tomorrow will be thorough throughout.

Only One Bid Made.

The Muir-O'Sullivan Dredging Co., of Port Huron, was the only bidder for the work of dredging Clinton river to a uniform depth of eight feet, between the mouth and Mt. Clements. The bid was 35 cents per cubic yard, place measurement. Col. Townsend, who received the bids, will recommend that the contract for the work be awarded to the company. There is $6,000 available for the work.

Have New Type Boat.

Manitowoc, Wis., May 18.—The Manitowoc Dry Dock Co. yesterday launched a new type of a boat, a car ferry lighter which they are building for Chicago companies. The boat is of steel, has car tracks the same as a car ferry, and in addition contains a steel platform raised four feet above the deck. The craft will cost about $30,000 and is said to be the first of its kind to be built on the lakes.

Plows Under Water.

Detroit, Mich., May 18.—David Black, the diver, who is working under the River Rouge, has established a precedent by plowing below water, because of the failure of a small dip scoop to remove the ends of the channels dug by the big dredge when the 25-foot enlargement of the mains was made. An ordinary two-horse plow was dropped to the bottom, to which power was attached, and with ease the diver worked over the bottom loosening the clay.

HYPNOTIST AT THE LYCEUM

Sleeper Is Awakened After a Nap of Fifty Hours.

The feature of the entertainment last night at the Lyceum theater by Barnum, the hypnotist, was the awakening of the young man who had slept in the window of the Kelley Hardware company for fifty hours.

The sleeper was brought in on a stretcher and taken on to the stage. He awakened easily, yawned, stretched his arms and stated that he had enjoyed his long slumber.

Barnum uses his power to amuse. The large audience which greeted him last night was highly entertained by the queer antics the subjects went through while under Barnum's influence.

There is nothing but fun in the performance. There are no waits and the performance is continuous. He makes his own situations, picking those that will amuse. Last night's audience shrieked with laughter when the subjects, under the influence of the hypnotist, did his will. It was only a question of how many funny things he could think of to have them do, and in this regard Barnum's brain seems to be fertile.

This afternoon a man will be hypnotized in the Kelley Hardware company's window. He will then ride a bicycle for six hours, when he will be taken to the Lyceum and awakened.

Barnum changes his program each night. There will be matinees both Saturday and Sunday.

John Birch, who is on this week's Orpheum bill, presenting a burlesque melodrama with the aid of a number of old hats, by means of which he impersonates the various characters, didn't get his experience for the act vicariously. He acquired it in a hard school.

Mr. Birch, when he started his professional career, was a "villian." He was the most villianous villian that ever uttered a hoarse whisper or "cur-r-r-sed" a hero. He has tied fainting heroines to railroad tracks; bound their lifeless forms to the carriage of a sawmill; thrown them from high cliffs without number. For several years he wore black mustaches, and persecuted the blonde heroines through three acts, finally to "get his" when the curtain went down.

And therefore Mr. Birch plays his little melodrama with the hats without effort. The old lines come back to him, and he rarely plays his act twice alike, interpolating lines from the old melodramas which were so popular ten or fifteen years ago.

Josephine Sabel, who has returned from a victorious tour around the world, has been featured in every one of the great music halls of the United Kingdom, has been the belle chanteuse of every capitol on the continent, and the queen of coquetry and song in South Africa. She has returned to America the same delightful Josephine Sabel that left, as everyone who drops in at the Empress this week will attest. Commenting on her tour Miiss Sabel said today:

"It was wonderful. London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Capetown, Johanesburg—all met me with the glad hand of approval. To be sure, I know our American soldiers had carried my fame around the earth, not only by singing 'there'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' but by saying a good word for the girl who first sang it. I feel that lots of my success I owe to the boys who wear the blue."

An idea of the musical importance of "Madame Sherry" may be had from the fact that it requires four prima donnas to do justice to the fascinating score provided for this popular gaiety by Karl Hoschna, which will be heard at the Lyceum theater for three days beginning Friday.

First there is Tess Kosta, a dainty young California girl who first attracted the attention of the musical producers when she sang the prima donna roles during a summer season of musical comedy at the Delmar Gardens in St. Louis two years ago. Her first New York success was scored in the leading singing role with Adeline Genee in "The Silver Star," and now, as Yvonne Sherry, the little convent girl in "Madame Sherry," she has been hailed as the most charming ingenue prima donna the musical comedy stage has yet produced.

Lottie Kendall, so well liked as the prima donna of the Olympic Opera company, plays and sings the role of Pepita, the tempestuous Spanish girl, and is scoring a triumph.

The role of Katherine, the Irish housekeeper, is assumed by Cheridah Simpson, who has the opportunity to exercise both her beautiful voice and her excellent comedy art in the part. Miss Simpson is one of the best known light opera and musical comedy prima donnas, having starred in "The Red Feather," and sung the leading roles in "King Dodo," "Peggy From Paris" and "The Prince of Pilsen."

The quartet of singers is completed by Mary Quive, younger sister of Grace Van Studdiford, and just as pretty and talented as was her sister when prima donna of the Bostonians some ten years ago. Miss Quive was prima donna of "Woodland" and "The Country Girl," and as Lulu the aesthetic dancer in "Madame Sherry," she is the first in the cast to sing "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own."

The new programs of photoplay for the last half of the week have opened at the Odeum and Lyric theaters, and they are of exceptional merit.

"His Mother" is the feature film at the Lyric. "On the First Dark Night" is the new and catchy song that is being sung by Mr. Mistachkin.

At the Odeum, "Country Lovers" is the feature. "Open Your Eyes" is the illustrated song rendered by Mlle. Du Franc.

NYE'S TRIAL TO COME NEXT WEEK

General Demurrer Is Entered in Ohio Bribery Case.

Columbus, Ohio, May 18.—The trial of Dr. George B. Nye, indicted assemblyman from Pike county, will not be commenced during the present week and probably not until the middle of next week. A general demurrer today was entered to the indictment against Dr. Nye, averring that the facts stated in the indictment did not constitute a crime under the laws of Ohio. The indictment states that he "might there and then be influenced." Objection was taken to the word "might."

A considerable argument took place between the state and defense as to whether the demurrer should be argued immediately, but Judge Kinkead fixed 1:30 Tuesday afternoon next as the time for hearing the demurrer.

Representative Clark Lowry of Lawrence county today appeared before Judge Kinkead and pleaded not guilty to soliciting a bribe of $1,500 from Opha Moore, secretary of the Manufacturers' association.

PHOTOGRAPHING DIGESTION.

Science Conspectus: J. Carvallo of the Marey Institute, Paris, France, has recently succeeded in making cinematograph X-ray pictures showing the process of digestion both in warm and cold-blooded animals. The value of these results is obvious, as these moving pictures gave us an actual view of the interior workings of the human body, and for the first time physicians have been able to see an absolutely reliable reproduction of our organs in action.

Many attempts have been made to produce this result, but they have failed because of the difficulty experienced in obtaining the Roentgen pictures with exposures lasting but a small fraction of a second; also because no suitable cinematographic apparatus was available for producing the pictures.

The animals under test were fed with an alimentary paste or with their usual food mixed with a basis of bismuth nitrate. The results of these pictures have been checked by special investigations showing that the pictures are true photographs of the actual movements of the organs. Mr. Carvallo has produced X-ray pictures which are said to show the digestive process in the most differently constituted animals.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS!

The Reason Why We Have Decided to Go Out of Business—

Being unable to raise sufficient capital to continue on a scale equal to any establishment of the larger cities and fearing to become deeply involved and having a higher opinion of our reputation than the mighty dollar.

We have sold our lease and fixtures to I. Miller, of New York, who takes possession Aug. 1st, by that time our entire stock must be disposed of.

JONES & LAUGHLIN MAKE A PROMOTION

Thomas Walters, Assistant to Father, in Charge on Mesaba Range.

Negaunee, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Mitchell, ex-city recorder, June 1 will become superintendent of the Jones & Laughlin company's Rolling Mill mine, in this city, succeeding Thomas F. Walters, who is to be promoted to the position of assistant to his father, Captain Thomas Walters. Mr. Mitchell will have charge of the surface work at the Rolling Mill and Captain Edwin Corey, who has been at the property since it was opened up by the Jones & Laughlin interests, will continue in charge of the underground operations. Mr. Walters will move his family to Ishpeming soon after the first of the month, and Mr. Mitchell will occupy his dwelling at the Rolling Mill location.

For several years prior to his election as city recorder, Mr. Mitchell worked around the mines, gaining an experience that qualifies him for his new position.

Mr. Walters will travel much between the Marquette and Mesaba ranges. He will have general supervision of underground mining for the Jones & Laughlins company, Jones & Laughlin company.

HIBBING WILL BUILD WALKS

Large Amount of Work of That Kind Already Underway in City.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cement sidewalk construction will be as heavy, if not heavier, in Hibbing this year as last year. A large amount is now under way and a still greater amount will be undertaken as soon as the weather becomes a little more settled.

The village has given notice of its intention to put in 12-foot cement walks everywhere on Third avenue where they are not already laid and this work will begin at once. Last year cement curbing was installed nearly everywhere in town, trees have been planted on every street this season and most property owners who do not already have cement walks are preparing to lay them this summer. Johnson & Moynihan are now laying a long stretch of walk on Fourth avenue and Washington street and Third avenue. The same firm has a large amount of wooden walks torn up on Superior street and will lay cement there at once. Gust Lindner is now laying a long stretch of walk for Dr. Read on Mahoning street and Fourth avenue.

It is the intention of the council to have property owners put in cement walks everywhere throughout town where cement curbs have been laid.

LEAVE EVELETH ON SAD MISSIONS

Four Residents of City Called to Other Points By Deaths.

Eveleth, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alderman Doyle was called to Duluth yesterday by the death of his mother, Mrs. M. Doyle. The deceased was well known here, having visited Eveleth frequently. Her daughter, Mollie Doyle, was formerly clerk of the local municipal court. A wreath of flowers was sent to the funeral by the local city officials. The Doyle store was closed yesterday because of the death.

Louis Decker was called to Calumet Mich., yesterday, where his mother died after a very short illness. She will be buried at Detroit, Mich. Mr. Decker is expected back by Saturday.

Mason Burt, Jr., was called to Calumet, Mich., by the death of his mother. He is expected back by Sunday.

Robert Jefferson has been called to Duluth by the death of his father, Ernest Jefferson, at Bay Lake, near Deerwood.

MOVING HIBBING DEPOT.

Great Northern Has Force of Men Working on Job.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern road has a force of men moving its local passenger depot to a point seventy-seven feet west and eight and a half feet south of its present location. The work will take several days in its consummation, as the main part of the job is not in moving the station alone, but also in moving and shifting the house track behind the depot several feet south.

The reason for the change in the location of the depot is to make room for additional platform facilities. A brick platform twenty feet wide and sixty feet long will be built along the Third avenue frontage.

RICH EMBELLISHMENT IS GIVEN TO THE SKIN

(Woman's Quarterly.)

"The gradual disuse of powders and cosmetics," writes Mme. Gerrold, "marks the era of finer, softer complexions, and women discarding these antiquated methods and using a plain mayatone lotion get better results.

"The use of mayatone tends to clear the skin of local impurities, reduces large pores and gives to it an exquisite texture and smoothness. Any one can prepare this lotion by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel.

"Massage the face, neck and arms with this daily and and you will not be bothered with an oily, shiny skin or unnatural complexion. This mayatone lotion is very nice for retaining the soft tone and tint of youth and is excellent for chaps, freckles or tan."

TWO FARMERS GET DAMAGES

St. Louis River Dam & Improvement Company Again Mulcted in Court.

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two cases in district court brought by John Unsitali and John Lido against the St. Louis River Dam & Improvement company, were decided by the same jury before Judge Dancer, Unsitali being awarded damages to the amount of $200 and Lido in the sum of $300. The plaintiffs are farmers living along the St. Louis river about eighteen miles southeast of Biwabik and several years ago the defendant company built a dam across the river at that point which caused the water to back up and flood the lands of the plaintiffs, causing considerable damage to their property.

Three cases have already been tried at this term and damages awarded the plaintiffs in each case. There are nine other cases on the calendar against the defendant company, but it is thought that a settlement will be reached without trying them.

At the close of these cases Judge Dancer adjourned court to meet at Hibbing on the first Tuesday in June, when the balance of the calendar will be completed there.

EVELETH ATHLETES

Will Compete in Range Track Tournament at Hibbing Saturday.

Eveleth, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth will be represented as follows at the range track tournament at Hibbing, Saturday: Hassucci, 50-yard, 100-yard, 440-yard runs, broad jump and hurdles; Levant, discus, hammer and weight throws, and half mile run; Hill, 50, 100, 220 440-yard runs; Bent, 50, 100, 220, and 440-yard runs; Finnegan, broad jump and hurdles; Pryor, pole vault and half mile run; Turnquist, discus and hammer throws; Crottier, one mile run and running broad jump; Brent, Massucci, Finnegan and Hill, relay team.

A ball game between the Virginia and Hibbing high school nines, for the range championship, will precede the track meet.

Eveleth School Election.

Eveleth, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notices for the special school election Saturday to bond District No. 39, for $60,000 for the erection of a ten-room primary school in the Fayal district to replace the burned Fayal school, are being distributed. Three drills are being worked near the site of the old school and it will soon be known where the new school can be located.

FINE CELEBRATION

Of the Norwegian Anniversary Is Held at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entertainment given by the Sons and Daughters of Norway at Finnish Temperance hall last night was largely attended and was greatly enjoyed. The program was carried out in a most pleasing manner. The address by Laura Bratager of Minneapolis in her native tongue was well received with many bursts of applause. S. S. Dahl of this city, made a big hit with his address in English on "Norway's Independence." At the close of the program a luncheon was served, after which dancing was indulged in.

ENLISTING FOR ITALIAN ARMY

Recruits for Service in Royal Army Being Secured in Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Enrolement of men for the Italian army is going ahead in Hibbing. Arrangements have been made for physical examinations every week, mostly on Sunday for the benefit of those men who are employed in the mines of this vicinity. Dr. Vercellini is the examining doctor, and reports show that three out of four of the men applying are accepted for service. Already seventy-five men have been sent from Hibbing and the season has only just begun and many more will probably go from here before the recruiting season closes. A. Castigliano, the consular agent here, reports many applications for service. The Italian empire is under the compulsory military service, each man serving from thirty months to three years. The government pays the over-seas transportation, but not the railroad fare of the men, this coming out of their own pockets.

ACCUSE FURNITURE MOVER.

Hibbingite Alleged to Have Stolen Money From Bureau.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—O. Olson was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with having stolen $18.45 and a small savings bank while moving some furniture. According to the story told to the police, Olson was assisting George Neally and another man to move some furniture. It is alleged that Olson was moving a bureau containing a small savings bank containing $18.45, and when the family opened the bureau after the move, both the bank and the money were gone. A search warrant was secured later in the day and the money was found in Olson's room in a match box.

SUCCEEDS JUDGE HUGHES.

J. P. Ryan Elected Member of Hibbing School Board.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the school board yesterday afternoon County Commissioner J. P. Ryan was elected to the board to fill the place of Judge Martin Hughes, who recently resigned. The annual election of the board takes place on July 17. No names have so far been mentioned for candidates, but there is every evidence of a pretty hot fight for the members of the board whose terms expire this year.

The Sons and Daughters of Norway held their annual banquet last night in Imbertson's hall, a program of speeches being provided. A large number were present and a very fine time was spent by all those who were there.

John Healy went to St. Paul yesterday on a business trip.

Chief of Police Peter Wring returned from Duluth last evening after having taken a prisoner to that city.

The annual medical report of School Physician C. E. Prudden shows that the 2,000 children are in good health and that the average is higher than in the large cities.

VIRGINIA WILL DO MUCH PAVING

City Clerk Will Advertise for Bids to Be Opened June 13.

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The plans for paving have been slightly changed by the street and alley committee. Wyoming and Virginia avenues will not be improved at present. The street car line is to run through Wyoming avenue and the committee has decided to defer the paving of that thoroughfare until the tracks are laid. A larger water main is needed in Virginia avenue before that street is improved. The streets and avenues to be paved are as follows: Mesaba avenue from Spruce to Sago street; Cleveland avenue from Maple to Larch; Poplar street from New England avenue to Railroad avenue; Spruce street from Ohio avenue to Railroad avenue; Cook street from Central avenue to southwest corner of the Second addition to Virginia; Lake boulevard from Walnut to Willow streets; Walnut street from Cleveland avenue to Railroad avenue; Central avenue from Sage to Larch street.

All property fronting on portions of the avenues and streets to be improved will be assessed 40 per cent of the cost of improvement, as provided by the city charter.

City Clerk Bickford has been instructed to advertise for bids for doing this work, which must be in his office by 8 o'clock in the evening of June 13.

INDEXING COURT RECORDS.

Virginia Municipal Court Clerk Getting Affairs Into Shape.

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Jessie McNeil, clerk of the municipal court, is indexing the records of the court from 1900 up to a year ago. Miss McNeil took charge of the court records about a year ago and previous to that time the records were kept in most any old manner. She is putting in over time on the job and expects to have the work completed within a month or six weeks. When the indexing is completed it will be a simple matter to refer to any case tried in municipal court during the past eleven years. The records since she took charge are complete and up to date and the attorneys praise her work.

CLASS BUYS BUSTS.

Figures of Noted Men for Eveleth High School.

Eveleth, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Busts of Generals Lee and Grant, Daniel Webster, Benjamin Franklin, Longfellow and Lowell, to cost over $100, the cost to be defrayed from the senior class play proceeds have been ordered from a Boston art gallery and will arrive in time to be installed in the high school auditorium for the commencement exercises.

The boys' class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school was entertained Monday evening at the home of Rev. Phillip A. Schwarz, Jr., while on Tuesday Miss Agnes Murray entertained a Sunday school class. Mrs. A. G. Kingston will entertain one of the classes tomorrow afternoon at her home on Monroe streeet.

MISS DAHLEN VISITS SCHOOLS OF HIBBING.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Ellen Dahlen of Duluth, deputy humane agent of that city, yesterday afternoon visited all of the city schools in an effort to interest the pupils in the organization of Bands of Mercy among the children.

Miss Dahlen said that she was much encouraged with the results of her visit thus far.

COHASSET NOTES.

Cohasset, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Saturday the junior baseball team played the Grand Rapids team. The score was 6 to 8 in favor of Cohasset.

Miss M. Fossburg of Minneapolis is visiting with Mrs. Charles Brown, her sister.

The fifth of the series of lectures by Rev. A. E. Von Stilli, entitled "How the Other Half Lives" was given Wednesday, May 16.

Gladys McNaughten gave a "surprise" on her mother, Mrs. S. Phair on Saturday evening.

Harry Coolidge made a visit to Grand Rapids with his motorcycle on Sunday.

Roy K. Stokes left for Minneapolis on Tuesday on a business trip.

The ball given by the Cohasset Dancing club last Saturday evening was reported a success. The music was furnished by Grand Rapids musicians.

Miss Lucena Cole, who has visited with relatives here the past three months, returned to her home in Michigan. A number of her young friends loaded with dainties took possession of the premises and proceeded to enjoy themselves the evening before her departure.

The home talent play in connection with the closing exercises of school will be given on Thursday evening, May 25, at the village hall.

Archie Dibble and wife, who have spent a year in Minneapolis, returned here three weeks ago, and are building a cottage in South Cohasset, where they will make their home.

The concrete work of the new high school was finished Wednesday.

TACONITE BRIEFS.

Taconite, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The young men and women are practicing for a play they will present June 15.

John Dennis has a freak of nature on exhibition, a chicken with two heads.

Jos. Camilla Baker of Hohman met with an accident while watering his horse at Fountain Square. Both wagon and harness were badly broken.

Worman Pitches Steady Game ---O'Brien Laces Out Home Run.

La Crosse, Wis., May 18.—There was nothing to it but Duluth in the contest of yesterday afternoon, the gallant Sox triumphing by the score of 10 to 2. Jones and Hooker opposed Bob Worman, and while the hits of both teams were equal, those of the visitors came at the right time.

The Outcasts could not connect when hits meant runs. In the fifth and ninth innings the visitors bunched hits and runs. O'Brien hit one over the fence in the first inning.

La Crosse showed to poor advantage in the field, while the O'Brienites registered but one error during the matinee. Score: R. H. E.

GILLIGAN IS STRONG AND BREWERS WIN.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 18.—Gilligan, backed by good support, beat St. Paul in a game advanced from Aug. 31, by a score of 2 to 1. Gilligan was hit harder and oftener than O'Toole, but kept his hits well scattered and this fact, aided by poor base-running, brought about St. Paul's defeat. Score: R. H. E.

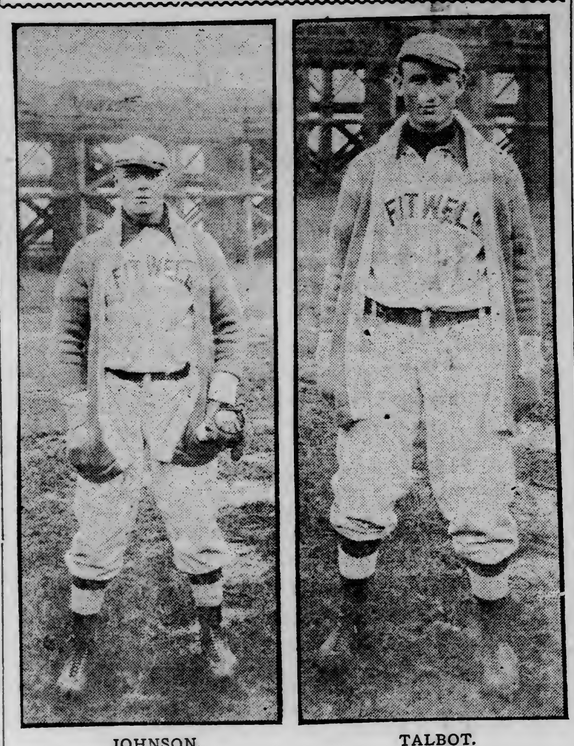
IN "EIGHTS" FOR ENGLISH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Port Rush, Ireland, May 18.—Miss Dorothy Campbell won her match in the fourth round of the British women's golf championship today in brilliant style, beating Mrs. G. M. Martin of the Tavistock club, 7 up and 5 to play. This leaves the American champion among the eight who will fight out the fifth round.

THE TWO STAR TWIRLERS OF THE FITWELL TEAM



JOHNSON. TALBOT.

WITH THE SOX ABROAD

In the box score of the opening game with La Crosse, published in The Herald last evening, some idea was gleaned of the work the different members of the team are doing.

Little Leber has been playing a star game on the road and if he continues to play at the gait he has maintained since the team left home, Little Eva will bear out all the nice things the Orator has said.

Meneice is playing one of the greatest games of his career. He has been hitting and fielding in fine shape, and it may be noticed that he had twenty-two putouts in the long game at La Crosse. O'Brien is also playing a great fielding game, and if the scores are an indication of the work that is being done by Altermott, he is a very much improved ball player.

One of the members of the team made the prediction, before the Sox left for the road trip, that Baldy would go up at the end of the present season. In some respects he was the best shortstop in the league last season, and in other respects he was the worst.

He has, or perhaps had, several faults, and if he can overcome these he will sure make a darb of a player.

The team as a whole seems to be an entirely different organization from the one that floundered in the mire of defeat last year. Of course there is the ever present warning that the season is young, and that reversals are a bogey man ready to hop out of the ditch. But there is no use of being an optimist, and so far the work of the Sox has opened the eyes of the fans.

Jawn Desmond is wearing a very happy smile these days. The genial one is getting his strength back again, and in a week or so will be quite himself, like Richard of old. He is plum overjoyed at the success of the team, and with the announcement that a definite time has been set for the completion of the park, one of the burdens of care has been removd from the shoulders of the manager.

The Desmond man has confidence in his team. He believes that he has some real ball players and the other officials of the Duluth Baseball association are inclined to agree with him, claiming that new men are making good, while the old ones are playing better on the road than they pastimed last season.

Duluth will prove to be a good baseball town this present season, with the Sox playing the kind of baseball they are at the present time. The success on the road has been great and they should come home with an even break.

They won the long end at Red Wing and Rochester, and the worst they can get is to lose two out of three at La Crosse. Then comes Winona. The one that floundered in the mire of defeat last year. Of course there is three games with the Pirates will be a test, and if they get one there the fans will be very well satisfied.

WITH THE FIGHTERS

Those dear English, who have a sense of humor about as sharp as the carving knife after mother had got through cutting the kindling, are sharply aware that Packey McFarland funked out of a match with Matt Wells, the man who was given a decision over Freddy Welsh, thereby winning the Lonsdale belt.

As a matter of cold fact the only reason that McFarland does not go to England and fight the conqueror of Welsh, is that the purse offered was not of sufficient inducement.

The services of the wonderful master of science are in constant and costly demand upon this side of the raging blue waters. He would lose money by the trip across, and as Packey is a very business like chap, he will not go until they boost the stipend.

And while we are on the subject of fighters it might be said here that today Packey McFarland is the master of science. What an exhibition of wonderful boxing would have been provided in a meeting between Gans and McFarland.

Gans was indeed the Old Master, and the stockyards wonder can be called the new master. Gans was a combination of a wonderful boxer and a great fighter. Some of the fans have their doubts as to the punch carried by Packey and also have some doubt as to his ability to cope with the husky boys.

As a boxer, pure and simple, there never has been the least doubt regarding his cleverness, and right a the present time he is at the height of his power.

Walter Little would make a great opponent for Pal Brown. In the record Little sent to the writer, it will be seen that he has won victories over some of the best boys in the fighting game. Last season he beat Bert Keys at Savannah and beat Young Saylor. Two years ago this boy went fourteen rounds with Ad Wolgast at Los Angeles, putting up a fight that was a markable exhibition of gameness and skill.

The matching of Pal and Little would give the fans in this part of the country one of the best scraps that they could possibly see, and would also serve to show the class of the range wonder, who in the opinion of many, is the coming lightweight champion of the world.

Interest among the little fellows just at the present time is centered in the coming meeting between Frankie Burns and Ad Wolgast, which will be settled on the Pacific coast. Though Burns is a native son the good people of California have made Wolgast the favorite at odds of 2 to 1.

Interest in the meeting is increased by the agreement that Moran will meet the winner for the lightweight championship. Fans throughout the country, barring possibly Packey McFarland, are agreed that Moran has the greatest right to demand a meeting with Wolgast. The fight should be one of the greatest battles fought between little men since the first Gans-Nelson fight, which was held at Goldfield, and which was a regular rip snorter.

Moran will be nearly an even money choice in the odds, as he is a great favorite on the coast, and is, in addition, one of the very greatest fighters the past decade of pugilism has produced.

CENTRAL WINS FROM IRVING

West Duluth High School Beaten at Baseball By 13 to 8 Score.

Duluth Central high won from the Irving high school yesterday at baseball by a 13 to 8 score. The contest was in the nature of a practice game and as yet Central has not exhibited sufficient finished playing to warrant the belief that it will prove victor in the coming games with the members of the interscholastic league.

Harris pitched the full game for Central and was found for eleven hits. In the field the high school boys put up a better game than the two previous contests, but three errors being charged. Much improvement can be made in the play of the Central men, and to this end the coach will bend his efforts during the remainder of the season. The score:

SAYS PHILLIES SWIPE SIGNALS

Philadelphia, May 18.—Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, believes the Phillies are tipping off the signals of the opposing teams. He acknowledged last night that he had alternated four different sets of signals yesterday to defeat the alleged "tipping." The Phillies did not hit yesterday.

Manager Griffith was watching the clubhouse closely yesterday. It is his contention that no ball club ever got together could hit as the Phillies have been hitting without the aid of some signal service.

Harry McLean, who was catching for the Reds when the Phillies pulled off their wholesale slaughter of Cincinnati pitchers, is even more certain than Griffith. McLean claims the Phillies were stepping up and into every curve ball before it reached the plate and that they were prepared for every kind of a catch.

Griffith pulled McLean out of the game to give young Severoid a chance. At least that was what Griffith said, but McLean was stationed on the bench for an inning trying to figure out with Griffith just where the signal bureau was located.

Several years ago the Phillies did work this system with great success through an electrical contrivance operated by Catcher Morgan Murphy, which tipped off to the famous "Petie" Childs, who always coached on third, just what was coming to the plate, and Childs notified the batter.

Any sentence with "on" in it meant a curve ball, and "it" meant a fast one. With the aid of this signal tipping the Phillies soon earned a reputation as the greatest team of sluggers the game ever has known.

AMERICANS ARE CHALLENGED

Cambridge, Mass., May 17.—The formal challenge of Cambridge and Oxford universities of England for a joint track meet with Harvard and Yale universities in London next July, has been received at Harvard, according to an announcement made last night.

Capt. Foster of Harvard favors accepting the challenge. He has inquired of Capt. Kilpatrick of Yale as to Yale's attitude.

New Haven, Conn., May 18.—Manager Soule of the Yale track team said last night Yale had not yet taken definite action on the challenge of Cambridge and Oxford. It is understood, however, that Yale is in favor of the plan.

EAU CLAIRE GETS OUTFIELDER FROM WATERLOO

Eau Claire, Wis., May 18.—The Waterloo club in the Three-I league has sent Outfielder Lyle Tours to the Eau Claire team at Rochester on an optional agreement for repurchase. Tours is said to be a fast fielder and hard hitter.

BOB FITZSIMMONS IS AFTER WHITE HOPE

Cleveland, Ohio, May 18.—The one Bob Fitzsimmons, he of the enormous shoulders, tremendous kick and great heart, is playing an engagement at a local theater this week. "A Man's a Man for A' That," is the title of the sketch he "puts over." Bob is the man and his wife, Julia Gifford Fitzsimmons is the one upon whom he exemplifies the truth of the Bobby Burns quotation. The performance is a good one and Mr. and Mrs. Bob are the hit of the show.

The suns and snows of many years have come and gone since Fitzsimmons sunk his mighty fist into Jim Corbett's solar plexus at Carson City, but Fitz looks no older. Age has not left its tell-tale marks upon him, at least not externally.

Whatever may have been said about him, Fitz still loves the fighting game. He is making his living in the theatrical profession, but the lure of the ring will haunt him always. He is just now engaged in hunting a new heavyweight champion, to take the place of Johnson.

He wants a man about 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighing about 220 pounds, preferrably a college man. "I think a collegian would be best," explains Bob, "because his intuition and brain would be keener. With such a man, nerve, strength and fearlessness figured as the rest of him, I think I could get him up in a year's time. You see I could work with him. He could punch me and I could punch him. And I am big and so is he and in this way he would learn faster because he would be trying out tricks on me that he would work in the ring. A small man is incapable of developing a heavyweight fighter."

Of all the punches and arts of a fighter's trade Fitz likes the shift best of all. In his day he was an expert exponent of this cunning knock-out device. The heads of many men have hit the floor propelled by it and coupled with the force of Bob's left hand. "The shift, properly worked, is the best thing in the category. Another trick is the La Blanche swing or the pivot punch, which as rarely used nowadays. I worked it on Peter Maher at New Orleans and knocked him out in one round. After that I was barred from fighting in that city. The blow was strictly legal, but the promoters didn't think so."

Fitzsimmons is worrying over Jack London's fate. Fitz hears the novelist, who is a great pal of his, is confined in a Mexican prison and he is doing some Sherlock Holmesing via special emissaries to locate him. He has arranged with Mr. Payton, potentate of the Masons at St. Joe, Mo., and others in Mexico to search for London. London has written a sketch which Bob will take out next season.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

The Lang-Lester Meeting in Australia — Sailor Jack Bobs Up Again—The Minny League Race—Evers May Be Through.

(BY BRUCE.)

DETAILED reports of the meeting between Lang and Lester, the latter one of the lesser hopes and the protege of Tommy Burns, are at hand. Lester was disqualified in the sixth round for going to the canvas without being hit. According to the reports from the Never Never land, Lester had the better of the going until the disqualification.

Lester protested against the decision of the referee, claiming that his wrist was broken and that he was defenseless at the time he dropped to one knee. Be that as it may, as George Monroe says, he was beaten and unless Lester shows more in a return fight, if they have one, he will have to be considered one of the bubbly kinds of hopes that evaporate with the wind of opposition.

Even if the detailed account of the fight gives Lester credit for having the better of the milling, it must be dolefully recalled that this man Lang, a hope within a hope, as he was the hopeful reliance of Hugh McIntosh until Samuel Adams Langford punched him full of holes, is not anywhere near the greatest white fighter in the big world.

Lester is an experienced chap, lacking cleverness and experience, but having the natural strength of a bull. A friend of the writer wrote from the Pacific coast, sometime ago, telling of Lester. This man had seen the Burns' protege in action, and said at that time that he had great possibilities but was too small to ever hope to cope with Jack Johnson.

Lang is a very big man, but does not possess nearly the strength of Johnson. In the fight in far away Australia Lester proved the stronger of the two combatants, and his blows packed the greatest amount of steam. This is an encouraging feature of the fight, even if Lester did lose the contest, and may lead some of us to believe that Lester is the best of the present white crop and may exterminate some of the dubs who are at the present time posing in the limelight and getting by on bulk and advertising.

It was King Henry VIII., who exclaimed in glee that he was advertised by his loving friends. The same can be said of Carl Morris and some of the other shrinkimers that are parading under the misapprehension that they are fighters.

We are in the decadent age of pugilism, as far as the big men are concerned. We can't make a fighter, any more than they can make a poet laureate in England, and goodness knows they have tried hard enough. Some tough guy will rise up one of these days and without much ado will trim the lights of the budding bubbles that are chasing yawns across our heretofore clean countenances.

The new men are making good, while the old ones are playing better on the road than they pastimed last season.

Duluth will prove to be a good baseball town this present season, with the Sox playing the kind of baseball they are at the present time. The success on the road has been great and they should come home with an even break.

They won the long end at Red Wing and Rochester, and the worst they can get is to lose two out of three at La Crosse. Then comes Winona. The one that floundered in the mire of defeat last year. Of course there is three games with the Pirates will be a test, and if they get one there the fans will be very well satisfied.

Any sentence with "on" in it meant a curve ball, and "it" meant a fast one. With the aid of this signal tipping the Phillies soon earned a reputation as the greatest team of sluggers the game ever has known.

The Husky Sailor Has Spoken.

MANY of the lovers of wrestling around this town have been asking for the past two months about Sailor Jack, the "phantom wrestler." Yesterday in the mail came a letter from the naval man, the postscript being dated at Astoria, Or.

In the letter the roving one asked to be remembered to the boys, also stating that he had defeated the famous Hindu wrestler of the coast, a large middleweight who has been cutting some circles among the grapplers in the water section.

It is very probable that the sailor will be back this way soon and will get an early start in the very difficult attempt of forcing Young Miller, the overrated, to meet him on the mat.

If the sailor returns to this part of the country next fall, it will be with the object of meeting the best in the world at the welterweight limit. He has defeated some of the best men in the West, and one of the ambitions of his life is to meet Walter Miller, the fortified, in a finish match that will settle once for all the question as to the merits of the two men.

There May Be Some Weak Teams.

WHILE it is unseemly to appear to rub it in, it might be mentioned that Eau Claire is not the storm as the great team that represented the cold and clammy baseball town last season. Otto and Willie please take notice.

While the season is merely an infant in arms, and hasn't as yet cast its swaddling clothers, there are some of us of the opinion that the commissioners are not near the grand minor league aggregation that scampered smilingly along over the rough places in the 1910 race.

Andy Lyons, the pessimist, has stated that in the doleful case of Red Wing not having a strong team, immediate strides will be taken to bolster the weak places. Again, though that infant thing holds good, it might be suggested that the bolstering camps might be getting their overalls on.

Ted Corbett is going to face squalls at Rochester, "see if he don't." The Surgeons have been tipped as one of the weak teams in the league, and to date their playing has been right in line with the dope handed out.

Up here we doped Winona as the fair-haired child, one of those mother's prides. The way the Pirates are going under the guiding hand of Uncle Joe Killilan is sure scandalous.

You can play the dope right across the boards, for first and show, that the Winona bunch will be up there at the close of the season—right up near the top of the heap.

That will be about all today. This prediction stuff gets you in bad, and besides the "he-done-wrong" bunch has a very long memory. But after all a ladder was made to see through, and if seeing is believing, it looks like Winona was an awfully strong contender, with the dear beloved Sox of our own village showing strong to date and the Taylorites chafing at the bit and running strong.

The league race is attracting attention in the Twin Cities, and is closely followed by the fans there.

If the Minny league learns the politics of the game as it has learned in the past, and President Force proves the executive that some believe he will, there may be some good things ahead for the league.

It will hardly remain in its present shape, and with reciprocity and other things making the hearts of the fans and even the dyspeptic glad, there are those who predict the expansion movement one of these fine days.

Little Johnny Evers May Be Out.

FROM the baseball center of Chicago comes the rather pathetic news of the serious condition of Trojan Johnny Evers, one of the most brilliant players in baseball.

If the illness of the little second sacker is as grave as the reports have it, he may not be seen in a Chicago uniform again the present season. The loss of Evers will be a blow that the Cubs can hardly rally from, and with other accidents may mean the loss of the pennant.

When Charley Comiskey was in this city, he told a group of very congenial friends that Evers unassisted, defeated his team in the Chicago championship series, several seasons ago. This was a very high compliment paid to a very great player by a very great man, as far as baseball goes.

Chance has had his misfortunes the present season. The same old hoodoo seems to be on the trail of the Cubs, and it may mean the going back of the grand old baseball machine.

Entering the World of Commerce.

THOSE dyed in the wool motor boat enthusiasts, Richard Schell and Mack Cook, have decided to enter that prosiac thing called commerce. They are going to start a pleasure or speed ferry line with their boats, their fast craft, and when the new industry is working, one can get a ride around the bay that will be a real thriller.

The two skippers hold to the idea that their boats might as well be working, and with that idea in view will have the line established some time in June. With the carnival coming on and the influx of visitors, the project should prove profitable.

They Are Not Weak Minded.

IF YOU should happen to observe any young man walking along the street making peculiar if rhythmic motions with his hands, do not report him to the police. He is not looney; he is merely a member of the Duluth Boat club and is practicing "shoots."

JOHNNY EVERS SERIOUSLY ILL

Cub Star May Be Out of Game for Present Season.

Chicago, May 18.—The present patched-up condition of the erstwhile wonderful Cub infield is likely to be permanent, as Johnny Evers, the star second baseman and one of the mainstays of the West side aggregation, has suffered a nervous breakdown at his home in Troy, N. Y., according to a letter received yesterday by President Charles W. Murphy.

Evers, who has been panting to reenter the diamond ever since he became ill, confesses he probably will not be able to play with the Cubs for a month, and not unlikely he will be kept out of the game throughout the season. He says his condition is so bad that at times he cannot stand without assistance.

Evers' absence, even for a short time, is a serious loss to the team, but is critical now on account of Tinker's suspension on the eve of the battle with Philadelphia. Zimmerman is likely to find a permanent berth at second in Johnny's shoes and Doyle will be kept posted at third.

Evers has had many troubles all his own in the last year, beginning with the automobile accident in which his friend, George MacDonald, was killed. Then came the accident at Cincinnati on the eve of the world's series when he was disabled by breaking his leg in a slide to the plate, and, finally, his business ventures proved unsuccessful and swept away a large part of his competence.

BASEBALL MAGNATE SUDDENLY STRICKEN.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 18.—The condition of Frank S. Elliott, vice president of the Philadelphia Nationals, who was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage at the game on the local grounds yesterday, is critical today and fears for his recovery are entertained. Mr. Elliott was taken ill after the game with Cincinnati had been won by Philadelphia in the eleventh inning. He fell unconscious and remained in that condition at a hospital. Mr. Elliott is a well-known attorney.

HANCOCK BANKER SUDDENLY TAKEN

C. A. Wright, Prominent in Copper Country, Expires in Houghton Rink.

Houghton, Mich., May 18.—Special to The Herald.)—While skating in the roller rink, here last night, Charles A. Wright, banker, mining man and railroad operator of Hancock and one of the most prominent citizens of the Copper country, was seized with apoplexy and expired suddenly.

Mr. Wright built the Copper Range railroad, only recently severing his connection with it. He was president of the Keweenaw Central railway, the Phoenix Consolidated Copper company, Keweenaw Copper company, The Superior National bank and the Superior Trust company.

A widow and four children survive. He was about 57 years of age. Mr. Wright was a pioneer of the Portage Lake district and was looked on as the first citizen of Hancock, in the growth of which he has been largely instrumental. He was a member of the Elks and Sons of the American Revolution.

MOOSE LAKE WILL WELCOME VETERANS

Making Preparations to Greet Park Region Encampment of G. A. R.

Moose Lake, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The citizens of Moose Lake propose to give the old soldiers a warm greeting and royal entertainment here when the Park Region encampment G. A. R. meets here June 21, 22 and 23. C. F. Mahnke, chairman of the arrangement and finance committee in discussing the plans says:

"Moose Lake is an ideal place for holding this encampment; exercises will be held in the park grounds which comprise fifty-seven acres on the lake shore. Prominent speakers will be here, together with the Duluth drum corps, and the Aitkin and Moose Lake bands will furnish the music for the occasion. We expect at least 2,000 people."

Col. G. W. Skelton, district commander has issued the following order relative to holding the encampment here:

Headquarters Park Region G. A. R. encampment:

Moose Lake, Minn., May 10, 1911.

The dates fixed for the holding of the encampment this year are June 21, 22 and 23 at Moose Lake.

BIG HAIL STORM VISITS IRONWOOD

Many Panes of Window Glass Broken, Greenhouse Being Hard Hit.

Calumet, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A terrific thunder storm early this morning did considerable damage to sprouting crops through the northern part of the Upper Peninsula. Many buildings are reported struck by lightning and several small structures destroyed by fire. No fatalities are reported.

Ironwood, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the worst hail storms that ever visited this vicinity broke over Ironwood yesterday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock. Hailstones that measured one and a half to two inches in diameter could be seen everywhere.

Not much damage was done in the business section, but the residential part of the city received the most damage. Scores of houses had one and two windows broken, some dwelling places having as many as nine to twelve broken. At Richard Lutey's greenhouses there were about 300 glasses broken. At the Newport machine shop 53 and Newport school about 46 windows were broken, and several were broken in the Central school. Very little damage was done at Bessemer.

FILLING GOVERNOR'S STAFF.

Practically Full List of Officers Has Been Made Up.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Practically the full list of officers on the governor's military staff has been completed. A majority were chosen from the Twin Cities.

In the official orders, which are being issued by Adjt.-Gen. F. B. Wood, the following are reappointed:

W. H. Rowe, St. James, surgeon general; Bishop J. J. Lawler, St. Paul, chaplain; J. C. Hardy, St. Paul, colonel and aide; C. L. West, Austin, colonel and aide; E. W. Murphy, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; D. E. Jones, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; David Wallblom, St. Paul, colonel and aide; S. J. Turnblad, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; A. H. Poehler, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; G. S. Koffend, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; Daniel Aberle, St. Paul, colonel and aide; W. H. Wylie, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; W. E. Reau, Minneapolis, colonel and aide; E. H. Whitcomb, St. Paul, assistant surgeon general, rank of major; C. W. Fisher, St. Paul, assistant inspector general, rank of major; Gustaf Carlson, Duluth, colonel and aide.

The following new appointments are made:

A. C. Floan, St. Paul, to be colonel and aide; J. H. Beck, St. Paul, to be colonel and aide; Howard Welrick, Hibbing, to be colonel and aide; W. H. Gemmel, Brainerd, to be colonel and aide, M. J. Donnelly, St. Paul, assistant judge advocate, rank of major; E. A. Force, Minneapolis, assistant commissary general, rank of major; M. W. Hingeley, Moorhead, major and aide; Beresford Prior, St. Paul, major and aide.

The following members of the old staff are not on the new staff:

Assistant judge advocate general, Maj. E. W. Bird, Fairmont; quartermaster general, Brig.-Gen. F. W. Johnson, New Ulm; assistant commissary general, Maj. H. S. Hobson, Worthington; aide-de-camp, Col. John R. Conway, Detroit; aide-de-camp, Col. T. F. McGilvray, Duluth; aide-de-camp, Col. R. J. Schiffman, St. Paul; aide-de-camp Col. A. W. Benson, Minneapolis.

MEXICAN WAR VETERAN.

James Riley of Reedsburg, Wis., Also Served in Civil War.

Reedsburg, Wis., May 18.—Reedsburg has one of the few survivors of the Mexican war, James Riley, nearly 93 years of age, who also served through the Civil war. He came to America in 1843, enlisted when the Mexican war broke out and traveled to Lower California by the Cape Horn route, spending nearly six months on the way. He came to Wisconsin in 1849 and settled at Dellona. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in the Third Wisconsin cavalry. One of his most vivid recollections of the great struggle was his capture by Capt. Mayfield of Quantrell's 'bushwhackers" in September, 1862, when he beat his captors at cards, successfully disputed their claim to a blanket he carried and then as a climax, called his captor a "liar" and escaped the consequences by his shrewd Irish wit.

Quickest Relief Known For all Foot Troubles

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest treatment obtainable for all foot troubles. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of hot water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (A shorter time will not bring results.) The effect will be a revelation. All soreness gone and the feet feel so good you could sing for joy. This treatment should be repeated each night until the cure is permanent. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Bunions are reduced. Sweaty, smelling feet, tender and swollen feet usually need but a few applications. Any druggist has Calocide in stock or will get it from his wholesale house. Twenty-five cents buys sufficient to put the worst feet in good condition. Calocide should not be confused with patent medicines. Formerly it was used only by the profession but is now used by the general public and is surely a blessing, especially to those who have been experimenting with ineffectual powders and tablets.

DISTRICT WOMAN'S CLUBS TO MEET AT BISMARCK.

Bismarck, N. D., May 18.—The annual business meeting of the federated clubs of the Sixth district is being arranged by the district vice president, Mrs. E. T. Taylor and will be here May 29. A large attendance is expected from Wilton, Turtle Lake and Linton. The visiting delegates will be entertained at a tea by Mrs. Taylor and in the evening a business and social session will be held at the executive residence, at which all active and associate members of the federated clubs are invited to attend. The business will begin at 7:30 promptly, as there is a full evening's program.

Upper Peninsula Fishing Poor.

Republic, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — Trout fishing in Upper Michigan streams this spring apparently is much below par. Advices from various districts indicate that most anglers are returning with empty baskets or very poor catches. The general complaint is that the creeks and rivers are being fished out. There are exceptions to the run of ill luck, and probably the most noteworthy of these reported to date is the achievement of Charles Brown, deputy sheriff, of Humboldt township, Marquette county. Mr. Brown has brought in one catch of twenty-five trout, not one of which weighed less than two pounds.

POSTPONES PUBLICATION.

Lindbergh's Magazine Will Not Appear Until Next Year.

Little Falls, Minn., May 18.—Persons in Little Falls, who subscribed for the magazine which was to have been launched by Congressman C. A. Lindbergh, have received the following self-explanatory letter:

"Inasmuch as the extra session of congress will take all my time this summer, I shall postpone a magazine publication until 1912, and therefore I return your subscription, thanking you for your consideration. With best wishes, I am, yours,

"C. A. LINDBERGH."

The letters are postmarked at Crosby, Minn.

ENJOIN TREASURER.

Ashland Judge Halts Tax Sale of Milwaukeean's Property.

Ashland, Wis., May 18.—On the ground the taxes were too high, T. L. Kennan of Milwaukee, owner of much land in Ashland county, has secured an injunction in the local courts against Mrs. Nellie Archibald, county treasurer, restraining her from selling the property for taxes.

There was a large number of buyers at the sale and the sales were a bit brisker than last year. Almost every certificate offered was taken up.

DIETZ HIRES LAWYER.

Although Now Doing Time, Famous "Outlaw" Will Seek Appeal.

Waupun, Wis., May 18.—John Dietz was received at the penitentiary yesterday, given a shave, bath and haircut, measured according to the Bertillion measurement and started in serving his life sentence for killing Oscar Harp in the famous "battle of Cameron Dam." The central figure in a stirring page of Wisconsin history never lost his nerve during the journey from Hayward, looking on the bright side all the way to the inside of the big prison. He will be assigned to duties in a few days.

While Dietz was being brought here, his wife and children were at Fond du Lac conferring with Maurice McKenna, a well-known criminal lawyer, who has been engaged to take up Dietz's case and move for a new trial. He will prepare a bill of exceptions and make the motion before Judge Reid. If the judge denies the motion for a new trial, as seems to be generally believed, Mr. McKenna will appeal to the supreme court. It is reported Mr. McKenna claims to have found reversible errors in the record of the noted case.

MINOT COMMISSIONERS HAVE THROWN UP JOBS.

Minto, N. D., May 18. — President Arthur Le Sueur and Finance Commissioner R. H. Emerson have resigned as city commissioners, and their resignations were immediately accepted by a unanimous vote. The resignations were handed in immediately on the convening of the commission, and were accepted on motion of Police Commissioner McGahan, seconded by Commissioner Boyer.

On motion of Cimmissioner Shaw, seconded by Commissioner Boyer, L. D. McGahan was elected acting president of the commission and immediately took the president's chair.

CASS LAKE MINISTER HAS LEFT HOSPITAL.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 18.—Archdeacon H. F. Parshall of Cass Lake, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, was able yesterday to leave St. Rapheal's hospital. He is enjoying the best of health. Mr. Parhsall will remain in the city for several days as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Beaty.

VENTURESOME LA CROSSE LOVER MAY LOSE LIFE.

La Crosse, Wis., May 18.—Climbing on the towers bearing the high tension wires of the La Crosse Water Power company, to show his sweetheart, Miss Elsie Parmenter, how easily he could knock from the wire a bird, Henry Koplitz drew back his arm to cast the stone and it came in contact with the wire. With his clothing in flames he fell thirty-five feet to the ground. He is now dying from the shock and terrible burns at a local hospital.

GOGEBIC COUNTY NOTES.

Ironwood, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Russell, deputy county clerk of Gogebic county and residing in Bessemer, is confined to his bed with rheumatism. Mr. Russell has been in bed for two weeks and his condition does not seem to be much improved.

News was received in Ironwood yesterday by Miss Mary Luxmore of the death of Mrs. Burt, now of Marquette, Mich. Death was very sudden, Mrs. Burt leaving her home to make a call when death came. Maj. and Mrs. Burt were old residents of Ironwood and are very highly respected people.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Roseau—At the meeting of the Roseau County Agricultural society the following officers were elected: Israel Sjoberg, president; Oluf Efshen, vice president; M. J. Hegland, secretary; A. H. Foss, treasurer; G. M. Stebbins, general superintendent.

Fergus Falls—Leslie Wade has purchased the east lot on which the Occidental hotel was located of Elmer E. Adams for $2,600, and has let the contract to John Lauritzen for a new brick building 90 feet deep, which he will use for his billiard hall.

Aitkin—The conductors and instructors for the state teachers' summer schools have been announced. H. C. Ness of New Ulm has been assigned to Aitkin as conductor. Mrs. E. K. Jaques of Minneapolis, J. F. Bailey of St. Paul and Miss Josephine Lindberg of Brainerd are named as the regular instructors.

Rochester—Mrs. Edward Martin Monday evening received news of the death of her son, William F. Martin, which occurred Monday at Lewiston, Idaho, fifteen minutes before the arrival of his sister, Miss Mathilda Martin, who left this city on Friday. Death was caused by diabetis. Mr. Martin was born in Rochester Sept. 27, 1882, and spent the early years of his life in this city.

Bemidji—On May 31 the voters of Bemidji will decide whether the downtown streets of Bemidji are to be paved. If two-thirds of those casting their ballots on that day favor the proposed issue of $20,000 worth of bonds, the paving will go down on eleven blocks this summer.

Crookston—Deputy Sheriff Ed Kelly went to Beltrami and returned Tuesday morning with Dick Shoemaker, who is charged with having attempted to wreck Great Northern passenger train No. 6 just south of Beltrami Sunday night by placing two piles of ties across the track.

St. Cloud—The jury in the case of John F. Moore vs. William Fisher returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $500. The action was brought by Mr. Moore, a bricklayer, to secure $2,000 damages. The plaintiff had been employed on the Fisher home while it was in course of erection last fall. After a dispute with the bricklayer, the defendant is claimed to have struck the plaintiff.

Stillwater—Thomas McDermott, who has been in failing health for a year or more, died Sunday night at his home in Eau Claire. The deceased was a resident of Stillwater from 1856 to 1862, when he went to Eau Claire, where he resided up to the date of his demise. Mr. McDermott was born in New Brunswick, Can., Oct. 10, 1830.

Moorhead—C. W. Wold, a prominent farmer of Moland and a well-known ditch contractor, died at a Fargo hospital Monday evening of typhoid fever. He leaves a wife and one child, a daughter. Mr. Wold was about 34 years of age and had engaged in a number of ditch contracts in Clay county.

St. Cloud — Attorneys James A. Brown of Fergus Falls and M. J. Daly of Perham have been in the city to make a motion for a new trial before Judge Taylor. The motion was in the case of Mrs. Sawyer vs. Dr. Berthold of Perham, who is charged with malpractice, he having been engaged to set the plaintiff's broken wrist.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—Ray Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia. His sister, Mrs. E. Dahlstrom, of Minneapolis, called here by the brother's illness, has returned home. While driving to the Johnson residence Sunday, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. McFadden were thrown from a buggy by a runaway horse and both were injured.

Hillsboro—After spending the week superintending the shipping of his household goods from here and intending to depart the next morning for his new home at Bangor, Lute Purdy, aged 28, a prominent jeweler, dropped dead in the street from heart trouble.

Marinette—Thirty children were assisted to places of safety with great difficulty on Monday when a forest fire wiped out a district schoolhouse at Athelstane, Marinette county. The fire started in timber owned by the Bay Shore Lumber company. Fire-fighters helped the teacher save the children.

Madison—Paul D. Carpenter, representing the Merchants' & Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee, called on the attorney general on Tuesday and arranged to bring a friendly suit before the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the workmen's compensation law.

Green Bay—Julius Peters, aged 20, was bound over to stand trial on June 1 on a charge of arson in municipal court at noon on Tuesday. Peters is charged with setting fire to the John Baum department store and causing damage exceeding $80,000.

Manitowoc—A special election on a $220,000 bond issue to take over the plant of the Manitowoc Water Works company as soon as the railroad rate commission has fixed a price, will probably be authorized by the council. This action will save sixty days' delay necessary if the council voted the bond issue without submitting it to an election.

Appleton—President John I. Beggs announces that within ninety days his company will voluntarily reduce the price of electricity and both illuminating and fuel gas in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

Babcock—During an early Tuesday morning storm here the home of W. Tiffany and their 8-year-old daughter were so badly injured that their recovery for a time seemed doubtful. Two younger children were unhurt. The house was badly wrecked.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Crosby, N. D.—C. N. Steyer has been recommended for postmaster at Crosby, thus bringing to an end the three-cornered fight at this place.

Sharon, N. D.—Lightning destroyed the Harold Johnson barn, all the stock and other contents Tuesday morning. The loss is $3,000; insurance, $1,500.

McClusky, N. D.—Sheriff Callahan arrested John Miller on a charge of rape in the second degree at Calgary, Can., May 11. The complaining witness is Martin Hensel and the defendant is charged with having had criminal intercourse with Hensel's 16-year-old daughter on Oct. 10, 1910. At that time all parties to the action lived near Lincoln in this county.

Fargo, N. D.—The United States marshal has been asked to co-operate with the army officials in efforts to locate a number of army deserters. From the local United States marshal's office there will be sent out during the next few days pictures and descriptions of almost 100 deserters from the army.

Jamestown, N. D.—Over 1,000,000 little pike-perch were added to the stock of Spiritwood lake this week when an express shipment sent from Fish Lake, St. Johns, N. D., by Capt. Main, fish commissioner, was rushed by automobile from Jamestown to Stutsman county's pretty resort.

Elk Point, S. D.—The L. N. Crill elevator and seed corn storage house burned to the ground. The Milwaukee railroad stockyards were badly damaged, and in all the loss runs close to $15,000.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Curtis Alley, who has been in Grand Forks for some time connected with the Red River Power company, left Monday evening for Chicago, from which place he goes to Stockton, Cal., with his father. At Stockton he will continue with the Eyllesby company of Chicago, owners of the local plant.

Omemee, N. D.—Omemee will have a big fair this year, organization of the Omemee Agricultural association for the year having been perfected. The fair will be held some time during the latter part of July. The officers are: President, N. F. Maakestad; vice president, A. J. Harrington; secretary, E. M. Richardson; directors, Max Ebenhahn, N. O. Welkos, George Perrin, Thomas Taylor and B. F. Jones.

Calumet—Dr. W. S. Jackson, county physician, has conducted an autopsy on the body of the late Mrs. John Makl, who died at the Bootjack location. He found that death was due to apoplexy. The woman had been in apparently good health up to within one hour of the time she passed away.

Menominee—Excellent progress is being made in the building of the paper mill bridge over the Menominee river between this city and Marinette.

Negaunee—A. H. Knight of this city has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late James McCutcheon, formerly of Ishpeming, who died a few weeks ago in Duluth. Mr. Knight has been in Duluth the past couple of days on business in connection with the estate.

Ishpeming—Mrs. Carpenter, widow of the late Dr. W. T. Carpenter of Iron Mountain, has presented the Carnegie library of this city with quite a large collection of valuable books. Mrs. Carpenter is preparing to break up housekeeping at Iron Mountain and a number of the books of her late husband's library are also to be given to the public library at Iron Mountain.

Marquette—Excursions to Birch and Big Bay will be run over the Marquette & Southeastern railroad Saturday and Sunday, May 20 and 21, and May 27 and 28, tickets being good to return until the Sunday night following their sale.

Most Children Are Wheat-Hungry

Nearly all children have wheat-hunger—a craving for the body-building elements found in the whole wheat, the most perfect food given to man—his "staff of life" for four thousand years.

The whole wheat contains all the elements needed to build the perfect human body. This cannot be truthfully said of any other cereal. It is through the shredding process (patented and owned by The Shredded Wheat Company) that the whole wheat is prepared in its most digestible form.

By this process all the tissue-building elements in the whole wheat are retained, while the outer, or bran, coat is scattered along the shreds in infinitesimal particles in such a way as to stimulate peristalsis (bowel exercise) in a natural way.

Give a child two Shredded Wheat Biscuits every morning with hot milk and a little cream and he will be fully satisfied and will lose his taste for mushy porridges that are usually bolted down without chewing.

You can't build sturdy boys and girls out of books and sermons. Their bodies must be developed from the food they eat. Shredded Wheat is an ideal food for them to study on, to play on, to grow on.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit with hot milk or cream makes an ideal breakfast for school children and is quickly and easily prepared. The porous shreds of cooked wheat combine naturally with all kinds of fresh or stewed fruits, making a complete, wholesome meal. Your grocer sells them.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat wafer—a crisp, tasty, nourishing whole wheat Toast, delicious for any meal with butter, cheese or marmalades. Always toast it in the oven before serving.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Duluth People Give Credit Where Credit Is Due.

People of Duluth who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Duluth. Here's Duluth testimony:

J. E. Watts, 918 Tenth Ave. W., Duluth, Minn., says: "I gladly verify the public statement I gave in 1908 regarding Doan's Kidney Pills. I had an attack of backache and lameness in my loins which obliged me to stop work. There was so much pain in my kidneys that I could not bend over and I was so that the least movement made me miserable. I tried different remedies, but nothing helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They acted like a charm, and it would have been impossible for me to have obtained better results. Since then I have always kept Doan's Kidney Pills on hand and they have helped me when I have taken them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

WOMAN'S REALM.

One hundred and fifteen covers were laid at the banquet served last evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, under the ausipces of the Brotherhood of the church.

Unique and most attractive decorations made a beautiful setting for the excellent turkey supper, and the program of toasts which followed, was of much interest.

They caled it a "Butterfly Banquet" and the decorating scheme was carried out as suggested. Hundreds of pretty butterflies were arranged and festoons of them hung from the center of the room to the tables. The candles on the tables were shaded with yellow shades, on which were butterflies. A hand-painted butterfly adorned the menu cards, and fluffy butterflies were worn by the waiters. The affair was given for the benefit of the Sunday school of the church and was a decided financial as well as social success.

E. W. Matter presided as toastmaster and filled his place admirably. Miss Effie White responded to a toast on "The Brotherhood" in a very pretty manner. She said she did not feel competent to talk on her subject, not having had experience with brothers, but she covered it most acceptably.

Warren E. Greene was given the subject of "The Other Hood" and instead of speaking on "Sisterhood" as was expected, took for his theme "Babyhood." His talk was full of delightful wit, but he turned it into a more serious strain and spoke of the great need of care for young people in the homes during their teens and the duty of the parents in their training.

Rev. J. C. Faries gave an enjoyable talk on "The Might of Men," into which he put some good thoughts.

ENTERTAINMENT.

Parents and Friends Invited to Bryant School.

An evening entertainment consisting of the exhibition of manual training work done by the boys and sewing and lesson work done by the pupils will be held tomorrow evening at the Bryant school, commencing at 8 o'clock. The parents of the school are invited and the evening is being planned especially for the benefit of the fathers of the students who do not have a chance to visit the school in the afternoon.

A program of readings, songs and dialogues by the pupils has been prepared and Dan Mahoney of the American Exchange bank will give a talk on the savings banks. Mrs. Alexander M. Gow will assist with some piano numbers and following the program refreshments will be served by some of the domestic science girls of the eighth grade under the direction of Miss Walker, domestic science teacher.

THE "POET-CONDUCTOR."

That Is the Title Given to Emil Oberhoffer.

Emil Oberhoffer, conductor of the famous Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, has been called by a prominent critic "America's Poet-Conductor," owing to the fact that while his interpretations are virile and vivid as occasion may require, he has the rare faculty of weaving a spell over his audiences by reason of his power of bringing out the inner poetic spirit of the works of the masters of music.

The Minneapolis orchestra will be at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3.

It is this faculty of fusing the minds and performances of the musicians who make up his orchestra into what may be called a wonderfully eloquent instrument, that has placed Mr. Oberhoffer among the recognized great conductors of the world and has won for the Minneapolis orchestra its position as one of America's three greatest orchestras. This recognition has come to Mr. Oberhoffer and his remarkable orchestra wherever they have appeared, and public, critics and musicians have vied with each other in enthusiasm.

The loyalty of Minneapolis to the orchestra and Mr. Oberhoffer is reflected in the subscription for a term of years of an annual guarantee of $35,000 and the recent giving of $800,000 for a new combined orchestra hall and art museum, which will furnish a permanent home for the orchestra.

The advance subscription list for the Duluth concerts will remain open until Monday of next week.

MRS. JAMES W. WADSWORTH, JR.

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

AUGUST BELMONT AND ALLEN PINKERTON.

Society turned out in force for the spring meet of the Meadowbrook Steeplechase association at Belmont park. Prominent among them were: Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. James B. Eustis, James A. Burden, Jr., Mrs. Payne Whitney, and her sister, Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr. Mrs. Wadsworth was in a costume of small blue and white check cloth, made with a border of solid blue, her blue straw hat was trimmed with cherries. She also wore blue earrings to match her costume. August Belmont appeared in a Norfolk shooting suit, with a spinach green Tyrolean plush hat.

Mrs. Mather to Speak.

Mrs. Cotton Mather of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be the speaker at the vesper services at the Young Women's Christian association Sunday afternoon. The hour for these services is 4 o'clock and all women are invited to attend.

Mrs. Mather is national secretary of the literature and reading circles of the society and is an interesting writer and a speaker of more than ordinary ability. A large attendance is expected at these services.

Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thomson have cards out announcing the engagement of their niece, Miss Helen Ostram, to Seth Marshall.

Teas for Seniors.

Mrs. L. W. Kline of 1931 East Fifth streeet entertained some of the senior girls of the Normal school this afternoon at her home at an informal tea. She will be hostess to the rest of the class tomorrow afternoon. Gold and black, the class colors, are what she is using for decorating, and during this afternoon Miss Long of the Normal faculty gave several readings and Miss Maude Matteson sang.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Robert Bruce Liggett will read. There are about forty girls in the class.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Methodist Missionary Societies to Meet at Church.

The district convention of the missionary societies of the Duluth District Northern Minnesota conference which will be held at the First Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow is claiming the interest of many women interested in the missionary work of the Methodist church.

Many delegates are coming from Brainerd, Aitkin and the range to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Cotton Mather will address the women in the afternoon and the Young People's meeting in the evening.

The morning session which opens at 10:30 o'clock will be devoted to routine business with reports on the work for the year and a talk on "The Advantages of Sending Delegates to Our Annual Meetings," by Mrs. A. C. Taylor, and an address on "Our Indians," by Rev. E. K. Copper.

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 o'clock with the election of officers and their installation with Rev. E. K. Copper presiding. Mrs. Rice will lead the devotions and this will be followed by talks by Mrs. W. C. Ives and Mrs. G. W. Smith on auxiliary helps. Mrs. Mather will speak at 3 o'clock and at 3:30 o'clock Rev. J. H. Murray will give an address.

In the evening Mrs. Mather's address and a musical and devotional program will complete the convention.

ONE-ACT SKETCH.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties" Will be Played by Alumni.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties," a clever little one-act farce by John Kendrick Bangs, is the sketch to be played by four members of the alumni of the Duluth Central high school at the "Alumni Night" program, which will be given at the high school assembly hall on Friday evening, June 9, under the auspices of the Alumni association.

The entertainment will be in the form of a vaudeville performance under the direction of A. F. M. Custance of the high school faculty. Some splendid musical numbers have been planned and several monologues.

The committee in charge plans to have a section of about 400 reserved seats and the rest will be sold at a lower price.

At this date many graduates of the school who are away at other schools will be home and the association is expecting a large audience.

The proceeds from this night will go towards the Charles Alden Smith memorial fund, which the association is raising, and the "Alumni Night" is to be made a permanent feature of the graduation exercises each year.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE.

Officers In Receiving Line for Military Ball.

The reception committee for the big military ball to be given at the Spalding hotel Monday evening by the officers of the National Guard of the city of Duluth is composed of the following: Mayor and Mrs. M. The Right Principles

By VIRGINIA HARLAN

It is wise to know what comes first and what to do first in the matter of principles, and the first is, without doubt, duty—a much hackneyed word—but it contains a rare jewel for her who will seek it by diligent application.

The principle of duty means strict adherence to one's own business and just as strict non-interference in the business of others. Duty also means undivided attention to the matter in hand, intelligent concentration of the mind on the work to be done; it includes all that is meant by thoroughness, exactness and efficiency.

The details of duties differ with individuals, and each should know her own duty better than she knows her neighbors; but although the working details differ, the principle is always the same.

Honesty is the next principle. It means not to cheat or overcharge another. It involves the absence of all trickery, lying and deception by word, look or gesture. It includes sincerity—the saying what you mean, and meaning what you say—and it never destroys a reputation.

Economy is the third principle; as well as being careful of money, it means the husbanding of one's physical vitality and mental resources. It demands the saving of energy by the avoidance of enervating self-indulgences and bad habits. It holds, for its follower, strength, endurance, vigilance and capacity to achieve. It bestows great power on her who learns it well.

Liberality follows economy. It is not opposed to it. Only the girl of economy can afford to be generous. The giving of money is the smallest part of liberality. There is a giving of thoughts and deeds and sympathy, the bestowing of good will, the being generals toward opponents. It is a principle that begets a noble and far-reaching influence. It brings loving friends and staunch comrades, and is the foe of loneliness and despair.

Self-control is the last of these five principles, yet the most important part. Its neglect is the cause of vast misery, innumerable failures, and tens of thousands of financial, physical and mental wrecks. The girl who loses her temper over some trivial matter is one who by that condition of mind is self-doomed to failure. The lessons of patience, purity, gentleness, kindness and steadfastness can be only slowly learned, yet until they are truly learned one's character and success are uncertain and insecure.

The Best Husband

By ALVA ARMSTRONG.

The man who makes the best husband has a temper calculated to bear the wear and tear of everyday life. He does not fly in a temper at little things, or vent his rage at things that nobody on earth can help.

The man who makes a good husband is not lazy or idle. He doesn't prefer to sit with his hands in his pockets, doing nothing, when his family are in want of daily bread. He will be making an effort to obtain some new employment.

He will study his wife's interests in every way and be ready to shield her from harm. If husbands had any idea how their wives like to be "taken care" of and looked after, they would make a study of this practice much more than is usually the case.

Women are very sensitive, as a rule, and may feel slighted when will make them happy, a sharp word nothing was meant at all. A smile or frown utterly miserable. They long for help and protection, and when, through thoughtlessness maybe, that assistance is not forthcoming from their partner, a pang goes right through their very hearts that would startle and shame the man could he only know it.

Consideration smooths a wife's way for her when her husband comes home at night, and she meets him tired and worn out with the cares and burdens of the day; a kind word will cheer and comfort her as nothing else can. She is better pleased to hear him praise a good supper, or notice how spotlessly clean the house looks, than if he had bought her a hat or present.

The man who makes the best husband is unselfish. After all, that covers all the rest. Consideration, generosity, good temper — all are summed up in that one heading, for the unselfish man possesses them all.

Those in search of a husband should choose a truly unselfish man.

THE EVENING STORY

"An Election Fiasco"

By R. Reham.

"Do I think mother would care to talk to you about the ballot? My dear girl, you may not be aware of the fact that the doorstep you are standing on represents the end of a train of gunpowder to anyone who wants to come into this house and tickle mamma's ears on such a subject.

"Oh, yes; I know that the 'cause,' as you term it, is one for which you are prepared to brave any danger, but if you will take my advice, you'll stick to breaking windows of cabinet financiers and biting off policemen's ears rather than trying to advance your claims with the aid of mother.

"The fact of the matter is, politics is tabooed in this house, and for my own part I would sooner think of lying down before a steam roller than talking about it at the present critical juncture.

"Ma is in bed suffering from the effects of the recent struggle and its climax. Pa is sulking in his office in the city, and never comes home til it's dark, and if you want to know the reason you had better ask for it next door, where they'll be glad enough to tell you—or come into the parlor and I'll relieve my pent-up feelings by relating it to you myself. It is all the outcome of ma's jealousy and ambition.

"Ever since we came into this district there has been open warfare between Ma and Mrs. Seeley, the lady who occupies the house next to the one you are sitting in.

"Not that they have even spoken or even glanced at each other in the passing, but with one thing and another, pa's life has been a burden to him ever since ma got it into her head that the occupant of The Laurels ought to be taught that she isn't the only pebble on the beach.

"'There she goes,' mother would say. 'A new set of sable furs, and me with this old sealskin that I had when I was married.' And then father would have to take her up to the city before the week was out and do the handsome.

"It was the same when she gave a evening party to her friends, the same when the paper hangers came to do up the dining room. She couldn't make a single move without mother getting mad and wanting to outdo her, and things were getting to such a pitch that pa began to put his foot down, and say that if ma couldn't think out one last fell stroke to squash her and be done with it, she would land him in the bankruptcy court.

"This set ma thinking, and sure enough she was not long in letting us all know that she was going to explode a bomb-shell on the Laurel's doorstep.

"'You've got to stand for parliament, Alfred. That's what you've got to do!' The servant girl next door has told our maid that Mr. Seeley has just been made a Fellow of some society as if one couldn't see he was that already, and that stuck up monkey is nearly off her head about it.'

"When mother says a thing it is done—it has just got to be done. And father spent a trying week in the city telling his numerous friends what he would do with Mr. Lloyd George and his Form Four if he were in parliament, always adding with a laugh, 'And mark you, my boy, you never know when a deputation might walk in here and ask me to wire in and do it.'

"Well, it came off all right!

"A gentleman in the city, who owes father a lot of money, began to see the way the wind was drifting, and sure enough he brought along a crowd of his friends, most of them men who were in the habit of looking in on father now and again, to show him extra special lines they were selling, and they all told father he was the only man who was fit to represent them.

"Father was taken very much by surprise, he assured them, having had no idea of ever entering public life, but he thought it wiser to give them his answer there and then in case they went away and offered the job to someone else.

"Mother was fairly off her head with excitement and anticipation. Her whole days were taken up in running round the constituency in a motor car with father's colors flying from it, her evenings in sitting on the platform and shaking hands with everybody as the wife of our prospective candidate, and the watches of the night in thinking of the green color Mrs. Seeley's skin would turn when father went to St. Stephen's and sat down next to Mr. Balfour—or Austen.

"We never saw anything of his opponent, and only knew that his name was Mr. Filbert, and he was the author of several political pamphlets, and a weekly column in a newspaper, which father said he wouldn't be seen reading in a forty-acre field.

"The great night of the poll arrrived, and, of course, father was in attendance at the town hall to see the votes counted, and make a speech to the electors, thanking them for the great honor they had done him.

"We all went to the town hall, and the first person mother set eyes on in the room was that horrid Mrs. Seeley, as large as life.

"Of course, mother couldn't afford to show the true state of her feelings against her for not supporting father, so she nodded to her quite friendly like, and said loud enough for her to hear that she hoped she wouldn't take it badly when the man her husband was supporting stood on the left side of the returning officer.

"It was anxious time, I can tell you, while the votes were being counted, and all the time that hateful woman was chattering to her friends with a smile on her face.

"Well, all things come to an end, and you could have knocked mother down with a feather when the whisper went round the room that father had been defeated, and Max Filbert was in with a huge majority. You may be sure she felt pretty sick, but she didn't show it? You don't know mother, if you think she did.

"She put on her sweetest smile, as much as to say, 'Ah, well; we knew we were fighting a forlorn hope for the sake of the cause,' and then she stepped up to father and followed him out on the balcony with the returning officer.

"The crowd was yelling and cheering like mad below, and as they saw father standing on the left, and no one on the right of the returning officer, they set up a tremendous shout of 'Filbert! Max Filbert! Where's Filbert?'

"At that moment there was a movement behind us, and some one pushed his way through and took up the vacant position.

"My eyes nearly started out of my head. It was Mr. Seeley! Mother gripped my arm tight, and I thought she was going to faint, as cheer after cheer came from the crowd. 'Good old Filbert! Three cheers for Mrs. Filbert! Hurrah!'

When mother heard that she trembled all over and said:

"'The impudent hussy. How dare she?'

"Then before I could stop her she stepped forward and spoke. 'There's no such person. You've been deceived. Her name is Seeley, and so is his. This election is null and void.'

"There was a great laugh from those on the balcony, and there one of our lady supporters caught hold of mother's arm and dragged her back. 'Listen a minute, my dear. You're only making yourself foolish. Max Filbert is only his pen name, the one which everybody who reads the papers know. If you look under it on the bills you'll see Seeley in smaller letters.'

"We got mother away by the back entrance as quickly as we could, and she has been upstairs in bed ever since.

"I don't think you had better insist on talking to her about woman's suffrage!"

Oil stains on clothing should be covered with soap and washed with cold water before the garment is sent to the laundry. They may be removed with turpentine.

After scrubbing with soap and water in the usual way, take a clean dry cloth and a handful of salt, and rub the salt on the same way as the grain of the wood, then leave it to dry. Should any salt remain it only needs to be wiped off with a clean dry duster. The result is a beautiful white table. Pastry boards and rolling pins should be cleaned in the same way.

Announcement

JOHN A. TUPPER begs to announce to the people of Duluth and vicinity that he has secured the exclusive agency for the celebrated and will open for business at 20 East Superior Street, Saturday, May 20th.

Mr. Tupper hardly needs an introduction to Duluthians. He has been engaged in the piano business in this city for the past ten years and, until recently, was connected with the Duluth Music Company. His experience and wide acquaintance will, it is hoped, be strong assets toward making a success of his new enterprise.

The HALLET & DAVIS PIANO is known the world over as one of the highest grade instruments, in fact, it stands second in the list as one of the oldest reliable makes. The reputation established by this piano in the days of our grandmothers still clings to it—a reputation even higher now, by reason of the modern methods of piano building.

Over 139 Gold medals and competitive awards are the record of the Hallet & Davis Pianos.

Besides the Hallet & Davis Pianos, Mr. Tupper will handle other well known lines, including the CONWAY, LEXINGTON and WELLMAN. His stock will be quite complete, ranging in price from the most inexpensive upright to the Grand Piano.

Easy terms of payment will be extended patrons.

UNUSUAL SERIES OF STREET CAR ACCIDENTS REPORTED IN DULUTH

KILLED BY STREET CAR

Forest Cox Is Victim of Fatal Accident on Superior Street.

Steps in Front of Car and Is Crushed Under Wheels.

Forest Cox, 17 years of age, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Cox of 111 North Twenty-seventh avenue west, was almost instantly killed about 5:30 o'clock last evening, near Fourth avenue west and Superior street, when struck by a "dinky" Duluth-Superior street car.

The young man was hurrying across the street, and either failed to notice the approaching street car or tried to dodge in front of it. He was knocked down by the fender and rolled under the car. He was dragged a short distance, and when pulled unconscious from underneath the wheels, was placed in the automobile of Fred Owens, who started with him to St. Mary's hospital at full speed. The young man died before reaching the institution, and the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. L. Crawford.

An eye-witness stated that the car was not going at a high rate of speed, and that it was brought to a stop before it had traveled its own length. The unfortunate young man was employed as an office boy at the Kelley-How-Thomson company, and had left about 5 o'clock on an errand. It was expected that he would return before 6 o'clock, when he would be through for the day. His employers state that he was one of the best boys they ever had in the office, bright, courteous and ambitious.

FOREST COX.

Efforts were made without success last evening to locate the boy's father, who is a traveling salesman in the employ of the Kelley-How-Thomson company. His exact whereabouts were unknown, except that he was in some small town in Wisconsin.

Besides his parents, Forest is survived by a sister, Hazel, and a brother, Harry Cox, both of whom are living at home.

Forest graduated last June from the Bryant school and was popular among his schoolmates and friends. He started to work for the wholesale company shortly after his graduation.

He was killed by Car No. 134, one of the small type, which had been run out of the Superior car barns to help take care of the traffic between the two cities during the rush hours of the evening. The motorman was brought to the police station, but was almost immediately released.

In The Herald extra last evening it was stated that the victim's name was Horace Clark instead of Forest Cox. The former name was the one turned into the police station with the first reports, and his true identity was not learned until later.

The stories of the accident differ, but as nearly as can be learned from the most reliable sources the boy tried to run ahead of the street car, making it impossible for the motorman to have seen him until he was hit by the fender.

It seems that he was on the lower side of the street, walking towards Fourth avenue, when some one on the other side of the street called him. The car was going east, in the same direction as the boy. He evidently tried to pass in front of it before it passed another car, which had come from the opposite direction, and had stopped on the west side of the crossing. Running diagonally the car caught him and threw him underneath. Death was probably caused by the blow on the head.

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Grace M. E. church in the West end, following private services at the family residence, Twenty-seventh avenue west and First street. The services will be in charge of Rev. Murray, pastor of the church. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

WANDERING IN SLIPPERS

West End Woman Struck By Street Car at Woodland.

Knocked Down While Trying to Hail the 4 o'Clock Car.

While standing beside the Woodland car line at 4 o'clock this morning, Mrs. J. A. Sandberg was struck and seriously injured by a Woodland car, which she was seeking to hail.

The accident took place near Wallace avenue. Mrs. Sandberg had been standing in the gutter beside the track, and about 50 or 100 feet from the crossing. The motorman noticed her, but did not think that she wanted the car at first. As the car was almost opposite where she stood, she stepped forward and hailed it. The motorman threw on the brakes, but the woman had stepped too far forward, and the steps of the car struck her, throwing her to the ground and seriously injuring her.

She was immediately picked up and taken to St. Mary's hospital. She was unable to give any details regarding the accident this morning aside from her name. She was wearing a pair of slippers when brought to the hospital, but would give no explanation of how she happened to be in Woodland at such an hour, and with slippers on. She is said to reside in the West end.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Ira B. Jones Dies of Heart Disease at His Home.

Ira B. Jones, 62 years of age, one of the older residents of the city, died last evening of heart disease at his home, 222 Second avenue east, after an illness of about two months.

Mr. Jones was a familiar figure to all persons who had occasion to visit the postoffice. For the last thirteen years he was in charge of the general delivery window, where he made himself a favorite by his unfailing courtesy and considerate attention. Previous to that time he had been employed as head bookkeeper for L. J. Merritt & Son. He came to this city in 1890.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. W. R. Rathbun, Mrs. E. A. Grochau and Mrs. R. E. Johnson.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Odd Fellows for thirty-five years and was a past master of that order. He was a member of the First Christian Science church.

The funeral will be held Friday from the residence at 2 o'clock, with interment at Forest Hill. Postoffice employes will act as pallbearers.

LOCAL MAN IS BADLY SCALDED

John F. Burke, an Electrician, Suffers Injury at Finnish Bathhouse.

John F. Burke, an electrician employed by the Zenith Telephone company, was seriously scalded in a Finnish bathhouse on St. Croix avenue yesterday by steam. He was standing close to the pile of red hot stones which are used in these places, and it is stated that an inexperienced attendant threw a bucket of water on them. Had Burke been some distance away, it is claimed, that he would not have been injured. He went to a local physician, who advised him to go to St. Mary's hospital, where he is now. It is stated that it will be two weeks before he will be able to return to his work again.

AGED MAN IS INJURED

August P. Harrison Knocked Down By Street Car at "Y."

Advanced Age Makes His Rather Slight Wounds Serious.

August P. Harrison, aged about 60 years, an old resident of West Duluth, was knocked down and severely injured by a street car which was backing out of the "Y" at Sixty-third avenue west and Raleigh street about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Harrison was struck as he was crossing the street. He was keeled over into a mud puddle and was unable to get up without assistance. The street car crew picked him up, put him in the car and took him to the corner of Central avenue and Cody street.

Lieut. Wilcox and another officer from the West Duluth station carried Harrison to the office of Dr. Keyes in the Silvey block. His injuries consisted of a slight fracture on one of his knees and other bruises about the body.

Dr. Keyes this morning said that if Harrison had been a younger man his condition would not be regarded as serious. On account of his advanced age, Harrison may be laid up at his home for some time.

Harrison lives at 321 North Fifty-eighth avenue west. Up to a short time ago he was employed as a telegraph operator by the Northern Pacific road.

eign nations or among the several states."

Fought by Nelson.

This bill was referred to a sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee, composed of Senators Depew of New York, Dillingham of Vermont, Bacon of Georgia, Clarke of Arkansas and Nelson of Minnesota. Two reports were brought in, one signed by all but Senator Nelson, the other signed by him alone. He reported adversely on the measure, and after a spirited debate the adverse report was adopted and the amendment indefinitely postponed Jan. 16, 1909. Despite this action of congress, the United States supreme court has paved the way whereby "reasonable" restraint of trade may be legalized, or is legalized through the Standard Oil decision. The argument against the Foraker amendment in 1909 by Senator Nelson was nearly identical with the stand taken by Justice Harlan in his dissenting opinion.

Sherman Act Killed.

"To me it appears that the Sherman act is killed," Mr. Preus said. "I am unable to see it otherwise, and congress might just as well strike it from the nation's statute books."

Frank M. Eddy, former congressman, who was at the capitol today, believes the word "reasonable" was inserted by a majority number of the supreme court to prevent a panic following the decision.

"It would be natural," he said, "for the people to fear similar action against other corporations and the stock market would be correspondingly affected. While it is undoubtedly a blow at the Sherman act, I believe the supreme court sought to avert a panic by insertion of that word."

After a moment's reflection, he added:

"What is a 'reasonable' restraint of trade? Does anyone know a definition for it? Can any restraint of trade be reasonable?"

Mr. Eddy believes with the others, that the Sherman act is so severely crippled as to be practically useless, because of the flexibility the supreme court has given it. He also believes that the court has usurped a power which rightfully belongs to congress, if it belongs anywhere at all.

ton of sulphite fibre in the United States is $31.38, in Canada $26.47. The total materials sent into a ton of news print paper in Canada are shown as $16.89 and in the United States $22.74. The labor cost of a ton of paper in the United States is $3.27, in Canada $3.19. All other allowances for manufacturing costs in the United States are $6.87 and in Canada $7.45.

Labor Cost Closely Alike.

The labor costs in the items concerned run closely alike. One feature of the report shows that the cost of manufacturing news print paper in the United States varies widely. The lowest cost recorded is $24.50 a ton; the highest is $43. From this the tariff board strikes an average of $32.88.

At the Canadian mills the lowest price recorded for a ton of news print paper is $24.97 and the highest is $30.18; average $27.53.

In accounting for the increased cost of the wood pulp it is shown that at an American mill the average cost for a ton of wood for ground wood pulp is $10.23; in Canada $5.70. The average cost of the ground wood pulp is given at $13.27; Canada $8.49. The average cost of the sulphite fibre in a ton of paper at a mill in the United States is given at $8.63; Canada $7.41; manufacturing labor in the United States $3.27 and in Canada $3.19.

Canadian Mills Better.

Mill equipments of the Canadian paper makers are much newer than those of the United States, although the machinery for both countries was made in the United States.

To the question how far American mills are on an equal basis for competition with the Canadian mills in the matter of equipment, the report presents the answer that the total average of equipment and efficiency is slightly better for Canada than for the United States.

It is declared that in 44 per cent of the American mills investigated, a condition exists as to machinery and equipment which would force them, if obliged to meet really extensive competition from Canada, greatly to curtail other expenses, greater increase their investment for equipment, or shift to making other kinds of paper.

In treating on the subject of labor efficiency in Canada, the report says:

"It would seem then, that with modern mills, American machinery, American-trained managers and superintendents and American skilled operatives, together with lower rates of wages for unskilled men, the Canadian manufacturing labor cost per unit of production in the modern and well-equipped mills of Canada would be considerably lower than in the modern and well equipped mills of the United States."

a waste of time for the house to stop its proceedings when a special committee was to be named, to caucus and select the committee.

Olmstead Drops Out.

Representative Olmstead of Pennsylvania, who was elected to the special committee to investigate the United States Steel corporation, resigned from the committee, stating that one of the companies whose affairs were to be investigated was located in his district and he preferred not to serve on the committee of inquiry.

An address by Governor Osborn of Michigan, favoring the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill, featured Wednesday's hearing of the reciprocity bill and free list bills before the senate committee on finance.

Canada and Competition.

Governor Osborn expressed the opinion that Canada could not compete successfully with the United States in the growing of wheat or in any of the other ways in which those opposed to the treaty fear. He said, however, that he looked at the pact in a broader way than an economic or fiscal one, and that the great benefit that this country would derive from the passage of the bill would be the "drawing together of the two nations for the future better friendship which would ensue."

If either side would benefit in a commercial way from the treaty, the United States, he said, would be the country. He believed the wheat raised in Canada was inferior to that of this country and that the wheat area of Canada was a small area compared with some of the wheat zones of the world. It would be a blow in the face of Canada, he said, if the pact were not agreed to.

Questions McCumber's Figures.

When Senator McCumber of North Dakota read figures tending to prove that Canada was a formidable opponent of the United States in the amount of wheat and other grains produced, Governor Osborn said the statistics probably were "from railroads and speculative reports intended to boom Northwestern Canada." He said he would favor entire free trade with Canada and Mexico, but not with other nations. The United States is being a world market, he said, and needs the raw materials which it might obtain from Canada.

Governor Osborn told the committee he had no political object in appearing at the hearing; that he would not again be candidate for governor, and that he was not representing any interests —that he was present as a private citizen who believed in the broad principle of brotherhood.

Hear of Lumber Trust.

The alleged "lumber trust" came in for considerable discussion at the hearing. Leonard Bronson, representing the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, who opposed the bill, said the proposed placing of lumber on the free list was largely the result of public sentiment, which had been created believing that there existed a lumber trust. The conditions existing in the majority of lumber mills make effective combinations impossible, he said, most of the mills having no timber reserve but buying what they use in the open market. Most of the timber that is cut, he said, is by small mills, each doing a small business.

Although the government, in its effort to prove that there was a lumber trust, had received all possible aid from the lumber people, nothing had been proved. He contended that the country does not need Canadian timber, as it has plenty of its own. He acknowledged, however, that the cutting is heavy and that there is need of proper conservation of the timber resources of the United States.

No President Pro Tem.

Two ineffectual ballots for a president pro tem were taken by the senate yesterday.

Cheer Champ Clark.

Prolonged cheers and applause followed a statement in the house by Representative Mann that Speaker Clark was being considered by the Democratic party for the presidency in 1912. The demonstration started on the floor, but the galleries soon joined in.

captured last Friday by the rebels, who have not since permitted steamers to land, thus cutting off all shipments from Guaymas.

Other Towns Captured.

The rebels have also captured Imala, twelve miles south of Culiacan; Lemon, seventeen miles north, and San Lorenzo, forty miles south. The combined strength of these rebel bands is probably not far from 3,000. Another town captured by the rebels is Navalata, nineteen miles west, he home of the Nelson J. Rhodes sugar factory. The plant previously had been forced to shut down by the enlistment of its workers in the revolutionary cause. At Navalata the official documents were burned and tribute was levied upon the inhabitants.

The battle of Tamazula, in which federals annihilated a rebel command under Henry Clayton, an American, who was killed, was marked by many atrocities. Clayton had prominent gold teeth, which a federal soldier knocked out with his musket and afterward sold.

Mazatlan was still in the hands of the federals on Tuesday. Danger of pestilence is growing more menacing.

In the Wake of the Measles.

The little son of Mrs. O. B. Palmer, Little Rock, Ark., had the measles. The result was a severe cough which grew worse and he could not sleep. She says: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured him and he has never been bothered since." Croup, whooping cough, measles cough all yield to Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The genuine is in the yellow package always. Refuse substitutes. For sale by all druggists.

BELTRAMI COUNTY BOARD SELLS $330,000 BONDS.

Bemidji, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some idea of the extensive system of drainage now on in Beltrami county to reclaim thousands of acres of low land is gained from the action of the board of county commissioners yesterday in selling $330,000 worth of bonds with which to carry on this work. For Judicial Ditch No. 11 and which will extend 500 miles through Beltrami and Marshall counties, bonds to the amount of $270,000 were sold. These bonds went to the Security Trust company of St. Paul and bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent while the remaining $60,000 went to the First National and Northern National Banks of Bemidji.

INSPECTION OF ELEVATORS

The building inspector's office is preparing to make its semi-annual inspection of the elevators of the city, both freight and passenger. In the past many elevators have been found which have not complied with the provisions of the ordinance. These have been ordered rectified and the succeeding inspections have shown considerable improvement. But it is expected that quite a few will still be found which are in need of changes in order to make them safe.

The New and Luxurious Lounge Cars
These magnificent new additions to Burlington Service are unlike any other railroad car ever built.
And yet they embody every degree of comfort and excellence of which master car builders are capable. The ladies' division at one end provides those tempting luxuries and comforts of travel which heretofore have been hopelessly lacking in the women's department of high-class trains.
The gentlemen's club division, for lounging and smoking, is fitted with sofas, easy chairs, writing desks, card tables—and every other convenience which ingenuity can devise.
Between the two is a splendidly well provided buffet and electric grill, and the generously large observation end on the rear makes these the longest as well as the finest cars ever constructed. It's A Burlington Idea of Comfort, St. Paul and Minneapolis to Chicago.
Leave Minneapolis 7:45 p. m. Leave St. Paul 8:30 p. m. Arrive Chicago 9 a. m.
The splendid Burlington trains which carry these new cars are now made new in every sense of the word. From baggage car to observation end they represent all that is typical of Burlington Service. These trains now take their place as the most comfortable and magnificent in operation.

MOTHER IS LOST WHILE SEARCHING FOR LOST CHILD

Panic Stricken Woman Wanders Through Woods All Night.

Child Was Safe But Mother May Lose Her Mind.

Fear stricken, when she learned that her 10-year-old daughter was lost, Mrs. Eli Wukodenivich, a Smithville mother, last evening ran from her home to the woods nearby in search of the child and before her husband could stop her, mother and child were both lost.

The girl was found in an Austrian boarding house at the steel plant this morning. Friends had picked her up late last evening and had cared for her.

The mother spent the night rambling the woods and this morning was found in a grove near the steel plant site, delirious and hysterical. She had not yet learned that the child had been found.

Eli Wukodenivich, the girl's father, is a boardinghouse-keeper at Smithville. The girl's name is Mollie. She goes to the Smithville public school. Yesterday after school was dismissed she did not return home. When her father came home for supper he asked about the child.

When it dawned upon the mother's mind that the girl was lost, she dropped her work and rushed out into the night in a hopeless search of the child. As no one else happened to be at home except Wukodenivich and a baby, 2 years old, he could not leave in pursuit of his wife.

He got into connection with the police at West Duluth and Patrolmen L. D. Root and C. R. Ek of the West Duluth force were detailed to search for the little girl. They were also instructed to find the mother if possible. Patrolmen Brouillette and L. A. Root of New Duluth also instituted a search. Both searches were fruitless up to 1 o'clock this morning.

At 7 o'clock this morning, Wukodenivich notified the West Duluth authorities of the finding of both his wife and child. The little girl had wandered three miles away from home. The mother's condition is said to be serious.

IS GORED BY VICIOUS COW

New Duluth Farmer Loses Finger When He Is Butted Against Fence.

Peter Olson, a New Duluth farmer, was tossed into a wire fence by a vicious cow last evening, and had one of his fingers cut off in a rather peculiar manner.

Olson's hand was caught between the bovine's horns and the wire, and before he could release himself, one of the fingers on his right hand was pinched off at the first joint.

Olson was feeding the animal at the time of the accident. The cow was an ugly one, and when Olson wasn't looking, hunted him into the wire fence.

Olson has threatened to shoot the cow.

NEW FACTORY FOR WEST DULUTH

Site Purchased for Plant for the Manufacture of Caskets.

C. F. W. Korth yesterday purchased, through the L. A. Barnes Real Estate agency, two lots with 100 feet frontage on Fifty-first avenue west at the corner of Nicollet street. The property will be the site of a new factory building for the Duluth Casket & Undertakers Supply company, an uptown concern.

The consideration for the property was about $1,200. The former owner was the Park Realty company. L. A. Barnes is the local representative.

The new factory will be a two-story building and will cost $2,000 or more. The contract will be let and construction will begin at once.

TEST CASE IS NEEDED

Many Want to See Constitutionality of Commission Plan Decided.

Friendly Suit Against Charter Commission Would Prevent Long Delay.

The plans for the commission form of government proposed for Duluth seem to have come to a standstill since the legislature passed a bill submitting an amendment to the people of the state which would remove all doubts as to the constitutionality of the commission plan.

At present attorneys differ as to whether or not Duluth could legally adopt the commission plan of government. Unless the question is determined by a test case, it will be impossible to know one way or the other until after the general election in the fall of 1912.

Many of the prominent citizens believe that such a test case should be brought, stating that it is too long to wait for a vote upon the constitutional amendment. They state that the interest in the matter would be greatly heightened b ysuch a test case. They explain that if the supreme court should find favorably the city can go ahead without waiting for the results of the election.

Should the decision be adverse, they state that the issue will be brought squarely before the people. They say that the public will realize that unless the amendment is passed the commission form cannot be adopted and that the people will work much harder than would otherwise be the case to secure the passage of the amendment.

The test case would have to be brought against the charter commission. The commission has authority to spend not to exceeed $500 to draw a new charter. If a test case were decided upon the commission would pass a resolution authorizing the expenditure of all or part of that sum to draw a new charter for a commission form. After the resolution had been passed an action could be brought in the courts to restrain the commission from spending this money. The suit could be carried to the state supreme court. Should it be found that the commission can spend the money, it would mean that the city could go ahead with the commission plan, but if otherwise, the city would have to depend upon the passage of the constitutional amendment.

No meeting of the charter commission has been called for the near future. Chairman Hudson stated this morning that there is no meeting set and that none will be called unless the members of the committee should signify that they wished it.

Many people are anxious to have such a test case instituted. Several attorneys were asked today what they thought about the subject. They said that it was an excellent idea, but that they didn't wish to be quoted on the subject. They stated that it was in the hands of the charter commission and didn't wish to interfere in any way. Such a test suit was planned before the matter was taken up by the legislature, but those interested in it at that time seem to have dropped it entirely. It was stated this morning that those who had planned the action would not be likely to take it up again for many reasons.

A. O. U. W. State Sanitarium.

Minot, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand lodge, A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor, jointly will build a tuberculosis sanitarium at Dunseith, near its state sanitarium. An agreement was reached at t.e convention here yesterday to that effect.

SOIL EXPERT ENDS WORK

Will Report on Most Favorable Site for Farm School.

Will Submit Findings to the President, Dean and Directors.

W. H. Fraser, the soil export from the state agricultural school, who arrived in Duluth Saturday to examine the proposed site for the Duluth demonstration farm school, will complete his work today. Every day since he has been in the city he has been out in the country looking over the proposed sites, preparing data and obtaining samples of the soil.

Mr. Fraser will make a report on the topography and physical characteristics on the tracts submitted to him for examination, and will take samples of the soil with him for chemical analysis. The data will be furnished to the committee of regents, which, with President Vincent and Dean Woods, will make the final selection of a site.

It is understood that four or five sites were submitted to Mr. Fraser for examination. Twelve sites were originally submitted to the regents for consideration, but it is understood that all but four or five have been eliminated, and the selection will be made from that number.

President Vincent, Dean Woods, Chairman A. E. Rice of the board of regents and Prof. Bull, who passed through Duluth Tuesday night on their way to Minneapolis from Grand Rapids, intende to remain in Duluth Wednesday to examine the sites. They did not stay, and it is supposed that they decided a final selection could not be made until Mr. Fraser's soil data could be exmained. It is believed that the committee will return to Duluth next week, fortified with the results of Mr. Fraser's work, and that a final selection will be made at that time.

HOGS AND ALCOHOL

Two Byproducts of a Potato Farm, Thinks A. J. McGuire,

Will Make Denatured Alcohol and Feed Residue to Pigs.

The manufacture of denatured alcohol in commercial quantities in the utilization of farm by-products will very likely be started in Northern Minnesota next fall. The farmers interested in the co-operative creamery at Grand Rapids are now considering the proposition.

A potato warehouse will be built at Grand Rapids next fall in connection with the co-operative creamery and the supply of culls from the potato receipts will be great. It is proposed to move the denatured alcohol plant now at the state experimental station at St. Paul to the station at Grand Rapids and to utilize the screenings and culls from the potato crops in the manufacture of alcohol. The pulp from the product may be fed to hogs after the distillation of the alcohol. The power for the alcohol plant will come from the creamery power house and it is entirely possible that the power will be generated with the alcohol, making a circuit of utilization that leaves nothing for waste.

"I have been studying the subject to some extent and I believe the plant is practical," said A. J. McGuire, superintendent of the Northern Minnesota experimental station at Grand Rapids, this morning. "In Germany, denatured alcohol is manufactured from farm by-products and the residue is fed to hogs, and I believe the same can be done here. The plant at St. Paul has proved a success and there is no reason to believe it would not be a success if moved to Grand Rapids.

"We are now looking into the subject seriously to determine whether we will have a market for the alcohol if we manufacture it in commercial quantities. The outlook is favorable and I believe we will be manufacturing alcohol next year and will at the same time retain the by-product for feed."

RECOVERED HIS MUSKET

E. R. Jefferson Secured Gun He Carried at Gettysburg Three Days Before Death.

Weapon Was Lost When He Was Carried From Historic Field.

Three days before E. R. Jefferson died he received from the East the musket which he carried at the battle of Gettysburg.

Mr. Jefferson was an old soldier and was a member of the heroic First Minnesota regiment which charged at Gettysburg, and in this terrific encounter he lost a leg.

Piled under the wounded and dead, he was picked up at the close of the awful day. No one paid any attention to his musket. He had treasured the weapon and mourned its loss. Some time this year the veteran saw an account in an Eastern paper describing a curious old gun and the monogram cut in its stock, and correspondence resulted in establishing the fact that this was the gun he had lost on the battlefield. Three days before his death the veteran received his musket, and was as pleased with it as a boy.

The funeral services are being held at Bay Lake this afternoon.

The body will be brought to this city at 3:15 tomorrow morning and will be taken to the undertaking rooms of C. J. Stewart. From there it will be taken at 10 o'clock to Forest Hill cemetery for interment. Services will be conducted at the cemetery by the Odd Fellows, of which order he was a member and Grand Army veterans.

Mr. Jefferson had been a resident of Duluth since 1869. He was a leader in matters of civic interest. He was lighthouse keeper for many years, a member of the city council and of the board of county commissioners, and also one of the three surviving Duluth members of the First Minnesota.

Death was due to heart disease.

COPPERS NERVOUS; PRICES ARE HIGHER

Bulge Almost Wiped Out in Most Issues—Copper Metal Sales Large.

The copper market opened strong and advanced steadily until after noon when heavy realizing set in and the market quickly dropped, most issues declining to levels lower than at the opening. A natural reaction occurred and the market closed generally slightly higher than the opening and from a fraction to a point higher than yesterday.

Copper interests are said to have sold 5,000,000 pounds of electro copper at 12c for July shipment. Another lot of 3,000,000 pounds was sold at a similar price. Both are for shipment abroad. Lake metal is higher at 12¼ @12⅜c. Some lots changed hands at 12.20c.

Amalgamated sold at $66.62½ to $67 to $66.87½, Butte Ballaklava at $5.50 to $5.25, Calumet & Arizona at $52.25, $52.75 and $52, Butte Coalition at $19.25 to $19.50, Giroux at $6.50, $6.25 to $6.31¼, Greene at $6.93¾ to $7 to $6.87½, North Butte at $32 to $32.50, $32 and then at $32.25, Ojibway at $7.25 to $7.50 to $6.75, Superior & Pittsburg at $15.

Red Warrior sold at $1.06¼, the old Butte & Superior at 85c and Calumet & Montana at 33c, 34c, 35c and 34c.

BICKFORD DENIES GUILT.

Trial of Accused North Dakotan Commences Next Monday.

Bismarck, N. D., May 18. — Former State Treasurer Bickford pleaded not guilty to three complaints yesterday afternoon in the district court. The first case charged embezzlement of $4,000 and the third, falsifying accounts on the books of the state treasury. The cases will not be called for trial before Monday of next week when it is understood the defendant will ask for a change of venue and file an affidavit of prejudice against Judge Winchester of the Sixth judical district.

George Bangs, appearing for the defense, entered a demurrer to each complaint was overruled in each event. Judge Engerud of Fargo is appearing as assistnat counsel to State's Attorney Smith for the state.

SIGHTS OF BOKHARA.

Bokhara, that strange capital at the back of the world on which every road in Asia is said to have converged, might well be called the Mecca of Central Asia. It is more than that, for besides being a religious center it is also a great capital and trade center.

The name of Bokhara is well known, yet it has been visited by but few. Fifty years ago it was as impregnable as Lhasa, and of the few travelers who penetrated to within its walls fewer still ever came out again.

"Bokhara is completely surrounded by a wall, and I had to enter by one of the eleven gates," writes Prof. D. Carruthers in the Wide World Magazine. "If by chance I had been benighted I should have had to stay outside or at least leave my caravan behind and enter by the tiny door beside the main gate, through which a man can literally only just squeeze.

"Once inside the walls the whole pageant of the East burst on me—intense light and shade, brilliant colors, the richness of the great men and the squalid poverty of the beggars, the cleanliness of the mosques and the filth of the streets, the aching glare of the cloudless sky and the cool shade of the deep bazars.

"Nowhere in the world, I claim, can such a perfect picture of the unspoiled, unregenerated East be seen as in Bokhara. It is as if a chapter of the Arabian Nights' had been put upon a stage. Here one looks down through a long vista of years and sees the East as it was long before the West existed.

"Let us stand for a minute beside the 'pool.' This is the very heart of the city and is situated in a square surrounded by giant madresas and a motley crowd of booths and shops. Here at midday the people of Bokhara congregate to pray in the mosques near by and to take a meal on the terraces that surround the pool. Men of every Eastern race assemble here.

"The 'pool' itself is nothing but a large stone reservoir of filthy water. Under a brilliant sky and shadowed by great trees it makes a fitting foreground to the gay costumes of the men, the dark bazars, and the madresas piled up behind. When I saw men on the steps of the tank washing themselves in this water I felt surprised, to say the least. But when further along I noticed men filling their water skins from the same supply I realized that East is really very far from West.

"The terrible deeds that once made Bokhara a byword are now prohibited by the Russian government. Prisoners are not permitted, for instance, to be dragged through the streets by galloping horses. Nor are they thrown from the top of the big tower called the Minar Katan. This was the usual punishment meted out to evildoers in the old days. Watched by thousands of spectators, the poor wretches were flung from that giddy height on to the flagstones beneath.

"Bokhara has many chambers of horrors unwholesome for Western eyes to see and the description of which would certainly be unfit for publication. Perhaps the most horrible of these is a pit where prisoners were tortured by vermin, which were so numerous and ravenous that in the absence of human prey they were fed on chunks of raw meat."

A TONIC.

Los Angeles Times: "E. H. Harrriman laughed," said a foreign corrrespondent, "when I told him about the newspaper stories of his bread and beer diet.

"He laughed, he began another of his hourly meals—cold beef and stewed fruit—and he said it was food, not beer, that he was taking for a tonic.

"He said food was almost as good a tonic as Mrs. Floyd Smith's. Mrs. Floyd Smith, he explained, was walking in the avenue with her aged but rich husband. The old fellow shuffled along, drooping and spiritless, and suddenly his wife perceived her girlhood chum, Mrs. Lloyd Brown, approaching with her own husband, a poor bookkeeper, but young, handsome and dashing.

"What was Mrs. Floyd Smith to do to put a little go in her bent and listless mate? An idea came to her and she exclaimed:

"'John, who is that beautiful girl smiling at you from the taxicab?'

"'Where? Where?' cried the old man, drawing himself proudly erect and casting eagle glances to left and right."

WORTH A MEDAL.

"I seshdaothrdaoirdaoirdaolhrdlhrdd Los Angeles Times: "I see that Paderewski has been decorated again," said a Chicago composer. "If there were a society for the absent minded now, he'd have the grand cross.

"Paderewski once called on a Philadelphia lady in West Walnut street. The lady's little daughter put an orange in his coat pocket as he was leaving, and, in his Bohemian way, Paderewski decided to eat the orange on the walk back to his hotel.

As he crossed Rittenhous square he began to peel the fruit. But while he was peeling it, a woman he knew gilded past in her motor car. Paderewski saluted with a sweeping bow, then gracefully placed a handful of orange peel on his head and tossed his hat into a bed of flowers."

OPTIMISM REPLACING "DULL TIMES" TALK

Duluth Jobbers Report Most Encouraging News From the West.

Promise of Bumper Crop Brings Increase in Buying Orders.

The most cheerful optimists in Duluth on business conditions at the present time are the Duluth jobbers.

The rains in the Dakotas started the change in sentiment in the West, and the announcement of the decision on the Standard Oil case has helped the good cause along.

With prospects of a bumper crop in the great country west of Duluth, Duluth wholesalers are beginning to sit up and prepare for a greatly increased business from Western Minnesota and the Dakotas.

A round of the wholesale district this morning clearly showed this feeling on the part of the heads of the local jobbing houses. In fact, the better conditions are already being manifested by an increase in orders. Travelers are sending in better reports and orders in place of letters explaining why business is dull.

"It is very hopeful indeed," said A. H. Comstock of the Marshall-Wells company this morning. "Undoubtedly there has been a change for the better in business conditions within the last week or two. If weather conditions continue favorable, I expect to see a very active season. Of course the crop conditions are not yet definitely settled, and the weather may yet turn unfavorable, but even now the change in the sentiment is clearly noticeable. We are feeling the effect of it. Business is better and condition point to an even greater increase."

C. R. Rust of the Rust-Parker-Martin company was equally optimistic.

"Without a doubt, conditions are better," he said. "We have noticed a most decided improvement in conditions during the last week or two and orders are coming in much more freely. The retail merchants throughout the Northwest seem to be buying with much more confidence."

F. A. Patrick was another of the Duluth jobbers who expressed most optimistic views.

"Business undoubtedly is better," he said. "The more cheerful feeling among the merchants and business men in general is plainly noticeable. If weather conditions continue favorable to the crops through June, the Northwest will, without question, to my mind, enter a period of real prosperity and business activity. There is every promise of that now and all that is needed is a continuation of the favorable weather."

BEST WAY TO CLEAR LAND

Dean Russell and A. J. McGuire Will Report on Investigations.

Have Been Working Under Federal Government for a Year.

Dean L. H. Russell of the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin, and A. J. McGuire, superintendent of the Northern Minnesota experimental farm at Grand Rapids, met in Duluth this morning and went over the subject of the land clearing investigation, which they, in conjunction with the federal department of agriculture, have been conducting for the past year. The investigation is nearly completed and the reports will be issued within a year.

A man has been in the field gathering data for the last year. Results accomplished by companies engaged in clearing large tracts of land, by individual settlers and by states and development organizations engaged in experiments have bene examined and tabulated. When the investigation is completed, reports will be issued showing the results obtained with explosives and machines, the cost of different methods of clearing land and the best methods for clearing under various conditions as to vegetation, soil and topography.

The work which the Soo railroad will do with the large clearing machine now being constructed at Eau Claire will find a place in the reports. The machine will be ready for operation in the course of six weeks or two months, and will be tried out on a large tract of land owned by the Soo road in Wisconsin. If it is found to be a success, it is believed that others will be built, and demonstrations and actual clearing operations will be arranged at different points along the Soo line. The work will be under the direction of W. N. Killen, land commissioner of the Soo road, and President E. Pennington is also taking an active interest in the work.

Will Test Machinery.

The investigators will also take note of the results of the clearing contests which will be held soon under the direction of the Wisconsin Advancement association and the Soo line. Every type of land clearing machine will be tested at the contest, and it will give an opportunity for those interested to observe what can be accomplished by the different machines under identical conditions.

The investigation, which was planned by Dean Russell and Mr. McGuire, will apply primarily to Northern Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin and they believe the results will be of great benefit to settlers. Clearing operations for the most part are primitive in this section of the country and little effort has been made to standardize them. Haphazard methods of clearing have increased the cost of his land to many a settler and Dean Russell and Mr. McGuire want the new settlers—and old as well—the benefit of experiments and the experience of other settlers who have encountered the land-clearing problem. One method of clearing may be better at one point than another, while a different method may better suit a different kind of soil or growth. To determine the methods that are best and most economical under given conditions is the purpose of the investigation.

"President Louis W. Hill of the Great Northern railroad said from the platform at Helena that Northern Minnesota offers the greatest opportunities for the settler that can be found on the line of his railroad between St. Paul and the coast," said Mr. McGuire this morning. "Anybody who has studied the subject will agree with him. A man can buy land in this northern country for $10 an acre and by his own labor can make that land worth $50 an acre by clearing.

"A man with forty or eighty acres of land doesn't need to clear more than fifteen or twenty acres to make his land pay. With fifteen or twenty acres under cultivation, he can raise profitable crops and at the same time put the remainder of his land to profitable use. At the experimental station at Grand Rapids we have thirty-five cows. It is an average herd, not made up of thoroughbreds. The cows were put out to pasture April 27, and this month the gross sales will be $300. They are grazing on cut-over land, around the stumps, and that land is returning value without anything being done in the way of clearing."

DULUTH MAN TELLS HIS STORY

Says He Has Been Greatly Benefited By United Doctors' New Treatment.

Victor Mattson, a native of Finland, but for the past ten years a resident of West Duluth, Minn., living at 517 North Fifty-second Ave., makes the following statement for publication, telling of the great improvement in his health since he was treated by the United Doctors, who have their Duluth offices located on the third floor of the Columbia building:

"Duluth, Minn., April 5, 1911.

"Dear Doctors—I write this letter for publication with the hope that it will bring other sufferers to you. I have suffered with stomach and heart trouble for the past four years and for the last eighteen months have been unable to do any work. I commenced your treatment on the 17th of March and am certainly well pleased with the results. My friends are astonished at the rapid improvement I have made.

"I tried many doctors and medicines before coming to you, but they did me no good whatever, but I now feel that I will soon be able to go to work and will never lose an opportunity of recommending you to my friends. Thanking you for the great good your treatment has done me, I remain,

"Yours truly,
"VICTOR MATTSON."

Any person who is suffering from an old chronic or deep-seated disease of the nerves, blood, kidneys, liver, bowels, or skin is perfectly safe in going to the United Doctors for these master medical specialists are very careful in selecting cases to treat. They absolutely refuse to take any money from a patient or treat him at all, unless they feel absolutely sure that they can relieve or cure his disease permanently. Their examination and consultation is private and confidential and free to all sick people.

SEES BRIBE VS. BOMB

Baptist Divine Says Deadly Virus Is at Work in Nation.

Scores United States Senate and the Labor Leaders.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 18.—Rev. C. S. Gardner, D. D., in his annual sermon before the Southern Baptist convention here today, referred to the Untied States senate as "that once respectable organ of government," and condemned the seating of Senator Lorimer. Dr. Gardner, who is a profesor in the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, declared that the fundamental trouble was that an anti-Christian principle lies at the basis of economic and political enterprises.

Dr. Gardner called attention to the New York court decision which he said involved the relative sacredness of human life and property, and said the court held "that the sacredness of property was fundamental." Then he referred to the senate's action in the Lorimer case.

Deadly Virus at Work.

"And while the civilized world was standing aghast at this manifestation of the deadly virus at work in the veins of our political and economic organism," he continued, "our hearts were almost frozen by the revelation of an alleged vast dynamiting conspiracy on the part of the conspicuous labor leaders.

"Are not all these incidents vitally related? The fundamental sacredness of property rights as against human life; the unblushing effort of corporations, by purchasing public servants, to control the policy of the government in their own behalf; the desperate determination of maddened laborers to offset the anarchy of the bribe with the anarchy of the bomb—are they not all of a piece?"

LAST VISIT TO DULUTH

"Divine Sarah" Will Appear Here in "L'Aiglon" Instead of "Madame X."

Remarkable Tour of French Actress Directed By Three Irishmen.

All uncertainty as to Sarah Bernhardt visiting Duluth on the date announced, was removed today when the advance manager, George H. Murray, arrived in the city to complete the many details for her visit here on Monday night, May 29, when she will be seen in her greatest role, the Duc de Reichstadt, in Rostand's poetic play "L'Aiglon."

"Madame Bernhadt is now making her seventh and last visit to this country," said Mr. Murray, "and that the present tour will be the last goes without saying. She is now 67 and to return again, five years would have to elapse before another generation of theater-goers would have been born. That would make her, if she lived, 72, so that's not likely.

"Madame is really making her last visit to Duluth. Today, at 67, she is the most remarkable woman God ever made, she discounts the vitality, nervous energy and strength of any woman of 30, as the present tour, which began in Chicago on Oct 31, will attest, when she gave thirteen performances the first week and fourteen the second, with changes of play at each performance, and this following a journey of 4,300 miles from Paris, France, to Chicago via New York direct. For this, her last visit, she simply depleted her theater and storehouse in Paris, which was equivalent to eight baggage cars and which I passed at the port of Chicago and gave the government a bond of $90,000 that everything would be returned to France at the conclusion of the tour."

"Her entire company has been brought, also her own physician, personal manager, secretary, English tutor and an array of maids and men servants, to say nothing of her pets, of which Peter Pan, a Blenheim spaniel, is the favorite. Madame's season calls for 300 performances in the United States and Canada and with a guarantee that in no event shall she receive less than $1,200 for each performance for herself alone, all other expenses being defrayed by her American manager, W. F. Connor, who brought her here five years ago. He pays every expense from the moment she left Paris until she returns, and the most wonderful thing of all where hundreds of thousands of dollars are concerned there is no written contract between them, but simply a 'For Honor' verbal understanding. A parallel case is unknown. She is now on the thirty-first week of the tour and has played all the principal cities, save St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Denver and Kansas City, from one night in each up to five weeks in New York."

She has produced twenty plays, and been kept going day and night. Her average business has been $3,780 a performance.

"Boston leads in the matter of receipts where the gross ran as high as $53,000 in one week at the Boston theater for ten performances. New York paid $200,000 for five weeks; Chicago, $58,000 for two weeks; while Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco were simply capacity. Some of these cities during the tour of five years ago, were Kansas City one night, $10,000; Omaha, one night, $7,200; Tulsa, Oklahoma, University of California, $8,300 where she appeared again May 8. The wonderful tent was used in Dallas to $12,000, and again on the lake front, Chicago, where she gave a benefit to the San Francisco fire sufferers which netted $17,000. Only this season in Newark, N. J., she contributed $1,800 to the families of the factory girls who lost their lives in that terrible fire.

"Mme. Bernhardt is now on her way East, where she intends to repeat in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore. At Coronado she celebrated the 200th performance, by giving her company a magnificent dinner. San Francisco was all agog to pay her homage and to show their deep appreciation of her generosity five years ago when she contributed so lavishly to the sufferers.

"Bernhardt has many roles, 'Camille,' 'La Tosca,' 'Madame X,' and 'Sister Beatrice' being great favorites. Of poets she admires Rostand the most; of authors, Sardou. She is not only an actress, but a painter, sculptor, dramatist, author and literateur and has refused the Legion of Honor unless presented on certain grounds. Even 7,000 miles from home she finds time to direct her theater in Paris, also her immense estates on the Island of Belle off the French coast, follows the French styles and keeps in touch all over the world. A woman who has played in every country on the globe and always in her own tongue, and who has met more of the world's distinguished men and women, including sovereigns, than any woman in the world, and now in the autumn of her career she brings the art of a lifetime to your very doors to fire your hearts and souls with the magic art as only a Bernhardt can."

"There," said Mr. Murray, "you have a lot of facts that have never appeared in print, and, oh, by-the-way, something else, she has three Irishmen to guide her, W. F. Connor, who brings her to America and assumes every risk; E. J. Sullivan, who travels with her, and your humble self."

WHITE EARTH LAND FRAUDS?

That May Be Cause of Federal Attorney's Visit to St. Paul.

St, Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oliver P. Pagan, assistant of the United States attorney general, arrived in St. Paul today from Washington. He went at once to the federal building, where he held a long conference with District Attorney Houpt.

Neither Mr. Pagan nor Mr. Houpt would make any statement as to the business discussed. It is surmised that the matter related to an investigation of the alleged frauds in connection with White Earth reservation Indian lands, said to be rich in zinc.

Veterans to Attend.

All Civil war veterans, whether members of either Grand Army post or not, will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Stewart's undertaking rooms to attend the funeral of E. R. Jefferson.

PISTOL DUEL SAVES LIVES

Minneapolis Negro Shoots Policeman and Commits Suicide.

Noise of Firing Calls Six Men Away as Tank Collapses.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The suicide of a negro desperado after he had attempted the life of a policeman, in all probability saved the lives of six workmen in Minneapolis this morning.

Had it not been for a shooting affray that sent Patrolman Charles Anderson to the Minneapolis city hospital with a gunshot wound in his stomach and culminated in the death of the negro, six men engaged in erecting a 50,000-gallon water tank on the building of the Great Northern Implement company, 620 Third street south, probably would have had their lives crushed out when the tank collapsed.

Workmen Had Close Call.

The men heard the shooting and ran to see what it meant, and a moment later the tank toppled from the building, which is eight stories high, smashing a large steel shed and crushing three box cars that stood on a spur track.

Anderson had been told that James Russell was carrying a gun and making threats to kill people. He went to Russell's home, 626 Third street south, and asked the negro if he was armed, and at the same time reached for the man's pocket. Russell backed away, saying, "Wait a minute," drew a gun from his hip pocket and shot Anderson through the stomach.

Ended With Suicide.

Anderson staggered into the street and Russell fired two more shots at him, missing both times. Russell then shot himself through the head and died instantly.

Russell spent several years in the Missouri state prison for the murder of his wife ten years ago in Kansas City.

Anderson, unless complications ensue, probably will live. He has been on the police force four years and lives at 2632 Fourteenth avenue south.

A high wind and the fact that the tank was not completely fastened are given as the cause of the collapse.

FRUIT MERCHANT IS ARRESTED

First Case Since Orders to Clear Sidewalks Were Issued.

The first arrest since the orders of the police to keep the sidewalks clear of all obstructions was made this morning by Chief Troyer when he booked George Angel on the charge of violating the ordiance. He has been running a fruit stand on the sidewalk on Superior street near First avenue west. He was told last week that he would not be allowed to maintain it. He was found guilty when arraigned in police court and was fined $5 and costs, with further instructions to comply with the regulations.

EBERHART WILL FIRE WHITTIER

Governor Will Take Action Within Twenty-Four Hours.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Either late this afternoon or tomorrow Supt. F. A. Whittier of the Red Wing training school will be dismissed by Governor Eberhart.

Definite announcement of his intention was made by the governor this morning just before he left for Minneapolis to take part in the May fete on the "U" campus.

Simpson Talks on Health Work.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General George T. Simpson lectured before the graduating class of the medical college at the state university yesterday on the "Powers and Duties of Health Officers." He spoke of the co-operation of local and state officers at the Baudette-Sponer fire and of the vast working system of local and state health departments.

A SMOKELESS PITTSBURG.

"In 50 per cent of the industrial plants of the United States more than 10 per cent of the coal bill can be saved each year by the smokeless burning of coal, and 5 per cent, in the other plants," is the optimistic statement of the United States Geological survey.

The economic waste of the unconsumed carbon in smoke has, however, long been recognized. The trouble has been to contrive practical measures that would make smoke consumption an actual economy to the man who pays the bills; and until that is done, says the State Board of Health Bulletin, the aesthetic loss of a sunless, smoke-laden atmosphere, the monetary loss in the deterioration in smoke begrimed commodities and the unquestionable physical loss in the deleterious effects of smoke upon the health seem fated to continue on unchanged.

The United States Geological survey experimental station at Pittsburg claims to have found a workable solution to the problem. Its plant in that city of smoke is operating absolutely without smoke, in spite of the fact that it is using coal considered refuse by the trade and costing only 88 cents a ton delivered at the station. The secret of the success lies in perfect combustion before the gases strike the chilling surface of the boiler, and this perfect combustion depends upon the use of mechanical stokers.

CUSTOM HOUSE HUMOR.

Der Gullemplar: Two Germans who were crossing the Luxemburg frontier declared to the customs official: "We have with us three bottles of red wine each. How much is there to pay?" "Where is it?" was asked. "Well, inside us."

The official gravely looked at his tariff book and read: "Wine in casks, 20 shillings. In bottles, 48 shillings. In donkeys' hides, free. Gentlemen," he added, looking up, "you can go!"

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

TWO OF THE MAINSTAYS OF THE WASHINGTON TEAM

JOHNSON AND MILAN
Of Washington.

Two of the best players on the Washington baseball team are Clyde Milan and Walter Johnson, the big Swede pitcher. Johnson is one of the best pitchers in the league, and if he was with a stronger team, would win a large proportion of his games. Johnson held out this season for $7,000, and it is altogether likely that he is getting that salary. Milan has been playing in the major leagues for some years. He has played with different teams, but has never played as good ball as he is now with the Washington Senators.

TO ENFORCE SPEED LAWS

Auto Club Will Get Behind Police in Their Campaign.

Members Want Highway If Logging Road Is Torn Up.

At a meeting of the Duluth Automobile club which will be held at the Commercial club Tuesday of next week at 1:30 p. m., the members will take up the matter of speeding, the offer of land for a clubhouse at Chub lake and the matter of using the old Brooks-Scanlon road for a highway in case the railroad tears up its tracks.

The meeting has been called by President Howard Abbott. Mr. Abbott is beginning a crusade against those who disregard the speed laws of the city and he has the Automobile club behind him. The members of the club are just as anxious to have the laws obeyed as the police department. Many of them will from this time on take it upon themselves to report violations. One of the objects of the meeting will be to consider this matter of speeding.

The offer of land at Chub lake, providing a clubhouse is erected by the club, will also come up for consideration. This matter has to be decided upon before June 1, as the offer closes on that day. Chub lake is one of the prettiest lakes near Duluth and many seem to be in favor of putting up some sort of a building that the club members may run there for week-end outings.

If the Brooks-Scanlon company tears up its tracks the Automobile club will probably make an effort to have the road made over into a highway. This matter will also come up for discussion at the meeting Tuesday.

SPORTSMEN ORGANIZE

State Association Formed at Meeting Held in Duluth.

Big Shoot to Be Held on Central Gun Club Grounds in July.

The State Sportmen's association was organized last evening at a meeting held in the offices of the Kelley Hardware company. The move to form an organization of the gun enthusiasts of the state has been under way for some time. Many shots belonging to different clubs throughout the state have signified their desire to join such an organization. Among the cities now represented are Brainerd, Minneapolis, Aitkin, St. Paul, Crookston and Duluth. It is expected that many others will be enrolled in a short time.

At the meeting last evening Thomas J. Storey was elected president and W. J. Webb was chosen secretary and treasurer. A state shoot will be held at the grounds of the Central Gun club on Minnesota Point July 21 and 22. Already a considerable sum has been raised to be offered as purses. Among others the Interstate Association of Trap Shooters, a national organization, has donated $200 to be offered as prizes. The state organization will hang up a handsome cup. Before the shoot takes place many other trophies will have been put on the list.

NO CHANGE IN OFFICERS

Same Men Will Be in Charge of Boat Club Activities.

Arrangements and Plans for Mid-Summer Carnival Progressing Well.

Julius H. Barnes, president of the Duluth Boat club, announced today that there would be no change in the four captains of the club. John MacGregor will remain as captain of the rowing branch of the club; Robert Marshall at the head of the motor boat section; Charles Brewer will again head the sailors, and Wilbur Kitchli will act as the chief organizer and booster of the activities of the field department section, which includes tennis and the various other sports of the club that are not classed under the heads of the other three departments.

In the face of the coming carnival, and also because of the fine work that has been done by the four captains, President Barnes was opposed to making any changes. The four men who have been continued in office have done their part to bring their respective departments up to a point of high efficiency. They understand the needs of the club and are slowly but surely bringing the boat club, in close cooperation with President Barnes and the other officers, to a point of efficiency where it compares most favorable with any club in the country.

With the announcement of the reappointment of the four captains comes the further announcement that there will be little change in the appointment of ensigns to assist the captains. The list of the captains' appointments is not ready as yet, but it has been given to understand that there will be little change.

From now until the close of the present season there will be very great activity at the club. Invitations are out for the attendance of a very large number of motor boat owners, while Capt. MacGregor has been writing the presidents of the clubs of the Northwestern International regatta, urging them to send as many crews as possible. It is expected that the July regatta will be the biggest of years, and the different clubs are being urged to send more entries than they ever have in the past history of rowing in the northwest.

Plans for the sailing division have not been completed as yet. Some innovations will be made the present season, while an elaborate program of varied events is being planned by Capt. Kitchli of the field department.

DETAILED SCORES OF MINNY LEAGUE GAMES

The Duluth Score.

The box score of the Duluth-La Crosse game yesterday follows:

THE PORTER.

Chicago News: "Well, I suttinly am glad this here season is ovah," sighed the sleeping car porter. "I never did see a worse one, not in all my bawn days."

"What's the trouble? Money tight?" asked his audience. "Or did you get into a wreck?"

"No, sah. I got a good run most gen'lly and ain't got a word to say, no, sah, but when it comes to a pack o' women folkses like I got this here summah, I 'clar if it ain't the limit. They tells me it's been a bad year for most folks, but land sakes! I don't see but the women folkses trabbled more'n evah. I ain't seen no great bunch o' men a-wanderin' ovah the globe, no, sah; they jest nachully had to stay home to earn the money their families wasted. Yes, sah. It suttinly makes me awful tyud to see these hesh European women trabelers who come home with long sticks for me to put in mah closet 'till I get theah, pohtah, and don' you lose it! They mus' thinkk I got a drawin' room big's all creation, jest to stoh they old traps in!

"I tell you, sah, they's heaps of folks jes a-trabblin' 'round easy like in these here United States that's spent a whole lot moah'n these folkses that's so mighty proud o' goin' abroad. They way they has o' smuggling is shockin' to decent folkses. Why, I had one woman who had a lot o' gloves, must 'a had three dozen. I 'clar to gracious, and she was that scared the customs offisah's find it out and she slep' on 'em when he went through at night. Yes, sah, that's the truth. She had gloves fo' aunty, gloves fo' mamma, gloves fo' sistah Mamie and gloves fo' all the other kin she could think of. She mos' bust her bag a-carryin' of 'em. She giv me 10 cents to keep ma mouf shut and I'm savin' it to'ahds buyin' a house.

"I didn't have a second to mahself all summah long. It was, 'pohtah, my window sill's dusty,' or, 'pohtah, put up a table; we want to sew.' Then, soon's my hald began to nod, brrrrh; 'ud go that bell and it'd be a pillow, or, 'pohtah, can't you find me a cup o' tea.' Sometimes mah laid was jes' splittin' from that bell.

"Women come into mah cah that ate peanuts all ovah mah floh, women that wanted windows up an' then wanted 'em down, till I was so crazy I couldn't see. And close! Well, they was goin' some! There was lots of 'em, an' I'm tellin' you the truth, too, there was lots of 'em what couldn' get through the aisle when I had the berths down, they hats was so big!

"There was women'd take two hours to dress and get all the res' so mad they'd come aftah me hotfoot. Yes, sah. They'd know, all right, what time it was gettin' to be then foh once. All the entiah res' of the day they'd ask me, specially when it came time to change they watches to Chicago time, when you kin jes' bet they was all mixed up. I reckon I heard, 'Pohtah, what time is it?' moah times than I evah heard anybody say, 'Thank you, yo' ve'y obligin'.' You can put yo' money on that.

"Yo' see, women folkses is always traipsin' up an' down mah aisles a-tryin' to get umselves soht o' rested, an' jes' let me try to walk to the back do' o' my cah an' I runs into a million of 'em. Jes' as soons we's a-stoppin' a minute at any soht of place they's a bushel o' women jumpin' off to walk up an' down the platfohm, like as not to get left an' blame me foh not tellin' 'em. What gets me mos' is they takin' my step to get down by whenever they takes a notion to. Do yo' know them steps cost us pohtahs $2.50, sah? We got to pony up if we ain't got 'em at the end o' the trip, too.

"I got 'nother run at 2 o'clock this aftahnoon, but I'm hopin' all the women folkses is home by this time, I suttinly am. Theah was only about 100 on mah cah yestahday an' they was all askin' me every minute, 'Ah, we late, pohtah? Ain't we made up that time yet, pohtah? Is this here place Chicago, pohtah?'

"Land o' gracious! The 'mount of jography a pohtah's got to know is 'nough to tuhn his hair white, I kin tell you, sah. 'What rivah is this, pohtah?' they ask me whenevah they see a bunch o' watah bigger'n a teacup, I 'clar to 'em it's the Swamp rivah, which is what it looks mos' like, and then they's satisfied."

Take Off Excess Fat

Do you know that there is a simple, harmless, effective remedy for overfatness that may be used safely and secretly by any man or woman who is losing the slimness of youth?

There is; and it is none other than the tablet form of the now famous Marmola Prescription, known as Marmola Prescription Tablets. You can well expect a reduction of from 10 to 16 oz. a day without dieting or exercising. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists at 75c for a large case.

Read The Herald Wants

TO CURE STAMMERING.

"In nine cases out of ten," writes a physician in the American Boy, "stammering and stuttering can easily and completely cured, sometimes in a few weeks. This has been my professional experience during the last twelve years.

"In the first place the sufferer from stammering, stuttering or any other form of speech defect must realize that the cause of his entire difficulty may be told in a word—effort.

"The stutterer says, 'Tututututecher,' instead of 'teacher,' merely because, through putting too much force into the breath with which he speaks, he drives the tongue up against the teeth so hard that he can't get it away without a big pull.

"This big push and pull of the muscles of the tongue shuts off the outflow of wind from the lungs and thus all the muscles of the tongue, throat and chest, sometimes most of the muscles of the body, becomes set.

"I have seen a young man who would dance and kick almost like an Apache Indian just trying to tell his own name. I may remark that in a couple of months under proper treatment he could talk as well as any of his friends.

"Now, then, how shall we gain ease? How shall we limber up those tensed and cramped muscles? If you will follow the instructions I give here you can do it in every case with the following exercies:

"1. Stand or sit easily and practise breathing back and forth through the mouth. Remember that the object of these exercies is to teach the muscles not to work too hard. So make the breath as gentle and easy as possible. Keep this practise up until you are able to breathe with just the slightest bit of effort.

"Breathe gently as before through the nose and mouth. Now as the breath is going out make a very soft, almost gentle, rushing noise like the sound, 'sh' in the word 'hush.' Here, again, don't forget that the more softly and gently you do this the better. Now do the same thing with a soft hum; then later with the sound of ng, as in the word 'sing.'

"A few weeks of these exercises will, if you are careful and very persevering have a wonderful effect in loosening up all the speech muscles. You are then ready for the following:

"Whisper very softly the words of some simple poem or selection. Note that if in doing this you have any tendency to hesitation it is because you are trying too hard.

"Finally repeat the same selection in a very slow and gentle voice. Keep the voice so low and soft that it is the final drill. If you have been faithful there has occured by this time a marked improvement which should prove to you that by this simple, but entirely natural method you can in time learn to talk as well as the next fellow. Don't forget the magic words—ease, patience, perseverance."

THE SOFT ANSWER.

Los Angeles Times: At a dinner in Bar Harbor a Boston woman praised the wit of the late Edward Everett Hale.

"Walking on the outskirts of Boston one day," she said, "he and I inadvertently entered a field that had a 'No Trespassing' sign nailed to a tree.

"Soon a farmer appeared.

"'Trespassers in this field are prosecuted,' he said in a grim tone.

"Dr. Hale smiled blandly.

"'But we are not trespassers, my good man,' he said.

"'What are you, then?' asked the amazed farmer.

"'We're Unitarians,' said Dr. Hale."

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.
To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, to which was referred estimate, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
JNO. HOGAN,
Committee.
Resolved, That the estimate to W. H. Kilton in the sum of $7,709.50, on his contract for the construction and repairing of cement and tile sidewalk is hereby allowed, and it is hereby directed that an order be drawn on the general fund to pay the same.
Alderman Bernard moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed May 15, 1911.
Approved May 17, 1911.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Finance, to which was referred the communication of R. P. Dowse & Co. to the city attorney and by him referred to the Council, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
FRANK JORDAN,
L. A. BARNES,
FRANK MAKOWSKI,
Committee.
Resolved, That the American Fidelity Company and R. P. Dowse & Co. be released from their bid for bond of F. J. Voss as treasurer in the sum of $10,000, and that said bond be awarded to the Hartman-O'Donnell agency for the same amount for a premium of $427.50, the same to cover the term of two years from March 1, 1911.
Alderman Jordan moved the adoption of the resolution.
Alderman Jordan moved to amend the resolution by striking out the words "Hartman-O'Donnell agency for the same amount for a premium of $427.50, same to cover a term of two years from March 1, 1911," and by inserting in lieu thereof "Dunning & Dunning, who have heretofore been awarded the furnishing of the bond for the city treasurer in the sum of $30,000. Resolved further, that the bond submitted by said Dunning & Dunning, Agents, with Frederick J. Voss, Treasurer, as principal and National Surety Co. as surety for the sum of $100,000 is hereby approved."
The amendment was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
The question being upon the adoption of the resolution as amended it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed May 15, 1911.
Approved May 17, 1911.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Police and License, to which was referred petition of Condon and Culver, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
C. R. HOAR,
J. A. WHARTON,
H. P. CURREN,
Committee.
Resolved, That Condon and Culver are hereby granted permission to conduct a pavilion on Block 35, Lester Park, Fourth Division, to be used for dancing, concerts and theatrical performances, and to operate a merry-go-round at same location, provided said merry-go-round shall be operated without any musical attachment or musical accompaniment.
Alderman Hoar moved the adoption of the resolution.
Alderman Hoar moved to strike out the proviso at the end of the said resolution, viz: "provided such merry-go-round shall oe operated without any musical attachment or accompaniment."
The amendment was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
An opportunity was offered for anyone interested to be heard relative to said resolution, and a number of people addressed the council on the subject.
Alderman Wharton moved to amend the resolution by adding thereto at the end thereof the following: "provided that the musical attachment or accompaniment shall not be operated on Sundays or after nine o'clock p. m. on week days."
The amendment was declared adopted upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Bernard, Hector, Gibson, Jordan, Krueger, Makowski, Wharton, President Shartel—10.
Nays—Aldermen Curren, Hoar, Hogan, MacDonell, Miller—5.
The question being upon the adoption of the resolution, as amended, it was declared adopted upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Bernard, Hector, Gibson, Jordan, Krueger, Makowski, Wharton, President Shartel—10.
Nays—Aldermen Curren, Hoar, Hogan, MacDonell, Miller—5.
Passed May 15, 1911.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks, who were appointed and designated to hear and consider the petition for the vacation of the alley in Block 10, Highland Park Addition, from Nineteenth to Woodland avenues, would respectfully report that pursuant to notice published by the city clerk your committee did meet in the city clerk's office in the city hall in the City of Duluth on Monday, April 24, 1911, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., at which time and place no one appeared who was opposed to the proposed vacation.
It is the opinion of your committee that a right-of-way should be reserved for sewers, electric light and telephone lines and for conduits for the same. With such reservation we believe that the vacation petitioned for should be granted, and recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
Z. D. SCOTT,
WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
JNO. HOGAN,
Committee.
Resolved, That that portion of the alley in Block 10, Highland Park Addition, lying between Woodland avenue east and Woodland avenue, is hereby vacated, reserving to the city and to parties holding franchises under the city, the right to construct in the vacated portion of said alley, sewers, electric light and telephone lines and conduits for same.
Alderman Bernard moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Bernard, Hogan, Jordan, Wharton, President Shartel—5.
Nays—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Curren, Gibson, Hector, Hoar, Krueger, MacDonell, Makowski, Miller—10.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.
Alderman Wharton submitted a resolution citing George Dunlop and George W. Thatcher to appear and show cause why their license to sell intoxicating liquors at No. 228 Lake avenue south should not be revoked, in same form as the resolution submitted by himself on May 8, and moved the adoption of the resolution. The resolution was declared lost upon the following vote:
Yeas—Aldermen Barnes, Bergstrom, Bernard, Gibson, Hector, Hogan, Wharton—7.
Nays—Aldermen Curren, Hoar, Jordan, Krueger, MacDonell, Makowski, Miller, President Shartel—8.
The following consolidated resolution was offered by Aldermen Gibson, Wharton, MacDonell.
Resolved, That the Board of Public Works is hereby directed to cause sidewalk to be constructed as follows:
A 4-plank walk on the south side of Halifax street from Fortieth to Forty-first avenues west.
A 4-plank walk on the south side of Faribault street from Woodland avenue to the west side of Woodland Park Second Division.
A 4-plank walk on the south side of Winona street in front of Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, Block 6, Woodland Park First Division.
A 4-plank walk on the north side of Wabasha street in front of Lots 16, 17 and 18, Block 7, Woodland Park First Division.
A 6-foot sidewalk on the east side of Fourth avenue west from Fifth street to a point 28 feet southerly from Sixth street, similar in construction to the walk on the west side of said avenue.
Resolved further, That said board is hereby directed to proceed in accordance with the provisions of the city charter to levy assessments upon the property benefited to defray the cost of said sidewalks, together with such other expenses as under the provisions of said charter may be assessed.
Resolved further, That it is hereby directed that the cost of said sidewalks be paid out of the general fund.
Alderman MacDonell moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed May 15, 1911.

To the Common Council:
Your Committee on Railroads, Telephones and Telegraph Lines, who were directed to have a meeting relative to alleged lack of street car accommodations, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
J. B. GIBSON,
OTTO KRUEGER,
J. D. BERGSTROM,
Committee.
Resolved, That the Duluth Street Railway company is hereby directed to install a ten-minute service with large cars on the Piedmont avenue line.
Resolved further, That said company is hereby directed to construct a double track line on Twenty-first avenue west from Superior street to Third street.
Alderman Gibson moved the adoption of the resolution.
Alderman MacDonell moved that action on the resolution be postponed for one week, and the motion was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Alderman Barnes gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would move amendments to said resolution requiring increased service on various lines.

To the Common Council:
Your Joint Committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks and Light and Water, to which was referred petition of Bayha & Co., relative to watering fountain in First street, having considered the same and the suggestions therein contained find that said watering fountain is used more than any other fountain in the city, and that it would be impracticable to place said fountain on the avenue on account of the grade. Any other location on First street would be as dangerous as the present location, and in the opinion of your committee it would be impracticable to place it on any street higher up.
WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
JNO. HOGAN,

CROP NEWS DEPRESSING

Favorable Promise in Southwest and Northwest Sends July Off.

Big Argentine Acreage---No Foreign Demand---Trade Ruling Bearish.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 18.—The wheat market declined today. There was no export business. May advanced ⅛c and July declined ⅛c. September, however, was strong and gained ¾c. Cash wheat was on a parity with July. Oats closed unchanged. Rye lost 2c and barley was not quoted. Durum declined ¾c for July.

Linseed was slightly weaker. May declined 2½c and July lost 3c. September and October were unchanged. Trading was confined to the July option and amounted only to a few transactions. Cash was on a parity with July. A letter to the writer from Rotterdam under date of May 6, said crushers have bought enough linseed to last for some time. They are averse to paying prevailing prices. They have been buying some spot seed as they needed it.

As oil is scarce spot parcels have met with good demand, especially in Holland and Germany. There is a large quantity of seed afloat to Europe and in this month and June the supplies are expected to be sufficient to meeet demands. Many outsiders sold oil short on account of the high premium which they regarded as excessive and were badly squeezed in the May delivery. Both speculators and holders of seed are holding aloof from the market as they hope for lower prices. Antwerp's closing quotation on Plata seed for May-June delivery today was $2.196 a bu.

The wheat market opened weak but soon advanced. Later there was considerable realizing and the market declined sharply. The weakness was ascribed to various causes. Foreign news was not so bullish. Although supplies of wheat in the United Kingdom are small there was a disposition to realize on account of heavy Argentine shipments and the probability of continued large shipments from Russia. There were further light rains in Southwestern Russia, where moisture is seriously needed. The sowing of spring wheat there was late which will delay it in maturing, rendering it liable to possible damage from early frosts and cold weather in the fall.

Crop outlooks are favorable in Hungary, Italy and Germany. In France the crop outlook is improving. Rain is needed in Roumania. Stocks of wheat are large. The crop in North Africa is satisfactory.

The advance in the market was stopped partially on account of a ruling of the Chicago Board of Trade which adopted resolutions condemning the practice of certain grain dealers in marketing in other cities grain held in elevators there at lower prices than the relative values obtainable on the Chicago Board of Trade. The directors passed a rule forbidding such practices in the future. The resolution was aimed at the dealers who are closing up a deal in the May delivery and was the result of the directors' action of Tuesday in ordering an investigation into the May deal.

Conservative estimates place the amount of long May wheat at $15,000,000 bushels, an of which was bought in the pit. Since May 1 the shorts have delivered at Chicago about 4,000,000 bu leaving 12,000,000 bu for delivery or settlement by cash or purchases in the pit. The longs, it is charged, in order to hold up prices in Chicago shipped the available grain to Buffalo at values just under the Chicago quotations. The rule will prevent dealers from marketing their delivery wheat outside of Chicago at prices less than the relative Chicago values.

This ruling, it may be added, may work for the time being but if crop scares materialize it will be without effect.

Crop prospects, based on reports received today, are favorable with the exception of some parts of South Dakota, where moisture has been insufficient. Snow wired from Oklahoma that the crop of wheat in that state will exceed expectations in spite of the heavy loss of acreage. The acreage is small, but the crop is above normal and gives an excellent promise of a big yield per acre. The state, said Snow, is likely to yield more than 12,000,000 bu. Inglis wired from Willow Springs, Mo., that the wheat in Southeastern Kansas will be cut in two weeks. The acreage is small. In Southwestern Missouri the acreage is large and the prospects are good. An average of 15 bu to an acre is expected. Rain is needed.

Since the two foregoing dispatches were written, light showers have fallen in Oklahoma. In the Northwest there were scattered showers last night. In the four Northwestern states, including Montana, the promise is brilliant except in South Dakota. In Montana the acreage may run to 2,000,000. If the Montana yield is normal that state will play an important part in the spring wheat yield. Montana is tributary to this market and the favorable prospects in that state should tend to add to the feeling of optimism which pervades the trade.

The government predicts warmer weather for the Northwest tonight with local thunder storms in the three states. In the Southwest the weather will be fair and continued warm.

Price Current was moderately bearish. It said that the condition of the growing winter wheat is fully maintained and the weather is highly favorable. A large yield is expected. In the spring wheat territory, said the publication, conditions are good, but more rain is needed soon. So far as the spring wheat territory is concerned reports to The Herald do not confirm this statement. There is enough moisture in most parts of this state, Montana and North Dakota to last for three weeks and in some places for a month. As to South Dakota the observation of the Cincinnati publication holds good.

A cable said the wheat acreage in Argentina is larger than last year.

Figures on Canadian yields were followed by this statement: "Prospects could not be better for a record crop. With the average bu per acre for the last ten years the wheat yield will be over 175,000,000 bu, with a total grain yield of over 450,000,000 bu."

Area under crop in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is 10,525,000 acres, according to the estimate of the Grain Growers' association. This is an increase of over 2,000,000 acres over 1910 and is due to the large number of American settlers pouring into the country. Detailed figures follow:

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bulls Are Encouraged and Wheat Rises on Dry Weather.

Chicago, May 18.—Dry weather today gave the price of wheat an upward slant. The bulls were encouraged further by a growing scarcity at Liverpool. It was also reported that the crop in India would not be much above the average in spite of the big promise early. Chiefly, however, the market was governed by the high temperatures prevailing and the abnormal absence of rain. Opening figures were ¼c up to a like amount off. July started at 89¼@89¾c to 89½c, unchanged to ¼c down, and then rose to 89¾c.

Subsequently rain both Southwest and Northwest led to a sharp decline. The close, however, was steady with July ⅝c net lower at 88⅞c.

Corn was strengthened by the firmness of other grains. Traders in general, though, did not seem disposed to take hold in an active manner. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c higher at 52⅜@52⅝c, and for a considerable time kept within that range.

The market afterwards became weaker with wheat. The close was steady at 53⅜@62½c for July, a net loss of ¼c.

Fear of damage by heat and drouth pushed oats higher. Houses with Illinois connections were especially prominent on the buying side. July started ¼@⅜c up at 34½@34⅝c, touched 34⅜c and then advanced to 34⅝@34¾c.

Provisions eased off in sympathy with a decline at the stockyards. First sales were 2½@7½c down, with July delivery $14.95 for pork, $8.07½ for lard and $7.82½ for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Near Month Wheat Options Stronger Than Those More Distant.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—May wheat closed ⅝c lower than yesterday; July ⅝c lower; September ⅛@¼c lower and December ⅛c higher. These prices show that the two near months were relatively stronger than the deferred contracts. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 215,000 bu for the five days. Minneapolis today received 159 cars of wheat against 167 a year ago; Duluth 24 against 13 and Winnipeg 101 against 93. May opened 97⅞c, peg 101 against 93. May opened 97⅞c, high 98¼c, low 97¼c, closed 97⅝c; July 98⅜c, 98¾c, 97⅝c, 98⅛c; September, 92c, 92⅝c, 91⅜c, 91⅞c; December, 91⅞c, 91⅞c, 91⅞c, 91⅞c.

Cash wheat was in strong demand, but offerings were more liberal and the demand was not quite as keen as yesterday. No. 1 northern sold for 1@3c above the July contract. New York Money.

New York, May 18.—Money on call steady; 2¾@2½ per cent; ruling rate 2½; closing bid, 2¾; offered at 2½. Time loans strong; demand increasing and lenders withdrawing from market, forseeing higher rates. Sixty days 2½@2¾ per cent; 90 days 2¾@3; six months, 3¼@3½c. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4 per cent; sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.81.40 for 60-day bills and at $4.86.30@4.86.35 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.83⅞. Bar silver, 53¾c. Mexican dollars, 45c. Government bonds, steady. Railroad bonds, firm.

London Stocks.

London, May 18.—American securities opened irregular today. Good support appeared later and prices improved. At noon the market was firm and from ¼ to 1 point higher than yesterday's New York closing.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, May 18. — Cattle, receipts estimated at 6,000; market slow, weak; beeves, $5@6.45; Texas steers, $4.60@5.80; Western steers, $4.80@5.60; stockers and feeders, $3.90@5.75; cows and heifers, $2.40@5.60; calves, $4.75@7.25. Cotton Market.

New York, May 18.—The cotton market opened firm, at an advance of 2 to 15 points with all the old crop positions making new high records for the season and with July contracts selling at 16.05 on the call as a result of continued covering, support from spot people, firm Liverpool cables more encouraging reviews of the dry goods situation and continued dry weather in the South. Realizing was heavy around the initial prices and a reaction of 5 to 6 points occurred during the early trading, but the market later worked back to about the opening figures on continued covering, foreign buying and trade support.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 16.10; middling gulf, 16.35; sales, 700 bales. Futures closed steady; bids: May, 15.91; June, 15.94; July, 16.00; August, 15.43; September, 13.80; October, 13.28; November, 13.18; December, 13.20; January, 13.18; March, 13.25.

South St. Paul Livestock.

D. 1911, at 12 o'clock noon, for the election of nine directors to hold office for one year, and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

The stock transfer books will be closed from June 7th, 1911, to June 12th, 1911, both inclusive.

FREDERIC R. KENNEDY, Secretary.

Duluth, Minnesota, May 18th, 1911.

THE HERALD IS DULUTH'S GREAT WANT AD MEDIUM

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Heavy Realizing to Take Profits, But Offerings Readily Absorbed.

More Cheerful Reports From the Copper and Steel Trades.

New York, May 18.—Stocks were active and strong at the opening of the market today. Moderate advances were made by almost all of the active issues. Amalgamated Copper, Consolidated Gas and General Electric gained a point, Pennsylvania ¾ and Reading, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul and American Smelting ½. United Staes Steel opened with a sale of 4,000 shares at an advance of ⅜.

Efforts were made to bring about a substantial reaction by selling considerable amounts of stock after the opening, but prices receded only a slight fraction, and when pressure relaxed the list went higher than at the outset. Among the largest gains were Union Pacific 1, Southern Pacific 1½, St. Paul 1⅝ and Colorado Fuel and North American 1¾.

The rapid advance of stocks of the last two days led to heavy realizing sales this morning, but the large amounts of securities put on the market did not cause a pronounced break in prices. Offerings were taken readily, the demand from the short interest in some of the leading speculative issues being especially keen. More cheerful reports from the copper and steel trades helped the metal stocks. Realizing sales in Reading were especially heavy. A large absorption of copper stocks occasioned a revival of the report of a merger and there was extensive buying of United States Steel which touched 81⅛. Gains of 1 to 2 points were registered in a considerable number of representative stocks including Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting. Erie showed some heaviness and there was a 2 point decline in Atlantic Coast Line and of 1⅜ in American Oil. Bonds firm.

Further gains were made by a few specialties, particularly the low priced metal stocks. Colorado Fuel increasing its rise to 3 points and National Lead getting up 2⅝. Other stocks ruled slightly below their best prices of the forenoon and profit-taking continued on a liberal scale.

The market closed dull and steady. The buying power relaxed further in the final hour and this, together with the weight of the earlier profit-taking, resulted in general concessions. In no instance save Canadian Pacific, however, was the decline more than fractional.

ALLOWS RAILROADS TO RAISE RATES FOR INTERSTATE TRAVEL

Commerce Commission Issues Order for Central Territory.

Carriers Propose to Test Validity of State Restrictions.

Can Exact Higher Passenger Fares Until May 1, 1912.

Washington, May 19.—Railways operating in Central Passenger association territory—including the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan—are permitted, by an order issued today by the interstate commerce commission, to exact higher passenger fares for interstate than for intrastate business where state legislatures or state commissions have established a 2-cent a mile rate.

The carriers in such instances are forced by the state railroad commissions or by state legislatures to apply on all intrastate passenger business a maximum fare of 2 cents a mile. This would result, through the application of the long haul provision of the law, in a maximum rate of 2 cents a mile throughout the territory.

Will Test Rate Restrictions.

In the hearing before the commission, the railways declared their intention to test before the courts the validity of the 2 cents a mile restrictions in fares on intrastate business. At present there is no distinction be-

CONSTITUTION FOR ALSACE-LORRAINE

Reichstag Committee Adopts Government Bill After Long Debate.

Berlin, May 19.—After prolonged bargaining, the committee of the reichstag today adopted the government's bill providing a constitution for Alsace-Lorraine.

The support of the Socialists was secured by abolishing the proposed plural voting. The original measure provided that the lower chamber should be made up of members elected by universal suffrage of those 25 years old or over and that voters over 35 years of age should have two votes and those more than 45 years years old, three votes.

The clericals were won over by concessions in the matter of religious fredom and an arrangement by which the French language will be used officially and in the schools of those districts of Alsace-Lorraine where there is a French-speaking population.

NATIONAL FOREST IN BLACK HILLS

President Signs Proclamation Establishing the Harney Reserve.

Washington, May 19.—President Taft has signed a proclamation establishing the Harney national forest in South Dakota. It embraces 583,820 acres formerly contained in the Black Hills forest and 58,727 acres taken from the public domain.

REAL WINTER IN THE WEST

Snow Falls in the Yellowstone—Freezing in Nearby States.

Washington, May 19.—Snow was falling this morning in Yellowstone park and it was freezing in Wyoming and Nevada, while the Middle West and Eastern states were sweltering in the hottest weather of the year. A general break in the hot wave was predicted by the weather experts here today within the next thirty-six or forty-eight hours, bringing relief to the populous section of the country, where in the large cities the heat has caused many prostrations. Warm weather will continue tonight and Saturday in the Eastern states.

Washington and Richmond were the hottest places on the weather map yesterday, their official record running up to 95 against Washington's seasonal record-breaking 94 a week ago. Baltimore, Louisville and other cities, however, were close competitors. The street thermometers in the shade here recorded 103, while one in the sun ran up to 109. There was one heat prostration.

Four Deaths From Heat.

Chicago, May 19.—Four death and more than a score of prostrations resulted from the extreme heat yesterday. The thermometer showed 92 deg. at 4 o'clock the highest point the mercury ever has reached this early in the summer since the establishment of the weather bureau.

NO LONGER LEADING POMPADOUR EXPONENT

—Copyrighted by the Bain News Service.

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE, United States Senator From Wisconsin.

Washington, May 19.—How are the mighty fallen! Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, once the leading American exponent of the pompadour, no longer presents to his enemies a terrifying wall of head fringe, but parts his hair in the middle. Whether the cares of senatorship have worn away some of the once straight "bristles" or whether it is just a notion of "Bob's" nobody has dared to guess, but it is whispered among the senate employes that there never has been a president with a pompadour.

REPORT MORE EMPTY PEWS

Presbyterians Have More Vacant Churches, Says Secretary.

Dr. Carson Is New Moderator of the General Assembly.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 19.—The Presbyterian general assembly having organized yesterday by the election of the Rev. Dr. John F. Carson of Brooklyn as moderator, the 800 commissioners were ready today to consider reports from special committees.

Among these reports is that of the committee on Christian life and work. The report states that the two-thirds of the Presbyteries and synods have given attention to the recommendation of the last assembly that they appoint committees on inter-church federation.

A report of the secretary of the committee shows that throughout the country the total number of non-church members is 60.9 per cent. The number of vacant Presbyterian churches

NEW YORK HAS TIMBER FIRE

Twenty Thousand Acres Are Burned Over in Warren County.

Glen Falls, N. Y., May 19.—Fire starting in Johnsburg, Warren county last night, was blown across the Sacandaga river and destroyed more than 20,000 acres of heavy standing timber.

The flames were threatening the destruction of the hamlet of Baker's Mills when a heavy rain set in and put out the fire.

GOTHAM POLICE MAKING RAIDS

Alleged Gambling Places Are Attacked—Eleven Arrests Made.

New York, May 19.—Eleven men under arrest today and a wagon load of card tables, dice boxes and other paraphernalia are the fruits of a series of raids late last night and yesterday afternoon on alleged gambling houses. The raids were the first since Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty assumed charge of the detective bureau eighteen days ago.

The men were arrested under such warrant names as "John Doorkeeper," "John Dealer," and "John Proprietor."

NEW DULUTH FIRE DUE TO LIGHTNING

$15,000 Blaze in Lumber Company's Warehouse Results From Storm.

Bolt Also Strikes Street Car, Terrorizing the Passengers.

But Benefit to Growing Crops More Than Offsets Damage.

Last night's storm caused a $15,000 fire at New Duluth and gave the passengers on a street car a bad scare; but on the credit side of the ledger must be placed the benefit to the growing crops of the warm, drenching rain.

The fire which was started by lightning destroyed the warehouse, office and a considerable portion of the yards of the New Duluth Lumber company early today. The loss will be close to $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

A bolt of lightning struck the warehouse and office at 2:20 this morning. The shock woke the surburbanites and a few minutes afterwards some one noticed that the lumber company warehouse was burning.

The bolt struck in the northeast corner of the building, tearing several boards apart. Charles Pearson and his fire engine and brigade responded to a call, but all that could be done was to save a portion of the lumber in the yards and adjacent property.

The Thompson Furniture company's equipment and that of the fire department were used in fighting the blaze, the only handicap being the shortage of water in the reservoir, near the New Duluth schoolhouse. Had it not been for the rain and the

CRAWFORD SAYS "NOT GUILTY"

Ohio Senator Is Arraigned on Charge of Soliciting a Bribe.

Columbus, Ohio, May 19.—Senator Edgar Crawford of Carroll county, accused of soliciting a bribe of $200 from W. H. Cook of Springfield, secretary of the Ohio Butchers' & Grocers' association, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in criminal court before Judge Kinkead today. He was arraigned along with an alleged park footpad, a woman robber and three burglars. He showed no emotion when he made his plea.

PROSPECTS FOR BUMPER CROP BRIGHT

Messages to Herald From All Parts of West Bring Good News.

Only Unfavorable Reports Come From Parts of South Dakota.

Conditions Better Than at Any Time for Ten Years.

Crop conditions in the Northwest are as good if not better than at any similar period in the last ten years.

The only exception is in South Dakota. In Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and the three prairie provinces of Canada conditions are ideal and porspects indicate an immense yield of wheat and a large yield of other grains if the present promise is maintained. Of course, the growing crops have not run into the critical period yet but their present condition is so good as to warrant the belief that they will be better enabled to withstand adverse climatic conditions than at any time in the last decade.

The acreage of wheat in the four Northwestern states is more than 1,000,000 greater than last year and the acreage in Canada is about 2,000,000 acres in excess of a year ago. The oats acreage in the Northwest is probably slightly under that of last year but the conditions for a good growth are superior to those of a year ago. The corn acreage is larger than last year. It is too early to tell about the linseed acreage.

In Minnesota, reports to The Herald indicate that the growing wheat is in first class condition. Conditions could not be more nearly ideal. There has been plenty of moisture. In fact, there

LIVELY TIME ON WISCONSIN FARM

Man Chokes Wife, Burns House, Swallows Poison and Hangs Himself.

Kewaskum, Wis., May 19.—Choking his wife and beating her, she alleged, until she threatened to divorce him, John Kludt, 42 years old, a wealthy farmer living near here, set fire to his home, swallowed paris green and then hanged himself. Neighbors attracted by the burning farmhouse found the farmer's body. Near the body was a partially consumed box of paris green. The house was destroyed. According to Mrs. Kludt, her husband choked her until she left home yesterday. He is believed to have been insane.

MADERO GETS WARNING OF MURDER PLOT

Insurrecto Leader to Be Assassinated on Reaching Capital.

News Causes Halt in His Plans—Governorships Not Granted.

Bloody Battle Is Reported in Progress at Cuautla.

Juarez, Mex., May 19.—Plans for the departure to City of Mexico within a few days of Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., received a setback this morning when a member of the El Paso revolutionary junta received a telegram from the capital stating that persistent rumors were in circulation there of the existence of a plot to attempt the life of Madero upon his arrival.

Beyond this bare statement, the message gave no details, but the matter was considered seriously enough to result in a hurried consultation of insurrecto leaders as to the advisability of postponing the trip of Madero until such time as the report was disproved or affairs in the capital were in a more settled condition.

Negotiations at Standstill.

Mr. Madero and his advisers are still awaiting an answer from City of Mexico, as to the immediate naming of the four provisional governors, the remainder to be nominated later, and until a reply to this is received the progress of peace negotiations are practically at a standstill. No doubt is expressed, however, that the answer will be favorable.

Every officer on the staff of the provisional president, it was announced today, has donated six months' salary as a fund for the widows and children of insurrecto soldiers killed during the revolution.

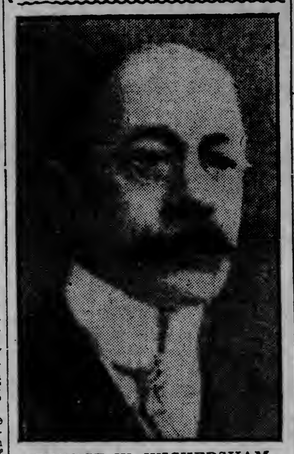
FIRST MOVE MADE IN BITTER ATTACK ON LUMBER TRUST

HAS ATTACKED LUMBER TRUST



GEORGE W. WICKERSHAM, Attorney General of the United States

WICKERSHAM FILES SUIT IN NEW YORK

Conspiracy for General Violations of Sherman Law Charged.

Ten Organizations and 150 Men in East Are Named.

Sensational Allegations Are Made By the Government.

New York, May 19.—Sweeping charges of a gigantic conspiracy to maintain high prices, to blacklist concerns not regarded as "proper" trade, and to violate generally the Sherman anti-trust law, are made in a government suit filed by Attorney General Wickersham in the United States court here today against the so-called lumber trust.

Ten trade organizations and more than 150 individuals are named as defendants in this suit, which may be the first of several planned by the department of justice against combinations of retailers in staple commodities and the necessaries of life to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying anywhere except from local retailers.

The government's suit is replete with sensational allegations, and it is asserted that builders and consumers of lumber the country over are at the mercy of the retailer' organizations in different sections of the United States.

The suit filed today is against the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association, which is the central body of nine local organizations covering five states, the District of Columbia and the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Follows Oil Trust Decision.

This is the government's first anti-trust suit conforming to the supreme court's Standard Oil decision, in that it alleges "undue" and "unreasonable" restraint of trade of the consumer and the manufacturer. It is the evident purpose of the plea to confine the charge largely to that feature, small stress being placed upon the restraint of trade among the alleged conspirators themselves.

Attorney General Wickersham and his special assistant, Clark McKercher, have devoted more than a year to gathering the evidence on which today's suit is based. This evidence includes copies of the alleged agreements, blacklists and reports of the various organizations branding wholesalers and retailers who have dared to violate the rules of the association as "poachers," "mavericks," "scalpers," and "illegitimate dealers,"

BIG GROWTH IN EXPORTS

Those for 1911 Will Pass the Two Billion Dollar Line.

Cattle and Wheat Shipments Are Lower—Manufactures Gaining.

Washington, May 19.—Exports from the United States in the fiscal year 1911 will probably exceed by about $300,000,000 the figures of last year and cross the $2,000,000,000 line. The figures of exports of the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor, for the ten months ending with April, show an excess of $268,000,000 over those in the corresponding months of last year, and for the single month of April an excess of $25,000,000 over April of last year.

It is well known that in certain articles such as wheat, flour, cattle, meats and others of this class, exports of 1911 are less than those of earlier years. Yet despite this falling off in these important staples, of which the United States has in the past been such a large exporter, the total value of merchandise exported seems likely to show a larger growth in 1911 than shown by any earlier year in the history of the foreign trade.

Less Cattle and Wheat.

Exports of cattle in the ten months ending with April show an actual falling off of over $2,500,000 in value when compared with the corresponding months of 1910. Wheat shows a falling off of about $23,000,000 in value in

MANY EAGER TO TALK STATEHOOD

House Will Not Be Able to Take Vote Before Tuesday.

Washington, May 19.—The desire of so many members to speak on the joint statehood resolution admitting Arizona and New Mexico caused Democratic house leaders to change their plans for ending debate and rushing the bill to passage today, and discussion will continue until next Tuesday.

The floor leaders of the majority had hoped to pass the bill before today's adjournment, but it was not deemed wise to cut off debate as long as so many members on each side had prepared arguments which they wished to deliver. Accordingly an agreement was obtained by Representative Flood to continue the debate until next Tuesday, when the joint resolution will be called for passage.

There being nothing on the house calendar for Saturday, adjournment until next week, probably until Tuesday, was the Democratic program.

The house special committee to investigate the American Sugar Refining company today organized and discussed plans of procedure.

The senate was not in session, but hearings before the senate finance committee on reciprocity continued.

ORDER OF FOREIGN WARS IN SESSION.

Hartford, Conn., May 19.—The reading of reports, adoption of resolutions, consideration of a proposition to make the commander-general hereafter ineligible for re-election and choice of officers for the ensuing term occupied the attention today of the delegates to the triennial convention of the national commandery Military Order of Foreign Wars, which opened here yesterday. Resolutions on the death of the commander-general, Gen. Alexander Stewart of New York, were adopted.

AEROPLANES ON YALE'S CAMPUS

McCurdy and Beachy the Lions of First Aero Club Meet.

New Haven, Conn., May 19.—Aviation today was added to the many things which Yale men study outside their class rooms, for at the Yale field this afternoon J. A. D. McCurdy and Lincoln Beachy expected to make flights as the chief attractions at the first meet of the Yale Aero club. Yale field offers unusual facilities for viewing the flights, the ascensions being made from the freshman diamond, which gives the planes a clear runway of several hundred feet over smooth turf.

Tomorrow afternoon the flying events will be preceded by the Yale-Princeton freshman track meet and the ball game between the teams of freshmen of the same universities.

ACTOR ADMITS HE IS A THIEF

Harold Enfield Given Seven and a Half to Thirty Years in Prison.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 19.—Harold Enfield, an English vaudeville actor, who confessed to a series of burglaries in Pittsburg, and who the New York police authorities charge, committed robbery in that city, today entered a plea of guilty in criminal court and was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term of from seven and one-half to thirty years in the Western penitentiary. Rex Hunter, an accomplice, also pleaded guilty and received a sentence of from five to twenty years. Enfield confessed to throwing a lot of stolen jewelry into the Allegheny river.

INTEREST IN EXCURSION

Three or Four Coaches of Duluthians Will Visit Steel Plant.

Publicity Committee Wants All Citizens to See the Work.

Interest in the shop excursion next Wednesday to the Minnesota Steel company's site is growing and the prospect is that three or four coaches will be filled by Duluthians anxious to see the work the Steel company is doing in erecting the buildings for Duluth's greatest industry.

Vice President George L. Reis, who is in active charge of the Steel company's work here, has said that he would like every Duluthian to visit the plant and get an idea of the work being done there. He knows that much of the skepticism of the past has been unfounded and if people would visit the plant they would realize that the company has been acting in good faith and has been pushing the work with all the speed dictated by business policy.

The publicity committee of the Commercial club planned the shop excursions in order that Duluthians might realize the magnitude of Duluth industries. The excursion to the steel plant site is by far the most important planned and special efforts are being made to get out a big crowd. The opportunity is one that may not come again, for much of the underground and foundation work will be covered up in a short time. The visitors will be given guidance and information and will have a full opportunity to see just what has been done and what preparations have been made for the greater work which remains to be done.

OPEN BIDS FOR PAVING

Two Largest Contracts of the Year Will Be Let Monday.

Grand Avenue and Fifth Street Owners Will Be Heard.

The board of public works opened bids this morning for the grading and paving of Grand avenue between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-ninth avenues west and for the grading and paving of East Fifth street between Fifteenth avenue east and Woodland avenue.

Both are large jobs and will be among the biggest which will be let in Duluth this season. The bids covered paving of all kinds. None of them will be awarded until the board of public works has heard expressions from the different property owners as to the kind of paving which is desired. The figures for the different kinds of pavement were not checked up by the board this morning and will not be available until this afternoon.

Meetings of property owners will be held at the office of the board of public works at the city hall Monday morning. Those interested in the Grand avenue pavement will be heard at 10 o'clock and these in the East Fifth street work at 11 o'clock. Bids were also opened for an automobile to be used jointly by the board and the engineering department, and for the papering of the city hall.

WEST END

FRENCH NATURALIZATION CLUB WILL MEET.

A big meeting of the French Naturlization club will be held this evening at the St. Jean Baptiste hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. There will be a smoker and an athletic program. Messrs. Roy and Belanger will give an exhibition of fancy roller skating, and there will also be wrestling and boxing matches.

Ronzano Funeral.

The funeral of Donatro Ronzano, aged 25, who was killed accidentally while at work yesterday at the Clyde Iron works will be held tomorrow morning from the residence, 1701 West Third street at 8:30 o'clock and from the St. Peter's Italian Catholic church, Eleventh avenue west, at 9 o'clock. Burial will be Calvary cemetery.

West End Briefs.

The funeral of Mrs. Sigret Olson, who died Wednesday at her home, 111 Vernon street, was held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the family residence and at 2 o'clock from Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Rev. J. Nervig, pastor, will officiate and interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery.

Peter Grignon, Jr., president of the Marine Iron works, left this afternoon for Detroit, Mich., on a business trip.

Peter Olson of 806 North Twenty-third avenue west has as his guest, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Olson of San Francisco, Cal.

The funeral of Forest Cox, the 17-year-old boy, who was killed by a street car Wednesday evening at Fourth avenue west and Superior street, was held this afternoon from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cox, 111 North Twenty-seventh avenue west at 1:30 o'clock and from Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Murray officiated and burial was made at Forest Hill cemetery. The boy's father, a traveling salesman, arrived home yesterday.

H. W. Johnson will erect a $2,000 home on Twenty-third avenue west and First street.

Mrs. Sophie Anderson will erect a $2,000 home on Twenty-third avenue west and First street.

Gus Beaulieu Makes Charges Against White Earth Indian Agent.

Says Indians Have Been Defrauded in Selling of Pine.

Washington, May 19.—A serious arraignment of conditions on the White Earth Indian agency in Minnesota and of the men whom he alleges to be responsible, is contanied in a letter submitted yesterday to Representative Stephens of Texas, chairman of the house committee on Indian affairs by Gus Beaulieu, the well-known Chippewa.

Mr. Beaulieu criticizes the administration of Agent John R. Howard and demands his removal from office. Mr. Beaulieu announced that he intends to follow up his letter by a demand for a thorough investigation of Indian affairs at White Earth. The Beaulieu letter is prefaced with this statement:

"For a number of years the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota have protested in vain against the manner in which their matters have been conducted and the wasteful extravagance shown by the Indian office regarding the expenditure of their tribal funds, but I now believe that congress wishes to correct any evils wherever they exist in the government Indian service."

Beaulieu's Charges.

He then makes charges as follows:

"First—That the interior department has, since 1902, been expending more than $150,000 of the tribal funds of the Chippewas of Minnesota, including the amount expended by William O'Neill, superintendent of logging upon the Chippewa reservations in Minnesota, principally to pay the salaries of the government Indian employes who hold positions on these reservations, many of which are sinecure positions.

"Second—The Chippewas of Minnesota have been defrauded in the manner in which the pine timber has been cut and sold.

"Third—That the Indian agent at White Earth reservation in Minnesota, John R. Howard, and also the Indian agent at Red Lake, W. H. Bishop, have improperly conducted the affairs of their respective agencies.

"Fourth—That E. H. Long, a special attorney of the department of justice, has improperly commenced suits against the purchasers of allotments, who purchased these under the provisions of an amendment to the Indian appropriation act of 1906, permitting mixed blood allottees upon the White Earth reservation in Minnesota to alienate their allotments of land."

"I also charge that Agent Howard had misrepresented to the commissioner of Indian affairs the results of Indian councils held upon the White Earth Indian reservation."

The matter which is now of the utmost importance to the Chippewa interests is the manner in which their tribal pine timber is being cut and sold.

Interest for Salaries?

In conclusion Mr. Beaulieu says:

"There seems to be some objection on the part of the officials of this administration to pay the interest now due the Chippewas on their tribal funds which have been accumulating for several years. The Indians can see no other reason for this except that the former wish to use it to pay employes, no doubt members and supporters of their own party."

Democrats connected with the public Indian committee and the committee of inquiry, of which Representative Graham of Illinois is chairman, are beginning to show an interest in White Earth matters. The chances are that an investigation of affairs there will be conducted by one of the house committee.

TOMATOES ARE SCARCE

Other Green Vegetables Remain Unchanged in Price From Last Week.

Pineapples Are on the Market and Berries Improve in Quality.

Tomatoes have suddenly grown scarce and what are on the market now are selling at 25 cents a pound. They have been priced at 30 cents a basket. The rest of the green vegetables are about the same and the list has no new additions this week. Nice, sound Illinois cucumbers are on the market this week for 15 cents and asparagus is now three bunches for 25 cents.

Head lettuce, which has been out of the markets for several weeks, is again to be had at 15 cents a head.

Among the larger vegetaables there has been no change during the week in prices, new potatoes being 70 cents a peck or three pounds for 25 cents. A big supply of egg plants is displayed at 20 cents apiece.

In the fruit line, pineapples at 20 and 25 cents apiece are about the only feature. They have been on the market before but at 40 cents apiece.

The berries this week are better than ever. They are the Arkansas berry, not as large as the Louisiana, but redder and sweeter. They are 15 cents a quart box. Oranges, apples and bananas are about the same.

Wholesale Markets.

The warm weather created a boom in green goods along Michigan street. Receipts were heavier and there was a disposition to get rid of arrivals as soon as possible on accounut of the heat.

This attitude caused recessions in prices and the trade was stimulated. Other lines of the produce trade benefitted from the activity in green goods. Greens are arriving from the South in mid-summer proportions although the variety is not as large as later in the season.

New potatoes are being received in liberal supply, and prices are easy. The butter and egg market was weaker, also, but prices did not show the actual degree of softness. Strawberries are arriving from Tennessee and Southern Illinois. The quality of the Illinois berry is equal to or superior to any berry yet received.

Dried peaches are soaring. Quotations on futures are being quoted by a California packer at fully one cent above similar quotations of a week or ten days ago. Other packers are not willing to make definite quotations on futures. Growers are reported to be asking 10c a pound, orchard run. A packing firm is asking 9¾c for standard f. o. b. the coast in 50-pound boxes, 10c for choice, 10¼c for extra choice, 11c for fancy and 11½c for extra fancy yellows. Muirs are quoted at the usual advance of ⅛c on each grade.

The attitude of peach growers is credited by packers with also being responsible for the high prices named by the latter on future dried apricots. At this time they are said to be demanding 17c for orchard run. One reason for the strong views of the growers is the willingness of canners and fresh fruit shippers to pay the high prices. Opening prices on dried apricots are higher than in many years, the apparent failure of the crop and the price which exporters are willing to pay being largely responsible for the attitude of packers. Opening prices for the season were 16c a pound for standard, 16½c for extra standard, 17½c for fancy, f. o. b. coast, in 50-pound boxes. Growers are said to pay no attention to bids under 16c a pound, orchard run.

The fruit situation is tight. Supplies of California goods are being rapidly absorbed and the warm weather will increase consumption. Canners are averse to naming prices on the new output until crop conditions become more certain and the full extent of damage by frost a few weeks ago is learned. Spot stocks of canned goods are small and some jobbers are forced to buy from each other in order to take care of their needs until the new goods become available, which will be at least three months on most fruits. This sort of buying goes on daily with a consequent firming of prices.

There is a big deficit in supplies of No. 10 gallon apples, peas, beans, and similar lines of canned goods for which there has been an extremely heavy demand.

Stocks of spot prunes held at all distributing markets, as well as on the coast, are said to be the smallest ever known at this season of the year. The market, consequently, is exceptionally firm on all sizes. Fruit has been dropping in many districts of California on account of the recent frosts and packers have withdrawn their future quotations on the 1911 pack of goods while others have raised prices from ¼c to ½c a pound over quotations posted a few days ago. Future Oregon Italian prunes are being offered freely at the advance although reports from reliable sources tend to reduce the extent of the frost damage. The crop may yet be a fairly normal one. Bids of 4½c, f. o. b. coast, November shipment, bag basis, are reported to have been declined. Spot Italians, Oregon, are in light supply and are firmly held.

Raisins of all descriptions are in a strong position. Currants are firm on the spot in sympathy with strong advices from Greece and a liberal consumptive demand.

Apples are almost out of the market and few are found along Michigan street. The quality of the average apples in this market at this period of the year is nothing to brag about. Varieties are small in number. California oranges are meeting with a fair demand. The grapefruit season is practically over although the fruit is still being sold. It is being moved slowly, however, and the public's heavy consumption is not expected to become in evidence again until the new crop begins to come on the market.

Waists at $1.75—Most attractive are some styles made rather simply; closing down the front with pretty pearl buttons. A touch of Copenhagen blue in embroidery adds a charm to some; on others a touch of lace, a chic sailor collar or a side frill.

Waists at $2.00—Very sheer and dainty Blouses of white batiste. Handkerchief sailor collar, tie and turn-back cuffs shown on some; effective use of lace or embroidery on others.

An unusual Waist Store you will find it in its splendid assortment of styles and prices.

Our Most Successful May Sale of Undermuslins

Underwear that fits, that wears, and that satisfies the eye by its beauty and appropriateness of trimmings, whether simple or elaborate; Underwear in exact harmony with present close-fitting fashions, assuring long, slender lines; Underwear of unequalled values, owing to our commanding position in the market, and many long months of preparation. Values greater than ever, actual savings greater than ever; we can promise you not only that lots are large—but that our usual exacting care has been exercised as to the standard of every garment.

NIGHT GOWNS

The good qualities in these night gowns are the extra full lengths in which they are cut and the variety of styles—they are low neck and long sleeves, and made in both the slip-over gown or button in front. The very sheer summer materials are used in these, and are trimmed with lace and insertion or with embroidery—selling from a dollar and a half up to twelve dollars.

CORSET COVERS

One great feature of our May Sale is the selection of corset covers—there are some exceptionally good values among these. They are high or low necked, close-fitting or loose and all as dainty as good workmanship and simple trimmings can make them. The very fine nainsook is used in these. They range in values from 75c to $1.00, and are selling for 48c.

DRAWERS

A large selection of drawers made of fine muslins and trimmed with dainty feather stitched ruffles and tiny tucks; these are valued at 75c and $1.00, selling at 48c.

Among some of the better values of these at regular prices are found some of the newest styles trimmed with lace and insertion or with embroidery and made with fitted hand and causing little fullness at the waist. They sell from $1.00 to $3.75 in price.

COMBINATIONS

The combination of both drawer and cover or skirt and cover are more popular than ever with the present styles prevailing. These come in closely fitted garments, giving the long lines so greatly desired. They are made of fine quality of nainsook and are trimmed with lace or embroidry, selling from 98c to $10.00.

CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR

Special attention is given to the little misses' undergarments, in night gowns, petticoats, drawers and combination slips, from the ages of six to fourteen years. These will vary in price.

PRINCESS SLIPS

The new Princess slips can be found in several very pretty styles, the skirts being cut with little fulness, giving the narrow effect desired for the closely fitted gowns now being worn. These come handsomely trimmed with lace and insertion, or with lace and embroidery, and are selling for $2.50 to $15.00.

WHITE APRONS

There is nothing that will make the house maid's personal appearance more attractive than finishing her attire with a dainty apron. We have a very pretty selection of aprons, in many different styles. Some of them in pink, blue and white, with the bib and shoulder straps; some of them in black and white or blue and white stripes, and there are many different styles of the small round white aprons—these range in price from 25c to $3.50.

SOILED GARMENTS AT REDUCED PRICES

One table in this sale is entirely given up to soiled articles in all garments. This consists of some of the French unlaundered underwear and skirts, chemise, combinations, night gowns, corset cover and drawer and petticoat, all of which will be sold at reduced prices.

CHEMISE

The new closely-fitted chemise are found extremely satisfactory this year; the skirt part with very little fullness and with the semi-fitted back. They are made in both domestic and French styles. The French are all hand-embroidered in very beautiful patterns with the reinforcement at the top. The domestic, just as dainty, with fine lace and insertion, are selling from 98c to $5.00.

BEAUTIFUL FRENCH LINGERIE

Never before have we offered, in any previous May Sale, as beautiful selections in French embroidered lingerie as we have this year. They are garments that have been ordered specially for this sale.

The handmade night gowns come in several different styles, cut in both high and low neck, long and short sleeves. The finest materials are used and they are elaborately trimmed with lace and insertion and some with embroidered collar and cuffs, selling from $5.00 to $19.50.

The French skirts are very beautiful, and all cut in the new and narrow patterns, these having the embroidered underflounce, as well as the upper one, selling from $3.00 to $12.00.

The drawers are plain, without extra ruffles, but handsomely embroidered on each side and with very little fulness at waist. The corset covers and chemise show some of the most skillful workmanship in their loveliness.

The chemise are made with plain or fitted back, with some of the most artistic designs embroidered upon them that can be found. They sell from $1.00 to $5.00.

Government Free Seed.

Many of the states are giving away free, to farmers, seed grain for the purpose of aiding farmers who lost by the forest fires. So well has the work been done, that it is said every farmer is to receive 66 per cent of the amount of seed asked for, without a cent of outlay. A large amount of the seed asked was barley, which is used in the manufacture of golden grain belt beers, and which brings in the best revenues to the farmers of any grain raised. Only the best barley seed is furnished, for no inferior grade will meet the requirements. Get supplied by your nearest dealer, or minneapolis brewing company, duluth branch.

MAYOR IS ARRESTED ON THREE CHARGES.

Gary, Ind., May 19.—Mayor Thomas F. Knotte was arrested last night on a warrant issued by County Clerk E. L. Shortridge at Crown Point, charging him with embezzlement, perjury on four counts and malfeasance in office on two counts. He gave bond of $5,000. The arrest was made on an affidavit signed by City Clerk Harry L. Moose, who charged that Knotte had retained funds aggregating $2,000, which he collected while acting as city judge.

FIRST STRAW HAT IS HERE

Season for the Summer Lids Is Now Open in Duluth.

One Made Its Appearance Thursday, Followed By Four More.

May 18—One straw hat.

May 19—Four straw hats.

The straw hat season has arrived. Several days ago some of the stores made their display of the summer head covering for men, but until the warm wave struck Duluth yesterday, nobody had the temerity to appear in a warm-weather lid.

About 6 o'clock last evening, a man with a sheepish grin on his face and a straw hat of the vintage of 1910 on his head, hurried up Third avenue west. His identity has not been established, but if he will make himself known, he will be honored as the first man to ignore the calendar and the conventions and blossom forth in a straw hat in Duluth this year.

The four who appeared on the street this morning will probably be peeved. It's a 10 to 1 bet that each of the four was ready to swear that he was the first on the street with a straw hat, but the honors go to the May 18 boy. If anybody preceded him, he was not discovered.

Of course, they wear straw hats on the Board of Trade much earlier, but they don't appear on the street. They aren't counted in giving honors for the first straw hat.

MYSTERY IS EXPLAINED

Mrs. Sandberg Was Visiting Sister—Going Home to Prepare Breakfast.

The mystery relative to Mrs. J. A. Sandberg, who was struck by a street car at Woodland at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, has been cleared up by an explanation made by a neighbor.

It seems that Mrs. Sandberg had been visiting Wednesday evening with a sister who lives in the vicinity. Mrs. Sandberg resides in the West end, and having some sons who had to go to work early in the morning, she had left shortly before 4 o'clock in order that she might be home in time to prepare their breakfast for them. Not being familiar with the neighborhood, she had gone below the place where the car ordinarily stops, 50 or 100 feet. Standing in a deep gutter along Wallace avenue, she was struck by the step of the car, which projects below the body of the car. She was picked up by the street car crew and taken to St. Mary's hospital, where it was found that she was suffering from a cut in the head and two broken ribs. Her condition is not serious.

The fact that she was wearing slippers was explained by the fact that she had gone to her sister's home wearing a new pair of shoes, which had hurt her feet. To relieve the pain she put on the slippers, and had not changed again when she started for her home.

GETS HIS SON TO FIRE FATAL SHOT.

Greenwich, Conn., May 19.—Lester Hustad, 12 years old, told the authorities that at his father's request he pulled the trigger of a shotgun which blew off the left side of his father's head.

Frederick Husted, a wealthy farmer, was found dead in his home with a shotgun lying on a table. The boy said that his father sent his mother away, called him into the house, and laying the gun on a table, knelt so that his left eye was at the muzzle of the gun. Then he said: "Pull the trigger; it isn't loaded, I want to hear how it sounds."

The boy pulled the trigger, the charge of shot blowing away the side of the father's face and head.

Repeated questions failed to shake the boy's story and the medical officer decided that he would have to call it a case of suicide.

WILSON WILL NOT SEEK NOMINATION

Says No Man Is Too Big to Refuse Such an Offer.

Portland, Or., May 19.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who arrived here, spent yesterday afternoon in conference with Democratic national committeemen from Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Governor Wilson said he heartily indorses the principles of the Oregon system, although he is not willing to admit that it will work so successfully in all parts of the country as it appears to have worked in this state. Its application, he thinks, is a matter of expediency rather than a matter of principle.

He announced that he favored the recall of elective officers, excepting the judiciary, but said the initiative and referendum could not be applied with success in national affairs.

In answer to the question whether he is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, he replied:

"I certainly shall not seek the nomination, but no man is too big to refuse it."

Last night Governor Wilson was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the banquet of the commercial club and later he attended an informal reception at the Portland Press club.

BISHOP JOHNSON IS ADVANCED IN CHURCH.

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—Frederick F. Johnson, bishop of South Dakota and a relative by marriage of Bishop Tuttle, was elected coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Missouri at the diocesan convention yesterday. The position carries the right of eventual succession to Bishop Tuttle.

Bishop Johnson, who lives at Sioux Falls, was a leader in the crusade made by religious workers there against the lax divorce laws of South Dakota, and it was largely through his efforts that the laws were amended and the "divorce colony" driven to Reno, Nev.

FIRE THREATENS STOCK YARDS AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., May 19.—Fire which for an hour yesterday afternoon endangered the entire Kansas City stock yards and the Livestock Exchange building, destroyed sheep pens covering an area a block square, burned sheep estimated to number 1,000, and partly destroyed two mule barns. A new fire station in the course of construction was partly destroyed.

Sparks from the burning pens set fire to a school building five blocks away. The pupils already had been dismissed. The school building was saved. Blocks of trolley poles were burned off and live wires sputtering in the street added to the danger to the spectators. The damage is estimated at less than $50,000.

Fur Seal Conference Dinner.

Washington, May 19.—A "fur seal conference" dinner was given at the White House last night, the president's guests including Secretary Knox, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, the British and Japanese ambassadors, the Russian charge d'affaires, the governor of Michigan and many other diplomats and officials interested in fur seal regulation.

MASS MEETING BEING PLANNED

Friends of John J. McNamara in Duluth Will Hold Public Demonstration.

A mass meeting or public demonstration will be held either at the Auditorium or at the Armory on either June 22 or July 6 by the McNamara Defense league.

The meeting will be for the purpose of showing the feeling of Duluth labor unions and Duluth Socialists on the alleged unfair arrest of John J. McNamara, charged with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building.

At the meeting a subscription will be taken up which will be sent to McNamara for his use in defending himself in the courts.

Secretary William E. Towne of the McNamara Defense league has written to the brothers for a personal letter of facts concerning the case. The letter will be read at the mass meeting.

A circular letter is at the present time being sent out to the unions and the different Socialist societies of the city asking contributions towards the defense of the men.

Prior to the meeting there will be a parade on Superior street, if present plans are followed.

NEWSBOYS WILL ATTEND THEATER

Newsboys of the city will be happy tonight, when they will be the guests at the Lyceum theater of Manager C. A. Marshall and "Barnum, the Hypnotist."

They are anticipating a barrel of fun, and several of them have declared that if volunteers are called to go upon the stage, they will not miss the chance to find out how it feels to be "under the influence."

The boys will occupy the gallery, and while they get all the enjoyment out of an entertainment that is possible, they have shown in the past that they know how to conduct themselves. The newsies will go to the theater under the direction of the circulation manager of The Herald.

CHICAGO TO HAVE HOTEL LIKE THE "MILLS" HOUSE.

Chicago, May 19.—Julius Rosenwald, who recently offered to give $25,000 to any city which would duplicate the gift for a negro Y. M. C. A., last night gave $50,000 toward the erection of a hotel here to cost $500,000. The new hotel is planned to be on the order of the Mills hotel of New York, will have 1,200 rooms for young men coming here to seek work, and will be conducted under the direction of the Y. M. C. A.

ROOT WOULD CHANGE PACT

Proposes Amendment to the Canadian Reciprocity Bill.

Measure Is Defended and Attacked—Other Doings in Congress.

Washington, May 19.—Claiming that the essence of the proposed commercial pact between this country and Canada is reciprocity, and that such was the understanding of those who framed it, Senator Root today appeared before the senate finance committee and suggested an amendment to the house bill which would prevent wood pulp and paper from coming into this country free until it was free in all the provinces of Canada. Senator Root argued that such an arrangement would not prevent the agreement as a whole from becoming effective.

On the other hand John Norris of New York, representing the American Newspaper Publishers' association, commenting on the proposed amendment, declared that its adoption would be fatal to the agreement.

Both Sides at Once.

Senator Root's amendment was designated to make pulp and paper free on both sides at the same time instead of allowing the importation at once of free pulp and paper from those provinces in Canada in which there are no restriction regarding the exportation of these articles. The bill now, he claims, contains no provision whatever by way of condition or otherwise for the free admission of paper and wood pulp into Canada. His amendment would add to the wood pulp and paper provision the stipulation that Canada may have the right to import these articles free only "when the president of the United States shall have satisfactory evidence and shall make proclamation that such admission of wood pulp, paper and boards, being the product of the United States, are admitted into Canada free of duty."

Changed by Lodge.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, of the committee, had inserted into the proposed amendment the following words after Canada—"and all its provinces." Senator Lodge contended that as the bill stands the action of one province in imposing restrictions would not prevent all the rest of Canada from exporting to this country free paper and wood pulp, but would not allow the United States to export these articles into any part of Canada. He said that we could not deal with Canada by provinces any more than Canada could deal with the states in this country.

The committee will consider Senator Root's amendment in executive session.

North Dakotan Heard.

James D. Boyle, instructor in economics and political economy in the University of North Dakota advocated the bill. He declared that the price of wheat was fixed in the world markets, not in these of this country; that the farmer would gain under the agreement, and that a high Canadian tariff wall is likely to be raised against this country if the bill is not passed. As long as the United States has a surplus of wheat, he said, the tariff can have little, if any, effect on its price. Differences in prices of wheat in Canada and this country, he claimed, have not been due to the tariff.

Detroit Men Appear.

Milton McRae, president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, headed a delegation of Detroit business men who supported Canadian reciprocity. Mr. McRae declared that the farmer population of the United States would benefit greatly by the passage of the agreement, and said 75 per cent of Michigan's people favor it.

Farmers, he claimed, had greatly exaggerated the injuries they would suffer from the passage of the bill.

Leonard Bronson of Chicago, speaking for the National Lumber Manufacturers' association opposed the measure.

Crawford Ends Speech.

Senator Crawford of South Dakota brought to an end a set speech in opposition to reciprocity. It was the first studies phillippic against the proposed trade agreement with Canada, which the senator denounced as tending to transform the country into a nation of urban life by driving agriculture to the cities from farms made unprofitable by the competition of cheaper products from Canada. The agreement, he said, marked a serious epoch in the history of the country, because, in his opinion, it threatened its trade policy that had made the farmer prosperous. Immediately on his concluding, the senate adjourned until Monday.

New Orator in House.

A new orator appeared in the ranks of the Republican minority in congress yesterday. The opening speech for the minority on the Arizona-New Mexico statehood resolution, a distinction accorded to Representative Frank B. Willis, a freshman from Ohio, turned out to be a two-hours' running fire of repartee and fight with the Democratic leaders. Mr. Willis supported the New Mexico Constitution as President Taft has approved it.

Mr. Hamilton of Michigan, former chairman of the territories committee, also urged the immediate approval of the New Mexico Constitution. The Republican speakers condemned the recall of judges in the Arizona Constitution and approved the plan to force Arizona to vote again on that feature; but they declared no change should be made in the New Mexico Constitution. The statehood resolution will be before the house until Tuesday, on which day debate on the measure will be closed.

Kahn Opposed Recall.

Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, Madison and Roosevelt would have been victims of the recall had it been included in the Constitution when they were in the presidential chair, said Representative Kahn of California, speaking against the initiative, referendum and recall in the Arizona Constitution.

"When Washington sent the Jay treaty to the senate to be ratified," said Mr. Kahn, "there was such an outburst of disapproval on all sides that twenty-four hours after the necessary recall petitions would have been signed by thousands of electors in excess of the required pencentage.

"Lincoln would have been put to the task of defending his title as chief executive of the republic, if, during the dark days of 1862, the recall had been one of the cardinal principles of the Federal Constitution.

"Does anyone doubt that enough signatures could have been procured in the South for the recall of President Roosevelt immediately after he had invited Booker T. Washington to lunch with him at the White House?"

To Change Election Date.

A revised draft of the proposed constitutional amendment changing the date of the president's inauguration to the last Thursday in April, providing for the convening of congress the second Tuesday of each January, and eliminating the biennial short session of that body, was presented to the house by Chairman Henry of the committee on rules. The new resolution is the result of prolonged conferences.

It also empowers congress to designate a successor to the president-elect between the time when the vote is officially canvassed in February and the time of inauguration, if both the president and vice president-elect should die during that period.

Japanese Are Leaving.

That more Japanese are leaving Hawaii and the United States than are entering the country, was told the house by Representative Knowland of California. Mr. Knowland submitted department of commerce and labor figures to show that from July 1, 1908, the Japanese entering the United States numbered 7,501 against 14,195 leaving the United States. In Hawaii there were 4,348 arrivals and 6,266 departures.

"This does not look like an invasion," said Mr. Knowland. "In view of the interest shown on the Pacific coast when the recent Japanese treaty was up, these figures should be of some interest."

FOR NINE-HOUR DAY.

Furniture Makers Reply to Catholic Bishop's Plea.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 19.—Auxiliary Bishop Joseph Schrembs of the Roman Catholic diocese of Grand Rapids, has appealed by letter to the furniture manufacturers to end the furniture workers' strike here on the basis of a nine-hour day and a slight increase for workers earning less than $2 a per day.

Bishop Schrembs argued that the Massachusetts government commission on the cost of living had practically proved that the output of the nine-hour day is equal to the output of the ten-hour day, because of increased efficiency of the working force.

The Manufacturers' association replied, saying that while trade conditions will not permit Grand Rapids manufacturers alone to grant a nine-hour day with ten hour's pay, they will pledge themselves to work for a nine-hour day in the furniture trade in America.

Patronize Our Shining Stand

Here you will find the most competent corps of shoe shining artists in the city. Separate compartments for women and men.

We give free shining tickets with shoes purchased here. Ask the man.

Our Men's $4 Oxfords Are Unbeatable Values

We are aware that many good shoes are made to sell at $4, but we have yet to see any that compare with our Summer line of men's Oxfords to sell at that price. They have the style and character in their "lines" that characterizes the $6 custom made shoes, and they come in patent colt, tan, or gun metal, either 2, 3 or 4-hole ties. Being made with a flexible sole they give utmost comfort and ease. Let one of our expert fitters slip a pair on and you will see the justice of our claim.

Educator Shoes and Oxfords $5

"Educator" shoes for men are made from finest selected leathers. They give utmost ease, and provide equal rights for all toes. All sizes in vici and gun metal calf, pair, $5.

Nettleton Shoes and Oxfords $6

Nettleton shoes are in a distinct class by themselves. They head the list for men's footwear. They are fashioned upon the strictest foot-conforming lasts, from the finest selected stock and bench finished. To summarize, they are a gentleman's shoe. All styles and leathers now ready, $6.

Sale of Ladies' Neckwear 25c.

An express shipment of advance styles in summer neckwear has just come to hand. The lot includes sailor collars of pique, plain white and colored embroidered, also Lord Byron collars, fichus and fichu collars, trimmed with lace and embroidery or pleated frills. In most stores these would be 35c to 50c values, Saturday we offer the lot at 25c.

PRIZE SEED POTATOES WERE SERVED TO DINERS

Hereafter when any package that looks as though it might contain vegetables comes to the Commercial club, A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of agriculture, will personally and carefully examine it. Mr. Hostetter has a tale of woe that is heart-rending to him, although for some inexplicable reason, everybody who hears it, laughs.

Be it known that Mr. Hostetter is not only an agricultural adviser, but an agriculturist, and potatoes are his specialty. He is out this year to win all the prizes for potatoes at state and county fairs hereabouts, and if careful selection of seed and unflagging devotion to the cultivation of the tubers can win prizes, Mr. Hostetter will have loving cups, medals, certificates and other trophies enough to stock a freight house.

Mr. Hostetter's chances for prizes have been seriously damaged. That is why his heart is sore and he bids fair to lose his habitual genial bearing when seed potatoes are mentioned.

Some time ago, Mr. Hostetter read of a variety of potatoes that is supposed to have anything heretofore raised in this country backed out of the prize-winning class. He determined that no potato was too good to grow in his garden, and he thereupon set out to obtain a quantity of the potatoes for seed. He had to send to Henderson, N. Y., for them and the price was $2.50 a bushel, but Mr. Hostetter wasn't thinking of expense. He wanted the potatoes.

Two weeks passed and Mr. Hostetter became anxious. He ought to be planting those potatoes, but they hadn't come. Another week went by and no potatoes. He ascertained that the potatoes had been sent by express. The express companies promised to investigate, and Mr. Hostetter perspired when he thought of those potatoes.

The express company finally discovered in its records that the potatoes had been delivered to the Commercial club. Then the chase became warm. Every corner in the Commercial club was examined, but no potatoes were discovered, except the common or garden variety of tubers that daily grace the table in the club cafes.

A great light dawned on Mr. Hostetter and the other attaches of the club. The potatoes which had been served on a certain day about two weeks before had been of unusual quality. Many of the diners remarked the fact, but nobody thought anything of it except that an especially good bushel of potatoes had been received in the regular stock.

The prize seed potatoes had gone on the table as side dishes to the regular meals. And they had cost $2.50 originally, and $2.40 had been paid in express charges on them. Furthermore, Mr. Hostetter doesn't know whether he can get any more, and it's pretty late to plant them if he does.

Perhaps Mr. Hostetter had some of his own prize seed potatoes, but didn't recognize them "in the nood."

FOR KILLING AXEL HILL

Charles Hill Is Being Tried on Charge of Manslaughter.

Claims That He Fired the Fatal Shot in Self Defense.

Charles Hill, who is accused of the crime of manslaughter in the first degree, is being tried before Judge Dancer of the district court.

Charles Hill killed Axel Hill at a boarding house on West Superior street, March 28, after a quarrel. He will base his plea of not guilty on self-defense grounds.

Although of the same name, the two men were not relatives. They had never seen one another until the night of the crime. The dead man is supposed to have been shot with a revolver and it is probable that Hill will not deny this.

The two men, is seems, had been wrestling and the watch which was begun in good nature ended up in a general melee and row, a number of others taking part.

Charles Hill claims that Axel Hill chased him through the house with an ice chopper. Unable to avoid being cut any other way, he claims he tried to shoot between the pursuer's arm and body to frighten him. The shot went through Axel Hill's heart and killed him.

County Attorney John H. Norton appears for the state and Attorney Edward Kenny is defending.

The jury in the case of the state against Matt Maki is out. The case was finished this noon. Maki is accused of grand larceny in the second degree. He is said to have taken $90 from Frank Ranta.

ST. CLOUD MAN IS PROSTRATED IN MICHIGAN.

Mount Clemens, Mich., May 19.—Stricken with the excessive heat while walking in the streets here yesterday, James Gay, superintendent of a school at St. Cloud, Minn., fell upon the pavement and for a time it was feared his condition was critical. A passing cab was summoned and he was taken to his hotel. After being placed under medical attendance he rallied and it is thought he will recover.

Stillwater Toll Bridge Free.

Stillwater, Minn., May 19.—The city council decided by a vote of 7 to 2 to make the new bridge to the Wisconsin shore free of all tolls. At the same time the council refused to extend financial help to the Lowell park project, started and supported to this time by private subscriptions.

ACCIDENT ILLUSTRATED

Jurors Shown Just How Automobile Struck Plaintiff in Suit.

So that they might the better understand how the accident happened, the jury in the case of Paul E. Lindquist, by his father, Louis Lindquist, against Martin Falk for damages, alleged to have been sustained when he was hit by Mr. Falk's automobile, was shown the car and the accident illustrated in front of the courthouse yesterday afternoon.

The car was brought to the front of the courthouse and when the jurymen, the court officers, the lawyers and those interested in both sides of the case congregated, it made quite a crowd. Many people, thinking that an accident had just happened, rushed up from Superior and First streets and soon there was a mob of several hundred people, everyone of whom was anxious to know what had happened.

The case is still on today before Judge Cant. Lindquist wants $6,000. The accident is alleged to have occurred on Central avenue, Minneapolis. Lindquist claims that on stepping from a street car he was knocked down and injured by Mr. Falk's car. He claims negligence in the handling of the car.

Horses Burned Near Ada.

Ada, Minn., May 19.—One of the large barns on the Peter Thomas farm, near this city, burned this week, destroying 250 bushels of wheat, 500 bushels of oats, twelve horses, and several cows. Thomas carried about $2,700 insurance, which covers about half the loss.

MILWAUKEE MEN COMING

Will Spend the Evening of June 10 in Duluth.

The delegation from the Merchants and Manufacturers association of Milwaukee, Wis., which will visit Duluth and range towns, will arive in Duluth early Saturday morning, June 10, after an all night stay in Superior.

Every delegate represents some big industry of Milwaukee. The party will be thoroughly representative of the commercial interests of Milwaukee.

Within a few minutes after the arrival in this city the delegation will leave for Virginia, Hibbing and other range points. They will arrive again in Duluth late in the afternoon, spend the evening here, and depart for home about midnight.

WANTS DEPARTMENT OF COLORADO KEPT.

Washington, May 19.—Governor Shafroth of Colorado is in Washington to protest to the president and the war department against the abolition of the Department of the Colorado, with headquarters in Denver.

IOWA STATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 19.—Dr. L. W. Littig of Davenport was elected president of the Iowa State Medical society in convention here today. Dr. V. L. Treknor of Council Bluffs was elected secretary and Dr. W. B. Small of Waterloo, treasurer. Burlington was chosen as the next meeting place.

If you cannot see the added value there is in a Heimbach double-wear rubber heel, ask a user—he knows.

SIX MEN SCALDED IN EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 19.—By the explosion of the boiler of a hoisting engine being used in the construction of the new Otis building, La Salle street and Madison, six men were scalded seriously today. One of the victims, all of whom were at work at the time digging a foundation, will die.

Boobar Quits His Job.

Washington, May 19.—John J. Boobar of St. Cloud, Minn., for eleven years librarian of the house of representatives, has resigned that position to take effect June 15. Mr. Boobar will engage in business in Washington. The St. Cloud man came here in 1897 as secretary to Page Morris of Duluth, who served two terms in the house.

A Frank Admission to the Public

We could not raise sufficient capital to continue our present business, so we have decided, rather than to become deeply involved, to close out and pay our creditors 100 cents on the dollar. We were fortunate to sell our lease and fixtures to Mr. I. Miller of New York city, who will occupy this store with an exclusive ladies' ready-to-wear shop after we close out.

The Slaughter of This Brand New Stock Begins Promptly Tomorrow Morning and Will Continue Not Later than the 25th day of July, as we must vacate by Aug. 1st.

3,000 Men Listen!

We have 3,000 suits that must be sold. We do not want to take the least profit when we ought to be getting the most. But, "By Jupiter," as Mr. Epaminondas used to say, about 400 B. C., if we've got to stand for this extraordinary loss, there isn't any reason in the world why it shouldn't be your gain.

There isn't any other place in Duluth where such prices prevail, because there isn't any other store that is compelled to go out of business.

BIG CROPS EXPECTED

Will Make All Lines of Business Hum in the Fall.

Cotton Outlook Pleasing and Staple Grains Holding Their Own.

New York, May 19.—The crops of grain have advanced sufficiently in growth to give greater confidence in large results from the harvests, and this fact in itself has inspired a belief here in far better demand for all commodities in the late summer, autumn and next winter.

As the majority of business men here state it, good harvests are the most certain factors in producing sound commercial and industrial activities, and the prospects for crop returns upon cotton, corn, wheat and rye were never before so good at this time of the year as they are at this writing.

The government report upon winter wheat was very encouraging in its area statement and percentage of condition in the aggregate, but since its publication numerous private reports from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are to the effect that it was too conserative as regards that section of the country, and they indicate a yield in those three states of several millions of bushels greater than the government statistics allow for. Reports of crop conditions in the Southwest, Central West and the Northwest are of the very best as regards the important grain crops, and the statements of the men upon whom the railways rely for their information are such that it would seem from these early reports that record-breaking tonnages can be expected.

Firmness in Securities.

There is therefore a pronounced firmness in the security market, in the commercial circles and a vastly improved tone in manufacturing and financial districts.

The cotton and grain news is nearly the sole topic among business men here, and each day's returns gives breadth and strength to operations at this end of the line.

The cotton situation is a most peculiar one, and many here are of the opinion that the extraordinarily high price of the staple now may be productive of injury to our cotton producers in future years.

The exports of cotton in April were much less in value than in the same month of last year or in any of the intervening months after July, 1910.

There are two reasons given for this and the fact is that probably both reasons given combined to produce the result.

Cotton manufacturers argue that the price of cotton has been advanced beyond the price that foreigners will pay for it.

Cotton brokers and producers say the world's demand has been so urgent that the preceding nine months of exportation has cleaned up the reserve stocks of raw cotton and there is but little left to send to market either for domestic or foreign consumption.

The home manufacturers are closing down to a minimum their output of cotton cloths, and this is affecting thousands of employes in the cotton mills district of the South and the East.

Manipulators Blamed.

The manufacturers assume they are being held up by manipulators, who fix the high prices they have to pay for the raw material, and by shutting off their purchases they hope to reduce the price of raw cotton before the new crop comes to market.

They are facing conditions, however, that are not all the result of syndicate buying or speculative manipulation, and it is possible that by August, if they limit production, merchants' stocks will be so reduced that the concentrated demand for the autumn trade will produce still higher prices.

It is plain that the world's demand for cotton products has largely increased of late years, and promises still greater increases with the closer relations of the populations of all tropical and semi-tropical regions with the world at large.

Another factor that is creating additional demands for cotton fabrics is the world-wide advances in the purchasing power of the masses of the people and their ability to supply themselves with greater amounts of clothing and of food.

Cotton products are universally used and the local demand everywhere today is far greater than ever before.

It is stated India has produced the past year more than 5,000,000 bales of cotton and those who are opposed to high prices of the fiber are using the argument that 15-cent cotton is an incentive to its production in many other countries, and that within ten years the advantage possessed now by our Southern planters will be destroyed and they will have to fiercely compete in all markets with huge supplies of raw cotton produced in other countries.

This argument was used fifty years ago, when our Civil war sent cotton up to the highest prices ever known, and while that situation lasted fully four years, and European brains and money backed propects for producing cotton in Africa, Asia and South America, yet cotton steadily advanced until our Southern ports were opened and our cotton agan regulated the price of the cotton of the world.

Only One Cotton Belt.

No brilliant success has ever attended cotton production in any region save that of our Southern states, and as an evidence of the British manufacturers' faith in American cotton still being monarch of the market can be cited the recent purchase of 40,000 acres of land in the Mississippi valley by a British syndicate of cotton spinners, which they propose to cultivate in order to produce a portion of the raw cotton they need to supply their mills in England.

The British merchant or manufacturer is always a very practical man, and his knowledge of his particular line of trade is undeniably thorough and accurate.

If India's cotton was the kind desired, or could be purchased so as to successfully compete with ours in their line of business, it is not probable that such an enterprise as planting cotton here would be considered by said merchant and manufacturer.

It may be with cotton as it was with copper that a very high price would cause cotton growing to be attempted everywhere possible and might result in successful location of another great cotton belt that would compete with us, but, as I have pointed out, none such region is now known to exist.

The high price of copper was produced by withdrawing the metal output from the market and storing it to create artificial prices, but with cotton it is known there exists no great surplus, if any, and the demand is most urgent.

The sources from which copper could be obtained were known to exist upon every continent, so it is not an analogous proposition to compare cotton condiions with those of copper.

An increase in the value of cotton exported since July 1, 1910, to May 1, 1911, of $143,000,000, as compared with the same period of last financial year, shows how much we as a nation are indebted to King Cotton for bringing us foreign gold.

The copper crop of the Union has many days of chance weather before it can be determined as to actual results, but so far everything looks most favorable for large yield, with undoubtedly a great demand.

We may this year go above the great aggregate value of last year's crop.

SURE CURE FOR JADED DUKES

Eustace Miles, London's Leading Food Crank, Starts the Club.

London, May 19.—There is to be started in London shortly nothing less than a rest and fresh air cure for dukes and millionaires. It may seem funny, but it is so, right enough.

"I guarantee that I would cure half these politicians, business men, society folk and the like, whom one hears of so often breaking down from nervous exhaustion, by sane dieting and open air treatment. I maintain that it is lack of rest and also lack of exercise and bad dieting that are at the root of most of these so-called nervous break downs. Indigestion is labeled nerves much too often."

So spoke Eustace Miles, the crack tennis player and crank restaurant manager, who is about to start a club for real swagger food cranks, to be called the Rest club. The idea is to have all the ultra-modern schemes from dieting to open air sleeping and dew baths run in such a way that they will be patronized by the wealthy, and not just a number of middle class clerks and struggling professional men, as at present. It will be called the Rest club because it will be mainly for jaded business men, overstrained politicians and society people who want to get out of the whirl for a moment to get their breath.

Also Mr. Miles hopes that the club will be used as a sort of experimenting ground by people of wealth who want to leave off the flesh pots and indulge in sensible food reform and open air beds.

"People told us we were crazy," said Mr. Miles, "when my wife and I opened the Eustace Miles restaurant years ago; but nevertheless it was a success from the very beginning. We have about 1,000 people here every day in the busy season, and we send out our food to quite a number of people as well. It may seem to many that our club is a foolish venture, too, but I believe that the same applies to it as applied to the restaurant."

He told me that a fine old Georgian mansion is already available for the club. It is called Milbourne house and is at Barnes, a western riverside suburb at London. It has fine gardens and tennis lawns and offers facilities for various kinds of games and exercise, especially as it is so close to the river. Mr. Miles described the old-world furniture and said that the very presence of these sombre solid oak pieces ought to be conducive to a quiet, peaceful atmosphere.

One point Mr. Miles impressed on me was that, though they are going to erect huts for open air sleeping and exercises that are not going to be fanatical about it. In contrast to many continent places of the kind, rooms will be all warmed and hot baths will be provided so that members can have fresh air and outdoor life generally without the discomfort it usually entails. There will also be an "exercise room" for those who find that they want a place to do their daily exercises in.

"And the diet will be entirely non-flesh as at the restaurant here," he said. "We will send up cooks trained in sensible and balanced meatless cookery, and in the preparation of delicious nourishing dishes, so that the people who go there won't have to be experimented upon."

DUG UP THE THUMB

And Had It Put in Place With Twenty-Six Stitches.

Port Chester, N. Y., May 19.—After George W. Kennedy, trackmaster, had a thumb amputated while showing workmen how to unload railroad rails from a freight car he ordered the thumb buried and then hustled to the office of Dr. N. J. Sands, village president, to have the injury dressed. After looking at the injury Dr. Sands asked: "Well, where's the thumb?"

"Oh, that's buried down where it happened," replied Mr. Kennedy.

"Well, I guess we had better get it back on again," said the physician.

He and Mr. Kennedy drove to where the accident happened, dug up the thumb and put it back in place with twenty-six stitches. The physician is confident the injured member will heal.

PENSION WILL BE ASKED

For Only "Real" Daughter, Now Living, of the Revolution.

Marshfield, Mo., May 19.—Daughters of the Revolution throughout Missouri are urging congress to grant a pension to Miss Evaline Clifton of Marshfield.

Miss Clifton, who is 95 years old, is declared to be the only living "real" daughter of the Revolution. Her father, Nathan Clifton, was a private in Washington's army. He died in 1864 at the age of 104.

Miss Clifton, considering it her duty to care for her aged father, never married.

Representative Rubey of Missouri has introduced a bill in congress providing a pension of $30 a month for Miss Clifton. He believes it will be passed.

Instant Relief For Sore Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Policemen all over the world use TIZ. Policemen stand on their feet all day and know what sore, tender, sweaty, swollen feet really mean. They use TIZ because TIZ cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. Read what this policeman has to say: "I was surprised and delighted with TIZ for tender feet. I hardly know how to thank you enough for it. It's superior to powders or plasters. I can keep my feet in perfect condition. Believe in my earnest gratitude for TIZ. I am a policeman and keep on my feet all day."—Emzy Harrell, Austin, Texas.

You never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25c per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

SACRIFICE BY INTERNE

Gives Blood to Save Dying Mother of Nine Children.

Young Doctor of New York Hospital Submits to Transfusion.

New York, May 19.—If Mrs. Sarah Wynn of Fulton street, Brooklyn, is restored to health, to her husband and nine little children she will have to thank Dr. Arthur J. Savage, a young interne at the Volunteer hospital, formerly St. Gregory's, 93 Gold street, for the transfused quart of blood he gave to save her life.

According to Charles H. Duncan, surgeon in charge, it was only this sacrifice on the part of the doctor that staved off death, and gave the woman who was weak from a protracted illness and repeated internal hemorrhages, a fighting chance for her life.

Dr. Savage, who is a vigorous young man of 28, just graduated from the University of Oxford, England, has had one year's work at the Volunteer hospital. The operation, scheduled for 8 o'clock last night, was somewhat delayed because he was called out with the ambulance to get a patient in William street, overcome by heart trouble.

By the time he had returned the doctors were waiting.

"All right, Miss Moore," he called to the head nurse waiting for him in the hall. "I'll be ready in just a jiffy for you."

Savage bounded into the washroom and gave his right arm, where the incision to the artery was to be made, a good scrubbing. Then he went up the stairway to the operating room, as blithely as though he were going to dinner.

The Woman Very Weak.

The patient, an elderly lady, was very weak and half unconscious, her life sustained by strong stimulants. The transfusion process is necessarily a slow one because the blood cannot be forced into the heart circuit of a weak patient. The operation took about half an hour.

As the minutes passed slowly the woman began to regain consciousness, breathing more rapidly. Color came into her cheeks and by the time the meter had registered the amount to be transfused, she came to full consciousness.

An hour later Savage returned to the main hall minus a quart of blood, but apparently as strong and enthusiastic as ever. Dr. Duncan advised him to keep quiet and go to bed, but he only smiled and said:

"Oh, I'm all right, I only feel a little weakness in my legs and head. You know, I went through this operation once before in Montreal, at the Royal hospital. I guess it was lucky I came along here, because they couldn't get anybody else to go through with the business for the woman. And the good God only knows what would have become of those nine kids with her under the sod."

Dr. Savage is a son of the dean of McGill university, Montreal, and was noted at that school as the captain of the football team which made a clean-up tour through the United States four years ago. He was also champion amateur welterweight boxer in Canada and an all around athlete.

Did it for Children's Sake.

He took the Rhodes scholarship to Oxford three years ago, and declares he is studying the ambulance service and the successful practice in emergency cases in New York with the intention of taking up work in the British army.

Mrs. Wynn was reported later as being sure of recovery, and perceptibly stronger for the fresh strong blood which had been poured into her veins.

"It is nothing to talk about," said Dr. Savage. "I have spent over six years studying medicine and surgery in a laboratory. I did it for the purpose of saving human life. Now, when this poor woman got to the end of the rope, and that was the only course to save her, why, I thought a quart of my blood wasn't much to give."

"She has a husband and nine little kids waiting at home for her. I haven't got a soul that depends on me. It was little enough to do for her."

Dr. William Dietrick, assistant house physician, declared there is not another case like it in the annals of any New York hospital.

"In case there is a call for blood transfusion it is usually supplied by some close relative who is willing to take the risk and make a sacrifice," he said. "Often enough there is a large reward offered for good, strong blood, and we take some one who has been out of work, who needs money and doesn't care much about his life to do the job. Savage certainly had his nerve with him to take the chance on a case like this."

AIR OMNIBUS AT ATLANTIC CITY

Aeroplane Flights Over the Heads of Bathers Planned.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 19.—Aeroplane flights over the heads of bathers along the beach may be among the new attracions offered visitors this summer by a flying machine syndicate which is already preparing to start a school of aviation here. The air craft will be added to the exhibition machines to be used for spectacular flights and the promoters expect to secure many patrons who will be willing to put up a stiff price for the privilege of a real aeroplane ride.

Up to date no decision has been reached as to the prices to be charged for flights, but it is expected that at least $50 will be exacted for tickets entitling holders to make a journey through the air with the experienced aviator. If the plan is placed in operation, space will be secured on one of the piers for starting points while landings will be made on a space of clear beach, unless city officials shall refuse the privilege.

KIDNAPER PLEADS GUILTY.

Uncle of Waldo Rogers to Testify Against Wiggins.

Las Vegas, N. M., May 19.—William Rogers pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of kidnaping Waldo Rogers, the grandson of Henry L. Waldo, the millionaire general solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad. George Wiggins, an ex-convict and alleged accomplice of Rogers in the kidnaping, pleaded not guilty. Rogers will not be sentenced until after the trial of Wiggins, in which he is expected to be the principal witness for the state.

Little Waldo Rogers was stolen from the family home on the night of March 29 last and returned to his parents twenty-four hours later upon the payment of a ransom of $12,000. William Rogers, who is 22 years old, is the uncle of the stolen child. The ransom money was recovered intact in the chimney of young Rogers' home.

There is a strong feeling in Las Vegas against the prisoners and the utmost precaution is being taken to guard them from violence. They have been confined in the state prison at Santa Fe since the arrest two weeks after the commission of the crime.

ASSESSOR HAS MARKED BILLS

Is Arrested With $5,000 in California Assessment Investigation.

Oakland, Cal., May 19.—Henry P. Dalton, county assessor of Alameda county, was arrested here late yesterday while leaving a restaurant where it is declared he met a high official of the Spring Valley Water company. District Attorney W. H. Donahue is the authority for the statement that $5,000 in marked bills were taken from Dalton following his arrest.

Dalton has been county assessor for twelve years. The Spring Valley Water company supplies water to San Francisco, Oakland and other Bay cities and has large holdings in Alameda county.

As Dalton left a restaurant he was stopped by Detectives Helmes and Atkinson, who searched him, securing a roll of bills. Dalton denied that he had been in company with a representative of the Spring Valley company at the restaurant.

Dalton's case will be presented to the grand jury. Evidence will be offered, Mr. Donahue said, tending to show a proposed reduction of $2,000,000 in the assessed valuation of the Spring Valley company. The company was assessed in Alameda county last year to the amount of $4,500,000. Dalton's office was investigated last year by a grand jury, but without result.

Watermelon Record Broken.

Candler, Fla., May 19.—The first car of this season's watermelons was loaded here yesterday for New York markets. It broke two records. The price it brought is $400 and this is the earliest date at which melons have ever been shipped from here.

THREE NUDE MEN MOSQUITOES' PREY

Wading in Water When Boat Containing Clothes Drifted Away.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 19.—William Atkinson, his brother, Samuel and John Devone were taken to their homes in Absecon unable to speak from hoarseness and with their bodies and faces swollen and burning after having been attacked by swarms of mosquitos and green flies.

The three men went "bobbing" for eels Sunday and landed their boat on a lonely island in the Absecon river. They had taken off their clothes and were wading in the water when they discovered that the boat containing their clothing was gone. Each accused the other of playing a practical joke, but it developed that the rising tide had carried the boat out.

When evening came the men began to shout for help. Then it was that the mosquitoes and flies attacked them. They shouted until they could no longer raise their voices. There was no match with which to start a signal fire that might be seen on the main land.

As the mosquitoes and flies became worse the men plunged into the water, but the salt only made the pain worse. When rescued the men were exhausted. On their arrival home they were treated by physicians.

HOW TO BEAUTIFY YOUR COMPLEXION

"Adding permanent beauty to the face, neck and arms is by no means a difficult matter," says Mae Martyn in the Philadelphia Call. "But the greatest mistake which thousands of women make daily is the practice of smearing their faces with powder. This stops up the pores in the skin, causing pimples, enlarged pores and other facial blemishes that are difficult to overcome.

"The best skin whitener and complexion beautifier known to beauty specialists is made by dissolving four ounces spurmax in one-half pint hot water with two teaspoonfuls glycerine added. This inexpensive lotion is very fine for clearing up a rough, oily or sallow skin. It quickly corrects a shiny, lifeless condition giving the skin a smooth, satiny tone. After once you try it, you will have no further use for face powder as it doesn't show or rub off so easily."

NOT TO LOSE WHEELER.

Sheffield Professor Raising Money to Pay Divorced Wife.

New Haven, Conn., May 19.—Prof. Henry Lord Wheeler, head of the department of organic chemistry in the Sheffield Scientific school, will not resign as the result of the divorce on grounds of intolerable cruelty awarded Mrs. Eva Wheeler, formerly a chorus girl. Director Chittenden of the scientific school said that it has never been the custom of the university to interfere in the private affairs of its professors, and that this case will be no exception.

Prof. Wheeler, whose income is $75,000 annually, was ordered by the court to pay his wife $100,000, and he has gone to Chicago to raise the sum. Mitigating circumstances, as well as the practice of the university, are commonly said to be the reasons why Prof. Wheeler will remain at Yale.

CONVICT IS RELEASED.

Montana Warden Loses in Effort to Hold Jail-Breaker.

Anaconda, Mont., May 19.—Convict Oram Stephens was given his liberty Wednesday following a determined fight waged in the courts, in which Warden Frank Conley sought to continue the man's imprisonment upon the charge of attempting to break prison.

As a result of a sensational attempt to escape two years ago, in which Deputy Warden John Robinson was killed and Conley badly beaten, two convicts were hanged, but Stephens was acquited despite Conley's belief in his guilt.

When Stephens' term expired he was arrested as he left the penitentiary gates several months ago. After the case had been much in the courts, Attorney General Albert J. Galen took a hand in the prosecution and ordered the case dismissed. Stephens was sent up from Fergus county for horse stealing.

RAN FIRST TYPEWRITER.

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—The body of Mrs. Margaret A. Weller, the first woman to operate a typewriter, was taken to Laporte, Ind., for burial yesterday. Mrs. Weller used a typewriter ten years before they were put on the market. The first one, made in 1867, was sent by C. Latham Sholes of Milwaukee to her husband, who was a court stenographer. Mrs. Weller operated it for her husband.

Plumpness Makes Health

This People Need This.

If you are too thin; if you are pale and sallow; if what you eat seems not to strengthen you; if your lips and cheeks are colorless, it is because your blood is deficient in red corpuscles and disease can easily overcome you, as you have no reserve strength or nourishment to uphold you.

A pharmaceutical product, called 3 grain hypo-nuclane tablets, is much prescribed for these conditions, and if taken for several months, rapidly increases weight and improves the color. Buy in sealed package of any well stocked apothecary shop.

WOMAN'S REALM.

The following clipping from a New York paper on the styles in suits, coats and skirts for next fall may be of interest to women of Duluth:

"Suits—The prevailing length of suit jackets for fall will be approximately twenty-eight inches. Shorter lengths will be favored for demi-tailored of fancy models. The strictly tailored styles may be somewhat longer. The cut of the jacket will be slightly shaped, but so treated as to emphasize the straight line figure. Large collars, deep cuffs and the raised waist line effects will be features of trimmed suits. Skirts will be cut with more fulness than last season, but will adhere to the straight line effect. The moderately raised waist line (with inside belting) and the panel front and back are gaining in favor.

"Coats—Separate coats are to be full length, cut on straight and slightly shaped lines. Novelty effects are to consist of the raised waist line, some belted effects, large collars and deep cuffs and some peasant sleeves.

"Skirts—The tendency of separate skirts is toward strictly tailored effects. The panel idea and low tunic will be given prominence.

"An additional style features is the 'slashed effect' shown in many of the coat suits and separate skirts."

Superior Graduates.

Two Superior girls, Miss Anna D. Jerrard and Miss Katherine A. Lust are among the members of the graduating class of the Milwaukee-Downer college, who will be graduated June 20. Miss Jerrard from the music department and Miss Luse from the seminary department.

Masonic Party.

The members of the Temple assembly were hosts last evening at the last of the regular series of dancing parties which they have been giving this season. Nearly 200 dancers enjoyed the program of twenty well chosen numbers played by La Brosse's orchestra and the evening despite the storm, was a pleasant one.

The series this season has proved so delightful and the interest so great that the members are planning to give a big summer party later, which they expect to make quite elaborate.

Second Scholarship.

Miss Ruth Stocking, a sister of David W. Stocking of Hunter's Park, has been honored with a scholarship to Bryn Mawr. These are most difficult to obtain and the winning of it is a high honor. Miss Stocking is a graduate of the Women's college at Baltimore, where she won the scholarship for a post graduate course at the Johns Hopkins university in Baltimore, which school she has been attending this year.

It is seldom that one person wins two such honorary scholarships.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. E. Frank Barker and Mrs. Henry J. Gude of Park Point were hostesses at an afternoon tea this afternoon at the home of the latter to about thirty guests. The affair was planned for the benefit of a fund being raised by them to furnish one of the rooms in the new tuberculosis sanitarium.

Dr. Stella Wilkenson gave an interesting talk and vocal numbers were given by Miss Margaret Linnahan and piano numbers by Miss Ethel Mollitor.

Mrs. Brearley in Austria.

Mrs. Grace Senior Brearley, who left for Europe a few weeks ago, writes to friends here from Wein, Austria, that she is studying with Leopold Godowsky, one of the greatest pianists of the day. He made concert tours in the United States several years ago and from 1950 to 1900 was director of the pianoforte department of the Chicago Conservatory, to which post he was again appointed in 1902. He is also a composer of some note.

He takes but few pupils and they are chosen only from among artists.

Engagement.

Kohn Czolgosz of 118 West Tenth street announces the engagement of his daughter, Pelagia, to Tom Biernat. The wedding will take place on June 20 at the home of the bride's father.

K. of C. Dance.

The Knights of Columbus will be hosts at a formal dancing party this evening at the Spalding hotel. A large number of young people are planning on attending.

Club Entertains.

The girls of the Sigma Alpha club entertained informally last evening in compliment to Mrs. Harry Ackerberg of St. Paul, who has been the guest of Mrs. Robert Graham for two weeks. The party was given at the home of Misses Myrtle and Dorothy Pierce, and roses and ferns were effectively arranged about the rooms. The evening was spent informally by the following:

Misses—
Jessie McGhie, Lily Macaskill,
Louise Ellis, Hazel Roberts,
Maud Lenge, Jessie Muir,
Margaret Gude, Katherine Ellis,
Anabelle Clarke Anna Macaskill,
Lottie Elder, Grace Lewis,
Lilliam Meier,

Mrs. Stebner Hostess.

The Jolly Twelve Cinch club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. E. Stebner of Twenty-seventh avenue west. The prizes were won by Mrs. T. G. Frerker and Mrs. C. Armstead. Among the players were:

THE EVENING STORY

HIS LAST SERMON

By Joseph Linn.

He knew not it was his last, and that his bereaved people would worship next Lord's day with sorrow laden hearts. He had had a good day, and expected others to follow; and spoke of his work with unusual cheerfulness.

Often the Sunday evening was a time of sighing and searching of heart, and his daughter was sometimes at a loss how to bring comfort. The vacant pews seemed only to accuse him of his shortcomings, his arrears of visitation, his flagrant neglect of some families and above all the unattractiveness of his sermons. They are sick of my preaching, he would say.

It was useless, at these times, for Janet to suggest other reasons for the meager attendance, or to assure him that she knew no one was more welcome in the pulpit than himself. With a wave of his hand he would toss aside her explanations and her knowledge of the people's attachment, saying he had his own way of judging and would are long gladden them all with his resignation.

On this evening, however, there did not appear to be a cloud in his sky. He had preached with great comfort and astonishing vigor, and, he believed, with effect. The people frequently spoke of the services of that day, how he laid stress on the great varieties, and pleaded with them, as if he had known he was bringing his ministry to a close.

Laying aside the book he had been perusing, he asked his daughter if she had ever heard him before on that last text. She saw with satisfaction he was inclined for conversation, but before she could reply he added, "Of course not. It was my first after ordination, and somehow I could never fall back on it. Nor was it betaken because I was ill off; for of late, passage after passage has been opening to me, disclosing fresh beauty and wealth, as if appealing to be brought before the congregation."

He looked towards the Bible lying is not done, and what this Book has and resting his hand on it, continued: "Strange, is it not, that when one, after years of reading and pondering, has got a grip of the Book, his work is done?"

"I hope, father——"

He knew what was in her mind, and interrupting her said: "But his work is not done, and what his Book has taught him must do some preparation for the place he is destined to occupy" —a conclusion which manifestly gave him satisfaction.

"As to the text, I felt I would like to declare once more my unchanged purpose to keep close Christ and His cross. Nothing else matters. Forty years lie between the two discourses, and, ah me! how little I have done."

"Don't say that, father. You have not spared yourself." Then playfully alluding to their annual holiday she told him he looked upon it as lost time. "After the first week you become restive, and wish back into harness again."

"Nonsense, child. No one enjoys a holiday more, or deserves it less. It was not, however, my diligence or want of it I was thinking of, but the outcome of those many years, I have nothing to show. Seldom does an echo of all my preaching come back to me."

"But the promises."

"Yes, I remember them, and have held on them through the years to keep me from sinking. I must believe that His word will not return unto Him void, and live and die in faith. But I hoped for what has not come. Throughout my ministry I have had a vision before me. I have seen my little church crowded with eager hearers whom the Lord was drawing to His feet.

"You remember Wakem? A good man. When he went Grimston, he had a great ingathering of souls. He had been preceded by faithful men, and with a wisdom to discern that he had entered into their labors. But it was a blessed experience. May it be my successor's.

"Though unrealized, the vision has been good for me. I know it. Without it, there would not have been the Saturday night's wrestling, and the Sunday night's confession. And who knows that many, even yet, be at hand? Great things have been done in the eleventh hour. Suddenly He may come."

Janet was touched by her father's confession of failure, and his undying hope; but she felt that the movement he had been looking for had blinded him to the gracious answers he had received. Speaking with some approach to vehemence she said: "There are not the throngs or the excitement, but nothing else is lacking. Dear father, don't you perceive things? I can see the people when the text is announced settling in their pews to receive the message. The arrested face, the swiftly falling tear, the rapt expression, the whispered 'Amen.' I am familiar with them all, and especially during these latter days.

"A pastor is not simply evangelist to awaken dull hearers and point them to the wicket gate; he is also the gardener to minister to those in Beulah."

"Your views of pastoral work are correct," he said. Then after a pause, added: "And some are in Beulah. I could name them. They carry sunshine with them. God has been good to me. He has brought in amongst us some who love His name and who have greatly succored me. And, besides, I have surely seen some growing before my eyes in knowledge, attractiveness, and steadfastness. What a joy it is!

"We hear much these days of the advantage to ministers and congregations alike of the short pastorate. Well, that joy is reserved for the long pastorate.

"But," he added sadly, "there are others in the church who little dream that they are wringing the minister's heart. They are sympathetic and helpful, many of them; and some of them are in the heart of the good work carried on; but they have neither part nor lot in this matter. I cannot speak of them. The long pastorate has its joy, but it has also its poignant grief."

"You have chosen the long pastorate," his daughter said.

"Yes," he replied "but many a time, especially during the last ten years, when no choice was left, I have thought that I blundered."

"May the end of your pastorate be far off?"

"It is already longer than at one time seemed likely. You recollect my visit to Dr. Kean? On my way home through the city, I looked at the bustling multitudes and felt myself strangely and wonderfully separated from them all. The doctor was so solemn that I thought I might not reach home alive; and for months afterwards he hampered me by his minute directions. But I was tougher than he supposed."

The daughter slipped down on her knees beside him, and pressing his hand to her quivering lips, said: "Dear, brave daddy."

He gently stroked her hair, then patting her cheek, said:

"You will sing something?"

"Yes. Your favorite hymn?"

"I have no favorite. I have grown fickle, and fall in love with a new one every week. What say you to the last we sung in the church? It went grandly," and he proceeded to hum over the closing words—

"Work till the last beam fadeth,
Fadeth to shine no more;
Work while the night is darkening,
When man's work is o'er."

She seated herself at the organ, and with unusual sweetness sang the familiar hymn, a hymn she will never again hear played or sung without emotion.

Hints for the Boudoir

By MILDRED WYCKOFF.

Cures For Sleeplessness.

A sufferer from insomnia states that she was cured of sleeplessness by the simplest means, that of eating a raw onion sandwich just before going to bed. Less disagreeable to some people is another sandwich cure which has been vouched for by an enthusiast. It is made by buttering thickly two thin slices of bread, then sprinkling them with cayenne pepper. These sandwiches should be eaten just before getting into bed, and sleep is said to quickly follow.

The hot water treatment is advocated by many people. It consists of putting the feet into water as hot as can be borne before going to bed, also to drink a cup of very hot water.

• • •

Blushing and Its Cure.

"Could you give me a remedy for blushing? Every time I am spoken to my face goes very red," says "Troubled Lily."

Blushing is really a form of nervousness, and you should take a good tonic containing plenty of iron. A druggist will make one for you. Go into company as much as possible, and try not to think of yourself. By taking an interest in other people you will forget your little trouble.

• • •

To Curl the Hair.

"Could you tell me of something that will crimp the hair permanently?" asks "Marguerite."

I am afraid I cannot do that, "Marguerite," but if you moisten your hair before crimping it with the following mixture it will retain its wave for two or three days: Mix the white of an egg with half a pint of water, and apply a little to the hair before putting it into curlers or making plaits.

• • •

Anxious—Don't worry about it at all. At your age there is lots of time for gradual reducing of flesh and, besides, what you think is a deformity many women are proud of. Take lots of exercise, particularly walking, and don't eat much fatty food.

Don't Stay Too Long

By ALVA ARMSTRONG.

When a man finds that he is in love, it is only human nature that he should want to enjoy as much of the society of the girl who has won his heart as possible. But here, as in most other things, the exercise of tact and discretion is necessary, and the more so if he is not yet formally engaged.

In particular he should not call too often at her home without invitation, and when he is there he should be careful not to stay too late. Very likely the girl herself will not mind very much, however long he remains, but she is not the only one to be considered, though this is a point which the average young man in love finds it difficult to realize.

There are the girl's parents and brothers and sisters, and they do not, as does the young man, consider that the world should revolve around one particular member of the family. Love has often been called blind, but the blindness is mainly manifested with regard to the adored one's surroundings rather than herself.

The man in love will note every mood of a girl—the girl—while he will quite overlook the moods of, say, her father. He will stay on and on because she smiles at him, oblivious of the fact that her father is scowling.

I believe that many of the minor obstacles that hamper the course of true love are created by the suitor's indifference to the remaining members of the girl's family. He is apt to take it for granted that they must be as glad to see him as the girl is, and by coming too often and staying too late it is more than possible that he may come to be regarded as a bore.

It will not help his progress with the girl if her people begin to make disparaging remarks about him. She will either come to agree with them—and then goodby to his hopes of winning her—or she may cause friction at home by the heat with which she sticks up for him, and thus cause her family to take a real dislike to him. He may say that he does not mind if they do, but if this is his attitude he is remarkably foolish, and may look out for many a pin prick that could have been avoided.

Of the two faults, calling too often, and staying too late, alas! they often go together, the latter is perhaps the most likely to be resented. The young man who would have the way of courtship as smooth as possible should bear in mind that the girl he loves is but one member of her family.

The Kitchen

Salmon Croquettes.

Drain one can of salmon and pour over hot water to remove as much of the oil as possible, then dry on a piece of cheesecloth; separate into flakes.

There should be one and three-fourths cupfuls. Add one cupful of thick white sauce, using three tablespoonfuls of butter, one-third of a cupful of flour and one cupful of milk.

Season with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of cayenne. Shape and fry the same as other croquettes.

Ginger Dessert.

Three ounces of preserved ginger, chopped; two ounces crushed macaroons; grated rind of one lemon; two tablespoonfuls of sugar; three-quarters gill of milk, a quarter of a pint of cream, three-quarters of a pint of custard flavored with ginger extract, one heaping teaspoonful of powdered gelatin.

Soak the gelatin in the milk for a few minutes and then dissolve over the fire. Whip the cream, add the custard, sugar, lemon rinds, macaroons and chopped ginger.

Mix thoroughly, then strain in the dissolved gelatin. Stir occasionally until beginning to set, and pour into a mold previously rinsed in cold water. Set the mold on ice or in a cool place and when firm turn out to serve.

To Cook Spinach.

One large cupful of spinach, boiled and run through a sieve. A small cupful of grated Parmesan cheese; a can of artichoke bottoms, half a cupful of cream, one hard boiled egg and salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the spinach with the cheese, chopped egg and enough cream to form a soft paste. Season carefully. Heat the artichoke bottoms in a little milk and water, drain and lay on the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Put a heap of the spinach mixture on top of each bottom and bake in the oven for fifteen minutes.

Serve with melted butter, seasoned with a little lemon juice.

When cleaning bronze ornaments, first brush out the dust, then apply a very little sweet oil all over the article Polish first with a soft duster, finally with a wash leather.

WOMEN WILL BE USHERS

Members of Auxiliaries to Have Part in Memorial Day Exercises.

Every Military Organization Is Represented in Program for the Day.

Preparations for Memorial day are being pushed rapidly forward, and now comes President S. S. Williamson of the Citizens' Staff with a brand new stunt, and one that is sure to appeal. The plans contemplate letting the women of the various organizations do some of the work.

The ushers of the monster mass meeting on Decoration day are to be young women. Those named for this honor are members of the Sons of Veterans' auxiliary, No. 5. The women of the other organizations are also to be employed, and it is understood that they are giving their attention to the details of the various requests made upon them in their general wholesouled way, which bespeaks success in the highest degree.

The Ladies' auxiliary of Camp John G. McEwen, U. S. W. V., have been asked to take charge of decorating the speakers' platform and to spare no pains in making it as attractive as possible. Flags and flowers and draperies in abundance will be furnished and the John G. McEwen auxiliary is taking hold of this part of the work with enthusiasm.

An effort has been made to divide the work and honors of the occasion between all the patriotic orders in Duluth. Every organization will be represented. For instance, the Garfield circle No. 4, ladies of the G. ... R., will serve a dinner at Memorial hall, immediately after the mass meeting to the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. The ladies of the J. B. Culver Post No. 69, are to have charge of the exercises to the sailor-soldier dead on the training ship Gopher.

The famous Gorman post drum corps will be in line and one of the daughters of the post will sing at the mass meeting. A veteran of the Culver post will have charge of the exercises for the school children, a representative of the Sons of Vetterans will read Lincoln's immortal address at Gettysburg, and Camp John G. McEwen, U. S. W. V., will furnish the orator of the day. Camp Major A. M. Diggles will furnish the male soloist of the day.

In other words, each of the organizations has been given representation on the program, and if indications count for anything, there will dawn a day on the thirtieth of this month that will live long in the memory of Duluthians.

TUNNEL BUILDER IN AUTO ACCIDENT

William G. McAdoo Gets Two Ribs and an Arm Broken.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 19.—William G. McAdoo, the New York tunnel builder, will be confined in the hospital here for several days following an automobile accident yesterday. Two of his ribs and his right arm were broken when he and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman were thrown out of a car while returning from the Farmingdale Preventorium, of which both are directors. Mrs. Harriman escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

AUTO OWNERS HANG BACK

Many Have Failed to Pay Their Wheelage Tax for 1911.

Warrants Will Be Sworn Out Soon to Hurry Payment.

Of at least 500 automobiles owners in the city but 175 have paid their wheelage taxes for 1911. Unless the city gets the money. Its street maintenance and repairing fund will be greatly hampered and many important improvements delayed.

"We have a complete list of the owners of automobiles in the city," said James Walsh, special city officer who has these collections in charge, this morning. "If they do not comply with the provisions of the ordinance very shortly, we will issue warrants for their arrest. From present indications these warrants will be put out in big batches, and the officers will be kept busy making arrests."

There are many other vehicle owners who are delinquent in the same respect, and officer Walsh states that they will get the same treatment as the owners of automobiles.

The money raised by the wheelage tax is expended by the board of public works for improving the streets. Under the provisions of the ordinance it can be used for no other purpose. Figuring upon a full collection, the levy for the board of public works was cut down heavily by the conference committee last fall when it prepared the local budget. In the past the works fund has always been considered too small, and it is certain that unless the wheelage tax money is available in a very short time, the board will be severely crippled in its operations this season. For that reason a special effort will be made without the loss of time to collect all money which is due the city from this source.

Houghton, Mich., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—President Taft will visit Houghton, Aug 8, to attend the quarter-centennial celebration at the Michigan College of Mines, according to a telegram received here today from Governor Osborn, now in Washington. Governor Osborn is to take part in the exercises, and men of national importance are to be in attendance.

CONCERT BY CHILDREN

Grade School Students Will Give Program at Central High School.

Greater Interest Among Children in School Music to Be Aroused.

During the past month the children of the various grades of the public schools of the city have been preparing for a school concert to be given on the evening of Tuesday, May 23, at the Central high school.

It has been impossible to have all the schools represented, but an effort has been made to represent the different sections of the city and the smaller schools as well as the large. If the concert proves to be worth while, from a musical standpoint, it is planned to give a similar entertainment next year which will include those schools not taking part this spring.

The primary object in having the school children prepare such a concert is to lend an added interest to the music work in the schools. While the selections are, in some cases, of considerable difficulty, the aim has been not to attempt anything showy, but to give the boys and girls such music as would afford them pleasure in working upon it, be worth the effort expended and such music as might be a part of their regular work.

An unusual number will be supplied by the Lincoln school, a chorus composed of fifty boys. The boys are very proud to work quite independent of the girls. They will sing both in unison and in parts.

Musically, perhaps, this is something of an experiment, but not so as regards enthusiasm.

A pretty feature of the evening will be a series of folk games played by a class of small children under the direction of Miss Nellie Stoughton.

The various choruses have been trained by their own teachers or principals, under the direction of Miss Clara Thomas, the supervisor of music in the schools.

On Saturday afternoon of this week, at 3 o'clock the concert will be given for the school children not taking part. No adults with the exception of teachers in charge, will be admitted.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert Tuesday evening. No admission will be charged at either performance, but a collection will be taken Tuesday evening to defray incidental expenses.

Following is the program as arranged at present:

FRUIT MUST BE COVERED

Health Inspectors Begin Another Campaign Against Owners of Stands.

The health department has renewed its campaign to cause all fruit exposed for sale on the streets to be covered. This was started last year, and before the summer was out the regulations in this respect were being generally observed. But with the coming of warm weather this season the owners of the candy stores and fruit stands seem to have forgotten the requirements of the department in this respect.

Inspector Bernhardt, in addition to his duties as meat inspector, has been detailed to see that all fruit exposed for sale is kept covered. He visited the office of the city attorney this morning for the purpose of swearing out a warrant for one of the large fruit dealers on Superior street, but was unable to get the warrant as the attorney was busy in municipal court.

The same man was arrested last year on a similar charge. The officials state that the dust from the streets settling upon the fruit is liable to spread disease. They claim that it is a most insanitary practice and that it must be stopped.

NOVEL INDIAN SUIT.

Dusky Maiden Sues Brave for Breach of Promise.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A case of considerable interest was commenced in the district court of this county a few days ago. It is one of those cases which goes to show how rapidly the Sioux Indians are advancing along the lines of civilization.

The case is entitled Elizabeth One Bear against Jacob Abraham, and is one wherein the plaintiff sues the defendant for breach of marriage promise, and alleges in her complaint that she has been damaged to the extent of $5,000.

FOUND DEAD IN FIELD.

Farmer Living Near Hinckley Victim of Tuberculosis.

Hinckley, Minn., May 19.—Louis Lundgren, who lives west of town on what is known as the Trossen farm, was found dead in the pasture near his home Tuesday evening. He went over to his neighbor, J. F. Paulsons and being absent longer than usual his wife went after him and found him kneeling by a stump with his head resting on his arms, dead. The deceased was afflicted with tuberculosis.

Montana Ranchman Slain.

Dillon, Mont., May 19.—John Thomas, a well known rancher of Horse Prairie Creek was found dead in his cabin. The top of his head had been completely blown off. He is supposed to have been murdered as no gun was found within reach of the dead man.

It is important when desiring the address of your paper changed to give both the old and new addresses.

The Duluth Herald accepts advertising contracts with the distinct guarantee that it has the largest circulation of any newspaper published in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities. Its value as an advertising medium is apparent.

The law of the harvest is to reap more than you sow. Sow an act and you reap a habit; sow a habit and you reap a character; sow a character and you reap a destiny.

DULUTH AS A SUMMER RESORT.

In his inspiring address to the new public affairs committee of the Commercial club last evening, Chairman McGonagle favored advertising Duluth as a summer resort. This is a work in which the club may engage to the profit of the city and of Northern Minnesota.

It is important in itself that pleasure-seekers should come to Duluth and make it the starting point for their summer recreation trips. Men on pleasure bent have money and spend it, even though they have to live on bread and cheese for the rest of the year. The money they leave behind is worth working for.

But the real importance of advertising the attractions of Duluth as a summer resort and Northern Minnesota as a pleasure ground goes much farther than that.

There is everything here to tempt pleasure-seekers and to please them when they come. There is the finest summer climate out of doors, the best fishing and hunting, and abundant opportunities for rest and comfort and outdoor sports of every kind.

But besides that, Duluth and Northern Minnesota have other advantages which they are anxious the world should know about. There is no better way of letting the world know about it than to have the world come here and see. Men who read about the opportunities for manufacturing, agriculture and other kinds of enterprises in this section cannot begin to have so clear an idea of it as those who come here and see it for themselves.

Among those who would be attracted here by a proper campaign of advertising the attractions of Duluth and Northern Minnesota for summer pleasuring would be many with capital to invest in the profitable development of these latent opportunities that lie out of doors on every hand.

With the summer resort business as a means of getting such people here, there will be a far better chance than there is now to spread the good news that here is a good place to come to and to live in and to do business in.

There are a lot of enterprises for the good of Duluth and Northern Minnesota that are nowhere so large in their possibilities for good as this business of advertising the summer resort attractions of this section.

Speaking of the new public affairs committee, by the way, it looks like about the liveliest and best constituted committee the club has had yet, and it took hold of its highly important duties last night with a vim and vigor that overflowed with evidences of the proper spirit.

LEGISLATION BY THE COURT.

The statement that the supreme court practically amended the Sherman anti-trust law by its decision limiting its prohibitions to methods constituting "undue" restraint of trade has raised again the always interesting and always important question of the rights of the courts to tamper with the law.

Many people believe that the courts have arrogated to themselves a power never intended for them when they restrict or expand or practically repeal laws by their decisions. That belief is not new; it was held by some of the patriots who were most influential in forming the American system of government.

But on the whole it is perhaps putting it too strongly to say that the supreme court "amended" the Sherman law. It still comes within the meaning of the word "interpret," though it must be admitted that the word must be stretched considerably to compass it.

The common law always has safeguarded society against "undue" restraint of trade. There really isn't much need of an anti-trust law in states where the common law prevails, because the common law, while it contains no inhibitions against the growth of industrial enterprises, does prohibit the methods of the thug in attaining that growth.

But there is no application of the common law in the Federal courts. It does not reach interstate commerce. The supreme court takes the view that the Sherman act was an attempt to put into Federal statute law the protection afforded the state by the common law. Viewed in the light of that law, the law of custom and common understanding, the decision in the oil case is an interpretation, not an amendment of the Sherman act.

It should be clearly understood that the object of such laws need not be to prevent bigness in corporations, but badness in corporations. There is nothing inherently evil in size, save that bigness makes for power. There is nothing inherently evil in power, save that its possession tempts to its misuse. The way to insure that the power so gained shall be used wisely and honestly is to assert and exert a power that shall at all times be supreme and unquestioned—the power of the people acting through government.

The issue cannot be clear so long as bigness in corporations is confused with badness. Mere bigness may be, and often is, a great economic gain by which the people may profit if they wish. If an industry can be operated more efficiently and more economically under one organization than under many organizations, then putting it under one organization is clear gain. It is none the less a gain because it becomes a complete monopoly. The postal service is a complete monopoly, but nothing but good for the people has come out of it. Why? Because it was not left, unregulated, to the will of private greed.

To let monopolies grow up and leave unchecked the greed of those in control of them would be to enslave a people and destroy free government.

To attempt by statute law to prevent the operations of economic law is not only mischievous, but absurd.

The remedy would seem to be to cease wastefully futile attempts to check the operation of economic law by statute law, to look the situation squarely in the face, and by substituting regulation for repression see to it that the corporations, great and small alike, shall remain the creatures of government, not its masters, and the servants of society, not its tyrannical oppressors.

THE INSURGENT AND THE STANDPATTER.

Generally speaking, the East is the home of manufacturing in this country. Senators and representatives from the East have worked for a generation to keep Eastern manufacturers amply protected by high tariff schedules. More than protecting them, they have made the tariff a license by which these manufacturers have levied heavy tribute upon the consumers.

The people of the West—and many elsewhere—got pretty tired of this at last, and of the men who perpetuated this vicious system. That was the chief offense of Aldrich, Payne, Hale, Burrows, Cannon, Smoot et al. It was the head and front of their offending, and for it the people grew to hate them. The tariff was the glue that held their organization together.

Then came the "insurgents" out of the West, a gallant band whose members dared to beard the standpat lions in their den. The insurgents of the West charged the standpatters of the East with high crimes against the common good and with making the tariff an instrument by which the few plundered the many; and the people rejoiced that at last men daring to speak the truth and to do the right had arisen in congress.

Now comes reciprocity, intended to tear down the barriers to trade between two sister and neighbor countries. Because they fear that it will remove the "protection" from the farmers of their states, or because they fear the votes of those who harbor this fear, the insurgents, who could pass it, stand against it.

They are doing exactly the same thing that Aldrich and Hale did, and for exactly the same reason. They are fighting against the common good in the supposed selfish interest of their own sections.

The insurgent, judged by his conversation, was a brilliant and promising figure in public life. He held aloft the flaming beacon of hope.

The insurgent, put to the test, is proving to be as like the standpatter as twin peas in a pod.

Startled by the false and silly alarms of his granger constituency, he has dashed that beacon of hope to the ground to run to the rescue of the sacred schedules of the sanctified Payne-Aldrich bill. Holding the balance of power, he refuses to use it to gain that for which he clamored but a few months ago.

Wherein, since they are both guilty of the same offense, is the insurgent an improvement on the standpatter?

Which is the more admirable to behold; the standpatter, who never pretended to be anything else but a guardian of the sacrosanct schedules of the protective tariff, or the insurgent, whose lofty pretenses of loyalty to the common good sounded so well and are proving so hollow when put to the test?

A TIME FOR GOOD CHEER.

A local story in The Herald last evening reported the local jobbers as expressing the most optimistic opinions about the business outlook in the Northwest.

Well they may be optimistic. There is no excuse, in fact, for anybody being anything but optimistic about the business outlook. Generally, the one element of doubt is congress, and it is pretty well settled now that not much will come out of the special session except the ratification of the Canadian reciprocity treaty, which is another reason for optimism because the working of the treaty is going to be good for every line of business, including that of farming.

Everybody, except those who haven't yet got around to the inevitable realization that it is not bigness in corporations but badness that hurts, and that there are plenty of ways of reaching and punishing badness in corporation managers, appears to be well satisfied with the supreme court decision in the oil trust case. Certainly big business is happy over it, and ready to go ahead all along the line.

In the Northwest, which is still feeling to some extent last year's crop shortage, there is every possible evidence that the yield this year will more than make up for last season's deficit.

There is hardly a cloud in the financial sky, not even one as big as the proverbial man's hand. The sun of promise is high in the heavens. It is a time for good cheer and for getting ready to reap the harvest of prosperity that is bound to come.

THE YELLOW PERIL OF THE LAWN.

In the work of city-building clean, velvety lawns are a factor not to be despised. They give an appearance of tidiness, comfort and prosperity that helps to make the city attractive to those you are trying to get here.

The dandelion is the biggest menace to this most desirable condition. In spite of its cheerful golden bloom at this season, the dandelion's greed makes necessary a constant struggle on the part of the householder. If he gives in to the yellow peril, his lawn is gone.

The remedy for the dandelion evil vouched for by several scientists and experts and given in the local columns of The Herald last night, seems to have been well proved. Sulphate of iron or copper, dissolved in water at the rate of a pound and a half to two pounds of the sulphate to a gallon of water and sprayed on the dandelion plants, is said to be an effective method of getting rid of the pest. It does not harm the clover and blue grass that makes your lawn, but it kills the dandelions. It does discolor clothing, iron and stone, so that its use must be attended by watchful care.

A real remedy for dandelions is worth while, and Duluth needs it very much.

THAT TAX ON CREDITS.

The 3-mill tax on money and credits provided by the last legislature doesn't bear inspection very well, apparently. There is a wide outcry against it, and doubtless it will be tested in the courts. The trouble seems to be with the attorney general's construction that debts cannot be balanced against credits or bank balances in making the assessment; and this is something the legislature probably never contemplated. If John borrows a thousand dollars from Jim and has it in the bank at assessment time, both must pay a tax on a thousand dollars, one on the money and the other on the credit. That, very clearly, isn't right.

The further people go in trying to devise fair taxes on personal property, the more impossible it seems to reach that result.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

LAKESIDER WANTS A MILK CARNIVAL ALSO.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Out here in the peaceful quiet of Lakeside, I have conceived a plan for advertising Duluth that has the Midsummer Carnival two points down and groggy.

Why not stage a grand Homecrofters' convention or pageant, or vaudeville show, or whatever you want to call it?

We'll put it on out at Woodland amid those sylvan groves, and beside the burbling brook. For a curtain raiser we can give a ten-minute, catch-as-catch can debate between a Woodlander and a Lakesider on the relative merits of the two suburbs. Following this would be a rural drama, showing the beauties of life on the farm. Some gentle pastoral scene with the honest country boy featured, would fill the bill. Following this we could stage a ten-minute spading contest between a Lakesider and a Woodlander. Let each suburb chose its most expert spader, and let them compete to see who can turn over the greatest amount of sod in ten minutes.

For the next number I would suggest a Milkmaid's chorus or pageant with the beautiful daughters of Lakesiders and Woodlanders in milkmaids' costume, singing some appropriate songs like "Down by the Riverside" and doing a dance with cows decorated with pink ribbons, in the background.

Then could come a selection by the village bands, something like "The Lay of the Hen" or anything else appropriate.

Talk about advertising our water. Mr. Editor, why not advertise our milk? Instead of erecting monuments to Daniel Greysolon Du Lhut, we should erect a monument to the humble potato, and statues of the dairy cow and the bacon hog. The foundation of our noble city is not laid on the solid granite alone, but on the humble cabbage.

The water carnival is a great scheme, Mr. Editor, but let us have a milk carnival too. Long live the homecrofter, Mr. Editor. It's great stuff, and those who haven't a garden are missing a good part of life these days.

THE LAKESIDER.

Duluth, May 18.

Facing the Present and the Future.

Chicago Tribune: Fortified by legal reasoning which will seem conclusive to some and sophistical to others, the supreme court of the United States brings the Sherman act into conformity with the economic tendency of a generation.

The impassioned statesmen of the Fifty-first congress may have intended the abolition of all combinations in restraint of trade. A reading of congressional debates of 1889 and 1890 will convince the ingenuous laymen that most of the representatives of the people would enjoy nothing better than to eat a "trust" for breakfast every morning.

The supreme court, looking wisely back upon that volcanic assembly through the oool perspective of twenty odd years, is disposed to think that the legislative intent of the Fifty-first congress was less sweeping and violent than its rhetoric. And pondering upon the habit of legislatures, the citizen may conclude that the supreme court is right.

Whichever view is right, the law of economic tendency has been working in silent, majestic indifference to laws and lawmakers. Combination and concentration have gone forward and the transformation which was viewed with such alarm in the late eighties has been completed.

The supreme court faced a condition, not a theory, and its decision is in keeping with the main current of opinion as to the inevitability of modern business organization through legitimate combination. The theory rather crudely put forward as to "good" trusts and "bad" trusts now has been more carefully defined. The supreme court has recognized that combinations in restraint of trade may be harmful to the public, while others which really operate in restraint it is public policy to permit.

The effect of the decision ought to be good. It will curb combination without prohibiting it within lines of public policy. If each case must stand upon its own bottom, it ought not to be difficult to defeat seriously injurious restraints and to punish substantial violations of the real intendment of the Sherman act.

On the other hand, it must be recognized by every thinking citizen that we have in a sense committed ourselves to a new economic era and that we must face its responsibilities Justice Harlan's dissent will be echoed in many places, and there can be little question that though public opinion has been modified as to the desirability of combinations and there is a relaxation of the rigors of popular condemnation, there is as much need for an alert and vigorous surveillance of big business activities in the interest of the public welfare.

The courts, after all, reflect the conscience of the times. If we go to sleep, aggregations of capital will become not only overlarge but overfree. What is reasonable, what is harmful, will depend not merely upon academic reasoning but upon conceptions vitalized by public opinion.

Scientific Management in Industry.

Louis D. Brandeis, in The Survey: The assertion that American prosperity is due to our great natural resources is only partly true. In New England, particularly, our necessities and not our resources, were the real cause of our prosperity. A poor soil drove us to manufacturing. High wages necessitated the saving of human labor and became the mother of our inventions, giving us labor saving machinery. That the people of the East have not attained even greater general well-being is due, in large part, to the fact that the supply of foreign low-priced workingmen made it possible to meet the demand for higher wages by means other than the elimination of labor waste. Human nature, like the inanimate, seeks the path of least resistance. To think hard and persistently is painful. The path of the pioneer is beset with obstacles. It was easier to tap the inexhaustible foreign labor supply than to devise and to introduce better methods and better management. Instead of keeping down the labor cost by eliminating unnecessary human effort and increasing the production of the individual, we meet the workingman's demand for higher wages by the increased supply of workers. Instead of conserving the workingmen, we accepted the ready substitutes for those incapaciated by disease or accident resulting from excessive toil or improper conditions of employment.

Fortunately a new necessity has intervened: the awakened social sense of the community, with its longing for a truer democracy. This great ethical movement for real brotherhood of man reinforces the demand of the workingman for wages, hours, and conditions which will permit his living according to those higher standards essential to life, health, and the performance in a democracy of the duties of citizenship. These new and increasing demands have created a new necessity for economy in production. And scientific management comes prepared to relieve comparable only to that effected in the transition from hard labor to machinery.

The Amenities.

"Well, in spite of our doctrinal differences," says the Presbyterian, "we will all be together in heaven."

"Yes," says the Methodist, "let us hope that we shall all meet there and nevermore walk separate ways."

"Ah," says the Congregationalist, "how blessed it is to think that we shall all be a band of brethren up there—all of us with wings and—"

"All of us except the Baptists," interrupts the Unitarian. "They'll have fins."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

He's That From Every Standpoint.

Menahga Journal: From a Democratic standpoint Representaive Keefe, author of the direct senator law, is "the noblest Roman of them all."

Just Making Conversation.

Walker Pilot: It seems that when Governor Eberhart said that he would call an extra session of the legislature if necessary, to pass a reapportionment bill, he was simply making a speech.

Doesn't Look Right.

Aurora News: The Duluth Herald and practically every independent newspaper in the country has condemned the kidnaping of the McNamaras, labor leaders and alleged dynamiters. And these papers are right in their attitude. Without exception they take the position that the act encourages lawlessness by breeding class hatred. In the minds of many workingmen the act justifies anything they desire to do against capital. If the McNamaras are guilty, which we admit is possible, they could have been extradited and taken to California in a dignified and regular manner and not secretly arrested and hustled off some 1,500 miles without being given an opportunity to consult either friends or attorneys. The affair disgraces American justice.

Pretty Things About Sam.

Wahkon Enterprise: Sam Y. Gordon was the candidate of the state press for lieutenant governor last year. He was elected and made good. Indications are that he will be the candidate of the press for governor next year. If so, he will be elected and will again make good.

Will Be a Day of Rejoicing.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: The railroads have announced that after July 1 they will raise passenger rates back to the old rate of 3 cents a mile. The old rate will be maintained pending the final determination of the Sanborn decision in the rate cases. Why don't they make the rate 4 or even 5 cents a mile since no one seems to have power to regulate rates? There will be a day of reckoning anyway and the railroads may as well gouge the eyes out of the public while they may, but the railroads would in turn not complain if the public does the same when the power to regulate is shifted.

The Absentee Governor.

Northfield News: Do you remember having heard this complaint when John A. Johnson was governor, "He is out of the state too much"? It has a sort of familiar ring hasn't it? Remember how they used to spring that on us four and six years ago. And how they used it for campaign material against the best governor Minnesota ever had?

Well, have you attempted to figure out how many days Eberhart has spent in Minnesota since the first of the year? Don't do it. It will make you wonder who is governor of Minnesota.

You Have One More Guess, Maybe.

Breckenridge Gazette: There is much comment these days in the country press anent the proposed seven senators amendment, and most of it is favorable to the amendment, too. We look to see that particular patch placed on the Constitution by a whaling big vote.

Lincoln's Favorite Hymn.

(Reprinted by request.)

O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?
Like a swift-fleeting meteor, a fast flying cloud,
A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave,
He passeth from life to his rest in the grave.

The leaves of the oak and the willow shall fade,
Be scattered around, and together be laid;
As the young and the old, the low and the high,
Shall orumble to dust and together shall lie.

The infant a mother attended and loved,
The mother that infant's affection who proved,
The father that mother and infant who blest,—
Each, all are away to that dwelling of rest.

The maiden whose brow, on whose cheek, in whose eye,
Shone beauty and pleasure, her triumphs are by,
And alike from the minds of the living erased
Are the memories of mortals who loved her and praised.

The head of the king, that the sceptre hath borne,
The brow of the priest, that the mitre hath worn;
The eye of the sage, and the heart of the brave,
Are hidden and lost in the depths of the grave.

The peasant, whose lot was to sow and to reap,
The herdsman, who climbed with his goats up the steep;
The beggar who wandered in search of his bread,
Have faded away like the grass that we tread.

So the multitude goes, like the flower or weed,
That withers away to let others succeed;
So the multitude comes, even those we behold,
To repeat every tale that has often been told.

For we are the same our fathers have been;
We see the same sights that our fathers have seen,
We drink the same stream, we see the same sun,
And run the same course our fathers have run.

The thoughts we are thinking our fathers did think,
From the death we are shrinking our fathers did shrink;
To the life we are clinging our fathers did cling,
But it speeds from us all like the bird on the wing.

They loved—but the story we cannot unfold;
They scorned, but the heart of the haughty is cold;
They grieved, but no wail from their slumbers will come;
They joyed, but the tongue of their gladness is dumb.

They died,—ah! they died;—we things that are now,
That walk on the turf that lies over their brow,
And make in their dwellings a transient abode,
Meet the things that they met on their pilgrimage road.

Yea, hope and despondency, pleasure and pain,
Are mingled together in sunshine and rain;
And the smile and the tear, and the song and the dirge,
Still follow each other like surge upon surge.

'Tis the wink of an eye; 'tis the draught of a breath,
From the blossom of health to the paleness of death,
From the gilded saloon to the bier and the shroud;
O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?

—William Knox.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Some country life is more like death.

No sooner do the furnace coal bills come down than it's time to pay for summer vacations.

The great thing in an argument is to let the other fellow do the talking till he disproves himself.

A man can think he can afford champagne in a restaurant, but that bottled water is an extravagance at home.

What a man can't understand is how a woman can wait eagerly for the postman on the first day of the month bill day just like any other.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1891.

•••At this morning's session of the chamber of commerce a letter from George W. Cole, a real estate dealer in Chicago, was read, saying: "The thought has occurred to me that inasmuch as we have a surplus of young ladies skilled in the various branches and professions of business life, it might be policy to submit a proposition to some of you Western cities and if accepted it might enable me to bring out a number of young ladies such as bookkeepers, stenographers and clerks who would gladly embrace an opportunity to go West and help build up the country. If Duluth would agree to furnish transportation and allow me a commission of $5 a head I would bring a trainload of girls." The letter was laid on the table.

•••George J. McManus of this city, but lately of Montreal, wrote to the chamber of commerce that he learned that the old home of Sieur Daniel Greysolon Du Lhut, for whom Duluth was named, was still standing at the corner of St. Francis Xaiver and St. Paul streets, Montreal, and that the city was to commemorate, by mural tablets, events in its past history. He stated that a tablet, or better still a statue, on this building, put there by Duluth, would be of great interest and some value. The matter was referred to a committee.

•••The new council of West Duluth held its first meeting last evening, when the following appointments were made: Vice president, S. M. Smith; village attorney, H. M. Phelps; chief of police, Thomas Madden; captain, M. Fallon; first sergeant, Robert Grant; second sergeant, Stephen Doyle; patrolmen, Peter Habberstadt, Charles Strader, James Hall, Thomas Ryan, E. Bergren, Daniel Sullivan and A. Brigham; health officer and detective, Mr. Daniels; janitor, Peter Grasser; chief of fire department, W. H. Short; village engineer, Fred L. Kuhn.

•••Eber Ward has secured the Hopkins as the third boat of his newly organized Duluth and Ogdensburg line, of which the Saginaw Valley and Toledo are the other members.

•••Charles J. Benson of Jamestown, N. Y., is looking over West Duluth and will probably locate there.

•••Clan Stewart has decided to march in the Memorial day parade.

•••Among Duluthians who will be present at the unveiling ceremonies of the Norse statue in Chicago on May 23 are Per Larke and O. Ellison.

•••J. H. Crawford left this morning for Denver, where he intends to locate.

•••D. H. Hayes & Co. of this city have been awarded the contract for the superstructure of the Burrows building to be erected on the corner of Superior street and Third avenue west. The building will cost about $115,000.

•••E. P. Roe has returned from a visit to Denver.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS

Buffalo Express: "Mrs. Billerock is getting old—I know it."

"What now?"

"She says that the stores don't have as good bargains now as formerly."

Washington Star: "Did that explorer suffer any physical ailment as a result of his trip to the Arctic regions?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"Writer's cramp."

Houston Post: "You are the first man I ever permitted to kiss me."

"And you are the first girl I ever kissed. Will you marry me?"

"I wouldn't marry a liar."

"I would."

Louisville Courier-Journal: "I hear you actually encourage your boy to send poetry to the magazines. Do you want your son to become a poet?"

"No; I merely want him to get the conceit knocked out of him."

Washington Star: "Does that Mexican general follow the Spanish custom and keep saying 'tomorrow?'"

"No, he has improved on it. He says 'day after tomorrow.'"

Chicago Tribune: "Ever hear the story of the eggs that had been kept in cold storage for ten years?"

"No."

"Decade."

Kansas City Journal: "Opportunity is like everyone else."

"In what way?"

"Always anxious to call on the man who is already successful."

Pele Mele: Friend (fishing for a cigar)—Hullo, old chap, your cigar smells good. But why has it a black band around it?

Old Chap—In mourning for its brother.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "What you need is outdoor exercise."

"But a man can't take outdoor exercise at this season, doc. It's too cold to sit on the bleachers now."

Pittsburg Post: "Husband, were you really visiting a friend last night?"

"I was."

"And was he really sick?"

"He was, and no wonder. He never won a pot."

Chicago News: Mistress—I'm sorry you are going to leave, Marie. Are you going to better yourself?

Marie—No, ma'am. I'm going to get married.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: One can't always judge a woman's disposition by the size of her smile.

Of course the girl a man marries is a perfect dream—but later he wakes up.

A woman is willing to admit anything—except that her photographs do her justice.

Some men are anxious to get money because they think it will enable them to get more.

A man can lead any woman to talk, but he can't always make her say what he wants to hear.

There's nothing disappoints a woman more than not to be disappointed when she expects to be.

It sometimes happens that a woman marries a man because she is sorry for him. But is not that a poor way to show her sympathy?

There are times in the life of every small boy when he would like to assume the role of father to the man for a few brief moments.

The World.

He argued his suit, she answered "No."
But the world went on revolving just the same,
Her answer filled his heart with woe,
But the world went on revolving just the same.
She had no wish to be his bride,
Her cold rejection hurt his pride,
He med-i-ta-ted su-i-ci-de,
But the world went on revolving just the same.

The business man ran out of cash,
But the world went on revolving just the same.
His business simply went to smash,
But the world went on revolving just the same.
He pleaded with the banks, but no,
They wouldn't help him make it go,
And so his heart was filled with woe,
But the world went on revolving just the same.

And so it is—we come to grief,
But the world goes on revolving just the same.
Our ship runs on a jagged reef
But the world goes on revolving just the same.
And when at last, in course of years,
There comes an end to hopes and fears,
And we must leave this vale of tears,
It will go right on revolving just the same.
—Somerville Journal.

For Dad's Sake.

Ideas: The young man was leaning on the garden gate chatting with the object of his affections when the latter said hesitatingly, "I am going to ask a great favor of you."

"It's already granted," he answered devotedly.

"A very great favor," she repeated, as if doubtful of the propriety of stating it. "You're sure that you won't think it forward of me?"

"Never," he answered: "nothing you asked ouuld be too great a trial. Only tell me what I can do for you."

"Well," she replied, with evident reluctance, "would you mind not leaning on that gate? Father painted it this afternoon, and he will be awfully provoked if he has to do it all over again."

The Fellow Feeling.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The thin man darted across the platform.

"Will you hold the train a moment for my wife, conductor?" he gasped. 'She is just crossing the street."

"Can't do it," snorted the conductor, as he raised his hand to signal the engineer.

"B-but, conductor, she's going away to stay six months," cried the thin man. "If she doesn't go now she may change her mind."

"I'll hold it," the conductor replied.

A HARMONY PLATFORM.

Emporia Gazette: The trouble with the Republicans doesn't seem to be so much about getting a harmony candidate as a harmony platform. The Gazette is something of the platform-maker itself, and submits the following platform that should contain nothing to afford the taste of the most fastidious:

We hereby endorse the Republican national platform of 1912, and restate our loyalty to our own interpretation of its ringing and dubious phrases. We reaffirm our faith in the theory of protection and its handmaiden, reciprocity, believing, as we do, that the handmaiden should not get too gay.

We pledge our support to President Taft and commend his administration without qualification for his magnificent stand in the fisheries dispute and as to his affair with the handmaiden, well may he who is without sin hew to the line, letting the chips fall where they will. While indorsing our beloved president for his loyalty to our interests in Kansas, by his reciprocity policy, we desire also to indorse the valiant work of our two senators in bitterly opposing his reciprocity policy and therby saving millions of dollars for the Kansas farmers that the president's policy might have lost to them. Neither are we negligent of the noble work of these tried and true Kansas congressmen who, by their vote and voice sustained the president in his reciprocity contest, thereby proving their devotion to the part that struck the shackles from 4,000,000 slaves and to its leader, whom all congressmen owe fedual allegiance as the titular head of the party.

We declare for the income tax as a principle which should only be invoked in an emergency such as occurs when a majority of both houses have deemed it wise to enact it.

We are unalterably opposed to free trade, excepting in those products which are not manufactured in Kansas and are well known to be controlled by trusts.

We believe in a federal license for corporations doing an interstate only insofar as may be consonant with a proper regard to the exigencies of any special occasion.

We hereby denounce the attitude of the sultan of Turkey in unequivocal terms for interfering with the removal of the ark of the covenant from the excavations of the temple at Jerusalem, and we demand that our state department take such action as will not offend the sturdy Turkish citizens of Wyandotte county who are the bone and sinew of that humble abode of honest toil known as the "patch," or "Hell's Half Acre."

GREAT PERIL OF SERVING GIRLS

Experience of Private Detective for New York Women's Club.

New York, May 19.—Playing detective for the New York Women's club, to learn what actually happens to the typical servant in the house, Lelia May Carr is returning from Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburg and other cities with a surprising report of her experiences in "hiring out."

Organization of girls in domestic employment will be urged. Lawyers will be retained to "make examples of men guilty of misbehavior toward girls in their employ."

Miss Carr declares that "greater peril surrounds the public servant than any other woman worker." She gives instances from five months' working in homes of men well to do and highly respectable.

Out of fifteen positions she had to quit nine because of unbearable attentions from the men of the household.

Her only good word is for an uneducated, rough contractor, who with no training in the refinements of life "treated me with the utmost deference. Despite conditions that rendered familiarities quite possible he never departed in any degree from the most respectful attitude toward me."

What she met with in richer, "more cultivated homes," she briefly outlines.

"In Cleveland I was second girl in a pretentious household. For nine days I thought the evil things said of domestics must be untrue. The mistress was considerate. My own hours wer never encroached on.

"But the aged butler advised me not to stay. He would not say why—said I would soon find out.

"Three days later the oldest son came home from an Eastern college. He behaved like a cyclone. Before he had been in the house two hours he seized me and tried to kiss me.

"I tried my pet theories about applying womanly reserve and the forbidding eye. It was no use. He just grinned and kept on doing things that made it impossible for me to stay there.

"His mother explained: 'Why, George is just playful. He means no harm.'

"A week later I was in a Pittsburg residence. The family was wealthy; had come from the South. The women were gracious; the old major, head of the family, was charming—when sober.

"Late in the evening, when alcohol had made him adventurous, he batted about the servants' quarters. I was dazed when the old man entered the chamber of another servant and myself at 1 o'clock in the morning.

"In several places I found that the idiosyncracies of a member of the family toward the maids was tolerantly made light of, and that the maids were expected to make light of them, too.

"Better protection to the girl servant must be brought about," she declares, "first by organization and next by prosecuting insults to her."

WATCH RECOVERED

From Alligator's Stomach After Being Lost Fifty Years.

Galveston, Tex., May 19.—A large open-faced silver watch, lost by Frank Strome nearly fifty years ago, was recovered in a strange manner when an alligator was killed in Double Bayou and the timepiece was found in its stomach. It is believed the watch can be repaired and put in running order.

William Strome, son of the man who lost the watch, shot the alligator, which is estimated by its hide to be more than eighty years old. The elder Mr. Strome was engaged in capturing alligators in the same waterway when he lost his watch, which fell into the bayou. The timepeace bears his name in crude engraving on the case.

Restorative Treatment for Nervous Men

Coming from a source of unquestioned authority on the ailments of men it is presumed to be infallible, while the profession generally endorse the ingredients and prescribe them in many different forms of various diseases. The following formula is highly efficient in quickly restoring in nervous exhaustion, melancholia, anxiety, timidity in venturing, dizziness, heart palpitation, trembling limbs, insomnia, thinness, cold extremities, tired-all-in feeling and general inability to do those natural and rational acts upon which depend a man's success and happiness in social and every-day life.

The instructions for mixing at home secretly so that no embarrassment may be felt, are as follows: First get three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), and mix all together. The directions are to take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, until bounding health and full strength are restored. Even a few weeks will witness most wonderful results.

Astonishing nervous force and equilibrium follow the treatment, no matter how serious the case. This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.

PEAT BOGS OF CANADA

Government Proposes to Give Help Towards Their Development.

Former Efforts in This Direction Have Not Been Successful.

Three Rivers, Que., May 19.—During the last six years an organized and systematic effort has been made to provide peat as a substitute for coal in the Dominion of Canada. At St. Frances, Ont., an extensive plant was built five or six years ago; another at Bulstrode, Que., and many smaller plants were since started in different parts of the country. The promoters of these enterprises expected to be able to place upon the market a manufactured article of merchantable quality, which would, in a great measure, take the place of coal and wood as a fuel.

The constant rise in the price of these commodities makes the partial substitution of commercial peat a matter of great importance to this country, but more particularly in the Central Western provinces.

At Winnipeg fuel wood of the poorest quality (white spruce or red) sells for from $6 to $8 the cord and coal for $10.50 a ton.

In Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick coal and wood are somewhat cheaper, but even in these provinces great saving could be made by the use of peat.

Ended in Failure.

Up to the present time all, or nearly all, the attempts to produce a good merchantable peat have ended in failure, and little, if any, good combustible peat is to be found on the market. The principal cause of most of the failures has been a want of an exact knowledge of the nature of peat on the part of those who have undertaken to manufacture it for commercial purposes. In many cases the bogs did not produce the right article; then, again, the methods employed in its preparation were unskillful and wholly improper, and hence the failures.

These failures, involving large expenditures of time and money, discouraged many and resulted in creating a general mistrust against anything pertaining to peat and its exploitation. In consequence, the peat industry in Canada fell into a condition next to nothing.

To remedy this state of affairs, and to help those who are interested in the production of peat for commercial purposes, the Canadian government has recently published a monograph on peat, containing a clear and ample description of the methods employed in those European countries in which this industry is successfully carried on, and showing the results obtained in each of those countries.

Interest Reawakened.

The publication of the book has reawakened interest on the subject and re-enlisted the attention of a number of investors; already a systematic inspection of many peat bogs, in different parts of the country, has been made in order to ascertain whether the quality and the quantity of each bog be of sufficient nature to warrant its exploitation.

Under the new law and person or corporation, owning any peat bed may have the same examined by government experts who will make a report forthwith to the owner, recommending or not, as the case may be, the working of the bed. This will insure the selection of the best peat beds for exploitation. These inspections have also another, and not less worthy, purpose, i. e., the protection of the general public, as far as possible, against frauds.

From time to time the government will issue bulletins, giving the results obtained, which, again, will be of great assistance to persons desiring to embark in the industry.

The chief difficulties met with in the development of the peat industry have been, first, the necessity of climatic conditions favorable for the drying of the peat after it is taken out of the bog; second, the relative briefness of the season during which the work can be carried on.

The government proposes to give inventors of new devices destined to overcome or lessen these difficulties all the assistance possible.

Loug Campaign Required.

In Sweden, where commercial peat of the finer quality is manufactured, a special fund of about $650,000 was appropriated for the purpose of aiding manufacturers of peat to place the industry on a paying basis. However, the introduction of a new kind of fuel and putting it in general use, is not to be accomplished in a few minutes, but will require a long and energetic campaign, in order to overcome prejudices and demonstrate the value of the product as a fuel, as well as to obtain the best means for its manufacture.

The present government statistics on the subject say:

The provinces of Ontario and Quebec are paying annually for coal the enormous sum of $20,000,000. The active exploitation of the peat industry in Canada means a saving of a large portion of this sum for the country, besides giving employment to a large number of men. Canada possesses an area of 37,000 square miles of peat lands already known, but this is but a small portion of all the peat in the country at large.

An idea of the value of what this industry may become can be had by computing the total product of a twenty-eight-acre bog, nine feet in thickness, at 50,000 tons, that is to say, sufficient fuel to last 100 families twenty-five years, assuming that each family consumes twenty tons a year.

BAN PLACED ON HAZING AT PENN

Undergraduate Committee Announces New Rule to Go in Force.

Philadelphia, May 19.—Coincident with the appointment of a committee of fifteen students, five each from the sophomore, junior and senior classes, to enforce the new rule and see that freshmen live up to the regulations, the undergraduates' committee and the Sphinx Senior Society of the University of Pennsylvania have issued a statement abolishing all hazing of students.

This is the first time the student body of any university has taken up the matter of hazing and made such far-reaching and drastic regulations against it. The statement is to the effect that no hazing of any form whatsoever will be permitted, and the committee appointed will be empowered to prohibit it.

The action of the two societies was taken, according to officials at the university, because of the fact that in the past the hazing has been unfair to students living in the dormitories. Heretofore it has been practically impossible to haze students living elsewhere than at the dormitories, and the result has been that those students who occupy the dormitory rooms have been getting all the hazing, while their fellow-students escaped.

It was decided to take some action in the matter about six months ago, and several meetings have been held. The students do not seem displeased with the decision announced now.

As in former years, the regulations requiring freshmen students to wear only the regulation black cap while on the campus and not to enter College hall by the front entrance will be enforced. The committee of fifteen will look after this.

The undergraduates' committee consists of the presidents of the various classes, editors of the university publications and others, so that their action is being taken by these students as authoritative and final.

The faculty of the university has been trying vainly to abolish hazing for the last seven years. In 1904 students who hazed were threatened with expulsion, but even the danger of this punishment failed to have much effect. Ten minutes after the faculty's rule was announced, a number of sophomores caught several freshmen at the dormitories and hazed them down Woodland avenue across Chestnut street bridge and to the central part of the city. No expulsions followed.

MYSTERIOUS MILAN MURDER

Police Find Signor Setagalli Dead With Nine Dagger Wounds.

Milan, Italy, May 19.—A mysterious murder has been enacted at the Lombard Bank of Milan, in an inner apartment of which at 10 o'clock at night the head director, Signor Metagalli, was discovered stabbed to death with nine dagger wounds. The victim's pocketbook, supposed to contain about $300, is missing, but his gold rings were untouched. Although a bunch of private keys, including that of the strongroom, were lying on the office table, the steel safe, which inclosed $1,000, had not been tampered with.

Another circumstance that seems to point to private vengeance is the finding of a lock of female hair on a tiny bed in the corner of the office.

Signor Setagalli's body was half stripped. The police, however, are divided in opinion as to the motive of the crime. It is known that the director expressed fears of an attack on the bank from suspicious characters haunting the neighborhood.

There wos but a single entrance to the bank. Some surmise that the assassins were disturbed before they could unlock the safe. The murdered man's wife declares that toward midnight she went to the balcony of their private residence to see if her husband was returning, and discerned a couple of men trying to effect an entrance at the front door. Perceiving themselves watched, they retired into the cover of the shrubbery.

UNIVERSITY PAGEANT.

Elizabethan Period Depicted, With Governor Eberhart as Lord Mayor.

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—Resplendant with the trappings of the Elizabethan period, supplemented by improvements of the present day, the May fete and Elizabethan pageant was staged yesterday afternoon on the state university campus by 2,000 students and faculty members, and by President and Mrs. George E. Vincent and Governor and Mrs. Eberhart.

The campus of green was thronged with myriads of people, gaily costumed. A prominent feature was the Elizabethan court in which were the lord mayor of London, represented by the governor, and Queen Elizabeth, Mrs. Vincent.

RINGLINGS WOULD BUY

Elephant That Buffalo Vainly Tried to Give Away.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 19.—After trying for six months to give away a four-ton elephant, and finally talking seriously of killing him in the interest of public safety, the park board is considering whether it shall accept a $5,000 offer for it made by Ringling Brothers' circus.

"Frank," the elephant, stands nine feet five inches, being one of the largest in captivity. A week ago Curator Crandall said the city would be lucky if it got $1,000 for him. However, he says that the fits of temper to which Frank has been subject were just little springtime peevishness.

The curator has just been granted $100,000 to improve the zoo and the board may decide to take a chance on keeping the elephant.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

SICK HEADACHE

Method of Cure That Will Interest Every Sufferer.

Made Possible by a New Laxative Designed to Be Used with the Tonic Treatment.

The case of Mrs. J. F. Baier, of No. 1707 Crockett street, Houston, Texas, is so similar to that of thousands of sufferers, whose health has finally given away through overwork and worry, that her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is of wide interest.

"My health gave out sometime ago," she says, "because of hard work in bringing up my children. I became generally run down, was pale and thin, had no ambition and didn't feel like doing any work at all. I suffered a great deal from nervous headaches which would frequently last for a whole day. The pains were through my temples and were often so severe that I had to go to bed occasionally for a day or two. I was nervous, was oftentimes unable to sleep and I had no appetite.

"A friend at San Antonio, where I was living, recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and I commenced using them. While on the second box, I began to feel better. The headaches began to leave me and were not so severe. My appetite became good and I improved in health until cured. The pills did all they were recommended to do and I have always praised them to my friends."

As a rule a sufferer from sick headache can tell hours, sometimes days, in advance, when the headache is coming on. This fact makes it possible to use a laxative, as soon as the approach of an attack is discovered, to eliminate the poison from the system and prevent the attack or in a great measure moderate its severity. A new laxative, PINKLETS, designed to be used in connection with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, affords a perfect combination treatment.

We have prepared a pamphlet that not only describes fully the laxative-tonic treatment of sick headache and gives specific directions for the use of the remedies but contains also much valuable information regarding diet, exercise and the management of the sick-room during an attack. This pamphlet will be sent free on request together with a sample of PINKLETS, the little laxative pills. Write today if you want to treat your trouble intelligently. RAIN

The elements were certainly on a rampage last night. The lightning was brighter, the thunder louder and the air more sultry than anything we have had this year, and probably for some years before. It was the kind of storm that makes the timid seek cyclone cellars, or cover their heads with the bed covers. The heat wave was oppressive, the mercury shooting up in the tube suddenly during the afternoon. The high temperature was 81 deg., while the mercury didn't get below 56 during the night. Today is warm and bright. More thunder storms are predicted.

A year ago today was cold and threatening.

The sun rose this morning at 4:27 and it will set at 7:41 this evening, giving fifteen hours and fourteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The hot wave covers all states east of the Rocky mountains. Temperatures ranging from 80 deg. to 90 deg. or above will be the rule Thursday, while this morning temperatures of 60 deg. to 75 deg. occurred at 7 o'clock over most of the section referred to. The storm center is over Manitoba. During the last twenty-four hours showers or thunder storms resulted throughout Western Canada and Northwestern states. Cooler weather prevails in the Rocky mountains and over a large part of the Northwest in connection with rapidly increasing barometric pressures. At the Head of the Lakes local thunder storms and cooler weather may be expected during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 19.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan—Showers and probably thunder storms tonight; cooler in northwest portion; Saturday showers and cooler.

Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—Generally fair except local thunderstorms tonight or Saturday; cooler.

North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight with light frost in exposed places.

Upper lakes—Brisk and possibly high south and southwest winds, shifting to northwest by Saturday morning; squalls and thunder storms, tonight or Saturday; hoist storm southwest warnings on Lakes Michigan and Superior, 10 a. m.

NEW DULUTH FIRE DUE TO LIGHTNING

absence of a wind, a serious conflagration might have resulted.

This is the second fire within a year for the New Duluth Lumber company. Besides the warehouse which burned last evening, the concern operated another near the railroad tracks, but this structure was burned in one of the many incendiary fires at New Duluth last fall.

After the fire last fall, Damkroeger Bros., proprietors of the concern, enlarged the other warehouse on the hill where the yards are located. The building which burned to the ground last evening was 50 by 125 feet. The damage to the lumber in the yards is believed to be less than $1,000.

Car Struck By Lightning.

A bolt of lightning struck a westbound street car, stunned the motorman and badly frightened a carload of passengers, many of whom were women, about 10 o'clock last evening, between Nineteenth and Twentieth avenues west on Superior street.

The car was put out of commission by the lightning and had to be pushed to the car barns. The motorman was not seriously shocked. Several women, who were on the car, fainted. The passengers were transferred to another car.

The lightning did little damage to the car.

Whole County Drenched.

The rain drenched St. Louis county last night, and before the storm ended seven-tenths of an inch of rain had fallen.

The rain storm had a most spectacular setting, the electrical storm that accompanied it being most brilliant. The wind also attained a velocity of fifty-two miles per hour, and the storm was a most terrifying one to those who fear the violence of the elements.

The wind began to blow about 10 o'clock, and continued for an hour, when the rain came down in torrents, accompanied by the thunder and lightning. The rain continued until 3 o'clock this morning, the wind and thunder gradually abating.

The rain covered all the territory within a radius of seventy miles of Duluth, according to the weather bureau. Local thunder storms and cooler weather are looked for today and tonight, following the extreme sultriness of yesterday afternoon.

has been a little too much precipitation in the Red River valley but a few days of prevailing warm weather will relieve the soil of the surplus moisture. In this state the growing wheat is looking first class and it would be almost impossible to improve its condition by making the weather to order. The cool temperatures that prevailed immediately after the seed went into the ground prevented too rapid growth and enabled the plant to send its roots deep into the ground.

In North Dakota there has been plenty of moisture everywhere. If rains are seasonable from now on that state will produce a bumper crop of wheat. In the Northeast there has been a little too much moisture. In Montana crop conditions are ideal. The acreage of wheat in that state may reach 2,000,000. The favorable crop conditions in North Dakota and Montana are of especial interest to this city as those two states ship most of their grain to this market and the inhabitants buy a large percentage of their goods from local concerns.

Some Spotted Wheat.

In South Dakota the wheat is spotted and conditions vary greatly in many localities. In the Aberdeen district there has not been enough rain and in some localities the damage from high, hot winds is as large as 20 per cent. Where the seed has been replanted rains may yet bring about first-class conditions, but in some places the wheat has been plowed up and the ground has been put into corn or coarse grains. The area affected is not large but it is causing some concern to merchants in the territory indicated.

In the three prairie provinces, conditions are ideal. In Southern Manitoba there has been a surplus of moisture and some farmers are complaining. The condition is not serious, however. In the remainder of Manitoba and in Alberta and Saskatchewan conditions are better than at any time in the last years. Big crops will help the financial situation in the Northwest and relieve banks of a load that they have been carrying for several months. The volume of business, also, will be immeasurably increased by favorable crop yields and new settlers will go into their second or third year financially well fixed.

Some Crop Reports.

A few crop reports received by The Herald follow: Winnipeg—Rainfall in Eastern Saskatchewan heavy. Weather in Manitoba hot. Surplus of moisture in South. Hot temperatures will help to relieve situation. Conditions ideal in Alberta. Farmers jubilant. Prospects never better. Woonsocket, S. D.—Wheat is in perfect condition. Fredonia, N. D.—Wheat crop looks first-class. Stirum, N. D.—Good showers; wheat looking fine. Kensal, N. D.—Plenty of rain. Farmers say conditions never better. Hope, N. D.—Have had much moisture. Won't need any more for two or three weeks. Rolla, N. D.—Rain and still more rain. Plenty for a month. Wheat fine. Marion, N. D.—Prospects seem first-class. Wheat up and looks good. Hamilton, N. D.—Crops above ground. No damage to anything; nothing to cause damage. Aberdeen, S. D.—Dry. Hot winds yesterday. Need rain and need it badly. Jud, N. D.—Everything first-class. Too much rain, if possible. Gackle, N. D.—Got plenty of moisture here. Some kicking because they can't work in fields but they have no kick coming. Conditions couldn't be better. Larimore, N. D.—Conditions seem good. Fingal, N. D.—Rains copious and more in sight. Crops ideal. Starting to plant linseed but rain put a stop to field work. Ellendale, N. D.—Started a grass hopper scare here but frosts put the eggs out of business and then we got all sorts of rain. Conditions good. LaMoure, N. D.—Wheat up; looks fine. Minto, N. D.—Plenty of moisture. Wheat making fine stand. Rugby, N. D.—Can't see anything to complain of. If we get usual rains will have bumper wheat crop. Stanley, N. D.—Everything O. K.—Harvey, N. D.—We didn't haul off our wheat last year. If present conditions are maintained we will raise a whale of a crop. Plaza, N. D.—Farmers who got two and three bushels of wheat to an acre a year ago are looking for a big yield if conditions continue as they have been. Minot—Enough moisture for two weeks at the least. Wheat looking first-class. Williston, N. D.—All crops looking good. Flaxseed not included, of course.

On the Board of Trade Kenkel-Todd had a wire from Devils Lake, N. D., saying rains have been plentiful and wheat is in first-class condition. T. H. Hagen had a message from Huron, S. D., saying that the high, hot winds have done damage and that rain is needed. Messages from Devils Lake and Minot said that wheat is in fine condition and there is plenty of moisture. Anselm, N. D., wired F. A. Pierce that needed rains materialized and wheat is in good condition. Reports to McCabe Bros., said that there has been plenty of moisture in Southern Manitoba and North Dakota, amounting in some places to more than was needed.

Walter Poehler received several messages, condensations of which follow: Kenmare, N. D.—Had thirty hours' of rain. Decided improvement in wheat. Farmers jubilant. Minneapolis—South Dakota not good as should be. In the Sisston-Milbank country about 20 per cent of the acreage will require reseeding. This includes the territory from the south line of South Dakota, this side of Watertown to the north line, then through Spink and Brown counties to the Missouri river. The Aberdeen district is exceedingly dry. There is no moisture in the subsoil. (Mr. Poehler thinks the territory affected is not as large as the foregoing message indicates.) Aberdeen, S. D.—Barley, flax and corn in ground. Wheat acreage is decreased 10 per cent, being plowed up or abandoned. Five per cent of that not resown is damaged. Pierrepont, S. D.—Winds have not hurt wheat but more moisture is needed at once. If normal conditions transpire will get a good yield. Bristol, S. D.—Barley and wheat look good as last year at this time. Leola, S. D.—No damage here. Had some hail but damage didn't amount to anything. Lowry, S. D.—Not much moisture but wheat looks good. Brentford, S. D.—Not much damage from hot winds. Wheat looks good. Florence, S. D.—Damage to wheat from drouth, frost and hot winds is about 15 per cent.

W. C. Mitchell had a wire from Calgary, Alta., which said the condition of the growing crops is better than any time in the last ten years. He has received messages from Winnipeg confirming reports that rains have been plentiful and widespread over the three prairie provinces.

Van Dusen-Harrington said in their crop letter of today:

"Since our last crop letter of April 26, the three Northwestern states have been visited with copious rains, which fell, speaking generally, at the time and in the localities when and where they were most needed. Most districts report that they have sufficient moisture at the present time to last them until the first to the middle of June.

"Wheat seeding has been completed for some little time and our estimate of a 10 per cent increase in the acreage sown to bread wheat, over the acreage sown to the same crop last year, appears to be thoroughly substantiated by later reports from the country. Some districts show a much greater increase, but this will be offset by districts in other territories. Some districts which raised quite a bit of durum wheat last year, report practically no durum seeded there this year.

"Coarse grain seeding, with the exception of corn and flax is completed in South Dakota and Southern Minnesota; and in Northern Minnesota and North Dakota. From the best reports coming to us, we believe that a large proportion of the oats are seeded and as much as 50 per cent of the barley, while flax seeding is just starting. These last rains have induced many farmers in South Dakota and Southern Minnesota to put in flax on newly broken ground or on ground which for the last year or two has been seeded to grass crops. We believe, however, that these new areas sown to flax will not bring the total flax acreage up to last year's, but at the present time, we cannot give any authoritative statement as to what the probable flax acreage will be.

"Crop conditions at the present time are such, we are warranted in believing that with normal rainfall and weather conditions from now on, we may expect a bountiful harvest."

the ten months in question, compared with the corresponding period of the earlier year; canned beef, fresh beef, oleo oil and tallow, all show a decline in the quantity exported in the ten months ending April when compared with the corresponding months of the preceding year, yet in that same ten months the total value of all exports from the United States is $268,000,000 greater than in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

Causes of the Gain.

The cause of so large a growth in certain articles as to overcome the loss in certain other articles and still create a gain of $268,000,000 over the figures of last year is chiefly the high price of cotton and the increased outward movement of manufactures. Exports of cotton for the ten months ending with April show alone an increase of $143,000,000 over the corresponding months of last year, the total value of cotton exported in the ten months ending April being $549,000,000, against $406,000,000 in the same months last year. The average export price per pound during the ten months ending April was higher than the average in any full fiscal year during the last quarter of a century. Corn also shows a gain, the value of exports in the ten months ending with April being nearly $28,000,000, against a little more than $21,000,000 in the same months of last year, while meat and dairy products show an increase of about $4,000,000 in 1911 over the 1910 period. Copper for the nine months ending March shows an increase of about $6,000,000; automobiles, an increase from $6,333,000 to $9,750,000; cotton manufactures, $29,000,000, against $23,000,000 in the same months of last year; fruit, $21,000,000, against $16,333,000 in the same months of last year; machinery, $73,750,000 against $57,250,000 in the same months of the prior year; while in many less important articles of manufacture a marked increase in total value and a market percentage in gain is shown.

Other Gains Shown.

Manufactures for use in manufacturing show a gain in exports from $200,000,000 in the nine months ending with March, 1910, to $225,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1911; and manufactures ready for consumption, from $361,000,000 in the nine months of 1910 to $431,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1911. Manufactures ready for consumption show an increase of nearly $70,000,000 in the nine months ending with March and manufactures for further use in manufacturing, an increase of $25,000,000 during the same period.

The chief causes of the large increase in 1911 over 1910 are found in the large exportation and high price of cotton and the large exportation of manufactures.

S.S.S. A PERFECT CURE FOR SCROFULA

Scrofula belongs to the type of diseases known as blood poison, and is a trouble usually manifested in childhood. It is often an inherited condition springing from some specific disease of ancestors. The ordinary symptoms of Scrofula are swollen glands about the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, scalp diseases, skin affections, weak eyes, poor physical development, etc.

The disease being deeply rooted in the blood, often attacks the bones if the poison is not removed from the circulation, and this should be seriously considered in the case of any child who shows symptoms of having scrofulous blood. Some persons who inherit Scrofula reach maturity before the trouble develops, but being bred in the circulation, the disease is bound to show itself in some form. Frequently a debilitating spell of sickness which depletes and weakens the system offers a favorable opportunity for the disease to manifest itself. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only method of treatment that can be of any value; the scrofulous poison must be removed from the circulation.

S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Scrofula. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and by going down into the circulation and ridding it of the scrofulous germs, and enriching the blood by the addition of healthful corpuscles, S. S. S. cures the disease permanently. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and is perfectly safe for children. If you or your child have any symptoms of Scrofula, begin the use of S. S. S. at once, and get the destructive disease forever removed from the system. Book on the blood, and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Two years ago my infant, 4 months old, developed a scrofulous condition. The enlarged glands of the neck suppurated and discharged pus. The child was treated by a doctor, but did not improve. I put it on S. S. S. as directed by your physician, and it took but a short time for S.S.S. to make a perfect cure.
Goldsboro, N. C. GILES HINSON.

I inherited scrofula from my ancestry, and was under treatment of physicians for quite a period at different times, but their treatment did not do me anything like the good S. S. S. did last winter when I took it. It builds up the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier, it adds to its success as a remedy for scrofula.

Constipated all His Life Now Cured—Trial Free

One of the most harrasing of troubles, though fortunately not fatal, is constipation, and millions of people suffer with it from infancy to old age. Its cause may be traced to any one of a dozen different circumstances of diet, environment and even birth.

Millions are practically born with constipation. Had they used intelligent methods at the beginning perhaps they would have found relief, but they had the usual misfortune of bad advice. They tried dieting, stewed fruits, then laxative waters, then pills and various other cathartics, and so in the end made matters worse. But there is still hope, even for the seemingly hopeless.

Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It has been on the market for many years and is as staple in the households of those who know its value as salt and sugar. It is a liquid laxative-tonic that you can buy of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size. But if you prefer to learn its value personally before buying, then send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample.

It is without doubt the best laxative for constipation that you can find, and in every way the best remedy for that and headaches due to constipation, indigestion or dyspepsia, heartburn, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, billousness and similar troubles. It is a mild, gentle remedy free from griping and bad taste. Children take to it readily. It is a standby in the homes of Mr. George W. Zimmerman of 1617 N. 6th St., Harrisburg, Pa., Robert Atkinson, Sr., of Cuba, Ill., and thousands of others.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

ON THE IRON RANGES

PAYING CASH FOR CREAMERY STOCK

Stockholders in New Grand Rapids Enterprise Have the Coin.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The creamery project is advancing satisfactorily. At a meeting just held the articles of incorporation were signed and reports presented that the new industry will soon be in full swing.

Funds for the construction of the creamery are being subscribed very liberally. Two methods of raising money have been available, one being by direct cash subscription to stock, and the other by subscribing to notes on which the creamery association procured funds, each $50 note being in payment for a share of stock. When the creamery company was first organized, it was anticipated that the majority of the stockholders would give their notes for stock, but such is not the case, by far the greater number paying in the cash for the stock they buy.

The work at the creamery on the well which was stopped some time ago owing to running out of pipes was resumed yesterday and the well will soon be ready to supply pure water. Gravel and sand have already been hauled for the construction of the concrete foundation to the creamery building.

INSTALL NEW PASTOR.

Rev. Mr. Burrows Takes Charge of Grand Rapids Church.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The formal installation of Rev. Leo Reid Burrows as the new pastor of the Presbyterian church took place Tuesday evening.

Four out-of-town divines were present, Rev. Mr. Jamieson of Duluth acting as chairman. Rev. W. O. Garrett of Coleraine gave the invocation. Rev. John C. Faries of Duluth delivered an excellent installation sermon. Rev. Mr. Jamieson and Rev. Mr. Garrett delivered the charge to the people and Rev. Mr. Neff of Virginia delivered the charge to the pastor. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and green. Many attended the services, the church being filled to capacity.

After the services refreshments were served and the people extended an informal welcome to the pastor.

Rev. Mr. Burrows has been in Grand Rapids some two months and made a favorable impression.

TO SEND TRACK TEAM.

Grand Rapids Firemen to Be Represented at Akeley.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the fire department the matter of a track team for the firemen's tournament which will be held at Akeley the latter part of June was discussed. Grand Rapids will have a track team and the members will commence practicing at once. Chief Riddell, James Doran and A. L. LaFreniere were appointed as delegates to the annual meeting of the state firemen's association at Owatonna, June 21 and 22. The matter of having a fire hall with a hose cart aside from the supply of hose at the fire hall was discussed. Seven new members were admitted into the department.

CAPT. MITCHELL IS VISITING NEGAUNEE FRIENDS

Negauneee, Mich., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. R. J. Mitchell of Eveleth, Minn., visited Negaunee relatives and friends Tuesday and Wednesday. Capt. Mitchell holds a responsible position with the Oliver Iron Mining company and he has been located at Eveleth for a number of years. He is a brother of Pentecost Mitchell, vice president of the Oliver Iron Mining company. He spent many years in Negaunee before moving to the Mesaba district. While here he will look after the removal of the bodies of some relatives from the old to the new cemetery. He will leave tonight for his home.

GILBERT TO REGULATE INSTALLING OF SEWERS.

Gilbert, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council has passed an ordinance to regulate the installing and maintaining of sewers. A fee of $25 was set for plumber's license. The plans for the proposed sewer system were read and approved. The contracts will be let for the sewers the latter part of this month after which work will be started on them at once.

Liquor licenses were allowed to Thomas Rotendo, Jacob Hill, Mike Veronsih, John Mitchell and Matilla & Hynnila.

Tomorrow morning the visitors will be taken through many of the big mines, returning in time to catch the 12:05 train for Duluth.

MANY BOUGHT LAND IN SASKATCHEWAN

Virginians Who Looked Over Canadian Northwest Are Much Pleased.

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. T. Murphy, former superintendent of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway, who headed a large party of landseekers into the Saskatchewan valley in Canada, has returned and reports that the party had a very successful and entertaining trip.

They made their headquarters at Wakaw and spent two weeks in going over the land in that section. All those who have returned report that sections of the country are splendid for agricultural purposes. Railroads are being built all through that section and the country is fast settling up.

Those Who Bought Land.

Virginians who invested in land are as follows: Thomas Madden, Joseph Karl, C. C. Butler, Emmett Butler, Joseph Zind, M. A. Murphy, F. J. Hughes and Paul Sevenick, the first named two taken a half section each and the balance a quarter section each.

F. J. Hughes, who accompanied the party, states that the Saskatchewan valley is the richest in the Northwest and those that have already started farms there are more than pleased with that country. There is about 200,000 acres of available land in that section, of which Mr. Murphy has the handling of 20,000 acres for the Canadian Northern.

VIRGINIA TO PLAY HIBBING

First Big Ball Game of Season in Range City on Sunday, May 28.

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first game of the season to be played by Virginia's big ball team will take place at Oliver park, Sunday afternoon, May 28, with the Hibbing "all home players." Manager Gordon Cohn has signed the following players for the season: Merrill Silverstein of the University of Michigan Murray of Two Harbors, who is now playing in the Three-I league, and Carl Johnson of Ashland. The three will do the pitching for Virginia. Other players signed are the three Boyles of Eveleth, Pat, Ed and Hank; Fred Anthony and George (Stocks) Meehan of this city. Negotiations are pending for other fast players.

Manager Cohn states that Virginia has given up the idea of trying to get into the Canadian league this season. Stock in the association is going fast and enough has already been sold to assure a good team for the season.

The local Elks and the Elks of Eveleth will play ball at Oliver park next Sunday afternoon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET ON AT DEER RIVER.

Deer River, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a good attendance at the session of the Itasca County Sunday School association, which began yesterday and will end today, the leading cities in the district being represented. The reports presented showed the association to be in good condition. The program printed in The Duluth Herald is being followed, the session ending today with the election of officers and the selection of next year's meeting place.

To Rid Yourself of Nasal Catarrh, Wash Nostrils Daily.

To wash the nostrils every day should be the aim of everyone wishing to be free from the disgusting symptoms of Nasal Catarrh.

Any one can readily rid themselves of nasal catarrh by obtaining from the druggist two ounces of antiseptic vilane powder. Use a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water, and snuff up into the nostrils a half dozen or more times until all the slimy matter is removed. Also gargle the throat.

Then make an oitment by mixing a teaspoonful of vilane powder with one ounce of vaseline and apply to nostrils twice daily until healed and cured.

This treatment cleans, clears, soothes and heals the mucous membrane and enables one to breathe freely through the nose.

LOGGING BOOMING AROUND EVELETH

Lumberjacks Come From Duluth to Take Part in the Drives.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The logging camps conducted at the St. Louis river by Mayor Jacob A. Saari and W. P. Vietch, and those near White Face river by A. N. Peterson, are being worked steadily. Forty lumberjacks arrived yesterday from Duluth to commence work on the drives in this vicinity.

The Oliver Iron Mining company's exploration crews that have been working at the local mines, under the direction of W. J. Matters, are completing their work and expect to be ordered to other range points soon.

Work has been started on the site of the Spruce tennis courts, on Fayal road, for the erection of a two-story residence for Capt. W. J. Steads of the Leonidas, who was formerly located at Chisholm.

Mining operations are being rushed at the Sparta mine, and many local residents have procured employment there.

TO REPRESENT EVELETH

At Virginia Meeting to Consider Electric Line Franchise.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald—City Attorney James P. Boyle will represent Eveleth at the meeting of the range city and village attorneys tomorrow at Virginia, to consider the franchise submitted by the Mesaba Traction company.

The Commercial club will soon make an effort to have the company's power house located at Ely Lake, which is regarded as a very good location.

LARIN WILL SOON LEAVE.

Eveleth Editor to Desert Tripod for Banking Business.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. Larin will publish his last issue of the News next Thursday, and leave the latter part of next week for the Bertholdt Indian reservation in North Dakota, which will be opened up for settlement July 1. He will start a bank in one of the reservation towns if the inducements are attractive and satisfactory.

In the event his banking plans do not turn out successful, he will continue in the newspaper business, with which he has been connected for the past twenty-six years, in Southern Minnesota.

Mr. Pfremmer, the new owner of the News, will take possession by June 1.

RANGE GUN SHOOT.

Will Be Held at Eveleth During the Month of July.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gun club will hold a shoot on the range opposite the Iron Range depot tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. A range gun shoot will be held here in July under the auspices of the local club, and many towns are expected to be represented. Prizes will be hung up.

The militia rifle men will hold a shoot at the company's range near the city ball park Sunday. The militia will be represented at the annual shoot of the State Guard at Lake City in July.

TAKE EXAMINATIONS.

Hibbing Militiamen Put Through the Usual Stunts.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several members of Company "M" took their practical examination last night in the Armory during the regular drill work of the company. Privates C. C. Junker and F. W. Brown both took examinations for the rank of sergeants and privates Ralph Nelson, Earl St. Julien and Fred W. Cram each took examinations for the rank of corporal. All of the privates did very creditable work and were declared efficient for the ranks named. The companies are in splendid shape and are a credit to the village, and great enthusiam is being shown both among the men themselves and the business men of Hibbing, many of whom have come forward loyally and contributed to the prize fund for good rifle shooting.

SHOP TIME IS CUT.

Iron Range Employes at Two Harbors Get Saturdays Off.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An order has been issued whereby most of the men employed in the Iron Range shops are to be laid off Saturdays. Only a few men in each department will be kept on duty to meet the immediate requirements. Some two years ago the hours at the shop were cut from ten to nine hours a day. The order means that a majority of the shop employes will have but forty-five hours a week. There is no way of knowing how long this new order will be kept in force, but it is hoped that it will be necessary for a short time only. The cause of this material reduction in the men's working time is said to be the general depression in the iron business. As a rule at this time of the year the shipping business is in full swing and all departments at the shop are working full time to keep the equipment of the road in repair and taking care of the new work. Some weeks ago the force of men in several of the shop departments was reduced and Tuesday of this week the force was still further reduced, several men in different departments having been laid off for an indefinite period.

BRUSH FIRE GAVE SECTION 30 SCARE.

Ely, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—People living around Section 30 mine about four miles from here, had a scare yesterday afternoon and last night when a brush fire broke out, from what cause is not known, near the mine and fanned by a heavy wind threatened great damage. A large force of miners and others fought the fire until a late hour and aided by the welcome rain had it out by midnight. All the local firemen hastened to Section 30 in response to appeals for aid and helped the fire fighters. As many of the miners in the fire zone live in that locality in frame shacks they were thoroughly aroused and fought valiantly to save their homes.

LIGHTNING FIRES TWO HARBORS HOME

Strikes and Sets Fire to Dwelling, Doing Heavy Damage.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—During a terrific lightning and rain storm here last night the house of G. W. White, on the east end of Fourth avenue, was struck by lightning. The lightning struck the chimney and set fire to the roof about 1:15 a. m. The fire department was called out but arrived too late. The roof and second floor of the house was totally destroyed and two sets of bedroom furniture were also lost. It will take $500 to repair the building, while Mr. White did not carry any insurance at all upon it. The loss on everything amounts to about $1,000. Mr. White had just got through overhauling the house and had had it newly papered and painted and the plumbing fixed up.

CLEARING LAND AT RILEY LAKE

Stumps Being Removed and Other Farming Preparations Near Bovey.

Bovey, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Volke is clearing up some ten acres of land along the old logging road to Riley lake and will plant it to potatoes. A house is to be built out there for use by the men who are engaged in clearing the land and caring for the crops. Chris Lee is removing the stumps and getting the land in shape for a crop.

The grounds to the south and west of the A. Barron store have been nicely sodded and present a beautiful appearance.

The recital given by the pupils of Miss Erikson, Saturday evening, was attended by a large crowd. The pupils, from the smallest one to the very largest, showed excellent training.

Mr. Blaine has been engaged this week in adding a cement walk in front of his premises, also in grading his lot, and adding a railing to his front porch. These improvements add very much to the appearance of the lot.

Workmen have been engaged this week in adding a fire escape to the Coleraine Mercantile building.

The case of blindpigging which has been up before Judge C. J. Franti for some time will come up again on Monday. Attorney Spear of the county seat, and Attorney E. H. Bither of the village, will appear for Mr. Coppoletti, while County Attorney McCuat will handle the case for the state.

YEOMEN TO HAVE BIG INITIATION

Two Harbors Homestead Will Put Through Large Class Next Wednesday.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burlington Bay Homestead of the Brotherhood of American Yeoman on next Wednesday evening will initiate a class of thirty-five candidates. The full degree work will be put on. J. H. Murphy, state manager, will have charge of the Black Knight part of the ceremony and will occupy the choir of worthy foreman. C. E. Stallcap, grand master of ceremonies at Des Moines, Iowa; J. Philip Garland and wife, district manager of Duluth, and a number of Duluth members will be here to assist in the work.

Deputy P. F. Harouff, who has charge of the work has had great success. He has written in the class in about eighteen days. The insurance will amount to about $20,000. The work will be put on at the K. of P. hall, starting promptly at 8:30 after the ceremonies of initiation have been gone through, the members will go to the Commercial hotel, where they will be treated to a banquet at 10:30 p. m. The program: Master of ceremonies, M. H. Buckley; invocation, by J. P. Garland; greeting, Dr. Edw. P. Christensen; guests' response, J. H. Murphy, "Duty of Officers," J. P. Garland; "Sunny Side of Life," J. Gilbertz; "Reflection of a Newly Made Yeoman," David H. Lawrence; "Yeomanry," C. E. Stallcap; grand master of ceremonies. The tables will be taken care of by Yeomen girls, wearing the Yeoman colors and the new candidates. Any visiting Yeomen in the city will find a cordial welcome.

MILL CITY WOMAN HAS CLOSE CALL IN HIBBING.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—As Mrs. J. Canfield of Minneapolis was passing along Pine street yesterday afternoon with Mrs. S. B. Boysen of Hibbing the wind blew in a door at Reno's tobacco store with such force as to break the glass and hurl it over the women. Luckily they and baby they were wheeling about escaped unhurt although the incident gave spectators a fright.

VIRGINIA GUN CLUB IN MID-WEEK SHOOT

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following scores was made at the mid-week shoot of the Virginia Gun club out of a possible 50 birds: Bellman, 16, 18; Backus, 22, 22; Robb, 20, 21; Merrill, 14, 16; Hohl, 14, 20; Fredemick, 15, 17; Earlon, 23, 27; Benson, 19, 20; Dorman, 20, 22. The members of the club hold shoots twice a week, Wednesday and Sunday afternoons, and are planning on holding a big tournament here some time during the season. The club's grounds are located just north of the mill of the W. J. Bailey Lumber company.

Severe Hibbing Storm.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing was visited by a very severe thunder storm last night about 10:30. The rain was particularly heavy, and the lightning was incessant and vivid for more than an hour.

Fayal to Play Chisholm.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fayal nine and the Chisholm city team, will play Sunday at the City ball park. Judge Freeman will pitch for the visitors while Langwell of the Eveleth 1909 team, will catch. "Ding" Richards will pitch for the locals with Capt. Gaunitz, catching.

The Eveleth and Virginia Elks will meet in their annnual game, Sunday afternoon at Virginia.

The Eveleth and Gilbert high school teams will play Saturday on the high schol grounds.

RUNAWAY GIRLS ARE CAPTURED

Their Hopes of Becoming Actresses Are Rudely Dashed.

Looking for a chance to "go on the stage," two young Eveleth girls stepped from the Missabe train yesterday afternoon into the grasp of Detectives Terry and Toewe, and instead of realizing their ambitions of starring before the footlights, were marched to police headquarters to await the arrival of their parents.

The girls were Marion Nettle and Hazel Stockstedt, aged 16 years. They were ambitious to become actresses, and realizing that the booking facilities at Eveleth were rather limited, thought they could find something to do in Duluth.

But budding art was nipped in the bud, and it will be back to school for the two girls as soon as their parents arrive and call for them.

tween interstate and intrastate passenger business.

The commission expresses the opinion "that the present condition of charging one rate a mile for intrastate traffic and a higher rate a mile for interstate when the service performed is the same in both cases, is indefensible. Intrastate and interstate passengers are carried on the same train, in the same cars, and are accorded equal privileges. It seems clear that eventually there must be established an actual distinction between the two services or a correction of the two scales of fares to an equality."

No Complaint of Income.

In the territory indicated, intrastate fares are on a 2-cent basis, while interstate fares are made on a scale of 2½ cents a mile. The commission says that no proof was offered of the insufficiency of the 2-cent rate to yield a fair return to the carriers, but that the carriers had asked for time in which to prepare the necessary data.

The commission permits the carriers, therefore, to exact the higher rate until May 1, 1912.

The commission denies the request of the carriers to adjust their charges in multiples of five, in order to avoid the use of odd pennies in change.

REPORT MORE EMPTY PEWS

has increased, as between 1909 and 1910, from 1,886 to 2,167.

Had Spirited Contest.

The election of Dr. Carson as moderator came after a spirited contest, and was decided on the second ballot. Backers of candidates boldly attacked methods employed by certain electors in grooming the favorites. First to do so was Dr. W. Francis Irwin of Louisville, Ky., who nominated Dr. Frederick Hinnitt of Danville, Ky. He declared "a man who asks how many votes you have lined up for your candidate insults the Presbyterian church. This is a fine frenzy of sectional differences."

Dr. John R. Davies of Philadelphia, who nominated the Rev. John Dixon of Trenton, N. J., said:

"We came here without a brass band campaign because we believe such work a disgrace to a church of which Christ is head."

Dr. Carson was nominated by Rev. S. S. Palmer of Columbus, and the name of Rev. Charles Matthews of Seattle was presented by Dr. Joseph L. Weaver of Rocky Ford, Colo. The first ballot resulted: Dr. Carson, 347; Dr. Matthews, 219; Dr. Hinnitt, 139; Dr. Dixon, 97. On the second ballot the result was: Dr. Carson, 454; Dr. Matthews, 318; Dr. Hinnitt, 126. There was no night session.

Dr. Cecil Elected.

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—Rev. Russell Cecil, D.D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Richmond, Va., was elected moderator for the ensuing year by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern). His principal opponent was Rev. Junius B. French, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Forth Worth, Tex.

MEDERO GETS WARNING OF MURDER PLOT

guinary battle is being fought at Cuautla, twenty miles southeast of here, between the federal garrison under Col. Munguia and a force of rebels commanded by Col. Zapata. Fugitives arriving here today say that the streets of Cuautla are strewn with dead and wounded.

A commission left here last night for Cuautla, carrying the news of the armistice which it is hoped will put an end to the fighting. Gen. Figueroa is leading 3,000 rebel troops from Iguala presumably en route for this city.

Cuernavaca is the capital of the state of Morelos and is forty miles south of Mexico. Cuautla is a town of about 8,000 population in Morelos.

Diaz's Condition Satisfactory.

City of Mexico, May 19.—The condition of President Diaz continued today satisfactory to his physicians, who said that it was likely that the executive would leave his room during the day. He is said to be in good spirits, and except for the trouble caused by an ulcerated tooth, in excellent health. This morning he received callers in his chamber at the palace and transacted some official business.

The news that Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the leader of the rebellion, is to come so soon to the capital, was received with great interest here. When it was communicated late last night to Foreign Minister De La Barra, he appeared surprised, but said he would facilitate Madero's arrival by the further agreement that might be necessary pending the visit.

Pilisger Is Shot.

Advices from Patucha today state that Delgado Medrano, who was proved by investigation to have been the leader of the mob that pillaged the town, was shot in the plaza at 6 o'clock last night. The execution was ordered by Col. Gabriel Hernandez, the revolutionary commander, and was witnessed by members of the Mexican White Cross and many prominent citizens, who approved the summary punishment.

People Sorry For Diaz.

While satisfaction is evident in all circles at the capital over the approaching retirement of President Diaz, there is at the same time much sympathy for the empire builder. Now that he has yielded to popular demand, public concern is for the health of the old warrior and there was none today who did not appear to wish him continued years in which to enjoy a well earned rest. The most frequent inquiry of the day was, "How is Diaz?"

It was learned that the physical state of the executive is no worse than on yesterday. He remains in his bed and is still suffering pain from the inflammation in the face. The fever has abated. The members of the cabinet called at the palace during the forenoon to report the latest developments in the political situation, but postponed the discussion of important matters pending an expression from Diaz of his desire to take them up.

Rebels Fire on Friends.

Naco, Sonora, May 19.—The advance of Gen. Lomeli's rebel force, marching west from Agua Prieta, was mistaken for a force of federal troops early today and fired upon by the insurrecto garrison at Naco. Five rebels and one civilian were shot and seriously wounded before the garrison discovered its mistake. It is believed some of the wounded who were brought to the American side for treatment will die.

Corral Is Doubtful.

Paris, May 19.—"I do not believe that the resignation of President Diaz will really stop the revolution."

This emphatic declaration was made by Vice President Corral of Mexico, whose resignation, along with that of President Diaz, has been profferred by the Mexican administration as a concession to the revolutionists.

Senor Corral has been ill for several days and although he had received only his intimate friends, he consented this evening to give a statement of the situation in his country: "The retirement of President Diaz," he said, "will not end the revolution because Madero's authority exists only in the state of Chihuahua. In the other disturbed provinces, he has not real influence. I believe it almost certain that the revolution will continue throughout the effected areas, at least in guerilla form."

Asked as to how an end could be put to the revolution, the vice president replied that the only way was for the federal army to pursue the rebels persistently and constantly until they finally conquered them.

"GOOD" SWIMMER LOSES HIS LIFE

Youth Slips From Log and Is Drowned in the Winterroad River.

Baudette, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although William, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sowa, was counted a good swimmer, he was drowned in a very simple manner a few days ago in the Winterroad river. He was playing on the logs when he slipped and fell. The body did not come to the surface until some time subsequently, leading to the belief that his head struck a deadhead and he was stunned, being unable to save himself. Bruises on the head further confirmed the theory.

The body was buried in the Wabanica cemetery.

NORTH DAKOTA SCHOOLS ARE WELL REPRESENTED.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Schools of North Dakota are well represented here today at the annual conference of the high school superintendents and principals, and at the debating league finish that will take place tonight in the interscholastic declamation contest, and the Interscholastic field and track meet.

In the closing debate of the North Dakota High School Debating league this evening, the Minnewaukan and the Casselton debating teams will debate the adoption of the initiative and the referendum in North Dakota.

This afternoon the preliminaries in the interscholastic declamation contest were also commenced, and it is expected that the contestants who will appear in the final Saturday will be selected before evening. In all there are about twenty-four entries in the declamation contest.

MONTANA WILL BE INCLUDED

In Jurisdiction of the North Dakota Grand Lodge A. O. U. W.

Minot, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Territory of the North Dakota grand lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and Degree of Honor will be extended into Montana.

This was decided at the biennial meetings just held here which adjourned to meet in Fargo two years hence. Montana had a grand lodge but it went into liquidation. The officers elected follow:

HAGERTS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Grand Forks Couple, Once Divorced and Remarried, Again at Law.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.—For the third time the Hagert family of Grand Forks will appear in the divorce courts, this time upon the complaint of Mrs. Emma Hagert, charging failure to observe marriage vows and naming a colored woman. On one occasion the Hagerts were separated, only to be re-married. The next time they tried to get a divorce, on her complaint, a cross bill was filed and the upshot was a failure to secure a divorce. Now she proposes to try over again.

The bone of contention is property, valued at approximately $50,000, the major portion of which is in real estate near Emerado, this county.

MINISTER BRY IS AT DEVILS LAKE

Sioux Indian War Dance One of His Fort Totten Reservation Treats.

Devils, Lake, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minister H. H. Bryn of Norway is here today and this afternoon is the guest of the Commercial club. One of the features of his visit will be a trip to the Fort Totten Indian reservation where a band of Indians are to put on the Sioux war dance under the direction of Kick-a-hole-in-the-sky, one of the noted Indians of the tribe.

Reaches Duluth Saturday Night.

This evening the minister will be the guest of the club at a public reception, leaving Devils Lake in time to reach Grand Forks for the Saturday morning train for Duluth. The minister will reach Duluth aand Superior Saturday night and will remain there one or two days proceeding to the Twin Cities.

In his excursion over the southern part of Grand Forks county yesterday the minister was given an excellent opportunity of learning firsthand what the Norwegian farmers had been able to accomplish.

TORNADO STRIKES CORNER OF TOWN

Dell Rapids, S. D., and Vicinity Storm-Swept, Much Damage Being Done.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 19.—A disastrous tornado visited the country in the vicinity of Dell Rapids, S. D., sixteen miles north of this city, last evening, injuring three persons and destroying at least a dozen buildings, part of them farm houses.

The tornado went northwest of the town of Dell Rapids and struck a corner of the town. Mrs. Frank Fonsback, who suffered the loss of her home and outbuildings, was caught in the hail storm with her two children while returning from a school house and all three were badly bruised by hail.

At Lyons, a small town near here, a large livery barn was wrecked and plate glass store fronts blown in.

WANT BETTER ROADS.

Cavalier County Automobilists Form an Association.

Langdon, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cavalier County Good Roads' association was organized at a meeting here of the automobile owners of the county. The officers follow: President, W. L. Drury; vice president, Donald McLauchlin; secretary, George W. Price; treasurer, William Stevenson. Dr. J. F. Sylvester is at the head of the goods roads committee.

One of the undertakings of the club will be a tour of the county to awaken interest in the good roads movement. William Stranger is the chairman of the committee in charge. Already work has been done with the King drag in putting roads leading out of Langdon in better shape.

IT'S HARMON, SAYS O'CONNOR.

St. Paul Political Boss Predicts Ohioan's Nomination.

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—Still enthusiastic over Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio for president, R. T. O'Connor of St. Paul has reached home from a tour around the world, which lasted five months. He says that he found Harmon strong everywhere.

"The South wants victory badly next year," says Mr. O'Connor, "and Southern Democrats have picked Harmon as the man to win. I am satisfied that he would beat Taft tomorrow, but what will happen in the next eighteen months, of course, nobody knows. Harmon is strong in the East. Woodrow Wilson is a good man, I will admit, but I don't think the Democrats will pick their candidte from New Jersey this time."

KASOTA, MINN., YEGGS STEAL 300-POUND SAFE.

Kasota, Minn., May 19.—William Kopp's saloon was broken into last night and ransacked. The thieves secured $3 from the cash drawer and carted off a 300-pound safe, and it has not yet been found. Entrance was gained by breaking the side door with a crowbar. There is no trace of the robbers.

WISCONSIN TEACHERS WILL BE PENSIONED.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—The teachers of Wisconsin are to be provided with a pension or retirement fund contributed to by the state. One of the hot fights of the session culminated in the advancement by the assembly of the Hoyt teachers' pension bill. The bill appropriates out of the school fund 10 cents for each child of school age in the state. It is estimated that this will mean $78,000 yearly.

EAST GRAND FORKS WILL GRADUATE FIVE.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Five members of the East Grand Forks high school senior class will be graduated this year, plans for the commencement being practically completed. The graduates are Lila Mobeck, Howard Metcalf, William Carney, Isabelle Pender and Anna Zengal. Announcement has not been made yet as to the commencement speaker or as to who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

BOWDLE, S. D., HAS DISASTROUS FIRE.

Bowdle, S. D., May 19.—Fire Thursday destroyed seven business buildings and four residences here, sweeping away almost every large block in the town. The damage is estimated at $75,000 with insurance of $10,000. The origin is unknown.

ST. LOUIS DRUMMER ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 19.—Maxton Bernhart, arrested Tuesday in the Radisson hotel after a complaint had been issued by the county attorney charging him with appropriating money belonging to his employer, was arraigned yesterday in the district court, on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree.

Bernhart is accused in an indictment returned yesterday by the grand jury of taking $904 from his employers, Westheimer & Sons, distillers, St. Louis, Mo. He pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for May 22. He explained to the court that he had lived in Minneapolis since 1887 and bail was fixed at $1,500.

BRAINERD'S NEW CHURCH.

Will Be Dedicated With Appropriate Exercises June 18.

Brainerd, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An event of interest in church circles will be the dedication of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church on June 18, and if the plans and programs now being formulated are all successfully carried out the ceremonies will take place on that date.

Right Rev. K. Bjoergo of Red Wing, president of the Minnesota district of the synod, will be present in his official capacity and will deliver an important address and sermon.

Among the other ministers invited to attend the dedication are Rev. J. Roervik of Portland, N. D.; Rev. D. J. Growe, Fergus Falls, Minn.; and Rev. T. L. Rosholt of Renville, Minn., all former pastors of the church, and Rev. H. W. Sorensen of Shevlin, Minn., a Danish minister.

GIRL AGED 12 IS MOTHER OF A CHILD.

Fargo, N. D., May 19.—States Attorney Fowler is conducting an examination into the case of Josephine Anderson, a young girl 12 years old, who last week gave birth to a baby girl weighing almost nine pounds. The case is one of the most pitiable that has ever come to the attention of the authorities and it will be sifted to the bottom by the officials.

The Anderson girl, who is the adopted child of a man named Gunderson, who lives on a farm near Kindred, went to the Camp maternity hospital a short time ago where her babe was born. She has been ordered removed to the Crittenton home and as soon as she is able she will be taken there where she will be under the care of the authorities of the home.

The girl stoutly refuses to give out any information regarding who the father of her baby might be. Her foster parents claim they know nothing regarding the affair.

Address on Lincoln.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. R. Bain of Oelwein, Iowa, delivered an address in the high school auditorium Wednesday on Lincoln. A large audience greeted the speaker who rendered an eloquent address which was greatly appreciated. This is one of the series of addresses which the local high school provide for opening exercises at certain times during the year.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Gwinn—The following births have been registered in the township clerk's office: Andrew Gendron and wife, New Swanzey, a son; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts, a daughter; Solomon Loomis and wife, Little Lake, a son; and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Salanen, Princeton, a daughter.

Escanaba—A brook trout caught by F. E. Bolger in the Escanaba river at Croos measured sixteen and three-quarter inches in length. However, it appears diminutive in size when compared with a trout taken by Ray McEachron near Kates. This speckled beauty measured eighteen and one-sixth inches and tipped the scales at slightly over four pounds.

Ishpeming—The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Blatchford was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Grace Episcopal church. The deceased made her home with her niece, Mrs. George Drew, 412 East Division street. She lived in Republic for some time before locating in Ishpeming.

Marquette—Mrs. Robert Gillon, aged 38 years, died Wednesday afternoon at her home, 808 West Bluff street, after a lingering illness. She is survived by a husband, four daughters and one son.

Ishpeming—Hans C. Olson, an old and well-known resident of the Winthrop location, died Wednesday shortly after dinner, while on his way to work at the Pluto Powder company's plant. The deceased lived with his only daughter, Mrs. Paul Solka, whose husband is in Alaska. He was in the city a few days ago and he appeared to be in splendid health. He was about 60 years of age. His wife died at the Winthrop some years ago.

Houghton—A party of twenty-five Finnish residents of the Copper country left Wednesday for Montreal in a special Grand Trunk car. They will sail for Finnish ports on the steamer Laurentia Saturday. A party of ten will leave Sunday for New York to take ship to England to attend the coronation.

Marquette—The case of Bert Marietta, charged with selling liquor without a license, went to the jury Tuesday afternoon, and at 9 o'clock they returned a verdict of guilty. The Gwinn murder trial occupied the time of the court. The defendant, Peter Roberto, is charged with murdering Raphael Parala in the village of Gwinn on the evening of Feb. 17 last, after a quarrel.

Ishpeming—Charles Ham, aged 86, a pioneer resident of the Upper Peninsula and for thirty years a resident of Ishpeming, passed away Tuesday night at 11:15 o'clock. A son and three daughters survive. The son is Henry Ham of Laurium, and the daughters are Mrs. F. M. Sacrider of this city, Mrs. W. S. Nelson of Gwinn and Mrs. William Walthew of North Yakima, Wash.

Calumet—It has been decided to extend an invitation to Rev. Father Herculean of the Sacred Heart church to deliver the Memorial day address at the Lake View cemetery, where the exercises will be held, and an invitation to Rev. R. W. Farquhar, pastor of the Red Jacket Congregational church, to act as chaplain of the day and deliver the invocation.

Houghton—Plans preparatory to the holding of the annual county celebration of St. Jean Baptiste day at Houghton, on June 24, will be made by the Houghton and Hancock society of the order at a meeting to be held next Sunday.

Hancock—The Hancock aerie of Eagles will hold its annual picnic and outing Sunday, June 4, at Condon's grove in West Hancock, preliminary action to this end being taken at a regular session of the Eagles held Tuesday evening at the Rouleau hall. The picnic of the Eagles will mark the opening of the grove for the season.

Calumet—Henry Dolky, a local agent and collector for the Singer Sewing Machine company, was arrested Wednesday and lodged in the village lockup by Marshal Trudell on the charge of embezzling $39. Complaint was made by W. W. Wright, local manager for the company, following an examination of the books of the defendant by an auditor.

Hancock—Bishop Eis of Marquette, head of Catholic churchmen in the Upper Peninsula, will officiate at the confirmation of 110 little people of St. Joseph's parish at St. Joseph's church at the 10:30 o'clock mass Sunday morning.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—N. P. Lindberg, a well-known florist of Rugby, N. D., has filed a petition of a bankrupt with the clerk of the United States court, J. A. Montgomery. His liabilities are given at $8,451.05 and his assets $7,572.

Marmarth, N. D.—John A. McDonald and Frank Waters, who have been confined in the Bowman county jail for nearly three months on a charge of box car robbery, have been released on $1,000 bonds each.

Jamestown, N. D.—The board of trustees of the state hospital for insane at Jamestown are advertising for bids for the erection of the new fire proof ward building, which is to be constructed this year at the grounds. An appropriation of $95,000 was made by the last legislature for the new building.

Minot, N. D.—Receiver George W. Swords of the Minot National bank, which failed some six years ago, has served notice upon all stockholders of the defunct institution that they must pay a 76 per cent assessment on their stock, to cover interest payments and expenses.

Fargo, N. D.—The contract for the building of bridges in Pembina county has been awarded to the Fargo Bridge & Iron Works at a slight advance over the prices obtained for the Grand Forks county bridge work. The bridges will be built from plans prepared by Grand Forks County Surveyor Thomas L. Lawson.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Orders have been served by the city on the Northwestern Telephone company and the Red River Power company to bring about the removal from De Mers avenue of certain poles that have been allowed to remain. The poles of the telephone company are at the lower end of the avenue, carrying the heavy cables to East Grand Forks. The Power company poles are at the upper end of the avenue.

Aberdeen, S. D.—The funeral took place Wednesday of George Conrad, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Conrad, whose untimely death occurred Sunday, when he was drowned in a pond near the city by heroically going into deep water to save from danger his younger brother.

Bismarck, N. D.—Harry M. Weiser, who prior to his engagement in business with his brother, was employed as assistant cashier in the First National bank of Bismarck, recently purchased the Farmers' & Merchants State bank of Hunter, N. D., and will remove to that town the latter part of the week. He will build a home there during the summer and establish his residence there permanently.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—The state railroad commission will be in Ashland next Monday to make its investigation into the water question. It is assumed that sworn testimony will be taken, and that anybody having anything to say to the question will be allowed to express his sentiments. William Wheeler of Boston will be in attendance.

Madison—A. T. Sands, the expert employed by the joint finance committee to make a complete analysis of the accounting system in all state departments, has made his report. The committee hoped through this investigation to unify the accounts of all departments so that at the end or beginning of any year it would be possible to "take stock," just as is possible in any large corporation.

Green Bay—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Department of Wisconsin's Woman's Relief corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held here June 8 and 9. The sessions will be held in the Congregational church. The headquarters will be in the Beaumont hotel. Mrs. Belle C. Harris, Emporia, Kan., national president, will attend.

Racine—Five hundred business men and residents extended a reception Tuesday night to Former Mayor A. J. Horlick. Embossed resolutions indorsing his administration of four years were presented to him. At a banquet enjoyed by all the speakers were L. J. Elliott, William Smeding, Judge E. L. Helden and Mak Heck, Rev. Naughton of St. Rose's church and Mayor Goodland.

Marinette—Burglars are still operating in Marinette, but the hauls which they have made so far have been small. The Bell store was robbed of $30 in cash, taken from the cash register. The grocery store of C. J. Burk was entered and articles of trifling value taken.

Sheboygan—The city council has appropriated $50,000 for the purchase of a new pump and boiler and the general improvement of the city's waterworks system.

Eau Claire—The annual convention of the Eau Claire and Chippewa County W. C. T. U. was held at Stanley May 16 and 17. A silver medal contest was held Tuesday evening, two contestants from Augusta and three from Eau Claire taking part. The medal was awarded to Ray Allen, an enthusiastic member of the Y. P. B. of the Democrest union of Eau Claire.

Marinette—The "Squattertown" cases have been taken from the jury by Judge Hastings on the request of attorneys on both sides. The decision will be given by the judge, who has taken the cases under advisement.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd—The Brainerd Hook & Ladder company has elected these officers: Foreman, H. Paine; first assistant, C. W. Hoffman; second assistant, W. A. Spencer; secretary, C. H. Paine; treasurer, Frank G. Hall.

Ada—The third annual convention of the Crookston District of Christian Endeavorers will be held in Ada Saturday and Sunday of this week. State Field Secretary Rottman will be present and take part in the two days' program. A large number of delegates are expected from the towns in the district.

Bemidji—Beltrami county wins the prize for the largest number of wolves killed in any one county in the state, a total of $1,924.50 being the amount to be distributed in this county by the state treaurer.

Little Falls—P. A. Sundblom of Pike Creek was fined $25 and costs amounting in all to $45.42 in Justice Randall's court Wednesday for setting a forest fire on May 7. Mr. Sundblom was, on the date mentioned, employed on the Carl Bolander farm west of the city and set fire to burn some rubbish which he had piled up. The fire soon got beyond his control and spread to other property.

St. Cloud—The Catholic church at Clear Lake will be formally dedicated on Tuesday, May 30, by Right Rev. Bishop Trobec. Pontificial high mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a. m. The usual dedicatory services will follow. Rev. B. Richter of Melrose will preach a sermon in German, and Rev. George, O. S. B., will preach in English.

North Branch—The heavy sand storn that visited this section last Thursday is reported as being about one of the worst this section of the country has experienced in years. One could hardly see to travel at times, the air being so full of sand.

Fergus Falls—In a quarrel over some horses at Wrightstown, D. A. Dutton and John Johnson came to blows and John Johnson was injured so badly that he is under the doctor's care and it is feared that he may not recover.

Hinckley—Capt. E. H. Holbert has sold his interest in the State Bank of Hinckley to ames G. Swan of Minneapolis, who is also interested in the Mr. Swan is the new president, P. A. Christianson the new vice president and W. H. Lamson will continue his connection with the bank as cashier and will assume active management.

Faribault—The body of Abraham Moore, aged 87, who died recently in Duluth, was buried here. He was a native of Canada and came to Faribault in 1865. For a number of years he was engaged in the foundry and machine business, and later operated a laundry. He was a member of the city council for one term. About a year ago he went to Duluth to reside with his daughters, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Alcirk, who with one son, Frederick Moore of Hibbing, survive him.

St. Cloud—The session of the Federated Women's clubs of the Sixth district held in this city Monday and Tuesday was a pleasant and successful meeting. These officers were elected: Mrs. L. A. Mathews of Wadena, recording secretary; Miss Amy Lowry of Brainerd, corresponding secretary; Mrs Martin Molitor of St. Cloud, treasurer.

Stillwater—There seems to be no longer any doubt but the log drives on the St. Croix will be brought in this year very soon. Heavy rains have recently fallen all over the reaches of the Upper St. Croix and telegrams came into this city from the management of the St. Croix Timber company's drives for men. A large number of men left Tuesday night and a still larger number this morning.

Mankato—Dr. Peter Follman, the oldest physician in this city, died suddenly Wednesday of apoplexy, aged 84. He leaves a wife.

The musical novelty of the year

The concerts of the wonderful Imperial Russian Balalaika Court Orchestra have been the sensational event of the present musical season.

The balalaika, originally a primitive peasant's instrument with a tone similar to that of a mandolin, has been developed and improved by the conductor of this organization into a novel orchestra of great range, with instruments varying in size from that of a mandolin to a small-sized double-bass.

Imperial Russian Balalaika Court Orchestra

The technical skill and precision of these twenty-five gifted players are simply astonishing, while the effect of the whole orchestra is soft and rich—"music something like produced by our mandolin, only wonderfully more velvety, that fades away to a singing whisper or flows into a liquid tone like the sound of zithers in crystal halls".

Thousands of delighted hearers in the large cities have enjoyed this exquisite music. Now every one can hear it on the Victor.

Three records just issued—made under the personal direction of the conductor, W. W. Andreeff.

WHITE SOX ARE ROUTED

Outcasts Hand the Weary Travelers an 11 to 2 Defeat.

Kramer Knocked Off Rubber and Holstrom Finishes the Game.

La Crosse, Wis., May 19.—La Crosse made four runs in the first inning of yesterday's game, after that piling the run figures up to 11 points, easily vanquishing the Sox by the score of 11 to 2, the result giving them two out of three games of the series.

Hits were bunched off Kramer. Holstrom was called in from the outfield to relieve the pitcher and he was hit freely during the game. Safford got four of the ten hits made by the locals. The contest abounded in heavy hitting upon the part of the local players. Score: R. H. E.

WINONA TAKES THIRD STRAIGHT FROM SUPERIOR

Winona, Minn., May 19.—Winona took the third straight game from the Red Legs here yesterday, Dauss letting them down with four hits, the final score being 5 to 0.

In addition to the brilliant pitching of George Dauss, the brilliant fielding of the locals was a distinct feature of the game. Several times, hits were killed by the fast work of the infield.

Davey got three doubles and a single out of four times up, his work being the real feature of the contest. Score: R. H. E.

BLIND ATHLETES TAKING THEIR DAILY EXERCISE

BLIND ATHLETES AT OVERBROOK, PA.

The blind athletes at the school at Overbrook, Pa., do some feats that would be considered wonderful even for young men with the possession of all their faculties.

WITH THE FIGHTERS

Curley Ulrich writes from Winnipeg that efforts are being made at the present time to match him with Hillard Lang, champion welterweight of Canada, the battle to take place in Winnipeg, some time in June.

The fight game is going good at the Western Canadian metropolis at the present time, according to Curly. Eddie Marino and Billy Lauder are to meet at the next show at Winnipeg, and then comes Toni Capond. Following these two comes it is proposed to put on the meeting between Lang and Ulrich.

The Superior scrapper will return to the American side of the line before that time to train for his fight with Flynn. Curly is also after another, and if he gets it will be busy for some time.

They all get it after they win a fight that attracts the attention of the country. At the present time Jim Flynn is talking of a finish fight with Jack Johnson. Mere piffle with pish added. There are a lot of fans very well aware of the fact that Al Kauffmann is a dub, and yet these same fans will bet their money that Kauffmann can beat Flynn in a return match, if Jolly Johnny is in the corner of the big German.

What Johnson would do to the big Italian of sweet Pueblo, would be little short of murder. The fireman is made for Johnson. One of those fighting ers who tears in with his head down, and most science cast to the four winds of the desert, he would run into a head-on collision with those terrible uppercuts of the champion.

All this talk is for advertising purposes, for Flynn knows right down deep in his heart that Johnson will cook him slowly and turn him over to brown nicely, any time they hook up.

Flynn has a fondness for diamonds, good clothes and also for gay company. All these things require the constant and steady companionship of the dear old kale. Mister Flynn is out for the mo-noney at the present time, and the statement that he believes that he can win from Johnson is merely a little advance notice.

• • •

Last night at Hammond, Ind., Tommy Garry, who fought Pal Brown to a draw only a short time ago, outpointed Danny Goodman, the tough little Italian scrapper of Chicago. There was a chance that Goodman would be matched with Brown, but after losing the decision to Garry, it would appear that, in the opinion of the fans, Brown would score an easy win.

As Garry is after a return fight with the range fighter, it is probable that the two boys will be brought together some time in the near future.

Garry and Brown will make a rattling fight and the same can be said of a meeting between Walter Little, the fast Chicago scrapper, and Pal.

Little is one of the best of the Chicago boys and a meeting between the Chicago boy and the pride of the range would be sure to arouse a great deal of interest in the fans in this part of the country.

BREWERS ARE UNABLE TO HIT BASKETTE.

Toledo, Ohio, May 19.—Baskette proved invincible yesterday holding Milwaukee to five hits. The visitors only run was scored on an error. Cutting was driven from the mound in the fourth inning, while Short who succeeded him, pitched sensational ball, holding Toledo hitless. Score: R. H. E.

HEAVY HITTING IN NINTH WINS FOR BLUES.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 19.—Heavy hitting in the ninth inning won yesterday's game for Kansas City, 6 to 4. Two doubles and a single scored two runs. Maddox held the locals at his mercy, errors allowing most of the scores. Score: R. H. E.

SENATORS BUNCH HITS AND DEFEAT MILLERS.

Columbus, Ohio, May 19.—Columbus yesterday defeated Minneapolis, 5 to 3, by bunching three hits with two passes in the fifth. Lessard was taken out in the ninth after the first two Minneapolis players up had singled, but Liebhardt retired the visitors scoreless. The feature of the game was Hinchman's steal of home. Ferris' double to the left field fence, was one of the longest hits ever seen on the local field. Score: R. H. E.

FAMOUS SPEEDER MAY COME HERE

The La Truda, a Possible Carnival Cup Race Contender.

"Bill" Jones is at the present time in communication with C. A. Criqui, president of the Sterling Engine company, with a view of bringing to the Head of the Lakes the La Truda, a 30-foot speed marvel owned by Commodore H. T. Vars of the Buffalo Motor Boat club.

President Criqui wrote a letter which Bill received yesterday in which he stated that it was very likely that the fastest boat in the world for its length would come here for the motor boat races.

Equipped with a 100-horse power Sterling engine, and modeled on lines that combine strength with the greatest possible speed, the La Truda has made a wonderful record in the East.

It is the winner of the famous Pratt and Letchworth trophy, and has also defeated the Hoosier Boy and some of the other of the fastest speed boats in the Eastern waters. The presence of the La Truda at the Duluth races would be a great attraction, one of the best that could possibly be secured and would add to the drawing power of the carnival events.

Robert Marshall, captain of the motor boat section of the boat club, has sent a number of invitation and a large quantity of carnival literature to every prominent motor boat owner in the West. It is expected that favorable replies will be received from some of these men.

EGAN'S RATING HAS DECREASED

Exmoor Player Given a Stroke Over Other Western Players.

Chicago, May 19.—According to the 1911 handicap ratings of the western golf association. "Chick" Evans, of Edgewater, western open champion, Mason E. Phelps of Midlothian, western amateur champion, and W. C. Fownes, Jr., of Pittsburg, national amateur champion, have improved two strokes on Chandler Egan of Exmoor in the last year.

In the 1910 ratings first heard of yesterday, Egan was the only player placed at scratch, while the three before named had one stroke. Now, these three are at scratch while Egan is given a stroke. There are many who feel that Egan is still as good as any player in the country despite the fact that he failed to qualify in the national championship at Brooklyn.

George Lyon, many times champion of Canada, also is given one stroke on the three scratch men, Canadian players now being listed by virtue of the expansion movement, effected at the last meeting of the W. G. A.

Nearly forty clubs of the association failed to turn in ratings to the committee and as a result, a number of players probably will find they have been given handicaps which are far from satisfactory.

HAL CHASE MAY NOT PLAY FOR A MONTH.

St. Louis, Mo., May 19.—The New York Americans, minus Manager Hal Chase, are here for a four-game series. Chase is a very sick man, according to members of the New York team, and instead of coming to St. Louis, was sent to New York from Cleveland Tuesday night.

He became ill while the team was in Detroit and since then has been confined to his room. At first it was reported that he had an attack of erysipelas, but the doctor who attended him in Cleveland announced that it was bronchitis with a chance that it might develop into pneumonia. It is said that it will be at least a month before the manager will be able to resume his duties as leader and first sacker for the New York club.

Hawkins After Fight.

Burrell Smith today received a letter from Clev Hawkins, in which the dusky Chicago battler asks for a meeting with the Duluth ebony scrapper. A meeting between the two smokes would prove an interesting go and should bring out some great scrapping. Hawkins is also hankering for a match with Art Godfrey.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

Sox Start Important Series With Winona—The Dear Old Dope, and Some Occasions When It Has Gone Wrong—Climb on the Wagon.

(BY BRUCE.)

THIS afternon the Sox start the series at Winona. The three games at the city beautiful will wind up the engagement on the road for the initial swing around the circuit. These games will also give us something of a line on the ability of the Sox against a team that to date has been playing the strongest article of ball of any member of the league.

That disastrous defeat yesterday at La Crosse was unlooked for, to say the least. It goes to show that this season, with the very kittenish ball they have in use, it is quite impossible to dope the result of the game.

This new ball proposition brings up a new phase of the situation. When teams get to hitting the pill there is no telling how the contest is going to end. Dope has been deserted for the time being, and those who have been strong in the past with the forecast stuff, will probably go very slow for a while.

Nels Dueholm, one of the closest followers of baseball in the Northwest, and the same man who doped the result of the world's series last fall, giving his version in The Herald, though his name was not used at the time, was in the city yesterday.

He was asked what he thought the outcome of the race in the National would be.

"Not for mine, with a couple of nay nays," he replied. "With that lively ball they have in use at the present time there is no use in trying to dope the outcome of games or the result of the season's race. The games have been going too freakish for any sane man to make any prediction at the present time."

And so excusing ourselves for leaving the Sox out of the conversation for the time being, we will again include the O'Brienites in the general talk.

That game yesterday at La Crosse showed that the heavy cannonading the present season is going to play the very hob with form, causing some very surprising reversals.

Down in the Southland in the days when the blood of the horse racing men ran at a very high temperature, and men were impetuous, to use that word in its most exaggerated sense, owners of race horses were sometimes shot when their nags showed too surprising a reversal in running form. Think of the chagrin of the man who would pick his favorite team to win the morrow's game, after seeing them play a rowdy edition, and then behold it get the very sox knocked off.

So far the present season there have sure been some very surprising reversals in form, and it shows that the pitcher the present season who hasn't much on the ball is due to have a lot of runs chalked up against him.

The disastrous trouncing that the Sox received yesterday may not mean so very much, and we are hoping that the harps make a very good showing against the Pirates, who are going some at the present writing.

The fans will be very well satisfied if the Sox grab one of the games from the Killianites. You know how hard it is to stop a team that starts with a winning streak on its own grounds. We have seen that very same thing at home. One game from the Winonas will please the fans mightily and will bring the team home in a position to start right up there at the top.

There is a great deal of interest in the team at the present time. The good work on the road has aroused the baseball fever, and it is very likely that one of the largest crowds that has ever assembled at Athletic park will be on hand to welcome home the "towering" warriors.

What Is the Dear Old Dope?

A CHAP will meet you on the street and ask "What is the dope today?" How do you know? Maybe you don't, but you have grasped the idea; he wants to know in general what is doing, perhaps most particularly in the world of sports, which flourishes when other institutions are moribund and dying of dry rot.

Dope might be called the opinion of the largest number of people on the outcome of some big prize fight, some football game between two of the largest colleges, or some baseball game that is attracting the attention of thousands of fans throughout the length and breadth of the country.

It is supposed to be the inside, the wise hunch. Of course, that is not always possessed by the majority of people, and so it might better be said that dope in particular is the thoughtful and foxy opinion of some real expert, and not merely some gink who signs his name, or some other romantic name to an article.

There have been so many cases on record where the dope has been made to look foolish. Looking back on the field of the athletic past, it may be observed that in many big events the experts have been as wrong as a Southern negro caught in a chicken coop.

Take two extremes in the brilliant career of John L. Sullivan. Many of the sport readers in this town have followed that same career from the day he whipped Paddy Ryan, to the disastrous and pathetic evening in New Orleans when John flopped his title to young Jim Corbett.

The first time John L. fought Ryan the dope was that the youngster would get his bloomin' ead' knocked off. The dear dope had wandered far from home on that very important occasion, for the Boston strong boy startled the pugilistic world by beating Ryan and becoming recognized as one of the greatest fighters in the world.

Travel along the years and sit at the ringside that never to be forgotten evening in New Orleans. There wasn't a man in fifty who would hardly concede Corbett a chance with the man who had struck terror to the heart of fighters down through the decade.

The experts were, almost to a man, wrong. The dope was made to look as foolish as a man who is caught hooking up his wife's gown. And yet before the contest started the dope had its chest thrown out, so confident was it that there was no chance in the world for it to go wrong.

When Michigan beat Minnesota last fall, the dope in this state was all in favor of the Gophers. It was figured out to a scientific nicety and had a personal comparison of every man on the two teams. The dope was wrong, but not placed in bad by any means, for the better team really lost, though the team coached by the better coach won.

There was the recent fiasco at Reno. What about the dope that day? It ceased working days before the battle, in the minds of the "experts," who had it figured that Jeff would win easily. The dope was turned out in the pasture and told to get fat and then come around after the fight and receive a sweet kiss on the brow.

That torrid day in Reno the dope was given an awful hiding. The dope in general has not recovered from the jolt received that day. It may get well, as the song says, but it will never look the same.

There have been many other occasions when the dope went on a rampage and refused to play true to the leaders of the game.

The night Kid Lavigne licked Joe Wolcott, the friends of the dope thing were made to reflect deeply on the fallibility of man. The negro was given an awful lacing by a lightweight, after beating some of the prominent heavyweights, and they carried dope to bed and it was weeks before it was even able to sit up and take notice.

But we all love the dear dope. We read it, are interested in it, take it very seriously at times, and frequently ask for it. Dope has a many-sided personality and is generally very welcome to any table where they serve refreshments. It is also welcome in the best of homes, and in fact is on speaking acquaintance with some of the very best families in town.

The very fact that dope sometimes goes wrong, makes us all the more interested in it. We are all but human and can appreciate and sympathize with frailty. Welcome to the side, little dope, and may you continue to be right more times than you are wrong.

Come to the Front and Cheer.

COME to the front, Mr. Business Man. Take an interest in your baseball team. Forget the traditions of the past. Go out to the baseball park and become acquainted with the the boys. Duluth is just entering upon the biggest era of expansion in its history; an expansion that within a very few years is going to make it one of the big cities of the West. We are going to have great baseball in the future. We are building firmly. Come out and help. Duluth is just beginning to be a live and progressive city. We are getting wise to ourselves; let us get wise to the baseball team.

Men haven't put a lot of money into a new baseball plant for shallow or foolish reasons. There is something behind it. With the growth of Duluth is coming baseball as fast as that played in the big leagues. In the meantime we are out to win the pennant in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league, and the team wants the help of the fans. The best way to get faster baseball in this town is to support the game. The fans can help more than even the most rabid imagine, and Mr. Business Man, you can do your part. Your presence helps; come out and root, you will feel better and so will the members of the team. Enthusiasm is what the city needs and let us all start the present season right.

COLLEGE ATHLETES MEET AT SPRINGFIELD.

Springfield, Mass., May 19.—Pratt Field was the scene today of the preliminary contests of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic association. About 170 young athletes, representing fourteen colleges, were expected to compete. Dartmouth's followers held strong hopes of securing their second championship trophy.

Looking for a Game.

The Twin Ports Clothing company team wishes to arrange a game with the Duluth Universals for next Sunday. The players also wish to get a game with the Kenney-Ankers for June 11. And if there is any independent amateur team in or around Duluth which wishes to arrange a game with the T. P. C. Co. they may do so by calling up Melrose 402 before noon Saturday or address Edward Norsted, 211 Manhattan building.

Green Room Gossip.

Every New York critic joined in superlatively praising the music and comedy merits of "Madame Sherry," the biggest musical success of the day, which will soon be seen in this city. These lines are from the New York Herald: "It was welcomed with laughter and applause. It rivals 'The Merry Widow' and is one of the best musical shows seen in New York in oh! ever so long." The New York Post said: "The audience could not help humming the score, and it was heard in the cars and in the subways long after the curtain fell." The same complete production will be seen here at the Lyceum theater.

Gene Greene, the singer of character songs, who has been making such a hit at the Orpheum this week, is generally acknowledged to be the Beau Brummel of the circuit.

Mr. Greene is one of the most immaculate dressers, both on and off the stage, that the circuit boasts. He carries a small furnishing store along with him on his tour, and is said to have no less than forty hats in his collection. He wears a new collar for every performance, and has something like a dozen suits of clothes for his act alone, in addition to those which he wears on the street. Mr. Greene believes that it is poor economy to save money on costumes for an act, for he believes that vaudeville audiences like to see performers well dressed, above all things.

Mr. Greene is not dependent on his vaudeville earnings for his daily bread and butter, but is the owner of three moving picture theaters in Chicago, which have been making good returns on the money invested.

"It is a pity more of our vaudeville theaters do not purvey more sketches of the caliber of 'Superstition' so admirably presented by Charles W. Bowser and his company at the Empress," was the comment of a Milwaukee critic on the act which is presented at the Duluth theater this week. "Oliver White understands something about dramatic construction, which is something most of the tabloid playwrights dismiss as an impenetrable mystery. 'Superstition' has bones. It tells an exciting incident in a manner at once interesting and amusing, carrying the listener to an intense climax, and leaving him with a laugh. Charles W. Bowser in the role of Big Jim Kingston, the politician, has given the stage a new creation. He seizes the audience with a grip the moment he enters upon the stage and holds them throughout with a subtle intensity that makes them feel his every emotion."

The new Auditorium is becoming very popular with Duluth people who like to roller skate. Each afternoon and each evening the floor is crowded with merry skaters. For those who have not learned to skate, instructors have been provided by the management. One of the features of the new rink is the mechanical band which pounds out popular airs as well as a large orchestra could play them. The new rink is one of the best in the entire Northwest. The skating space is large, the floor is uncommonly smooth. Hundreds of people can skate there as very large crowds can be accommodated.

The Odeum and Lyric photoplay theaters continue to be popular with those who like entertainment of this kind. The bill at each theater this week is more than ordinarily good and large crowds are being pleased. More than ever it is becoming a habit with Duluth women to drop into these theaters for a few minutes when down town on shopping excursions. Others who have but a short time for entertainment during the day, are also taking advantage of the short shows. Then, there are many people who come down town purposely in the evenings to attend the picture shows. The photoplays presented appeal to all classes and the Odeum and Lyric are the most popular theaters of this class in the city.

YEAR OF GREAT ACTIVITY FOR COMMERCIAL CLUB

Public Affairs Committee Has Many Vital Problems to Dispose Of.

"Clouds Over Business Sky Have Passed," Says Chairman McGonagle.

PROBLEMS CONFRONTING PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE.

City planning.
Housing problems.
Manufacturing extension.
Advertising Duluth as a summer resort.
Retention of Minnesota & North Wisconsin railway.
Agricultural development near Duluth and extension of street railway lines.
County and state development.
Dealing with petty offenders.
Water carnival.
Development of farm school.

The volume of work laid out by the new public affairs committee at its first meeting last night promises a year of unprecedented activity for the Duluth Commercial club. Nearly every member of the new committee attended the meeting; the speeches were charged with optimism and promise for the future, and the men who will work for the development of Duluth and its tributary territory during the next year took hold with enthusiasm.

Some of the work alid out was started by the last committee, and the men who acted in prior years. Some new lines of activity were suggested by the speakers, all looking forward to a greater Duluth, a more prosperous agricultural community near the city and continued growth of commercial and industrial activity.

Several speakers touched upon the subject of city planning, which was brought out by Chairman McGonagle in his opening remarks. They toow the stand that the Duluth of today is not the Duluth of the future, and that Duluth today must look to the future and provide for it. The city must prepare for an influx of citizens, who must be given employment and housed; the city must attract industries which will give employment to men and draw them to the city; the street railway lines must be extended over the hill to facilitate the development of the agricultural resources of the so-called inner zone, which will settle the land with people and reduce the cost of living by bringing about the production of farm produce to the doors of the city.

Back to Reason in Business.

"The clouds which have hovered over the business world have passed away," said W. A. McGonagle, chairman of the committee, in opening the meeting. "We have returned to reason in business. That fact is well for Duluth, as we are standing on the threshold of a manufacturing future. It is of the greatest importance to us at this particular time that the doubts which have assailed the business world have been removed and in a short time confidence in business will be fully restored and our future as a manufacturing city assured."

Mr. McGonagle touched upon the subjects to be considered during the year. He first took up city planning, urging that the city should be planned for at least fifty years in the future. He pointed out that other cities have been forced to be rebuilt at great cost and that the sooner Duluth prepares for great growth and great population, the more economically it can be done.

Mr. McGonagle said the subject of housing should be taken up this year. He pointed out that provision should be made for furnishing workingmen with homes at a reasonable rent, or at a reasonable cost if they prefer to build. He said that manufacturers have hesitated to come to Duluth on account of the high cost of living and the high rent.

"I believe that with the cultivation of the agricultural resources of the country around Duluth we will have homes to furnish workingmen at reasonable rents and at reasonable cost," he said.

The manufacturing committee will continue to work to bring industries to Duluth, said Mr. McGonagle. He said the committee is anxious to get small industries as well as big industries.

Advertising Duluth.

Advertising Duluth offers a great work, said Mr. McGonagle. "We must give the subject attention and use the utmost endeavor to cultivate the idea of having Duluth as a summer resort," he said. "That means we must have buildings to house the people who come. We must use conservatism in advertising and not exceed our facilities for taking care of visitors, for we do not want to bring people here and not have accommodations for them."

Mr. McGonagle spoke strongly on the subject of retaining the Minnesota & North Wisconsin railway. "That railroad is one of the strongest factors in the development of the city of Duluth," he said. "While it is not fitted for a steam railroad, it is fitted for an electric line and in connection with a land development plan, it would be a profitable investment. I have made a careful examination of the road, as an engineer and a railroad man, and I am convinced that it can be made a profitable enterprise. It is one of the keys to the situation here and, as I said before, it can be made a great factor in the development of Duluth. We must depend upon the development of the land to reduce the cost of living."

Mr. McGonagle touched briefly on agriculture, the extension of street railway lines to the surrounding country, and county and state development. He said the year offers great opportunities for accomplishment. The Duluth Commercial club is known all through the country as a progressive, constructive body, he said, and it will have an opportunity to increase the field of its endeavor during the coming year.

Mayor Cullum Speaks.

"The personal property tax makes cowards, rascals, liars and thieves of us all," was one of Mayor Cullum's comments in the discussion of tax and assessment matters. The mayor paid a high tribute to J. A. Scott, the city assessor, and asked the assistance of the public affairs committee for the assessor in his work on revaluing the real estate of the city. Mayor Cullum talked on the subject of petty offenders, the clearing of the sidewalks so as to reduce the congestion of traffic, and public docks. Mayor Cullum said that the municipal dock problem is partly solved by the assurance that the state dock site at Oneota will be leased to the city on favorable terms.

Tribute to Mackenzie.

W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, was introduced by chairman McGonagle with a tribute to Mr. Mackenzie's hard work for Northern Minnesota. The chairman termed Mr. Mackenzie the father of the Northern Minnesota Development association. Mr. Mackenzie spoke on the coming meeting of the association in Duluth and said that he expects the meeting to be better than any yet held. The attendance at each succeeding meeting has been greater than at the one preceding, he said, and he expects to see fully 1,000 people in Duluth for the meeting Jan. 1 and 2.

Mr. McKenzie said there was a great opportunity for development all through Northern Minnesota. He said the belief that the Red River valley is fully settled up is a mistake, for not over 25 per cent of the acreage is in crops. He said the feeling towards Duluth all through Northern Minnesota is of the best and it can be strengthened by the co-operation of Duluth business men in making the coming meeting a big success.

Mr. MacKenzie explained the reclamation project in the hands of the board, of which he is a member. "I consider the reclamation bill the best piece of legislation passed for Northern Minnesota at the last session of the legislature," he said.

Poultry Marketing.

N. E. Chapman, head of the poultry division of the extension department of the state university, spoke briefly, telling of the work he is doing in instructing country merchants and shippers in improved methods of marketing eggs. "I am on a mission of conservation," he said, "and hope to conserve for the state of Minnesota from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, which now goes to waste yearly through carelessness in the handling of poultry, eggs and veal."

Water Carnival.

B. P. Neff of the water carnival committee made a rattling speech, in which he pointed out the good that may come to Duluth from the carnival. He said that it is a big Duluth affair and every citizen of Duluth should consider himself on the committee to make it a big success.

President Luster Talks.

C. A. Luster, president of the Commercial club, also spoke briefly, commending the work of the last public affairs committee and thanking the members of the new committee for the prompt acceptance of his call to serve. He said not a single refusal to serve was received and he considered that a commendable showing of public spirit.

Reapportionment.

Senator H. W. Cheadle gave an interesting account of the reapportionment fight in the legislature. He said that although reapportionment failed at the last session, he has hopes of its passage at the next session of the legislature. He said that the Duluth delegation worked for Northern Minnesota at all times and found many friends among the Northern Minnesota delegation, although the friends were not numerous enough when the reapportionment legislation was before the senate.

Brooks-Scanlon Road.

C. P. Craig talked on the farm school and the subject of the Brooks-Scanlon road. He said the Brooks-Scanlon road is just where a road should be placed in the natural course of development, and it should be retained. It is just at the outer edge of the inner zone, and at the lower edge of the Cloquet river basin. From the city, the development may work outward, and from the road inward, so that in time the two districts will be joined to make one great agricultural section, directly tributary to Duluth and bringing fresh farm products to the market daily at a minimum cost.

Millie Bunnell commended the work of the committee during the past years and promised his hearty support for the future.

Barnes Is Optimistic.

Julius H. Barnes asked the co-operation of business men in the work of the traffic commission. He said that the influence of the commission will be greater if everybody having a subject of the kind to take up, will take it up through the commission.

Mr. Barnes also touched upon manufacturing extension. He said in that connection that he believes the manufacture of linen from flax is now an established industry and that the plant now existing in Duluth will grow to a great manufacturing enterprise.

Bishop McGolrick.

The extension of Duluth's influence, the colonization of people on the land around the city, the extension of street railway lines and the attraction of people from the cities to the country were discussed by Bishop James McGolrick. Bishop McGolrick explained his plan for the colonization of land in the western part of the state and said that he is meeting with success in the work. He said that they have adopted the plan which the reclamation board is now working out, that of preparing a part of each tract of land so that the settler may sow his crops as soon as he takes possession, clearing the remainder of the land at his leisure. He said that the extension of the reclamation work to all state lands in this section of the state would be a wonderful stimulant to development.

Bishop McGolrick said that in past years when he traveled through Northern Minnesota in his capacity as head of the diocese, he found that most of the business of the small towns was done with St. Paul and Minneapolis. That is rapidly changing, he said, for the small towns of Northern Minnesota are beginning to realize that Duluth is their friend and the natural commercial center of the district. He urged that the Duluth business men cultivate the friendship of the people of Northern Minnesota for the advancement of Duluth and the region tributary to it.

Sub-Committee Appointments.

Chairman McGonagle announced the following sub-committee appointments:

BONDS INCREASED AS LYNN WAS GOING EAST.

Williston, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Lynn, accused of being implicated in the case in which Dr. Belyea of this city has been bound over to the district court on a charge of abortion, is again in the county jail. Lynn furnished bonds when originally arrested, the amount being fixed at $1,500, but he was rearrested and the bond raised to $1,000, just as he was about to take a train for the East. Mrs. Irene Hepner of Buford, N. D., is the complaining witness, both against the physician and against Llynn.

ADVENTURES OF TWO DREAMERS WITH POVERTY

Joseph Catherwood Puffs His Pipe, With Family in Bethel Home.

Wife Angry Because Home Serves Breakfast at 7 o'Clock.

With his wife and two small daughters being cared for at the Bethel home on East Fifth street, Joseph Catherwood, recently of Canada, sits at the St. Louis county jail puffing contentedly at his pipe, happy, contented and at ease with himself and the world.

Catherwood was arrested yesterday by Brown McDonald, inspector in charge of the local immigration offices. An effort will be made to deport him as ever since arriving in this city a few weeeks ago, he and his family have been public charges.

It is one of the most unusual cases that ever came to the notice of either the immigration inspector or the Associated Charities of this city.

Catherwood is one of those happy-go-lucky fellows who works only enough to keep himself in tobacco. He has no worries and his responsibility in caring for his family or his duty to society in general, trouble him not at all. He is a mighty agreeable and pleasant chap to talk with and he dreams of things that are to come to him, but by no exertion on his part.

The family arrived from Canada a few weeks ago. It is thought they came from Winnipeg. They deny that they did, but the local immigration officer has evidence to that effect. Upon their arrival they sought the office of the Associated Charities where they asked for enough money to get their trunks on which there was a small amount of storage due at the union depot. They were given the money. It was found later that the only reason Catherwood exerted himself by asking for it was that he was out of tobacco. The change was spent for meals and tobacco.

They applied again soon after for aid and upon investigation of the case the Associated Charities secured for Catherwood a job, hunted up a cheap flat near the incline, paid the first month's rent, sent up groceries and thought they had heard the last of the case.

Bought Cigars.

The charitable organization got him a job working on the street railway and he insisted on his pay after the first half day's work. He went out at noon and purchased as many cigars as the money would buy. He was generous with them, but knowing his circumstances the men refused to take them from him. He was so busy during the afternoon smoking the cigars that he forgot to work and he was promptly discharged.

Within a few days Catherwood appeared at the office in the courthouse. He stated that he had lost his job because he had insisted on smoking while he was working and asked for more aid. He was told that he would have to get busy and support his family and he said with a yawn that he guessed he would get along all right after people learned that in order to have him work for them, they would have to treat him with more respect.

Gets Another Job.

He was given more groceries and another job was obtained for him. He was soon "canned" and again he visited the office. In making out a new list of groceries, he had underlined "tobacco" several times. The society cut it from the list and upon the receipt of the groceries and finding that the tobacco had been denied him, he thought he had a yell coming. He yelled long and loud, claiming that the most important item on the list had been cut from it.

He found fault with the house that the Associated Charities had rented for him. He said he did not like the neighborhood and that it was too far up the hill. He was sent out on another job and he worked 75 cents worth. He said that it was all the money he wanted for some time as it would keep him nicely in tobacco.

He does not believe in working—that is, hard work. It is his opinion that a man should work only enough to secure the bare necessities of life. "Bare necessities," says Mr. McDonald of the immigration service, "is good." "His conception of necessities is indeed hazy," he added.

It is thought that the family travels around from one town to another getting what help they can and living off the residents. It is thought that they have been doing this in Canada and that one town has been shifting them on another. Finally they reached Winnipeg, according to the evidence obtained by Mr. McDonald. They were helped continually for some time or until their welcome wore out. Then they came to Duluth.

At Winnipeg the family is said to have gone under the name of Park. They deny this, however. They have no clothes, no money and are absolutely destitute. One of the little girls is horribly diseased, states a local doctor, who attended them.

The wife and mother is of the same mind in regard to working as is the father. She cried long, hard and loud when Catherwood was arrested. She saw no reason for the arrest. Catherwood is being held pending the examination. As soon as the papers come he will be sent back to Canada.

Meanwhile the mother and the children are being cared for at the Bethel home. The first morning at that place Mrs. Catherwood was called at 7 o'clock for breakfast. She was very indignant and stated that in her family no one thought of getting up until 9 o'clock. The baby was given but one quart of milk and this was the last straw. It made her thoroughly mad. She said that the baby had been used to two quarts.

The case is one of the most unusual that has ever come to the attention of the local authorities.

RAILROADS

REPLACING MANY TIES

Northern Pacific Carrying Out Extensive Program of Improvements.

Ballasting Roadbed in Dakotas and Double Tracking Big Mileage.

The Northern Pacific is this spring replacing ties all over the system in accordance with its annual program of roadbed improvement. Each spring, 12 per cent of the ties along the line are replaced with new ones, and this spring there is being put in on all divisions a total of 2,645,588 ties.

The company has at Brainerd, Minn., a tie treating plant where all of the ties used with the exception of tamarack and red oak ties are subjected to a preserving process. This treating process consists in soaking the tie which lengthens the life of the tie by approximately five years. In the case of the tamarack and red oak ties, the texture of the wood is such as to prevent the treating process from "taking" and these ties naturally have the maximum lease of life.

The total renewal of ties on the system is 12 per cent, and the practice of the Northern Pacific is to make this renewal each year, with the result that every eight years, approximately, the ties on the system are entirely renewed.

A vast amount of rock and gravel ballast is also being placed on the right-of-way, especially in North Dakota and Eastern Montana. Widening of right-of-way preparatory to constructing double track is also being pushed rapidly in those sections east of the Rocky mountains where the system is not already double tracked. Of its total mileage between St. Paul, Duluth and the Pacific coast, the Northern Pacific now has in daily use, a total of 520 miles of double track and 1,047 of alternate line, while 455 miles between St. Paul, Seattle and Portland are equipped with electric automatic block signals.

CONSIGNEES' NAMES NEED NOT BE GIVEN.

Washington, May 19.—The interstate commerce commission has stated a salient principle that "a carrier may not properly look beyond the transportation to the ownership of the shipment as a basis for determining the applicability of its rates."

The ruling was announced because many carriers have regulations in their freight tariffs providing that the "names of individual consignors and final consignees" shall be given before the goods are accepted for shipment.

The commission directs that all such regulations shall be stricken from the tariff by June 1, 1911.

KATY GETS PERMIT FOR NEW BOND ISSUE.

Topeka, Kan., May 19.—The state railroad board has grannted the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad company permission to issue $24,000,000 in bonds, $5,000,000 to be spent in betterment of the road in Kansas. The board last week refused the application of the company to issue $107,869,000 in bonds.

FIRST MOVE MADE IN BITTER ATTACK ON LUMBER TRUST

to whom "short shrift" must be applied.

The government charges in brief that by an elaborate system of blacklisting, not only individual consumers, but some of the largest industrial corporations have been prevented from dealing directly with wholesalers. By alleged unlawful agreements and acts, it is charged, all competition for the trade of contractors, builders, the manufacturers of finished lumber products, and the individual consumers have been thrown entirely into the hands of the retailers in the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association and its constituent organizations.

Punished for Selling.

The government's bill alleges that in some localities the wholesaler selling to a consumer has either been heavily fine or expelled from the organization.

Officials of the department of justice regard the suit as the most important in principle of any yet undertaken by the government against alleged conspiracies said to affect the cost of living.

It is believed that should the courts uphold the government's contention that it is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying direct from the producer, other suits will be started against combinations of retailers alleged to be in control of the marketing of many of the commodities of life.

National Body Involved.

The defendants named in the suit and who are alleged to have conspired among themselves and, with the assistance of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' association, have prevented wholesalers from selling directly or indirectly to consumers, are:

The Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association, a New York corporation with offices at 18 Broadway.

The New York Lumber Trade association of New York city.

The Building Material Men's association of Westchester county, New York.

The Lumber Dealers' association of Connecticut.

The Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' association.

The Lumber Dealers' association of Rhode Island.

The Retail Lumbermen's association of Baltimore.

Individuals are Named.

The officers and directors, trustees and members of the above are named as individual defendants as well as the officers and directors and members of the three following voluntary organizations:

The New Jersey Lumbermen's Protective association.

The Retail Lumbermen's association of Philadelphia.

The Lumber Exchange of the District of Columbia.

The government asks for a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from continuing the conspiracy charged.

POULTRY EXPERT AT TWO HARBORS

Prof. N. E. Chapman, the poultry expert of the agricultural school, arrived in Duluth yesterday. He held a meeting last evening with members of the Duluth Poultry association, and today he is at Two Harbors.

This evening Mr. Chapman will address commission men, retail dealers and others interested in poultry and eggs at the Commercial club. Mr. Chapman has started on a mission of conservation. He intends to instruct egg and poultry shippers of the state in the methods of marketing the products of the poultry industry and he is obtaining the co-operation of the receivers and retail dealers in the work. He has interested the commission interests of the Twin Cities and the railroad companies in his work and he hopes to work up interest among Duluth people also.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Mr. Chapman will meet the children who are entered in the poultry contest. He will instruct them in housing, feeding and otherwise caring for chickens, and the instructions he gives should be valuable to the young contestants.

Mr. Chapman will address his poultry class and others at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow night.

Ralph A. Lovering Is Held on the Charge of Forgery.

Charged With Spending Employer's Money "Having a Good Time"

The lure of the white lights and the glamour of the primrose path, are claimed to have caused the downfall of Ralph A. Lovering, 24 years of age, who has been employed as a collector for the Wilson Fruit company on West Michigan street.

Young Lovering was arrested this morning by Chief Troyer on a charge of forgery in the second degree. The specific accusation is that he forged the name of the Wilson Fruit company to a check of $17, made payable to his employers by Thatcher & Thatcher, West Fourth street grocers. The grocers turned the check over to Lovering in settlement of an account due the fruit company. He indorsed the check and passed it on the Waldorf Shoe company.

Clarence H. Townsend, vice president of the Wilson Fruit company, who swore to the complaint on which Lovering was arraigned, stated this morning that the Thatcher check was but one of a number which Lovering has misappropriated in that way. He also said that there were other checks on which he might be held.

"I wish you wouldn't write much about this case," said Dr. Townsend this morning when asked how deeply the young man was involved. "It's his first offense and we are not very desirous of prosecuting him. We're going to try to see that he is given another chance to make good. We don't think that he is inherently bad, but that he just got into bad company and didn't realize the enormity of the crime he was committing when he forged checks. He wanted to keep in the swim and to be a good fellow and he raised the money by getting it on the checks."

Chief Troyer asked Lovering this morning if he had lost any money gambling. He said that he had not lost any in that manner, but that he had spent it "having a good time."

When arraigned in police court this morning Lovering waived examination and was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury.

It was stated this morning that he had left the city, going to Minneapolis, but had returned this morning of his own accord. He went to the office of the Wilson Fruit company, where he made a full confession, it is claimed, and then went voluntarily to the police station.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 19.—Convicted of the murder of his brother-in-law, Thomas B. Norman, Dr. John Sherman was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary today. Motion for a new trial was entered, and Sherman's bail was fixed at $10,000.

HOLY GHOST AND US VESSEL IS WRECKED.

Portland, Me., May 19.—The barkentine Kingdom of the Holy Ghost and Us sect, has been stranded off Sangomar, on the West coast of Africa, and probably will be a total wreck, according to information received here from the National Board of Marine Underyriters in New York.

Missouri Pacific Note Issue.

New York, May 19.—From interests closely connected with the Missouri Pacific Railway company, it was learned today that the directors will soon authorize an issue of notes, which will bear 5 per cent interest and probably run for three years. The exact amount of the issue has not been determined, but will approximate $25,000,000.

Norway, Mich., Miner Killed.

Norway, Mich., May 19.—Charles Van Osilaine, a Belgium, aged 37 years, was crushed to death by a large rock while at work in a slope in the Brier Hill mine.

SUPERIOR LIGHTNING PLAYS PRANK

Starts Presses in Superior Printing Establishment at 2:30 a. m.

Proprietor Is Aroused From Sleep to Stop His Machinery.

Lightning played a peculiar prank in a Superior printing office this morning, when it struck the power wires, caused a short circuit in the rheostat and started the presses.

A policeman passing by the plant of the Silver Tonsberg company, job printers and book binders, at 2:30 o'clock this morning, heard the machinery in operation and notified the proprietor, who came at once and stopped the presses.

Employes at the plant last evening failed to pull the switch when closing the plant and only turned off the rheostat or sneed reducer. When the bolt of lightning entered the shop this morning, it caused a short circuit.

The Silver-Tonsberg plant is located at 1714-16 Twelfth street.

Lightning also struck the home of John A. Murphy, Fifteenth street and John avenue early this morning. The kitchen was set afire and was badly damaged before the department put out the blaze.

One Year at Waupun.

James Holmes, a negro, charged with assault and on trial yesterday in superior court, was found guilty and sentenced to one year at the state penitentiary at Waupun. It is claimed that he attacked two negro women and a man with a pocket knife. The case went to the jury about 10 o'clock in the morning. A verdict was returned late in the afternoon and Judge Smith immediately pronounced sentence.

War Veteran Dies.

Abraham Meinhold, 71 years old, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louis Neuman, 1712 Twenty-first street. He was a prominent G. A. R. veteran and the local post will attend the funeral this afternoon. The services will be held at the residence. The body was taken to St. Paul on an afternoon train. Besides Mrs. Neuman, he is survived by another daughter, Mrs. I. L. Lamm of Washington.

Operetta By Children.

An operetta, "The House That Jack Built," which is being prepared by Mrs. Hortense Reynolds of Des Moines, Iowa, will be put on at the Grand Opera house under the auspices of the musical department of the public schools, June 2 and 3. There will be about 300 voices in the affair. Mrs. Reynolds is directing the rehearsals.

Eagles Meet.

At a meeting of the Haymakers' lodge at Eagles' hall last evening, officers were elected for the coming year and twenty-two new members were initiated. The new officers are: Arthur Fass, chief haymaker; P. J. McKeague, assistant chief haymaker; G. McDermott, overseer; Oscar Ahlgren, past chief haymaker; F. W. Davis, collector of straws; B. C. Bettleson, keeper of bundles; J. P. Clemens, chief horn blower; Ted Tracey, boss driver; E. W. Cotton, guard of hayloft; P. J. Shane, guard of barn door; Fred Seguin, A. Figelmueller and M. J. Durficey were elected trustees.

Alumni Dance.

The Sacred Heart Alumni association has issued invitations for the last of a series of dancing parties to be held this session. The affair will take place Wednesday night at the auditorium of the school. There will be special music and decorations.

Invents Sun Hat.

There is more solid comfort for men, women and children in the Nash sun hat than in any other style of headgear for summer wear. Not only are the hats attractive in appearance, but they absolutely protect the face and neck from the hot rays of the sun. The hats are very light and cool, weighing about 3½ ounces. They are made of various materials, the shape being maintained by an anti-rust steel wire. The hat can be folded and put in the pocket, and, when shaken out, it will fly back into shape, by reason of the steel spring.

Mrs. A. E. Nash of 531 East Superior street, who handles this hat exclusively, is also Duluth agent for the famous Spirella corset. She carries a complete line of summer weight vegetable underwear, stockings and other dainty wearables for women.

RUNAWAY WAS SPECTACULAR

Team Drawing Load of Wood Dashes Down Fourth Avenue.

A team owned by J. D. O'Connell of the City woodyard and attached to a wagon loaded with wood, furnished a spectacular runaway on Fourth avenue west this morning. The team started from up on the hill and ran down the avenue with surprising speed. The horses dashed across Third, Second, First and Superior streets and brought up with a jerk just as they were apparently about to crash into the Omaha warehouse at the foot of Fourth avenue.

Several other teams and automobiles were standing on Fourth avenue, but the runaway team missed them all. Fortunately, no conveyance of any kind was crossing the avenue at any of the street intersections and the team had a clear track until the freight house was reached. The driver was not on the wagon, but appeared shortly after the horses had stopped, and drove them up the avenue again. A broken neck-yoke was the only damage.

Declares a Dividend.

The directors of the Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph company have declared the thirty-second quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the outstanding preferred stock of the company. This dividend is payable June 1, 1911, to stockholders of record at the close of business May 20, 1911. The stock transfer books will be closed from May 21 to May 31 inclusive.

NOTHING BUT BROKEN DOWN AUTOS IN DULUTH, SAYS ASSESSOR

"Gee, it's funny how any of the autos in this town can exceed the speed limit," said a deputy assessor this morning who has been helping make the personal property assessment in the city. "To hear some people talk you would think that they owned velocipedes instead of automobiles.

"At least that's the way they talk to me. You'd think the automobile had been invented by Noah and that the particular car or cars in which they are interested had been in service since the flood. Really, I should think they would be afraid to risk their lives, or at least those of their families—to say nothing of the public—by riding in them.

"From the descriptions which I hear of most of the buzz wagons in Duluth it would look as though the city solons had wasted valuable gray matter and some cash in passing ordinances to regulate their speed. The prevailing impression which I had before I hit this job was that gasoline carts cost money, and that the more they cost the faster they were supposed to go—or vice versa. I find that most of the machines in Duluth are 'vice versa.' They cost so little that it's a surprise to me that they go at all. On the 'vice versa' theory—the less they cost the slower they will go—a good bunch of them around here wouldn't go faster than a snail. But, then, I suppose their owners are disciples of the fable of the turtle and the hare, or something like that, and have as their leading motto in transportation matters, 'Slow but sure.' Personally, I'd rather walk than ride in their cars, for I'd be afraid they would break in the middle of nowheres and I'd have to walk anyhow. So if I didn't anticipate a ride in the first place, there would be no chance of being disappointed."

However, the city assessor's office feels certain that it is arriving at the true value of automobiles owned in the city. A special man has been assigned to assess automobiles and motor boats, and he is equipped with complete sets of catalogs giving correct values of all different makes of cars for all years. Percentage allowances are made for length of service, and it is believed that the assessed valuaflons will prove generally satisfactory. So it actually doesn't make any great difference what may be said to the deputy who asks about your car when he calls to assess the rest of your personal property. As far as the automobiles go his chief business is to learn whether you have one or not—and the gasoline deputy will do the rest.

LIQUOR CASE IS DECIDED

City of Ada Must Grant License, Says Supreme Court.

Home Rule Negatives Election Law---Other Decisions.

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cities of the fourth class in Minnesota, operating under a home rule charter, are not subject to the provisions of the statutes requiring a majority of those voting at an election to warrant the granting of liquor licenses.

This point was decided by the state supreme court this morning. The city of Ada, in Norman county, operating under a home rule charter, at the annual election, March 14, 1911, had up the question of local option. There were 254 votes cast, 131 in favor of license and 123 against. However, there were 265 votes cast for mayor, city clerk and councilman—eleven failing to vote on the liquor question. Whereupon H. W. Thune brought action in the district court to restrain John M. Heiland, the mayor, and members of the council from issuing a license on the ground that a majority of those voting at the election had not favored granting license.

The lower court found for the defendant on the ground that the city was operating under a home rule charter and the charter provided that when a majority of those voting on the question favored license, the license must be granted. The supreme court today upheld that opinion.

Mustn't Write "Shyster."

Calling a man a "shyster" and "pettyfogger" in a newspaper subjects editors to a fine of $3,000, according to an opinion rendered by the supreme court today in a case where Charles Argall, a lawyer of Cass county, sued Samuel Sutor, editor of the Cass Lake Voice.

New Trial for Clark.

Because the attorney appointed by the court to prosecute him made sneering remarks about some of the witnesses and the Minneapolis attorney who was defending him, Almon H. Clark, convicted of a statutory offense in Martin county, is entitled to a new trial. In handing down this opinion today, the state supreme court severely criticizes the attorney.

MINER IS KILLED IN PABST MINE, IRONWOOD.

Lakota, N. D., May 19.—Hans Ness was arrested near Petersburg, charged with arson. David Ness is the complaining witness, charging the accused with having set fire to a large stack of hay. Ness was bound over to the district court.

BILL TO STOP POLLUTION

Congressman Sulzer Would Prevent Emptying of Sewage Into Lakes.

Convention Between United States and Canada Is Provided For.

Congressmen Sulzer of New York has introduced a bill in the house which if passed and carried out will not only revolutionize the sewage system of Duluth, but will have a similar effect on the systems in other cities along the Great Lakes which have been empting their sewage into these bodies of water.

The bill, which was referred to the committee on foreign affairs, provides for a convention between the United States and Canada to prevent the further pollution of the Great Lakes.

The measure provides that the president be authorized and directed to take such steps as he deems advisable to negotiate a treaty between the two countries for the establishment of a joint commission to take definite and immediate action to prevent the further pollution of the waters.

The question of the pollution of the lakes has been a live issue for a number of years, but the agitation has heretofore been confined to the officials of the several states bordering on the lakes. The fact that congress has now taken up the question is regarded as of importance, especially in view of the fact that a determined effort is to be made to have the joint commission make an exhaustive investigation of the conditions from the St. Lawrence river to Lake Superior.

Congressman Sulzer said that he had given the subject careful consideration and was firmly convinced that the health of the public was in danger and that some decisive action was necessary to prevent the further emptying of the sewage of the growing cities along the northern border into the lakes.

The carrying out of this plan would mean a heavy blow to many cities. The installation of a new system would mean the expenditure of large sums of money.

GEN. GORDON AGAIN HEADS BOYS IN GRAY.

Little Rock, Ark., May 19.—Business sessions of the United Confederate Veterans were brought to a close with the selection of Macon, Ga., as the reunion city for 1912 and the election of officers. Yesterday the parade took place and at night the Confederate ball was given. The old officers were re-electcd, with Gen. George W. Gordon of Memphis, Tenn., as commander-in-chief.

The veterans put their stamp of approval on the telegram sent earlier to President Taft in response to his greeting to the gathering.

CARPENTERS WILL DEMAND INCREASE

Duluth Union Men Will Ask Raise of Five Cents an Hour.

At a recent meeting of the Carpenters & Joiners union, No. 351, held at Rowley's hall, the headquarters of the union, it was decided to ask for 50 cents an hour, a raise of 5 cents an hour over the present prevailing wage.

Notices have been posted to this effect. The reason is attributed to the high cost of living and to the fact that in work of this kind the men are not always employed every day.

The motion passed by the union will take effect June 15. The Duluth carpenters are following the example of the unions in Superior and St. Paul and Minneapolis. All these men have recently had their pay increased.

The local carpenters' union has about 700 members. The question was solved after a lengthy discussion of it.

The following were elected delegates to the convention of the State Federation of Labor, which meets at Mankato in June: George Berger, Severt Johnson, Peter Anderson, J. C. Johnson and William Pearson.

"TAPS" SOUNDED.

Many G. A. R. Men Attend Funeral of E. R. Jefferson.

The funeral of E. R. Jefferson, whose body was brought here from Bay Lake for burial, was held this morning.

Services were conducted at Forest Hill cemetery, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows being in charge. Eight Spanish-American war veterans fired a volley over the grave and sounded "taps." The funeral was largely attended by G. A. R. men.

SMELLED HIS WAY TO FORTUNE.

Manila Times: One more get-rich-quick scheme has gone to smash and one more frenzied financier has come to grief.

This time it is a Chinese, and upon his rise and fall hinges a peculiar story involving opium, doorposts, customs officials and a remarkable nose. The nose belonged to the Chinese and to it he owed his embarkation upon a financial undertaking which netted him 4,500 per cent profit, but which finally led him into the tolls of the customs secret service, who are now holding him on a charge of illegal possession of opium.

Last month in San Narciso, Zambales, a Chinese merchant, making his way home one night, thought he detceted the aromatic odor of opium. He stopped in his tracks before the house from which the smell came and then retraced his steps.

Three times he passed in front of the suspected house and finally his wonderful nasal organ fixed on a house post as the source of the smell. Applying his tongue to the post only confirmd his suspicions and he entered the house to ask the Filipino owner where he had obtained such paint.

The Filipino was voluble in his strictures on this particular "paint," which he said he had found on the beach near his home. He had attempted to mix it with water, but unable to get the proper porportions had abandoned it.

The remainder of the five-gallon can he found was reposing in a shed back of the house and he was only too willing to sell it. An offer of 12 pesos for the "paint" was accepted with alacrity and the Chinese became the owner of the tabooed drug.

It was an easy matter for him to dispose of it in gram lots at fabulous prices, and from his original investment of 12 pesos he cleared 4,673 pesos. But suspicions were aroused and an investigation led to his arrest.

Customs authorities believe that the five-gallon can found by the San Narciso Filipino was originally a part of a shipment of the contraband drug which was brought in on a Hongkong steamer. When customs officials boarded the vessel the importer threw his shipment overboard and one can floated to the San Narciso beach.

Now every house post in San Narciso and the surrounding towns is under the suspicion of the opium sleuths who are still looking for the remainder of the lost drug.

SWEETS IN THE BEEHIVE HATS.

London Chronicle: Two young smartly dressed Parisian ladies wearing large beehive hats on arrival at Bellegarde in the Geneva-Paris express declared nothing and ostentatiously opened their baggage at the douane.

An official, however, noticed that they seemed to experience much difficulty in balancing their large hats on their heads and the ladies were requested to pass into a private room, where their headgear was examined. The roofs of the beehives contained not honey, but saccharine packed in airtight boxes fitted ingeniously into the hats. On the ladies paying a heavy fine they were allowed to continue the journey minus the saccharine, but retaining their hats, which might have been confiscated also.

NEW PROCESS OF STAINING GLASS.

Chicago Tribune: The art of coloring glass has been lost and refound, jealously guarded and maliciously stolen so many times in the history of civilization that it seems almost impossible to say anything new on glass staining. Yet a process has been discovered for making the stained glass used in windows which is a departure from anything known at the preent time. What the Venetians and the Phoenicians knew of it we cannot tell.

The glass first receives its design in mineral colors and the whole is then fired in a heat so intense that the coloring matter and the glass are indissolubly fused. The most attractive feature of this method is that the surface acquires a peculiar pebbled character in the heat, so that when the glass is in place the lights are delightfully soft and mellow.

In making a large window in many shades each panel is separately moulded and bent and the sections are assembled in a metal frame.

OLD CHURCH REOPENED

First Service in New Duluth Structure Since Boom Days.

The Congregation Will Be Reorganized After Fourteen Years.

Services will be held in the New Duluth Congregational church Sunday for the first time in fourteen years.

Rev. Allen Clark, who has been devoting the past month in reorganizing the congregation of Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Bristol street, will preach.

This afternoon a house warming was held at the church. Some of the women from Plymouth church at West Duluth and Pilgrim church of Duluth were in attendance. Plans of reorganizing the congregation at the New Duluth church were talked over.

The New Duluth church was built in 1890. After the "boom days" when the depression came, most of the congregation moved away and when Rev. Clark, who has interested himself in the reorganization movement, came to New Duluth, he found only one of the original members of the flock.

MAKES IT EASY TO OBEY LAW

Superior Warden Will Sell Wisconsin Fishing Licenses in West Duluth.

West Duluth anglers can fish on the Wisconsin side of the St. Louis river or in Wisconsin streams without going to Superior to procure a license, if they take advantage of the accommodation which has been provided by Deputy Game Warden Craig of Superior.

Warden Craig has placed with M. J. Filiatrault of West Duluth, a book of fishing licenses. West Duluthians can now buy their fishing licenses from Mr. Filiatrault and will not be obliged to go to Superior after them.

Many West Duluthians have cottages on the Wisconsin side of the river. This arrangement has caused considerable trouble with the game wardens, who claim that simply having a summer home on the Wisconsin side of the river does not entitle them to the fishing privileges of a bona fide resident.

CUMMINGS WILL ADDRESS CLUB.

County Commissioner Joseph W. Cummings will be the principal speaker this evening at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. The new Getchell road will probably be the subject of general discussion for the evening and some statement as to how much the county is liable to contribute towards the expense of building the road, may be expected from Mr. Cummings.

Among other matters, which may be taken up will be the proposed improvement of West Third street at the West end, the extension of the street car lines to the steel plant site, and other improvements in the western end of the city.

Patriotic Entertainment.

A patriotic entertainment and concert, consisting of tableaux of events taking place during the Civil war, will be given at the Great Eastern hall by a number of the young people of Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Tuesday evening. The program is as follows:

Music, "Dixie;" "Comin' Through the Rye," tableau, Miss Anna Morgan, William Swanstrom; solo, Miss Mary Merritt; "The Soldiers' Farewell," tableau, Mrs. Edith Merritt, Harry Merritt; solo, Harold Stone; "Take Your Gun and Go, John," tableau and solo arranged by Mrs. H. E. Merriman; "Mother's Parting Blessing," tableau, Miss Emma Swanstrom, Arthur Hilderley, E. Merritt, Miss Alice Bailey, Miss Ruth Stidd; "Columbia Drill," by sixteen young ladies; "The Goddess of Liberty," tableau, Mrs. L. H. Merritt.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF LONGFELLOW ALUMNI.

June 9 is the date set for the annual banquet of the Longfellow school alumni association. The yearly dinner is tendered to the graduating class of the school. The affair will probably be held at the school building.

The program for the banquet will be made up by a committee, in the near future. C. I. Towner is president of the association. A meeting of the alumni was held last evening at the school house and the preliminary plans for the dinner were made.

SWITCHMEN'S FIGHT MAY LEAD TO TROUBLE.

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entire session of the biennial convention of the Switchmen's Union of North America may be declared illegal before the deliberations of the body are concluded.

This information was given this morning by a member of St. Paul Lodge No. 31 who declared the investigation of President Hawley which is in progress at the special session should not, under the constitution, have come up until all routine and unfinished business was completed, and the call was made for the election of officers.

Should the Hawley forces be defeated, they may attempt to have the proceedings of the convention declared illegal. If they win, it is said to be likely that nothing will be made of the constitutional point.

President Hawley is firm in his belief that the convention finally will justify him.

Oconto, Wis., Hold Up.

Oconto, Wis., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—August Van Heck, charged with being implicated in the hold-up of Frank Marousky, with Hermel Dion and Felix Vieau, was bound over for trial at the circuit court. The prisoner was implicated by the confession of Dion, who said that Van Heck planned the hold-up, but was too drunk to participate in it.

Richland County Summer School.

Wahpeton, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—June 24 is the date that has been set for the opening of the annual Richland county summer school for teachers, at the School of Science in this city, with President Fred E. Smith of the school, as conductor.

THE WONDERS OF ARSENIC.

Washington Post: "You no doubt have observed the lily white complexion of some women. These women are are sacrificing years of their lives for that beautiful skin by the use of arsenic," said D. V. Duvall, a chemist of Manchester, England.

"It is a well known fact that thousands of women in all the countries of the world use the poison in small quantities to bleach their skin. It is an effective means of whitening and clearing the complexion, but the complexion given by its use has no permanceny unless the absorption of the drug be continued.

"Arsenic, as science has long told us, is an accumulative poison. When one takes it either by prescription for the upbuilding of an appetite or for the bleaching of the skin, he does not feel any ill effects for several years. The effect of the drug is bracing and makes a person feel like eating. It also aids the digestion. The average user of the poison takes it in such small quantities that he does not realize how much of it will accumulate in his system in the course of four or five years.

"Being an accumulative poison it often takes that length of time to see the results of the drug. Then the user may complain of not being able to control his fingers or toes. Subsequently he loses control of his hands and arms. Arsenical poisoning is the result.

"Five years ago in Manchester there was an epidemic of paralysis. Several thousands of persons were stricken. Several hundred died and the medical profession of England made a thorough investigation of the malady and traced it to beer. The investigators discovered that the brewers were using a glucose in the brewing of their product which was found to contain a small quantity of arsenic. This drug, imbibed in small quantities in beer, had gradually accumulated in the bodies of thousands of persons had impoverished their blood and left a great percentage of them helpless."

REFUSED TO KISS HIS FOOT

Husband Named That As One of Conditions of Reconciliation.

Wife Sues for Divorce Alleging All Kinds of Indignities.

Because she would not visit her husband, Abraham Saloom, at his shack, beg forgiveness and kiss his foot seventeen times, Mrs. Rosie Saloom was denied the happiness of married life.

In her cross bill and answer, which asks that she be given the divorce, the custody of the children and $1,100, Mrs. Saloom recites a long tale of misery, unhappiness and cruel and inhuman treatment.

Saloom, some time ago, began divorce proceedings, but his grounds are not known, the case having been opened on a note of issue. The answer of Mrs. Saloom is the only other matter filed with the clerk of the district court.

She states that they were married at St. Paul and lived there for many years. She says that since beginning her married life she has been compelled at the point of a knife to go out, sick or well, and peddle small articles for a living while her husband remained at home and idled away his time.

She claims that he threw dishes, was filthy in his habits, threatened her with her life, pulled her out of bed by the limbs when she was too ill to move, saying that she was only pretending, threw her on the floor, put one foot on her neck and flourished a knife over her head; refused her water when she was ill in bed and unable to wait upon herself, amused himself by beating on a dish pan under her window late at night, called her vile names and subjected her to other indignities too numerous and vulgar to mention.

The neighbors tried to settle matters and he said that if she would visit him at his shack, kiss his foot seventeen times and ask his pardon that he might consider it.

She claims that lately he came to Duluth and that later he returned to St. Paul, stole the two younger boys and brought them here also.

The attorneys in the case ask that it be transferred to the St. Paul courts as all the events in the case happened there.

NEARLY 7,000 ACRES SOLD

State Disposes of Much Land by the Sale at Aitkin.

Aitkin, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the state land sale just closed here today 6,800 acres were sold by State Auditor Iverson, who was assisted by Theodore Nelson of the land department. The highest price was $40.50 per acre and one-half or more of the land was sold to outside buyers.

Fourteen families of Hollanders are among the new settlers that will come in as the result of today's sale. These will locate near Bain on the new Winnipeg line of the Soo in this county.

Pittsburg Man Accuses Officers of National Erectors.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 19.—James Elliott, a structural iron worker of this city, appeared before labor leaders here last night and made an alleged confession in which he charged officers of the National Erectors' association and detectives employed by it with the wrecking of buildings throughout the country constructed by non-union labor.

The alleged confession was made to William Kelly, president of the Iron City Trades council; A. C. Collins, secretary of the Structural Iron Workers' union, and H. W. Legleitner, vice president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and was sworn to before a notary. The labor leaders then turned Elliott over to the police, who are holding him for further investigation.

The affidavit was not given out, but in his statement to the police Elliott said he made the confession because he was not paid for information he furnished the Erectors' association and for which he was promised $1,000.

NOTES OF BOYS' DEPARTMENT

The Duluth Boys' Baseball league to be conducted by the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will open the series of games Saturday afternoon at the ball grounds, Twelfth avenue east and London Road at 2 o'clock. The officers of the league request that every member in the league be at the boys' building promptly at 1 o'clock, to join in the parade, which will be down Second street to Fifth avenue west and out Superior street to the ball grounds. Mayor Cullum will throw the first ball which will mark the opening of the big league. Automobiles will head the parade, carrying the mayor, officers, and other prominent citizens, who will be on hand to witness the opening.

One hundred and thirty-five games will be played in the three leagues and 350 boys are registered players. The schedule for Saturday is:

Senior division—Maroons vs. Wanderers, and in the Junior league, the Lester Park Junior and the Quayle-Larsens.

The ninth annual Boys' Department banquet takes place tonight in the spacious club room of the boys' department, which has been converted into a veritable garden and presents a handsome appearance. Covers are laid for 200, the color scheme is pink. The older boys of the club will make the speeches.

"NOTHING DOING."

New York Sun: The book agent crossed the road, pushed the button at the front door of the brown house and wiped his feet on the mat, which was inscribed with the word "Welcome." He reached under his coat and unbuttoned the pocket which held his prospectus of "The Devil of Today."

The door opened and a thin woman looked at him with sharp eyes. Her hair was red and she wore white side combs.

"Good morning," said the book agent, as he removed his hat. "Perhaps——"

"Yes, and perhaps not too. You're round collecting for the wringer, aren't you? Well, you won't get no more off of me. I haven't got a minute's time to waste with you.

"No, sir," she repeated, "you don't get no more off of me. The egg-beating attachment onto it don't work at all and the prize portrait you gave with it don't look no more like Claude than I do. Do you know I never see a wringer but what I think of our dear old cat?

"One night she went to sleep in the basket of clothes and the next morning we squeezed her through the wringer done up in a table cloth. She was too sweet for anything. We buried her in the back yard right near the turnip bed. My husband just loves turnips.

"He likes 'em fixed up with cabbage and tomato sauce like his Aunt Ann used to do 'em. You know his Aunt Ann is a awfully nice lady. The only peculiarity about her was she wouldn't ride backward in a trolley car. She said it made her feel like she was wading in the surf at Coney Island. I think Coney Island is just the loveliest place.

"Of course I don't believe I'd care to be there in the winter time, but in the summer I think it's just grand. I like that place where you sit down and slide down around a shoot and out at the bottom. They call it the dew drop. Of course, ordinary dew I can't stand. I can't go out much after nightfall on account of the dew on my ankles. My aunty was the same way.

"Whenever I speak of aunty I can't help thinking of the pies she used to make. I can almost taste 'em now. She was so artistic too, Aunty stamped crescents and lovely pretty things on the pie crust—makes it so much more appetizing, you know. She done it with her false teeth. Aunty's dead now; she had indigestion.

"Do you know, that vest you've got on looks just like Claude's. Why, I didn't say any such thing! I only said it looked like it. Can't more than one vest look alike?

"I'm washing and I'll have to go, 'cause I smell the suds runnin' over. I won't pay no more on that wringer, but I'm always glad to listen to what folks has to say."

UNCLE HIRAM TO HIS NEPHEW.

New York Sun: "The little piece of advice that I would give you this morning, Stephen," said Uncle Hiram to his hopeful young nephew, "is this: Learn to listen.

"We all think that our own experiences are the most interesting that ever were, that the things that have befallen us are the most wonderful; but don't monopolize the conversation, Stephen.

"As a rule what happened to you doesn't interest the other man at all; what happened to him is what interests him most, and if you are wise you will let him tell you about it; and beware of trying to match his experience with something greater out of your own, which, however greater it may have been, will only make him think less of you, for naturally it belittles him, and that is something that you want always to avoid.

"So let the other man do the talking Stephen, while you listen. Your interest in what he says will commend you to him as a person of intelligence and appreciation. As he talks on he will have a higher and higher opinion of himself, and as surely, as you listen, a better and better opinion of you.

"Stephen, learn to listen. At your age you should not be talkative, anyway; reticence is a fine trait in any man and especially to be commended in the young; and if to that you can add the grace, indeed the rare grace, of being able to listen with earnest attention you will get on. Many a man has prospered in this world by letting some other man do all the talking.

"That will be all, Stephen, this morning."

THE ANTIQUATED SEAL.

Case and Comment: A most absurd thing connected with legal business is the little piece of red, green or blue paper or daub of sealing wax which we often place at the end of a signature to a deed, will or other important document.

It is a very small thing in size, but one to which a great deal of importance is frequently given. It is a relic of antiquity, and no plausible excuse can be invented for continuing its use.

Some of the more progressive states have practically abolished its use by legislation, which deprives it of any technical legal significance. In others, however, it is still used with all seriousness and solemnity, and an almost magical value is given to it by dignified judges that is little less than ridiculous.

A man died years ago leaving part of his estate to another to enjoy while he lived, with the privilege of devising it at his death to others whom he might select by a writing under his "hand and seal." A writing was executed so devising the property, but it was contested by others claiming the property upon the technical ground that the paper contained no seal after the signature, and the devise was therefore void.

A wise Philadelphia judge closely scrutinized the signature and after carefully listening to the arguments of lawyers decided that at the end of the signature there was an extra scroll or flourish made with the pen with which the signature was made and that this was sufficient in law to constitute a seal.

JAPANESE BALL PLAYERS NOW PLAYING AMERICAN COLLEGE TEAMS

"SAFE AT THE PLATE."
One of the Japanese Players Stealing Home in Game at Chicago.

The Waseda baseball team paid a return visit to the University of Chicago players. The Japanese regard the University of Chicago as their patron in baseball, because it was an athlete of that university, Harry Place, who first introduced the national game into Japan some seven years ago. The first baseball team organized in Japan was that of Waseda, and now there are several college teams and another of them, that from Keio university, is now in the United States and is on its way East. It will play in Chicago and Washington. The Waseda team is captained by Matsuda, who is one of the pitchers. The Japanese have shown themselves adapt at every feature of the game, except batting. In batting they are notably weak. The visit to the University of Chicago has been made a social event and Mayor Harrison gave official color to the opening game. One of its features was the singing of the Japanese college song by the Chicago students. It is said, by those near him, that Mayor Harrison cried "Kimmono" instead of "Banzia" when the Japanese players marched on the field.

AMERICAN GIRL WINS ENGLISH GOLF TITLE.

Port Rush, Ireland, May 19.—Miss Dorothy Campbell, champion of the United States and Canada, won the woman's golf championship of Great Britain today by defeating Miss Violet Hezlet, the Irish champion, in the final, by 3 up and 2 to play.

NAVY WILL HAVE CREWS AT AMERICAN HENLEY.

Annapolis, Md., May 19.—For the first time in the history of the big rowing classic at Philadelphia, Navy is to be represented in the American Henley this year. Two crews from the midshipmen squad will row in the events on the Schuylkill river on Saturday, May 27, according to reliable information obtained here today.

The necessary authority has been granted by the officials for the departure from the academy of the second eight, which will contest in the junior eight, and the fourth class crew which will go in the freshman contest.

The crews will leave Annapolis one week from today.

JIMMY BRITT WANTS TO MEET BAT NELSON!

New York, May 19.—"Jimmy" Britt, once the lightweight champion of the world, will try for the title again.

"But first of all," he said, "I want a return match with another former champion—'Bat' Nelson."

Britt stepped ashore today with a commission from Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter, to offer Jack Johnson a flat $25,000 for a fight next September with the winner of the McVey-Langford bout.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 19.—Battling Nelson, who is visiting here today wired Harry Pollock, matchmaker of the Twentieth Century A. C. of New York, authorizing him to arrange a match for Nelson with Jimmy Britt, for September. Nelson is here with Eddie Dennis of San Francisco, who will meet Jack Whlte before the Robidoux A. C., May 23.

ILLINOIS AND BADGERS IN DUAL TRACK MEET.

Champaign, Ill., May 19.—The University of Illinois track team met the athletes from the University of Wisconsin this afternoon on Illinois field in a dual meet in which the Illini contenders were the favorites. Illinois having previously defeated Chicago and Purdue, hoped for a victory as it means the title to the conference championship.

Illinois, lacking sensational stars, had numerous men good for places and by their work expected to win.

The contests between Cleveland of Wisconsin and Cope of Illinois in the distance runs were carded as the best of the meet. Murphy, the conference champion pole vaulter was in fine form in his early trials and he was expected to come near the collegiate mark in his vaulting.

Gophers vs. Iowa.

Iowa City, Iowa, May 19.—Weather conditions for the Minnesota-Iowa track meet this afternoon were ideal save for the rather strong wind which was expected to reduce the time in the dashes. The chances favored Minnesota, which had a veteran squad.

ONE FLATHOUSE ADVANTAGE

New York Sun: "Had it ever occurred to you," said Mr. Flatdweller, "that in one way we are better off living in flats than we used to be when we lived in houses on the ground floor?

"In those days, when we were hard up, poor, don't you remember how we used to say the 'wolf was at the door,' or we had 'hard work to keep the wolf from the door?'

"Well, that was when we lived on the ground level, where the wolves could get at us, where a wolf could just come a-lopin' across the yard and up the two or three steps and scratch on the door and growl and howl, easy.

"But in one way anyhow we've got the better of the wolves now. They can't get at us now, as they could then. You couldn't imagine a wolf coming up the stairs to the fifth floor, for instance, to scratch on the door there, could you? And what wolf could climb the fire escape ladder to leer in from that ta you through the window? You've got the wolves again there. And if you lived in an elevator house no hallboy would ever let a wolf come up in the elevator, would he? Certainly not; you'd have the bulge on the wolf again there.

"And so the flat house has its advantages. You don't have any garden, of course as you would have if you lived in a regular house, and you don't have any yard with flowers in it and so on, and you may have to climb some to get to where you live, but living in a flat does help you in a way to keep the wolf from the door."

BUSY QUEEN MARY.

In business matters Queen Mary is clear and expeditious, methodical and systematic. Her mornings are generally taken up with attending to the voluminous correspondence that arrives by every post.

Her secretary and lady in waiting submit their letters and the queen gives instructions concerning them. According to the North American Review she quickly grasps the main issue of a question and soon makes up her mind.

She has never been known to lay aside a matter on the ground that to express an opinion thereon is irksome or difficult. But should any letter require further consideration it is held over for a day, when a decision is given and almost invariably adhered to.

Every consideration is shown to those privileged to serve the queen, and before signifying her pleasure as to the personal attendance of members of her household she will often inquire whether they may not have some other engagement the breaking of which would be inconvenient to them.

Busy though the queen is—and one who has known her for twenty years has never known her unoccupied—she is intimately acquainted with and takes part in all that relates to the management of the household. Every servant is known to her, and their comfort is as much a matter of concern to their royal mistress as that of any one else. In fact no detail of life wearies the queen, hence the reason that her sympathies are wide and all her days full of work.

DOLLAR BILLS FROM ALL OVER.

New York Sun: "That dollar silver certificate you have there has been gathered together from all over the world," said the bank cashier. "Part of the paper fibre is linen rag from the Orient.

"The silk comes from Italy or China. The blue ink is made from German or Canadian cobalt. The black ink is made from Niagara Falls acetylene gas smoke, and most of the green ink is green color mixed in white zinc sulphite made in Germany.

"When the treasury seal is printed in red the color comes from Central America."

SEA CHEFS NOW.

Cassier's Magazine: The term "son of a sea cook" is no longer a title of reproach. The highly paid specialist who presides over the kitchens is a chef with an international reputation. The menu at the end of the longest sea voyage gives no indication that the ship has not been supplied from land. Immense stores of fresh meats, vegetables, fults and even flowers must be carried.

The kitchens are incredibly clean, with their tiled floors, glass tables and shelves, as are also the cold storage rooms. To keep a kitchen in order is a far more difficult problem at sea than on land.

MUST RAISE THE RATES

Railroads Affected By the Sanborn Decision Have No Option.

Will Be Permitted to Meet Omaha Rate to Twin Cities.

"Railroads are not taking advantage of the recent decision of Judge Sanborn to raise their rates. They are compelled under that decision to raise them."

The above statement was made this morning, by a Duluth railroad man, in claiming that the position of the railroads had not been made clear.

"The decision amounted to an injunction of the court to restore the old rates, or rather to ignore the 2-cent rates," said the railroad official in question.

"The suit was brought by a stockholder of the road who claimed that the 2-cent rate was confiscatory, and the three roads affected by the case, the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and the Minneapolis & St. Louis, were ordered by the court to ignore the 2-cent rate."

The increased rates will go into effect on July 1. No very marked changes in fares out of Duluth will be noticeable. The range roads are not expected to make any changes in their rates, as they were not affected by the case, and the South Shore, Omaha and Soo-Chicago lines have little mileage in Minnesota. In addition to these exceptions, the Omaha competition on the Duluth-Twin City business will keep the rates from being raised to 3 cents there.

As 153 miles of the Omaha trackage between here and the Twin Cities lies in Wisconsin, a 2-cent fare state, it is obviously impossible for that road to charge 3 cents a mile. But the interstate commerce commission has provided for just such cases, where competition enter into the problem, and the two Duluth roads whose territory does not lie in Wisconsin, will be permitted to make a rate to equal that of the Omaha.

COPPERS LOSE EARLY STRENGTH

Market Acts Well Until Shorts Sell and Realizing Becomes Heavy.

The copper market walked forward today in the early hours. It was stronger than the rails and the industrials and extremely active. After noon heavy profit taking began and the shorts took advantage of the weakened situation to hammer the leaders. The market stood up remarkably well under the heavy load thrust upon it. Offerings weer readily absorbed on the down turn, which was only slight. The favorable crop prospects, improved conditions in the copper metal market and larger orders for steel caused the bullish feeling.

Locally, there was little activity. Calumet & Montana has some new directors and people on the inside are putting up the stock. They jacked it up today from 35c to 38c. Keating sold at $3.12½.

One of the features of the market is Ojibway, which in the last few weeks has appreciated more than two points. It sold today at $7.50 to $8.12½. Amalgamated sold at $67, $67.62½, $66.87½, $67.25, $66.75 and then at $66.87½. Butte Coalition at $19.50, $20 and $19.50. Calumet & Arizona at $51.75, $52.75 and off to $51.75. North Butte at $32 to $32.75 to $31.75. Giroux at $6.93¾ to $6.25. Greene at $7 to $6.87½. Superior & Pittsburg at $15 and Shattuck at $19.

New York Times: The practical failure of the informal attempts of the copper producers to carry out the plan of last summer for strengthening the market for the metal by a curtailment of production has revived interest in the original plan for a consolidation of a number of the larger interests which after tentative negotiations two years or more ago was dropped pending the "anti-trust" decisions. The Amalgamated Copper interests have been putting their properties in more wieldy shape and the consolidation of the principal porphyry interests in the interim has also tended to make the working out of a consolidation easier. At the time the project for the merger of the several leading producers was first broached it was explained that there was no intention of creating a monopoly and that the idea was to establish a unit of producing interests which might occupy a position in the copper field similar to that held by the United States Steel corporation in the iron and steel trade, and by the same methods to stabilize the copper market in much the same way that Steel corporation influence has kept the market for its products in balance.

SYMPATHIZE WITH REBELS

Mexican Troops Are Insurrectos at Heart, Says Robert Mitchell.

That there is more excitement on the American side of the border than on the Mexican side, is the way that Robert Mitchell and George Montgomery, both of Cananea, Mex., size up the present situation of the Mexican revolution. They are in Duluth today on a business trip.

Mr. Mitchell was manager of the old Cananea Consolidated Mining company, reduction division. Mr. Mitchell more recently has worked on his own holdings, known as the South Cananea properties. A few years ago he was connected with the United Verde Mining company.

Mr. Montgomery is manager of the Mint Gold Mining company.

"The Mexican troops are for the most part sympathizers with Madero," said Mr. Mitchell, "and when a good opportunity presents 'tself they go over to the revolution'sts. That is how Madero's army has increased so rapidly in size."

SYMPATHIZE WITH REBELS

Mexican Troops Are Insurrectos at Heart, Says Robert Mitchell.

That there is more excitement on the American side of the border than on the Mexican side, is the way that Robert Mitchell and George Montgomery, both of Cananea, Mex., size up the present situation of the Mexican revolution. They are in Duluth today on a business trip.

Mr. Mitchell was manager of the old Cananea Consolidated Mining company, reduction division. Mr. Mitchell more recently has worked on his own holdings, known as the South Cananea properties. A few years ago he was connected with the United Verde Mining company.

Mr. Montgomery is manager of the Mint Gold Mining company.

"The Mexican troops are for the most part sympathizers with Madero," said Mr. Mitchell, "and when a good opportunity presents 'tself they go over to the revolution'sts. That is how Madero's army has increased so rapidly in size."

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— MISSISSIPPI MINING AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY.

For the purpose of forming and being a corporation under and by virtue of the laws of Minnesota, the undersigned have adopted, signed and acknowledged the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "Mississippi Mining and Development Company," and the principal place of its business shall be Duluth, Minnesota.

The general nature of the business shall be the buying, owning, holding, improving, renting, leasing, selling, managing and otherwise dealing in all kinds of real and personal property; the mining, smelting, reducing and manufacturing of iron, copper and other minerals, and the producing of the precious metals; the acquiring, owning and otherwise holding and operating of mills, machinery and other equipment and property in connection therewith or incidental thereto; the exploring, prospecting and carrying on exploratory work for iron, copper, coal or other minerals, or the precious metals, either for itself or for others, by virtue of any contract or contracts by virtue of any contract or contracts therefor; the platting, sub-dividing and laying out either for itself or for others, townsites, additions, streets and alleys; the buying, owning, selling and otherwise dealing in mining and other stocks and securities of every kind and nature, borrowing and loaning money, acting as agent for others; and in general the doing of all such things as may be necessary, convenient or expedient in connection therewith or incidental thereto, such business to be conducted or carried on in Minnesota or elsewhere.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be upon the completion of its incorporation, and the period of continuance thereof shall be thirty years thereafter.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are J. A. Farrell, Patrick Hammel, George P. Coleman, A. J. Harker, John Nolan, Roy V. Harker, John P. Hollihan, Earl W. Kelly, Henry Toan, George Kreager and Frank Makowski, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of this corporation and management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of eleven directors, each of whom shall be a stockholder, and the following officers to be chosen by the said board of directors from among the directors of said corporation, to-wit: A President, a Vice President, a Secretary and a Treasurer. The directors shall be elected by the stockholders by ballot, each stockholder being entitled to cast as many ballots as he shall have shares of stock, annually on the second Tuesday in January in each and every year.

The said officers and directors shall each hold office for one year from the second Tuesday in January and until their successors are elected and qualified. Until said officers are elected the following named persons shall act as the first board of directors, to-wit: J. A. Farrell, Patrick Hammel, George P. Coleman, A. J. Harker, John Nolan, Roy V. Harker, John P. Hollihan, Earl W. Kelly, Henry Toan, George Kreager and Frank Makowski, and the said John Nolan shall be president, John P. Hollihan, vice president, and A. J. Harker, secretary and treasurer.

The annual meetings of the stockholders and directors shall be held on the second Tuesday in January in each year, and besides such annual meetings, other and special meetings may be held in the manner prescribed by the by-laws.

ARTICLE V.

The number of shares of the capital stock of said corporation shall be twenty thousand, and the amount thereof shall be ten dollars each, and may be paid for in property, money or services, as the board of directors shall elect, and said stock may be subscribed for at such times and in such amounts as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be two hundred thousand dollars.

CONTEST NOTICE—
Department of the Interior, United States Land Office.
Duluth, Minnesota, May 5th, 1911.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Carl F. Hanson, contestant, against homestead Entry No. 07665, Serial 07665, made November 12, 1909, for N½ SE¼ and SE¼ NE¼ Section 19, Township 65 North of Range 16 West, Fourth Principal Meridian, by Harry H. Johnson, Contestee, in which it is alleged that said entryman Harry H. Johnson has wholly abandoned said land and has continued said abandonment for a period of more than six months last past, and that he has wholly failed to establish actual residence upon said land; that said alleged absence from said land was not due to service in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States in time of war, said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond, and offer evidence touching said allegation at nine o'clock A. M., on June 5th, 1911, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Duluth, Minnesota.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed May 5th, 1911, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

FRESH KILLED CHICKENS

The Eighth President of the United States, Martin Van Buren, said:

"I Tread in the Footsteps of Illustrious Men."

He was State Senator, Attorney General of New York, United States Senator, Governor, Secretary of State and Vice President.

The eighth reason for using the flour the best cooks use—

The bread it makes is relished by the wisest men.

Do not let your grocer talk you into using any other flour. You may get a flour as good, but it is impossible to get a flour that is better.

We Can Bake Bread

better than you, we can do your bread baking and give each and every woman more time to plan the things she likes to do, make the things she must surely have.

The housewife has enough work to do. Every woman knows bread baking is drudgery.

Then listen—we can save every housewife enough time and work and money to purchase the blouses and waists for spring and summer.

Why do you so carefully scrutinize every item of fashion? To learn the latest and best styles and the best materials. Don't want cheap imitations do you? Want the best going?

SAME WITH THE BREAD FOR YOUR TABLE.

Want the best going? Something you will not be ashamed to offer to your friends? Something that is the best and highest standard?

Then try our bread. The bread that's always uniform, always good.

The bread that is sold on its merits alone.

Consumers! Attention!

These prices will last for Ten Days from this date—and no longer.

We never misrepresent, and we never ask for Favors.

We Know that our prices are lower than any other Store in the Northwest—we say this advisedly and with full knowledge of the attempts on the part of others to belittle our statements. We again reiterate that we stand ready at all times to match our handlings against every advertised brand on the market. There is not a Jobber, and not a Commission Merchant who can show our name on their books as a Credit account—furthermore we are not dependent upon local business for a livelihood—consequently we stand prepared to sell all our handlings at a very small margin above first cost to us. We know and You should know that it costs you fully 20 per cent more for the same quality of goods—if bought elsewhere—and certainly, Wage-Workers especially, ought to consider, with the hard times that are now staring us in the face—just how to make both ends meet.

This Country is already in the throes of a silent panic—it is not being heralded abroad very much by the newspapers—because every effort is being made to avoid a repetition of the conditions that were precipitated on the credulous public in the year of 1907. We are not calamity howlers, but we know a few things—and we advice every wage-worker to take heed and prepare for the worst—forewarned is forearmed. We here and now make the bald assertion that there is but one of four methods that can stave off the worst panic that this country ever experienced—and here they are:

1.—War between two or more great Nations—would have the tendency to create employment for many hundreds of thousands of unemployed workers.

2.—Earthquake—if as destructive as that which almost destroyed San Francisco—would also create employment for hundreds of thousands of men, to build anew what Nature and the elements had made havoc of.

3.—Epidemic, that would equal in magnitude and in the loss of life that of the Black Plague of the middle ages, which almost devastated England and much of Europe.

4.—A change in the Economic Structure of present day society—which is only possible through the People exercising their voting powers and taking possession of the political government and using this weapon as a leverage and agency by which they may make the Wealth Producing Potentilities of the Nation the Collective Property of All the People. Unless one of these things transpire within the next six months then we had better all prepare for a "Hunger Famine."

Compare these prices with what you pay elsewhere—we will depend upon your common sense to do the rest.

CROP NEWS BEAR FACTOR

Values Slide on Profit-Taking —Northwest Wheat in Good Shape.

Showers in Nebraska—Kansas Reports Hot Winds —Lower Abroad.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 19.—Wheat declined today. May lost ⅝c, July declined ½c and September was off ¾c. Cash wheat was ½c over July. Durum lost ⅜c, oats lost ½c, rye was unchanged. Barley was not quoted.

Linseed was higher. There was no trading. May gained 1c, July gained 1c, September was up 1c and October was unchanged. Cables were unchanged. Argentine shipments of linseed this week to the United Kingdom are estimated at 60,000 bu, to the continent 75,000 bu, India to the United Kingdom 360,000 bu, to America 413,000 bu, to the continent 360,000 bu.

Wheat eased off today on account of showers in South Dakota, where rain is seriously needed in many localities, scattered rains in Middle Nebraska where moisture was needed, declining markets abroad, a falling off in the continental demand for wheat and predictions of large shipments of wheat from the leading foreign exporting countries and further rains in Russia.

The bulls made every effort to put up prices by giving out bullish crop news but they did not back up their assertions by a display of muscle and the professional speculators were generally bearish. Reports came in of dry, hot weather in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. Along the Central branch in Kansas, extending west from Atchison 275 miles, a wire said the wheat crop was suffering and a message from Glen Elder, Kan., reported damage of 50 per cent. Hot, dry winds, said a message, caused damage on the thin uplands. With good rains soon, added the report, this territory will make a good yield.

Snow wired that he thought Kansas and Oklahoma together might make more than 90,000,000 bu of wheat against 50,000,000 bu last year.

Cooler weather is predicted for the Southwest and Northwest and there may be local showers.

The weather in Roumania is hot and rain is badly needed, said a Broomhall cable. Cables were lower and Russia and India are offering wheat heavily. Weather in Argentina continues favorable for the growing wheat. World's shipments this week are expected to be large. Crop advices from Australia are favorable.

MARKET GOSSIP

Clearances: Wheat, 349,000; flour, 11,000; corn, 59,000; oats, 5,000; wheat and flour equal 399,000 bu.

Kansas City wired: "Our July wheat relatively strong this morning on the theory that our stocks will be reduced to a minimum on account of the shipments here and Chicago. The present weather indicates an early harvest and there will doubtless be plenty of wheat to go around by July 1.

Bradstreet's clearances: Wheat and flour, 3,560,000; last week, 3,132,000; last year, 2,918,000.

Cars inspected: Wheat—No. 1 hard, 1; No. 1 northern, 9; No. 2 northern, 12 winter, 1; mixed, 2; no grade, 2; durum, No. 1, 4; total wheat, 31; last year, 28; oats, 4; last year, 7; barley, 2; last year, 13; linseed, 2; last year, 2; corn, 1 last year, none; total, 43, on track today, 59.

Closing wheat cables: Livepool, ½d to ⅝d lower; corn, ¼d lower; Paris, 1¼c lower; Berlin, ½c lower.

Weather forecast: Illinois—Generally fair except local thunder storms tonight or Saturday; not so warm. Indiana—Generally fair except local thunder storms tonight or Saturday; cooler. Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—Generally fair except local thunder storms tonight or Saturday; cooler. Missouri—Generally fair and cooler tonight and Saturday. North and South Dakota — Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight. Nebraska and Kansas—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight and in east Saturday.

Stronghurst, Ill., wired: Heavy south wind, air is full of dust, very hot, farmers report fly killing wheat; already half of it has been plowed up and much more will be.

Inglis wired: "Southeastern Missouri enlarging its corn acreage more than wheat. Some wheat passing from the bloom. Prospects for a good crop. Present weather, while forcing, not damaging anything yet, heavy clouds gathering."

Chicago Record-Herald:Some humor is being injected into the crop situation in the Southwest. A. C. Petri of St. Louis wired: "Passing through Lawton, Okla., Monday I noticed it was pretty dry and asked the hotel clerk when they had the last good rain. He said he didn't know, as he had been there only two years."

Chicago Record Herald: It is expected that the deliveries on May wheat this month will aggregate about 10,000,000 bu. This calculation is made by cash houses who have been watching the situation closely and who figure the daily receipts at an average of 100,000 to 150,000 bu. for the balance of the month. They also calculate on the turning over of about 2,000,000 bu. of cash wheat from private to public houses or that is in transit and on local sidetracks. Deliveries thus far have been about 5,500,000 bu., of which over 700,000 bu. have already been shipped out. It is claimed that only a small proportion of the latter has been sold. Yesterday's purchases of cash wheat to arrive in Chicago were between 150,000 and 200,000 bu.

Cars of wheat received: Duluth 31, last year 28; Chicago 97, last year 52; Winnipeg 153, last year 144; Minneapolis 153, last year 143; St. Louis 21,000 bus., last year, 23,000 bus.; Kansas City 25, last year 26.

Cars of linseed received: Duluth 2, last year 2; Minneapolis 3, last year 8; Winnipeg 2, last year 2.

B. W. Snow wired from Wellington, Kansas: "Light showers past 48 hours through North central Oklahoma, have the rain would help wheat and oats that are heading through east of Garfield and Grant counties, heavy Oklahoma wheat belt. The area of abandoned wheat is small and the crop is fully headed and promises an average yield, or better. It looks as though Kansas and Oklahoma together might make considerable above 90,000,000 against a little over 50,000,000 last year. The dead spots have been well advertised, while districts of a good promise have been overlooked."

Primaries—Wheat receipts today 443,000, last year 277,000; shipments 570,000, last year 326,000; corn receipts today 309,000, last year 298,000; shipments 663,000, last year 333,000.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: The wheat market opened easy, being influenced by the weaker American cables yesterday, and prices were ¼@⅜d lower. Following there was further pressure in the way of realizing and values further declined ⅜@½d, with the undertone weak. Pressure at this time was due to reports of general rains throughout the wheat belt of Russia and predictions of large world's shipments this week, with Russia offering freely at a decline.

Crop advices from India, Australia and Argentina are favorable and the demand for cargoes has abated, with the continent quiet. The lighter Argentine shipments than were expected, as well as light shipments from Australia, were offset by rains in Russia and expectations of liberal Russian shipments. At 1:30 p. m. the market was weak and ⅜@¾d lower than yesterday.

The corn market opened ½d lower and further declined ⅛d, with the undertone easy. Selling was due to freer American offers, poor spot demand and the weakness in American spot grades.

Australian wheat shipments this week, 808,000 bu; last week, 736,000; last year, 864,000.

Argentine wheat shipments this week, 2,720,000 bu; last week, 2,480,000; last year, 982,000. Corn this week, nil; last week, nil; last year, 176,000 bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Forecasts of Rain and Cool Weather Make Wheat Easy.

Chicago, May 19.—Forecast of somewhat cooler weather with scattered showers tended to make wheat easy today. General rains in Russia and prediction of large world shipments had a discouraging effect on the bulls. So likewise did the fact that demand in the pit was unusually slow. Opening figures were a shade to ⅞c down. July started at 88⅜c to 88¾@88⅞c, a loss of 1-16c to ¼c, touched 88⅜c, and fell back to 88⅝c.

Favorable crop reports from the Northwest led to further weakness. The close was steady, however, with July at 88⅛c, a net loss of ⅜c.

Corn showed a little firmness at the outset as there was some buying on the part of scalpers, but the market soon began to sag with wheat. July opened a shade lower to ¼c up at 52⅝c to 52½@52⅝c, and later hung around the under level.

Assertions that foreigners were reselling counted against values. The close, nevertheless, was steady at 52¼c for July, ⅛@¼c under last night.

Rather plentiful offerings checked the talk of drouth from having much bullish influence on oats. July started the same as last night to ¼c up at 34¼c to 34½c, and steadied at the first named price.

Provisions displayed more power of absorption than expected. First sales were 2½c higher to 2½c off with July delivery $14.75 for pork, $8.07½ for lard and $7.77½ to $7.80 for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Weakness in Foreign Markets Causes Easier Tone in Wheat.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 19.—Wheat market was very narrow and trading of small volume. Weakness in foreign markets on account of better crop prospects and predicted heavy world's shipments caused an easier tone here. May closed ⅞@1c lower than yesterday; July, ¾c lower; September, ½c lower and December, ½c lower. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 250,000 bu for the week. Minneapolis today received 131 cars of wheat against 143 a year ago; Duluth 31 against 28; and Winnipeg 153 cars against 144. May opened, 96¾c; high, 96¾c; low, 96⅜@96½c; July opened, 97¾c; high, 98⅛c; low, 97⅜c; closed, 97⅝c. September, 91⅝c; high, 91⅞c; low, 91¼@91⅜c; closed, 91⅜c. December, 91⅜c.

Cash wheat continued in strong demand, especially choice spring grades. Mills good buyers. No. 1 northern sold for 1@2¼c above the contract. Closing prices: No. 1 hard, $1.00⅝; No. 1 northern, 98@99⅞c; to arrive, 97⅞@99⅝c; No. 2 northern, 95⅜@98½c; to arrive, 95⅜@98⅛c; No. 3 wheat 93⅜@96⅝c; No. 3 yellow corn, 53@53½c; No. 3 white oats, 33@33½c; No. 2 rye, 95@96c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,445 tons. Demand continued active and prices held firm. Bran in 10-pound sacks, $21.50@22.00.

A very dull tone ruled in flour. Prices unchanged, demand very slow, new orders being for unusually small amounts. Shipments, 45,844 bbl. First patents, $4.60@4.90; second patents, $4.50@4.80; first clears, $3.25@3.65; second clears, $2.20@2.85.

Flax—Receipts, 3 cars; year ago, 8; shipments, 7. Demand slow for light offerings at 3½c below the Duluth July contract. Closing prices, $2.52½.

Barley—Receipts, 15 cars; year ago, 19; shipments, 14. Demand strong for malting barley at prices 1c to 4c higher. Feeding barley in slow demand at prices steady to 1c lower. Closing range, 60@97c.

Cotton Market.

New York, May 19.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 4 to 9 points under realizing and local selling, which appeared to be inspired by the appearance of rain in the sections of the Eastern belt and the forecast for showers and thunder storms. Trade interests were good buyers of October around the initial figures, however, and Liverpool made a fairly steady showing and prices here rallied after the opening, with fluctuations during the middle of the morning rather nervous and irregular. July was quiet but relatively steady, selling a point or two above the closing figures of last night after showing a net loss of 5 points, and new crop positions rule 4 or 5 points up from the lowest.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 16.15; middling gulf, 16.40. Sales, 4,800 bales.

Futures closed steady; closing bids: May, 15.94; June, 15.95; July, 16.05; August, 15.33; September, 13.55; October, 13.18; November, 13.08; December, 13.10; January, 13.09; March, 13.16.

London Stocks.

London, May 19.—American securities moved irregularly during the early trading today. Prices opened lower, then advanced, but eased off again at the end of the first hour. At noon Canadian Pacific was 1½ points higher, but the rest of the list ranged from ⅛ above to ⅜ below yesterday's New York closing.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Trading Smaller and Buoyant Tone of Past Three Days Missing.

Selling Orders in Fertilizer Stocks Cause Prices to Drop.

New York, May 19—An irregular tone characterized the opening of the stock market today. Trading was active and the tendency of most of the market leaders was toward lower prices. The first transaction in United States Steel was the sale of 2,200 shares at a decline of ⅜. Union Pacific fell back the same amount, Atchison and American Smelting ½, and Southern Pacific and General Electric a point. There were a few advances, among them being a gain of 1¾ by Canadian Pacific and a point by Rock Island.

Amalgamated Copper was marked up rapidly to 67¾c and the general market also stiffened slightly, but when the buying of Amalgamated Copper ceased temporarily the rest of the list fell back sharply. The upward movement was resumed later by Reading, which crossed 160 for the first time in many weeks, and there was an immediate response by other leaders. Union Pacific, United States Steel, St. Paul and the copper stocks were bought heavily at advancing prices. Western Union was unusually active and strong, rising 1⅝. Virginia-Carolina Chemical lost a point.

Trading in stocks was on a smaller scale this morning, and the buoyant tone of the previous three days was missing. The market showed the effect of a lessened demand, particularly from the outside, and prices wavered. The higher quotations established by the previous advance decreased the demand, and there was also a falling off in the bidding from the short interest, which has covered large lines. Following the demonstration against the short interest in reading, the market again began to feel the volume of realizing sales, which had been apparent on advances, and those offerings forced back some of the important stocks to below yesterday's closing. Among these were Union Pacific, United States Steel, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Erie, American Smelting and Pennsylvania. Some minor specialties, including Iowa Central, were brought forward and scored handsome gains.

Bonds were firm.

The market closed heavy. Selling orders for both accounts in the fertilizer stocks apparently reflected dissatisfaction with the terms of settlement of the potash dispute with German interests. The group went down from 1 to 3 points with Virginia-Carolina Chemical leading. Elsewhere there was a gradual settling down to a lower basis at the lowest prices of the day made for the active stocks. Amalgamated Copper sold under yesterday's closing as did American Smelting and other issues.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST COX ARE QUASHED

Motions Made By Republican Leader's Attorneys Are Granted.

Perjury Charges Are Declared Defective in Substance.

Decision Bars Reindictment on Same Set of Facts.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 20.—Motions to quash the perjury indictments against George B. Cox, banker and Republican leader, made by his attorneys two weeks ago, were granted by Judge William T. Dickson of the common pleas court, who announced his decision in the case today.

Judge Dickson found the indictments defective in substance, this phase of the decision operating to free Cox not only from the indictments in question, but also from reindictment on the same set of alleged facts by any subsequent grand jury.

Before Fifteen Judges.

Cox was indicted on Feb. 21 and his case has been fought before fifteen judges of the common pleas, circuit and supreme courts of Ohio. The battle of technicalities started when Cox swore off the bench Judge Frank Gorman, then sitting in the criminal branch of the court of common pleas. From this point the attorneys fought the right of a prosecutor to take similar action through the circuit court to the supreme court of the state, the latter body giving out a finding which virtually confirmed the position taken by Cox' attorneys that the common pleas court of Hamilton county had sufficient jurisdiction to dispose of the questions involved.

Judge Charles J. Hunt thereupon held the Cox affidavit against Judge

FRENCH DRIVE THE TRIBESMEN BACK

Desperate Battle Is Fought at Moroccan Camp.

El Knitra, Morocco, Friday, May 19.—Beni Hassen tribesmen today attacked the French camp here, but were repulsed after a desperate engagement. A French colonial captain was killed.

Tribesmen Repulsed.

Paris, May 20.—Further official advices received at the ministry of war today regarding the battle May 16 between Moroccan tribesmen and a French detachment at Debdou, to the east of Fez, and about forty miles from the Algerian frontier, report the killing of one French officer and twenty-seven men, and the wounding of one officer and six privates. The tribesmen, who attacked the French force during a fog, were repulsed.

ILLINOIS SOLONS CONCLUDE WORK

Will Meet on May 31 to Hear Message and Adjourn.

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—The forty-seventh Illinois general assembly ended its 1911 regular session at 7 o'clock this morning after an all-day and all-night session.

The members of the legislature took a recess until noon on Wednesday, May 31. At that time the members of the two houses will return to receive any messages which Governor Deneen may have to transmit regarding the bills passed and now in his hands for approval.

By recessing until May 31 and adjourning on that day, the constitutional time of ten days after adjournment allotted to the executive in which to pass upon the bills is practically doubled.

TAFT SITS OVER A TON OF ICE

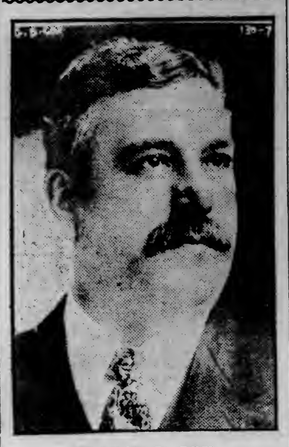
President Keeps Cool While Congress Is Sweltering.

Washington, May 20.—Congressmen who get in to see President Taft these days are not surprised to learn that he is not worrying about the date of adjournment. While all Washington is sizzling with the thermometer around the 100 mark, the president's office shows a temperature of about 80.

The president sits over a ton of ice each day, for the White House refrigerator plant is just beneath his desk. The cooled air is forced into the room by fans, and statesmen who wend their perspiring way to the executive offices find Mr. Taft smiling and comfortable.

If it comes to a struggle between congress and the president, Mr. Taft will have aid in the hot weather. The capitol is a hot spot and even the aid of lemonade and iced carbonated water doesn't offset the advantage of 20 deg. difference in temperature.

INDICTMENTS AGAINST HIM ARE QUASHED



GEORGE B. COX,
Ohio Banker and Republican Leader.

HAVE EARNED COMMISSIONS

National Guard Officers Who Passed Examinations Named.

J. U. L. Lamphrey Succeeds Washburn As Quartermaster.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Of the elected officers in the Minnesota National Guard who took the examination before the examination board May 1, the following have been certified to Adjt. Gen. Wood as having passed the requirements and entitled to commissions:

Minot P. Brown, captain of Company I, Second Infantry, Owatonna.

Peter I. Eide, captain of Company I, Third Infantry, Crookston.

Ernest H. Sellhorn, captain, Company G, Third Infantry, Princeton.

Alfred H. Johnson, first lieutenant, Company G, Third Infantry, Princeton.

Baptiste Groehner, first lieutenant Company A, Second infantry, New Ulm.

Charles E. Bullis, second lieutenant, Company G, Third infantry, Princeton.

Raymond J. Welsel, second lieutenant, Company B, First infantry, Minneapolis.

John U. L. Lamphrey has been commissioned battalion quartermaster and commissary of the First infantry, with rank of second lieutenant. He succeeds W. O. Washburn, resigned.

VIRGINIA BANK INCORPORATED

State Institution Will Have Capital Stock of $50,000.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Articles of incorporation for the State Bank of Virginia, with a capital stock of $50,000 were filed with the secretary of state this morning. The board of directors consists of Douglas Greeley of Pine City, F. S. Williams of Minneapolis, and C. E. Moore, C. E. Hendricks and C. H. Roegers, all of Virginia.

RELIEF FROM HEAT IN SIGHT

All the Country Except New England Will Get Cooled Off.

Washington, May 20.—Relief from the hot wave was promised by the weather bureau today throughout the country east of the Mississippi. It will come tonight in the Lake region and the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and on Sunday afternoon and night in the Middle Atlantic states, the Interior South Atlantic and East Gulf states. Eastern New England, however, was promised warmer weather.

The extreme heat will be dispelled by unsettled weather with showers and local thunderstorms during the next thirty-six hours in the far eastern part of the country. This kind of weather was being experienced along the Great Lakes and the Mississippi and Missouri valleys today and the depression causing it was moving eastward toward the Atlantic coast.

Frosts were reported this morning in Wyoming and Western Colorado.

FIRST MINNESOTA TO HOLD REUNION JUNE 22.

St. Paul, Minn, May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fiftieth anniversary of the departure from St. Paul of the First Minnesota infantry during the Civil war, will be celebrated at the old capitol here June 22. One of the features of the celebration will be a march from the capitol to the foot of Jackson street and the levee where the regiment embarked for the seat of war in 1861. Capt. J. R. King, said to be the first man to enlist for service from this state, will be the chief orator of the day. Civic organizations of St. Paul will help make the reunion a success.

ST. PAUL MAN UXORICIDE

Charles E. McKenna Convicted of Murdering His Wife.

Claim That Fall Caused Death Fails to Convince Jury.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles E. McKenna is guilty of the murder of his wife.

The jury, after having spent the night thinking over his case, returned a verdict of guilty in the second degree before Judge Orr in the district court this morning.

The trial of Charles McKenna for the murder of his wife on the night of Dec. 14 at their home, 935 Desoto street, took three weeks and three days. County Attorney O'Brien sought to show that McKenna had killed his wife by beating her with some weapon, the nature of which was not disclosed, but evidence of which was sought to be shown by lacerations of the scalp and many broken bones.

The defense was based on McKenna's testimony that his wife was drunk the evening of Dec. 14, and that she twice fell out of bed and once fell downstairs, thus accounting for the woman's injuries.

There was no witness to the alleged crime other than McKenna.

CHURCH HEARS HERESY CHARGE

Dr. Grant's Case Given to Committee By Presbyterians.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 20.—The papers in the heresy case against Rev. Dr. William D. Grant of Northumberland, Pa., having been presented to the Presbyterian general assembly, now in session here, it is expected that the judicial commission, to which the case has been referred, will give the subject prompt consideration.

The heresy case against Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, president of Union Theological seminary, and Prof. William Adams Brown of the same institution has not yet come before the assembly.

The report of the special committee on Sabbath observance was also taken up today. It reports that many more industrial concerns have discontinued Sunday work.

"The sentiment that laboring men should strike for a six-day week as well as an eight-hour day is growing and meets the approval of labor leaders," says the report.

Among the matters to be considered today is that of consolidation of several boards, which provoked a long discussion yesterday. The idea of consolidation is to reduce the number of directors and clerks, to cut down expenses and to facilitate the transaction of business. The reduction plan eliminates thirty-eight men, cutting the combined directorate from sixty-eight to thirty.

Opponents of the consolidation declare there is now more than enough work for the sixty-eight men and that it would be a bad precedent to make any change.

HEADS INVESTIGATORS OF THE STEEL TRUST

A. O. STANLEY,
Representative From Kentucky.

Washington, May 20.—Representative A. O. Stanley of Kentucky is at the head of the special committee of nine of the house which is to investigate the Steel corporation. Stanley introduced the bill for the appointment of such a committee. Stanley is serving his fifth term in congress. He is a Kentuckian by birth and was a school teacher until, in 1894, he began the practice of law.

LITTLE WORK FOR CITY SAWMILLS

Minneapolis Sees Closing of One of Its Former Industries.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gradually the sawmills at Minneapolis are passing out of existence. Thursday the big mill of the Itasca Lumber company, at Twenty-eighth avenue north and the river, sawed its last log. It will be dismantled soon. It has been in operation twenty-four years.

Other mills in Minneapolis are having a hard time getting enough logs to run.

TAFT FAVORS SUMMER HOME AT MINNETONKA

Washington, May 20.—The proposition to establish a summer White House on Lake Minnetonka, Minn., near Minneapolis, was received with favor by President Taft.

Representative Nye of Minnesota told Mr. Taft he would introduce in congress a bill appropriating money for a summer home there.

The president said that while this summer's plans had been made, he would be glad to occupy a Minnesota summer White House next year if congress and the people of that state should provide such a place.

JOHN LIND UNDER KNIFE

Former Governor of Minnesota Undergoes an Operation.

He Is Resting Easily and Early Recovery Is Expected.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, now president of the board of regents of the University of Minnesota and one of the most prominent figures in Minnesota Democracy, underwent an operation for abdominal trouble at the Swedish hospital in Mineapolis.

He is reported as resting easily and is expected to recover rapidly.

Mr. Lind has been ill for some time and has contemplated undergoing the operation. The patient went to the hospital in his automobile Thursday, the fact being known only to members of his family and his physician.

KILLED IN STREET FIGHT IN ST. PAUL

William Sweeney Dies of Fractured Skull—Frank Olson Held.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Sweeney, who was taken into the city hospital just before 12 o'clock last night with a fracture of the skull which he received in a fight in front of a saloon at 1087 Payne avenue, died at 3 a. m. today.

Sweeney's body was taken to the morgue, where it will be held until the police can locate his family. Nothing is known by the police regarding the man.

Frank Olson, 600 Hawthorne street, a shipping clerk for Wolterstorff & Haskell, with whom Sweeney, it is claimed by the spectators of the affray, picked a fight, is being held by the police.

JOY RIDERS KILL GIRL AND ESCAPE

Second Victim of Event May Not Recover From Injuries.

San Francisco, May 20.—Struck by an automobile containing a party of unidentified joy riders on the Ocean boulevard late last night, Jeanette Heilbuth, aged 12, was fatally and Miss Elsie Fulda seriously injured. Following the accident the driver increased the speed of his machine and disappeared.

The injured girls were removed to a hospital, where the Heilbuth child died early today. Miss Fulda's condition is serious.

COX AFTER WOODSMEN

Two Hundred and Twenty-five Men to Guard State Forests.

Rangers and Patrolmen Will Be Named About June 15.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Approximately twenty-rangers and 200 patrolmen for the north woods will be appointed by W. T. Cox, the new state forester, about June 15. Many applications for the positions are in and are being considered.

The rangers will be paid at the rate of $1,000 to $1,200 a year. Few of them will be employed permanently, most being retained only for the dry season. The patrolmen will be paid $65 or $70 a month. All of these appointments will be temporary.

"Beginning next spring," Mr. Cox said this morning, "all rangers will be required to pass an examination before receiving commissions. This year, however, we will have to select men best fitted for cruisers and woods foremen, and examine them in an imperfect way. When our completed system is in operation, a man must pass a technical examination and show he 'has the goods,' as a woodsman, before he will be given an appointment."

LOAN OF THIRTY MILLIONS SIGNED

American, British, French and German Bankers Act at Pekin.

Pekin, May 20.—The Hukwang loan for the construction of railroads in the provinces of Hunan and Hupei was signed here today by the representatives of the American, British, French and German groups of bankers. Besides providing for the original amount of $30,000,000, provision is made in the agreement for an extra $20,000,000 should that additional sum be needed for the completion of the project.

Bankers here are of the opinion that the Hukwang loan is the most important financial transaction ever signed in China. It provides for the construction of 1,200 miles of railroad in Hunan and Hupei, and the loan is secured by the revenues of these provinces, which, in case of default, may be administered by the marine customs.

WILSON LIONIZED BY SEATTLE MEN

New Jersey Governor Is Entertained By Four Organizations.

Seattle, Wash., May 20.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, upon his arrival from Portland today, was greeted by Governor Marion E. Hay and by committees from the four organizations which will entertain him during his stay in Seattle. Governor Wilson lunched with the college men of the city and this evening he will make an address at a dinner to be given him by the state Democratic central committee.

Tonight Governor Wilson will address a good government meeting and afterwards he will hold a reception at the press club.

Plague and Smallpox Kill Many.

Amoy, China, May 20.—Forty-three deaths from the bubonic plague and six deaths from smallpox are reported during the two weeks ended on Friday.

GOMEZ SAYS PEACE MUST BE DECLARED

Sees Danger in Plan to Wait Until Diaz Has Resigned.

Outlines Proclamation He Believes Should Be Issued.

New Cabinet Personnel Pleases Mexican Rebel Leaders.

Juarez, Mex., May 20.—It seems necessary that some announcement or declaration of peace be made at once, said Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, head of the rebel peace commission today, discussing the report that peace would not be declared in effect until President Diaz actually resigned. He intimated that it might be done sometime today after a conference with Judge Carbajal, the federal envoy.

"We had thought," continued Dr. Gomez, "that a peace agreement was entirely unnecessary, as we could merely stand by and witness the actual carrying out of the various things we have demanded, but in the meantime the army would be idle and would have to be provisioned and a wait of ten or fifteen days might cause a dangerous restlessness.

"Some kind of a manifesto advising the various chiefs that peace is practically assured is necessary. They who are not on the ground and in touch with the progress of our relations with the government might feel disposed to prosecute the rebellion.

Should Tell Plans.

"In the declaration or manifesto of peace should be contained the principal basis by which peace really will have been effected. It should record the fact that President Diaz has publicly announced, as well as personally telegraphed Mr. Madero, that he will resign before the expiration of the present month. It should note that the revolutionists have agreed that Senor de la Barra shall be provisional president and that six of the eight members of his cabinet shall be selected by the revolutionists.

"Likewise, it should announce that it is assured that the Mexican con-

MINNESOTA HEADS LIST

University Is the Biggest State Educational Institution.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The University of Minnesota is the largest state educational institution in the United States, and in the class of private foundations is second only to Columbia university, according to figures compiled today by Registrar E. B. Pierce, to be sent to the latter university for publication. There are 6,025 students registered at the state university, while at Columbia there are 7,411. Of this number 2,850 are students of the summer school only. So far as the regular session of the two universities are concerned, Minnesota would lead Columbia.

There are 5,953 resident students at the state university, and even with this number the Gopher institution leads Chicago, Michigan and Harvard by wide margins.

SATURDAY SESSION IS HELD BY HOUSE

Departmental Investigations Are Beginning to Take Shape.

Washington, May 20.—Expectations of members of the house whose homes are within easy reach of Washington that they might spend the week end with their families were rudely shattered when it was decided that there should be a session today. It was the first Saturday session in many weeks, and the statehood resolution to admit Arizona and New Mexico was the only business on the calendar. The measure will be constantly before the house until Tuesday night, when it will be called up for passage.

The investigations into the departments of government instituted at the outset of the Democratic congress have begun to take shape, and today plans for holding hearings with relation to the state, postoffice, interior and treasury departments were discussed by the party leaders.

These, with the special investigations into the United States Steel corporation and the American Sugar Refining company, it was declared, will undoubtedly progress throughout the summer whether congress is in session or not.

The senate was not in session today.

FIRE DEVASTATING A JAPANESE ISLAND.

Tokio, May 20.—Forest fires in Hokkaido, the northernmost of the islands of Japan, are devastating a vast territory of the island. A number of villages already have been destroyed. The troops have been called out and every available man is fighting the flames. The fire line is almost sixty miles in length. It is impossible to estimate the number of fatalities or the amount of damage resulting from the conflagration.

WEST END OPPOSITION NOT STRONG

Few West Enders Object to Change in Third Street Car Service.

Delegation of Business Men Will Urge Council to Order Improvement.

West End business men have little fear that the resolution calling for the building of the Twenty-first avenue cutoff by the street car company, will not be passed at the council meeting Monday evening.

A large delegation of West enders will be at the city hall and will be heard if any opposition to the improvement comes up at the council meeting.

The proposed improvement, which the street car company is instructed to make in the resolution, is the building of a double track on Twenty-first avenue west between Superior and Third streets, over which all West Third street cars will run, leaving Piedmont avenue for Piedmont avenue cars exclusively. The resolution also calls for a ten-minute service on the Piedmont avenue line instead of a twenty-minute schedule.

The street car officials, it is understood, have often considered this improvement and will place no obstacle in the way.

When the matter came up a year ago, the council gave the road the right to build. A number of the hillsiders at the time, however, figured that the service would be crippled as far as the hillside district was concerned and bitterly fought the change. With the promise of a ten-minute service on the Piedmont avenue line, there will probably be no opposition from the hillsiders.

CHURCH SOCIETY PLANS PATRIOTIC DINNER.

A patriotic banquet will be held on the evening of Decoration day, May 30, by the young people of the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. The dinner is for the members of the society and and their friends.

Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock and covers will be laid for about 150. Following the meal, a program of speeches and music will be given. William Hammerstrom will talk on "Our Two Homes." Walter Hammerbeck on "Organized Labor in the Church." A. Thoren on "Patriotism," Ivar Jacobson on "Young America" and Rev. Swaney Nelson on "Memorial Day." George Carlson will give a reading.

REVIVAL SERVICES DRAW LARGE AUDIENCES.

The revival services which have been conducted nightly by Rev. Malcolm Magnuson of Chicago at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, have been very successful and well attended. The meetings will be continued for another week.

Special services will be held tomorrow. In the morning at 9:30 o'clock Rev. Mr. Magnuson will talk to the Sunday school. Rev. J. J. Daniels will preach at the 11 o'clock service. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a young people's rally, at which Rev. Mr. Magnuson will be the principal speaker. His subject is announced as "The Grateful Heart." In the evening there will be a special song service, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, after which Rev. Mr. Magnuson will preach on "Pictures of Mothers From the Bible."

Benefit Social.

A benefit entertainment for Rev. Hans Jacobson, a superannuated pastor of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, who is seriously ill, will be held Thursday evening at the First church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. A program has been arranged. Among other numbers will be a talk by Mrs. J. J. Moe on "My Tour Through the Old Country." Music will be furnished by the choir. A benefit collection will be taken up at the meeting.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson entertained the Amateur Five Hundred club of the West end at her home, 2220 West Fourth street, Thursday afternoon. Three tables weer played, the head prize being won by Mrs. Works and the consolation event going to Mrs. F. B. Thomas. The hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. O. G. Hagberg entertained the Young Ladies' Society of the First Swedish Baptist church at her home, 1827 West First street, last evening. Plans were made for holding an entertainment Friday evening at the Swedish temple, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

George Carlson, a divinity student, who returned recently from a Chicago theological seminary, was a guest of honor Thursday evening at a reception given in the parlors of the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

Miss Minnie Liden of 2029 West Third street left today for a short visit at Lake Nebagamon, Wis.

Mrs. H. C. Granton of West Fifth street has returned to her home after a two weeks' visit with friends in the Twin Cities.

The French Naturalization club held a smoker and entertainment last evening at the St Jean Baptiste hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. A number of athletic "stunts" comprised the evening's amusement.

S. H. Vermilyea of Couderay, Wis., has returned to his home after a visit with West end friends.

CANADIAN HOUSES CLOSE SESSIONS

Hot Reciprocity Campaign Will Begin Next Month.

Ottawa, Ont., May 20. — Parliament has finished practically all the business of the session except the passage of the bill ratifying reciprocity. The house of commons adjourned yesterday until July 18 and the senate until Aug. 9.

Both sides have arranged programs of meetings covering practically the whole recess. The Liberals will conduct a campaign of education in favor of ratification and the opposition members will endeavor to arouse the country against it.

Opposition Leader Borden leaves next month for a tour of the Canadian West, and it was reported that he will have a lively trip, as the grain growers are organizing pro-reciprocity demonstrations at each speaking point. Members of the cabinet will stump the country in the interests of reciprocity.

SUFFER FROM HEAT AND STORMS

East and Middle West Are Afflicted By the Weather.

Washington, May 20. — Cooler weather not later than Sunday in all sections affected by the hot wave is promised by the weather bureau. Already the break in the wave has begun in the upper Mississippi valley and on the New England coast, and thunder showers today and Sunday are expected to bring about a general and decided drop in temperature throughout the East, South and the Great Lakes region.

Abilene, Tex., was the hottest place in the United States yesterday, official thermometers registering 98 deg. Washington was 2 deg. cooler, though street thermometers marked 102 in the shade. These are the highest temperatures ever recorded here in May. There were several prostrations in this city.

Chicago Still Sweltering.

Chicago, May 20.—The fifth day of the extreme heat with the mercury hovering at 91 is promised by the United States weather bureau to end the hot spell. A shower yesterday afternoon sent the thermometer down a few points but failed to give much relief from suffering because of the increased humidty. Numerous cases of prostration, but no deaths, were reported. Several persons were bitten by dogs driven mad through the heat.

Record in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 20. — Yesterday was the hottest day in May in the history of the local weather bureau. The maximum temperature was 91 deg. Five deaths and many prostrations from heat were reported.

Bad Storm in La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., May 20.—A wind storm which unroofed small buildings, tore down trees and was accompanied by a terrific downpour of rain, caused much damage in La Crosse and vicinity late yesterday. A number of bridges in the county were washed out and long stretches of road were made impassable. Lightning started several fires.

A bolt of lightning struck the power plant which supplies the electric current to this city and disabled the machinery for several hours. Both the lighting system and the street car service were out of commission for several hours.

Big Damage in Iowa.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, May 20.—West Cedar Rapids last night suffered from a storm which did thousands of dollars damage. The plaster factory of the William King company was wrecked and several residences were demolished. Hundreds of shade trees were blown down, taking wires with them and communication was cut off.

Fruit Trees Suffer.

Boone, Iowa, May 20 — A terrific hail storm swept this district yesterday afternoon, causing damage to windows estimated at $5,000. The damage to fruit trees also will be heavy.

DULUTH HAS THE "BIGGEST LITTLE BANK IN AMERICA"

When old Si Scollups read in his favorite evening journal the other day the list of stockholders and directors of the newly organized Central State bank of Gary, Minn., near the steel plant of the Minnesota Steel company, he dug down under the kitchen floor, pulled up three or four socks of lucre, a bale of stocks and bonds, put 'em in a wheelbarrow and started off to hunt up the bank.

For, as Si remarked at the time, the Central State Bank of Gary is "plastered all over with class." It is about the biggest little bank West of the Atlantic and East of the Pacific. It has a capital of $20,000. Its stockholders could probably "cash in" for $25,000,000. Si opined that his hard earned cartwheels were going to trail in the wake of the five twenty-five million. So Si went to the dugout.

The new bank is going to have a building on what will be the busiest corner in Gary. The rumor that the front door will have an amethyst handle and be studded with sparkling ice is branded as a pipe-dream.

But read this list of shareholders: G. G. Hartley, miner, banker, newspaper owner, theater owner, farmer, owner of improved property, etc., etc., etc.; H. H. Peyton cashier Proctor State bank and son of the president of the American Exchange bank of Duluth; B. M. Peyton, president of the Peyton Paper company, and the Superior State bank; F. E. House, president of the Duluth & Iron Range; Julius H. Barnes, president of Ames-Brooks, the Zenith Grain Co., Ames-Barnes, treasurer of Keating Gold and a lot of other things; W. J. Olcott, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company; W. A. McGonogle, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern; Pentecost Mitchell, vice-president of the Oliver Iron Mining company; A. L. Agatin, attorney and director in a bunch of mining companies; George D. Swift, treasurer of the local subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation; B. H. Lewis, cashier of the new bank; A. C. Volk, of A. C. Volk & Co., who bought the site of the steel plant for the present owners and didn't lose anything by it; Isaac S. Moore, assistant cashier of the American Exchange National bank; W. G. Hegardt, cashier of the American Exchange National bank and C. W. Seddon, superintendent of motive power of the D. M. & N.

The officers are: President, B. M. Peyton; vice-president, H. H. Peyton; cashier, B. H. Lewis. Directors: Julius H. Barnes, W. G. Hegardt, A. C. Volk, Pentecost Mitchell, J. H. McLean, H. H. Peyton, B. M. Peyton.

TONE OF TRADE MORE BUOYANT

New York, May 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Two events of the week have important influence upon the business situation inasmuch as they remove much of the uncertainty which has served to retard enterprise and discourage activity. These events are the supreme court decision in one of the cases involving the status of big corporations under the anti-trust law, and the prospects of the restoration of peace in Mexico. For the first time in many weeks the reports from the leading trade centers are more buoyant in tone, though it would not appear that the actual gain in volume of transactions has been much if any.

This improvement in business sentiment appears in the reports from iron and steel trade, where in spite of continued contraction and price concessions in pig iron, a better feeling is noted with some increased orders from the railroads. It also appears to a limited degree in the textile markets, which report some improvement, notwithstanding the continued curtailment due largely to the high cost of production and the conservative purchases by consumers.

The export movement of cotton goods continued well ahead of last year and more active buying of printed fabrics has followed the large purchases of print cloths a week ago. Some factors of strength have developed in the woolen goods markets, among them a notice by the leading producer of men's wear that it could receive no more orders after June 1, and the notable activity of some other mills making novelties or specialties in that class of goods.

A better feeling pervades the entire footwear situation. Shoe manufacturers are placing larger contracts for leather, which would indicate that reserve contracts in hand have increased.

The movement, however, is principally for tan shoes and specialties. Larger individual lots of leather are moved and prices show a firmer trend on some varieties owing to scant supplies. Both large and outside tanners have advanced prices on hemlock and union sole.

The domestic hide markets do not show the activity of a week ago, but prices continue strong at advances for both packer and country take-off. Foreign hides and skins have received somewhat more attention as there is not the disparity formerly existing between Europe and the domestic market, the latter having advanced appreciably in the last two weeks.

ASKS FOR FARR'S RESIGNATION

Secretary of Interior After Inspector of Indian Logging.

Washington, May 20.—Secretary of the Interior Fisher has requested the resignation of Joseph W. Farr, inspector of logging on Indian reservations. Mr. Farr has refused to hand in his resignation and asks for an investgation of Commissioner of Affairs Valentine.

Mr. Farr, who has been in Washington for some time, will not discuss the situation, but intimates that when given an opportunity to present his case before the head of the department or an investigating committee he would have a whole lot to say. Commissioner Valentine, soon after the resignation of Secretary Ballinger, indorsed a petition from several Indians in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan for the dismissal of Farr. It was alleged that he was drawing considerable funds each year without performing his work as he did a few years ago.

Commissioner Valentine, it is alleged, concurred in this view and added several reasons of his own for Farr's removal.

The latter resents these statements and proposes to show that thousands of dollars have been expended by Commissioner Valentine for "official" trips. He charges special agents were employed for no purpose except to give somebody a job. Incidentally the crusade of "Pussyfoot" Johnson started about a year ago and its full history will be mixed up in the forthcoming investigation.

Secretary Fisher has not yet intimated what action will be taken. Quite likely the congressional committees will get hold of the case. "Joe" Farr was appointed inspector in 1892 from Wisconsin. He is regarded as the best posted man on bank timber in the service. Several years ago some lumberman preferred charges against him and Farr won out.

NEW PASTOR IS GIVEN CALL.

The Rev. H. F. Pfeiffer of Albert Lea, Minn., has been tendered the pastorate of St. Matthew's German Lutheran church, Fourth street and Sixth avenue east. He has not accepted but the congregation believes that he will.

The Rev. Herman Drews, who recently resigned the pastorate to go to Canada for the mission board of the Ohio joint synod of the same denomination, will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow morning and in the evening he will speak in Grace mission, Eveleth.

COPPERS ADVANCE; TRADING LIGHT

Values Open Weak But Work Upward—Business Small Everywhere.

The copper market today was dull but higher. Trading came almost to a standstill. In the short session traders stopped to take a long breath after the speculative activity of the last few days. There was no news to influence the market, but there was no pressure to values and the market went up in sympathy with rails and industrials. The buying power seemed to have become exhausted, although a brief spurt developed at the close.

NEWSBOYS ARE ENTERTAINED

Visit the Lyceum as Guests of Barnum, the Hypnotist.

The Herald newsboys were entertained last evening at the Lyceum theater by Barnum, the hypotist. The affair had been arranged for them by this popular entertainer and C. A. Marshall, owner of the Lyceum theater.

Several hundred of the newsies "got in on it" and they seemed to enjoy every minute of the show. Barnum incorporated into the entertainment features that he thought would be interesting to them and several hundred boys who seldom have pleasures of this kind, are indebted to him for an enjoyable evening.

SWINDLERS GET TWO-YEAR TERMS

Andrew Gustafson and Gust Brown pleaded guilty to a swindling charge before Judge J. D. Ensign of the district court yesterday afternoon and they were sentenced to two years at Stillwater. The men held up a Chicago Bay farmer and by means of a card game separated him from $200. The victim later got his money back.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 13 DULUTH, MAY 20, 1911

Continuing the alphabetical list of leading American cities, we find that the following prices per arc light per year are now paid in these cities, namely:

City—	Population.	Price Per Arc Light.
New York City	4,767,000
Brooklyn borough		$100 & $90
Bronx borough		102.50
Manhat'n borough		95.00
Queens and Richmond boroughs		100.00
Niagara Falls, N. Y.	35,000	52.00
Norfolk, Va.	68,000	58.00
Omaha, Neb.	125,000	59.00
Ottumwa, Iowa	22,000	67.50
Pawtucket, R. I.	50,000	105.00
Peoria, Ill.	75,000	65.00
Portland, Me.	60,000	60.00
Portland, Or.	120,000	56.00
Poughkeepsie, N. Y.	35,000	80.00
Providence, R. I.	250,000	100.00
Pueblo, Colo.	45,000	$87.00
Quincy, Ill	50,000	52.50
Racine, Wis.	38,000	72.00

St. Louis, Mo.	687,000	96.50
St. Paul, Minn.	225,000	75.00
Salem, Mass	45,000	95.00
Salt Lake, Utah	92,000	60.00

We have obtained these figures direct from the cities themselves so that YOU can make your own comparisons between the present prices paid by other cities for Electric Light and the offer of The Duluth-Edison Electric Light Company to light Duluth at the price of only $45 a year for each arc light.

Remember also that, while other cities as a rule get NO free lighting at all, this Company offers Duluth FREE Electric Light worth $1,500 a year for the public buildings and parks—which means 33 MORE ARC LIGHTS for the streets than would otherwise be possible. And the $45 rate will give Duluth 93 MORE ARC LIGHTS than are now in use—for the same amount now paid yearly.

Furthermore, if the City makes a new lighting contract with this Company, we offer to all customers FREE renewals of all carbon and gem filament lamps (up to 32-c. p.) This amounts to a reduction of 5 PER CENT on all YOUR Electric Light bills.

To all who have any technical knowledge of the Electric Lighting business our offer is a DEMONSTRATION that this Company is willing to light Duluth at a lower price than even the City could do it with a Municipal Lighting Plant. And YOU know that our Service is first-class. A Municipal plant could not give any better Service.

We want this City Lighting because we are in this Electric Lighting business HERE TO STAY and to help build up a Bigger, Brighter and Better Duluth. Remember that. And remember we guarantee a Square Deal on all the business we transact.

Dr. Grenfell explained that there was some starvation, but it is limited to a small section of the Labrador coast.

FIRST STATE BALL IN KING GEORGE'S REIGN.

London, May 20.—The first state ball of the reign of King George, the date for which was selected in honor of the visit of the German emperor and empress, was held at Buckingham palace last night. It was an unusually brilliant function. King George and Emperor William, respectively, in German and British uniforms, preceded the state officials, attired in gorgeous robes and carrying their wands of office, through the whole length of the state apartments to the ballroom, where had gathered thousands of guests, including Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, and Mrs. Reid and the entire diplomatic corps.

Emperor William took as his partner Queen Mary and King George the German empress. The duke of Connaught and Princess Victoria Louise opened the ball with the "royal quadrille."

QUITS HIS FEDERAL JOB AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS.

Washington, May 20.—Eugene T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation of the department of commerce and labor, has presented his resignation to Secretary Nagel to take effect upon qualification of his successor. Mr. Chamberlain was appointed from New York and had held the office since 1893.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he was leaving the government service to engage in private business and that his resignation would take effect upon the appointment of his successor. It is understood that a new commissioner will be named within the next two months.

GOVERNOR IS COMING

Chief Executive Will Talk in Duluth on "State Development."

Program for Northern Minnesota Development Congress Now Complete.

Governor A. O. Eberhart will be in Duluth for the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association June 1 and 2. The governor will be one of the speakers on "State Development," which subject will also be touched upon by State Senator S. D. Works of Mankato.

Governor Eberhart's talk at the Brainerd meeting of the association was one of the best things at the convention and Secretary Mackenzie is pleased that the governor has accepted the invitation to address the convention here.

The program for the convention is now about completed. The complete list of speakers so far secured is: Governor Eberhart, Senator Works, Rt. Rev. James McGolrick, Immigration Commissioner George Welsh of St. Paul, Representative Thomas Kneeland of Minneapolis, Prof. A. R. Whitson of the University of Wisconsin, State Forester William T. Cox, Ferman A. Wilson of Bemidji, G. G. Hartley of Duluth, C. L. Hansen of Thief River Falls, W. J. Brown of Warren, A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids, Harold Knutson of Foley, W. H. Myrea of Wausau, Wis., H. W. Reade of Escanaba, Mich., and J. I. Gibson of Traverse City, Mich. Rev. John Walker Powell will give the invocation and Mayor M. B. Cullum will deliver an address of welcome.

Since the partial list of speakers was published, C. L. Hansen of Thief River Falls, W. J. Brown of Warren, and Governor Eberhart have been added to the list. Mr. Hansen is a prominent worker for development in Northern Minnesota. Mr. Brown is chairman of the state reclamation board and will speak on "Drainage Problems." Mr. Hansen will talk on "The Duties of Commercial Clubs."

As the time for the meeting approaches, Secretary Mackenzie becomes more firmly convinced that the attendance will be better than that at any former meeting of the association and that the enthusiasm will be greater. Lists of delegates from the different counties are being sent in and the strongest men in each county are coming to Duluth to take part in the big boosting meeting. The jobbers of Duluth are assisting Mr. Mackenzie in advertising the meeting and are sending announcements to all their customers. Mr. Mackenzie is flooding the entire state with urgent invitations to attend the meeting and the press of the state is doing its part to advertise the gathering.

The entertainment features arranged give assurance that there will not be a dull moment during the two days When the convention is not in session, some form of entertainment will be provided for the delegates and their ladies and Duluth will strain every effort to outdo itself in showing its hospitality.

WANT COURTS TO SUSPEND

Lawyers Are Desirous of Taking Trip to Steel Plant.

There will be something of a suspension of business Wednesday afternoon, when the shop excursion to the steel plant will be held. A number of business men will give their employes the afternoon off, in order that they may make the trip, and an effort will be made to get out a great crowd.

It has been suggested that the district court adjourn from Wednesday noon to Thursday morning, in order that the lawyers may attend the excursion. A number of the lawyers would like to make the trip, but will be unable to do so if court is in session.

BAD HABITS OF MEN CURED

Don't imagine for a moment that your bad habits will not have any permanent effect upon you. Every time you offend against the laws of nature, nature will take its revenge. Don't fool yourself with the belief that you can stop any time you want to. In one case out of a hundred the man is stronger then the habit he has contracted. In the other ninety-nine the habit WINS.

The Progressive Medical Association of Duluth has had wonderful success in preserving the cause and curing the results of vices of men. Hundreds of wrecks have received new life from their skill. Men who have allowed some bad habit to sap their manhood and weaken their will power without taking any steps to prevent it until outraged nature has refused to continue the unequal struggle any longer, have come to the Progressive Specialists mental and physical wrecks and have gone away, after cured, sound in mind and body.

What we have done for others we are willing and ready to do for you, but we want to impress upon you the necessity of not delaying any longer. Every day you delay gives the habit a greater hold upon you, and by weakening your will, makes it more and more difficult for you to throw it off. You have already noticed the symptoms, the fits of depression, you call them the "blues," in reality they denote you are suffering from Melancholia, a form of insanity which never leaves of its own accord when once it has obtained a foothold—it must be DRIVEN out—and that quickly, or it will land the sufferer in the asylum. That is all the warning that nature will give you. If you do not take the hint you will have to pay the penalty, both in your own mind and body, and in those of your children, for these results do not stop with the one generation. They become rooted in the family and will finally wipe that family completely out, if not checked.

200 DULUTH BOYS GATHER FOR THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET

Members of Boys' Department Y. M. C. A. Enjoy Successful Spread.

Prominent Business Men Deliver Addresses to the Members.

About 200 members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. attended the annual banquet at the association building last evening.

The affair was a decided success from every standpoint. The boys listened to a number of speeches from well-known citizens, telling them of their future responsibilities when they take over the reins of government.

Others spoke upon the purposes and objects of the annual summer camping expedition and of the good times which the members have at these outings.

The committee of women in charge spent the day in getting the club room into shape for the big affair. At 6:30 the orchestra began to play and the 200 boys marched into their places.

Dr. Yost asked the blessing, and then full justice was done to the splendid menu.

At 7:30 Mr. E. L. Millar started the toast list with the singing of the National anthem by the boys. To be a toastmaster at a boys' banquet is not an easy task, but from the start to the finish Mr. Millar kept the crowd in the best of spirits.

Palmer Bevis gave the first toast. It was to the boys' department. As president of the cabinet he thanked all those who had helped make the work of the club the success it was during the past season. He also reviewed the things that had been accomplished.

Mayor Cullum responded to the toast, "The Boy's Responsibility to the City." He reminded the boys that they were the coming citizens of Duluth, and that in all their games they were to cultivate the spirit of fair play, and that they should try and be helpful to other boys.

Caldwell Harris responded to the toast, "Boys' Department Spirit." He said some fellows had this spirit and that some did not. The ones who joined the club not only for the good times they might have but also for what they might be able to do, were the kind who helped the club and created that spirit that made the club a success.

Forest Huyck spoke of the athletic activities of the past year and gave an outline of what was on for the summer.

Mr. Young gave a very interesting talk on the Duluth Central high school.

Glen Merritt gave the toast to Camp Miller and gave a very graphic account of the good times the boys have at camp. Before he got through nearly every one at the banquet had made up his mind to attend the camp this year. The talk was illustrated with some camp lantern slides.

Mr. Batchelor responded to the toast entitled "An Appreciation." He referred to the appreciation a boy ought to have for his health and how he ought to do everything possible to keep his body strong.

Julius Nolte responded to the toast "The Ladies," and he did full justice to the topic. He called for three cheers for the ladies, which were enthusiastically given.

W. A. McGonagle toasted "the hustlers," who were the guests of honor last night. They secured 100 points for doing various things during the year. Mr. McGonagle said that hustlers were the kind of men that were needed today, and he expected that from the group last night would come some of Duluth's best citizens. He presented each boy with the official emblem. The hustlers then elected the supreme hustler, and he was awarded a trip to Camp Miller with all expenses paid. Roy Lonegren was the fortunate boy. The other hustlers were: Warren Moore, Harold Armstrong, Hamilton Cook, Hartley Sparks, Towne Peterson, Gerald Lonegren, Clifford Kohagen and Henry Hallenbeck.

A. C. Pearson brought some good news for the Camp Miller Members. He reported that George French had presented the camp with a row boat. The camp has always had to rent boats, and this gift will be thoroughly appreciated. It is the first gift to the camp equipment. The boat will be christened the George French. Another gentleman presented the camp with $50 to help boys to go to camp who could not pay the whole amount. This will make it possible to give many boys an outing who could not otherwise go. Miss Agnes Johnson and the boys' department orchestra supplied the musical part of the program.

A. C. VOLK & CO. TO COMMENCE SELLING VERY SHORTLY NOW

Restricted Number of Lots in the First Division of Gary Will Be Sold.

Gary, Minn., Lies at the Entrance to the Property of the Steel Company.

A. C. Volk & Co., stated today that conditions at the Minnesota Steel plant had finally become sufficiently promising to warrant the commencement of developments at their townsite of Gary, Minn.

This townsite, which is located at the very doors of the steel plant, has hitherto been withheld from sale; since the intentions of the firm are to prevent any chance of speculators discounting the future of Gary, Minn., through exploitation.

To this end, they propose to sell lots in Gary, Minn., only as an actual need for them occurs; a need to supply the actual requirements of the existing population on and around the Steel company's property.

The interest which is being taken in this property by the business men and investors of Duluth and the ranges, is strongly attested by the fact that over 200 applications have already been received at the offices of A. C. Volk & Co., from prospective purchasers, notwithstanding that not a line of advertising has appeared for this property up-to-date.

The far-sighted policy of the firm will do much for the success of the city of Gary; since it is an established fact that the splitting-up and dividing of a townsite among hundreds of small speculators practically destroys its chances for rapid development.

When a railroad or business house has to dicker with scores of individual speculators in order to obtain a site for a plant or a right-of-way, almost invariably the railroad or business house looks further afield; and the short-sighted speculators kill the goose that was to have laid the golden egg.

An early realization of the fact that before a city can have a population it must have industries sufficient to support a population; and that was the only way to secure the industries in the first place, is to be able to give them what they want at a fair price; will do much to help forward the growth of Gary, Minn.

The establishment of the big steel plant and of the plant of the Universal Portland Cement company alone assures the growth of a considerable city at Gary. By making it very easy and very desirable for other labor-employing industries to locate there, the growth of Gary, will be augmented until it is impossible to estimate just how large it will eventually be.

It is not beyond the bounds of probability that, within a decade or so, Duluth proper will have to look to her laurels if she would not be surpassed in point of numbers by her sister city!

The sale, which is to be held shortly, will be a very restricted one; applying only to enough lots to get active developments well under way, and to secure the establishment of sufficient business houses, etc., at Gary, Minn., to care for the rapidly growing needs of that section.

A. C. Volk & Co., state that full announcements of the approaching sale will be made through the papers of the city within a few days.

OPPOSITION TO ORDINANCE

New Lodging House Measure May Be Productive of Merry Scrap.

The council committee on ordinance and resolutions will hold a public hearing Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the council chambers on the proposed lodging house ordinance.

An exceedingly interesting session is anticipated. There will be considerable opposition to the ordinance, at least in its present form. It is freely stated by several people who have read the ordinance, that it would be impossible for the best hotel in the city to comply with its provisions as it now stands. They go further than that and state that there isn't a first-class hotel in the state that now fulfills the conditions which would be mandatory in the poorest lodging houses if the ordinance were passed without amendment.

On the other hand, those who have investigated lodging house conditions in the city state that they are vile. An examination has shown that some of the lodging houses in Duluth are worse than the average stable used for horses and cows. The ventilation is either very poor or lacking altogether; the sanitation is yet to be introduced; the beds and the bedding are frequently filthy, and vermin are common. In many places there isn't even a place where the men can wash their hands and face and comb their hair, to say nothing of taking a bath.

The resolution introduced last Monday night directing the street car company to give Piedmont avenue a 10-minute service with big cars and to run West Third street cars to Superior street on Twenty-first avenue west, is also due to come up at the council meeting. It was laid over a week when it was offered last Monday. The resolution was the outcome of a public hearing called to hear any complaints of insufficient service on the part of the street railway company.

The question of paving Second avenue east from Michigan street to Fourth street will also come in for some action. Part of the property owners have asked that the block between Third and Fourth streets be eliminated and others want the two blocks between Second and Fourth streets cut out.

ADVANCE NOTICE MUST BE GIVEN

The publicity committee of the Commercial club wants everybody who intends to attend the shop excursion to the steel plant site next Wednesday to notify Secretary Eva, Monday, by telephone or by other means. The committee doesn't want to be surprised too greatly in the attendance and before making arrangements for the special train to the plant, it is desirable that some sort of a line be had on the number to attend.

The excursion promises to be the biggest educational feature the publicity committee has arranged this year. The steel plant is to be Duluth's greatest industry and it is time that many Duluth people were beginning to realize the magnitude of the plant now under construction. The officials of the Minnesota Steel company are working with the publicity committee to make the excursion a big educational feature and the visitors will be given every opportunity Wednesday to inspect the plant.

BABIES AND HOT WEATHER

Health Department Issues Bulletin to Mothers of the City.

"Many babies are killed every year by bringing them to the family table and giving them little bits of meat, vegetables, pie, pickles, etc., which act like so much poison in the delicate little stomach.

"They are murdered just as surely, though not so quickly, as if they had been fed poison out of the drug store. When the baby that is fed this way sickens and dies, it is said that the baby dies of some other disease, but it is the result of poisoning with unfit food. Wait till the baby gets teeth before you put food into its mouth that needs to be chewed."

The above statement is contained in a general circular which is being sent out by the health department to mothers in the city. It is intended to aid them in caring for babies properly with a view to reducing the infant mortality of the hot summer months, as well as to be a help during the rest of the year.

The body of the circular deals largely with the feeding of babies, with considerable advice as to proper care of them. One section protests strongly against the use of drugs or "cure alls" which are available throughout the city.

"Do not feed the baby every time it cries," is one of the features which is strongly emphasized. The circular states that it should be given a drink of water instead, with the caution to be sure that the water has been purified by boiling, or a search should be made to find if a pin or some foreign object is irritating it.

A warning is issued against allowing the fly to get near the baby, as it is a deadly conveyer of disease germs.

In conclusion, the circular sums up as follows:

"The most important factor in getting good results in the feeding of infants are intelligent care, clean bottles and nipples; willingness and ability to carry out directions as to methods of feeding—quantities, frequency, etc.; stopping of the milk at the first signs of vomiting, proper care of the milk itself while in the house, proper methods of sterilizing; suitable clothing and cleanliness of the children, and as much fresh air as possible."

TWO-CENT FARE NOT CONDEMNED

Washington, May 20.—In further explanation today of its action yesterday in granting permission to railroads operating in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan to charge higher rates for interstate passenger business than for intrastate traffic, the Interstate commerce commission today made it clear that it had not as yet passed upon the reasonableness of the 2 cent a mile rate imposed by several of the Central states. The railroads are given until May 1, 1912, to show that the 2 cent a mile rate is inadequate.

ULTIMATUM FROM HOUSE TO SENATE

Democrats Want to Force Quick Vote on Tariff Bills.

Washington, May 20.—What is practically an ultimatum was served on the senate today by the Democratic leaders of the house that there must be a vote in the senate at this session on Canadian reciprocity, on the farmers' free list bill, and on the revised wool tariff. Provided these terms are met, the house will agree to a recess from July 1 to October 1. They want a record vote, it is declared.

Senator Burton of Ohio declared today that this word had been communicated to the senate from the house side.

TRUNK LINES REFILE RATES

Commerce Commission Completes Arrangement With Railroads.

Washington, May 20.—Arrangements have been effected by the interstate commerce commission with the trunk line carriers by which the latters' freight tariffs canceling allowances to so-called tap lines shall be refiled, to become effective Nov. 1, 1911.

Originally the proposed tariffs were suspended by the commission in the expectation that the matter finally might be determined before June 1, 1911. The questions involved were found to be so intricate that the commission desired more time than ten months allowed by the law for their disposition.

MINOT ELEVATOR HEAD IS MISSING

Irregularities Reported in Affairs of North Dakota Concern.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—An investigation into the affairs of the elevator at Minto, Walsh county, owned by the Grain Producers Elevator Company of Duluth and Minneapolis, has revealed irregularities and probably a shortage of nearly $2,500.

Thomas Elliott, agent of the company, and up to two years ago a resident of Battle Lake, Minn., is absent and when questioned by officials, his family declared their ignorance of his present whereabouts. No action will be taken until blame for the shortage can be fixed. Elliott was last heard from at Beach, N. D.

RAILROADS

PROGRESS ON GRAND TRUNK

Service on 1,500 Miles of Extension Will Be Begun Next Month.

Prairie Section of Line Complete and Ready for Trains.

The latest reports of progress of the construction work on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway indicate that service over 1,500 miles of the new transcontinental system will be opened next month. This includes the line from Fort William, at the head of Lake Superior, to the foothills of the Rocky mountains beyond Edmonton, B. C., and marks the completion of the prairie section of the road.

The complete line is to extend from Halifax on the east to Prince Rupert on the Pacific coast. It is estimated that the line will be completed in three years. Much of the track has been laid from Prince Rupert east. The heaviest remaining work is in the mountain section. The completed line will connect two great ports open to navigation throughout the year and will serve a territory estimated at 70,000,000 acres of wheat land. About 80 per cent of the construction work on the eastern portion of the transcontinental line from Fort William to Halifax is completed.

The Chateau Laurier, at Ottawa, the first of a string of large new hotels to be erected along the new line, has just been completed at a cost of $2,000,000 and will be opened in the autumn. Another is to be started soon at Winnipeg. The Grand Trunk also is making some extensive improvements on its old system.

During the summer work is to be started on relaying its first track, between Montreal and Chicago, 900 miles, with 100-pound rails in place of 80-pound rails. This line was double-tracked the entire distance a few years ago.

MAKE HAMPTON A GREAT COAL PORT

Railroads Combine to Make It Greatest Shipping Point in the World.

The Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and the Virginia roads are planning to make Hampton Roads, Va., the greatest coal port in the world, taking the supremacy from Cardiff, Wales, which has been in the van for over a century. Last year between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 tons of hard and soft coal were handled at Cardiff, while Hampton Roads, with three distinct piers at Lambert's Point, Sewall's Point and Newport News, maintained by the three roads, handled as follows: N. & W. 4,293,987 tons; Chesapeake & Ohio, 4,087,540 tons and the Virginian, 1,139,291 tons.

Plans are being worked out by big coal operators in Southwest Virginia and West Virginia to pool their interests in the European and Pan-American markets. Selling agents will be stationed in Europe, and will act jointly for the big coal miners of the Norfolk district. The roads will also place a fleet of coaling vessels in commission, sailing under the American flag, and carrying coal into the markets now reached by the Welsh mines.

From Hampton Roads approximately 500,000 tons of coal are transported on vessels to Panama. Last year the coal shipments were divided, but this year, according to tthe agreement signed April 1 last, all coal destined for Panama must now be dumped at the Sewall's Point and Lambert's Point piers. Nearly all of the coal used by the Atlantic fleet is loaded at Hampton Roads on naval colliers, and taken by them out to sea for the battleships.

SHIPPER ENTITLED TO CHEAPEST ROUTE.

Washington, May 20.—Holding that "in the absence of routing instructions the shipper is entitled to have his shipment moved via the cheapest available route," the interstate commerce commission has granted reparation to Goodkind Bros. of Helena, Mont., against the Chicago, Indianapolis, & Louisville railway and other carriers.

The principle involved in the decision had been in dispute for years and is now determined finally by the commission.

New Western Agent.

Word has been received here that W. B. Jerome has been appointed general western passenger agent of the New York Central lines, in charge of all territory west of Chicago. I. P. Spring has been appointed general agent and will have charge of the territory of the city of Chicago.

WOMEN HAVE LARGE MEET

Convention of Federation Clubs at Hibbing Considered Very Successful.

Addresses Made and Northern Minnesota Development Work Indorsed.

Hibbing, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The women who came to Hibbing to attend yesterday's third annual convention of the Eighth District Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs devoted this morning to sight seeing, having disposed of their business last night. Many left this afternoon for home after looking over the mines and other points of interest. All join in praising Hibbing hospitality. One of the features of yesterday's meeting was the hearty indorsement given the Northern Minnesota Development association's work.

The address of welcome tendered the visitors by Mrs. T. S. Silliman when the club meeting began in Carnegie library about 2:30 yesterday afternoon was especially happy and to the point. She referred to the splendid work that had already been done in the state by the Federation of Women's clubs, and also the benefit that this community would derive from the visit of the convention. This address was responded to by Mrs. C. G. Higbee of St. Paul, state president of the federation. Mrs. Higbee spoke of the great need of organization and community of interests among the women and the women's clubs of the state if any really great results were to be gained by their efforts. She said that the Federation of Women's clubs is a state federation, not a city federation; that it must always remain a state federation.

Likes Name Woman.

"I like the name Woman better than Ladies, it is stronger, it means more," said Mrs. Higbee, "and women are daily having a bigger and better influence on the daily conditions of life throughout the state." She particularly referred to the importance of women's clubs in this newly developed portion of the state, where life is harder and more strenuous, than in the southern parts of Minnesota, and where there are so many different nationalities to be assimilated. In closing, Mrs. Higbee said: "We feel grateful for the splendid welcome you have given us." Mrs. Higbee said the federation now numbers nearly 13,000 members, and emphasized the fact that "although self-culture is needed, organization and culture of the whole is even more necessary."

A very fine vocal number was rendered by Miss Rose Silk of Hibbing, entitled "He Was a Prince."

When the minutes of the last convention were read by the secretary, Mrs. L. W. Huntley of Grand Rapids, the reports of the following clubs were then read: North Country Study club of Cloquet, Lester Park club, Duluth Saturday club, Duluth; Twentieth Century club, Duluth; Eveleth Art club; Grand Rapids Woman's club; Saturday club, Hibbing; Virginia Woman's club. All showed the clubs to be flourishing.

Duluth Woman on "Homecroft."

Prof. Olson gave a fine violin solo. Mrs. R. P. Boyington of Duluth spoke on "Homecroft," during which she spoke of the proud position of America today, pointing out the immense immigration to this country, and on the vast work yet to be done in teaching this foreign element principles of hygiene. She said 25 per cent of total potatoes consumed in America are imported from abroad, that the land now yields less per acre than it did twenty years ago, and that a woman of today can earn more money by growing currants than by teaching school. "We are so thankful that we are American women," and "This is a great country, let us keep it so," declared Mrs. Boyington.

State School for Girls.

Evening session opened 8:30, lasted till nearly midnight. Mrs. T. F. Kinney of Minneapolis spoke of the new state school for girls at Sauk Center. She stated that first appropriation was only $25,000; this was followed by $125,000, and $25,000 contingent fund after the great effort made by Federation to get legislature to pass necessary bill for appropriation. She said the school will be the best in the country, and will have best superintendent in the country, Mrs. Pannie French, of Lancaster, Mass. She mentioned the great effort being made at schools of this kind to teach inmates, who are generally paupers, the value of money; that paper certificates are issued to girls to reward them for good work and that these are in turn changeable for better clothes, trinkets, and many little luxuries which help to make life less of a prison for them; that the reformatory should be a school, not a penal establishment, where advancement was impossible. Mrs. Higbee addressing the banquet to assembled delegates, the members, their husbands and friends, declared, "Woman today is in course of evolution, not revolution, and it is entirely due to man." She spoke of the co-operation that men of today are giving to their wives in matters of woman's welfare, and said that only when husbands and wives worked together for the united advancement of the race could any really great results be obtained. Her speech was greeted with applause. Mrs. A. T. Stewart of Hibbing, president of local Saturday club deserves great credit for work done in interesting and entertaining visitors and looking after their comfort. An elegant lunch was served at evening session.

The following resolutions passed:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered to the ladies of the Hibbing Saturday club and their friends, for the royal hospitality and genuine kindness shown to the Eighth District Federation of Women's Clubs now in session at Hibbing.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Eighth District of the Federation of Women's Clubs do express our appreciation of the work that is being accomplished by the Northern Development association, further that we will faithfully co-operate wherever we can do so in any movement looking to the betterment of the Northern country.

VIRGINIA STUDY CLUB ELECTION

Mrs. M. E. Fanning Is Chosen to Head Range City Organization.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Study club has chosen the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. M. E. Fanning; vice president, Mrs. W. E. Hannaford; secretary, Mrs. R. C. Pickering; treasurer, Mrs. D. W. Stebbins. The club is making arrangements to close the season with a party on May 30 at the home of Mrs. J. D. Lamont, to which the husbands of the members are to be invited.

Eugene Murphy and daughters, Misses Bessie and Margaret Murphy, have gone to their former home at Woodstock, Ont., where they will make their permanent home.

Rev. J. I. Fadum of this city will deliver the Memorial day address at the Bear River exercises this year.

James Ringrose, proprietor of the Sherman hotel at Aberdeen, S. D., is a guest of his nece, Mrs. N. B. Arnold. This is his first visit to the iron country and his words of surprise and admiration at the progressiveness of the Mesaba cities is but a repetition of the impressons of all who make their first visit to the most hustling section of the United States.

Martin Enders has returned from a brief business trip to Florida, where he is interested in lands.

VIRGINIA WILL SEND DELEGATES

Strong Delegation Selected for Northern Development Meet.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to the Herald.)—President N. B. Arnold of the Commercial club has selected the following delegates to the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Duluth, June 1 and 2: Mayor Andrew Hawkinson, John Costin, William Rooney, O. H. Griggs, M. S. Hawkins, A. B. Coates, B. F. Britts, H. J. Nathanson, C. M. Dorway, E. C. A. Johnson, W. E. Hannaford, D. E. Cuppernull, N. J. Smith, F. E. Lister, R. G. Sherwood, N. B. Arnold, W. J. Archer, A. D. Heritage, Michael Bogian, Dr. C. B. Lenont, R. C. Pickering, J. H. Krogdahl, Leslie Griggs, J. M. Landrigan, George F. Shea, Edward Finch, W. B. Shaver, M. A. Murphy, B. F. Smith, J. W. Murphy and A. N. Thompson.

Reapportionment, with a just and fair representation for the northern part of St. Louis county, good roads for this section and anything and everything which will be of benefit to St. Louis county and the northern part of the state, will be boosted by this committee. They will especially advocate matters pertaining to the interests of the farmer and the prospective farmer and urge the association to advance ideas which will be of benefit to the agricultural sections of this end of the state.

EVELETH WILL HONOR HEROES

Civil War Veteran Who Heard Lincoln at Gettysburg to Marshal Parade.

Eveleth, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles T McNarama, a Civil war veteran, who heard the famous Lincoln Gettysburg speech, has been chosen marshal of the day for Memorial day and in conjunction with Burton O. Greening is completing the arrangements for the observance of the day.

The celebration will start at 1 p. m., at which time the police, militia, fire department, automobile owners, fraternal societies, city council, Fayal band and school children invited, will gather at the city hall to march to the Adams school where they will be joined by a number of pupils. The parade will then proceed to the high school where the program of the day will be held. Enos Rennler, Charles T. McNarama and E. Richardson, Eveleth's sole survivors of the war, will take a prominent part in the parade. Over 1,000 school children will also take part in the parade.

Arrangements will be completed with the mining companies to permit their employees to take part in the celebration during the afternoon.

At the high school the program will be opened with a selection by the Fayal band. This will be followed by vocal selections by the sixth grade pupils under Miss Brackett's direction. "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" will be sung by the audience. Supt. Frank J. Webb of Gilbert, has been invited to read the Gettysburg address. A flag salute will be given by the grade pupils. Assistant County Attorney Waffen E. Greene of Duluth will deliver the principal oration of the day.

To Examine Eveleth Cows.

Eveleth, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commencing the first of next week Milk Inspector Dr. Guldinger of Virginia, in conjunction with the local health department, will examine the cows of this city, which number over 250. The owners will be charged $1 per head and those refusing to have the tuberculin test will be reported to the health department and arrests will follow. Those having cows examined will be granted milk licenses, provided their barns are in a sanitary condition.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Duluth People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles follow,

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Duluth citizen.

Mrs. A. Christianson, 2529 W. Second St., Duluth, Minn., says: "About two years ago I had kidney trouble, in fact, I had noticed symptoms of it for several months. I did not pay much attention to the matter until I knew that I could not neglect it any longer. My back was so weak that I couldn't lift anything and all the strength seemed to leave my hands and arms. I was in bad shape when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but was surprised to find that they helped me at once. After taking the remedy two days, my back was as strong and well as ever and my kidneys were normal. Since then I have always kept Doan's Kidney Pills on hand and when I have used them they have done good work."

WILL ADVERTISE MINNESOTA LAND

Iowans Owning Much Property in Itasca County to Use Stereoscope.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A unique advertising campaign is to be conducted by F. J. Kuppinger of the Kuppinger Land & Development company of Davenport, Iowa, owning and controlling about 40,000 acres of land in Itasca county. Mr. Kuppinger is here gathering views of farms in all stages of development, farm scenes showing buildings and productiveness of the soil, views of Itasca county towns and villages with views of their industries in the way of mines, manufactures, etc., and from these views he will have stereoscopic views made that can be thrown upon a screen before an audience. In this way Mr. Kuppinger feels that he can arouse interest in this section and induce settlers to come up here to make their homes.

Thinks Plan Will Work.

"It is hard to get people to come up here even to look at the country," said Mr. Kuppinger, "owing to the exceedingly low price of lands here, so we will try to bring this country down to them. The people down there figure that land which is offered at so low a price as the land in this section is offered can't be good for anything, and these views showing what there is here, what can be raised and showing the possibilities will do much to remove that idea. Another thing which is doing much to delay the settlement of this section is the inactivity of most of the old-time homesteaders—the kind who have been there twenty years and who have only half an acre cleared. Such showings surely take the starch out of a prospective settler."

Mr. Kuppinger states that his company is selling largely to actual settlers, and that they have already brought in quite a number. They are planning a very active campaign for the coming summer and fall, and hope to dispose of thousands of acres this season.

GRAND RAPIDS MAY FESTIVAL

Event Will Be Given By the Schools Friday, May 26.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The schools will hold a May festival Friday afternoon, May 26 on the lawn of the high school. Miss Margaret McAlpine has been unanimously made May Queen, and her proclamation designating the May day festival has been issued. In all the departments of the public schools, drills and games are being prepared for the occasion. The queen's proclamation asks that all places of business be closed at 5 o'clock on the day of the festival, and no doubt the decree will be observed, and the citizens will join the schools in making the event a success. The local high school is represented at the inter high school field at Hibbing latter by Henry Graffam, Brant Seymour, Ralph Brandon and David Kribs.

CLASS NIGHT IS GREAT SUCCESS

Program Rendered by Two Harbors Graduating Class Before Big Crowd.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The class night program given by the graduating class of the local high school at the assembly hall last night was a great success. The hall was packed and all the tickets on sale, amounting to 250, were sold. Admission was charged for the reason that the class had to give up the class play because there was no available place, the local opera house having been burned down last fall. In place of the class play, therefore, the seniors put on a farce with their class day exercises and charged 35 cents admission to help buy a memorial for the high school, as has been the custom of each class heretofore. The program was as follows:

There are seventeen members of the class: Leroy Pegelow, Arthur Emmett, Vern Irwin, Charles Bonham, Charles Dwan, Edwin Strand, William Smith, Carl Olson, Henry Olson, Lella Budd, Grace Hunter, Mabel Maher, Lela Porger, Edith Falk, Marie Hayes, Hilden Anderson, Myrtle Nelsenius.

GILBERT SCHOOLS WILL GRADUATE EIGHT STUDENTS

Gilbert, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local schools will close in two weeks, and everything at the schools is hustle for the graduation exercises. The graduation class consists of four boys and four girls: Florence Trengrove, Louis Binney, Herbert Hosking, Nellie Shean, William Matt, Oscar Engstrom, Floyd Murray and Gladys Caine. Miss Caine has been chosen valedictorian and Oscar Engstrom salutarian.

The freshmen entertained the senior class last Friday night and the sophomore class will entertain them next week. The seniors have purchased their memorial which will be given to the school when the dedication exercises of the new high school takes place, on June 19. The memorial is a beautiful statue of Sophicles.

INVITED TO CONCERT.

Virginia Park Board Asks People to Attend Formal Opening.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The park board has issued invitations to the city council, the Commercial club and all citizens to attend the band concert at Olcott park Sunday afternoon, May 28. There has been no formal opening of the park up to this date and the park board is anxious to have all parties who have not visited the park attend the concert and make use of the accommodations there offered. There will be no charge.

Societies and clubs may also use the park for holding their picnics and gatherings at any time upon securing from the park board a permit.

Plans have been prepared by a Duluth architect for the construction of a rest house and this will soon be erected in the park for the accommodation of visitors.

Supt. Bieschgold is engaged at present, with a large crew of men, planting trees along different streets and avenues of the city, and when the trees have developed it will give a fine appearance to the streets.

TIE AND POSTS ARE BEING RAPIDLY LOADED.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Erskine-Stackhouse company's tie and post loader at Cohasset is busily engaged loading ties. This machine consists of a large engine which works an endless chain, patterened after the sawmill log elevator, running from the river to the cars. Some ten or twelve men are employed, and twenty-five cars of ties are loaded per day. Aside from their own ties and cedar, the Erskine-Stackhouse company load ties and cedar for almost all the other cedar and tie people who drive their products down the Mississippi to Cohasset, and the loader is kept busy a good share of the summer. A special switch engine has been put on to handle the cars in this operation and the extra spring business at Grand Rapids and Deer River, while the loading is going on.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald)—The Itasca County Sunday School association, in session here, elected Dr. G. F. Schmidt of Grand Rapids, president, and Miss Bryan of Grand Rapids, secretary and treasurer.

Many congratulations were extended to the county officers in having made a "banner county" out of Itasca.

Supt. Box was complimented on having made the Deer River Sunday school the largest in the county.

DEER RIVER BURGLARY.

Deer River, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burglars broke into the office of Ole Sather's blacksmith establishment Thursday night and got away with $10 cash. The burglars also tried to enter the postoffice, but were driven off by a shot. There appears to be no clue.

During the last few days a number of land buyers from Indiana and two from Wisconsin, have been looking over acreage in this county. They say the soil and land in general in this section surpasses what will be found in other states. They expect to arrange to bring a large number of farmers to this section in the near future.

Taconite Wedding.

Taconite, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A very pretty wedding took place today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Junkiz at the Garvey addition, when their daughter, Rosie, was married to Dave Roach, of Taconite, only a few of their immediate friends being present. Judge Daniel O'Connell performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Roach will leave this afternoon for a short honeymoon trip, after which they will be at home to their many friends.

Chisholm Minister Returns.

Chisholm, Minn., May 20.—Special to The Herald.)—Rev. C. P. Keast, pastor of the M. E. church, who has been spending four weeks' vacation in Missouri and Kansas towns visiting relatives, returned home on Thursday evening. Mr. Keast has been greatly benefited by his trip. He will occupy the pulpit on Sunday morning.

Eveleth Mail Plans.

Eveleth, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for collection of mail from the mail boxes that will soon be installed are being perfected. No evening collections will be made. Two collections will be made—one for the 12:42 train and the other for the 5:45 train.

The local postals savings bank will be opened June 12. It is estimated $125,000 a year will remain here through the establishment of the bank, which otherwise would go to foreign banks. No additions to the clerical staff are contemplated for the present.

Eveleth Pupils Enrolled.

Eveleth, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth school children will next week become members of the American Humane Educational association, as the outcome of a conference held between Miss Dunlap of the Duluth Humane society and Supt. B. O. Greening of the local schools. Badges and enrollment books have been ordered and the members will be taught to treat animals kindly, and to protect birds.

Eveleth Briefs.

Eveleth, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A birthday party was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Lee, wife of Thomas Lee, president of the Home Heating & Electric company. Thirty were present, and many games were played. Refreshments were served.

Surprise parties were held at the Knight home in the Fayal location and at the Dell home, in the Spruce location last evening.

Miss Grace Darrah of the Commercial department entertained pupils of that department and their friends, at a class farewell party in the high school last evening.

Virginia Couple Wed.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pekka Janitunen and Eki Maria Ahonen of this city were married by Judge James P. Carey in municipal court yesterday. The witnesses were Miss Jessie McNell, clerk of the court, and Patrolman Ed Makl.

ROOSEVELT A LIVE ONE,

Declares New York Tammany Man in Minneapolis Interview.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20. — Patrick J. McGowan, former president of the New York board of alderman, and at one time acting mayor of New York city, during the absence of Mayor McClelland, who is here declared rumors spread over the country that Theodore Roosevelt was down and out in that state because of his leading a losing fight last fall are not true.

"Those who say the former president has lost out in New York are merely telling what they hope for, rather than what has happened," said Mr. McGowan. "Mr. Roosevelt is a power in New York and is idolized by Republicans and Democrats. We credit to him the starting of the action which brought forth the recent Standard Oil decision and the people will stand back of him in his fight on the trusts."

Mr. McGowan is in the city attending the meeting of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum. He is a member of the board of education in New York.

NO INQUEST VERDICT.

Investigation Made Into Death of Man Near Neche, N. D.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—An inquiry at Neche, into the death of Phillip Worrel, whose skeleton was recently found near Neche, was completed last night, but no verdict has been returned as yet. Two telephone girls testified that they saw two men carrying a third, either drunk or dead, along the railroad about the time Worrel disappeared. There were indications at the place where the skeleton was found that an effort had been made to bury the body. A carbolic acid bottle is believed to have been placed there as a blind.

THE LIQUOR HABIT CURE

God's True Root Discovered by John B. Fisete. The Only Sure and Permanent Cure for the Liquor Habit.

Prof. J. B. Fisete of Duluth, is in town at 114 Lake street, Chisholm, Minn. He has a well known and reliable cure for the liquor habit and guarantees to cure the worst cases in two weeks. Hundreds who have been cured can testify to this fact. No matter how far gone a man may be or how desperate a case, even when there seems to be no hope for saving the man. I can positively cure him in two weeks and make a new man of him, both mentally and physically. If you have tried other cures and have gone back to the liquor habit again, I will guarantee to cure you in two weeks and turn your taste against intoxicating liquors or refund you your money. Prices reasonable. Here are some testimonials from those who have been benefited; $500 reward will be paid anyone who can prove that they haven't been cured by my wonderful remedy.

J. B. FISETE.

Have taken two weeks of your treatment and can truthfully say that I have lost all desire for intoxicating liquor, futher than this I will say that I am in better physical condition than I have ever been for the past twenty years. Your cure is indeed well named, for it surely is (God's True Root) who are unfortunate enough to have contracted the liquor habit will take the cure as I consider a failure an impossibility in your work, I have no objections to your using my name where it will be of benefit to others. Yours very truly,

Joe Cadette, Chisholm, Minn.

Duluth, March 31, 1908.

Have taken two weeks of your treatment and can truthfully say that I have lost all desire for intoxicating liquor. Further than this, I will say that I am in better physical condition than I have ever been for the past fifteen years. Your cure is indeed well named, for it surely is God's True Root.

I hope that all who read this who are unfortunate enough to have contracted the liquor habit will take the cure, as I consider a failure as an impossibility. Yours very truly,

William S. Murphy.

115 East Superior street.

Chisholm, March 8, 1909.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I am cured from the liquor habit by Prof. J. B. Fisete and felt satisfied that it has done for me what I wanted it to do. I hope all who are in need of it will try it. Yours truly.

S. G. Anderson.

Chisholm, Minn.

Duluth, Minn., May 12, 1907.

Three years ago I was in Chisholm, Minn., condemned to die by my doctor. My troubles were too much liquor for too long a time. I am now more than pleased to have a chance to testify that Mr. J. B. Fisete's Cure has fully re-established my health and driven all appetite for liquor from me.

Frank Mason.

1122 Michigan St. Duluth, Minn.

Duluth, Minn., April 9, 1909.

I, who have been in the liquor business for thirty years, and a slave of that terrible liquor habit, have been entirely cured by Mr. Fisete, and I recommend it most highly to anyone affected as I was.

George Marcotte.

Adolph, Minn., St. Louis County.

This is to certify that I, Tom King, of Chisholm, Minn., have taken the Fisete Liquor Cure and I am positive that I am entirely cured of the bad habit, and anyone here who suffers the same as I did, can be cured by taking a treatment of Dr. John Fisete. Yours truly,

Thomas King.

I have taken Mr. Fisete's cure for the liquor habit and am entirely cured. I will advise all that suffer from the habit of drinking to take a cure, and I am sure that I feel like another man now. I can eat and sleep well, for I am not craving for liquor any more. It is a sure cure. Yours respectfully,

A. Anderson, Chisholm.

WOODSMAN ENDS LIFE

Sick, "Broke" and Discouraged, Dan Conway Jumps Into Bay.

Body Is Found Floating Between Logs Near Alger-Smith Mill.

Sick and discouraged, Dan Conway, single and friendless, slipped out of his room on Garfield avenue last night, and dropped between the logs of the Alger-Smith boom.

His body was found floating among the logs this morning.

"Single" reads the police record of the suicide. "Woodsman. Boards 1131 Garfield avenue. Cause, despondency."

Dan had been following the woods for years, making Duluth his headquarters. With his savings of two or three months' work, he would come regularly to the city, and stop with his friend, Joe Landry down on Garfield avenue.

His last visit to the city was followed by a lengthy spree, according to the police record of the case. He was recovering from it yesterday, and faced once more the old condition—sick and broke. He went to his room down at his friend's house last night, and stumbled upstairs to bed. During the night when the people in the house were asleep, Dan crept downstairs, walked over to the Alger-Smith mill, and jumped into the harbor. Nobody heard him cry out as the water closed over his head, and nobody missed Dan Conway, woodsman, until his body was found today.

The coroner will make an investigation today; the body will be buried either by his friends, if any can be found, or by the county; and the woods will know Dan Conway no more.

FORCED INTO U. S. ARMY.

Russian Arrested as Deserter, Tells His Story.

Chicago, May 20.—Evidence that, with all the publicity given to admission to the American army, practical conscription is possible developed during the courtmartial yesterday of a Russian subject who had enlisted and who was charged with desertion.

The soldier, who gave his name as John Drashkovitch, told a remarkable story. He said he was the son of a titled parent, a nephew of the Russian consul-general at Montreal. He had seen military duty, and while looking for work in St. Louis was told that he might get a position as interpreter with the United States army.

Did Not Know English.

Not understanding the English language and not being able to read it, according to his testimony, he signed the application and underwent a physical examination. This concluded, he was surprised to find he was a soldier. He protested, but he says his protests were not heeded.

He was sent to Texas and while there asked and was given a furlough. The Russian word for furlough also means freedom, it was explained, hence he thought he was free and came to Chicago, where he earned a substantial salary as a designer and engraver. Being a man of superior education, when arrested he explained his case in full and a continuance was granted in his hearing until his story can be substantiated.

He lays his "conscription" to his inability to converse freely in English, being unable to make his position clear to hi captain, to whom he says he appealed several times but with no success.

GOVERNOR WILSON HAS BUSY DAY IN PORTLAND.

Portland, Or., May 20.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey yesterday put in one of the busiest days he has experienced since his swing around the country began. He was the guest at luncheon under the direction of the "Oregon Advocates of Better Government," and last evening he was a special dinner guest of the University club. Later he spoke to 4,000 persons on his conception of the Oregon direct primary system.

MAN STRUCK BY ENGINE

August Peterson May Die as Result of Accident in Omaha Yards.

Stepped From One Track to Avoid Engine and Another Hit Him.

August Peterson, 22 years old, a section man in the employ of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, was terribly injured this morning when he was hit by a road engine while at work in the company's local yards at the foot of Fifth avenue west.

He was taken to St. Mary's hospital where it was found that his arms and legs were crushed. He may die.

Peterson was at work on one track and while he evidently noticed an engine coming from one direction, he either did not know of the approach of another from the opposite direction or did not hear the bell. He may have taken it for granted that the other engine was on another track, say the men with whom he was working.

The road engine hit him with the result as stated.

ferees will pass laws appropriating money for indemnities and pensions and granting freedom from political prosecution on account of the revolt.

"The fact that assurances have been given that four provisional governors chosen by the revolutionists for the states of Chihuahua, Sonora, Zacatecas and Coahuila will be installed, should be registered, and that eventually the governors of other states will be named. This is a matter which the state legislatures only can do, but we can inform the revolutionists generally that we have received assurances that it will be done."

Pleased With New Cabinet.

Mr. Gomez had an informal talk with Judge Carbajal today, and it is understood he transmitted the names of the men who have been named by the rebels for the new cabinet as announced by the Associated Press last night.

Rebel leaders today said the new cabinet would be found to be the best Mexico had ever had, that it contained picked men and would meet with popular approval.

"Senor Vasquez Tagel, the minister of justice," said one of the insurrecto chiefs, sketching briefly the status of each man in the public eye of Mexico, "is a well known lawyer in the City of Mexico. He has had no political affiliations, but for the department of justice that is a distinct advantage.

"Gen. Rascon, the minister of war, has the confidence of the army, and though the choice of the federal government, he is well liked by the rebels.

"Manuel Calero, the minister of fomento (promotion of colonization and industry), has had experience in that department before, having once been sub-secretary of fomento. Politically he has been allied with various parties in Mexico, but is now one of the most conspicuous of the Maderoistos in congress.

Bonilla Civil Engineer.

Manuel Bonilla, minister of communication (public utilities and roads), is a civil engineer and likewise has had experience in the work of his department. He is considered a very able man.

"Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, minister of public instruction, has of course, been one of the leading figures in the revolution, but for the department of instruction he is particularly well fitted. He has made a study of the educational system of England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Spain and Japan. He is a member of the superior board of education in Mexico and the national academy.

"Emilio Vasquez Gomez, minister of gobernacion (interior administration) and a brother of Dr. Gomez, has practically formed the anti-re-electionist party in Mexico and is considered an excellent choice for the political balance required in the portfolio of gobernacion.

Is Madero's Uncle.

"Ernesto Madero, minister of hacienda (finance), an uncle of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., is one of the leading bankers of Mexico. He is esteemed by all political parties and has the confidence of the business world both in this country and abroad."

It is regarded as quite probable that if Francisco I. Madero should be elected president and Dr. Vasquez Gomez vice president in the coming general election, the same cabinet would be retained, the vice president being unable, under the Mexican constitution, to occupy a cabinet portfolio.

Plot Story Stirs Capital.

City of Mexico, May 20.—Although government officials deny knowledge of any plot to capture or assassinate Francisco I. Madero, Jr., or interfere with him should he come to the capital, the story that such a plan had been detected has served to tighten public tension.

Residents of the capital are speculating regarding the probable action of the rebels should they give full credence to the report, true or not. It appears to have interested Senor Madero to an extent that caused him to postpone his trip to the capital to consult with Senor de la Barra concerning peace.

By the conservative element it is doubted if proof of the story can be supplied, and without proof, it is not believed any of the rebel leaders will show a belligerent spirit. Ambrosio Figueroa, leader of the thousands of rebels in the South, is the man most likely to be influenced by the report, but it is not believed here that even he will consider it a sufficient reason for continuing his march against the capital.

Federals Abandon Ojinaja.

Presidio, Tex., May 20.—The federal troops, recently victorious over the rebel command of Joe De La Cruz Sanchez before Ojinaja, Mex., have abandoned the city and the administration of civil affairs has been turned over to provisional officers appointed by Sanchez.

Reyes Is at Havana.

Havana, May 20.—Gen. Barnardo Reyes, the Mexican ex-minister of war, who arrived here yesterday from Europe and who has delayed his departure for Mexico City pending the receipt of dispatches from the Mexican capital regarding further developments of the Mexican situation, today made a formal declaration to the Associated Press that his supreme desire is for binding peace, which can be secured only by the laying aside of all personal and partisan pretentions on the part of both the government and the revolutionists.

Gorman sufficient, overruled a similar affidavit by the prosecutor directed against Judge Dickson, and confirmed the latter as the trial judge.

The motion to quash was originally made before Judge Gorman, but it reverted to Dickson when the latter was finally named to hear the case for and against Cox.

Violation of Rights.

Judge Dickson holds in substance that in calling Cox before the grand jury in 1906 and compelling him to testify there, and then indicting him for perjury because of that testimony, there was a violation of his constitutional rights.

The indictments against Cox charged that in testifying before a grand jury in 1906, he declared that he had received none of the money paid by various banks to country treasurers as "gratuities" for the deposit of county funds in the institutions, the existence of these gratuities having been brought out before the Drake investigating committee of the state legislature.

The grand jury of January, 1911, charged that it had information that he did receive interest money from Tilden R. French and John H. Gibson while they were county treasurers, the indictment asserting that he was given $48,500 by Gibson and $17,500 by French.

MANY AMENDMENTS TO CHURCH ARTICLE.

Louisville, Ky., May 20.—The number of overtures received today on the "elect infant" clause amendment, fourteen, indicates the interest manifested in this question at the fifty-first general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (South.)

Dr. W. B. Boggs of Atlanta, chairman of the committee on divorce and remarriage, announced his committee had nothing to report owing to their inability to meet, as the last general assembly had failed to provide funds for that purpose.

FAIR

After the weather had threatened on a time last evening, the sky cleared off and the evening was a beautiful one. Today is bright and warm—an ideal spring day. The straw hats are out, and the things to which Schedule K applies have been cast aside. The weather man promises continued fair weather for Sunday.

Cold weather prevailed a year ago today and the sky was clouded.

The sun rose this morning at 4:26 and it will set at 7:42 this evening, giving fifteen hours and sixteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours showers fell over the Western lake region and Northwestern states in connection with the disturbance now central over Central Ontario. The barometer has risen over all districts except over the Gulf of Mexico and cooler weather has resulted in the Middle West and Northwest. La Crosse, Wis., reports a rainfall of 1.58 inches and severe electrical storms occurred over Northern Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, and the Straights of Mackinac. At the Head of the Lakes some cloudiness may develop during tonight or Sunday, but in general the weather will be fair and somewhat cooler during the ensuing thirty-six hours.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 20.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Upper Michigan—Showers and cooler tonight; Sunday clearing and cooler.

Wisconsin—Cooler with probably local showers in south and east portions tonight; Sunday fair and cooler.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; cooler tonight and in east portion Sunday.

Iowa—Cooler with probably local showers in east portion tonight; Sunday fair; cooler in east portion.

North and South Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in west portion Sunday.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; warmer Sunday.

Upper lakes—Moderate to brisk south winds, showers tonight; squalls, unsettled; showery weather.

RELIEF FOR PURCHASERS

Congressman Steenerson Explains Bill Relating to White Earth Lands.

From $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 Worth of Land Affected By Bill.

Crookston, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Great interest is being taken in the progress of the bill introduced by Congressman Steenerson for the relief of innocent purchasers of land on the White Earth reservation in Minnesota, as from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 worth of land will be affected by it.

Hundreds of individuals, scores of banks and other business interests, and hundreds of attorneys are interested in the final settlement of the controversy, and the fate of the bill will be watched closely throughout the northern part of the state where much bitter feeling has been aorused.

In explanation of his bill, Mr. Steenerson said today:

"The Clapp amendment for the first time made the competency of an Indian to convey land depend upon the question of blood, so that a mixed blood could convey his land whether competent or incompetent, and a full blood could not. Naturally every Indian on White Earth who wanted to dispose of his land, and they nearly always do, claimed he was a mixed blood, and was ready to make affidavit to the fact if there was any ready cash in sight. Out of some 4,500 Indians, 90 per cent sold their allotments on the pretext that they were mixed bloods.

"Now, many of them no doubt sold for less than their property was worth, and in some few cases fraud was practiced. Nearly 1,000 suits have been begun to set aside an equal number of conveyances, and the only ground alleged in these cases is that the Indian was a full-blood. No fraud or imposition is alleged in any case. The result of this litigation, if successful, will be a judgment in each case that the land still belongs to the Indian grantor, notwithstanding he may have received full value for it and that he claimed he was a mixed blood, and that the purchaser believed he was competent to convey the land. Such a result is abhorrent to justice and instead of advancing the Indian in civilization, will teach him rascality and prepare him for a career as a swindler.

"This bill is designed to grant relief to innocent purchasers who deal with the Indian honestly believing that he was what he claimed to be, a mixed-blood, and creates a new defense in this class of suits, to be set up by way of a supplemental pleading, that the Indian sold his land under pretense that he was a mixed-blood, and received a valuable consideration therefor which he retains, and authorizes the court to find the fair value of the land at the time of sale and, if it is more than the Indian was paid, the defendant may pay the difference into court, and thereupon judgment confirming the sale shall be entered.

"It also applies the same principle to Indians who are on the roll as full-bloods, who have sold their land to innocent purchasers who are in actual possession, where no suit has been brought, and authorizes the secretary of the interior to confirm land sales in such cases where the Indian has received a fair value for his property, or if not, confirm it when the difference between such value and the amount already paid, is paid over for the use of the Indian."

TO ATTACK NEW LAW.

Transient Merchant License Act Alleged Unconstitutional.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 20.—I. Frankel of St. Paul was found guilty in district court here of conducting a transient business at Sauk Center without securing the necessary license. He was fined $165.

This is the first prosecution under the law passed by the last legislature. The law requires a license of $150 and makes the offense a gross misdemeanor.

Frankel filed notice of appeal to the supreme court. He will set up that the law is unconstitutional and was not properly passed.

CANADIAN OFFICIALS HAVE REACHED LONDON.

London, May 20. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, accompanied by Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia and T. P. IMPOSTERS ARE ACTIVE

Many Reports of Begging By Men Claiming to Be Old Soldiers.

No Grand Army Men in Duluth Known to Be in Need.

According to reports made at the Associated Charities there are many who are taking advantage of the coming of Memorial day by representing themselves as old soldiers throughout the city and begging financial aid.

There are but few who will refuse an old soldier help, if the story is believed, and some old men are said to be making good money by begging at the residences.

One woman says that she helped one man who called at her house even though she did not believe the story he told. She was afraid that she might be overlooking a worthy case if she did not help him, and she did not care to pass by any chance of helping any one that might be, by any chance, deserving.

It is claimed that at this time of the year, people are very apt to listen to one who claims to be a veteran and that they give the person money in nearly every instance.

So far as can be learned there are no Grand Army men in the city who are in need of help and it is thought that those working the residence districts are impostors. The matter will be called to the attention of the police if there are any more reports received.

One old man claims to be blind. He wears a broad rimmed hat and an old blue suit and carries a cane. He has been working the eastern end of the city and many have given him money.

FRENCH GLAD TO CONSIDER PACT

Socialists Will Vote for Arbitration Treaty With America.

Paris, May 20.—J. J. Jusserand, the French ambassador at Washington, is forwarding by mail the American text of the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain and France, which was submitted to the ambassador by Secretary Knox on Wednesday. The French opinion is one of extreme gratification that France is placed on the same basis as England in the arbitration proposals, and the general view is that the matter should speedily be taken up and studied.

The Socialists, led by Jean Jaures, have frequently lauded in parliament America's advance in the movement for unrestricted arbitration, and, consequently, should the government ministers favor the scheme, it is expected to have the support of the Socialist party.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

DRINK HABIT CURED

ONLY THREE DAYS

Why remain a slave to it when in only Three Days' Time a permanent cure can be effected by the Neal Treatment? Experiment has demonstrated that alcoholism is not a discase. Drink poisons the system. The Neal Cure eliminates the poison. It is an antidote. It is effected by administering harmless vegetable remedies. There are no opiates. There are no hypodermic injections. The system is not injured and the vital organs affected by strychnine, atropine or other powerful or injurious drugs. The treatment completes in three short days. If you are afflicted with the drink habit and really want to be cured, write to the Neal Institute company, corner Belknap and Seventh streets, Superior, Wis., for their free booklet giving full information and a copy of their contract. It will be mailed to you under a plain sealed envelope and everything will be strictly confidential. You can be treated at the Superior Institute, or at the St. Paul, Minn., Institute, 676 Dayton avenue, or the Minneapolis, Minn., Institute, corner Fourth avenue south and Seventh street, whichever happens to be the most convenient to you.

What Is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey?

It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, and as none but sound, clean, grain can be malted, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has for its base the most carefully selected grains of the field. It is a predigested liquid food in the form of a medicinal whiskey; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is a gentle, invigorating stimulant and tonic that influences for good every important organ of the body. It is a remedy that should be in the family medicine chest.

What Does It Do?

It builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces; it makes digestion perfect and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of nervousness, typhoid, malaria, all stomach troubles, diseases of the throat and lungs, and is recognized as a medicine by doctors of all schools.

Thousands of letters have been received from men and women in all walks of life, many from those nearly 100 years old, extolling the virtues of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the world's greatest medicine.

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations and substitutes. They are positively harmful and are sold for profit only by unscrupulous dealers. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken.

Doctor's advice and medical booklet free.

BUSY DAY AT NEW DULUTH

Many Improvements Are in Progress at the Western Suburb.

New Duluth Lumber Company Will Rebuild Its Warehouse.

Despite the fact that New Duluth and the up-river district are practically without any of the modern conveniences of city such as water, gas, electricity, and street cars, the suburbanites are entering what they believe to be the most prosperous summer in the history of the city.

The New Duluth company, a real estate concern, which has operated extensively in the vicinity of the new steel plant, is spending a considerable sum of money in making improvements on several of the streets in the suburb. The Kiltin construction company is busy laying sidewalks. There are now several miles of cement sidewalks at New Duluth and it is expected that another mile or so will be laid this summer.

The New Duluth company has a crew of nearly 100 men at work grading and guttering several of the thoroughfares. Grand avenue, which crosses Commonwealth avenue at a point about the middle of the townsite of New Duluth, is being improved for about eight blocks. First street, formerly called Ninety-ninth avenue west, is also being turnpiked between Fourth and Ninth avenues. Ninety-eighth, Ninety-seventh and Ninety-sixth avenues are also being repaired. In some places the thoroughfares have been graded and in these instances, the new work is simply a continuation in a northerly direction.

It was announced today that the New Duluth Lumber company, wholesale and retail lumber dealers at New Duluth, whose plant was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, will build again as soon as the fire losses have been adjusted by the insurance men. The new plant will be bigger and more modern. Damkroeger Bros. are the principal owners of the lumber concern.

New Duluth people will not rest in their agitation for the extension of water mains to the suburb this year. The lack of this facility has been a serious handicap in fighting fires, which have been numerous in the suburb the last year or so.

An extension of the electric light system is now being made from West Duluth and within the next two weeks, it is expected that New Duluthians will be lighting their homes with electricity.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Friends of Miss Alice Wennberg Surprise Her on Eve of Departure.

Friends surprised Miss Alice Wennberg Thursday evening at her home, 218 North Sixtieth avenue west, the affair being in the nature of a farewell party for Miss Wennberg, who will tour Europe this summer. She was presented with a handsome traveling bag. Music and games comprised the evening's entertainment. The following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Wick.
Misses—
Amelia Mattson, Victoria Swenson, Selma Kauppi, Hilder Becks, Anna Swenson, Cecilia Peterson, Signa Wennberg, Annie Peterson, Annie Larson, Dorothy Swenson, Hulda Larson, Emma Anderson, Emma Olson, Lucy Johnson, Mabel Ellstrom, Anna Magnuson, Lily Larson, Mabel Nelson. Ethel Johnson, Annie Frank,
Messrs.—
Allen Johnson, Isaac Dinglehurst, Charles Johnson, Emery Nelson, Frank Anderson, Albert Carlberg, Oscar Magnuson, John Anderson, Fred Becks, Dan Merriman, Olaf Merriman.

Socialist Meeting.

West Duluth Socialists are much interested in the coming of W. F. Ries, a noted Socialist author and speaker, who will lecture on "How to Buy a Farm Wagon for $7.19 a Day in Wages" at Great Eastern hall, tomorrow evening. Mr. Ries is the author of "Men and Mules," a book of wide circulation. No admission will be charged at the affair tomorrow evening and it is expected that a large crowd will be drawn out.

CHECK TURNS UP WITH FORGED ENDORSEMENT.

A check for $12, lost about a week ago by Fred Wirch of West Duluth has turned up with his signature forged as an indorsement. Wirch has asked the West Duluth police to investigate.

The check was drawn on the City National bank by the Mullery-McDonald Lumber company, operators of the old Red Cliff mill and was made payable to Wirch, who is employed by the concern.

Wirch says that the check was lost or stolen from him while on a street car between South Superior and West Duluth. The paper was cashed by a stranger at a saloon on Central avenue.

Two Ball Games.

West Duluth baseball fans are interested in two games which have been scheduled for today and tomorrow.

The Fitwells will go to Cloquet Sunday to play their old rivals, the Cloquet city team. Many of the local fans will accompany the team. The Fitwells expect to "get to" the Cloquet outfit this year and if the posters, which the Cloquet team have circulated to advertise the game, are to be taken into consideration, the lumber men are equally confident of winning.

The Duluth Industrial high school baseball team is this afternoon playing the Centrals of Superior on a diamond across the pond. The game is one of the interscholastic series. The West Duluthians were accompanied by a large delegation of rooters.

Winkler Brands Famous.

Among the local manufacturing institutions that has made wonderful strides in business within the past two years is that of Winklers' bitter sweets, milk chocolate creams, maple walnut chocolate and milk chocolate nugats.

Beginning business at 2330 West Michigan street, two years ago, in a modest way, this firm has rapidly increased its territory until now it has a steady outlet for its goods in Northern Michigan, and Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, besides a large trade in Duluth, Superior, Twin Cities and the range towns.

To the personal efforts of the proprietors themselves, no doubt, is due the success of the firm's business. Every department of the candy making is looked to personally by the brothers and this expert supervision is backed up by scientific sanitary methods of manufacture and the very best of ingredients. The constant aim of Winkler Bros. has been to put out a product that will hold the trade, and they have succeeded beyond expectations.

The firm welcomes visitors to the candy factory at all times. The proprietors are pleased to show people the highly satisfactory conditions under which the Winkler brands of confectionery are made.

Hit by Automobile.
John Hill was slightly injured yesterday about 5:30 o'clock when he was struck by the automobile of M. F. Falk, driven by Martin Gustafson, his chauffeur, at Sixth avenue west and Superior street. He was jammed between the front wheel and the curb. Probably the worst thing that happened to him was that his coat had to be cut away before he could be extricated. He was sent to the police station and then taken to his home at 314½ St. Croix avenue.

Vesper Service.
The vesper service at the Young Woman's Christian association Sunday at 4 o'clock will be addressed by Mrs. Cotton Mather, traveling secretary for the Woman's Home missionary society of the Methodist church, who was here for the district meeting on Friday. This will be the last of the vesper services for this spring.

Public Accountant and Auditor.
James S. Matteson has removed his office to Suite 703, Alworth building. Telephone, Melrose 4700.

Elevator Runs Away.
An elevator in the Palladio building, Fourth avenue west and Superior street, "ran away" today. Nobody was in the elevator. A valve is supposed to have been left open and when the machinery was started the elevator ran up and down a few times and finally came to a stop at the bottom.

Will Be Deported.
Inspector James H. Daly of the immigration service will leave tomorrow night for New York with Erland Wainioutaa, a Finnish youth, who will be deported. The young man, who is only 18 years old, was mixed up in a cutting scrape at Hibbing. He served a term in the reform school and a term in the penitentiary in Finland and is considered an undesirable citizen.

GETTING TAFT HOME AT BEVERLY READY.

Washington, May 20. — Although President Taft does not expect to get away from Washington before July 1, Maj. A. W. Butt, his personal aide, will leave tonight for Beverly, Mass., to inspect the president's summer home, the Peabody cottage, which he is to occupy this year for the first time. Mrs. Taft will remain in Washington for a month, at least, on the advice of her physicians, in order to secure a complete rest, but she will go to Beverly before the president.

SWITCHMEN CALL HALT

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The star chamber investigation of Frank T. Hawley's conduct of the great Northwestern strike of switchmen in 1909-1910, at the switchmen's convention in the old capitol, was stopped this morning and the Hawley men are claiming a partial victory.

The delegates met this morning in a special extra session, but a Hawley delegate moved that the investigation be dropped. He charged on the floor of the house that the "insurgents" were delaying and dragging out the convention for the purpose of drawing more expense money.

He declared that the delegates were entitled to $6 a day for legitimate work, but charged that the work under way at the special extra session was not legitimate; that the course of the convention was unheard of, and that it was time the delegates got down to real work.

Surprised the Insurgents.

The attack came as a surprise to the "insurgents." However, before a vote was taken they succeeded in amending the original motion from "dropped" to "continued until Monday morning." No attempt was made to answer the charges of extravagance advanced by the Hawley men.

Immediately after the convention adjourned, F. C. Lockwood of Chicago, until recently a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who is conducting the investigation of Hawley, with three or four of the "insurgents" instrumental in precipitating the Hawley fight before the convention, hastened to the Willard hotel, where they held a secret conference.

DISBARMENT CASE DROPPED

Pierre, S. D., May 20.—The supreme court today dismissed the disbarment accusation against Attorney General Johnson on the ground that the testimony did not sustain the charges.

SAYS OLD ROME HAD THE RECALL

Washington, May 20.—All the arguments made against the recall of judges by popular vote could be made with equal force against the proposal to elect judges at popular elections, said Representative Hardy of Texas in the house today, in support of the Arizona-New Mexico statehood resolution.

Mr. Hardy declared that Rome had the recall up to the time Caesar had refused to be recalled from beyond the Alps, and from that moment Rome lost her former liberty of popular action.

MINISTERS ASK "SANE SABBATH"

Atlantic City, N. J., May 20.—The report of the committee on Sabbath observance, with its stringent recommendation, aroused an animated discussion at the morning session of the Presbyterian general assembly. Many ministers proved to be opposed to what they called an attempt to go backward two centuries and impose a "blue law Sabbath" on the twentieth century. They were for a sane Sunday, they said, but not as strict a one as the report called for.

The barring of traveling on Sunday, buying things because you happened to want them even if they were unnecessary, and having not hot meals so your servants could rest was declared to be absurd and the assembly was urged to ignore such "trivial" matters.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE Delights the Ladies

Because they know from experience that the intelligent use of Herpicide means much to their personal appearance.

It saves and beautifies the hair and in the vast majority of cases, adds greatly to its abundance. The presence of the dandruff germ in the scalp destroys the gloss and beauty of the hair, even before the resulting disease becomes firmly established. Each day that the use of Newbro's Herpicide is put off, makes the repair that much more difficult.

Save your hair while you have hair to save.

The intelligent use of Herpicide proves its actual worth.

"I have used Herpicide for several months now and will positively state that it is the best dandruff remover and hair dressing in the world and I have tried about everything sold by our local dealers. Nothing has given such excellent results as Newbro's Herpicide."
MRS. HENRY W. BATHKE
Sumner, Iowa.

"Newbro's Herpicide is the best dressing for the hair I ever used. The dandruff is gone and my hair is growing long, thick and beautiful. My husband was getting bald, but since he began to use Herpicide the bare spots are covered with fine hair."
MRS. E. RIKER
223 Sunnyside Avenue,
Brooklyn, New York.

GOOD TRUSTS AND BAD.

Before the nine-days' wonder of the oil trust decision ends and interest in the most important court finding since the Dred Scott case ceases, it is important that the country, and particularly those high in power in large corporations, should contemplate the signposts set up by the supreme court. These signposts say: "Danger lies this way!"

They are to be found in the list of violations of law of which the supreme court holds the oil trust guilty. The supreme court has not only affirmed definitely and tangibly the phrase about "good trusts" and "bad trusts," but it has outlined some of the deeds that determine the difference between them. The judicial affirmation of this distinction, at which many laughed when it was made, proves again that he who laughs last laughs best. The nation laughed at poor Hancock when he said that the tariff was a local issue, and now everybody knows that that is just what it is.

Here are some of the things the court says the oil trust did which made it a bad trust and caused it the inconvenience of dissolution:

It made contracts with competitors in restraint of trade.

It exerted restraint and monopolization by control of pipe lines and by unfair practices against competing pipe lines.

It used unfair methods of competition, such as local price-cutting at points where it was necessary to kill competition, making up the cut at non-competitive points.

It secured processes for refining oils and got control of newly discovered fields by oppressive methods.

It secured rebates, preferences and other discriminatory practices in its favor by secret combinations with railroads.

It exercised espionage over the business of competitors, it operated bogus independent companies, and it paid rebates on oil.

It is not for growing big or for getting control of the oil business that the Standard Oil is to be punished. Its offense lies in the methods it used to gain these ends.

The offenses of the oil trust were not so much the offenses of an insensate corporation, which has neither soul nor conscience nor feelings to be hurt by punishment, as they were the offenses of individuals. When a rebate was arranged, it was arranged between individuals acting for the railroad corporation and for the oil corporation. When price-cutting to crush competition was ordered, it was ordered by an individual. When any of the oppressive methods charged by the court were used, they were devised and carried out by individuals. There was not an offense of the Standard Oil company for which some individual was not responsible and for that offense that individual could have been and should have been punished.

If the operation of the anti-trust law is diverted from the corporations, which are made up of stockholders who cannot know of law violations or participate in them, and directed against the guilty individuals responsible for them, much will be gained. The courts can't send a corporation to jail, nor can they punish it in any way that doesn't turn out to be a joke. But if a corporation president or two is sent to the penitentiary, the misdeeds that distinguish between good trusts and bad will cease to happen.

THE THREE-CENT PASSENGER RATE.

In behalf of the Minnesota railroads it is explained that the reason they are going back to the 3-cent passenger rate after July 1, instead of retaining the 2-cent rate which the people have enjoyed for several years, is not that they want to, but that they have to. The suits that were decided were brought by stockholders against the railroads as well as against the state officials, and the decision enjoins the railroads from obeying the 2-cent fare law. If the railroads retain the 2-cent rate, therefore, they will be violating the injunction.

The explanation is interesting, plausible and—disingenuous. It is true that the railroads are enjoined from obeying the 2-cent fare law and that the state is enjoined from enforcing it. But that does not mean that the railroads have any less control over their rates than they had before the 2-cent law was enacted. It would be very unfortunate for them if the effect of the Sanborn decision were to crystallize rates forever at what they were before the Minnesota laws were passed. Presently electric lines will be carrying passengers for a cent or two a mile, and it would be very embarrassing indeed if the railroads were unable to meet the competition.

Of course everybody knows that the railroads are restoring the 3-cent fare not because they have to, but because they want to. Otherwise the companies which are hastening to be enjoined would not cause their stockholders to take action. It should be remembered, too, that the Duluth & Iron Range and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, which do not care to restore the 3-cent rate, are having no difficulty in retaining the 2-cent rate.

THE FOLLY OF WAR.

One of the most attractive items of news The Herald has published for some time, to our notion, is the story that Secretary of State Knox Wednesday submitted to the British and French ambassadors the draft of an arbitration treaty which is likely to put an end for all time to come the menace of war with either of those two countries.

It hadn't been generally known that France was to be included, but the fact that such a treaty was pending with Great Britain was widely known and widely rejoiced in. That it is to include France makes it all the better.

Not that there was any imminent danger of war between the United States and France or Great Britain. There wasn't any such danger. Neither is there danger of war with Japan or Germany or any other country. There is hardly any probability of war, at this time, between any of the civilized countries. There is very little probability that there ever will be a great war again. It would be a fine and splendid thing if it were so arranged that everybody could know that there never would be a big war again, or any kind of war.

There isn't any excuse for war any more, now that the world is pretty fairly civilized. War is a barbarous, anachronistic thing; all well enough when people didn't know any better and there was no other way of settling difficulties, but very much out of date now. Many wars—most wars, in fact—have rooted in very ignoble origins: the whim of a king's concubine, the need of a tyrant that the minds of his people should be distracted from his short comings, the desirability that a useless nobility be given a chance to show a reason for its existence, the greed of capital for more worlds to conquer—these have been some of the occasions for wars that have plunged the world into blood and crime and woe unutterable.

It isn't that there is so much danger of war any more. It is that being ready for war is so tremendously expensive and such a dangerous temptation to go to war. Being ready for war takes out of productive industry millions of the ablest workers in the world, wastes billions of money in silly guns and warships and forts, and throws the burden of it all on the over-burdened shoulders of the workers who remain usefully employed.

For the cost of a battleship of the kind this country is building, you could build and equip a splendid university. For the cost of maintaining that battleship you could operate that university a great deal better than many universities are operated now. With the price of a navy you could redeem thousands from hunger, build tuberculosis hospitals by the hundred, efficiently equip the fight against preventable diseases and provide state insurance against non-employment, sickness, disease and injury.

What the world spends for war in times of peace, if it were wisely diverted to social uses, could be made to dispel the pall of woe and misery and hunger that has hung over the common people of the world since Eden.

The signing of an arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain will not dissolve the world's armaments and beat the world's swords into plowshares. Neither will the signing of such a treaty between this country and France. But these pacts of peace will set the world a splendid example, will point the way to a peaceful and civilized method of settling disputes between nations, and will help enormously to make the world realize that there is no more decency in the spectacle of two nations fighting over a disputed point than there is in two individuals resorting to blows, and no more decency in nations going armed than there is in individuals going about with revolvers in their pockets and knives in their boots.

THE LUMBER TRUST.

Is there a "lumber trust?" Dealers in lumber deny indignantly that there is. Among the people there is a very widespread and deepseated notion that there is a lumber trust. Certainly there are some very peculiar coincidences about the price of lumber, and there is the very patent fact that in lumber, as in coal, there is no competition in prices between dealers.

The Federal government appears to have become convinced that there is a lumber trust, and it has begun proceedings against it under the Sherman anti-trust law, making some very pertinent charges. It alleges that there is an elaborate system of blacklisting by which dealers who cut prices or otherwise disobey the orders of the rulers of the lumber trade are punished.

The case is now before the court, and before it is ended very likely everybody will know whether or not there is a lumber trust. If there is, the criminal clauses of the Sherman law should be exerted against the individuals in power who are responsible for the "unreasonable" restraints of trade charged against the trust.

HAPPINESS OR MISERY?

Micawber, in one of his rare moments of dispondency, pictured vividly a parting of the ways in the pathway of life where one road leads to content and the other to unhappiness.

And though the signboards there are as plain as Micawber's illuminating description of the two roads, curiously enough a lot of people misguidedly pick the road to misery, thinking it the road to happiness. Said Micawber:

"Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditures, nineteen, ought and six; result, happiness.

"Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditures, twenty pounds, ought and six; result, misery.

"The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the god of day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—in short, you are forever floored. As I am."

A shilling makes all the difference between misery and happiness. If you spend a sixpence less than your annual income, you will be happy, though you will not get every delight your soul covets, and you will have to deny yourself many pleasures.

If you spend a sixpence more than your income, you will indulge yourselves in pleasures that you cannot afford. They are sure to leave a bitter taste, as all pleasures unpaid for do, and the result sooner or later will be misery, just as Micawber said.

Ordinarily Micawber isn't a safe guide for youth, but on this one occasion, speaking out of the fullness of bitter experience, he put forth a true philosophy which any young man—or woman—may confidently use as a guide. It marks the parting of the ways to which all young people sooner or later come, where they must choose whether they will deny themselves and live within their incomes, or indulge themselves and live beyond their incomes.

It's all in getting started. If you start out on a scale beyond your financial capacity, it's going to be very hard to change it. If you begin on a scale within your financial capacity, and adjust yourself to it, it will soon become easy to keep that wise relationship between income and expenditures which is the only safe road to happiness.

And so far as getting results out of your money is concerned, if you keep your expenditures a sixpence short of your income, you will presently have the laugh on the fellow who makes his expenditures a sixpence more than his income.

For the sixpence that he hasn't got which the foolish man spends doesn't get him anything worth while. It buys a temporary pleasure, perhaps, but it can't buy much even of that.

But the sixpence surplus which the wise man keeps out of his income, stuck away somewhere in a savings bank, presently amounts to a decent sum with which he can do something really worth while.

THE DAY'S NEWS.

Through the news of the day—every day—come innumerable evidences of the fact that truth is stranger than fiction. The vagaries of fate and of human action, strange outcroppings of human motive and the tricks that chance plays with its plaything, man, make the day's news a panorama of ever new and ever enthralling interest. Just a few items from the local columns of The Herald last night may be offered in example:

How mystery often hides the commonplace is shown by the story of a woman wearing slippers, who was struck by a street car at 4 o'clock in the morning miles from her home. What was she doing so far from home at that time of the night? Why was she wearing slippers? The explanation appeared last night, and its commonplaces shattered the mystery. She had been visiting a sister, she was out that early because she had to go home and get breakfast for her sons, and she was wearing slippers as a blessed relief from tight new shoes.

Then there was the sad tale of Mr. Hostetter's prize seed potatoes, imported from afar at great expense only to be served up to unappreciative Commercial club guests by an unfeeling chef.

Also, there was the story of how a bolt of lightning started up the presses in a printshop, so that the proprietor had to hustle into his clothes in the dead of night and hustle down to the shop to stop their wasteful revolutions.

Then there was the divorce case that developed the story of a husband who insisted, as the price of reconciliation, that his wife kiss his foot seventeen times.

Truly, truth is stranger than fiction, and the day's news is more fascinating than the wildest stretches of the novelist's imagination.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING.

Exercise is a good thing for the human system. Rest, too, is a good thing for the human system.

But it is just as easy, just as wrong and just as mischievous to overdo the one as it is to overdo the other.

If you over-develop your muscular system by over-doing athletics, it is likely to be at the expense of vital functions like breathing and the circulation of the blood.

If you let your muscles grow flabby and impotent through lack of exercise, your blood will get stagnant, your heart will grow weaker, your lungs will lose power and your health is bound to deteriorate.

Examples of the latter fate are plentiful enough. Most men get enough exercise as boys and young men to give them a capital of health that stands a lot of abuse. While that capital holds out they don't bother about what they eat or how they eat it or about exercise. When they overdraw their account with the bank of nature and physical bankruptcy is in sight, they begin to try to build up a balance again in that bank, often when it is too late.

Examples of the opposite fate are not so numerous, because there are not so many who overdo exercise as there are who neglect it. There are enough of them, however.

Here is a case in point. The other day F. Gordon Brown, described in the obituary notices as "one of the greatest all around college heroes Yale ever had," died in New York. He was in his early forties, and he should have had a long and useful career ahead of him. He was related by marriage to J. P. Morgan, held an important position in the Morgan firm and was slated for a partnership—the apex of glory for a financier. Life was full of promise for this young man, but he died, still young and with the promise of his career unfullfillled.

If athletics, unregulated, could make long life, Brown should have lived to a hale old age. He began his career as a college athlete when he was 16 years old. At Groton he was captain of the football team and captain of the crew. At Yale he was guard in the football team for five years, and for four successive years he was picked for the all-American football team. He was captain of the freshman crew at Yale, and in his sophomore year was a member of the university crew. In his junior and senior years he was on the track team as hammer thrower. He was one of the most popular men of his class—1901—at Yale. His class voted him "the man most likely to succeed." In spite of his athletics and his popularity, he stood high in his studies and since his graduation has shown marked business abilities. He must have shown them or Morgan wouldn't have slated him for a partnership, whether he was a relative or not.

Yet this man whose youth was full of beauty and promise and whose being glowed with health and physical vigor, died while yet a young man. Here is the story of it, from the report of his death: "Beginning in his early boyhood, Brown made himself an 'all muscle' man, and some of his friends have expressed the belief that too much training shortened his life. It was diabetes that killed him."

The man who wishes to get the most out of himself and out of life will go neither to the extreme of "all muscle" nor to the other extreme of "no muscle." Exercise enough for good general development and good health, and rest enough to maintain the right balance between growth and waste, will be his wiser choice.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

If "J. E. J." will allow his name and address to be printed in connection with his communication it will be published—otherwise not.—The Editor.

DULUTH ALREADY USES THE SYSTEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The persons who are distributing the circular in the city under the caption "Making Ends Meet in Milwaukee," and declaring that "Duluth needs the Socialist program;" ought to post themselves a bit before they rush into print. The circular in question tells briefly the method inaugurated in Milwaukee for fixing the city's budget. It tells how the board of estimates received estimates of expenses for the coming year from the heads of the various departments and then trims them down to keep the expenses within the amount available. Then it says that the budget is turned over to the finance committee of the city council, which committee revises the work of the board of estimates. This system has been followed in Duluth since the adoption of the present charter in 1900, having therefore been in use for eleven years. Duluth ought to be complimented that the Socialists of Milwaukee have seen fit to follow the same system and give it such unstinted praise. The circular may mislead some people and is small credit to those who have issued it; particularly if they are residents of Duluth.

CITIZENSHIP AND NATURALIZATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The average man of foreign birth emigrates to the United States of America to better his condition in life, and to enjoy free form of government, and to live under the laws governing this country. This being so, it would appear that the first duty an alien owes this United States is to apply himself to the Constitution and the mode and form of government under which he intends to live and possibly make his future home, so that he can become piece and parcel of our government by becoming an American citizen. It is absolutely necessary that each and every law-abiding citizen become a United States citizen and take an active part in our various forms of government, from President down to Alderman. Who is there to purify politics outside of the conscientious voter? We often complain about bad and undesirable conditions existing, even locally. What is the remedy? The prime remedy for these conditions is organization of good men, and true, who have the courage of their convictions to overcome evils, if there be any existing, and to stand firmly as one man for what is right.

Any man enjoying the privilege of our government and refuses to become a citizen of the United States is surely a failure in life. He wants to enjoy this country without taking any responsibility as to whom shall make and direct the laws under which we live.

Lazarus.

["Remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things and likewise Lazarus evil things."]

Still he lingers, where wealth and fashion
Meet together to dine or play,
Lingers, a matter of vague compassion
Out in the darkness across the way;
Out beyond the warmth and the glitter,
And the light where luxury's laughter rings,
Lazarus waits, where the wind is bitter,
Receiving his evil things.

Still you find him, when, breathless, burning
Summer flames upon square and street,
When the fortunate ones of the earth are turning
Their thoughts to meadows and meadowsweet;
For far away from the wide green valley,
And the bramble patch where the whitetroat sings,
Lazarus sweats in his crowded alley,
Receiving his evil things.

And all the time from a thousand rostrums
Wise men preach upon him and his woes,
Each with his bundle of noisy nostrums
Torn to tatters 'twixt ayes and noes;
Sage and Socialist, gush and glamour,
Yet little relief their wisdom brings,
For there's nothing for him out of all the clamor,
Nothing but evil things.

Royal commissions, creeds, convictions,
Learnedly argue and write and speak,
But the happy issue of his afflictions
Lazarus waits for it week by week.
Still he seeks it today, tomorrow,
In purposeless pavement wanderings,
Or dreams it, a huddled heap of sorrow,
Receiving his evil things.

And some will tell you of evolution
With social science thereto; and some
Look forth to the parable's retribution
When the lot is changed in the life to come.
To the trumpet sound and the great awaking,
To One with healing upon His wings
In the house of the many mansions making
An end of the evil things.

In the name of Knowledge the race grows healthier,
In the name of Freedom the world grows great,
And men are wiser, and men are wealthier,
But—Lazarus lies at the rich man's gate;
Lies as he lay through human history,
Through fame of heroes and pomp of kings,
At the rich man's gate, an abiding mystery,
Receiving his evil things.

An American's Mistake.

Toronto Saturday Night: Much amusement has been caused by the Lord Chamberlain having received a letter from an American asking to have six seats reserved for him for the coronation. The naive gentleman stated that he did not "know your tariff, but on receipt of tickets will send along a check for the amount." Unhappily for enterprising tourists this not a "show" that money can buy. There is so much talk of the coronation as a spectacle that many people are apt to forget that it is a very solemn religious ceremony. Doubtless the princes and peers will realize it, however, when the king having been crowned, "all the princes and peers then present shall do their homage publicly and solemnly unto the king." What they will say is this: "I, ... prince or duke, of ..... do become your liege man of life and limb, and I will bear unto you, to live and die against all manner of folk. So help me God."

And so say all loyal subjects of King George wherever they may be.

TELLING THE TRUTH.

Anoka Herald: So many people have taken us to task for a possible tendency to vary from the truth that we made up our mind to tell the truth for a day as an experiment. We hasten to add that it was not publication day.

When we came down to engage the breakfast table in a one-round match mother proudly produced some pancakes she had taken special care with and asked us how they tasted. We told her frankly but kindly that they had fallen owing to lack of flour, and that there was too much soda in them. We added presently that the cream was sour on the breakfast food.

When we left the house mother was leaking sobs into the fourth handkerchief, but we had told the truth.

A friend offered us a ride over town in his new car. Proudly he showed its fine points to us and fished for a compliment on it. With all candor we told him that it was a cheap car and in our opinion it would not last the season. He looked at us in pained surprise and left us at the postoffice. We had lost a friend but we had told the truth.

One of our heavy advertisers came into the sanctum and asked us to write up an article upon the marriage of his daughter. We started in like this:

"The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schekels, a local merchant said to be in easy circumstances. The reported wealth of the bride's father has led many to flatter the bride with favorable comments upon her very ordinary features. She has been brought up without any idea of work and it will take more than the groom can make in twenty years to keep her in bon bons. The groom is a young rounder without steady employment of any kind and goodness knows how they are going to live."

In a rage our heavy advertiser took out his ad, stopped his paper and pulled the door knob off the sanctum door slamming it. We had lost business but we had told the exact truth.

A thoughtful friend whose business had been boosted the previous week by means of a free write-up in these columns sent us a box of cigars. We smoked one and found them dry and told him so when he asked us how we liked them.

Our lady friend asked us how we liked her new hat and we told her earnestly that, in common with all hats this season, it made her look like the devil. She sent back the ring by her older brother who kicked us in the face and otherwise annoyed us. Any how we told the truth.

That evening we were invited out to dinner. The charming hostess had spread a most elaborate meal for us. One of the viands seemed to be tinkered up with dill pickles. Our hostess was very proud of the dope and urged it upon each guest. Some devoured it with relish, some minced at it with wry features; we refused the rose, explaining in all truthfulness that the vile compound better deserved a decent burial than a place upon a dinner table.

That evening at a late hour we gazed thoughtfully into the fire and pondered. Bereft of several friends, on the high way to the poorhouse, mauled in features and sad at heart we reflected upon the telling of the truth too permiscuously.

After mature reflection we grasped truth by the hand in fond farewell and are now addicted to the grossest exaggeration. Anybody hereafter who places any confidence in what we say does so at his peril.

A Canadian View, Somewhat Jaundiced.

Toronto Saturday Night: The arrest of the two McNamaras and McManigal for their alleged implication in the blowing up of The Times office building at Los Angeles, California, whereby many lives were lost and a fine building completely wrecked, brings this labor tyranny more prominently before the people of the East than any incident of recent years. Rightly or wrongly the labor unions of the West, and more particularly that of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, are blamed for many acts of tyranny, anarchy and disorder, for while the present charge against these men is the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building, the case by no means ends there, for dynamite and other high explosives have been utilized without stint upon manufacturing concerns throughout the Middle and Far West.

So far Detective Burns, at whose instance these men were arrested, has made few mistakes. When Burns arrives at a point where charges are made and warrants issued, he has been pretty sure of his ground, and few of the great criminals who have gone through his hands have escaped punishment. It is needless to state that the men under arrest will make the legal fight of their lives, for the unions will put forward every effort. Money, talent and influence will not be lacking to have the imprisoned men declared free and innocent.

There is one thing certain, however, and that is that the Western United States are union ridden to an extent which in paralyzing the industries of that country generally in much the same manner as in the case of the California woollen mill already referred to.

The report that McManigal has confessed to having a hand in many of these outrages, in which millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed and no less than 112 lives taken, seems at this writing to be pretty well verified. That McManigal was in some one's pay is also fairly clear. For whom were these outrages committed? This is for the courts to ascertain. It is to be hoped that the courts dig, and the guilty ones are brought to justice. But the United States courts have obtained such a reputation for allowing guilty men to go free that one can not help but feel the outcome to be somewhat dubious.

A Tip Declined Leads to Big Results.

A Chicago publisher, W. D. Boyce, was lost while wandering about in the streets of London. After some bewilderment, a youth came up, saluted, and asked if he might direct him. Mr. Boyce cheerfully accepted the service. After being helped to his destination, he tried to reward him but the boy promptly saluted and said, "No, sir! I am a Boy Scout and boy scouts never accept tips." Mr. Boyce asked further information and was directed to the office of Gen. Baden-Powell who is the leader of the Boy Scouts in Great Britain.

"Upon reaching New York," writes James E. West, executive secretary of the Boy Scouts in the Survey, "he gathered together a group of men and placed at their disposal $1,000 a month for four months to take the preliminary steps for the organizing of the Boy Scouts in the United States. The idea has swept our land like wild-fire and at the present approximately 500,000 boys and 3,000 men as scout masters have been enrolled in the movement. It is almost impossible to conceive of a single place of any importance in the United States that has not been touched by the genius of the movement. Although the movement had its actual start the first of June, 1910, by the first of October there were scouting organizations in every state in the Union and in our three dependencies, the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands and Porto Rico."

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Religious Standpatter.

Steadfastness is one of the most commendable and desirable of the Christian virtues, but the "standpatter" is not always a person to be admired. If his immovability is the product of careful and conscientious thought, it may be a bulwark in the midst of the storm and stress of modern life, but if he has attained this immovability at the cost of hermetically sealing his mind to the truth, if it be the outcome of a selfish pursuit of his own interest, if it represents an unwillingness to hear the other side or to improve upon existing methods, then the "standpatter" can fairly be called opinionated and obstinate.

If the standpat attitude in business and politics is discredited it surely ought not to pass as current coin in the affairs of religion, for that is a continually expanding interest of the human mind. Here is the great field of religious truth. Have you reached the point of absolute certainty and fixity in regard to every doctrine? Better to confess with St. Paul, "We know in part." You may have satisfactory assurance concerning a few fundamental things, but if Paul with his visions and dreams was conscious that only a fraction of God's great truth had been revealed to him, we every day mortals ought to avoid dogmatizing on matters concerning which it is possible for conscientious men to take precisely opposite views without at all impairing the devotion of either to the truth which they held in common.

"God has yet more light to break forth from His Holy Word," said Pastor John Robinson of Leyden, as he bade the Pilgrims farewell, when they sailed from Holland to America. I know a prominent church member who is just now sorely grieved because his daughter at college has imbibed certain views which he deems heretical and destructive of faith; but which she declares have made the Bible a new and interesting book to her and quickened her spiritual life. No parent ought to expect that his children are going to form identically the same intellectual conclusions which he formed thirty years ago. Better trust the new generation to work out its own faith in its own way and believe that it will come to the truth by which it will live and by means of which it will serve the world.

But the religious standpatter, who balks at new methods of church work, is sometimes more hard to live and labor with than the man who sticks to his old theology. Machinery that served good uses in the mill 20 years ago is now on the junk heap. The kind of methods, like the Methodist class meeting for example, which in former years served worthy ends does not now appeal to the modern mind and heart. Just to shift around the location of the chairs in prayer meeting, or to put young men in as ushers in place of the deacons, or to bring the stereoptican into the pulpit of a Sunday evening, or to start the boys cleaning up the streets and lawns of the towns or to put the benevolences on a really businesslike basis, may be the things needed to vitalize the church afresh and make it count for something in the life of the community. What Dr. Samuel McComb of Boston says in his recent book is eminently true: "The institution which claims to represent the Christian religion, to incarnate the spirit of its Founder, and to realize His ideals, is the church. There is a widespread feeling that the church is not substantiating these claims. When its achievements are set alongside the life and work of the Son of Man, they appear to be seriously deficient, both in quantity and in quality."

But the personal life that stands pat is not simply halting, it is going backward. "To be as good as our fathers," said Wendell Phillips, "we must be better." And it is equally true that to be as good tomorrow as we were yesterday, we must be better. It has pleased me lately to notice the transformation in an elderly man, a church member for many years, who up to a short time ago was tart, grouchy, complaining, easily irritated, but who has recently developed an altogether unprecedented sweetness and serenity of temper. He has not been to any revival meetings, so far as I know, and I have no reason to think that he has had any vision by night, or that any particular single influence has effected this change. All I know is that whereas he would have been called a standpat in personal religion up to within a year, he now has a high ranking among those who are daily growing in grace. Come to think of it, should not this be the usual and not the extraordinary thing for all disciples of the Master?

American—"I want the sole rights of take the moving pictures of your next revolution."

Punch: Grandmother—"And now would you like me to tell you a story, dears?"

Advanced Child—"Oh, no, granny, not a story, please. They're so stodgy and unconvincing and as out-of-date as tunes in music. We would much prefer an impressionist word-picture or a subtle character-sketch."

Punch: Mother—Harold, you mustn't interrupt the plumbers at their work, dear.

Harold—It's all right, mother. I'm only talking to the man who sits on the stairs and does nothing.

Toledo Blade: "Please contribute to our fund to send a missionary to the cannibals."

"I won't—I'm a vegetarian and don't believe in it. But I'll send them some cereals, if you wish."

Darfbarbier: "You pay too little attention to your personal appearance. Remember that clothes make the man."

"Yes, but for me the man says he won't make any more clothes!"

Catholic Standard and Times: "But," protested the plain citizen, "don't you consider honesty a good thing?"

"Sure," replied the politician, "but it's like every other good thing; you've got to make money before you can afford it."

Pittsburg Post: "Do the children still write letters to Santa Claus?"

"Not now. All the kids have amateur wireless stations."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Debt grows in any sort of climate.

To the gullible everything looks genuine except the genuine.

Even in church a man can scheme to try to sell a $30 horse for $300.

Some men are such poor financiers that when they have a little ready cash they will let the family know it.

A man can leave his wife at home every evening while he is out enjoying life and at the theater have his blood boil over the treatment a stage heroine gets.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1891.

•••Iron is not the only mineral resourse of Northern Minnesota. Copper, long known to exist, is likely to be among the shipments soon. Twelve miles down the lake shore from Grand Marais, and about 120 miles from Duluth, Chicago parties have been at work sinking a shaft all winter. They are now down fifty feet and have drilled about seventy feet, finding fine copper and silver ores. Operations have been stopped until July. Considerable heavy machinery will be sent down by boat and the work will then be pushed in earnest. Henry Mayhew of Grand Marais has been in charge of the operations thus far.

•••A. De Lacy Woods, who has started more newspapers than any man in the Northwest and who has been at Two Harbors for the past four years, a period that is said to break his record for permanent location, is soon to pull up stakes and move to Grand Marais on the north shore. Mrs. Wood will run a summer hotel there.

•••The local rainfall last night as shown at the signal office was 1.44 inches. The rain was general throughout the Northwest and has done immeasureable good, not only in refreshing the earth but in quenching devastating forest fires.

•••At a meeting held a few days ago the following directors of the University Land company were elected: W. E. Rogers, St. Paul; L. F. Watson, Watseca, Ill.; Charles E. Holt, Excelsior, Minn.; O. L. Young, W. H. H. Stowell, S. L. Merchant, S. C. Maxwell, Duluth. The officers are: Dr. S. C. Maxwell, president; L. F. Watson, first vice president; S. L. Merchant, second vice president; C. E. Holt, secretary; W. H. H. Stowell, treasurer; O. L. Young, attorney. The company is organized with the idea of furnishing a site for the university proposed to be erected by the Christian church. Tuition in all branches of the school is to be absolutely free, and the endowment must be secured before the institution can be started.

•••Arthur Briggs, ex-chief of police at West Duluth, has accepted a position with the water company and is looking after the pipe laying on Grand avenue.

•••John Wilson and family arrived yesterday from Scotland and will make their permanent home here. Mr. Wilson is the father of A. S. Wilson, J. S. Wilson and R. S. Wilson.

•••An 11-year-old boy from Copenhagen arrived in Duluth yesterday. He cannot speak a word of English. He has traveled all the way alone and has a tag tied around his neck with the following inscription; "T. C. Peterson, Embarrass River, Minnesota, via Duluth and D. & I. R. R. R."

•••D. B. R. Chapman left over the South Shore last night for Boston. Alexander Crawford and son took the same train for New York, whence they will set sail for Glasgow.

•••The Dixon brought news last night that Pete Morrison and one of the Caribou family, both well known Indian guides, were drowned by the upsetting of a canoe in North lake last week. A Frenchman who was on a flat boat attempted to step into the canoe and upset it. The Frenchman escaped by swimming to shore.

SCOTT C. BONE

By SAVOYARD.

"Who has once been a newspaper man will ever be one. • • • Whoever has tasted of that feverish life, bustling yet comparatively idle and independent, whoever has exercised that sovereignty which criticizes intellect, politics, genius, glory, virtue, absurdity and even truth itself; whoever has ascended the tribune erected by his own hands, futilized for one short hour the functions of censorship to which the self-appointed—that proxy of public opinion—when he has been relegated to private life, regards himself as royalty exiled at Cherbourg."—Balzac.

Every newspaper man half fit for his job must be struck with the truth and the force of the foregoing passage from the greatest man of letters since Shakespeare. It is the highest office in profane life—editor of an honest newspaper of large circulation, and to again quote the same Balzac, as there is no virtue but has a vice to match it, so there is no office so degrading as that of editor of a newspaper whose sole mission is to pile up the dollars, dirty or clean, for its publisher, and if "yellow journalism" came, saw and conquered, it was because the decent journal was false to its mission, or lax in the prosecution of it.

Scott C. Bone, now in the prime of life, mental and physical, was born in Shelby county, Indiana, the son of a farmer, and grew up a farmer's boy. He followed the plow, he delved with the hoe, he helped to plant and to reap. He attended the common school, and Saturdays of auspicious season he was on the streamlet's brim, an eager and ofttimes a fortunate angler. He did chores about the farmhouse, led his companions in the sports on the green, hunted the varmint by night or the bird by day, spoiled the orchard of fruit and frollicked with neighbor boys and girls at Christmastide.

At 16, this boy, robust of health, broad-shouldered, lithe-limbed, strong-muscled, deep-chested, with great big handsome black eyes that might "gaze an eagle blind," for opinion's sake, wrote his first communication for a newspaper. No doubt after he had finished it he was possessed of a mental lassitude that made even his fine physique weary. Exhaustion had succeeded effort, doubt had supplanted confidence, and fear had taken the place of hope. He cried aghast at his own temerity when he had sought to adventure among the gods of high Olympus.

The long wished for and dreaded day came that brought the newspaper, and lo! it contained his letter! Here was ecstasy, delirious joy, for this farm lad.

Just at that age, 'twixt boy and youth,
When thought is speech and speech is truth.

How often he read his production he never knew, but from the moment he saw himself in print he was a journalist, and became one of the front rank of the elite of the noblest of the professions.

Young Bone continued to write for the papers, and his communications appeared in the leading journals of Indianapolis and Cincinnati. Sooner or later nearly every one gets into the walk for which nature best fits him. The divinity that shapes our ends takes care of that. Scott Bone would have made an able lawyer; he would have been a successful politician; he would have taken high rank in the world of business, any one of its numerous branches; but he was best fitted for journalism, and newspaper man he was and is.

Ere he had emerged from his teens he was in Indianapolis, where he sounded the entire gamut of reportorial work, from "cub" to political writer. He was city editor of the Times, and later he went with Shoemaker of the Sentinel and became political reporter for that paper, and thus he made the acquaintance of the leading politicians of Indiana—Harrison, Hendricks, Voorhees, McDonald, New and the rest. He was a Democrat, but no blind partisan—one who could see the faults of his own party and one not blind to the excellencies of the opposing party.

In 1884 he went to the Indianapolis News, then as now the leading paper of the state, and here he made rapid strides, doing all sorts of work and discovering those admirable executive qualities that later were to become so conspicuous in another and a wider field.

For nearly fourscore years the journalism of the national capital was distinctively polemic, and such it remained long after James Gordon Bennett the elder taught that the mission of the daily paper was to be a history of yesterday. Gales and Seaton contending against Blair and Kendall did not seem to know what news was, and they appeared to care as little for it as they had knowledge of it. They got their news of what was going on in congress from the New York Herald that came by stage coach; but their editorial pages would have been a credit to Hazlitt himself. It was their mission to convict, to convince, to persuade. Their publications were pamphlets, powerful in the field of political disputation, and even our great newspapers of today would be better for a more or less liberal infusion of the pamphlet of that older day.

They were of the race of Shenken—the journalists of the first half of the last century. They said nothing to the wind; they wrote not upon the sand, nor did they strive to conquer truth with flattery, if I may borrow simile from a great English poet. Of them it was not writ:

"Willing to wound, and yet afraid to strike."

They were not a very meek set, not very tolerant. They were terribly in earnest and they were exemplars of Thomas Jefferson's conception of a free press that would not flatter Neptune for his trident. Perhaps it was brutal, but it was not base. It was cruel, but not cowardly. It believed something, and with a hazel wand it would have entered the arena and contended with Thor and his hammer.

But the newspaper came to supplant the pamphlet, though not till after the time of Forney, long after. Perhaps the first newspaper Washington had was the Post, conducted by Stilson Hutchins. It was independent in politics with Democratic leanings, but it was a newspaper, and that was something new in this town.

In 1888 William Henry Smith, of the Associated Press, obtained an option for the purchase of the Post and he put it in the hands of his son Delevan Smith, who chose for managing editor James Halford of Indianapolis, who engaged Scott Bone for news editor. After a few months Smith surrendered his option and acquired the Indianapolis News, which under the management of Delevan Smith has become the equal of any newspaper in America. Read its editorial page if you would know what a newspaper ought to be.

Upon the retirement of Smith, Beriah Wilkins, a former Democratic congressman from Ohio, and Frank Hattan, who had been postmaster general in President Arthur's cabinet, bought the Post. Hattan had gained a national reputation as editor of the Burlington Hawkeye and was a capital newspaper man, both as writer and executive. He continued Mr. Bone as news editor and under their management the Post became one of the leading newspapers of the country.

Upon the death of Hattan in 1894 Bone took exclusive control of the editorial department and directed its policies. Every department was under his vigilant scrutiny and daily the paper grew in popular favor and in political influence. It was a clean paper and some of its features as original as they were popular. For ten years Scott Bone was among the leading newspaper men of America. He was a writer as well as an executive, and while in full control it is related that he frequently turned in to the city editor three-line paragraphs of local news that came under his personal observation. He was a news man to the marrow, and a brilliant editorial writer also.

About 1906 or 1907 John R. McLean acquired ownership of the Post and Scott Bone resigned his position. Two or three years later he founded the Washington Herald, of which he made a wonderful newspaper when the facilities at his command are taken into account. The public, reading and advertising, seemed to realize that it is not promotive of the public weal to have the newspaper field dominated by a monopoly and especially so if that monopoly had private interests to subserve. It is a most difficult undertaking to establish a newspaper from the beginning. It requires both brains and capital, and plenty of both, also genius; but Washington was an inviting field then as now, and Bone undertook it. Whether or not the venture would have proved altogether successful we shall perhaps never know.

We have fallen on times in business America when 51 per cent is equal to 100 per cent. One day Mr. Bone found himself a minority stockholder in the property of which he was the creator and without ceremony he was deprived of all control and his holdings left at the mercy of the majority.

I have before remarked the anomaly that this Democratic community is without a local paper to reflect its political opinions. I don't mean an "organ" in the elder day sense. Such a paper would be a hopeless failure anywhere. But there is a great field in Washington for a first-class independent newspaper with pronounced Democratic leaning and with no ax to grind—one free from sycophancy, or cant, one that can keep its backbone erect in the presence of the president, himself, one that sees congress as it is and paints it as it sees it, one absolutely divorced from the city government and the public utilities of the town. In short, one with the ken to know the truth and with the courage to speak the truth, and with the honesty to do the truth.

Three things are needed--money, brains, and character. Never was there a more inviting field for him who has the capacity and the will to serve his country.

• • •

Scott Bone's fingers are black with printer's ink. The passage from Balzac with which I began this letter applies to him precisely, and soon we may expect to see him re-enter the field where he played so great and so brilliant a part and for which he is amply fitted by training and by inclination.

A SENATOR'S STUDY OF TAFT

Mystery of His Apparent Lack of Popularity—President Confessed to Be Entitled to a Much Higher Measure Than He Receives.

Washington correspondence of the New York Evening Post: A Republican senator propounds this query: "What defect is it in President Taft's character, what quality is lacking in his make-up, that keeps from him the measure of popular approval and support to which he is undeniably entitled?"

The senator says: "I cannot answer my own question. Frequently I have gone to the White House and talked with President Taft merely to make an opportunity to study him, to observe the workings of his mind, and to try to determine why it is that the people of the country have not as high an opinion of their chief magistrate as have the people who are in more or less daily contact with him. The reverse is true in the case of most public men.

"I think I can understand why Mr. Taft did not excite any popular enthusiasm at the beginning of his term. He took hold of his office without much zest or spirit. It seems to me that Senator Dolliver caught the attitude of mind of the general public and prisoned it in an epigram when he said of Mr. Taft that he was an executive entirely surrounded by a body of men who knew exactly what they wanted. Whether or not this was true, it seemed to phrase articulately the thought of a great many people.

"But surely all of this is changed now. We who are here know perfectly well that Mr. Taft has almost entirely cut away from his advisers, and that he is acting on his own responsibility and initiative. The concentration of the troops in Texas is a case in point. The negotiation of the Canadian reciprocity agreement, and the calling of this extraordinary session because of the failure of the agreement at the last session, is an even more pointed instance of Mr. Taft's new willingness to assume an individual responsibility. I can't understand why President Taft's attitude has not met with a greater popular response, and has not made him many new and enthusiastic friends.

"I can say this, though I am opposed to the agreement. Its provisions do violence to my economic and political principles. I recognize, however, that probably a majority of the people in this country are in favor of its enactment. I think President Taft is perfectly right when he calls it a popular measure and asserts that there is a strong, sound public sentiment in favor of its adoption. This being true, as I believe it is, why has not President Taft received more public credit and more public praise?

Able and Conscientious.

"Mr. Taft is an able man. He is a conscientious public servant. He has had a thorough and a widely diversified training in administering public affairs. He is correct in his public and private life. He makes warm personal friends as quickly as any man I have ever known, and yet I think it is undeniably true that he has not hit it off, as the saying is, with the American people as a whole. And I, for one, would like to know why.

"Mr. Taft's whole career as president and as candidate for the presidency, has been marked by curious and unexpected turns of events. He was made a candidate for the nomination reluctantly and half protesting. I think nearly everybody knows that his desires lay towards the supreme bench, and that active politics did not interest him. So far as I was able to determine and ascertain, he did not put much heart or life into his campaign for election after he was nominated. Opposed to him was a man who had been twice a candidate for the presidency, and who desired the office as no man in our generation has ever desired it. Mr. Bryan was a skilled and practised campaigner, an attractive public speaker, and a master politician. Yet Mr. Taft defeated him so overwhelmingly as no other candidate for the presidency has ever been defeated. Such a thing has never happened before in this country, and I don't believe it will ever happen again.

Mr. Taft became president almost in spite of himself.

His Tariff Attitude.

"Soon after Mr. Taft became president, he signed a tariff law which he did not approve and which did not coincide with his campaign pledges. Before he had accepted the tariff bill that he didn't like, Mr. Taft had induced the senate to enact a corporation tax law which hardly a member of the senate favored. I never saw that done before. Now apparently Mr. Taft is on the verge of repeating the experience. More than a majority of the senate is opposed to Canadian reciprocity, notwithstanding the public sentiment in favor of it. Yet I believe that we will give it our approval, and that the agreement will go to Mr. Taft as he desires it without amendment. It cannot be said that we will do it through fear, favor, or hope of reward, so far as the president is concerned.

"I know that what President Taft told that delegation of Grangers the other day is true and that he is not considering his political fortunes in pressing Canadian reciprocity. So far as I have been able to ascertain, he does not consider his political fortune in relation to any other proposal or action of his. To cap it all, his renomination seems assured and inevitable, and yet I don't know a single Republican of consequence in the senate or out of it who believes that Mr. Taft can be re-elected. It is a curious and unreal condition."

This conversation is chronicled because it reflects not merely one senator's state of mind, but because it discloses the body of Republican feeling and opinion in the senate, and in a large measure in the house.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Kidneys.

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good-bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stiches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin, sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids and ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K 94 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and painconquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

THE LEGACY. By Mary S. Watts, author of "Nathan Burke." New York: The Macmillan company. $1.50.

This novel will strengthen the conviction which all readers of "Nathan Burke" must have gained, that a real novelist has risen among us. Though not quite so pleasant a story as "Nathan Burke," in some respects it is a far stronger and better one. If the view of humanity shown in it is often depressingly unpleasant, it is none the less real and convincing. Mr. Bone resigned his position. Two or three years later he founded the Washington Herald, of which he made a wonderful newspaper when the facilities at his command are taken into account. The public, reading and advertising, seemed to realize that it is not promotive of the public weal to have the newspaper field dominated by a monopoly and especially so if that monopoly had private interests to subserve. It is a most difficult undertaking to establish a newspaper from the beginning. It requires both brains and capital, and plenty of both, also genius; but Washington was an inviting field then as now, and Bone undertook it. Whether or not the venture would have proved altogether successful we shall perhaps never know.

Not that we wish to leave the impression that "The Legacy" is unreadably depressing. It isn't. It is one of the most readable novels that have lately come this way. The characters are vigorously and vividly etched, with a carefulness of detail and a sureness of consistency that is on a par with the work of the great Elizabethan novelists, to one of whom—Thackeray—Mrs. Watts is clearly much indebted, though she is in no sense an imitator. The telling of the tale is accompanied by an agreeable gentle humor, shown most clearly, for instance, in creating the character of Mrs. "Tump" Breen, a scatterbrained, voluble, good-natured, ebullient woman—a very human geyser of light conversation, indeed, and a common type.

It is this gentle humor which relives the story of its exceeding sordidness, for it deals with sordid people, largely living sordid lives, and with the life story of Letty Breen, whose legacy came from a beautiful and slightly wicked great grandmother and a horde of shabby relatives.

QUEED. By Henry Sydnor Harrison. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin Co. $1.35 net.

This book is one of the few and far between incidents that make it worth while being a book reviewer. The reviewer, be it confessed, grows to look upon new fiction with dread, and upon first novels with horror. Here is a piece of new fiction that gives pure delight, and a first book that gives more than promise—real fulfillment. It will tower high above the flood of fiction for several years, at least.

You are engaged on the very first page by a certain freshness and crisp humor that persists throughout a very good story, well told. Queed, a queer little soul, will command your interest and keep it. Self-centered, absent-minded, strangely poised in a vastness of conceit that is amazing, he is busily engaged in writing a tome on sociology, while living in an atmosphere of detachment as complete as though social relationships were the farthest things from his mind. The tale has to do with the humanizing of Mr. Queed through the agencies of Fifi Paynter, Buck Klinker and Sharlee Weyland. Sharlee, who is, by the way, a very charming heroine, bowled him over when she truly said: "Your cosmos is all ego." It is a delicate experiment to try to turn a low comedy character into a hero in the space of one volume, but it is completed successfully, tactfully and convincingly in this book. It is a fine picture of the New South, lightly but vigorously sketched, and it is a strong, gripping romance.

FENELLA. By Henry Longan Stuart. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. Fixed price, $1.20.

This tale of the love of Fenella Barbour and Paul Ingram begins at a little French watering place where the two, with Fenella's mother, have come for a vacation. Either because Fenella's devotion is too strong—that often happens—or because Ingram is too frosty an old clod, they drift apart. Ingram is a disappointed author who has written a book too great to be published, and he sinks rapidly to the depths while Fenella becomes a great dancer. How she is surrounded by temptations, how he drinks the dregs of misfortune, and how fate finally knits up the sundered threads make a pleasantly discursive and highly entertaining story.

BUDDIE: The Story of a Boy. By Anna Chapin Ray, author of "The Teddy Books," the "Sidney Books," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

"Buddie" is the first of a new series of books for boys to be written by the author of some of the best young people's stories that have been published since those of Miss Alcott. Buddie is a genuine, warm-hearted, somewhat mischievous boy, who, being temporarily separated from his father, takes up a new home with his Aunt Julia in Southern New England. There are some delightful young people in the book that young people out of the book are sure to like.

A COMEDY OF CIRCUMSTANCE. By Emma Gavf. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1 net.

Here is a light and lively tale of love and misunderstanding which will neither tax your mind nor permit anything else to tax it while you are reading it. The publishers, by asking on the cover, "Who are Emma Gavf," indicate a mystery about the owner of this impossible name, and one suspects a lightminded but skillful combination of authors in the creation of this novel, which is easy to read, sure to entertain, and bound to be one of the summer's most popular hammock stories.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE BOONE & CROCKETT CLUB. George Bird Grinnell, editor. New York: Forest and Stream Publishing company.

The Boone & Crockett club was suggested by Theodore Roosevelt in 1887. Since then the organization has been powerful in many important movements, and the story of its doings is told in this book. The accounts of the beginnings of the United States forest reserve system, of the establishment and protection of two national parks, and of the foundation of the New York Zoological society are of national interest, and these all had their origin in connection with this club.

OPERAS EVERY CHILD SHOULD KNOW. By Dolores Bacon. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. 90 cents net.

Though written for young people, grown folk who wish a familiarity with the great operas that they do not possess will be able to get a start toward that knowledge from this book. The author describes the great productions of thirteen composers, giving occasionally a brief strain from the opera to illustrate her description, and she includes these operas: "The Bohemian Girl," "Fidelio," "The Damnation of Faust," "Carmen," "Robin Hood," "Martha," "Hansel and Gretel," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "The Prophet," "The Magic Flute," "Rigoletto," "Il Trovatore," "Aida," "The Nibelung Ring," "The Masters of Nuremberg" and "Lohengrin." A pretty comprehensive list, it will be admitted. The descriptions are admirably done.

THE COWARD OF THERMOPYLAE. By Caroline Dale Snedeker. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.20 net.

Because he did not rashly plunge into certain and useless death, but elected the far harder part of living on for Hellas, the "Coward of Thermopylae," was the only Spartan of the 300 at Thermopylae who did not perish, returned to Sparta to be spurned by his fellows and cursed by his own mother. The subsequent justification of his cowardice with his demon-like fighting at Plataea and the slaying of the Persian leader, 'made him little less than a god to the Athenians and other Greeks, except the Spartans, who even in death refused to pay him honor. In this historic incident, handed down by Herodotos, Caroline Dale Snedeker has found the material for a stirring tale of action, of courage and of broad patriotism.

IF. By Rudyard Kipling. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. 25 cents net.

THE MOVING FINGER. By E. Phillips Oppenheim, author of "The Lost Ambassador," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50.

A new Oppenheim book, guaranteed to contain your money's worth of thrills, is as inevitable an annual—sometimes semi-annual—event as the process of the seasons. The new book deals with occultism, or rather with occultism strongly tinged, as usual, with charlatanism, and it is in the best Oppenheim vein. Henry Rochester, wealthy and eccentric, through a whim gives Bertrand Saton, a poor boy, money enough to live his life for awhile as he had dreamed of living it. Saton's first venture is a failure, and just as he is sinking chance throws him in with a nest of charlatans in whose company he is restored to luxury. How he falls in love, sinks from depth to depth in fraud and deceit, and finally wins victory out of complete defeat, makes a very entertaining story.

ORPHANS. By Helen Dawes Brown. Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.20 net.

Divorce is never a pretty thing, though often a necessary thing. It is least pretty where there are little children concerned in it. Did you ever contemplate the shamed mystification of children whose parents have been divorced? Did you ever think of how it complicates their lives and their relationship with other little folks whose parents stay in the humdrum of matrimony?

Miss Brown illuminates that side of it in this book. There have been many novels of divorce, but this is the first one, so far as we have noticed, that pictures the children's side of the question. It portrays the effects of divorce on the children of separating parents most appealingly and powerfully. A husband, absorbed in business, is divorced from a frivolous and pleasure seeking wife. The two children, a girl and a boy, though nominally divided between the parents, are really set adrift in the world. Though the book has a serious purpose, it is by no means lacking in narrative interest and humor.

Of Books and Writers.

Margaret Cameron, whose first novel, "The Involuntary Observer," revealed the social and business life—not the political revolutions—of our South American neighbors, is spending the spring months in New York writing another novel. The Harpers, who are to publish the book in the fall, received this letter from her in answer to a gentle reminder for more of the manuscript: "I am trying to give myself as completely as possible to this book and am working literally night and day. Last night I sat here at my desk all night hard at it, except for an hour of rest between 4 and 5. This high-pressure work seems to be the only way I can do things now. I fancy it would surprise the public, however, who seem to think light comedy is tossed off before breakfast as a sort of

SHE PURSUES "COPY" IN ALGERIAN WILDS

LOUISE CLOSSER HALE

New York, May 20.—Before sailing for Algeria Louise Closser Hale, author of the recently published novel "The Married Miss Worth," declared that Louise Closser Hale, the actress, was no more.

She said quite solemnly that her appearance as the witch in "The Blue Bird" at the New theater was positively her last appearance upon the stage, but as she said it all the good rang with the laughter of those little gods who tug so mightily upon the heartstrings of the actor folk. She sat in her apartment that looked out on the spring-stirring northern end of Central park and said, "It's true. I've really given up the stage for writing."

Mrs. Hale is off again in search of adventures and copy, in Algeria this time, for she says that "The Married Miss Worth" is the last book about the stage that she will write. She and a woman friend are going out just as far as they can into the desert from Algiers in an automobile, and the only male member of the party will go along is a chauffeur who hails from Roxbury, Mass., and who hasn't been out of Massachusetts in his life.

Irving Bacheller, who went to Beauport, N. C., for a rest after finishing his latest novel, "Keeping up With Lizzie" (Harpers), has had to give up his plans for remaining there until summer. This week Mr. Bacheller is in Minneapolis, where he is filling a lecture engagement, and he will spend some time in the Middle West before returning to New York. His lecture contains some of the same sort of philosophy that Socrates Potter expounds in "Keeping up With Lizzie," and its outlook on life is much the same.

After a sojourn of several months in her native country, during which period her new novel "How Leslie Loved," (Little, Brown & C.), was published Anne Warner has sailed for England where she says she will live in the future. To a reporter who interviewed her on the steamship Devontian this versatile writer said: "I am going to make a home for my father, my children and myself in England. I simply must move to a country where I can afford to live. I can get three days of travel and sightseeing for $50 in Europe, and that amount would scarcely pay for a new hat in the United States." For nearly two years previous to her visit to her old home in St. Paul, Anne Warner resided in Germany, where her daughter was being educated.

Little, Brown & Co., have just acquired the American book rights of two of the most successful novels of the English publishing season, "The Early History of Jacob Stahl," by J. D. Beresford, pronounced by the London Morning Post, "a brilliant psychological novel, and "The Old Dance Master," by William Romaine Paterson, whose previous novels have been published under his pen name "Benjamin Swift." In "The Old Dance Master" he has invited comparison with Dickens. It was this firm of publishers that acquired the American rights for another English novel, "The Broad Highway," by Jeffrey Farnol, now the best selling novel throughout the United States, according to the Bookman for May.

Owen Johnson's new Lawrenceville story, "The Tennessee Shad," which the Baker & Taylor company has announced for some time past, will be published on Saturday of next week. Of this book, the publishers state, they have received a larger number of advance orders than for any book previously issued by them.

Among the Magazines.

In a story in the June number of Short Stories Reginald Wright Kauffman writes a strong story of the prize ring. He portrays a human fighting machine, all his traditions and environment making for complete brutality; then comes the contest between these instincts and a new and far greater power. In the plot's evolution, Mr. Kauffman gives a vivid description of two ring contests. This writer has a reputation for stories of compelling interest and power. "The Stove in the Shanty" is the best story yet published by that real American humorist, Freeman Tilden. The June number, indeed, bubbles over with good humor. Nalbro Bartley has the third in the "Switchboard" series, which has proved very popular. Sage O. Vesey gives what is considered the best story from him since "The Ivory Miniature." "The Ghost Plumber's Courtship." "An Heir to Order" is a tale of dishonor among thieves; Henry Caldwell, of the staff of Collier's Weekly, has revealed in "The Wizard of Gorrum" a beautifully simple method of solving annoying financial problems. And the last and by all means the best of Adolph Bennauer's short series appears, "A High Sea Nemesis." Charles D. Leslie, author of "The Mystery of the Rose Diamond," unravels "The Mystery of the Locked Door" in this number.

Harold MacGrath's great fiction story, "The Carpet From Bagdad," illustrated in colors by Andre Castaigne, with drawings by Sarka, begins in the June Columbian. It is vivid in picturesque situations, in that delineation of human motives and emotions, through all of which runs, like a golden thread, a vein of delicious, delicate humor, for which Harold MacGrath is distinguished. "The Carpet From Bagdad" is the brightest, most delightful fiction of the current year. Its author stands foremost among American fiction writers of the day; the products of his brain and pen are in eager demand, and this is the latest and the best. "The Carpet From Bagdad" cost the Columbian many thousands of dollars, in fulfilment of the promise that Columbian readers should have the best in fiction, as in every other feature of twentieth century literature.

"The Gamblers" reaches its acme of thrill in the June Columbian. The situations presented appeal to the sympathies and enthrall the conscience of the reader. Never has it been so strikingly shown that too great a price can be paid for success, financial or political. "The Secret Name," "The Man and the Mask," "The Incorrigibles," "The Reckoning," are among the admirable short stories. Altogether the June Columbian is unapproachable the greatest fiction number of 1911 that has yet seen the news counter.

Dr. Henry C. Rowland's latest novel, "The Dog With the Broken Tooth," which is published complete in the current issue of the Twice-a-Month Popular, is primarily a murder mystery, but there is a great deal of humor in it as well. The prevalent fault in a mystery story is that the statement of the mystery and the slow unravelling of a tangled skein of plot take so much space that the narrative lacks movement and action. There is no such fault with Dr. Rowland's novel. The mystery is baffling enough for the most confirmed puzzle-hunter, but it is stated briefly in one short paragraph. The rest of the story is action, excitement, interest, thrill.

The cover design for the June number of Popular Mechanics uniquely produces the unfolding of a rose as depicted in colors on the film by a new process, in which color filters are used. This process is described further in an interesting article by J. O. Roberts. The subject of "Explosions and Explosives" is discussed by that eminent authority, Hudson Maxim, as a result of several recent violent explosions which have terrified large communities. Mr. Maxim asserts that the public has an exaggerated impression of the destructive force of an explosion such as that at the Pleasant Prairie, Wis., powder factory, and explains, in simple language, just what degree of danger appertains. H. H. Windsor talks about the parade of the world's navies which will be incident to the opening of the Panama canal; and discusses the shedding of queues by prominent Chinese, and the Sunday mail delivery question. "A Wonder Bungalow" described, with numerous illustrations, by Frank Wayland has many unusual features original with its builder and owner, whose earlier efforts in this line proved profitable.

The feature of the Ten Story Book for June is a melting pot tale, "Irish Annie and Slick the Rattler." There is a beautiful story, "Forever," "The Man-daan-using of Disraeli Lake" and "The Creek-Bottom Stomach Trouble" are laugh provokers. "How She Won Otto, the Good Thing," is worth while. Alphonse Daudet's "Cure of Cucugnan" is specially translated. A theatrical department has been instituted in which a working actor gives his readers a stage view of the American drama. The Ten Story Book wastes few words.

Among the good things of the June St. Nicholas is a happily timed account of "Six Little Gardens," by Frances Duncan, the author of "Mary's Garden and How It Grew." Perhaps no young gardener would ever have thought of combining corn, nasturtiums and zinnia in one "little garden," but Frances Duncan tells just how and when to plant and plan, and get novel and delightful results. Other suggestions, each carefully and helpfully diagrammed, are for two satisfactory little vegetable gardens; for a garden containing sunflowers, cornflowers and sweet alyssum; and for another of shirley poppies and portulaca, and how to get good results in a partly shaded garden. C. H. Claudy's third paper in his interesting and authoritative series on "The Battle of Baseball" tells boys of all ages all about baserunning, with any number of snappy pictures from photographs to help on the interest.

The June Ainslee's contains some unusually strong stories. Mrs. Belloc Lowndes, in a complete novel, entitled "The House of Peril," tells a thrilling tale of adventure in a miniature Monte Carlo, in the vicinity of Paris, where a young American woman becomes involved in a plot to murder a fascinating Scandinavian adventuress. The story is one to arouse the deepest interest, abounding as it does in swift, dramatic movement. Other stories of note in this number are: "The Weaker Vessel," by Frank Condon; "The Hour Between," by Margaretta Tuttle; "Suppressed Evidence," by Samuel Gordon; "The Flight of Beatrice," by Elliott Flower; "The Savage," by F. Berkeley Smith; "The Mirror on the Wall," by Fannie Heaslip Lea; "Divorced," by Constance Skinner, and "The Last Man," by Herman Whitaker.

In Chicago a commission of thirty members which in its personnel was representative of the occupations, nationalities and religious interests of the city, submitted a unanimous report in regard to the social evil and the best methods for eradicating it. Since this is a subject calculated almost above all others to bring out differences of opinion the story of the Chicago vice commission by Graham Taylor, a member of the commission, in the May Survey is of real importance. The report is also reviewed by Dr. Henry B. Favill, Dr. Richard Cabot, Mary Kingsbury Simkhovitch, Frederick H. Whitin of the Committee of Fourteen in New York, and Maude E. Miner, secretary of the New York Probation association.

"Humpty-Dumpty sat on a wall," Humpty-Dumpty had a great fall,"

Sang the nursery poet, and Fred Jackson uses these immortal lines as a moral in his delightful tale, "Humpty-Dumpty," opening novelette of June Young's Magazine. "Humpty-Dumpty," otherwise known as Russel Lloyd, is a young man who considers himself so very important as to be above all social and moral law, but in the end he is brought to earth with a very big bump indeed. Nevertheless he is a charming young man, and one cannot help being interested, if not edified, by his escapades. "The Lady in the Lacquered Litter," by Svetozar Tonioroff, is a love story of unusual fire, colored with all of the barbaric splendor of the East, a tale to hurry the calmest pulse. "An Accident," by Lida C. Schem, is an exquisite picture of wedded love and faith. Confronted with what seems absolute proof of his wife's infidelity, the heart of the husband knows that she could not be untrue, and in the end his splendid faith is entirely justified, as indeed it could not help but be, for absolute love and confidence is its own protection. But that even love and confidence cannot protect one against the past is shown in "My Amber House," by Adriana Sapdoni, a story strong with the pathos of a needless tragedy.

The issue of Harper's Weekly for May 20 is an industrial number, and devoted largely to textiles. "The Story of Silk," "What Happens to Five Hundred Million Pounds of Wool a Year," and "Our Weaves for Foreigners," comprehensively treat of the three great staple textile industries of America. Other articles of general interest are: "The Social Stride of Washington's Elite," by an English Visitor; "Preparing for the Unseen"—a semi-centennial record of the Civil war, by James Barnes; "On the Carpet," by Henry Patterson Waldo; "Building the Factory," by J. Anderson Wyatt. This number contains the usual fiction, financial, editorial, and humor features.

IN THE MOTOR WORLD

WHITEFACE RIVER IS FAVORITE RESORT FOR DULUTH MOTORISTS

E. J. FILIATRAULT'S AERIAL BRIDGE OVER THE WHITEFACE.

THE WHITEFACE RIVER BRIDGE.

The Whiteface river is the point to which many Duluth automobile parties are taking trips these days. There are excellent picnic grounds and the ride is of about the right length to be thoroughly enjoyable. The road is one of the best out of the city and with the improvements that are to be put on it, will rank with any.

It is on this road that the section man plan is to be tried. One man will have charge of five miles of road and at the end of the season the man who has the best section of road will get a cash prize from the Duluth Automobile club. The club has been pushing the matter and is very much interested in the success of the scheme, as it is claimed that it has been very successful in other parts of the state. The county commissioners are now receiving applications for jobs on the road. The county will spend $10,000 on the road this season.

It is near this bridge that many are anxious that the club erect a clubhouse. This point is about half way to Hibbing and it is argued that a resting point would prove of much benefit to the autoists. It would make a fine place for week-end visits, claim those interested. There is a fine sweep of the river at this point with a beautiful grove of trees. The fishing is said to be excellent and the hunting is also said to be good.

One of the accompanying pictures shows E. J. Filiatrault's aerial bridge at his summer home, "Jungle Lodge." This bridge is over the Whiteface. It was built by Mr. Filiatrault and is his own idea. It has a carrying capacity of several hundred pounds and has been in position for about two years. This feature of "Jungle Lodge" makes it unique.

ARRANGING THE DETAILS

One Hundred Men Will Be Employed to Score Indianapolis Race.

Forty-Six Famous Drivers, Both Foreign and American, Have Entered.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 20.—As the date for the 500-mile international sweepstakes race to be staged on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway draws near, the details for the running of the most gigantic event in the history of motor racing are being perfected.

Race meets have been held on the Indianapolis track for two seasons, one meeting in 1909 and three meetings in 1910, and they have been the scene of contests between noted pilots of gasoline-driven space annihilators, but never in the history of such events has a field of drivers like the coming race provides been pitted against each other.

Forty-six speed creations, the product of scores of mechanical engineers and skilled workmen, have been named by the various factories and private owners to compete in this event. George Robertson, the only pilot missing, has adhered to his retirement, but he will be here for this classic of motordom as assistant to Fred J. Wagner, who will start the race. It is not probable that he will drive it. Louis Chevrolet is going back to Europe, where, on July 9, he will pilot a Marquette-Buick in the French Grand Prix, but he will be relief driver for the Buick team in this race. Every other great driver in America will man a car in the long grind.

"Happy Johnny" Aitken, Charley Merz and "Howdy" Wilcox will make up the three drivers for the National Blue Flying Squadron. Ray Harroun and Joe Dawson hold the fortune of the yellow Marmon cars in their hands, Harroun driving the famous Wasp. "Farmer Bill" Endicott and Johnny Jenkins will drive green Colts. Endicott will hold the wheel of a big special known as the Cole Wizard, and Jenkins will drive a stock "thirty." Harry Knight, the youthful pilot who won fame on the Speedway last season, will drive a special gray Westcott, and Gil Anderson will handle a Stutz. Herbert H. Lytle, one of the pioneer drivers of racing cars, will appear at the wheel of an Apperson "Jack Rabbit."

Len Zengle, winner of the 1910 Fairmount Park race at the wheel of a Chadwick, has been named by the National company as relief driver for their team. Should anything unforeseen happen to any of the National trio, the company knows that with Zengle at the wheel their car will be in good hands.

Six Foreign Cars.

Six foreign cars will compete in the race, and every car, with one exception, will have a world-famous pilot at the wheel; the foreign cars entered are one Mercedes, two Fiats, and three Benz. Looking over the field carefully, even the most casual observer will see that one of the greatest struggles for supremacy between men and mechanical wonders will take place. "Wild Bob" Burman, who won the title of world's speed king by driving Barney Oldfield's old car, the Blitzen Benz, on the famous Daytona Beach in Florida, and capturing the records for one mile, two miles and one kilometer, will pilot a Benz; Eddie Hearne will have another, and the pilot for the third Benz is a mystery.

Two young millionaire sportsmen, Caleb Bragg, who gained international fame by beating Barney Oldfield at Los Angeles while an amateur pilot, and David Bruce-Brown, winner of the grand prize at Savannah last November, will steer a pair of the famous Italian cars. The remaining foreign motor delegate, the Mercedes, will be put through its paces by Spencer Wishart.

Pitted against this array of foreign talent from the best factories in Europe will be the cream of the American school. Not a car that has become famous through its work on the track will be absent. Harry Grant, twice winner of the Vanderbilt in an Alco, will drive the same stock 1908 car with which he twice won the Long Island classic. Lewis Strang, known to the racing fraternity as the "Cliquot Kid" because of his once great penchant for that beverage as a tonic, will be the captain of a team of three Case cars and Lewis will sit behind a wheel himself with Jagersburger and Will Jones as teammates.

Louis Disbrow, who will pit his now famous Pope-Hartford Hummer against the field, has a new and novel method of training. Disbrow maintains that physical exercise does not make a man fit for a grueling grind of 500 miles, and he will take runs across the country of from 200 to 300 miles instead of track work to prepare himself for the big event. As a starter in his course of training the diminutive Manhatan pilot left New York last week and drove overland to this city.

Gelnaw of Chicago, who startled the Speedway management by demanding No. 13 for his Fiat, will be here, and Pearce, his teammate will carry No. 14. Fred W. Belcher has been named and will drive a Knox "six," and C. B. Baldwin will pilot the Lozier-made Inter-state. Arthur Chevrolet, brother of the famous Louis, and Charley Basle will manipulate two Buicks nominated by Wadsworth Warren, former manager of the Buick racing team. Walter Jones and W. H. Turner are scheduled for a pair of the Amplex cars from Mishawaka. The latter cars have two cycle motors and the exhaust of one of the giants reminds the auditor of the rapid fire of a battery of field artillery at about a mile distant.

The Jackson team will come with three cars, with Cobe, Ellis and Tower as riders. The Mercers will be driven by "Lord" Hughie Hughes and Bigelow. Howard Hall, one of the mechanical genii who constructed several of Burman's famous Buick winners, and Gibbons will drive the two Velles. Two Ralphs—Ralph De Palma and Ralph Beardsley, will sit behind the wheels of the Simplex entries and De Palma will give some of the drivers a run for their money with the speed that the big specials can show when coupled with his skill and daring.

The Lozier team will come with two of the greatest drivers in this country, men who have been particularly prominent in the last two seasons—Ralph Mulford and Teddy Tetzlaff. A third Lozier car in the race will be driven by Van Gorder, the former Pittsburg amateur, who has turned professional. Mulford gained high right to world fame several years ago and his was a picturesque victory when he came out of the dawn at Elgin last summer and won the Elgin road race trophy. Teddy Tetzlaff sprung into the limelight in one day on the Pacific coast. He won the distance record for one hour from Ray Harroun, both marks being made on the Los Angeles Motordrome, and he won another mark from the Marmon pilot when he clipped the time mark for 100 miles on the same track. His greatest victory, however, was the winning of the Santa Monica road race, establishing a world's record.

Two McFarlan "sixes" have been entered, and they will be in the hands of Clemens and Adams.

The Scoring.

One of the perplexing problems that had to be solved by the Speedway management in preparing for the big race was the scoring of the event. When the plans were laid it was thought that forty cars would be a big estimate, and while there is much gratification in the size of the list of forty-six cars which have been drawn to the Hoosier oval by the lure of a purse now exceeding $30,000, with more side purses or prizes promised, a number of perplexing problems have thereby arisen.

One hundred men will be employed on the day of the race to keep official record of the standing of the competitors and to keep the vast throng informed on their positions. Four Burroughs adding machines, two Columbia dictaphones, the Warner horograph, four big score boards, each over 100 feet in length, opposite all the stands, and the telephone system will be used in the plan.

Forty-six cars, with as many drivers straining every nerve to win the coveted $25,000 in gold, will flash past the stands time after time and the public thrist for speed will be satisfied, while back of the scenes 100 representatives of the press will be watching the race from a different angle—not for the pleasure, but hard at work telling the world what the motor pilots are writing in gasoline history on Memorial day.

The eyes of the world will be centered on the two and one-half mile brick course on May 30, and those who cannot make the trip to the big race will be supplied with all the information obtainable by the staff of newspaper men and representatives of the great news bureaus.

Since the September meeting of last season, the seating capacity has been increased and many changes have been made. The Speedway has had an army of men at work building the new stands, the largest of these being the Paddox box stand of over 300 boxes and the management will be able to seat and accommodate 75,000 spectators according to their estimates. The painters have been busily plying their brushes and making new signs to direct the patrons over the big track and to the various stands.

Special trains will be run from Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville and the passengers will live in the trains while in the city. The advance seat sale has been a surprise even to the most optimistic, and the management is ready to take care of any sized crowd, stating there will still be seats for sale on the day before the race for the tardy ones. A bureau of information will be established, and a list of available rooms in town will be compiled.

The race will start at 10 o'clock and the gates will be opened at 6:30. The trains and traction cars will begin service to the grounds at 6 o'clock. Eastern racing spectators have for many years foregone the pleasure of a night's sleep before the Vanderbilt and spent the night at the course. While the 500-mile race does not start at daybreak, it is possible that long before old Sol pokes his rays over the horizon, a line of real, dyed-in-the-wool motor fans will be in line waiting the opening of the gates to gain points of vantage in the free stands.

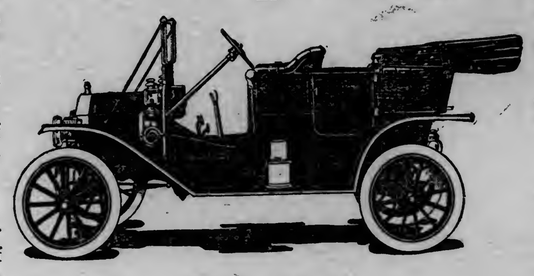
A HEAVY house-on-wheels car looks and is just about as helpless at the bottom of a steep hill as a trolley car crosswise of the track.

The FORD Model T Touring Car weighs 1200 pounds, just about half the weight of every other car of equal capacity, power and size.

Model T is as strong—stronger, than any of its bulky competitors of like capacity and power.

The man who lives in the country knows what it means to "strike" a hill with a wagon loaded too heavily for the job. The farmer can throw out half of his wagon load, divide the load — take half of it up the hill — unload it, come back again to the bottom of the hill after the other half load—take it up the hill—load the other half on and, in the language of Finnigan, exclaim "Off again, on again, gone again."



TOURING CAR

But you can't take half of your heavy car up the hill without taking the other half with it.

If you own a FORD Model T Car, your hill trouble will end before it begins—so will your rough, sandy, muddy road troubles.

The Model T is the one general utility car of them all. The one car that combines all that is best in the others and holds for itself those distinctive qualities that so justly entitles it to its place as the world's standard car.

MANY AUTOS EXPORTED

Washington, May 20.—Automobiles of American manufacture are steadily increasing the share which they supply of the world's demand for that article. March exports of automobiles and parts thereof showed an increase of sixty-three per cent. when compared with those of March a year ago, while the exports during the nine months ending with March are practically fifty per cent greater than those for the corresponding period last year. The total of automobiles and parts thereof exported from the United States in March, 1911, was $1,688,947, against $1,007,387 in March, 1910, the increase of $631,560 being especially interesting in view of the fact that during the past year the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor has adopted effective measures to prevent the reporting as exports by collectors of customs of such automobiles as leave the country for touring purposes only. Under the instructions of the bureau of statistics only those automobiles are reported as exports that are actually intended for sale in a foreign country.

The growth in the exports of automobiles and parts thereof has been especially rapid in the last three years, the figures for the nine months ending with March having increased from $3,270,036 in 1909 to $6,382,271 in 1910, and $9,837,181 in 1911, suggesting that the total for the fiscal year which ends with next month will be about $14,000,000. In addition to the figures above quoted of automobiles and parts thereof exported, the exports of automobile tires, shown under the head of manufactures of India rubber, amounted for the nine months ending with March to $1,325,903.

MUCH MONEY TIED UP IN MACHINES

The Auto Directories company of New York states that there is $1,000,000,000 worth of automobiles in the United States. The following table prepared by this company shows the number of registered automobiles that are actually in use in this country.

The total is given at 518,091:

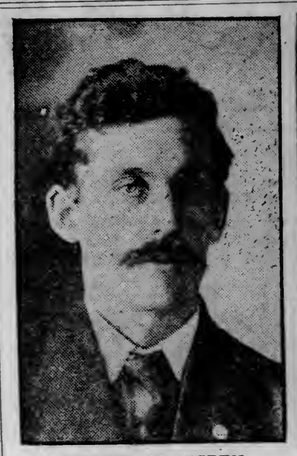
SWEDISH-AMERICAN CITIZENS PLAN BIG CELEBRATION OF MIDSUMMER'S DAY

All Swedish Societies of Duluth Will Unite for Occasion.

General Committee Now Has the Arrangements in Charge.



ANDREW HORNGREN, President.

LOUIS LEVIN, Vice President.

A. T. LIND, Treasurer.

GEORGE JOHNSON, Secretary.

What undoubtedly will prove to be one of the greatest events among the Swedish people in this city and vicinity during the summer will be the celebration of Midsummer's day, which will be held at Lincoln Park, June 23.

At least 10,000 people are expected to take part in this celebration and committees are now busily engaged in making preparations for entertaining the people of Duluth and visitors from outside.

Midsummer's day in Sweden is a legal holiday and is to celebrate as its name indicates, the middle of summer. The seasons in Sweden are practically the same as here. In June everything stands in bloom, and the longest day in Sweden is recorded on June 24. In the extreme north there is no night. The sun shines there night and day for several days. In Stockholm, being about the middle part of the country, the sun rises at 2 in the morning and sets at 10 in the evening. The nights are very beautiful and are more like the dawn. In fact anyone can, without difficulty, read a book in the middle of the night without assistance of artificial light.

Other Causes.

But it is not on account of this alone that the Swedish people celebrate June 24 as a holiday. Midsummer has also historical events. During the early part of the fifteenth century, Sweden was united with Denmark and Norway, in a union known as "Kalmar union." This union proved to be distasteful to Sweden as all the kings that reigned were Danes, and Sweden was treated as a sub-country. The king of Denmark suppressed the Swedes to such an extent that their patience finally ceased and a revolution started, which overthrew the Danish power and Gustavus Wasa was declared ruler of Sweden. Midsummer evening he made his entry into Stockholm as the king of Sweden.

In 1618 a war started between the Catholics and Protestants which lasted until 1648, and which is known as the Thirty Years' war. The Protestant's resources were nearly exhausted and they called on the Swedish king, Gustavus Adolphus, to come to their assistance. He responded to the call and on Midsummer day landed with his troops at the island of Ruden on the cost of Pomerania. When he arrived it put new life into the Protestants and many were the victories he won during the two years he led the army, until his death, Nov. 6, 1632. Several other historical data from Midsummer could be related.

At a meeting held in this city a few weeks ago it was decided to ask the different Swedish organizations to join together and make Midsummer day a great festival. This met with uniform approval and at a meeting held a week later seven different societies had responded that they were willing to take part.

A permanent central committee was established and officers named. These officers are: Andrew Horngren, president; Louis Levin, vice president; George Johnson, secretary, and A. T. Lind, treasurer.

At a meeting held at a later date committees of different kinds were appointed and they are now busily engaged making preparations for a big event.

Parade Will Be Held.

Although all arrangements are not yet completed it is understood that a big parade will start the program for the day. This parade will possibly form in the downtown district and proceed to Lincoln Park, where a program has been prepared which will be rendered immediately after the parade. The park as well as pavilion will be decorated and refreshment stands erected.

After the completion of the program games of various kinds will be played and the raising of the Maypole will be one of the features of the day.

In the evening another program will be given, different from the one held in the afternoon.

The different committees appointed are the following:

Speakers' committee—Dr. J. J. Eklund, Dr. D. Seashore, Dr. O. A. Oredson, Andrew Nelson, K. A. Ostergren, Otto Gafvert, Gust Carlson, A. F. Lundholm.

Press committee—George Johnson, C. Lindstrom, David Nelson.

Maypole committee—Charles Johnson, C. J. Loof.

Refreshment committee—Louis Levin, William Wicklund, Linus Olson, Peter Olson, J. Sjodin, Charles Wandle.

Advertising committee for program—J. Wallin, John Lawrence, Gust Hjerpe, G. Anderson, Louis Levin, C. O. Johnson.

Parade committee—Gust Lindstrom, C. F. Faissell, John Berglund, Charles Mork, Hugo Nelson, A. F. Lundholm, C. J. Loof, C. W. Lindstrom, Elof Bergholm.

Program committee—Herman Olson, A. F. Lundholm, George Johnson, Ed Olson, Richard Wallin.

Finance committee—C. F. Faissell, L. Levin, David Nelson.

Floor committee—A. F. Lind, Gust Lindstrom, A. B. Wilander, Ed Olson, C. W. Lindstrom, Charles Bostrum, Theodore Anderson, Jonas Lund, Richard Wallin.

Decoration committee—A. B. Wilander, Ed Olson, George Johnson, J. Wallin, Charles Bostrum, J. D. Bergstrom, Peter Olson, A. F. Lind, Herman Olson.

Reception committee—Dr. J. J. Eklund, Dr. D. Seashore, Dr. O. A. Oredson, Otto Gafvert, A. F. Lundholm, August Hagberg, John D. Bergstrom, Otto Johnson, Gust Carlson, Andrew Nelson, K. A. Ostergren, John Brandt, A. F. Lofgren, Charles Mork, J. Uno Sebenius, Fred Rasone.

Principal E. A. Mooney of the Salter school has inspired the boys and girls of the institution with a desire to have gardens. They are shown in one of the pictures hard at work on the plot of ground that Mr. Mooney secured for them to work this summer. At the end of the season or soon after the beginning of the fall term of school, there will be an exhibition of the produce grown by the boys and the winners in the contest for the best home grown vegetables will receive rewards of some kind.

All the children at the Salter school are very much interested in gardening. For some weeks plants have been growing in the schoolrooms. They will soon be set out and then the work of caring for the garden will begin in earnest.

The lot is very rocky, but the boys, undaunted, and with plenty of enthusiasm, are busy every evening after school picking up the rocks and carting them away. Already the lot looks much different than it did a few weeks ago and Mr. Mooney expects by the way the boys are taking hold of the work that the Salter gardens will be a big success this summer.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Old English May Festival on the Campus a Great Success.

New Minnesota Song Book Is Memorial of the 1911 Class.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Turning the old world back 400 years to revel among the campus oaks, as did the noble lords and fair ladies of Old England under the great trees and on the quiet green of their estates, the students held on Thursday, their first commemoration of the revival of the celebrated May day festival of Merrie England. At 2 o'clock Commandant E. L. Butts, accompanied by his aides, rode through the main entrance of the university, followed by the pageant. At the head of the pageant, preceding the queen's champion, came the eighteen heralds, followed by her majesty, Queen Elizabeth, who was impersonated by President Vincent's wife, surrounded by the royal bodyguard of Tudor archers. The lord mayor of the city and his standard bearer were the next in the procession, preceding the lord high chancellor of the university and the elaborate court of the queen. Following in the order named, were the embassies, French, German, Spanish and Scandinavian; the blue-coat school choir, the May queen's heralds, the May queen on a white palfrey, led by a member of the Robin Hood band, and followed by the entire band, Jack I' the Greens,' the May pole drawn by oxen, the May pole dancers, the members of the band as ancient bards, the Morris dancers, Sir Francis Drake and his crew of pirates with captive Indians. One captive white girl with beautiful flowing hair, captured by pirates, was drawn in a float decorated with palm trees. The seven liberal arts, alchemists from the college of chemistry, mouth doctors from the college of dentistry, apothecaries from the college of pharmacy, barristers from the college of law, plague physicians from the college of medicine, the nursing orders, preceded by Hygela, goddess of health, the spirit of nursing; the spirit of science, Catholic sisters, secular sisters, sisters of charity, the personnel of the Abraham and Isaac play, milkmaids and farm hands with cows, strolling singers, persons of the arraignment of Paris, strolling minstrels, the nine muses, spring group, fairies, witches, shepherdesses with sheep, the hobby horse, knights, heralds, St. George and the dragon, the seven cardinal virtues, the seven deadly sins and then the rabble. The pageant went to Northrop field, where the May queen was crowned, and the May pole dancers danced. The hobby horse riders had a fight and the clowns did acrobatic stunts. Then for the rest of the day, people wandered from one play to another. The arraignment of Paris was given on the Knoll. The Morris dancers at the White Horse tavern attracted much attention. The Robin Hood and Abraham and Isaac plays were particularly good. The affair was over at 6 o'clock. In the evening, all the students returned to the campus, where the band played all the college songs, and the new May song. When it grew dark the band left and thousands of students gathered under the oaks on the Knoll and sang all the old familiar songs. Every one accords great success to the May fete and it is desired of all students to have it made an annual affair.

The 1911 class memorial has arrived. The book is handsomely bound in maroon and gold. Conventionalized moccasin flowers surround the title, and, as the emblem of the state, make a fitting setting for the title. Inside the book there is a frontispiece of President Northrop with a toast to him written by Miriam Clark Potter, '09. A foreword from "Prexy," is also found in which, he speaks of the long felt want of a song book in the university. The book was compiled and edited by William Wellington Norton, A. B., '09; A. M., '10. The publication and sale was made possible by the class of 1911 and the book has been adopted by them as a memorial.

Katheryn Denfeld, Alma Strand and Mary Marvin of Duluth have been chosen as new members for the Theta Epsilon Literary society.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Senior Honor Roll—Senior Class Meeting—Arrangements for Junior-Senior—Anonia Program—Rehearsals for Class Night—Football Picture Given to High School—Girls to Have Picnic—Dr. Seymour Will Lecture Monday—Zenith Out June 5.

The honor roll for the high school course of the senior class contains eight members.

To attain the highest honor in scholarship a student must have an average of 90 per cent. or above in all subjects of the four years of the high school course. Miss Florence Olsen takes first honor with a total average of over 94 per cent. The other seniors on the honor roll are: Mary Norquist, Edna Bergquist, Nathalie Craig, Enid Friemuth, Mary Robertson, Ethel Smith and Meredith Helm.

Miss Myrtle Hobbs gave a very beautiful solo during chapel Friday. The selection was "Come Unto Me," by H. Ernest Nichol.

Young Mothers

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

COUNTY WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Kindling Social Life in Rural Districts—Regenerating Decayed Country Towns—Developing Rural Recreation.

By HENRY ISRAEL.

Secretary, County Work Department, International Committee of Y. M. C. A.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau).

It was an old New England community of about 1,700 people. From it had come great men. Like so many other towns it became a victim of the old agriculture and fell into decay. The soil of the surrounding section is thin and apparently unproductive. Only the trunks of apple trees are left as monuments to a once great apple producing district.

To this village, with its churches, postoffice, isolated store, all presenting a monotonous, gray, weather-beaten appearance for want of paint, came a county secretary, the employed officer of a county committee, whose business is to survey the needs of the community and to call attention to the fact that there is a social life in the place and to co-operate with all of its existing institutions.

An analysis of the soil proved that it had lost none of its old virtue so far as apple growing was concerned. The agricultural college was asked to cooperate, philanthropic citizens were enlisted and land secured which was planted with several thousand young apple trees. A dozen or so of the older boys to whom the secretary had given some idea of country life as it might be, were fired by the possibilities of the future and pledged their life and service to a new community.

With the economic awakening of the town has come a like advancement along all lines. The rural church has felt the stimulus of this new blood and the entire community was brought together on a constructive program.

The Y. M. C. A. in its approach to rural life is co-operative. It furnishes a platform for all the towns in a county to come together through a county committee. Under its direction and that of a county secretary and other experts in educational work, the schools, churches, granges, medical societies, boards of trade, civic improvement associations, Sunday schools and various boys' organizations, learn to work together. The association in its rural work recognizes the need for the conservation of the natural resources, and in order that the boys and young men may be content to stay on the land, demonstrations are conducted showing the possibilities of soil production. For this work it is necessary to secure the help of experts at experiment stations and agricultural colleges. One day courses are set up in various communities. The county secretary accompanies the experts from town to town. In some of the regularly organized counties as many as fourteen to sixteen rural centers are organized. Corn growing, poultry raising and fruit growing contests are arranged and classes and demonstrations organized in potato raising, dairying, reforestation and horticulture.

The boy in the country needs to have in addition to his school education a more intimate knowledge of the natural sciences. Practical rather than academic information is imparted through simple talks on astronomy, biology, botany, zoology, geology and mathematical subjects related to the farm and to the home. This training covers cost accounting, measurement of garden plots, the height of trees and other necessary practice in mathematics.

It is agreed that the country needs a social life. The inherent organization germ of the Y. M. C. A. is social. It takes isolated communities and brings them together under the county work plan. It brings individuals together in groups, and villages join in play, in intercommunity debates, intercommunity agricultural contests and intercommunity church movements and many programs of social activities are carried out, involving neighborhoods, homes and families, boys and girls.

The great need of agarian representation in governmental affairs is apparent. We are dominated by urban aggression. The better acquaintance of 25,000 young men and boys in organized rural societies with the members of their state legislatures and the congressional representatives, who are invited to address them upon matters of vital current interest, will do much to spread a knowledge of governmental affairs as they relate themselves to rural interests. The conduct of town meetings in which bills are introduced and discussed, involving the value of telephone franchises, of the good roads movement, parcels post, rural free delivery, postal savings bank, are all subjects to be discussed in the various groups of the young men and boys.

Rural recreation is another great factor in achieving a healthy and normal living. The boy needs physical expression particularly in games such as baseball and relay races, where one runner depends upon the other for the success of the team. This team work will do much to bring about a neighborly spirit of co-operation. We are having community play days and carnivals in which every boy and girl, man or woman, takes part.

The whole question of the home is vitally involved in rural community progress which implies the better knowledge of the needs of the home and the conditions that must be met before home life can be made more satisfactory. Among the results of this will be the further invention and introduction of the labor saving devices. The spirit of the home will be conserved by the development of the closer relation between parents and children. Many parents' meetings are held where emphasis is being laid upon comradeship and friendship between parents and their children as well as the need of inspiring boys and girls to a greater interest in the arrangement of the home and in conserving its spirit and orderliness. Sanitation, domestic and community hygiene, the whole question of the conservation of rural health in fact, are taken into consideration and discussed.

Rural progress in country life cannot be made without great spiritual force and, therefore, the Y. M. C. A. puts first and foremost the spiritual movement in everything. It holds out no selfish incentive to those who would join in its efforts. The organization is based upon the getting together to do something for a community. Much is being said these days about the federation of the rural church, but there is an aspect of federation concerning which little is said. This is the bringing together of community forces regardless of denominational lines and the working together for a common program involving the entire realm of economics, education, social life, civics, recreation, the home and spiritual affairs. The work is now being conducted in twenty-two states and in the provinces of United States and Canada with sixty employed experts in fifty different counties and over 500 communities.

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK

STARS MUST HAVE SPEED

Success of Baseball Players' Requires Quickness of Mind and Body.

McGraw, Mack and Chance Demand Speed of Their Men.

New York, May 20.—Speed is one of the greatest essentials of modern baseball. It implies quick mental as well as physical action both offensively and defensively. Take any one of major league pennant winners within the past decade and you will find that this quality of speed has been strongly evidenced, both individually and collectively, says the American. The world's champion Athletics boast the fleet Eddie Collins, champion base stealer of the major leagues in 1910. Ty Cobb's speed, as much as his hitting ability, helped Hughey Jennings to win three consecutive pennants. It was the speed of the White Sox in 1906 that upset the Cubs in a world's series, to the amazement of the country. Fred Clarke's Pirates and Frank Chance's Cubs are always at or near the top of the National league heap because, even if they boast no Collins or Cobb, they both have some fast and heady men.

John J. McGraw won pennants for this town with his Giants in 1904 and 1905. He won a world's series from the Athletics in 1905. He, too, had a team of fleet runners, but unfortunately they were then on the decline. Many of them broke down the following season, and this, combined with the illness of the peerless Mathewson, put the Polo ground brigade in the discard for the time. McGraw went immediately to work to replace the old men with new and sprightlier material. The declining veterans had to give way to young men. By judicious trading with other clubs and by scouring the minor leagues he has at last accomplished his purpose. Arthur Devlin, still a comparatively young player, is the only remnant of the world's champion Giants, excepting, of course, a few of the veteran pitchers.

Advocate of Speed.

John J. McGraw is a great advocate of speed. His policy is to win games on the bases. He believes that judicious base running is every bit as imperative as battery strength, fielding skill or hitting power. It is one thing to get men on and another thing to get them home. From first to the plate is just 270 feet, and that 270 feet is pretty well guarded with any sort of a big league club in the field. A thrown ball travels so much faster than human power can propel a runner that it behooves a man in trying for a further station to utilize almost infinitesimal fractions of seconds. To begin with, the runner, it must be remembered, is always at a disadvantage.

McGraw has developed in his young team of 1911 true art at base stealing. The Giants learned from a master, for in his day McGraw was one of the foxiest purloiners. McGraw has taught his disciples to take every advantage. His work so far has borne results. Josh Devore, one of the fastest men in the game, was anything but a good man on the bases a year ago. This season he has shown such form as to make him a serious contender for the crown of Collins. Why? Simply because he has been taught how to get a proper lead off a base; how to get into top speed in the quickest possible time, and how to slide to a base. Sliding is a necessary art.

Two Motives in Sliding.

There are two motives in sliding. The principal one is to present to the guardian of a station the smallest part of the anatomy, for in such case is the likelihood of being tagged out diminished to a minimum. Furthermore, first base and the plate are the only stations which may be overrun after reaching. At second and third bases the runner must not only touch, but also retain the sack with some part of his person. It is as fatal to overslide or miss by an inch as to be caught midway.

There are many kinds of slides. Most players prefer to slide feet first, for their steel spikes naturally intimidate the fielder. Others, like Hal Chase of the Yankees, usually travel head first, the runner must not only touch, but also retain the sack with some part of his person. It is as fatal to overslide or miss by an inch as to be caught midway.

There are many kinds of slides. Most players prefer to slide feet first, for their steel spikes naturally intimidate the fielder. Others, like Hal Chase of the Yankees, usually travel head first, clutching the base with one hand and so holding on more firmly than if they depended solely upon spikes. The player sliding head first has an advantage—outside the natural danger of encountering a foeman's spikes in face, hands, arms or body. He has the bag right before his eyes, whereas one who slides feet first goes more or less by guess work once he makes his final leap. But whether sliding head first or feet first, a player must be able to keep an opponent guessing at all times. If a player always slid right into the bag it would be a cinch for the opposition to play him. But if sometimes he slides in from one side, sometimes from another and again between the legs of his opponent, as sometimes happens, then he has just so much advantage.

The best big league base runners always go into a base with what is known as a "hook" slide. That is, they throw themselves, after the fashion of contortionists, around the immediate vicinity of the base guardian, hooking a hand or a leg into the base after the man with the ball has been passed.

EAU CLAIRE WINS SHORT CONTEST FROM OUTCASTS.

La Crosse, Wis., May 20.—The champions took a six-inning game from the Outcasts yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. It was the only contest played in the Minny league. Rain necessitated the calling of the game in the first of the seventh. Both Watson and Chase were in good form and kept the hits well scattered. The Comanche was more effective than Watson, holding the Germans to five scattered hits. Eau Claire also played a sensational fielding game behind Chase, Safford's work in center field being a feature of the game. The game was well played. Score:

Louisville won out in the ninth on Robinson's walk and steal, Beaumiller's sacrifice and Stansbury's single. The fielding of Hughes and Howard was the feature. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	1	0 0 0 0 4 0 0 1 —	6 10 3
St. Paul	0	1 2 0 1 0 0 0 1 —	5 7 1

Batteries—Cheney and Hughes; Gehring, O'Toole and Spencer. Umpires—Owens and Eddinger.

INDIANS WIN A TEN-INNING GAME.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 20.—Indianapolis won a 10-inning pitchers' battle from Kansas City, 4 to 3. Rhoades was taken out of the box in the first inning after the locals had scored three runs and Powell, who succeeded him, held the home team safe until the tenth inning, when two singles, a sacrifice and an out scored the winning run. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	4	0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 —	3 9 2

WITH THE SOX ABROAD

Yesterday's box scores in The Herald show that Menecie is still getting his little one and two hits a day. In the losing contest with La Crosse Leber is credited with the only misplays of the game, getting two errors. On the present trip the Sox have been hitting and fielding in a clean manner, and with the improvement in play that is expected to come on the home grounds, the fans may hope for a very fast article of baseball from the O'Brienites.

Starting at Red Wing the Sox got two out of the series. They took the long end at Rochester, giving them four out of six games. At La Crosse we lost two and won one, giving us five out of nine games to date. If we win one of the games at Winona the Sox will hit home with a record six games out of the eleven played on the first road trip, a better record than has been made on the first trip of any Duluth team since the organization of the Minny.

Papers around the circuit are at the present time praising the Sox and predicting that they will be high up in the race. Before the opening of the season it was not generally believed outside of Duluth that Darby had gathered a strong aggregation of ball players. That opinion has been changed some by the showing of the Sox.

Box scores of the games played during the trip show that Sam Menecie is hitting at a very good clip. O'Brien has been going good on the trip also, and that home run he got at La Crosse was at least the third the Orator has hit during his long career on the diamond.

The Irishman has been playing some sensational ball around second base, according to the accounts of the games, and has cut off many a hit by his fast work.

The Harp informed Jawn Desmond that he was feeling great this year and that he would come back strong. His playing so far has borne out this assertion, and he should have a very good year.

The fans are positive by this time that Duluth has a hard hitting team and one that is stronger in every department than the aggregation of 1910. The playing so far has been hard, clean and sharp. O'Brien has not got his pitching staff figured out as yet, and some of the present members will go. Chase is to be let out, according to the dope that has been received by the writer, and it is also probable that one of the other pitchers will get the axe. If Blancke reports in the righ kind of condition he will make a very valuable addition to the pitching staff, for that boy has a lot of stuff and also has a good bean.

But two more road games remains on the present trip, unless a double-header is played at Winona. The Sox will be idle Monday and then comes Tuesday and the grand opening on the home grounds.

After the work on the road the fans are sitting up taking notice and the talk of the town at the present sitting is the big grand opening for Tuesday afternoon.

COMMERCIALS ADOPT SCHEDULE

Pennant Fight for Fast League Will Start on June 3.

At a meeting last evening of the officials of the Commercial Baseball league a fine aggregation of teams representing the best business houses in Duluth, and a league playing very fast and clever baseball, the schedule was adopted.

The playing season will start June 3 and end on Aug. 12. Some of the very best players in the city have signed up with the various teams, and, from every indication the present season promises to be by far the most successful ever enjoyed by the league.

Following is the schedule in detail:

*June 3—Wolvins vs. B. of T.; F. A. P. & Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.; R. P. M. Co. vs. N. S. Co.

June 10—Wolvins vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.; B. of T. vs. N. S. Co.; F. A. P. & Co. vs. R. P. M. Co.

*June 17—Wolvins vs. R. P. M. Co.; M. W. Hdwe. Co. vs. B. of T.; N. S. Co. vs. F. A. P. & Co.

June 24.—Wolvins vs. F. A. P. & Co.; N. S. Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.; B. of T. vs. R. P. M. Co.

*July 1—Wolvins vs. N. S. Co.; F. A. P. & Co. vs. B. of T.; R. P. M. Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.

*July 8—Wolvins vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.; R. P. M. Co. vs. F. A. P. Co.; N. S. Co. vs. B. of T.

July 15—Wolvins vs. R. P. M. Co.; F. A. P. & Co. vs. B. of T.; N. S. Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.

*July 29—Wolvins vs. F. A. P. & Co.; M. W. Hdwe. Co. vs. B. of T.; N. S. Co. vs. R. P. M. Co.

*Aug. 5—Wolvins vs. B. of T.; N. S. Co. vs. F. A. P. & Co.; R. P. M. Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.

Aug. 12—Wolvins vs. N. S. Co.; F. A. P. & Co. vs. M. W. Hdwe. Co.; R. P. M. Co. vs. B. of T.

*Double headers.

WINONA SQUAD UNDER THE LEAGUE LIMIT.

Winona, Minn., May 20.—The Winona baseball club is now down to the limit of a manager and twelve men, which limit all clubs in the Minny league are required to reach by June 1, but the Winona team is two weeks ahead of the limit. The last man to be released from the Winona club is Joe Corrigan, who has been playing left field very acceptably. He goes to Watertown, S. D., where he will join the independent team managed by his brother. Maque Maloy is now playing in the field, taking Corrigan's place. Mique was under the weather for some time past, but has now so far recovered as to be in good trim to play.

CENTRAL WILL MEET NELSON DEWEY.

Duluth Central and the Nelson-Dewey high school baseball team of Superior, will play this afternoon. The game will be contested at Athletic park and will be called at 3 o'clock. Central will have its strongest aggregation in the field and Coach Schilling is confident of taking the game. Morry Harris will start the game in the box.

GOPHERS ARE EASY WINNERS

Minnesota University Atbletes Take Field Meet From Iowa University.

Jack Bush of Duluth Finishes First in Hal:-Mile Run.

Iowa City, Iowa, May 20.—The Iowa-Minnesota track and field meet yesterday afternoon resolved itself into a runaway match for Minnesota. With the question of winning eliminated, the interest centered in remarkable runs made against strong head winds.

The feature was Bush's flat time in the half mile and Hill's sprints into the wind. The time in the dashes and hurdles by no means indicate the character of the races. Bush is a Duluth boy.

Iowa won three firsts, Capt. Wilson taking both hurdles easily, Streeter capturing the hammer throw. Minnesota made sweeps in the mile run, shot put and discus throwing.

Joslyn ran Hill a close race in the 100-yard dash, but the other events generally lacked interest at finish. Tydeman and Brown of Minnesota attempted to tie in the mile run, but miscalculated, Brown letting his teammate win.

Bush and Bear led in the half-mile until the last 200 yards, when Anderson passed Bear.

The closest event was the hammer throw, where Streeter of Iowa defeated Grimsile of Minnesota.

100-yard dash—Hill, Minnesota, first; Joslyn, Iowa, second; Yan Strum, Minnesota, third. Time :10 1-5.

Mile run—Tydeman, Minnesota, first; Brown, Minnesota, second; Chaplin, Minnesota, third. Time, 4:44 4-5.

220-yard dash—Hill, Minnesota, first; Joslyn, Iowa, second; Berkheimer, Iowa, third. Time, :24 1-5. The runners were hampered by strong adverse winds.

High hurdles—Wilson, Iowa, first; Smith, Minnesota, second; Corf, Iowa, third. Time, :17.2.

Points: Minnesota, 23; Iowa, 13.

Half mile—Bush, Minnesota, first; Anderson, Minnesota, second; Baer, Iowa, third. Time, 2 minutes.

Hammer throw—Streeter, Iowa, first; Ganslic, Minnesota, second; Whipperman, Minnesota, third. Distance, 115 feet, 6 inches.

High jump—A. W. Peterson, Minnesota, first; Carman, Minnesota, second; Wilson, Iowa, third. Distance, 6 feet, 7 inches.

Broad jump—Lambert, Minnesota, first; Hanson, Iowa, second; Cody, Minnesota, third. Distance, 20 feet, 6 inches.

SPORTS AT THREE OF THE COLLEGES

Baseball, Rowing and Field Events Occupy Attention of the Athletes.

Princeton, N. J., May 20.—Four of the leading institutions of learning in this country will be represented in the sporting events which will take place here this afternoon. Harvard and Princeton will meet at baseball at 2:30 and at the close of the game Yale, Cornell and Princeton will battle for supremacy in a two-mile row on Carnegie lake.

It is the first time in the history of Princeton that an aquatic event of importance has been scheduled, and it is really many years since the local college has taken part in intercollegiate rowing races.

Evanston, Ill., May 20.—University of Indiana athletes will meet the Northwestern University teams on the track, field and diamond with Evanston today. Indiana holds a victory over Northwestern at baseball this season.

* * *

Chicago, May 20.—With Ira Davenport, conference champion quarter and half-miler, lost to the team, the University of Chicago track squad will meet the Purdue university team badly crippled in a dual meet today. Chicago has won six consecutive meets from Purdue.

POLICE STOP NEW YORK FIGHT

Promoter and Two Fighters Are Placed Under Arrest.

New York, May 20.—Police interference brought the National Amateur boxing tournament in Madison Square Garden to a halt last night after one bout had been decided. The police charged that the bouts were in violation of law, as tickets had been sold to non-members of the Pastime A. C., which had arranged the tournament.

A representative crowd of boxing enthusiasts had assembled in the garden to watch the bouts, in which amateur sparrers of note in England and Canada were to meet American champions in the various classes. The tournament was a two-night affair, to be concluded today with the finals. An English team of amateur champions in five classes arrived here Sunday to participate.

The first preliminary bout was in the 115-pound class between local boxers.

As soon as Referee Tim Hurst announced a decision, Police Capt. Hayes stepped forward and declared that an officer who was not a member of the club had purchased a ticket, and that the bouts were being held in violation of the law. Hurst and the two boxers were placed under arrest.

BADGERS LOSE TO ILLINOIS

Annual Track Meet Held at Champaign Close and Interesting.

Champaign, Ill., May 20.—The Illinois track team captured the dual championship in the meet yesterday by winning from Wisconsin by a score of 69 to 57. The visitors proved far stronger than expected and made almost a clean sweep on the track. Richards of Wisconsin was the individual star, annexing first in the century, 220-yard dash and quarter mile. Cleveland of Wisconsin and Bullard of Illinois fought out the prettiest race of the day in the two-mile which went to the Illinois man. Cleveland had previously won the mile after a great fight with Cope. Belling of Illinois was the star in the weight events, taking the discus and the hammer throw. The University of Illinois freshmen track team won from Knox college, 70 to 34.

FRANK S. ELLIOTT PASSES AWAY

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—Frank S. Elliott, vice president of the Philadelphia National League Baseball club, died late yesterday afternoon in a hospital, where he was taken after being stricken with cerebral hemorrhage at the end of a ball game between Philadelphia and Cincinnati last Wednesday. He was 51 years old.

COMMENTS AND OPINIONS ON THE SPORTING PARADE

The Old-Timer Delivers Some Reminiscences on the Sullivan-Kilrain Fight — Another Lemon Will Be Squeezed.

(BY BRUCE.)

BILL tilted his cigar at a rakish angle, gave the brown derby an aggressive shove, and pressed the button. It was along 'bout five bells in the afternoon, when men reminisce calmly and with logic ridin' firmly in the saddle of narrative. They may discourse more brilliantly when the lights are higher and the willing button is making a noise like some musical chime act; but often details are forgotten and exaggeration kicks several slats out of the dear old truth.

The order was taken and Bill settled back to solid comfort. He took a long and meditative puff on his long black cigar, and then let it sleep gently in a corner of his mouth.

The time seemed propitious, as the villain once remarked in the melodrama. We asked Bill the chances for a Saturday afternoon talk, and as the old man sat there, with his shrewd old eye half closed, caressing that cigar loving like, we knew the mind of the old boy was searching back into those strenuous times of the past, when Bill lived with firm hands on the reins of life, and often sped along at a clip that would make your head swim.

"There never was and there never will be a crowd like that bunch that set out from little old Noo York for the Sullivan-Kilrain fight," began Bill, and he leaned one elbow on the table and rested his grizzled head on a strong and well made hand.

"Me boy that train made history. There was 'Dooney' Harris, and Jimmy Kelly of New York. The famous Pat Sheedy was aboard, and Billy O'Brien of Noo York, one of the finest lookin' sports that I iver ever seen, was also with us. There was Dommick McCaffery, the fighter, the same who afterward helped Jim Corbett to get a reputation in New York, and little P. J. Donahue, sporting editor of one of them big Noo York dailies. There was Phil Dwyer, one of the greatest turf plungers that this old country has ever seen, and his brother, Mike. Nat Goodwin was aboard, and Billy Muldoon, the famous wrestler, the same man who has Muldoon's famous liver-restoring farm up on the Hudson, was also in the crowd. Jimmy Wakeley, a great friend of John L.'s, was on the train, and litte Charley Johnson, the man who refereed the fight, added luster and what some folks calls eclat to the gathering.

"Boy, that train traveled special from that little Manhattan island, clear through to the scene of the fight, and if I were a goin' to relate all the incidents pro and con, you would have a library of dope that would make Doc Elliott's five feet of education looking like one of Dr. Price's treatises on how to imagine you are ill.

"At Cincinnati Young Dulme and some of his college friends hopped the rattler. Old Man Dulme was in the jewelry business at Cinc, and though I don't reckon he was a spender of enthusiastic habits, if he had started out to spend all his loose change he would have had to get an adding machine.

"The kid and his friends were all lit up with diamonds. They threw prosperity at you and really wanted to be real sports. If you have ever been chased by a wild animal, or can imagine how a hungry pack of wolves look when glaring at a prospective victim, a holdin' back with impatience until the time they can sink them there glistening teeth in his hide, you may gather some long distance idea of the way the dips on that train eyed the boys with the sparklers.

"As I stated in the first chapter of this 'ere narrative, there was never such a crowd, and the chances are that never again will a like be herded together by time, Providence, or a prize fight. There was dips, which is the guys who slit your pocket or glom your sparkler, glue your roll, coax your diamond pin away and jest naturally annex your studded cuff links. They was with us, together with several brands of con men and pass boys. That fifty-seven variety layout that Old Man Heinz has with them pickles of his, had nothing on the variety of crooks and grafters that was herded together on that rattler. They wasn't on fer their health, and they wasn't there cause they was most anxious to see the fight. My boy, they was on to hook all the frumps aboard, and don't make even a mind objection when I states, solemn and serious, that they cleaned most of the sports on that train better than some of the recommended piece jobs of them Gold Dust twins.

"The pass boys is the one who is passed the money and the sparklers by the dips. They hops off the train and beats it back to Noo York with the swag. Do they divvy, you ask? Surest thing you know. If they don't, they get blowed and snuffed on some dark night. Now the thievin' business is something like organized baseball. There is the yegg men. They work together and protect themselves. Let a yegg blow once, and he is shot some time, accidentally on purpose, when a gang exchanges shots with some deputies or farmers. Now the dips—but I plum forget; I must go back to the fight train.

"They cleaned Duhme and a lot of other longhorns who should have known better. Then we telegraphed ahead and had the deaks and deputies hop aboard for a general frisk of the multitude. Here is where something good comes in. Kindly press the button, son.

"You all has heard of One-Eyed Conley. He attended every fight in the country, never paid a cent for railroad fare and never paid a cent to get into the fight. Somehow he got there, always turning up at the ringside in time for the main go.

"One-Eyed Conley had borrowed some money and maybe touched some one for some more, for his conscience was tougher than living in Oklahoma in the early days. He knew that the deaks would pinch him if they found any money on his person, so he sneaks back to the sleeper, with the help of some of the porters present, and plants his roll under a mat in the sleeping Pullman. Then he joins the throng with their hands up and is ready and cheerful-like to be frisked.

"Them deaks and their deputies went through the whole crowd, and then jumps off the train. I think this was at some station in Alabama. The minute that the deaks departed and the train started once more, One-Eyed Conley starts for the sleeper to dig up his roll. What does he see but the sleeper side-tracked down the disappearing siding, holding his last possession in the world.

"Them sports was nearly convulsed with laughter. Poor old One-Eyed Conley, with that tough face of his, and a solemn, woe begone expression on his map, walks half way through the car, stops, and turnin' to the crowd of giggling sports, says, 'Gents, gad bloime me, I weren't equal to it.'

"We pulled into New Orleans and I ducks up to the St. Charles hotel and has the clerk deposit my valuable world possessions in the safe of the hotel. There was a lot of other sports that did that, for carrying money in that crowd got on a man's nerves.

"The fight, son, was the least excitin' part of the program leastwise to me. They finally pitched the ring in a swamp, with the sun a beating down on our heads like some of the language used by the lady fight scribblers in those twenty-one days' yarn. It sure was sultry. There was a pig pen by the side of the ring and the sports made a rush for this, a climbin' on the roof. Suddenly the dam broke and down went the crowd a minglin' fraternal like with the porkers. I never was a jedge of livestock, and can't say what kind of pigs them was; but they was sure friendly like and pawed all over some of the boys afore they was pulled out of that piggery.

"History has said much about the Sullivan-Kilrain fight. There wan't much to it. The old boy from Boston stepped into the ring, lookin' like a painted picture of some gladiator. He was the finest bullet headed Irishman that I have ever seed. His skin was as white as snow and he jest looked across at Jake, as much as to say, you can't beat me, so you might as well come out and take a licking.

"It was John's fight from the first round, and Kilrain would have never have lasted so long, if he hadn't gone down lots of times when the big fellow swung at him.

"Never will there be another crowd like that. Most of them has dropped out of sight. The old crowd has gone. Never will another special be run with a crowd like that aboard, and when I thinks of the days of the past, I always thinks of that ride from Noo York to Noo Orleans, which was a case of frenzied finance on the part of them crooks, and love your roll and hide your diamonds in your shoes."

Squeezing Another Lemon.

FANS are informed by the enthusiastic press agent of Carl Morris that he is to meet one Jake Geyer in June. Here is another lemon thrown in the pugilistic path of the Morris Monster. He should win and then maybe he will have advanced to the place in the road where he will fight Kid McCoy, if a careful investigation shows the Kid has lost all traces of past greatness.

The fans don't mind so much the bringing of a man along slowly; it is the very fact that this Morris hasn't any more ability than General Coxey showed in leading his army, is what hurts.

This waiting game is getting painful. If he would fight Jim Barry or Pueblo Jim Flynn, he would be licked and be out of the way. That girl in the song was happy until she met him, and Morris will be happy until one of these days when he bumps into something thrust into a boxing glove.

Until that sweetest of all time, his progress will be careful and of a very timid nature.

Boxing Bout Postponed.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—The boxing bout between Jimmy Clabby of Milwaukee and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, scheduled for last night, was postponed until Monday night on account of hot weather.

Wiltse Suffers Injury.

New York, May 20.—Pitcher Wiltse of the Giants had the little finger of his pitching hand broken yesterday in the seventh inning of New York-Pittsburg game in stopping a liner from Clarke's bat.

ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR WESTERN COLLEGE MEET

Every Well-Known Athlete in West Will Compete at Minneapolis.

Chicago Will Have One of the Largest Teams Entered at Meet.

Entries for the eleventh annual track meet to be held by the Western Intercollegiate conference were received at the University of Minnesota this week. The meet will be held on Northrop field in Minneapolis, June 2 and 3. The entry list received contains the names of all the men who will enter the meet but their particular events will be specified on later entry blanks.

A copy of the preliminary list was mailed from Chicago to each of the colleges entering teams in order that each might look over the entries from other colleges and protest any supposed ineligible men before the date of the preliminaries. Protests had to be filed with the secretary of the conference before last Tuesday. Any protests filed will be acted upon at once and settled before the meet starts. Outside colleges have to live up to conference eligibility rules.

Contrary to expectations, Leland Stanford university will not enter a team in the conference this year. Several men were entered but injuries received in practice cut down the chances of point winning so that the entries were withdrawn before the blanks were mailed. The Leland Stanford men have always attracted an unusual amount of attention at conference meets. With the men from the University of California, they are easily picked out by their dark skins, the tan being due to long outdoor training. The University of California has entered six men. Ohio State university also withdrew its entries at the last moment.

Men well known in the Western track world are among the entries, but the list also includes local lights who have not yet gained intercollegiate prominence. The only men seen on Northrop field lately are those entered in the University of Wisconsin. These men met Minnesota in a dual meet the latter part of April and were defeated by the Gophers on their own track so that Grantt's men are not fearing the Badgers in the conference. Fast time was made in several of the events of the Wisconsin-Minnesota dual meet, but the records were bested in the Nebraska-Minnesota meet.

Of the Wisconsin point winners, Cleveland ran the most sensational race. He did the two miles in 9:53 and finished easily with a safe lead on the rest of the field. His time was within three seconds of the conference record and the time made by Baker of Oberlin, in the same event last year. Lampert won the mile in 4:38 1-5, the conference record having been made by Baker of Oberlin, last year when he ran the distance in 4:20 4-5. Rohn of Wisconsin is considered a dangerous man. He won the low hurdles in 16 flat and then took the high hurdles in 27 2-5. Sanders, Johnson and Wood are other Wisconsin men who may prove point winners.

Minnesota took on Iowa in a dual meet Friday of the past week and the results at Iowa City show just about what the Gophers have to fear from the Hawkeyes. Iowa has some exceptionally good men but the loss of Alderman in the weights will probably cut down the Hawkeye score when the tallies are finally counted.

Stagg Is Dangerous.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago track team, sent in an entry list with thirty-nine names attached. He is out to redeem the honor of the conference this year by having the winner a member of the conference and intends to have Chicago be that member. Stagg has shaken up his team and added a lot of new material and expects to be a big point winner. Several of his men won fame in track last year and others have won the C" in footbal and basket ball. His list includes Davenport, Carpenter, Donovan, Goettler, Kuh, Lawler, Menaul, Rademacher, Capt. Rogers, Savage, Sellers, Straube and Whiteside.

Eugene Quarnstrom is the best bet enered by Morningside college. Quarnstrom has run with several of the Minnesota men in the winter indoor meets held in St. Paul each February under the auspices of the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. He will probably enter the quarter as he has found that he does his best work in this event. His team mates will be Hobert, Lemon, Montgomery and Wickens.

Entries from Purdue include Richards, Hoffman, Wason, Goss, Gannon, McVaugh, Stockton, Cleveland, Roberts, Saylor and Kessler. Notre Dame expects to send Hogan, Williams, Fletcher, Wasson, Martin, Steers, Bergman, Rush, Fisher and Devine. From South Dakota Huntermer, Loackhart and Johnson are expected. With Baker of Oberlin, will come Stimson, Keyes, Kinney and Curtis. The University of California will be represented by Allen, Beeson, Wood, Hale, Gabbert and Ready.

Minnesota has entered the entire university team, but not all of the men entered will be allowed to compete. Only those who make the best showings in the dual meets this spring will be allowed to enter the events. Among the best bets for the Gophers are Capt. Stanley Hill, Ted Anderson, Vanstrum, Jack Bush, Lambert, Frank, Connolly, Stadsvold, Tydeman and Lucius Smith. These men are showing the results of the Grant system of training. Unless the Gopher men get laid up with injuries or sickness, they should pull more points in the coming conference than they have in any other.

Northrop field is slowly undergoing a change in order that it may the better accommodate the coming athletes and take care of the expected crowds. A wire fence has been raised on the stone wall in front of the grand stand in order to keep spectators from getting out on the field. The field has been completely inclosed by a wire fence and guards will be stationed at the gates to see that no men are on the field except those in actual competition or actually judging.

Two more jumping pits will be dug in the field during the coming week so that the high and broad jumps and pole vault events can be pulled off at the same time. White sand will be used to fill the pits. The hammer and discus ring will be moved back on to the baseball field, so that the hammer cannot be thrown over the fence. The baseball team will then have finished its season on the home grounds.

The track has been in good shape ever since the Nebraska meet, but it is being rolled several times a day with a 1,500-pound roller and is becoming harder with each rolling. A heavier roller may be used but it is feared that it will cause the track to wave. The management plans to have the track rolled between each event in the conference.

Admission to the meet has been fixed at the customary price of $1, in spite of the fact that the meet will cost more than those held at other colleges. The meet will start promptly at 2 o'clock and should be finished by 5 p. m. The south stand only will be used and reserved seats will be sold. The seating capacity arrangements are the same ones used during the football season.

Grant's men feel that they have a good chance to pull a big score in the coming meet and they are working hard to get in the finest possible condition. Present indications are that a large crowd will be out to back the Gophers for a victory in their own meet.

Following are the preliminary entries to the eleventh conference meet:

University of Wisconsin.

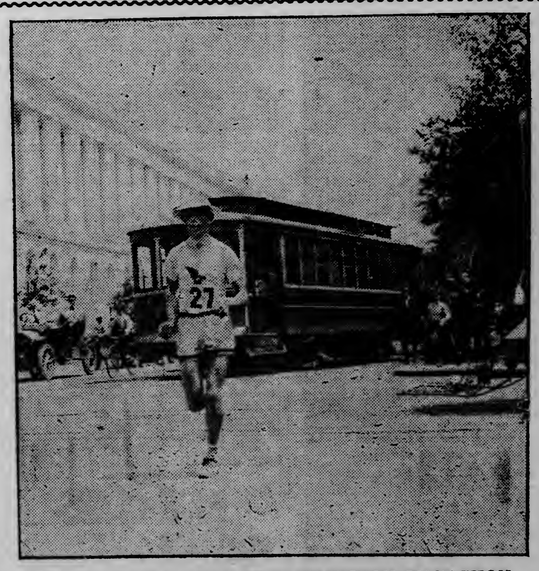
NEW SHORTSTOP PROVES A "FIND"

TOOLEY
Of Brooklyn.

Bert Tooley, the young shortstop of the Brooklyn team gives promise of developing into the greatest find of the season. He handles himself like a veteran in the field and is one of the speediest men in the league. Tooley has been doing some good stick work for the Superbas and Manager Dahlen thinks he has at last plugged up one of the gaps in his infield. Tooley played with Rochester in the Eastern league last season.

NEW STAR HAS ARISEN AMONG THE LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS



ELPHINSTONE WINNING WASHINGTON MARATHON.

The latest runner hero is H. C. Elphinstone of Baltimore. He ran twenty miles from Laurel, Md., to Washington in 2 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds in a field of thirty-eight runners. John Kelly, also of the Baltimore Cross Country club, was second. Elphinstone had it all his own way from the start.

FIRST CASS LAKE GAME.

Will Meet Deer River Nine on Diamond Sunday.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The baseball season will open on the local grounds Sunday afternoon, when the locals will meet the Deer River aggregation. The locals will line up as follows: Pitcher, Chas. Roy; catchers, J. G. Oman, Louis Roy; first base, Ed. Nason; second base, Walter Nelis; short stop, Thos. Reed; third base, John Taylor; fielders, J. F. Fennessy, Chas. Lydick, Leo La Fountain, Rod Johnson. Secretary Grady has been corresponding with several fast teams and has already booked contests with the Twin City Gophers, Long Prairie, Akeley and Walker. Negotiations are also on for a series of games with Hibbing and several other fast teams are in view for the future. C. F. Nelson and Dan Lilly of the soliciting committee in one day this week secured subscriptions to the amount of nearly $200. Several more business men are to be called on and it is expected to raise this amount to $300, which will be enough to pull the team through the season without a deficit.

JACK JOHNSON HAS NO TIME FOR SOUTH.

Jack Johnson was born and reared in Galvetson, Tex., and the way the big smoke used to be treated down there, especially around the wharves and fishing docks, satisfied him with the South for life.

After the Jeffries-Johnson Reno catastrophe there was a lot of ill-feeling between the white and black population in the towns and cities where each race had a large following. In one little town in Mississippi a negro was beaten and horsewhipped becaause he had the same name as the fellow who whipped Jeffries.

But there were so many incidents of unfairness following the Johnson victory that it would be foolish to try and recall them, says J. Alex. Sloan in the Los Angeles Times. The one thing that has always struck me forcibly was the way the situation was handled in Reno. If Jack Johnson is entitled to be classed as a smart fellow for any one thing more than another it was for the manner in which he conducted himself from the time he arrived in Reno until the hour the train took him out of there, and the most interesting story that Jack tells about himself and his experiences leading up to and during the fight, and in fact in his whole ring career, is of the feeling he experienced when he saw Jeffries slowing up and weakening, and of the yelling and how it died down into a sickening silence when finally the knockout came. Johnson doesn't very often venture to discuss the subject, because he realizes that the less that is said about it the better for his own good.

Comiskey Heads Bowlers.

Chicago, May 20.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American League Baseball club has accepted the presidency of the Chicago Bowling Tournament company, which plans holding the 1912 tournament of the American Bowling congress. Although the tournament has not officially been awarded to Chicago, it is practically certain to be held here, as Milwaukee, the only other city bidding for the annual event, withdrew its application.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

Nothing approaches in extent the interest which the coming of Sarah Bernhardt has aroused, and which will unquestionably be among the most important landmarks in the dramatic annals of Duluth.

Bernhardt has always been the subject of endless and fruitless discussion. The very restlessness of her genius, which caused her always to be in such stormy opposition to the dull classification of the Comedie Francaise, was the irresistible expression of her independent originality and modern spirit, which made her become mistress of the contemporary French drama and modern school of acting in France. To accomplish this end this always earnest woman, whose art has never hesitated to undergo any needed trial, consented to play at the outset of her career even the smallest parts, and to play in a mean theater a severe repertoire in order to master the sort of roles that were beginning to appeal to modern playgoers. Not only has she been illustrious as an exponent of the Sardou drama of passionate and criminal heroines, but she has been the supreme exemplar of the most exquisite modern poetic drama of France—that of Jean Richepin and Edmund Rostand. As manager of the Renaissance theater and other playhouses she has been in the very forefront of artistic progress. It was through her that Rostand was inspired to write "Cyrano de Bergerac" for Coquelin. Space forbids adequate analysis or summing up if Mme. Bernhardt's due claim to genuine reverence as an artist, to which the surplusage if her anecdotal and freakish reputatin somewhat blinks one at times. The actress who could so carry away with dignity her venture as Shakespeare's "Hamlet" and so embody Rostand's "L'Aiglon," is amply fitted to give the playgoers of this city what will probably be their farewell appreciation of her art and genius.

Madame Sarah Bernhardt will play Rostand's poetic drama, "L'Aiglon" at the Lyceum Monday, May 29. The seat sale opens Thursday, May 25. Mail orders with remittances are now accepted.

At the Lyceum theater next Friday and for two nights following playgoers of this city will have their first view of "Madame Sherry," the musical comedy or French vaudeville, which scored so tremendously in New York, Chicago and San Francisco and which, from all reports, reaches the perfect mark in merry and tuneful gaiety. If the merits of a production can be gauged by the many flattering reports which precede it, then "Madame Sherry" is the most satisfying offering the musical stage has given in many years. Containing a polka number, "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own," which is enough to give any musical production distinction and swing it forward to popularity and success, the impression has been often created that this bit of melody is the most important feature of the performance, but though its pleasing cadences have a habit of fixing themselves on the auditor's memory, it is really only a small part of this musical comedy. In a musical way alone, the score contains twenty-two musical numbers of the most fascinating sort, among them being: "The Love Dance," "The Dublin Rag," "The Birth of Passion," "The Mad Madrid," "The Butterfly," "I Want to Play House With You," "The Serenade"—all of which are gems in their way. Karl Hoschna wrote the music for "Madame Sherry," and it has placed him at the head of native composers. The book, by Otto Hauerbach, is of a high order, and though it comes from Paris and has a flavor of the boulevard, it is thoroughly American in its present form and is remarkable for its wholesomeness, brightness and vivacity.

But the book and music are by no means only remarkable features of "Madame Sherry." Very seldom are there so many important singing and comedy roles to be found in a single production, and the producers, Woods, Frazee and Lederer, have taken advantage of the opportunity to gather a really remarkable cast of musical comedy favorites. Oscar Figman, one of the most popular funmakers, has the role of an unsophisticated old scholar who has delved so long and earnestly into the mysteries of the past that he does not see the more interesting things that are going on about him. Tessa Kosta has the part of his niece, Yvonne Sherry, who has just come from a French convent. Her first song, "Uncle Says I Mustn't So I Wont," has been pronounced the daintiest vocal contribution to modern musical comedy. Myrna Quive, sister of Grace Van Studdiford, and formerly prima donna of "Woodland" and "The Country Girl," appears as Lulu, the teacher of aesthetic dancing and disciplines of the theory that every little movement has a meaning all its own. Lottie Kendall, who has always been in demand for roles of the Carmen type, sings and acts the part of Pepita, the temperamental Spanish girl. Cheridah Simpson is lively and unctuous as the Irish housekeeper and renders the two songs that fall to her role with the voice she made famous while prima donna of "The Red Feather." William Cameron, one of the best of the "low comedians," is funny as the French janitor and Harry Benham appears as the gay young nephew with the ready made family. Other parts are well taken by the rest of the company, and the final touch is found in the dainty feminine chorus, personally trained by George W. Lederer, and the special orchestra.

Production, costumes, scenic effects and every detail of the performance are said to denote individuality and absolute class.

Seats go on sale Monday morning at 10 a. m.

Barnum the hypnotist will continue his engagement at the Lyceum next week, giving way to "Madame Sherry."

Barnum has been entertaining the Lyceum audiences to date with his amusing stunts with hypnotized subjects. His program is changed nightly, and many have become regular patrons.

His downtown exhibitions have attracted wide-spread attention, his subjects appearing in the window of a Superior street store and doing such stunts as riding a bicycle and playing a piano for several hours at a stretch.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Spring styles in vaudeville will be shown at the Duluth Orpheum next week.

Down south in Dixie, Old Sol is getting in his work, and through the banana belt it is being found difficult to get people inside a theater. The interior of a theater in New Orleans in the latter part of May is not the most delightful place in the world, no matter how good the show, and the result is that the Orpheum circuit is following its usual custom of closing the Dixieland houses. New Orleans and Memphis are closed, and Kansas City, Des Moines, Lincoln and Sioux City will follow shortly.

The result of this is that the Northern theaters on the circuit are getting the cream of the acts on their way back from the coast. Orpheum acts are booked for a certain number of weeks and the performers draw salaries for those weeks whether they play or not. The booking offices, therefore, are sending the pick of the acts that are returning from the big coast cities to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Winnipeg and Duluth theaters, to finish out their time on the circuit in those theaters, while the smaller acts are sent East to finish their time on the "small time" circuits which are affiliated with the Orpheum.

The result of this arrangement was the exceptional show offering this week, and Manager Pierong of the local house expects the best vaudeville bills yet seen in the Duluth theater between now and the time the Duluth house closes for the summer, whenever that may be.

Heading next week's bill will be the English comedy sketch, "Motoring," presented by Harry Tate's original London Comedy company. It is a comedy skit satirizing the automobile craze. Mr. Tate has presented a series of these satires in London, on "Fishing," "Golfing," "Cricket" and other sports, but his latest offering, "Motoring," is said to be his best. It has toured the circuit this season and has been a big hit in all the Western cities. Everyone who has ever owned a car or ridden in one, it is claimed, will appreciate the sketch, and even those who have stood at the side of the road and offered suggestions to an irate owner, may find something at which to laugh. It recounts the adventures of a typical English clubman, who goes for a ride in his car with his half-witted son, "Ronald," and a chauffeur with an amazing command of the English language, but who doesn't know a magneto from an oil cup. The car breaks down on a country road, and the attempts to repair it and the suggestions offered by the passersby, including an inquisitive country boy, provide the comedy element. The sketch is said to be presented by a most capable company of English actors.

Another regular feature act will be second on the bill. It is the Charles Ahearn troupe of cycling comedians, who present what is claimed to be one of the biggest laughing hits on the entire circuit. Next week's show, in fact, promises to be an all-comedy bill. This act comes to the Orpheum circuit direct from the London Hippidrome, where it was a feature for a month. The act is said to be radically different from all other cycling acts, and no attempt is made to feature trick riding. The feature of the act is the comedy, and it is said to be full of surprises and unique comedy stunts, best of which is Mr. Ahearn's sensational race, which he calls "A Mile in 13 Seconds."

Down third on the billing comes Ben Welch, the character comedian, and one of the best known in this line of vaudeville. Mr. Welch depicts a Hebrew of the East side type, witty but rough. He then changes to the Italian laborer. Both characters are meant to be comedy types, but there is also a touch of pathos to them which is said to add color and contrast. Mr. Welch has achieved a wide reputation in this his chosen line, and his number is expected to be one of the best features of the bill.

"Just Landed" is the title of the amusing Irish skit presented by Walter Lawrence and Miss Lillian Fitzgerald. These two performers are former musical comedy stars, and "Just Landed" is a little operetta said to be filled with bright Irish humor and several catchy songs well sung. John Neff and Miss Carrie Starr, known as "The Brainstorm Comedian and the Telephone Girl," will have another team act, including singing, dancing and comedy dialogue. Mr. Neff is known as an eccentric and versatile comedian, and Miss Starr is claiming to give a most amusing impersonation of a telephone girl. She sings several songs during the act.

When a ventriloquist is billed, vaudeville audiences usually expect to see a man or a woman come out before the curtain and engage in a more or less amusing dialogue with a little dummy held in the lap. McCormack and Wallace—Hugh McCormack and Miss Grace Wallace—are ventriloquists, but not that kind of ventriloquists. They have seen the need of a novelty in their line, and have prepared a little sketch called "At the Seaside," which gives them a chance to introduce their feats of ventriloquism, and at the same time is said to be much more entertaining than the ordinary stereotyped dialogue with a dummy.

The seventh act on the bill will be presented by Russell and De Verne, two well known contortionists. They have an act that is a distinct novelty in this line, one of the performers representing a frog and the other a dragon. They have provided themselves with an elaborate stage setting for their act.

The kinodrome pictures for next week will also be the pick of the pictures furnished the curcuit, and the orchestra also will endeavor to do its share in the all-star bill with a special overture. The opening performance of the new bill will be given Sunday afternoon, and it will continue all week with a daily matinee.

MME. SARAH BERNHARDT.

AT THE EMPRESS

The show which comes to the Empresse commencing Sunday matine was brought direct from New York City to St. Paul to open the magnificent New Empress theater which was thrown open to the public last Sunday afternoon.

Heading the bill is Paul Conchas, who is claimed to be the strongest man in the world. He is a product of the German army and Kaiser Wilhelm II challenges the world to produce his equal. Great interest surrounds the coming of this modern Hercules, whose strength is typical of the men in the kaiser's army. Conchas may well be called the man who laughs at the law of gravity as he juggles anything from a paper ball to an enormous cannon. Mr Conchas comes to this country direct from continental triumphs. He has been engaged for a tour of the Sullivan and Considine circuit through their London representatives and will appear at their houses excusively.

Conchas is the unbeaten hero of a hundred contests. He may be duplicating the feats of the mythological giants, stories of whose superhuman strength have been handed down in the history, fables and traditions of various races.

Mr. Conchas is a man of modest appearance and in his street attire gives one the impression of being a successful business man. However, when he is ready for action, he appears as one of the most nearly perfect specimens of manhood ever seen. Conchas appears in the uniform of the German artillery and scattered about the stage are evidences of the German's warlike profession, such as Krupp shells, projectiles, cannon balls of enormous weight, long barreled field pieces and all the paraphernalia of an army on a hostile expedition. He is a stalwart looking, youthful chap, full chested, strong limbed and square jawed. He has the fair hair and complexion and deep blue eyes that are kindly in their expression in spite of the scenic evidences of military character. He makes a singularly handsome picture in this environment, and his aides in the uniform of petty officers and privates, complete the tableaux. The feats performed by this Hercules are highly sensational and thrilling. Standing half-way across the stage, Conchas bows his head and faces the tower of a scenic fort. There is a rumbling sound, a crash and a Krupp shell comes crashing down from the flies at terrific speed, Conchas ducks his head a bit lower and catches the shell on the back of his neck at the very base of the brain.. There is a gasp of amazement from the audience and then the shells come in quick succession, one, two, three, four, five, and on and up, until you lose your count. Everyone lands on the same spot and the spectators realize that if Conchas ever fails to duck his head so much as a hair's breadth that the Kaiser must seek another Hercules. This is the climax of Conchas' act but the world, it is claimed, has never witnessed such a feat of physical strength and endurance.

Mabel Wayne, a winsome young miss, will delight the audience with some very new popular songs. Miss Wayne plays her own accompaniment. She is said to be a beautiful artist and her personality and magnetic charm are claimed to win her audience from the start. She is a great favorite in the East and is repeating her success since she has opened on the circuit. She wears some very gorgeous costumes which will add not a little to the interest of the women folks. The following is a notice from the St. Paul Pioneer Press: "Miss Mabel Wayne, a charming young miss, just sang and played herself into the hearts of three large audiences yesterday, who voted her's as being one of the bright spots in the very good bill which was presented at the Empress yesterday."

Ben Smith, whose mission on earth seems to be to dispel gloom, comes to the Empress with a fusillade of topical tales and comic songs. Mr. Smith has been identified with many leading minstrel organizations and is known for his original creations as an endman with the burnt cork organizations. He is seen to excellent advantage in vaudeville for his humor is of the subtle and refined order which appeals to every one. All of his material is new and bears the approval stamp of the handler critics of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other cities. Mr. Smith has ingratiated himself into the hearts of all lovers of pure fun for he is claimed to be a brilliant comedian.

Another act that is highly sensational is the act of the Flying Russells, who have what is claimed to be one of the most thrilling trapeze acts before the public. These clever gymnasts are said to work with a speed that is actually marvelous and there is not a dull moment in their act. Their work consists of a lot of daring swings which are taken out over the audiences. These men were the feature aerial act with the Barnum show last season and have been booked for an exclusive tour of the Sullivan and Considine circuit.

The added feature for the week will be a clever one-act play, "The Widow and His Wife." This aclet is from the pen of Mrs. Gardner Crane, who has written some of the well known vaudeville playlets. The sketch is highly dramatic and will be presented by Florence Modena and company. Mrs. Crane's comedy is so human and full of laughs that it has won a high place in the hearts of the theatergoing public. Miss Modenna, who will be remembered as the star of several vaudeville playlets and in the support of many distinguished stars, is seen in a role that fits her personality. There is humor in every syllable of the little comedy and its unique situations cause roars of laughter it is claimed. "It is one of the most enjoyable farces in vaudeville and is superbly presented by Miss Modena and a splendid cast," says a St. Paul critic.

The moving pictures for the week will be two of the latest and best subjects obtainable. A matinee is given daily at 2:45, and evening performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved one week in advance by either telephone. A special school children's matinee is given every Saturday at 2:30. All students under 14 years of age are admitted for 5 cents. Special attention is paid to the comfort and entertainment of ladies and children at all times.

BARNUM, THE HYPNOTIST, At the Lyceum.

Orpheum Notes.

The Four Fords with a much more pretentious production than they have ever had, will be an Orpheum attraction of note for next season.

* * *

Among the principal English contributions to the Orpheum next season will be Mony Cash, the famous comic singer.

* * *

Lily Lena, the vivacious little English comedienne recently sailed for home but will be back to play the Orpheum circuit in July, and will bring with her many new gowns and hats.

* * *

Elbert Hubbard is devoting the June number of "The Fra" to his experiences on the Orpheum circuit. Fra Elbertus is a great believer in the mission of vaudeville.

* * *

On his tour of the Orpheum circuit, Dr. Wullner will have as his accompanist the celebrated pianist, Conrad V. Bos.

* * *

The big western spectacular act, "Cheyenne Days" will be a notable Orpheum attraction next season. It is the results of the efforts of the friend and protege of Col. Roosevelt, Lucille Mulhall, who is featured in the act.

* * *

"Dan Burke and his Wonder Girls will return to the Orpheum circuit after an absence of several seasons, playing "At Lake Winnipesauke."

* * *

Emma Dunn, formerly star in "Mother," will appear in "The Baby" at the Orpheum next season. The playlet was written for her by John Stokes and affords fine opportunity for this talented little actress.

* * *

The re-constructed and glorified "Pianophiends" will endeavor to make the hit along the Orpheum circuit that theey recorded a couple of seasons ago.

* * *

Cecelia Loftus will not appear again in this country until she makes her first bow to Orpheum audiences next fall. She will tour the entire circuit.

Odiva, will be a stellar attraction on the Orpheum circuit next season. She is famed as "The Queen of Samoan Pearl Divers."

* * *

Martin Beck will spend practically all of this summer in Europe. He will sail on June 8. Many European attractions will be shown for his approval.

BILL FOR WEEK OPENING SUNDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 21st
THE SECOND OF THE ALL-STAR SPRING SHOWS
MOTORING Here it is at last. The funniest comedy sketch in vaudeville. Other cities have been laughing at it all winter. You can't afford to miss it.
CHARLES AHEARN AND COMPANY The only thing you can call this act is comedy cycling, but it is a slander on the funniest acrobatic and trick cycle act in vaudeville to do so. This act is in a class by itself.
BEN WELCH This man is called the "Warfield of Vaudeville." He is the cleverest character comedian in the business.
LAWERENCE AND FITZGERALD These two musical comedy stars will present a little musical act called "Just Landed," which is charmingly clever.
NEFF AND STARR John Neff and Carrie Starr have a singing and dancing skit. They are both top-notchers in the business, and have an act that will hold its own on an yhill.
McCORMACK AND WALLACE These are two ventriloquists who have an attractive offering called "At the Seaside." It is the last word in ventriloquism, presented with all the frills.
RUSSELL AND De VERNE These two men are two of the greatest contortionists in vaudeville, one impersonating a frog and the other a dragon.
The Kinodrome and the Overture by the Orpheum Concert Orchestra will complete this second of the big spring All-Star bills.
PRICES: Matinees, 25 cents except Sundays and holidays. Nights, 15, 25, 50 and 75 cents.

Cindy make a friend and later, when on their wedding trip to the great city, they get into trouble through counterfeit money which Josh picked up, and their friend gets them out of the fix. The Edison artists usually give very natural characterizations. The parts of Josh and Cindy do require a little caricaturing, but too much would have spoiled them. They are both delightful as given here."

"Hungry Hearts" gives the story of two children who are neglected by their parents till they are hungry for love, but they find means of awakening their parents to the situation. Seized with feigned pains the little actors succeed in stirring things up pretty well before the real difficulty is diagnosed and the parents begin to apply the right remedy. The story appeals irresistably to the audience.

"Lost and Won" has an interesting background and its chief feature is an oil well in the California fields—a gusher of surprising volume. There are one or two very humorous scenes of "behind the scenes" in a moving picture studio. A poor young man loved a rich man's daughter. The rich man interferes and the poor man loses his job and goes West, where he becomes a rich oil magnate. The rich man loses his fortune and his daughter gets a job as a motion picture actress. The oil man sees her picture in a moving picture show and so they find each other again. The scenes representing actual occurrences in the oil fields, are interesting. They bring to many people, who would otherwise have no opportunity, to see an oil well in geyser-like operation, an accurate reproduction of what happens about a big gusher. The mechanical work is admirably done and the picture does not fail to attract favorable comment in the audience.

ROLLER SKATING VERY POPULAR

The infatuation of roller skating has taken hold of the people of Duluth, and all Duluthians are to be seen rinking nowadays. The new Auditorium is educating its patrons to the best there is in the skating line.

The Auditorium is not the largest rink in the world, but has a floor that makes the skater's heart leap with joy. The brilliant illumination, clear, refreshing atmosphere and absolute freedom from dust, together with perfect management, are making the Auditorium very popular among the smart set and every afternoon and evening there is a jam of automobiles in front of the rink. Starting Monday evening the session will commence at 8 p. m., lasting until 11 p. m.

Bessie McCoy has been engaged for the "Follies of 1911."

Cohan & Harris are negotiating for a theater in Chicago.

James K. Hackett was in one of the audiences that witnessed Mary Mannering's performance of "A Man's World" last week.

Olga Nethersole is playing Sister Beatrice in San Francisco.

The story "Pigs Is Pigs" is to be turned into a vaudeville sketch.

Alice Neilson has gone to Europe for her summer vacation.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is making a tour through New England.

George V. Hobart has completed a new piece called "Every Husband."

Helen Lowell has been engaged for "The Hen Pecks."

Albert Chevalier, the English comedian, is to make a Canadian tour.

One hundred and eighty stock companies will be playing this spring and summer.

The Shuberts will have an opera company headed by Joseph Shehan in St. Louis.

William Norris is to have the principal male role in the No. 1 "Madame Sherry" company.

Tetrazzini will sing next season with the Boston Opera company at $1,600 a performance.

Lillian Greenville of the Chicago Opera company has been engaged for a spring season in Paris.

Patti Rosa, who is said to be the daughter of the famous singer of that name, is playing in vaudeville.

E. S. Willard is to return to the stage to play "Brutus" in a coronation gala performance in London.

Ralph Delmore is to star in a one-act play called "In the Name of the Law." It is by Harry Spingold.

Lawrence D'Orsay is to appear next season in a revival of his famous success, "The Earl of Pawtucket."

The "Confession," which has just closed its season in New York, will begin a road tour next season.

Mme. Nordica has been invited to sing in Berlin before the German emperor. She will sing the role of Isolde.

Three thousand six hundred singers will take part in the annual American Saengerbund in Milwaukee in June.

Edwin Ardin is going to dramatize Booth Tarkington's "Conquest of Canaan" for his own use next season.

Maude Fealey is a stock star in Salt Lake City, and lately appeared there in the title role of "Glorious Betsy."

Arnold Daly is negotiating for an appearance in London, where he proposes reviving his successes among the Shaw plays.

In her new play, "Lily the Bill Topper," Marie Tempest is astonishing her friends by showing unexpected ability as a trick cyclist.

Wright Huntington is the leading man with Rose Coghlan in her tabloid version of "A Scrap of Paper," called "A Wise Widow."

Lillian Burkhart declares that she is going to the lecture platform next season for a while in behalf of "votes for women."

Mme. Hortense Scheff, who is the mother of Fritzi Scheff, is one of the best known prima donnas in Europe singing Wagnerian roles.

A newspaper play, called "Followed by Fate," was produced lately by amateurs in Boston and is likely to be seen on the professional stage.

Aphie James will produce Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's play, "Judy O'Hara," in Boston about the middle of May. The piece is a romantic comedy drama.

Charles J. Ross is writing the book of a musical comedy of which Claire Kummer will compose the score. It will be called "The Yogi Man."

Forbes Robertson has refused flattering offers for a revival in London during the coronation time of Jerome's "Passing of the Third Floor Back."

Christie MacDonald will close her season in "The Spring Maid" in the early part of June and resume in August. She will spend her vacation in Switzerland.

St. Paul will have three stock companies this summer. One will be James Neill's, with whom will be Ida Conquest, Robert Drouet, John B. Maher and Frances Adler.

The ballet of roses, which is to be the feature of Miss Hawke's children's spring carnival, will be led by Elizabeth Forney, the wonderful little toe dancer of Washington.

A rumor has been floated to the effect that Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott will be co-starred next season under the management of Klaw & Erlanger and Joseph Brooks.

The revival of "The Lights o' London" in New York by W. A. Brady, with an all-star cast, proved successful last week. Another opening in that city was the stock company of Robert T. Haines, in "Soldiers of Fortune."

Lillian Dilworth, Harry B. Kay and C. H. Acker are the principal members of the company supporting Sam Mann at Chase's closing week. Sam Mann is a brother of Louis Mann.

George Bronson-Howard's play, "The Snobs," in which Frank McIntyre is to star, has for its hero a milkman, who, by his father's marriage to an American woman, finds himself unexpectedly an heir to an English dukedom.

Lawrence D'Orsay will be numbered among the stars that will appear under the management of John Cort next season. It is Mr. Cort's intention to present Mr. D'Orsay in an elaborate revival of "The Earl of Pawtucket," the title part of which is more fitting to his peculiar style of acting than any other he has ever had. It was in this comedy by Augustus Thomas that Mr. D'Orsay first came into prominence in this country. Under the management of the late Kirke La Shelle the play was given its New York premiere at the Madison Square theater in 1903. Mr. D'Orsay starred in "The Earl of Pawtucket" for three years.

Mary Richfield, who has been playing with her husband, Thomas J. Ryan, for twenty-five years in vaudeville, is to retire from the stage at the end of their engagement at the Orpheum theater, Brooklyn. Few teams are better known to two-a-day audiences than the Ryan-Richfield combination.

In view of the demand for play censorship that is making itself heard in various sections of the country, the theatrical firm of Liebler & Company has volunteered to submit all plays produced to a jury of twelve competent judges to be selected by leading educational associations of New York city. This jury will be asked to attend the dress rehearsal of all Liebler & Company attractions, and no play will be sent out without this jury's indorsement.

Ned Wayburn has contracted with E. Roy Goetz, who wrote the lyrics for "Tillie's Nightmare" and "The Summer Widowers," to perform the same office for his new musical comedy, "Eleven Forty-Five," which will be produced before Nov. 1. Mr. Wayburn wrote the music himself.

The Messrs. Shubert and William A. Brady have determined to make an unparalleled all star revival of Gilbert and Sullivan's most famous operetta, "Pinafore," at the Casino theater beginning on May 29, and continuing for four weeks only. The cast for this production will be beyond all doubt or question the most remarkable ever organized in America, eclipsing the all star cast which appeared last season in the Shubert-Brady revival of "The Mikado." Among the stars who are already engaged for "Pinafore" are Fritzi Scheff, De Wolf Hopper, Marie Cahill, James T. Powers and Vida Whitmore. Mr. Hopper and Miss Cahill are to be included in the company through the courtesy of Daniel V. Arthur. Other stars of equal note will be announced for the other principal roles as soon as arrangements can be concluded.

Mort H. Singer, Chicago's producer of musical comedy, on May 30 at the Princess theater will make his spring production of "The Heart Breakers," by Will M. Hough and Frank R. Adams. The music is by Harold Orlob and Melville Gideon.

The Princess manager has engaged an all-star cast for the forthcoming production. It is headed by Sallie Fisher. The leading man of the company will be George Damerle. Other players will be James H. Bradbury, Anna Wheaton, Will Phillips, Harry Pilcer, Johnny Fogarty and Robert Wilson. Mr. Singer has engaged Ned Wayburn to stage "The Heart Breakers."

Harrison Grey Fiske has completed arrangements for a brief tour by Mrs. Fiske in "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" to the Pacific coast the coming summer. She will visit Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and a few other cities. The trip will cover nine weeks.

At Poll's theater, Waterbury, Thursday night, preliminary to its engagement at the Hollis Street theater, Boston, "Judy O'Hara," a play by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, was given its first stage performance. Aphie James is the star and S. T. King the producer.

In the cast are Paul McAllister, Ann Warrington, Julia Hanchett, Frank Dekum, Lynn Pratt, Frank Currier, Frank Kilday, Henry Douglass, Alfred Moore, Isabelle Lee and Gerome Edwards.

Maurice Levi signed contracts to compose music for two new musical productions. One of them is Ziegfeld's "Follies of 1911," the other a new musical play which Joe Weber is to present in the fall.

The cast of "Sarrona," Legrand Howland's American opera, which was produced at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Thursday night for the first time in English, includes Marie Rappold, Effie Stewart, Frank Pollock, Jerome P. Uhl and Remy Marsono.

For J. E. Dodson's starring tour next season Cohan & Harris have obtained a new play by J. Hartley Manners, at present entitled "Gauntlet's Pride."

George McManus, creator of "The Newlyweds and Their Baby" and "Let George Do It" cartoons, will go in vaudeville next season. McManus will do cartoon work and his wife will appear with him in the act, playing the piano and singing several songs. They will open in St. Louis about the middle of July.

E. Sorrentino, the Italian bandmaster, who arrived in New York to make preparations for his summer tour in America, under the direction of Howard Pew, has written a new opera called "Lena," which he will produce in this country after his summer engagements. Sorrentino says that the leading composers and directors abroad have only the highest praise for his work. The management of the San Carlo Opera company of Naples asked that Sorrentino produce the opera in Italy, but he refused. Sorrentino is very much in demand. In his own country the directors of the exposition which is to be held in Rome made insistent efforts to have Sorrentino play at the exposition, but on account of previous contracts which called for his appearance here he was compelled to decline. The tour of Sorrentino and his Banda Rosa in this country starts within a few weeks. He will carry a band of fifty pieces and will tour the West.

F. Ziegfeld, Jr., has begun making engagements for "Follies of 1911." The first name of importance to be placed on the list was that of Bessie McCoy, last season the star of "The Echo."

Ziegfeld arranged for Miss McCoy's services through Charles Dillingham, to whom she is under contract for a term of years. After the expiration of the special "Follies" engagement, she will reappear under Dillingham's management in a new musical piece from the pen of William Le Baron.

A character was written into "Follies of 1911" especially for Miss McCoy, and she will take part in several singing and dancing numbers.

Other engagements made by Ziegfeld for the Jardin de Paris show this summer include those of Leon Errol and Brown and Bleyler. Errol heretofore has been identified with burlesque entertainment. This season he has been the principal comedian of the Jersey Lilies. Brown and Bleyler are comparatively newcomers in the Eastern vaudeville field.

"The Girl in the Grand Stand," which had a short life upon its presentation near Chicago, two seasons ago, may be purchased by Harry Frazee, rewritten, renamed and given a competent cast for an Eastern production next fall.

The Hudson theater will be one of the last of the regular playhouses to close for the season. The run of Blanche Bates in "Nobody's Widow" will come to an end there on May 20, but on the following Monday "The Country Boy" will replace it for a limited engagement. The cast will be the same as that seen at the Liberty theater.

The brunt of the stage producing of A. H. Woods' new attractions in the fall will rest upon the shoulders of George Marion. Mr. Marion will sail for Europe in a few days. He returns in time to take up his duties with the Woods enterprise on July 31.

Viola Allen's starring piece, "The White Sister," is one of the newest of big plays to be turned over for stock use this summer.

Charles Frohman, who has secured the English rights to "The Concert" from David Belasco, has abandoned his intention to produce the piece in London this spring.

He will present it in the English metropolis in the fall, on the promise of a loan of the author and star (Leo Ditrichstein) from Mr. Belasco for the English engagement.

EVERY HUMAN BEING HAS A HALO

LONDON DOCTOR SAYS HE CAN DEMONSTRATE IT IN SCIENTIFIC MANNER — VARIES IN SIZE AND DISTINCTNESS ACCORDING TO STATE OF HEALTH.

A London doctor says he can demonstrate in a scientific manner that every human being has a halo. It varies in size and distinctness according to the state of health, makes pain visible and enables the expert to distinguish between intelligent and dull individualities. This is Dr. W. J. Kilner.

For centuries occultists, spiritualists and other students of the supernatural have declared that the human body while alive is closely surrounded by and as if were, encased in an "atmosphere," or as they term it, an "aura," in other words a sort of halo which they said was distinctly visible to certain people though invisible to the great majority of mankind. Dr. Kilner now declares that he has settled the matter on strictly scientific lines.

He has made an apparatus which consists of a number of what he calls spectauranine glass screens, each about four inches in length and inch and a half wide. Each screen is made of two plates of very thin glass, between which hermetically sealed in, is a fluid. The screens vary in color. Some are red, others are blue, varying in depth of color to suit the eyes of the investigator.

A Reporter's Experience.

A London Express reporter gives the following account of his own experience under the direction of Dr. Felkin, a specialist who has taken a deep interest in the investigations. In a small room was the subject of the experiments, a well made woman of medium height and apparently in good health. Dr. Felkin first of all told her exactly the nature of the experiments he was about to make. Then having instructed the reporter to look steadily at the daylight through one of the spectauranine screens and having placed the woman about a foot away from a dead, dark background facing the only window in the room, he proceeded to draw a dark blind half way down this window. From below he drew up a blind of dark serge until it overlapped the upper blind sufficiently to allow light so dim to filter into the room that only the white form of the subject's body could be discerned in the gloom.

"Now, turn round," said Dr. Felkin, "and tell me what you see, or if you see anything at all, for there are perhaps four or five persons out of every hundred who, through some inherent defect in the eyesight are physically unable to perceive the 'aura.'"

Double Mist Visible.

For some moments, perhaps a quarter of a minute, the only object that could be made out in the darkness was the subject's form and its outline. Then gradually, as the eyes grew accustomed to the darkness, a sort of double mist or halo, the one within the other and the inner one denser than the outer, became more and more distinctly visible.

The outlines of this mist exactly followed the curves and the contour of the subject's body. The color of the outer aura seemed to be a blue gray, that of the inner aura was darker, also apparently, the inner aura was denser. In the triangular space formed by the sides of the body and the angle of the arms, as the subject remained with her hands resting lightly on her hips, the halo could be seen most clearly.

Presently, acting upon Dr. Felkin's instructions, the subject raised and extended first one arm, then the other. Then she joined her hands at the back of her neck. And always the mist of aura followed, as though it were itself an outline of some sort of shadow of the limbs.

Dr. Felkin's next experiment was to make hypnotic passes in the direction of the patient, first from one side, then from the other, while finally he stood beside her and raising his arm vertically bent over his hand, allowing his partly extended fingers to point down directly at the crown of her head. Every time these passes were made a fine streak of indescribable hue seemed to shoot out from the tip of each finger straight toward the subject.

Makes Pain Visible.

The reporter seems to have been at least as successful a subject as the woman. His experience prompted him to inquire into the practical use of the discovery.

He was informed that it practically made pain visible. The aura, he was told, varies in shape and density, in breadth and in shape, according to the patient's health. An acute and lasting pain, such as sciatica, is rendered visible by the length to which the aura of a particular shade and density extends along the limb in which the pain is felt. The aura of a patient suffering from hysteria differs entirely in the outline from that of one suffering from epilepsy.

Auras or haloes of quick and intelligent children are more extensive than those of the dull and phlegmatic. The same thing applies to adults. The finest haloes envelop the most intelligent. It is most noticeable around the head and more marked among men than are among women. The woman's halo is more variable.

THEN THE BUBBLES BURST

Mobile, Alabama, Was to Have Been the Capital of an Empire Had the Mississippi Scheme Succeeded—The South Sea Company.

Mobile, Ala., May 20.—The city of Mobile will celebrate its 200th birthday anniversary May 26. The celebration really is three months late, for it was Feb. 26, 1871, when a little colony of Frenchmen, who had shivered and starved and bickered among themselves for nine years in a miserable fort up the Mobile river at Twenty-seven Mile Bluff, moved down to the bay and founded a settlement on the site of the present city of Mobile.

Mobile was chosen by John Law, the French financier who promoted th Mississippi Bubble, to be the capital of the New France which he hoped to set up in the Mississippi valley. Before the settlement had advanced beyond the town stage, the bubble burst.

Five flags have flown over Mobile—the flag of France, that of Spain, the British Union Jack, the Stars and Stripes and the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy.

Business men of this city predict a great future for Mobile as a shipping port and coaling center when the Panama canal is completed in 1915.

If the promoters of today, struggling with a heartless federal government which refuses to allow them to sell imaginary town lots in salt marshes by mail, ever stop to read about the "good old days" of the Mississippi Bubble and the South Sea Bubble, the accounts must bring tears to their eyes, accompanied by a sad conviction that they were born out of their time. According to the chroniclers, an enterprising promoter could have sold snowshoes for use in Hades and gotten away with it in the early part of the Eighteenth century.

Today the man who is eager to let you in on the ground floor is satisfied if the central government will only keep hands off and allow him to sell stock in his imaginary enterprises to the general public. But it wasn't that way in 1711. When good Queen Anne and merry King George I, who spoke no English and spent most of his time drinking beer and eating "weenies," ruled in England, a man wasn't recognized as a really successful promoter until he got the government to fall for his game and buy a big block of stock. Then it was dead easy to sell it to the public, for the enterprise had the stamp of the government's approval.

The Mississippi Bubble was engineered by a Scotchman in France named John Law. He owned, or rather managed, a bank in Paris. Law had a theory—or at least so he told the authorities in France—that most of the Mississippi valley, known as Louisiana, was underlaid with gold and that it was only necessary to go over with a pick and shovel and pry it out of the earth in chunks. In fact, in some places the gold lay around loose on the surface of the ground. He proposed that a company should be organized to develop the country, and with the enormous proceeds which would be sure to accrue, the French treasury, always in need of money, should be replenished.

This proposition looked good to the duke of Orleans, regent of France, who was beginning to wonder where the credit was coming from with which to procure oats for the royal horses and nightingales' tongues for the royal table. The company was formed, and the prospectuses Law issued put Baron Munchausen back in the primer class. Annual dividends of 120 per cent were promised. Everybody wanted to buy stock in the wonderful company. Peer and peasant, duchess and washwoman jostled each other in the crowd around Law's house that came to buy Mississippi stock.

The prices paid for the stock were fabulous. Paris was crowded with would-be investors. For a year, beginning in 1719, the wildest speculation continued. A few of the wiser financiers, seeing the panic that was bound to follow, began to reduce their property to gold and silver and get out of the country with it.

Government edicts were issued, forbidding the hoarding up of gold and silver and the taking of it out of the country. In May, 1720, an edict reduced the value of Mississippi stock by half. In July came the final crash. Law, who was comptroller general of France, fled from the country and wandered over the continent for nine years, making his living by gambling. He died in 1729.

It might have been supposed that England, having an opportunity to see so fine an object lesson right across the channel, at least would have waited a few years before running its head into the same noose. However, England didn't wait.

The South Sea company had been founded in 1711 for the purpose, as stated in its charter, of trading with the South Sea islands. The charter only referred in a very general way to what it was expected the South Seas would have to offer—in fact, nobody knew just all the fine things than the South Sea company was going to do. Its directors, however, seem to have figured out a very effective way of extracting money from the populace.

The South Sea company, however, was a very respectable corporation, as corporations went in those days, for the first eight years or so of its existence. Its capital was $50,000,000, later increased to $60,000,000, and the interest paid by the government upon the stock amounted to about $3,000,000 annually, which assured dividends whether the South Sea trade amounted to much or not.

Then control of the company was acquired by one John Blunt. Lots of hard things were said about Blunt afterwards, but it is certain that he was by no means dull.

The British government was hunting for a way to reduce its national debt. Blunt proposed that the South Sea company should purchase the debt from the persons by whom it was held, giving in exchange its own stock, which was to be issued by authority of parliament. In 1720 an act was passed authorizing the company to take over by purchase or subscription the entire national debt, amounting to more than $150,000,000.

Most of the British nation then seems to have fallen over itself to get to London to buy South Sea stock. The price of the stock rose to 200 per cent, then to 400 and 500, and at last it reached 1,000, at which price it was eagerly bought and reluctantly sold.

A perfect frenzy for speculation swept over England. It was only necessary to open an office and have stock certificates printed to sell them at advanced prices. From morning to night Change Alley in London was a human whirlpool, filled with men and women of every station in life buying and selling securities of all sorts.

Any sort of pretense was enough to get the public's money. One company was organized to make salt water fresh; another was to boom a wheel for perpetual motion. One man whose "crust" alone compels admiration announced "a company for carrying on an undertaking of great advantage, but nobody to know what it is." It was of great advantage, all right; the promoter made $10,000 in one day and disappeared.

Another man announced a company which was going to make a fortune by commercializing an invention for mixing sawdust and chips and casting them into "clean deal boards without cracks or knots."

The South Sea company finally became indignant because so much easy money was getting away from it, and had the government bring legal action against many of these concerns. The result was that not only did the subsidiary bubbles disappear into thin air and their promoters to parts unknown, but the stock of the South Sea bubble itself fell from 1,000 to 150. Thousands of families were ruined financially. The company had been managed with the greatest irregularity, and a parliamentary investigation resulted in the punishment of many of its directors.

There have been bunco games of all sorts since that time, but nothing that ever approached in magnitude the Mississippi and the South Sea bubbles.

FUTURE OF THE COLORADO IS NOT YET DETERMINED

Ore Body on 1,700-Foot Level Is to Be Uncovered.

Butte & Superior's Shipment of Contentrates in April Very Large.

Butte, Mont., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the report of W. H. Wiley of Los Angeles, the expert who was sent here to examine and report on the conditions of the Colorado mine of the Davis Daly company, has been submitted and carefully gone over by the directors, there is apparently some uncertainty as to the future of the mine. It was stated just previous to the employment of Mr. Wiley that the future of the Colorado would be determined after the report had been received, but there yet remains doubt as to whether it will prove profitable to make any shipments—in other words the directors must be satisfied that there is sufficient ore available of a high grade before any will be hoisted and sent to the concentrator. M. W. Bacon, general manager of the Davis Daly company, on his return from the directors' meeting, ordered that some extra men be put to work on development work to carry out the recommendations of Mr. Wiley as to the uncovering of the ore body on the 1,700-foot level. Mr. Bacon says that the samples of ore taken from the 1,700-foot level average 10 per cent and that the only question to be determined is the amount which can be taken out. Mr. Bacon is quite confident that in the course of a few months the development work will be such as to convince the directors that it is advisable to start shipping. Of course it is realized that at the present condition of the copper market there is not any great amount of money in forcing shipments. Mr. Bacon reports that Mr. Heinze is a very busy man in connection with his Porcupine interests, but that he expects to be able to spare time in June to come to this city and look over the Davis Daly property. Until the directors decide that it would be a paying proposition to ship ore the connection with the tramway constructed from the Colorado mine to the railway track to facilitate the shipment of ore to the Basin concentrator will not be made.

In his report Mr. Wiley expressed approval of the line of development which thus far has been carried on, although he declares that the value of ore in sight has not been in proportion to what might have been expected from the amount of development work accomplished. He says that one of the features of the district is that the Davis Daly veins run north and south, whereas the other Butte veins run east and west.

Butte & Superior.

The Butte & Superior company, according to the statement of Manager R. M. Atwater, is now clear of debt through the money received from the sale of bonds. The company is adding to its treasury every month from the excellent returns received from the ore shipments, and in the not distant future the question of the erection of a concentrator will be definitely decided. At the present time the company has a contract with the Basin Reduction Works company for the treatment of the ore, but the mill is operated by the Butte & Superior company and all the new machinery which has been added and which may be added in the future under the contract can be removed at any time. Only recently the Butte & Superior company put in some more modern equipment and made some improvements, looking to a reduction in cost. Mr. Atwater says that April was a record breaker in the shipment of concentrates, which exceeded 3,000 tons, and that the present month will be even greater. The company is shipping 400 tons of ore daily and employing 325 men.

Searching for Gold.

The dredging ground in California is getting largely worked out, and capitalists of that state and Washington are invading Montana in search of gold. The Magpie Development company, owned and controlled by men from those two states, has secured some 400 acres of land, beginning at the shore of Lake Sewell and extending up to the head of Magpie gulch, through the old Thomas Cooney ranch, a half mile north of Canyon Ferry. A dredge has been put to work which is capable of taking up 120,000 cubic yards a month. It is the second largest ever operated in this state and cost $150,000. That those at the head of the company mean to do an extensive summer's work may be gathered from the fact that it is being run night and day by three shifts of men working eight hours each.

Butte Central.

The Ophir mine of the Butte Central Copper company is getting down towards the 900-foot mark. A pumping station is being built on the 800-foot level and just as soon as everything is in working order the work of completing the shaft to the depth of 1,000 feet will be pushed along. It is expected this point will be reached early in July if no delays are encountered and then drifting will be commenced with a view of ascertaining the ore conditions at depth. Consulting Engineer W. L. Credon is very sanguine of encountering some high grade ore.

The Output of the Mines.

The indications are, from the ore now being hoisted and the mines in operation, that the production for this month will not vary much from that of last month when the output was 400,000 pounds less than in March. It is the intention of the Anaconda company to maintain the production around the April figures for some months to come, or until the market conditions warrant an increase in production. The St Lawrence mine, closed down since last fall, is now running, but it will be several months yet before the retimbering of the Anaconda mine is completed and ready to be put in commission. The High Ore has not been in operation since the fire and there is no telling when it will be running again, as the locality in and around the scene of the fire is still bulkheaded and no effort is being made to get the property ready for starting up. This is due to the fact that there is really no necessity, as all the ore required is being hoisted from the other mines. The Diamond will go down in a short time to admit of being equipped with the new compressed air plant operated by electricity, but before it is shut down all ordinary possibility of the Mountain View being put out of commission through the new plant of not working satisfactory will have to disappear. All the mines of the Boston & Montana company are working up to the capacity which has been maintained for the past six months or more. This month the Tuolumne company will show a production of about 600,000 pounds, which will be an increase of about 100,000 pounds over several previous months. The North Butte company will not show any perceptible increase and the production of the past several months of about 2,000,000 pounds is expected to be maintained.

Stewart.

In a statement issued to comply with the law, Manager Bacon of the Heinze interests, states that the indebtedness on the Stewart mine has been reduced to $50,000. It is stated that the company is shipping 450 tons of second grade ore daily to the mill, and 600 tons of crude ore monthly direct to the smelter. The crue ore runs forty ounces in silver and 40 per cent lead, while the concentrates are said to average thirty ounces in silver and 50 per cent lead. After June 1 it is claimed that the company will be in a position to put away all its earnings and that in the next few months a dividend may be looked for.

Tuolumne.

The development work on the 1,600-foot level of the Tuolumne mine continues to show high-grade ore. The north cross-cut on that level has intersected the vein for about twenty feet and it is expected that the south cross-cut will meet the south ledge in the course of a few days. The north ledge was opened from the hanging wall side and the footwall has not been reached so that the width of the vein cannot yet be stated. The ore on the 1,600-foot level exceeds in value that found on the 1,400-foot level and the ore is more compact. It is largely copper glance and averages 12 per cent. This is another evidence that the Butte properties are rich at depth. A great deal is expected from the south ledge owing to the fact that development on the 1,400-foot level uncovered some very high grade ore and it is from this level that the company has been shipping its high-grade ore for several months. The shaft sinking is getting along most satisfactory. The station has been cut on the 1,800-foot level and now the miners are making good headway toward the 2,000-foot mark. A station will be cut at that point and the shaft sunk nearly another one hundred feet to provide a sump.

North Butte.

Little is given out concerning the work in the North Butte mine, but it is learned that a station has been cut on the 2,800-foot level which was reached a few weeks ago and that the shaft is down nearly another 100 feet, which is to provide a sump. Drifting on the 2,800-foot level has been started, but so far as can be learned nothing out of the ordinary has yet been encountered. The ore now going to the Washoe smelter from the mine is running about 7 per cent copper, but care is being taken not to ship more than sufficient ore to turn out about 2,000,000 pounds a month. A prominent mining man who is quite familiar with the condition of the property says that the North Butte could easily double its capacity, were the market conditions anyway satisfactory.

East Butte.

The improvements going on at the East Butte smelter are making rapid progress and it is expected that another month will complete a number of the changes announced some time ago. W. A. Paine of Boston, who is president of the East Butte company, is expected in the city some time next month to make an examination of the property.

APPROACHING THE PRODUCING PERIOD

Alpha Workings of the Giroux Will Soon Be Reached.

Recent reports state that the drift on the 1,200-foot level of the Giroux shaft is going forward at the rate of five feet a day. The drift has about 150 feet yet to go before connecting with the workings of the Alpha. On the 1,400-foot level better progress is being made, as the face of the drift is still in hard rock. This drift was advanced sixty-five feet last week, and the drift has yet 450 feet to go before it reaches a point opposite the bottom of the Old Alpha shaft, which was never sunk below the 1,200-foot level. The Giroux company has still further reduced its working force during the past week. No more shifts have been taken off entirely but men have been dropped from the crews wherever it was possible to do so.

It is stated that the International Smelting company plans the extension of its Tooele railroad to Grantsville, where connection will be made with the Western Pacific.

Giroux is rapidly nearing the production stage through the opening up of the Alpha ore body from its big shaft on the 1,000, 1,200 and 1,400-foot levels and the opinion prevails that the building of the above extension forecasts the shipment of Giroux ores via the Western Pacific to the International Smelting plant at Tooele, Utah.

Work is being continued on the 1,000, 1,200 and 1,400-foot levels. Better time is now being made in the face of the 1,200-foot cross-cut, which has been progressing slowly, and under many difficulties. The ground is becoming harder, and it is thought that the water course has about been passed. If this proves correct the old workings of the Alpha will be reached in two or three weeks.

The cross-cut on the 1,400 is now in 230 feet, and progressing rapidly. A sinker pump is being assembled in the pumping station on that level, and the bulkhead will soon be completed. The large bailers, capable of handling 3,000 gallons of water per minute have arrived and are now ready for use in case some unforseen accident happens to the pumping plant. These bailers will almost double the amount of water lifted by the two pumps on the 1,200 level.

The Giroux property is now rapidly approaching the producing period, as the Alpha workings will soon be reached, and when the splendid ore bodies known to exist on the 1,200 level are opened for shipment, there is bound to be an improvement in the price of the stock. It is known by those familiar with the property that 150 feet of development work was done on the 1,200 level before the Alpha shaft caved in, and that every inch of it was in ore of a high grade. It is also known that a considerable amount of diamond drilling was done from the 1,000 foot level.

ARIZONA LEADS IN COPPER OUTPUT

Official Figures as Given Out By the Producing Companies.

The Engineering and Mining Journal presents revised statistics of the production of copper in 1910, being a compilation of reports communicated officially by all the producers. The report shows that Arizona slightly leads Montana in the production of copper, as it did also in 1909. The pounds of copper produced were as follows in 1910: Arizona, 299,606,971; Montana, 286,242,403; Michigan, 221,400,864; Utah, 125,042,381; Nevada, 63,877,500; California, 45,793,894; total for United States, 1,086,849,583. The total of the United States for 1909 was 1,105,336,326. Arizona made a gain of 7,000,000 pounds in production over 1909, while Montana fell off 27,000,000 pounds. California and Michigan also fell off, while Nevada and Utah gained.

The total production of Canada was, in 1910, 52,452,282; Mexico, 137,797,222; Cuba, 7,799,764. Total for North America 1,284,339,246, as compared with 1,285,810,677 in 1909.

COMBINE IS CERTAINTY

Little Doubt of Calumet & Hecla Consolidation Being Effected.

Ojibway Getting Better Results in Way of Copper Ground.

Houghton, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Calumet & Hecla Mining company and the several so-called subsidiary companies have, with the exception of the Laurium Mining company, voted favorably on the question of consolidation as proposed by the parent company, and are now waiting the final action of the circuit court for the Eastern district of Michigan before voting the stock of the Laurium company and proceeding further with the proposition submitted to and indorsed by the stockholders of the several companies involved. The Laurium meeting of stockholders has been called for July 11, when the vote of these stockholders will be taken, should a favorable decision from the court be had by that time. The Laurium vote in this event will be favorable to consolidation. There is at this time little doubt of the success of the consolidation program, despite action that has been taken in several courts to prevent the consolidation on the bases proposed.

Contact.

The Contact Copper company has been forced to a suspension of exploratory work, due to the loss of the diamond drill outfit by fire. The outfit will be replaced. At the time work was suspended, two drill holes had been put down to sandstone, the limit beyond which no mineralized ground is presumed to exist, two holes failed to get through the overburden which like a thick blanket covers the greater part of the company's known mineral area, and the fifth hole was down 1,200 feet in interesting ground, thus far without important developments. The No. 5 hole is sinking in the horizon of the Baltic lode, and just east of the east line of the old Elm River tract now under control of Contact.

Franklin.

The Franklin Mining company is pushing development work in the Pewabic No. 1 shaft, equipping the shaft with a new high-duty hoist, and preparing the way for a greater rock output generally. The shaft has reached the thirty-second level. The character of the ground opened tributary to this shaft has improved materially with depth. In several levels, particularly the twenty-third and twenty-seventh, the showing is exceptionally good, and in the south drifts generally and below the twentieth level the average is far above comparison with the ground opened in the upper levels in the past. The No. 3 shaft opened on this lode nearer the south boundary line remains bottomed at the sixteenth level. No great amount of work has been done here aside from shaft sinking, and in consequence little can be known of the possibilities at this end. The shaft must be provided with better hoisting facilities before much work can be done. A long drift at the fifteenth level connects both shafts, and a second connection will be made at the twenty-third by drift and upraise. The twenty-third level drift is driving through some excellent ground in its progress towards this point on the property.

Ojibway.

The Ojibway Mining company is getting better results in the way of copper ground in the territory tributary to No. 2, or south shaft which has all along shown little encouragement. The cross-cut at the 1,500-level in this shaft recently entered copper ground that bears every indication of permanency. In the upper levels conditions are not so good and improvement is slow in the drifts. Probably half of the developed area is without value in this particular shaft. In the No. 1, or north shaft the conditions are entirely changed and practically all openings here are in commercial ground, a considerable proportion of which is remarkably rich. Copper ground is in evidence here from grass roots to bottom, 1,500 feet down, and from end to end in the several drifts now out from this shaft. The laterals are spaced 150 feet apart.

Adventure.

The Adventure Consolidated Mining company is centering all activity in the shaft now sinking, and will soon have gained the desired depth at which cross-cuts will be run across the formation to intersect the several so-called Adventure lodes. This work is planned at 1,500 feet depth. The shaft is down around 1,350 feet, and sinking at rate of about fifty feet monthly. Kimberley skips have been installed in the shaft to facilitate the handling of dirt. The present hoist is good for about 1,500 feet and adequate capacity for all work planned above this depth which is expected to demonstrate the value of this territory. For deep mining the hoist must eventually be replaced by one of far greater capacity.

Laurium.

The Laurium Mining company, operating next north of the La Salle, is centering its energy in the development of the Kearsage lode. There is nothing exceptional in the showings had to date, the ground here being little different from that of its neighbors, La Salle on the south and Calumet & Hecla Kearsarge Branch to the north. The lode is variable and it is narrow, but apparently carries sufficient copper to make it entirely workable at a profit. It has been opened to a depth of 1,400 feet through one shaft. This shaft is equipped with the usual type of development machinery, and a wooden shaft rockhouse adequate for all purposes for many years to come. There has been more or less unofficial talk of a second shaft, but there is little likelihood that another shaft will be sunk until some of the problems confronting the parent company have been satisfactorily settled. There is moreover no immediate need of it.

Hancock.

The Hancock company is maintaining rock shipments around 250 tons daily. Production at this time is more in the nature of a clean-up than for any other purpose, and preferable to stocking on surface with its added expense of rehandling later when production for production is the order. The necessity for hoisting is made imperative by the lack of storage room underground, many of the drifts already being impassible and congested by the material broken down in the extension of the drifts. The main haulage levels, the thirteenth and eighteenth, are entirely clear and equipped with electric motors for the transportation of rock from the openings to the big vertical shaft. The clean-up extends from the eleventh to eighteenth level. The shaft is temporarily bottomed at a depth of 2,775 feet.

Warning to Railroad Men.

E. S. Bacon, 11 Bast street, Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." FOUR DRILLS ARE AT WORK

Exploring for Iron in Western Portion of Marquette County.

Diamond Drills Are Also Being Operated in Menominee County.

Exploratory work in which a great deal of interest is taken, has been started by the United States Steel corporation in the western portion of Marquette county, Mich. A large tract east of the Michigamme river and close to the Dickinson line is to be tested. The land is owned by the Michigan Land & Iron company, an English corporation, the mineral rights of which are under option to the Steel company. The exploring is to be by diamond drilling and already four drills are in commission. Cole & McDonald are doing the work under direction of the geological department of the Steel corporation.

The land being tested is some eight miles south of Republic, Marquette range. It has long been considered probable that there is a southerly continuation of ore measures running from the Republic district to a junction with the Menominee range, and that for much of the way these would be found in or adjacent to the Michigamme valley. There is a heavy drift overburden above the rock ledge, however, and because the country is a difficult and an expensive one to explore it has received very little attention in the past. The ore will be located in time, and mines will be opened. For that reason there is much general interest in the operations now instituted.

Exploring in Menominee.

Other important exploratory work recently undertaken is in progress north of Hermansville, in Menominee county, Mich. The operating concern in this instance is the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. While no mines have ever been opened in Menominee county it is geological opinion that the Menominee iron range extends into that territory, if it does not even cross it and penetrate Delta county. The most easterly property ever developed on the Menominee range was the Emmet. This was at Nadeau, in Dickinson county, and close to the Menominee county line. The Emmet was opened in 1873 and was closed in 1881. It produced a silicious Bessemer ore carrying 49 to 55 per cent in metallic iron. The product was not one that commanded ready sale in those days when high grade ores chiefly were sought and the mine fell by the wayside after shipping some 70,000 tons all told.

The Cleveland Cliffs company has quietly been investigating the possibilities of the Eastern Menominee field for some time past, and the operations now under way are the result. The work is being done by diamond drill under contract with Cole & McDonald. The Cleveland Cliffs company has had eminent success in exploratory operations on the Marquette range the past decade, having made very important discoveries both in the Swanzy country and in the territory westerly of Ishpeming, and for that reason and because the present work has been advised by its geologists and engineers there are expectations of significant results in Northern Menominee county. Exploring with a diamond drill has recently been conducted in Bay de Noc township, Delta county, but without success. Delta county men were interested in the venture. The Bay de Noc peninsula is remote both from the Menominee and the Marquette ranges and mining men would have been greatly surprised had a merchantable deposit been located.

Operations Suspended.

Because of the present unsatisfactory state of the ore market, Pickands, Mather & Co., have decided to suspend mining operations at their Baltic and Caspian properties, in the Iron River district of the Menominee range. The mines doubtless will be idle a number of months, although it is the understanding the ore in stock will be shipped this summer. The Baltic and Caspian are the largest properties in the field and naturally the decision of the operators has caused a feeling of gloom in the community. Each mine shipped 171,000 tons of ore last year. However, while these two properties are to cease work, practically all the married men are to be retained on the company's payroll. This is to be accomplished by restoring the Fogarty mine to the active list. The Fogarty has been out of commission nearly a year. It is a new mine, as yet only partially developed, and it is planned to open it thoroughly. The Baltic and Caspian will be kept free of water and the office force will be maintained intact. A new mining town about to spring up in the Iron River country will occupy a site about one-half a mile from the Rogers mine. Land for the purpose has been acquired by the Rogers-Brown company, which is developing the Rogers, and the tract is now being platted.

The Republic Iron & Steel company's Hartford mine at Negaunee, Marquette range, the scene of a disastrous fire the morning of May 8, last, resulting in the death of seven men, is still out of commission and probably will not resume production until early in June. The timbering in No. 2 shaft not only was badly damaged, but the piping and the ladderways were destroyed. Repair work is now in progress. Unless adjustments are reached out of court it is expected that a number of suits for damages will be instituted by the families of victims of the fire.

WHAT MINES HAVE PAID IN DIVIDENDS

Record for First Four Months of the Present Year.

Holders of stocks in American mines and metallurgical works found the first four months of this year unusually profitable ones, reports to the Mining World showing that 110 mines and works distributed $33,134,745 among their shareholders. While there have been similar periods in other years in which greater total disbursements were made, none, however, has been so handicapped by reason of unsettled and unsatisfactory metal market conditions.

While the above does not include disbursements made by all American mines and works, including private and close corporations and individuals, it is representative of the profit-sharing going on as a result of present-day mining.

While largely dependent upon the profits of some of the above companies for their dividends, the declarations of the seven securities-holding corporations can be added to the total for the four months—$5,049,720—making a grand total of $38,184,465.

The 110 companies mentioned above have, since their incorporation, yielded profits in the shape of dividends to the extent of $680,911,429, which added to the total of the seven securities-holding corporations brings the total of the disbursements of the companies contributing to the 1911 total to $801,069,951.

On the $654,925,779 issued capital of the mines and works the $680,911,429 disbursed by them is equivalent to 103 per cent. The $120,158,522 paid by the securities-holding corporations is equivalent to 38 per cent on their issued capital of $310,575,125.

In classifying the dividend payers of 1911 the gold-silver-lead-zinc producers, numbering eighty, lead with $14,924,360. Since incorporation, however, they rank a poor second to the coppers, having to their credit $190,265,846, while the twenty-three coppers have disbursed $376,414,731, equivalent to 178 per cent on the issued capital, as compared with 87 per cent on the former.

In the United States twenty-two copper companies disbursed in 1911 to the end of April $12,930,268, as against $8,482,582 by forty-eight of the gold-silver-lead-zinc class. Among the later Goldfield Consolidated holds the lead with $3,559,098, while Tonopah, another Nevada property, is second with $800,000. Of the copper properties, Anaconda easily leads all with $4,220,000. Sixteen Canadian properties have contributed to the year's total $4,231,729, Nipissing leading with $900,000 and McKinley-Darragh-Savage second with $674,080.

In Mexico, despite the internal troubles which have interfered somewhat with mining operations, fifteen companies have so far this year distributed $2,165,549, Sorpressa leading with $652,800.

Six metallurgical companies operating plants in the United States and Mexico are credited with dividend declarations during the past four months totaling $5,145,654. American Smelter leads with $2,750,000, with United States Smelting and Refining second with $1,201,586.

Of the seven securities-holding corporations. Phelps-Dodge leads with $1,123,365.

WORK STARTS ON THE PILOT-BUTTE

Commercial Ore Thought to Exist at Depth of 1,000 Feet.

Butte, Mont., May 20.—Active operations toward the development of the Pilot mining claim, belonging to the Pilot-Butte Mining company, began Thursday morning when a number of men were placed at work grading the ground for the installation of the hoist and a battery of boilers and an air compressor. At the same time the machinery is being placed in position, a new gallows frame will be constructed, and it is believed in everything will be ready to resume sinking the shaft shortly after June 1.

The present shaft, which is of three compartments, will be continued from its present depth of 900 feet to 1,500 feet, and the ground will be thoroughly explored from various levels. It is confidently believed by the management that commercial ore bodies will be opened up on the 1,000-foot level.

COPPER MINING IN ISLE ROYALE

More Property Acquired By the Island Copper Company.

Mohawk, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The recent deal by which W. E. Smith of Mohawk and other men of Keweenaw county, Mich., transferred 2,833 acres of land on Isle Royale to the Island Copper company, of which Thomas F. Cole of Duluth is president, has resulted in arousing considerable interest in this big island of Lake Superior, its early history, its mineral possibilities and its future. The Island Copper company already was a large owner of land on Isle Royale, and much of the tract recently acquired lies contiguous to the former holdings.

From the earliest days of American history Isle Royale has occupied a prominent position, yet during the 250 years since the days of the Jesuit pioneers it has never proved itself of value at any time, either strategically or commercially. In case of warfare between this country and Canada the island, which is a portion of Keweenaw county, would be of some importance as a base of operations, but in these days of piping peace and reciprocity agreements, with prospects of international treaties adjusting all differences beween the United States and the British empire, it is altogether probable that the last opportunity of Isle Royale becoming historical as a fortification belongs to the past.

Commercially Isle Royale has never amounted to much. The island carries extensive measures of copper-bearing land, identical in structure to those of the Keweenaw peninsula, on the south shore of Lake Superior. So far as exploration and development have gone, the mineral contents of the insular lodes is less than that of the mainland, which in the last sixty years has yielded $200,000,000 in dividends; but these explorations and developments have been superficial, scattered and unsystematic, and therefore mean nothing. It is true that much of this work was done in the earlier days, when the science of mining lacked much of the progress it has achieved the past quarter of a century, and therefore the mistakes of the past should not be harshly judged. But it is nevertheless true that Isle Royale has never had a fair test, to prove or disprove its possibilities as a mining district.

BIG SUM TO BE SPENT BY C. & A.

Alterations and Additions Will Cost Million and a Quarter.

Douglas, Ariz., May 20.—Some idea of the work that is planned by the Calumet & Arizona Mining company in making new their smelter plant in this city may be had from the statement which is authentic to the effect that the cost of the alterations and additions which are to be made will be not less than $1,250,000.

Tentative plans for this work were prepared by Mr. Repeth, an eminent mechanical engineer, long in the service of the Amalgamated company, who was here for more than a month last winter for that purpose. While an extended idea of the work which has been planned has not yet been available, still it is known that practically all the old plant will be utilized in the new and that reverberatory furnaces and roasters will be included similar to those being installed at the Copper Queen smelter and similar to this new feature which has just been completed at Cananea.

It was learned today that as a result of the recent meeting of the board of directors held at Warren, when the tentative plans submitted were carefully gone over as well as the smelter itself, Capt. Greenway has received notice that the plans outlined by Mr. Repeth were approved and Capt. Greenway has been ordered to have prepared the detailed plans for the work.

This news will be received with gratification in Douglas as it will mean the expenditure of a large amount of money for the labor and material required for this vast undertaking, much of which will go to the merchants of this city.

The Calumet & Arizona has been making copper in this city since the spring of 1903 and its success, both in the mines and the smelter has been phenomenal, and besides the heavy cost of mine and smelter improvements vast amounts have been returned to the stockholders in dividends. The Calumet & Arizona now includes the properties formerly owned by the Superior & Pittsburg in the Warren district, including the Junction, Hoatson and Briggs shafts, in which vast bodies of splendid ore yet untouched have been blocked out for the future. The additon and new features to be added to the smelter here does not necessarily mean an increase of production at the present, as the price of copper will hardly warrant that, but the work planned does mean a vast saving in the cost of production, notwithstanding the fact that the record of production costs at the Calumet & Arizona has always been very near the extreme minimum.

COPPER OUTPUT LARGE AS USUAL

Greene-Cananea Making as Much Copper as in Peace Times.

Cananea, Minn., May 20.—Notwithstanding the revolution, the Greene Cananea Copper company is making as much (or more) copper as in times of peace. The concentrates from the Miami company are arriving steadily and are handled in short order. At present the concentrates are arriving at the rate of fifty tons daily, but the smelter can handle twice that amount.

Raoul G. Dufourcq, superintendent of the Las Chispas mine of the Pedrazzini Gold & Silver Mining company, passed through Cananea last week on his way to El Paso on a business mission. During his absence his brother, Edw. L. Dufourcq, manager of the company, is in the property looking after the affairs of the company. Mr. Dufourcq stated that the new cyanide plant was almost completed when he left the property.

The Maria mine of the Carman Consolidated Copper company is the only other property operating in the Chispas neighborhood. This is being worked by contract labor. On account of the close proximity to the Chispas mine this property is considered to be of some worth and developments at the property seem to point towards another rich mine soon. The Carman recently passed to the control of Duluth interests and a new company was formed. Work was resumed after a long period of idleness.

Additional ore has been opened up by the Calumet & Sonora company which is operating ten miles southeast of Llano. On the 100-foot level at a distance of sixty-five feet from the station, the vein was encountered and the drift has passed through twenty-five feet of good ore with no signs of a foot wall. The ore consists mostly of copper carbonates.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Work Resumed on Property of North Homestake Company.

Deadwood, S. D., May 20.—Work has been resumed on the property of the North Homestake Mining company in the Maitland district and the sinking of the shaft to below the 200-foot level is in progress. The larger verticals were tapped there with a diamond drill. Not much pumping is necessary. With a mill originally designed to treat 300 tons ore a day the Wasp No. 2 on Yellow creek, near this city, is handling to exceed 150 tons daily. It is not the intention to keep this up, but a daily average of 450 tons will be maintained during the summer. The company is paying monthly dividends. The present problem is in handling the tailings. This is costing 4 cents a ton under the present method of dry handling, but if the tailings could be disposed of after sluicing that method would save 3 cents a ton.

Messrs. Miljas and Flow and other Lead men, who have been developing the Scab-Union property in Grizzly gulch near Lead, have uncovered what appears to be a strike of some consequence. In a drift they found a ledge of ore which has been developed for 150 feet in length and not exhausted and which contains free milling gold ore on which assays run from $8.30 to $40 a ton. There are 200 acres in the group of claims.

The Black Hills Development & Financial corporation proposes to ship 200 tons of ore weekly from the Seabury-Calkins ground in the Carbonate district to outside smelters and about 100 tons a week of the $100 ore from the 200-foot level of the Iron Hill mine in the same district. The plan is to develop the Seabury-Calkins property carefully while taking out the ore, from which there is a profit of from $10 to $15 a ton, until sufficient capital has been raised to erect a small smelter there for home treatment. The shaft is now being retimbered down eighty feet, where a station will be cut and a drift run.

MUNICIPAL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

SOCIETY

DANCING has held a good share of the attention this week. The Masonic and the Knights of Columbus dancing parties. Thursday and Friday evenings, were both largely attended and the Military ball to be held Monday evening at the Spalding promises to be one of the largest parties of the year. The officers of the National Guard of the city who will be hosts at this affair are making every arrangement for the success of the function and reception committee is composed of: Mayor and Mrs. M. B. Cullum, Maj. and Mrs. H. V. Eva, Lieut. and Mrs. S. S. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Bentley P. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bunnell, Col. and Mrs. F. E. Resche, Col. and Mrs. T. H. McGilvray, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Prince.

Among the St. Paul and Minneapolis officers who will be guests at the affair will be: Adjt. Gen. and Mrs. Fred B. Wood, Capt. August Anderson, Maj. Earl D. Luce, Capt. C. C. Weaver, Capt. Ehler, Col. C. E. Whitney.

Graduation from the grade schools, high schools and the normal school is filling the minds and time of many young people as well as taking the time of the parents in making graduation clothes.

A number of affairs are being planned for the June brides, who will be feted with dinners, showers, luncheons and teas during the next few weeks.

Miss Linda Olsen entertained at a china shower Thursday evening at her home in honor of Miss Selma Lundberg, whose wedding will take place in June. The Adams Glee club sang many numbers and the guest of honor was presented with many pretty gifts. The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
E Peterson, A. Erickson, N. E. Olsen, Mrs. C. Christenson.

Misses—
Selma Lunberg, Esther Eckholm, Christine Otterson, Johanna Behrens, Edna Nordstran, Alice Lundberg, Ruth Carlson, Lauris Olsen, Florence Lundberg, Elizabeth Hudson, Gladys Lundberg, Linda Olsen.

Messrs.—
Loralne Erickson, William Cahill, Paul Nyman, Ray Olsen, Earl Olsen, N. M. Westen, Al Olsen, William McDonald, Lloyd Olsen, James Cahill, Walter Lundberg, R. Wallin, Arnie Olsen, Carl Carlson, Walter Graims, Edwin Oleson, Axel Lundberg.

The girls of the basket ball teams of the Central high school enjoyed an all-day picnic at Fond du Lac today. Miss Edith Smith, who has had charge of the gymnasium work at the high school this year, arranged the affair and chaperoned the girls on their outing. This was planned as a finish to the basket ball work of the year.

Mrs. F. M. Kreidler of 128 Twelfth avenue east entertained on Tuesday evening at three tables of bridge. The rooms were prettily decorated with red carnations and the favors were small May baskets filled with the wild "May flower," or anemonle. The card prizes were won by Mrs. John Michaud and Mrs. E. A. Stewart.

Miss Long and Miss Carey of the Normal school faculty were guests of honor at a breakfast this morning at the Panton & White tea rooms. The members of the faculty of the Normal school gave the breakfast in honor of the two teachers who will be brides of the summer.

The Jolly Twelve Cinch club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. E. Stebner of Twenty-seventh avenue west. The prizes were won by Mrs. T. G. Frerker and Mrs. C. Armstead. Among the players were:

The girls of the Sigma Alpha club entertained informally Thursday evening in compliment to Mrs. Harry Ackerberg of St. Paul, who has been the guest of Mrs. Robert Graham for two weeks. The party was given at the home of Misses Myrtle and Dorothy Pierce, and roses and ferns were effectively arranged about the rooms. The evening was spent informally by the following:

Misses—
Jessie McGhie, Louise Ellis, Maud Lenge, Margaret Gude, Anabelle Clarke Lottie Elder, Lilliam Meier, Lily Macaskill, Hazel Roberts, Jessie Muir, Katherine Ellis, Anna Macaskill, Grace Lewis,

Miss Elsie Fleet of 422 Sixth avenue east entertained informally Wednesday evening at a linen shower in compliment to Mrs. Freeman Randall, a recent bride. The rooms were pretty with bouquets of roses and ferns and there were sixteen guests.

The members of the Temple assembly were hosts Thursday evening at the last of the regular series of dancing parties which they have been giving this season. Nearly 200 dancers enjoyed the program of twenty well chosen numbers played by La Brosse's orchestra and the evening despite the storm, was a pleasant one.

The series this season has proved so delightful and the interest so great that the members are planning to give a big summer party later, which they expect to make quite elaborate.

Mrs. L. W. Kline of 1931 East Fifth street entertained the senior girls of the Normal school Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at her home at informal teas. Gold and black, the class colors, she used for decorating, and the first afternoon Miss Long of the Normal faculty gave several readings and Miss Maude Matteson sang.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Robert Bruce Liggett read. There are about forty girls in the class.

Mrs. A. A. McDonald of Park Point entertained at two tables of bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home. The prize was won by Mrs. Goochey. The other guests were:

Mesdames—
Hackett, Wessinger, Final, Parker, McDevitt, Shepherd, Strang.

An evening entertainment consisting of the exhibition of manual training work done by the boys and sewing and lesson work done by the pupils was held last evening at the Bryant school.

A program of readings, songs and dialogues by the pupils was prepared and Dan Mahoney of the American Exchange bank talked on the savings banks. Mrs. Alexander M. Gow assisted with some piano numbers and following the program refreshments were served by some of the domestic science girls of the eighth grade under the direction of Miss Walker, domestic science teacher.

One hundred and fifteen covers were laid at the banquet served Wednesday evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the church.

Unique and most attractive decorations made a beautiful setting for the excellent turkey supper, and the program of toasts which followed, was of much interest.

They called it a "Butterfly Banquet" and the decorating scheme was carried out as suggested. Hundreds of pretty butterflies were arranged and festoons of them hung from the center of the room to the tables. The candles on the tables were shaded with yellow shades, on which were butterflies. A hand-painted butterfly adorned the menu cards, and fluffy butterflies were worn by the waiters. The affair was given for the benefit of the Sunday school of the church and was a decided financial as well as social success.

E. W Matter presided as toastmaster and filled his place admirably. Miss Effie White responded to a toast on "The Brotherhood" in a very pretty manner. She said she did not feel competent to talk on her subject, not having had experience with brothers, but she covered it most acceptably.

Warren E. Greene was given the subject of "The Other Hood" and instead of speaking on "Sisterhood" as was expected, took for his theme "Babyhood." His talk was full of delightful wit, but he turned it into a more serious strain and spoke of the great need of care for young people in the homes during their teens and the duty of the parents in their training.

Rev. J. C. Faries gave an enjoyable talk on "The Might of Men."

Duluth Woman Playing in Sketch Written By Her Father

MRS. META E. TAYLOR.

Mrs. Meta E. Taylor has returned from New York to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Eyferth of Park Point. She has been playing in vaudeville for the past two years, in a sketch which she called "Discovered," which was written for her, by her father. Previous to her vaudeville work, Mrs. Taylor played with many of the best actors and actresses, among them being Sothern and Julia Marlowe.

Mr. Eyferth is writing a new sketch for his daughter this summer.

Weddings

The date set for the wedding of Miss Annie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William White to A. C. Gillette, is June 6. The invitations have not been issued as yet, but will be out soon.

The home of Mrs. A. M. Hunter, 408 East Fifth street was the scene Tuesday evening of a pretty wedding ceremony when her daughter, Miss Margaret Hunter became the bride of E. H. McAllister. Rev. B. V. Black read the ceremony at 6 o'clock in the presence of a few relatives and immediate friends and a wedding supper was served immediately following the ceremony.

The bride wore a handsome gown of soft white made over silk with a wreath of flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. There was no attendants.

During the evening a reception was held between 8 and 10 o'clock during which time a large number of friends called. Mrs. Hunter was assisted during the evening by Mrs. G. Sangster.

The rooms were effectively decorated with flowers. In the dining room a basket of pink roses, ferns and crocuses was used as a center-piece and bouquets of white roses and crocuses were used about the other rooms.

J. W. Hunter, brother of the bride, and his family, were down from Hibbing for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister will reside at 408 East Fifth street.

The wedding of Miss Anna Buirge and Robert Stubbs took place Tuesday evening at the home of the bride-groom's brother, Milton Stubbs, 19 East Third street. Rev. J. W. Loughridge, formerly pastor of the Central Baptist church, read the service at 8:30 o'clock.

The wedding of Miss Katherine Sullivan of Ashland and William E. Day of this city took place Tuesday in Minneapolis. It was a very quiet affair. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Day will be at home at 17 Twenty-ninth avenue west.

The wedding of Miss Sophia Bjorkman of Chicago and Carl Broms of the West end took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Falk, 2 North Eighteenth avenue west. Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, read the service. Mr. Broms has been employed at the Clyde Iron Works. His bride came here from Chicago two weeks ago. They will live at 27 North Twenty-ninth avenue west

Miss Gertrude Marguerite Gillis, daughter of Bennett Gillis, and Joseph H. Ruerup of Boseman, Mont., were married Tuesday morning at the Sacred Heart cathedral at 9 o'clock.

Miss Gillis was handsomely gowned in white satin and carried a white prayer book. She was attended by Miss Alice Clutier and Miss Ethel Murphy as bridesmaids, who were prettily gowned in blue and white silk and carried bouquets of yellow and white roses. Mr. Ruerup was attended by his brother, Charles Ruerup, and John Gillis, brother of the bride.

A wedding breakfast was served at 12 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Murphy, Minnesota avenue, Park Point, and Mr. and Mrs. Ruerup will be at home at Bozeman after June 1.

Her Green Silk Tights Stirred Quaker City From Its Slumber

MRS. W. E. CARTER.

Mrs. William Carter startled Philadelphia, a few nights ago, by appearing in the lobby of one of the principal hotels wearing a costume which spectators said consisted of a pair of green silk tights. At least, it was the tightest green silk costume that has been seen in the Quaker City since the hobble skirt came in. Mrs. Carter is well known socially in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport and New York. She was Miss Lucile Polk of Baltimore and is a descendant of President Polk. Her home is in Bryn Mawr, one of the most beautiful of the suburbs of Philadelphia.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thomson have cards out announcing the engagement of their niece, Miss Helen Ostram, to Seth Marshall.

At a tea Monday afternoon at which Mrs. Martha Wylie of 1531 East Superior street was hostess in compliment to her sister, Mrs. W. A. Monroe of Calgary, Alta., Can., who is her guest, the engagement of Mrs. Wylie's daughter, Willa Mae, to Harry Douglass Bostwick was announced.

The guests included some twenty of Mrs. Wylie's friends.

Both of the young people are very well known here, Miss Wylie being widely known as a reader and Mr. Bostwick is the son of Col. and Mrs. C. H. Bostwick, who are old-time residents of Duluth and well known in social and business circles. He is the local representative of the Wyman-Partridge company of Minneapolis.

Events Planned

The Order of Railway Conductors, Duluth division, No. 336, will give its fourth annual ball on Wednesday evening, May 24 at the Auditorium, Third avenue east and First street. La Brosse's orchestra will play and a large number of dancers are expected.

The committees in charge are composed as follows:

Arrangement—Theo. Harris, J. H. O'Brien, F. C. Blair, J. M. McNaughton and D. Williams.

Reception—All members Division 336.

Floor—G. F. Ayers, B. F. Hiem, T. J. Feathers, W. A. Nichols, J. C. McGreevy, A. J. Gladman, M. B. Nichols and W. H. Farrell.

Door—L. E. Bieberman, W. H. Denny, H. P. Morin, D. A. McCarthy and R. J. Kelly.

The girls of the Non-Pariel club are planning to give a dancing party on June 19 at the Lester Park pavilion. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Misses Sadie Fosdoff, Sallie Oreck, Eva Rocklin and Dora Polinsky.

Miss Alvira Larson and Sylvia Swenson are planning a bundle shower to be given on Tuesday, May 30 in honor of Miss Ida Sylvester, whose wedding to Archie Sullivan will take place in June.

Dewey camp 1255, R. N. of A., will entertain at a card party Tuesday evening at the Forrester hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. Five hundred will be played.

Luncheon will be served next week in the parlors of the Congregational church by the women of the church especially for the students at the high school, commencing on Monday and continuing through Friday. This same plan was carried out last year successfully and the hot lunches were very popular among the studens. The luncheon hour will be from 12 to 1 o'clock and any others besides the students who care to go, will be served.

Some of the decorations from the Butterfly banquet which was served at the church this week, will be used, and it will be a pretty affair as well as pleasant changes from the basket lunches which the students have to take.

Personal Mention

Mrs. John Uno Sebenius has returned from St. Paul, where she visited last week. While there she assisted Mrs. Adolph O. Eberhart at a large reception which she gave at her residence in St. Paul on Friday.

Boyce, who has been spending the winter in Southern points with his daughter, Miss Katherine Boyce, returned to Duluth Monday, while Miss Boyce went on to Denver, Colo., and from there they will go to Wellesley college to be there during the graduating exercises, as Miss Harriet Stryker is a member of the graduating class this year. They will be home in about a month, coming up by way of the lakes.

SOCIETY WOMAN IN WILD WEST SHOW

MRS. JANE WOODEND.

It was brought out through an accident that Mrs. Jenny L. Woodend, once the darling of the horse show crowds and wife of William E. Woodend, physician, horseman and financier, was taking part in the performance of "101 Ranch, Wild West Show" in Brooklyn. She was appearing under the name of Jane Howard, and the accident that brought out her real name was caused by her horse stumbling and throwing her in the Brooklyn arena. Dr. Woodend failed in Wall street in 1904 and creditors pressed him to such an extent that a warrant was issued for his arrest. Mrs. Woodend, who was wealthy in her own right, mortgaged most of her property and went on the stage to assist her husband. Dr. Woodend subsequently established himself, but Mrs. Woodend was so enamored of show life that she has been a central figure in the Wild West show. She refused to allow the circus people to use her name and has refused all publicity.

HAPPENINGS IN CLUBDOM AND THE MUSICAL CIRCLES

Subscriptions to May Festival Break All Former Records—Mrs. Cotton Mather Talks to Missionary Societies—Other Events of the Week.

THE spring festival of music to be presented at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, assisted by a group of soloists, promises to be the most brilliant series of concerts ever presented by this organization before a Duluth audience, and from every indication capacity houses will greet the orchestra at every performance.

The advance subscription list, which already exceeds that of any previous year, will be closed next Monday evening, and the members of the Duluth committee, consisting of Stephen H. Jones, W. Hugo and Horace W. Reyner, who have been arranging the concerts for several years, are delighted at the response which Duluth people have shown this year. Unqualified indication that the most brilliant series of concerts in point of artistic worth and attendance that Duluth has enjoyed for many years.

The Minneapolis orchestra this year began the spring tour in March, and it will continue until June. The accompanying soloists are artists established in the concert and oratorio fields. They are Lucille Tewksbury, known to the Duluth musical public from former appearances; Mme. Staberg-Hall, soprano; Genevieve Wheat, contralto; Marcus Kellerman, basso, and Charles Hargreaves, tenor.

During the past few years no American tenor has risen more rapidly toward the top of his profession than Charles Hargreaves. Although he is still young, Mr. Hargreaves' experience has been extensive and of such variety that he is equipped for every form of work that may be necessary for him to undertake.

After he had scored emphatically with the people of the East and Middle West as a concert and oratorio singer, Mr. Hargreaves was chosen to fill the position of leading tenor with the celebrated operatic organization, the Bostonians. His success in the leading parts in the operas, "Robin Hood," "Maid Marian," and others in the repertoir of The Bostonians, was immediate and emphatic.

To more completely round out his abilities, Mr. Hargreaves went abroad last year where for six months he sang leading operatic tenor roles in Germany and London.

Returning to New York he accepted the position of solo tenor at the fashionable West End Collegiate church, and was secured for this year's spring tour of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Genevieve Wheat.

Genevieve Wheat, by reason of an exceptional voice, careful training and an experience and musicianship more than usual, has attained a prominent position among the leading contraltos of the country. During a six years' residence in New York and Pittsburg she filled several important church positions and was a most successful concert and oratorio singer, being in constant demand throughout the East and Middle West. She has appeared as soloist with the Brooklyn Choral society, Oberlin Musical Union, Musical Art Society of Pittsburg, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Choral society and many other prominent musical organizations, and made several tours with the Pittsburg orchestra, and one with the Theodore Thomas orchestra, meeting with flattering success.

Marcus Kellerman.

No singer has impressed the public or corps of music critics to a greater extent in so short a time, than Marcus Kellerman, the remarkable bass-baritone.

Barely 30 years of age, Kellerman is a native American, having been born in Cincinnati. Some of his most pronounced successes occurred in Germany, where he sang leading baritone roles for three years at the Berlin Royal opera. Although his contract called for a five-years' engagement, Kellerman abandoned his brilliant, promising operatic career to engage in lieder and oratorio singing.

Kellerman's musical training has been unusually thorough and complete, beginning with his study of the organ. It was during his work as an organist that he discovered his remarkable voice and appreciating that increased opportunities offered in the field of song he prepared himself for the task, finishing his preparation abroad in a manner that brought the approval of the composer, Richard Strauss, through whose efforts he was secured for the opera at Berlin.

The first concert for the public will be presented Friday evening, June 2. A popular matinee will be given Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening will be operatic night with selections from German, French and Italian opera.

The Head of the Lakes tour has been extended to include Superior and two concerts will be given at the Grand theater in that city the Monday following the Duluth engagement. As the programs will be different in detail, many Duluthians are planning to also attend the Superior concerts.

A committee, of which Miss Carlotta Simonds is chairman, is arranging the details for the children's matinee to be given Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Pupil's Recital.

A DELIGHTFUL pupils' recital was presented last evening to a large and enthusiastic audience by Miss Mabel Fulton at the Foresters' hall when some twenty-five of her vocal and instrumental pupils appeared.

The program was well chosen and every number was received with interest and hearty applause by the audience. The pupils showed remarkable understanding of their numbers and gave artistic renditions.

The little vocal number "If I Were a Girl," and "If I were a Boy," sung by Irwin Kunerth and Grace Rossman was a great hit and two piano numbers were also especially good.

Those who had numbers on the program were:

Baryl Genice Boerner, Olive Johnson, Helen Thrall, Irene Beck, Edith Hutchins, Alberta Johnson, Irwin Kunerth, Grace Rossman, Roswell King, Marion McClure, Anna Brand, Frances Green, Amy Aaronson, Ruby Patterson, Katherine Barnard, Earl Gratta, Luella Cloutier, Sheldon Johnson, A. Oreck, Ellen Messler, Ida Broman, Viola Carlson, Luella Cloutier, Alice Cloutier, Lucile Shook, Borgil Dahl, Esther Donald, S. Slonim, Frederick Campbell, Ellen Messler, Martha Sanders, Matilda Lanfald and Viola Flaaten.

One-Act Comedy.

THE program for the entertainment to be given Thursday evening at the guild hall of Trinity Pro-cathedral by the Pro-cathedral Sunday School Extension workers is as follows:

Occupants of berths: Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ingalls, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, W. E. A. Le Quesne, George Rollins, and Carl Knippenberg.

Song and chorus.....Park Point Maids.
Misses Winnifred McAuley, Muriel Dease, Vina Walz, Doris Hart, Agnes Gilbert, Phillis Buckminster, Mary Lawrence, Margaret Redmayne, accompanist, Mrs. Benjamine Buckminster.

Informal Musical.

A PLEASING musical recital was given Tuesday evening at the home of Matilda Landfald of Tenth avenue east by a number of her piano pupils. A very pretty program was well played and was closed with a little musical play, "Just for the Fun of It," given by a number of the pupils.

Miss Mabel Fulton assisted with a song and a number of readings.

Alumni Night.

"A PROPOSAL Under Difficulties," a clever little one-act farce by John Kendrick Bangs, is the sketch to be played by four members of the alumni of the Duluth Central high school at the "Alumni Night," program, which will be given at the high school assembly hall on Friday evening, June 9, under the auspices of the Alumni association. The parts will be taken by John Quinn, Charles Cargill, Miss Agnes Johnson and Miss Lenila Sparks.

The entertainment will be in the form of a vaudeville performance under the direction of A. F. M. Custance of the high school faculty. Some splendid musical numbers have been planned and several monologues.

The committee in charge plans to have a section of about 400 reserved seats and the rest will be sold at a lower price.

At this date many graduates of the school who are away at other schools will be home and the association is expecting a large audience.

The proceeds from this night will go towards the Charles Alden Smith memorial fund, which the association is raising, and the "Alumni Night" is to be made a permanent feature of the graduation exercises each year.

Delegates Chosen.

MRS. W. H. BURRIS and Mrs. Charles Keith have been chosen delegates to attend the state meeting of the D. A. R., to be held in St. Paul May 25, as representatives of the Greysolon du Luht chapter. They were appointed at the regular meeting of the chapter which was held yesterday afternoon.

MRS. GRACE SENIOR BREARLEY, who left for Europe a few weeks ago, writes to friends here from Wells, Austria, that she is studying with Leopold Godowsky, one of the greatest pianists of the day. He made concert tours in the United States several years ago and in 1900 was director of the pianoforte department of the Chicago Conservatory, to which post he was again appointed in 1902. He is also a composer of some note.

He takes but few pupils and they are chosen only from among artists.

THE regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Twentieth Century club will be held Monday morning at the library club room promptly at 10 o'clock to transact routine business and also to consider some lecture propositions.

Education Needed.

MRS. COTTON MATHER of Fort Collins, Colo., national secretary of literature and reading circles of the Women's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church was the principal speaker at the district convention of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies, held yesterday at the First M. E. church.

She addressed the meeting in the afternoon on her work and other interesting talks were given by Mrs. A. C. Taylor, Rev. E. K. Copper, Mrs. W. C. Ives and Mrs. G. W. Smith.

The officers elected for the year were: Mrs. E. K. Copper, president; Mrs. C. F. Davis, of Brainerd, vice-president; Mrs. L. A. Larsen, secretary of literature; Mrs. J. E. Goodman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jacob Dyson, of Cornell, secretary for the Young People; Mrs. Theodore Hollister, recording secretary; Mrs. John Carson, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Richardson, of Aitkin, secretary of supplies; Mrs. Thomas Owens, of Two Harbors, secretary of mite boxes.

At the evening meeting, which was for the Young People's societies, Mrs. Mather again gave an interesting talk. She spoke of the need of education for the Southern whites and said that in the last report of the commissioner of education the figures showed that while in Minnesota there were eight out of every thousand who could not read, there 142 to every thousand in Tennessee.

She spoke of the need of work among the mountain white girls and the school which had been established at Boaz, Ala. She also said that in Southern California there were about 40,000 Spanish Americans and for this number there were two schools, one run by the Methodists which could accommodate forty girls and the other by the Presbyterians accommodating thirty-five girls.

After the meeting which consisted of her talk and some musical and devotional numbers, the girls of the Queen Esther circle of the church held an informal reception for Mrs. Mather.

IN THE DAY'S WORK AT WASHINGTON

La Follette Quizzes Bronson.

Washington, May 20.—Following a heated colloquoy between Senator La Follette and Leonard Bronson of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association at the Canadian reciprocity hearing, a declaration by Bronson that the conservation policy of Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot worked for the benefit of the lumber trust and forced up the prices of lumber, was stricken from the record. Bronson had also declared that the withdrawal by the government of large tracts of timber lands was the chief cause of high prices of lumber. Senator La Follette demanded to know what authority Mr. Bronson had for the assertions. This Mr. Bronson refused to explain, and after a series of questions by Senator La Follette, both the assertions and the ensuing colloquoy were expunged on motion of the senator.

C. H. Potter of Elgin, Ill., representing the milk dealers of Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, opposed the bill on the ground that the United States still needs protection.

Democrats Want More Speed.

Determined to speed up the senate in the consideration of several measures now pending, the Democratic steering committee has adopted a program that the minority will endeavor to enforce with the aid of the progressive Republicans. The program includes immediate consideration of the resolutions providing for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the right of Senator Lorimer to his seat, the joint resolution providing for the direct election of senators and the bill reapportioning the representation of the states in the house of representatives.

Senator Martin, chairman of the committee, has openly criticised the Republican committee for failure to act on measures before them. He has also protested against the practice of adjourning from Thursday to Monday and Monday to Thursday again, which has marked the progress of the extra session in the senate. The Democrats hope to recruit enough aid from the ranks of the progressive Republicans to carry out their plan.

Senator Martin issued a call for another meeting of the committee Monday. Final plans will then be considered.

Revenue Tariff on Wool.

The house ways and means committee met again today to consider the revision of the tariff on wool and determined to meet daily hereafter until the tentative draft of a bill is prepared. The prevailing opinion is that there will be a largely reduced tariff on raw wool for revenue purposes and that manufactured articles will be cut about 50 per cent.

Steel Inquiry Soon.

Methods of conducting the inquiry into the United States Steel corporation were discussed today by the special committee elected by the house. It was determined that in all public hearings held by the committee the United States Steel corporation and all other parties affected by the investigation may be represented by counsel. The committee expects to begin the inquiry within a fortnight.

Debate on Statehood.

Renewed attacks upon the recall provision of the Arizona constitution from the Republican side, and Democratic criticism of the unamendable feature of the New Mexican constitution, held the attention of the house throughout another day's consideration of the statehood resolution.

Representative Boeher of Missouri, Democrat, declared that New Mexico was virtually controlled by the railroads and large interests, and that the present form of the Constitution is such as to preclude the possibility of its being easily changed; he urged letting Arizona have the recall for judges. Replying to Mr. Kahn of California, Mr. Boeher said there never was a time when the American people would have signed a recall petition for Washington or Lincoln.

Representative Pickett criticised the principle of the recall as applied to judges. Representative Connell of New York, Democrat, approved the pending resolution.

Mr. Humphreys of Mississippi declared the Republican party had consistently kept New Mexico out of the Union, although it was entitled to statehood.

Former Speaker Cannon declared the Democrats had had an opportunity to admit Mexico when they were in power before, but failed. Mr. Humphreys retorted that the Democratic party did not seek to delay statehood nor to force undesirable features into the New Mexico Constitution; but wanted to give the people an opportunity to vote again separately on the method by which they could amend their Constitution in the future.

For National Defense.

The proposed council of national defense, the establishment of which is provided for in a bill introduced by Representative Hobson of Alabama, was under discussion by the house committee on naval affairs. The object of the council of national defense is regarded favorably by military leaders and officials. The council would consist of the secretary of war

A SERIOUS MATTER.

"What I like about baseball is that it is a manly sport which involves no danger to life."

"I don't know about that. Every time there is a game of special interest scheduled it appears to cause an epidemic among the relatives of my employes."

He Was Puzzled.

HE was an oldish man, and as he sat in the street car he shook his head and muttered to himself and seemed to have something on his mind. The man beside him finally asked:

"Are you in great trouble, my friend?"

"Oh, no," was replied.

"I thought you might be."

"It is only that I am puzzled—greatly puzzled."

"About what, if I may ask?"

"About so many American girls buying titled husbands in Europe, when we have at least fifty baseball players in this country who stand at the top-notch and would marry them without charging a cent. Did you ever think of it, sir?"

"By George, no, but I shall after this!" JOE KERR.

NOT TO BE.

HE lay upon his dying bed.

He was an old man. He could remember back to the days when honest men sold honest goods, and when men held office year after year without their honesty being questioned. He had lived to see the great change. He knew that even the medicine he was taking came from a trust and was a substitute. His time had come at last.

"Doctor, must I die?" he whispered.

"You must," was the reply. "Surely you will be glad to go."

"I would but for one thing."

"And what is that?"

"The Panama Canal is to be opened in 1915."

"Yes?"

"And I wanted to hang on until that date."

"Have you any special reason?"

"I have. I want to see it all finished, and read in the papers how much graft there was in it for members of Congress!"

But it was not to be. He died that same day. Even his wife and children may never read the figures. JOE KERR.

HIS CHOICE.

Evelyn (blushing)—George, have you any preference as to the style of my wedding gown?

George—Yes, love; I want it to be one of the Early June variety.

They are Declining.

MR. ROOSEVELT says that he will not be a Presidential candidate in 1912.

Joe Cannon says thank you, but I shall have too much plowing to do.

Senator Aldrich says by no manner of means.

Mr. Bryan says the more he thinks of it the more determined he is not to run and be elected.

Senator Bailey is going to turn to sugar beets and will be too busy to fool with trifles.

Chauncey M. Depew says he needs a long rest and hopes he will not be called upon. His hopes will be realized.

Senator Lorimer says that he will not buy his way into the Presidency if he never gets there.

Senator Payne doesn't want to be President, but would be perfectly satisfied if he could make another tariff.

Farmer Jones is in the hands of his friends, but hopes they will help him hoe corn instead of running him for the Presidency.

Boss Murphy positively declares that he has no designs on the place. He is a greater man than the President now, and why descend the ladder?

There are several other parties to hear from, and it is hoped they will send in their communications at an early date. This is a country where most anything or anybody can be a candidate for most any old office or other. JOE KERR.

He strolled out with his lady love,
A hobble skirt wore she;
Two souls with but a single thought,
Four legs that walked as three.

SHE toys with hearts, and yet she plays
Her hand with utmost care,
That not one card shall slip in wrong
And lose the chance to pair.

AND when this game of hearts is done
She has her well earned token,
She's broken all the hearts she could
Before her own is broken.

HIS LOVE FOR M-I-L.

Hubby—Is that the letter you wrote to your mother, asking her to visit us?

Wifey—Yes.

Hubby—Can't I add a postscript saying the children have the measles?

EXPERIENCED.

Clara—Are you sure you know how to handle her, dear?

George—Sure! Didn't I read up all about sailboats in the encyclopedia before I bought her?

THE HABITUAL LOSER.

"Your husband plays poker a great deal, doesn't he?"

"No. He doesn't play much."

"What prevents him?"

"The fact that pay day does not come oftener."

"Yes?"

"We don't agree, and I want to get a divorce. I tried it a year ago and failed because my lawyer sold me out."

"I'll say to you very candidly that there is a better way than divorce," observed the lawyer, "and I won't charge a cent for the advice."

"Well?"

"Get your wife a book on canoes and canoeing. Take her to the country this summer. Take her where there is a lake or river. Buy her a canoe to take along."

"And what else?" asked the man.

"Let her go out by herself to paddle the canoe. The canoe will do the rest. Doesn't fail one time in a thousand. No lawyers and no publicity. Canoe just upsets and there you are. Free advice, and good afternoon to you."

"But—sir—but——"

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR INTERNATIONAL FALLS

THE PAPER MILL, ONE OF THE LARGEST IN THE WORLD. —Photo by I. P. & I. Co.

PEOPLE OF BORDER METROPOLIS ARE ALL OPTIMISTS.

Developments at International Falls are steadily progressing and bringing into realization the anticipation of conservative prophets and promoters. It has always been apparent to men of intuitive minds that this location was destined to become one of the great, industrial centers of the Northwest and the most pessimistic are being forced to recognize the correctness of these prognostications.

Nature evidently designed this place for the site of a great city and nature's plans are being rapidly furthered by human calculations. Situated in the midst of the great plateau which comprises the greater portions of Northern Minnesota and Western Ontario, and nearly equi-distant from INTERNATIONAL STATE BANK.

Duluth, Winnipeg and Port Arthur, this location also offers natural advantages for industrial and commercial undertakings which are unrivaled by any intermediate point. These circumstances were long since recognized by the promoters of transportation lines with the result that lines of the Canadian Northern railway already radiate in three directions from this city, which is also reached by the Minnesota & International (a part of the Northern Pacific system), and the Minnesota, Dakota & Western, while the Soo Line and other railroad systems are preparing to extend their lines to this place in the near future.

The area of this vast plateau exceeds that of Scotland, while its wealth of natural resources is exceeded by no other region of equal extent on the globe. Its thousands of lakes provide delights for fishermen and pleasure seekers, beside which the famous scenery of the highlands of Swindles into insignificance. But the service of these many cataracts in this territory is that formed by the Rainy river at Koochiching Falls about two miles from the foot of Rainy lake. The possibilities for power development at this point were noted by fur traders and explorers for ages before the modern system of generating hydro-electrical energy was evolved and this knowledge led to the founding of the village of Fort Frances on the Canadian bank of the river which had been conspicuous as a trading post and station on the trail leading from Lake Superior to points in Western Canada for nearly two centuries before the town of International Falls was laid out in Minnesota on the opposite bank of the river.

Above this cataract is an intricate system of natural reservoirs covering territory which is approximately 150 miles long and 120 miles in width. One-fourth of this area is water and its sole outlet is through the Rainy river which at Koochiching Falls narrows between rocky banks providing an ideal location for harnessing the power of the stream and utilizing its force for the production of electrical energy. The natural fall of twenty-four feet has been considerably increased by the prodigious dam constructed by the Minnesota & Ontario Power company. The flow of the Rainy river at this point is considerably greater than that of the Mississippi river at Minneapolis and is calculated to be sufficient for generating 35,000-horse power which will be available every hour in each day of the entire year. The existence of this tremendous, natural energy forms the nucleus around which centers the growth of the city of International Falls and the development of the various industries and business enterprises which have been established in this place and Fort Frances. The central location in the midst of a region of such limitless, natural resources renders it practically certain that this place will continue to be the commercial metropolis of the territory within a radius of 100 miles or more.

lakes to humanity is not merely one of pleasure and recreation. Occupying the highest ground between the Rocky and the Appalachian mountain systems, they provide the sources of three of the greatest water courses in North America, pouring their overflow through myriads of streams and cataracts southward to the Gulf of Mexico, eastward to the Gulf of St. Lawrence and northward to Hudson's bay. These multitudinous, natural reservoirs exert influences upon climatic conditions and business developments which are felt in many remote portions of the continent. The potential value of the water powers within this plateau are positively incalculable, while the natural wealth of its forests, minerals and soils cannot be estimated.

Great Power of Koochiching Falls.

By far the most conspicuous of the Manufacturing Industries.

About one year ago the Minnesota & Ontario Power company completed the construction of its dam and power houses and the installation of the equipment for its immense paper mill at International Falls. Several aggravating delays had been encountered before these undertakings were brought to fruition at an expense of several million dollars but, since that time, the paper mill has been in operation continually, turning out the highest grade of white print paper at the rate of 200 tons per day. The capacity of the establishment also includes the manufacture of 175 tons of ground wood pulp and 100 tons of sulphide per day. Owing to the unprecedented low stage of water during the last few months, the pulp grinding machines have not been operated at full capacity but, in a normal season, the entire plant is expected to operate for twenty-four hours of each working day. This enterprise employs a large force of people, a part of the work being carried on by two shifts working twelve hours each, while other portions are allotted to three shifts of eight hours each. Besides the pulp and sulphide mills, the paper mill proper comprises four gigantic paper machines, two of which are the largest ever built in the world.

GENERAL OFFICES MINNESOTA & ONTARIO POWER COMPANY.

The substantial manner in which this plant has been constructed of solid stone, brick and concrete is ample evidence of the fact that the company designs to make this a permanent enterprise. There are few structures in the state of Minnesota which will compare with it in point of size and durability. However, this is only the initial unit of the establishment contemplated by the plans of the company. Provision has been made at the power house for installing a number of additional turbines, thereby greatly increasing the amount of power available and a duplicate of the present paper mill has been planned, to be built in International Falls, while another of less capacity is contemplated to be built in Fort Frances.

Another giant enterprise is the sawmill which is being constructed by the International Lumber company, the capacity of which is exceeded by only two other mills in the state of Minnesota. The building is already inclosed and machinery is being installed with the expectation that the sawing of lumber will begin in July of the present year. The equipment comprises three bands, one gang and one resaw and the mill is calculated to cut from 550,000 to 600,000 feet of lumber per each twenty-hour day. The foundation has been put in for a planing mill which will be constructed as soon as the sawmill is in operation, and the entire plant will employ 500 men in two shifts. The construction work is superintended by J. E. Lees of Minneapolis, who has had twenty-five years' experience in different parts of North and South America and makes a specialty of the construction of modern manufacturing plants.

In anticipation of the building of this sawmill, several million feet of logs have been cut and are now floating in booms or banked along the river adjacent to the mill, so that there will be ample material to work upon when the mill is ready to start sawing.

Available Timber.

The amount of sawlog timber in the territory tributary to International Falls has been estimated at 10,000,000,000 feet while the supply of pulpwood is said to exceed 20,000,000 cords. Besides these there are unlimited quantities of cedar suitable for railroad ties, telephone poles, and fence posts as well as cord-wood and material for cooperage, and other wood-working industries. As most of this raw material can be floated to International Falls and the balance lies within easy reach of the various lines of railroad centering here, the advantage of this location for the establishing of other manufacturing enterprises is readily apparent.

Among the industries likely to be located here in the near future may be mentioned flouring mills, this location being especially advantageous for this purpose as millions of bushels of wheat, grown in the prairie regions of the United States and Canada, pass this place en route to the elevators at Duluth and Port Arthur.

Statistics show that other manufacturing cities pay millions of dollars annually for coal to produce steam power for manufacturing while enormous sums are expended by many cities to bring raw material from great distances. With the abundance of power and material to be had here at a minimum cost, this city can certainly defy competition as a factory town.

A City Admirably Planned.

The Koochiching company, which owns the townsite including five miles of water frontage above and below the falls, displayed excellent judgment and foresight in laying out the city. Abundant ground was reserved adjacent to the power houses and dam for factory sites and the business section of the town, which adjoins this tract is also clearly defined and of ample proportions. The residence sections are convenient of access but not likely to be encroached upon by the demands of industry or commerce.

A system of water works and sewers was completed last year and the city is admirably lighted by electricity furnished by the power company. A number of substantial, brick business blocks have already been erected and a number of modern homes are being added each season. The new Koochiching county courthouse and jail are structures which would be a credit to any city in the West. There are high and graded schools, several churches and other organizations indicative of an intelligent and cultivated people.

The 1,500 people found by the United States census of last year have increased fully 50 per cent since that time and as a number of thousand

Americans attending college there, Spink asserts that there is much interest in the pastime in and about London, and there is a good chance that an organization will be launched.

According to Spink, he has received many letters recently, inquiring about the game and he has decided to look over the field. He says that much English capital is interested and if the time seems right for organizing a league, he will receive ample backing for the movement from English capitalists.

While he would not outline his plans, he says that several big cities near London will probably compose the league.

CHIEF CHASE GETS TINWARE

Can Is Attached to Indian Flinger of Duluth Team.

Official news received from the war front, states that Chief Chase, the second, has felt the swing of the tomahawk and is a member of the White Sox no longer. Darby has let the Comanche go, as was rumored in The Herald, and the pitching staff is minus one of the members who looked rather good at the start of the season.

Some other players are to go. June 1 is the date that the teams of the league will have to be down to the salary limit. If reports published in today's Herald are correct, Winona is the first Minny team to reduce its squad to the limit prescribed by the by-laws of the league.

Darby has several men he wents to try out, and it is very likely that he will try out his flingers right up to the limit of the time he has to get under the salary limit.

ORGANIZING THE POULTRY INDUSTRY.

Prof. N. E. Chapman of the extension department of the state agricultural school spent this morning on Michigan street. He went from one end of commission row to the other, talking to the commission men on the necessity of organizing the poultry industry and eliminating waste by the cultivation of more careful methods of handling.

Mr. Chapman has already begun his campaign of education of egg shippers in the farming districts of the state and he is enlisting the support and co-operation of receivers and dealers in the work. He says the poultry industry is today where the butter industry was twenty years ago. Business methods of marketing have been developed in the butter industry and the same can be accomplished in the poultry industry. Instruction is necessary and he is prepared to spend about two months in instructing as many people as he can reach in that time.

WILL THROW FIRST BALL

Mayor Will Follow the Time Honored Custom in Duluth.

Auto Owners Are Asked to Participate in Tuesday's Parade.

J. J. Desmond, secretary of the Duluth Baseball club association, today addressed a formal invitation to the mayor and members of the city council, in which his honor and the city servants are cordially invited to take part in the official proceedings that will mark the opening of the league season in Duluth.

Tuesday's festivities will be marked by many features, according to the plans that are being made at the present time. The success of the Sox on the trip has inspired those behind the plans to greater activities and has also served to awaken interest among the fans.

Every owner of an automobile is asked to have his machine in the parade. It is expected that the parade will be the largest that ever wended its way to an opening baseball game in Duluth.

Mayor Cullum will make the inaugural speech and will also toss the first ball over. There will be some other speeches marking the opening of what promises to be the most successful season ever enjoyed at the Head of the Lakes.

NATIONAL GAME STARTED IN 1845

First Contest Was Played in Unromantic Hoboken, N. J.

As Faneuil hall in Boston was the cradle of liberty, so is Hoboken, N. J., the cradle of baseball. The great national pastime was born in that city away back in 1845.

Authenticated records do not state what teams participated in the first game. Neither have the oldest inhabitant and the survivors of the Mexican war been able to agree upon this point. Through many long, hard winters, when they were not posing for their pictures to be used in patent medicine testimonials, they have sat around the stove down at fire headquarters and argued this question, but never have come to an agreement.

Baseball was an outgrowth of the old pastime of "rounders," which was played back in 1825, and which has been played by men now but little past the meridian of life. To this generation, however, "rounders" is unknown, says the Kansas City Star.

The ball that was used in a game was made of sections of an old overshoe, wound with woolen string and covered with coarse cowhide. None of the players wore a glove, the catcher standing about thirty feet back of the plate and picking up the balls on the bounce.

Here is the set of rules used:

The bases shall be from home to second base, 42 paces; from first to third base, 42 paces—equidistant.

The game to consist of 21 counts, or aces, but at the conclusion an equal number of hands must be played. (This meant that the first team reaching a score of 21 in a limited number of innings won).

The ball must be pitched and not thrown for the bat.

A ball pitched outside of range of first or third base is a foul.

Three balls being struck at and missed, the last one caught, is a hand out; if not caught it is considered fair and the batter must run.

A ball being struck or tipped and caught either flying or on the first bound is a hand out.

A player running the bases shall be out if the ball is in the hands of an adversary from catching or getting is touched by it before he makes his base; it being understood, however, that in no instance is the ball to be thrown at him.

Is a Hand Out.

A player running, who shall prevent an aversary from catching or getting the ball before making his base, is a hand out.

If two hands are already out a player running home at the time the ball is struck cannot make an ace if the striker is caught out.

Three hands out, or all out.

Players must take their strike in regular turn.

No ace or base can be made on a foul strike.

A runner cannot be put out in making one base when a balk is made.

But one base allowed when the ball bounds out of the field when struck.

After a few games the rules were changed so that the first baseman did not have to touch the runner in order to put him out.

The first game was played between two teams, chosen promiscuously from a crowd that gathered on a vacant lot. But on June 14, 1846, a regular game between two teams that really had names were played at Elysian Fields, N. Y. The clubs were the Knickerbockers and the New York Citys. No tally record of this game can be found in any book or at the county morgue, so it is presumed that the score was forgotten and there were no fatalities.

For thirteen years the game was permitted to drift along and then, in 1857, a league was formed in New York. No salaries were paid, however, and it was truly a "fourth of July" league.

Soldiers played the game on the fields of battle during the Civil war, and, returning home, fascinated with the sport, gave it new lease on life.

So speedily did the game advance that in the early 60's umpires began to call balls on pitchers who could not put them over.

In 1865 a bold New Englander started a factory for making baseballs. They were much superior to the old hand-made balls and caused increased interest in the game.

Three years later a salaried team was put in the field in Cincinnati. This grew into the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings, who, in 1869-1870, played eighty games without a defeat, setting a record in the pastime that has never been equalled.

When Nat Hicks, catcher, slipped on a mask and moved up behind the plate in 1876 his relatives began to doubt the validity of his life insurance policy with a suicide clause attached. The breast pad followed a few years later.

Not until 1886 were gloves used for the left hands by any other players than the catcher. That was the year Kansas City broke into the National league and, incidentally, finished next to last with a percentage of .246.

SAVE THEIR EARNINGS

Riotous Life of Former Pugilists Is Shunned By Present Stars.

Packey McFarland and Battling Nelson Examples of Ring Thrift.

Two great boxers, one comparatively rich and the other almost penniless faced a big crowd at one of the New York clubs recently. Packy McFarland, the wonderful Chicago lightweight, who has saved his money, had just bowed to the members in response to a rousing cheer and was drawing on the padded mitts for his contest with Owen Moran of England, when a shabbily dressed, gray-haired fellow was introduced as "Young Griffo of Australia, one of the best boxers the world ever knew." Griffo smiled sadly as the crowd cheered him, for he probably remembered the days when he won big money in the ring only to spend it foolishly. As the famous Australian clambered down from the platform an old-time sporting man handed up a $10 bill with the remark:

"I won many a good bet on you, Griffo, and I know you need this more than I do!"

"Thank you, very kindly, sir," replied Griffo, touching the brim of his derby hat with his forefinger. "I wish I had the money I've spent. A fighter's foolish if he don't behave himself and save up for the day when he's too old to box."

Now and in Past.

The contrast between McFarland and Griffo may be used as an illustration of the way modern fighters live as compared with the methods of former ring stars. McFarland is not an exception to the rule now in vogue. He regards glove fighting as a business which affords a chance for a successful boxer to reap a golden harvest. Although he is only 23 years old, he is worth nearly $100,000 which he has earned by his cleverness as a boxer. If a promoter should offer McFarland $1,000 to box four rounds with a second rater Packey would promptly decline with thanks, as he values his services at about $500 a round, and he can secure that much money any time he consents to give an exhibition before a big club. He knows he is a drawing card, and he says he intends to profit by his skill as long as nature will permit. By saving his money carefully he believes that some day he will be able to invest it in a venture that will be both respectable and a source of steady profit.

McFarland, in short, posseses much common sense. He has educated himself in so many ways that outside of the ring nobody would believe that he was a pugilist unless he knew him. He is fond of expensive clothing, but by no means flashy in his taste. He limits his jewelry to a diamond ring which cost $500 and lives at the best hotels when touring the country. But he doesn't believe in high life at all, for he doesn't drink liquor and shuns elaborate meals. Plain, wholesome food is good enough for Packey, who is always anxious to keep himself in the best possible condition. He makes a constant study of his weight and gets on the scales every day. If he finds that he is taking on flesh he cuts down the food supply and indulges in strenuous exercise, for he says that so long as he can keep down to 135 pounds or less he can make money steadily.

It was under different conditions that Young Griffo lived in the days when he was Australia's lightweight champion. He came across the Pacific more than fifteen years ago not only to engage in bouts with America's best boxers, but to have a royal good time. He was a marvel with his fists and his services were in demand all over the country. He was able to name his own terms to promoters in the big cities, but he had no idea about business and allowed unscrupulous persons to manage his affairs. He was fond of the gay life, the popping of corks, the lobster palaces, sleepless nights and prolonged sprees. He spent his money lavishly and even gave it away to strangers who followed in his wake. On one occasion Griffo met a crack fighter not far away from Chicago and the battle drew an enormous gate. After it was over the Australian went into the promoter's sanctum to receive his share of the spoils. The promoter began counting $1 bills in a pile on the table and Griffo's eyes bulged from their sockets. As the pile of greenbacks assumed the size of a small mountain the Australian suddenly interrupted the count and exclaimed:

"That's enough! Gimme it!"

His request was granted and he stuffed the bills into his pocket without counting them. He had less than $900 as he hurried away, while the grinning manager, who was in on the play, waited for $2,000 more. Griffo's excesses soon broke down his health and he became a decided back number. He went from bad to worse and was committed to the insane asylum on several occasions. Later he was arrested in Chicago for vagrancy and was locked up. He was discovered several months ago in a pitiful condition by a fellow countryman, who bought him clothing and put him on his feet. Then it was that Griffo, an old man with few friends and no money, decided to turn over a new leaf. He took the pledge and has lived quietly ever since, always regretting the days of long ago.

It Was Corbett.

As McFarland took his corner after each round that night he was coached by a pudgy, light-haired man who evidently knew much about the fighting game. Though hog fat and premature old, he was recognized as Young Corbett of Denver, who took the featherweight crown away from Terry McGovern a dozen years ago. He was a clean cut, handsome young fellow then, with nothing to lose and everything to gain. But Corbett, once in action, was a terrific fighter, and when he had put little McGovern to sleep he was invited to come to New York. Metropolitan life was all new to the Denver boy. He made friends rapidly and he learned many things, among them the ability to burn up money. His powerful physique kept him up and he went back to the ring to win fresh laurels, also more easy money, which did not last long. Then came a time when Corbett found that he was getting estout. He was too heavy to remain in the featherweight class, and as he didn't care for hard work he neglected his training. Defeat of a crushing nature became his lot and with a knock and a blow he lost his prestige and many of his friends. He tried to star in vaudeville, but somehow he didn't draw. Then he decided to fight again and for six months he trained in dead earnest. His return to the ring was a flash in the pan, and when Johnny Frayne, a second-rater, stopped him in California his ring career was over. Corbett had a benefit a year ago, but it didn't amount to much.

"He's able bodied! Why doesn't he go to work?" said the modern fight fans. Corbett got a job as a bartender, but even in this capacity he didn't prove a magnet, so he was finally dismissed, and again he turned to the old profession for a livelihood. He's busy now and then as a second these days, but it doesn't pay a lot and sometimes Corbett is compelled to ask old friends to help him out, but like Griffo, he wishes he had taken time by the forelock and had saved for a rainy day.

Terry McGovern is seldom heard from. He won a fortune in the ring but let it get away from him. A fast life undermined his health several years ago and he was sent to a sanitarium on Long Island. Then his friends arranged a big benefit and the money secured in that way has since yielded a small income for the support of Terry's family. Still delving into the past, one can point to other great fighters who spent their winnings and are now compelled to live on small wages. Kid Lavigne, the former lightweight champion, blew in a fortune with the boys, and when he lost his title to Frank Erne, he had nothing but empty pockets. He tried to keep on fighting, but his lost prestige was a serious obstacle. He could not demand big purses, and furthermore he soon found that he couldn't beat anybody. So he retired to take up a position in a thirst parlor, where he is drawing a small weekly stipend and is telling his friends how he'd like to live it all over again.

Jack McAuliffe, who surrendered the title to Lavigne, has got rid of thousands of dollars. He has gambled away much money in playing the races and has also been generous to friends in need. McAuliffe coupled fighting with riotous living and it was always his boast that he didn't have to train for a mill beyond getting a haircut and a shave. He went on the stage as a monologue artist a year ago, and stuck to the task with much perseverance, but the other day he surprised the world with the announcement that he wanted to fight again, probably because he couldn't stand the sight of so many young fellows boxing for fat purses.

McCoy Another Broke.

Kid McCoy is another example. He fought for all kinds of money in the old days, and won a lot of it. But his investments were unfortunate and he was always in financial straits. He tried his hand at various schemes, both here and in Europe, but for some reason he could not succeed. Some months ago McCoy, who was never a brawler, surprised his friends with the statement that he was broke. He went away to the country suddenly and nobody knew where to look for him. It was his secret plan to train again for a mill, and in that way get his hands on some money. A few weeks ago McCoy, looking the picture of health, came back and declared he was ready for business. His old friend, Jack O'Brien, who was never accused of spending money recklessly, offered him a match with an unknown in Philadelphia. McCoy was sure he had the old speed and skill, but when he engaged in actual combat he discovered to his dismay that old age had put the Indian sign on him.

Joe Walcott, the once famous giant killer, who was the world's welterweight champion ten years ago, has practically nothing to show for his work in the ring. His ring career was ended when he accidentally shot off his right thumb while fooling with a gun. Walcott made plenty of money when he held the title, but like other colored fighters he didn't know the value of it. His chum, the late George Dixon, woh held the featherweight championship for a dozen years, died in the hospital several years ago without a penny, yet during his career in the ring he must have earned all of $250,000. When Joe Gans, who lost the world's lightweight championship to Battling Nelson, died a year ago, he left very little property, although he won a snug fortune with his fists.

Jim Corbett isn't without means. He cleaned up thousands during his ring career, but for a time he lived at a fast clip. He didn't forget to buy a home on Long Island, however, and since his retirement from pugilism he has derived a steady income from the stage. His old rivals, Tom Sharkey and Jim Jeffries have saved their money and are living in easy street. Jeffries earned more than $150,000 as a result of his disastrous fight with Jack Johnson and is able to go to Europe on a pleasure trip. Other old timers who had sense enough to lay something away during their fighting days are Tommy Ryan, former middleweight champion, and Mysterious Billy Smith, one of the best welters that ever drew on a glove. Old Bob Fitzsimmons is still plugging away in vaudeville and has some money, but the big cash prizes he drew down when he was champion of the world were invested in real estate, which was asigned by him to his second wife, the late Rose Julian.

Attell Still Going.

Abe Attell is about the only veteran who is still in the ring. He has been fighting for ten years and yet he is always in need of funds. Attell is fond of games of chance. Playing the races, shooting craps and poker have been fatal investments. Several bookmakers have been backed by his bankroll to no purpose. He is one of the biggest ring attractions in the world and commands big pay, with which he supports his wife and mother. But he hasn't begun to save yet, and unless he suddenly decides to do so his friends say he will regret it in the long run. Attell is a well behaved, mild mannered little chap who doesn't believe in managers, and is a shrewd matchmaker. He sees boxers on all sides with money, and he may catch the prevalent fever.

Before Jack Johnson got a chance to whip Tommy Burns there were many days when his old manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, had to furnish him with a meal ticket. But when Hugh McIntosh the Burns mill the big negro became ungrateful and tossed Fitzpatrick over. Altough Johnson decided to find out the meaning of high life and did not spare expense in the search, he did not lose sight of the fact that he was at one time a pauper. So he took good care to open a bank account and when he began to draw $1,500 a week he went to the bank with frequency. He bought automobiles and real estate, never forgetting to open wine whenever he yearned for the sparkling water. Johnson was smart enough to drive a great bargain when he got the match with Jeffries and after the victory at Reno he had enough money to keep him from want the rest of his life. Johnson isn't a reckless spender, as many persons believe. On the contrary, he is rather tight fisted. He never lends money to friends without excellent security and seldom spends a penny on persons outside of his family. As long as he holds the heavyweight title Johnson can gather money rapidly. He says he will not fight again unless he receives $30,000, win or lose, and by that he evidently means that he is anxious to put one more big bundle away in the safety deposit vault before he becomes a dead issue.

Nelson Is Rich.

Battling Nelson, though a former champion, isn't worrying. This rough and ready young man owns real estate and is financially interested in several business ventures. He is shrewd and careful and never allows a dollar to escape his clutches. If Nelson ever spent money foolishly there is no record of it.

Sam Langford, the Boston negro, who thinks he can whip Johnson, has made plenty of money in the last five years and still has it. It is said that he is worth $75,000, and has a chance to increase the size of his bank roll, as he is in his prime and is a big card on the other side. Harlem Tommy Murphy, the New York lightweight, who looks like a bank clerk in his street clothes, has invested his earnings in Brooklyn real estate and is well fixed. Young Sammy Smith of Philadelphia is making money rapidly.

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

AT this season when the prospective college graduate — brawny near-alumnus still surcharged with class spirit, although a bit chastened by the impending possibilities attached to final examinations, and less timorous about-to-be-alumna, rarely obsessed in a like fashion—so fills the public eye that the overworked organ has little space for anything else, how about those who have survived a like experience until they have become the oldest living alumni of their respective alma maters —or should it be almae matres?

Henry B. Elliott, D. D., Presbyterian minister, aged 88, now living in West Ninth street, New York city, is one of these. Seventy-one years ago this commencement season, then a youth of 17, he received his diploma in arts from the hands of Theodore Frelinghuysen, chancellor of the University of New York, who had been United States senator and was to be Henry Clay's running mate on the Whig ticket in 1844. "Good boy!" said the chancellor sotto voce, as he delivered the precious sheepskin.

The Alumnus Who Made the First Daguerreotype.

According to all the scientific authorities the first photograph was taken by Prof. John William Draper in 1839, in the old building of New York university. Dr. Elliott has something to say on that subject and this is how he puts it: "Early in 1839 the Frenchman Daguerre discovered his process and shortly afterward Prof. Draper described it in detail to his chemistry class, of which I was a member. I was so interested in it that I resolved to try it myself. My father regarded my determination as a boyish whim and declined to go to any expense, so I procured the necessary lenses from an old magic lantern and proceeded to construct a camera, using a cigar box, and anything else that came handy. By the time I had completed my apparatus I was so overwrought with apprehension that my experiment would be a failure that I could scarcely get up the courage to make the test.

"At last I roused myself and posed my sister before a window, with my device adjusted at what I regarded as a proper focus. I was prepared for failure at the start, and I leave you to picture my delight when I discovered that my apparatus was an instant success and that I obtained an excellent picture of my sister. Of course, nothing was known about fixing the impression in those days, but the first photograph, or daguerreotype, ever taken in this country did not fade for several weeks. About six months later Prof. Draper made public accouncement of his success in following Daguerre's lead and I have never disputed his claim publicly until now. He was a great scientist, but I anticipated him in photography at least six months."

Dr. Elliot is also the oldest living graduate of Union Theological seminary.

The Alumnus Who Disproved the Anneke Jans Fiction.

Richard H. Clarke, still at the age of 84 an active practitioner at the New York city bar, is the oldest surviving alumnus of Georgetown university, from which he received the degree of bachelor in arts in 1848, and later the master's and doctor's degrees. "Richard Clarke," said the venerable president of Georgetown to the boy of 19 at the close of the commencement exercises, "we expect you to be a credit to the institution and to the name you bear. Your first American ancestor, Robert Clarke, was associated with the Calverts in the settlement of Maryland, your grandfather was an officer under Washington in the War of Independence and your father fought in the War of 1812. Bearing all this in your memory, it will not be difficult for you to continue the family tradition for eminence and probity."

The old Jesuit's sage admonition fell on willing and ambitious ears. In 1855, with his reputation as a lawyer well established by a dozen years' successful practice at the national capital, Mr. Clarke removed to New York city, where he became associated with Charles O'Conor in several historical cases, among them the Jumel will case, the case of the United States against Jefferson Davis for treason and the famous Forest divorce proceedings. Later he was retained by the corporation counsel to investigate and report on the claims of the alleged heirs of Anneke Jans, who were combining in all parts of the country to contest the title to valuable real estate holdings in possession of the vestry of Trinity church, the city corporation and others. Mr. Clarke's report was so exhaustive, and withal so conclusive against the claimants, that the agitation ceased immediately and has never been resumed in the form of concerted effort.

While he was engaged in the Anneke Jans research, and before he had formulated his report, he was visited at his office one day by a woman who introduced herself as a descendant of the intestate Anneke, who had come from Ohio to claim her share of the estate. She expressed a desire to retain Mr. Clarke and offered to share equally with him in the proceeds.

"And may I ask you, madam, of what use you propose making of this property when it comes into your possession?" the lawyer inquired urbanely.

"Certainly," she returned promptly. "I shall go right to Toledo and open a first class restaurant. That's always been the ambition of my life. Now tell me what you would do with your share?" she added naively.

"Let me see," he said, assuming an air of the most intense mental calculation. "Now what would I do with my half?" he went on abstractedly. "Ah, I have it!" he said finally, as if with a sudden inspiration. "If my share of the Anneke Jans estate amounted to enough—mind, I am putting it conditionally—I should hunt up your restaurant and order a dozen on the half shell."

Two of these college veterans were born so long ago as 1817—Judge David Cross of Dartmouth in July and John Bigelow of Union in November. The latter was graduated at the age of 17 and the former, Mr. Bigelow's senior by three months, did not acquire his bachelor's diploma until he had reached the maturer age of 24.

Has Known Members of Every Class at Dartmouth.

Now within a few weeks of his ninety-fourth birthday, still actively interested in the various enterprises which have had his earnest attention for more than seventy years and have made him one of the most successful jurists, bankers and general business men in the Granite State, Judge Cross is as ready as ever to "talk college."

"You may understand how the old college influence has dominated me," he said recently, "when I tell you that I have had a personal acquaintance with members of every class graduated from Dartmouth, and the institution was founded in 1769, you know. Why, I am so certain to make my appearance at Hanover early in commencement week that any failure on my part to materialize promptly would be regarded as eccentricity. The older I become the more interested I am in what is going on there.

"Many changes in the college system and in educational methods? Yes, many and radical, most of them for the better, I am convinced, but one for the worse. That is the gradual elimination of classical study from the prescribed list and the substitution of a mass of electives. In my day we did not question the usefulness of Greek and Latin as a foundation for an intelligent career. It seemed apparent to us that in order to obtain a fair understanding of our own language it was necessary to have some knowledge of the two great literatures which have made it what it is. I have been so interested in this matter that I have made rather a close study of it and, in my opinion, the so-called elective system has not accomplished what was promised for it. For one thing, it has made us a nation of indifferent English scholars."

John Bigelow on the German Educational Invasion.

John Bigelow, scholar, author and diplomat, in full sympathy with modern progress and enthusiastic over everything that makes for educational advancement, is inclined to agree with Judge Cross that our American educators have made a mistake in snubbing the classics. "It all came from the German invasion in our college system, he maintains. "Since it was discovered that an American student—even though he knew little or nothing of the German language—might spend two or three years in a German university town and return home a full-fledged doctor of philosophy the craze to remodel our institutions of higher learning after the Teutonic pattern has spread raddily. Nowadays every little fresh-water university in the land is sending out its grist of doctors of philosophy and the good old degree of master of arts is the prevailing distinction only the British universities. The most serious feature of the matter is that while the Germans have succeeded in maintaining their preeminence in classical scholarship under their system, we have not been able to retain ours in our effort to imitate them.

"Not so long ago I happened to be present during part of a recitation period of the class in Virgil's 'Aeneid' at one of our colleges which has not yet assumed the dimensions of a university. A husky young athlete was called on by the professor to construe a dozen lines from the first book of the great poem, and I was amazed at his attempt to do it. In my day we were expected to give an intelligent translation, not too liberal, but in good English. It was plainly evident that this youngster was on unfamiliar ground. He squirmed about like a fish out of water, now and then managing, with the assistance of the professor, to choke out a disjointed phrase. When he had struggled to the end he looked as exhausted as if he had just finished a Marathon. Judge of my surprise when the professor actually complimented him on his performance.

"There is certain to be a reaction in this business. I think I see signs of a revival of interest in classical study in some of our leading institutions. Only recently the head of the department of Romance languages in a leading American school told me that for the future he should accept no candidate for a position under him who was not an excellent Greek and Latin scholar; that he had tried the experiment of employing men who had attained to the doctorate in philosophy under the elective system and was satisfied that it had been a waste of time."

The man who has been a bachelor of arts for the longest period is William Rankin, LL. D. Dr. Rankin was graduated from Williams in 1831. That was five years before Mark Hopkins became president of the college and only thirty-eight years after the founding of the institution or, rather, its development into a college from the free school established by the will of Col. Ephraim Williams. Like Judge Cross of Dartmouth, Dr. Rankin might have been acquainted with members of every class graduated from his college.

The Alumnus Who Quarreled With the Classics.

A year later James C. Hepburn, M. D., LL. D., was graduated from Princeton, and he is the only surviving member of the class of 1832. Dr. Hepburn is the oldest living college alumnus in America, having been born at Milton, Pennsylvania, in 1815. When he entered Princeton, Ashbel Green was at the head of the school, having just succeeded Samuel Stanhope Smith, who had done great things for the college in the way of broadening its curriculum. For one thing, he made provision for regular instruction in chemistry, the first action of the kind ever taken by an American school.

"From the first I was deeply interested in this new and comparatively unknown study," says Dr. Hepburn, "and I went into it with all the enthusiasm of the youngster of 14 that I was. I was intended for the Presbyterian ministry and eventually became a missionary of the denomination in China and Japan, but I concluded that the medical profession would give me a better chance to pursue the fascinating study. In those days there was a pretty stiff proportion of the classics in the college requirements and I made up my mind that it would be more agreeable to devote some of the time spent on Latin and Greek to the more agreeable task of chemical experimentation. I remember that I agitated the matter a good deal publicly and gained quite a reputation as a kicker. For aught I know, I may have been the original advocate of the elective system.

"In the course of time my critical attitude was brought to the attention of President Green and he invited me to visit him in his study. I shall never forget how considerate he was. 'I hear that you have a poor opinion of the Latin and Greek authors,' he said, with a humorous gleam in his eyes. 'What have you discovered that is so out of the way with them?' I replied that the only quarrel I had with them was the amount of time they demanded. 'It seems to me that you will have an abundance of time,' he replied with a smile. 'You are not yet 15 and you have plenty of time to make the acquaintance of these interesting gentlemen.' I returned promptly that I preferred to cultivate the society of the natural sciences.

"Then it was that the president floored me by an argument which convinced me that I had something still to learn. 'How are you going to get at the very bottom of any study without any knowledge of the classics?' he asked. 'Don't you know that the entire nomenclature of chemistry and much of the literature of the subject are in Latin? How are you going to become eminent in any direction without a good working knowledge of the classics?'

"His kindness and his logic were too strong a combination to resist and I went back to my Homer and Livy with a determination to give them a chance to do everything they could for me. As it has turned out, I have never made a stir in the world of pure science, but I have found time to produce a Japanese dictionary which, I believe, is still regarded as the standard. My dictionary of the Bible in Japanese was inspired by the need of such a work which I experienced when I was a medical missionary in the island empire. I have never regretted that I took President Green's advice."

An Echo of the Famous Rebellions in Yale.

"When I entered Yale in 1834," recalls Henry P. Hedges, oldest surviving alumnus of that institution, "a member of the graduating class of that year took it on himself to warn me to start out right by giving my allegiance to the student body and to let the faculty entirely alone. At the time I didn't regard the advice as anything more than the ordinary loyalty inspired by a proper class spirit, but I soon came to know that it meant something far more definite. Dr. Jeremiah Day was president and he was a distinct novelty in Yale executives. Until his time, the students had been a self-governing body, and it was a fact that they had not always made a success of the business. When Dr. Day succeeded the popular Dr. Timothy Dwight—a man so esteemed by the student body that while he was at the helm, no authority was necessary to maintain the proprieties of college life—one of his first acts was to transfer the responsibility for the government of the students to the faculty, a move which excited a violent opposition from the men and nearly resulted in the closing of the institution.

"As it was, there was forcible rebellion which was not choked out for a number of years. Two of these general revolts had been sprung just prior to my arrival at New Haven—those famous in college annals as the 'Conic Sections Rebellion' and the 'Bread and Butter Rebellion,' both terminating in victory for the faculty, but leaving behind them more or less bitterness. There was still a system of organized resistance in operation, and that was what my departing friend ment when he advised me to array myself on the side of the student body. I learned afterward that every new student was confronted on his arrival with a similar proposition.

"Of course I was only too ready to accept the admonition, all my notions of college life being based on fealty to student traditions, but I had little opportunity during my course to show my devotion to the cause. By that time President Day and his associates in the faculty had obtained such a hold on public opinion and had mastered the trick of college government so well that nothing beyond the usual student fantastics occurred during my day. By the time I had struggled through Mr. Day's work on navigation and surveying and had peeped into one or two of his philosophical treatises I was as meek as a lamb."

Two Alumni Who Have Been Famous Fighters.

The oldest graduate of the United States Military Academy is General Simon B. Buckner, Mexican and Civil war veteran, who finished at West Point as a student in 1844, but returned as instructor in ethics and in infantry tactics after the campaign with General Scott. Rear Admiral John H. Upshur is the sole survivor of the class of 1848 of the Naval academy and the oldest alumnus of that institution.

"I was in at the birth of the institution," says the old sea fighter, "which was opened in Annapolis in 1845. At that time it was known as the 'Naval School' and the course was fixed at five years, the first and last of these to be spent at the school. I had been a student at William and Mary college, but had tired of the humdrum of the life and had gone into the navy and had served on various vessels in the Mediterranean, on the coast of South America and elsewhere. When the new naval school was organized I thought it would be well for me to take advantage of the opportunity to learn the theory of sea fighting and I went in at the opening and remained three years, my previous experience cutting the course down to that time.

"It was a rather primitive affair in those days, although the teaching was good enough. The year after I left Annapolis the course was changed to seven years, the first two and the last two years to be spent at the school and the three intervening years at sea. That didn't seem satisfactory after a short trial and then the present four-year course was adopted and annual practice cruises were begun. The name was change to United State. Naval academy in 1849."

The Greatest Scholar Among the Veterans.

In point of scholarship and philological distinction Dr. Francis A. Marsh, who took the bachelor's degree at Amherst in 1846 and has been the resident of the honorary graduate from most of the leading universities, including Oxford and Cambridge, is most conspicuous. For half a century Dr. Marsh occupied the chair of the English language and comparative philology at Lafayette college, only retiring from active work as Carnegie emeritus professor four years ago. A pioneer in the philogical study of English classics, he soon attracted the attention of the literary and scholastic world by his deep researches into the sources of the English language, and he has been regarded as an authority in such matters for many years.

Edward S. Renwick, member of the class of 1839 at Columbia and oldest alumnus of that institution, is still, at the age of eighty-five, in active business at New York City. Since 1849 he has been regarded as an expert in patent cases, and he is the inventor of many mechanical labor saving devices. J. T. Coolidge, of Cambridge, Mass., is the oldest Harvard alumnus and was just finishing his course when he heard Emerson deliver his famous Phi Beta Kappa oration on "The American Scholar." This was the discourse which D. Holmes pronounced "the intellectual declaration of independence for America."

"It is the one thing that is as fresh in my memory as if I had heard it yesterday," says Mr. Coolidge. "There was nothing distinctively Emersonian about that oration—nothing that required interpretation, I mean. It was a sober and earnest exhortation to us to lead our lives with thoughtfulness, austerity and self trust, not leaning for support on traditions and precepts of ages gone by, but cleaving a way independently for ourselves."

The oldest alumnus of Trinity college is Dr. S. P. Church, who was graduated in 1841, at the head of his class. He is now living at Ithaca, N. Y., with his son, Prof. Irving P. Church of Cornell. John M. Orr, oldest surviving alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, lives at Leesburg, Va. James Hemphill, sole survivor of the class of 1838 at Washington and Jefferson, lives at Chester, S. C. Rev. John F. Mesick, living at York, Pa., is Rutgers' grand old man. John W. Lindsay, who received his degree in arts at the Wesleyan university, at Middletown, Conn., in 1840, is the oldest alumnus of that institution.

The following are the oldest living graduates of some of the best known American institutions of learning: Allegheny college, William Reynolds, class of 1837, living at Meadville, Pa.; Bowdoin college, William P. Preble, class of 1840, New Brighton, N. Y.; Colgate university, I. H. Stoddard, class of 1845, Plainfield, N. J.; College of the City of New York, George W. Birdsall, class of 1853, New York City; Dickinson college, Rev. Thomas Bowman, class of 1837, East Orange, N. J.; Hamilton college, Augustus L. Rhodes, class of 1841, San Jose, Cal.; Kenyon college, Sidney C. Long, class of 1841, Baltimore, Md.; Oberlin college, Samuel F. Porter, class of 1836, Oberlin, Ohio; University of Michigan, Theodore R. Palmer, class of 1847, National City, Cal.; University of Wisconsin, Levi Booth, class of 1854, Denver, Col.

BALD EAGLE GOES FISHING.

Greenville Record: Last Sunday afternoon a fine specimen of the bald eagle visited the lake at the water plant and after circling around for some time he made a swoop and came up with a bass in his talons. Dr. J. W. Barlow was near the lake and was an interested spectator of the incident. After the eagle had made his catch he circled about for some time and the doctor noticed that the eagle was having some trouble with his prey.

Finally the fish wriggled from the talons of the eagle and fell a short distanc from th spot where the doctor was standing. It was a fine specimen of black bass, and as it was so injured that it could not live, the doctor took it home, where he placed it on the scales, which registered a pound and seven ounces.

Drink Beer With Your Meals

GOOD beer, unlike the other beverages generally used at meal time, has a value beyond its thirst-quenching and refreshing qualities. The malt contained is in itself a food, the hops provide a valuable tonic and the small percentage of alcohol is a valuable aid to digestion. Choose a beer that is absolutely pure, that is aged so perfectly it cannot cause billiousness and that has a genuinely delicious flavor. Such a beer is

AITKIN

Aitkin, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Maud Allen has returned from Minneapolis.

The public school teachers spent last Saturday at the Foley cottage at Cedar lake.

Mrs. C. J. Kordes has been spending the week at Jacobson, the guest of Mrs. Feero and Mrs. Wakefield.

Leonard Madden has gone to Sandstone, where he has a position with Olson & Tully in railroad construction work.

Mrs. John Wade of Villisca, Iowa, arrived here last week and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Krech, Mrs. Foley and Mr. and Mrs. Hodgeson took a tour around Mille Lacs lake last Sunday, Mr. Hodgeson taking the party in his auto.

Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Margaret McQuillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McQuillan, was married to Thomas A. Brooks of St. Louis, Rev. A. L. Richardson performing the ceremony, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. A wedding supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks left for their home in Peoria, Ill. The bride was born in Aitkin and has grown to womanhood here.

William A. Kelly, father of Dr. Kelly, arrived here Wednesday from North Carolina, and will spend the summer in Minnesota.

The ranch house of Mrs. Margaret Allen was totally destroyed by fire May 12. Mrs. Allen was alone in the house when the fire broke out and was able to save only a few things. A small insurance was carried. A few days before the fire three of Mrs. Allen's cows were drowned in the river and six more are missing and a horse died at the same time.

An exhibition of the work of the school pupils was held in the auditorium Thursday afternoon. This included not only the grades but also the manual training and sewing departments and was a credit to both pupils and teachers. Peace day was observed with appropriate exercises at the auditorium, short addresses being made by several of the citizens.

Otto Martinson took his little daughter to Duluth last week for an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. E. C. Boeck has returned from Minneapolis, where she attended the Eastern Star convention, being a delegate from the local lodge.

A cement floor is being placed in the drygoods department of the Potter-Casey store.

Last Friday afternoon the William Rogers house, below Elm street, was destroyed by fire. The family of R. H. Poston had been occupying the house and were moving out when the fire occurred. The loss was covered by insurance.

Mrs. T. Reynolds of St. Paul is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. C. Trudgeon.

Miss Harold, who has been spending some time here with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Small, departed Wednesday for her home in Oconto, Wis.

Clifford J. Seth and Miss Mary Ryan of Esquagamah were married Tuesday morning in the Catholic church, Rev. Smiers performing the ceremony. Miss Margaret Bonniville was bridesmaid and Pat Ryan best man. Mr. and Mrs. Seth returned to the home of the bride's father, James Ryan, in Esquagamah, where a reception and dancing followed.

Louis Schwartz and Miss Susan Fisk of Lansford were united in marriage Tuesday in the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. A. L. Richardson.

HALLOCK

Hallock, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Blanda Sundberg, superintendent of schools has returned from St. Paul, where she attended the grand lodge of the Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Popes, Sr., are spending the summer with their son, Richard, at Detroit, Mich.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Hawkins, died last Saturday, after a short illness.

T. M. George and family and Miss Theo Konzen, who have spent more than a month at Long Beach, Cal., and the greater portion of the winter at Portland, have returned home.

During an electric storm the barn of Hugo Baker caught on fire and burned to the ground, together with a number of chickens and pigs, harness and ten tons of hay.

Mrs. J. Merkman returned this week to Rochester, after a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. V. Blethen.

The Hallock orchestra gave a dance Thursday night at the I. O. G. T. hall and a very nice social time was enjoyed.

WINS AGAINST THE MACCABEES

Court Holds Member Must Be Carried at Entrance Rate.

Watertown, N. Y., May 20. — The court of appeals has decided in favor of Dennis Wright of this city, whose fight against the Maccabees has attracted state-wide attention during its long couse of years through the courts. There are a number of similar cases pending, which will be largely influenced by the outcome in the Wright action. By the court's order Wright must be reinstated at the rates which were in force when he joined the organization.

Wright, who is a janitor in the Taggart block, was one of the many who protested when the order advanced its rates. Wright fought the matter out, his action against the order dating back to 1905.

Wright was dropped from the rolls upon his refusal to pay the increased rates. The court of appeals was unanimous in its opinion. The court holds that the old rates must continue and that the order has no right to exclude one insured if that person refuses to pay the new rates established and is willing to pay the rate agreed upon at the time he took out the policy.

Newest Motor Engines.

To accident is due the discovery of a hot air engine of a non-explosive type, with no plugs, sparks or batteries. The cost of operation for an ordinary auto is less than one cent per hour. Gas or kerosene is used, and the engine is so simple a child can operate it. In a short time it is expected to be exploited for public use, and will, it is said, revolutionize modern power. For human power and energy, nothing has yet been discovered superior to golden grain belt beers, made in the finest equipped brewery in the world. UNCLE SAM IS LOSING MILLIONS

Congressmen Hear Charges Regarding Information of Creosote.

Washington, May 20.—Creosote importations and alleged irregularities concerning them, through which the government is said to have lost millions in revenue, were considered yesterday by the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department.

Stimulated by public charges that creosote, dutiable under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law at 20 per cent ad valorem, was being admitted at Southern ports as creosote oil, free of duty, the committee summoned Allen E. Benson, who wrote the article which made the charges.

Mr. Benson told the committee that in the summer of 1907, J. E. B. Stuart, then collector of the port at Newport News, found at that port the British steamer Balkan loaded with 2,000 tons of creosote, which he believed dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem. The captain told him he had been bringing it in free for years and that it was not dutiable.

Was Admitted Free.

The cargo was billed for New Orleans and Stuart requested the captain to give a bond that he would not attempt to smuggle it into this country before he permitted the vessel to proceed. At New Orleans the cargo was admitted free as creosote oil.

Members of the committee have been informed that millions of dollars worth of creosote are being imported constantly upon which the 20 per cent duty should be collected, and it is further charged that most of this commodity, which is used by the railroads, is brought to Southern ports, whereas it formerly was shipped to New York, where the duty of 20 per cent is now demanded.

ILLINOIS SENATE PASSES GAG BILL.

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—In the rush of work Representative Chester Church's bill which prohibits publication of detailed statements or descriptions of crimes and executions of criminals, passed the senate without being noticed. The bill, which has already passed the house, prohibits publication of detailed statements or descriptions of the execution of criminals, murderers, or attempts to murder. Violation of the act is made punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000, or not more than six months' imprisonment, or both.

FAMOUS PICTURES ON VIEW

Wonderful Display of Masterpieces in the National Gallery of Art—The Slater Collection of Artistic Treasures.

Washington, May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lovers of art in the national capital have rarely, if ever, been given the opportunity to view so many famous pictures in such a limited collection as shown in the Slater loan section of the National Gallery of Art in the new National Museum building. This collection has now been installed at the gallery and given the special prominence it deserves in a room on the right of the main entrance to the gallery.

Scores of critics and students have been surprised and delighted at finding such a wonderful display of masterpieces. There are works by Rembrandt, Millet, Delacroix, Corot, Daubigny, Troyon, Mettling, Diaz, Ruysdael, Rousseau, Hobbema, Wyant, Herkomer and Le Brun. In all there are fifteen canvases in this superb collection, each and every one a master's work.

W. A. Slater, who owns this collection, has graciously consented to permit it to remain in the national gallery for an indefinite time in order that the people of the city and the stranger within our gates may have an opportunity of inspecting it. Artists and students have lingered long over these pictures, returning day after day the better to study the masterly technique and superb color.

Mr. Slater, who has been for some years a resident of Washington, has spent many years of effort and hundreds of thousands of dollars in gathering together these artistic treasures. "The Rabbi," by Rembrandt, unquestionably stands first. In this painting there is something less than the usual positiveness of this master. There is a transparency in the atmosphere as the bright coppery sunshine apparently breaks through the haze. The light is especially effective on the right side of the face, illumining the gray beard, hands and hair. The bronze tones are especially effective and striking.

If one makes a second choice where all rank so high, it might be accorded to the landscape by Hobbema, a typical landscape of the old Dutch school worked out with the great attention to detail characteristic of the work of this master. In the painting there is an old mill, a mill-race and a water pool, in addition to its other features.

Delacroix's contribution to the collection is entitled "Return of Columbus to the Court of Ferdinand." Columbus is shown accompanied by a group of Indians and other evidences of his successful voyage. The painting includes a large group showing Ferdinand and Isabella, courtiers, soldiers and ladies of the court in all the exquisite colorings of the times.

"The Portrait of a Lady," by Madame Vigee Le Brun, is a charming work. It is exceedingly well painted and with great attention to detail.

Troyon's "Horses at Watering Trough" is strongly painted and beautiful in color. It is a picture that always commands attention.

Rousseau's "Sunset in a Wood" is a beautiful dark picture with woods through which is obtained a glimpse of the brilliant sunset.

Millet has two pictures, one, "The Drinking Place," is a pastel showing a woman watering a cow; and the other, in oil, "Seamstresses Sewing on a Shroud."

A landscape by Daubigny, entitled "Springtime," is a large picture showing a marsh, cattle, women and trees, and one of his wonderful evening skies. This is one of the most modern pictures in the collection, dating 1873.

The Corot, which by right takes precedence over almost anything in the collection, is one of the most celebrated paintings of the famous master. It has Corot's luminous sky, the dull greens and browns of the foliage and the usual figures of dancing fauns and nymphs in the foreground.

Diaz is represented by a woodland scene of great beauty and richness of color. The effect of the sunlight on the tree trunks half buried in the deep foliage, is most striking. It is one of the most attractive pictures of this rare collection.

Mettling has an interesting head of a boy with Titian hair contrasting strongly with the luminous face. It is a gem worthy of its place among the masters.

"The Dunes Near Haarlem," a landscape by Ruysdael, and another "Landscape" by Alexander H. Wyant complete the collection.

The National museum is open from 9 to 4:30 every week day.

MAYBRAY PAIR FREED AND ARE REARRESTED.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, May 20.—Barney Godfrey and W. D. Godfrey, two members of the Mabray swindle syndicate who have been serving sentences of nine months each in the county jail of this county, completed their terms yesterday and were released, but were immediately rearrested on bench warrants charging conspiracy and larceny. They signed bonds of $5,000 each.

The Modern Wash-day

Time was when The Wash was a weekly nightmare, wash-day dinner a by-word.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove has changed all that. Once the wash-boiler is on the stove, it leaves you free to attend to the dinner or any other work.

You can move a New Perfection where you please and light it in a moment. It requires no attention after that. A single gallon of oil lasts all three burners seven hours or more. No coal or wood to carry; no fire to feed; no soot nor ashes. It keeps a kitchen or laundry cool and clean. It cooks to perfection, with the least trouble and expense.

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TAKES LIFE FOR FAMILY

Theory That Bjorge Killed Self to Prevent Family Losing Claim.

Strange Denouement of Homesteader's Suicide Near Thief River Falls.

Crookston, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evidence, accumulating since the suicide of Ole O. Bjorge, near Thief River Falls a week ago, indicates that he took his life for the sole purpose of saving his farm for his wife and nine children. The story of the suicide appeared in The Herald. Bjorge disappeared from his home one evening and the next forenoon his lifeless body was found hanging from a rafter in an unused barn about eighty rods from his house.

It was said then that despondency because of a contest which had been started to get his farm away from him was the cause of the suicide, but it developed later that he was pretty certain that he would lose the farm if he fought the contest out, while if he was out of the way there would be no question but that his wife and children would get the land without trouble owing to the manner in which the law could be applied in event of his death.

Mr. Moran at the time had not the remotest idea what Bjorge was getting at, but the fact that he committed suicide a few days later shows that he contemplated taking his own life if it would mean the saving of his farm to his wife and children, and as soon as he satisfied himself that such would be the case he carried out his dreadful determination not to lose the farm, which was practically all he had.

While there have been many cases in which the contest conditions were similar, this is the first instance known where a man deliberately ended his life to save his property for his family.

Death Would Remove Doubt.

The attorney told him there would be no question but that they would get the land without trouble owing to the manner in which the law could be applied in event of his death.

THREE PIONEERS CALLED BEYOND

Early Residents of Red River Valley Have Left Earthly Scenes.

Crookston, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.) — Three Red river valley pioneers have died within the past two days. Mrs. H. S. Allard of this city will be buried this afternoon, death following a long illness from tuberculosis. She leaves a husband, three daughters and a son. Mathew Martin, a pioneer farmer of Polk county, where he resided for thirty-two years, died this morning. He leaves a widow and a large family of children. Angus McCallum died Friday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Bowen. He was 82 years of age and was a pioneer farmer of Grand Forks county, N. D., having come here but a year ago.

Akeley Has Boy Scouts.

Akeley, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Boy Scouts have been organized with a membership of forty who passed the first examination. O. F. Hawkins has been elected Scout master and Denton Patten adjutant. Five acres of ground on Tenth Crow lake's shores has been plowed and prepared for the boys of the Red River Lumber company. The Scouts will "farm" the tract under supervision of the Scout master and practical farmers. The various patrols are in labor today.

OLD CONTROVERSY WILL BE ADJUSTED

Beltrami and Clearwater Counties to Compromise Their Differences.

Bemidji, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beltrami county commissioners have decided to settle on a compromise basis the long drawn out fight between this county and Clearwater over the question of how much Clearwater should pay Beltrami as a result of the organization of Clearwater. The question has been in the courts and Beltrami claimed more than $20,000, but rather than continue court, the commissioners now agree to $3,300.

Andrew Rood, for some time editor of the Weekly Sentinel has sold his interest in that paper to his junior partner, Walter F. Marcum. Mr. Rood quits the newspaper to become a professional musician.

Trout and pike fry to the extent of 175 cans have been distributed from the state car "Glenwood" between here and Bagley and Park Rapids and Crookston. President Bradly had charge of the car.

House Is Collapsing.

Weakened, it is said, by the digging of a cellar for the foundation of a new brick business block, the ground gave way under the $1,800 residence of Elaine Boyd, a 13-year-old school girl whose mother is dead and who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Marin, and the building sank so that its walls, which are concreate, cracked. The danger of a complete collapse was so imminent that the girl and her grandmother hastily left their home and are afraid to return.

AKELEY PLANNING FOR TOURNAMENT

Arranging for Seventeenth Annual Tournament of the Fire Boys.

Akeley, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The program for the seventeenth annual tournament of the Northern Minnesota Firemen's association has been completed by Secretary R. F. Pray. Eight running teams have been entered for the association races, Akeley, Park Rapids, Grand Rapids, Cass Lake, Walker, Marble, Coleraine and Kelliher.

Six fast baseball games have been scheduled, which will include some of the best near-professionals in the state. The aquatic sports will be a feature. A big purse is hung up for a log-rolling contest. A fine race course for the firemen is in preparation. The date of the tournament will be June 13 to 16, inclusive, and it promises to be the largest and best held in the history of the association.

FOUNDER VISITS CARLTON.

"Uncle" Fred Little of Duluth, Hale at 80, Visits Place.

Carlton, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Uncle" Fred Little, still hale and hearty at 80, was the guest of his old-time friend, Dr. O. S. Watkins, here Wednesday. Mr. Little was the founder of Carlton, at that time located near Barker, on the state line, where "Uncle" Fred and his brother, Dan, operated a sawmill. Mr. Little resides at Duluth.

BUILDING BOX FACTORY.

Tobacco Packer Bekkedal Starts Work on Conderay Affair.

Couderay, Wis., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. H. Bekkedal, the Westby, Wis., leaf tobacco packer and wholesaler, has started building a large box factory here, to be operated in connection with his Eddy creek saw mill near here and the large Chippewa hardwood and hemlock saw mill plant that he purchased from the Heffelfingers of Minneapolis this spring. He expects to have the box factory completed this summer and in time to manufacture boxes for his large tobacco packing business that he conducts in the southern part of the state. The tobacco packing lasts during the fall and winter.

With the two hardwood saw mills, planning mills and the box factory, he will have a model manufacturing plant in this town. The starting of this plant will put new life into this town and also bring in a lot of new settlers into this vicinity.

RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FIRES

Railroad Liability Case Verdict Affirmed By the Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.—The state supreme court yesterday made a hard, fast ruling in cases of damage resulting from forest fires started by railroad locomotives. In affirming the judgment obtained by Norman H. Patry in Norman county against the Northern Pacific and H. G. Otis, the court held:

"A complaint which alleges that a railway company was negligent in failing to patrol its right-of-way to prevent and extinguish fires, and in not equipping certain locomotive engines with proper spark arresters; that certain engineers negligently failed to inspect their engines before taking them out on the road, and that a section boss was negligent in failing to keep the right-of-way clear from combustible matter, which resulted in starting a fire from sparks from the engines, which destroyed the property of another on adjoining premises—states a cause of action against each defendant."

WILL WORK MINES FOUR DAYS A WEEK

New Rule of Oliver Iron Mining Company at Ishpeming Effective Monday.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beginning next Monday the local mines of the Oliver Iron Mining company will be worked only four days a week.

W. H. Johnson, who has general supervision of the company's interests on the Marquette range, says that there will be no reduction in the force at any of the mines in Ishpeming and that the change from a six-day to a four-day working plan will not affect the company's Negaunee, nor will it affect the Stegmiller property, on the Swanzey range, the Champion mine at Beacon, nor the Section 21 mine, at the Winthrop.

The change affects operations at the corporation's hard ore properties. Section 16 and the Hematite mines, where the combined working force, including surface hands, is about 450. No night shift work will be done at any of the properties. Mr. Johnston said that the details pertaining to the new arrangement have not yet been fully worked out and he could not say what days in the week the mines will be worked.

Has Too Much Ore.

The change in the working plan at the Ishpeming properties is due entirely to the fact that the company has more ore in stock than can be used for several months. The ore at the company's docks and in stock at the mines will keep the mills running until late in the summer.

So far as Mr. Johnston has been able to learn the officials have not yet made any announcement as to their plans on the other ranges, but it is anticipated that there will either be some reductions in the forces or a reduction in the number of working days, along the line of the plan to go into effect here. Mr. Johnston could not say just how long the new arrangement will be in effect, but he expressed the hope that a change for the better can be made before the shipping season closes.

ORDERED FROM TOWN.

John Huggins Told By Police of Negaunee to Leave.

Negaunee, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Huggins, arrested this week on a vagrancy charge after being ordered to leave town, claimed he returned to collect some money due him. The police claimed differently and he was ordered to leave or go to jail. He left.

Mrs. E. Willers, deputy for the Lady Maccabees of the World, has gone to Crystal Falls, to solicit members for a new tent.

A. H. Knight has returned from Duluth, where he attended to business for the estate of the late James McCutcheon, of which he has been appointed administrator.

Thermometers in the city Thursday morning at 5 o'clock registered 60 deg. above zero. This was by nearly 10 deg. the highest temperature recorded here any morning this season.

John Nixon of Ishpeming is to have charge of the diamond drills for the Breitung mines, having taken the position Thursday. Mr. Nixon was for some time in charge of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's drilling operations and is one of the oldest and best known drill men in this section.

The members of the board of public works and of the street and highway committee inspected a number of the streets and highways of the city Wednesday, with a view to determining where improvements are necessary.

Ernest Webber left Wednesday for Ironwood, where he was called as a witness in a civil case.

Joseph Vercellino, who was absent in the Lower Peninsula for a couple of weeks, has returned to his home in Negaunee.

Patrick Flannery and Miss Florence King, well known young people of Negaunee, surprised their relatives and friends Tuesday morning, when they were married at 5 o'clock at St. Paul's church. Rev. Father Lamotte performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by his brother and wife.

STOCKING BANK BROKEN.

Iron Mountain Boarder Disappears With Landlady's Savings.

Iron River, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another example of the unreliable character of the stocking savings bank came to light in the court of Justice Scott recently. Mrs. Mike Slavonsky had $300 which she kept in a stocking. The stocking she hid under the table. She also had a boarder.

One day the stooking was missing and so was the boarder. The coincidence was sufficiently suggestive to occasion the arrest of the latter. When searched, however, he was found to have only $28.60 on his person. He was held under bond for trial by jury.

MINNEWAUKAN WINS DEBATE

Defeats Casselton High Team in Discussing Initiative at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the annual debate of the North Dakota Interscholastic Debating league here last evening the Minnewaukan high school debating team defeated the Casselton high school team. The debate took place before a large audience. The initiative and referendum was the subject discussed. Minnewaukan upheld the negative.

Since last fall there has been a series of debates between the high schools of the state until the contest for supremacy finally sifted down between Minnewaukan and the Casselton teams. Both of these teams had won in three previous debates.

Max Taubert, Clay Smith, and Clara Burman represented the Casselton school and Bert Salisbury, Jessie McGlenn and Avi Christy represented the Minnewaukan school.

Today at noon the preliminaries in the interscholastic declamatory contest were closed, six being selected, who will enter into the final contest tonight for the prizes offered by the university. There are three boys and three girls in this final event.

Conference of the high school superintendents, in progress since yesterday afternoon, was concluded this afternoon. The conference was a marked success throughout.

EAST GRAND FORKS PLANS ON PAVING

Council Will Expend Large Sum in Improving Minnesota City.

East Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids for laying about 21,000 square yards of pavement were called by the city council, to be opened June 12. It is estimated that the pavement will cost approximately $61,500.

Several years ago East Grand Forks laid some pavement, but the class of material selected was such that the pavement soon failed to be of service, and all evidence of it, so far as the appearance of the public streets is concerned, has long since faded. There has been somewhat of a fight over the laying of pavement this year, but it is expected that there will be no further hitch in the movement. Bids on four different kinds of paving are being asked.

GIVEN FIFTEEN MONTHS

For Stealing Funds of St. Thomas Secret Society.

Pembina, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Scott Hall pleaded guilty before Judge Kneeshaw to embezzling the funds of a St. Thomas secret society of which he was treasurer, and was sentenced to fifteen months in the penitentiary.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

Jury Finds Accused Marquette County Man Not Guilty.

Marquette, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—After deliberating one hour a jury in circuit court that heard the evidence in the case against Peter Roberto of Princeton, accused of killing Raphael Paralan by a blow on the head last February, returned a verdict of not guilty.

WILL HAVE SUN DANCE.

Turtle Mountain Indians to Pull Over Annual Stunt.

Dunseith, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With permission granted by governmental officials for the holding of the sun dance and the grass dance, Indians of the Turtle Mountain reservation next week will participate in an event that has been held for years.

Last year the dance was not permitted and the Indians lay the fact that it was a dry season to their failure to participate in this unusual dance. As far back as tradition carries the Indians of the Turtle mountains have held these annual sun dances at this period of the year.

Special attention will be paid by the Indians to the prevention of hail storms and to the assurance of a big crop.

MINISTER BRYN IS EN ROUTE TO DULUTH.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minister H. H. Bryn of Norway, who has spent the week in North Dakota investigating the condition of the Norweglan immigrant, left today for Duluth, where he will remain one or two days before going to the Twin Cities. The Norwegian minister expressed himself as being greatly surprised at the remarkable development that he has seen in this section, and he was also very well pleased at the evidence that he found indicating that the Norsemen had taken a very prominent part in this work of development.

Prestigo Fisherman Disappears.

Marinette, Wis., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Cedar, a fisherman of Prestigo Point is missing. A row boat belonging to him has been found in the vicinity of Little River, and it is feared that the man has been drowned.

TO BUILD STATION.

Duluthian Soon to Start Work at Eagle Harbor.

Calumet, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. H. Ropes of New Jersey, a government engineer, detailed to overlook the construction of the new life-saving station at Eagle Harbor, has returned from the site of the new station. He said that Contractor Ursin of Duluth, who has the contract to erect the station, will ship the materials to the Harbor in the near future. The contractor is having all the material necessary to the construction of the station loaded on scows, and will have them towed to Eagle Harbor. It is the intention to make only one trip so that after unloading work can be started and completed without interruption.

The life saving station likely will be completed and occupied by the life saving crew and families the latter part of July or early in August.

CAUGHT IN DULUTH.

Alleged Hinckley Boarding Car Thief Under Arrest.

Hinckley, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nick Belich broke into a Northern Pacific box car that is being used as a boarding car and occupied by Blaizo Petcoff, Wednesday morning. He secured a razor, watch, pair of shoes and a $10 bill.

Petcoff complained to Marshall Brennan and a warrant was sworn out before Justice Webster Wednesday night and Brennan went to Duluth to locate his man. He found some Austrians there who knew the party wanted and he was located without any trouble and returned to Hinckley within two days.

Belich admitted his guilt and asked to be arraigned at once so that he could begin his sentence.

Judge Stolberg will probably sentence him within a day or two.

BISHOP VINCENT TO LAY THE CORNER STONE.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—Bishop John Vincent, father of the president of the Minnesota university, will be in Minneapolis in the early part of June to lay the corner stone of the First Methodist church at St. Anthony Park. He will also make addresses before the students of Macalester college.

Dr. Vincent is 81 years old. He was retired from active service as a bishop in 1904. He is remarkably active for so elderly a man.

WISCONSIN BRIDGE DROPS, KILLING TWO.

Wausau, Wis., May 20.—William McLaughlin, engineer, and John Schiller, a fireman of a traction engine hauling a train of wagons loaded with lumber, broke through the bridge of Noisy creek, near Stratford, yesterday and were killed.

WILLISTON WOMAN ACCUSES HER HUSBAND.

Williston, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Ettie Harmon charges her husband with assault with intent to kill and had him arrested. The action is looked upon as the result of a recent suit started by Mrs. Harmon against a prominent local physician, and the subsequent dropping of that suit when Mrs. Harmon declared that she had been influenced into starting the case, and that it had so preyed upon her mind that she wanted to dismiss the case and clear an innocent man of charges that had been laid against him. She charges that her husband has been more or less abusive toward her for some time past.

SUGAR COMPANY HAS CONTRACTED FOR BEETS.

Menominee, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Menominee River Sugar company has contracted for all the sugar beets this year that the factory can handle and it has been forced to refuse to take more contracts outside of Menominee county. For the coming year the factory will have 10,000 acres of sugar beets and 180,000 pounds of seed have been distributed. As the price of beets has been raised this year to six dollars per ton, an advance over the old rates of $1 per ton, the farmers in the territory covered by the Menominee River Sugar company will reap a rich harvest.

ELECTRICAL STORM VISITS SANDSTONE.

Sandstone, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A severe electrical wind and rain storm passed over this section Thursday night. For a time the wind gained such a velocity that it came near being a cyclone, as a roar resembling the coming of heavy freight trains could be plainly heard at about 10 o'clock, and the clouds appeared to be white and funnel shaped. A small building was twisted off its foundation in the south part of town and some tin covering was torn off the new opera house. A torrent of rain accompanied the gale and thus far no serious damage has been reported. The farmers have changed their minds about this being a dry season.

NORTH DAKOTAN IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

New Rockford, N. D. May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Gardner, a farmer living near here, was instantly killed in his field near here by a lightning stroke. The three horses with which he was plowing were also killed.

Mr. Gardner was an old resident of this section of the state and is survived by a wife and three children.

DEVILS LAKE GIRL BEST STATE SPELLER.

Bismarck, N. D., May 20.—The state spelling contest here has ended, the winners being as follows:

Mae Hines of Devils Lake, first; Martin Johnson, Renville county, second; Alfred Dumond, Ward county, third.

MINER IS SUFFOCATED IN BRIER HILL MINE.

Iron Mountain, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Brier Hill mine of the Penn Iron Mining company, last Tuesday night, C. Aselaine, a miner, was caught by a fall of ground and suffocated to death. Aselaine was working in a room at the time. It is not known how the accident occured, as the ground was in good condition. Aselaine was about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Upper Michigan Hoop Factory.

Marquette, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A hoop factory, the first of its kind in the upper peninsula, has been established at Algonquin, Chippewa county, by H. Lukes of Cheboygan, Mich. A force of only twenty men is employed at present, but it is intended to materially enlarge operations. Contracts have been made for a large supply of timber.

New Halma, Minn., Bank.

Karlstad, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new bank will be opened at Halma about June 1. The name of the bank will be Halma State bank. The capital stock is $10,000, all paid in, and divided up in 100 shares, of which R. G. Tweeton of Barnesville, holds fifty-five and L. C. Simons of St. Paul, holds three shares, the rest being subscribed by Halma business men. The following constitute the first board of directors: R. G. Tweeton, Albert Bothum, L. T. Spilde, Olav Folland and H. H. Moen.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Hinckley—The Cambridge District Augustana synod met here in the Swedish Lutheran church, Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. Nelson of Cambridge, chairman of the district, presided.

Those present from out of town were: Rev. Uden, Mora; Rev. Renius, Braham; Rev. Johnson, Dahlbo; Rev. Almen, Isanti; Rev. Stenholm, Rush City.

Crookston—H. A. Lidenberg spent Wednesday at Angus, where he arrested James Stroble on a charge of inspecting cream without a license. Mr. Stroble had inspected about forty cans of cream for Cobb of St. Paul, for whom he is buying, and was liable to a fine for each offense, but was let off with a plea of guilty to one charge for which Judge Everette Evans fined him $25, which was promptly paid.

Brainerd—W. H. Gemmell, the general manager of the Minnesota & International railway, has just returned from a trip over the railway in which he escorted a party of distinguished agricultural experts.

Crookston—The ditch viewers for proposed ditch number 86 in Hubbard and Scandia townships made their report and filed it with the county auditor Wednesday. The final hearing will be on June 14 before the county commissioners.

Ada—Saturday Judge Grindeland will hold a hearing in the matter of Judicial Ditch No. 51, which is the Wild Rice river improvement project. The hearing is for the purpose of determining the question of amending the original petition, which made the entire river basin a drainage district and substituting a shorter ditch.

Moorhead—Andrew W. Monson has received a letter from his half-brother, Magnus Anderson, who was one of the passengers of the ill-fated steamer Merida, which was run down on the night of May 10 off the coast of Virginia by the steamer Admiral Farragut. Mr. Anderson has been living in Mexico, where he is engaged in mining, and was on his way to New York.

Stillwater—Horace W. Davis, who has for the past ten years been the chief clerk at the state prison, and the right hand man of Warden Wolfer in the accounting department of the big institution, has severed his connection with that institution and has accepted a position with the Otis Staples Lumber company at Wycliffe, B. C.

DEMURRER TO POST LABOR SUIT ARGUED.

St. Louis, Mo., May 20.—Arguments on the demurrer to the suit of Charles W. Post, Battle Creek, Mich., manufacturer, against the American Federation of Labor and the Bucks Stove & Range company, were heard by Judge Dyer in the United States circuit court. Post is suing for $750,000 damages and to restrain enforcement of the peace agreement betweeen the stove concern and the Federation of Labor. The demurrer says the agreement has been declared valid by the United States supreme court in its decision of Monday, which dismissed the case against Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison.

The Body Is a Fat Factory

When a man or a woman grows fat and huge, flabby layers of this worthless flesh makes them miserable, it is a certain sign that somewhere within the organism of that man or woman there is something radically wrong. The healthy man or woman digests all that is good in food and throws off in a natural manner all that is bad. This is what the digestive juices are made for. When these juices are weakened or too powerful they can not get the good things out of the nourishment we eat, and hence they turn into the blood that which makes fat. It is very simple to correct these juices in a fat person. This secret has been demonstrated in the famous Marmola Tablets which now have such a tremendous sale. They reduce fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They correct the faulty juices and give to the body the very nutrition it needs. They remove fat in a natural manner, but they do it so quickly as to be almost beyond belief. You do not have to diet or exercise and you may eat what you will. These little tablets are the result of a demand on the part of the public for a form of the famous Marmola prescription that will permit a fat person to carry his fat reducer with him at all times, so that each meal will add no more fat to his body. Marmola Tablets are sold by every druggist, or you may write the Marmola Company, 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and a case will be sent you privately by mail. The price of Marmola Tablets is 75 cts. everywhere.

MRS. ARCHER TELLS A PITIFUL STORY

Of the Terrible Suffering She Endured Before She Was Treated By United Doctors.

The motive which prompts the making public the following life story of Mrs. Julia Archer of 17 Indiana street, Danville, Ill., is a most laudable one. As Mrs. Archer remarked when she handed in the statement, she made it from the same spirit of wanting to help suffering humanity that would prompt her or any other person to relate their religious experience in a church—a desire that others may be helped by the recital.

Mrs. Archer's statement is as follows:

"Danville, Ill., April 22, 1911.

"I desire to publicly recommend to all sick people the United Doctors and their treatment.

"For ten years I suffered with stomach, liver and kidney trouble to such an extent that life became a burden and I began to fear that I would lose my reason. My heart became affected and I suffered greatly from palpitation, and my nerves were in such a state that I could scarcely control myself and many times while conversing with friends, or merely walking down the street, I would be seized with an almost irresistible desire to cry. Objects seemed to come and go before my vision and it was almost impossible for me to attend a public gathering of any kind because of my tendency to faint. My mind seemed stupid at times and I was often greatly embarrassed by such things as failing to recognize old friends I had known for years and other things of like nature.

"During this time of course I sought all possible aid and was under the care, at different times, of physicans in Hoopeston, Rossville and Chicago, and was in one of the hospitals here in Danville for some time. No permanent help was given me, however, by any of these treatments and finally I came to believe I was one of those poor unfortunates for whom there was no relief and that I would simply have to suffer until released by death.

"Relief and health came to me, however, and through the United Doctors, and after hearing of the mysery I endured for years, other sick people will understand, I know, my appreciation and the grateful feeling I bear these great specialists—the greatest of all specialists to me since others had been recommended and failed, and the Chicago doctor especially, had been expected to bring great results.

"The United Doctors took me for treatment and have made a new woman of me and I write this in appreciation of my restored health and to publicly recommend them and their wonderful ability to aid sufferers.

MRS. JULIA ARCHER."

With hundreds of such cures as the above to their credit, is it any wonder that people from all over the country flock to the Duluth institute of the United Doctors on the third floor of the Columbia building for relief from disease after all ordinary doctors fail?

SOME of the screws in a Waltham Watch are so small that 12,000 of them will not fill a lady's thimble. Yet the smallest are perfectly made. Perfection in detail makes the Waltham a close time-keeper.

INCREASE IN VALUE SHOWN

East Superior Street Property Is Sold to W. T. Bray for $18,500.

Investment of Seller Was $9,500—Other Realty Sales of Week.

The most important realty deal reported this week was the sale by William Avalon to W. T. Bray of the twenty-five foot lot and two-story brick store building at 319 East Superior street. The consideration was $18,500.

The sale brings out again the remarkable increase in East Superior street values in the last few years. Seven years ago Mr. Avalon bought the lot for $2,500. About five years ago, the building was erected at a cost of $7,000, so that Mr. Avalon's whole investment was $9,500. He has had a good return from the property in rents and the sale this week brings him a profit that shows a remarkable increase in value.

What is true of that piece of property is true of other property in the same district. The increase has come in the last two or three years and values are still going up. East Superior street has come into its own as a retail business district and the extension is becoming greater yearly.

With the exception of two or three sales, the real estate market has been quiet this week, the deeds filed with the register of deeds covering low priced residence lots and speculative ventures. The inquiry continues strong and real estate men look for an increase of activity during the remainder of this month.

A. C. Volk & Co. are preparing to put a part of the townsite of Gary on the market, and the townsite is the scene of great activity. The tract lies at the very door of the steel plant and the property is considered very desirable for speculative purposes. The townsite was platted last year, but the company has been waiting for the speculative interest in steel plant lots to develop before putting the lots on the market. The time is now considered opportune and the company will hold a sale soon.

CONGDON PARK DIVISION

Arrangements have been made and work to be commenced immediately for the putting in of gas and water service and installing a system of sewerage.

Work will be commenced this season in this division on some of the handsomest homes in Duluth.

Although this division possesses more attractive features than any other residence district, prices are no higher.

Some of the most attractive sites in the division are still for sale. As the number of sites in this division is limited, prices will be advanced after a few more are disposed of.

Go east on Fifth street to its intersection with Vermilion Road and follow it north and bear in mind that all the property lying to your right as you go north on Vermilion Road to its intersection with the park driveway where the bridge crosses Tischer's Creek and following the park driveway to Superior street and along Superior street west to Thirty-first avenue east, is all part of Congdon Park Division and that the beautiful residence sites are now available for immediate improvement.

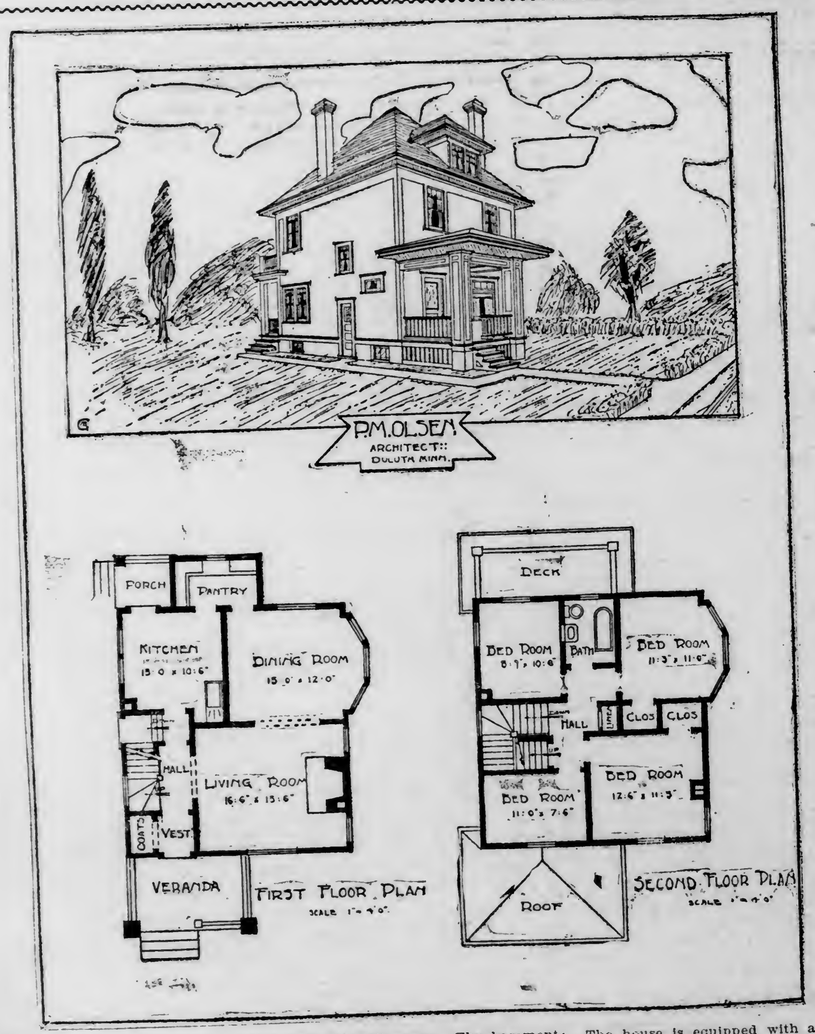
COMFORTABLE HOME WHICH WOULD COST $4,000 TO BUILD IN DULUTH



The above illustration is of a neat, seven-room cottage. The design is a popular one, being one of moderate cost.

The entrance is into a fairly large vestibule and then into a well-lighted reception hall having an open staircase.

To the right is the large living room with a brick fireplace.

The dining room, entered from the living room, is light and cheerful. It connects with the kitchen through the pantry.

The kitchen is well arranged with plenty of wall space. The basement stairway is most convenient. On the landing is the cellar entrance at ground level.

The second floor contains four bedrooms and bath, which are well lighted and so arranged as to give plenty of wall space. A linen closet opens into the hallway.

The living room, dining room and hall are finshed in oak, the kitchen in Southern pine, stained natural; the second floor in white pine, enameled. There are hardwood floors throughout.

The house is equipped with a hot water heating plant with low radiation in the main rooms, also the most modern and sanitary plumbing.

The outside dimensions are 25 by 27 feet; height basement, 7 feet; first story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet 6 inches.

In Duluth or vicinity a dwelling of the above description and design can be built, including heating, plumbing and electric wiring, at a cost of $4,000.

WORK MAY BE RETARDED

Demand of Carpenters for Increased Wages May Check Building.

Construction Work Now in Progress Keeps Contractors and Employes Busy.

The demand of the carpenters for an increase of 5 cents an hour over the prevailing minimum scale may tend to retard building until the matter is settled. The prospect is now that the building contractors will refuse to grant the increase. They say that the volume of building will not be so great this year that the refusal of union men to work at the prevailing scale would seriously inconvenience them. It is possible that some of the people intending to build will put off their work until after the time set by the carpenters for making their demand, and the next few weeks promise to be quiet in new building announcements on that account.

For the present the volume of building continues large. Most of the work is on residences and apartment buildings, but so many of them are under construction that most of the men in the building trades are employed and the contractors have about all they can handle.

WEEKLY SURVEY OF REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENTS

Increase of Interest in Duluth Real Estate—Assessor Scott's Work—City Planning—The Shop Excursion to Steel Plant—Direct Payment of Taxes by Renters.

THERE is some movement in the real estate market and this month of May will see some deals of more than passing importance put through. Several deals, which have been in the air for weeks, are near the closing point and the real estate men are looking forward to developments that will revive interest in the market.

Attention continues to center on improved residence property, residence sites and speculative property in the outlying districts. Speculative interest centers on the vicinity of the steel plant, while the inquiry for residence lots is spread all over the city, with no section being shown special favor.

This real estate market is all right. It has been a little backward during the early part of the spring, but is widening out now and there is plenty of time for the expected activity before the summer dullness sets in.

WHILE the personal property assessment is being made, Assessor J. A. Scott is not neglecting the revaluation he started when he assumed office. He is receiving the hearty co-operation of the real estate men of the city. They have every confidence in Mr. Scott's judgment and his sincerity of purpose in attempting to bring order out of the chaotic assessment rolls that he found when he went into office. Every real estate expert in Duluth stands ready to give Mr. Scott the benefit of his experience and judgment and the revaluation will be as complete as the time and money at Mr. Scott's disposal will allow.

The main point at which Mr. Scott aims is the getting of an equitable valuation. Whether property is valued at its true value, or a percentage, is not of great moment, if all the different classes of property are valued at the same percentage of their true value, and there is no wide divergence in the assessments placed on similar descriptions in one class of property. The fact that the basis on which property in different sections was assessed was different was the principal cause for complaint on the last real estate assessment and Mr. Scott, with the assistance of real estate men, is endeavoring to correct that condition.

THE subject of city planning has come in for considerable discussion during the past week, Chairman W. A. McGonagle's suggestion at the meeting of the public affairs committee Thursday night being received with approbation by the business interests. Mr. McGonagle suggested that Duluth should plan for fifty years, and if changes are to be made in the plan of the city they should be made now when the cost will be less than at any future time.

On account of Duluth's peculiar topography, congestion is more likely to occur in Duluth than in most cities and Duluth must prepare now if congestion is to be prevented when the population increases.

City planning is attracting attention not only in Duluth, but all through the country. Many cities are now engaged in changing their streets to meet changed conditions and they are spending millions of dollars in the work. The Improvement Bulletin of Minneapolis says this week:

"The projects which are developing in every ambitious city for civic centers and civic planning, arouse a great deal of criticism from the people whose minds are framed in the old school of thought that it is out of the question to attain a harmonious combination where the numerous units contributing to the whole are so diverse themselves, and represent people of so varied views of attractiveness as well as many with no appreciation of any such attractiveness. The view is also held that such things were never brought up in former days and the people lived as long and as happily and escaped the dire ills of neurasthenia and other forebodings of nervous and mental distresses, so that there is nothing to show that the plans themselves are anything but a fad of the moment. Notwithstanding that much of the argument is true, and people of former days did not have the improvements nor did they make the efforts toward harmonious centers which are now slightly popular, the fact is that the older countries have found them worth while and they have served to make the city more and better a place worth living in. For when all the attractions of the city are weighed and considered, there still remains an adverse balance against it, and in favor of the less congested sections. So the congested community will find that it pays in the greater attraction to its residents, their happiness and their peace of mind and health of body, to utilize the value of civic centers, with the open space which is an accompaniment, affording better air, as well as better sights. The city which is built up for purely commercial and business pursuits with no consideration whatever for the mental calm and poise of its citizens, is the city which will become merely a place of making money, to be fled from, when a sufficient accumulation has been made to allow going to more attractive places. It therefore becomes something of a business proposition as well as one of comfort to the residents, to do as much as possible, within reason, for the furtherance of the pleasure of its citizens."

THE shop excursion next Wednesday to the steel plant site, is expected to be an eye-opener for Duluth people. The publicity committee of the Commercial club, the officials of the Minnesota Steel company and the real estate men interested in property in the vicinity of the steel plant are anxious to get a big crowd out to look over the plant.

People who have not visited the steel plant site recently have no conception of the amount of work done or the amount planned. The foudations for the buildings and furnaces will give visitors a good idea of what the steel plant will be when it is completed, as will the sewer system and other underground work, which is now exposed but will soon be covered over. Fully 500 people are expected to go on the shop excursion Wednesday and when they return to their business, they will be more enthusiastic boosters for Duluth.

A plan to make the general public awaken to the necessity of fighting state and municipal grafting is set forth by a member of a New York exchange, who would have all leases made to read that the tenant pay the taxes, the rent being fixed at a correspondingly lower figure.

"The general public is too much inclined to treat public corruption as if it were inevitable. It is considered even as a joke by some. And yet to it is due the ever rising or, at least, seldom diminishing tax rate.

"In the last analysis, of course, the tenant pays the taxes, and if the taxes increase, through a higher valuation or rate, the landlord boosts the rent, and, I'll admit, seldom reduces it until he is forced to.

Property owners are a small part of the public, and while their opinion may have much weight, it cannot be compared with that of the entire population. If all the leases contained a tax clause you would see the ordinary citizen standing on his head to get after the grafters. In this way the landlord would be able to make long leases on a fairer basis, for values fluctuate unexpectedly, and a fair rent this year may be unfair next. The beauty of the plan is that it cuts both ways, benefiting the tenant should rates go down.

"I have made some leases on this plan, but all should be. If more dealers were to take it up there would be less opposition on the part of tenants. At first they are inclined to think it is a plan to rob them, but when it is explained they are inclined to be reasonable.

"The plan might be adopted in even office buildings and apartment houses by splitting up the tax money among the tenants on a pro rata basis.

"As an instance of the way the present plan works: I own a building in Manhattan which is used by a manufacturer, who holds a ten-year lease, now five years old. Since it was made the tax on the property has gone up $500, and my rent has been cut just that much. If the tenant paid the taxes he would charge that increase to production, and take it out of his customers in higher prices, so that eventually the consumer would pay it. Now my tenant doesn't care a hang how high the taxes go, and my only redress is to try and make it up when the lease expires, but that probably will drive the tenant out.

"To arrange leases on the proposed basis would require some work, and property should be assessed at an established proportion of its value, so that an equable reduction of rents might be made."

YOU WANT A FARM!

We offer 160 acres platted in Ten and Twenty-acre tracts. During the three weeks this property has been on the market half of the number of tracts have been sold. Practically all of the tracts are fronting on a main country road. The terms are very easy, being $5 to $10 per month without interest. The price runs from $12 to $20 per acre, a few slightly more, according to the amount of timber. The timber alone is worth more than the price we ask for any tract, so that the land itself practically costs you nothing. The location is only one hour's ride from this office and in the direction to which street car lines are likely to be built. Very good fishing lakes are in the vicinity.

Remember this land is near the Brooks-Scanlon railway, which it is now proposed to change to an electric railway.

Don't fail to avail yourself of this OPPORTUNITY to get a farm. Only a few tracts left! Very easy terms!

IS "A CITY OF HOMES"

Duluth Rapidly Earning That Title, Say Real Estate Men.

Nearly All of Building Permits This Spring for Dwellings.

The developments of the spring season during the last few days show that the builders and agents of the city are more interested than ever in the construction and sale of dwelling houses.

The operations about to be started or those which are under way show that the men who are making history in the real estate development of Duluth still pin their faith to the slogan that this is to be a "city of homes."

That past history and present demand justify the builders in this view practically all of them assert.

Great Demand For Homes.

"As a matter of fact," said one of the heaviest builders yesterday, "the demand for dwelling houses, or rather homes, in contradistinction to apartment houses, is so great that nearly all of the building permits this spring have been for dwellings.

"People are more comfortable in a house. In this type of houses which we are putting up in Duluth, there are all the conveniences. The houses have front porches, large rooms, reception parlors, fine cemented cellar, handsome bath rooms and all the best appurtenances, such as roomy yards and laundries attached to the houses. All these comforts can be had for small monthly payments.

The "Home" Most Popular.

This statement of the advantages of the popular Duluth dwelling house has been taken up by the people to such an extent that any other type of dwelling has never been able to make much headway among the great bulk of the population.

At the bottom of the popularity of the two-story and three-story dwelling house is the desire of the people to own their own homes.

"It is surprising," said a real estate man, "how people begin to save to buy their own homes. The science of selling houses in this city has been reduced to such efficiency that the first deposit is remarkably small and the remainder is paid as rent.

Improvement Associations.

One of the consequences of the sense of pride in the ownership of their houses has been the large membership in the various associations for improvements which have sprung up during the last few years in the outlying sections of the city. Residents of neighborhoods get together and discuss the improvements being made or which ought to be made in their neighborhood. They strenuously fight anything which looks like withdrawing from them any rights or privileges.

These improvement associations tend to make each man a worker for civic betterment.

Dwellings Here Best in World.

During the last few years the history of the dwelling house, and especially of any two-story dwelling house, which appeals to so many of the city's workingmen and women, whether they are employed in factory or office, has been one of constant improvement.

Old houses were without front porches, and they were provided with bathrooms of the most primitive kind, if they were provided with them at all.

Small Homes Are Modern.

When the present-day development of the two-story house began, there was an immediate competition, which bred improvements in style, construction and conveniences. Handsome bathrooms were added. In some of the houses there are finer and more roomy bathrooms with better fixtures than in many of the old-style three-story houses which rented for twice that price. The bathrooms in many cases in the new houses are tiled and have hardwood floors. Laundries are added in the rear of these houses. There are outdoor sheds, and in many cases so large are these sheds that it is possible to use them in hot weather as summer kitchens in which to do the cooking, thus removing from the house all objectionable odors and dirt.

The cellars are cemented and have installed in them fine heaters, which give plenty of warmth to the entire house. Bay windows are usually put on the second story and occasionally on the dining room, and such conveniences as china closets, linen closets and large gas fixtures are found in them.

A business proposition, now netting $3,300 year. $14,000—$5,000 cash, balance, $9,000, very easy payments; 6 per cent.

RECEIVED INTO SHRINE

Class of Fifty Candidates Is Initiated Into Aad Temple.

Visiting Men Cross Sands While Wives Attend the Theater.

A class of fifty members was initiated into Aad temple, Order of Mystic Shrine, last evening at the annual spring session of the order.

A number of the new shriners were out of town people, many of them being from the range points and other places close to the city. There were also visitors from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Ishpeming, Mich., and Iron Mountain, Mich.

After the initiation ceremonies a lunch was served to over 100 members. While the candidates were being led over the burning sands, their wives were being entertained at the Orpheum theater, a large block of seats having been reserved for them.

The Duluth shriners will be well represented at the big conclave at Rochester, N. Y., on July 11, 12, and 13. The Duluth delegation will go on a special train over the Soo line which will leave Duluth on the evening of July 8. The delegates from Aad temple are A. P. Cook and Jesse Norton.

"SCOOPED" THE "TWENTY YEARS AGO" EDITOR.

B. E. Baker of the Duluth Board of Trade "put one over" on The Herald's "Twenty Years Ago" editor today. He recalled that nineteen years ago today the bay was covered with ice and seventeen big boats were caught in the floe. The ice was so thick that provisions were hauled to the boats in wagons. The next day a wind happened along from the northwest, the ice drifted into the lake and the boats were released.

The "Twenty Years Ago" editor promised to have this interesting bit of news next year.

IRONWOOD JUNIOR PROM

Given Friday Evening for Graduating Class Is Success.

Ironwood, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The junior promenade was given Friday evening by the junior class of the high school, for the graduating class. The party was given at the armory, which was prettily decorated in black and yellow, the senior class colors, and two shades of pink, the junior class colors. Music for dancing was furnished by the Temple theater orchestra. A program was rendered before dancing began, J. C. Watson giving a selection and the High School glee club a couple of numbers. The grand march was led off by Miss Olga Runstrom and Charles Larson, the class presidents. Refreshments were served by members of the junior class. About 200 young people were in attendance.

Small Bank Is Closed.

New York, May 20.—The Knickerbocker Savings & Loan company closed its doors this morning, following an examination made by Superintendent of Banks O. H. Cheney. Supt. Cheney would throw no light on the failure, which is a small one, other than to say that "this action was necessary because of discoveries made yesterday during the course of the regular examination conducted by the banking department." This last financial statement of the company showed assets of $190,994 with cash on hand of $6,265.

TWO SAGINAW SETTLERS FIGHT

Frank Hagen Claims He Used Knife in Self Defense.

Frank Hagen was brought to Duluth this morning by Deputy Sheriff Frank Magle and arraigned in municipal court on a warrant charging him with having assaulted Peter Dempsey with a knife at Saginaw yesterday afternoon.

Hagen asked for an examination and his hearing was set for Monday afternoon, May 29.

It appears that the two men got into an altercation over a quantity of fertilizer which Dempsey claimed Hagen had wrongfully taken. Hagen claims that Dempsey attacked him and that he used the knife to defend himself.

Dempsey was cut in half a dozen places. The worst gash was in the throat. His wounds were dressed by a physician and he was able to come to the city this morning.

ROCHESTER, MINN., WOMAN LOSES RACE WITH DEATH.

Lewiston, Idaho, May 20.—After journeying from Rochester, Minn., to reach the side of her brother, William D. Martin, who was ill in St. Joseph's hospital, Miss Rachel Martin lost in the race with death, her brother breathing his last just as she was stepping into a waiting automobile at the union station on the arrival of the Spokane train.

Mr. Martin was 30 years old and for several months had been in the employ of the Lewiston Orchards company as a gasoline traction engine expert.

DENVER WATER BOND DECISION AFFIRMED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday Judge William C. Hook handed down an opinion affirming the order of the circuit court of the district of Colorado in the case of the city and county of Denver vs. the New York Trust company.

In this case the New York Trust company brought suit to enjoin the city and county of Denver and certain officers, including the public utilities commission, from issuing bonds and constructing a system of waterworks. The circuit court granted a temporary injunction on the complainants' bill and a cross bill from the Denver water company. The case was brought to the circuit court of appeals on these orders.

CONSOLIDATE CHURCH PUBLISHING HOUSES.

Canton, Ohio, May 20.—The general synod of the Reformed church in annual session here has adopted a resolution recommending that the publishing interests of the church, now located in several cities, be united and general publishing headquarters established in Cleveland. This must be approved by the three Eastern synods before final action can be taken.

The Sunday school board in its report showed that the total Sunday school membership for the church for the year ending April 1, 1910, was 324,220, an increase of 75,236 in three years.

YUKON RIVER OPEN FOR NAVIGATION.

White Horse, Yukon Territory, May 20.—Ice on the Yukon river has been broken north of Hootalinqua and the steamer Canadian, on the White Pass and Yukon route, sailed from the foot of Lake Lebarge yesterday for Dawson with passengers and freight. On the Canadian are 100 men of the United States and Canadian boundary survey parties who will mark the international line from the Porcupine river to the Arctic ocean, a task that will occupy two years. The Yukon is now open from Lake Lebarge to White Pass.

Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was given Thursday evening on Master John Galenski at his home, 2309 West sixth street, in honor of his 16th birthday anniversary. WHERE CAMERAS ARE BARRED.

Pearson's Weekly: In these days many people carry a camera exactly as they would a handkerchief or an umbrella, and in the country they are usually free to do so. Almost the only places where cameras are refused admission are dockyards, both public and private; forts and of course prisons.

Abroad the tourist must be very careful indeed about snapshotting right and left. Germany three years ago passed a special bill through the reichstag dealing with this matter and imposing heavy penalties upon those who infringe the regulations.

Damages to the amount of £300, with a fine of £50 or two months imprisonment, will henceforth be the fate of anyone who snapshots a private person, a work of art or the interior of a private building and circulates or publishes the picture without permission.

Persons in the public eye, such as members of the royal family, statesmen, actors and well-known divines, are excepted, and so too are public buildings and works of art in public galleries.

It need hardly be said that it is risky in the extreme to attempt to take pictures of any forts or warships belonging to foreign countries. Even to carry a camera when within the lines of a fortified town exposes the owner to the risk of arrest.

In Portugal the authorities are curiously suspicious. A gentleman recently wrote to a London paper saying that he was pulled up for snapping the royal palace at Cintra. It is possible, however, that under the new Portuguese regime the palaces will no longer be held so sacred.

In Italy the camera of the tourist is made a means of providing revenue for that somewhat impoverished country. Many a time and oft your camera, when on a visit to Pompeii or others of the recently excavated ruins, you may take as many photographs as you please, but you are forced to pay a small fee for each plate exposed. There are many parts of the world where the use of a camera may not be actually illegal but yet is excessively dangerous.

Chinese have a horror of being pictured. They have the idea that the possession of the photograph of any individual gives the possessor some form of mystic power over that person. Many savage tribes in Africa have a similar belief and natives placed before the camera will hide their faces with their hands.

MAKING FUEL OF SUDD.

London Chronicle: The sudd of the White Nile, which is to be manufactured into fuel, consists mainly of papyrus and "um soof" reed, with masses of earth clinging to the roots. It accumulates in great blocks twenty feet thick, over which a man can walk.

The effect of these blocks upon the river may be illustrated by the fact that when clearance operations were carried out after the fall of the Khalifa the removal of one block alone brought the level of the river above down by five feet in four days. When another burst the floating vegetable matter took thirty-six hours to pass a given point. One block removed later was seven miles long. It was found impossible to blow up the sudd, which was too elastic, so that the explosive only made large holes in it. The method was to burn the surface matter, dig great trenches in the remainder and then tug with a steamer.

PRIZE FOR CORN WON BY GIRL.

Wellsville correspondence St. Louis Globe-Democrat: When the Tri-City Farmers institute met at Edgerton and appointed judges to award prizes offered boys exhibiting corn of their own raising they found that Frances Wilson, 12 years old, daughter of J. D. Wilson, had entered ten ears grown by her on an acre tract and she was voted a special prize.

This is the first time that a girl has competed. Miss Wilson planted, tended and raised the corn without help.

LITERARY COPYRIGHT IN FRANCE.

London Evening Standard: A curious question of literary copyright has been raised in France in an action brought against M. Anatole France, the academician, from whom the publisher M. Lemerre acquired in 1882 rights on a two volume history of France for the sum of £120. The manuscript lay for twenty-nine years in the publisher's desk, and it was only in November last that M. Lemerre decided to publish it.

He sent the proofs to the author, who, however, refuses to correct them or return them, contending that the publishing rights have lapsed, the work representing views he held three decades ago. This interesting point will be argued by the leading lights of the Paris bar.

HOPES TO CUT DAY OFF LONG TRIP

SIR EDWARD AND LADY MORRIS.

Halifax, N. S., May 20.—Sir Edward Morris, the premier of Newfoundland, has gone to the imperial conference in London, taking with him a proposition for a quicker Trans-Atlantic service from the coast of Labrador. The schedule, which is expected to cut a day from the trip, is based on a speed of sixty miles an hour on the land end, but experts say this is hardly feasible, in view of the possibility of blizzards, and that further delay would be inevitable on account of the floating ice in the straits. Sir Edward was accompanied by Mrs. Morris.

WILL CHASE SCORCHERS

Police Now Have Two Motor Cycles to Pursue Speed Fiends.

Equipped With Speedometers to Show When Speed Limit Is Violated.

Auto speeders should beware.

Police headquarters is now equipped with a second motor cycle, and the two machines will be put into service immediately to put an end to all scorching inside the city, but more particularly in the downtown and residence sections.

Both of the motor cycles are characterized as being whirlwinds. It is claimed that the automobile which gets away from them will have to do better than sixty miles an hour.

The police have not announced that they are going to "lay" for scorchers. It's just the reverse. The officials feel that all have had plenty of warning and they figure that some arrests are now in order. The local authorities are not telling their plans with the accompaniment of a brass band, and so this warning comes as the result of a chance remark overheard at headquarters.

The motor cycles are equipped with speedometers which have been thoroughly tested. With a glance the officer using it can tell to within a fraction of a mile the speed at which the automobile he goes after is traveling. It will no longer be necessary for the police to measure off a certain distance and time the automobiles with stop watches. This system has not always been effective because some of the worst offenders cannot be caught. They go by in such a cloud of dust that it's impossible to see their number. But with the motor cycle the "cop" can get on the trail and stick to it until he learns the identity of the driver and owner of the car, after which it will be easy to get a warrant, or to arrest the speed fiend on the spot.

MAYOR IN ROLE OF ARBITER

Secures Promise of Billboard Owners to Remove Unsightly Structures.

The Lakeside billboard wrangle, which has caused the residents of the eastern suburb much worry recently, has been settled.

Condon & Culver, who are responsible for the signs and who are conducting the pavilion at Lester Park, agreed with Mayor Cullum this morning to remove the alleged eyesores inside of six weeks. Had this not been done it is stated that the mayor would have vetoed the license to operate the pavilion which was granted Condon & Culver by the council last Monday night.

CRIME TO HAVE A RUDDY COMPLEXION.

London Chronicle: In the days of the Puritans the stocks were not unknown as a penalty for looking too healthy. Ruddiness of complexion was a crime when a gaunt visage was regarded as an outward sign of sanctity.

Dr. Echard, writing in the early eighteenth century, remarks: "Then it was they would scarcely let a round faced man go to heaven. If he had but a little blood in his cheeks his condition was accounted dangerous, and I will assure you a very honest man of sanguine complexion, if he chanced to come nigh an official zealot's house, might be set in the stocks only for looking fresh on a frosty morning."

A POOR PIECE OF WORK.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance, was talking in her New York office about an anti-suffrage orator.

"He was badly hazed," she said, "during his last speech in Brooklyn. His theme was the hackneyed one—His theme was the hackneyed one—'woman's sphere the home.' In the home wielded a power far greater than the ballot. And so forth.

"My wife," he cried, striking his breast proudly, 'my wife has made me what I am!'

"'That's the way with you men!' a shrill voice shouted from the gallery 'Lay all the blame on a woman!'"

RESTRAINING THE SEA.

Los Angeles Times: Emil Seidel, the mayor of Milwaukee, said in a recent after-dinner speech:

"Some people hold that alcohol is to blame for the poverty and wretchedness we see around us. That is as illogical a view as one I heard put forth by a newsboy the other day.

"'As I waited on a corner for a car, a bootblack said to a newsboy:

"'Bill, how is it the sea don't run over when all the rivers runs into it?'

"'Why, ye chump,' Bill answered, 'don't ye know the sea is full of sponges?'"

TELLING THE AGE OF A FISH.

Scientific American: The age of a fish can be determined with accuracy by inspection of the otoliths or bony concretions which are found in the auditory apparatus. These otoliths increase in size during the entire life of the fish, each year adding two layers, a light colored layer formed in summer and a dark layer formed in autumn and winter.

The alternate layers are sharply contrasted and very distinct, so that there is no difficulty in counting them. The number of pairs of layers is equal to the number of years the fish has lived. By this method Wallace has made an interesting study of the distribution of fishes of the plaice species over various sea bottoms, according to age. In this way the rapidity of growth of fishes and the effect of fisheries on the population of the sea can be determined.

ENGLISH AS SHE IS GERMANIZED

Everybody's: The class at Heidelberg was studying English conjugations, and each verb considered was used in a model sentence, so that the students would gain the benefit of pronouncing the connected series of woods, as well as learning the varying forms of the verb. This morning it was the verb "to have" in the sentence, "I have a gold mine."

Herr Schmitz was called to his feet by Prof. Wulff.

"'Gonjugate 'do haff' in der sentence, 'I haff a golt mine,'" the professor ordered.

Herr Schmitz proceeded:

"I haff a golt mine, du hast a golt dein, he hass a golt hiss. Ve, you or dey haff a golt ours, yours or deirs, as de case may be."

RAINFALL IN SOUTHWEST

Precipitation Kansas—South Dakota Gets Scattered Showers, Too.

Foreign Crops in Good Shape —Buying Power Dead— Linseed Off.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 20.—Wheat eased off today. May lost ⅜@½c, July ½@⅝c and September ½c. Cash was ⅜@½c over July. The cash demand was good, especially for choice wheat. The inquiry for flour does not show much improvement. Rye lost 2c, barley was not quoted and durum lost ⅝c. Oats lost ⅛c.

Linseed declined sharply. One thousand bushels of both July and May were offered at a decline without takers. Crushers are holding aloof and there is no oil business to induce them to enter the market. September was the only active delivery. May and July each lost 11c, September declined 2c and October was unchanged. Cash was on a parity with July. Plata seed for May-June delivery was slightly weaker, closing at $2.19 at Antwerp, allowing for impurities.

The wheat market weakened after the opening on account of scattered rains in Kansas and cooler weather, both in the Southwest and the Northwest. As the Southwestern crop approaches maturity it is conceded to be in first-class condition, generally, and danger of crop scares is becoming less of a menace to the market. Cutting of wheat in Texas has started and will soon become general, gradually working northward. Scattered showers in South Dakota were helpful but more rain is needed in many localities.

The foreign markets generally were weaker. World's shipments are expected to be heavy or more than 15,000,000 bu. Further rains are reported in Russia and Roumania. Crop conditions in Europe are improved. The only bullish foreign feature was the report of the Prussian statistical bureau that the wheat crop is showing very little improvement.

There was no big buying power in the market today. The bulls appear to be loaded up with wheat and are not evincing any inclination to take on heavier lines. There seems to be nobody to help them. The little longs are taking profits leaving the heavy boys to care for the market. So long as new buying power is absent there is less danger to the short interest than if the support comes chiefly from people who already are surfeited with wheat.

Traders are disposed to proceed with caution until after the May deal is out of the way, at the least. There is ever present the possibility of fireworks in the closing days. There is still a fair sized short interest out and if it endeavors to buy back its wheat in the closing hours there may be a pyrotechnic display.

MARKET GOSSIP

B. W. Snow wired from Kansas City: In spite of the late germination the Southwest wheat crop is ready to cut as early as usual. Crop now is headed, out except in extreme Western Kansas, showing good heads on moderate straw, promising yields above early expectations. Rain at this stage is always desirable to help filling, but the plant is not suffering. Scattered thunder showers today in the East half of Kansas. Corn acreage large and crop looking well in all districts visited.

Fort Worth wired: "Wheat cutting began Wednesday in Denton county, one of the earliest openings of wheat in the history of the state for this locality."

John Ingalls wired from Murphyshore, Ill.: Southern Illinois still imaintains its early promises and even has improved it. The light bluff soils are away above their usual average. The present hot weather is the making of this crop. Wheat is good height and shades the ground. Need no more rain to finish out the wheat but corn and oats would be benefitted.

• • •

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: The wheat market opened with an easy undertone and with the exception of May which was unchanged and ⅜d lower. Prospects point to world's shipments of over 16,000,000 bu with a fair percentage to the United Kingdom and further general rains are reported in Russia with rain in Roumania and crop conditions throughout Europe generally improved this bearishness was further augmented by more favorable reports from the American wheat belt. Notwithstanding these, the market displayed a steady undertone and toward the close there was some weakening which caused a steadier feeling and prices were unchanged to ⅜d lower than yesterday. At the opening the corn market declined ⅛d and further lost ⅛d during the morning on a poor spot demand and a very small inquiry for parcels. Broomhall cables that latest advices from our Roumanian agent states that rain has fallen which will relieve the apprehension felt regarding drouth. Prussia—The royal statistical bureau reports crop conditions under date of May 15. The condition of wheat has made but very small improvement.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Weather News Gives Bearish Tinge to Wheat.

Chicago, May 20.—Slight interruptions of the drouth and heat gave a bearish tingle to the market for wheat today. Prospects of heavy world shipments had a similar effect. Prices, however, were steadied by an unfavorable official report as to the crop outlook in Prussia, where the improvement in condition was said to be very small indeed. Opening figures were the same as last night or ⅛@⅜c lower. July started at 88⅛@⅛c to 88¼c and dragged at the under level.

News of the early beginning of harvest in Texas led to a further decline, but damage reports from Nebraska occasioned a rally. The close, however, was easy at 88⅛c for July, a net loss of ¼c.

Corn eased off on account of the showers and the relative coolness prevailing. It left traders dis post of the selling. July opened unchanged to ⅛c off at 52½c to 52¼c and declined to 52@52½c.

Reports of heavy acceptances by the country caused additional weakness. The close was easy with July ⅜c net lower, at 51⅞c.

Sentiment regarding oats inclined to the bull side, but was more than counteracted by the bearish influence of other grain. July started at last night's figures to ⅛c below and seemed inclined to keep within that range.

Provisions weakened with hogs. There was little demand. First sales were unchanged to 5c down with July delivery $14.60 for pork, $8.02½ for lard and $7.75@7.77½ for ribs.

FRACTIONAL ADVANCES

Over Friday's Closing Figures Shown By the Active Stocks.

Severe Attack Made Early on Market Leaders By Bears.

New York, May 20.—A brisk selling movement was undertaken when the stock market opened today, and recessions in prices were general. The market leaders were attacked severely by the bear traders, but the losses in these issues were confined to small fractions. Some of the less active stocks suffered more severely. Virginia-Carolina Chemical dropped 1¼, Westinghouse Electric 1 and National Lead and National Railways of Mexico second preferred ⅝.

Efforts to put up prices were hampered by a further outbreak of liquidation in the fertilizer stocks. Reports regarding the business conditions confronting the companies were not at all promising, and there seemed to be some renewal of concentrated bear efforts against the group. American Cotton Oil sagged 1 and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 2 points. Railroad stocks mostly advanced beyond their opening figures, the recovery running to about half a point in Reading and Union Pacific. Missouri Pacific was conspicuously heavy. American Locomotive gained 1, and Evansville and Terre Haute 5 points.

The market closed strong. Increased activity and better prices marked the final trading, the active group gaining fractionally over yesterday's closing figures. Rock Island issues were notably strong, common and preferred advancing a point each. The fertilizer stocks made partial recovery from their early declines.

SOME QUESTION AS TO COAL RATE

There Seems to Be No Fixed Figure for This Season.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 20.—During the last few days some large coal tonnage contracts have been made by a local shipper, at the going rate of 35 cents. The deals call for several hundred thousand tons, the exact figures not being made public.

Nine vessels with a total capacity of more than 50,000 tons were lined up to load this week. They are the Marina, Holmes, Cadillac, L. B. Miller, Jenks, Tomlinson, City of Bangor, Bransford and Roman. All are booked for Lake Michigan ports and were chartered at 35 cents. The coal tonnage given out in the last three days includes a large amount for Lake Michigan, and will take any lower rate should one be made in the near future.

Since last week the coal rate to Lake Michigan has been subject to many rumors. It has been reported the rate to fast docks will take the differential of last year, 5 cents below the going rate. No contracts have been reported, and no one has been able to name a boat loaded at this rate.

One vessel owner, however, received a remittance for coal hauled this season to a Lake Michigan fast dock which was made at the 30 cent rate. He promptly informed the shipper that the rate is 35 cents, and asked that he forward the difference between the check and the amount the cargo would bring at 35 cents. There is some question what the rate eventually will be.

5,000,000 TONS.

Ore From Great Northern Lands Will Be Shipped From Allouez.

The Great Northern iron ore lands on the Missabe range will produce this year approximately 5,000,000 tons of ore. All of this will be shipped over the Great Northern to the Allouez docks. It will be mined by the United States Steel corporation's subsidiary, the Oliver Iron Mining company.

The Great Northern gets 80 cents a ton for carrying this ore and the Great Northern Ore company gets a revenue on a royalty basis.

Captain Resigns.

Escanaba, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Charles McCauley, master of the steamer Maywood and one of the best known captains at the Head of the Lakes, has resigned and will go to Chicago to become first officer of the passenger steamer Harlem, which covers a route between Chicago and Duluth, stopping at Superior, Houghton, Marquette and other northern points.

SUPERIOR

WOMAN THRASHES POLICE OFFICER

Superior Amazon Sent to Jail for Thirty Days for Abusing Patrolman.

Juanita Morrison gave Policeman Pounder a beating and nearly bit the patrolman's finger off, when he attempted to arrest her for drunkenness. She was arraigned yesterday afternoon in municipal court and fined $25 and costs, or thirty days in the county jail. Having plenty of time, she took the jail sentence. The woman stands over six feet in height.

The cases of Chris Christensen and August Giger, charged with having robbed Edward Nelson, a Superior saloon keeper, were dismissed yesterday. Mamie O'Brien and Mrs. Davis, also charged with larceny by Charles Nelson, were also discharged.

Junior-Senior Dance.

The annual junior-senior dance of the Nelson Dewey high school was held last evening at tthe Euclid hotel, East end. The hall was elaborately decorated and the musical program well arranged. The affair was one of the most successful given by the school.

WILL ATTEND THE CORONATION

RICHARD McBRIDE AND WIFE.

New York, May 20.—Honorable Richard McBride, the prime minister of British Columbia, has sailed from here for England, to take part in the Imperial conference to be held there in connection with the coronation. Mr. McBride is a native of British Columbia and was educated in its public schools and at the Dalhousie university in Halifax. He has been a member of the Canadian parliament and minister of mines of the Dominion.

FALLS THROUGH TRAP DOOR; SUES FOR $1,000.

Because he fell through a trap door, landing on his head and receiving numerous injuries, while delivering goods to the saloon of William McDonough on North Third street, William Hope has started a $1,000 personal injury suit against McDonough in superior court. Hope charges negligence on the part of McDonough. The case is on trial today.

PLAYGROUNDS WILL BE BETTER EQUIPPED.

In accordance with the plan of the board of education to buy for playground purposes all the lots in blocks where schools are located, is the movement to better equip the playgrounds now in use. The children of the Carpenter school recently raised $75 for this purpose by giving entertainments.

Elliott Gives Lecture.

Dr. Edward C. Elliott of Madison lectured on "Is Teaching Worth While?" yesterday afternoon before an audience of teachers, which filled the large assembly room of the Normal school. Teachers were present from every school in the city. Many of the school students also attended.

MORE TALK.

Chicago News: "I've brought back the soap I borrowed day before yesterday," said Mrs. Cumback, "and I'm a thousand times obliged to you. I have some sewing to do and if it's convenient I'll come over this afternoon and use your sewing machine, but if it isn't convenienent some other afternoon will do. I can't bear to stay at home this afternoon and must go somewhere to put in the time, for the Crumps are making preparations for a big meeting of the Daughters of Old Timers, which will occur at their house tonight.

"I don't see what the Daughters of Old Timers were thinking of when they elected Mrs. Crump president, for she isn't a daughter of any old timer by several blocks. Her family moved into this town about five years ago and they came from out West somewhere, and my husband has been informed that the sheriff was looking for Mr. Crump for a long time. Mr. Crump was in business in the West and he had his stock of merchandise heavily insured and then he had a providential fire."

"I don't think people should repeat such stories unless they are sure of the facts," said Mrs. Wagstaff, coldly. "And even if one is sure of the facts, it does not good to repeat them. And I can't say I'm profoundly interested in the history of the Crumps."

"I agree with you entirely," replied Mrs. Cumback, cordially. "It's foolish and wicked to repeat scandalous stories, and that's one reason why I have no use for Mrs. Crump. Her tongue is wagging all the time, like a pendulum with the delirium tremens, and I don't think she ever said a good word about a neighbor in her life. I feel quite sure that she will entertain the Daughters of Old Timers by telling them a long string of falsehoods about me.

"I have my faults, of course, like every other woman, but it can be said to my credit that when I entertain a crowd of women I won't go into debt for the fixings. All day long the delivery wagons have been stopping at Crump's house, leaving flowers and ice cream and camp chairs and I don't know what all, and I venture to say that the merchants supplying these things will have to whistle a long time for their money. My husband says the grocer got a judgment against Mr. Crump only last week—"

"Really, Mrs. Cumback, I don't care to hear about the troubles of the Crump family. When I come to think of it, I have a few of my own. I dare say the Crumps are doing the best they can."

"Well, I'm glad you take a charitable view, just as I do. I always believe in giving everybody the benefit of the doubt and I'd rather say a good word for my neighbors than a bad one. I have tried and tried to live on friendly terms with Mrs. Crump and I have always turned a deaf ear to every story reflecting upon her, but I'm only human, after all, and when she takes every opportunity to annoy me I confess I lose patience.

"She says they are all going to the seashore for a month this summer and she keeps the fact before me in the most exasperating way. She seems afraid I'll forget that she is going to the seashore, and whenever she sees me on our porch or in the garden she opens the window and talks about the seashore at the top of her voice, so I won't have a chance to miss a word. The Crumps can afford to go to the seashore about as well as I can afford to attend the coronation in England, and I think it a sin for them to spend money in such a way when half the merchants in town are worrying over their old accounts.

"It isn't two weeks since a man from the installment house arrived with a dray and took their piano from them, right in view of the whole neighborhood. If such a thing happened to me I'd be ashamed to be seen on the streets without a shawl wrapped around my head, but Mrs. Crump has no sense of shame and the very next day she came out with a new hat that must have cost $25, there being a new milliner in town who had never heard of the reputation of the Crumps as slow pay. And now I really must be going home, and while I'm here I'd like to borrow your egg beater, as ours has been mislaid."

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the name of the steamer "Mascotte," built in 1885, official number 91,772, measuring 162 gross tons, has been changed to Columbia, pursuant to application made and granted in accordance with the provisions of the navigation laws of the United States, and the rules and regulations now in force under such laws.
